27. Look at the spokesmen through whose lips I give you my word, they have taken up the cross of their mission; they know that many doubt their gift, and they meekly follow their way. You remember that men also doubted Me in the Second Time, when they said that I was not the Messiah, that I was not the Christ. They remember that I was led to the cross by those who did not want to receive the truth. That is why they have taken up the cross of their mission with resignation.
28. People: I have been with you, my mantle of love extends beyond the enclosure where you are listening to me. All of you, without exception, have been filled with my Spirit and my love.
29. My word is a haven of peace, seek it when you feel tired, sad, jaded or sick; in it you will find strength, health and faith to live and fight.
30. I want you to be fervent, humble and meek before my will, never imitating those who test my power or challenge my justice, because you know that whoever does it, subjects himself to the test.
31. Whether you believe or do not accept that I am communicating in this way, listen with respect and meekness until you are fully convinced of whether what exists at the bottom of this manifestation is true or a lie.
32. If you knew what those who denied the truth of this communication have wept with repentance, those who blasphemed against those who believe in the word that you hear, and those who mocked my spokesmen, today they do not know with what words to erase those insulting and derogatory phrases that came from their lips or with what works to make amends to their Teacher.

Love one another!

33. I want you to learn not to be light in your judgments, nor to get carried away easily from the first impression. I make this warning to you, so that when you analyze my word, as when you have to judge about doctrines, religions, philosophies, cults, spiritual or scientific revelations, you will recognize that what you know is not the only thing that exists and that the truth that you know is a minimal part of the absolute Truth, which manifests itself here in one form, but that it can manifest itself in many others unknown to you.

34. I am going to explain to you why I have spoken to you like this on, this day; it is that among this crowd there is a heart that insistently asks me, why speaking so much to this people and coming from the verb this word, I have not achieved absolute regeneration, nor the spirituality of these multitudes, to which I have answered with a broad teaching, adding that, if I wanted it, by my own power, in an instant I would convert all these sinners into angels; but that this work would have no merit before Me, and that precisely this word has come in a wise and very patient way to polish the hearts of this people, until faith, love and repentance sprout from them.

35. Men, using force, destroy the world. Do you think his strength surpasses my power? However, it is my will that they themselves recognize their mistakes, amend them and then rebuild what they have destroyed and desecrated, so that their merits before Me will be true.

36. You are still a small people, but I have not taken into account the small number that has so far gathered around my manifestation, proof of this is the amount of teachings and revelations that I have poured out among you.

37. After 1950, when you will no longer receive my word in this way, there will be an apparent emptiness in your heart, a few days of silence, of mourning; but later you will feel strong again and you will confess that everything was arranged by Me with wisdom and that in my last teachings I made you climb great heights until culminating in the last and unforgettable one that I have to give you.

38. Who can extinguish your lamp or wither the spiritual offering that you present to me, if it is not visible to the human eye? Who will allow you to erase the seal that you have carried from eternity, imprinted on your spirit? Faith has taken deep roots in your heart and will continue to grow and illuminate everything around you.

39. The rest will come after your struggles, the great trials to which I have subjected you and you will have your reward. I do not promise you a new Comforter, because the one I announced to you is among you; he is the one who spoke through you today and descended on every being to help you in your tribulations. It is my Spirit manifested in this time and the Spiritual World, formed by angels who accompany you on your journey, who protect you in your great battles and heal and comfort you. All that legion of beings of great virtue, has joined

Me to console you in this hour of trial that you are going through, just as it was announced; consider yourselves very happy because from among that numerous humanity that populates the Earth, you have been chosen to penetrate this revelation, in this Work and possess its great gifts.

40. I will leave you prepared for your fulfillment as my disciples and soon you will see verified what I have announced to you through my lessons. There will be many events in the world that will speak of my presence in Spirit and humanity will feel how close I am to it, because when my communication through man ceases, I will be waiting for his preparation, his true worship, to reign in the spirit of all my children. There the temple will be, there the Law and the gifts to be manifested and I will receive your veneration and your love.

41. A long time ago I told you that I would give my word in different nations, that my Ray would communicate it through human understanding in other peoples and I really want you to know that I have spoken through men and women in the bosom of small congregations. Hearing me, some have taken me as the Master, others only as a superior spirit, but I have kept my word.

42. When I have spoken saying that I am the Master, some have believed and others have doubted, but when they perceive the essence and wisdom that my words reveal, spoken through simple and humble creatures, they have wondered if this manifestation of my Spirit will be possible.

43. I have also marked the hour when that communication will come to an end and when you arrive with your testimony to those points of the Earth, where my word made itself heard, you will confirm to those the truth of those manifestations. And by listening to your clear testimony, those men or women who doubt today will be able to verify that I was with them.

44. How few congregations have I found prepared! But I have been present enlightening every spirit and bearing witness of Me so that some may teach others and be the guide of others.

45. You, when you receive a visitor, a foreigner who tells you about my manifestation, about my word received also in his country, do not reject him, but I command you to receive him so that both of you may verify with joy that my word has been fulfilled, and that everyone who has prayed and watched waiting for my return, has received me at this time, I have called everyone to make you my disciples.

46. I warn you in this way so that you will not be surprised when someone tells you that outside of this nation, my Divine Ray has also become a word to support the hungry. Know that my love encompasses everything and that my restorative Work is universal, so that you may understand that I have not limited myself to granting gifts only to your nation, but that all of them together form my family, which I have come to gather and lead to a single point: Spirituality.

47. In a single lesson I have gathered the revelations of the past ages with this one that I have come to deliver to you at this time. Extract the essence from all of it and you will come to the conclusion that you have the summary of the entire Law, the prophecies and the Doctrine of the Master with their revelations, and they point out to you the path that leads to spirituality.

48. Ages and centuries have passed and it is only now that you will understand the purpose of the Law and of life.

49. If I have poured out wonders and miracles in your path, as you call my works, it has been to stimulate your faith and if I have filled you with my pleasures, it has been in order for you to understand that on the path of good, it is where peace exists. The wonders have strengthened the people in their journey through the new desert.

50. In the midst of this peace you have been prepared so that when the time of struggle comes you will find yourselves strong. I have taught you to pray in the spirit so that you may use prayer as a weapon, as a shield, as a means of inspiration, as a bulwark and consolation.

51. Not once but many times have you asked me, if in teaching my apostles the Lord's Prayer, I gave them a prayer for all time and I tell you that in pronouncing that prayer I did it in order to teach them a high way of speaking to the Father, a prayer that contained love, humility, faith, respect, conformity, trust.

52. Evil has been done by those who have concretized to mechanically repeat my words and also by those who have not taken that prayer as a model to make their own prayers.

53. Now, in telling you to rise spiritually, I do not hide from your heart that model prayer, that perfect prayer, I just want that instead of speaking to me with your lips you do it with your thought and that instead of concretizing to repeat one by one the phrases that make up that prayer, you be inspired by them so that the thoughts that you form in your spirit, carry like the Our Father, love, humility, faith, respect, conformity and trust in the Father.

54. For now it is up to you to meditate and study what I have just told you and not try to teach it to anyone until you can explain it properly. Think that if you imply that a spiritualist teaching has come to erase the prayer that Christ taught the world, you would be judged of heretics and this Doctrine would be considered contrary to the teachings of the Divine Master.

55. On the other hand, if you wait for clarity to shine in your understanding and the word to flow from your lips, you will easily persuade even those who, without having analyzed my teachings, repeat my words, of which they have made a habit, a routine, a useless practice,

Love one another!

since they have never stopped to meditate, on the beautiful and profound words that their lips pronounce without their mind understanding them.

56. Disciples: When praying from spirit to Spirit, which is the goal of my teachings, your whole being concentrates on that act to speak to the Creator, with a voice that springs from your whole being, using the spirit as an emissary and as an interpreter.

57. This is the way through which you can offer your Father a true tribute of adoration, of love, of knowledge, of humility, of compliance.

58. It will not be science, nor the doctrines of these times, that will lead you to peace, nor those that will teach you the way of spirituality, it is essential that a light comes from heaven to illuminate your understanding and to reveal the true way.

59. Science, as man has taken it, can never sensitize the human heart in such a way that it could feel and look at the spiritual.

60. I must tell you, that men could feel my presence through science, if their intention were to look for me at the bottom of it, but they are looking at me in every wonder they discover and despite this, as if they were blind, they are denying me.

61. Nature, which man searches avidly, speaks incessantly about Me, manifesting my power, my love and my justice. Man only aspires to know and accumulate power, not counting that love has to be the inspiration and principle of all his works, as it has been in the works of the Creator.

62. Do you see how Nature, its elements and its forces speak of Me? For she will be in charge of opening the eyes of humanity to the truth. From her bosom lessons will flow in torrents until today contained; from her entrails voices of justice will arise, in the spaces there will be shudders and the worlds that revolve distant will also send their messages.

63. When all this is and the man of science, with all his power, feels powerless and small to contain the unleashed forces, which sow justice everywhere, he will recoil in horror from his work, and at last he will exclaim: "Lord, it is You, it is your presence, it is your voice, it is your justice that is manifesting"

64. A day of judgment, fear and repentance for many.

65. The pain will be so great that it will form darkness in men, as if a black cloak of mourning and sadness would cover them and it will be then that prayer will arise from the spirit of humanity. That prayer will be the anguished supplication of the prodigal son who comes crawling, tired and sick to the doors of his Father's house.

Love one another!

66. Blessed be that instant, when men, at last, open the eyes of the spirit to the light of truth, because their past will be forgiven and a new sun will shine in their life, transforming it, regenerating it, ennobling it!

67. With what respect will man penetrate the paths of science, after he has drunk to the bottom of the chalice of bitterness! And how noble will be the purposes and ideals that inspire you in investigating the mysteries of Nature!

68. After the darkness the light will become again and with that clarity men will look at life through a more spiritual and elevated sense, the blindfold of religious fanaticism will fall and humanity will feel my presence: this Doctrine, after being denied and persecuted, will be taken as true Divine Revelation and will spread throughout the world affirming men on the path of light, faith, good and justice.

69. Why do you doubt so much happiness that I announce to you, is it that everything that comes to you must be to worsen or embitter your existence indefinitely? No, people, just as I predict the days of mourning, pain, bitterness and misery, I also prophesy the days when light returns to minds, peace to hearts, essence to spirits.

70. You are so used to receiving one evil after another and one calamity after another, that you no longer expect anything good, that you no longer believe in favorable changes, it is that you have lost faith but you come to long very much for humanity to return to the path of good and fraternity, sow your little seed, contribute to our fulfillment without waiting for others to rise up to teach you how you should do it.

71. I am your doctor, beloved people, in truth I tell you that no one watches over your health as I Do, and no one feels your pain as I feel It.

72. Do you want to feel at this moment my balm bathing your body and your spirit? Penetrate into prayer, rise up to Me, purify your heart and your mind and you will feel the balm of the Doctor of Doctors.

73. I have told you that after this life, when you have traveled the long way of the spirit, when you have crossed the desert of trials and climbed your Mount Calvary, you will be in the White City, the true eternal city of the spirit, which has always been waiting for you. There you will not experience any pain again, because in that mansion only spirits dwell when they have reached perfection, and do not forget that pain, illness, miseries and vicissitudes are typical of imperfect spirits, who suffer to atone or to learn.

74. Why don't you unite here as brothers, so that you can form, I'm not telling you, a White City, but a white spiritual home where you can receive your Father? I would go from heart to heart strengthening you, healing you and caressing you: you would not say then that it is my blood that you drink, but my divine essence,

75. I love you, humanity, and that is why I will never cease to watch over your children; at that time, dwelling among men, I retired to the desert to pray, to think about those I loved so much and for whom I was going to sacrifice to save them. Now I tell you that even in the invisible, where you cannot yet penetrate, I find the solitude of the desert, from where I pray, veil and think of you, whom, after rescuing, I will take to my Kingdom.

76. Men! Do not be ashamed to cry, because crying is also a gift; pray, you are all mine before Me, let the tears flow, let the pain come out and joy penetrate.

77. Women! Mothers, maidens, girls, I am with you and I give my caress to every heart.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 267

1. Dear children who unite your spirits to wait for my presence among you, blessed are you.
2. You come to seek the fruit on the tree of life and the fruit I give to each one of you.
3. The radiance of my love is the breeze that rocks these trees.
4. Life, disciples, is the most beautiful and profound book that the Creator has bequeathed to his children; but it is necessary to learn to read in it to find how many beauties and wonders it contains. Who better than I, the Divine Teacher, can teach you page by page and lesson by lesson the contents of that book?
5. It has long remained open on a page, preventing your indifference from offering you a new lesson. You were stagnant; but the moment came when you turned your eyes to the book that speaks of life, eternity and light and you contemplated how the Master turned the page already known, to show you a new teaching.
6. The knowledge that this book imparts proves to you that your past was not sterile for your spirit, because already illuminated with the light of knowledge, you discover why, from many teachings, you find the meaning of life and the essence of God that exists in everything created.
7. Blessed are the spirits who in their long journey have already crossed the vast deserts of the trials they have passed, the crossroads of the path, and have left behind the dark jungles, with their lurks and dangers. Those who have passed the great trials will be those who understand my word most clearly and those who can hardly fall into an abyss.
8. The book that exists in each of you is also great. Do you understand what book I'm talking about? Of the one that refers to your past, of everything that your spirit has lived, and whose history grows day by day. When you are in my bosom you will enjoy reviewing it and seeing how much you struggled to climb the spiritual Mountain of your perfection.
9. Now you are living in a time of pain and it is essential that you understand its meaning, because in this way you will come to understand that the action of pain on sinners is purifying. Later you will all know that I have a garment destined for each of my children, but that in order to possess it it is necessary that you wash the glass inside and out until it is clean. Do you know what that dress is? I will tell you; that garment is the truth.
10. Who can say that he is not qualified to be my disciple, or that he is not strong enough to carry my message to humanity, pretending that he has no experience, that he has lived little or that he has not understood his brothers?

Love one another!

11. No, my little ones, you have not lived little, nor is it little that you have experienced, doubt and distrust come from the envelope, they come from the heart that falters because it ignores the strength and the light that its spirit has gathered along the way.
12. What do you know about your past and how far back does your origin go? What do you know where you have come from, where you have passed and where are you going?
13. No one thinks himself small or judges himself ignorant having arrived at this Third Time, least of all you whom I have called the firstborn.
14. Why are you afraid of the future? Are you going to waste all the experience that your spirit has accumulated in the past? Are you going to leave the sowing without reaping the harvest? No disciples, think that no one can twist his destiny, but if delay the hour of his triumph and increase the sorrows that already exist on the path.
15. Until you are convinced of this truth, I will not send you with the Good News to the regions and the nations, because you would not have firmness in your words and the world could not recognize you as emissaries of Christ.
16. I am bringing you closer to the simple, spiritual and simple worship, so that instead of getting busy and wasting time on external practices, you concretize yourself to fulfill the essential, which I have already told you countless times is charity.
17. You have already passed your childhood and spiritual adolescence and today you are at the threshold of a new age, in which you will reach the maturity that is fullness.
18. Few are those who listen to me, few are, therefore, those who know it. Look at this humanity, living in the Time of light and stumbling and falling as if walking in darkness. Taste his chalice, look at his wounds, feel his heartbreak, lean into his spirit and if you have charity and love for your brothers, you will cry with pain and you will feel full of pity, then a noble and elevated impulse will arise from your heart that will move you to be the tireless sowers of love, of balm and of light; but if you continue to hide timidly from the eyes of the world, do you think that your heart will become sensitive and acrisolate in the feeling of pity for your fellow human beings?
19. Do you want to conquer spirits? Come with the balm of my word and with the anointing of your charity.
20. Do not try to prove to anyone that their beliefs or their rites are imperfect, because the result will be negative. Reach out to the one in need, look for the source of his pain and comfort him, then you will see how a sincere confession springs from his lips, telling you that you are carriers of the truth.

Love one another!

21. Verily I tell you that I am also closer to my children in the moments of their pain, in the moment of their bitterness, than in the same rites and ceremonies that they celebrate in my honor, because in the midst of pain the invocation full of truth arises and in the ceremony there is tradition, the force of habit, routine and even vanity.

22. The time has come when all of you will hear my word speaking to you again with all clarity, because my mission is to save you, but not to cover up your mistakes.

23. It is necessary that everything returns to its primitive truth and for this the struggle of ideas among humanity will arise. In the midst of the materialism that reigns in this world, men with great inspirations will arise and these lights will be the precursor signs of the establishment of Spiritualism on Earth.

24. Seers, prophets, enlightened and inspired. They will all announce to humanity my presence in Spirit, they will have the mission of laying the foundations for the construction of the Temple of the Lord, the Temple formed with hearts, not with stones, inside which the flame of faith burns.

25. That temple will be great and from it you will contemplate the sanctuary that my omnipotence formed from the beginning, so that all my children could dwell inside it.

26. Today, when you contemplate so much hardness in hearts, when you see the roots of traditions and fanaticism in the hearts of men, it seems almost impossible for their regeneration, their transformation and for the doctrine of spirituality to be established; however, I tell you that since everyone was destined to come to Me to dwell in the light and know the truth, my will could not fail to be fulfilled and that instead of saving you, you had to lose yourself. Meditate on this and you will understand that your evil, which are your imperfections, although lasting, will pass away.

27. Great is the test that weighs on humanity, your intuition tells you that the world is under my divine justice, that the pride of men has been touched by the Father and that the strength of that justice increases every day; but look how man does not yield in his pride, does not confess his faults, does not repent of the evils committed, in a word: he does not bend before Divine justice. They themselves prolong the time of bitterness and drag many innocents into the abyss. How long will this time of pain last? Until men open their eyes to the truth and bow down to the only power that exists, which is Me.

28. People: Are you not happy to know the reason for all that is happening around you and to have found the means to contribute to the salvation and peace of your brothers and sisters?

29. If you experience this joy, it is because you have understood my word and you will know how to carry out your delicate mission with love.

Love one another!

30. From 1866 to 1950 my word, this light of the spirit, has been vibrating over you in the same way that you look. During that time many understandings have developed their gifts, men and women have been prepared who have come to form the body of my servants, of my farmers.

31. Through the understanding of my chosen ones my Spirit has been manifested, but could you believe that these creatures for whom the Master has spoken, are fully aware of what has sprung from his lips? I tell you that although they feel that it is something infinite that has descended to their understanding, it is not possible for them to value, nor conceive the greatness the transcendence of what, without knowing, their lips have said.

32. After 1950, that is, after my departure, this people will make my Work known to humanity, but not according to human will, but according to my will. These spokespersons for whom I have spoken, at the moment of expressing my vibration, have not been able to understand what their mouths have poured out, tomorrow they will be amazed to verify the fulfillment of my prophecies, of everything that I, through them, announced. Then, those who were always fervent will embrace their mission with greater love and those who sometimes lacked faith, will fall repentant of having doubted for moments, their faith will be ignited and they will be faithful to me to the end.

33. Someone, in the midst of the crowd that listens to me, asks me: master, is it possible that there is someone who, being your spokesman and your Ray resting on his understanding, doubts that It is You who is manifesting through him? To which I tell you that yes, there are those who have lived in doubt being my spokespersons and even at the very moment of communication, they have doubted; however, how great has been the word, the light, the truth and the consolation that those poor transfigured lips have poured at the moment of pouring inspiration into them.

34. Why do you think the teaching has been great by overflowing into them? Because they have been the most tormented, the ones who on many occasions have tried the hardest to rise up to find the best way to fulfill me, because they are the ones who most clearly approach Me, always seeking to make themselves worthy of the position they carry.

35. How many times their doubt comes from their humility, because they are the ones who, from the moment I consecrated them for this service, felt troubled and asked themselves: but is it possible that I, a little creature, an unworthy sinner, an insignificant being, was chosen by God for such a great mission?

36. Do you see beyond that doubt, the love and fear of those my little ones? Do you now understand why there are those who doubt and why, despite this, I pour out through them?

Love one another!

37. How many times the speaker who has faith in my presence, is satisfied with it and does not put in his preparation the feeling to be inspired, from which his cold or monotonous expression results, as well as the one who has allowed himself to be dominated by vanity has always been the poorest in essence and the scantest of light.

38. You have obtained My most perfect, most complete manifestation through those spokespersons who, in an absolute surrender to their Master, in an ecstasy of faith, love and humility before Him, have detached themselves from the world and from the envelope with the ideal of being useful, with the thought placed on their brothers in need of light. How few have known how to prepare and receive me in this way!

39. Have you not discovered on the inspired pedestal a transfiguration? In the culminating moments of the lecture, did you not have the spiritual sensation of the twinkling of the divine light through those lips? Those are the hours when the largest pages of the Third Testament have been written.

40. Blessed are you who unite your spirits in times of trial. From the first to the last, you are all being touched, so that you will not fall asleep or fall into temptation.

41. The time is approaching when I will give you my last lesson and you must be prepared for that day, because I will ask you for your first harvest and right there I will give you the seed and the teaching so that you can continue cultivating my lands.

42. While some understand the meaning of their trials and are blessing my will, others ignore the why of them and rebel.

43. Remember that a long time ago I was announcing to you these days when whirlwinds would be unleashed and there would be chaos in the bosom of your people.

44. Very few were those who kept my word in mind and kept watch, imitating the wise virgins of my parable; the most forgot my prophecies and allowed themselves to be surprised, making it easy for confusion to rule over them.

45. This is the gale that I announced as the Baptist did, in whom Elijah incarnated, that he would come to destroy every bad tree and to pluck the dry leaves or the vain fruit from the good ones.

46. Will this confusion pass? You ask Me in anguish and I tell you yes, but before long you will have to fight and cry.

47. To those who truly long for the triumph of light and unification, I say to persevere in prayer, in the study of my word and in the practice of what I have taught you. Let not your will be done, but mine, and in truth you will triumph.

Love one another!

48. I will give the triumph to those who pursue spirituality, to those who put away from their hearts every last trace of materialism and idolatry, to those who obey my will and interpret my Doctrine well, I will strengthen them one and the other and so, meditating and preparing, wait for the propitious moment to speak and say: "This is the Work of the Father", "This is Spiritualism".

49. I will manifest myself among them at the precise moments of their study and their meditations, granting them new revelations as an incentive to persevere on the path of spirituality.

50. During the time of my communication, you have carried out various missions, some of them inside these enclosures and others wherever you have been requested. I have given each of these missions a different name and so there have been guides, spokespersons, faculties and other more appointments.

51. I want that when my manifestation and that of the spiritual world cease, at the end of 1950, those appointments that you have had will disappear from among you and you will become closer to each other, so that no one believes himself superior and no one feels inferior.

52. For that time you will not need those names at all. You will not be less respected or loved because you cease to flaunt this mission, the essential thing is that you persevere in the truth, and that your works of love deserve the gratitude of your brothers.

53. To all the people I say that the highest and most beautiful title that man possesses is that of "Son of God", although it is necessary to deserve it. That is the purpose of the Law and the Teachings: to inspire you with the knowledge of my truth so that you can become worthy children of that Divine Father who is the supreme perfection.

54. With this word I encourage you to continue advancing firmly on the path traced by Me.

55. So I comfort you in these hours of trial so that you will not faint or let your faith die out.

56. Leave in Me, through your prayer, that flow of sufferings, of worries, of longings and requests that your heart encloses.

57. I know everything, everything comes to ME, but I will give you according to my will and when the right moment is.

58. If I make the dew fall on the flowers, how can I not send my effluvium to your spirit?

59. Here you have me in essence, revealing the new message to you.

60. I come at this time teaching spirituality, which will come to replace the false love that men have professed to me.

Love one another!

61. I am giving you the opportunity to truly love me, serving you and loving you so that my example teaches you to love one another, showing you that it is not necessary to give a coin to practice charity, making you understand that whoever thinks he is the poorest, has an inexhaustible wealth of goods to offer his brothers.

62. This great field where you can sow the seed of love has been called the spiritual field, in which I invite you all to work so that you may see your gifts emerge by developing them in the practice of good.

63. I have endowed you with inspiration, healing balm, intuition, spiritual strength and peace, but I have also entrusted various missions among my listeners. Some have had the mission of receiving my light in their minds and transmitting it through the word, others have had the gift of receiving the spiritual world through the understanding: others have been given to contemplate something from Beyond and something from the future through the gift of clairvoyance, that is, the spiritual gaze.

64. Some have also received the gift of analysis and others more the gift of the word.

65. Since my communication through human understanding began, I wanted you to put your gifts into practice and to start your spiritual mission, so that when the day of my departure arrived, you would have traveled part of the way and you would not feel weak to start fulfilling such a delicate mandate.

66. Some have been able to interpret the divine idea and have striven to bring it to fulfillment; but there are also those, and these are for the most part, those who have mistaken the meaning of this Work.

67. These are the errors that I have come to claim from this people, because I do not want humanity to come to mock those who have been doctrinaire for so long.

68. Why materialize me detailing each of the mistakes that have been made and are being made in your practices? Your conscience and the advice of the Spiritual world are enough for you not to lack corrections and teachings.

69. I tell you that those who love my Work most selflessly will be the ones who will leave their material practices the fastest and correct their mistakes the easiest, because they have always been eager for spiritual improvement and it will not mean for them any sacrifice to suppress their usual practices, knowing that they will take a step forward. On the other hand, the one who has sought through forms, practices and rites to create a personality within my Work, a means of life or flattery for his vanity, that will have to fight a lot with himself to be able to renounce what Spiritual Work means to him, without being, because in my Work you should only accept the pure, the elevated, the perfect, but, everything that keeps impurity, materiality and falsehood, that is human work.

70. How long will you understand the essence and purpose of this work? How long will you understand that because it is mine and because it has been entrusted to you, you must respect it as it is, without adding anything of your own to it?

71. O beloved people! I have brought you out of the dross into the light, but there are many who insist on living in darkness. They will have to be surprised by the evidence that already looms in the distance.

72. As a Father and as a Teacher I have fulfilled among you, it is up to the people to pray, meditate and practice according to the divine will.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 268

1. Beloved disciples, when my word has ceased to be heard on the day marked by Me, be careful not to sleep for the fulfillment, because your faculties will be hindered. Keep in mind that from the day you stop listening to me, a new development will begin for you, through which you will achieve spirit-to-Spirit communication.
2. Your sensitivity will have to be higher every day so that in your inspiration you will feel my presence and soon you will fill the void that the absence of my word will leave in you.
3. If some fall into that weakness of which I speak to you, remember this teaching, so that at the moment you give yourselves to prayer. Praying you will remember my words that had been stored in your spirit and with joy you will see your gifts reappear that you thought you had lost forever.
4. Do not be afraid, for if you truly pray, you will be delivered from all temptation.
5. People: if you have overcome the trials that prevented you from the freedom of the spirit, do not go to create a new trial for yourself with your disobedience, which will stop the elevation of your spirit.
6. Think that the hour of your testimony is approaching and that for this reason you must prepare yourselves carefully to be my true witnesses.
7. Humanity does not know that I have been among you, that I have come to manifest myself spiritually in the bosom of a humble gathering of men and women. When he knows my message, it will be because my word will no longer be heard through the lips of my spokespersons.
8. It is not my will that all peoples listen to me in this way, because not everyone would be willing to receive me in this way. It will be easier for them to receive the message through those who witnessed my new revelation and to believe in their testimony, than if they had contemplated the spokesman in ecstasy delivering my word.
9. That is precisely the mission that awaits this people: that of speaking truthfully and spiritually of the Doctrine, of the spiritual lessons and teachings that they spiritually received from their Master.
10. There are peoples whose spirit is asleep for my lessons, because they have devoted themselves only to the development of the mind, they are the peoples who worship science; others, whose materialistic doctrines have made the spirit a slave of the world, are those who dream of the power of the Earth; there are also peoples who, although religious, do not have the Christian seed that is the foundation for the spirituality that I have come to teach you at this time.

11. All these peoples are in the likeness of great lands that the Lord is going to entrust to his farmers, but before my New Message reaches the world, each people and each nation will have a preparation. For some, war will come, for others confusion of ideas; but when they find themselves eager for light, eager for truth and peace, that will be the appointed hour for my sowers to come to spread with love and charity the divine seed entrusted to them.

12. There are also peoples who must first have knowledge of what my coming was in the Second Time and what my word and my works revealed, so that they can receive my New Message as the Revelation of the Third Time.

13. Humanity will live in times of struggle, confusion and purification before the arrival of light, spirituality and true freedom of worship and faith.

14. Israel: You are recalling the triumphal entry of the Master into the city of Jerusalem. Throughout the ages you have kept my examples in your heart and that has served you so that now, living in the time of light, you will find the infinite content of those teachings.

15. The Earth preserves no trace of my passage, because I erased all signs, I wanted my footprint to be reflected in the consciousness of my children, that that path of love, light and sacrifice shine in the purest of every man.

16. The blood sealed my work in the world so that its memory would be indelible and you see: about two thousand years ago I went among you and you remember my passion as if it had been yesterday. I bless you, because in you is fulfilled that word that says that "a single seed is not lost because sooner or later it will have to germinate".

17. The crowds greeted me triumphantly as I entered the city of Jerusalem. Men, women, and children came from villages and districts in mobs to watch the Master's entrance into the city. They were the ones who had received the miracle and the proof of the power of the Son of God. Blind who are already awake, dumb who could now sing. Hosanna! Paralytics who had left the bed to come in haste to contemplate the Master at the Paschal Feast.

18. I knew that this triumph was momentary, I had already anticipated to my disciples what would happen next. It was just the beginning of my struggle and now, at a long distance from that event, I tell you that the light of my truth is still struggling with the darkness of ignorance, sin and imposture, so I must add that my absolute triumph has not yet arrived.

19. How can you believe that that entry into Jerusalem meant the triumph of my Cause, if there were a few who had converted and there were many who did not know who I was?

Love one another!

20. And even if that humanity had all converted to my word, were there not many generations to come?

21. That moment of joy, that fleetingly triumphant entrance, was only the image of the triumph of light, of good, truth, love and justice, a day that must come and to which you are all invited, know that if only one of my children were outside the New Jerusalem, there would be no party, because God could not speak of triumph, he could not celebrate his victory if his power had not been able to save the last of his children.

22. Now, at this time, you who have felt my presence and heard my word, arrange and adorn your spirit with me, so that I may penetrate your heart as if it were the city that receives me. I bless you for your preparation and I tell you that you are fulfilling spirituality, but do not take your commemoration as if it were actually already the celebration of the triumph of truth.

23. This is only the beginning of a new time of struggle, of a definitive triumph for salvation, liberation and the elevation of your spirit.

24. Join all of you to sing a hymn that is an expression of joy, of hope in triumph and of harmony among yourselves.

25. People: you have been the chosen one in this time so that my word may be scattered among you like dew, of grace in humanity. Rise up and seek your progress, so that at the end of your mission and your struggle, you will come to my presence to sing in union with the Master, that triumphant song, whose echoes will resonate eternally.

26. Only man represents me on earth, because he has been formed in the image and likeness of my Spirit; but in order that you, who are my representatives, may be able to say, you must live in constant preparation, practicing my Law. If you want to be my disciples, take up the cross and follow me and on this path your spirit will be perfected. Who can make you weak in your purpose if you have faith in Me?

27. I have tried your humility, your love and meekness, to make you know your interior. I know you, but it is necessary that you know what you are capable of and only tests will give you the opportunity to know you.

28. Many times you ask me: what is this life for, and why do you have to suffer so much? And I tell you: the spirit must rise by its own merits, from the lowest plane, until it reaches the peak of perfection. All beings have been subjected to the law of evolution, I also tell you that your spirit restores at this time when my judgment has been unleashed in the Universe, all the faults it has committed, not only in your world but in all the dwellings where my children dwell. But do not weep, but give thanks to me, because after this time when the spirit will be purified, you will be closer to Me and there will be a better disposition to fulfill, because you will have returned to the way. I am with you as a Cyrenian, so that you will not faint in the trial.

29. You are remembering my passion, you feel that this sacrifice is renewed, every moment you meditate and form resolutions to overcome the weakness of the flesh and rise above the miseries of this world, and I say to you: watch, because you are still weak. In the Second Time, I was followed by great multitudes who said they loved me and were faithful to me, and when the world judged my actions, it gave its sentence and those who followed me were persecuted; those same spirits in whom I had poured out my love, denied me and turned away from Me.

30. Today you tell me that you love me and that you believe in my word and I know that if I subjected you to great trials, many of you would leave me. Your destiny is to fight, until you reach the spiritual elevation that is the supreme enjoyment.

31. I am here among you calling to your heart. Do you think that my peace is complete when I contemplate you in constant wars? That is why I have come as a great warrior, to fight against darkness and evil and with me have also come, the spirits of good, the Spiritual World, to consummate my work; how long will this fight last? Until all my children have been saved. But I have not brought pain, I just want to transform you with love.

32. Those who have studied my word of the past times, contemplating my manifestation in this time in which I have returned among men, thank me for having granted them to be witnesses of these teachings and to all I say: just as you have seen me appear full of splendor, you will see me go in 1950, and to that scale you will rise every day, to meet with your Master.

33. Then you will have to face the world and you will see how ministers and pastors of sects and religions rise up to attack you, among them there will be some who will only seek the truth. And when they know my word, their faith will be kindled and they will believe in Me.

34. When you recognize me, you will judge how loving the Father is, how wise as a Teacher and how noble and just as a judge.

35. Beloved people, the world demands of you works of perfection, since you are disciples of the Divine Master. Fulfill my precepts, so that this Teacher will not be misjudged.

36. When the moment of My manifestation approaches, your heart beats hastily; in some it is of joy, in others of fear; but all of you feel my divine presence.

37. I only come to save you, to resurrect you, to offer you a staff on which you can lean throughout your walk.

38. He speaks to you who on the cross, dying, battered and tortured by the mob, raised his eyes to infinity, saying: "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing".

Love one another!

39. In that divine forgiveness, I embraced and enveloped all men of all times, because I could see the past, the present and the future of humanity. I can tell you in truth and in spirit, that in that blessed hour I was contemplating you who at this time are listening to my new word.

40. Today I have come to take you out of your spiritual parking lot, because for a long time this humanity has been sleeping deeply on a bed of religious fanaticism, idolatries, false cults and materialism, with which it has wanted to replace the practice of love for one another, charity, forgiveness and everything that derives from that unique Law.

41. In the essence of this word there is everything the world needs to regenerate itself, to return to the true path and to rise up to Me through love. What will become of this people if they do not listen carefully and properly understand the lesson that I have brought them in the Third Time? Great trials await you if you do not strengthen yourself in my word and if you do not take refuge in the Divine Ark of my mercy.

42. Do you believe, peradventure, that It pleases Me to watch you go through vicissitudes and drink gall and vinegar on Earth? No, people; I do not want life to treat you as prisoners or exiles, not as worthy children of God in all respects.

43. I see that you have become familiar with the tenderness of my word and with the forgiveness that emanates from it, without wanting to realize that the hour of trials is approaching and you have not wanted to prepare yourselves to triumph over them.

44. You say you are humble and before your Father you are showing yourselves ungrateful and proud, is this the example that as a testimony of my truth you are going to spread throughout the world? Think about all this and examine your conduct, so that you do not judge by my word.

45. The time is propitious to make merits, O beloved people; in my works you can find the necessary examples to regulate, your acts, embellishing them with the light that your Master pours out in each of his teachings.

46. Say to me, Have I disowned you when you have failed? Have I left you behind, abandoned, when some stumbling block has stopped you? Have I been angry with you when you have fallen overcome by pain? However, I see that those who with such love I call you my disciples, abandon their brothers in disgrace, they do not know the one who commits a deviation, instead of attracting him with charity to help him correct himself and sometimes they become judges, taking causes that do not correspond to them to judge. Is that my teaching? No! Your conscience tells me, because I want you to judge yourselves carefully, so that you can go polishing so many roughnesses that your feelings suffer and you can begin to be my disciples.

Love one another!

47. Do you intend to teach my Doctrine, your heart being full of passions, human defects and miseries? Remember that I have told you countless times, that a blind man will not be able to guide another blind man without the risk of stumbling or falling both into an abyss,

48. This is the voice that arises from the Sixth Seal, the Book of God, the penultimate chapter of which has been opened to overflow with wisdom above all spirit and above all understanding.

49. This light is the New Iris, under which the children of God will make a spiritual covenant in the Third Time, after the great test has passed, purifying and renewing the world; that is why I had to be extensive in giving my message to this people, because I want them to be strong in the struggle; that is why I have claimed and judged them, I do not want the world to correct them of their imperfections, because I am not going to send them to learn, but to teach.

50. People: Did you feel shaken a few moments before my light came to become a word on the lips of the spokesman? You were right, I bless your foreboding.

51. My peace be with you, people of Israel. People who carry in the spirit the law that the Lord gave you through Moses; that you have the word of Jesus written in your spirit and that you are already receiving the revelation of the Holy Spirit. Truly I tell you that you are the children of the light and that for no reason will you be able to get lost from the path.

52. This Spirit that you feel descending as a light to your mind, is that of the Father, of the One who revealed to you the Law that told you: "I am the Lord, the one who made the heavens and the earth and everything created." This Spirit that fills your understanding with inspiration and puts words of wisdom on your lips, is that of that Teacher who on Earth did powerful works and bequeathed to you the Doctrine of love.

53. Now I come to men to manifest myself through their consciousness; I come in the light that illuminates the minds, in the effluvium that only the heart knows how to feel, in the essence that is the bread of the spirit.

54. It is the time of awakening, of spiritual fullness, in which you will all be soldiers, you will all be farmers, you will all be disciples.

55. In the past times you used to delight in eating the bread of my word, you sought me to sweeten your heart and to recover your peace, without thinking that every spirit brings a message to make known and a wealth of goods to distribute among his brothers in need.

56. My word at this time has come to take you out of the darkness of a selfish, withdrawn and sterile life, to open paths of light to you and offer you fields to sow. I know that, although you may be rude, ignorant and poor in appearance, spiritually you possess the wealth of experience that the long path of your evolution has given you.

57. A halo of light will envelop my people when they rise as an apostle to spread the knowledge that I have revealed to them; by then you will have already recognized the power of my word and you will have complete knowledge of your gifts, those gifts that were latent for a long time in your being, waiting for the propitious moment to manifest me.

58. How many doctrines, how many cults to God and new ideas about the spiritual and about human life you are going to find. Each one will show you, if you know how to penetrate and analyze it, a good and just part and another erroneous part, far from the truth that is justice, love and perfection.

59. Wherever you find errors, ignorance or wickedness, spread the essence of my Doctrine, which, because it is Mine, cannot carry a mixture of impurity or errors.

60. My teaching is absolute, it is integral, it is perfect.

61. He who is fully convinced of my truth will never mix with my Work the misguided liturgies that he sees in others, recognizing that my Doctrine contains everything that is good and true he could find in other doctrines.

62. Each of my lessons, no matter how simple, are pages of knowledge for your spirit, which will soon gather my word to serve as a seed of life to humanity.

63. You do not yet know how to give the call to your brothers to be heard by all; I tell you not to get impatient, because when I see that you are already strong, I will prepare the way for you and give you the means.

64. Blessed are you who, when you pray, seek Mary as intercessor and intermediary, because spiritually She is your Mother, the one I left at the foot of the cross so that she would watch over all men and that you would love her and in her lap seek comfort.

65. Mary came from the Divine Womb to incarnate in the world to fulfill a mission as a woman and as a Mother.

66. Only from a pure flower like it could spring the fruit that would give redemption to humanity, a fruit promised by the Father to the patriarchs of the earliest times and to whom they gave the name of Messiah.

67. When the spirit of Mary had fulfilled her mission of love, tenderness and sacrifice on Earth, she returned to the womb of perfection from where she had come, because Mary is not, she is a being subject to evolution like other spirits; Mary is a divine expression, she is the tenderness of God.

Love one another!

68. This Doctrine comes to shed light on those who have not been able to contemplate the truth of that revelation.

69. Spiritualism comes to open an infinite field of advancement to the thought and the heart so that you can rise on the path of wisdom.

70. You, people, who by listening to my word are penetrating into that world of the spirit, are already beginning to see clearly what you had only seen through mysteries and enigmas.

71. At this time you should no longer be men of blind faith, of faith that does not reason or analyze; your spirit has grown and wants to know, wants to deepen and then I have seen that the time is propitious to send you my light as a Spirit of Truth, to clarify and explain all the mysteries, as I had promised through Jesus.

72. Tomorrow, when you have understood the essential points of my Doctrine and find yourselves able to give explanations of all this to anyone who requests it, you will see that this world that has turned my name away from its heart, blinded by the vanity of its earthly glories and by the triumphs of its science, begins to turn its eyes to ME, recognizing the Doctrine of Christ as the key that opens the doors of truth.

73. But this new humanity, developed and awakened in understanding, will demand the explanation of the revelations, the clarification of the mysteries, the analysis of what you received in a figurative sense, and I want it to be this simple people who explain the meaning of my word and teach with humility what I have revealed to them. Have I told you that this people will be the ones who interpret the ancient scriptures justly? For if the past is going to know how to explain, the present will know how to expose it with such simplicity that it will amaze many.

74. Mosaism, Christianity, Spiritualism, these are three different lessons on a single Doctrine: that of Love.

75. The number of those who will have to get up to spread this seed is short; but why should they not be enough, if in the Second Time my disciples were numbered and yet they made humanity know the word of Jesus?

76. Strengthen your spirit in my teaching, O my new disciples, and desire to be worthy to be sent to the nations tomorrow, because your desire will be a test of love, faith and goodwill.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. O people of Israel, who have the law of the Lord and the teaching of Jesus engraved on you in the spirit, receive my word, which I give you through man. Open your eyes and look at the events of this time so that you may know that I have come once again to communicate with you. Listen to my word and analyze it, assimilate its essence so that you form with the two previous testaments, a single book where you can study eternally.
2. I am caressing your heart, with the trials I prepare it for the times to come because after my departure, you will remain in my place. You have commemorated in these albas my passion. You have remembered and meditated on the deeds of that Master, without making representation of these sacred lessons. You have lived those days, because you are the same spirits who at that time contemplated surprised, full of wonder, my journey from beginning to end. You were surprised by my humility, you contemplated my birth in the bosom of a poor family, which did not possess even a roof of its own, I only came to teach you to live in compliance with the divine laws. Many of you did not understand the meaning of my words and my works, until after a while, when my memory came to your memory and my examples were like an open book in your life. Today you have returned to Earth and once again, you have me very close to you, you have doubted this word that I give you through man. You have asked me with displeasure why I have chosen this medium and why my Work has been carried out in this way, outside of every church, and I tell you: I have descended into the bosom of the people of Israel, settled in their greatest number in this nation, the others are scattered in all the nations, sent by Me, and with them I have communicated spiritually. These are my chosen ones, those who have remained faithful to Me, their hearts have not been defiled, and their spirit can perceive my inspirations. Through him I am giving the world a wealth of wisdom.
3. My voice does not cease to call hearts. My light manifests itself in the consciousness giving it breath to awaken and attract every spirit. I will not allow this humanity whom I love so much to go further in its materialism. The trials will stop her and when my word reaches her, her gifts will awaken, her heart will be sensitive and her path will be marked. Then he will know how to invoke me, he will look for the balm in Me and he will become my disciple.
4. I will form around you a spiritual environment of well-being that will envelop you and everything will be conducive to spiritual elevation. Be patient with the unbelievers and you will see that after a while, my manifestations will be taken as true and my word will be esteemed.
5. How much I love you, humanity, and how I long for you to work out your fraternity and concord!

Love one another!

6. You will be tireless, new disciples, speaking with this truth. Clumsy lips that do not pronounce my word out of fear, you are going to be unleashed at the moment of your decision. A single word spoken in my name can save a sinner, close chasms, stop those stubborn in evil on their way. Do you know the power of my word? Do you know the strength of your power? Speak with examples and fulfill that part of my Work, which I have entrusted to you, the rest I will do.

7. I regard you as my disciples of the Second Time. Among you are those who represent John, Peter, Thomas and also Judas. They, being rude, spoke admirable lessons and did wonders imitating me.

8. Blessed are those who believe without seeing. Blessed is he who has not asked me for the gift of clairvoyance in order to believe, because he has seen me with the eyes of his faith, has recognized the taste of the fruit of my word and has been fed. I also bless those who, having received this precious gift as a mission, know how to bear witness to Me.

9. I will gather the fruits of your sowing, even the smallest that you offer me I will multiply them because this is my will.

10. The book that was sealed in heaven, has been opened in the Sixth chapter, it is the Book of the Seven Seals that closes wisdom and judgment and that was unleashed by my love to you to reveal its profound lessons.

11. Man has lived five stages on Earth, encouraged by the divine breath of the spirit, despite which he has not understood the spiritual meaning of life, the purpose of his existence, his destiny and his essence; everything was an impenetrable Arcana both for his mind and for his spirit, a sealed book, the contents of which he could not interpret. He vaguely sensed the spiritual life, but without truly knowing the scale of elevation that brings beings closer to God; he was unaware of his highest mission on Earth, and the virtues and gifts that are part of his spirit, in order to overcome struggles, rise above human miseries and spiritually perfect himself to dwell in eternal light.

12. It was necessary that the Divine Book be opened and men contemplate its contents, in order to be saved from the darkness of ignorance that are the origin of all the evils that exist in the world. Who could open that book? By chance the theologian, the scientist or the philosopher? No, no one, not even the righteous spirits could reveal its contents to you, because what the book kept was the wisdom of God.

13. Only Christ, the Word, only He, divine love, could do it, but, even so, it was necessary to wait for men to be in a position to receive the divine revelation without being blinded by the splendor of my spiritual presence and humanity had to live five stages of trials, lessons, experience and evolution to reach the just development that would allow it to know the mysteries that the Arcanum of God kept for men.

Love one another!

14. The Law of God, his divine word given through Christ and all the messages of prophets, envoys and emissaries, were the seed that maintained the faith of humanity, in a divine promise that always announced light, salvation and justice for all men.

15. This is the time awaited for the Great Revelation, the one through which you will understand everything that I have manifested to you throughout the ages and you will know who your Father is, who you are and what is the reason for your existence.

16. This is the time when, due to the spiritual evolution that you have achieved, the trials that you have had and the experience that you have gathered, you will be able to receive from my Spirit to yours the light of wisdom, reserved in my Arcana awaiting your preparation, but, humanity having reached the necessary degree of evolution, to receive my message, I have sent the first ray of my light, which is this that has made the rude and simple men who serve as spokesmen for my inspiration speak in ecstasy.

17. This ray of light has been of preparation only, it is like the light of dawn when it announces the new day. Later my light will come to you fully, illuminating your existence and driving away even the last shadow of ignorance, sin and misery.

18. This time, whose dawn you admire in infinity, is the sixth stage that begins in the spiritual life of humanity, an era of light, of revelations, of fulfillment of ancient prophecies and forgotten promises. It is the Sixth Seal, which when untied, overflows its content of wisdom in your spirit, in a message full of justice, enlightenment and revelations.

19. For you it is the Sixth stage, it is the Third Time in which I have spoken to you more closely, as in that First Time in which I materialized my presence and my word in multiple ways, as in that Second Time in which I humanized my Word to speak to your heart.

20. Today I make myself heard again, but it is no longer to the senses that I manifest myself to, it is not even to your heart that I speak, it is to your spirit that I come to communicate to teach the path of elevation that leads to the Kingdom of light, the eternal and prosperous Kingdom of the spirit.

21. What does the Sixth Seal of the Book of God keep in its bosom, where your names and your destinies are written? It contains teachings, very great trials, revelations of wisdom.

22. What is the mission of my servants within this stage? Pray, meditate, regenerate, sow union, peace and spiritual light, develop your faculties and powers fight for your elevation, destroying ignorance, vice, fanaticism, in a word, the evil that manifests itself in so many ways

Love one another!

among humanity. When men have stopped hating each other, killing each other and betraying each other, when forgiveness and charity have spread from heart to heart, from people to people, and blood and tears no longer flow, then the great silence that means communication from spirit to Spirit will be made, then I will untie the last seal, the seventh, in which stage men will love each other as I taught you when I came to Earth.

23. Here you have, in brief and simple words, as the Word of God has always manifested himself, something of what you long to know about the Seven Seals of the Book of Wisdom and Divine Justice.

24. You have heard, now understand, because later you will have to prophesy, to reveal and teach.

25. The Divine Tree spreads its branches through counties and cities, giving shade to weary walkers. So it had to be at this time so that, at the same moment I would make you hear my word in different places, since now I come in Spirit.

26. This region in which you are listening to my word, had to be prepared so that you could receive me. Trials, pains and bitterness, were the ones that stopped your steps and made you open your eyes to reality. That pain removed the dry land from your heart and tears watered it, then you were prepared waiting for the seed that is my word.

27. You know what I have called you for: I want you to be farmers in my lands and to spread this seed everywhere.

28. Beloved farmers: Wake up! Look: the sun has appeared on the horizon, he invites you to the task.

29. I am that Sun and my coming at this time has been a new dawn for you.

30. Let no one have doubts about whether or not he will be able to be useful in my countryside. If I have called you, think that I cannot be wrong.

31. It is not a work beyond your strength that I have come to entrust to you, but I do tell you that the greater your number and the greater your union, the less the weight of your cross will be.

32. Before sending your spirit to this planet, he was shown the lands, he was told that he would come to sow peace, that his message would be spiritual, and your spirit rejoiced, promising to be faithful and obedient to his mission.

33. Why are you afraid to go and sow now? Why do you now feel unworthy or incapable of carrying out the work that so rejoiced your spirit when it was entrusted to it? It is because you have let the passions get in your way, obstructing the spirit's way, trying to justify his indecision with childish motives.

34. Do not come empty-handed to the valley from which you came. I know that your bitterness would be very great.

35. What should you do to take the first firm step? Meditate deeply on my word and then pray with all your faith and all your senses. From that preparation, an inner force will begin to emerge that will initiate an incessant struggle with the envelope. The spirit will confront the matter trying to make the voice of conscience heard and to silence the voice of the flesh.

36. Thus, one time after another, the spirit will be able to take its place in human life, and when you turn your eyes you will contemplate very distant those obstacles that prevented you from taking up your cross, to follow me.

37. Does not my lesson revive you, little children, does not my word awaken you to reality, do you not feel encouraged in your spirit?

38. See how my word has not had a single reproach or claim for you, it has only come to exhort you with phrases full of light, to the fulfillment of the spiritual mission that you have brought to Earth, making you understand that you do not abuse your free will; that neither the spirit gets in the way of the duties of matter, nor does it hinder the spirit in his mission.

39. Only my Doctrine will be able to give you the norm for you to achieve that harmony between spirit and matter and the only way for you to do works worthy of your Father in the world, works of a disciple on the way to becoming a teacher.

40. When will you win in this inner struggle?

41. Some have not even started the fight, others are in full contention, others, very few, have triumphed over the flesh, but I also contemplate others who, having begun to fight, allowed themselves to be overcome by the enemies they carried in themselves and now they are going down paths that are not mine.

42. I will come back to look for you, I still want you to discover for yourselves where the truth and the essence of life are and where the mirages, the tinsel, the lie are. I know that when they return to Me broken, bleeding from the heart and battered from the spirit, I will no longer have to explain anything to them, because they themselves went to disabuse themselves.

43. When will you stop being capricious and curious children?

44. Come to my table and while you are enjoying the taste of my word, let your spirit be filled with light. You will see how after my lesson you will feel the spirit stronger and the flesh more docile and meek.

Love one another!

45. My doctrine loses all its meaning if you do not put it into practice. You well know, beloved disciples, that the purpose of my Law and my Doctrine is the practice of good, and that therefore, whoever carries it only in memory or on his lips, without applying it to his works, is transgressing.

46. Before you get up to teach my maxims and to expound their concepts, you must begin by practicing the teaching that I have revealed to you, loving your fellow men, living a high life, sowing charity and light on your way; if you do not do this, I tell you from now on that you will not have understood Spiritualism. He reveals your essence to you, through him you can form an accurate concept about your Father and know yourself.

47. It is true that to achieve spirituality, you need a certain renunciation of effort and sacrifice; but if a longing for elevation has been awakened in you, if love begins to vibrate in your being or if the ideal for the spiritual has arisen, instead of sacrifices or renunciation, it will be for you a pleasure to divest yourself of what useless, superfluous or bad you carry.

48. Listening to Me has awakened your spirit, because it has not been the routine ceremony or the word repeated in the same way, which you have heard. My teaching has impressed your spirit, that is why you have always come with the longing to know what I am going to say, what I am going to reveal to you, but no one thinks that just by listening to me or learning my word, he has already fulfilled.

49. At that time, I, humanized in Jesus, always accompanied my word with works of love that were written on every conscience, so that everyone who wanted to follow in my footsteps, would imitate me in the light of the word and in the truth of the works.

50. Hear me now, O people, and arise to give worthy and true fulfillment to my word. I see that you carry sadness in your heart, because you are sensing that not all these multitudes are going to adhere to the Law that I have written on your conscience, but, I tell you that now, as in the First Time, the people will be divided.

51. I have spoken a lot to you and have marked a single path for everyone, so I tell you that judgment will come for this people, when the day is appointed by the will of your Father to make this manifestation cease if some of my children disobey me. I have come to you as a liberator at this time, pointing out to you the way of the desert, the spiritual journey of the struggle for liberation and salvation, promising you in the end the new Land of Promise that is peace, light and happiness of the spirit. Blessed are those who rise up to follow me on this journey, eager for liberation and spirituality, because they will never feel alone or weak in the trials that the vast desert will bring them. On the other hand, woe to those who lack faith, to those who love the things of the world more than the things of the spirit, to those who continue clinging to their idols and their traditions! They, believing themselves to be serving me, will be subjects of Pharaoh, who is the flesh, materialism, idolatry. Whoever longs to reach the Promised Land, the homeland of the spirit, has to go through the world leaving a trace of good. Come along this path and do not be afraid, because if you base your hope on Me, it is not possible that you will be lost; if you fear or distrust, it is because your faith is not absolute and I tell you that whoever wants to follow me, must be convinced of my truth.

52. I bless you all, I forgive you, I unite you in my love.

53. Judge yourselves so that you have before your conscience absolute confidence in the firmness of each of your steps.

54. Define your beliefs as well as your practices so that you will know if you are worthy of being called spiritualists or if you still have to wait a while longer to bear that name.

55. Many of you call yourselves spiritualists, because you feel faith in my presence through my communication through the human understanding and because you often attend to listen to my word, but I want you to be spiritualists for the practice of good, for the knowledge of the essence of life, for your love for others, for your worship of God through a high, fruitful and virtuous existence.

56. Let it be my word that awakens and raises you up, that discovers before you all the gifts, faculties, potencies and virtues that your spirit treasures, because you are those who, carrying an inheritance in themselves, believe yourselves poor because of your ignorance. Your Lord, seeing that you live consecrated to material life, having given yourself with light and spiritual grace, has come to you to awaken you and to tell you that it is not fair that you suffer hunger and spiritual thirst having at your fingertips the divine spring of wisdom, which is reached by the path of spirituality. For at the beginning of this age, it is as if you too were to begin a journey; but verily I say to you, that all that your spirit has gathered in its past, is the light of experience and is the courage to penetrate fully into the trials and lessons that the Third Time brings with it.

57. I draw you to me so that you may learn My lessons. All of you are welcome before my Chair, blessed are the persevering; your presence before my word has a great meaning, it is that of your longing to approach Me. Only I will be able to reveal to you the gifts that you possess and make you feel the responsibility that you have before your brothers. This is the time of judgment, the time of the settlement of all debts, the time of restitution.

58. My Divine Work is the light that envelops humanity, illuminates it through consciousness. To some the Divine Message will come in the form of inspiration, directly, to others through the word through my disciples, to others in the form of writings, the pages of which contain the essence of my teachings.

Love one another!

59. Step by step and little by little men will awaken to the life of the spirit, it will be for them like a new existence, like starting a new life full of promises, sown with wonderful surprises and illuminated by the light of the greatest ideal: God.

60. Yes, beloved people, God is the ideal of spirits when they tend to rise, because to say God, that is to say perfection, harmony, wisdom, happiness, light, infinite peace, love eternity, and the spirit, when he has come out of the crucible of trials, when he has struggled with the flesh and with the world in the immense sea of passions, stops for a moment to meditate on everything that has happened, like the castaway who, after desperately fighting the waves, finally reaches land holding on to a tree, symbol of his faith and his hope, and after from looking at the still raging sea, he exclaims: The ship has sunk, but I have been saved! Blessed be the Lord of Heaven! So it is with the spirit that, like the castaway, after the storm stops, meditates, contemplates his passions, his earthly glories and his vanities sink into the past like the wrecked ship of the castaway; but, seeing that he encourages in him the light of faith, he joyfully exclaims: "My Father, I thank you because despite so many storms, I have not forgotten you".

61. That is the hour of awakening in the spirit and the instant in which it begins its elevation.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 270

1. Blessed are those who are ready on the last day of my communication, for truly I tell you that his spirit will be present in my new Upper Room. There, receiving for the last time this invisible bread, true unleavened bread, your spirit will be strengthened, saturated with spirituality and light, with which you will soon understand the essence of this Doctrine.
2. What a solemnity in that last hour! So much light on this town!
3. The Kingdom of Heaven will approach your spirit with its eternal invitation to dwell in it the great spirits, the strong, the spirits of light, true sages in the spiritual kingdom, will be present in those moments.
4. The forerunners, the prophets, those who in other times brought divine messages to Earth will make an appearance, because my word has been for all spirits, whether they are incarnated or free of matter.
5. Those beings will be representatives of the infinite abodes that exist in the Universe and will attend the last of my manifestations that under this form I have given you at this time.
6. What will they contemplate among this people? What are they going to find out? Only I know this, but I charge you to watch and pray, so that you may be of those who sit at the table, of those who come to rejoice and mourn with the Master, of those who come to eat and drink the bread and wine of heaven. That you will not come to the table plotting betrayals, because only in appearance you will have been with me, because in reality, your conscience will not allow you to enjoy the presence of your Father.
7. Do you know why I am speaking to you in this way? Because I know what will happen, because I know you perfectly and I know who will deny me and who will be faithful to me; I know who will remain faithful, because they have studied my word and who will be confused because they have never analyzed the background of my Work.
8. While some were only interested in the essence of my word and always longed for the progress and evolution of their spirit, others liked the exterior worship more, so, while the former enjoyed receiving teachings on spirituality, others were annoyed that their mistakes were mentioned.
9. Only I know who will answer me for everything that, should have been known through my spokespersons, has been withheld.
10. Understand, people, that in this Third Time, as witnesses who have been of this divine manifestation, you have the mission to extend with all fidelity and truth this message. That you have been called and chosen to bring the Good News to humanity, teaching your brothers the spiritual path, the only one that leads you to peace, true light and universal brotherhood.

Love one another!

11. Long has been the time that I consecrated to teach you, but, if the last ones listened to me little, I leave my written word for them, so that they may seek in it the divine essence and all may reach the same understanding and spirituality.

12. In following this path, carry no ideal other than that of the perfection of your spirit, perfection that you could achieve by putting my Doctrine into practice, living my teachings, consecrating your existence to the service of your fellow men in continuous compliance with divine laws and human laws.

13. You have already fought a lot for your material life, now it is time to work for the spirit.

14. Both struggles are different in essence, because while the human struggle is selfish, because it is necessary to work for oneself, the spiritual struggle must be absolutely disinterested, you must sow love and charity on your way without expecting reward.

15. Try to penetrate and understand my teachings, in such a way that you understand that in the practice of a high, clean and spiritual life, there are the greatest satisfactions, the greatest joys, the true and eternal triumphs.

16. The spirit, when it comes to rise above the materiality of the world and over the reanimation of matter, has to contemplate life through the light of truth. That's when he discovers what's real and what's fake.

17. It pleases me that in the spirit of my children there is peace and it fills me with joy that the heart of man experiences joy. I only want you to seek what is true, for which I give you the means in my word.

18. And truly I say to you, Blessed are those who have not become acquainted with my word. Blessed are those who obey and respect my commands, for they will be the ones who bear witness to my Work. They are the ones who correspond with love to the love that I show them in my word, they are the ones who have charity and gratitude towards these spokespersons who are leaving their lives in this town.

19. But how many have become familiar with my manifestation! They attend my teachings like someone who is going to witness a miracle or fulfill a tradition, and that is not the fulfillment that I expect from my people.

20. The time has not yet come when all of you will take my Work in a spiritual form. Observe how while some of my labourers become humble and charitable as I pour out benefits on them, others become arrogant and selfish, believing themselves to be increasingly superior to their brothers.

21. The former work in silence, in humility, in spiritual intimacy, the latter cannot be content if they do not live surrounded by adulation, praise and tributes, enjoying the humiliation of their small and weak brothers. These are not my disciples, because never have my examples, my Doctrine or my revelations taught them such actions.

22. To those of you who have carved out for yourselves that pedestal of vanities, I say with love that you descend from it, out of conviction, out of repentance, if you do not want to be brought down tomorrow by the same ones who have raised you up today, as has always happened to men who have sat on a throne of false power to humiliate their fellow men from it.

23. To those who have worked with humility, sowing with love the blessed seed of spiritual charity, I say that you continue to sow, that you continue to gather the tears of those who suffer, that you continue to make light on the paths of darkness, ignorance, vice and confusion. That is the way, that is the mission of the farmer of Jesus.

24. I want both of you united in my Work, linked by faith, harmonizing in spirituality, walking along the same path, under the weight of the same cross.

25. Do not spread throughout the world that you are masters in spirituality, do not even say that you are disciples, but try that your works are as faithfully attached to my truth and they will testify for you.

26. In the difficult hours of your life, in the great trials, invoke me with the spirit, without outwardly attracting anyone's attention and I will make my presence and my power felt.

27. My countryside is infinite, how can there be anyone who believes that it is limited in these enclosures where you listen to my word?

28. My spiritual fields of cultivation are all over the Earth, wherever a man dwells or a spirit exists. My countryside extends beyond this world, reaching all the dwellings where there is a need for light, peace, spiritual cultivation, purification and perfection.

29. Let your concepts expand, let your mind break the circle in which it has enclosed itself and let your spirit free itself from those chains with which matter has held it down, so that it contemplates the infinite and becomes saturated with the eternal.

30. The time is coming, when men will come to you to search this Doctrine, it will have no merit for you to show them my word to defend us, since it, coming from Me, is clean and perfect in its essence. It will be a merit that by searching you, they discover in my people a humble and clean life, men and women who know how to dedicate a part of their time to the practice of charity, who in their path leave a trace of comfort and light. That will be the living testimony that you give to the world, testimony presented through works, not words.

31. It is clear that the gift of words will have to blossom on your lips to move the hearts of your brothers; but it will be the works that confirm each of your words.

32. Do you think that my disciples of the Second Time actually repeated what they heard from their Master? No, people. It is true that the light poured out in torrents in the word that came from his lips; but his works, his deeds were as numerous as his words, therefore his sowing was fruitful and abundant.

33. Therefore I say to you, restore your spirit in my word, O people. You can still enjoy this grace for a short time. Make your heart a chest in which you keep all the essence of my teachings and let your spirit be the ark where my wisdom is deposited.

34. The day is approaching when these nightingales will stop trilling on the branches of this tree and I don't want you to mourn the wasted times afterwards.

35. When the time comes to close this stage of communications, I will have already given you everything you need for your spiritual journey. You will lack nothing.

36. I have endowed you with weapons and light so that you may be able to face that time announced by Me, in which I have told you that men will try to destroy faith among themselves, in which love for God will be fought as it never was before, but I am leaving in you this bread of life so that you may raise up those who are hungry for light, balm to heal physical pain and that of the spirit, power to stop those who stray from the true path.

37. Prepare yourselves so that these times do not surprise you, because if you sleep you will wake up from your lethargy terrified by painful events. Then you will not be able to think about others, you will think about yourself, when more about your children, parents, husbands or brothers and I want you to forget about yourselves, who you are and what you possess, so that your spirit can take care of its highest mission which is to love God in his own fellow men.

38. I want you to love your brothers as if you knew them, it being enough for you to know that they exist.

39. unite yourselves so that you may form the strong people, the new Israel that knows how to make its way through persecutions, vicissitudes and obstacles, following step by step the luminous path of my Law, inspired by the divine promise of my peace.

40. You are, both spiritually and by blood, a people who fight for peace and for their freedom, who have known a lot about the yoke, the flesh and humiliation. Truly I tell you, it is there, in that bitter cup, that your spirit has been warmed and tempered.

Love one another!

41. Do not let the ideal of light, freedom and peace die. May you understand that this spiritual path that I am offering you will certainly lead men of faith and of good will to the goal.

42. My righteousness, manifesting itself in fullness on the world, will help you to testify, help you to convert and prepare the paths.

43. The thirst for truth will become very great in humanity and it will be necessary to give it the crystalline water of my teaching so that it does not succumb. Always keep in mind that the people of this time, due to their spiritual evolution, can no longer be deceived, that the world is about to fully open its eyes to the light, to say: "This is good and this is evil, this is the light and this is the darkness" and no longer wants to walk along crooked paths, or stray into rites and traditions.

44. The long path of experience, of free will, of disobedience and evil, has already been traveled by humanity and is already approaching its goal, where it will arrive confused; but where it will also see how light is made in it.

45. The conscience, like a fine sword of light, will fight against the darkness preventing the spirit from being disturbed, and when it becomes calm and can look and judge its past, a succession of sights will pass through its mind, strengthening it to never go back.

46. My word shines before you in those moments, like the lighthouse on stormy nights, illuminating the route of the lost one.

47. Would it be fair, that by that time you had not reached the due preparation?

48. You are well aware that you are not indispensable for the spiritual redemption of humanity; but what about your mission?

49. I can do everything without you, but what would you answer me when I called you?

50. Disciples: After praying, weigh your responsibility and measure the scope of your mission. You are not ignorant of it since I have told you about it extensively.

51. I come to you to strengthen you with words of love and wisdom, you are on the eve of great events. I have announced to you that the world will be shaken in the year 1950. These events will mark the last year of my communication and my departure, so that when men become interested in seeking the truth of my manifestation and the facts that surrounded it, they will find that both at the beginning of my communication in 1866, and at the approach of its end in 1950, the heavens, Nature and human life were moved.

52. Think of the world of tomorrow, beloved people, of the men who will anxiously search for signs of my presence; think that you are going to remain faithful witnesses of everything you have seen and heard from Me.

Love one another!

53. As my teaching has been extensive, so should your testimony be, so that you may not leave the slightest doubt or confusion in any of your brothers.

54. Engrave well in your heart, that it will not be with external and impressive acts with which you try to persuade your brothers, it must be with the spiritual essence of my Doctrine. You might impress those who come with their burden of suffering in search of comfort and who, in their longing to find relief from their pain, do not even notice the way in which they receive the balm; but think that they will open their eyes and understand that the balm that the peasants received from Me was not given to them in all its purity. Verily I say to you, the sowing done in this way will bear many vain fruits.

55. The farmer who bases his work on the practice of a true charity, well understood, that in addition to bringing relief to the ills of the body, ignites the light of faith in God, and imparts spiritual knowledge; the one who forgets himself, consecrates some moments to the service of his fellow men, that will make the Spiritualism felt in his brothers, will make my presence felt through his works and therefore his plot will be fertile and his harvest good and abundant.

56. I must tell your spirit the mission entrusted to him, that you do not deceive yourselves, that you analyze in advance your intentions, the purpose of your works and so that you understand what the result you obtain may be.

57. You are my disciples and you must live alert so that you listen to the voice of conscience before carrying out a work. Then you will set the goal that you want to achieve beyond this life, recognizing that here you will only accumulate merits to make you worthy of inhabiting worlds of light. What does it matter that with your help others arrive before you, the greater your merit will be, because that will mean that you thought more about them, than about yourself.

58. The path of the spiritualist is delicate, because he will not be able to call himself a worthy disciple of this Doctrine, who, after receiving the lesson, harbors hatreds, egoism, hypocrisy or ill will,

59. In the spiritualist there must be peace, faith, charity, forgiveness, smile, understanding, indulgence and tenderness, to pour them as a balm on those who suffer. On the other hand, there must be in his heart the zeal, strength and energy before those who alter the truth, hide it or sell it.

60. I give you my seed clean and I offer you fields prepared to sow it, so there is no reason for you to bring me bad fruit on your return.

61. Take my word and meditate seriously on it and you will feel how it becomes a fine chisel, which, penetrating into the recesses of your being, will begin a work of polishing in your heart.

Love one another!

62. Understand, people, that my call has been to make known to you the mission that you are going to fulfill on Earth. Your spirit already knew what it had been sent for, but it was necessary that your matter also receive the revelation, so that it would be willing to work with the spirit, forming both one being and one will.

63. After hearing these revelations, could any of you be unaware of his mission? Could your spirit flee and give up the fight? It would be childish to want to run away from your own destiny, to pretend to get away from yourself. What place could you find in this world or in others, where my voice would not reach? None, for my voice is your light. On the other hand, who will be able to escape from this time of trials? Wherever you retreat, purification will follow you there.

64. Truly, I tell you, you can find security and peace only in the performance and fulfillment of the Law that I have entrusted to you. The merits that your spirit makes within the path of love, which are charity and fraternity, will be reflected in your human life, in peace, in tranquility, in confidence and health.

65. In the First time the people made a covenant with their Lord and swore to obey the Law. Now I don't want you to swear, I want your impulse to follow me to be spontaneous, that your fulfillment be out of love.

66. I have seen at this time all the congregations gather together, forming a single multitude, to commemorate the date on which this people swore obedience and union to me, but I ask you: Have you fulfilled your oath? Have you been obedient to my commands and joined together?. No people, you have not fulfilled, your oath was in vain. For what do you commemorate that date then? It would be more pleasant for Me to see you separated materially, although you never met to commemorate those traditions, but, instead, to see you spiritually united, practicing in the same way my Doctrine and fulfilling my word. Then you would be united in my Work and it would be your strong union for love and truth, without having to fulfill only because in your spirit you carry the weight of an oath.

67. I want that when the new people of Israel rise up to follow me, their covenant will be one of love and faith.

68. Do you understand why I have been abolishing all your traditions? Because busy fulfilling them, you forget the true essence of your life, which is to obey the Law.

69. I tell you that if, before finishing my communication at this time, you do not unite, nor forgive each other, you do not know the trials that will come to shake you, reminding you of your falsehood and your disunity.

Love one another!

70. I see that you have become familiar with my word and that, when I speak to you in a tone of complaint or counterclaim, you close your ears, trusting that in a few moments I will forgive you and speak to you with infinite sweetness.

71. O people, who have not wanted to keep the seed and who only seek delight by eating the fruit! What will become of you, when my word is lacking to you? Are you going to invent some way to fill your void? No, people, do not try to deceive yourselves, rather keep my word in your heart from now on, store it and when you stop having my communication, you will be possessors of an inexhaustible flow of wisdom, of a source of health and peace, of an inexhaustible source of blessings.

72. My word, as the appointed day approaches when you will have to stop listening to it, it becomes clearer. Some of my spokespersons have reached their maturity and in reward for the preparation of them and of the people I pour out my word, full of clarity and simplicity.

73. Before it was necessary to speak to you in a figurative sense, because the spokespersons were only qualified to speak in that way of the profound teachings of my truth. Behind every parable or figure there was always something divine, or mysterious, that the speaker could not interpret. Later, when his spirituality and his elevation made him understand his mission, the figurative sense disappeared from his lips, because his understanding had already managed to express the elevated, through a simple language, accessible to all minds and all spirits.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. I bless you, people, and in you I bless future generations.
2. I contemplate that you have become contaminated by the evils of the world, that like all weak beings you have also become ill, but I come to purify you because a great, noble and delicate spiritual mission awaits you to fulfill.
3. In my word I have named you Israel," and when you heard that name, you shuddered under the weight of a responsibility that you had never imagined possessing.
4. That name made you wake up and since then you stopped feeding on frivolous, superfluous or bad satisfactions, to support the heart and the spirit with substantial, healthy, clean delicacies.
5. You are changing the low passions for true love, you are leaving the unhealthy pleasures for spiritual satisfactions, and all this, which is regeneration and purification, has given sensitivity to your heart and has allowed the dormant powers of the spirit to begin to manifest in your life.
6. When my word has come to your understanding, like a ray of sunshine when it illuminates a room, you have concluded by confessing that only with love for the Father and for your brothers, can your spirit be nourished.
7. This is how the light is being made in this people destined to start the Era of Spirituality, that is why I tell you that once this battle has been won over yourselves, no longer descend, no longer take a single step back.
8. When you begin to stop feeling your own pains to feel the sufferings of others, you will be taking a new step on the path of my Doctrine.
9. These are the times announced by the prophets to humanity, in which the pain will become very acerbic and then disappear and slowly be taken in peace.
10. Humanity for the most part ignores my arrival and my presence as a Spirit of Consolation, but within its being it senses something and awaits me.
11. This people will give men the certainty of my new manifestation. That is the reason why I am pouring my light on your spirit.
12. No more hesitations, people, no more doubts or disobedience. Let faith and trust rule over your whole being.

Love one another!

13. Do not run away from the trials of life, because they are lessons that you must learn. Know that you have been sent at this time to acrisolate your spirit in the performance of a high, noble and worthy mission.
14. Do not leave your fulfillment until later, pretending that today you have many obstacles to follow me, that you are better off waiting for tomorrow's sun to fully illuminate your path to rise to the struggle.
15. Watch how the light of the Divine Spirit falls incessantly on your spirit so as not to let you fall or fall asleep.
16. Sometimes I catch you in the silence of your meditations wondering why you have such great duties towards humanity and I tell you that your question comes from the fact that you are unaware of your spiritual past, and therefore, the debts you have contracted with your brothers.
17. When the certainty of your responsibility towards the peoples of the Earth is absolute, you will take up your cross with great love and begin to climb serenely the mountain of your spiritual elevation.
18. The past may be erased from your memory, previous existences will remain distant from your spirit, but from the Book of Life where everything is written down by God, nothing remains in the past, nothing is erased or forgotten, everything is present and eternally alive there.
19. Such is the justice of the Father; perfect, loving.
20. When man loses himself and sinks into the mire of the world, the Lord pours out His charity and saves the spirit. When you believe that your works on earth have irretrievably lost you to eternal life, the Divine Judge gives you an opportunity to repair your mistakes, thus achieving salvation by effort, will and perseverance in doing good.
21. Now you have that blessed opportunity, you can meditate on all this and strive to fulfill your mission, so that when you return to that Valley from where the spirits depart to inhabit the material world, you will arrive without charges and unfulfilled missions and instead you can experience the true joy of having triumphed over the smallness and rudeness of the life in which you lived.
22. Your spirit is awake as never before, therefore I tell you that you will be responsible for the steps you take during this time, since the period in which I have given you my teachings was very extensive and the word in which I gave you my lessons was very broad.

Love one another!

23. Do not forget that in the most solemn moments and in the most transcendent hours, it is when the temptation lurks most, when the heart weakens and the mood decays, when doubts, uncertainties and indecisions arise.

24. Be inspired by the purity of my Work, ask yourselves what can please your Father the most, what you are doing right and what you are doing wrong.

25. Search your own works before judging others' and you will see an infinity of imperfections arise that had gone unnoticed before your eyes due to lack of study and love.

26. You will throw out of your bosom everything that is fanaticism, idolatry, superstition, materiality, and superfluous and useless practices. It will be as if you cleanse the earth of bad weeds and then sow it with beautiful wheat.

27. Take advantage of the time you still have to listen to my teaching, so that it may fill you with light, and with grace, so that you may take the firm step towards spirituality, a step that you have not taken because you have continued within a cult full of materialism and errors.

28. Until now you have lacked the faith to renounce your forms, rites and symbols and seek me spiritually in infinity. You have lacked the courage to be spiritualists and you have devised a way of pretending to be spirituality, hiding behind it your materiality and your mistakes.

29. I do not want you hypocrites, but sincere and lovers of the truth; therefore I speak to you very clearly, so that you may purify your life and show the world the truth of this Work. Do you call yourselves spiritualists? Then truly be it. Do not speak of my Doctrine while doing the opposite, because you will only confuse humanity with your works.

30. First of all, know what my Work is, what my Law means, what your mission is and how you should carry it out, so that if you do not have a worthy guide to guide your steps on your path, you will be guided by the conscience and by the knowledge that you have acquired in my Doctrine. So you will not be able to hold anyone responsible for any stumble or any mistake.

31. I also tell you, if the one who goes with his counsels guiding your spiritual steps, walks according to my Law, follow him faithfully, because he has made himself worthy of your trust.

32. When the time comes to call this people to account, my voice will reach every spirit with the same justice, since my word was heard by all in the same way. There no one will say, "Lord, claim from those who know better and forgive those of us who did only what we were commanded."

33. Do you think that faced with the bad example of a vicious or evil father on Earth, the son makes a mistake in not following him in his way of being? Or do you think that the son is obliged to follow in the footsteps of his parents?

Love one another!

34. Truly, I tell you, it must be conscience and reason that guide you on the right path.
35. But not because you turn away from the evil path that those who have the duty to lead you through life had traced for you, are you going to ignore them or stop loving them, on the contrary, from the place where you find salvation, you will do everything on your part to help those who have turned away from the route, that is, your charity and your love should never suffer variation.
36. Try to understand my word, beloved disciples, so that you will not have to suffer indecisions when trials surprise you.
37. Materialism, as an immense obstacle, stands in the way of the evolution of the spirit; humanity has stopped before that wall.
38. You are in a world in which man has managed to develop his understanding, applied to material science, but his reasoning about the existence of the spiritual is still clumsy, his knowledge about everything that is not exclusive to matter is delayed.
39. This century that you are living, presents two phases: one, the evolution of the mind and the other the spiritual stagnation.
40. Truly the divine light radiates over the understandings and that is why my great inspiration follows from them, the fruits of which amaze humanity. It is that the mind seeks freedom and expansion. Man goes deeper into the study of Nature; he searches, he discovers, he recreates, he is amazed, but he never hesitates. But when the idea of clarifying the spiritual, the truth that lies beyond the matter he knows, has arisen in him, then he is afraid, he is afraid to penetrate into the unknown, into what he believes is forbidden, into what belongs only to high beings and worthy of investigating in the Arcana of God.
41. There he has shown himself weak and clumsy, unable to overcome with will the prejudices that weigh him down. It has been seen that he is a slave to crooked interpretations.
42. The development of human intelligence will never be complete until it develops on the spiritual plane. See how great is the delay of your spirit, for you have consecrated yourselves to the knowledge of earthly life.
43. Man is a slave to the will of others, a victim of anathemas, of condemnations and threats, but what has been achieved with it? Let him abandon all his longings to understand and achieve the highest knowledge that man should possess, prevent himself from being able to clarify what he has absurdly always considered a mystery: the spiritual life.
44. Do you think that eternally it will be an enigma for man on Earth, the life of the spirit? If you think so, you are in a very big mistake. Verily I tell you, as long as you do not know your origin and are ignorant of everything that relates to the spirit, with all the advancement of your sciences, you will not go from being creatures that inhabit a small world, among plants and animals, you will continue to be hostile through your wars and pain will continue to prevail over your life.

45. If you do not discover what you carry in your being, nor do you discover in your fellow human beings the spiritual brother who dwells in each one of you, are you going to be able to truly love each other? No, humanity, even if you say that you know me and follow me, if you take my Doctrine superficially, your faith, your knowledge and your love will be false.

46. Today my light descends in a vibrant and inspiring way to all understanding, by manifesting itself in the human word through these spokespersons it has become my Doctrine for the one who has heard it, but as it all tends to the elevation of your spirit, I have called it "Spiritualism". But never stop at names or definitions, the important thing about my Doctrine is the essence and the truth that it contains.

47. This is a propitious time when the light of my word, the higher morality and the wisdom of spirituality, come to overflow on hearts, like a fresh and beneficial rain after the long drought of the desert that you have crossed.

48. This Doctrine is perfect, as perfect was my word expressed in the Second Time and as each of my inspirations; perfection is not possible that there is of the understandings through which it sprang, it proceeds from the Divine Spirit that inspired it.

49. This teaching is simple as everything pure, the divine, and therefore, easy to understand. But for you to put it into practice it will sometimes seem difficult to you, the labors of the spirit require effort, renunciation or sacrifice on the part of your body and when you lack education or spiritual discipline, you have to suffer.

50. Since the beginning of time there has been a struggle between spirit and matter in trying to understand what is right, lawful and good, to make a life adjusted to the Law presented by God. In the midst of this struggle it seems to you as if a strange and malevolent power is inducing you at every step to move away from the battle, inviting you to continue along the path of materiality, using your free will. I tell you that there is no temptation other than the fragility of your matter: sensitive to what surrounds it, weak to give in, easy to fall and surrender, but whoever has managed to master the impulses, passions and weaknesses of matter, he has overcome the temptation that he carries in himself.

51. What new does Spiritualism come to teach, if already the Doctrine of love given by Jesus in the Second Time showed you the way to follow? He has come to make you understand that word and to explain it to you more fully and to teach you to practice it spiritually.

Love one another!

52. The doctrine of Jesus was perfect, since it was revealed to you by the Word made man, in whom God was hidden. That Word that in Jesus spoke to the World is the same one that speaks to you now in Spirit and that has come to tell you that that teaching, those works and examples that I bequeathed when I dwelt among you, you know how to apply to your life, that not because you consider yourselves very evolved and living in a time very distant from that, you believe that my word is out of time. In Spiritualism you will be able to find a way to apply my Doctrine and my examples to the era you are living in and to the evolution you have.

53. The word of today differs from that of Jesus in the Second Time, because it is given through human spokesmen and that these understandings are limited in their conceptions, but the essence of the word coming out of his lips is perfect.

54. No one wants to see in the human matters that I use, the presence of the divine, nor in his human voice to the voice of God. God has no form, nor does he have the expression of a human voice like you. Thus, the one who listens to my word will not find God in the outward expression of the human word, but in its essence. This is what I have been demonstrating in all the precincts.

55. Again the Master is with his disciples to remind them of that divine teaching that as a message of love and peace I brought to humanity in the Second Time.

56. I have returned because these present generations have not taken my word as the norm and law of their life, and it is necessary to teach them the way with new lessons that clarify what they had not understood.

57. Capriciously the man marches subject to the impulses of his free will, oblivious to many realities of life.

58. It was no longer the time for there to be reigns on Earth, nor strong peoples who humiliated the weak, and yet they exist, as a proof that primitive tendencies to dispossess the weak by using force and to conquer by violence still prevail in man.

59. I certainly placed man on earth so that he would rule and reign on it, so that he would reign over a world of peace, understanding and harmony, in which he would be an obedient prince and faithful to the King, who is his Creator.

60. The reign that men have formed on earth is another, a reign of false greatness, of vanities, of false splendors. That is why the world does not have among its greatest riches spiritual treasures such as peace, wisdom and spiritual elevation.

61. Humanity longs for a little peace, but it never seeks it by the means that exist to reach it, such as reasoning, forgiveness, charity, reconciliation, love.

Love one another!

62. Now I announce to you a great, intense struggle between those who seek the establishment of the Reign of peace and those who strive to defend or increase the power of their earthly reign.

63. The struggle between spirit and matter, the ancient battle between the earthly and the temporal. Spirit versus matter. Who will beat whom? Some say, the spirit, others say, the matter, I tell you, no one will overcome.

64. In this battle it is not a question of the spirit triumphing by humiliating the flesh, because if that were the case, his triumph would be false. The definitive victory will be for both, when matter and spirit united, harmonizing and fulfilling both with their destiny, march under a single ideal along the path of justice and love, which is the path traced by my Law. How much harm men do to themselves with their fratricidal wars! The days, the months and the years pass without having a little peace in the heart, living in constant anxiety; under threat of his own brothers turned into enemies. Is it living this or at least, striving for a high ideal? No, people: men kill themselves for their human ambitions that are worth much less than their life; but they do not want to know the price of a life; they do not want to know that the existence of a man is sacred and that only the One who created it can dispose of it.

65. This same world that you now inhabit has been a battlefield for a long time and the enormous experience bequeathed by his ancestors has not been enough for man, a bitter and painful experience that is like a book opened by conscience before the men of this time, but the heart of humanity is hard to accept that fruit of experience that is like a legacy of light. The only thing they have inherited from their ancestors has been the hatred, pride, resentment, greed, pride and revenge that was transmitted to them in the blood.

66. It will be necessary for the Earth to dress in red with the blood of many innocents and later to dress in black with the mourning of those who survive.

67. All the reigns raised by men on foundations of pride and pride have fallen, because their foundations, apparently solid, were false and could not resist my justice.

68. These powers that now amaze humanity, you will soon see them collapse resoundingly and if after these, others rise up, they will also fall.

69. When men unite their peoples and are governed spiritually and humanly by the laws of love and justice that the Father has revealed to them since the beginning of time, then they will have built the firm foundations for a reign of peace, in which there will be for the first time in the world, harmony, fraternity, real progress, prosperity in the spirit and in man, wisdom, science and well-being.

Love one another!

70. In this dawn of grace, beloved people, concentrate with your thoughts and auscultate your feelings so that you may know how much strength your faith has, regarding the doctrine that you are receiving.

71. When you feel ready, strong enough to work for my Work, rise up making my word known, which will be the firm foundation of a new world, of that reign of peace and truth that I have announced to you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. I bless you, Israel, and in you I bless the present and future generations. You are my beloved disciples, those who have known of my revelations and my commands in all times. I have sent you to Earth in a new reincarnation, but first I have prepared and warned you, telling you how humanity is at this time, I have told you about its materialism and confusion and you have asked yourselves if you will be able to fulfill your mission and how you will be able to penetrate my word, which is subtle essence, which is tenderness and light, in those hearts hard as rock. The Master teaches you to fight, turns you into farmers and gives you hearts as lands that you must prepare, cultivate and make fruitful.
2. When you heard my word through man and I called you Israel, your spirit was shaken. Your fragile matter was unaware of these revelations, but the spirit knows and recognizes its mission. I tell you: you are appointed to collaborate in my Work and you must watch over your steps. Do not descend, do not materialize, get confused with the mobs, because you are not superior to your brothers, work in silence, let only love and charity distinguish you for your fellow man.
3. Your presence will dispel darkness and if you close your lips, because you will not find a suitable occasion to speak of my teaching, your spirit will speak and you will make light and justice among your brothers.
4. In this time of sorrows I have come to comfort you. All the spirits know that the day of their liberation will come and they are waiting to see their Savior, they do not know in what form he will come, but they are waiting and questioning the Arcanum.
5. You, people, have the confirmation of everything that had been prophesied and you must bring this light to humanity. Tell her that I love her and that in every moment of life I give her, I manifest my charity and my power. Help her to perfect herself, tell her to seek me with purity, to love me in spirit.
6. I will communicate with her, when you, my husbandmen, have prepared her heart. I will scatter you and I will put my Spirit in you to make my word reach men of all races and beliefs, because I lead humanity to a single end, to the one truth.
7. Men go stumbling on the stumbling blocks of the road, lamenting and suffering and all this obeys the restitution and justice that has come to transform them, according to my will. I want my children to love me as a Father and become spiritualized so that they live in peace.
8. When a great trial comes to your heart, you ask me with dissatisfaction. "Is it written in my destiny that I must hasten this pain? Is it my restitution? Is it your will, Father?" And I tell you, nothing moves without my will. There are many trials in your destiny that you will have to hurry, some will be the consequence of your faults to my Law; others will go from my Spirit to yours, however all are just, although you judge them unnecessary. If you watch and study, they will speak of my perfection and of my love. Cherish hope and faith even in the days of greatest bitterness and trust that the next day will be better, that the sun of my love will illuminate your spirit and matter and that your reason and intuition will be clear and you will be led to a good end. When you come to the end of your journey, there will be peace in you and joy in the Father. After each trial you will know your strength, and I will receive the fruit of it, according to the love you show me.

Love one another!

9. We welcome the Third Time, in which men will find spiritual wisdom! It is the Era in which you will feel me through faith, intuition and spirituality. Do not wait for my presence in human form, nor seek my wounds to sink your fingers into them to believe in Me.

10. Everything will be spiritual at this time.

11. The time has come for you to conceive me and feel me as spirit, leaving all your materialism.

12. Woe to the peoples who obstinate you in their idolatry, in their fanaticism and in their routine! You will not be able to contemplate my light, nor will you feel the infinite joy of the awakening of the spirit.

13. Certainly my Doctrine will move the world, but when the struggle has ceased, true peace will be felt on earth, that which comes from my Spirit. Only the foolish will continue to suffer, those who are reluctant in understanding and hard of heart.

14. An invisible world floats and vibrates over humanity. A world of beings of light, in front of which Elijah goes, guiding and ordering everything.

15. Blessed are those who show themselves sensitive to that heavenly influence!

16. In all the peoples of the Earth there are men whose spirit was sent to help in their work to the Spiritual World, what will become of them if they let their heart become a rock insensitive to spiritual inspirations? They would have to drink a very bitter cup to return to the path from which they left.

17. For Me, the repentance of a being, his regeneration and his salvation cannot be impossible. He would not be all-powerful and the man would be stronger than Me. Do you conceive my power inferior to the power that evil has in men? Do you consider human darkness superior to divine light? Never! It tells me your heart.

Love one another!

18. Think that my mission, after having given you the being, is to bring you to perfection and to unite you all in a single spiritual family and do not forget that my will is fulfilled above all.

19. I, the Divine Sower, invisibly deposit my seed of love in every spirit. Only I know in what time this seed will germinate in all humanity and only I know how to wait with infinite patience for the fruit of my works.

20. Take the essence of this teaching and begin by sowing unity in the bosom of your families, then seek harmony among the congregations that make up your people and once united by spiritual bonds, let your peace and your well-being radiate outward from your bosom.

21. If you start calculating the struggle it will take to convert all of humanity and if you start judging the magnitude of the sin that exists and the misery that exists everywhere, you will have to be overwhelmed by your thoughts, but who told you that only you will have to save the world? Be content to do well the part that corresponds to each one of you and let the others fulfill theirs and you will see how day by day and step by step, with the help of your Father, you will be witnesses of the fulfillment of my word.

22. It fell to you to dwell on Earth at these difficult moments for humanity, they are the beginnings of the Third Time; but do not complain about your fate, because that would mean a reproach to Me. Think that each one of you, I mean your spirit, has been on Earth several times, and that in some of those existences you have tasted everything that the human heart desires.

23. Be sure that those who suffer the most at this time, it is because before they drank to the bottom in the cup of pleasure, of human satisfactions and of the glory of the world, with which they strayed from the spiritual path and became stained.

24. The time of restitution and purification had to come, even though centuries would have to pass over the world and your spirit would have to wait for that hour. And that time has come, this is it, understand it, live it and take advantage of it.

25. Receive the light of the Consoling Spirit. The one who was to come according to my promise made to men.

26. Understand now because my presence in an invisible way comes to fulfill that promise. I am not now Christ incarnate, but Christ in spirit, pouring out light, love, wisdom and comfort on those who suffer.

27. Love comes again to illuminate your life, humanity, I come to teach you the spiritual path and to discover the truth that exists in you, so that you may know the divine light. Do you not realize that you are in error, believing yourselves to be greater than you are? You believe in yourselves according to the flesh, according to the human person. And do you know that this belief is false, because the human is temporary? I have come to teach you to support your faith and advance in the values of your spirit because they are firm and eternal.

28. You have believed that you are only matter and that only this world exists and that is why you cry so much in life and your struggle is distressing and desperate.

29. Your materialism has turned the Eden that I entrusted to man into a hell.

30. False is the life that men lead, false their pleasures, their power and their wealth, false their wisdom and their science.

31. Rich and poor are worried about money, the possession of which is deceptive, you are worried about pain or illness, you are shaken by the idea of death. Some are afraid of losing what they have and others crave to have what they have never possessed. Some have everything to spare, while others lack everything, but all these struggles, passions, needs and ambitions, only speak of material life, of hunger of the body, of low passions, of human desires, as if they really lacked spirit.

32. The world and matter have temporarily conquered the spirit, they began by reducing it to slavery and ended up nullifying its mission in human life. How can you not realize for yourselves that this hunger, this misery, this pain and this anguish that depress your life, are but the faithful reflection of the misery and the pain of your spirit?

33. It was essential that I come to discover the truth that exists in you and that you did not want to look at, but, I have already arrived, I am already with you and I will teach you in principle to listen to the message of your conscience that for a long time you had withheld

34. You will soon realize that life is not cruel to you men, but you are cruel to yourselves. You suffer and make those around you suffer, for lack of understanding. You feel lonely, you see that no one loves you and you become selfish and hard-hearted.

35. It is when I come to make my voice heard that I tell you to rise up, so that your feelings may be ennobled, that you may not see baseness and uncleanness, but miseries and needs to be forgiven and alleviated.

36. Lift up your mind and your gaze to the Eternal so that you may be filled with pure thoughts.

37. In the infinite, which is the space of the spirit, light vibrates, high thoughts and true peace. Go up there and strengthen yourselves in those regions. As long as you do not ascend, you will continue to get sick, you will continue to quarrel without recognizing each other as brothers.

Love one another!

38. That materialism has alienated men. The seed of division has multiplied in such a way that it is not peoples with peoples that are unknown but even parents with children and brothers with brothers.

39. At least you, people, who feed on my Doctrine, get up from the mud, learn to love and forgive. Do not encrypt all your tranquility and happiness in the world of matter, divide your cares and ideals between the spiritual, trying to give each part the right thing.

40. Stop believing that you are going to do everything for the matter, understand that to rise to God, you can only do it with the spirit.

41. How can it be right that you eternalize yourselves in the belief that with material works you are going to carve out the glory to your spirit? Realize all your mistakes and mistakes. If, as you live materialized, you believe that this is the end for which you were created, truly I tell you that the awakening of your spirit to the truth will be very bitter.

42. God wants obedient children, not slaves and you are only slaves of your passions and those of others.

43. You are like lost birds that instead of trilling, they moan anxiously. You no longer bless the benefits that I give you on the day, you no longer bless my name every time my charity comes to you.

44. You feel faint because you have entrusted yourself to the forces of matter, but it is weak. You will be strong, when you can understand the great mistake of considering the world as the true kingdom of happiness. At the moment of enlightenment and understanding, the spirit will be ashamed of such a smallness, because in, matter was dwarfed. He did not want to be the condor that conquers the heights, he preferred to imitate those birds that need the darkness to inhabit them because the light blinds them.

45. My Doctrine must be well understood so that you understand that it does not come to teach you to be ignorant of human life, but to live the true one, but with your gaze, your mind and ideals in the eternal.

46. Today your spiritual ignorance is so great that when you remember those who have left for the afterlife you say. "Poor thing, he died, and he had to leave everything and was gone forever."

47. If you knew with what compassion they see you from the spiritual world, those beings when they hear you speak like that. Pity is what they feel for you in the face of your ignorance, because if you could contemplate them, even for a single instant, you would remain mute and amazed in front of the truth!

Love one another!

48. You are going to weep before the inert remains that remained in the bowels of the earth, and while you fill with flowers and water with tears the slab that covers them, those who freed themselves from those matters and dwell in the kingdom of freedom and light, say: "Oh, poor matter, how much I loved and defended you, how much I procured you in honors and joys, vanities and passing greatness and you are only now a handful of ashes in a dark tomb".

49. Meditate all of you in my chair and you will see in it explained with the utmost simplicity the mysteries that you have not wanted to know until now.

50. At what better time than this could I have come to comfort you? Surely you can also say that Christ at this time descended into hell, because what more hell is there than your life of sins in which the world debates? I come to save you because you are far from the true path, so far that you have wanted to live without Me, when the truth is that your life and mine are one.

51. The existence of man, separated from the laws of God, is empty and false; see why I have come to give you the light to save you with the same word that I brought to you from of old, because there is only one truth and therefore only one Doctrine. Your self-love raised up thrones of idolatry for you, but, convinced that the king you thought you were carrying was false, your heart was disoriented, but within your being you can seek the presence of your God, the true King. When you find me there, I do not ask you to erect a throne for me, I prefer an altar of love and humility where a lamp of faith shines.

52. Much is needed by your spirit. Analyze: How many times a day do you feed your body? If one of these foods is missing, you feel weakened. And your spirit, how many times a day do you feed it on my word?

53. Understand how great the spiritual hunger and thirst of humanity will be in the midst of the aridity of your existence and thus you will justify my presence in Spirit to explain my truth to you and console you in your great afflictions.

54. May my teaching and my coming at this Time serve so that my new disciples, who I want all of you to be, may become spirits of consolation like their Teacher and may rise up on the roads of the Earth carrying out my Work, sowing my love, making light, bringing love and understanding to the hearts of children, that they fill the immense emptiness of their being; bringing balm to the sick overcome by the pain of life, whose evils end little by little with their lives, consolation to the poor and the abandoned, who do not have a being in whom to lean his temple.

55. When you see the reality of those great sufferings, you will compare and flag your pain that you thought was the greatest and you will say. "Lord, for all that I possess I should be blissful."

Love one another!

56. It will be necessary for you to be intimate with the one who suffers so that your heart may receive many lessons that will sweeten it, that will soften it and turn it away from false joys, to think a little about those who are hungry for affection, in need of love and consolation.

57. Once you feel someone else's pain as yours, I won't have to tell you anything. For yourselves you will rise up in search of the needy, who lie, on the beds of pain of hospitals. Your hand, without feeling repulsion, will rest lovingly on the leper and will know how to caress the orphaned child with tenderness. Your lips will carry the light to the spirit in his word and you will know how to kindle a flame of faith in those who go through life aimlessly, without love and without God.

58. The spiritualist will not accumulate material goods in abundance; but he will always try to be rich in the treasures of the spirit. He will always know what he has and what he is. He will suffer like every mortal, but he will never despair or deny.

59. Keep in mind my example on every occasion, that life that I dedicated to loving you, to comforting you and teaching you the way to eternal happiness. I spoke of that way through my Doctrine, so that many would listen to me, I had no special place to make my word heard, the same in the squares as in the porticos, in the streets or in the temples, on the roads or in the mountains, I made the message that spoke of the Kingdom of Heaven be heard.

60. Always be prepared with your saddlebag full of merits made in the struggle, so that my call to the afterlife, at no time surprises you. Always look inside yourself and examine yourself. Do not wait for that hour to leave with your spirit empty of merits, because then you will want to have done a lot of good on Earth and it will be too late. Always be in communion with your conscience, because you do not know at what moment your departure will be.

61. Do not be dismayed, O spirits, to whom I especially address my words. Persevere in my way and you will know peace. Truly I tell you that you are all destined to know happiness; I would cease to be your Father if you had not been created to share the glory with me, but do not forget that for your enjoyment to be perfect, it is necessary that you work out your merits step by step so that your spirit becomes worthy of that divine reward. See that I help you, that I accompany you along the path, have full confidence in Me, knowing that my mission is united to yours and my destiny to yours.

62. If you have not been able to rise up to Me, I have come to you, thereby giving you one more proof of my charity and an incentive for your faith. It frightens you just to think about your fulfillment, because you are strong for the struggles of the world, but weak for the mission of the spirit. You tell me that you still have too many defects to be considered my disciples, but I tell you that each defect is like a stone and the whole of them is like a bundle. While you are walking under the weight of that burden it is impossible for you to rise; but as you are throwing the heavy burden of your shortcomings away from you, you begin to feel that you can rise to the heights of the spirit.

63. Let my word make you perfect. I know that not all of you come with a heart prepared to hear me, that there are those who laugh at this manifestation and those who doubt, just as there are those who believe that even though the word is elevated, it is not of Christ, but of some other being. But I tell you that my thought comes in search of these minds to manifest itself in wisdom.

64. Who has the right to doubt my presence among men, when I have given you proof that I am subject to you because of my love? Think of Jesus nailed to the tree, and what does that cross represent but humanity? Truly I tell you that I am still embedded in my cross of love, which is represented by my love for my children.

65. You doubt, judge and even mock, but I forgive and bless you, because you are sick with ignorance. I give you time for your reflection, because I know that tomorrow you will be one of the most fervent. Not now, you can contemplate with all clarity the truth that I have come to manifest to you, because the flesh is stronger than the spirit, however, you will rise up after the ideal of spirituality and then you will become the strongest of the spirit.

66. Fight the superfluous, fight the impure, know that the vices of the world hinder the senses of the spirit, preventing him from penetrating the lofty mansions. If you learn to live the true life, I tell you that wherever you are and wherever you go, with your presence you will turn everything into a paradise of peace.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. You have descended so far and have distanced yourselves in such a way from the spiritual, that you consider everything supernatural that, because it belongs to the spirit, is completely natural. This is how you call the divine, this is how you look at everything that belongs to your spirit and that is a mistake. What has happened is that if you look at it and perceive what is close to your senses or within the reach of your human intelligence and what is beyond the senses and the mind you have considered supernatural.
2. It is time for you to penetrate to the bottom of my teachings that reveal to you the truth that life contains, so that you consider yourselves my disciples and soon you will begin to be teachers.
3. The disciple is the one who learns, the teacher is the one who puts my teachings into practice. So I want you to be, because if you only learn and hide my wisdom in your heart or if you alter my teachings, you will be like those hypocritical Pharisees whom I judged so much at that time to prove to them their falsehood.
4. The path is narrow and you must walk carefully so that you do not touch any extreme, that is, you do not become familiar with the spiritual or fall into fanaticism.
5. When you achieve the balance that must exist between the spirit and the flesh, you will see how easy existence is and how flat the path is. Step by step you will follow the path, taking advantage of all the opportunities that life offers you for the progress of your spirit and when you reach the thresholds of spiritual life, when the time approaches to say goodbye to the flood that gave you shelter and the body that served as support, that there is not the slightest resistance in one or the other, that the spirit does not want to extend the life of his body, nor does he want to retain the spirit longer.
6. What joy and how much light the spirit will find when entering his new abode and how much peace and conformity he will be able to leave in the hearts of those who belonged to him on Earth!
7. I contemplate that the environment that reigns in the world is contrary to spirituality, for that reason it will be very meritorious that you manage to get rid of the obstacles that prevent you from advancing on the way.
8. I have sent you a message by means of which you will be able to live in the world without being polluted.
9. Learn with my strength to overcome, strive to rise above human miseries and once you have raised your life and liberated your spirit, do not descend anymore.

Love one another!

10. There are no crossroads on my way; but it is necessary to watch and pray, because on the sides of the path the undergrowth grows and sometimes the treacherous wolf hides among it. Watch and pray that you will not be surprised and that you will be the ones who surprise those who hide to trip up the one who wants to walk on the good path or to rob him of faith.
11. I announced that my people would arise again in the world when humanity was drinking its greatest cup of bitterness, that is why I am sending my emissaries, my farmers, my soldiers and prophets to Earth, because the time of struggle is approaching.
12. My people, it is not only this one that has listened to me through the spokespersons. My people will spread throughout the earth and their children will be all those who bear witness to my truth, all those who open gaps of light to the spirit, all those who fight the weeds and announce the Third Time.
13. Be spiritualized and you will be able to understand and fulfill your mission; thus, when other envoys of mine arise in other lands, they will have news of each other, and they will know how to unite and help each other spiritually, fighting with the force of thought discord, disunity and the war that has invaded the world.
14. Do not be afraid, people, I receive your merits made until today. Do not stop at the first steps, do not settle for the first works that you have done. Walk slowly and firmly and you will reach triumph.
15. Your merits will not always have to wait for you to reach the Spiritual Realm to collect their reward, but here in your world you will see them rewarded.
16. Here your body will have health and strength and in the spiritual life there will be light and true joy.
17. He who has come to Me in search of wisdom has never been disappointed. I have seen that there has been no obstacle that stops you in your longing to hear my word, and how could I not reward your efforts and your sacrifices? Only I know what you have had to evolve in order to reach these places and stay with me listening to me.
18. The time has come for men to break their chains for themselves, tear off the blindfold from their eyes and seek the true way.
19. Man aspires to possess a light that allows him to know what legally belongs to him, as well as to know everything that is really forbidden to him.
20. Spiritually humanity is an ignorant creature; the countless prejudices that surround it and the threats and anathemas that weigh on it, have been the cause of its disinterest in the spiritual.

Love one another!

21. It is only my light that is awakening the spirits; it is my voice that invites them to meditation and it is my strength that makes them persevere and fight to reach the goal.
22. Humanity will soon free itself from its prejudices, like someone who sheds a threadbare and old garment and will eagerly raise its gaze and its mind beyond the barriers that for a long time prevented it from evolving.
23. The unfounded fears that men have nurtured in their hearts for centuries will also disappear when they remember that it was Christ who came to open the doors of the Spiritual Kingdom, and that, not having revealed everything he had to teach humanity, because it was not yet the opportune time, he promised his new coming in an Era that would be full of light, inspiration and spiritual revelations.
24. In Me men will find courage to emancipate themselves from the yoke of their ignorance.
25. How do you expect peace to be made on earth and wars to cease? May men be regenerated and sin diminish, if they lack the spiritual knowledge that is the basis, principle and foundation of life?
26. Truly I tell you, as long as my truth is not understood and practiced, your existence on Earth will be like a building built on quicksand.
27. There are fewer of those who have awakened than those who still remain cold and indifferent to the spiritual. They are not worried or distressed by the chaos that reigns, attributing everything to superficial causes. They are satisfied with their poor understanding and say: Why clarify mysteries or try to penetrate into the unfathomable, if I fulfill all the obligations imposed by those who govern materially, as well as by those who guide me spiritually through religions? Is there not in that fulfillment the principle of good that Christ taught? And with these thoughts they calm down and persuade themselves that they are fulfilling their spiritual mission.
28. But I tell you that this fulfillment of your duties is apparent and not real, that in front of your conscience and in front of God there is very little that you do of good, because your life is superficial, your spiritual knowledge insignificant, your works, full of selfishness and vanity.
29. Before your fellow men whom you can easily deceive, you may be faithfully fulfilling your spiritual and human duties; but before your conscience and your Father, you will not be able to arrive with appearances, because there the truth arises and this is that men are spiritually stationed.
30. This has caused the struggle to appear between one and the other; while the awakened ones talk about spirituality, gifts, potencies and revelations, the lethargic ones get up saying that they have been dividing and confusing humanity and creating doubts and uncertainties about beliefs.

31. That struggle will be inevitable so that the light will arise and the truth will shine. It will be until then that you will realize that the truth does not establish division and that my Doctrine, having truth as its essence, could not come to do a work of division or discord among men, although at first it forced them to fight among themselves to reach the light.

32. Each one will wield his weapons, some spiritual, others mental, others material.

33. Those who rely only on the strength of their physical weapons will have to succumb, because the triumph will lean on the side of those who use spiritual weapons, whose nature and strength is greater.

34. Although the Doctrine of Jesus revealed everything in the Second Time, Spiritualism comes to explain and clarify everything that was a mystery among men, without whose help they would never penetrate to the bottom of the revelations.

35. Truly I tell you, only the Lamb could untie the book of the Seven Seals to show you all its contents.

36. Practice this Doctrine, people, the time has come to show the world the truth of my word. I have called you to become the emissaries, to bring to humanity the message that it so needs to know.

37. I am not here to tell you that when my word reaches the peoples of the Earth, all men will immediately become spiritualists, no, for now it will be enough for spirituality to be applied to each religion and you will see how, when men least think about it, they will all have been approaching the same point, that is, harmony, unity and understanding that has never existed between one and the other.

38. The weeds will be uprooted and wheat will grow in their place, a symbol of abundance, work progress and peace.

39. Welcome all those who come looking for the light that illuminates their path.

40. Be with me, I am the luminous beacon that shines on all paths. This light is not new, from the very beginning of man's life it is shining in his consciousness. But since man was created to penetrate the mysteries of the spiritual life by himself, it was necessary for the Word to become man in Jesus and with his word to lift the veil of the mysteries.

41. Has the whole of humanity, in its different generations, been able to reach the summit of Calvary to meditate on the infinite love that made Christ die at the hands of men? No, humanity has not wanted to look at everything that the light of the Divine Master came to reveal to it, it preferred the light of science that searches the mysteries of Nature, it preferred the power of the Earth to the greatness of the spirit.

42. My light has not stopped shining for a single moment in the consciousnesses, but man being still small, and needing his Father to approach him in some way, I sent the spirit of Elijah with the fortunate message of a new Era. Elijah brought to the world the revelation of the way in which I would come to communicate with men, and as my precursor, he opened the understanding of a man to speak, through his lips, but he also manifested himself through looks and inspirations to announce to you that after communication through the human understanding, communication from spirit to Spirit would come.

43. There will be those who say that my return was not necessary, but those who think so, it will be because they do not know that Jesus discovers the hypocrisy of the Pharisees, throws the merchants out of the temple and does not bow down to those who call themselves great.

44. I am needed by those who suffer, by those who hunger and thirst for justice, by those who long for light and upliftment, by those who understand that the spirit must move forward without stopping. All of them call me in their prayer, in their pain they invoke me and ask me when I will come, they know that humanity is in dire need of Me, of my word, of my balm and of my wonders.

45. Do you see the peoples in eternal strife? Do you see those wars that are the most resounding denial of the love that I taught? Do you look at the religions, enemies of each other, even calling themselves Christians and preaching my maxim of "Love one another?"

46. From those wars moved by human ambitions and from those divergences of creeds, how much misery and how much bitterness has fallen on humanity!

47. I have brought you a seed at this time, the one that is just beginning to germinate in the heart of this people, more, in truth I tell you, that this Doctrine will move humanity and will be believed as a true revelation of God, all to whom you have received a mission or charge in my Work, you have the duty to present my Doctrine in all its purity.

48. Spiritualism has nothing to do with religious rites, traditions or ceremonies, it is above all external worship, so I tell you that whoever mixes with my Doctrine the practices learned from sects or religions, becomes a profanator.

49. How could your brothers admire the light of this revelation if you hid it behind the veil of your materialities and mystifications?

50. Spiritualism is not a mixture of religions, it is the purest and most perfect Doctrine in its simplicity, it is the light of God that descends to the human spirit in this Third Time.

Love one another!

51. I tell you all this, people, that you are my first seed at this time, so that you may embrace the truth and humanity will not accuse you of being false or profane.
52. If you descend into fanaticism, it will be because of you, because the book of knowledge has been before your eyes illuminating the spirit.
53. You who come from different paths, take my word, take my seed and sow it in your lands. See what is the truth that the Master is coming to leave you.
54. Do not think yourselves perfect because you carry the knowledge of a perfect Doctrine, but if you try to comply with the greatest limpidity that a human can be capable of, I will put in your path all those who crave a word of true consolation,
55. Keep in mind that no matter how clean and full of love your works are, you will not stop being attacked, then you will have the opportunity to teach with examples of forgiveness, nobility and charity how to defend the truth that you feel you carry in your heart. You will not defend your material temples, nor will you defend your names or your personality, but the truth that has been deposited in you.
56. Multitudes who come before Me with sadness and fatigue in your hearts, listen to me, because I know that you will return to peace, to faith, to joy, with the essence of my word.
57. You come barefoot, with wounded soles, because in the vast desert you left the sandals that protected you from the pebbles and the hot sands, but here you will recover what you have lost, because I love you, and again I come to give you proof of it.
58. How could you tarnish the light of your faith? How could you have strayed so far from the true path, that even the intuition, that you possess spirit, had been lost in you?
59. Only my divine manifestation can let you know that you are in a new time, because you have been sleeping.
60. There, in the depths of your being, an unknown anxiety was letting itself be felt and a strange thirst was dominating you without you realizing its origin, when that need became distressing, it was because the time had come for you to receive my new message.
61. Hunger and thirst for the spirit, was what martyred you, hunger for truth and peace, thirst for love and light.
62. I wanted my word to be like crystal clear and fresh water, whose essence contained the true and eternal sustenance of the spirit, in such a way that when you come to listen to me, you surrender to Me, like that tired pilgrim, who, finding a source, gets rid of the burden he carries and throws himself on the desired liquid, eager for freshness.

Love one another!

63. Not all of you have brought spiritual thirst, the one who has truly felt it, has simply calmed it with my word, on the other hand, there are many who, even hearing me repeatedly, complain that their pain and their problems remain the same; it is that they are not looking for my essence, but the goods of the world.

64. Understand this well, so that you will never be deceived.

65. Notice that there are those who do not lack what is necessary, they live surrounded by comforts and yet, something shadows their life, something distresses them, something is missing, it is the presence of the spiritual in their life that they long for, it is the absence of that light that darkens their life, these, when they have come to listen to me, inwardly they have exclaimed: "This was what I was looking for, what I expected, what I needed". Others, on the other hand, have come here complaining of having lost goods, health, affections, and the emptiness of their heart has not been filled with my word, but, as soon as they have recovered what they had lost, they have left without even remembering this heavenly word that one day they heard.

66. Not everyone is in time to feel or understand this revelation, while some stay others leave, it is that not everyone thirsts for ME, it is that the need for the spiritual is not the same in some as in others.

67. I want to tell you to take a good look at humanity, at peoples and nations, so that you realize how they have made their life a painful desert, whose hot sun depresses them and whose aridity dominates and exhausts them. Do you not sense the immense thirst that is accumulating in the hearts of men? For the oasis of pleasant shade and freshness, of perennial and crystalline waters, is also already being formed, so that in it your need for truth, your thirst for love and peace, may calm down.

69. Many will come to the spring and when they drink of its waters, they will say as you do. "This is what I was looking for", but many others will also come before him believing they will find what they have lost in the world and, disillusioned, they will turn their backs on me and deny that there is any truth in this revelation. They will leave, but everything is planned and prepared for them to return, when at last the true thirst of the spirit appears and they invoke me in their desert, saying to me: "Father, forgive us and grant us a new opportunity to come to the knowledge of your truth". And then, I who had already forgiven you, when you haughtily despised the water from my fountain and the bread from my table, I will offer you my way so that in it you may leave your fatigue, so that you may be healed, filled with peace and rise through my light.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 274

1. Welcome you, pilgrims of all ages who on this day of grace make a stop on your way to listen to my word and sit at my table spiritually.
2. I give peace and calmness to your heart so that you will listen to me because in truth I tell you that my word is the way that leads to peace and well-being.
3. But do not come to me just to ask for what concerns the matter, I certainly have the balm, for any of the ills that afflict you and I possess the keys that open the doors of work; but in addition to that, I bring an infinite flow of goods for the spirit, a torrent of wisdom, an inexhaustible source of spiritual delights.
4. I know that the meaning of this teaching surprises many when they hear it for the first time, and it is because my Doctrine speaks to your spirit, to him it seeks and to him it turns, to offer him a Kingdom beyond this world, telling him which is the way that leads to that promised abode. But the man who lives for himself, who loves only his own, who thinks of himself and who expects everything from the world, when he hears about renunciation, patience, sacrifice, selflessness and charity, asks himself: "If I give everything, who gives me?" "If I have so little in this life, why should I give it up?"
5. I forgive them because they could not think otherwise, their selfishness comes from ignorance. But when they listen to me more than once, and a flash of the light that exists in my word comes to illuminate their spirit, it wakes up as if from a long dream wondering surprised and confused: Where am I, who has spoken to me?"
6. My word, meanwhile, continues to touch that spirit without ceasing and gently touching the fibers of that heart, until at last, the pain of the spirit, accumulated for a long time inside that being, breaks its dam and overflows into crying, which is confession, awakening to faith, spiritual resurrection and the principle of elevation towards light, truth and the eternal.
7. This is not the case for everyone; but those who arrived at the manifestation of, my word swallowing in their hearts egoism, love of matter, pride and arguments to deny my spiritual Doctrine, upon hearing my lesson of this day, instantly remembered the day when they arrived full of darkness and then contemplated a light that they had never thought existed.
8. Many of them are now among my most faithful and self-sacrificing laborers.
9. People: My word is a torrent of love that will purify men preparing them for a better life.
10. Be amazed I am giving you my teaching that comes to save sinners, through sinful lips too.

Love one another!

11. My plan of universal redemption you cannot comprehend, but I make known to you a part of it, in order that you may take part in my Work.
12. Only I know the transcendence of the instant in which the world lives, no human being can understand the reality of this hour. Humanity since its beginnings, has been accumulating stain after stain to cloud his feelings and his spirit, creating for himself a sick, hectic and sad life. But the hour of purification has sounded.
13. You who have heard this divine word, have an idea of what is happening at this time and you will try to pray, exempt yourself from doing evil and instead do some good, but not all humanity knows the meaning of the events of this time and that is why there is confusion among men, despair, bitterness, hatred, unbridled ambitions, vice, crime and all the low passions.
14. The world needs my word, the peoples and nations need my chairs of love, the ruler, the scientist, the judge, the one who guides spirits, the one who teaches, everyone needs the light of my truth, and that is precisely what I have come for at this Time, to Enlighten man in his spirit, in his heart and in his understanding.
15. Would you not be satisfied if you served as precursors to my Spirit, to prepare my arrival in the hearts, the peoples and nations of the earth? And if you long to open gaps and prepare paths, what examples and proofs are you going to give?
16. Do not take away from your mind that my Work is perfect, eternal, powerful, clear, luminous.
17. Little disciples: you do not know how the spirits, beings who are your brothers, love me in the upper dwellings. If you knew how they love me, how they serve and obey me, you would feel very deep regret for your behavior towards your Father and you would hasten to form in your heart a sanctuary to offer it to the one who loves you with perfect love.
18. Let my love be in your heart to make it sensitive to the pain of humanity. It is necessary that you know piety so that you can practice forgiveness and pour out comfort on those who suffer.
19. Let my word shake your heart so that he can beat with love for his fellow men.
20. Keep my lessons well, because they are the same ones that will serve as weapons in the struggle, when you have to become the true sowers of my truth.
21. Come, for I am giving comfort to those who weep, and you weep, some outwardly weeping, others inwardly, without sobs.

Love one another!

22. I come to collect your pains and to turn them into peace, I who am the only one who penetrates to the bottom of the spirit. I come for your burden, for that burden with which you can no longer.
23. O spirits incarnate in men! You have not come to earth to be overcome by pains, problems, trials, you have come to overcome vicissitudes and adversities.
24. No more crying, no more sleeping. The spirit of humanity is in struggle with everyone, with trials, with pains, with passions.
25. You have come to know about all the hardships of life, you wanted it that way, but your faith, your will and effort can lift you above matter and pain.
26. Do you not understand my word? It's so simple! But you are clothed in matter and you do not often get to the bottom of its meaning, because you do not analyze it. There will come a day when your spirit, no longer enveloped, will review with delight my phrases and understand my teachings and from that memory a torrent of light will spring up for your path; but you will regret not having managed to penetrate my Teaching when you passed through the Earth, where you so lack a staff or spiritual support.
27. Record my teachings whenever you can, because if they leave your memory, if they flee from your heart, if you leave them forgotten and abandoned, then you will look for them and you will not find them. It is as if having a fountain, you abandoned it and when thirst embraced you and you went in search of it, you found that the water had evaporated.
28. If you want to know how to cross through this life without thirst and without fatigue and if you want to be enlightened when you are in spirit, if you want to avoid the pain of confusion, take my teaching, let it be indelibly engraved in your being and make it the law and the norm of your life.
29. If the Father called you to account today, what would you do? What would you present for the benefit of your spirit?
30. If your conscience tells you that you have not loved, since that is the Law, do you think you are willing to move from the human to the spiritual state? How many spirits, who wander in space, would like to make themselves heard by men, to tell them: "Do not waste your time as I lost it".
31. Truly I tell you that if you study every phrase of mine, you would illuminate the path of your life, because each of them contains essence, wisdom, eternity.
32. He who understands my word, comes to know what he has come into the world for, he knows where he came from and where he will have to return.

Love one another!

33. He who is saturated with this essence, never says again that this world is only of pain, tears and bitterness, because he knows how to overcome pain, his faith and his love.
34. This world in which man has suffered and wept so much, this dwelling from which many would like to flee, truly I tell you that I destined it for you to fill it with love but if I asked you all in this hour how much you have sown love in it, what would you answer?
35. I want you to tell me if you have understood Christ, the One who one day said to you: "Love one another", see that I am asking you this question after many centuries of tireless teaching.
36. That is why I tell you at every step, that you learn to listen to me, that you learn to be silent when the Word speaks, so that the divine seed germinates and flourishes in your heart.
37. I have had infinite patience to wait for you to hear my voice, why don't you have a little patience when you are under a test? I tell you that he who did not have patience will learn it in this time of restitution, he is also a teacher, although for a moment he teaches harshly, why not learn better from the Divine Teacher who only teaches with love?
38. Time is not the same for the materialist as for the spiritualized, it acts on one as justice, on another as a blessing, but the light of the centuries has always passed on men, caressing some and awakening all.
39. When will you let that light manifest through your spirit? When will I find the man free of chains and willing to fly to Me?
40. There are still many lost travelers, many lost beings in the darkness of ignorance, because they are more flesh than spirit, more lies than truth.
41. In them the victor is matter and the vanquished is the spirit; it is these lost whom I come to invite to the feast of the spirit, to the banquet of love, where my heavenly table awaits everyone to free them from so much bitterness and so much loneliness.
42. I will give you my delicacies, breads, fruits, wine and honey, which, translated into the real sense, are tenderness, comfort, peace, health and knowledge.
43. The prayer that you silently raise is a true spiritual hymn, its notes are confused with those of the righteous and those of the angels.
44. You bring the burden of your guilt before my presence; you present your whole life to me, but I tell you: there are in the recesses of your being, sorrows and restitution that you do not know and that only I know; but it does not matter that you talk to me about all this or ask me for everything that you do not know about your past. I am in everything and nothing escapes my charity, as nothing escapes my justice.

Love one another!

45. Feel my paternal love, and let the darkness, the sorrows, the tears dissipate in him. strengthen yourselves in Me, regain health and peace, return strong to the path of struggle

46. This is the word you seek, the one that pours comfort, the one that revives you and floods you with hope. Why are you following me despite the trials? Why don't you throw the cross off your shoulders? For in the essence of my word you find an absolute understanding of all your afflictions.

47. Israel called the people whom I am gathering around my new revelation, because no one knows better than I what spirit dwells in each of the called of this Third Time.

48. Israel has a spiritual meaning and I give that name to you so that you may bear in mind that you are part of the people of God, because Israel does not represent any people of the earth, but a world of spirits.

49. That name will arise again on Earth, but free of mistakes, in its true essence which is spiritual.

50. You need to know the origin and the meaning of that name, you need your faith that you are children of that people to be absolute, and you need to have full knowledge of who and why you have received that denomination, so that you can face the attacks that tomorrow you will receive from those who give another meaning to the name of Israel.

51. You are the spiritual people who will truly understand the mystery of the scale that Jacob contemplated with the eyes of the spirit through a dream. I see you already capable of understanding many lessons and I have come to gather you to reveal them to you.

52. The ability to understand comes from evolution, from accumulated development and experience.

53. Truly I tell you, before the worlds were made and before man appeared on earth, your spirit already existed. They were for him epochs of innocence, a whole life in those mansions of preparation, times when the spirit was instructed to inhabit the Earth, incarnating in man.

54. Your mind does not receive the impressions or the memories of the past from your spirit, because matter is like a thick veil that cannot penetrate into the life of the spirit. What brain could receive the images and impressions that the spirit has collected on the journey of its past? What intelligence could coordinate with human ideas what is incomprehensible to it?

55. For all this I have not allowed you until now to know who you are spiritually or what your past has been.

Love one another!

56. Could you then know in what way I am, forming the people of Israel? No, I have only revealed to you what you should know for now and as far as you can understand; thus, I have told you that you are children of the people of Israel, that you belong to them by the spirit and not by the flesh, that your mission is to multiply to infinity, inviting everyone to penetrate the bosom of this people and that your destiny is to carry the light everywhere in the worlds.

57. In the First Time I gave a man the name of Israel, it was to Jacob, so that he would be the trunk of a people who would also be called in the same way. That name was spiritual, so that that people would remain in the history of humanity as an open book before the spirit.

58. That people listened to my voice, manifested gifts inherent in the spirit; they received my Law through Moses, they were subjected to very great trials. He had no other mission on earth than to manifest before the Gentile peoples the existence and the Law of the living and true God.

59. The patriarchs, the prophets, the seers, those who led, the legislators, the judges and the kings, were my emissaries, they were my spokesmen, my servants and instruments to manifest me already in love, already in teachings, already in justice. Through them I gave proofs of my power to other peoples.

60. Now that many centuries have passed and that the splendor of that people, as well as its judgment have remained distant, do not despise its history because transferring it from the human sense to the spiritual sense, you will be able to obtain infinite lessons and examples, with which you will end up understanding that that Israel, is the symbol, the figurative sense, the parable, and that the new Israel that I am forming, means reality in its spiritual sense.

61. Behold, at that time, when Israel, after achieving their liberation in Egypt and having conquered the Promised Land with their faith and perseverance, founded with their sons their main city and gave it the name Jerusalem, there they built a temple in honor of the Lord, which was like a torch of faith for hearts.

62. Who would have told that people who thanked the Father for having granted them to rest in the land of promise, that in that city they called holy, they were to take the Messiah to the scaffold?

63. You, who are the new people who are struggling to get rid of the power of Pharaoh, which is materiality, ignorance, fanaticism, idolatry, you begin the great journey of the desert, but, when you were already afraid of loneliness, hunger and dangers, you suddenly saw that a cloud descended on the mountain and that from the cloud a Ray of divine light was released, which upon reaching your understanding, became a verb, a word that is wisdom.

Love one another!

64. This word is the Law of God, the perfect Law of love, justice and peace, it is also the new manna that sustains you and that will allow you to reach the new Jerusalem.

65. That city is no longer on this earth, it is not of this world: that city exists spiritually, but when you are inhabiting it forever and the Messiah comes among you, you will no longer crown me with thorns, nor will you give me vinegar, nor will you nail me to a cross. I will come among you as in that day when the crowds covered the ground with their cloaks, sang hymns and waved palms; and you will receive me into your hearts, celebrating the triumphal entry of the Master into Jerusalem.

66. When this is done, I will no longer return from your bosom.

67. Do you understand the divine meaning of these revelations and the human meaning that you had given them?

68. Now I am passing among you, as I was also at that time, the moment is approaching when I will stop talking to you, and humanity has not felt my presence.

69. From this mountain, from where I send my word to you and contemplate you, I will have to exclaim on the eve of my departure. Humanity, humanity, you have not known who you have had with you! As in the Second Time, when my death was near, I was contemplating the city from a mountain and between tears I exclaimed. Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you do not know the good that you have had! It was not the world for which he wept, it was for the spirit of humanity that was still without light and that he would still have to cry a lot to reach the truth.

70. If all that the people possessed in the First Time had not been only a symbol, my almighty justice would have preserved intact that city with its temple and its traditions; but everything was destroyed so that only the Law would remain shining in the consciences and everyone would understand that truly, the Kingdom of the spirit is not of this world.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. I am the love for which you are forgiven and you enjoy my pleasures; but do not only expect caresses and gifts from your Father, remember that I have also come as a Teacher to make you understand your defects and imperfections and teach you the way in which you should correct yourself.
2. I am with you in your spirit and I make my light vibrate in your understanding so that you appreciate the value of what you are receiving and recognize at the same time that not everything that comes to you has been earned with merit. I also make you understand that what you have received so far is not all that I have to give you and that what you now desire is not all that the aspiration of your spirit will encompass when it is more developed.
3. Together with the trials and lessons that life gives you, there is my Teaching that explains and clarifies the meaning of each lesson, because only knowledge, experience and evolution can justly give you the title of disciples of my Divinity in the Third Time.
4. What could you give to your brothers that would be your fruit, that would be a testimony and affirmation of the word or doctrine that you are going to preach, if you lack your own experience?
5. When you are already spiritualized and you meet men who suffer and despair because they cannot possess what they aspire to in the world, you will see how their materiality contrasts with the elevation of my disciples, whose conformity will be great because their ambitions and desires will be noble, based on the firm conviction that in this life everything is transient.
6. My disciples will speak to the world with examples of spirituality, through a life that strives to bring the spirit closer to the Divinity, instead of chaining it to the false riches of the world.
7. I know that those materialized in future times will be scandalized by knowing this Doctrine; but their conscience will tell them that my word only speaks of the truth,
8. In the life of man everything is transient: his youth is an illusion, his glory of short duration; the momentary pleasure; therefore my Doctrine comes to inspire you the ideal of achieving the eternal, because the joys of the spirit and the glory reserved for him, once conquered, never pass,
9. People: it is so easy to give a little spirituality to your life, that I say to you: why don't you do it? Why don't you try it? It is not necessary for you to depart from your human duties.

Love one another!

10. It is enough that you give a principle of spirituality to your works so that you cease to be simple beings on Earth and become beings of high spiritual life, capable of understanding the meaning contained in the destiny of man.
11. I tell you again that I do not take you away from your fulfillment in the world, because there too you have sacred duties, but I tell you not to give the world more importance than to your spiritual development.
12. It is necessary that you deepen your knowledge of my Work, that you analyze my word and understand the scope of my teachings.
13. I am speaking to the spirits, knowing that my light will pass from them to the matters and that once the mind and the senses are illuminated, they will know how to become docile instruments of consciousness.
14. Multitudes who hear this word: Close your material eyes and hear the voice of your Lord in the infinite.
15. It is not at this time Jesus the man who speaks to you and to whom you can look in squares and streets by roads or valleys, it is Jesus-Spirit, present in every conscience and in every understanding, he is my universal light poured out in everything, the children of God.
16. People: Would it not please you to contemplate the fruition of my Doctrine in the world? Do you not long to see this valley of tears turned into a land of peace? Well, work with love and you will have that happiness in your spirit. Yes, disciples, in your spirit, because you do not know by then what your dwelling place will be; but it does not matter that you look at the triumph of the light from the spiritual valley, but even more, from there you will appreciate better the fruit of your works and your struggle.
17. Your heart beats with haste, saying to me: Master, when will your spirit be able to sing that song of victory?
18. The guides of multitudes tell me "Father, that our struggle will not be sterile", but I tell one and the other, that if it is possible to reach that goal, that it does not require the sacrifice of your life to achieve that ideal, But you have to observe one by one of my commands, so that all your work is based on my truth and the struggle of all is directed to the end that I have set for you.
19. "Spirituality", "Union", "Obedience", this is the firm basis for the Sanctuary that you will have to raise to your Father; by fulfilling this, you will be able to see the flowering and fruition of my Work and of your struggle in humanity.
20. Since my word began to manifest through these spokespersons, I have been inspiring you with spirituality, I have been asking you for unification and I have taught you obedience.

Love one another!

21. The first and the last know these teachings, repeated incessantly through my spokespersons.
22. My teaching has spoken to you about spirituality, so that you may divest yourselves of all external worship and come to love and serve me in a spiritual, deeply sincere, elevated and pure way.
23. I have spoken to you a lot about Unification, because if you do not unite the fruit of your gifts and your strength to fight, if you work in isolation, your work will not bear fruit.
24. I have spoken of obedience to you so that all your acts may be subject to a perfect will such as mine and in complying with it you will never go astray. When the manifestation of my word comes to an end, you will all be able to give the world a proof of the truth of my Revelation.
25. Those who fulfill these commands will have to be believed by their brothers, but those who pass over them and in the midst of their disunity, their disobedience and their lack of spirituality, intend to teach the multitudes, I tell you that sooner or later their lie and their hypocrisy will be discovered, being involved in the greatest trials and abandoned even by the most faithful.
26. Could you call this the triumph of my doctrine? No, people, it is not confusion that you must find at the end of the struggle. It is peace, joy, light, in which your journey should culminate.
27. Do you think that in the face of a test of ingratitude and disobedience on the part of this people, my Spirit will remain impassive indefinitely? No, people, I will bring my justice and I will make those who disobey me tremble with it, as I made them tremble with my tenderness when they heard my word.
28. My teaching could not be clearer or simpler, but if your memory is unfaithful to you and you forget it, I will inspire those who have to gather my lessons to form with them the Book of my Word given in this Third Time. That Book will make you remember everything you have forgotten, it will make you cry with repentance when you are in your trials and it will make you understand that at last it is my will that is done and my truth that triumphs.
29. Why do you sometimes find my word harsh? It does not contain hardness, it is full of the love that I have for you, because your Father would not want his children to cry.
30. When I speak to you in this tone, look behind the word of the Judge, the presence of the Master and the essence of the Father and all this you will find.
31. When I warn you and prophesy to you, know that I know your future and that I know you better than yourselves, because I am life.

Love one another!

32. In your silence, learn to mentally elevate yourself to Me. In your recollection, speak to me with the Spirit and you will have my answer.
33. Educate your understanding, making it separate from every superfluous idea, teaching it to clear itself at the moment of your spiritual communion, so that it will not be an obstacle that prevents you from concentrating and detaching yourself at that blessed moment.
34. How blessed is the spirit who achieves that mental preparation and that inner detachment, all his gifts arise and manifest themselves! Inspiration, revelation, intuition, healing power, the word and many more attributes appear, each showing its essence, and its mission.
35. Set aside a few moments of your time each day and dedicate them to spiritual prayer and you will soon see the fruit of that exercise. Do not wait for the day when I come to give you my teaching to prepare yourselves; because you will always be starting and stumbling over disturbances that will not allow you to recreate spiritually.
36. Dedicate a few moments to this practice every day, you will always find me willing to listen and help you.
37. True prayer is not practiced by humanity at this time, hence it has had to form prayers and prays to repeat them mechanically as many times as necessary.
38. Man no longer knows how to be inspired to speak to me with the spirit, he is completely unaware of the spiritual language that belongs to everyone to know. It is that he ignores the way of exercising, stripping himself of all rite, moving away from all materiality, to concentrate on the bottom of himself to be able to perceive my presence and receive the light of inspiration.
39. That is why I say to you, that the more you sacrifice your inclination to pray before symbols and dedicate ceremonies to me in order to search for the inner sanctuary, you will contemplate how your gift of spiritual communication develops, grows and rises, approaching step by step the spirit-to-Spirit communication that will be when man reaches to pray with perfection,
40. Now, understand that if it is my will that you teach your brothers how to achieve perfection in prayer, you must prepare yourselves to give proofs of the truth and of the strength that exists in it.
41. Are you going to teach them that it is enough to close your eyes, so that the shape is perfect? Are you going to deceive your fellow human beings, adopting unimportant practices, while there is no real preparation inside you? Not that, people, because you are not going to deceive yourselves, nor your brothers, least of all your Father.

Love one another!

42. When you teach to pray, it is because you will be able to prove the truth, the strength and the effectiveness of praying spiritually. You are going to heal the sick with prayer, you are going to make peace where discord prevails, you are going to save those who are in danger. Then you will be believed and they will want to imitate you; your teaching will awaken faith in the hearts amazed at the truth of the trials that you gave them.

43. Do not forget that for prayer to be effective, your faith must be firm, great, that charity be the essence of your elevation to Me.

44. All those who have achieved miracles, all those who have given proofs of spiritual power, have prayed like this. Thus the patriarchs of the earliest times prayed: from spirit to Spirit; thus Moses prayed in the wilderness and Daniel in the den of lions. So I came in Jesus, to strengthen man in the knowledge of true prayer, proving before his eyes the power of spiritual prayer.

45. Jesus prayed in the desert before the crowd and multiplied the loaves and the fish, marveling men. He prayed before the tomb of Lazarus and gave proof that prayer born of faith and charity gives health and life. He prayed before his disciples, revealing to them the power that man acquires when he knows, to put himself in communication with his Father.

46. How far this humanity has strayed from my teachings! Everything about her is superficial, fake, exterior, ostentatious. That is why his spiritual power is null and to supply the lack of strength and development in his spirit, he has given himself into the arms of science, developing intelligence.

47. Thus, through science, man has come to feel strong, great and powerful, but I tell you that this strength and this greatness are insignificant next to the power of the spirit, which you have not allowed to grow or manifest.

48. When lust and materialism have reached their maximum degree in men, causing them to forget their origin; when the overflowing torrent of passions, pleasures and vices have made many men unconscious beings, with no notion of their duties towards God, towards their family and towards others, it is when this word has come to humanity, like a spring of crystal clear waters for thirsty hearts.

49. You are so familiar with sin that your life comes to seem the most natural, normal and lawful, and yet it seems that Sodom and Gomorrah, Babylon and Rome, would have poured all their perversity and sin on this humanity.

50. Although it seems absurd, this is the propitious hour for my word to find an echo in the hearts of men.

Love one another!

51. Remember the pagan Rome, tired of pleasure, tired of enjoying the delights of the flesh, opened her heart to receive my message.
52. Those events will be repeated and you will see my seed germinate in the villages where you contemplated, the men far from the path of truth.
53. My word, full of wisdom, consolation and promises of regeneration, will seek the fibers to which the unclean, the evil has never reached. The dead to the light and truth of life will be resurrected, and morality, time has destroyed, will be rebuilt.
54. If at that time the pagans converted to my Doctrine sought salvation in the love that my word taught, the materialists of this time will seek the way of their redemption in the example that Jesus wrote with his life; but they will also be inspired by the spiritual light, which at this time my Spirit comes to pour out on men. What does this light contain? The knowledge of the spiritual life, the revelation of the powers of the spirit, the clarification of the mysteries that man could not penetrate.
55. I have made you, people, the depository of my new word. For a long time I have manifested myself to you, so that you may be sure that it is my presence in spirit that you have and that you have had enough time to assimilate my teachings, to write them down and to meditate on them.
56. What's the point of all this? That when my manifestation disappears from among you, you may not say that it has been a fleeting apparition, of which you are neither certain nor sure.
57. Now that you know from Me that the last day for these teachings is approaching, you begin to feel the responsibility of staying no longer as infants or disciples, but as explainers, as emissaries and as witnesses of the message that you heard from the Master.
58. Some of you are full of faith, vigor and zeal, waiting for the right time to start the day, others, on the other hand, doubt themselves and tremble before the struggle. To the latter I ask: Is it possible that other peoples, who have not listened directly to my word, will rise up before you, moved only by the testimony of what reaches them?
59. What is it that intimidates you? Your heart says to me, "Lord, not being able to palpably demonstrate the truth in front of materialists and unbelievers." You have not understood me; I have not said that the spiritual, which is invisible and intangible, you are going to materialize it before the eyes of skeptical men, so that they believe in the spiritual. First of all, I wanted you to purify your life and spiritualize yourselves in such a way that with your words and with your deeds you will give the best proofs that the Doctrine you profess contains truth,

Love one another!

60. It seems very difficult for you to present evidence that will satisfy the one who seeks the scientific explanation of everything, however, the greatness that I have placed in my Teaching is such that in it you will find the solution to give an answer and explanation to whatever problem is presented to you.

61. Do you believe that he has brought you a delayed doctrine? Study my word and you will be convinced that it has come to manifest itself in a way that is in accordance with both the spiritual and mental evolution of this humanity.

62. Neither before nor now have I condemned your science, because it is a way by which man also finds my truth; whoever seeks me in all knowledge, finds me and feels my presence and discovers my laws. What I reproach is the bad use that is made of what was created only for good purposes.

63. Today men are much more able than the ancients to understand the essence and power of God, in this see the influence that science has had on the knowledge of men.

64. When humanity only believed that there was what it could discover with its eyes and even ignored the shape of the world it inhabited, it conceived a God limited to what its eyes knew; but as its mind was discovering mystery after mystery, the Universe was widening before its sight and the greatness and omnipotence of God were growing before the marveled intelligence of man. That is why I have had to bring you at this time a teaching that is in accordance with your evolution.

65. But I ask you: Is it material science that contains my revelation? No, the science that I teach you speaks of an existence beyond the Nature that you contemplate and examine so long ago. My revelation uncovers the way that elevates the 'spirit to an abode from where he can discover, know and understand everything.

66. That God communicates spiritually with men; that the spiritual world communicates and manifests itself in your life, that unknown worlds and abodes come to communicate with you, does it seem impossible or at least strange to you? Do you want your knowledge to remain stationary and the Father will never reveal to you more than He has already revealed to you?

67. Do not be routine or limit knowledge to your spirit.

68. Today you may deny, fight and persecute spiritual Doctrine, but I know that tomorrow you will surrender to the truth.

69. Every divine revelation, when it appeared, has been fought and denied, but in the end that light has imposed itself.

Love one another!

70. Faced with the discoveries of science, humanity has also been skeptical and has finally had to surrender to reality.

71. You have been unbelievers because of your materiality. At first you believed only in what your eyes looked at; but you evolved and you already believed in what your intelligence discovered, why should you not believe and know what is beyond your material Universe, once your spirit is the one who penetrates into that field of infinite knowledge? You do not yet know how much the humanity of the future has to know. Compare the spiritual and material knowledge of the men of the first times with the knowledge you have today, and it will give you an idea of what human life will be like in the times to come.

72. This is a propitious time to wake up to a new Era, to prepare yourselves and prophesy to you what you will contemplate.

73. Understand, people, that my coming has been opportune.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Among the multitudes who come to listen to my lesson, I see the last ones coming, those who are hearing this word for the first time. They had received the testimony of those who had previously been invited to my spiritual banquet; but they had resisted believing in my presence and in the coming of the Third Time.
2. They came overcoming obstacles and prejudices and it was enough for them to listen to the first words uttered by the lips of the spokesman, to say: "Teacher, it is you, I recognize the essence of your word, my spirit trembles".
3. Blessed are those who, listening to me already at the end of my communication in 1950, believe in my presence, for verily I tell you that my essence will not depart from their heart even after my departure.
4. My voice is calling the great multitudes because for many spirits the end of their pilgrimage on Earth is approaching. That dejection, that boredom, that sadness that they carry in their hearts, are the proof that they already long for a higher abode, a better world; but it is necessary that the last stage they travel in the world, they live it obeying the dictates of their conscience, so that the imprint of their last steps on Earth will be a blessing for the generations that later come to fulfill their various missions in the world.
5. The sadness of many men comes from not having found in their long journey a leafy tree in whose shade to rest. They found trees on the way, but they were dry and their seed vain.
6. All those men who have sought me, who have waited a long time, will soon hear my voice and come to her, because the last remnant of hope and the last glimmer of faith, have not been extinguished in their hearts.
7. My Spiritual Work awaits you; it is the stout tree you seek, under whose shade you want to rest and with whose fruits you long to sustain yourself.
8. When they arrive and satisfy their hunger and thirst and delight in resting, they will see their whole past pass through their imagination: the painful journeys in the desert, the darkness with its temptations, the abysses full of dangers, vices and death. They will remember one by one the bitter chalices they drank and will contemplate in themselves the traces of the struggle of the hard day.
9. Here they will regain peace. I'll wait for you. Clear the way so that they do not get lost and prepare a hymn so that you receive them with celebration and joy in your heart.

Love one another!

10. They will begin as infants before my new revelations, then with their love and their zeal, they will become disciples, and when their spirit has been truly sustained and has been impregnated with this essence, they will no longer look for a tree to shade themselves. Everywhere you will feel my presence and in it you will find shade, shelter, fruit, rest and peace.

11. How important it is that the last ones find the first ones strong so that they may be strengthened by their good example and from their first steps be guided along the path of obedience, zeal and cleanliness.

12. Many times you have had me as a Teacher, but when I manifest myself as a judge, you feel invaded by fear, then you would like to purify yourselves in an instant from even the most insignificant stain, to show yourselves clean before Me. The regret of having offended me translates into crying and your spirit seeks me in prayer, when you understand that you have done a good act of repentance you calm down and you already feel worthy of listening to the word of the Divine judge who comes to touch the spirits with his light.

13. Blessed are those who repent and form firm resolutions of amendment and regeneration, for they will succeed in rising above the impure and superfluous. Without repentance, meditation and purposes of improvement, you will not have laid a foundation for the sanctuary that you have to build in your spirit, but if you recognize your faults and strive to exempt yourself from them in the future, your conscience will guide you in all the works of your life.

14. You are already far from those times when men sought their purification through the sacrifice of innocent victims; you have also understood the futility of the fasts and the misunderstood penances that you practiced for a long time, now you know that only regeneration and spirituality can give your spirit peace and light.

15. I came in the Second Time as a man preaching my truth by example, I stopped the useless sacrifice of innocent and unconscious beings, sacrificing myself for the sake of a perfect lesson of love. You called me Lamb of God because that people slaughtered me in their traditional festivals. Surely my blood was shed to teach men the way of their redemption. My divine love was poured out from the cross on the humanity of that and of all times, so that in that example, in that word, in that perfect life humanity would be inspired and find salvation, purification from sins and the elevation of the spirit.

16. You are already understanding that I came to give the example but that you will have to do the merits imitating me, in order to carve out for you a mansion of eternal peace, a garment of light and an inexhaustible peace.

Love one another!

17. I want in my new apostolate the disciples to be strong, spiritualized and full of the light of knowledge. The knowledge that I have given you in all three of them has been given to you throughout my times. I do not want you to analyze my Spirit or anything that belongs to the spiritual as if they were material objects; I do not want you to study me in the manner of scientists, because you would fall into great and regrettable confusions. I have taught you to raise your spirit through prayer to consult with humility and respect to your Father, because then the Arcanum will be ajar to leave you, contemplate what is reserved for your knowledge and you will feel the divine light of inspiration coming to your understanding.

18. Prayer is the means revealed to your spirit to reach Me with your questions, with your concerns and your yearnings for light. Through this communication you will be able to dispel your doubts and uncork the veil that hides some mystery.

19. Prayer is the beginning of spirit-to-Spirit communication that in the times to come will flourish and bear fruit among this humanity, today I have revealed all this to the people who listen to me, so that it may be the precursor of the time of spirituality.

20. Do not think that until then my Spirit will begin to vibrate over that of all men: verily I tell you that my vibration, my inspiration, my presence and my light have been with men at all times, but that they had never been prepared to receive my messages directly.

21. In all times I have come to you, I have always spoken to you, I have always sought you, but you have never come to Me by the true way, you have never spoken to me with the language of the spirit, nor have you sought me where I truly am.

22. Do not be discouraged before my word when I point out your faults, I also tell you that all the mistakes and deficiencies that humanity has had, I have forgiven them, opening before his spirit an Era of light, in which he will know his imperfections, so that he may rise from his stagnation and know the truth that there is in my Work in which he has not managed to penetrate so far.

23. Do you want my voice to answer your questions tomorrow? Learn to pray because if this is not the case, then it will be your mind that answers and what can it reveal to you if it has never penetrated into the Kingdom of the spirit? Let the spirit be the one who rises, the one who reaches Me, knocks on the doors of my love and my wisdom and through him you will find the wonderful life that you had never discovered.

24. Go to the bottom of my word, O disciples, and there you will find the essence of the lesson that I have given you this day.

25. I am your friend, the one to whom you can entrust your secrets, the one who gives everything for you.

Love one another!

26. I see that you have come to entrust me with a penalty, so that I may free your heart from it, and I am really going to grant it to you, but this will be when you understand that evil must not be cured superficially, but at its origin; that in addition to praying and asking, amendment, reflection, regeneration are necessary.

27. What merit is it that I heal you of a disease or that I free you from some suffering if you persist in the cause of your misfortunes?

28. Pray that you may receive my light and through it come to discover the causes or the origin of your trials and vicissitudes. Pray so that in your humility you may feel strengthened, but first put all your will into avoiding everything that could harm you, in the spirit as in the body.

29. Come all of you to Me and heal from your ills, make your faith work the miracle of restoring you to health and achieving your salvation. The miracle is not in Me, but in you, but do not forget that it is no longer my robe that you will have to touch to receive the miracle, but that you must come before my Spirit through your faith and elevation.

30. How many have found their health on this path, because in time they knew how to discover the origin of their ills and put all their faith and will to fight until they win! How many have also left sad, confused or disappointed, without having achieved what they wanted because they believed that just by approaching one of these meeting places or simply by asking, they had already achieved everything. They were never interested in discovering the cause of their sufferings and had to leave without having achieved the good they were looking for. These are those who live without spiritual light, those who are ignorant of the cause of their sufferings and the value of health or peace.

31. Most men carry a Thomas in their hearts, they would like to see and touch in order to believe and I tell you that those tests granted to the most unbelieving of my disciples will not be repeated at this time, because the world will not have me again as a man and because that example remained as an open book in front of each of my children, so that they could analyze that lesson.

32. Do not think that only by becoming a man can I manifest myself to the world, no, because now I am making myself spiritually felt in you, and that is proof that I can manifest myself before man in an infinite number of ways. I have created everything and I know you, so I know how to make the sleeping spirit of this humanity tremble.

33. My humility at that time made the people's hearts vibrate with love. Accustomed to contemplate the ostentation of those who claimed to represent me in the world, when they saw that the King of Kings came without a crown and without a throne on earth, they opened their eyes and contemplated the truth.

Love one another!

34. So also at this time I will make the world tremble with my humility, of which I have given you the first proofs, seeking the simplicity and recollection of the first to feel the arrival of the New Time, in order to manifest my message among them.

35. Woe to those who have taken my name to spiritually govern humanity if they have thereby hindered or confused it, because they will see thousands of men starting from among their ranks in search of the truth! Woe to the men of science, who, instead of making life lighter, have made it more painful for men, because then they will see the poor and the ignorant perform wonders that they would not be able to do with all their science!

36. The miracles of this time will also be written for the testimony of future generations, but truly I tell you, these miracles will be performed more in the spirit than in matter.

37. In that Second time I healed a multitude of the sick. I cured the blind, the lepers, the possessed, the deaf, the paralyzed, and the dumb. They were all sick of the body, but, by the miracle done in their bodies, their spirit was resurrected.

38. Now I come first to give light to the spirit, to awaken him, to give him freedom, to ignite his faith and to heal him of all evil so that later he will take care of strengthening and healing his body.

39. Do you not think that from time to time I must find you more advanced and that therefore my lessons have to be higher and higher?

40. That is why at this time the world will not see me born in a stable or see me die on a cross, but it will have to rise to feel my spiritual presence.

41. Humanity: Does the pain, misery and chaos that surrounds you at this time seem unforeseen to you? If you are surprised, it is because you were not interested in my prophecies and did not prepare. Everything was planned and everything was announced, but you lacked faith and now you rush the consequences like a very bitter chalice.

42. Also now I am prophesying through the human understanding; some prophecies are of near realization and others for more distant times. This people who listen to them have the great responsibility of making them known to humanity, because they contain light that will make men understand the reality in which they live, so that they stop in their swift race towards the abyss.

43. My emissaries will let the nations know that if they continue in their foolish and incessant ambitions of greatness and power, using forces and elements that they do not yet know or know how to use, this Land that was the paradise created by the Lord and later a valley of tears for human sins and disobedience, will become a field of death and silence, an uninhabitable world, because of the perversity of men.

44. Can you call that the conquest or triumph of science? It will be a triumph for humanity, when it comes to live in peace and harmony, because then it will have built the basis for its greatest conquests, both human and spiritual, it will have fulfilled the precept that advises you to love one another.

45. Multitudes will come from other countries to this people, eager to question you about the spiritual events that you have witnessed at this time and also about the revelations and prophecies that I have given you, because in many parts of the world they have received my messages that say that in a place in the West my divine ray has descended to speak to humanity of this time. You will see how the moment has come, other peoples and nations will come to look for you. Then the men of the great religions will be surprised that it is not to them that I came to look.

46. Now you understand why I want you to fight against your materialism, to destroy all your doubts and confusions, because I do not want that when your brothers arrive before you, they suffer disappointment or disappointment, I do not want that instead of calling you brothers, they will become your enemies.

47. Does it not hurt you so much confusion as reigns in the world? Do you not suffer in the face of so much spiritual darkness?

48. Be the good disciples: great in your knowledge and humble in your way of teaching, I tell you that you should take advantage of every opportunity to sow that life offers you. But you must bear in mind that everyone who calls himself a teacher without being one, will be responsible for everything he does on his way, as well as for the trials that he receives in his path.

49. This is a precious moment for you to reflect, so that you may free yourselves from routine, set yourselves on a path of advancement and come to truly know the purity of this Work, because not all of you have considered its purity or understood it. I still contemplate among you such strange forms and practices that, although they please some who have a tendency to rites, it confuses the most and they do not realize that with this they are only preparing a reason for mockery for tomorrow.

50. Do you think the Master fears that men will destroy his work? "No, People, the Father can fear nothing, his Work is indestructible; what I want is that you love the truth, that you present my Work in all its purity, because if you don't, you will cause a lot of pain, just as all those who, within any religion, without charity for their brothers have confused, lost or hurt their fellow men, giving them stones for bread, darkness for light or lies for truth have caused it.

51. You have all received this word, people, you are aware of what you have heard and yet I tell you, nothing obliges you to serve me or to follow the path traced, but, whoever is willing, who cannot resist the love that his heart feels, who is not afraid to bleed his plant on the path, take up his cross and come after his Master, willing to serve me in his brothers.

52. It is Elijah who has been among the great multitudes to teach them the way of truth, to tell them about the kingdom of God, to show men spirituality by freeing them from confusion, injustice and evil.

53. Elijah invites men to repentance, showing them the virtues and love, to direct them like sheep from his fold to Me.

54. In this Third Time, I have placed my universal ray in the understanding of man to deliver my word to you. But humanity has not yet realized my divine manifestation; because it has forged many gods according to its understanding, according to its ideas and I tell you: there is only one true God who has no beginning and no end, and he has given man a spark of his Divine Spirit that is the light of his conscience that teaches him to distinguish good from evil.

55. Chosen people: men of science, of different creeds and doctrines, of different sects and religions, are preparing to search the fruit of this spiritual Doctrine, they will ask you which is the God you are looking for; if you are prepared, you will be the enlightened people who know how to answer every question. I want you to know how to defend this cause, because words of truth will flow from you. If you have become spiritualized, fear nothing from men, for you will bear witness to my truth with your words, thoughts and deeds.

56. If you keep my law, men will not mark you as the impostors, for they will behold your obedience and see you as their own brothers.

57. Everyone who has good principles, who meditates on his actions, who turns lies away from his word, who acts with love, piety and charity for his fellow men, will feel in himself the manifestation of my Divinity and will be like his God in the greatness of his acts and in his purposes to do good.

58. How few are those hearts; short is the number of those who thus fulfill my Law! But I have taught you, who are the chosen people, to do good. You can do it with your good thoughts, with your prayer. Through prayer you can raise your spirit to my Divinity, because being infinite, I descend to your world to caress you, to give you comfort and to teach you to obey my Law.

Love one another!

59. Day by day I have been among you to teach you to practice the virtues, to entrust you with my love and I have enlightened your spirit and your understanding, so that everywhere you rise up with the purpose of doing good, with the purpose of regeneration. I have taught you to forgive, so that he who is in darkness may see that you are the children of light and so by your good example you can show the world the way of truth and you can testify that you have received my word with your works of love.

60. Men will have to accuse you of nothing because they will see that you have been inspired by Me to practice good.

61. Practice this Spiritual Work as it is my will, so that you may show humanity new horizons, so that you may illuminate the dark paths along which it has traveled so far.

62. Confess directly to me because I am the only one who can penetrate your spirit and listen to your secrets with infinite pity and love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. I have contemplated in you, at the forefront of the caravan that follows me through the ages, the prudent Israel, the fighting spirit of Judah, making way for his people. You have come to fight the last battle and you have me before you to direct your steps and lead you to the completion of your work.
2. I have sent you at the precise moment of the trial, when humanity is going through the greatest dangers and I tell you that it will still go a while longer in pursuit of its ambition, to then fall into painful fatigue until its conscience, making itself heard, tells it how much it has walked in vain and how it has despised its existence, speaks to it in my name and teaches it wisely to come to Me, along the path of spirituality. When the spirit awakens and reflects, it will seek to hold on to something certain, it will want to discover the shortest and most accurate way and it will return to the beginning to find there the foundations, the virtues, the true science and it will know that the first and last law that I have given to man, is love, source of all perfection.
3. I want you to live in expectation of the fulfillment of my word; that you always be in contact with me and with the spiritual world, so that you do not feel distant or absent from Me. I will make the fusion of the spirits of different worlds so that in their union they will be strengthened to carry out the work that I have entrusted to them.
4. For its realization, I do not ask you to be unaware of your personality, nor to separate yourselves from the world, since you live in it; I only tell you to take what is indispensable for the needs of your body, so that the spirit can feel free and looking inward and around him, he understands his great destiny within my Work.
5. I will give you what is necessary for human life, I will not ask you to neglect your duties, but rather, my word will teach you to fulfill all of them because even the smallest ones are part of your mission. You are living a time of struggle, activity and effort and it is necessary that you all put yourselves at the service of the spirit. May you develop all your gifts so that the transformation that was wrought in my disciples of the Second Time, who identified with me, united as one spirit, may be done in you.
6. You could not go to humanity with a false or apparent preparation, because their spirit has evolved and the blindfold that covered their eyes has fallen for a long time. Bring him spirituality, offer him peace and make an environment of health and fraternity around you, and you will see how they listen to you and accept your words in which my inspiration and my essence will go.

Love one another!

7. If you are going to preach teaching peace, be peaceful yourselves; if you speak of love, feel it before you express it in words; and if your brothers also offer you their fruits, do not reject them; submit to study everything you know and take what is lawful and just in their doctrines. You will meet those who, fanatical in their cult, have reduced their understanding by materializing their practices, you will patiently help them expand their knowledge; you will show them the horizons that their spirit can reach, if they know how to penetrate my teaching. You will tell them about my universal Spirit, about the immortality of the spirit, about its constant evolution. You will teach them true prayer, the communication of the spirit and you will free them from prejudices and errors. This is the work that I entrust to you, a work of love and patience.

8. Watch all of you for your spirit who is my son. Receive my new revelations and if you have not come to find the essence of the words that I gave you in the past times, come and through this teaching, you will know everything and understand it, because I am reminding you and gathering before you all my words and deeds of all times, so that you may bear one more testimony of your Father.

9. Use the strength I have given you to overcome all trials and temptations. Be patient in pain, so that you can steer your boat and get to safety.

10. I want your worship in this Third Time to become as pure and as perfect as the perfume that comes out of flowers.

11. When men have succeeded in building a temple in their spirit and have kindled the flame of faith in it, profanations will have ceased, wars will have ended, the valley of tears will begin to be a land of peace and the Kingdom of Heaven will approach every heart.

12. Let me speak in this way, even if it seems impossible to you when I say, I know what will become of this world in the future, that future that extends to eternity and that you, little creatures, cannot conceive.

13. If you do not realize the present, how can you predict what will happen, or doubt what my word prophesies?

14. My messengers are already arriving in the world, those who, when the time comes, will have to remove the blindfold of darkness from the eyes of men, those who have come to the world to defend the truth with works of true love. More, who has discovered them? Who perceives in these children today the prophets and apostles of tomorrow? And if this happens to those whom you can contemplate with the eyes of your matter, what will it be if I tell you that my spiritual hosts of light have also approached your world, with their message of peace and their warning voice? You didn't even get the feeling.

15. It is necessary that this people, to whom these revelations have been entrusted, rise up bearing witness, because with this men will awaken and will be able to perceive the signs and spiritual manifestations proper to this time.

16. That is why at every step I tell you to take care of this seed, so that you and your children may be the ones who bring this light to the peoples of the earth. I grant you that in order to bring my message to the different points, you may use whatever means you deem appropriate, as long as your conscience tells you that you are on the true path.

17. But I do not want to tell you that you who are listening to me at this moment, are the only ones in charge of carrying out this mission, no, it will be up to you to do a part and those who come after will do what corresponds to them, because the Work is gigantic for my new people.

18. What you must pursue is that from generation to generation this Work advances, is defined in its spirituality and purity and is preserved in all its truth.

19. You do not yet know the whole essence, and the meaning of my Doctrine, that is the cause why you have deformed it more, when your mind along with your spirit have awakened to the truth, you will be unable to mix anything impure to my Work.

20. You are giving to the world what you received in spirit as a mission before coming to Earth. It is the message that your spirit brought.

21. The mind ignores all this, but the spirit remembers when it was told that here in the world they would group together to form a people, all those who were appointed to hear the word of the Lord in his new manifestation to the world.

22. Blessed are those who have known how to keep the Master's command and promise in their spirit, because the light of my Spirit has been in them, they are fulfilling the mission that was given to them and once they have concluded with the part that corresponds to them, they will have the spiritual joy of seeing how after them, new labors arrive to continue the work begun. In those who arrive, they will see the satisfaction, the joy of having found the road clean and prepared and the sowing of the fields has begun.

23. If you who have been the first and therefore have had to fight a lot, because none of your brothers prepared the way for you in this era and despite that you have managed to deliver a message to the world, think that the new generations, finding the right path and the extended seed, will have to make known with greater light and clarity the message of which they are carriers.

24. From the earliest times, when the prophets began to announce the arrival of the Messiah, they said that all nations would be blessed in Him, because He would come to become man, but now I tell you that all peoples will be blessed again in this Third Time, because my Spirit will come to communicate with every spirit.

25. Blessed are those who seek purification through prayer, repentance and good works, because they are the ones who are truly washing their stains to appear clean before Me. Blessed are those who thus understand the truth, because they are the ones who are finding the way and leaving behind the ignorance and darkness of past times. Just as in the Second Time I came to put an end to the shedding of blood and the sacrifice of innocent victims that the people offered before the altar of Jehovah, and I taught them to offer the sacrifice of their own life to the Father, now I come to separate you from the multiple useless practices and rites with which you have been replacing the true fulfillment of my Doctrine.

26. When you listen to my lessons, you are surprised to be able to understand and to be able to practice what seemed impossible to you before and that is that your spirit has been walking step by step a path that you did not know. A spark of light in your mind was enough to remove from your heart the external worship that had taken root so deeply in you.

27. Also the symbolism is disappearing from your worship as you look more closely at the truth, and you begin to recreate yourself with a clean, simple, spiritual and practical worship.

28. I have not told you everything and I have not revealed everything to you, therefore I tell you not to be satisfied with what you have received. My Arcanum still treasures a lot and your spirit must know it, you will have to take many transcendental steps along the path. I come to teach you a different way of practicing the Law and a different way of analyzing the spiritual and the divine that my word has revealed to you, because I do not want you to try to analyze me in the manner of scientists or theologians, You, elevating your thought through prayer, you will interrogate the Arcanum of your Father and you will know how to receive from Him, clothed with humility, respect and love, what it would be good to reveal to you. Whoever thus arrives at the door of wisdom will be considered as a child eager for light or a disciple thirsty for knowledge. I will make him feel my presence, I will give him my caress and I will show him how much you should know in the judgment of your Father; I will dispel his doubts, in his sight I will unclog the veil of many mysteries and fill it with light, so that when he concludes his prayer and returns to his struggle he can reveal to the flesh what he learned in the chair with the Master.

29. Those who have wanted to know my essence and penetrate the divine without coming to my presence with humility and due respect, have always been confused and have never achieved great teaching, is that the door is open for the humble, but always closed for the proud. Men are still infants before life, they are far from being its disciples.

30. Humility of spirit and heart I ask you, so that you who come in search of the light along the spiritual path, may find everything you long to know. The prepared will not have to cry or sigh for these times of my communication, when they pass and when the caravans of foreigners arrive to ask you about what you heard and saw, you will give them faithful testimony of what I taught you and the explanation of everything they see wrapped in mystery. Marveling at the clarity of your mind and of your word, they will call you children of light and say to you: "You are blessed, because you listened to the Divine Master, even though it was through the understanding of man."

31. I come again to give men my word so that they may know that they are not alone, so that they may awaken to the voice of their conscience and know that after this life great divine wonders await the spirit.

32. I have spoken of them to men and the same is verified by the one who knows how to pray to get in touch with the spiritual, as is testified by the one who delves into the mysteries of Nature, through science. By these two paths, both the mind and the spirit, the more they seek, the more they will find, but when will the time come when man will be inspired by love, for its study and its investigation? Only when this is, his work in the world will be firm; as long as the motive of science, be it ambition, pride, materialism or hatred, men will have at every step the claim of the unleashed elements punishing their folly.

33. The man of science of these times demonstrates complete incomprehension in his works, because he destroys nations and peoples, reaps human lives by the thousands; he enslaves men and turns human life into a whirlwind and does not understand the evil he causes, does not realize the gravity of his acts, that is why I call them unconscious.

34. Only my mercy could come to the aid of this humanity and that is why I have come to touch the heart of man and awaken his spirit, so that he can hear the subtle voice of conscience, which will wisely make him know all the evil he has caused, at the same time that it will inspire him the way to repair mistakes and evils.

Love one another!

35. Men must understand that everyone has to come to Me, but not as men, as they would like, but in a spiritual state, only in this way will they ensure that their works tend to the good of all so that this may be to their advantage.

36. How many have magnified themselves in evil, in pride, in vanities! How many have girded themselves with crowns, being miserable and being naked of the spirit! How great is the contrast between what you believe to be your truth and my truth!

37. You weep listening to my word, O people, when will all humanity weep like this at my revelation? I forgive you all, it is an instant of grace and I spread my infinite light on all the worlds and on all my children.

38. This is the Age of light in which the divine wisdom, which is the light of the Holy Spirit, will illuminate even the most intimate corners of the heart and spirit.

39. Soon man will know what the one who is born for this world comes to, what is the meaning, the mission and purpose of this life, and he will know how to explain to himself what he has called "Death". Soon this humanity will leave theories and external cults to live the truth and then it will consecrate its existence to the good, it will worship me through its works and when the time comes to leave this world, they will not call death the fact of closing the eyes of the body forever, knowing that this is the instant in which the spirit enters fully into a higher life.

40. When you all know that the detachment of the spirit when leaving matter is the transition step, indispensable to approach the abode of peace and perfection, it will be when a true knowledge of reality will be formed in men.

41. The Creator placed men in a world whose Nature evolves without ceasing, but always evolves towards perfection; but men, dwelling in the bosom of this Nature, do not evolve in harmony with it, because they do not seek their moral improvement, they do not aspire to the perfection of their spirit, which is the essence and the reason for their existence.

42. Human evolution, its progress, its science and its civilization have never had as their goal the elevation of the spirit, which is the highest and noblest thing that exists in man; his aspiration, his ambitions, his longings and concerns, have always had their goal in this world. Here they have sought knowledge, here they have accumulated treasures, here they have procured pleasures, honors, awards, powers and flatteries; here they have wanted to find their glory. That is why I tell you that while Nature advances step by step, without stopping at its law of incessant evolution towards the subtle, towards perfection, man has remained behind, parked and hence his vicissitudes on Earth, hence the trials, the stumbles and blows that on his way he encounters; because instead of harmonizing with what surrounds him in his life, trying to lord himself over everything through his elevation of the spirit, as the Lord ordered from the beginning, he wanted to lord himself over low passions such as greed, pride and hatred, giving up his position as lord and prince over everything that God placed under his will, to become a servant, a slave and even a victim of all the elements that surround him.

43. Make the purpose of knowing yourself first, searching in the depths of your being for the essence and I assure you that you will feel enlightened to discover that you are first of all spirits, children of God.

44. My word opens the doors of spiritual knowledge for you so that you may treasure in your heart something of what the Father keeps in his Arcanum for his children.

45. Man carries in himself a spirit that is the repository of many divine gifts and greatness and it is the word of God, it is his Doctrine, which comes to make him worthy of attaining that grace.

46. How much humanity has lowered itself in its materialism, how much it has had to cry for its indifference to the high, to the pure and true!

47. The spirit tends towards virtue, the mind tends to sin and both struggle without achieving harmony, that is why I have come with my word to teach the one and the other the way to unite in a single ideal, justly giving the spirit to the spirit and the world to the world. In the flesh there are the instincts, the passions and the attachment to the material, because there is their origin, that is why you need a Doctrine that sensitizes the human fibers, that ennobles the heart and elevates it, without diverting it from compliance with the laws that govern man on Earth; through this Doctrine, the spirit will be able to rise towards the eternal, towards that Kingdom where its origin is. If he comes to triumph over the flesh and the world, then, when he is already free from the human envelope, it will be easier for him to climb from step to step, getting closer and closer to his Father and, therefore, the world that he inhabited and that had enslaved him will remain more and more distant from him.

48. The spark that makes man similar to his creator will gradually approach the infinite flame from which it sprang, and that flash will be a luminous, conscious, vibrant being of love, full of knowledge and strength. That being will enjoy the state of perfection, in which there is not the slightest pain or the smallest misery, where there is perfect and true happiness.

49. If that were not the end of your spirit, truly I tell you, I would not have made my Doctrine known to you through so many lessons, because the Law of the First Time would have been sufficient for you to live in peace on Earth; but if you meditate that I came to dwell with men and to promise them an infinitely better world beyond this life, and if you also remember that I promised to return in another time to continue speaking to you and to explain everything that you would not have understood, you will conclude by understanding that the spiritual destiny of men is, moreover, much higher than anything you can suppose, and that the promised happiness is infinitely greater than you can sense or imagine.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Beloved disciples, Once again I say to you: Watch and pray, because matter is fragile and in its weaknesses it can lead the spirit away from the right path.
2. The spirit that knows how to watch, never departs from the route that his Lord has traced for him and is in a position to use his inheritance and his gifts, until he reaches his elevation. That being will have to get ahead in his trials, because he lives alert and never lets himself be dominated by matter. He who watches and prays will always emerge triumphant from difficult trances and will know how to walk with a firm step along the path of life.
3. How different is the behavior of the one who forgets to pray and to watch! He voluntarily renounces defending himself with the best weapons that I have placed in man, which are faith, love and the light of knowledge. He is the one who does not listen to the inner voice that speaks to him through intuition, consciousness and dreams; but the heart and mind do not understand that language and do not give credence to the message of his own spirit.
4. If man were to live awake to the higher life that exists and vibrates above him, and if he knew how to interrogate his spirit, he would escape from how many stumbles, from how many abysses he would be saved; but he spends his life interrogating those who will not be able to solve his doubts and uncertainties: men of science, who have penetrated into material nature, but who do not know the spiritual life, because the spirit has become lethargic within them.
5. The spirit of humanity needs to awaken in order to find itself, to discover all the gifts entrusted to it to help it in its struggle.
6. Today man is like a small dry leaf detached from the tree of life and at the mercy of the winds, subject to a thousand vicissitudes, weak before the elements of Nature, fragile and small before death, when he should have ruled the Earth like a prince sent by Me to perfect himself in the world.
7. The time of awakening has come, in which you must rush in search of the truth, retracing the path where your ambition, your despair and your ignorance have led you.
8. Do not run away from my light, which comes to shake the world with its revelations. Soon you will see shining in the spiritual firmament the saving star of this shipwrecked world, of this humanity lost among the shadows of a materialistic, sterile and selfish life, because it has strayed from the Law, which is the essence of your life.

Love one another!

9. Blessed people, is not your heart moved when I speak to you in this way about humanity? Don't you immediately think about the very delicate mission that you have to fulfill?

10. I am speaking to you in this way, so that you may prepare yourselves, because the time is already near when my emissaries and my envoys will appear in the world and among those envoys will go some of you, some of those who listened to my word in this Third Time.

11. Only the pure in heart should go to the regions and the nations to spread my message, because they will be the only ones worthy to bear witness to the truth of this Work.

12. When those envoys depart for the lands that await them, all religious fanaticism will have been erased from their hearts, there will no longer be the slightest desire to go in search of flattery or flattery, nor will their hand dare to stain itself with the payment of the world for the charity they do. They will not sell miracles, nor will they put a price on the love of one for the other. They will be servants, but not masters. The time will come when you will understand the greatness of true humility and then you will see that whoever has known how to be a servant has actually been free in his mission to do good and sow charity and that faith, trust, peace has accompanied him in his life.

13. On the contrary, he who has thought himself king and lord without having merits to be so, even when he has the peoples at his feet, is a slave, he is a wretch, because he has no rest, peace, security, or faith.

14. If you want to have a real incentive in the spiritual struggle, prepare your fellow human beings and you will feel every time you comfort a sad person, heal a sick person or save a lost one, a deep satisfaction, an ineffable joy, incomparably greater than the pleasures that the world can offer you. When your human and small heart comes to experience that kind of joy, it will be because your spirit has struggled and has risen.

15. I discover this question in your heart: What will become of us when we lack the warmth of this word? It is that your spirit senses the time of sorrows that will ravage the world from the moment my manifestation ceases.

16. I tell you that if you comply with my teachings, you will have nothing to fear because whoever walks my way, my light illuminates him and he has my peace. Fear, for those who have forgotten to pray, for those who do not feel charity in their hearts, for those who are unaware of the spiritual gifts they possess, pray for all of them.

17. Teach your brothers to pray, make them understand that it is their spirit that must communicate with their Creator, that they understand that almost always their prayers are the cry of matter, the expression of anguish, the proof of their lack of faith, of their nonconformity or of their distrust of Me.

18. Make your brothers understand that they do not need to mortify or lacerate Their body to move my Spirit, to awaken my piety or my charity. Those who procure themselves bodily sufferings and penances, it is because they do not have the slightest notion of which are the most pleasant offerings for Me; they neither have any idea of my love nor of the mercy of your Father,

19. Do you think it is necessary for Me to see the tears in your eyes and the pain in your heart in order to have mercy on you? That would be to attribute hardness, insensitivity, indifference, selfishness to me, and do you conceive these defects in the God you love?

20. How little have you cared to know me! It is because you have not educated your mind to think according to the spirit.

21. I tell you a lot about prayer because it is necessary that you come to discover all the powers and virtues that it contains, because the time has come when your spirit fulfills in the world the great mission to which it has been destined and prayer is the main weapon for its struggle.

22. He who knows how to pray is a soldier of God, because his spirituality makes him invincible. Their weapons work without the world noticing. His light illuminates the darkness, his power destroys evil intentions, his love sows peace. He does not need material means to carry his mission to the end, he fulfills and acts as if he were already in spirit.

23. I have given humanity the necessary time for its spiritual awakening and that time is coming to an end. It only remains for him to take a few more steps on the paths of the world, and then he will stop to meekly penetrate the kingdom of love.

24. You will still see a mighty one throwing himself on another mighty one to destroy him and stay as lord of the Earth. They do not realize that the power they sought is not going to be granted to them, because they are crossing the limits of free will.

25. When at the end of the struggle one is left standing and wants to launch the cry of victory, he will contemplate that his kingdom is of ruins and corpses, that his empire is of misery and death and that will be the end of the wars in the world.

26. Man will not be able to say that in Me he found an obstacle to his science or an enemy of his ambitions and desires for greatness, because I will let him go to the end, to the limit, because you already know that everything human has a limit. He created a world to his idea and he himself destroyed it, because its foundations were not firm, what can he blame me for? But, when the pain is more intense and his heart is horrified at the result of his works, then he will cry out for mercy and forgiveness, because until that moment the spirit will break the prison in which he has been imprisoned, to escape in search of the One whom he had forgotten or that if he came to remember him, it was to challenge his power.

27. Man is going to know my justice, not revenge, people, because if that feeling existed in me and overflowed it on humanity, instead of purifying it, I would stain it and my justice is to restore purity to your spirit.

28. Behold how while men are preparing their destruction, I have everything ready for their salvation and their resurrection, although for this they have to go through a crucible of immense sufferings necessary to strengthen the spirit in his repentance and in his purpose of remaining faithful to the Law.

29. My love will save everyone, I will give everyone the opportunity to return to Me and then you will know that I am the Almighty and the absolute victor, but I will not reign over the defeated, nor over the dead, nor over the humiliated: My triumph will be true because I will reign over victors.

30. You are like a garden in whose meadows, cultivated by Me, I have not allowed the weeds to germinate. I have let the bushes grow and the buds sprout and the corollas open, so that the visitor can recreate their gaze and the walker takes refuge from the inclement weather and rests under the shade of these trees.

31. Sometimes your peace turns into struggle, worries or capsizing; it is when the hurricane hits the fields and orchards, shaking the trees and defoliating the flowers. So you ask what is the point of those tests. And I tell you that the whirlwind causes the bad fruits and the dry leaves to fall from the trees, and throws out of the garden everything that should not exist in its bosom.

32. When this garden blooms and bears its fruits according to my will, I will open its doors and invite the inhabitants of other regions to enter it, to give them the fruits that they like the most so that they can take them to their regions.

33. I bless the trees that, having been hit by the gale, have known how to be strong, and although for a moment their branches have been naked, they have soon become covered with greenery again.

34. When the test passed, you marveled at how the bad fruits and dry leaves had fallen from your tree.

Love one another!

35. I gave you the strength to withstand the test and I gave you the light to understand the meaning of those divine lessons.

36. If I asked you what are those bad fruits that your tree sometimes produces, what would you tell me? Instantly you would answer me that they are your brothers who do not work with cleanliness, who have not regenerated, who do not offer me anything good, but, I tell you, that the bad fruits are not your brothers, that it is not to them that the whirlwind throws out of the garden, The bad fruits are the bad habits, the bad feelings, the mistakes that are committed within my Work. And the dried leaves are all those unnecessary practices that are still used in the bosom of my disciples, as exterior cults, rites, symbolisms and forms that belonged to a very distant past, but which are now already like dry leaves, without sap, detached from the tree of life.

37. If my Doctrine considered one of you as an evil fruit, unworthy to be on the tree of my justice and my love, it would not be true, because it would not denote charity towards the one who infringes, nor would it teach love towards the needy, nor would it demonstrate power to convert him.

38. You know that I have not come to cast out anyone, nor to ignore a single one of my children, but I have come to extract from his heart all uncleanness and to teach him to cast out of his bosom all the evil that separated him from the true fulfillment of my Law.

39. If I had to reject the imperfect and accept only the good and just, truly I tell you, none of you would be chosen by Me, because you are all imperfect and I do not find a single righteous person in your bosom.

40. The greatness of my Doctrine is in the redemption of sinners.

41. Give thanks to your Father because it is He himself who comes to explain his Doctrine to you, because humanity distorts my teachings by making appear what is infinitely just, as if it were unjust.

42. You are my garden; it was my word that cultivated you, but you have not yet bloomed or fructified; and truly I tell you, the flowers of your garden will open when you communicate from spirit to Spirit and the fruits will ripen on your tree when your works contain truth, love, knowledge, when they give life, sustenance and good taste.

43. Once again I tell you that this Third Time in which you have heard me through the understanding, has been only the stage of preparation or cultivation; a manifestation of my Word, of my Spirit, but still humanized and materialized, for which I tell you that this form cannot be the goal of your spiritual aspirations.

Love one another!

44. This communication has been the stepping stone that has made you climb one step further on the path, which is bringing you closer to perfect communication.

45. I speak to you often about this, so that when you reach the end of the present stage, you will firmly step into the new time. Then you will be convinced that in order to receive my divine inspiration, the speaker is not indispensable, because she will descend on every spirit.

46. Through that light you will receive my commands, you will feel my presence and you will hear my voice.

47. At that time the little one will have become a disciple, he will no longer be the one who called his Lord saying to him: "Father, come to me, give me your help, lift me up". Then he will be the one who rises up and approaches his Father to say: "Beloved Teacher, my Father, here I am, I am ready to listen to you to receive your divine will from you."

48. Understand, people, that what I have revealed to you through these spokesmen is not, and cannot be, all that I have to reveal to man.

49. I have poured out a lot through these mouths, but this, with being great, is not my Arcanum, it is not the whole book of my Wisdom. I say to you again: that was the preparation, the introduction to the time of spirituality,

50. You have begun to develop your gifts, but the broadest development you will have after this word has ceased.

51. For now, let yourselves be prepared by Me, so that, when you hear the last of my lectures, there will be a party in my town and no mourning for stopping listening to me in this way.

52. Through your spirit will pass the memory of those times when. The people heard the voice of the Lord in the thunder of lightning and saw his light in the glare of lightning; in that they received the Law engraved on a stone and the bread of eternal life symbolized in manna.

53. Your conscience will remind you of my presence in this world, when, made man, I came to dwell with you so that I could be looked at, listened to and understood; to shake your sleeping spirit with the wonder of my miracles, giving you proofs of my love, and to be believed I granted you everything you asked of me: forgiveness, patience, miracles, blessings, blood and life.

Love one another!

54. The time in which you have had this communication through my interpreters or spokespersons, humanizing my word and making it available to everyone to be understood, will pass through your memory.

55. Then you will weep for sorrow and for joy. Of sadness to understand your slowness to walk the spiritual path and for your hardness that has always made the Father descend to your misery and littleness. Your weeping will be of joy to recognize that despite your slowness, you are already at the gates of the new time in which you will no longer sacrifice your Father, in which you will no longer call him, asking with tears to save you from the abyss, because you will already know how to go to Him and speak to Him and hear Him with the spirit.

56. Why should there be pain at the last moment of this communication, when that day will mark the beginning of a stage of greater light and perfection? I have told you that I want there to be a spiritual feast in my people on that day,

57. Verily I tell you, I still reserve for you greater lessons than have hitherto been revealed to you, but when will you be able to analyze and penetrate all that I have taught you and discovered in the word of the spokesmen? When will you tell me that you have already understood the substance of this lesson?

58. Do not be afraid, that if you really give yourselves to the study and practice of my word, you will be led by Me to the end of the road, remember that I am the light that illuminates your path.

59. People: I want you to recognize the blessed inheritance that you received from the beginning from the charity of your Father. You have been appointed ever since to bear witness to my truth in the Third Time. My light has followed you on all the paths of your long pilgrimage.

60. You were prepared so that at the moment of receiving this message you could recognize me and doubt would not separate you from Me. That is why sometimes, when you meditate you are surprised that you have been able to free yourself from many ties that bound you, you cannot regret the step you have taken, because you have seen the clarity of my Work and the goodness of my Doctrine, you all know well the path you follow what you are doing, there are no mysteries in my revelations nor darkness in my word.

61. The clarity and breadth of my teachings will make your spirit, little by little, manifest what the Father has entrusted to him and develop the gifts that he had hidden for a long time. You were asleep and you recognize it now that you have contemplated my light. I have not come to surprise you, it is you who have been surprised; I have not been a mystery to my children, but you still contain many mysteries, that is why I have come to your aid, so that you may fully know the truth.

62. Give thanks to your Lord for meeting you again on the way; but do not be content with it, think that I have offered you the path so that you may follow it to Me. You are disciples of a Spiritual Doctrine, whose goal you still consider distant, but my love accompanies you, my word encourages you and my charity strengthens you so that there is no fainting in you, because you will reap your harvest when you reach the peak of spirituality.

63. My word is already illuminating the Earth, it has arrived exactly at the announced time and although there are few witnesses of this message, if you compare them in number with humanity, days will come when my word will resonate throughout your world. Now you have concretized yourselves to listen to me, but, when my manifestation has ceased, there will arise among you disciples who are studious of my Doctrine and jealous of its essence, those who will make the works of love that convince humanity spring from the bottom of this Work, in a definite and clear way.

64. Today I see many still confused, mixing to my teaching rites and traditions that do not belong to it and it will be after your analysis and your study, when purification and truth will come to your worship and your practices and consequently, the spiritual unity of the people.

65. You already think you understand the responsibility you have and you think you understand the greatness of this Work; however, I tell you that you will have that understanding after this time of teachings and after you have meditated on what you heard.

66. You will find everything said in my Word, at no point will you find it confused or undefined; but you will have to devote some time to meditation on this message so that you can offer humanity a Good News of radiant light, peace and true consolation. This is the mission to which you have been destined, O People who are witnesses of this revelation, that is why I have come to ask you for an account of that debt contracted long ago with the Father. Pray, watch and prepare yourselves so that you can transmit my word in all its purity; truly I tell you that if you give her up in this way, she will triumph because she can resist all judgments, combats and analyzes, but those who make her known must testify with their works so that they can resist the judgments and the tests to which they are subjected; this you will achieve by applying my word to your life, without fanaticism or mystifications.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. You have been traveling a thorny path and in every sorrow you have you hear the voice of conscience that tells you that you are still far from fulfilling the Law of your Father and that is why you falter. The spirit retains the intuition of having left the Creator's womb a long time ago and knowing that he still has a long way to go to return to the starting point, he gives himself up to prayer, because he knows that at least at that moment he can communicate with his Father. The spirit knows that in prayer he finds a consolation that caresses, comforts and heals him.
2. I bless those who pray, the more spiritual their prayer is, the greater the peace I make them feel, this you can easily explain, because he who to pray needs to prostrate himself in front of images or objects to feel the presence of the divine, will not be able to experience the spiritual sensation of the presence of the Father in his heart.
3. "Blessed are those who, without seeing, believe, I said at that time and now I say it again, because he who closes his eyes for the world, opens them for the spiritual and who has faith in my spiritual presence, has to feel it and enjoy it.
4. How long will this humanity stop depriving its spirit of the delight of feeling me in its heart, through direct prayer or what is the same, through spirit-to-Spirit prayer? Until it is my light that illuminates the lives of men, they know the truth and understand their mistakes.
5. This is a time to pray and meditate, but with prayer free of fanaticism and idolatry and with serene and deep meditation on my divine word.
6. All times and all places can be conducive to prayer and meditation; I never told you in my teachings that there were places or times destined for it. Why look for specific places in the world to pray, being your spirit greater than the world you inhabit? Why limit myself in images and in such limited places, being infinite?
7. The greatest reason for the spiritual poverty of men and their earthly vicissitudes is the imperfect way of praying, for which I tell you that it is necessary that this knowledge reaches all humanity.
8. You are at the gates of the Spiritual Age, do not be surprised that I tell you a lot about what corresponds to the spirit.
9. No one should be surprised by my new message and the meaning of my Word, because the prophets of the First Time, like Christ in the Second Time, announced with great clarity the era that you are living today.

Love one another!

10. Many have risen up around the world recognizing that this is the time of the fulfillment of those prophecies, but I must tell you that not everyone has understood the meaning of the scriptures, when they give them a material interpretation, similar to that which the Jews gave at that time to the coming of the Messiah and his Kingdom.

11. When I was on Earth, I told you, "My Kingdom is not of this world" on another occasion I said, "I must leave because I am going to prepare for you the dwelling place where you will have to arrive", 12. Well, disciples, if I came with a Doctrine that spoke of a higher life, that revealed the spiritual life and pointed out to you the way so that by it you would reach it, a way that you must understand that it was not only my word, but also the Law of the First Time and how many prophecies were delivered by my messengers, those who spoke to men of the spiritual life. Why did you materialize the divine meaning of those revelations? In a parable and in a figurative sense I have spoken to men in the past times, because neither the spirits nor the minds were able to receive the light in fullness, it was essential then to translate and interpret spiritually that language, those figures and parables, until finding the true meaning of them.

13. "My Kingdom is not of this world", I say to you again, My Kingdom is in the spiritual, because in essence I am Spirit, but since you are children of that essence, it is natural that you also belong to that Kingdom, to reach which, I have inspired you a Doctrine and revealed a wisdom that raise you above your human condition and you can approach step by step to the spiritual Kingdom.

14. Pray and meditate, people, and you will not fall into confusion, nor will you be confused by anyone, because you are the seed of a new Era, who come before the invisible mountain to listen to the voice of your Father.

15. The spirits are emerging from the darkness and the abysses to come and swell the ranks of the people of God, in whose children are the seed of Abraham, Jacob, Moses, Elijah and all those who with their works knew how to honor the name of his people and glorify the name of his God.

16. A voice has come to awaken you, a sweet and comforting voice that calls you to the Kingdom of Light and life; but that can turn into justice if you choose to continue desecrating your spirit and disobeying the Law.

17. To the obedient and humble, my word says: "Persevere, for you will obtain much from my grace and you will do much to reach your brothers. To the fool my voice says: "If you do not take advantage of this blessed opportunity, to get out of the mire of sin or the darkness of ignorance in which you live, you will see the times and eras pass over your spirit, without knowing what it was that the Lord brought in his message, nor what were the gifts that he revealed to his people".

18. It is true that there will be a propitious time for everyone to save themselves and go back to the heights, but alas for the one who delays that day! Woe to the one who loses the opportunities to achieve the evolution of his spirit by dedicating himself to the superfluous of this world! The time he will have to wait for the new occasion, he does not know how long it will be, nor how bitter his restitution will be. In this there is not even the slightest revenge or the slightest punishment on the part of the Father, but there is his strictest and inexorable justice.

19. Do you know, now that I have appeared among you, if you have missed or missed previous opportunities and the time that your spirit has waited to receive this new opportunity to fulfill a mission that was entrusted to it long ago? What does your heart or mind know about the past of his spirit, his destiny, his debts, missions and restitution? Nothing, that is why you should not intercept the perfecting of the spirit, nor tempt him with the love of the goods of the world, He has to follow another path, other ends, other ideals.

20. These are the first days of an Era that begins luminous before humanity. It has arisen amid storms, lightning, tremors and pains; but the dense clouds will dissipate and the light of truth will illuminate in all its majesty.

21. Today you are still living the gloomy days that will precede the light, however, that light, taking advantage of the small clearings of your nebulous sky, crosses it with fleeting rays that reach some points of the Earth, touching hearts, shaking and awakening spirits.

22. All those who have been surprised by this light, have stopped on their way to ask. Who are you? And I answered them, "I am the light of the world, I am the light of eternity, I am truth and love. I am the One who promised to speak to you again, the One who was said to be the Word of God."

23. Like Saul on the road to Damascus, they have humbled all their pride, they have lowered their pride and humbly bowed their face, to tell me with their heart: "Father and my Lord, forgive me, now I understand that without realizing it I was persecuting you".

24. Since that moment, those hearts have become little followers, because in this Third Time, until this moment, an apostle of the elevation of the one who persecuted me so much in my disciples, and then loved me so intensely, has not appeared among my new disciples.

25. Little imitators and followers of those who wrote their spiritual mission in the world with great works of love, engraving their mark next to that of the one they loved so much and for whom they died: Their Teacher.

26. Sometimes in broad strokes and sometimes in detail, I speak to you of the past times so that you may learn to extract from the great examples, the spiritual essence, which is immortal and immutable.

27. Here is my heart open to every request, to every care, to every confidence!

28. I am for you Father, Teacher, Friend, Nurse, Doctor and Counselor. Deposit in Me all your sorrows; dry your tears, entrust to me your hopes and longings; make me your confidant.

29. Pray, my children, because with prayer one acquires wisdom, health and strength.

30. I want you to become true disciples of mine, beings aware of their destiny; men who know how to raise their spirits so as not to stumble on Earth.

31. The one who prays is not afraid of abysses or pitfalls, his spirit is always serene.

32. When all of you live like this, you will have formed a sanctuary of love for your Father, within which the echoes of a spiritual hymn that speaks of fraternity, elevation and harmony will vibrate.

33. You are still under my teaching, in order that when you find a difficult solution in your path, in my Word you will know the way to solve it, because these children today, tomorrow will be disciples and even teachers, for which they now have a lot to learn.

34. I will mold your heart, shape your understanding and polish your feelings so that I can send you to bear witness to my coming in the Third Time.

35. My New Word has not yet spread over the earth; before it can reign, I am giving precursor signs of my advent to the peoples. The Spiritual World is fulfilling the mission of awakening men to the reality of spiritual life.

36. Here, among you, I have manifested myself widely, you cannot say that it has only been about indications or signs, because my Word through the human mind has been clear and definitive, even though it is only the message of preparation to achieve spirit-to-Spirit communication.

Love one another!

37. Certainly, my word through these spokespersons, has been a broad and profound lesson. He has come to confirm truths already revealed, as well as to make new revelations.

38. I have told you about the spiritual destiny, the evolution of beings, reincarnation and the restitution of the spirit. I have told you about the different stages of trials and teachings that humanity has had on Earth, symbolizing them with a book sealed with Seven Seals; I have revealed to you that this is the Third Era, in which I come to you in Spirit because I find you qualified to feel my spiritual presence, and I have come to tell you that you can summarize in two precepts or commandments, the whole Law, loving your Father and loving one another.

39. Meditate and you will understand that it was not signs that I have given to you, but a great manifestation of my Father's love.

40. Those who have only had signs are other peoples, those who have not erased from their hearts my promise to return, those who search space and observe the meaning of all great events in the hope of being able to say: "The Master is near".

41. How little does the whole world care about my new manifestation! How few are those who are awake waiting for me and how many are those who are asleep!

42. Of those who live waiting for me, I can tell you that not everyone senses the true form of my presence at this time, because, while some, influenced by ancient beliefs, think that I am going to return to the world as a man, others believe that I must come in some form visible to every human eye and very few are those who are correct with the truth, sensing that my coming is spiritual.

43. While some wonder what form I will take, at what time or what day I will arise on Earth and at what point I will have to appear, others, without thinking about forms or at certain moments, say to themselves: "The Master is already among us, his light, which is his Spirit, is bathing us".

44. When this message reaches all hearts, it will be a present of joy for some, because in it they will confirm all their presentiments and their faith; on the other hand, others will deny truth to my message by not finding it according to what they believed it would be and the way it would manifest.

45. Think of all of them, beloved people and know that the wait for those spirits is painful, and that while they suffer thinking that maybe this is not the time of my return, you, day by day you can recreate yourself with my word. How great will be your responsibility to humanity once it ceases!

Love one another!

46. Wake up, people, and go wake up the other peoples of the Earth, that's all you have to do for now. I will appear before everyone on the cloud, as I promised you, and everyone will look at me.

47. Why should you believe that my coming in the spirit has no purpose? Remember that I, after my death as a man, continued to speak to my disciples, presenting myself in Spirit.

48. What would have become of them without those manifestations that I gave them encouraging them in their faith and reviving them for fulfillment?

49. Sad was the picture they presented after my departure; the tears did not cease to cross their faces, the sobs at every moment escaped from their breasts, they prayed frequently and fear and remorse overwhelmed them. They knew that while one had sold me, another had denied me, and that almost all of them had abandoned me at the supreme hour.

50. How could they be the witnesses of that Master of all perfection? How would they have the courage and strength to confront men of such diverse creeds and ways of thinking and living?

51. It was then that my Spirit made an appearance among them to soothe their pain, ignite their faith, inflame their hearts with the ideal of my Doctrine.

52. I humanized my Spirit to make it visible and tangible to the disciples, but my presence was spiritual and look how much influence and transcendence those manifestations had among my apostles.

53. Truly I tell you that today I have come to humanize my Spirit, as at that Time, because it is another spiritual evolution of yours; however, although my presence is subtle and intangible, it is felt by all, without the need for your mortal eyes to be the ones that have to attest that the Master is among you.

54. The spirit has higher senses through which you can feel, see and understand the spiritual; it is precisely through this sensitivity that I want you to perceive my presence.

55. When you no longer hear this word, you will fall into sadness, into weakness and you will have regrets for your lack of love, but I will also come to you and tell you in the intimacy of your heart: "Here I am", "Do not be afraid, walk, you are not going alone".

56. Who, if not Me, encouraged the disciples in that Second Time, when they were already walking through the world without their Teacher? Don't you find the work of each of them admirable? Well, I tell you that they had also had weaknesses like any human. Later they were filled with love and faith, they were not afraid to stay in the world like sheep among wolves and always be persecuted and mocked by the people.

57. They had the power to do wonders, they knew how to make use of that grace to convert hearts to the truth.

58. Blessed are all those who heard the word of Jesus from the lips of my apostles, for in them my Doctrine suffered no alteration, but was given in all purity and truth. That is why men, when listening to them, felt the presence of the Lord in their spirit and experienced in their being an unknown sensation of power, wisdom and majesty.

59. Here you have a worthy example in them: those poor and humble fishermen of Galilee, transformed by love into spiritual fishermen, moved peoples and empires with the word that they had learned from Jesus and prepared with their perseverance and sacrifice the conversion of peoples and the establishment of spiritual peace. From kings to beggars knew of my peace in those days of true Christianity.

60. That era of spirituality among men was not lasting, but I, who know everything, had announced and promised you my return because I knew that you would need me again.

61. I knew that from generation to generation men would go mystifying my Doctrine, adulterating my Law and falsifying the truth; I knew that men would forget my promise to return, and that they would cease to consider themselves brothers to kill each other with the most cruel, cowardly and perverse weapons.

62. But the time has come and the promised day and here you have me. Do not judge the way I have chosen to communicate with you, that it is not the world that is going to judge me but I who judges humanity, because this is the time of his judgment.

63. I come to establish a kingdom in the heart of humanity, not a material kingdom as many expect, but, spiritual and whose strength comes from love, and justice and not from the powers of the world.

64. I see that there are those who are surprised to hear me speak like this, but I ask you: Why should you imagine me always dressed in silks, gold and rhinestones? Why do you want my Kingdom to be of this world at all times when I have revealed the opposite to you?

65. I bring a new lesson, through which you will learn to live spiritually on Earth, which is the true life destined by God for men.

66. I have already told you that "spirituality" does not mean mysticism, religious fanaticism or supernatural practices. Spirituality means harmony of spirit and matter, observance of divine and human laws, simplicity and purity in life, absolute and profound faith in the Father, trust and joy of serving God in your fellow human beings; ideals of perfecting morality and the spirit.

Love one another!

67. When I present to you the purity of my Doctrine, you feel that your errors stand out more; well, disciples, I am willing to forgive all your faults, if tomorrow you rise up before the voice of conscience to repair all your mistakes, to make up for lost times and to show the purity of my Doctrine with the cleanliness of your practices.

68. It is necessary that a high people arise and zealous of my laws proving to men that spirituality is not an impossible, that the regeneration of the flesh is not a sacrifice, nor a renunciation of human life, spiritual service.

69. You will be able to become those who preach and teach my Work, because you have the experience that comes from a long past, from a long evolution.

70. In order to come to know Spiritualism, you had to travel many paths, you were also idolaters; you did not know how to find my presence without the help of symbols, you did not know how to honor me without ceremonies; but you reached the happy crossroads of the road and when you did not know which direction to direct your steps, you listened to the desired voice of the Master, who was coming to point you the way again.

71. Do you not think that your wealth of experience serves you both to understand your brothers and to stimulate them?

72. I have already predicted to you that the struggle will be intense, because everyone believes their religion perfect and their way of fulfilling it impeccable, but I tell you that if that were the case I would not have had to come to speak to you at this time.

73. I am inspiring you with a deeply spiritual Doctrine, because I see that paganism prevails in your cults and that the bad seed of fanaticism has poisoned you with ignorance and hatred.

74. My sword of light is in my right hand, I am the warrior and the King who comes to destroy everything adverse, all existing evil and everything false. When my struggle has ceased and hearts have learned to unite to pray and to live, the gaze of your spirit will discover my presence in infinite light and eternal peace. "That is my Kingdom, I will tell you and I am your King, because that's what I exist for and that's what I created you for: to reign."

Love one another!

75. Look at how, so different from the human way, I make my conquests; look at how, in order to become king in your hearts, instead of subjugating you by fear or by force, I became a man to live with you, I washed and kissed your feet and I was your victim.

76. I gave everything to you, for which reason I tell you that in the end, you will all give yourselves to Me.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Let the essence of my word reach your spirit, so that it overflows from your heart, converted into charity, into peace, into teaching your brothers and sisters.
2. The mark that this people will leave on the Earth will be one of peace and will show the world that it truly possesses the key that opens the doors of the Hereafter to man. Its mission is to erase borders to spiritually unite peoples, until destroying the heritage that Babel bequeathed to humanity. In this new people of Israel, all the nations will be blessed because he gave me his understanding for spirit-to-Spirit communication.
3. In its path it will sow spirituality, leaving light, preparing paths for the regeneration of those who have been lost, sowing in the hearts the seed whose fruit will be harmony, and fraternity among humanity.
4. When I speak of the mission of this people, I do it as God, he taught it as a Father and I order it as a Judge.
5. My word is not only for those who listen to it at this moment; it covers the entire Universe but just as in other times my Law and my Doctrine began with a people, you cannot realize the strength that my Doctrine has, so it will be other peoples and other men who give their true value to this word, interpret it and put it into perfect practice.
6. It is necessary that a wise, strong and powerful Doctrine enlighten the life of this world so that men rise up seeking the truth and in their spirit the ideal of elevation is awakened.
7. Peradventure do you think that I am coming to deny power to the Doctrine that I brought to you in the Second Time as a message of love? No, I am bringing it to you again because you no longer have it on Earth, because you have enclosed it in books and you do not carry it in your heart. But now I return it to you in my lessons, because my love for you is immutable, only it will no longer be in your heart where I deposit it, but in your spirit, from where it will not be lost again, because the bread that nourishes the spirit remains in it.
8. My communication through the understanding of these ignored and humble spokespersons in their material life, has been the proof that I have come to give to the world, that I did not find among their sages or in their doctors a prepared man who was willing to receive in his understanding the Ray of my Divinity, surrendering completely to my will.
9. I had to put my gaze on the humble, on the ignorant and there choose those who would serve me to deliver my message to humanity. For me nothing is impossible, my will has been fulfilled and will always be done, even when there are times when it seems that it is the will of man that dominates and not mine.

10. On the path of man's free will, his reign on Earth, the triumphs of his pride, the dominion that he sometimes comes to impose with his strength, are so fleeting compared to eternity that they can in no way change the divine plans, but tomorrow or in the course of their fulfillment the will of my Spirit will manifest itself over all beings, leaving the good and erasing the impure.

11. This kingdom that man has made on earth, will have to be judged very soon by Me, but in truth I tell you that only the good will remain of it, what is lawful, what truly encloses, but everything that contains pride, selfishness, lies, what is poison and death, will be destroyed and thrown into the inexorable fire of extermination. And who will do this work of destruction of evil? Man, he by his own hand will take care of destroying what his science discovered to cause harm to his fellow men, and after the test has passed, only the true lights that he has discovered will remain present and shining, so that they continue to illuminate the path of humanity.

12. I will make all the centuries and all the eras of disobedience and desecration of this humanity, be only an instant, when men have penetrated my path, I will make that instant that overshadowed the spiritual life of man, dilute and be lost among the divine splendor of My light, which will come to illuminate the spiritual Era of men at the culmination of the Third Time.

13. If you look at the number of those who come to hear my word, it will seem very small to you; but truly I tell you, multitudes of spirits are coming after you invisibly to your eyes, whom you are directing towards the light.

14. If men knew their gifts, how many sufferings would they alleviate? But they have preferred to remain blind or lethargic, while they let times of greater pain approach.

15. My Doctrine comes to enlighten you so that you may be freed from those great sufferings announced to humanity through the prophets of past times.

16. To those who think that I punish men, unleashing on. I tell the elements of Nature, I tell them that they make a serious mistake in thinking like this, because Nature evolves and transforms and in its changes or transitions disorders originate that are what cause you suffering when you do not comply with the Law, and you attribute them to divine punishments. Surely my righteousness is in it, but if you. Privileged beings with the Divine spark that illuminates your spirit, if you lived in harmony with the Nature that surrounds you, your spirit would keep you elevated above its changes, above the strength of the elements and you would not suffer.

17. In the elevation of your life is where you will be able to find that power or virtue to get rid of the action of the unleashed elements, put me it is not only faith or prayer the weapons that give you the triumph over the vicissitudes and adversities of life; that faith and that prayer have to be accompanied by a virtuous, clean and good life.

18. If many times you have come forward by your faith or by prayer, it has been more for my mercy towards you, than for your merits to overcome in trials.

19. Understand why in each of my teachings I tell you to prepare, and at the same time I recommend that you watch and pray, so that you achieve that spirituality that makes you harmonize with everything that surrounds you in your life making you invulnerable to the action of the elements when they are agitated.

20. It is necessary that you understand the time that you are living in; a time of transition not only in the spiritual order, but also in the material nature that surrounds you.

21. Know that this dwelling that houses you is taking a step towards its perfection to receive higher beings in the future and it is natural that you experience disorders.

22. It is a time of confusion that is reflected in the life of men, both in their mind, in their spirit, in their feelings, in their matter and in everything that surrounds and surrounds it, and men suffer because they arrived at the time of trials without spiritual preparation, without faith, without knowledge of their gifts, without prayer.

23. Only my power and my love can save you from succumbing to chaos.

24. Lift up your life, people, prepare yourselves in this word of light that I am sending you and in truth I tell you that not only you will be saved, but your influence and your protection will reach many of your brothers.

25. Remember Jesus when he was sailing with his disciples in a boat; the waters were agitated, the sea was rough and the waves were furious, the disciples feared for their lives seeing that Jesus was sleeping. They had lacked faith to save themselves, but the Master's love helped them by giving them a proof of his power over the elements, by extending his right hand and commanding the waters to be gentle.

26. Those lessons were new for humanity; but you, disciples of the Third Time, must meditate that you must not live only with the confidence that at last it will be I who will save you out of pity, like the disciples in the boat, and that you need to develop in yourselves the forces of the spirit that still remain unmanifested in your being.

Love one another!

27. Those disciples learned my lesson, because on the way of their mission they met the great trials that afflicted their brothers, and before them they knew how to manifest the power of his spirit.

28. Do you want to be one of those who at this time bear witness to the truth of this word? Well, give spirituality to your life, because with it you will develop that force that you carry hidden in your being.

29. When men achieve spirituality they will be creatures superior to everything that surrounds them, because until now they have only been weak beings at the mercy of elements, forces and influences that should not be on man because they are not superior to him.

30. This lesson is brief, but profound in its content. Study it, disciples, and teach it.

31. Turn your gaze to Me, if you had lost your way, today be with me. Lift up your thoughts to Me, speak to me as a son speaks to his father, as one speaks confidentially to a friend,

32. I am the Divine Teacher, the one who has come from time to time to give you his teaching. If you are hurrying a very bitter cup, it is not because I punish you but because you must purify to reach Me.

33. I am waiting for you, but so that you do not have stumbles when returning to this path, I must help you and that is what I am doing by sending you my light that is revelation, inspiration and strength.

34. You are going to start a new stage of life, the way is ready, take up your cross and follow me. On this path, I do not tell you that there are no trials; but whenever you cross a difficult trance or are hurrying a cup of bitterness, you will hear a voice that encourages and advises you, you will have my love that helps you and lifts you up and you will feel the gentle caress of my balm.

35. Tomorrow, when this voice no longer echoes on the lips of my spokesmen, you will keep its essence in your memory and it will continue to encourage and guide you; you will pray as I have taught you, and from Spirit to spirit you will receive my inspiration, wherever you gather to study my word; you will form with the union of your thoughts a temple full of light and harmony. With this you will understand that these precincts where you have gathered to hear my word are not the temple of the Lord, although I also tell you that if you want to continue dedicating them to your meetings, you can do so. Here, all of you, united, will give each other strength, light, faith, encouragement and warmth, and when you have learned my lesson, you will gather to pray and meditate in your home, which is another favorable place to penetrate into communion with your Master. If the fields and the valleys invite you to get away from the bustle of the city, there you will also find a suitable place for your elevation and you will feel my presence in you, but be spiritually united and always walk in harmony.

36. Little by little you will get used to your brotherhood and union and in your bosom the spiritual family that I want you to form will gain strength.

37. When you have achieved that good harmony between you, I truly tell you that you will be giving a good example to humanity, recognize that the leaf of the tree does not move without my will, everything develops as I allow it, everything is ordered by Me.

38. Clothe yourselves with joy and faith if on your path you come to be stalked by temptations, pray and do not be afraid, because in prayer you will find the indispensable weapons to fight and overcome.

39. Go step by step along the path, without haste, because you will have the risk of stumbling or falling into an abyss. Truly know the way, so that you may know how to teach it to your brothers and sisters later on.

40. Do not be satisfied with your first works, believing that you have made sufficient merits for the perfecting of your spirit, but, so that you may learn new lessons every day and discover greater revelations, always devote time to the study of my Work.

41. The studious disciple will always listen to the answer to his questions and will always listen to my fatherly advice in his moments of trial.

42. The profited disciple will be a source of love for his brothers, he will truly feel inherited by his Father and will recognize the moment to rise up to fulfill his great spiritual mission among men.

43. Each farmer has assigned a portion of spirits to which he will give light, comfort and peace; that portion will never overwhelm you because you will find it step by step, distributed throughout your life.

44. Today my chair is made up of paternal advice and encouragement, it is simple, but if you penetrate spiritually to it, you will find the solemnity of that sermon that I gave on the mountain to the great multitudes in the Second Time.

45. From the spiritual cloud I send you the ray of my Spirit, which poured out on your being makes you listen to my word.

Love one another!

46. I have brought you a high teaching, as was the one I revealed to you at that time, a doctrine that is above all the knowledge of the world, the only light that can lead you to true life.

47. My Doctrine teaches men to live a high, noble and pure life on Earth, it also prepares the spirit so that when it penetrates his dwelling in the Hereafter it can build a work that brings him closer to perfection.

48. From here make merits for your future life.

49. There are those who suffer because they see the great afflictions in humanity and feel powerless to remedy the smallest of their sorrows. Come to the Master, and I will teach you how to comfort, how to give peace and how to heal.

50. When you are already sowing your way with charity, it will come to seem to you that your work is very insignificant compared to all the sufferings and tragedies of humanity; however, I tell you that your work in appearance small; it will be diminishing the pain that weighs on humanity and at the same time it will be subtracting strength from the war.

51. You will work in the silence among humanity, but the time will come when that silence will be broken and the Good News will resound throughout the world.

52. The apostles of Spiritualism will not be alone, events will arise in the world, which will be favorable for the development of this Doctrine.

53. Everything will be arranged perfectly; I have made My plan known to you; it is only necessary that you study my word thoroughly so that you do not fall out of harmony with what I have arranged.

54. The trials of life and my word have been preparing you; some have stationed themselves where the trial surprised them, because they have not applied my teaching to be able to succeed; others, on the other hand, have been going through the trials in peace because they never forget what they have heard from the Master. Do not forget that trials are what give courage and firmness to the spirit and that tomorrow you will have to find in your path many defeated who need the word of light and the testimony of those who have known how to triumph.

55. Spiritualize yourselves, the Master tells you, because spirituality will help you overcome the vicissitudes and will make your material needs more bearable.

56. Learn to pray, because with prayer you will also be able to do a lot of good, as well as you will be able to defend from stalking. Prayer is a shield and a weapon, if you have enemies, with prayer you will defend yourself; but know that this weapon should not hurt or hurt anyone, because its only mission will be to shine in the darkness.

Love one another!

57. You will work cleanly, never mixing with my Doctrine any of the impure practices that exist on Earth.

58. This is my lesson. You have come with an open heart for my essence and I have had to overflow in light among you.

59. I have given you my balm and my peace in each of my words, beloved people.

60. Your spirit has risen ready to listen to my voice, I contemplate it converted into a true sanctuary, where I penetrate the echo of my word that is the light of the Word, so that, feeling the breath of your Stop close, you have the necessary strength to reach the end of the day.

61. With full knowledge of the time you live, you have risen to follow me and it is that your spirit knows why he came to Earth. In this way you will be able to penetrate with a firm step on the path of spiritual Doctrine, in this way you will soon come to offer me the worship that I have been waiting for from humanity for a long time.

62. I have extended the time of my communication in order that you may affirm your knowledge and your faith and not say afterwards: "The Master's stay among us was so brief that we did not have time to convince ourselves of his truth".

63. My Doctrine, full of spirituality, will germinate in the heart of this people so that in the future, it may bear its fruits of truth and of life. My word will spread throughout the earth and will leave no place without purifying, without enlightening and without judging.

64. Then the peoples will begin to awaken to the spiritual life, to the true and eternal, destroying the external and materialistic part of their various cults, to concretize themselves to seek the essence of my Law.

65. Humanity will test the strength that spirituality gives and will look away from how much it has retained it for centuries and centuries.

66. What is the use of the symbol of Christianity, that is, the cross, being found by millions on earth, if men are not of good will, nor do they love one another?

67. The external no longer has any power over men: there is no longer respect, nor faith, nor regret for having offended. That is why I tell you that the symbols and the forms will disappear, because their time has passed and it will be the interior worship that lifts man to the light, elevates him and leads him to Me.

Love one another!

68. There, in the purest of his being, in the spirit, will be where I write my Law at this time, where I make my voice heard, where I raise my temple, because what does not exist inside man, what is not in his spirit, is as if it did not exist. Just as you raise up huge material temples in my honor, just as you offer me feasts and ceremonies full of splendor, your offering will not come to Me, because it is not of the spirit. Every external worship always carries vanity and ostentation, on the other hand, the silent offering, the one that does not see the world and that you offer me from spirit to Spirit, that comes to Me by its humility, by its sincerity, by its truth, in a word: because it came from the spirit. Review that parable of mine given in the Second Time and which is known as the parable of the Pharisee and the publican and then you will understand that my teaching, in all times has been one.

69. I would not judge you if you made even the last cross with which you symbolize your Christian faith disappear from the Earth, and instead you replaced that symbol with the true love of one another; because then your faith and your exterior worship would become worship and faith of the spirit, which is what I expect of you. If only your cults and your symbols had the strength to prevent your wars, not to let you fall into vice, to keep you in peace! But, look how you are going through about everything you say is sacred; look how you are trampling on what you have had as divine.

70. It would be better for you!, I say to you again, not to have a single temple, nor an altar, nor a symbol or image in all the Earth; but that you knew how to pray with the spirit, that you knew how to love your Father, and believe in Him without the need of representatives, and that you loved each other as I have taught you in my Doctrine. Then you would be safe, you would be walking on the path traced with my blood tracks, tracks with which I came to seal the truth of my teachings.

71. Until this humanity renounces its idolatry and its fanaticism, it will see the "new Manna" descend, no longer the one that fed the people in the solitudes of the desert, but the one that descends to your spirit in the days of trials. That will be the true bread from heaven, the one that men receive from Spirit to spirit.

72. The manna of the First Time was only a figure of what my spiritual communication with men would be in the last times, when their spirit would receive spiritual sustenance directly from the Divinity.

73. The responsibility that this people has before humanity is very great, they will have to set an example of true spirituality, they will teach how to raise the interior worship, the grateful offering, the worthy tribute to God. Open your heart and listen to the voice of conscience there, so that you may judge your works and know if you are faithfully interpreting my teachings or if you are also misunderstanding the meaning of my Doctrine.

Love one another!

74. Do not pretend to reach the summit of spirituality in a single day. Come towards the goal with a measured, serene and firm step, and there will never be a stumbling block, nor a cause that will make you turn back repentant or afraid of what you did. Make every step be taken with all knowledge and soon you will see the fruit of your work.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Dear disciples, although there are many religions, one is the Law and one is my Doctrine.
2. My teaching is the Doctrine of the Spirit, which teaches men to cultivate love, and what has this humanity that calls itself Christian made of my Doctrine? He has made formulisms, rites, prayers, behind them he hides his hypocrisy.
3. And I tell you that the only truth is love and that although you are extolling and glorifying my name with words and songs, if you do not do works of love, you will not be on the path of truth.
4. The truth is Divine Love, manifested in the Universe. He who does not know the truth does not know God.
5. How wrong men are when they believe God through liturgy and ceremonies.
6. God is not and cannot be what man has built on earth.
7. God has no limit, he is essence and omnipotence; to recognize and feel him it is necessary to identify with Him, practicing the good, loving and being just.
8. When I speak to you in this way, you do not conceive that the peoples of this time, through their materialistic civilization, can understand and accept a Doctrine of love; but, I tell you that my teaching is the seed that the world is in need of, that is the water it craves to quench its thirst.
9. That hunger and thirst that men have is due to the need for love and truth in their life. This spiritual and moral misery is the product of their wars, their estrangements and their earthly ambitions.
10. At times, when men become tired of quarreling, jaded and embittered by so much suffering, they try to look for the saving path that I came to teach you; but, although they seek different ways of interpreting my Doctrine, in all of them they fall back into fanatical rites, useless cults and external ways to worship me.
11. The cry of freedom has not been able to spring up in every spirit, because the fog that surrounds it is very dense; but my light is powerful and will cross the darkness penetrating to the most sensitive of man's heart.
12. What will that light be? My new word, it is my Doctrine with its new revelations, which comes to teach men the true way to worship God, at the same time it comes to show them the way to find the crystalline water that quenches the thirst of the spirit.

Love one another!

13. I will inspire to all the true form of worship to God and also the way of living, according to the divine law, whose fulfillment is the only one that the Lord will recognize to each one of you.

14. At last you will know the content or essence of my word, O humanity. Then you will find that my Doctrine is not only the divine voice speaking to men, but also the expression of all spirits.

15. It is my word that is the voice that animates, it is the cry of freedom, it is the saving anchor.

16. My doctrine is free of all ritualism, if it were not so, it would lose its essence.

17. At this time I come to bring you a clean and perfect teaching, so I tell you, that at the end of your journey, only what you have done with true love in life will be taken into account, because it will show that you knew the truth.

18. Man has never been orphaned by my revelations, which are the light of the spirit, but he has been afraid to analyze them, and I ask you: What can you know about the truth and the eternal if you persist in fleeing from the spiritual?

19. Look at the material interpretation that you have given to my revelations of the First and Second Times, since they speak to you only of the divine and the spiritual; see how you confuse material and spiritual nature; with what disrespect you turn the deep into superficial and the high into low. And why did you do it this way? Because wanting to do something in the Work of God, you are looking for a way to adapt my Doctrine to your material life, to your human conveniences, which are the ones that interest you the most.

20. Meditate on all that I have told you, disciples, so that when you say that you are spiritualists, it is because you truly live what your lips preach.

21. How easy it is to say, "I am a spiritualist," but how difficult it is to actually be one.

22. How many there are who listen to my word, who have become the great analyzers and yet are not the best practical disciples of my Doctrine, do not comply with the divine precept that tells you: "Love one another".

23. Instead, see how easily one is transformed who puts into practice an atom of my teaching. Do you want an example? The one who all his life was telling me that he loved me through verbal prayers that others formed, prayers that he did not even understand, because they were made with words whose meaning he did not know; but suddenly he knew what the true way of praying was and putting aside his old habits, concentrated in the depths of his spirit, raised his thoughts to God, and for the first time he felt that presence. She did not know what to say to her Lord, her chest began to sob and her eyes to shed tears. In his mind only a phrase was formed that said: "My Father, what can I tell you, if I don't know how to talk to you?" But those tears, those sobs, that inner joy as beautiful as you can never find it in your human languages or in your books.

24. Those babbles of the man who begins to pray spiritually with his Lord, sister, similar to the first words of children, which are delight and charm for their parents, because they hear the first expressions of their being that begins to rise to life.

25. Since men did not know how to give the true and just interpretation to the revelations that have been made to them from the earliest times, today I come in Spirit to be the one to give you the clear definition and the just interpretation to what I have taught you.

26. It will be at this time that you will recognize the powers of the spirit and the faculties of matter, without confusing one with the other.

27. Spirit, mind and feelings will find true harmony when my Doctrine, as the light of a new day, comes to awaken this sleeping humanity.

28. You ask me to help you to achieve on this day, the union and peace within your heart to present yourself before Me, as a conscious being of the act that you will witness when hearing my lesson through the understanding of a spokesman. And I receive your spirit. Everything that you offer me clean and simple in your prayer and in your practices, I take as the just tribute of the children to their heavenly Father.

29. The most fervent request that you make is that there be peace on this earth; that the patriarchal life of other times return to men and I tell you that this peace will return when you, my new disciples, have laid the foundations of a new world, for which I am preparing you.

30. When you look in each of your fellow human beings to a brother, when you make the differences between one and the other disappear, and you love me in them, you will be looking at the dawn of a new time, and life will be joyful and bearable for man and I will be recognized as a Father.

31. My word of this time is the same that I gave you in Jesus. It is the same crystalline current that bathed your spirit when you followed me through the lands of Palestine. Its essence is known to you; its flavor, you will never be able to confuse it because its divine seal was imprinted on your spirit. And now, that I have come down to communicate through these men and women, and that you hear the word that gushes from their lips, you recognize that it comes from Me and you ask me why I did not choose another way to bring my message of this time to humanity.

Love one another!

32. You tell me that there are no men of acrisolate virtue among you, capable of serving me. There is no Moses, nor the prophets of the First Time, neither is Peter nor John, but truly I tell you, that in all times I have sent virtuous spirits and among them, these who have served me with humility, love them and comfort them because their charge is very great. I have kept his mind and heart as a clean source and many times pain has been the best means to purify them. His life is similar to that of my messengers of other times. I bless you. Blessed are those who have followed me in this way and have felt the full importance of the office that I have given them!

33. I invite you to enter my Kingdom. I am calling all the peoples of the earth without any distinction, but I know that not everyone will listen to me. Humanity has turned off its lamp and is walking in darkness, but wherever confusion is noticed, an enlightened one of mine will arise to make light around him, a spiritual guardian who watches and waits for my signal to give the alert voice that awakens and moves. Let the love of these messengers be a fruitful seed in your heart, do not ignore them if they appear before you with external poverty, listen to them because they are going in my name to give you the perfect prayer, they will free you from the bonds of materialism with which you are tied, they will help you achieve the spiritual freedom that elevates you to Me.

34. You who hear me eagerly await the fulfillment of all my words. You long to see this world become my disciple, you ask me to be one of those whom I sent on difficult missions to other lands and in truth I tell you that you must prepare before, because the struggle that awaits you will be great. But not all the messengers of whom I speak to you are among you, nor will all of them have heard my word through spokespersons; many of them will speak by intuition because I have prepared their spirit and distributed them wisely, to make my light reach everywhere.

35. How can you believe that while I have descended to you, I could neglect other nations, if you are all my children? Do you pretend to believe that someone is far away or outside of Me, if my Spirit is universal and envelops and understands everything created? Everything lives and feeds on Me. That is why my universal ray has descended on the entire orb and the spirit has received my influence in this and other worlds, because I have come to save all my creatures.

36. I do not want you to waste this time or to pass through the world without leaving a trace of your passage, I want you to be true cultivators of the seed that I entrust to you and when you leave this world, continue working until your sowing flourishes, in the spirit of your brothers.

Love one another!

37. I do not come to bind you to my commands, I only inspire you with love, because I will not receive any fulfillment other than that which has been born of your spirit prepared in my teaching. Be free within my laws, but make obedience a habit. Fulfill the two laws that govern man and that in essence form one because both come from Me.

38. Pray for all beings, long for the harmony and understanding of all towards Me, and may your prayer rise like a song, like a fervent hymn that enlightens the spirits and points out to them the path by which they will reach the end of their destiny.

39. Attracted by the power of my word, you come to these places, people. It is not that you need to come to these precincts to seek my presence within them and to be able to show me your cares, because you know that I am Omnipotent, that I am everywhere, that I listen to you everywhere.

40. It is my word that you come for, it is the divine essence that serves as food for your spirit, what you are looking for.

41. You all know that I have indicated the moment when I will stop speaking to you in this way, and that is why you hurry to come every time my word vibrates through the speaker, because you want to keep in your spirit until the last of the revelations that I make to you.

42. The intuition about the spiritual mission that you came to fulfill is awakening in you and you are beginning to worry about your responsibility, because you have understood how delicate and serious it is to preach my Law with deeds, words and thoughts.

43. You will soon be left without my word, but so that you do not falter, you must be inspired by the example of my disciples of the Second Time, who united after the Master had departed, and with their union they gave each other strength, courage, courage and faith.

44. It will depend on your union that you feel my presence in your meetings and that you do not miss the time of my communication.

45. Now you have recreated yourself listening, tomorrow you will recreate yourself even more studying, because when you penetrate to the bottom of my teachings you will be amazed to discover the content of each of my lessons.

46. I bless from now on those who for that time unite and prepare to analyze the doctrine that I brought you, because in that study the disciples will find the true interpretation of my word, and I tell you that just as my word radiates light, also your interpretation will illuminate the path of your fellow men.

Love one another!

47. The good interpreters of this Doctrine will know how to awaken their brothers who are lethargic in the routine of their practices and will know how to shake their hands and save them from being shipwrecked among confusion, due to lack of meditation. Later this people will spread out over the world bearing witness to what they heard, and at the same time explaining with a clear word my Law and my Doctrine, not only what I have told you now, but everything that I have revealed to you through the ages that you have lived.

48. Do not be afraid to be mocked or denied by your brothers.

49. I assure you that when this people of spiritualists arises among humanity, I will have already given it many and very great spiritual manifestations. These manifestations will make many of those who are waiting for me spiritually, feel that I have already come and spoken. Do you not think that they, when they see you coming and when they hear your word, will recognize you as my messengers?

50. In truth, I tell you, even theologians themselves will explain the reason for so many events.

51. My people will spread out on the earth like a great army; my Spirit will be over the people encouraging them in the struggle, so that the last of my words given in this and in the past times will be fulfilled.

52. Why do you cry when you think of the days when you will no longer hear my word? Fear not, multitudes, that I will not leave you alone.

53. Do you remember how, the second time after my departure, Mary remained in the bosom of the apostles?

54. The sweet counselor, the Mother, the consolation for the sad remained among those disciples for a while.

55. When the bitterness that they received on Golgotha had departed from those hearts when they were no longer without their Master, without his word, they understood the mission they had to fulfill, and they began to spread the good news throughout the world, the Lord raised Mary from the Earth, since his tenderness had left her as an inheritance to humanity.

56. You, who are the new disciples before the Divine Chair, think that I will leave you alone when you are deprived of my manifestation through the lips of the spokesman, but I tell you: Mary is not dead, your spiritual mother is ready to support you in the trial, in the days when you think you are alone and when you feel me absent, although I am closer than ever to you. Her motherly tenderness will help you to feel strong and to understand the true meaning of the teachings that I have shown you with words and deeds.

57. You will be soldiers of my Law and sowers of spirituality. But from now on I declare to you that Spiritualism will not have its seat on Earth, nor will it have a representative in a man; its government will not be of this world and you will have your only guide in Christ, through your conscience.

58. Your intuitive gaze will know how to discover the new farmers among the crowds, but your hands will not be the ones that anoint or consecrate, because the only one who can give you gifts, positions or missions to a spirit, is Me, the only one who writes the destiny of each being.

59. I tell you all this to free you from falling into falsehoods or practices and rites, which contain no truth.

60. You will only be my sowers, my prophets, my emissaries; but the Arcane will continue to be in the hands of your Lord.

61. It is my will that there be complete harmony and fraternity among you, so that lords, kings or tyrants do not arise, in a people where everything should be order, love, and spirituality.

62. Fulfilling in the way I indicate, your example will have to be recognized and your strength will have to open gaps to Spiritualism.

63. Understand that it will have to be the light of my teaching that will discover the falsehood of idols, that will knock down the proud king and the despotic lord from his pedestal, that will destroy the temporal power of the reign of materialism.

64. The people that I am preparing today to preach the spiritual life tomorrow will not be wealthy, they will not possess wealth or material goods, because with their works they will have to demonstrate to the world that the truth, the love and the justice of God do not need to rely on the strength of your deceitful riches.

65. Love, faith, firm will, will be the forces that make this Work known among humanity. Take the example of Christ and his disciples, meditate on those lives and the teachings they gave you and you will see that I speak to you with the truth.

66. My hand has never touched a coin. When, on a certain occasion, one was intentionally shown to me, to ask my opinion on my duties to Caesar, I only looked at that coin, and without touching it I answered the questioner: "Give to God God's and to Caesar Caesar's."

Love one another!

67. This is one of my last lessons, but not the last one; I will still talk to you for a few more moments and then I will stop talking to you through the understanding of man.

68. I will give you a quiet time to meditate, after my departure, and in that time the intuition will begin to vibrate little by little from spirit to spirit under different forms.

69. Everything that you have not understood now, you will understand in those days of spiritual meditation and at the same time you will be surprised with new revelations and prophecies.

70. The inspiration of the one will be confirmed by that of the other and thus doubt will not arise in the disciples.

71. Roque Rojas and Damiana Oviedo, were my first spokespersons for my spiritual communication at this time. The man receiving in his understanding the ray of light from Elijah, the maiden receiving the light from the Master. With this I wanted to show you that in my apostolate, both men and women sit at my table the same. The spirit is the same in both, why should I distinguish them in this Third Time, if it is the era in which I come looking for the spirits?

72. Roque Rojas and Damiana Oviedo are your forerunners, they heard the divine voice in the middle of the desert and without asking if that was true, they believed. One heard the voice of the Prophet, the other felt the touch of the Master's charity.

73. How many mysteries have I been revealing to you ever since! The first spokespersons passed, and others arose, and so on to the present. Not all have been pure in their intention; some have been examples of zeal, of love for the truth, of self-denial and sacrifice; there have been vain, lovers of flattery and reward.

74. I taught these multitudes from the beginning to distinguish the true fruit, and I tell you, those present, that you will be the ones who carry my truth as sustenance to your brothers, while you will consume the chaff in the fire of truth.

75. I must tell you that you never knew how to take care of your spokespersons, because you lacked understanding and charity towards them; but, since you did not know how to encourage or cultivate those hearts, at least in the future, take care of what came out of their lips, which was my word: the new Manna.

76. When the spiritualists multiply on Earth, there will be many who confuse them with vulgar fortune-tellers and approach them to ask them the future, men of science will ask them about the life of spirits and about life on other worlds or planets. I prophesy all this to you so that, when you are besieged by foolish interrogations, you will remember that you must pray that your Father will inspire you with what you have to say; whatever his Will is to manifest before the need or the curiosity of your brothers.

77. I charge you not to alter a single one of my revelations, nor do you try to search what is not yet time for it to be revealed. You will always preserve your preparation, as if you were a source ready to receive the crystalline water that mitigates the thirst for light of your brothers and it will not be your hand that uncovers the veil of mystery. Was there anyone on earth worthy to open the Book of the Seven Seals? Only the Lamb's was worthy, that is, only He had the power to do it. Know that there are many lessons that will be revealed to man here on Earth; but also that there are many others that will be discovered to him until he dwells in the high abodes of the spirit.

78. Wherever you will find me, my presence is everywhere along the way; I become an oasis in the middle of the desert, and a beacon of light in the stormy night.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Love one another!

Teaching 282

1. The divine light vibrates for you, the word is made to give you a new lesson, Blessed is he who prepares himself as if his heart were a sanctuary, because he has peeked into true life, when he has heard my word.
2. Come all of you and look at my miracle of love, I have come to save sinners through the lips of sinners.
3. In this age I am going to prove to you the power that you possess as an inheritance or gift that I have deposited in you; it is not the power of matter, but of the spirit, because man is not powerful, great, or wise by the flesh, he is by the spirit. I speak of the one who directs his steps on the path of good and obeys the will of his heavenly Father, of the one who complies with the laws that govern or govern life. He will have to feel supported by powerful forces that will always lead him along a path of light, peace and truth.
4. Disciples: this humble word that as a spiritual gift I have brought you to start the new time, within its simplicity and external modesty, is one more of my masterpieces; this way of looking for man to communicate through his mind the divine, has a meaning, an essence and a transcendence that all of you must find.
5. See how my divine thoughts take voice on human lips that, although impure, know how to purify themselves at the moment of this service, to give you a food of spiritual life.
6. That I will not grant you the day when both your spirit and your matter will have been purified to receive me?
7. Small has been your faith and slight your love and your preparation, however, the fruit that you have received in my word, has lifted you from your lethargy, has taught you to understand, to love, to study and to feel the life of the spirit that was a desolate desert in your vicissitudes and that now seems an oasis for your life of incessant struggles and trials.
8. If you try to understand this teaching, you will be at this time among those who have full knowledge that without Me nothing is man.
9. Behold this world, proud, challenging, and proud of all the works of men with which they amaze, and the generations of this century; for the most part they do not believe or love the spiritual, therefore they do not pray or practice my Law. However, they are satisfied and proud to be able to show a portentous world, of wonders created with the power of their science.

Love one another!

10. For this wonderful world of men, achieved through centuries of science, of struggles, of wars and tears, with their own hands and with their weapons they are going to destroy it, because the moment is already approaching when humanity realizes the inconsistency and fragility of its works, which lacked love, justice and the true desire for perfection.

11. You will soon know that you are nothing without God, that you can take the strength, life and intelligence only from Me to make a harmonious existence between the spirit and the human part of man.

12. I come with my new word to resurrect the world because humanity, through ages and centuries, has seen only death reign. What has been the cause that death has prevailed in your existence? The lack of love.

13. Truly I tell you that love is the unchanging power that moves the universe. Love is the principle and the essence of life.

14. I am beginning a time of spiritual resurrection for all, a time in which I will make that blessed seed of love that I poured out on the world bloom from the top of a cross, announcing to you that, when men love each other as I taught you, death will have been evicted from the world and in its place life will be the one that reigns over men and manifests itself in all their works.

15. Today you are eating day after day the bitter fruits of the tree of science, so imperfectly cultivated by men, because you have not sought the harmonious development of all your faculties; so how can you channel your discoveries and your works on the path of good, if you have only developed intelligence, but have left the spirit and the heart in abandonment?

16. There you have men, resembling wild beasts, leaving their passions in absolute freedom, feeling hatred for their fellow men, feeling a thirst for blood, aspiring to turn brotherly peoples into slaves.

17. If anyone believes that my Doctrine can lead to the moral defeat of man, truly I tell you, that you are in great error, and in order to prove it to the skeptics, the materialists and the proud of this time, I am going to grant them to gather the fruit of their science and to eat it to their heart's content, until the confession of their spirit arises, saying to me: "Father, forgive us, only your power will be able to stop the forces that in our folly we have unleashed! "

18. Then, I will come to their aid and I will give them peace, because their pride will have made them drink a lot of the cup of bitterness, I will make them penetrate in peace and in meditation, so that already within a new life, they will know how to discover the value of the spiritual and apply it to their works. I will make them understand that life is like a lyre, whose strings represent love, spirituality and science, but they, disharmonizing, did not know how to touch the sweet note of love that is the sublime note of spirituality,

19. The time of judgment has come, in which I will ask some, "Why have you denied me?" And to others: Why have you persecuted me? Does he have the right to deny the existence of my Kingdom, which he has not been able to penetrate into himself? It is different that you do not know my truth, that you do not know what you can conceive, I tell you that your ignorance is very great and your pride is very great,

20. Truly I tell you, whoever denies God and his Kingdom has denied himself. He who wants to take strength in himself, believing himself absolute and feeling proud of being able to be great without the need of God, his steps through the world will be very short, he will soon go astray and his sufferings will be very painful.

21. Where are the real sages?

22. To know is to feel my presence; to know is to let oneself be led by my light and to do my will; to know is to understand the Law; to know is to love.

23. He who, out of love, seeks to be useful to his fellow men, consecrates himself to the good in one of the many paths that life offers, knows that he is a being who must lend himself to be used by the divine will for very high ends. I want you to come to know, O disciples, so that you may be the ones who free those who have lost the path of evolution from their mistakes.

24. True love, the one that is beyond the heart, is the fruit of wisdom. See how I, in my word, sow wisdom in your understanding and then I wait for the fruit of your love.

25. There are many ways to do good, many ways to console and serve, all are expressions of the love that is one, of love, which is the wisdom of the spirit.

26. Some will be able to follow the path of science, others by the path of the spirit, others by feeling and the whole of all will be spiritual harmony.

27. Learn to distinguish the different paths that exist, as well as to respect the different missions that your brothers carry out; for this you need to be of broad understanding, of right judgment, of serene mind and deep gaze. If you do not have these virtues, you will be scandalized without justified cause, when you discover that there are more religions than you believed and a greater number of cults and rites than you knew.

28. If you do not prepare yourselves, you will be confused and troubled on the day that you will find yourselves in the midst of the approaching struggle.

Love one another!

29. Those who listen to me without interest in understanding, will not be able to be the ones who analyze and explain this Doctrine. Others, on the other hand, try to know the meaning of my word, they feel it, they love it, they carry it in their spirit, in their heart and in their brain. These every day penetrate more and more into the knowledge of my teaching.

30. When that longing to know more in order to love with greater perfection crystallizes among these disciples, you will see reflected in their faces the beauty of goodness, the beauty of charity, the greatness of spirituality.

31. However, no one could even at that moment show his face as the mirror of truth, in which the virtues of the spirit, of that superior being that dwells in every man, will be reflected. And what will I tell you about that Spiritual World that vibrates beyond you and that can also show its face, through your works, words and thoughts? For those beings, each man is a means of manifesting, each incarnate spirit a bond of union and each brain a conduit to communicate with the human world.

32. If the minds are arranged for the good, they will be used by high, luminous beings, consecrated to high ends, but if the minds reject all good inspiration and let their senses and faculties be used by inferior spirits, they will only develop impure passions.

33. I tell you that there is no human mind that does not live under the influence of the Spiritual World.

34. Many will deny it, but no one will be able to prove that it is impossible for the mind of man to receive the thoughts and vibrations, not only of spiritual beings and those of his own fellows, but even Mine.

35. This is a revelation for all humanity, a revelation that when it is disseminated, it will find open hearts that receive it with great joy, as it will also have to find bitter opponents and persecutors.

36. But what can they do to prevent the Light of the Spiritual Kingdom from shining in the lives of men? What means can unbelievers use to avoid that vibration? Who is the one who believes himself to be outside the universal influence; who is the creative and life-giving force of God?

37. I speak to your conscience, to your spirit and to your reason, but I repeat to you that you all receive messages, ideas and inspirations from other abodes, and that, just as you do not know where your spirit came to incarnate in that body that you have, you also do not know who communicates invisibly and insensibly with it.

Love one another!

38. To you, who are listening to these teachings, I say that not because it is my inspiration that vibrates in the understandings of these spokespersons, judge that they are just and pure, no, they have simply been endowed with a faculty to receive and transmit my light in the form of a word. They are the forerunners of that spiritual communication that is a promise for the times to come, when men will have full knowledge that the light of the Spiritual World has always vibrated in their existence, and they will prepare and spiritualize themselves to receive and transmit with perfection the eternal message of God.

39. Humanity, who deny what you cannot prove materially, I tell you that you only know about the world, because if you knew a little about the spirit, you would not dare to deny the existence, influence, or communication of the Spiritual World!

40. A great number of beings of light are watching over you; the day you know how to join them in prayer, in thought and in faith, you will experience in your life an invincible force, a superhuman strength and you will never stumble.

41. An invisible world of darkness and confusion also vibrates around men; the day you are prepared to fight its lurks, you will feel in your life an unknown freedom and peace.

42. Know that a mind will never cease to receive the vibration and influence of my Divinity and the Spiritual World,

43. Humanity has loved the matter, it has its values there, it has put its heart, its mind and its senses there, that is why it does not know and ignores everything that refers to the spirit. If man had the spirit as his ideal, he would have refined his senses in such a way that he would not ignore anything that I have told you today.

44. I would know that the Spirit of God, by its essence, communicates in the Universe with every spirit and having knowledge of it and being enlightened by faith, I would try to get the vibrations of my Spirit to reach him, which are the force, life and light that animates everything created.

45. Truly I tell you, and do not forget it, that it is not impossible for Me to communicate, through the human understanding; it would be impossible for Me not to be able to communicate.

46. It is up to you, disciples, to sensitize the spirit and mind to perceive all the spiritual vibrations, feel them, believe them, live them, love them and obey them,

Love one another!

47. I tell you again, that even if the whole of humanity got in the way to prevent the spiritual light from reaching it, it would never succeed, because precisely the life that man has is taken from my Spirit that ceaselessly vibrates in everything that exists,

48. You are listening to a Doctrine that would seem strange anywhere, but that you understand and that despite manifesting in places as poor and modest as these enclosures are, you know that they are not profane places, but humble shelters consecrated to recollection, spirituality and preparation to be able to receive the heavenly message. You know that I am communicating through the human understanding; but it is not the understanding that speaks, but the spirit that receives the light of my inspiration, light that when it passes through the mind becomes an idea and when it reaches the lips it becomes a word.

49. This has been one of the beautiful gifts that I have revealed to you in the Third Time so that you could form an idea of the attributes that are in your spirit, as well as what is still reserved by him.

50. Penetrate into your spiritual interior so that you know yourselves more, because if you only consider that you are matter, you would deny your greatness, ignoring your essence,

51. As long as you are not interested in knowing the truth of the spirit, you will be weak and ignorant and you will not allow everything that you are and everything that you possess to manifest through matter.

52. The materialistic science of men has cast an irresistible burden on the men of humanity, you are all tired, you are walking painfully at this time, but I hope for everyone.

53. People: Invite your brothers and sisters who are succumbing to this spiritual banquet. You will see them carrying a treasure of knowledge in their minds, and you will say: What can they lack? However, in their spirit they carry a desolate emptiness.

54. Come to Me intellectuals, tired of death and disillusioned in their hearts, come to Me those who have been troubled and instead of loving have hated, I will give you rest making you understand that the spirit obedient to my commands, never tires; I will make you penetrate a science that never disturbs the intelligence.

55. Let them not be afraid to come to Me because they are cold of heart or severe in judging. I will have a phrase for everyone, a word that will be like a ray that illuminates those hearts disappointed by the absence of love. It does not matter that you do not believe me or love me, that is not a reason for Me to exclude you from my table, it is for the sinners for whom I have come.

56. I know that many, in their pride, will resist coming to learn, considering that they know everything; but it will be enough for them to listen to one of my messages and I will prove to them that they still have a heart, that they have not died for true love, that in front of Me they are still my little ones and that they still know how to cry.

57. My love lesson did not come intended for a few who have heard it through the spokespeople. My message has reached the world to be known by all men, so I tell you that it will come in many forms, to the ends of the Earth, because it is the beginning of the consolation promised to humanity, from the Second Time, for when it would reach the culmination of the times of affliction on Earth.

58. Today, when I see men descending vertiginously to the lowest abysses of their passions, their vices and their hatreds, I know that it is when I must reach out to them to give them the saving help. No matter how far they have descended, I will send their spirit, my voice that will tell them: I am with you, come to Me, seek the light, I will help you out of darkness and then you will rest under the protection of my peace.

59. My voice will be heard in the inner temple of his being, the temple that man has not been able to destroy, because it is his own spirit.

60. Remember that when you were children, you all lived in innocence, you resembled the flowers of a rose bush; but later the thorns emerged from the stems and stopped giving flowers. Thorns are what humanity offers me once again and it will be necessary for the wise gardener's sickle to prune these plants, so that in the new spring they will give roses again.

61. Today, leave the Earth for a few moments and come to Me in spirit. For many centuries humanity has mistaken the way of praying, so that it has not strengthened or illuminated the path of its life with my love, since it has prayed with its senses and not with its spirit.

62. Idolatry, to which man is so inclined, has been like a poison that has not allowed him to savor the spiritual delights of inner prayer.

63. How much misery have men dragged away, just because they do not know how to pray! And it is natural, disciples: What spiritual strength can a human being have, to withstand the trials of life, if he does nothing to approach the source of life that exists in my Spirit? He seeks me in the abysses, in the shadows, being able to rise to find me on the peaks, among the light.

Love one another!

64. Ah, if the men of this time understood the power of prayer, how many superhuman works they would perform! But they live in a time of materialism, in which even the divine tries to materialize it in order to touch it and be able to see it.

65. My servants of the past times, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Joseph or Moses, knew the power of prayer and gave indelible proof to humanity, leaving their way of praying as an example for all generations.

66. For those men, the place to pray was indifferent: they knew that they had the temple of the Lord at the bottom of their being. The way they sought to approach my source of mercy was faith. A faith in my presence, in my justice, in my providence and in my love. I subjected each of those men to a great test, so great that testimonies of it will remain for all time. And in those trials they knew how to be faithful, obedient, humble, fervent to their Creator.

67. My response was always immediate to the faith and love of those servants, making them the object of my manifestations of power, which are only granted to men of great faith and good will.

68. My love for you makes me come at this time to seek you on precipices and in abysses, to save you as the shepherd does with the sheep whom he loves very much.

69. But if you want to know my intention regarding the people that I want to form with you, you can know that I am going to gather you, bringing them from various points of the earth so that you may know this heavenly message.

70. Through my word divided into countless lessons or teachings, I will make you disciples of this Doctrine, and once your being has been saturated with this essence, that you have left traditions and errors behind and begin to live and feel spirituality, I will inspire you the time and the hour when you should get up on the roads in pursuit of counties, peoples and nations to bring the good news to the multitudes.

71. You will multiply like the stars of heaven or like the sands of the sea, bringing blessing to homes, peoples and countries where they are hungry for peace, justice and truth.

72. But do not forget that when you rise up to that struggle, it will be because you have already practiced spiritual prayer as I have inspired you in all times; as I have come to remind you now.

Love one another!

73. Without the power of prayer, you will not be able to come out ahead in the struggle, nor will you be able to withstand trials, much less will you be able to teach your brothers the perfect way to pray.

74. And it is necessary that you give proofs of the power of spiritual prayer, as in former times they were given by those men whom you remember as patriarchs, as guides and prophets. It will not be the same tests that will be verified through you, because you must bear in mind that this is another time, that humanity has evolved spiritually and materially, and that therefore, the tests and wonders that you achieve with prayer, cannot be equal to those of the first times, however, they will be wonderful.

75. You will need only two requirements to make yourself worthy of such charities: the first will be your upright, useful way of living, always inspired by goodness and charity, and a faith that makes you superior to everything on earth, that gives you strength so that, when the moment comes, it will take you away from danger, raise you above all misery, make you insensitive to pain and help you overcome even death.

76. Truly I tell you, with kindness and faith you will be able to do powerful and superhuman works, with which you will give at this time the best of testimonies about the strength of prayer and love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Beloved disciples: you come from different paths, and you unite in the moment of prayer to raise the spirit to the Father. I receive you, listen to my voice, come back to Me. If you have lost your way, be with me today. It has been a while since I have been calling you and I truly tell you that I was waiting for each one of you.
2. I receive those of you who are gathered here on behalf of humanity; whatever I pour out on you, I will have poured out on all your brothers. As beloved by Me are those who have come under the shade of this tree, as those who are distant from it.
3. Pray, people, that is the language of the spirit, but learn that language so that, at the same time that you speak to me, you will know how to listen to me. Speak to me with respect and humility, but with the trust that one has in a father, with the intimacy with which one speaks to a friend.
4. Open your heart, that is my temple and let the echo of my voice that is advice, inspiration and revelation be heard inside.
5. When you come to penetrate the meaning of my lessons, and you know my voice as the sheep knows the voice of its shepherd, you will understand that at all times and in all moments of your life I have spoken to you. If this were not the case, the Word would not be eternal.
6. Humanity has always been before Me as the weak child, exposed to risks and stumbles, and since I am her Father, I love and guide her, even if for a moment her heart is deaf to my advice, to my calls and lessons.
7. Today men are going through a stage of great trials, but it is not because I am pleased with their pain, it is because in justice, if men have been defiled, they themselves must purify themselves.
8. You all know that I love the pure, that only the clean comes to Me; your conscience tells you this.
9. The light of my Spirit is poured out on all matter and on all spirit, so that you can study and analyze the trials that life gives you daily as lessons, so that you can get to know each other and understand the mission that you have brought to Earth.
10. Why do many of you fear that your destiny has been written by Me with trials, pains, punishments or misfortunes? How can you conceive that the one who loves you perfectly, will give you a path of thistles? Truly, I tell you, the random and eventful path is the one that you take of your own free will, believing that there are pleasures, freedom, happiness in it, without understanding that it is precisely on the path destined for you and from which you depart, where true peace, security, strength and health, well-being and abundance are found.

11. This path that I have come to offer you in my Doctrine is the one destined for your spirit since your formation, so that, coming through it, you will come to find what you long for.

12. Blessed are those who, hearing this word, return to the way, because in it they will find again the inheritance to which they had renounced.

13. There are also trials on my way, but they are lessons for the spirit, they are light and revelation with which life touches you to stop you in the dizzying race that leads you to the abyss.

14. To a thousand trials you are subjected, disciples, in order that all the powers of your spirit and all the fibers of your heart may be polished.

15. This people is the strong son, the one who possesses the prophecies and the teachings, that is why at every step I tell them to practice my word, to apply it to their life so that they know the value of their gifts, to search diligently for the essence of my Doctrine so that they discover the lights that I promised you at that time when I told you that I would send the Spirit of Truth to clarify the past revelations.

16. I am letting this people grow hidden and ignored without humanity noticing their presence, until the time comes to break the silence, which will be when these men have united in truth and in spirit.

17. When you listen to me, your being has a sweet shudder and you ask yourself: Where have I heard this voice in other times? Others, hearing me, say: It seems to me to behold the Master preaching on the bank of a river or on the mountain, where have I seen her?

18. Yes, people, your faith tells you that I am the one who speaks to you, although you know that I have not come to materialize, because I told you that I would "come in the cloud" and so I have fulfilled it for you.

19. If I have used the understanding of man to speak to you, it is because if I had spoken to you from Spirit to spirit, you would not have listened to me and even less understood.

20. But this form of communication has been brief and it's coming to an end, because I just needed some of you to listen to me so that you would know how I want you to communicate with me in the future and you would know how to announce it to humanity.

Love one another!

21. I want to make of you, a single family, for this it is essential that you all have a single cult and practice the same Law.

22. You, people, begin by presenting that example of fraternity and unity, until you achieve this, you will not be able to leave the darkness in which you find yourselves, towards the light of the path where your mission awaits you.

23. The light that radiates from this spiritual Teaching is illuminating the spirit of humanity, and when men come to have true knowledge of the time they are living, they will be able to distinguish with absolute clarity the essence of this Doctrine that will shine above all your religions. You ask me: Teacher, then religions are not the truth? To which I tell you that, if they were the truth, there would be only one, because only one is the truth. Each one contains a part of that supreme light, all are paths that lead to the spirit and bring it closer to the source of knowledge.

24. The absolute truth is not possessed by any man, nor is it contained in any book. That divine clarity, that omnipotent force, that infinite love, that absolute wisdom, that perfect justice is in God. He is the only truth.

25. Understand my lesson, each religion is a way of understanding the truth; but not the truth itself, that's why you see the differences that exist between one and the other. I tell you again that if they contained the supreme truth, they would all be the same and would form a single idea, a way, a single path to reach Me.

26. Therefore, when my doctrine is recognized in the world, human understanding will place it above all religion, understanding that it should not represent it or materialize it in any way other than applying it to life itself. You will already come to understand that this Doctrine is not to materialize it with symbols, but to feel it in the spirit; when you understand it in this way, you will already be able to offer the Father the interior worship, which is the true one; the one that is done without ostentation, without hypocrisy, without petty interests.

27. The Spiritualist Doctrine is not a theory, it is a practical teaching, both for human life and for the life of the spirit. There is no other teaching more complete and perfect than it. He has accompanied you since before you arrived on Earth, he follows you through the journey on this world and merges with your spirit when he returns to his first abode.

28. It will not be I who, apart from your cults, the liturgy and traditions, it will be the spirit of man who, without realizing it, rises above his ancient conceptions, faced with the need for greater light that illuminates the path of his evolution, man will soon understand that the only thing he can present to God is the practice of love, since to say love is to say good, charity, wisdom and justice.

29. Spiritualism does not come to erase a single one of the words that Christ preached at that time, if it were not so, it could not be called in this way, since it would be opposing the truth. How could this word be against that one, if it is the Teacher himself who pronounces it? If you really penetrate into the meaning of this Doctrine, you will see how my word now is the explanation or clarification of what I said at that time. That is why humanity now and that of the future are in a position to understand more than past generations and therefore to comply with the Law in a purer, higher and truer way.

30. If you look closely at your brothers in their worship, you will see how what was once the object of their worship, they now contemplate coldly. It is that the spirit is awakening by itself and is looking for what can really nourish it, which is why I tell you that the external cult of this humanity is destined to disappear.

31. It is up to you who are receiving this word to present my Work in all its simplicity, spirituality, purity and simplicity, never giving rise to the error of making rites, creating new traditions or new symbols that take you away from the true path.

32. The time to represent the divine or the spiritual with material forms has passed. If because in those times the Law was engraved on stone and the prophets were human beings; if because of the fact that the Word became man and was seen with material eyes, humanity has created symbols and forged idols; now I come in Spirit and my messengers also come to you in spirit. What new symbols or new forms could you forge of the infinite, of the unrepresentable?

33. Spiritual Doctrine is the true expression and sustenance of the spirit, therefore, it departs from all materialization and all ostentatious worship.

34. Because of what I have told you on this day, you will understand how great is your responsibility to your brothers.

35. Fulfill what my word tells you and it will be the best way to present my Work to others.

36. Practice charity, give light, bring out of mistakes those who have fallen into them. Do a work of peace, fraternity and union and my love will accompany your steps.

37. Understand that I am light in the minds of men who seek the development of their spirit. I am the consolation for those who are burdened by evils,

Love one another!

38. It has been a long time since I manifested myself in word to the world and that is why now that it is being heard again, you come eagerly to listen to the Master, eager to know his new message.

39. From time to time it becomes necessary for my Spirit to manifest itself in some form, accessible and understandable to your understanding. This need to speak to you comes from your disobedience to my Law, from your departure from the true way.

40. Man is the most rebellious creature of Creation, due to the free will he enjoys. So far he has not wanted to submit to the dictates of conscience.

41. My word comes to stop some, to guide others, to strengthen all in the truth and to save you from the abyss.

42. Do not object to the way of manifesting myself now, so different from that of the Second Time; know that I have never used the same way twice, since it would be to stop you before the same teaching, and I always come to teach you new lessons and to help you take new steps.

43. The joy that your spirit feels when listening to me comes to Me, is that he knows that each lesson of mine is light, strength, knowledge and preparation for those who know how to take advantage of them.

44. Certainly the profited disciple is a being who feels secure in life, who has faith in his destiny; who ceases to fear death and instead rejoices at the idea of that spiritual life that awaits him.

45. Blessed is the one who listens, assimilates and practices my teachings; because he will know how to live in the world, he will know how to die for the world and at his time he will know how to rise in eternity.

46. Blessed is the one who goes deeper into my word because he has come to understand the reason for the pain, the meaning of restitution and atonement and; instead of despairing or blaspheming, thereby increasing his grief, he stands up full of faith and hope to fight, so that the weight of his 'guilt becomes lighter every day and his chalice is less bitter.

47. Serenity and peace belong to men of faith, to those who are in conformity with the will of their Father.

48. How luminous your life would be and how great and advanced your science would be if you loved your fellow human beings and did the will of your Father, if you sacrificed something of your free will and acted according to what your conscience dictates to you.

Love one another!

Your science would then touch the superhuman by going beyond the limits of the material, because so far it has not even approached those limits.

49. What a surprise the spirit of the scientist feels when he leaves this world and comes to present himself before the divine truth. There he bows his face in shame, begging that his pride may be forgiven him! He believed he knew and could do everything, he denied that there was anything beyond his knowledge or understanding; but when he found himself in front of the Book of Life, before the infinite work of the Creator, he had to recognize his littleness and put on humility before the one who is absolute wisdom.

50. Why not leaf through that book from here, when it is allowed and ordered by Me? Why not prepare spiritually to reach him and learn in his pages the lesson that illuminates or the revelation that clarifies the mysteries?

51. People: know that not only you are in time to be able to receive spiritual messages and inspirations; there are many men in the world who, without knowing that I am pouring out my word through these spokespersons, sense the proximity of a light ready to overflow in revelations about humanity. They will receive from my Spirit the preparation, so that when they hear your testimony and transmit my divine message to them, they will say with joy: "This is what I expected."

52. I am preparing you in this way so that, when the time comes to meet each other, you will be able to establish bonds of union and you will be able to understand each other.

53. I tell you again that it will not be only you who receive the illumination of my Spirit at this time, because the moment will come when all the messages received under different forms, together, constitute a single spiritual force in this world. You will give your own; what I have brought to you, or be my new revelations. For the Law is not new, it is the same that I gave you in times past, the inheritance of the great truth, which I have reminded you, so that you do not mistake the path, The law, beloved people, is the seed of the world of tomorrow.

54. Today you are still living in a time of doubt, skepticism and distrust; but that divine light that is shining on every spirit will dispel even the last shadow of uncertainty and the truth will come to reign in the lives of men.

55. You who come to hear my word of peace, my lesson of love, will never do a work of division; on the contrary, your struggle will always be to unite, to pacify, to achieve the fulfillment of the precept that teaches you to love one another.

56. Events will arise in nature that men of science will not be able to explain to humanity, so your word, full of humility, but at the same time clothed with security and faith in itself, will explain why many events and manifestations to which no solution had been found.

57. What is Nature, but a large creature? Yes, disciples, a creature that also evolves, purifies itself, develops and perfects itself, in order to come to shelter in its bosom the men of tomorrow.

58. How many times do you resent their natural transitions to achieve that perfection and attribute it to punishments from God? Without realizing that together with Nature and with Creation, you purify, evolve and walk towards perfection.

59. If today you do not understand what I am saying, in due time you will have sufficient knowledge, to the extent of harmonizing in such a way with everything that surrounds you, that nothing affects you, that nothing burdens you or makes you sick, because you will have managed to be on the material and not under the dominion of the forces of Nature.

60. You are so small, that many times instead of admiring the signs that Nature gives, you get scared.

61. When will you be like princes in the midst of this creation and not slaves as you are now?

62. Do you think it pleases me to see you praying full of fear, asking God for mercy for you, when you see the elements unleashed? I would like to look at you full of serenity, admiring the works of your Father, without your lives suffering. I would like to receive your prayers, springing from a heart full of peace, of obedience, of understanding.

63. Ah, if from the moment your eyes are opened to contemplate the light of this life, you begin to strive to achieve true harmony with the spiritual and with Nature, you would understand how beautiful is the existence that the Creator has given you, whose path leads to eternal life! To help you achieve it, in this Third Time I have come to review my previous teachings. Remember that I said to you, "I will come among you once more." But my coming has not been in a matter, as in the Second Time; I have come in Spirit to manifest to you my essence, presence and power. Among the unbelievers and sinners I am manifesting myself to give them again my teaching, my Doctrine and as in the Second Time, some have believed me and others have denied my presence, more of those who have recognized me will emerge my new disciples who will testify of Me.

64. Behold, humanity is again in confusion. But I do not teach him material practices, I only give him a Doctrine of love so that they understand what the Father's will is.

Love one another!

65. The Holy Spirit has manifested Himself among men, women and children, my grace has been poured out on them so that they may be the ones who bear witness to my presence at this time.

66. I have come to show you the same Law and to remind you of the same teaching that I have given you in times past, because the Father, with sublime wisdom, has not come to confuse you at any time. The light of the Holy Spirit has come to enlighten you to explain all my teachings to you, so that you and then all humanity, can practice them with love, with perfection in your actions and thoughts.

67. Humanity lives in its third height of evil, it only seeks materialism, gold and power on Earth, but its spirit longs for my peace. You too, Israel, through time, have traveled rough paths and have not yet been able to reach the Promised Land, because you have not known how to love and unite and have unknown each other. But in this Third Time I have shown you the best place at my table and I have caressed you so that you may know that as a Father I am with you, so that you may all form one family.

68. People: cultivate the heart of blessed childhood so that from their earliest childhood they may love one another and know how to recognize the path of love and justice.

69. At this time my word is enlightening you again. I come to pour out my grace, so that you may be clean and prepared, but if you fall into sin again, recognize, people, that it is not I who turn you away from my lap, but it is you who turn away from Me, when this is not my Will. But my forgiveness and my love, as an open door is to receive everyone who repentantly wants to return to Me.

70. O Israel, you are the messengers of this time, and I have chosen you to be my faithful servants. I contemplate that even carrying the pain in your heart you are submissive and obedient and I tell you: I will raise you up, blessed children, do not be afraid of men or the elements, do not be afraid to travel the distances because I am the one who has chosen you and has clothed you with my grace so that you may rise up and give the warning voice to spiritualists in all times, so that they may turn away from the confusion and fanaticism of the world, Show them my true Doctrine with your actions, full of spirituality.

71. Listen to me, beloved Israel! Open your spiritual eyes and contemplate the glory of your Father, listen to my voice through your conscience, listen with your spiritual ears to the heavenly melodies so that your heart and spirit may rejoice, so that you may feel peace, because I am peace, and I come to invite you to live within it, I come to reveal to you the love that I have felt for humanity in all times, the cause for which in the Last

Love one another!

Time Jesus shed his most precious blood to redeem you from sin, to teach you love, to impress upon your heart and spirit the true doctrine.

72. Beloved people: if your vicissitudes and your pain are great on your way, rise up to the Father in prayer with that true prayer born of your heart and then you will feel strong and glorify the name of your Father.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. People: Eat the bread of eternal life that your Father gives you, take advantage of my word because you are at the end of my communication, in this form. Let your spirit awaken fully to the light that the Father is pouring out in every spirit and in every understanding.
2. A spark of light from my Spirit, a flash of the Divine Word, is what settles in the consciousness of the spokesman for whom I make you listen to my message. What human spokesman could receive the full power of the Word? No. And truly I tell you, you do not yet know what the Word is.
3. The Word is Life, it is Love, it is the Word of God; moreover, only an atom can receive love; but there, in that ray of light, in that essence, you will be able to find the infinite, the absolute, the eternal. To tell you about Myself, I can do the same through great Works as through small and limited manifestations. I am in everything, everything speaks of Me, the big is as perfect as the small. It is only necessary that man knows how to observe, meditate and study.
4. I speak to your spirit, who has been sent to Earth to receive this message so that later with his works of love and charity, of testimony of my teaching to humanity. I speak to your spirit that has essence and immortal nature. I tell him about that life that corresponds to him after he gives to the earth the body that served as his support in this world, so that when it is the time of his liberation, he blesses that instant and fixing his gaze on infinity, he rises and reaches the abode that he has conquered with his merits.
5. Love to a certain extent what is in the world while you are in it, so that you may know how to comply with its laws; but always nourish the ideal of coming to dwell in the high spiritual abodes, so that when your spirit detaches itself from the envelope, it will not be disturbed or tempted by what it loved on the planet, because then it will remain bound and captive in the world to which it no longer belongs, nor can it in any way enjoy.
6. I tell you that if a people were to rise up teaching everyone the way of truth, humanity would rise up after him because she feels that she has lost her way, that she has strayed from the path, she suffers, stumbles and despairs.
7. Humanity awaits the arrival of the brother, the friend, the counselor, who will tell it where to lead its steps to reach the land of salvation.
8. The spiritual confusion in the men of this time is deep and serious because of the abandonment in which they have had the revelations made by the Father through the ages; they have consecrated themselves to material science, completely forgetting the essence of their being and life.

9. To that materialistic world I want to send you to bring the good news of my Doctrine; truly I tell you, if your testimony is faithful, men will be amazed to see a people led by an invisible guide and by a voice that is not of this world. First, curiosity will make them observe your steps and your works; but later it will be faith that will make them exclaim, "Truly it is true what these men preach."

10. As long as you are not prepared to give the voice of "Alert" to the world, my mantle will hide you from the sight of others because your imperfections would give rise to doubt, mockery and persecution and your weakness would not resist the attack of your enemies, but prepare yourselves, because the hour of struggle will come and I will raise my mantle for the world to contemplate you.

11. Each farmer will carry a flash of my Word on his lips, and in his hands the book of my wisdom that will remind him of my divine teaching. That book, inspired by Me, will be zealously formed by my disciples and in it the people will find a stronghold, because its power will be great

12. How much wisdom overflows from him, how much balm and consolation he will pour into hearts! It will be a delight for those who one day kept quiet about my word and then stopped listening to it, and it will be joy for those who had never heard it.

13. By his reading the dead will be raised and the lost will find the way. Watch over the truth of the Book entrusted to you so that you may bear witness to my manifestation at this time.

14. If at this moment I were to ask you what are the fruits that your tree has borne, what would you present to me? If I asked you about the lessons you have received from Me, what answer would you give me?

15. You are silent and in your heart you present to Me the fear that your work will be judged by Me, but I ask you: Why are you afraid? if you have fulfilled, you will have nothing to fear and if, on the contrary, you have failed, it is better that I be the one to correct you.

16. Do not want to be spiritualists just by name, but by works, because the world is full of false followers and false disciples. If you have embraced a Doctrine whose flag is spirituality and its weapons are light and love, you have to give proof to the world of these virtues and that will be the only seed you sow, if you really want your harvest to be received by your Father.

Love one another!

17. Take the example of those who followed me in the Second Time, not only that of my apostles, but also that of so many men and women who converted to my word and testified to my truth with their works and even with their lives.

18. The greatest purity and the maximum truth were the concern of those hearts, so they sought that in each of their works the light with which the Master had made his teachings shine shone.

19. So I want the new disciples to honor the name of the one who has come with a divine message of love to lift them from their lethargy.

20. If you try to understand the spiritual meaning of my Work, and embrace it with the love of a true disciple, truly I tell you that the good fruits will not be long in coming and those fruits will be of regeneration, of returning to the good in the light of conscience, of health, of reconciliation and of peace. However, if you seek appearances to cover up the truth and try to hide your imperfections and weaknesses with my Work, you will return to darkness and mud, from which I had already rescued you.

21. My Doctrine is essentially spiritual, it is light and it is force that descends and penetrates your spirit, to make it overcome in its fight against evil. My word is not only for the pleasure of the ear, it is the light of the spirit.

22. Do you want to listen to me with the spirit so that he is the one who sustains himself and takes advantage of the essence of this teaching? Cleanse your heart, clear your mind and let it be your conscience that guides you. You will then see how a transformation will begin to take place in your being, not only spiritually, but morally and bodily. That elevation that the spirit acquires with knowledge, that limpidity that it reaches, will be reflected in the feelings of the heart and in the health of the body.

23. Passions will weaken, vices will begin to disappear, fanaticism and ignorance will give way to true faith and deep knowledge in my Law.

24. If you long to be heard by the crowds and for your word to persuade and move, find a way for that word to penetrate the spirit of your listeners. How can we make her penetrate the hearts of your brothers, impressing and awakening their spirit? It's very simple, the secret is to always stick to the truth and bear witness with your works of love.

25. My Father's Spirit is coming to teach and polish you, awaken your spiritual and bodily senses, and invite you to make a life of regeneration and fulfillment.

Love one another!

26. I have given you everything so that you may rise up and know that you have been sent to Earth to work and to work out your peace in this life and in the one that awaits you.

27. Blessed is he who studies my Doctrine and struggles to fulfill my laws, who has been enlightened by the light that my word has shed and keeps praying and watching over its fulfillment.

28. Today that you inhabit a world of errors and confusion, I have made you leave it and live in harmony with my laws and when you are ready, I will send you to humanity to show my light to all those who have divided my Doctrine into branches and have misinterpreted my word; all those differences that you contemplate today, will disappear and the heart of man will be transformed. After the harvest that man has made of his work, which has left him only a bitter taste, I will sow my seed in the purified and clean earth, and I will cultivate it, that will be the time when spirituality will begin.

29. All the trials that you will encounter in your life as farmers, will be to strengthen you in your faith and so that you may know the gifts that I have granted you; you will not have fulfilled if you only concretize to hear my word and then take it to your brothers; you have to speak and corroborate your words with your deeds. Many of you will testify to my Doctrine by willingly offering your life, but I have not asked you for blood sacrifices, you will soon remain among humanity as sheep among hungry wolves; but you will not sleep, a lamp will always illuminate your path and even in the darkest nights that light will shine.

30. I have surprised humanity sleeping for spiritual knowledge and given over to the material sciences, discovering greater secrets in Nature, without worrying about their spirit. How great will be your struggle to understand my Doctrine! My Work will fall on this humanity like a crystal clear water torrent, their longing for knowledge will be calmed, and everyone who prepares will receive its benefits!

31. You who hear me, watch that no foreign influence is mixed to my Doctrine, preserve its essence and its truth, and you will see that this humanity that distrusts and doubts, embraces my teaching with faith to know the acts of my good disciples. All of you who long for a kingdom of peace and justice to come upon this world are attracting these virtues with your prayer. That time is near, for now correct, prepare and enlighten your brothers before entering this time, in which you will have no other guide than my Divinity.

32. My inspiration floats over all spirits, and everyone who wants to look at me and follow me, rise up and reach out to Me, and your conscience will tell you how you should live in each day and how you should solve your problems; if you spiritualize, you will see in each trial, in each pain, a stepping stone to elevate and perfect yourself.

33. Make your home a paradise, where parents represent me, and love and respect for one another is your cult; but let that love not be limited to your family, so that you can love all your brothers, as you do with your parents or your children.

34. I am going to dictate through my chosen people, just laws based on love and respect, 144,000 spirits have been prepared; some are in spirit, others who are in matter, I am going to disperse them throughout the world, so that when that hour comes, they will be overflowing with inspiration and I will speak through their mouth, and my word will multiply.

35. Elijah prepares the way for everyone and as I tell you in the Second Time, How close Elijah is to you and you have not recognized him! Whenever my Kingdom has drawn near to men, he has prepared hearts; so he has been with you at this time.

36. Work in silence, without showing off, do not want to distinguish yourselves from others, go unnoticed, but carry in your heart a great love for humanity, protect it and help it, make your heart like an ark and in it make room for the sick, sinners, those who have been hungry and thirsty for justice; point out spirituality to everyone as a goal for their salvation, they will follow me, but the proud, once again will not hear me at this time; after, trials, events will speak of all my manifestations, some will convert, while others will remain with their heart closed to the divine message.

37. I bless all those who hold positions; rulers, teachers, judges, enlighten yourselves and fulfill your mission.

38. Come and hear me, what does it matter that you hear my word through imperfect men both morally and spiritually? If you think that at this time I chose the least appropriate means for my communication, you are mistaken; if you think that this way of manifesting myself to man is not an advanced way, you judge lightly.

39. Does it not give you an idea of the evolution that your spirit has reached, the fact of using your consciousness and your understanding to speak to humanity?

40. In some way the time of spiritual communication had to begin and that form has been the one you have had since 1866, and that will have to end in 1950, to give rise to spirit-to-Spirit communication.

41. My manifestation through the spokespersons is intended by. I am going to be a passenger, a brief stage of preparation that will serve this people as a norm, a law and a principle, to testify and extend this truth, and announce to the world the presence of the Third Time.

Love one another!

42. Just as my manifestation by the human understanding was destined to be fleeting like lightning, it was also foreseen that a few multitudes would be called to witness this revelation and to receive this message.

43. On the other hand, spirit-to-Spirit communication will reach the entire human race, without time limitation, because that way of seeking me, of receiving me, of praying, of listening to me and feeling me, will belong to eternity.

44. How great is the responsibility of this people who have listened to my word and stored up my teachings! I tell you that before the world takes the step towards spirituality, it will have to know what I revealed to you in this stage of preparation, in which I spoke to you through the lips of my spokespersons and made you write my word so that later you could study it.

45. Prepare yourselves, O beloved people, so that you may come to harmonize with your Lord, see that I am fulfilling my part. I am preparing everything; the Spiritual World, forming the largest and most powerful army, supports my works and fulfills my designs, and I want you to form a people of enlightened men, of faithful witnesses of my word, of sowers of spiritual light, whose work serves to awaken, bear witness and alert the world.

46. The Sixth Seal has been untied and has shown part of its content to you, the precursors of spirituality on Earth; but he will continue to pour out his light on all men, even if this word that you are hearing today has already ceased.

47. What will the Sixth Seal reveal to the humanity of the future? Very great revelations, if you think that he made you heirs of a wealth of wisdom.

48. The Sixth Seal is open and no one will be able to close it or prevent its light from reaching the spirits, just as no one can stop the passage of time or prevent the light of the King star from reaching your world.

49. The book of Knowledge that was sealed for a long time, while your spirit was preparing to be able to penetrate it, I have opened it, it has been unleashed by the love of your Master, the Lamb, his light is shining brightly without many on Earth realizing it.

50. Soon the intuitive, the inspired, the sensitive of spirit will arise, testifying in the nations what they see with the spirit, what they feel, what they hear and receive. I tell you once again that my people are not reduced to those who have listened to me through these spokesmen, but that I have sent my servants to various parts of the earth to prepare the roads and to clear the fields where the sowers will later arrive.

51. I strengthen you and bless you, for your journey is painful, your path bristling with thorns. Mockery, ridicule, slander and impiety follow them everywhere; but they, intuitive and inspired, know that they have been sent by Me and are willing to reach the end of the road in fulfillment of their mission.

52. Pray for those brothers of yours whom you do not know, but who are struggling to fulfill their mission of preparing the way for you. They have not had in the world the divine incentive of this word that you have heard so much, and it has been necessary that they come to sacrifice many comforts of the world in order to receive spiritually the inspiration that guides them.

53. You have listened to every lesson a thousand times, what justification can you find if you do not fulfill my Doctrine? No. What opposition or rebellion could you show in the face of pain, if he came to punish your faults? But do not forget that I have taught you to purify yourselves by love, regenerating yourselves in the service of one another, so that you may avoid purification through pain.

54. Some believe my word to be harsh and harsh, being impregnated with loving justice, is that they have not known how to be alone with their conscience nor have they ever wanted to judge themselves out of pride.

55. When you see the result of your disobediences, of your profanations, of your vanity and lack of charity and you are drinking a cup of bitterness, completely opposite to the one that I came to offer you, it will be when you exclaim convinced: Was there truth and justice in the Master's claim?

56. I have entrusted to you a unification of all the multitudes, which form your people and you have not done it, defying my justice. I have been patient and I have given you time to carry out this command and so far you have not risen. Do you want, then, that it is my justice that awakens you, that purifies you and unites you? Let it be so, beloved people, the day and the hour you do not know, but it will come, because I will not leave you to testify my truth with a heart full of impurities.

57. Neither shall the evil writings remain as a testimony, for he who is mixed with falsehood and imperfections will go to the fire. What is stained or unclean does not come to Me, nor do I send it to my children; first you would zealously clean the seed and then you will go to sow it.

Love one another!

58. My word on this day is not a cup of bitterness, it is a source of crystalline waters where you can wash your heart and give greater clarity and light to your spirit.

59. Take these words with love, meditate on them and then you will feel stronger to continue on this journey.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 285

1. My peace be on men of good will. Verily I say to you, whoever bears this peace in his spirit will feel my presence.
2. In this time of teachings you have felt my peace in your trials, you have had comfort in your sufferings, proving yourselves in this way, that whoever accepts his destiny with good will. He may stumble, but he will not fall.
3. Sometimes you say to me: "Lord, why don't you touch us like other peoples, being us as ungrateful and disobedient as our brothers can be? And I tell you: it is that I am giving you time for your preparation. Do you think that if the war was threatening you, you would be listening to me and you could meditate on my word? Understand how precious is the time I have entrusted to you and the responsibility you have to take advantage of it in your spiritual preparation.
4. To invest this time well in your spiritual benefit and that of your brothers, you need a frequent examination, listening to the voice of your conscience, through which you can discover everything that you should examine yourselves and at the same time understand the best way to apply my Doctrine to the different acts of your life.
5. Does the situation humanity is going through really hurt you? Does your heart feel the pain of nations that are torn apart by war? So do merit for them, pray and send them peace with your thoughts.
6. Now it seems to you that it is misfortune that looms over the world, to which I tell you that what you often look at as misfortune, is a good.
7. Pain, misery, death itself will come as a blessing to the doors of many beings who lived without restraint and sinned without limit.
8. Ah, if you understood how the pain that comes to touch the skin, is a balm and a relief for the spirit! Because while matter had health and well-being, the spirit was often dragged into the abyss, or felt imprisoned within a life full of pleasures and unleashed passions, but empty of light for the spirit. Until pain came, as a force more powerful than human passions, to stop man in his blind race, making the spirit free, blessing the pain and recognizing that there is no wiser justice than that of God.
9. Some soon come to this understanding, thereby avoiding many sufferings, others are hard and late to understand, going so far as to blaspheme and deny, thereby increasing their cup of bitterness.

Love one another!

10. Pray for all, people, do not shirk your responsibility, arguing that you do not pray for the nations that suffer, because in that pain they are purifying themselves. Certainly this pain purifies them, but understand that your prayers and your thoughts help them to accept with love their cup of bitterness, so that they understand the meaning that their pain encloses and so that the purpose of amendment and the inspiration that moves them to fraternity springs from their spirit.
11. If you pray well, I will make your spirit detach and reach them as a lark of peace, as a messenger of health and light.
12. Your heart will not be able to be puffed up by these triumphs, because he will know nothing about the works that you spiritually do.
13. Only I will know about those works, those that will be recorded one by one, in the book of your merits, the one that is imprinted in the conscience.
14. You are close to great events. Not a single day will pass without some event, some test or some sign shaking humanity. It will be the incessant voice of my justice, calling men to turn their thoughts to Me, but all those who in those days of trial awaken to intuition, meditate, and conclude attributing these trials to divine justice, will be filled with my light, so that they do not return to the spiritual lethargy in which they lived.
15. My justice has come, humanity, it comes to humble the pride of man, to make him understand how small he is in his evil and in his materialism.
16. Yes, people, I come to bring down man in his false greatness, because I want him to see my light and rise up, so that he may become great in truth, because I want you full of light, of elevation, of goodness, of power and wisdom.
17. My voice is heard again just as the prophets announced it from the earliest times and as I revealed it to my disciples.
18. This is the time when I promised you my return in spirit in which you will come to feel my presence inside and outside of you, and in which you will learn to communicate with me, from spirit to Spirit.
19. I am forming a people who, although poor in appearance, among them there are neither outcasts, nor wretches, nor weak in spirit. To each one I am revealing his gifts so that he may rise up on the path, satisfied to be my disciple and to be able to be useful to his fellow men.
20. My new people will be prophets, counselors, teachers, doctors of the spirit.

Love one another!

21. My word reaches these hearts like a breeze that fans the flame of their faith, because I want to see them always burning like lamps.
22. My word in the Second Time, as well as my works, opened the way of Heaven to men, and in this time I have brought you new lessons. Have you not heard the voice of the spiritual world? Have you not felt the approach of that world which you thought so distant and so uncertain?
23. Look with what light and with what love your spiritual brothers and sisters have shown themselves to you.
24. You do not know exactly the place from which those spirits of light come, those guardian angels and guardians of peace; but you are sure that they come from higher abodes.
25. That's right, humanity, they come from higher abodes and worlds than yours to help you walk ascending towards perfection. In the same way they help those who live in other valleys and who are also in need of higher knowledge.
26. If someone judges my Doctrine that I speak to you in these lessons bad, I tell him in truth that he does not know what he says, nor does he know the Divine Teacher, do you not guess the divine plan of forming with everyone a single family?
27. I am making these revelations to you, so that you will begin to worry about your future, just as on Earth you have worried so long about your material betterment.
28. Listen to the voice of the spiritual world, because it is the testimony of the incessant activity of the spirit, working, purifying himself, repairing his faults, fulfilling missions; in a word: approaching his Father.
29. Understand that in this Third Time, the stage of the Holy Spirit, it was natural for Him to come and speak to you about the spiritual life.
30. Because only this Doctrine will be able to save humanity from the raging and stormy sea of passions, interests, hatreds, arrogance and petty ambitions of men. My word comes as a saving boat to rescue the shipwrecked who have capsized in the sea of passions.
31. Disciples: To you I entrust my word, feel me in the essence of it. Tomorrow these spokesmen will disappear, their positions will be transformed and only my word will be written in the books that the Golden Pens have formed by my will.
32. Disciples: Whoever recognizes my word through this manifestation must also recognize that it is time to begin the restoration of all that the wickedness of men has destroyed.

Love one another!

33. If all those called would come to the Lord's table, where the delicacy that nourishes the spirit is served, it would be complete but not all the guests have arrived.

34. It is the condition of man not to know how to reciprocate the benefits of God and that is why you have seen many of your brothers snub you when you make the call to them.

35. But I tell you that these few who sit at my table and who persist in listening to Me in order to learn from Me, will be the ones who will make known to the multitudes the greatness of my word, the meaning of this Doctrine that calls men to the reconstruction of a world that has reached its end, to make way for a more luminous and elevated one.

36. In order that you may obtain a purer word and manifestation through these spokespersons, I have advised you spirituality and simplicity, because then the sweet and substantial word springs from their lips like fruit in season.

37. Those who have not realized that the simplicity of the form is where the truth and the light of my word shines the most, and they are looking for external manifestations with which to impress the senses of the multitudes, I tell them that in the acts and practices that you have within my Doctrine, only the truth should prevail.

38. It is no longer the time when you feed your spirit with mysteries, although those mysteries have for you the attraction of the unknown.

39. Why do you want to impress with external manifestations that your brothers do not understand? Why are you teaching seemingly supernatural acts, but in reality devoid of light and truth? Is not the essence that overflows my word enough, or is it not wonderful that I speak through your mouths?

40. How materialistic many of you are! But you must convince yourselves that everything that you add to my manifestation, so simple and simple because it is Mine, will only be like a coarse and rude veil that prevents your brothers from contemplating the truth.

41. Before you begin to fulfill any of the positions that this Work offers you, meditate deeply on what I have taught you and on what you are going to do, so that you will not do anything that is contrary to my Law.

42. How many of those who believe themselves to be obedient disciples, without realizing it, are rebels to my will and how many believing themselves to be apostles of Spiritualism, by their works are the first to deny it, therefore, they are enemies of the Doctrine they are preaching.

Love one another!

43. What is expected of spiritually evolved man? Mastery over himself is expected, the manifestation of his powers and gifts, Understand that the intelligence of man will have to be greater and therefore, they will find themselves more able to understand the Work of God. As for the spirit, it cannot remain inactive, its longing for evolution is like an instinct that leads it to elevation, to the continuous effort to perfect itself in the paths traced by the divine laws.

44. Disciples: I am telling you again to seek spirituality along the paths of simplicity and purity, to put aside your hopes of being touched in your senses by what you call supernatural, because if you are convinced that you are on the path of truth, believe what you are hearing from Me and understand that I am teaching you to feel in a subtle way and to discard unnecessary complications.

45. Those who fail to satisfy themselves with what my word manifests and expresses, it is because their materiality expects extraordinary events to believe in my manifestation, expects to see fire rain from Heaven or the seas open to let their abysses see and then say. "The judgment of God has come on earth" but I ask you: Why are you horrified by these events? Do you pretend that they are the only ones who can manifest the justice and power of God, when you should feel and contemplate His presence in what manifests peace and love?

46. Is it necessary, then, that my departure at this time is to terrorize humanity so that it testifies that it is a divine event?

47. May the proof that I was with you be the light of hope for a better future; may it be a trembling of humanity, a flash of faith that makes it contemplate, in the midst of its turmoil, the light of a new dawn.

48. I would like you to seek in everything the interpretation of divine goodness, because in everything you will find it; moreover, if you are still young to discover that divine love that is spiritual, look at the Nature that surrounds you and that at every step speaks to you of the Creator's love for his children. If you sometimes see that this Nature treats you with rigor, know that she is also a creature subject to evolution and perfection like you, and that, as she rises up that scale of perfection that exists on the path of all creatures, she will be able to be the shelter of beings ever greater in intelligence and spiritual elevation.

49. Let my word be written so that the man of tomorrow may see as a prophecy what I have now told you.

Love one another!

50. People: if you want to advance, leave the laziness that is in you; if you want to be great, apply my maxims to your works; if you want to know yourself, analyze yourself through my word.

51. Understand how much you need my word that pours love, wisdom, advice and help, but at the same time you felt responsible for what I give you, because you are not the only ones in need in the world, there are many who have been hungry and thirsty for these teachings and you should think about preparing to go to them with the message of my love.

52. Hurry your cup with patience, truly I tell you that in its bitterness you will find the light for your spirit. Pain will make you listen to the voice of conscience, although I must tell you that this burden that you have carried, that pain that you have drunk and those tears that have poured into your eyes, are not precisely the path of life traced with my footprint and with my Law, that path of love that you travel is the path of atonement and purification that your spirit has to travel to reach the path of true life, where only love, serve and work for the good.

53. Have knowledge of all this, so that you may know that in order to truly serve me, you must first go through purification until there is nothing left of what you have done wrong. Your example will serve so that future generations will find a prepared path and will not get lost among the heathlands or get injured on the pebbles of the path.

54. To you, spiritualists, I entrust the task of breaking down that barrier that humanity has erected between God and her, a barrier of false faith, of apparent belief in the eternal, of materialities and superfluous cults.

55. I charge you, my people, to overthrow from its pedestal the golden calf that men have not ceased to worship, although they believe themselves far from idolatry and paganism.

56. Moreover, I tell you that in your struggle you should not use force, violence or hurtful words. Your weapons should be the word of light that reveals the truth, the works of charity that envelop the sufferer in an outpouring of comfort, the strength that emanates from your prayers and your thoughts.

57. When you have destroyed the obstacles that have been separating man from the spiritual path, you will then see the beginning of very great transformations in human life. These transformations will take place in the spiritual order, in the moral order, in that of science, in that of institutions, in your ways of governing yourselves.

58. The footprint of this people in the Third Time, no one will be able to erase, because in their works will be the strength of my truth.

Love one another!

59. Do you see what the pain purifies you for? Your path is mapped out, your mission has been defined by Me.

60. I have torn from your heart the death that you were carrying, I have filled you with life.

61. That death was in you, because the faith and hope in your spirit were extinguished, because you lacked the light of knowledge. Before you I have raised up a tree of life, the fruits of which, full of essential heavenly flavor and sweetness, are lavishly shed over the multitudes, to take away from them their spiritual neediness.

62. In your heart I am building a temple where my presence will be clearly perceived, where the echo of my voice will be clearly heard and where light and peace will spring up for all humanity.

63. In the First Time I inspired you with the foundations of that great sanctuary of the spirit; in the time when I was as a Teacher among men, I taught you how to raise the high walls and now I am revealing to you in what way you should conclude that work that, once finished, is worthy of the presence of your Father.

64. Could you tell me, what is the essence of each of these three lessons, on which I have inspired you for the construction of the temple of the Holy Spirit? Yes, people, blessed are you, because you all inwardly answer my question and approach the truth. The foundations of the sanctuary were those that the Law of the First Time taught, the high walls were the love and charity that the Messiah brought to men in his Doctrine. The domes, the columns and the altar with which this work was to be built, are the wisdom, the spirituality, the elevation that at this time my Spirit, in his message of light, has inspired you.

65. That temple built by Me in three ages, is the one of which I spoke before the unbelievers, when pointing to the temple in Jerusalem, I said to them: Destroy that temple and in three days I will raise it up.

66. My temple will soon be completed, while of that of Jerusalem, not even its foundations remain, just as there will not be a stone upon stone of any temple that has not been built on the foundations of my Law, of love and spirituality.

67. Look how great is the splendor of this era, look at the light of a new time in which all the prophecies given by Me and those I announced to you through my prophets are being fulfilled.

Love one another!

68. How many paths have you traveled looking for the truth to get to Me! Neither the sciences nor the philosophies responded to your call and after your search you end up understanding that this truth lies in Me and part of Me towards all beings.

69. I have enlightened man so that he may live his true life and know the blessed destiny that I have indicated to him, he is the only creature made in my image and likeness, and therefore, the closest to Me, because he possesses a breath of my spirit and for this he is qualified to do works similar to mine.

70. You possess the will and the free will so that you conduct yourselves intelligently, obeying the voice of conscience that is my own voice and through it you know what is lawful, what you should take and discard what is improper, what does not belong to you. But I have noticed that from the first days of your life on Earth you are inclined towards materialism and you begin to be unaware of your spiritual mission, which is the main reason for your existence.

71. From the beginning I left you my precepts that lead to peace and spiritual happiness, and later, in Jesus I manifested my love to you.

72. I did not speak to you at that time as a stern judge, but as a Father, and you did not understand this infinite love that understands and forgives everything, that love that is patience, generosity, that wants only the good, and pours it out in all his creatures. If you want to call yourselves worthily my children, love, because you are formed by this divine love that created everything, to offer it to you, and then you will understand your destiny to love, to protect and bless just like your father, and after your fulfillment you will return to Me to form one spirit with me.

73. From the earliest times I taught you to love me in spirit and told you that nothing could represent me in this world but the virtuous man. I did not teach you a rite or material worship and I only told you: When you want to make communion with your Father, raise your spirit, seek the height and from there all the gifts and benefits that you request will come to you.

74. I told you at that time not to be afraid of death because it does not exist; in my creation everything lives, grows and is perfected. Bodily death is only the end of a stage that the spirit goes through, to return to its original state and then follow its path of evolution. Believe, have faith and you will live forever. Today more than ever you need to put on faith, because you are going through an era of trials and difficulties. The elements that are to purify man are untied, and they will not rest until they reduce him to reason, goodness and justice.

Love one another!

75. You, get rid of pride and let humility and simplicity flourish, so that you can accept all the trials that are to come; understand that it is necessary for you to pass through that crucible so that you recover your purity. Today that you have one more lesson and you know that you are no longer in childhood or in spiritual adolescence, but that you have maturity, you will be able to understand my words from other times and those that I am giving you in this one.

76. Do not pretend to know my intimate designs, because you cannot penetrate there; just know that I am all presence and power, that my Spirit fills the Universe and at the same time dwells in every spirit and that I love you all and grant what is necessary for your life, so that this light may give you hope and confidence in the future.

77. All that you suffer and hope for I know and I feel your pain, I just tell you to use that strength that I have given you and your trials will be benign.

78. You who have been chosen to receive this message, you must watch and prepare yourselves because after 1950 you will have to bring this news that he has returned to you, to all your brothers. And if you see chaos unleashed and everywhere you hear cries of pain, think that just as the fields are plowed, the human heart has to prepare to receive the seed.

79. I have granted you as a privilege at this time the presence of spiritual beings of great elevation and experience. Not only my Spirit communicated with man through my ray, but also the spiritual world, has come to your aid, thus fulfilling a very high mission. How much they have achieved with their presence on this Earth the love and charity of those beings unknown to many, and how they have brought this world closer to the one in which they inhabit, to make a covenant and elevate you along the path of virtue!

80. You who have been called as an instrument for their communication, serve them with love and prepare yourselves, because you are the vessels that are receiving the word that pours out their spirit; only in this way will you be able to boast of possessing the truth that I and the spiritual world have brought for humanity.

81. The truth that you have sought so much, I am making it known to you in this simple and humble word. I am offering you this truth, which is nothing but love, in abundance, so that you may always possess it and share it with your brothers and sisters. Feel it, carry it jealously in your spirit, because it is the divine essence with which you will feed eternally.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. My divine light vibrates everywhere, it hurts that you look for me there you will find my presence.
2. I am the Father who works so that harmony may reign among all his children, both among those who inhabit the Earth and those who dwell in other worlds.
3. The spiritual harmony between all beings will reveal great knowledge to you, will provide you with the spirit-to-Spirit communication that will shorten distances, bring the absent closer and erase borders and limits.
4. I want you to achieve peace, which is the greatest reward you can aspire to on Earth.
5. Disciples: Do not go to deviate from the path traced or to alter in any way my teachings, because then you will not be able to achieve that spiritual harmony or discover everything that I reserve for your elevation.
6. Make yourselves worthy of the revelations of my Arcanum, making merits with works of love, charity, nobility.
7. Let the spirit guide the mind and not the mind guided only by an ambitious heart of human greatness, which governs your life. Think that if you want to be guided by what your brain orders, you will exhaust it and you will not be able to go beyond where its scarce forces allow it. I tell you that if you long to know why you have been inspired to do good and your heart and your understanding are guided by the spirit and then you will be amazed at the power of your Father.
8. If men, instead of searching with so much eagerness and with so little respect, would question me with love and humility, with how much simplicity and ease they will receive the answer of their Father, by revealing to them the knowledge they request from him.
9. When you question me or ask me, do not make an effort to try to explain your problem clearly to me, nor do you try to search your mind for the best constructed phrases; it is enough for Me that your spirit detaches itself from the world at that moment and that I leave the heart and the understanding clean, so that they can receive my inspiration. What good will it do for you to say very beautiful words to me if you are not able to feel my presence inside you?
10. I know everything and you don't have to explain anything to me, so that I can understand you.

Love one another!

11. You ask me what prayer consists of and I tell you: In allowing your spirit to rise freely to the Father, in giving yourself with full confidence and faith in that act; in receiving in the heart and in the mind the sensations collected by the spirit; in accepting with true humility the will of the Father, the one who prays in this way, enjoys my presence at any moment of his life and never feels needy.
12. I have approached men a lot through the times, but it is time for men to look for Me and come to Me. They can do this because their spiritual evolution has put them in a position to achieve true communication with their Father.
13. Resurrection Time is this Third Time, the spirits seemed dead and the bodies their graves; but the Master has arrived before them, whose word of life spoke to them saying: "Go out, and rise up to the light, to freedom". He who, by opening his eyes to the truth, knows how to raise his life, his deeds and his feelings in love for his brothers, will stop looking at this world as a desert or valley of tears and atonement, because he will begin to feel the delight of true peace that serenity gives. That state of elevation in this life will be a reflection of the peace and the perfect light that the spirit will enjoy in better homes, where I myself will receive him to provide him with a lodging worthy of his merits.
14. On this day of thanksgiving you come to commemorate the date on which Elias, manifesting himself through Roque Rojas, reminded you that the return of the Divine Master was near and invited you to prayer and regeneration.
15. Moses led his people to the foothills of Mount Sinai, where he made them enter into prayer, vigil and purification to wait for the presence of the Lord, their Lord.
16. Moses was the initiator of spirituality, the forerunner of Jehovah, the lawgiver. That day when he came down from the mountain with the tablets of the Law, was remembered by the people of Israel, as you do now, commemorating the day when it was revealed to you through Roque Rojas, that the Testament of Moses, the legacy of Jesus and the message of Elijah, would form a single book: "The Book of Truth and Life".
17. If Moses prepared the hearts of his people to receive the Lord and now Elijah woke you up to hear the voice of the Divine Spirit, when I was with you on earth, it was also Elijah who reincarnated in John called the Baptist, the one who exhorted the multitudes to penance and prayer, announcing to them that, "The Kingdom of Heaven is approaching men", because in the Doctrine that I brought to you and in my teaching, there was the presence of the Father and the light of Heaven.
18. Christ is the manifestation of the perfect, in him you can look at the eternal Law, you can find infinite love and admire absolute wisdom.

Love one another!

19. Jesus came to explain with his life the Law that Israel received from Moses and announced to you that later the Comforter would come to clarify and explain everything that Christ taught and that was not properly interpreted.

20. Christ, he embraces all ages, his presence is in all times, because he is the Eternal Word.

21. Elijah is the forerunner, the explainer of the mysteries, he is the key that opens the door for you to penetrate deep, he is the spiritual liberator, who was sent at the time of the consummation of the spirituality of men initiated by Moses.

22. Blessed are you, people, who remember with joy the dawn of the Third Era and dedicate this day for its commemoration, More than a tradition, let this day be for you a day of meditation, study, recollection, in which you can feel the presence of that divine balance that weighs and records all your works along the path traveled.

23. From what you hear from Me and meditate on this day, you will be able to form a wealth of knowledge, and when the time of your struggle comes, you will not lack arguments or reasons to explain what are the firm and eternal bases, on which this Doctrine that you have called "Spiritualism" has been raised.

24. You are contemplating the dawn of the Third Time, in which spiritual clarity shines brightly, transforming your life.

25. The beginning of this new time will be signified by its great struggles, by its intense sufferings, by its confusions and its struggles, but all this will only be at the beginning, later peace will be made, and as a consequence of peace, the development of the spirit will come, who will manifest his advancement in his works brimming with faith, love, spirituality.

26. Many of you come crying after you have cursed the pain. I forgive your mistakes, taking into account that they come from your ignorance.

27. Calm your heart and clear your understanding so that you understand what I am going to tell you, little children of life: when you feel that pain penetrates your heart again, isolate yourself for a few moments from what surrounds you and stay alone. There, in the privacy of your bedchamber, converse with your spirit, take your pain and scrutinize it as when you take an object in your hand to study it. So examine your grief, see where it comes from and why it has come; listen to the voice of your conscience and truly I tell you that from that meditation you will extract a treasure of light and peace for your heart.

Love one another!

28. The light will tell you the way to take away the pain and the peace will give you the strength to wait for the test to pass.

29. You will see how when you turn your thoughts to Me to pray, you will say to me: "Master, forgive me, injustice does not exist in my destiny, I am the one who is unjust to myself".

30. This is a teaching that you must always keep in mind, disciples, recognizing that this is the way in which you can raise reason to the height of consciousness, because it is only consciousness that knows the reality of the spirit and human reality.

31. I am teaching you to study yourselves in order to know yourselves; to find in the essence of your being, through meditation and prayer, the great lessons of life.

32. Today many curse the pain, but tomorrow they will bless it as a teacher who taught them high and beautiful lessons.

33. I would like it to always be the love of the Master that teaches you the way and the purpose of life; but you have preferred that it be pain that teaches you. You will pass from that bitter teacher to receiving the lessons of the one who teaches you with sweetness.

34. If for the moment you cannot get rid of your pain, take him with patience; do not waste his teachings, love him, because he has come to purify your stains and to make you great in faith, virtue and patience.

35. If you believe in my word, you must believe in the lesson in which I told you: "The leaf of the tree does not move without the will of God", then you will also be able to believe that the wisdom of God has arranged everything well and that there can be no suffering that does not leave in man a wise lesson.

36. Analyze, beloved people, so that you will stop going from stumble to stumble and the events of the future will not find you plunged into lethargy.

37. It is time that you stop living on assumptions and half-truths, so that you rise to the world of reality, and although your feet rest on the dust of a world of tears and pain, your spirit inhabits a kingdom of peace.

38. To you, the people who hear me, I say that you should be happy if you compare your situation and your life with that of those nations that are bleeding to death under the fratricidal war.

39. You have affections, you do not lack bread, you do not lack a roof, you have the sustenance of my word, and you are not satisfied. And, those who do not have bread, who lack everything and do not listen to my word, who do not have the consolation of hearing my phrases that are hope and balm, that strengthen and nourish, are more resigned than you.

Love one another!

40. Learn to bless your pain the same as if it were your joys. Bless everything.

41. Do I not bless the whole of humanity, without distinguishing anyone? There, under that mantle of blessing, the good and the meek, the proud and the criminals are wrapped in the same way. Why don't you imitate me? Are you disgusted by the actions of others? Do not forget that you are part of humanity, that you must love and forgive it, but not reject it, because it would be as much as if you felt disgust for yourselves. All that you see in your fellow men you have to a greater or lesser degree. That is why I want you to learn to analyze your interior, so that you know your spiritual and moral face. So you will know how to judge yourself and you will have the right to notice others.

42. Do not go out to look for flaws in your brothers, with which you have enough.

43. Do not be offended if I speak to you like this, understand that my chairs are not for the righteous or for saints, I would speak to them in a very different way. I come to give you my Redemptive Doctrine to save sinners and I give it through sinful lips.

44. I come to save you, humanity, because even the air you breathe is sick, but I say to this Land that has been a dwelling and shelter for my children, that if they have defiled it with their faults, they will purify even the last sin.

45. See how humanity needs a great teaching in order to triumph over all the trials that afflict it. This is the great time announced by prophets and contemplated by seers, in which the pain of men would reach the maximum and in which the mercy of the Father would overflow his light on men. The time that marks the end of evil and the beginning of good on earth.

46. Oh, people! When will you be ready to bring the balm and the message of peace to those who suffer? I have not yet discovered true charity in your heart, you still judge each other at every step, because you do not love each other.

47. Don't you think that if I wanted to, I could point out to each of you his shortcomings? But I also tell you, I would cease to be your Teacher if I betrayed you in that way. But if the one who sees everything, the one who truly knows you, the one who knows your thoughts, does not judge you before others, nor does he betray you publicly, why are there those who insist on hurting hearts, destroying lives and judging other people's lives?

48. Today you are my little ones, more truly I tell you that I will not call you disciples or dedicate you to my Work, until you are unable to make your fellow human beings suffer and instead, you feel the impulse to relieve all pain. When will you feel in your heart the pain of those who suffer, so that it may be your words and your deeds that wipe away their tears? You are still small for charity. Your mercy is not great, nor is your forgiveness.

49. If you come to take pity on a paralytic abandoned in the stream and you feel it your duty to take him to your house, you first investigate his life, because you say that you do not know who he is. Are you the ones who have listened tirelessly to my lectures? Then you will keep in mind that I, without looking at your stains, have only sought your wounds to heal them with my love. If you aspire to be one of my sowers, you need to know and possess the strength that goodness has; the power that charity contains and the miracles that the heart operates just by feeling or sharing the suffering of others.

50. Beloved disciples: the teaching that you are receiving from Me has been defined for you from lesson to lesson, this light began to manifest in flashes in the year of 1866; but now, in the last days of my communication, it is no longer flashes that come to you, but the light in fullness. In 1950 my word will cease to manifest itself in this form, but the lesson will continue, because it will be later when you delve into my Work, when you discover the divine essence of which I have told you so much and delight in its flavor.

51. I not only want you to testify that you heard me, but that you become my prophets and mark with your fulfillment a time of spirituality; thus, on your footprints of love and goodwill, the generations of the future will come, treading with a firm plant on a certain path.

52. You will find thistles in your path and you will find more stumbles and thorns; but your charity will turn them away from the path so that the multitudes of tomorrow will find the path clean.

53. You know that in all times, the good, the light, the truth, have encountered obstacles in the heart of humanity, however trust in Me, I have told you many times that darkness will not prevail, because it will be the light that triumphs.

54. Humanity is being purified, its cup of bitterness will wash it from its stains so that it will come out clean from its atonement, because the spiritual Kingdom of peace and justice is approaching men.

55. Do you not see how little by little the bonds of fanaticism and idolatry that bind men are being untied? I have come to set you free. Then my light will come in the form of a word to men, and you will see how, being so humble and simple, it will shake them, and how, being so sweet, it will have the power to move the hearts of rock, to make them well the crystalline water of repentance, forgiveness and love.

56. Do not weep, disciples, you will still listen to me for a few more days, a few more drops of the honey that my word pours will still fall on your bitterness, in the meantime, prepare yourselves so that after my departure you can feel my presence.

57. It is the time of meditation, in which you must pray and watch to be attentive to the voice of your God.

58. Sometimes you ask me. Lord, who will be able to awaken all humanity so that it may lift up its spirit to You and feel your presence? And I say to you: Do not be afraid, my Spirit is already touching her so that she wakes up. You cannot realize my works, that is why you have not discovered that awakening that only I contemplate.

59. Everyone is waiting for the light of a new day, the dawn of peace that will be the beginning of a better era. The oppressed are waiting for the day of their liberation, the sick are waiting for a balm that will restore health, strength and joy to them.

60. Blessed are those who know how to wait until the last moment, because they will be given more than what they have lost, I bless that wait, because it is proof of their faith in Me.

61. Now you do not understand many of my words, but the moment will come when the light will be made in your understanding and you will understand the meaning of each of my teachings.

62. My apostles in the Second Time did not understand many of my words the instant they heard them; however, after my departure, when they devoted themselves to study and meditation, they felt how the divine light became in their minds, looking with the utmost clarity at everything that until then had been an impenetrable mystery.

63. So far, when listening to me, you have analyzed my word superficially and what have you found in it? Consolation, balm, caress. Then, when your sores and wounds have been healed and instead of looking to Me for balm for your pains, seek wisdom to comfort your fellow human beings, you will have begun to penetrate the meaning of my teachings.

64. I see that you are praying for the world and I gather the intercession from your heart, the day will come when you will not only pray for those peoples, but also visit them to bring them the sweet message of my word.

1. The voice of my Spirit, echoing in your consciousness, is like the ringing of a bell that invites humanity to meditation,
2. The book of spiritual wisdom waits open for the great multitudes, the great caravans to arrive before it to quench their thirst for light.
3. Taste, taste of my word, whose essence exudes sweetness, wisdom, balm and peace.
4. I come to tell man that he is a stranger to himself because he has not penetrated into his intimacy, because he does not know his secret, because he ignores his essence. Moreover, I want to teach him at this time the content of the Book that for so long had remained closed to him, and in which are kept all the mysteries that from the Second Time I promised to come to clarify with the light of my Spirit.
5. Now it will be when you truly know each other and penetrate into the intimacy of your spirit, then you will be able to say that you begin to know who you are.
6. Man will come to know his origin, his destiny, his mission, his gifts, and all that infinite and eternal life that vibrates around him; he will no longer be able to offend his fellow man, he will no longer be able to attempt against the existence of his brothers, nor will he dare to desecrate anything that surrounds him, because he will have come to understand that everything is sacred. He will come to know what is enclosed and hidden in his spirit and then it will be as soon as he has a clear idea and a deep faith that if the spirit is wonderful, the dwelling that his Father has destined for him in eternity must also be wonderful.
7. You ask me why I did not reveal everything to you from the beginning in order to avoid stumbles, mistakes and falls; and I tell you: you could not have understood my revelations being devoid of spiritual evolution and development. Then the knowledge of my Law was sufficient for you, as the straight path that would lead you to the source of inexhaustible wisdom and eternal revelation. I have been teaching My wisdom over time, over the ages, since being so great, you could not know it in an instant.
8. I possess all the means so that none of my children will be left without the inheritance of my wisdom, since I am the life, the power and the justice. Your spirit came from Me, just as all the dwellings and bodies you need for your spiritual transit and perfection come from Me.

Love one another!

9. Man may fall and sink into darkness and therefore feel alienated from Me, he may believe that when he dies everything is over for him; on the other hand, for Me no one dies, no one is lost.

10. How many there are who in the world passed away as perverse beings and today are full of light! How many who have left as their mark the stain of their sins, their vices and their crimes, have already reached purification!

11. You ask me: Why is the path of the spirit so long and so full of trials? Because the happiness that he will have to enjoy in the perfect Kingdom that awaits him is very great and he must achieve with his merits.

12. The first men, those who were the fathers of humanity, retained for a time the impression that their spirit brought from the spiritual valley, an impression of bliss, peace and delight that was in them while the passions of matter and also the struggle for subsistence did not arise in their life. But I must tell you that the spirit of those men, having come from a mansion of light, was not from the highest abodes, from those to which only by merit you will be able to reach. However, the state of innocence, peace, well-being and health that those spirits preserved in their first steps, was like a time of light, unforgettable, whose testimony they transmitted 'to their children and they to their descendants.

13. The materialized mind of men, confusing the true meaning of that testimony, came to believe that the paradise in which the first men lived was an earthly paradise, without understanding that it was a spiritual state of those creatures.

14. Perchance do you foresee the spiritual abode from which you left to come to Earth? "No, Master, you tell me, we sensed nothing or remembered."

15. Yes, people, it has been so long since you moved away from purity and innocence, that you do not even imagine that existence of peace, that state of well-being; but, now that you are prepared to hear the voice of conscience and receive its revelations from them, you have at your fingertips the path that leads to the Kingdom promised to those who rise to Me; it is not that paradise of peace from which the first departed, but the infinite world of the spirit, the world of wisdom, the paradise of true spiritual bliss, the heaven of love and perfection.

16. If to go from one continent to another of the Earth, you have to cross high and low mountains, by seas, by towns, cities and countries, until you reach the goal of your journey, think that to reach that promised land, you will have to travel a lot, so that in the long transit you will gather experience, knowledge, development and evolution of the spirit. That will be the fruit of the tree of life, which you will finally taste, after having struggled and cried a lot to reach it.

17. Come before the Master, disciples. Sheep: Draw near to your shepherd.

18. The Master is one, the disciples are many, but my teaching, being one, is for all.

19. I come to seek you with infinite love. I have placed so much grace and so many gifts in your spirit, that I am not willing to lose any of my children. You are part of my Spirit, you are something of my being. Is it wrong that I am looking for you with so much eagerness and so much love?

20. Whenever I come down to give you my word, I find you last among the many, they are the ones who ask me the most in their hearts, but I please them by always answering their questions. Today, the last ones ask me what is the purpose of my new coming, to which I answer that the purpose is to enable man to return to his original purity by himself.

21. If in the beginning it was granted to him to pursue the knowledge of life and he was given the free will to act, now, when his spirit can shine as never before in the light of his conscience, and his experience is very great, he hears again the sweet but righteous voice of that Father who told him: "Grow, multiply and lord it over the Earth" and now he says to him: "Return to Me, with your merits".

22. With merits, effort and sacrifices, man will have to return to paradise, from which he left to know many mysteries, to become a worthy son of God in struggle, in pain, in work, in evolution, paradise to which he will have to return to never leave it again.

23. Understand that, in order for this humanity to reach a true knowledge about that return to the pure and the elevated, there will be struggle, upheavals and disturbances in the minds and in the spirit of men. My Doctrine, clear, sweet and persuasive, will show the world the luminous path of return, and, one after another, men will come to Me, but no longer burdened under the weight of the burden of sin, but looking to the heights, with faith in their hearts and a cross of love on their shoulders.

24. The door will be open, and my Spirit, full of love, ready to embrace him in his divine bosom, from which that spirit will never part.

25. Humanity: If it were only instinct that guided all the acts of your life, your Father would not have revealed his Law to you, nor would he have had to come as Redeemer to save you; but you do not depend on your instinct, higher forces govern your actions, and those forces are in the spirit.

Love one another!

26. The spirit enjoys the gift of free will, a means by which he must make merits in order to be saved.

27. Who guides, orients or advises the spirit, during its free journey, to distinguish the lawful from the unlawful and therefore not to get lost? Consciousness.

28. Consciousness is the divine spark, it is a higher light; and it is a force to help man not to sin. What merit would there be in man if conscience had material force to compel him to remain in the good? I want you to know that the merit consists in listening to that voice, in persuading yourself that she never lies or makes mistakes in what she advises and in faithfully obeying her dictates. As you will be able to understand, in order to hear that voice clearly, preparation and concentration on oneself are required. Who practices this obedience in the present times? Answer yourselves.

29. Consciousness has always manifested itself in man; but humanity has not reached the necessary development to guide its whole life by that light. He has had need of laws, teachings, precepts, religions and councils.

30. When men come to penetrate into communion with his spirit, and instead of seeking the spiritual outwardly, they seek it within, they will be able to listen to the soft, persuasive, wise and just voice that was always vibrating in them without being listened to, and they will understand that in consciousness is the presence of God, that it is the true means by which man must communicate with his Father and Creator.

31. The first step towards the regeneration of men, so that they reach a state of spiritual elevation, is charity. Charity to the spirit, charity to the body, charity to fellow men. Moreover, I must tell you that this feeling has not been properly interpreted. Charity is a name that you give to certain actions that you carry out, which in most cases, do not carry in their background piety or a true intention to alleviate a need.

32. Your human feelings are still far from being a reality, that is why you must always keep in mind the words and works of Jesus in the world, as the living and true example of charity.

33. What will become of a spirit when he has covered true charity with forms that contain only hypocrisy? Your awakening will be very painful the day you manage to penetrate into communion with your conscience and listen to that righteous and inexorable voice.

34. How do you want peoples to be reconciled, governments to be unified and wars to cease, if men are deaf to every voice that comes from conscience?

Love one another!

35. How easy it will be for humans to understand each other when they penetrate into meditation and listen to the voice of their higher reason, the voice of that judge whom they do not want to hear, because they know that he orders them to do the exact opposite of what they are doing.

36. I can tell you that if you have not been willing to listen to the dictates of your conscience, neither have you been obedient and meek to practice my doctrine. You recognize it in theory, but you do not put it into practice, you recognize it as divine essence, you say that Christ was very great and that his teaching is perfect; but no one wants to be great like the Master, no one wants to reach Him, truly imitating Him, and you should know that I came, not only so that you would know that I am great, but also so that all of you would be great.

37. Man wants to be saved by not knowing his spiritual nature and that cannot be.

38. What good is it for many to believe in a life after this, if they do not employ their existence in making merits for eternity? All his faith is concretized in knowing that after death, his spirit will go to the afterlife and waits for the last moment to make up for all the lost time and erase all its stains with an act of contrition.

39. Sad mistake, because mistakes can only be repaired with works that require having obeyed the claims of conscience, and time to repair all the sins committed; and as for repentance in those who are about to leave for the spiritual, I tell you that there are few who at that hour mourn for the evils they have caused and that their concern is rather the fear of punishment, sentence or condemnation as they imagine it.

40. Do you really need a doctrine that speaks widely to you, prepares you and opens your eyes to the light, as I do through my word?

41. See how necessary it is that you spread this message to all the places of the earth. With this, you will be doing with your brothers a true work of charity,

42. Erase from men the erroneous impression that spiritual doctrines have been formed based on ignorance, trickery and deception. Present my Doctrine in all its purity and majesty so that it will erase the ignorance, fanaticism and hardness that do not allow humanity to think about its spiritual Self, which has been deprived of all freedom of action.

43. You are running away from the spiritual and do not think that you will soon be spirit; but it is not always your ignorance that is to blame, but those who guide you.

Love one another!

44. They have inverted your sense of essential values, to the point of believing that the truth is in the opposite of the truth.

45. Do you not sometimes take material objects as if they were divine? Do you not grant eternity to passing goods? You think you have understood Christ and you don't even know Him.

46. Have I come to give you proofs of greatness by using the riches or powers of the earth for this? Jesus came without material riches, he appeared in the world in the most absolute poverty, He was great in terms of his works, his word, his doctrine; but never in terms of his superficial appearance.

47. Why should he take the goods of the earth, if these were created by the Father for human creatures? What could I need from this Nature when it is she who nourishes Me?

48. I came to show you the beauty of a life superior to the human one, to inspire you with lofty works, to teach you the word that lavishes love, to announce to you the unknown happiness, that which awaits the spirit who has been able to climb the mountain of sacrifice, of faith and of love.

49. All this you must recognize in my Teaching, so that at last you will understand that it is your works that will bring your spirit closer to true happiness.

50. When the first lesson has been understood and then executed, it will yield a pleasant fruit, which will stimulate you to take the next step.

51. Today a new stage is opening up to the world in which man will seek greater freedom for his thought, in which he will strive to break the chains of slavery that his spirit has dragged down. It is the time when you will see the peoples crossing the barriers of fanaticism in search of spiritual sustenance and true light, and I tell you that anyone who for a moment came to experience the happiness of feeling free to meditate, to search and practice, will never voluntarily return to his captivity, because his eyes have already contemplated the light, and his spirit was ecstatic at the divine revelations.

52. People: Before the wars end in the world, my Law of love will touch all the spirits, although today you cannot know in what way.

53. This message of spiritual light will also come, but it will be when you are strong. No one dares to say that this Work is the truth if he is not convinced of it, because no one will believe you; but if your faith is absolute and your conviction true, no one will prevent you from bringing the Good News to all hearts.

Love one another!

54. Humanity: You have always sensed the existence of invisible beings who wander through space, who-sometimes they approach you, who surround you and thinking that they may be suffering spirits, you have tried to do something for them. The intention has been good, but you have always lacked the knowledge to make that charity effective. Until now, you have not known the true way to make light in troubled beings or prisoners of remorse.

55. You have offered them ceremonies and material gifts and, although you have managed to calm their hearts, they have received nothing, because the world no longer belongs to them, it no longer reaches them. These beings are looking for spiritual charity, comfort, love, understanding, but how can we offer them spiritual help? My word also comes to enlighten you on how to give charity to those whom you do not even contemplate.

56. If you really want to do good to your spiritual brothers and sisters by getting rid of their bad influences at the same time, you should pray for them, with heartfelt prayer, full of piety, and high thoughts. If you feel that in your human life they manifest themselves in some way, present to them good examples and good works, so that in them they may take light for their spirit. Let them see you heal the sick, let them see you forgive those who have offended them, let them see noble ideas shine in your mind, let them hear only good words on your lips.

57. What missions will you have to fulfill with them and they with you? What debts have you contracted with each other? You do not know it, but in truth I tell you that it is not chance that puts them in step with men, there is always a reason for them to approach their brothers.

58. It will be very pleasant for your spirit to be received by them upon your arrival in the spiritual valley, receiving signs of gratitude for the charity you gave them and it will be great your joy to see them flooded with light; but how painful it will be to meet that legion of beings, darkened by confusion and to know that they expected a charity from you and you did not give it to them. Meditating on this responsibility, are you willing to put into practice the knowledge that I give you in this lesson? See that in it I am not authorizing you to materialize those beings in any way, on the contrary, I inspire you the way to lead them towards spirituality by offering them the example of a virtuous and clean life and to remove from them their confusion and darkness through your prayers, whose thoughts and ideas make light in their understandings.

59. Jacob, revealed to you with his dream the existence of the spiritual ladder by which beings ascended and descended without ceasing. Who has understood its content? Who has solved his mystery? There, in the sense of that figure contemplated by the patriarch, is the evolution of spirits, the incessant reincarnation of spiritual creatures in men, the restitution and atonement of beings, the communication of God with man and the communication of spirit to Spirit.

60. It is necessary that you know this message so that you may give a just interpretation to the revelations of the past times.

61. Look how many stages have to pass over the spirits for them to get to the bottom of my teachings.

PEACE BE UPON YOU!

Teaching 288

1. I descend to your heart, for he is my sanctuary. My word comes to prepare you for the journey that you will have to undertake. This preparation is spiritual and is in accordance with the mission that you are going to carry out.
2. In the First time, when the people were already ready to leave the Egypt of their captivity and their trials, to go after the desert to the Promised Land, he foresaw and prepared everything. He had the staff, the sandal and the saddlebag ready, so that nothing was missing on the walk.
3. In the same way, you must now warn yourselves and prepare yourselves, so that nothing will be missing on the journey.
4. But do not forget that that people not only provided themselves with food for the long journey, but also remembered to pray, to do penance to purify themselves and to form the purpose of always remaining united, forming one family. If you want to know why that people, despite their many trials and vicissitudes, managed to penetrate the Land of promise, I tell you that it was because of their faith, their prayer and their union.
5. That spiritual seed is among you. Why shouldn't you take that example as a norm to reach the new goal?
6. You well know that it is not the desert of sand that awaits you, but humanity; it is not a land on the beam of this world that you will seek, but the homeland of the spirit, which is beyond the human.
7. Truly I tell you, Israel will arise again to be like a torch in the midst of humanity.
8. I am awakening you to know that you are my children, that you are part of that people of peace, light and spirituality.
9. Let your heart feel everything that affects or afflicts humanity. Pray for the peace of all, make your thoughts shine in the minds of others, I bless in advance those who fulfill their mission of loving and serving their brothers.
10. I want your presence in the world to be to give peace, to console, to attract blessings on your brothers.
11. Now you are still infants before my Teaching and you are cowed by the struggle when you contemplate how pain, vice, misery, selfishness has spread. In those moments, when your conscience demands fulfillment, work and spiritual activity from you, and when your heart timidly asks: "What should I do in the face of so much confusion?" Why do you fear and why do you doubt, people? Look at how my word prepares you, how life gives you practical lessons at every step, and also how struggle and trials give you the indispensable courage for the day that is approaching.

Love one another!

12. I am not sending you to perform a mission for which you are not sufficiently qualified. I will continue to teach you and when you are strong, I will tell you: take up the cross and follow in my footsteps. In the meantime, if you can only pray, pray for your brothers and sisters; if you know how to heal the sick, bring them comfort; if you have the desire to improve your morals, do it; but do something for the benefit of your spirit, which will serve as a preparation for when the moment comes to affirm the step on the way and take up the cross.

13. Now, that you are not yet consecrated to your spiritual mission, but that you have the desire to do something for the benefit of your fellow men, I advise you to pray, so that you may come to know the virtue and the power that prayer has, and acquire this light before your struggle begins.

14. He who is inspired by prayer is invincible in trials and does wonders before his brothers.

15. I want this people, widely doctinated by Me, to come to practice the perfect prayer, the one that puts them in communication with the spiritual kingdom, so that later they teach their brothers to pray, explaining them clearly and showing them how much experience they have gathered on their way.

16. Why imprison your thought within the earthly orb, when it has a world of light beyond the material? Why subject the spirit to human life, if he has an infinite space beyond your gaze and your mind?

17. Those worlds of thought and of the spirit are virgin, since you did not want to reach them, because you did not know how to pray.

18. Thought and spirit, united in prayer, create in man a force superior to all human strength.

19. In prayer the weak is strengthened, the coward is clothed with courage, the ignorant is enlightened, the clumsy is cleared.

20. The spirit, when he has managed to harmonize with the mind to achieve true prayer, becomes an invisible soldier, who, momentarily turning away from what touches his being, moves to other places, frees himself from the influence of matter and gives himself up to his struggle to do good, to conjure evils and dangers, to bring a flash of light, a drop of balm or a breath of peace to those in need.

21. For all that I tell you, understand how much you will be able to do with the spirit and with the mind in the midst of the chaos that has enveloped this humanity. You are in a world of mixed thoughts and ideas, where passions throb for materialism and spirits sail through darkness.

22. Only the one who, through prayer, has learned to rise in thought and spirit to the regions of light, to the abodes of peace, will be able to penetrate the world of strife, where all human passions are reflected, without being defeated and leaving instead something of benefit for those who have needed the light of the spirit.

23. Prepare yourselves, beloved disciples, and I will allow you to penetrate into that world of pain and misery. There, your spirit will arrive as my emissary making light.

24. If from this world you can look and know all this, why wait to be in spirit? Do not wait for the days and times to pass by without contributing to the advancement and liberation of your spirit. Do what's on your side and I'll do the rest.

25. I am power, therefore, one of your thoughts, one of your prayers I can transform it into something tangible and visible before your brothers.

26. Is it true that in order to work in this way, you will actually carry an angel of peace at the bottom of your being? And what would this people be if all of them prepared and united with true harmony and fraternity in this spiritual struggle? It would be an army that would fight to achieve the salvation of humanity.

27. Verily I tell you that if you were already united in spirit, in thought and in intention, your prayer alone would suffice to stop the nations that are preparing the hour to launch themselves against each other; you would destroy hatreds, you would be an obstacle to all the evil projects of your brothers, you would be like an invisible sword overcoming the strong, and like a shield defending the weak. Humanity, faced with these revealing tests of a higher power, would stop for a moment to meditate and this meditation would avoid many of the great touches and tests that through Nature and its elements will have to receive.

28. The sacred Tree of Science will shake before the fury of the hurricane and will drop its fruits on humanity. But who has loosed the chains of those elements, but men? .It is good that the first beings have known pain, in order to awaken to reality, to be born in the light of consciousness and to conform to a Law; but the evolved, conscious and developed man of this time, why dare he desecrate the Tree of Life?

Love one another!

29. The life of the first beings was wrapped up in that parable that reveals to you how man lost the paradise of innocence in which he lived and how he renounced a life of contemplation and peace, for a world of struggle, work, evolution and merits: All this was within what it should be, within the plans of the Creator. That renunciation was necessary so that the spirit would awaken to the voice of his conscience that is divine light inside man and he would begin his path making merits, ascending from the lowest plane to the highest, destined to the spirit by the Creator;

30. It is so true that everything was planned for when man took his first step in the struggle for life, for the evolution and elevation of his being, that from the first moment, since the first needs appeared in his path, he had before him a world, a Nature, a life within his reach, like a beautiful, inciting and sweet fruit, but whose content would give him infinite lessons of wisdom, love and justice.

31. How much shade and how much fruit the tree of Life and of Science has given to man! Why then, now that there is an evolved humanity in the world, does it seem blind by provoking the very elements that have given it life, and shaking the tree that has never denied it the fruit of wisdom? I will tell you why: It is that man has ceased to pray and, ceasing to pray, has forgotten what corresponds to the life of the spirit. Once consecrated to life on Earth, his greatest ideal, his greatest ambition has been to be powerful, rich, wise, absolute lord, and all this has dragged him into the abyss, because he has gone after an ephemeral glory.

32. I want you to have longings, to be ambitious, to dream of being great, strong and wise, but of the eternal goods of the spirit, because to achieve those goods requires all the virtues such as charity, humility, forgiveness, patience, nobility; in a word: love. And all the virtues elevate, purify and perfect the spirit. In this small world, in this passing abode, man, in order to be great, powerful, rich or wise, has had to be selfish, false, vindictive, cruel, indifferent, inhuman and proud, and all this has had to lead him to the opposite extreme, of what is truth, love, peace, true wisdom and justice.

33. What will happen when men realize that their inordinate love for the world and their worship of the earthly has led them to painful failure? They will try to find the lost way, to search for the principles and laws from which they had departed and in that search, doctrines will be created, precepts will be advised, philosophies, ideas and theories will arise. All this will be the beginning of a new and great battle, no longer promoted by petty ambitions of terrestrial power. It will no longer be fratricidal weapons that follow lives, destroying homes or spilling human blood; the combat will be different, because then the great religions will fight against the new doctrines and the new religions.

Love one another!

34. Who will win in this battle? No religion will be victorious in that contest, just as in this fratricidal war that you are suffering today, no people will be triumphant.

35. My justice will prevail over the war to obtain material predominance and later, over that new battle to achieve the imposition of some doctrine or some religion, my truth will prevail.

36. The only and supreme truth will shine like the light of lightning on a stormy night and everyone, from the place where he is, will contemplate that divine radiance.

37. In the meantime, you, people, will have time to advance along the paths, manifesting yourselves at the step of your brothers as messengers, precursors and prophets of the heavenly light.

38. While some clear the roads of obstacles, others will sow the spiritual seed and others will fight for my message to reach the ends of the earth.

39. Sometimes your presence and your word will increase the confusion of men; but once this seed is sown, sooner or later it will germinate, because having divine origin, it cannot die as the seed of the earth dies if it is not cultivated.

40. There will be no redeemers or judges among you, but through you, I will be able to redeem and judge. You will pass through the roads and enter the regions as servants of your Father, as disciples.

41. If you truly come to practice humility and charity, your works, your words and your thoughts, despite their simplicity, "will touch the spirit of those who have lacked the truth in some way.

42. In your path you will find those who, claiming to represent me, do not prove it with their works; you will discover the impotence in men of science considered wise; you will convince yourselves of the absence of justice among judges and the false greatness of the powerful. All this and much more your eyes will see; but in spite of this, you will judge nothing because that is not your mission.

43. My charity will take you there so that your heart, sincerely moved by human miseries and weaknesses, overflows like balm the love that I have placed in your spirit.

44. If you see that other brothers of yours are teaching the name and the word of Christ, do not despise them, because it was written that my New Coming would take place when the word that I brought to you at that Second Time had spread throughout the whole earth. And I tell you that there are still places in the world to receive that message. How could these peoples understand this essentially spiritual Doctrine, without having received the divine seed of love that the Redeemer tells you in his word and in his blood?

Love one another!

45. My message will reach everyone and you will all reach Me. I have everything prepared for the times to come and my will will be done in everyone, because I am the owner of the spirits, of the worlds, of the races and of the peoples.

46. A world of spirits is just waiting for the time to come and inhabit this valley. They are beings of light who will not disdain to come to incarnate in the bosom of the backward peoples, because their mission will be precisely that of awakening those who sleep.

47. When these great legions of spirits of light are found inhabiting the Earth, disseminated and distributed by the wisdom of the Father, the rapprochement between men will begin to be noticed, the desire for understanding, harmony and peace. It will be seen how a people joins other peoples, as an indication of the universal unification that all my children will have to reach

48. Who will be able to change my plans or make me fail in what I have arranged? Everything within the human has its limit, therefore I tell you that you are already reaching the limit of the misuse that you have made of the gift of free will.

49. The dizzying career of man has brought him quickly to that end, and justice he himself will do through the fruit of his own works.

50. Who among those who have listened to me and who therefore knows the plans of the Lord can be troubled or confused by what is happening daily in the world? And who, who has heard me, will be able to remain indifferent, inactive or mute in the midst of a world in need of spiritual guidance, which is the same as saying of higher morality?

51. My justice and my love are stronger than the wickedness of men, so I tell you that my will will be done over everyone.

52. When peace among men is about to be made and humanity returns to understand the value of prayer and vigil, you will know that I am the Tree of Life on whose branches, extended to infinity, you will be able to see the arms of the master, open as on that cross, where he poured all his blood for you, engraving in the consciences those words that said "I am Life, he who comes to Me will never die".

53. You are the seed with which I will form the new people of Israel, the people who will give shade to the world and bring it fruits of spiritual life.

54. You are still very clumsy and timid, your faith is scarce and your knowledge reduced, proof of this is that so far no patriarchs have emerged whose virtue, zeal in my Law and goodness, give life to a people, like those righteous and upright men who gave shape and name and Israel in its earliest times. Remember Abraham, a guide who managed to make all the congregations one family; Moses, who with his faith, his strength and his love, knew how to unite the Israelite tribes into one people.

Love one another!

55. The gift of clairvoyance has been poured out among you and yet the voice of your prophets is barely heard, because it is still very weak and insecure.

56. In order for Me to speak to you in this way and so that I may expect from you works that may remain as an example for future generations, I have first made you travel the path of evolution by providing you with the means to be able to develop, sending you to Earth one time after another to gather experience that is light and to accustom you in trials, which are spiritual elevation.

57. Do any of you believe that your present existence is the first one that lives on Earth? No, people, if it were so, I would not have looked for you in this Third Time.

58. Your present life is one more of the spiritual development trips that you have made to this world. I forgive your doubt because it is not of the spirit, but comes from matter.

59. You will be the poorest among humanity, you may be considered among the rude and ignorant; your work will not have transcended until now, your worship will be something indefinite; but already judged spiritually by Me, I tell you again that I had some reason to choose you for my manifestation and my revelations.

60. With the chisel of my word I am shaping your spirit, your heart and your understanding, giving you enough knowledge so that your confidence in yourselves becomes great, knowing who you are, who you come from, what you have been sent into the world for and what your goal is.

61. I have spoken to you about knowledge and confidence so that you place yourselves in the right term that is the one that your conscience teaches you, because although you should not believe yourself inferior, confusing humility with lack of confidence in yourselves, you should not believe yourself superior to anyone, because vanity, pride and arrogance are not typical of spirits of light, but of spirits who have dazzled themselves before the light.

62. You already know, then, that you are travelers and that on this occasion you had the joy of receiving my message and of being the transmitters, the interpreters and spokespersons of my communication.

Love one another!

63. No uncertainty or doubt regarding your spiritual mission can attack you; everything is said, everything is traced as a path full of clarity, you only need to strengthen yourselves in prayer and in the practice of my teaching so that you fully penetrate the path that the patriarchs, the guides, the prophets, the disciples, the apostles, the true witnesses of God have traveled.

64. From all the points of the Earth I will raise up the children of this spiritualist people, because I repeat to you that this people has no race or human origin, it is a spiritual legion, whose number is continually being renewed; so that there will always be those in the world who receive from spirit to Spirit my inspiration.

65. Physically you will not be able to discover those who are members of this people; only by their spirituality and the development of their gifts and attributes will you be able to recognize them.

66. What is the essential mission of this people, emissary of the Lord? To free humanity from all slavery, whether of the spirit or of thought; to remind it of the Law, to remind it of the divine promises, to admonish it in its errors, to exhort it to the good, to lead it to the Promised Land, which is the kingdom of love, wisdom and peace, where all beings, all peoples and all worlds, will come to form a single family: "The family of God".

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. Humanity: How little you do on your part to come to live in peace!
2. I can tell you that most men have religions and that despite all of them teaching fraternity, no one lives according to the teaching they have received, no one puts into practice the laws, precepts and maxims that have been written on their conscience. There are those who, in order not to submit to any religious creed, have left their thoughts free, believing themselves to be outside of precepts and laws; but that cannot be, because through their observations, their sciences and definitions, they have come to know that in everything and everywhere there is manifested a power, a harmony, a law and a wise, just and loving Doctrine, from which no one will be able to flee.
3. This humanity, after living in disunity for so many centuries, after all the painful and bitter experiences it has had, is able to understand that the union between all peoples, the harmony between all men, will not be able to be based on material interests, nor take strength in earthly values. At last he will understand that only the high spirit can be the firm foundation, the unshakable stone on which the peace of men rests.
4. If all peoples in one way or another divide, wage war and judge each other, this means that none of them comply with what God and His Law have taught them and, therefore, they are out of the truth.
5. Truth is respect for everything, because everything is sacred, it is love, it is harmony, it is charity, it is the law that governs conscience.
6. To perfect the spirit, it is necessary to go beyond simple human duties and even above religions, to reach the source where they all abound and look face to face with the truth.
7. The one who manages to reach the top of the mountain and contemplates that splendor, when he descends to continue living with his brothers, has to be more forgiving, more understanding and more charitable in his judgments. This is an element ready to harmonize and unite everyone.
8. Meditate and you will understand that the unification you need is spiritual, which you will achieve when you rise above your passions and your fanaticisms.
9. How can you create peace when everyone is proclaiming his own as the only true and fighting at the same time that of others, as false?
10. Fanaticism is darkness, it is blindness, it is ignorance and its fruits can never be of light.

11. You are approaching the great test, through which you will all awaken to reality.
12. Your heart asks me why I often speak to you of trials and great events, and I tell you that you are at the gates of a time of bitterness, and it is better to be forewarned, watching and praying, than sleeping in your lethargy.
13. There are those who are never satisfied with what I speak; if I present to you in my word the times of peace and prosperity that belong to the future, you judge my prophecy to be impossible to fulfill, and if I speak to you of the times of trials and bitterness, you believe that they are simple threats to reduce you to fulfillment through fear.
14. Those who receive my word in this way are the ones who sail on the sea of doubt; because whoever has faith in this message, always analyzes it with the noble intention of extracting some utility from it.
15. Disciples: In that Second Time, three years were enough to deliver my message to humanity and in the end, as you all know, I sealed the message with my sacrifice. Truly I tell you that that sacrifice was not an offering to the Father, Who does not need blood offerings, but to humanity, which did need a proof of love of such magnitude.
16. And or I taught you to love one another; but not only as humans, but also as spirits, with eternal love. I came to open for you the path that leads from this world to the spiritual Realm that you were looking at behind a dense veil of mystery. My Doctrine, from its first word to the last, was the preparation that I came to give you for when I came in Spirit, just as I announced it to you to open the Arcanum again, untie the sealed book, and make you penetrate the light of spiritual knowledge.
17. The life of the spirit, which exists beyond your material world, could not and should not be a mystery to man. The Father, contemplating your need to know, began his lesson through the gift of revelation and inspiration, manifesting himself in infinite forms. Moreover, that lesson began since the first man existed and has not ceased until the present.
18. If you believe that up to now I have come to reveal something of the spiritual life to you, you are in grave error, because I say to you again: The divine teaching began when the first man was born, and I am not exaggerating if I tell you that my lesson began with the formation of spirits, before the world was.
19. Do you think that the past teachings were intended to reveal to you only human lessons? For this you were given the gift of science. Or peradventure do you think that the commandments of the first times and the Doctrine that I brought you in the Second, were only to teach you to live in the world? Look for the essence of those inspirations and you will find that the purpose was to show you the way that leads to eternal life, to the immortality of the spirit.

20. I have called "Spiritualism" the revelation that tells you about the life of the spirit, that teaches you to communicate directly, with your Father, and elevates you above material life.

21. Truly I tell you that Spiritualism is not new, nor does it belong to this time, but it has been a revelation that has been unfolding, in accordance with the spiritual evolution of humanity.

22. If Spiritualism is the Doctrine that I am giving you, which teaches you the perfect love for God and for your fellow men, and offers you the way that leads to perfection, Spiritualism was also what the Law of God taught you in the First Time and the word of Christ in the Second Time.

23. This revelation has seemed new to you, because I have brought you lessons that you did not know, you have been dazzled by so much wisdom, but this is because you are approaching the fullness of time in which the spirit of man will achieve his liberation, his elevation and his predominance over matter.

24. Let no one say, then, that the spiritual life was a mystery before I came in this Third Time to clarify it with my new revelations, I repeat to you that throughout the ages, many teachings were given to you although you did not know how to understand them.

25. It is only now that men begin to be interested in discovering and deciphering how much the revelations of past times contain in order to relate them to the events of the present.

26. Disciples: You already know then that when you say "Spiritualism," you are talking about the spiritual revelation that your God has made to you throughout the ages.

27. On tiptoe, like a thief, I have penetrated among you surprising your dream.

28. At all times, upon my arrival, I have found humanity sleeping. A few hearts, like weak lamps, have been the ones that have been awake, waiting for me.

29. People: It is enough that you meditate a little on your past, so that you may obtain the fruit of experience and then try not to fall into mistakes and ingratitude again.

30. If I were to ask you what happened to that page that I wrote with my blood in the Second Half, you would have to be silent, because your conscience will tell you that you have never lived the Doctrine that Jesus taught, that his words, like leaves detached from the Tree of Life, you have let the winds take them away, instead of it being your heart that picked them up.

Love one another!

31. Verily I say to you, you have already penetrated into that era which I announced as that of "The Consummation of the times." It was one of judgment, of restitution and restoration.

32. By the mouth of the prophets of ancient times I announced this Era to you and by the lips of these spokesmen, new prophets of my word, I have come to speak to you and to fulfill many of those predictions.

33. My word is so clear, you will understand me. Your conscience, which was not heard before, today is enveloping your entire being, ready to bend the impulses of the flesh.

34. My new apostolate will penetrate the saving boat, from where he will stretch out his hand to rescue the shipwrecked, in the sea of human passions,

35. I have chosen you to begin to form my people, but there are designs that for now you cannot know. I only tell you that there is a light in your spirit that allows you to discover, among so many paths, the true one, hence the responsibility of the children of light, before humanity. Understand why in every lesson I ask you to rise, to climb to the top of the mountain, because only by reaching that height, you will be able to contemplate what is happening in the world, listen to the incessant lament of humanity and feel its immense bitterness.

36. Whoever does not feel the pain of his fellow man will not be able to relieve it, disciples. That is why I want you to meditate on your fellow human beings in your prayers, because these are the moments when your spirit can collect many tears, causing the heart to awaken to piety, understanding, charity and tenderness.

37. My people need elevation because they do not yet make the pain of humanity their own; they cry, but they cry for themselves, for their needs, for their afflictions.

38. Why do you remain cold before my word? Am I offering you an unknown kingdom? Behold, the kingdom of which I am now speaking to you is the same one that I promised you in the Second Time.

39. Think that these are the last lessons that you are listening to and that you must keep in the innermost depths of your heart, so that you may continue to hear the sonorous echo of my word after the time of this communication and preserve its essence.

40. If for an instant you uncork the veil that prevents your mind from knowing your past, in truth I tell you that you would fall prostrate before my presence, overwhelmed with repentance before your ingratitude, disobedience, infidelities and lack of faith in my Work; but the merit is in developing intuition, in listening to conscience; in developing the being that vibrates in you and that is called: "Spirit",

41. When you are free of matter, you begin to dwell in the spiritual valley, that veil that prevented you from looking into the past, will fall from your eyes and you will see everything with clear clarity, you will remember everything and you will understand it, but I tell you again that the merit for your spirit consists in having faith and not expecting to see or touch in order to believe.

42. Think, analyze these words spiritually, because in them you will find my inexorable, but always loving justice manifested.

43. I am the Shepherd who gives freedom to his flock, but up to a certain limit, not letting his sheep jump the forbidden fence, behind which is pain.

44. I keep you, I take care of you and I bring you back to the fold.

45. You have had one opportunity after another, and in this you can understand my infinite love for you, because I have given you and granted your being the opportunity to repair mistakes, purify and perfect your spirit, instead of punishing or condemning you eternally as you used to think before.

46. Who who knows these lessons and has faith that they contain a truth, would dare to depart from his mission in the world, knowing that by doing so he is preparing an even harsher restitution for his spirit? For while it is true that my justice offers you new opportunities to erase stains and repair mistakes, it is also true that at each opportunity the number of trials increases, and that the labors and sufferings are more intense every time, as the mistakes committed were more intense.

47. Your duty, not to mention punishment, will be to repair, restore, restore and pay off to the last amount. No one, neither your Heavenly Father, nor your brothers on Earth or in the spiritual valley, will do what only you should do, although I must tell you that I will always come to your call, that when you look lonely or abandoned, you will feel my presence and that the spiritual world will always come to help you, with the weight of your cross.

48. My Divine Ray becomes a word among you, but its light spreads in the Universe.

49. Rest, humanity, I have granted you a truce every seven days so that you pray and take strength meditating on, my Law.

Love one another!

50. Here I am, visiting you all without distinguishing you by religions. I am the Divine Doctor of bodies and spirits, I seek the sick to pour out my consolation on them.

51. My voice descends on all humanity, although in truth I tell you that few are those who know how to listen to it.

52. It is my Doctrine that comes to teach you to prepare yourselves to listen in infinity to the voice of the Lord, through the communication of Spirit to spirit.

53. People who hear my word humanized: Know that it is you who will carry this message throughout the world, causing men to destroy the chains of fanaticism and materiality, which have prevented them from rising up and contemplating my light. No matter that when you arrive before your brothers my communication through the human understanding has ceased, my essence will flow from your heart converted into a word of wisdom and a balm, as the best testimony of my truth.

54. Your mission will be to teach, opening paths to spirituality, putting your brothers in contact with eternal life, bringing them closer to the truth.

55. Disciples: Learn to lift yourselves up so that later you may teach what it means to let go of materiality, of the superfluous and useless, so that you may teach how to cross the dense clouds of darkness and find the divine light that is the sustenance and life of the spirit.

56. On that elevation is the struggle announced as the Great Battle in which all of you will participate, even the weak, the ignorant and the dead, because from that test you will all come out enlightened and clean.

57. My Kingdom is coming, but I want to reign over the living and not the dead, I want to be loved, understood and obeyed as befits a true king.

58. Now the struggle is in its fullness; men have challenged my strength and my justice, they have incessantly wanted to measure their weapons with mine and I have accepted the challenge, because I love them. I must fight against their sin in order to overcome it, because by overcoming them I will have saved them from their perturbation.

59. In the struggle deities will collapse, minds will be confused, bodies will bend as reeds bend before the fury of the hurricane; but in the end, the purified spirit will arise and full of light, he will not die, it is impossible that in combat he dies, because I have told you that I am life, that I am the Father and God of the living and not of the dead.

Love one another!

60. Only one door will remain open for the salvation of men: that of spirituality, he who wants to be saved will have to leave his pride, his false greatness, his low passions, his selfishness.

61. Very, beloved will be the chalice that men will have to drink in the great battle, however, I tell you: Blessed are those who drink from that chalice and, once purified, leave the Earth, because when they return in other bodies to this world, their message will be of light, peace and wisdom.

62. The lament that is heard from the inhabitants of this planet is very great. The oppressed and those who dream of peace, expect that from the men called great, those lights of harmony and freedom will arise, to which I tell you that those hearts that live waiting for Me would better rise in prayer to Me, because freedom and peace only I can give it. I tell you again that as long as men do not know the origin, the essence and the purpose of their destiny, or that knowing it, they do not believe in that truth that they carry in themselves, they will not be able to have peace, because they will not be able to love each other as true brothers in God.

63. Hard, very hard is the humanity of this time, increasingly insensitive to the spiritual. Hear my word, it is like a chisel that patiently comes to polish your heart and yet from listening to it so often, see how insensitive you are. I will persevere with you until I utter the last word that this message contains. That, when I cease speaking to you, you may find in all that my word has revealed to you, a true and perfect Doctrine.

64. Come and drink from this fountain, O people, for I have taken you as seed to cause generations to sprout up from you to love me.

65. Verily I tell you that spirituality will also be inherited, for which you should take care to transmit to your children purity and sensitivity for the spiritual; they will thank you, because you knew how to have charity, giving them a healthy body of passions, a clear mind, a sensitive heart and a spirit awake to the call of their conscience.

66. You are all invited to be part of God's people! It is a lie that some are children of this people and others are not! You all have one origin: God. I invite you all to be part of his hosts, I want to see you all among his ranks. My people are the son of light, the apostle of peace, the heir of my wisdom, in their bosom all my children fit.

67. Disciples, listen to me without fatigue, so that it may not weigh you down at the moment of my departure that you have not heeded my call.

Love one another!

68. I want that hour to find you praying, full of anointing, love and gratitude. Thus, in that atmosphere of spirituality, recollection and understanding, you will let my communication end between you by thanking your Father for the teachings he gave you.

69. My voice will resonate in your conscience and make you feel deep sadness; but it will not be the voice of a dying person who speaks to you, but that of a Father who sends you to fulfill a delicate task and is waiting for your return to hold you with love. I tell you everything, this, so that there will be no mourning in your heart when my word ceases. Remember that all those who in the Second Time mourned for the death of the Master, were soon surprised to see him ascending gloriously, full of life and light, because his dwelling was not among the dead,

70. I will only let you cry on the last day of my communication, if your tears are of remorse at the lost time and the missed lessons.

71. Who, of those who have listened to my word in the Third Time, is unaware that the last day of 1950 is the moment marked by the Father's will for this communication to cease? No one, because in all these precincts and in innumerable ways I have made it known to you.

72. It is not that the divine and the spiritual are subject to material time, nor that the evolution of your spirit is measured by the clock or the calendar; it is that, being in matter and being small to experience the completion of a spiritual stage or the arrival of a new era, I have to humanize and materialize to a certain limit the spiritual to put it within your reach.

73. Now I ask you, disciples, do you wish to feel my presence spiritually and intensely after my departure? The condition will be that you are fraternally united, if this is not the case, you will not be able to perceive my presence, nor enjoy the strength that emanates from that spiritual sensation.

74. Do you want to receive spiritually the answer to everything that you could not understand at this time? Be careful and you will be able to hear my answer.

75. There will come moments of solitude and silence, that will be for you to rise in prayer to Me, but there will be moments when you will have the feeling of not having found Me and it will be for you to rise even more; however, if despite this, you still do not perceive the presence of my Spirit, wait, do not fear, because it is the test for your faith and for your spirituality. Persevere, because at the least expected moment I will arrive, vibrant as a ray of light to settle in your mind and in your heart saying to you: "Blessed are you, because you trusted that the master cannot miss any call".

Love one another!

76. Fortitude, faith and patience will be virtues that must always be in you, because the time of the struggle of ideas, of the war of creeds and of the spiritual battle is approaching and it is better that you have strengthened yourselves in practice and in experience and not only in the knowledge of my Doctrine.

77. People: My lecture is over, stay for a few moments in the spiritual valley, and from it send your thoughts to all the peoples of the Earth, where your brothers struggle, suffer and also hope for salvation.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. God is light, love, justice, everyone who manifests these attributes in his life, will be representing and honoring his Lord.
2. Everyone, from the smallest and humblest to the highest, should know what justice, love and wisdom are. You are all obliged to understand that the Divine Law is immutable, so that you may love it without asking it to change your destiny.
3. Know that if your Father, the Creator, never alters one of His laws, you have not the slightest right to do so.
4. Your spirit is happy, because now it has managed to evolve, because every time it comes to Earth to incarnate, it brings a knowledge of past lives and the light it receives in the spiritual valley, is experience, is a beacon that illuminates its path of evolution.
5. The knowledge of life is the true science, it is the eternal light of the spirit and all that accumulated experience is science that you are acquiring.
6. In the end, the only treasure that the spirit preserves will be the knowledge acquired in the struggle, so I tell you that this light, which is your inheritance, you should not waste it on superfluous works, only on what is good, high and noble. A similarity of this that I tell you, you can find it in the currency of the world, which well applied is blessing and instead, squandered, only brings evils.
7. You must also learn not to despair when purification passes slowly, because it is then that many of the virtues of the spirit become acrisolate in the heart, it is when man can discover in himself the true prayer, the one that goes from spirit to Spirit, silent, silent. There you can hear the voice of your inner being, of that spirit that being yours you do not know him. I have to form an army with this people and I have to make many of you leaders, but not leaders in terms of material strength, not for murderous war, but soldiers to break through to the light, to overcome with peace and persuasion, to destroy, yes, but to destroy the harmful and build for the good.
8. In your heart, you say, "God is justice"; then I ask you: if you understand that God is perfect justice and wisdom, why do you sometimes pretend that the divine laws are modified?
9. You judge superficially, as if you were children, ignoring that the trials that plague you are your own doing. So, when they are unleashed on you, you want them to move away, that the plans be changed so as not to suffer, to stop rushing the bitter cup. It is that you cannot penetrate with your spiritual sight into reality, to understand that everything you collect is what you have sown and that all pain that comes to you is because you have attracted it.

10. No, you have not been able to penetrate the truth, and that is why when pain overwhelms your heart, you believe yourselves victims of a divine injustice, and I tell you that there cannot be even the slightest injustice in God.

11. The love of God is unalterable, immutable and eternal, so those who believe that the Divine Spirit can be possessed by anger, anger and anger, make a serious mistake; these weaknesses are only conceivable in human beings when they lack the elevation of the spirit and mastery over the passions.

12. Sometimes you say to me: "Lord, why do we have to pay consequences for works that are not ours and why do we have to come to gather the bitter fruit that others have cultivated? To which I answer you, that of this you know nothing, because you do not know who you were before and what your deeds have been.

13. How have all those who preach a doctrine of fear, punishment and ignorance falsified the truth of my righteousness? Do you know the reason for this attitude? Because they need to have supremacy over others, because they do not know humility and instead have a lot of vanity to name themselves possessors of the truth and favorites over others.

14. They preach ignorance and fear lest they lose their privileged place.

15. Only my light and my mercy will be able to save the great multitudes, from the abyss and darkness to which they are led.

16. I rebuke those who preach a blind faith, a faith without knowledge, a faith acquired by fears and superstitions.

17. Do not listen to the words of those who attribute to God all the evils that afflict humanity, all the plagues, famines and plagues, calling them punishments or wrath of God. These are the false prophets.

18. Turn away from them because they do not know me and want to teach men what God is like.

19. Here you have the fruit of the misinterpretation that has been given to the scriptures of the past times, whose divine language has not yet been found at the bottom of the human language with which the revelations and prophecies were written. Many are talking about the end of the world, the last judgment, death and hell, without knowing an atom of the truth.

Love one another!

20. I, who knew the need for light that men would come to experience, promised them at that time to return, telling them that I would send them the Spirit of Truth, a promise that I have fulfilled and that is fulfilled at every step, every day and in each one of you. But if you said to those who claim to interpret everything, "Know that the Master has come in the Spirit to speak to you about his Doctrine," do you think, disciples, that they would believe you? Look why I tell you that your preparation must be great, so that when you have to find yourself before the obstinate, before fools, before fanatics, you will not hesitate, but instead, with a true gift of speech and prepared to receive spiritual inspiration, you will be able to enlighten the understandings, shake the spirit and move the heart.

21. My doctrine is another. I have told you: death does not exist, eternity awaits you. There is no eternal fire and no punishment for the sinner, there is purification, trials, enlightenment.

22. Everything is transformed endlessly, advancing in perfection. An example of this is in you, who transform with the ages that you spend in your life and then you stop being to be again and take a step forward.

23. The Father will not leave His Work without perfecting it: How can you think that one day He will destroy what he has created in order to bring it to perfection?

24. Pray and let the Father grant you His lessons according to his will, because you do not know what you deserve, what corresponds to you, what is convenient for you. Leave your cause in His hands and receive with meekness and with pleasure what He will give you,

25. You see how different the truth is. If you are to have fear in your heart, let that fear not be of Me, but of you, of your deeds, for from its consequences you will not be able to escape. I grant that your spirit, absorbed in the contemplation of the infinite, may remain in suspense for a few moments so that it may enjoy that peace that it cannot yet find on Earth.

26. Disciples: Even if you live in the world, you can make a spiritual life, because spirituality does not believe that it consists in departing from what corresponds to matter, but in harmonizing human laws with divine laws.

27. Blessed is he who studies my laws and knows how to unite them into one with human laws, because he has to be healthy, strong, elevated, happy.

Love one another!

28. At this time, humanity is living in a time of failures and confusion, of diseases of all kinds, due to its distance from the laws; but when it is most confused, my Law comes as a light to the spirits, calling men to the path of peace.

29. My revelation of this time is a new chapter of the book of my wisdom; it is a new seal unleashed from that book, whose content overflows, purifies and liberates the spirit and renews men.

30. Do you look at this world that shows no sign of being illuminated by a divine light? Verily I tell you, even if men do not yet give great proof that they are understanding what my light inspires them with, there will not be a single spirit that is not awake.

31. People: The manifestation of my word among you is very humble in its form, but if humanity knew this message and proposed to obey it, it would be on the way to salvation,

32. I had to manifest myself among the poor, in the bosom of a people who have not flaunted superiority, but who spiritually had sensitivity to my presence and to my inspirations, sensitivity that I did not find in the peoples and nations that call themselves great, strong and lords on Earth. What I am saying about you, people, you will never take it as an argument to boast of spiritual superiority over others, because you must know that he who falls into vanity stagnates and stops; on the other hand, he who is humble, as he always thinks he has done little, advances without ceasing.

33. Do not be content to hear this word, but also observe what is happening in your world and around you, so that you can see at every step the fulfillment of what I announce to you in my word.

34. Look when you sleep, how the tests come to wake you up, telling you that this is a time in which you must live alert.

35. Soon you will cease to be the babbling disciples to become the fervent teachers, on whose path there will be struggles, crossroads and stalkings, but that even in the darkest nights of this humanity, you will see the inexhaustible light of my truth shine.

36. My emissaries will spread over the Earth and Spiritualism will fall on the materialism of men like a watering of peace, like a healthy dew.

37. This foolish world, deaf to every spiritual voice, will believe in my coming. In the Third Time and he will love my message; but you, people, have the duty to give your brothers an example of faith and obedience that will be stimulus and incentive on the path of humanity.

38. Fulfill as spirits and as men on earth; the laws and the path you already know.

Love one another!

39. Give freedom to your heart so that it begins to feel the pain of others, do not have it subject or dedicated to feeling exclusively what concerns your person. Stop being indifferent to the trials that humanity is going through.

40. When will your love be so great that it can encompass many of your fellow men, to love them as you love those who bear your blood and are flesh of your flesh? If you knew that you are more by the spirit than by matter, many would not believe it, but I tell you that: certainly you are more brothers by the spirit than by the envelope that you carry, because the spirit belongs to eternity and instead matter is transient.

41. Think then, that it is a truth that families here on Earth, today are formed and tomorrow disintegrate, while the spiritual family exists forever.

42. Today you are not able to feel or live these teachings, but you must gradually give your heart in the fulfillment of the eternal destiny of loving one another.

43. When your steps begin to assert themselves on the path of spiritual fraternity, your lips will begin to speak of teachings still unknown to yourselves, and of profound revelations.

44. To those who are faithful to me, to the strong, to those who are truly preparing, I will entrust this message, this word, so that they may keep it pure, so that they may defend it and preserve it from strange mixtures, because my Doctrine will know how to convert humanity; but if you mix it with other ideas, it will lose all strength and all light in your lips and in your works, by hiding the truth. See how I am watching over you, so that you will not fall into temptation, but it is up to you to pray and strive not to fall.

45. Soon you will stop listening to this word and apparently you will be left alone, without a shepherd on the path of life; but I am preparing you so that from the first moment, after the farewell of this manifestation, you will know that my Spirit will be your guide, that my light will shine in your consciousness to give you encouragement.

46. When the time passes, many of those who have now desecrated this Work will regret with great regret that they have failed to fulfill it and have despised precious times, but I will say to those who repent from the heart: "Here is my Work, here is your mission, get up to fulfill, because it is still time."

47. Woe to those who in their folly or in their pride delay the day of their repentance! For if they sow thistles instead of wheat, what will be their harvest?

48. I am reading you the book of the future, so that you will know how to walk and how to work.

Love one another!

49. My Kingdom is drawing near to you, that is why I have sent my word to prepare you and I have sent the spirit of Elijah to gather you and purify you.

50. I am the way and by it you will all come to Me.

51. The Third Time, in which you are living, is the time of the clarification of the great mysteries.

52. Wise men and theologians will have to rectify their knowledge before the truth that I am revealing to you: This is the Time when humanity will open its eyes to the light of my wisdom, a light that I have made Doctrine so that, through it, you will spiritually rise to true life.

53. Now the world will know the truth about the resurrection of the flesh, which is the reincarnation of the spirit.

54. Reincarnate: To return to the material world to be born again as a man; to arise the spirit in a human body to continue a mission, That is the truth about the resurrection of the flesh, which your elders have told you about giving them such twisted as absurd interpretations.

55. Reincarnation is a gift that God has granted to your spirit so that it is never limited to the smallness of matter, to its ephemeral existence on Earth, to its natural weaknesses; but, proceeding from a higher nature, the spirit can take as many matters as are necessary for the performance of its great missions in the world.

56. By this gift, the spirit demonstrates his immense superiority over the flesh, over death and over everything earthly, overcoming death, surviving one body to another and all those entrusted to him; victor of time, obstacles and temptations.

57. The light of Spiritualism is revealing to the world the truth, justice, reason and love that exist in the spiritual gift of reincarnation; however, the world will at first have to fiercely fight this revelation by giving it a strange and false doctrine, to make men of good faith distrust.

58. Useless and vain will be the efforts that religions make to keep their faithful in the routine of ancient beliefs and out-of-time methods, because no one will be able to stop the divine light that penetrates to the bottom of the understandings, awakening the spirit to an Era of revelations, of divine confidences, of clarifications of doubts and mysteries, of spiritual liberation.

59. Nor will anyone be able to stop the torrent that humanity will have to form when it rises up in pursuit of its freedom of thought, spirit and faith.

Love one another!

60. No one believes that I am coming to snatch their adepts, faithful or followers to the different religions, no, but the time has come when a new time makes its entrance, removing forgotten lessons, erasing useless customs, beliefs and traditions, purifying and stripping the spirit of all falsehood, to give him the true bread of the spirit that has always been changed by the rite of,

61. Around this light men will unite, peoples will be reconciled, enemies will be forgiven and through it the essence of the Doctrine that I came to teach you almost two thousand years ago with words and deeds will be understood.

62. Do you find it difficult for humanity at this time to understand the spiritual? Go through history, helped by intuition and with what your spirit reveals to you, so that you may know that there was a time when the peoples of the Earth, having fallen into an abyss of hatred, vices, ignorance, superstitions and fanaticism, men rose from there, inspired by Christ and embraced with faith and love, spreading through nations and regions as an irrepressible torrent of light and hope.

63. Christ was on the lips of disciples and martyrs, who lived to spread and sow the divine seed of love. Christ manifested himself to the world through his servants and lived in every heart of those who loved him, in his divine passion.

64. The time was short when that peace and that harmony fructified in the peoples and nations of the Earth, because the weed of ingratitude and impiety covered the fields again; but in the days of spirituality, of harmony, of understanding and fraternity, how much peace, inspiration and light there was among men. When that harmony and that spirituality become the essence of your life, can you imagine the way in which my Arcanum will overflow onto the spirit of humanity?

65. Do not doubt what the new time promises, because if your faith were not true, you would not be worthy to witness the fulfillment of my word.

66. Let your spirit come to Me, for I will give him what he needs.

67. Come to receive the divine lesson and be tireless listening to me and you will see in a short time, how you will evolve remarkably in spiritual knowledge.

68. Do not waste this time of grace, keep in mind that you had to suffer a lot to be able to reach this path and know my revelation.

69. You are gathering a sweet fruit after so much bitterness, do not despise it, because tomorrow you will have to take it to those hungry for peace and truth.

Love one another!

70. If sorrow has washed you away, keep your purity of mind and heart. I want you to show yourselves before humanity as a regenerated people; then you will serve as an open book to other peoples who are purifying themselves now with their pain, in order to make themselves worthy of receiving my message.

71. All those peoples and nations who have drunk to the bottom the cup of bitterness, are called to know soon my new manifestation, which will pour honey and balm on so much pain.

72. Already my word, given in the Second Time, has reached to the ends of the earth, but know or remember that this was the sign that I gave you so that my new coming would be felt by all men.

73. You who have my word at your fingertips, make the call to your brothers, tell them that I do not come to judge their faults or to look at their stains, that it has been their neediness that has made them look for them and that in Me, I bring a present of love for each of them.

74. Take the missive of love to your hearts and this will serve you for when you have to take my teaching to unknown lands.

75. Do you not discover at the bottom of my sentences the divine desire that you may become the people cleansed of thoughts, of worship, of works and labors?

76. I inspire you to do merits, but not to be moved by the selfish interest of your salvation, but to carry out your works thinking of your brothers, thinking of the generations to come, whose joy will be very great when they find the path prepared by the first. Then your happiness will be infinite, because the joy and peace of your brothers will reach your spirit. How different from those who only seek their own salvation and happiness, because they, when they arrive at the place that they have carved out with their works, cannot have a moment of peace or joy, contemplating those who stayed behind, bearing the heavy burden of their sufferings.

77. Truly I tell you, the true disciples of this Doctrine will be just and clean in their works as is their conscience, which is my own light.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 291

1. People: On the day of my departure you will feel an emptiness around you, you will feel weak because you have become accustomed to this word, in which you have long found strength, comfort, balm and knowledge. You will need this manifestation that has given you so much encouragement in the struggle.
2. But truly I tell you, if you already had a greater understanding, you would be serenely waiting for that day, knowing that my Spirit will not depart from you and that my inspiration will not be lacking for an instant.
3. See why I have told you so many times not to familiarize yourselves with my word, not to come and listen to me out of habit, because, those who have done so, will have to renounce this word with great pain of their heart.
4. You still have a short time left in which you will be able to understand many lessons, put aside your hesitations, strengthen your purposes and raise your reasoning and analysis on the firm foundations that my Law grants you.
5. Remember that I have taught you to reject everything that represents an obligatory practice and what routine means. Do not forget that I have simplified practices, worship and beliefs, letting your conscience be the helm that directs your boat,
6. I have given you definite maxims, so that you will not make essays on uncertain doctrines, even if they appear to you as lawful and good.
7. He who places all his trust in my word, does not stumble, does not fail and soon reaps good fruits.
8. The law of love, from which charity, understanding and forgiveness towards your brothers derive, is the foundation that I have inspired you for your spiritual mission.
9. To know my truth, human wisdom is not needed, nor the knowledge of men, enclosed in their books. The spirit has the gift and the power to glimpse the truth.
10. Being my word easily understood and the principles of my Doctrine perfectly defined, you should not fear that unforeseen obstacles will prevent you from asserting your steps on the way.
11. I have read in your heart and I have found that you wish to be faithful to this Teaching that I have brought to you, watch and pray, listen and analyze, so that your good intentions will not be betrayed by some weakness of yours at the moment of trial, Remember that the multitudes who followed Jesus in the Second Time and who seemed to have understood him, left their Master alone at the moments of sacrifice, at the decisive hour. Even the apostles themselves, who had followed him so closely, felt their strength and even their faith falter at that hour.

Love one another!

12. It is that human nature is weak and you need it to be backed up by a strong spirit.

13. Therefore, drink of the wine of my word, so that you will be strong and then, when the test comes, you will prove that you are the disciple forged in prayer and in struggle, in meditation and in practice.

14. Do not seek the exaltation of my Work by ostentatious means or public demonstrations, because your triumph would easily collapse if you had not forged it on solid foundations.

15. Do not impress your brothers with testimonies of miraculous healings or of apparent wonders, because you will only manage to infect each other with fanaticism. Those who truly represent the truth, those who know how to raise a sincere cult, those who truly sow and propagate the seed of love, are so simple, so modest and humble, that they go unnoticed among others; they are praying and no one knows it; they are healing a sick person and few or no one sees them; they cry for a fellow and their tears are invisible, because instead of gushing to the outside, they rise to the Father.

16. Do not be afraid, people, I am not telling you that everything you do is imperfect. I am correcting everything that is wrong and I am receiving everything that you offer me.

17. Here, before my word, listen carefully to the lessons, so that you may learn, and already in the acts of your life be attentive to the voice of your conscience, because it will tell you if you do well or if you do wrong, if you have fulfilled or not; then, if you feel your heart crying with pain for the suffering of your brothers; if you share the charity that you receive from God with those in need; if you understand human misery and strive to alleviate it without expecting reward, you are fulfilling with me and you will be able to feel the peace that conscience gives you.

18. Disciples: What must the spiritualist do to make the Doctrine he practices triumph, in this time of tragedies, wars and pain? Unite with each other and all of you towards Me, so that your strength and your light can be felt over the world.

19. Look at humanity, indifferent to spiritual progress, not only in the material order, but even within religions, where tradition and routine have been made a law.

Love one another!

20. Look at how even in these times of science and human advances man still kills man, peoples break their bonds of fraternity or friendship with other peoples and the ideas of some stumble and clash with those of others.

21. Those fields, apparently sterile for the divine, are nevertheless conducive to spiritual sowing. Get up and you will see at every step the need for light, misery, ignorance, pain in all its forms. Send your thoughts there, send your mind full of good wishes, of ideas of light, of spiritual thoughts and inspirations; let your heartfelt, sincere word be heard, saturated with light, with consolation, with balm. You will see then that humanity is a favorable field for the work of your spirit.

22. Work tirelessly in your journey, and the peace that you experience throughout it for the mission accomplished, I assure you, will be even greater when your spirit goes to the Beyond; but for now, do not think about rewards.

23. How poor is the man who still thinks that the spirit is enlightened to receive a reward or a punishment for his short journey in human matter!

24. My word will be at this time the beacon that makes light in the darkness of humanity; you will see how this world of now, materialistic, hostile and selfish, will be transformed, because my Doctrine, sometimes strong as the storm and sometimes soft as the breeze, will sweep away the impure and give life to the good seed so that men establish their future on foundations of love and harmony.

25. When men come to think universally about love, everyone will try to perfect himself, to fulfill, to serve others better; all fear of punishment will be unnecessary, man will not fulfill out of fear, but out of conviction, then humanity will have spiritually and intelligently evolved.

26. Until now it has been man's pride that has made him unaware of the spiritual part and the lack of that knowledge has prevented him from being perfect.

27. As long as man does not learn to keep his material and spiritual forces in harmony, he will not be able to find the balance that should exist in his life.

28. My word has been with you, people, understand it, but if you have any doubts, pray, meditate, invoke my light and you will have the clarification of what you wanted to know.

29. Welcome you, walkers who have known how to persevere in the faith, here is the prize for your unshakable trust: It is my word, the one you have been waiting for for a long time; now, drink of it until you are full.

Love one another!

30. Welcome those who believe in the word of the Master, because they will see the realization of my promises.

31. Now you have come to receive what you have been asking for for a long time, tomorrow when you meet before the great crowds, you will truly know the reason for my call. Only I know that there are many, men who live waiting for the Good News and I do not want them to succumb without having first heard my word from the lips of my witnesses, They are hungry and thirsty just as you were, but just as I had mercy on your needs, so you will have mercy on them. The world is waiting for my voice to call it, the heart of humanity, although dead to the faith, is waiting for the voice of Christ to approach it, telling it: "Get up and walk".

33. The dead, the blind, the sick and the pariah, form a very large people, I will reach out to them because those who suffer from the spirit or the body are the most sensitive to my presence. The great ones of the world, those who have power, riches and worldly glories, believe they do not need me and do not expect me: What can Christ give them, if they claim to have everything? By chance some spiritual goods or a place in eternity? They're not interested in that.

34. Here is the reason why I have sought out these multitudes of the poor and sick in body and spirit to manifest my Doctrine before them: because they wanted me, they sought me; it was natural that they were the ones who felt my presence when the time came to show me once again to humanity.

35. When the time comes, that immense people of the sick, of the poor, of the oppressed and of outcasts will arise before my voice as the strongest and invincible people in the world, No human power will silence their voice when they rise up saying: "The Lord is manifesting Himself; He sent us his message so that we could prepare to receive him from spirit to Spirit". This will have been true, because the message of preparation and my Doctrine, is the one that I transmit through chosen understandings for it, a message that will reach my envoys in the various parts of the world.

36. My word, from the lips of my witnesses, will have the same effect on hearts as it did on this people, when they heard it directly from the lips of the spokesman, but you must prepare yourselves to speak with purity; in prayer and in charity you will be able to be inspired and truly I tell you, the dead will rise, and unbelievers will confess that only the disciples of the Holy Spirit can speak in this way.

37. I am preparing you because you will meet a humanity without peace, without love, without fraternity or harmony; to it you will deliver the divine message of which I have made you bearers, and the miracle of regeneration that you have seen realized in you, you will see it repeated in peoples and nations, in which my word will also reach breaking the chains of materialism, idolatry, vice and ignorance.

38. Great mission you will have to perform in this Third Time, once I leave you as masters in the world.

39. Today you are the child who receives my word, tomorrow you will be the disciple who studies the lesson and later the Teacher or the apostle who practices and lives the Doctrine he received. Do not forget that the principle of your spirituality is that given by the simplicity of my word, so that you will never mix the superfluous with it.

40. Always compare your present with your past so that you can confirm if you have made progress or if you remain stagnant. From that examination, how many spirits have awakened exclaiming: Lord, how is it possible that you have slept for so long? How have I been able to remain lethargic, indifferent, while you are talking to each other? How could I deny you if I have you in me?

41. Before the strength of my word, no one will resist, because it has the power to awaken the spirits, to make the hardest and most insensitive heart feel and tremble. I have not had to punish you in order to subject you to compliance, nor do I use force to lead you down this path, I have not even frightened you with words and threats. My voice has been sweet and persuasive and it has awakened in you faith, trust and obedience.

42. In the same way you will speak to your brothers tomorrow, awakening love, not fears, because then the seed would not be true.

43. My Work must reach humanity clean, so that it may rise up to fulfill my Law, embracing the cross of its redemption.

44. I promised men, to all humanity, and I will fulfill it because my word is from the king I will send the golden wheat of my word through my disciples and it will serve as a preparation so that they can soon rejoice with spirit-to-Spirit communication, since after 1950, neither here nor anywhere will I communicate again through him understanding of a spokesman.

45. Unite, people, because trials are coming, the enemies of my word will also unite to fight you and disorganize you, but if you trust in the strength of prayer and strengthen yourselves in my word, you will not be defeated. Your power will be spiritual, it will never be based on money, nor on the power of the Earth.

46. Take advantage of this opportunity, people, do not wait for new times, because they will never come to bring you what you did not know how to take advantage of.

Love one another!

47. Sit at my table with the spiritual longing to always learn from how much your Master is coming to reveal to you.

48. These last years of my communication will be indelible in all who know how to appreciate what was poured out by my Spirit in them.

49. My disciples will speak tirelessly of what the Master revealed and made known to them.

50. For those who live within a routine and it is the same one day than another, and one lesson than another, they will have to let go unnoticed the great things that I had reserved for the last days of my communication. You will not be able to perceive the change that will have to take place from the moment my word ceases. Because they have never aspired to climb, nor have they loved evolution, which is progress and perfection for the spirit.

51. This is how I must speak so that those who are sleeping may wake up, because I do not want one part of this people to be saved while another is lost, my desire is that you all arise into the light.

52. Each one will be an open book before his brothers and in its pages will be reflected what each one carries in his spirit. The pages of that book will be your works and if spirituality, love and wisdom exist in your being, the world will recognize you as the initiators of a new time, as the heralds of an era of light and spiritual evolution; on the contrary, if in you there is only the cult for tradition and for the external, in your book there will be only fanaticism, ignorance, confusion and darkness. For the latter, it would be better not to talk about my Work until the light is made in their understanding, because its seed, instead of being beneficial, will be harmful to the work of others, even if they have clothed themselves with good intentions.

53. What have you made of my word, O people, that I am compelled to speak to you this term, when my communication is about to conclude?

54. You were sleeping, multitudes, thinking that this communication would be eternal, and that I would have no other mission than to delight you with my word and anoint someone in need who came to you. Today reality has come to awaken you: 1950, the year a thousand times announced as the last of my communication, is at the door.

55. Few, very few are those who are waiting for 1950 and are preparing for the test that will represent for them the end of this stage.

Love one another!

56. That year will not only be of significance for this people; if for you it will be the completion of one stage and the birth of another, for religions it will be a year of judgment and meditation; for science and in general for all humanity, it will be a time of trial.

57. When this Work is extended, and men know that in 1950 I made my Word vibrate for the last time through the human understanding, they will understand that all that in those days was manifested in your life, were voices of the Holy Spirit and flashes of His light. The theologians themselves will remain thoughtful.

58. Watch and pray, multitudes, that although the time to speak to you for the last time is already very close, it is still time that with a true meditation, you come to the understanding of what is going to happen and what you will have to do in the future.

59. This is a preparation teaching, one more of those that I have been giving you so that you will not have any stumbling block in the journey that you will have to undertake.

60. Blessed are you, my people, who come in search of my word, which is consolation and sustenance for your spirit. You have learned to take from it the essence, the content and to know my will.

61. This word that has awakened your spirit, which had been asleep for a long time, is your joy today; it has filled your heart with peace and love. She has sheltered those who shivered with cold and filled with hope those eager for light. It is the revelation that I kept in my arcanum for the people of Israel and for all humanity.

62. At this time I have come to converse with you as in the hereafter I converse with the angels; I have not distinguished your spirit because it dwells in the earthly valley, to which I have sent you. You are all loved by Me, in the same way. You are evolving, walking towards Me, because the end awaits you and my divine lap claims your presence. Learn to know the way so that you can reach the father's house, the Father's heart, the spirit of your God.

63. I have revealed myself to you, because you have always believed in the living God, your only God, who is never silent, who does not hide himself, but who always guides, advises and inspires you. This faith nourishes and saves you; if three of my children were to seek me in this way in the midst of humanity, I, through them, would pour out my pleasures. The more I behold that great multitudes listen to Me and believe in Me. The people of Israel will soon be complete in their numbers, the 144,000 that I have indicated, they will be on the hillside, in the white valley, in the chosen city; then my joy will be great.

Love one another!

64. If you prepare yourselves, I will pour into you all the knowledge that humanity needs. I give you great authority to speak of my coming in the Third Time.

65. My word has made you meditate a lot. You have entered into a great study, and you have found that my teaching is infinite, that the horizon it presents is every day wider, and you do not manage to understand it in all its truth. Today you receive one lesson after another and you may forget my word, but the time will come when each of these lessons will return to your mind at the right moment and then you will remember it and your convictions will be great.

66. In the First time I chose the one who was to represent me on earth: Moses, and through him I manifested my wisdom, my power and my rigor. You understood me to the limit of the little evolution of your spirit. I spoke by the mouth of the patriarchs and the prophets, and my word penetrated into the hearts; the people gathered my inspirations and gave commands. I made you cross the desert to give you a great lesson, and you developed your spirit, you experienced faith and trust in Me.

67. After a long pilgrimage, years of patience and experience, you entered the lands of Canaan and saw fulfilled the promise that my Spirit repeated, day after day. You found the earth blessed and prepared, it was an oasis of peace that I gave you so that you could grow, and multiply, and once you were doctinated by my messengers, you penetrated among humanity, bearing the testimony of the covenant that God made with men.

68. Thus, in all times I have encouraged you with my promises. In this Third Time I have said to you: I recommend to you the work of peace among mankind; I will do it through you, when you are ready, but not only the present generation will work, your children and their descendants will continue the work of peace. I point out to the people a narrow path for the fulfillment of this mission.

69. Meditate on the charges that I have handed over together to the people. The vicissitudes that you encounter in your path are great, and it is necessary that you be strong and virtuous, to reach the end of your destiny. You need to live in communion with the Father, in perfect prayer, observing my laws, without ever reaching fanaticism or mysticism, because you will only love me in the temple of your heart.

70. The gift of the word will be in everyone and thus you will easily explain my Work. You will comfort the heart of humanity and give it the bread it needs. You will heal the ills of the spirit and of the body. Man suffers at this time, because he has distanced himself from the fulfillment of divine, moral and natural laws, and seeks remedy in the fictitious of this world. He does not know that the origin of his evil is in his spirit. So far he has not wanted to return to the principle of laws, to order, to spiritual fulfillment and has not turned to the source from which all good springs. As long as his gaze does not turn humble to Me, and his sensitive fibers remain hardened, and faith is not his guide, humanity will continue to fall into confusion, continue to get sick and perish, I leave you, people of Israel, full of strength, peace and healing, so that you pour them out in my name, on your brothers.

71. Stop for a moment to contemplate the dizzying race of this world towards the abyss. What is humanity looking for? What is your longing that I contemplate in her? Only pain, despair and death. He has silenced the voice of conscience and extinguished his lamp; he lives the great day of his atonement and his pain is great.

72. Stop her, people, before she falls any more! Fight with your prayer and your thought, Teach by example, and when the trials come to you, show your faith and hope and in those find only the reason to purify your spirit. Be simple in all your actions, so that your brothers and sisters may understand you, do not complicate your life, bring the meekness of Jesus, the simplicity of children and the elderly, because these virtues are a sign of spirituality.

73. Be also like the farmer, who recreates himself in his sowing, who lives in contact with his God, the farmer prays when the light of a new day shines, 'in which he will make one more day, and at noon and at sunset, when the sun hides its rays, he raises his spirit again to give thanks for everything that his Lord has granted him. For him everything he receives is great and perfect. The sun, the water, all the elements speak to him of his God and in them he loves him, seeks him and looks at his presence. So, be ye husbandmen of the spiritual countryside.

74. I have not given you the material land for cultivation at this time, Your hands do not know how to open the grooves to bury the material seed in them, but I have called you sowers of my word in your hearts, Your journey is spiritual, I have given you everything you need for your work, light, love, the word. This is how I have watched some of my children recreate themselves in their own planting.

75. My benefits have not gone unnoticed by them. They have always hoped for Me and in times of trial they have said: The Lord tests me to contemplate my faith. You have not called pain adversity and you have not tired of the innumerable trials that I have sent you.

76. Beloved people, you know that you live in Me and I preside over all your acts, that my charity raises you up at the precise moment when the trial will leave in your heart fruits of reflection and strength. You have known my word and my laws and you know that next to my love and my goodness, there are my justice and my rigor. If you fail, you will have to suffer the consequences of your mistake.

Love one another!

77. I speak to hearts every day, but humanity has not wanted to understand my language. Israel has conversed with me, but most of the men live far away from Me. Their worship is imperfect, but my light and my justice move their hearts today and they begin to wake up and remember that there is a God above them who always looks at them with love. Humanity has reached chaos and is unable to solve its problems, its laws have turned against them, because those laws have been based on imperfect sciences and materialism that I come to destroy. In a short time an era of light will shine for the human spirit, men will obey me and respect my will. I send the guardian angels to lead their steps to Me.

78. I have allowed the spiritual world to communicate with men for a short time. His spirit, like yours, has manifested itself full of purity and elevation. They have come down to help you in the great struggle of the Third Half and you have felt them. His blessed influence has converted many hearts and his example is true.

79. I bless the spiritual farmers, the farmers who have developed the gift and who have let these spirits manifest, because one and the other have merits before Me. They will be communicating with you until 1950. Then they will continue to help you, forever, because that is their delicate mission. Man needs a spiritual guide. The divine guide is over all spirits and it is I, but on Earth I have always entrusted an angel to all beings. How much they have suffered for you! How much they have also wept when contemplating the hardness of the heart of humanity! But they love me and patiently fulfill their mission.

80. This is the beginning of the time of the Holy Spirit, in which the spirits who inhabit other valleys come to communicate with you; in which all the borders have been broken and in which you can also rise up to Me and I come to you communicating by the human understanding and speaking in your own language.

81. After 1950, I will stop speaking to you in this language, I will speak to you in a higher, higher language, which you will gradually get to know; in that language in which there is no need for material words. You are the spiritualist people, the one who has received my teaching at this time, that is why I ask you for spirituality, so that your spirit can manifest itself and not find any disturbance in its passage, in its prayer, or in its spiritual acts, but that it be free on the way and can come to Me. I have told you a lot about spiritual communication, I have told you that you will come to practice it in a high way and you are going after this desire.

82. I leave you prepared as the light of the nations, get ready! May my word of this time be the testament, the best book there is, more than in your hands, in your heart, because I have revealed to you the perfect science,

Love one another!

83. Just as in the Second Time, I gave my life to you and my body went to the sacrifice like a lamb, in the Third Time I will offer myself as a light for every spirit. Blessed is the disciple who prepares himself and understands me, for his heart will be an eternal abode for Me.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Take one more page from the book of wisdom and I charge you to transmit this message to the coming generations, which, due to their greater spiritual evolution, will be able to deepen more in my Work. These generations will bring with them the seed of spirituality and their mission will be to build an eden of peace in the heart of humanity.
2. To those present I have given great teachings, but to the people of tomorrow, to my future disciples, I reserve greater revelations, because they will already be prepared to receive them.
3. Many times you have asked me what is beyond this world, and if those stars that rotate in space are worlds like yours. My response to your curiosity has not completely removed the veil of mystery, seeing that you still do not have the necessary evolution to understand, nor the indispensable spirituality to harmonize with other abodes. You have not yet come to know or understand the teachings offered by the planet on which you live, and you already want to look for other worlds. You have not been able to fraternize among yourselves, inhabitants of the same world, and you want to discover the existence of beings in other dwellings. For now it should be enough for you to remember that in the Second Time I told you that: "In the Father's house there are many dwellings" and that now, ratifying those words, I tell you that you are not the only inhabitants in the Universe, nor is your planet the only inhabited one.
4. It will be given to the generations of tomorrow to contemplate open the doors that bring them closer to other worlds and they will have reason to marvel before the Father.
5. Goodness and love, from which charity and peace are derived, will be the keys that open the doors of the mystery, thus giving men a step towards universal harmony.
6. Goodness and love applied to your life, to your spiritual worship, to science and to work, will lead man to true wisdom.
7. Today you are isolated, confined, held back, because your egoism has only made you live for the world, without aspiring to freedom and the elevation of the spirit.
8. What would become of you, vain men, beings dwarfed by your materialism, if before divesting yourselves of your human scourges, it were granted to you to reach other worlds? What would be the seed that you would go to sow? Discord, insane ambition, vanity.

Love one another!

9. Truly I tell you that in order to attain that knowledge to which every human aspires and that revelation that will remove from his mind the questions that torture and intrigue him, man will have to purify himself a lot, and he will have to watch and pray a lot.
10. It will not be science alone that reveals my arcana to you, it is necessary that this longing for knowledge be inspired by spiritual love.
11. When men's lives have reflections of spirituality, I tell you that they will not even have to make an effort to look beyond their world, because at the same time they will be sought by those who inhabit higher abodes.
12. I leave this brief message whose content boils down to saying to you: "Watch and pray that you do not fall into temptation".
13. For now you will keep asking and you will keep answering yourselves. It is necessary that the forces of the spirit be known to everyone and developed in order to be able to contemplate and understand what God has in store for you. I still see a lot of awkwardness to practice the good, to pray, to worship your Father, because you do not let your spirit manifest or work, preventing it from its development,
14. You carry in you true treasures, powers and gifts that you do not even realize, and because of your ignorance you are crying as needy. What do you know about the power of prayer and the power of thought? What do you know about the deep content of spirit-to-Spirit communication? Nothing, materialistic and carnal humanity.
15. First raise the spirit by developing its gifts and then aspire to the knowledge of what exists beyond your world and your mind.
16. The human mind is small, it is limited. Why do you entrust to her what only the spirit can discover and embrace?
17. Ah! Foolish little children of this earth, who have not wanted to have me as a Teacher, nor have you believed me, saying that many of you love me. You will already conclude by understanding the truth of my word, when you confess that "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life".
18. Disciples. Life passes before you as a lesson of infinite wisdom, your spirit grows in knowledge and thanks to this you are reaching greater elevation.
19. Be judges of your own actions, that the voice of conscience will always tell you the truth. She will make you understand if you are slow to walk, if you are going too fast or if you have parked.

Love one another!

20. He who seeks to know himself and knows how to judge himself, has to be sincere with himself and with others, in all his actions he will listen to the voice of his conscience and his steps on the path of life will be firm.

21. When the spirit begins to triumph over matter, he experiences a very great satisfaction and a full confidence in himself.

22. The Master tells you more, that no matter how much understanding you have of the greater or lesser value of your works, in that definitive judgment only the Father who is the Supreme Judge, can give the judgment,

23. Not because you ignore at the moment of carrying out a good work the value that it had, think that you will never know the good that you did, I tell you that none of your works will remain without reward.

24. You will see when you are in the spiritual Realm, how many times a small job, apparently of little importance, was the beginning of a chain of benefits, a chain that others were prolonging, but that will always fill the one who started it with satisfaction.

25. It is necessary that you know all this, you who are going to sow in the hearts the word that I have brought you at this time, because many times you will speak to your brothers without knowing the effect that your words caused, without knowing if they bore fruit or not, without knowing if the seed died in that heart or if he knew how to retain and propagate it. You will see all this until you reach the end of the road. For now, work, multiply your good works among your brothers, prepare lands for them so that the seed that I have entrusted to you may be perpetuated in their works.

26. Long is the way by which you will reach the fullness of light. No being has a longer path than that of the spirit in which the Father, the Divine Sculptor who polishes and models your spirit, gives it the perfect form.

27. I speak to you at length so that the wheat that you will have to sow, in fulfillment of your mission, will not be missing from your saddlebag.

28. The People of God will arise once again among humanity, not a people personified in a race, but a multitude, a legion of my disciples in whom blood, race or language do not predominate, but the spirit.

29. This people will not concretize to teach, my Doctrine through the letter; for the words to have life, it is necessary to live them; this people will not only be propagators of writings and books, but also of examples and facts.

Love one another!

30. Today I am freeing you from everything superfluous, impure and erroneous, to make you penetrate into a simple and clean life, on which your spirit can rise up testifying with his works.

31. When the time comes, I will present my people to humanity, and neither the Master will be ashamed of his disciples, nor will the disciples deny their Master. That moment will coincide with that of the war of ideas, from which Spiritualism will emerge as a breath of peace, as a ray of light.

32. Already the justice of the Father is touching the earthly power of men, their accumulated treasures, to make them understand that my word will never take the strength in power and material riches to dominate or to spread.

33. "Not a stone on a stone" of all that moral and material structure of this humanity will remain, because in order for the "new man" to appear on this Earth, it is necessary to erase every stain, destroy every sin and leave only what contains good seed.

34. The splendor of my presence and of my justice will be contemplated throughout the World and before that light idols will fall, routine traditions will be forgotten and sterile rites will be abandoned.

35. A new song will arise from the spirit of all those who could not contemplate me and who finally saw me, because despite their imperfections, they were looking for me, and you know that he who seeks me always finds me.

36. As for those who have denied Me, those who have fled from Me, those who have kept my name silent, those who deny my presence, those trials will be put in their way that will make them open their eyes and contemplate the truth as well.

37. What does it matter that some love me in imperfect ways and others deny me, when I know that everyone is in need!

38. The great battle is at your gates, ready all your weapons. In this struggle you will all have your part, you will all contribute your grain: Rulers, ministers, men of science, the wealthy, the rich and the poor, everyone.

39. What was left of Solomon's Temple when the hour of righteousness came? Only the knowledge of the Law, written in the consciences. Rites, traditions, sacrifices and offerings, everything disappeared, the tabernacle and the altar were destroyed; but the Law and the words of the prophets remained standing, because they had been the ones that prepared humanity for a new era, and the fields had to be cleared for the new seed to germinate.

Love one another!

40. That Jerusalem, which the people of Israel believed invulnerable, was destroyed, as well as the temple that was their pride. It is that I came to reign among men, but since "my Kingdom is not of this world", it was necessary to destroy the material temple to raise the spiritual sanctuary in the heart of humanity.

41. Now understand why my apostles of that time did not build anything in the material and did erect temples of faith, virtue and love in the hearts, which were word, spirit, work, truth. The gold, the incense, the liturgy, were not with them. When they laid their hands on the sick, they healed them; when, speaking of the Doctrine of Christ, they erected shrines in the spirit of the multitudes; when they spoke of the Cross, it remained as a mark of fire in the spirits,

42. "My Kingdom is not of this world," I tell you again, the temple of the Holy Spirit has no material foundations, it has no altars on Earth.

43. When you look at the destruction of all external worship that humanity has erected at this time, you will see many asking in anguish: Why did God allow it? They will ask themselves the same question that the Jews asked themselves when their city was destroyed, and it will be my people who will answer, who will explain, who will reveal to men that a new time has appeared and a new seed is beginning to spread.

44. The earth will be moist and open waiting for the seed of my sowers. Would it be right that after humanity was freed from fanaticism and material worship, this people would arrive with a new idolatry? No, beloved disciples and children, that is why lessons and tests are at every step on your path.

45. Great is your destiny! But do not let yourselves be dominated by sad omens, but rather fill yourselves with courage and hope, thinking that the days of bitterness that are approaching are necessary for the awakening and purification of men, without which you could not see the triumphal entry of the time of spirituality.

46. Learn to overcome adversity, do not let sadness take over your heart and take care of your health. Lift up the spirits of your brothers by telling them about Me, teaching them my Doctrine that ignites faith and hope.

47. Look at how many men walk with their heads down, they are spirits who have allowed themselves to be defeated in the struggle, see them aged and graying prematurely, their faces turned gray and their melancholy expression; but if those who should be strong falter, youth will have to wither and childhood will only look sadness around.

Love one another!

48. You, people, do not deprive your heart of all those healthy joys that, although fleeting, you can enjoy, eat your humble bread in peace and truly I tell you that you will find it sweeter and more substantial.

49. Deduce from my words that what I want from you is confidence, faith, optimism, calm and strength, that despite your work and hardships there is no bitterness in your heart. What sweetness or good taste could you offer to those in need if you had your heart occupied by sorrows, worries or discontent?

50. It is precisely in your trials that you must give your best examples of elevation, faith and humility.

51. The one who manages to give that spirituality to his life, never ceases to feel peace and even when he sleeps his sleep is calm and restful, from which the spirit takes advantage to detach himself to the afterlife where he receives those divine emanations from which he nourishes and participates to the body.

52. Let no one say that my prophecies only come to overshadow your life, on the contrary, my word comes to save you from darkness. Understand that I have come to prepare you so that you do not feel small in the moments of struggle.

53. May your spirits not be discouraged by the knowledge that the battle is approaching, nor may you doubt that peace will return to your world.

54. I have already told you that you are at the end of one world and at the beginning of another. The Planet will remain the same, the Nature the same, the light also the same, but the way of life of humanity will be different, its goals, its struggles and its ideas will be different. There will be justice, there will be truth.

55. The spirits that incarnate in the humanity of those days, for the most part, will be faithful to the good, in such a way that when men inclined to evil arise, however strong they may be, they will have to bend before the light of the truth that they will present to them. Quite the opposite of what is happening now, because, with the perverse abounding more, they have made evil a force that drowns, pollutes and envelops the good.

56. Your world will still remain a crucible for spirits, a valley of struggle and restitution. Still your land cannot offer me high spirits who, when they leave here, will approach the abodes of the righteous. Still this valley cannot give shelter to the great spirits that will come to inhabit it. It is a world to reincarnate without ceasing, because the spirit, in its slowness to ascend, leaves works begun uncultivated or debts unpaid.

Love one another!

57. Tomorrow this Earth will offer me beautiful spiritual flowers in the works of its inhabitants and will bring before my presence, the ripe fruits that I gather after a life of perseverance in love for the Father and his fellow men.

58. Have you not thought that in that tomorrow it will be your children who will come to inhabit the earth? And do you not wish for your children something better than what you have achieved? "Yes, Father," your heart tells me, because carrying that thought impregnated with love and charity, cleanse and prepare the way. I want them to find the trace of your footsteps and to collect the humble inheritance that you leave them, which will be held in great esteem by those generations.

59. It does not matter that your names are lost, the important thing will be your works, because they will be indelibly imprinted on the path you traced.

60. Who will be able to erase that footprint if my justice is the one that will preserve and protect it?

61. See how many mysteries Spiritualism enlightens you; how many beautiful revelations it makes to you.

62. They are the flashes that the Book of the Seven Seals sends on your spirit. It is the voice of the Lamb that speaks, making known the contents of the Sixth Seal.

63. In the profound mysteries of God, only the Lamb penetrates to reveal that wisdom to the children of the Lord.

64. When you, disciples of the Third Time, have already a complete knowledge of what you have received, you will rise up without delay to spread the good news of this message, the content of which belongs to all humanity.

65. Look how in the midst of so much materialism, there are still those who remember my promises to return, study the words of the prophets and search the events of life, wanting to know if I am about to come, if I am present, or if I was and have already left.

66. To you, who have had me under this form of communication and have delighted for so long, I say: "Have charity of men, your brothers".

67. Prepare yourselves to bring the Good News, which will be welcomed by many with joy. I say to you for many and not for all, because there will be those who will tell you that with what God revealed in the First Time and what Christ brought to men, it is enough for them. It will be there that your lips, moved and inspired by Me, will tell unbelieving men that it is necessary to know the new revelation in order to contemplate all the truth granted by God to men, in times past.

Love one another!

68. How can you make yourselves heard from your brothers, without exposing yourselves to mockery and harsh judgments? Preparing yourselves as true apostles and bearers of this truth, carrying this light in your heart with the warning that you will have to give it without shadow and without stain to the spirit of humanity,

69. You will not be the redeemers of the peoples of the Earth, but you will work with the Master, the Redeemer and Savior of this and all the worlds, of you and of all spirits.

70. I want to enjoy my own Work, I want to feel loved and understood by all those to whom the Father communicated a spark of his Spirit, I want them all to come with Me, to show them from my Kingdom the magnificence of the Divine Work and in that contemplation they all experience the supreme happiness of having traveled all the way that leads to the Lord.

71. My Work is eternal, the completion of my word among you will not mark an end, but rather the beginning of your struggle.

72. The lips of the spokesmen will no longer transmit my voice, but my inspiration will put light on their understandings to help them analyze the word that came out of their mouths, so that they can explain it to the multitudes.

73. The object of the communication of my Spirit through these understandings, has been precisely the one that you learned through these lessons, to seek me later from spirit to Spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 293

1. My love, like an infinite sun illuminates you and envelops you all.
2. Here you have me, overflowing over your mind my thoughts made a word, pleasing to the heart, very sweet to the spirit, which never leaves bitterness on your palate.
3. Like bees that make a honeycomb and fill it drop by drop with honey, so these little ones for whom I communicate and give my word, with the essence that is poured from their lips, drop by drop fill the hearts of a people eager for spiritual sweetness.
4. The number of my people is still short, but I am giving you my teaching as if they were great multitudes. My love could not stop at this smallness, because in the Master there is not and cannot be prejudices typical of selfish humans.
5. Welcome to the light of the Redeemer, people tormented by trials, struggles, doubts and uncertainties, sadness and pain.
6. You need the medicine of the spirit and I come to you, as in that Second Time I became a doctor of the ills of the body and the spirit.
7. When you arrive tormented by serious problems, overwhelmed by poverty or distressed by the sorrows of trials, you look for in my word, some phrase for your pain, some word that denotes that my gaze has discovered you and that I am listening to your voices. Then I touch your heart, proving to you that nothing is hidden from Me, I pour out my peace on you, I give you the exquisite delicacy of my Teachings and I send you strengthened again to the path of life, of struggle, of restitution.
8. In my Chair you learned that in your trials you put your little part of faith, hope, patience and strength and that the rest is done by the love of your Father.
9. The one who trusts in Me will not be able to despair, and how sweet is the reward for the one who knew how to trust in the love and mercy of his Lord.
10. I am the one who approaches your heart when you cry; I am Christ, Christ means Love.
11. Thus I come to heal and strengthen you, beloved people, because the times will come when I will choose mine among the most prepared and among the most fervent, among those who have advanced the most in the analysis of my word and they will be my first emissaries, my first witnesses and also the first to communicate spirit to Spirit with the Father.

Love one another!

12. And do not think that I like to choose some and reject others, never mind, disciples; but I am making use of you as you reach the degree of preparation that you need to be able to serve me.

13. Just as now, those who managed to prepare, achieved spiritual communication through human understanding, there will come times when my voice, as heavenly harmony reaches your spirit, surprising and marveling your mind with the wisdom of my revelations and the lights that my Spirit sends you.

14. That time will come, do not doubt it, but I have not come to fix it. Much depends on you, on your hard work and love, whether that time ceases to belong to the future to become the present.

15. But do not despise what I am giving you through the humble understanding of your brother spokespersons, because my teachings are preparing you so that your spirit evolves and knows how to wait for spirit-to-Spirit communication. Ah, if you knew how to search for the hidden meaning of every word of the Master, how many amazing revelations would you find! How much light would you find to apply it in your life!

16. To you, disciples of this Work and witnesses of this word, your Master tells you that if you do not understand and practice this lesson that I have revealed to you through human understanding, you will not be able to pass on to the new teaching promised to your spirit, which will be direct between the Master and the disciple; intimate, without the need for external means or forms.

17. You are not yet up to the teaching that I am manifesting to you and do you already want to possess that grace?

18. If you were in the degree of advancement that my word demands, you would be acting under the light of your spirit and you would be making your healthy influence felt in others but it is not like that, and therefore, very much to your regret the lessons are repeated.

19. Three different manifestations of a single Divine Spirit have been the revelations that man has received from God throughout time, divided into three Eras. Many times and in many ways I have explained to you what you confusingly called the "Holy Trinity" and you still would not know how to explain it, because you have not assimilated it.

20. I have explained to you that what you call Father is the Absolute Power of God, of the Universal Creator, the one uncreated. That what you call the Son is Christ, that is, the manifestation of the Father's perfect Love for his creatures, and that what you call the

Love one another!

Holy Spirit is the Wisdom that God sends you as light in this Third Time, in which your spirit is enabled to better understand my revelations.

21. That light of the Holy Spirit, that wisdom of God, will soon reign in this third era that you see being born, illuminating the thought of a humanity in need of spirituality, thirsty for truth and hungry for love.

22. I have established three kingdoms among men, three reigns that will soon be united into one.

23. The first Reign was that of Power and Strength, the Second that of Love, the third is that of Wisdom.

24. When man lives according to the Law, teachings and revelations that I have brought him in each reign, he will be able to truly say that "The Kingdom of heaven has penetrated into the heart of humanity."

25. It is so true, people, that one God has manifested himself to men, although under three different aspects; that if in the Works of the Father in that first Age, you seek love, you will find it, and if you seek the light of wisdom, you will also find it, as well as in the works and words of Christ, you will find not only love, but also Power and Wisdom. How strange would it be that in the works of the Holy Spirit at this time, you would discover strength, law and power, as well as love, tenderness and balm?

26. This is the highest reign, not because of the light, which is always the same, but because men are already more qualified for a higher life.

27. It will be the Reign of Light that illuminates minds and spirits, light that will transform humanity. The clarity will be so great that all those who have denied me will stop doing so and those who have been foolish will abandon their foolishness, because they will be able to contemplate the truth with the clarity of day and the transparency of the firmament.

28. For now I have to separate from the rest of men a people formed by hearts of good will that will serve me, when the time comes, as labors of Spirituality. Here, in silence and humility, I am preparing and instructing you.

29. Just as the farmer cultivates his land, as the worker gives himself to his work, as the wise man dedicates himself to his calculations and the philosopher dreams; just as all men are struggling in an anguished and desperate struggle to live, so I want to form a people, inspired by spirituality, in peace, in the good, in the superior knowledge of life, who works and watches like the good sower, who is awake like the wise, who dreams like the philosopher, who fights for the true sustenance of the spirit, as humanity fights for the bread of life every day.

30. The true spiritualist will be the one who, by uniting the laws of spirit to those of matter, comes to make with them a virtuous, conscious and elevated norm of life.

31. Today you are my little disciples, the ones who in your solitary meditations are gradually forging your spirit, so that later you can help your brothers to forge their well-being.

32. The disciple of Jesus is the one who subjugates with the word that persuades and comforts, who raises and resurrects, making the vanquished a conqueror of himself and adversity.

33. The apostle of Christ cannot harbor selfishness in his heart, thinking only of his own sufferings or worries; he neglects his own to think of others, with the absolute confidence that nothing has been left unattended, because immediately the Father assists those who have abandoned 'his own to attend to a child of the Lord who needs the sustenance of the spirit. And he who knew how to forget himself in order to bring a smile of hope to his fellow man, a consolation to his sadness, a drop of balm to his pain, upon returning to his home, finds him illuminated with a light that is blessing, joy and peace.

34. When men feel a little brothers of their fellow men and a little fathers of the children of the whole earth, then they will have taken a firm step in my Doctrine.

35. How few know about the great science of life, whose strength and principle is based on love.

36. Whoever learns to be good through the divine teaching that my Doctrine contains, will have to be like bread, which is broken at the table to distribute it to all those who come to it to eat.

37. You will not be able to say that you are on my path of love as long as you place yourselves on the margins of goodness and neglect your spiritual advancement, as long as you worry about others in order to censor and judge them.

38. As long as you do not cleanse your heart and your thought, be sure that you will be an obstacle, so that my light can reach and penetrate your being, because bad thoughts, words and feelings are obstacles so that that light that is all purity, can dwell in your spirit.

39. You need to clean the room so that I can penetrate into your heart, but not for an instant, but forever. I want to dwell in the hidden chamber of your heart, but stop calling me to be there for a few brief moments, only while your preparation lasts, to then be thrown away as soon as your passions are reborn.

40. The world is strong and its temptations, therefore your purposes must be even stronger, so that in the midst of struggle and trials your will will not falter.

41. Sometimes I repeat my lessons because I want to sensitize your spirit and shake your heart; if I didn't, you would fall into false concepts about the truth of my word. Do you remember how that ancient people of Israel, saw in their God only inexorable justice, rigor, and hardness, and that because they had that concept of their Lord, the fear of punishment was what made them obey the Law of God?

42. You already know the error they were in, since you have discovered the Father's infinite love for men.

43. You already look in God, before a Judge, to the Father of perfect and inexhaustible love, and I tell you that it is good that you look in God to your Father; however, I must tell you to alert you, that you too may fall like that ancient people into a new error, and that error may be that you do not worry about improving yourself morally and spiritually or that you do not worry about sinning continuously and gravely, in the confidence that the Father above all is love and will forgive you.

44. Certainly, God is love and there is no fault, no matter how serious, that He does not forgive, but you must know precisely that from that divine love proceeds a justice that is inexorable. Know all this so that what you carry in you as knowledge of my Doctrine, which contains truth, you will destroy all the erroneous concepts that could be in you. Do not forget that the Father's love forgives you, but that the stain, despite forgiveness, remains imprinted on your spirit and that you will have to wash it with merits, thus corresponding to the love that forgave you,

45. You have been fond of closing your eyes to your evil deeds, to your sins, and carrying the undesirable burden to leave it in someone else's home; but you will come to understand that no one should wash the stains more than the one who has imprinted them on his heart.

46. Why is your passage slow, even though it is the saving harbor and the source of grace that await you? It is because the feeling of coldness in faith in God, the world skepticism infects you and at times you feel like men who no longer expect anything from my charity.

47. People who listen to me on this day, men who seek happiness in the passing life of pleasures, truly I tell you that in the end only bitterness and the claim of conscience will remain on your lips, when you see how different and contrary to your illusions, is the result of your efforts.

48. Truly I tell you that to live, to fight, to enjoy, to suffer and to die, you will only be able to walk leaning on the spirit, as if it were a staff and the spirit must always listen to the voice of his conscience.

49. You can only find strength in faith.

50. O saddened humanity, overshadowed by pain and bitterness! Open your eyes so that you may see the arrival of the Kingdom of light, of the Spirit of Truth, who descends to the spirits and to the minds that have been dormant until today, to awaken them.

51. Christ speaks to you in the spirit, your interpreter between God and man, because Christ is the word, he is the Word of God, the Word of Love and Truth. Now I am speaking to you in one of the infinite ways in which I can manifest my Word to you; tomorrow, when this form has passed, my word will be written, and thus, in writings it will go from region to region, from home to home, from heart to heart, awakening some, converting others, consoling others more, although I also tell you: there will be those who blaspheme against him. No matter, people, times will come when multitudes will eagerly seek my word through the writings; even this people, wanting to remember the essence and charm of that word that was manna in the desert of their life, will welcome with love and respect the pages where you engraved my word.

52. Man is in need of spiritual wisdom and I come to give it to him, as in the past time when, seeing humanity in need of love, I came to teach him.

53. For God there are no impossible things: Man has needed God and He has come to man; he has needed a superior knowledge, and the Lord has come to reveal profound lessons to him; he has needed to strengthen his faith, and the Father has encouraged the faith of the dearly beloved son.

54. Do not be surprised, that in this Third Time I am manifesting myself in the way that your ears testify and that your heart has felt,

55. Now you have not seen me incarnate in a man, the presence of Christ is manifested in the Third Time through inspiration and the faculty of communicating with my Spirit, which has been given as a mission to some of my children,

56. Men came to a state of great confusion, due to their twisted interpretations of what was revealed by God in the past times; by their inability to penetrate the incomprehensible, by their lack of spiritual strength to reach to look at the light of the eternal, beyond the wall of their materialism.

57. I had to come before your immense need for light, light that means wisdom, love, elevation.

58. In order to give you this light, it was not convenient for Me to present Myself as a man before you, because in order to induce you to spirituality it was necessary that I manifest my presence in a spiritual form, invisible and yet sensitive to your faith and love.

59. The coming of the Holy Spirit in this Third Time is only the spiritual manifestation of God, of that mighty and righteous Jehovah, manifested through the elements in the First Time, of the loving Jesus, true man in whom the Father spoke at the dawn of the Second Age, Today he comes to men again, but he comes in Spirit, knowing that you are already in a position to conceive and believe him communicating directly with you.

60. This is the Age of Light, whose clarity will make you understand what you considered impenetrable; I will leave in your heart the essence of the lessons of past times, but the fanaticism that you have raised around them, must be destroyed by humanity itself the instant it continues the path of its evolution.

61. Here I am speaking for everyone, without stopping to distinguish you by religions or creeds. The spiritual division and schisms have been made by men, it is they who judge each other, fight each other and deny each other truth.

62. I love everyone and I am looking for everyone, because I see that you are all out of the way. That you have made of the truth and the Law many religions, I do not reproach you, on the contrary, it was allowed to you by virtue of finding yourselves in different degrees of understanding, advancement and spirituality; but that one religion looks at the others as enemies and threatens, injures and kills each other, that has never been prescribed by my teaching. I tell you that those who do this are not defenders of the truth, but enemies of it.

63. Why are you enemies of each other, when none is blameless? Why attack the way others want to seek perfection and draw closer to their Father? Who is the one who can say that he carries the truth and is with God, that he considers himself safe and who is the one who is destined to perish?

64. How foolish you are still to judge one another!

Love one another!

65. Are you not ashamed to be committing faults in the full time of the Light and when your spirit should have already risen above human misery?

66. Here you have, people, the voice of the Holy Spirit, the spiritual manifestation of God through your understanding, revealing to you not a new law or a new doctrine, but a new, more advanced, spiritual and perfect way of communicating with the Father, of receiving him and worshiping him.

67. If the Lord said to you, "You shall love God with all your heart and spirit and your fellow men as yourself," and if the Master preached to you the Doctrine of love, this spiritual voice that comes from the same source, comes to tell you to embrace the Law of Love, because it has a strength that you will not find in the greatest armies of the world, and that its conquests will be firm and lasting, because everything that you build on foundations of love, will have eternal life.

68. Today humanity is in disgrace, the human mind is troubled, the heart is overshadowed by the power that man has achieved on Earth and the remedy has been at all times within his reach, but he has despised it, that remedy is spiritual knowledge,

69. I tell you that those of you who are awake, realizing what is happening, are the ones who are indicated to light the lamp of faith in men, towards the Spirit of God.

70. Understand that your spirit has to develop in accordance with its faculties, gifts and potencies, which until today you are almost completely unaware of.

71. My word does not come to reveal to you details of your past or of your spiritual future, which would lead to no good end; but I do come to teach you to fulfill your mission within the abode to which you have been sent.

72. Therefore, all those ideas with which some would like to marvel, telling you about your past or your future in the life of the spirit, discard them.

73. Know, disciples, that spirituality allows the conscience to manifest itself more clearly, and whoever knows how to listen to that wise voice, will not be deceived.

74. Be intimate with the conscience, it is the friendly voice, through which the Lord his light appears, already as a Father, already as a Teacher, already as a Judge.

75. Let your conscience tell you in the trials that I am not punishing you, but that you are purifying yourselves and that when you see unleashed elements sowing terror, do not blaspheme, saying that it is God's punishment, but that it is a test to purify you.

76. Only the purity of the spirit will be able to make it show the splendor of its garment of light.

Love one another!

77. Go after purification, which you will be able to obtain by the practice of love among your fellow men.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 294

1. In these difficult and painful times for men, my Work will be like a beacon for the shipwrecked, like a shield for the weak, like a saddlebag full of provisions for the needy. I speak to you figuratively about the spiritual, because I have already told you that man lives not only on bread, but also on my word.
2. It is necessary that you understand the essence of this truth, because many needy people will cross your path, sick in body and spirit, and truly I tell you that their material need will not be greater than that of their spirit, because this will be misery, hunger, nakedness, cold, anguish and darkness.
3. How you must be prepared to penetrate into the hearts and know what they contain, what they hide and what they need! I have come to teach you to feed spirits, to heal them and give them light and to show them the path of their evolution.
4. Whoever hears this word and keeps it in his heart will become a guide, doctor and counselor, in his word there will be a venere of peace and consolation for his brothers in need of light.
5. By healing the sick and making them listen to the divine word, you will attend the resurrection of many spirits, when they, waking up from their deep sleep, shaken by your voice, discover the treasures and gifts they carried with them, without realizing it there will be very great joy in their hearts, because they will feel inherited by their Father.
6. For a long time they felt distant from the Lord, but a single word from a brother, an emissary of that most loving Father, was enough for their whole being to vibrate with love and life.
7. My call will reach everyone passing from one heart to another, thus, in the silence, the news of my spiritual presence has been spreading among you and the knowledge that this is the Third Time has been transmitted.
8. I do not want you to boast of my coming, nor to use means other than spirituality to spread my message.
9. Take the example of my apostles, who with works of love, with words of light and with writings that reflected the truth, brought to all the peoples of the earth the testimony that Christ, the Divine Teacher, had been with them.
10. Weak people, who do not want to strive to achieve your own good: Are those sacrifices that I have come asking of you? The mission that I have entrusted to each one of you is very simple and it seems to you like a cross whose weight is greater than your strength.

11. If I subject you to any test, even if it is benign, you despair and rebel against my will,

12. Where is Abraham, to whom I asked for the life of his beloved son and he was willing to obey me? Where could I find the strength and faith of Moses, crossing the desert, followed by his people? And the fidelity of my apostles to follow until death the traces traced by their Master, where could I find it again?,

13. See that I am not asking for the life of your children, nor that you give your blood in my name, and yet the mission I have entrusted to you seems heavy to you and there are many who shy away from it.

14. I have only come to teach you the means of doing charity, of being useful to your fellow human beings, thus creating perpetual peace for the spirit, helping your brothers to climb the mountain of spirituality.

15. Let the voice of your conscience speak, listen to it and then tell me if this mission that I have entrusted to you is a yoke for you; truly I tell you that if you manage to always listen to that inner voice, you will have to shed tears of repentance and you will tell me: How ungrateful we have been to you and how unjust to ourselves!

16. When you have made these reflections and the firm resolutions to fulfill your mission with meekness and love are formed in your heart, you will feel in your spirit the light of your Father, blessing you.

17. Do not be afraid, people, that. I am ahead of you guiding your steps and illuminating your path like an immense beacon of light.

18. If you take this lesson today as a complaint from the master, take it that way; but look for its background and there you will find my justice, my love and my zeal for the part that I have entrusted to you in my Work.

19. See that this is the Third Time, the Age of spiritual light.

20. Be pleased, because you are going to be witnesses of many events and you are going to have the grace to receive many revelations.

21. Your heart is not hardened, your brain is not closed to my love, your spirit is not asleep; open your eyes to the light and prepare all your senses so that you perceive the signs, the voices and manifestations of my Spirit and of the Spiritual World, which will vibrate over you.

Love one another!

22. The day of his spiritual liberation is appointed to each creature at this time, the moment when he will forever cease to be a slave of the world, a servant of temptations, a worshiper of matter and its pleasures.

23. The false jewels will fall from you, the spirit renouncing the vanities of the world to put on the worthy mantle of spirituality.

24. For how many of you who have listened to my word at this time, the day of your liberation was precisely the one on which you first heard this voice, with how much love you have engraved in your memory the blessed date that reminds you of the miracle of your resurrection to faith!

25. Blessed are those who wept a lot, but knew how to wait; blessed are those who sinned, but then meekly submitted to purification, sensing the arrival of my word in their hearts, they from the day they witnessed for the first time my manifestation, from my first word, knew how to feel and recognize me; by touching with my essence the fibers of their heart, sensitized by the pain and the vicissitudes of life, they felt the divine sap of the Master running through their entire being, and at the same time that they were strengthened by his spirit, miseries, scourges, vices, sorrows, darkness and stains fell, to then dress themselves in the proper garment of the spirit, which is the truth.

26. They had come to my presence dead to the spiritual life, but, when they left, they were converted into men of faith, who at last knew which was the true way because faith is the compass of the spirit.

27. The indescribable joy of the spirit when he rises to faith! But that was not all, something more awaited those who returned to life like this and it was the joy of knowing that on their way they could resurrect the dead as they had learned from their Master and could guide any pilgrim they caught walking aimlessly in life.

28. Whoever has not saved a fellow man, whoever has not restored a brother to lost faith or health, will not be able to imagine that joy of the spirit. Who then can imagine the joy of being the savior, the consolation, the teacher and the eternal resurrection of every spirit? But I have not reserved that joy only for Myself, because I have come to share with you something of each of my attributes, teaching you to save, to heal, to console and to rise again, because I want my joy to be for everyone, just as my glory awaits everyone.

29. People: If you feel that a higher force envelops your being, it is that you are feeling my presence, you have prepared your spirit and arranged your matter, so that at this moment, trembling at my word, you enjoy the strength that emanates from my spirit. Think that if at every moment of your life you had this spirituality, everywhere you would perceive the sensation of my presence: then you would verify that my justice is fully manifested in your life.

30. I am judging the peoples of the earth, touching all spirits with my light; but few realize that their judgment has come and even fewer are those who sense the presence of the time prophesied from the past ages.

31. I have given everyone the necessary time for the examination of their life in the light of their conscience, as well as for their repentance and regeneration, in case something had to be amended or repaired. Both the men who govern and legislate, as well as those who spiritually guide humanity, as well as scientists and all those who transmit knowledge, I have granted time to prepare, because everyone will have to answer the questions that my justice is going to ask you.

32. If these men of today were not so hard and insensitive, they would certainly constantly receive messages from the spiritual world and sometimes they would be surrounded by multitudes of beings who work incessantly for the awakening of men and would prove that they are never alone.

33. Some call that world "invisible", others, "beyond" and why? Simply because they lack the faith to "see" the spiritual and because their human littleness makes them feel distant and alien from a world that they should feel in their heart.

34. To this people who gather in the humility of these enclosures to listen to me, I had to strip them of earthly goods and vanities so that they could be attracted to something that is not precisely of this world and that is my Doctrine.

35. I have found you poor, mourning the lost flows and therefore, a little disabused of the false brightness of worldly glories and a little dematerialized. This helps you to feel the presence of the spiritual, as well as to desire the development and improvement of your spirit. If you were rich, healthy, and if you had lived among comforts, feasts and pleasures, would you have come to my call?

36. See how much I have yet to make myself felt among humanity so that the monarchs will come after my teaching.

37. It is not that I want poor and much less needy of what is necessary to live and subsist, but it is that the evolved man must know that before the human, there is the spirit, because the spirit can live without a body and instead the body cannot exist without the spirit.

Love one another!

38. I want everything to be yours, but that you know how to consciously take what you need, that you know how to be spiritually rich and be able to possess a lot in the material, if you know how to make good use of it and give the one and the other their true value and their place. How can the spirit of an immensely wealthy man be harmed, if what he possesses is for the benefit of his fellow men? And how can a powerful man be harmed, if his spirit knows how to turn aside in a timely manner to pray, and with his prayer he is in communion with me?

39. You who hear these revelations are understanding the truth, but there are many who are shipwrecked in darkness at this precise moment and they will have to be saved. In this approaching storm, many ships will sink and there will be fear and lamentations and imprecations, despair and tears; however, I assure you that spiritually none will perish, because even in the thickest darkness there will always be shining a light, a star, a ray, which is the consciousness of which a flash of faith and hope will descend to the heart.

40. When the cry of supplication to me arises from the highest of men, saying to me, "My Father, our savior, come to us who are perishing," my divine strength will make you feel my presence, I will manifest my infinite mercy to you and once again I will test you.

41. I thirst for your faith, for your repentance and for your love; thirst that until now you have not been able to quench, because whenever I have asked you for the water of your love, you have offered me the chalice of gall and vinegar.

42. My thirst is that you love one another, because it would be enough for you to fulfill that precept, so that all your sorrows, your bitterness and hardships would cease to the point. My thirst does not represent a need of mine, but yours.

43. Disciples: Feel how I love you in this word; love me also in it, for my Spirit is in its essence.

44. When this Doctrine spreads, they will have to ask you the object of this message, since there are already so many religions. Then you will reveal to them that this word has come to humanity to teach men the spirit-to-Spirit communication that their religions do not teach them, and that this message is the divine light that reveals to you all the spiritual attributes that you possess.

45. This people will bring the Good News of my word to all humanity and through it men will recognize that there is only one step between them and the spiritual Kingdom, and that the infinite distance that they believed existed between one world and another, had only been the fruit of their imagination, their ignorance and their materialized worship.

Love one another!

46. In the past times humanity was only prepared for when the time of spiritual communication was propitious. This is the propitious time, in which your spirit is authorized and at the same time enabled to rise and relate to the higher life.

47. My communication through human understanding has come to prove to you the truth of what I have just told you and has also served as an encouragement for this people who have listened to me, helping them in this way to take the first step towards spiritual communication.

48. Just as I have first taught you, so that you could later take steps of greater perfection on my path, you will have to speak with my word and explain it first, so that, once my Work is understood by your brothers, they will be prepared and able to communicate spirit to Spirit with their Father and with their spiritual brothers.

49. Not all my spokespersons have known or wanted to arrange themselves to serve me and many times I have had to send my light on their impure understandings occupied in the superfluous, when not in the sinful. They, in their fault, have borne my justice, because their mind has been deprived of all inspiration and their lips of all eloquence to express the divine message. In those cases the crowd has closed its ears to those poor manifestations, but instead it has opened its spirit to feel my presence in it and receive my essence. The people sustained themselves with the essence that my charity sent them at that moment, but the pedestal retained a message that did not flow through their lips, forcing the crowd to communicate spirit to Spirit with their Master, when they were not yet ready to receive my inspiration in that way.

50. It is still time for spokespersons and congregations to prepare so that in the last year of my communication for the understanding of man, they will see my word culminate with the highest and most light-filled lectures that until then you have heard. I am ready to reward you by granting you that preparation and that longing, if you really get ready. My light will come in torrents, enveloping your spirit and saturating it with strength, wisdom and spirituality.

51. This is how the departure of my word has to be, at the end of this time of my communication, in the greatest of your preparation of spirit and understanding; so that when you no longer listen to me in this way, you will feel the immense need to hear my voice and that need impels you to seek me in the infinite, in the divine, because with this you will have firmly taken the step towards spiritual worship, towards true communication between the children and the Father.

52. When you no longer have before your eyes the people, objects or forms that you use as means to be able to feel me and only through prayer do you perceive my presence and receive my inspiration at any moment of your life when you request me, you will exclaim with joy in your heart: "Master, how close to us you dwell".

53. I will continue to be your Teacher, I will be your doctor and through you I will manifest myself in the sick that you present to me, I will be an inspiration in your mind and a verb on your lips; I will send you the spiritual guardians to continue guiding and protecting you.

54. Do not settle for the first thing you achieve, but put your zeal and your effort to perfect yourself, because that new way of looking for me will also be subject to development.

55. This is the Third Time, in which already your spirit, from the Earth, can begin to dream in very high abodes and in very great knowledge, because he who departs from this world carrying in his spirit the knowledge of what he is going to find and the development of his spiritual gifts, he will pass through many worlds, without stopping in them, until he reaches the one that by his merits corresponds to inhabit. He will be fully aware of his spiritual state, he will know how to carry out his mission wherever he is, he will know the language of love, harmony and justice and he will know how to communicate with the purity of the spiritual language that is thought. He will have no obstacles, confusion, or tears, and he will begin to live the supreme joy of approaching the mansions that belong to him, because they correspond to him as an eternal inheritance.

56. In order for my Work to become established in the heart of humanity as a sanctuary of faith and spirituality, my servants will have to fight a lot, my people will have to go through innumerable trials.

57. At the first moment the world will reject this Doctrine, but you will not faint because from now on I warn you that whoever rejects it will do so with the heart, but it will not be with the spirit of humanity, since the spirit preserves in itself this promise of mine.

58. I have seen you thoughtful and worried about the day that awaits you and I have come to your heart to give you peace and with my word to open paths for you and to break down obstacles that you were already forming with your imagination.

59. Blessed are those who meditate, suffer and worry because of my Work, because it is proof that they have embraced it with their heart, so I strengthen their spirit and caress them so that they may feel full of faith, peace and trust again.

60. At my table of love you have eaten the divine bread to which your preparation made you worthy. If you have not achieved more, it is because your preparation did not reach more; if you achieved a lot on this day, it was proof that you knew how to make yourself worthy of that reward. I also ask you that if I poured out my light in torrents in other enclosures on this day, it was because the multitudes knew how to prepare, and that, however, where that spirituality did not exist, my word, full of justice, resonated in the consciences of my children.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 295

1. Humanity: You have misunderstood the meaning of life, because you have come to give greater importance to the material than to the spiritual. If it were not so, my new coming among you would not have been necessary; but hear how my word invites you to elevation and spirituality, seeing that men live lethargically before reality.
2. My Doctrine has the mission of making you interested in the life that awaits you, the one that will be eternal, I came to destroy from your heart the fear of leaving the human envelope, the fear of death. My word comes to deliver you from all your mistakes.
3. Truly I tell you, death does not exist, because the Creator is life and his works cannot die.
4. Man is the one who with his imagination has created death and has also created hells and glories according to his poor understanding: What righteous concepts can he have of my existence, of my justice and of the truth about eternal life? There is only confusion in the heart of humanity, and that confusion is part of the foundations where the beliefs of the majority rest. What future awaits humanity if it persists in deviating from the true path? Only misery, confusion and pain, of which he has a foretaste in the life full of vicissitudes that he leads on Earth.
5. The Doctrine of the Spirit, my Doctrine, people, is the ray of light that comes to break the darkness into which you have penetrated. Only through it will men come to have an absolute and comprehensive teaching of their spiritual destiny and a true knowledge about the existence of my justice.
6. Men today cannot think of God without materializing Him in some form; they cannot speak of temptations without personifying the influence of evil on a being whose mission is to lose the spirits, and they cannot think of the atonement of the one who has sinned, without imagining the punishment of hellfire, which has never existed.
7. On these three confusions that dominate the mind of humanity, I tell you that, if you believe that God is the Holy Spirit, you do not have to look for Him in material forms, since he is Spirit; and that this imaginary being whom you call Lucifer or Satan, does not exist except in the minds of those who have not been able to interpret spiritually my words, revelations and messages of past times. Truly I tell you, there are great spirits of darkness in the spiritual valley, sowers of discord, hatred and perversity; there are multitudes of spirits whose influence reaches men by transmitting evil thoughts and inducing them to evil deeds; but these beings are not demons, they are imperfect beings, troubled, confused, darkened by pain, envy or resentment. Do not be surprised if I tell you that his nature is the same as that of your spirit and the same as that of those beings called angels by you.

8. Why do you not call the evil men who dwell on the earth demons, if they also tempt you, if they also lead you into evil and lead you away from the true way? They, like the troubled beings of space, are also imperfect spirits, but they have attained power and strength because an ideal of greatness has taken hold of them.

9. Verily I say unto you, I have no enemies either among them that dwell on the earth, or among them that are in the spirit. There is no one who dedicates himself to hating me, to blaspheming against me, or to turning his fellow men from the right path for the sole pleasure of offending me. Rubbish! Those who turn men away from the faith, those who erase my name from the hearts of their brothers and those who fight against the spiritual, do not do it to offend me, they do it because it suits their earthly ambitions, their dreams of greatness and human glory.

10. This happens with the beings of the Beyond who have not awakened to the light that rises along the path of love. They have tried to be great for science simply and when they influence their brothers and turn them away from the good path, it is not in order to cause me pain, to rival my power, to rejoice in the triumph of evil over good, no, the motive, although bad, is not to offend me. How can you be thinking all your life that in front of Me there is a powerful adversary who at every step takes away from me what is mine?

11. How do you conceive that I would have placed on the path of men a being infinitely more powerful than they, so that He would be tempting them without ceasing and that in the end He would push them to eternal perdition?

12. How badly do you think of Me and of my justice those who claim to know and love me!

13. Surely the wicked tempt the good; the strong abuse the weak; the unjust mock the innocent and the impure violate what is pure. But they are temptations that the one who encounters them can reject, because he has weapons and a shield to fight and defend himself. His sword is conscience and behind it are morality, faith and reason, so as not to be seduced by bad influences, and he must not only do that, but also sow virtue with his works, countering evil in every possible way; if you see that there are those who sow perdition, vices and destruction, get up to sow light, to save the lost, to lift up the one who has fallen.

14. It is the eternal struggle of good against evil and of light against darkness, an indispensable struggle to climb and reach the heights of perfection.

Love one another!

15. It is as meritorious before Me that a being stained with the imprint of the most serious faults purify himself inspired by a high ideal, as that a being who has persevered in purity, fights to the end not to stain himself, because he from the beginning loved the light.

16. How far from the truth are those who think that troubled spirits have a different nature from the spirits of light!

17. The Father would be unjust if that were true, just as he would cease to be Almighty if he lacked wisdom or love to save the defiled, the impure, the imperfect and not be able to meet with all the righteous in the same dwelling.

18. Disciples: When in man there is a true knowledge of the works he has done, he does not allow himself to be blinded by vanity, he knows that if that ignoble feeling penetrates into his being, his intelligence would be clouded and he could no longer advance on the path, he would stagnate and succumb to lethargy.

19. Vanity has lost many men, it has destroyed many flourishing peoples and it has sunk your cultures.

20. While the peoples had work, struggle and progress as their ideal, they knew about abundance, splendor and well-being, but when pride made them feel superior; when their ideal of elevation was changed by the insatiable ambition of wanting everything for themselves, without realizing how much and without wanting it, they began to destroy step by step what they had built, ending up sinking into an abyss.

21. The history of humanity is full of these experiences, for which I tell you that it is right that a people of great ideals should arise in the world, which, always aware of their good works, should not be puffed up by them, in this way their pace will not stop and the splendor achieved so far, tomorrow will see it surpassed and later again on the rise.

22. By speaking to you in this way, I am not trying to inspire you only with material ambitions, I want my words to be interpreted precisely so that you will know how to apply them to the spiritual, as well as to the material.

23. Vanity can not only surprise man in his material life, and as proof of what I am telling you, see the falls and failures of the great religions, eaten away at their bases by vanity, by pride, by their false aggrandizement; when they have believed themselves to be at the height of their power, someone has come to wake them up from their sleep, making them see their mistakes, their deviations, their departure from the Law and the truth.

Love one another!

24. Only with the true knowledge and fulfillment of my Law before the conscience, this humanity will be able to emerge to a high life, because the conscience, which is my light, is perfect, it is serene, it is just, it never gets puffed up or twists its way.

25. Tell me if it is not a spiritual doctrine that men need to approach the truth. For that doctrine which humanity so sorely needs is precisely the one which I have brought to you.

26. When this word spreads throughout the world and men ask who inspired it and who dictated it to be written, the emissaries and sowers of it will testify that it was the Holy Spirit who revealed it through the prepared understanding of his spokesmen.

27. When this humanity receives my message, it will remember Jesus that humble Nazarene who preached on the mountains, in the desert, on the banks of the rivers and in the valleys; because his word did not need material temples, since wherever it sprouted, there arose the inner temple of the multitudes, whose heart opened, like the corolla of flowers to the contact of the sun.

28. I am already at the door with all my heart but it is necessary that humanity, remembering my promise to return, remember that I never announced that my presence would be again as a man, but I made you understand that this return would be in Spirit.

29. This is the time of understanding, of the enlightenment of the spirit and of the mind, in which man will finally seek me spiritually, because he will recognize that God is not a person or an image, but a Universal, unlimited and absolute Spirit.

30. This Doctrine, known to a few and ignored by humanity, will soon come as a balm on all who suffer, to impart comfort, ignite faith, destroy darkness, instill hope. She lifts you above sin, misery, pain and death.

31. It could not be otherwise because it is I, the Divine Doctor, the promised Comforter, who has come to reveal it to you.

32. In all times my Doctrine has shown you that its essence is to love. Love is the essence of God, from that force all beings take to live; from it all life and creation arose: Love is the beginning and the end in the destiny of everything made by the Father. Before that force that moves everything, illuminates and quickens it, death disappears, sin vanishes, passions vanish, impurities are washed away and everything that is imperfect is perfected.

33. I came to the world in the Second Time to prove to you the strength of love with my Doctrine and my examples, which were indelibly impressed on your conscience; however, I, who with love overcame the pain of the world and death, I ask you, men who are evolving: Have you already learned to overcome the pain of the world and death?

Love one another!

34. I have seen that you still celebrate the day of the dead, and why? Is this the way you celebrate victory over death? No, humanity; make no mistake, look that with this you are celebrating the cult of matter and the love of the world. In this worship of those who have gone down to the bowels of the Earth, you turn away and forget the spirits, who are the ones who represent the true and eternal life. When I watch you bathe a tomb with tears or cover it with flowers, I cannot but apply to you those words of mine that tell you: "You are dead watching over your dead".

35. To those who have understood my word and are applying it to their lives, I entrust you to pray for all those who, in their materialism, alter the meaning of truth, and who, proud and puffed up in their science, have come to believe themselves wise, creative and strong and laugh at those who still, remembering God, raise their prayers to Him. They believe they have the fate of humanity in their hands, ignoring that they are also under my divine justice. They need your prayers and your spiritual help more than anyone else.

36. These men have lost themselves in their idolatrous worship of matter, worship that they render through science, but they will also awaken to the great tests that are reserved for them and by them they will come to understand that something exists in man that is beyond intelligence, which is the spirit, and that there is something superior even to material science, which is the knowledge of spiritual life.

37. When it is no longer the mind that leads the spirit to observe or to deepen in science, but the spirit that elevates and guides the mind, it will be when man discovers what now seems inscrutable to him and which, however, is destined to be revealed to him, when he has spiritualized his intelligence.

38. Listening to any of my lectures you will be able to understand and even sense the chaos of ideas that is approaching.

39. The time of idolatry is coming to an end and the stage of spirituality will soon make its entrance into the heart of humanity. All idols will fall to the ground and make way for the truth and there it will rise-the true altar to God.

40. I am the light, the truth and the life; I am the open book.

41. Since the beginning of humanity, men have sought the origin of life and the why of everything that surrounds them; for this they have used the strength of their mind, the light of intelligence. Hence his sciences and his philosophies have arisen; but as the human mind is too limited to encompass the truth that only the spirit can understand and penetrate, there has been little that his science has managed to discover of that truth.

42. Men have not sought that light in the spiritual, and I am Spirit, therefore, whoever wants to find the source of life, the light of truth and the origin of everything created, will have to look for Me first. Seek Me with the spirit, through prayer, the longing to know, to love and serve their fellow men better, to rise above the miseries of human life, To him will be revealed the teachings that others, rummaging with the mind, have discovered through centuries,

43. I am Love, and whoever seeks me must do so inspired by love.

44. Man is a reflection of the Creator, an image of God, necessarily the children will have to resemble the Father from whom they sprang; that similarity is in the spirit for being endowed with the attributes of God and also having eternal life; matter, that is, the human body is only a fleeting garment of the spirit.

45. The Father sent the spirits to inhabit this Earth so that in it they would find means for their development, trials to strengthen themselves, lessons to fill themselves with light, endless opportunities to make merits, which will raise him above this life, free him from matter and lead him to the Spiritual Kingdom; but man has not yet managed to win the battle, he has not mastered matter, he has not made the world his servant. On the contrary, he has allowed himself to be dominated by forces and elements that are inferior to him, man believes himself to be the lord of the world, when in reality he is nothing more than a slave of matter.

46. Until he wins this battle, he will not have conquered the spiritual life.

47. But do not believe that what I want is for men to depart from the material laws to dedicate themselves to the spiritual exclusively, no, people, what the Father has created and offered to humanity, I want you to take it for your good, for your evolution and for your elevation; that you come to dominate over material life with its elements, forces, beings and; but to achieve this, it is necessary to go beyond where your intelligence reaches, that is, through the spirit, so that the Father, contemplating your noble ends, the love that you put in your works and the place that you have known how to give to your spirit, uncovers the veil of its arcane and grants you a flash of his wisdom that illuminates your spirit.

48. It is right that the spirit reveals wisdom to the human mind and not that the mind is the one that gives light to the spirit; many will not understand this that I am telling you, because it has been a long time that you have altered the order of your life.

Love one another!

49. See how man is before and above all that surrounds him; that he is the only being endowed with free will and conscience. From that free will all the errors, falls and sins of humanity have come; but they are temporary errors before the justice and eternity of the Creator, because then consciousness will be imposed on the weaknesses of matter and on the weakness of the spirit, with it will come the triumph of light, which is knowledge over darkness, which are ignorance and ignorance of the; it will be the triumph of good, which is love, justice and harmony, over evil, which is selfishness, debauchery, injustice.

50. If you take a good look at your life and the history of humanity, you will find that this struggle has been constant from the beginning of Creation to the present moment, a struggle necessary for the perfection of your spirit, as fire is necessary to acrisolate gold.

51. Listening to this lesson. Who is he who can think that a single human existence can suffice a spirit for its total development and its perfection?

52. O men, who are too busy with human life, making you believe that you are eternal on Earth, and you do not know that because of your materiality, you have to come in new matters to the world, to take the step that on the previous occasion you did not know how to take!

53. But the many reincarnations do not give absolute perfection to a spirit either; no matter how high it is after its last stay on Earth, the spiritual valley will still be waiting for it with its dwellings in infinite number, its new teachings, revelations, and wonders.

54. When you have traveled the path and reached the thresholds of the pure and the perfect, you will be understanding the why of your existence, you will be truly dwelling in the light.

55. Here on Earth, I have divided the spiritual life of humanity into three stages, times or eras, in which I have been revealing to you step by step, lesson by lesson, the wisdom that you should all possess.

56. The First Time is like the spiritual childhood of man in which he opens his eyes and contemplates the face of his Father, listens to him but is far from understanding him, proof of this is that he tried to obey him by sticking to the letter of the texts, without penetrating with the spirit in the meaning of them.

57. In the Second Time I, the Word, came to dwell in Jesus with you and to teach you with my life the way of the Spirit. That Second Time is that of adolescence or the first spiritual youth, it is the age in which Christ came to teach men love, to awaken their sleeping fibers so that their heart vibrated under a new feeling, under the powerful impulse of love for his Father and for his fellow men.

Love one another!

58. There, in those two loves, I summarized the whole Law, all my Teaching; the love of God, the Author of Life, the Father, the Creator, and the love of one another.

59. The Law has always been present in consciences; generations depart and generations arrive; spirits migrate and spirits come and my word remains firm and unshakable; however, humanity has been hard of understanding and heart and very few have been those who have understood the spirit of love of my Doctrine.

60. Men multiply and grow and as soon as their intelligence awakens, they take it away from the spiritual to go after the glory of the world, wealth or science, and then its fruits could not have been as sweet as your heart wanted; always in the end a bitter taste has remained on your lips.

61. But do not think that my word has as a system to misjudge your works or condemn what your science has achieved, no, people, it is not I who tell you with words that you are one step away from the abyss, they are the facts, they are the results of your lack of spirituality.

62. But at the precise moments when you are approaching the precipice, the sonorous bell rings on the eternity clock, marking the beginning of a new time: The Third Era, a time in which the Holy Spirit comes to shine in consciences, pouring out in wisdom, in light that clarifies mysteries, in strength that raises, resurrects, comforts and saves,

63. It is the most subtle and elevated form of all that the Father has used to speak to men; two ages have already passed for humanity and it is in the maturity of the spirit, it can already conceive and understand deeper lessons.

64. This is the Third Time in which the spirit of humanity will have to free itself from the chains of materialism, that will bring with it the greatest struggle of ideas recorded in the history of men.

65. Perversity, selfishness, arrogance, vice, lies and everything that has overshadowed your life, will fall like broken idols at the feet of those who worshiped them to make way for humility.

66. How can you help in this struggle? With the powerful weapon of prayer, not with the prayer of words, but with the elevation of thought.

67. My Spirit, infinitely more subtle than the air that surrounds you, will be present receiving your prayer and at the same time turning it into peace and balm for your brothers.

Love one another!

68. Your thoughts will become flashes of light in space and will arrive as a message to the understanding in need of clarity to think.

69. Your prayer will be that the peace of my Kingdom will come to the Earth and your works will be like the first seed of spirituality that will fall into the bosom of the Earth in the Third Time.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 296

1. I am the light that illuminates your path, the wisdom that comes to your understanding, the balm that relieves your sufferings.
2. I am the Master and I come to you in order to make you my disciples, because being my disciples, you will be righteous men on earth.
3. If you really want to break the darkness of your ignorance, seek me and I will give you the necessary light so that you will not have stumbles; if you want your faith to be great, come, listen to me and follow me without fatigue.
4. People: At the beginning of time the world was devoid of love, the first men were far from feeling and understanding that divine force, that essence of the spirit, the principle of everything created. They believed in God, but they attributed to Him only strength and justice. Men believed they understood the divine language through the elements of Nature; thus, when they saw them peaceful and serene, they thought that the Lord was pleased with the works of men, but, if the elements were unleashed, then they believed they saw in it the wrath of God manifested in that way.
5. In the heart of man, the idea of a terrible God had formed, in whom resentment and a feeling of revenge could be harbored, so when they thought they had offended God, they offered him burnt offerings and sacrifices, hoping to atone to him. I tell you that those offerings were not inspired by the love of God, it was the fear of divine justice, the fear of punishment, that inspired the first peoples to offer tributes to their Lord.
6. The Divine Spirit was simply called God, but never Father or Teacher.
7. It was the patriarchs and the first prophets who began to make man understand that God was justice, yes, but perfect justice, that he was first and foremost a Father, and that, as a Father, he loved all his creatures.
8. Step by step, walking slowly along the path of spiritual evolution, humanity continued its pilgrimage, passing from one era to another and knowing something more of the Divine Arcanum, through the revelations that God made to his children at each time.
9. However, man still did not come to have a complete knowledge of divine love; because he did not truly love God, like a Father, nor did he know how to feel in his heart the love that his Lord gave him at every step.

Love one another!

10. It was necessary that perfect love should become man, that the Word should incarnate and become tangible and visible matter to men, so that they might finally know how much and in what way God loved them.

11. Not everyone recognized the presence of the Father in Jesus! How could they recognize him if Jesus was humble, compassionate, loving even with those who offended him? They regarded God as strong and proud before their enemies, righteous and terrible towards those who offended Him.

12. But, just as many denied, many also believed that word that penetrated to the deepest depths of the heart; that way of healing incurable ailments and ills, just with a caress, with a look of infinite compassion, with a word of hope; that teaching that was the promise of a new world, of a life of light and justice, could not be erased from many hearts, which understood that this divine man was the truth of the Father, the Divine Love of Him whom men did not know and therefore could not love.

13. The seed of that supreme truth was sown forever in the heart of humanity. Christ was the sower and he is still cultivating the seed; then he will come for the fruit to delight in it eternally, and already in his word he will not say again: "I am hungry" or "I thirst", because at last his children will love Him as He has loved them from the beginning.

14. Who is speaking to you about Christ, disciples? The same.

15. It is I, the Word, who speaks to you again, humanity; recognize me, do not doubt my presence because of the humility with which I present myself. Ostentation can't be with me.

16. Remember me through my passage through the world at that time; remember that I died as humbly as I was born and lived.

17. I am present before humanity, at a time in which new revelations have transformed the lives of men; and thus I make an act of presence among you, with the same humility that you knew in Me at that time.

18. It is not that the Word of God was born again in the poverty of a manger; no, because matter no longer needs to bear witness to the power of God. If men believe that this matter is God who came into the world, it is not so, the presence of God is spiritual, universal, infinite.

19. If everything that men have struggled with in this time, were within the just, lawful and good, it would not have been necessary for Me to come down to speak to you again; but, not all the works that this humanity presents to me, are good; there are many errors, many injustices, many deviations and evils, therefore, it was necessary that my charity awaken man when he was most dedicated in his work, to remind him what are the forgotten duties and to whom he owes everything that is and that has to be.

Love one another!

20. To make myself heard of a materialized humanity, which could not have listened to me from spirit to Spirit, I had to use its gifts and faculties, to communicate through the understanding of man.

21. The explanation of why I "descend" to communicate with you is this: Since I could not raise you to communicate with your Lord from spirit to Spirit, I had to descend one more step, that is, from the spiritual, from the divine, where you still cannot reach, then take your understanding, which has a seat in the brain of man and translate my divine inspiration into human word and material sound.

22. Man needs one more knowledge and it is God who comes to man to entrust him with wisdom; if the means chosen for my brief communication by the understanding of these spokespersons, does not seem worthy to you, I tell you in truth, that the message given through them, is very great. You would have wanted my manifestation before man to be made through pomps and ceremonies that impress, but in reality they are vain before the spirit because they lack true light.

23. I could have come, between lightning and storms to make my power felt, but then, how easy it would have been for man to confess that the presence of the Lord had arrived! Moreover, do you not think that fear would have returned to your heart, and also the idea of the incomprehensible? Do you not think that every feeling of love for the Father would have been taken only in fear of his justice? And you must know that God, although He is an omnipotent force, will not overcome you with that force, he will not impose himself by it, but by another power, and that is that of love.

24. It is the Divine Spirit who now speaks to the Universe; He is the one who comes to make light in everything that you did not see clear in another time, he is the dawn of a new day for all men, because He comes to free you from false fears, to destroy your doubts, in short, to make you free of spirit and understanding,

25. I tell you that after knowing the essence of my teachings and the justice of my laws, you will also know the limits that your concepts had imposed on you, preventing you from going beyond a weak knowledge of the truth,

26. It will no longer be fear or the fear of punishment that stops you from investigating, from discovering; only when you are truly wanting to know the impenetrable, it will be your conscience that will block your way, because you must know that not all truth corresponds to man, and that of it, he should only take the part that corresponds to him.

27. People: If my coming was announced that it would be in the midst of wars, unleashed elements, epidemics and chaos, it is not because I brought all this to you; it is because precisely my presence had to be opportune in that hour of crisis for humanity. And here you have the fulfillment of when a world is dying and in its death throes shakes and shakes the Earth, to make way for a new humanity; therefore the call of love, love that encloses and inspires: justice, fraternity and peace.

28. To you, who have had the grace to listen to me at this time, I must tell you that in order to truly be the spiritualist disciple, you must apply my Doctrine to your life; that it is not the remembering of certain precepts that will make you spiritualists, nor will it be certain rites and manifestations that will lead you to the fulfillment of your mission on Earth.

29. Speaking to you in this way, as only I can do, I reveal to you the best way to fulfill towards God and I remove from your heart the unfounded fears towards your Father.

30. But not only do I come to free you from errors and prejudices that affect your life in the world, but I also come to tell you that eternal damnation, as it has been described to you, does not exist, because the spirit cannot suffer the physical pain that produces pain in matter; the pain of the spirit comes from contemplating his actions in the light of conscience, which makes him look and understand clearly all the mistakes and imperfections committed.

31. Come to Me with the full conviction that you are on the path of truth and it will not be the fear that comes from ignorance that forces you to stay on the path.

32. Analyzing my revelations and manifestations of this and of the past times, you will end up understanding that I have always come wrapped in humility, therefore, do not let yourselves be surprised by what is outwardly wonderful and when your brothers who are marching along other paths come to tell you that the Lord cannot be in the midst of this poverty, of this humility that you show, you will remind them that God, manifested in the Word, came in Jesus to the world humbly, and that man believed in Him, and despite the centuries that have passed since his birth, it has not been possible to erase from the heart of humanity, the humility with which the Redeemer manifested himself to the world,

33. There are enclosures among you in which your congregations love and seek the external, the wonderful and superficial to impress their senses, without understanding that by seeking the external they forget the wonders contained in the Doctrine of the spirit.

Love one another!

34. Teaching, correcting, revealing, that is my Work among you to take you to the mansion of light, but before you cross the threshold of the Promised Land, you will have to make merits of faith and love.

35. The word of Christ germinated in his disciples, and in the people who followed him, his sowing grew, his teaching spread and his essence spread throughout the world; so this teaching will also spread now, which will be received by all those who are able to feel and understand it.

36. Take, beloved disciples, my balm, take multitudes, my Father's caress and my Teacher's message, for yourselves and for yours.

37. My presence seems to you like the breeze that caresses, so I come to your heart to give it life.

38. Some sense the proximity of my arrival, others contemplate me with a spiritual gaze and others with their sensitivity know the time when I approach. Everyone, in that blessed hour, says in their hearts: "Here is the Master", it is because they have felt that my peace envelops them.

39. For the spirit that has wandered through the infinite desert of life, there is no treasure more precious or oasis more desired than that of peace. This is the treasure that I have come to offer you and of which you will later have to share with your brothers.

40. I also come to teach you the means of spreading the blessed mantle of peace over men, and those means are thought, prayer, word, deeds.

41. Just as I see you at this moment, united by the peace that my word gives you, so I want to look at you after my departure, in the days of struggle that are approaching, in which I will make you feel my presence in a subtle way, in which you will hear me in your heart, because I promise you that you will not lack my caress, my essence, my balm.

42. Move with firmness and understanding from one lesson to another, from one time to another, and your harmony with my Work will not be broken. Your obedience and meekness before my laws and commands will give you an ineffable peace and you will never have complaints or there will be thorns that make you cry.

43. If you long to be my disciples, understand that you must be bearers of peace and of all the virtues that I have taught you to practice.

44. I have not let you go to the regions because I see that you are fruits that have not ripened. I will still have to send you the irrigation of love, the light of my wisdom and the rays of the divine sun, to give you life and strength, and when you have ripened like fruits on the tree of my Teaching, you will fall into contact with the wind that will come to rock the branches that supported you.

Love one another!

45. The closer the day approaches when I stop speaking to you in this way, the greater greatness you discover in my Spiritual Doctrine, and insensibly you move away from everything with which you limited it in past times; yes, because you came to limit this Divine Work in people, places and objects, when it, because it is universal and infinite, is beyond the material and the human.

46. Now you no longer contemplate my Work limited to people, places or objects, now you look at everything in the divine, in the infinitely elevated and you also find it in the elevated of your being.

47. How will my Work be before you when your spirit has traveled its journey to God and from there you are entranced in contemplation and delight in the light and understanding of your understanding?

48. You sense something of that great truth and of that joy that awaits you, but your presentiment and your imagination are too small to discover the reality.

49. Every ladder, every step, every abode, offers to the spirit a greater light and a more perfect joy, but the supreme peace, the perfect happiness of the spirit, is beyond all the passing abodes of the spirits.

50. How many times will you be thinking that you sense the perfect happiness in the bosom of God, without realizing that this happiness is just the promise of the immediate world, where you will have to pass after this life.

51. My seed in this time has germinated sooner in those who arrived clean of the understanding and the heart of theories and interpretations. They were like virgin lands before my word and I used them to transmit my message to the world.

52. Others came bringing the truth mixed with falsehood and my light was freeing them from errors, while affirming them in what they brought good. Not everything is tares or weeds in the human heart, sometimes a wheat plant grows there, and I come to take care of it so that it gleans and its grain later multiplies.

53. I have come to transform some, others and all of you into my disciples, uniting you into a single people who, at the moment of testifying with their works to my teaching, make the heart of humanity vibrate when they verify the strength of this Doctrine. The unbelievers, the persecutors, will rise up against me, the struggle will be great and your name will often walk on the lips of those who judge you in writings, as a pasture for scandal and slander.

54. I announce these trials to you, so that you will not be surprised when they arise, but I also tell you that it will be precisely then that I will manifest my power, my charity and my justice among this people.

55. All my hosts will prepare for the fight, all my servants will obey my voice and will come to testify about Me.

56. Not only will this people be a witness at the decisive hour: The elements, as always, will speak representing divine justice, the spiritual world will make an appearance and tear off the blindfold of ignorance of this materialistic humanity, of these men who claim to be on the path of Christ in search of eternity and who, however, stubbornly keep their eyes, ears and mind closed, to every voice and every manifestation of spiritual life,

57. That Christ, whom they believe they follow and understand, was precisely the one who opened the door that gives access to other worlds and abodes, the One who removed the confusion of the spirits who try to live possessing other people's bodies; the same one who, in the final hour of his mission through Jesus, made himself felt in the spirits who slept in the tombs the dream of death making them emerge into the light of life, but, so that men would attest to these manifestations, I allowed those beings to become visible before theirs.

58. I opened that door; only I could do it, because Christ, with his love, is the bond that unites all the worlds.

59. Be you of my legions of light, be you of my hosts of peace, be you of those who pray for the world and in truth I tell you that the tears of your eyes that are shed for the pain of others, will join the balm of your Father to fall like dewdrops on troubled hearts.

60. The true balm, people, the one that heals all ills, springs from love.

61. Love with the spirit, love with the heart and with the mind and you will have enough power to heal not only the diseases of the body or to console in the small human miseries, but you will know how to solve the spiritual mysteries, the great anxieties of the spirit, its troubles and regrets.

62. That balm resolves the great trials, turns on the light, calms the grief, melts the chains that oppress.

Love one another!

63. The man evicted by science, will return to health and life, to the contact of that balm; the spirit that has been detached, will return before the word of love of the brother who calls him.

64. When that time is in full, the spiritual forces will envelop men, there will be manifestations, events and signs never seen before; the proud men of science will find themselves amazed and there will be occasions when they cry helplessly, convinced of their smallness.

65. Humanity will turn its eyes to Christ and, meditating on his works, will come to understand that the One who carried out so many and so strange works in the Second Time, is the same one who has returned now and is present, bearing witness to his power.

66. I want you to penetrate into a life of spirituality, that there be discipline and vigilance, that there be prayer and charity. In this way you will become sensitive to every spiritual event; then, what is invisible to many, can be visible to you. Only in this way will you be able to explain the why of everything that happens and to which men find no solution.

67. I want the preparation of my disciples and their knowledge of the mission entrusted to them to be so great that in their path and only with their influence, they liberate the beings who invisibly remain hidden and ignored among men, leading an existence of confusion and pain not known to humanity.

68. Seek your unification, people; if you do not achieve it, how could the beings of light, from that upper world, reflect through you when so needed, to give their message to humanity?

69. I have taught you to pray and to ask for others, but I also listen to you when you ask for your own. I receive that prayer, but I tell you that the time when I was giving you according to your request has passed, because you were little; now I want you to act as disciples, presenting your spirit and your heart to me when praying, but letting Me read in them and do my will.

70. My wise word, wrapped in the love of a very patient Teacher, has led you step by step to the understanding of the greatness that Spiritualism contains and has made you contemplate the vast spiritual horizon that, beginning in the human, merges with the heavenly.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 297

1. People: Your desire to be able to reap the fruit of your sowing is noble, but I tell you to be patient, not to want to know the immediate result of your works, because that would be tantamount to hastening the harvest time, being content with cutting the fruits green.
2. The development of this Work is not an instant, it is within eternity, therefore, each one understands the part that corresponds to him to do in this spiritual field, and then entrust and entrust his work to those who arrive behind you to second you, continuing the cultivation that you initiated. After these others will come and later others more so you do not know to whom it corresponds to reap the harvest of faith, of conversion to spirituality.
3. Those who see the fruition, will know that the merit was not only of the last, but it was a work in which the merits, efforts and sacrifices of the first, the second and the third, were linked to bring to triumph a spiritual Work entrusted to all by the Master.
4. Know that a single generation is not capable of carrying out the whole Work, and know also that this is not the time of harvest.
5. How can you make my word understood if you do not put it into practice? If it has taken you so long to understand my word, to believe in it and to train your rebellious matter for the fulfillment of a mission, how do you want the transformation of the world to be instantaneous?
6. Also do not think that you are working alone in this work, because you do not yet have the necessary strength to carry out works of such spiritual importance. It is necessary for you to know that there are beings who are pointing out to you the path that you should follow and are preparing the path and the places where you will have to take the seed, those precursors are your brothers from other worlds, from other abodes, from which they watch your steps and open a gap for you, because they are also laborers of peace, of love, of fraternity, They are spirits of greater purity than yours, of greater knowledge and experience, you can fear nothing bad from them. They are the ones who do not let you park, the ones who put restlessness in your heart when you abandon the planting.
7. You are not alone, nor will you ever be abandoned to your own strength.
8. Trust in this Work, look at its greatness; see that it is not a work that came out of the mind of man, that it is not a new idea of this humanity, but an eternal light that has always been illuminating the path of the spirit of man, and in whose truth all imperfection, all impurity and sin will be consumed.

Love one another!

9. From my truth I have made a Doctrine impregnated with love, justice and wisdom, through which I will prove its strength to you, converting and transforming those who at times deviated from the right path.

10. How can we condemn man to extermination or to eternal pain, when his sin is only temporary and is the product of his ignorance? How can I condemn a being that in itself carries my own divine nature?

11. If for moments or for times he has had an inclination for matter and a propensity to evil, when the moment of clarity has come, when he lets more grace come to his heart, he will respond, manifesting that God is in every spirit.

12. That is the nature that man must seek in himself, the essence that he has lost and that he has often sought in vain. For this I have come to reveal to you all the faculties you have to find yourself, to teach you to find your spirit, to truly know yourself, without stopping at the contemplation of the exterior, of the material form.

13. Learn to seek the spiritual, disciples, and you will also get rid of fanaticism for the forms of the practice of external worship.

14. Then you will see that it is not the enclosure, nor the symbol, nor the ritual that encloses the greatness of the spiritual Work, but its eternal meaning and its end full of justice.

15. Do not try to limit this Work that is universal and infinite, nor to put limits on your spiritual development, because the more you deepen in the path of good works and study, the greater revelations you will receive. You will see the divine Work arise from the simplest, you will see it manifest in everything created, you will feel it beating in your being.

16. This is the simplicity with which I come to teach the spiritualist disciple, so that he too may be simple, like his Teacher. Let the disciple know how to persuade and convert with the truth of his words and the strength of his deeds, without wanting to surprise anyone with mysterious powers or extraordinary faculties.

17. The true disciple will be great because of his simplicity. He will understand his Master and at the same time he will make himself understood by his brothers.

18. Life is a wide sea where everyone travels in his boat and, while some seek the means to guide him to a safe harbor, others, lacking the ideal or experience, capsize.

19. I have brought you my Doctrine again, I want you to think that in it there is the saving port. How was I to bring you imprecise teachings, indefinite words, or revelations of limited substance? If that were the case, I would put you at risk of falling into a new fanaticism, when you are living in a time in which conscience does not leave you in peace, especially when you try to cover up with appearances the true fulfillment with the Law of charity and love that I have taught you.

20. Listen to me, people, listen, disciples, I am giving you the light and I am freeing you from chains, bonds and darkness, but I am not empowering you to make this Work another religion, or, according to your convenience, fill it with forms and rites, No! Distinguish well what is the freedom that I have come to give you, so that you do not exchange it for a new fanaticism,

21. Have you not yet realized that your mind, and with it the spirit, had been arrested in its development? Do you not remember the accumulation of false fears and prejudices inherited from your predecessors, from which I have delivered you, so that you may look the truth in the face and be able to receive the light?

22. If you do not prepare yourselves, if the impurities continue to manifest in you, your light will be enclosed, hidden behind your materiality and you will present yourselves before your brothers as the ignorant, as the one who knows nothing of this great revelation.

23. Always see first the beam that you carry, disciples, in order to have the right to notice the speck that your brother carries in his eye.

24. With this I want to tell you that you will not take my Doctrine to judge the acts of your brothers within their various religions. Verily I tell you, in all these paths there are hearts that truly seek me, through a noble life sown with sacrifices. However, the disciple often asks me why I allow such a diversity of ideas, which sometimes contradict each other and which establish differences and cause hatred between men, and the Master tells you: It has been allowed, by virtue of the fact that no two spirits have exactly the same understanding, the same light, or the same faith, and since you were also given free will to choose the path, you have never been forced to penetrate the path of the Law but you have been invited, leaving you free to make true merits in search of the truth.

25. So you, beloved disciples, know that your mission is to unify, to harmonize, to extend your arm and share your faculties and gifts to everyone who might need you, your balm, your word or your help.

26. Verily I say to you, if pride germinates in your heart, you will not be spiritualists. The enlightened spirit cannot be satisfied with those little vanities that only flatter the selfish heart.

Love one another!

27. It is not the apparent fulfillment that makes the disciples great before Me, although before their brothers they appear as the most fulfilled, fervent and persevering.

28. The cleanest work, the most sincere and, therefore, the one that most elevates you to Me, is the one that you carry out in silence, even if your brothers do not know it.

29. "Let your right hand not know what your left hand is doing," I said to my disciples at that Second Time; therefore, I tell you now: Be humble without hypocrisy, truly weep for the pain of others and truly enjoy for the good that your brothers enjoy. Only he who feels my Doctrine in this way can be willing to give his life for his fellow men.

30. People: If it has fallen to you to prepare the land and begin to sow it and it must be others who come to gather the fruit, be satisfied, that not only you have the right to enjoy the delights of working on your Father's lands, but all your brothers.

31. I am the way and you are the travelers who come along it.

32. When you reach the top of the mountain, you will turn your eyes and you will see everything that your spirit traveled and you will give thanks to the Father.

33. The path is long, who is the one who can say that he has already traveled everything, that he knows all the mysteries and that he has penetrated everything that is beyond what he sees and hears?

34. It is not that the Master despises your work or does not know what you have advanced on the path, no, people; I am the first to estimate your merits, if it were not so, there would be no justice in Me. If I speak to you like this, it is because I want to make you understand that although your capacity is great, to reach your limit both in the human and in the spiritual, you still lack a lot; that the more you search in the infinite for what exists beyond your material senses, you will find numerous teachings to know and what to learn.

35. Just as I have left a Nature within the reach of your intelligence for you to search, I have revealed to you the existence of a world that is beyond that Nature, so that you may penetrate it through the spirit. I have left you to search and investigate so that you may know the spiritual life, but I tell you not to limit yourselves to the little that you know so far. Be studious, know how to prepare yourselves to penetrate that infinite world, work hard, so that at the end of your day you can exclaim with satisfaction: "We have fulfilled".

Love one another!

36. My Doctrine does not stop the spirit, nor does my Doctrine stop the evolution of man, on the contrary, it frees him from fears and prejudices and makes him contemplate the path of light that awaits him.

37. Observe this humanity that seems to have reached the top of its science and its research and that in reality 'is only at the beginning of the science that it will reach tomorrow, when to its longed to know add the ideal of fraternity.

38. Today men live in a time of confusion, because they have not come to understand that their whole life and their struggles must lead them to the development of the spirit, whose goal will be the communication of their spirit with the Creator.

39. It is materialism that is the cult that most men profess today.

40. As long as doctrines and religions persist in their differences, the world will continue to foment their hatred and will not be able to take the decisive step towards true worship. But when will men understand and unite themselves, thus taking the first step towards love for one another, if there are still men who, believing they have the key or the secret of the salvation of the spirit and the keys of eternal life, do not know all those who go by different paths, because in their opinion they are unworthy to reach God?

41. Give then how much of the true end of Spiritualism, whose Doctrine is above all religion, every human idea and every sect.

42. Study the essence of this message that contains the Law of God and you will see how it is applicable to all men, to all peoples and to all the conditions in which you may find yourselves.

43. See how before the truth of this teaching, differences, distances, hatreds and obstacles disappear, because in his light you seem equal, before his love you are all brothers, before his justice you are all imperfect.

44. This word comes from Me, it is the source of life, it is Alpha and Omega, beginning and end; therefore, in order to overcome its darkness, men, passing over their conventionalisms and their religious fanaticism, must come to Me who am in Spirit, not under the forms that each one has wanted to give me, and upon reaching the true source, I will receive everyone by removing their pains, freeing them from their heavy burden and reconciling one with another,

45. Think that if all of you could already understand your role in the midst of this life, humanity would have already refrained from being selfish, and if in isolation each man understood his origin, his destiny, all his works would relate them to the end for which he was created.

46. There is no longer a need for many religions in the world, you are all about to unite in one faith and under one form of worship. Only in the union of thoughts and in spiritual affinity will you be able to find the light that will lead you to progress, harmony and peace.

47. You will see how no religion will achieve the peace of men and their spiritual freedom, instead you are going to witness how my Divine Message, reached to some through writings and to others through inspirations, will achieve the salvation, unification and spirituality of men.

48. Spiritualism does not establish differences, Spiritualism is the Doctrine that humanity needs and yearns for without knowing, because it is peace, it is love, it is justice, it is light, for all of which men hunger and thirst.

49. Do you think, who are listening to these words, that I could sow in your heart antipathy or ill will towards your brothers and sisters who profess various religions? Never, disciples, are you the ones who must begin to set the example of fraternity and harmony, seeing and loving everyone with the same affection with which you look at those who share your way of thinking.

50. That step will have to be taken by all religions, they will have to be inspired by the desire to love one another in an act of love towards the Father, whom they all say they adore.

51. Do not be afraid if they call you confused; reach out to everyone. Think that this Work, which is true for you, may appear to others as false, because according to them, it will lack the consecration that religions have obtained to be recognized.

52. If you have faith in Me, if you believe that I am manifesting myself in the word of these spokesmen, do not fear the judgment of your brothers, because my Doctrine is so eloquent and my message contains so many truths, that if you know how to use these weapons well, you will hardly be able to overcome.

53. No one will be able to reproach you for yearning to seek the truth, the perfect, to this you all have a sacred right and that is why you have been endowed with freedom to seek the light.

54. People: You have drunk and eaten at my table for a long time, if you still feel spiritual hunger, it is unjustified because the delicacies have been offered to you day after day. I thirst for your love and instead, what do you give me to drink? The gall and vinegar of your divisions and your misunderstanding.

Love one another!

55. I say to you on this day of thanksgiving: Let my divine effluvium penetrate your heart so that, feeling my presence, you may transform your life.

56. I have certainly come as a judge, but the truth is that if you search in the word of the judge, you will necessarily have to meet the presence of the Father, that Father who loves you and that is why he manifests himself in so many ways, so that you may know him better.

57. I know that the greater your knowledge, the greater your love for Me will be.

58. When I say to you, "Love me," do you know what I want to say to you? Love the truth, love life, love the light, love one another, love true life.

59. Learn to love me, see how my love, despite your offenses and sins, follows you everywhere, without being able to turn away from its influence or flee from it, see how the greater your faults, the greater is my mercy for you.

60. The wickedness of men would like to stop my love, but it cannot stop it, because love is the universal force, the divine power that creates everything and moves everything.

61. The proof of all that I tell you is the one that I have given you by manifesting myself among you at this time when humanity has lost itself in the abyss of its sin. My love cannot feel disgust at human sin, but it can feel pity.

62. Know Me, come to Me to wash your stains in the crystalline spring of my charity. Ask, ask, it will be given to you.

63. What can you present to me, either in your heart or in your spirit, that I do not contemplate? What suffering, desires, worries or secrets can you hide from me? No. Then learn to pray spiritually, to confess yourselves interiorly before Me, to trust in my providence and in my charity so that you may let penetrate into your heart that peace that makes it so lacking.

64. I have told you that prayer is the language of the spirit, through it your heart speaks to me, complains, asks me, cries and strengthens; but sometimes, when your being is full of joy or feels flooded with peace, then prayer becomes a spiritual hymn that reaches the height of my Kingdom.

65. Trust in Me, people, trust in Me, humanity, you persuaded that there is no man, people, or law on earth in whom you can entrust your salvation. Come to Me, seek Me, go after the truth, and one day you will all be united in the same valley, under the same light.

Love one another!

66. Men, nations, races and peoples, all of you will have to come to the divine call, when the spirit of man, tired of his captivity on Earth, rises breaking the chains of materialism to give the cry of spiritual liberation.

67. Now the fulfillment of my word may seem very distant to you, as well as the moral and spiritual transformation of this humanity, but it is up to you to clear the way and fulfill your part that corresponds to you, if you do not do it, you have no right to judge the fulfillment of my word.

68. There will come a time when humanity's desire to raise its spirit will be so ardent that it will use all the means at its disposal to transform this valley of tears into a world where harmony reigns, that it will do the impossible, that it will reach the sacrifice and the superhuman effort to reject wars.

69. These men will be the ones who will lift up this world, those who will remove the cup of bitterness from human life, those who will rebuild everything that past generations have destroyed in their blind ambition, in their materiality and foolishness. They will be the ones who will watch over the true cult towards Me, that cult without fanaticism or external and useless acts. They will seek to make humanity understand that the harmony between human and spiritual laws and their fulfillment are the best worship that men can offer to God.

70. Would you not like to be among them? Would you not like your children to be of those men of high spirit? You can fulfill that longing. It is in you to prepare the way of those whom I have entrusted to your education and care, so that, when the time comes to begin the decisive struggle of the spirit against the dominion of matter, they, aware of their mission, strong in their faith, and full of the knowledge that my word gives, will then unite, forming a single body, a single people, a single spirit, that in its path will break down walls and save obstacles, like Israel when it sought the Promised Land.

71. If you do not leave your children properly prepared, I know that your spirit, from beyond, will mourn the fate of those left abandoned on Earth, because they will see them succumb without knowing how to defend themselves against the invasion of calamities and plagues that will come to plague peoples of the Earth.

72. Can you imagine the restitution and the pain of the spirit that instead of collecting sweet fruits on arrival at the spiritual abode, they only find brambles and nettles?

Love one another!

73. This is what you should avoid in time, now that you have the light of a teaching that I am giving you for the salvation of all men pouring out.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Love one another!

Teaching 298

1. Heal all ills, both of the body and of the spirit, because you have the mission of consoling, strengthening and healing your fellow human beings. But I ask you: What health could you transmit to those in need, if you were sick? What peace could emanate from your spirit, if he were troubled by worries, sufferings, regrets or low passions?
2. Only from what you treasure in your heart will you be able to offer to your brothers.
3. Today you must store as much as you can of the goods that I have been pouring out in this town and learn to preserve them through adversities and setbacks, so that when the time comes to fulfill your mission, you will be able to emerge triumphant in the struggle. Peace, light and balm will form a single body with your being, in such a way that not only by anointing a sick person you will heal him, but in your word, in your thought, in your gaze you will transmit health, peace and strength and in many cases, your presence alone will emanate these virtues.
4. But do not think that it will be enough for you to know that I have granted you these gifts, no, you must also know that you need the power to manifest them, and it is essential to conquer it with faith in Me, with charity towards your fellow men, with the purity of feelings and selflessness, Whoever does not work under these principles, even if it is donated by Me, will not give anything good; because those gifts only flourish and are lavished through noble, pure and elevated feelings.
5. Certainly, despite their unpreparedness, there are many who are leaving a trace of wonders in their wake, but it is not they who are giving, it is I who have charity for the needy, the sick, the poor in spirit and men of good faith, and then, those peasants attribute to themselves my wonders.
6. There are others, cases in which the one who is going to deliver what I have entrusted to him, is not yet qualified, because he does not know how to prepare; but his faith is great and he feels charity towards his fellow man; to this one I grant that he does wonders to stimulate him in his work, so that he perseveres and perfects himself.
7. To say that I deprive of his gifts, to the one who does not make good use of them, is an error but the one who does not apply them to the ends that I have outlined, instantly loses the power to manifest them.
8. How was he to strip man of his spiritual gifts, when these are the means to achieve his salvation and his only weapons to defend himself? If my justice worked according to what you believe, I would have already removed the light of their conscience from many men and retained their intelligence from many brains; but I tell you again, no, I want to retain their gifts to men, because it is precisely those attributes, by which they will have to redeem themselves and rise to perfection. You tell me that there are those who lose their reason and those who prematurely lose their life or some faculty. Certain; but it is not I who takes away from them what is already theirs; it is they who, through weakness, recklessness or obfuscation, strip themselves of what their Father has given them as an inheritance.

Love one another!

9. Is it true that my righteous hand is present in all this?

10. But, if you observe a little about the way in which I apply my perfect justice, you will be convinced that it is my love that appears in each of these cases, restoring light to some, peace to others and life to others, although to win back what they lost, I also tell you, that first they have to go through a great purification.

11. I will speak to you about everything in this word, because there will not be a single chapter missing from my Doctrine. I will instruct you in everything, so that you have no doubt, no uncertainty.

12. I want to make of you a people aware of their destiny, knowledgeable of their mission, prepared to sow and spread with all truth and purity this blessed seed, which I have dropped into your heart for the blessing and spiritual progress of humanity.

13. Therefore, at the beginning of my lecture this day, I began by telling you to be healed and strengthened in me today, because of what is in your heart, it will be of what you give to your brothers.

14. Never trust that in spite of your imperfections and your unpreparedness, I pour out my charity on those in need who seek you, because from now on I tell you that if here in the world you can disguise evil, before Me and at your judgment, only your merits can save you from painful restitution.

15. Do you understand what this teaching has explained to you? Well, never forget her.

16. Beloved people: I have manifested myself in the way of your life; I have tried you in different ways and I have seen that you love me. You have stumbled on the stones of the way; but you have made use of your faith and have risen up.

17. My Doctrine saves you and my word lifts you up because you have faith in my presence and in my communication through the understanding of these spokespersons.

18. Your spirit has had the satisfaction of finding in its matter the sensitivity that allowed you to recognize my presence within this manifestation,

Love one another!

19. How many there are who from the writings of past times know the prophecies that announced this Era, and yet, if they witnessed my manifestations, they would not give them credit, nor would they take them as the fulfillment of those promises! They are those who have not reached the degree of advancement that allows them to contemplate this light. On the other hand, how many of those who today would give their lives testifying that it is I who communicates with men at this time, were not even aware that there were prophecies that spoke of these events. It is that his spirit was already prepared and in time to receive the light.

20. Prophets, enlightened and seers, perceived my coming in spirit, contemplated the Book that was opening to pour out its contents on the understanding of men, confirming the presence of the spiritual world close to humanity. They saw the new Mountain where the Lord was to come to gather His people. But truly I tell you, they will come in this way, people by people and man after man, as the appointed time for their awakening comes to each one.

21. Do not believe that in every nation and in every people of the Earth I will manifest myself in the way that I have granted to you; but in my infinite power and wisdom, I will know how to knock on the doors of all hearts,

22. I must tell you that this spiritual seed that I have entrusted to you at this time, you must spread it and propagate it throughout the World.

23. The time of my communication has been the time of the preparation of this people. The lesson is long and extensive, so much so that I have seen some generations leave this earth and come to others to replace them. This has been necessary for the seed to germinate, mature and bear fruit.

24. The lesson is already nearing its end, that's why you hear that in each lecture I reveal to you the way in which you should work in the future.

25. My Work has a great purpose and it is my word that leads you to that end.

26. I know that you will still weep even though you are among the ranks of the people who have heard my voice, you will regret your division, because the trials will surprise you weak. Then it will be the pain and the blows that the world gives, that will make you take in your right hand the flag of peace, of union and of goodwill, of which I have spoken to you since the first days of my communication.

27. Blessed are you if, by listening to these words, you anticipate the pain and unite in fraternity. I see the pain and sadness in those who have dreamed of the fraternity of this people and have not yet been able to contemplate a hint of unification. These are the ones who silently tell me "Lord, may your love be the one that unites us, give us a few more moments, to fight for our salvation".

28. Others ask me: "Master, why should the heart be purified and why is there bitterness if we are listening to your word?" And I say to you, People, you are not yet clean from all stain, you are not yet immune to pain, there are fibers in your being that have not been touched and it is necessary to test them so that the spirit and the heart acquire courage,

29. If, by listening to me, you stopped feeling the pain, would you strive, in your life, to purify yourselves and draw closer to Me? Truly I tell you, you would no longer do anything to improve your spiritual and moral conditions.

30. Know, disciples, that the goal of your struggle is that spiritual state to which pain does not reach, and that goal is reached with merits, with struggles, with trials, sacrifices and renunciations.

31. Observe those cases of patience, of faith, of humility and conformity that you sometimes discover in some of your brothers and sisters. They are spirits sent by Me to set an example of virtue among humanity. Apparently the fate of these creatures is sad, however they, in their faith, know that they have come to fulfill a mission.

32. You have collected great examples of my messengers and disciples in your history, names that you know by heart; but that does not mean that you will be unaware of the small examples that you feel on your way.

33. Many times you have acts of great elevation, which come to the Father as a worthy tribute to his memory and that serve as an example to those around you; you do not always realize the value of that work or the merit of that act, and that suits you more so that the heart does not get puffed up of his merits, because then the sowing fails, but the spirit does have knowledge of the value of his works; if it were not so, how many times would he be investing his time in mediocre works believing to be busy in high and profitable actions.

34. Disciples. You have been forged in suffering, but now you must rise through spirituality. No matter that human life with its needs, its worries and its temptations imprisons you, that subjection is apparent if you know how to find a way to free yourself. More, what is that way of giving expansion and freedom to the spirit? Prayer, meditation on my Work, engaging in noble works, knowing how to overcome vicissitudes.

35. The one who will achieve this will have penetrated into a world of light and peace while continuing to be playing his role in the material world.

Love one another!

36. This is the path that I have traced for you so that you may escape materialism, earthly miseries, pain, temptations and vices.

37. I invite you to prayer, meditation and good works, so that, in the name of spirituality, you may reach the regions where you will quench your thirst with the water of truth and where you will be bathed by the light of your Father. Only there will you be able to be inspired for the good performance of your duties, both spiritual and human.

38. While you have to inhabit the Earth, do it in the best possible way; but do not show your nonconformity when the cup of pain pours its contents into your heart, manifesting that you no longer want to live in this world. The Earth is the valley where the spirit is raised and where merits are made to conquer a higher abode. If only you knew how much it cost your spirit to come and dwell in it!

39. It is necessary that you clear the way and prepare the sojourn for the generations that will come to continue your work! But if you did not fulfill your part, they would have to do what you did not do, and what was entrusted to them they will have to leave to others, and do you think that in this way you fulfill the will of the Father?

40. When you entered this path, you received on your lips the fruit of previous generations; that was the present that was bequeathed to you. Don't you think that in the same way you should leave something prepared for those who will soon have to come to replace you?

41. Alert, people! The afterlife is watching your steps on Earth! The worlds know of your works! When they see this humanity drowning in the sea of their hatreds and passions, they are moved and pray for you.

42. Take comfort, you are not alone, trust in your Father and have confidence in those who love and protect you from the spiritual realm.

43. If you truly consecrate yourselves to my Work at the time when I am giving you my teaching, I tell you the truth, that time will be enough for you to be prepared to take the firm step towards the new stage that is approaching.

44. In these last three years of my communication, I have given you the representation of those in whom I preached my Doctrine in the Second Time, so that you can better understand the love, the will and the dedication of the disciples who followed me then, since a short time was enough for them to become disciples of the Divine Master, apostles of his truth.

Love one another!

45. Twelve were chosen at that time to follow me closely and of the twelve only one fell in the hour of trial, when my departure was approaching.

46. Now I have seated a large number of disciples at my table, so that by listening to me continuously and following my lessons step by step, they will arrive strong at the end of this time of communication, strong not to betray their Teacher, nor to betray themselves.

47. Watch and pray, I say to you, people, just as I told my disciples when the hour was approaching. Be alert, because matter is weak and can betray its spirit in an instant of weakness, and I do not want you to have to cry bitterly in matter or in spirit for a moment of confusion or weakness.

48. Do not believe that the consequences of disobedience are felt immediately; no, what I do tell you is that sooner or later you will have to answer for your deeds; that sometimes it will seem to you that your fault had no consequences in view of the fact that time passes and my justice does not give any sign, but you already know from my word that as a judge I am inexorable and that, come your judgment, you will open your eyes to the light of conscience.

49. Let no one be entitled to that judgment, let no one seek for himself that cup of pain, anguish, remorse and despair, because your spirit will suffer in a way that you do not imagine, when his conscience calls him incessantly: "disobedient", "traitor", "ungrateful", after having been called by his Master: "beloved disciple", "spoiled son", and "heir of my Kingdom".

50. If I did not know that you were still capable of an error, disobedience or desecration, I would not speak to you in this way, but I know of your weakness and it is necessary that I alert you. More Why, being already at the end of my communication, have you not managed to have a complete knowledge of the way in which you should interpret each of my mandates? Because you have become so familiar with my word that you consider it smaller and smaller, but you consider yourselves bigger and bigger.

51. I speak to you for your sake, because human error cannot affect my Spirit or my Work in anything; but you can do much harm to yourselves with your faults, and I want you to get rid of that evil.

52. You know how in the Second Time, a moment of weakness in one of my disciples caused so much pain not only to his Teacher, but to his brothers and to all who loved me! How everything changed from that moment for those who followed me! The Master was snatched from the arms of the disciples, the words of love that his lips uttered so much, ceased; that blessed body, through which they felt the presence of God in the world, disappeared; they felt that the shadows of pain and loneliness enveloped their life and that sacrifice was not only mourned by them, but by humanity of all times.

Love one another!

53. Now I ask you, Do you think that the error of that treacherous disciple prevented my Work from being accomplished? Do you think that this lack has changed what I have arranged? By no means: My work, my truth and my mission, were fulfilled with all perfection as all the circumstances that those disciples had presented to their Lord should have been fulfilled. For the divine will can never be subject to human acts. It has been done and will always be done over the sin of men.

54. See that I am preparing everyone for the day of trial that is approaching, but I tell you that a conscious and willing spokesman will suffice for me to give my last words, to seal with them the truth that through so many years and by so many spokespersons I have manifested to you.

55. See, O Israel, how short is the portion that sits under the Tree of Life, Some have not understood my divine teaching, others have been surprised by temptation in their ways. But I, as a Father, give you good advice and as a Teacher I come to give you the lesson.

56. You will engrave this teaching in your heart so that you may follow my footsteps, so that you may give the light to the blind, so that the deaf may hear the call of my love so that the paralytic may walk and come after Me, so that humanity may contemplate the midday light.

57. I am preparing humanity to redeem it from all sin, my light illuminates their hearts so that they put into practice the love of one another.

58. From the moment Elijah led you into the fold, you were prepared to penetrate the spirituality and the scale of your spirit. You came to Me and said, "Lord, your will be done in me." I gave you a new shoe, I removed the rags that you made present to me and I adorned your spirit with a white garment, I deposited in your spirit the sign of my chosen people of Israel and I said to you, These are the ranks to which you belong so that you may bring submission and obedience to my command, and you said to me, Father, your will be fulfilled in me.

59. Yes, my children, I have enlightened you so that you do not carry ignorance, so that being the strong you may put my teachings into practice, so that you may give me shelter in your hearts and turn away from evil; so that you may feel the pain of humanity that walks blind because of its materiality. I have given you the spiritual balm so that you can anoint her and give her new life, so that you can lead her to Me.

Love one another!

60. I have come at this time to give life to the dead, to save and draw humanity out of its abysses. To read from the first to the present page of the teaching that through the ages I have given you. Here is my love, my infinite wisdom; whoever wants to understand me will live in Me, whoever wants to love me will be with me and will have to continue his path with spirituality, so that he will no longer be surprised by pain or feel alone.

61. This is your mission, Israel. Prepare yourselves, because you have to be my disciples, you have to listen to your Teacher with all attention, because each one of you has to be tomorrow, like an open book where humanity studies and analyzes my word.

62. Your fulfillment is not only limited within the four walls of an enclosure; no, Israel, my discerning gaze is attentive to each of your works and if for a moment you want to deviate from the path, I will allow it because you have free will, but I tell you: In your disobedience you will find pain at every step, but if you repent, I will tell you: Return to Me, who am waiting for you to give you comfort.

63. Everyone who wants to come before the Father will have to put off his pride, his vanity and every blight that my discerning gaze contemplates.

64. It has pleased me to serve the humble, the ignorant, my love has chiseled his heart, I have entrusted him with my Law, I have made him feel my presence and I have said to him: Go and make the call to your brothers, lead them to Me, that I will give them everything they have needed for their spiritual quality. That is why I have told you that your mission is great and delicate, you have a lot to understand and a lot to work on your spiritual path. But you are not the poor, you are the rich because you have Me, because you have listened to Me and felt me, because I have strengthened you and told you: Do not be afraid, for my charity will always be with you. I have given to each farmer a plot, that he may cultivate it and gather the good fruit, but if the fruit bears bitterness, I will not receive it. The farmer will return to cultivate his land until he gathers the fruits that taste good and are worthy of reaching Me.

65. My Work will remain immaculate and my truth will remain the same.

66. The stains and the profanations of this people will be 'erased by my justice and you will see again how my will is always done.

67. You know what I want from you and what I don't want you to do. Live in communion with your conscience and she will tell you at every step what you must do to fulfill my will.

68. I tell you again to watch and pray that at this time there will not be one who falls into temptations at the decisive hour, but if someone rises up against my will, betraying what I have ordered and causes events to take another cause, truly I tell you that my Work will suffer nothing, because it is divine; but those who haughtily ignored my will at the culminating instant, will feel in their being the result of their ingratitude.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 299

1. Disciples: The Master is with you, and he deposits an oscar in each of his little ones.
2. The spiritual joy with which you remember in these days the blessed night in which the Word became man to dwell among you reaches me.
3. If you embrace each other with brotherly love and pour out your tenderness in the childhood that I entrust to you, you will feel the perfect love that your Father sends you. I open my arcanum and from it I take that which is to be light and peace in humanity.
4. I would like everyone to feel my presence. If at least in these days of remembrance men knew how to sensitize and spiritualize their hearts, they could find me anywhere, on the path of every creature, in homes, in places where there is pain, but I still have to wait, not everyone knows how to feel me in their heart; however, I leave on the path of each of my children a present of love.
5. In infinite ways I can communicate with men, if I am making you listen to my word through the human spokesman, I speak to others in their conscience.
6. On this day when men commemorate that dawn when the child Messiah began his journey on Earth, I want all humanity to feel my spiritual presence. I want childhood to rejoice in Me, for youth to pause for a moment to remember the one who became man out of love to save you, and the elderly who shed their tears meditating on these teachings and recalling the happy days of their childhood, feel my peace in their hearts.
7. Joys and sorrows will have to mix remembering the maternal lap that rocked you, the love and caresses of your parents, the happy, but fleeting childhood and then everything that you have been losing in the world parents, childhood, joys, innocence.
8. You will have to remember how many hearts have cooled down to love me and to love their own in the world.
9. Pray at this moment, beloved people, and I will make those who have forgotten you remember you; those who have flown to the spiritual valley approach your heart to be gathered all on this day of love.
10. Not only do people remember with joy the day on which the miracle of the Word of God becoming man was performed on earth, the Spiritual World also participates in this joy, in the contemplation of the divine works of the Lord.
11. It is you who in this time have had on this planet the clearest manifestation of my coming, of my presence and of my word; my voice, humanized through the speaker, has made light in your spirits, has clarified mysteries, has revealed new knowledge about the spiritual and has done wonders in those who have heard it. For this reason you are called disciples of the Third Time, and the Father always expects the most spiritual worship from you.

12. You are already understanding the meaning of my Doctrine, and that is why when you try to remember my steps on the world, you do it without rites, without ceremonies, without profane feasts, you let your joy be interior and if you express it, you do it by occupying your spirit and heart, in listening to my word and in practicing what it teaches.

13. O blessed and beloved people, keep these sacred memories in your heart and let them be the way and the light for your life. If you see that men in these commemorations, they cross the boundaries of respect for the divine. I will also send my light to them; a commotion of a spiritual order will occur among humanity as predicted and then men will awaken to return to me. The roads are being prepared, trials and extraordinary events will shake the world and will be like voices of justice calling men to regeneration.

14. From now on I teach you to pray with that preparation in which you know how to join the prayers that rise up to Me from the peoples. I am clothing you with strength so that at the time of the test, you will not hesitate or you will feel lacking in intuition.

15. I am giving you my word so that you may speak with true light in your spirit, and so that you may know how to lead yourselves in the trials and difficult trances of your journey.

16. I bless you also by telling you that wherever the incarnation of the Word is remembered, wherever the Nativity of Christ is thought of, the sweet mantle of your Heavenly Mother will be present, who became a woman so that God might pass through her womb when he became man.

17. If grande conceived the Master, she must be the one who became a human Mother to bring him into the world.

18. She did not come only to love her Only Begotten Son, her divine love is a universal mantle of consolation; her presence in all times is of tenderness and intercession. Seek her and you will find in her a ladder that will lead you to Me.

19. My Spirit penetrates homes, comforts those who cry and fills all hearts with peace,

20. The spiritual message that I bring to you at this dawn is intended to prepare you for the last year of my communication.

Love one another!

21. I come to bring you my peace so that later you can take it to all the peoples of the earth, because peace is the highest ideal to which you must aspire.
22. The peace of the spirit is a state from which you will be able to admire the light of my wisdom and understand everything that a mind troubled by lack of peace cannot penetrate.
23. Humanity needs peace in its spirit, tranquility in its heart, but that wealth is not obtained by force, nor is it bought at any price. It is a grace that is achieved through constancy in the good.
24. I entrust the seed of peace to you, beloved people, so that you may spread it throughout the earth, more truly I tell you that you are not the only ones who will propagate this seed, because within other congregations, as in this nation, as in other countries, there are men who pray for peace, who yearn for the well-being of their fellow men, and to achieve their ideal, they work diligently.
25. Blessed are all those who are waiting for my inspiration in this Third Time, for my spiritual revelations, because the understanding of men being prepared because of their evolution, they will be able to collect my thoughts and manifest them in words and deeds among their brothers.
26. Man carries within himself the immortal power of the spirit and will know how to rise from his decay with the longing for liberation, with the longing to rise.
27. This is a time in which man recognizes the capacity and power of his intelligence, only it is necessary that he let his spirit make ample use of that power, to carry out the works that the Lord commands in the Book of his Doctrine,
28. You already know, beloved disciples, that in order for the spirit to struggle and manifest itself without hindrance, man will have to shake off yokes, to erase traditions from his heart and to free himself from religious fanaticisms, as all those who have risen up from all points of the earth have done.
29. I have prepared for all of you a crossroads on the way, where you will have to meet and recognize each other as brothers of ideal, of struggle and of faith.
30. Truly I tell you, spiritualists are scattered throughout the world, prepared men who will contribute to the peace of humanity. Moreover, I tell you that the union between the spiritualists of the whole World will not be done through the organization of a new Church, because its strength will not be material. Your union will be of thought, of ideal and of works and in this way your strength will be invincible, because you will have taken it from the eternal source that is in my Spirit.

Love one another!

31. I am inspiring my truth to all of you and I am also touching you so that from your heart and understanding, all the impurities that should not be mixed in my light will be removed.

32. Everyone has the duty to let the Spiritualist Doctrine be clarified and defined through their gifts, ensuring that it is not contaminated by human philosophies.

33. Already in past times men have mixed with my revelations and teachings, their ideas, their philosophies and their theories, by which they have only succeeded in dividing and confusing humanity.

34. I want those who have found the way, to teach it and make it easy for their brothers, that you do not sow it with stumbling blocks as many have done preventing those who seek Me from reaching Me.

35. To the conservatives of ritualisms, to those who insist on personifying God in forms, objects and images, I say that if they do not take the path of spirituality, without realizing it, they are among those who contribute to the wars between peoples, to the ignorance of brothers with brothers.

36. To one and to another I tell you in truth that the God in whom you believe is pure and in his divine Love loves you all equally.

37. If I tell you the truth and you feel hurt because of it, see that it is not a man who has told you this, but your Teacher, who loves you and comes to point out your mistakes to save you.

38. Have you not yet realized that ambition, fanaticism and foolishness are like an avalanche that once overflowed, you cannot contain it?

39. I do not come to fight the beliefs of anyone when they are aimed at the truth, but the errors, I do come to fight them in those who are.

40. From now on, all of you are heading towards the same end, reconciling and harmonizing your spiritual life; no one thinks he is on the best path than that of his brother, nor does he think he is living on a higher scale than that of others. I tell you that in the supreme hour of death, it will be my voice that tells you the truth of your elevation.

41. It is there, in that brief moment of enlightenment before consciousness, that many collect their reward, but also where many see their greatness vanish.

Love one another!

42. Do you wish to be saved? Come to Me on the path of fraternity, that is the only one, there is no other, the one that is written with my maxim that tells you: "Love one another".

43. Humanity: In these days when you commemorate the birth of Jesus, it is when you let peace come to your heart and when you seem like a united and happy family. I know that not all hearts feel a sincere joy when remembering my arrival in the world at that time, very few are those who give themselves up to meditation and recollection, letting the joy be interior and the feast of remembrance be in the spirit.

44. Today, as in all times, men have made commemorations, profane festivals and pretexts to seek pleasures of the senses, far removed from what the joys of the spirit should be.

45. If men would take this day to consecrate it to the spirit, meditating on divine love, of which it was absolute proof that I became a man to live with you, truly I tell you that your faith, would shine at the top of your being, and would be the star that would point you the way that leads to Me, Your spirit would be so saturated with goodness, that in your path you would overflow charity, comfort and tenderness in those in need. You would feel more brothers, you would forgive your offenders from the heart; you would feel overwhelmed with tenderness at the sight of the disinherited, of those children without parents, without shelter and without love. You would think of the peoples without peace, where war has destroyed all that is good, noble and sacred in human life. Then prayer would flow limpidly to Me, to say to me: "Lord, what right do we have to peace, while there are so many of our brothers and sisters who suffer intensely?"

46. My answer to you would be this: "Since you have felt the pain of your brothers and you have prayed and you have had charity, you gathered in your home, sit at your table and enjoy that blessed hour, because I will be present there, do not be afraid to be happy if you know that at that moment there are many who suffer, because I tell you for a fact that if your joy is healthy, a breath of peace and hope will come out of it, which will float like a little cloud of love over those in need".

47. Let no one think that I have come to erase from your hearts the purest feast that you celebrate in the year, when you commemorate the Nativity of Jesus. I only come to teach you to give to the world that of the world and to the spirit that of the spirit, because if you have so many holidays to celebrate human deeds, why don't you leave this holiday to the spirit, so that he, having become a child, may come to offer me his present of love, so that he may acquire the simplicity of shepherds to adore me and the humility of wise men to bow their necks and present their knowledge before the owner of true Wisdom?

Love one another!

48. I have not come to contain the joy that surrounds the lives of men these days. It is not only the strength of a tradition, it is that my charity touches you, my light illuminates you, my love, like a mantle, covers you. Then you feel your heart full of hope, of joy, of tenderness, of the need to give something, to live and to love, only you do not always let those feelings and those inspirations express them with their true elevation and purity, because you overflow that joy in worldly pleasures, without letting the spirit, who was through whom the Redeemer came into the world, live that instant, penetrate that light, purify and save himself, because that Divine Love, who became man, is eternally present on the path of every human being, so that in him he may find life.

49. The peace of my Spirit, like a mantle of tenderness spread on this night of peace over all men and a very sweet oscar (holy spear), detached from the spirit of Mary, also reaches each of her children.

50. Take a good look, disciples, and you will discover on your way, every day, a present of love from your God,

51. On this day of grace, on which you commemorate the blessed night on which the Messiah became man in order to dwell with you, I tell you the truth that not only do I present myself here and manifest myself, but I make myself felt in everyone in different ways.

52. I approach children in one way, youth in another and old age in another. I knock at the doors of each religion and manifest my presence before them, according to the light of each congregation; but I leave no one without visiting.

53. This is the most tender commemoration of all that you do of your Master; the hearts of the children overflow with joy and that of the elders is flooded with peace and hope in the Savior.

54. You, who have the grace to hear this word, are among the few who commemorate this feast without rites, celebrating it in the purest of hearts. So you will not be able to fall into desecration. It is that the understanding has come to your understanding that the best commemoration, the most pleasant before the Lord, is the one you do when you apply the Master's examples to your life; when you live his Doctrine.

55. Think of all your brothers, transport your spirit to the whole Universe; but think of them with love, with charity, with the desire to bring them peace and truly I tell you that your prayers, thoughts and desires will not be sterile.

56. I am preparing the way for the spiritual awakening of this humanity. Trials, events and voices will arise as men pass by telling them of the presence of the New Time.

Love one another!

57. I have already warned you not to be cowed when you see the struggle of ideas between religions and between peoples arise. Remember that I have told you that this struggle is indispensable so that concord, harmony and peace can appear among humanity.

58. When the strife is greater, you will see men seek the truth for themselves, and they will not fear threats or anathemas. Then the prophets will arise from the bosom of the peoples oppressed by lords and kings. At that time my Doctrine will shine in all its splendor, which will spread throughout the Earth through the works of my new disciples.

59. Now my word is strengthening you, at the same time that trials are tempering your spirit, so that you will not be afraid of blows, ingratitude and betrayals.

60. Many of you are following me with great bitterness, because in the bosom of your family you have encountered opposition, disbelief and mockery. Your people have doubted the gifts that God has given you and the mission that He has sent you to fulfill.

61. Some have been thrown out of their homes, others have been forced to migrate to other lands.

62. I tell you that you have not been the only ones who have not been believed by their own. I remind you of the case of Joseph, son of Jacob, who was sold by his own brothers to some merchants, because they recognized that Joseph was a great prophet and were envious of him. But the mercy of the LORD covered the young man with his mantle, who, having come to Egypt as a slave, because of his faith and perseverance in the law of his elders, and clothed with the grace and wisdom of God, became with Pharaoh, the counselor, the minister and the prophet of that people.

63. The spirit of Joseph was faithful in virtue, his passage through that nation left a trace of blessings, abundance, prosperity and peace.

64. Joseph had not forgotten Jacob, his father, whom he loved very much, nor had he forgotten his brothers, even though they had driven the thorn of reproach into his heart by selling him and betraying his love as a child. But at last the moment of divine justice arrived. The lands of Canaan, where Jacob and his sons lived, had been struck by drought. Poverty and hunger had gripped those regions while in Egypt the granaries were full of wheat.

65. The brothers of Joseph, whom they had forgotten and thought was dead, went to Egypt in search of wheat, without imagining before whom they would have to appear. The hour of justice has come, no longer to punish or humiliate, but to forgive, what greater justice on those who had unknown and offended? The noble Joseph, making himself known to his brothers, covered them with blessings and forgiveness, while they, from fennel, repentant and amazed, remembered the prophecies of Joseph when he was a child and marveled at seeing their fulfillment.

66. Have you understood, my children? So persevere in the days of affliction, resist your disappointments and your loneliness, that at last the hour of justice will sound and you will see contrites arrive before your presence, the same ones who betrayed and mocked you.

67. Will you be able to put on the nobility of Joseph, to receive and forgive those who offended you? Imagine that picture in which Joseph, standing, contemplated his brothers of hinojos, weeping in repentance. That picture is a picture of my loving righteousness; Joseph was standing, by his virtue while his brothers were lying on their knees by their repentance.

68. I want that seed of Joseph, the son of Israel, to exist and to germinate among you.

69. Jesus, your Master, also had to emigrate to Egypt when he had just arrived to inhabit the Land, that was because the people did not know how to feel his arrival, and, when there were signs that that child was the Messiah, King promised by the Lord to that people, they hesitated looking at him naked instead of being wrapped in regal garments and passed with disbelief their eyes through the humble manger and over the rustic stable, which was not, according to them, the bed and the bedchamber worthy of a king.

70. I had to seek the bosom of a people like Egypt, since the people to whom I had come did not know how to shelter me; but it was not the only pain that my heart would feel.

71. When I returned from Egypt and went to live in Nazareth, at every step I was mocked and wounded by the phrases of disbelief and envy.

72. I did wonders there, I manifested my charity and my power and I was denied. Not a single one of those who closely knew my life and works believed in Me. Hence, when the time for preaching arrived, I had to say when I left Nazareth, "Truly I tell you, there is no prophet who is believed in his homeland, it is necessary to leave it so that his word may be heard."

73. Nor should it have been that last pain that I hurried into my cup of bitterness; there was a greater pain missing: the one that would have offered me one of my own, one of those who had eaten at my table and was like my brother, selling me for thirty coins to the enemies of my cause.

Love one another!

74. I too was presumed dead, as Joseph had been by his brothers, but just as that man appeared before the astonished gaze of those who had forgotten him, I also appeared, only in spirit, before the eyes of my amazed disciples, to whom I proved that I had not died.

75. Here I am, in my Kingdom, waiting for the arrival of all those who have forgotten me, of all those who have betrayed and mocked me.

76. Here I am waiting for you all to shake you with infinite love.

77. I'm talking to you in one of the last dawns. The final year of my communication is already approaching, a few days, a few short hours and the year announced by Me and feared by my people will be born among you,

78. Will you all have the proper preparation to receive into your hearts what I have prepared to pour out on you?

79. I will offer you my word; I will present my Work to you, and it will be like the splendid table of a feast,

80. I will be in the middle of the table and the best fruits and the most delicious delicacies of the spirit will be placed on it. The doors of the house will be open so that no one is left out of the banquet.

81. From this table will come the new message for the peoples, the Good News that awakens men, the light that makes appear among humanity, the immortal seed of the spirit.

82. The purity of Abel, the faith of Noah, the obedience of Abraham, the strength of Jacob, the inspiration of David, the wisdom of Solomon, the truth of my prophets, the elevation of my apostles, the spirituality of John will shine.

83. Men will not need to wear a robe like those, nor be outwardly different from others, nor will they even have to pronounce my name, because the seed of light, of truth, of knowledge, of love and justice, I will pour out in all the paths of your life.

84. I give you as a spiritual gift this chair, keep it in your heart as the memory of one of the last lessons that your Teacher gave you on the occasion of the commemoration that you make of my birth as a man.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 300

1. You feel my presence in the silence of your heart and you are filled with joy when my word descends to enlighten you with the light of spiritual knowledge.
2. Recreate your spirit, O beloved disciples, since you have wept a lot in the ways of life.
3. I am here, with you, giving you strength to fight for the eternal peace of your spirit, but in truth I tell you, that before humanity knew me, I already illuminated you from infinity and already spoke to your heart, because being one with the Father, I have always been in Him. It was necessary that the times passed over humanity so that the world would receive me in Jesus and hear the word of God, although I must tell you that not all those who listened to my Doctrine at that time, had the spiritual evolution necessary to feel the presence of God in Christ, that's why I had to choose from among those called those who would have to give faithful witness to the truth. For others, my Doctrine at that time was difficult to apply, because idolatry and paganism prevailed in the hearts; but the word of love was written with indelible letters in the conscience, waiting for the generations that would embrace the cross of their Master.
4. Then it was no longer only twelve disciples and a few multitudes who rose up after my imprint of love, but it was peoples and nations who transformed their customs, their life, their worship. This I tell you, because now that you are witnessing the dawn of a new time, the light of a new message has come to your spirit, not everyone who has seen or heard will understand the essence and meaning of this revelation; while some have evolved enough to receive this light, others, even if they want it, will not be able to understand many teachings that they will see surrounded by mystery. But, the times will pass, the new generations will arrive on Earth and that light that only a few received in the days of my communication, will shine in the understanding of the great multitudes, of the great peoples and nations.
5. Those who have received me in his spirit at this time will remain as my disciples and will be responsible for this divine legacy, which will be faithfully transmitted from generation to generation, until those arrive in whom Spiritualism will flourish, such as the Doctrine of peace and wisdom.
6. Who are my disciples at this time? Everyone who loves this word and puts it into practice.
7. I have called many and invited them to my table to savor the bread of life, the delicacy of delicacies. I want them to be the chosen ones, because the lands that await the seed are very extensive.

Love one another!

8. People: I have told you many times to watch, to study and to be prepared because not all the time you are going to be ignored. The day is approaching when your brothers will discover the existence of this people who heard the voice of the Lord in the recollection and humility of a stay and they will want to know what happened, what was my message and what proofs I gave you of my truth.

9. Men and women of all kinds will knock on the doors of your heart seeking your testimony. Do you not think it is right that this testimony should be clean, so that your brothers have a clear idea of what my manifestation was, since they did not have the joy that this people had of listening to my lessons through the understanding of the spokespersons?

10. If you would devote part of your time to meditating on my word, there would be no need for Me to come down and explain my lessons to you, because then, your meditation, your reflections and inner examination, would make you understand the scope of your responsibility.

11. The time I have left to speak to you in this way is very short and since you have been very slow to understand, I had to help you, expanding my teachings to the extreme.

12. Understand that this testimony that you are going to give about Me does not refer only to repeating my words to your brothers, no, that is easy and does not require great preparation, it is enough that in your memory or in writings you keep this word to repeat it as it was said. But if you think that the true witness you have to give is with your works of love that make the essence of my word feel, explain it with depth and simplicity at the same time and demonstrate it with works that surpass the human, then you will have to understand that you need to penetrate into a true spirituality to be able to call yourselves worthy witnesses of my Word in the Third Time.

13. How meekly will even the most skeptical bow down to the truth, when you carry out before them the works that I have taught you!

14. If you truly feel love for your fellow human beings and want to pour out your charity on them, think carefully about this teaching and prepare yourselves for the struggle with the greatest clarity of which you are capable; then you will be worthily called witnesses of God in the Third Time.

15. Your hour is approaching, people, in which each one of you will take up his mission and carry it out with true love for your brothers,

16. While I am preparing my departure, you must be preparing your spiritual work in the world.

Love one another!

17. I see that you have regrets because you have not been able to keep my lessons in your memory and you are afraid to face humanity without arguments that support this truth; but I tell you not to fear, because if I am preparing my departure, I will give the order, when the time comes, so that a book containing the teachings and revelations of the Third Time is formed in the bosom of this people, in order that said book reaches the hands of the multitudes, that in it they remember my lectures, penetrate their analysis and prepare to testify to my truth.

18. Of great importance and usefulness will be the writings that preserve my word, because it will be after my departure when you will truly devote yourselves to the study of it,

19. Through that book, those who listened to my Doctrine but forgot many lessons and passages, will remember with emotion and joy the moments in which they received the divine messages from Me, and those who did not listen to me, will be amazed at the essence of my lessons and will look, there in infinity, to the Kingdom of Heaven.

20. When the disciple has gone through deep and conscious study and has attained his spirituality, he will not need the material book, because at any moment when he prepares, his lips will faithfully repeat my word, inspired by his spirit, in whose consciousness it was written forever.

21. Blessed are you who have watched waiting for this moment, for you will be recreated in spirit and in truth. You will rise into a world of light from which you will return strengthened.

22. When you come like this, eager for my word, you detach yourselves from everything that belongs to the world, you come to me and drink the chalice of the divine essence.

23. After having attended the spiritual banquet, life in the world seems to you more bearable, the cross lighter, the trials more benign,

24. Yes, my children, he who leans on a spiritual staff does not tire; he who looks to heaven does not stumble on Earth.

25. Oh, if you knew how many beings full of light and love from the spiritual valley follow you, accompany you and inspire you! But how do you want them to help you, if you don't do what belongs to you?

26. If you want to feel the influence and help of those who are clothed with charity towards you, it is necessary that you bring faith, obedience to their dictates, trust,

Love one another!

sensitivity and willingness to pray, then you will be able to contemplate wonders on the path of your life.

27. My word sweetens your hardened heart, distressed by sufferings; you too, when you become teachers of your brothers, will comfort them with your phrases of consolation and your works of charity.

28. Who will be those who do not surrender to a demonstration of sincerity, love and truth? Who among you does not remember my phrases with which I received him the first day he heard my word, that unforgettable voice whose tenderness and essence made you recognize me?

29. I forgive your faults; but at the same time I correct you so that you reject selfishness from your heart, because it is one of the weaknesses that drag the spirit down the most. I touch you through conscience so that you remember your duties among brothers and sow charity and forgiveness on your way, as I taught you in the Second Time.

30. The cross of Christ was heavy, the day was very bitter and painful, the slope was very steep, and yet, forgetting my own pain, I comforted those who suffered and blessed my executioners.

31. People, whose spirit has received the light of the three times, look at how much misery and bitterness. It is necessary to fill humanity with love; sow it with good works, enlighten it with faith and hope, flood it with peace.

32. My power and my love would suffice for that work, but since you were created so that you could come to love one another, it is necessary that a people arise that is like an immense army of soldiers of spirituality, faithful guardians of my law, so that they impose my truth on so many falsehoods and make light in the darkness.

33. A new war is about to arise in the world. It will be a war unlike any that humanity has ever suffered. War of ideas, philosophies, doctrines, ideologies, beliefs and religions.

34. People: for that time you must be prepared and you must give the warning to your children.

35. The wave of materialism will rise, becoming a raging sea, a sea of hardships, of despair and anguish before the injustice of men. Only one boat will float on that sea of human passions, greed and hatred, that boat will be that of my Law; Blessed are those who are strong when that time comes! But woe to those who sleep! Woe to the weak! Woe to the peoples who have built their faith on foundations of religious fanaticism, because they will be easy prey to those furious waves!,

Love one another!

36. Do you not sense the battle, O humanity? Does not my word move you to prepare to defend yourselves, come the hour? My light is in everyone, but only those who pray, those who prepare, see it. My light speaks to you by presentiment, by inspiration, by intuition, through dreams and warnings, more, you are deaf to every spiritual call, you are indifferent to every divine sign,

37. Soon you will see my word fulfilled and you will testify that it all contained truth.

38. My Doctrine and my name will be the target of all attacks and persecutions, they will be the reason why the enemies of the truth persecute you; but my Doctrine will also be the sword of the light of those who stand up defending the faith and will be the shield, behind which the innocent defend themselves, My name will walk on all lips, blessed by some, cursed by others.

39. All the faculties of man will be unleashed: his intelligence, his feelings, his passions, his spiritual powers will be awake and ready to fight.

40. How much confusion there will be then! How many who thought they had faith in Me will be convinced that it was not true faith! In many homes and hearts the lamp of love and hope will be extinguished; childhood and youth will have no God greater than the world, and no law greater than that of the earth.

41. Faced with this chaos, I ask you, people: What mission are you going to fulfill? Are you going to hide that jewel he entrusted to you? Are you going to close the book of my teachings, renouncing the power that I have granted you as my disciples? No, beloved people, I have prepared you so that you will not be intimidated by the eloquence or the science of those who fight you. Books, titles and names are human vanities, and what you are going to preach are eternal truths.

42. A movement of confusion has arisen within you that has caused division, judgments and arguments among yourselves. It was necessary that this proof reach the people so that those who were sleeping would wake up and at last you will find the definition of my Work.

43. Do not be afraid of this inner struggle, people, I am telling you again that it is necessary for your awakening, because you are already making routine and traditions a new cult and, in truth, I tell you that Spiritualism is completely alien to any routine, habit, tradition or exterior ceremony.

44. In this trial that has surprised you, a few woke up convinced that you have not practiced true spirituality, they will have to isolate themselves for a while, because the people, for the most part, will cling to their customs and traditions that they have come to consider as if they were the Law. Then a truce will come for this people to meditate and reflect internally, observe and experience for themselves, because then the struggle will have to arise again with greater force, so that the essence of my Doctrine shines and my Work is understood in all its purity and spirituality.

45. In that second test, the majorities will be the ones who open their eyes to the truth and in their improper practices of my Work, they will have to isolate themselves from the bosom of their brothers until they reach understanding, amendment and can rejoin the people.

46. See how it is necessary that the trials come to shake you and wake you up, because you, by yourselves, would not break your routine.

47. That harmony and that peace that exist in your bosom are apparent as long as true spirituality does not penetrate into your heart; but, before you will be tested and purified in many ways. Bear in mind that you are going to remain witnesses of my word given at this time, and that your testimony should not be false, but as faithful as you are able to deliver it.

48. Today it is pain that purifies you; tomorrow it will be your spirituality!

49. If after my lesson is over and you have passed your tests, confusion and pain persist among you, you will have no justification before Me, and you will be subject to a greater test than the one you are passing. Do you love the truth? Do you wish for peace? Practice my word with the purity that it demands and your spirit will find the path that leads to harmony.

50. Understand that at this time, I have limited my light and my manifestations by communicating through these spokespersons, as I limited myself by speaking in former times through the mouth of the prophets.

51. I have sent both of them in the hours of trial for humanity, when it has found itself on the brink of the abyss or destruction.

52. These also by whom I have caused my word to be heard in this Third Time are prophets, through their lips has come the voice that awakens the sleeper, and warns the one who has strayed from the way.

53. The word of the prophets has been in every age like the vibrating note of a bugle in the darkness, many have heard it, but not all have given it credit. Why have men not wanted to listen to the voice of the prophets? Because they have always spoken of approaching events and announced divine justice; they have always told you: "Pray, watch, do penance, wash away your stains, repent."

Love one another!

54. The prophets of the first times were intuitive, their mouths announced many events that they were unaware of. They did not know that Christ existed and they were all talking about Him; it was centuries before the Redeemer arrived in the world and the prophets were already telling how his arrival, his life and his death would be as a man.

55. How much light you have received as new disciples and at the same time prophets of the Third Time! Now you are going to test your intuition when, when penetrating different regions and towns, you know how to speak to the inhabitants of each place according to their need, their understanding and their evolution!

56. Some will hear your voice, others will laugh at you, but you will not cease to preach penance, which is regeneration, prayer, which is repentance and faith, charity, which is the expression of fraternity and love.

57. Do not forget and always keep in mind that the faith that you awaken in your brothers depends on your righteous and virtuous life. This means that they will search and observe you even in your intimate life, looking in your works for confirmation of the Doctrine that you preach.

58. Be humble, simple, modest, but always reveal a firm faith and an unshakable zeal.

59. This people, the depository of my Revelation in this Third Time, is not yet taken into account as the bearer of a light, but it will not be long before humanity is interested in knowing the truth of my new coming and how it relates to my communication; it will come to interrogate you and for this you must be prepared,

60. Truly, I tell you, even in the most hostile media, there will always be at least one heart that opens up to receive your words.

61. Spiritualize yourselves and develop the gift of the word and you will not hesitate in the struggle or in moments of trial.

62. Today the world ignores you, but truly I tell you that the day will come when the peoples will be anxiously waiting for you. That will be when the great trials and calamities are making themselves felt in the regions and it will be known that the spiritualists have power over plagues and strange diseases.

63. There the sick will be on their bed, waiting for the arrival of the emissary and labourer of Jesus, who will anoint them with the balm of tenderness and charity; there the homes will be with their doors open waiting for the disciples who with their presence will make peace and light penetrate between those hearts.

64. These generations who had been blind to the signs that I have given you, who had attributed everything to chance and chance, will understand the meaning of the events that have surrounded my coming, my presence during the time of my communication and the departure of my word and will have to say that they really were the signs promised from times past. "The leaf of the tree does not move without the will of the Father," they will say, and there will be truth in their words.

65. Beloved humanity: You are my daughter whom I have come to save, whom I have come to visit in exile and to comfort her in her prison! Feel my presence and I tell you that you will lack nothing!

66. Trust, have hope; the trials have been great, the days of your atonement have been long, but you will already contemplate a cleaner path, you will already have that peace that you have longed for so much.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Rejoice in my word, O spirits for whom the Father has waited so long and for whom he came into the world and shed his blood!
2. These multitudes are made up of believers and unbelievers, but they are all spirits hungry for love, thirsty for light and truth while those who have faith are fed and strengthened, unbelievers despise the bread of eternal life and have to endure their hunger and thirst. They are spirits confused by a life of materialism, ignorance and fanaticism that they cannot forget, in order to contemplate and feel my presence; they are hearts afraid of the judgments of humanity; How are you going to be able to concentrate on the height of your spirit to feel my essence, when you are thinking about what others will say about you? They will come out saying that my presence in these places is not true, when the reality is that they are the ones who, being present, have not been with me, because their spirit has stayed where their thoughts, their interests, their concerns and their passions have tied them. If I have come, I have been with you, for I am always thinking of those who need me, of those who pour out the cup of bitterness and eat the bread of slavery and humiliation.
3. There are some who do not want to believe, because they lack the will to overcome their vanity and fanaticism. On the other hand, there are those who want to believe and cannot, because something that exists inside confuses them, preventing them from finding and enjoying the truth of my message.
4. Do you think I will abandon these my children? Do you think that when they turn their backs on me and turn away from the path to which I called them, I will forget them? No, people. My Spirit will follow you tirelessly, helping you overcome obstacles, testing you, manifesting to you in many ways, that what you heard in my word was true, that my call was true. They will all return, some in one form, some in another, some at one time and some at another, but I will always be there to receive them with love.
5. I come to offer you the bread and the wine of the spirit, eat and drink, people. Take the food of the Third Season and feed on it. Blessed is the one who eats of this bread because he will wake up, open his eyes to the light and come out of his stagnation.
6. I have been speaking to you in this form for a long time and the day is coming when I will finish this chapter of teachings and revelations. My Work will not end there, nor my divine lesson; but this stage of spiritual preparation will conclude.

Love one another!

7. The people who heard the voice of their Father through the spokesman at this time will remain on Earth with the mission of speaking to humanity and bearing witness with their works to the teaching received.

8. There has been love and charity in my word, since it began to manifest itself in this Third Time, but despite the fact that its meaning has enclosed justice and has claimed and corrected you, now, as it approaches its justice, it increases, at the same time that its sweetness invades your heart

9. I want you to find in my last lectures all the strength that you will need in the struggle; I want to leave a heavenly flavor in your heart and that bitterness does not remain in it so that you remember me with love at every step, and that from your memory my words arise as warning voices, as blessings, as inspiration and balm. Then you will evoke with emotion this time of teachings and when you come to the understanding that it was really the Master who untied the seals of the Book of Life, opening it before your eyes, precisely in the sixth chapter, you will understand that it was Elijah who had the key to open the doors of the Third Time, which is the era of light and the spirit.

10. In order for the faith of humanity to be affirmed in the knowledge of spiritual existence, beyond material life, in the past times some manifestations of envoys of the Father were granted to you, to whom you gave the name of angels. Those first manifestations were followed by some works that I, through Jesus, carried out to make you penetrate a little more into the Arcanum. Of these I will remind you: The presence of beings of light announcing my advent to Earth, the influence of troubled spirits exerted on human beings, called possessed; the detachment of the spirit from his body and his return to him, shown by Me at the instant of the transfiguration; and the materialization of beings who have not risen to his true kingdom, because they are enveloped by the darkness of ignorance, like those who manifested themselves in Jerusalem on the day of my crucifixion.

11. How profound were those lessons! But the men who did not want to see the Light that was in them, they, like the hypocritical priests and Pharisees of that time, have attributed all spiritual knowledge to evil powers. Did they not say at that time that Jesus healed the possessed by virtue of having a covenant with the devil? So I surprised you this time in which I come in Spirit, because this is my true essence, to give you one more lesson about the life of the spirit, but a broader, clearer and deeper lesson, in which you will be able to experience personally about what I have come to reveal to you.

12. Some believe that what I have granted to this people in the present Era has been too high, taking into account my communication through the human understanding and that of the spiritual world using the same means; to others, what they have achieved so far has seemed so great that they suppose that it will no longer be possible to go any further, to which I must tell you that what you have had and seen at this time is just a small vision of what the spiritualists will have to see in the future, when, having overcome all prejudices and liberated the spirit and the mind, they have taken greater steps than yours. Who will be able to stop the course of those manifestations reserved with the evolution of humanity? Foolish and foolish will be those who oppose, blind in their fanaticism.

13. Each Era has brought to men new and wonderful lights for the mind and the spirit; prepare yourselves all to receive my divine messages, because a new time has opened its doors and there is much that you have to see and to know.

14. "Charity and more charity to your brothers," Elijah said to you at this time, but the people who are poor, wonder: What can we give if we have nothing? It is true, you possess nothing; but if you store up the grace and the knowledge that I give you in my word and if you develop the gifts with which I have filled your spirit, you will be able to give eternally and you will never see your flow exhausted.

15. Here are some of the benefits that my Spirit has granted you. Balm to cure every physical ailment and to remove every affliction of the spirit, perpetual peace for you and for you to give to those who do not carry it in their hearts; light of the spirit to illuminate your path, to guide your steps and inspire you noble thoughts and deeds. I brought you the spiritual prayer, that which puts you in communication with the divine, becoming means or instruments of my messages and revelations. The gift of prophecy, from which intuition and foreboding are derived, I have also poured out on your spirit, because through it you will be able to know in advance something of the path that each one of you has to travel.

16. These and other gifts have been entrusted to you. Who can be called needy, possessing such grace? Who, no matter how poor he may be of what belongs to the world, will refuse to do charity carrying in his spirit such a splendid inheritance? It is only necessary that your heart opens to the contact of my divine effluvium, as the corollas of flowers open when the caressing dew descends on them, then you will feel able to give to everyone who approaches you in demand of charity, because you will be filled with my Spirit.

17. In the Second Time I gave you the clearest and most vivid example that it is not necessary to possess the goods of the world to be able to practice charity, and that having a heart full of love for all, willing to pity the suffering and to console him, miracles can be worked.

Love one another!

18. I multiplied bread when it was scarce, I transformed water into wine, I restored the sick to health, I freed the defenseless possessed, I gave new life to the dead, I sweetened the hard of heart with a word, and I filled the spirits with light. Something or a lot of all this you will be able to do if you prepare yourselves; if I did those works for your example, it is proof that you can do them; now, if you felt small and clumsy to carry them out; see me among you again, awakening all the gifts and potencies of your being, so that you may never again say that you are needy, because by doing so you offend your Father, who has given you everything so that you may reach him.

19. Do not forget that Elijah has said to you: "Charity and more charity towards your brothers", above all, knowing that there is much that you have and what you can give.

20. The manna of the Third Time descends to you without touching the Earth, because it is received by your spirit.

21. People: You are the reflection of humanity and that is why I receive you on behalf of it. Here, among you, I find sorrows, weaknesses, lack of faith, discord, divisions and wars. What I speak to you, I say for all, and what I now give to a few, tomorrow you will take to your brothers, because my message is for-all men.

22. I do not see you unified, and you could not get up right now to spread my word, because your conscience would not allow you to go preach unification and harmony, when you have not been able to preserve it, but the time will come when all the children of this people will unite to carry my Doctrine as a banner of peace, brotherhood and spirituality.

23. You have walked the path of life for a long time, but the time has already come to start the return.

24. You have traveled the long way of experience; that innocence, which is blindness and ignorance, has disappeared by acquiring the light of experience. Moreover, you have soiled yourselves and that is what trials and pain are for, to wash you and purify you.

25. The innocent is blind, he understands nothing and knows nothing of the way to be able to return to the Father. He who gains experience knows the path and knows where he is going.

26. With this you will easily be able to understand what is the meaning of the pain, the trials of life, the temptations and all the heavy and bitter experience that you gather in the long walk to achieve that your spirit reaches perfection.

Love one another!

27. Here you have explained why life presents you with so many problems that you have to solve in order to continue forward.

28. But it is necessary to come to you to tell you this truth, because only in this way can you clothe yourselves with hope and idealism. If I do not repeat the Sermon on the Mount to you at every step, you fail, because you cease to recognize the meaning of the struggle of this life and allow yourself to be overcome by pain, believing that you are condemned to suffer forever.

29. I want you to be my disciples, but you insist on continuing to be my children. How many times do I hear you saying to me, "Father, why are you sending us so much misery? Why don't you want to hear our prayer? Father, You have not heard us.

30. I hear your complaint and I tell you: I have always received your prayer, but I will not always grant you what you desire at the exact moment when you ask for it, nor will it be according to your desire, but according to my will. It is up to you to spread the mantle of your prayers, to illuminate the paths with your good thoughts and to put away darkness, so that your brothers will be prepared, when the moment comes when I sent them my peace.

31. It is not the external triumph that is valid before my justice, but your effort, because in it you will have achieved evolution, experience, perfection.

32. You are to whom I have come to give the mission of bringing light everywhere and to whom I have said that you will be like torches wherever you are. Who then will be the children of faith who move the mountains and illuminate the regions?

33. If you knew how to understand everything that my word contains, you would rise up with a firm and hasty step to extend the good that it contains; you would look with pity at the orphaned childhood of tenderness and love, because their parents have died.

34. You would look with charity at the youth who walks without ideals, because men have killed the faith of the hearts that were barely opening before life.

35. Do you now understand what is the torch of which I speak to you and the ideal that I have inspired you with?

36. Yes, Master, your spirit answers me, we have understood that the torch is the light of your Doctrine that comes to dispel the darkness of that long night in which humanity has plunged.

37. Blessed are you, my children, because you will also be able to hear the voice of that youth who asks where is God? What is heaven and what is faith?

Love one another!

38. Your duty is to reach out to your little brothers and guide them on the path of life, whose route they have lost, to tell them about the Father, telling them that a little spirituality is enough to feel my presence, which will give them courage and strength not to let themselves be dragged into the abyss.

39. Your mission is to tell the orphans that their Mother is not far away, that her mantle of tenderness and protection has covered them from the moment they lost on Earth those who were their support and their refuge. May you teach them to find that heavenly warmth everywhere.

40. To everyone who finds himself strong on the way, I make him responsible for the poor orphans, for that childhood abandoned by men, that wanders the streets in search of maternal love.

41. So I come to invite you to my Kingdom of peace so that you may rest from the battle in which you are living now. I have come to teach you to make the weight of your cross light, taking in its true meaning the trials of life so that you do not suffer uselessly and only learn, experience and truly ache.

42. Feed yourselves with healthy and holy joys, enjoy the presence of the children, in whom already dwell the spirits that I announced to humanity for this time, and whose mission of peace and light is manifested in their deeds, from their first steps. See to it that my promise is fulfilled in them. They are the hope and foundation of future generations, and their fate will be a testimony to those who eagerly await the signs that the promised Kingdom is already at hand.

43. The human species will regenerate, the spirit will reach greater evolution as the times pass and its works will lead it to occupy the place that corresponds to it with dignity.

44. Today you fail to understand the meaning of your trials, you judge them unnecessary, unjust and senseless, but I will tell you how much justice and precision there was in each of them, when you reach old age, and others when you have crossed the thresholds of this world and find yourselves inhabiting the spiritual regions.

45. Today I will not tell you what you left behind without fulfillment, your mistakes or mistakes; nor will I reveal to you the future. I only want to see in you the trust and surrender to your Father, because there is not an hour of your life, a single act or thought, in which my Spirit is not present, to bless you, encourage you or give you teachings. I want faith to encourage you in your heart, that you love me and seek me as a Father, as a friend and counselor in all your trials.

Love one another!

46. And since you know that you are making restitution, that you are being asked to pay your debt, think about fighting with justice within yourselves. For each rebellion, you will have a trait of humanity, for each test a cluster of strength and thus you will climb from scale to scale until you reach the highest regions.

47. I am not telling you that the end is very close to you, but I do promise that I will grant you great opportunities to reach it.

48. When you know how to communicate with me, you will not need intermediaries, because you will be inspired and guided by Me.

49. The day when you are unified, your thought will envelop the Earth, your love will be reflected and spread to other nations, and humanity will be attracted, possessed of something that it will not be able to understand and something supernatural will be said to be coming.

50. But by that time you must send your emissaries and this light that only a few of you have seen today will be looked at by other peoples and there, where there was only sterility, in those abandoned and uncultivated fields, life will arise, the light of conscience will shine and the spirit will flourish.

51. I prepare you to be my good disciples, to live attentive to my words, to study in silence to instill you even more, because my teaching has no end. And when you feel able to teach, gather around you those who are truly hungry, prepare new disciples, as John did in the desert, and then give them to Me, and I will lead them to the end of their evolution.

52. Think that what I am telling you, you have to fulfill it someday. Today you are with me, gathered as a family under the watch of your parents, but later you will disperse along the roads of the world and that will be where you will find the fulfillment of my words and the opportunity to fight for this Work. Because you, people, are the mirror in which my love must be reflected, and you must set an example of fraternity.

53. I am touching the most sensitive fibers of your heart, because the time of my departure is approaching and I want to leave you sensitive to pain, misery, orphanhood.

54. My light will always be with you, my Divine Ray will never leave you, because even when the time of my communication is over, he will come to illuminate your spirit.

55. How much you are going to need that light to continue making itself felt in your spirit, when you penetrate the struggle, when you look attacked and see that humanity laughs at you, when you hear that they call you false and impostors!

Love one another!

56. Then my light will speak to you inwardly, saying to you: "Do not be afraid, speak about what you know and repeat my teachings."

57. You will speak the truth that I have brought to you, but if anyone is offended by what he has heard, leave the cause to Me, but I tell you that when you speak my truth, never do it with the intention of hurting, because then it will be you who will have to answer for your words.

58. You will respect the faith and religion of all, remembering that I, your God, Omnipotent and Almighty, let you be with all my children without distinction of cults or creeds.

59. You will sow with love this Doctrine that will be the one that teaches men to return to their point of origin, the teaching that will make them rise above their material life, towards a more perfect world.

60. See how necessary is a light that illuminates the spirit of man to help him find the way and return to the place from where he started, after acquiring knowledge of the meaning of life; because it was necessary that the spirit, when he was innocent, knew the light of trials, of the struggle of the long way of experience, to know God.

61. The day will come when many of your brothers and sisters will come to look for you, knocking at your doors to tell you: "Give us some of your spiritual bread, because we see that you have bread, that you are happy, that a light that is not of this world is shining on you. Give us that light to guide you."

62. That will be the beginning of peace and fraternity, when wars and hatreds cease and the kingdom of darkness is destroyed.

63. Today you are not yet ready to distribute the spiritual bread, because you have not yet divested yourselves of the last remnant of selfishness and vanity. But I will give you some more time to get ready.

64. People: I have given you one more lesson, a lesson that speaks to you of fraternity. The Book of Life will open before you and in your consciousness you will continue to listen to the voice of the Master, saying to you: "Love one another".

65. The one who has come to witness this manifestation and his mind has been full of material worries, as well as the one who has been thinking about material joys, has carried very little; on the other hand, the one who has penetrated with humility and has given himself to the delight of listening to his Master, he has carried a treasure in his heart, his spiritual wealth will increase day by day and he will soon feel able to share his goods with his fellow men.

66. I want you to be one of these so that you may go out into the world in search of those who are hungry for love and truth,

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 302

1. Disciples of my Divinity: Welcome to my chair. Do not be surprised at the greeting with which my Divine Spirit receives you, because in truth I tell you that in the last year of my manifestation among you, in this form I will make myself recognized at the moment of my arrival.
2. Every step you take on the path of spirituality will be rewarded by Me; everyone who breaks his routine and rises up in pursuit of perfection in his practices, will also receive the Father's reward, and it will not be I who mark with special dates the days of my manifestations, because I am over time, beyond it,
3. In that Second Era, days after the crucifixion of Jesus, three of my disciples were walking along a path, they were looking for a lonely hut in which to be able to focus on the memory of the master who had left; they were walking with a heart broken by pain, feeling the emptiness in their spirit. On their way, they met a walker, who accompanied them, and when he asked them why their sorrows were so manifest, they informed him with moved words of everything that happened to them; of what had happened in Jerusalem, of what had happened on Golgotha; and so they arrived at the hut, penetrated into it and when they were gathered together, not only in matter, but also in spirit, in a communication of thought and memories, that wayfarer was transfigured and said to them: "My peace be with you". The disciples, surprised, instantly recognized the voice of their Master and prostrated themselves before his feet.
4. They contemplated his radiant face, his human form full of light, of love, full of life. From that moment on, as many times as he made himself present to his disciples, he made himself recognized with that blessed phrase: "My peace be with you". So I want you to listen to me, like those disciples. After the departure of my word through these manifestations, you will hear, no longer with your material ears, but through your consciousness, the echo of my divine voice that tells you eternally: "My peace be with you".
5. You are all my disciples, even the last ones, even those who listen to me for the first time, because this is not the first lesson I have come to give you; it has been a long time since they came from my Spirit and from that moment, I have begun to be the Teacher for them. That is why in this Third Time, when you have heard my humanized voice in the spokespersons, I call you my disciples, because you have received infinite lessons from Me, life itself, I have prepared it so that it will be for you like a book of high wisdom, the number of its pages is countless, its content is profound and one life is not enough to get to know it in its entirety, and even less, to understand it. Its volume is great, it has been written by the perfect Being, by the author of life and of everything created, but that book so full of wisdom, is written with simplicity, with clarity, as are all the works of God.

6. The first lesson, that is, the first page, is the simplest, but if it is not understood despite its simplicity, the second comes to explain the content of the first and so on, until the end of this great book of life that I have put before man, which is open in its Sixth Chapter, so that he may know the Father, so that he may know his life and his destiny; so that he may understand his past, his present and as far as my will, his future.

7. The age of the Holy Spirit has arrived for humanity, with the Third Time, that of the practice of spirituality and to reach this stage, how much you had to live and what to suffer along the way.

8. I behold you in this age, carrying in your spirit an advance that has made you a fertile land for my seed; but I still find that your spirit is thirsty and hungry for truth. Your spirit has developed in pain, in suffering, in disappointments; but there is another development that I do not see in you and that is the one that is only given by the practice of my teachings, the fulfillment of my laws, the development of true love, from which all the virtues derive.

9. The brain of man, with its science, searches, transforms your life; his heart becomes great in passions, in earthly possessions, in dominion over this world; and that greatness is not real before Me. It is temporary greatness, it is human vanity and this life transformed now by men, I will purify it. Already the light of my Holy Spirit, like a seed of truth, is pouring out on every spirit, but, in order for the awakening to be in all my children, they will have to endure one more test.

10. Men have resisted the rigor of my justice by silencing the voice of their conscience, hiding my laws and turning their backs on my divine precepts. They have killed my prophets and mocked my messengers, but my power is infinite, I will not come to unload all my strength on men, because they are very small in front of Me, I will not come bringing down their spirit, to force them to follow me on their own defeat because I want to contemplate man, being gifted with my divine attributes, standing, with his face up, overflowing with satisfaction, with the real greatness in his spirit, with the true dignity in his whole being.

11. In this way I want to contemplate my son, the creature who is the mirror and image of the Creator. I will only take him away from his mistakes, from his sin, from his imperfections, but I will always support his spirit with the light of hope, with trust in Me and I will always put before him, when the abyss opens under his soles, the palm of my hand so that he does not fall. But one more proof has to come, that it will be a world cataclysm and in that chaos, it will not only be the elements of Creation that are unleashed as in the past times, it will be the spirit that stirs and fights and that combat will be part of the world chaos.

12. The principles are already seen among you; the strife will increase more and more, and verily I say to you, in the midst of that tempest, everyone who fulfills my Law will be saved.

13. All the bad seed will be cut off by the roots and only the good seed will respect my justice, leaving once again, clean this Earth, because after the test has passed, a new life will come for this humanity. All those whom I have cut off from this life as an evil seed, I will take them in spirit to the blessed region that you call Beyond, I will prepare them, and there they will make up for all their faults with their own repentance.

14. There is so much light in the spirits at this time, that only an instant of true repentance will suffice for you, to form a firm and eternal purpose to regenerate and to practice my Law; and when all those who were raised by Me have already reached that preparation, I will return to this planet, some to start the path again, and others to restore what was destroyed, and finally others to conclude with their missions already begun and so in each one, it will be my justice of love. In the early days of humanity, there was innocence and simplicity among men, but as they multiplied, by reason of their evolution and their free will, their sins also increased and they were developing more quickly, not their virtues but their weaknesses before my Law; then I prepared Noah, with whom I communicated from Spirit to spirit, because this communication I have established with men since the beginning of humanity, but this grace that was of a few in the past times, will be worldwide and will come between the Father and his children, communication through prayer, of the inspiration that love gives and the practice of my teachings, will be among all my children.

15. I said to Noah, "I will purify the spirit of men from all their sins, for this I will send a great flood. Prepare an ark and bring your children, their wives, and your children's children into it, and also bring in a couple from every species of the animal kingdom." Noah was obedient to my command and the cataclysm came, in fulfillment of my word. The bad seed was cut off by the roots, and the good seed preserved in my granaries, with which I formed a new humanity that brought the light of my justice, and knew how to comply with my Law and live in the practice of good customs.

16. Do you think that those beings who met with such a painful death, perished in matter and in spirit? Verily I say to you: No, my children, their spirits were preserved by Me and they awoke before the judge of their own conscience and were prepared to return again to the path of life, so that in it they would find spiritual progress.

17. On the day when the waters ceased to cover the earth, I made the iris of peace shine in the firmament, as a sign of the covenant that God established with men. Now I say to you: O humanity of the Third Time that you are the same that have gone through all the trials, in which you have purified yourselves: You are about to experience a new chaos; but I come to warn the people taught by Me, and humanity in general, to whom I have made myself known in this time. Listen, my children: Behold the ark, enter into it, I invite you.

18. For you, O Israel, the ark is the practice of my Law, everyone who fulfills my commands, in the most bitter days, in the most difficult trance, will be inside the ark, will be strong and will feel the shelter of my love.

19. And to all this humanity, once again I say: The ark is my Law of love, everyone who practices love and charity with his fellow men and with himself, will be saved. I will bless this virtue and through it, I will make men spiritually find the ark of salvation in this Third Time, not only the salvation of their human life, but the salvation and peace of their spirit. The time of the great trials is approaching, in which the struggle of sect against sect, of religion against religion will be unleashed,

20. How long will that contest last? You can't know. But truly I tell you, it will be enough time to prepare the spirit of other men; it will be the time necessary for everyone, even the last of the creatures, to awaken even in their infantile age; so that you can all realize the time in which you live and have the knowledge of your responsibility before the Divine Justice that calls all spirits to regeneration. This storm will pass away and you will see again in the firmament, the sign of my covenant with men; but it will not be the material iris with its seven colors, but the light of the Holy Spirit in fullness, which will be manifested to all spirits, both incarnate and disembodied. The voice of the Holy Spirit will say to all his children: I am peace, I am the way, the truth and the life, I am the one who come to establish with you a new covenant of covenant with my Holy Spirit, with my Law; because in this time you will be rescued with my teachings, from the chains of ignorance and a new time of peace and well-being I will offer to the new humanity formed by beings stripped of materialism, regenerated to the core of their bones. In it the spirits who have awakened to the light will come to incarnate, those who have been greatly prepared to return to the ways of the world to sow virtue and truth in compliance with my Law.

Love one another!

21. That is why you, dearly beloved disciples, who know my teachings, have such a great responsibility contracted with your Father, because you know what the future holds for you; but you should not measure by years, or even by centuries, the time in which my prophecies will take to be fulfilled. You should only think of depositing in Me your tribute of love and trust, fulfilling what corresponds to each one of you in my Doctrine; the rest, I will do and with this you will always feel calm before your conscience.

22. You will see then, O Israel, how bitter as life may be for others, it will be placid for you, and pain will not be able to besiege you; because of your strength acquired in the fulfillment of my Law and in obedience to my commands. Then you will no longer fear the weight of your cross, neither will you fear the arrival of death in this life, you will know how to wait for it calmly and you will see it coming as a friend, as your sister, as the one who comes to set you free, to shorten in your life the days of pain, misery and work, that even she will lead you to guide you to help you cross with firm step the thresholds of eternity, of that Beyond that not even your spirit knows, because if you have already inhabited it, you have not done it on the highest planes, which is where you will get to in the stages to come,

23. You already know some of its regions; but not all of them, people. Jesus already told you: "In my Father's house there are many mansions" and today the Holy Spirit tells you: "In the Father's house there are an infinite number of mansions".

24. How will that life of struggles, of trials for your spirit develop? You don't know it, don't even try to imagine it, because it will only be your fantasy, which will make you forge false images.

25. It is enough for you to know that this earthly life, wonderful and perfect in all its parts, is only a symbol, a faint reflection of the Beyond; but do not try to imagine those planes in their complete perfection, because it is, O Israel! As if a blind man from birth, you would like to make him understand how are the colors of everything that surrounds you; and just as your spirit, incarnated in a child in human life, is discovering wonders at every step, and as it penetrates into youth it continues to find new lessons, reaches adulthood without finishing knowing Creation, penetrates into old age and leaves this life, regretting not having known everything that surrounded it; so your spirit, will pass from this life prepared for the next and will go from surprise to surprise, from lesson to lesson, from wonder to wonder, until eternity, and will not be able to contemplate its Creator in all his infinite magnitude.

26. He will conceive him and understand him great in his laws, in his love, in his attributes; but will he come to embrace him? Never, my people, because the Creator is and will always be the Father and the children his creatures. Children may sit at the right hand of the Lord, but never in his place, but from that place, Jehovah, who is the origin of perfect love, will never humiliate his children, he will always contemplate them as his pampered creatures, as his disciples, never as servants or as, and prisoners; I want the time to come when you will feel, not as prisoners or as servants of the Lord, but as His beloved children.

27. I do not want to have slaves in this, or in any of the worlds, I do not want to have lackeys, or vassals; I do not want to have prisoners, I want to be understood and loved, with the same love with which I love all my children.

28. With these teachings, people, I come to bear witness to you of my presence among you as the Spirit of truth. With my word I come to you to build the saving ark in this Third Time. Understand the figurative Meaning in all my lessons and preserve its essence by complying with my Law, because I want that when chaos comes among men, I will find you already prepared and safe, so that you make the call to those who are shipwrecked, those who perish and those who infringe and repent in time.

29. Do not seek only your security, because if you did so and your lips were closed at the time of the word, and you hid my revelations from humanity, because fear invaded you, even if you already believe you are safe in the ark, truly I tell you that you will be among the shipwrecked.

30. In order for you to truly meet God, you have to forget about yourself, to think only about others. Feel charity for your brothers and sisters without distinguishing them by their color, by their blood, language or ideology. You must contemplate in each one of your fellow men the image of your Father, who is universal and who is poured out in all his children.

31. Look at me and love me in all your brothers, remember that I have told you that none of my children will perish for all eternity, none will find death for their spirit, because it does not exist. I have not created it, because I only put sin to death.

32. Even those beings whom you call of temptation or demons, verily I say to you that they are nothing more than troubled or imperfect beings whom the Father wisely uses to carry out his high designs and plans; but those beings, today their spirits are enveloped in darkness and many of them making a bad use of the gifts that I have granted them, will be saved by Me in due time, because the time will come, O Israel! In which all the creatures of the Lord will be glorifying me eternally; I would cease to be God, if with my power; my wisdom and my love, I could not rescue a spirit,

Love one another!

33. You will all be saved and if you have read about fire and eternal death, I really tell you that you must look for the figurative sense there and you must not misinterpret my teachings, because with that, you would be attributing imperfections to Me that I do not have. I am perfect and I do not come to flaunt this among my children, because if it is true that today you are imperfect, I am leading you to perfection with my love and with my light.

34. You must know, disciples, that at the end of 1950, when I have withdrawn my word that I am sending to you through these spokesmen, I will leave you forming one spirit and one heart. I will continue to manifest my divine lessons to you, but they will be higher, more defined and, in addition, they will mark the beginning of spirit-to-Spirit communication. The more you are unified in obedience to my Law, the closer you will be to perfect spiritual communication.

35. When I have finished this stage of my communication between you, I will entrust you with a time of meditation, preparation and analysis; but you should not do these studies separately, but you will always be united. Before looking for my teachings in your memory and in the writings, you will prepare and communicate through prayer with your Lord and that instant, you will be helped by Him, and when you penetrate the analysis of my word, it will be the Holy Spirit who will reveal to you the true content of each lesson, because I do not want to contemplate among my disciples, various interpretations.

36. I want the knowledge of everything fundamental within my Work to be possessed by all, that fanaticism and idolatry disappear; that superstitions do not exist among you; that you come to offer me the simplest worship, free of rites and useless ceremonies, to practice only my truth. That is why I told you at the beginning of my lecture that every step you take in spirituality will be rewarded by Me.

37. The time of the rites, of the altars and of the bronze bells, will already pass from humanity. Idolatry and religious fanaticism will give their last signs of life; that time of struggle and chaos that I have been announcing to you will come and when peace has returned to all spirits, after the tempest, men will no longer build palaces in my honor, nor will the crowds be called with the voice of the bronzes, nor will men who feel great raise their power over the crowds, the time of humility, fraternity, spirituality will come, bringing with it equality of gifts for humanity.

38. Keep purifying yourselves, O Israel! To the essence of my teaching, you have nothing to correct it, because it is perfect. Always look at my work beyond all that is yours, because the set of your external worship, rites and traditions, are not part of it.

Love one another!

39. My Spirit, which is universal, exists in everything created by Me, whether in the spiritual or in material Nature; in everything is my Work, testifying to my perfection in each of its planes. My divine Work encompasses everything, from the greatest and most perfect beings that inhabit at my right hand, to the least imperceptible little animal, the vegetable or the mineral, in the atom or the cell, which form all creatures, and in this I show you once again, the perfection of everything created by Me, from material beings, to the spirits that have already reached perfection. That's my Play!

40. You are the disciples who feel small and weak before my universal presence; but I tell you; your matter is small and fragile, but your spirit will be strong and I will use him; if today the Father has come to look for you to give you, it is because he knows that you will fulfill him and the Father is never wrong.

41. He, as a Teacher, knows how to choose from the crowds those who have to fulfill a delicate mission. Truly I tell you, many, hearing my call, have come before Me to listen to my teachings, and very few are those who have been faithful to me and are carrying out their mission.

42. How many of those donated by Me have let their lamp of faith and love go out, they have turned their backs on me, they have denied me and they still mock at my manifestations, I am also calling them to the interior of the saving ark, and they are still in time that by their reflection and repentance they reach their restitution, but by the faithful, by the persevering, the others will reach. Those who have strayed from my teachings, it has been because of their weaknesses before the temptations and offers of the world.

43. My perfection grants you a new time and I give you my light for your meditation and redemption.

44. Raise your spiritual prayer, but not for you or for yours; if not for all humanity that suffers and rejects my loving caress; but you know how to feel that love better and even when you are encountering great trials in your path, you will not perish. There are trials that my justice sends you, but most of them you are working out with your weaknesses; but in some and in others, my love strengthens you and helps you to continue until the end of the road.

45. At this moment unite yourselves to your Father, watch and pray for humanity.

46. I want you to be like a star in the firmament and from there send rays of light, of love, of forgiveness and of charity, over all the peoples of the earth. I bless you, O disciples.

Love one another!

47. Not even your own spirit is able to understand its own strength, as well as the fraternal embrace in which you have enveloped humanity; but I do know it and for this reason I tell you, people, that this is how you should always pray, because that is one of the highest missions of your spirit. And when your lips cannot give comfort, nor can you reach the sick with your hands to anoint them, then let your prayer be like wings for your spirit that carry it after the most distant, to deliver my message of peace and love to them. And since you have watched over and prayed for humanity, I will watch over you, I will penetrate into your heart and upon discovering his sufferings, his needs, I will comfort him and leave him a present and that present will be the fulfillment of what you ask of me at this moment; but you must be patient, do not put me to the test, do not demand of me.

48. There was no need for you to ask me, but if I allow it, it is because you do not stop being the little ones and the needs overwhelm you.

49. The time will come when you will ask nothing of Me but that you will come before Me, to say to me, "Father, your will be done in me."

50. Blessed be your life, your path and also your table.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. People: As I begin with this chair the last year of my communication through human understanding, I invite you to make a deep and thorough examination in the light of your conscience so that you can respond spiritually when I ask you, What is it that you have understood about my Work and what are the definitive steps that you have taken on this path? If, in spite of having concentrated in the depths of your heart, you fail to have a clear notion of what you have done well, as well as of what you have done wrong, in my word you will find a perfect judgment of your deeds.
2. It is necessary to take stock through conscience, before taking the first step in the last year of my communication, because I want that at the end of it, you offer me as a harvest and tribute of your struggle, the fruit of obedience, understanding and spirituality.
3. The period covering 1950 will be full of events that will move the world. All the orders of your life will be shaken. The spiritual worship of mankind will be touched, through religions, strong nations will be touched, science will be amazed at the great signs of Nature, and human life in general will be filled with facts and events that men will call strange and unusual.
4. You know that all this will happen to signify the last year of my communication with visible and tangible facts to all men, since, if the signs of the consummation of this stage were spiritually given to humanity, they would not perceive them due to their skepticism and their materiality.
5. All the trials and events that shook the world during the year of 1950 will be an image of what happened in that Second Time in Jerusalem on the day when Jesus expired on the cross.
6. If you really prepare yourselves and know how to observe what happens in this year, you will realize the darkening, the darkness that will invade the world, the storms that will hit peoples and institutions, as well as the moment when humanity spiritually feels my presence and intuitively contemplates the light of the Third Time. What will that moment be? The final moment of my communication, the one in which spiritually the veil of the Temple is torn, as happened in Jerusalem, and humanity sees my light and knows the truth.
7. Do not be afraid, people, because my charity will cover you and your prayer and fulfillment will be like a breastplate that protects you in adversities; neither be afraid to be left alone when my word ceases among you, for truly I tell you, none of the gifts with which I have adorned your being, will depart from you. He who has learned to lead multitudes will continue to lead hearts, he who has received my ray in his understanding will have great inspiration, he who has been an instrument or spokesman of the spiritual world will continue to be sensitive to that voice, and he who has had the gift of speech, analysis, healing or prophecy, will see the power of his gifts increase if he really prepares himself, putting on spirituality and faith.

8. Prepare yourselves very much, so that after my departure you will form a strong and capable people to receive everyone who seeks you, without feeling clumsy or small before men of science, before the titles they hold, or before those who put you to the test, because they think they possess the knowledge of the truth about the spiritual.

9. If now, at the time of my communication, these houses have been full, I want them to become insufficient later, because this will mark the propitious moment for this people to rise up and spread throughout the world.

10. I know that in your heart you tell me. Lord, your word full of power, majesty and essence, has done the miracle of attracting crowds in pursuit of that light, but, after this time, who will do the miracle of attracting crowds and caravans as you have done? Disciples: Why are you men of so little faith? Peradventure are not the gifts I have entrusted to you true? Have you not felt the wonders that you have performed through them? Verily I tell you that in future times, you will do greater works, sufficing for the miracle to be consumed, so that you fulfill my maximum mandates of "Union, obedience and spirituality".

11. Truly I tell you, at the moments when my word makes itself heard through the mouthpiece, not only the spirit of this people trembles, but all the beings who in the spiritual valley also need the divine light.

12. The sound of the human word does not reach them, but the essence and inspiration of my messages does, because my voice is universal and its echo reaches all the worlds and dwellings where a child of God dwells.

13. I send a ray of my light to every world; I have sent this light to you in the form of a human word, as it comes to other mansions through inspiration.

14. In the light of that divine ray, all the spirits will unite, making it a scale that will lead them to the same point, to the spiritual kingdom promised to all of you who are a spiritual particle of my Divinity.

15. Can you imagine the joy of all the beings who on Earth had material ties with you and who today inhabit beyond your world, when they know that the voice they hear there are also those who hear it on Earth? They have not turned away from you, they do not forget you, nor do they stop doing something for those who stayed a few moments longer in the earthly valley. His caress and his blessings are continually upon you.

Love one another!

16. There dwell those who were your parents, children, brothers, husbands, friends or benefactors, already in spirit they are simply your brothers, but their love for you is the same or even greater, just as their power to help and protect you has increased.

17. Pray for them, people, you also do not stop loving and remembering them because your memory and your prayers are a sweet consolation in their struggle. Never imagine them troubled or dwelling in darkness, because it would be as much as if you felt qualified to pass a judgment and a sentence on them, and if here on Earth humans are usually so imperfect and unjust to judge the causes of their fellow beings, what will it be when it comes to judgments on some spirit?

18. I tell you again that it is up to you only to help them with your prayer and with your good works in the world.

19. Do not feel the need for them to manifest in some material form in your life, either by taking a brain or by another means, because you would deny the spirituality that I have taught you. Also, do not have a certain day of the year for them to invoke them, meditate on the fact that the spiritual lives outside of material time and that therefore, every moment can be propitious to approach them through spiritual prayer.

20. How many of those beings whom you have often imagined suffering troubles, are precisely those who have struggled to bring you closer to this path of light that they could not find when they were on Earth! Do not weep for them anymore, and much less mourn because they left for the spiritual valley; they have not died, they simply advanced a few moments to the moment when you are going to leave, but this is how it was arranged by Me, so that they would prepare the way for you. Do you think it is necessary for me to tell you that you have nothing to do in the cemeteries and that the tears that you shed on the graves are tears of ignorance, materiality and fanaticism?

21. The spirit of those who weep lives and you persist in giving him up for dead in that body that disappeared under the earth. You give them up for lost, while they, full of love, are waiting for you to give you testimony of the truth and of life, you believe them distant or insensitive and deaf to your struggles and hardships, and you do not know how many stones they are removing from your path and how many risks they are freeing you from.

22. Ignorance forces you to be ungrateful and even cruel to yourself and to others, although I must tell you: Who can be ignorant after having listened to one of my lectures?

Love one another!

23. My word is the ray of light that will envelop you all so that you will be melted in the fire of my love; if, after hearing it, you believe it and put it into practice, you will be united from that moment to all those who love me and glorify me.

24. The light of my Spirit has come to reveal to you all the gifts that are hidden at the bottom of your being, everything that from your origin you have carried with you without feeling it, I have let you know that it is time for you to truly know yourselves, to find yourselves and know your inheritance so that you may be great in spirit.

25. From time to time I have made revelations to you, first it was the Law, later my Doctrine, finally the full knowledge of your spiritual mission.

26. You say that I have been with men three times, but the truth is that I have always been. That Father who in the First Time revealed his Law of justice to humanity, who in the Second Time made his Word incarnate in Jesus, his son, and who now manifests himself spiritually to the world, has given you this divine parable through the ages, the meaning of which tells you about your spiritual evolution and lets you know that who has spoken to you through the ages, has been one God, one Spirit and one Father.

27. When I have told you to turn away from pleasures, you have misunderstood my word, coming to think that it pleases me more to see you in sufferings than in joys, and you are in error. Yes, I am your Father. How do you imagine that I would rather watch you cry than laugh? When I tell you to turn away from pleasures, I mean only those that are unhealthy for the spirit or harmful to your matter. But I advise you to seek all those healthy satisfactions for the spirit and for the heart that are within your reach.

28. The trial that man's life contains is so hard that it is necessary to sweeten it with all those spiritual and material joys that make the weight of the cross more kind and bearable.

29. I bless all those who know how to find in the warmth of their home the best joys of their existence, seeking with their affection from parents to children, from children to their parents, and from brothers to brothers, to form a cult, because that union, that harmony and that peace resemble the harmony that exists between the Universal Father and his spiritual family.

30. In those homes the light of the spirit shines, the peace of my Kingdom dwells and when the sorrows come to present themselves, they are more bearable and the moments of trial less bitter. It is even more meritorious in those who seek satisfaction by procuring it for others and enjoy the healthy joy of their fellow men. They are apostles of joy and fulfill a great mission.

Love one another!

31. Truly I tell you that if you knew how to look for moments of satisfaction and joy, as well as to have hours of peace, you would have them in all the days of your existence, but for that, first raise your spirit, raise your feelings and the way of thinking about life.

32. This message that I am sending you through my word is full of light that will illuminate your path and give your being the elevation that will teach you to live in peace and to enjoy healthily everything with which I have blessed your existence. This humanity has to fight a lot, fighting the shadows of pain and overcoming its inclination towards false pleasures and deceptive satisfactions. He will have to fight against his religious fanaticism that prevents him from knowing the truth, he will have to fight against the fatalism that makes him think that everything is heading towards the final destruction from which no one can be saved, and he will have to fight against his materialism that makes him seek only passing pleasures, pleasures of the senses that precipitate the spirit into an abyss of vices, pain, despair and darkness.

33. I give you my light so that you may come out of the shadows and come to find on that planet that you have turned into a valley of tears, the true joys of the spirit and of the heart, next to which all other pleasures are small and insignificant.

34. I am already giving you the new lesson that will be for all men. Not everyone has prayed waiting for my arrival, but the pain has kept them alert and has prepared them to receive me. The world has the experience that the people of Israel bequeathed to it from the Second Time, so that no one defies divine justice. Do you not know that the poor in spirit, who longed for the coming of the Lord to receive from Him the light of hope and knowledge, were given the gifts of prophecy, divine science and spiritual power? If you ask me about the whereabouts of those spirits, I will tell you that they are inhabiting dwellings in which everything that exists of great on this planet, is before them as simple dust of the earth. But if you ask me what became of those who accepted nothing from my Kingdom because my word and my promises seemed poor to them, I will tell you that they are of those who incarnate and will reincarnate until the consummation of time, because they asked for gold, world, flesh and power and in justice and for their spiritual restitution the world was given to them with its petty riches and its false power.

35. They have been touched for a time by divine justice, but not rejected from the way of salvation that leads to the Kingdom of truth; therefore, now that I am sending you the light of my Spirit in abundance, I will search them anxiously to ask them if the time of trial assigned to them is already enough, making them understand that this is the Third Time, precisely the one in which the times, of which I spoke in referring to the judgment of the Jewish people, will be consummated.

Love one another!

36. You all have an appointment with me and you will have to get together to listen to me, because you will have to listen to me.

37. Everything will be placed in the balance of my justice, where all the works that are without judgment will be weighed, My presence and my power will make themselves felt as they have never been manifested, because after the chaos, everything will return to its course.

38. Watch and pray continually that you may not be surprised, O people! More truly I tell you that if you watch and pray for the world, there will be an invisible mantle that will protect you because you knew how to love your brothers and feel their pain as your own.

39. I repeat to you that I am going to make my presence, my power and my justice felt. If I have allowed man in his wickedness to profane what is sacred in life, I will put a limit to his wickedness; if I have let him walk the path of his free will, I will prove to him that everything has a meaning here; if I have let him fulfill his ambitions of power and greatness in the world, I will stop him on the way to judge his work, through his conscience, so that he can answer my questions.

40. I have allowed pain, destruction and death to be felt in your life, so that its bitter fruits would make you understand the kind of tree you cultivated, but I will also make the pain disappear and let the spirit rest and meditate, because the hymn of love will have to arise from it. It is said, and it is also written, that that day will come, when men will have clothed their spirit with the white garment of the elevation.

41. Everyone will be saved, everyone will be forgiven, everyone will be comforted. Where then is death, where is eternal damnation and endless hell?

42. I did not form death or hell, because when my Spirit conceived the idea of creation, I only felt love and from my womb only life sprouted, if death and hell exist, then they would have to be human works, however small, and you know that nothing human is eternal.

43. Here is your Master, chosen people, showing you the way again. I come to make you the strong soldiers who know how to fight and defend my cause.

44. Unified with my love, you will rise up to go on the beam of the Earth to give life to the dead, showing with the light of my Holy Spirit; this way to those who have gone astray, to those who have become the destroyers of humanity. You will carry everywhere this bread of eternal life, that milk and honey with which you have been nourished.

Love one another!

45. You are my chosen people, whom I do not distinguish by colors or races, I have called all of you to recognize your true God, so that you will not be contaminated with the confusion of humanity, You are my chosen ones whom I have inherited, in whom I have put my gifts and in whom I have deposited a jewel of incalculable value, so that you may be recognized by humanity.

46. I have cleansed and prepared your spiritual eyes so that you may penetrate into the Hereafter and contemplate my presence and bear witness to it to the multitudes. I have entrusted to you my wisdom, the Book written in letters of gold, so that you may never stray from the path and that you may lead humanity along it.

47. I have made you my prophets, so that you may bear witness to what the Father shows you in the Hereafter, so that you may also prepare the generations to come.

48. In this Third Time the Master has called you and invited you to his table, some of you have arrived in matter and the others in spirit and all of you have tasted the nectar of life.

49. You listen to my word and say, "The Lord comes from on high," to which I answer that if by heights you take the pure, the perfect, the eternal and the wise you are in the right, because if by heights you take the material point that is above you in infinity, then you have fallen into error, because I am in everything and everywhere I am Omnipresent and my Spirit fills and encompasses everything.

50. If you say that I "descend," you say well, because I descend from the perfect to the imperfect when I communicate with you, because I humanize myself and even materialize to make me feel for you that you are human.

51. This people who now listen to my word will soon understand the meaning of what I am teaching and will be prepared to transmit my message to others.

52. For now, I receive these multitudes on behalf of humanity, and when I refer to humanity I am not only talking about the men of the present, but about all the generations that through six spiritual stages have inhabited the Earth. The messages that I have given you in those six times are precisely what I have symbolized with the name of "seals", which as you already know, one is missing to be untied, so that he reveals to you the meaning or meaning of all the others, that high meaning of the life of the spirit, of evolution and perfection.

53. As a source of wisdom, as an inexhaustible wellspring of knowledge, I will leave to humanity the inheritance of this word in which you will find the supreme delight of the divine, the spiritual and the eternal.

Love one another!

54. The seed has already begun to spread on the Earth, but when the seed has germinated, I will send the waters that fertilize the fields of the spirit and it will be then that you will see spirituality blossom in the heart of humanity.

55. Now the little ones are in small number and the disciples in even smaller numbers, but they will multiply and spread throughout all the places and directions of the Earth, bearing witness that a new time has come to men, a time called the "Sixth Seal" because it is the sixth spiritual stage of man on Earth, and also called the "Third Time", because it is the third communication of my Spirit with that of humanity, a time in which Elijah has led you out of the various paths. I have sent you back to this world so that, fulfilling your delicate mission, you can perfect yourselves, my teaching prepares you to carry spirituality.

56. I also come to speak to you as a friend so that you no longer feel alone in the trials of this world, so that in your heart you may carry faith and trust in your God who manifests himself and speaks to you through the human understanding. If you haven't felt me, it's because you haven't prepared. But if you prepare your heart and lift up your spirit to Me, you will feel Me and behold me with the eyes of your spirit.

57. I have come to speak to you at this time, to remind you of the Law and to fulfill it. I have allowed my spiritual world to come to live with you so that I can advise you, help you and protect you, they fight and work carrying the love of the Father in their spirit.

58. The word that I give you is humble and simple so that you may all understand me, so that you may all be enlightened with the light of my Holy Spirit. I want that when you no longer listen to me, through these understandings, you have been prepared as my disciples, so that you may rise up testifying to my presence with your words and good examples.

59. Men will come to you to ask you what is the teaching, what is the spiritual delicacy that your Master has entrusted to you for humanity. But you will show them the essence and the love that is in my word.

60. The truth will triumph through the ages, I am giving you words of truth so that with them you can drown the cry of your brothers. In this time when you have the freedom of beliefs, do not let yourselves be enslaved by matter. I am teaching you again with my love, but in my hand you will not find a whip to force you to believe in Me, because if that were the case, I would cease to be your Father and your God.

61. Seek my divine greatness, teach yourselves to forgive, I have entrusted you with gifts so that you can make good use of them and become my good disciples who guide humanity. Elijah and my spiritual world are with you so that you will not feel your cross heavy.

62. Blessed are the men of good faith who open their hearts to this message and blessed are the men of good will who put my teachings into practice because they will be children of light and peace,

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU OTHERS!

Love one another!

Teaching 304

1. Blessed are those who come to Me, for they have found the way. Blessed are those who seek guidance through my word. I am the way and you who walk along it and you will arrive by this way to the summit of the mountain and from that height you will contemplate everything that your spirit has traveled through its evolution.
2. Every stumbling block or stone that you will find will be a test, which by saving it will give you merits.
3. Who is the one who can assure that he has understood the mysteries of Nature, has penetrated into the Beyond, into the mystery of what is not seen or heard, has penetrated into the divine arcanum and known its designs? Who is the one who has been able to know himself in such a way that he can channel his actions in harmony with his spiritual and material nature?
4. You are still the weak creature that wanders aimlessly, because even though the knowledge you carry has prepared you to serve humanity, you have not developed your spiritual gifts and you are not yet spiritualized to live in harmony with me and with yourselves. If you cannot know yourself, you will not be able to know others, nor will you be able to guide them perfectly. How do you want to be the guides of humanity if you have not yet learned to direct your steps along the path of truth?
5. By speaking to you like this, people of Israel, it is not that the Master despises your work within my Work, it is to make you recognize that your steps of spirituality have no limits, that with each step of advance you will reach more light to understand the greatness of my Work.
6. I have endowed man with intelligence that allows him to scrutinize the composition of nature and its manifestations and I have allowed him to contemplate part of the Universe and feel the manifestations of spiritual life. Because my Doctrine does not stagnate the spirits or stop the evolution of man, on the contrary, it liberates and enlightens him to analyze, reason, investigate and work more what man believes as the highest of his intellectual research, is just the beginning.
7. Everything has been prepared for the evolution of the spirit. You, prepare yourselves so that you will teach the humanity of tomorrow to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit. At this time the world has become confused through its different ideas and it is the light of my Holy Spirit that can illuminate it so that by receiving my inspiration it develops the pure ideals that can spiritualize it to live in peace.

Love one another!

8. My Spiritualist Doctrine comes to unify men in a true understanding and in the understanding of spiritual values. I am the center of union, the source of inspiration for your spiritual development.

9. To Me you must come with your sorrows, joys and troubles. I give you in exchange for your pain the joy of feeling noble and worthy of Me, the opportunity for you to purify your faults.

10. Each man will be bathed with the light of my Holy Spirit that will inspire him in the world and all will be unified within the same force, action and thought; and what no religion has achieved, the inspiration of God captured by men will achieve. Therefore, in this Third Time I give everyone the same opportunity to reach Me. My Spiritualist Doctrine makes no difference.

11. If for the moment your ears do not listen to me and your eyes are with a blindfold of darkness Oh humanity! The day will come when you will see the light of the Holy Spirit and you will hear my word like divine music.

12. O Israel, acknowledge that all your brothers are worthy to attain the graces that you have attained. Stretch out your hand to the one you see confused, because you know well that you all have to reach the same end. I have granted you to listen to my word through the human understanding, but the truth of this manifestation, many of your brothers will deny it and will also deny that I have come to prepare the way for you again at this time, that I am pouring out my grace among you and that my Universal Ray rests on the pedestal prepared by my divine charity. You will not be able to understand how my Divinity can manifest itself through an imperfect creature, by whose understanding I communicate with you. Instead, in their ancient practices and rites of their religions, in the material forms they will continue to look for me. For God who is omnipotent, is it difficult to communicate through human understanding? Do you only want to feel faith in me, through images and ritual practices?

13. If you believe in Me as Omnipotent, as Creator, as Universal Authority that exerts influence over all, if you believe that I am in all my creation, then you should not doubt that I have prepared the understanding of my chosen ones to communicate through them.

14. I manifest myself in the air you are breathing, in the vastness of the space where the worlds exist. In the sun that projects its rays towards your planet. In the visible and in the invisible for you.

15. Do not rise up, chosen people, in judgment or in criticism of others, stretch out your hand and shake that of your brothers who seek me in a different way; speak to them so that they may carry the knowledge that you have, but you listen meekly to their reasoning, so that you may also receive some guidance, because no one is enough for himself, you all need my wisdom and your fellow men.

16. As Spiritualists, you must relate with love to your fellow human beings, belonging to whatever religion, in this way you will testify that you have been prepared by Me and your noble actions will reach all hearts and you will be understood by all who reason without selfishness.

17. My people, Spiritualism lacks material forms, it does not need those manifestations, those rites, as long as the incomprehensible, the mysterious, manifests itself in your acts, you cannot be the true spiritualist. The figure, the expression, the form, the object that you needed to impress yourself have been set aside, because my word has enough strength for you to recognize me and rise to perfection.

18. After the year 1950 the true spiritualist will have understood the lesson I have given you and will practice it for the sole purpose of imparting my charity wherever it is needed.

19. Tomorrow men will be able to better understand 'this word, which has been heard only by a very few, and will be widely understood,

20. It does not matter that at the end of the year 1950 my word has not been understood by everyone, with the little seed that remains it will be enough for the fruit to be achieved in the future,

21. Beloved disciples: you are like a star, You are like a lighthouse in the immensity of the sea. Fight to keep your clothes, cleanse your heart and make it the sanctuary where the torch of the sixth candlestick gives light day and night to every spirit.

22. , Be like Me, humble and meek in heart, love one another, forgive one another. Be like a river of crystal clear water, carry in your hands a single fruit, show the teaching of a single book and show a single boat of salvation for humanity.

23. Come to Me who am waiting for you, I will give to the one who asks, the one who seeks will find and to the one who knocks on this door, it will be opened. I will polish you like rocks with the chisel of my word, and I will bathe you with the light of the Holy Spirit.

24. O beloved disciples! Turn away from the temptations of the world, for I have come to prepare you so that tomorrow you will be in imitation of your Master.

Love one another!

25. On the last day of my communication between you through human understanding, the same stones will cry, but I will make everyone feel the oscar of my peace, I will lay each one on my chest. And afterwards, when I behold you prepared, then from the cloud I will say to you, Behold the desert, cross it and give to the world what I have given you.

26. O disciples! I speak to you about tomorrow and I fortify you so that at the moment of my departure, you do not moan in pain, because I do not want you to remain sad afterwards, I want to see you teaching, giving the crystalline water of the source and giving the fruit in abundance to this humanity.

27. Bear witness, like my prophets, proclaim that I am among you with the Holy Spirit. You will no longer listen to me through the spokespersons, but spiritually you will continue to receive my teaching eternally. If you spiritualize yourselves, you will be filled with joy because you will feel me, you will receive inspiration and in all your trials you will see that I am with you. You will listen to my voice from Spirit to spirit that encourages you to move forward in your struggle and you will feel fortified because I will be with all my children.

28. Today I manifest myself among you as Father, as Son and as the Holy Spirit and I am with you by essence, presence and power.

29. Come near, crowd, you who are part of my people of Israel, come to Me the women who on earth are the mothers who go in imitation of Mary; come to Me the maidens, the young men, the children and the elderly, that I receive you and I give you my gift of peace.

30. Let your spirit come to Me because I am the one who can give him what he needs. I am the Giver who pours out my grace on incarnate and disembodied spirits.

31. Chosen people of Israel, you are no longer the children because you have been evolving within this spiritual path and have acquired many knowledge through your different reincarnations. Now in this Third Time, you are the disciples of the Divine Master who are learning the lessons that day after day I have been delivering to you so that you may be great in spirit, knowledgeable of the unknown for humanity. Israel will be great in the times to come for its knowledge, for its recognition of my Work, for its union, for its struggle, for its obedience, for the love of my Divinity and for its brothers. Because if my people do not carry this spirituality, the world will see my Work as just another doctrine on Earth.

Love one another!

32. All this will happen if my people do not prepare themselves, if they do not understand me, if they do not become spiritualized. That is why I say to you: It is the time when you must regenerate and elevate yourselves spiritually through the practice of my Doctrine.

33. But it is not in vain that I have come in this Third Time to manifest myself among you with the light of my Holy Spirit; for you are the first whom I have come to wash and stain, to forge and to teach you so that you may be prepared for the fulfillment of your delicate mission and so that you may rise up as apostles, as the elder brothers of humanity, so that you may be like the stars of the firmament before humanity and so that your brothers may recognize the fulfillment of the prophecies delivered by Me and through the messengers of past times. Israel, you will rise up among the peoples, among the nations so that they too may be fed with the bread of eternal life.

34. I am preparing you as an open book in which there is prophecy, my teachings, divine revelation and the testimony of my presence. This book will be opened to the one who seeks this knowledge, you will answer many questions with light and truth. You will not be the transgressors, you will defend my Work and you will not let the world profane it.

35. This teaching is not only for you, because when you are prepared in imitation of your Teacher, you will rise up to bear witness to Me with your words and deeds. I will draw near to the philosophers, to the scientists who have thought themselves great in their knowledge, but do not be afraid of them for their science, because before my wisdom they are very small.

36. As long as the understanding of humanity is not free from all obfuscation, nor is it stripped of the darkness it carries, it will not be able to understand me nor will it be able to receive my envoys, my apostles, nor those who, as teachers, will rise up tomorrow.

37. Meditate, people of Israel, and put off all fanaticism, all vanity of materialism, so that you can perfectly fulfill your mission.

38. If my people do not rise up to fight as is my will, their trials will be very great to make them recognize their error and will be as strong, as strong he is, so that he knows how to recognize and understand what his duty is.

39. In the body of each one of you, I have placed an atom of light that is part of my Spirit and all those particles have to return when the time has come, to my divine bosom. The spirits that have incarnated in the rest of humanity are the same as yours and in them there are beings that also seek me, they also know how to rise up to me to interrogate me. Others seek me to ask me the reason for the shock that humanity is suffering and they tell me: Father, why don't you listen to us? Why don't we feel your strength so as not to weaken? Aren't we your children? This is how the spirits cry out to me, but they do not know that they are purifying, they do not know that they are living the Third Time, they do not know that they are in the time of resurrection for the incarnate and disembodied. Men have magnified themselves with what belongs to this world, they have filled themselves with pride and have not allowed their spirits to rise to Me.

40. At this time it is my will that everyone come to Me, that they seek Me spiritually, where they will find their Father.

41. In this time, Israel, you will know deeds, merits and by your example you will teach humanity to live together with me.

42. If I tell you about your mistakes, it is because there is nothing hidden from Me and it is necessary that you regenerate so that you may be clean vessels before Me. I have given you my word and in it is my strength so that you overcome all temptations and trials. I have enlightened you so that you understand what belongs to your spirit and what belongs to your human life and thus you can fulfill the divine commands because you are my disciples whom I come to teach so that your spirit rises more and more and you no longer fall under the weight of materialism, under the routine practices that you have carried within my Work, you can no longer stop at the superfluous because you have the strength and the necessary knowledge to overcome all obstacles. You must walk tirelessly forward.

43. As you go penetrating to the limpidity, to the dematerialization, your removal will be more spiritual, your practices within my Work less complicated, because you put and removed in my Work according to your will and you did not know how to lead yourself within spirituality, you did not prepare your heart to raise your prayer and only verbally raised the written prayers to me, imitating your brothers. Because your rites, your worship, your traditions, were the same that men presented to humanity. And how did you differ? What made you different from the others? Nothing, Israel, because you materialized my word and did the same with my spiritual world; your practices descended to a materialism equal to that of humanity, your symbols were the same and you also imitated their disunity and their profit within my Work.

44. Then. How could mankind believe in you? How could I be recognized through you, if you presented the same as your brothers? Contemplating the Father that your step was very slow and very materialized, he had no more tolerance with you and it was when he ordered you to gather and congregate to surprise you with his strict word and without further complacency he commanded you to strip yourselves of all materialism, to purify your practices because they were more material than spiritual and my Work is spiritual, my Work tends to elevate the spirit, to regenerate you in your human life so that flesh and spirit lead a high life. It was no longer my will that my people should fall into the abyss and there carry out my Work.

45. That is why, when receiving my commands, there was confusion in Israel, due to their materialism, but others rose up with respect and obedience to that command, because their spirits recognized that the time had come for the new awakening of Israel, that the Father had taken him out of his routine and his old customs and they thanked him.

46. All these trials have moved you, people, you had already got used to the routine, because you had parked your understanding, your spirit, in erroneous practices.

47. You already know, people, that if you do not practice the teaching that I have given you to fulfill your duty, then it will have been of no use to listen to me, because my will is that when you receive my word you put it into practice, because the end of my communication through human understanding is approaching for you, 1950 in which you will also stop listening to my spiritual world.

48. It is not My will that you feel pain in your spirit because of this cause, because I have prepared you to be strong spirits, so that tomorrow you will be like bushes that will shade the tired walker and overwhelmed by the hot sun. Nor do I want that at the moment of my departure you give to my Spirit the pain similar to the one you gave me in the Second Time, I do not want you to put the cross of your sin, of your disobedience, of your non-compliance on my shoulders again. I want to contemplate in Israel obedience, fulfillment, regeneration, spirituality, your elevation to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit.

49. Israel, it is no longer the time for you to sleep, you have to wake up fully so that you dedicate yourselves to awakening humanity, because despite the fact that my light is illuminating every understanding, I contemplate my lethargic children, I contemplate my Law in dusty books and you, chosen people, have to guide him and watch over humanity.

50. It is you who, without fanaticism, will speak to the world of the Spiritualist Doctrine.

51. Practice spirit-to-Spirit communication, which you will be perfecting more and more every day, because this is my will that you communicate with me, you and humanity. Through this communication you will receive my inspirations, my commands and I will receive your spirit, I will listen to your prayer and I will let your spiritual arms embrace me.

52. When you have learned to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit, your gifts will be developed and in your practices, those gifts will flourish in greatness and spirituality. Then you will seek me spiritually and your worship will be perfect.

Love one another!

53. This communication through human understanding will not be between you again, I do not want you to feel orphaned after my departure, nor that death surprises you, nor that weakness is between you, because after 1950 you will prepare and seek me from spirit to Spirit, you will live in harmony and peace, then you will recover the lost time and you will reach the degree of spirituality that makes you approach my kingdom, even living on this planet and you will demonstrate to the world that you do not need rites and ceremonies or material symbols to elevate your worship to me; that your form of worship is lofty and spiritual, and that your faith is a torch that spreads its flame in the ways, in the hearts and in the spirit of men,

54. The time of my communication has been long enough for you to reach that degree of spirituality that will lead you to regeneration and the elevation of your spirit.

55. I am helping you to climb the mountain, I am leading you by the hand towards that goal and I have granted you that my spiritual world will also help you, that you will increase your faith, that you will make your steps firm so that there will no longer be hesitations in your fulfillment, that nothing will make you go back on the path that you have been walking for so many years and centuries. I have placed on your journey what is necessary for your sustenance, and that is why you will now find yourselves very close to Me.

56. The moment will come when I finish my communication through the human understanding and then you will get up to continue your walk, because here on Earth there is neither your end nor your rest. I want you to be properly prepared for the struggle that awaits you and with the gifts that I have given you you will be the teachers, my apostles and my witnesses. I want you to be like a great torch that brings my light to the different peoples that make up this humanity.

57. You are with me enjoying my peace, listening to my teaching so that you may prepare yourselves, but do not forget your brothers, the world that is in chaos, hurrying a very bitter cup, do not forget the confusion that reigns in this world, I do not want to contemplate you insensitive, because the cry of the world has to reach you.

58. You are the most responsible to Me, because to you I have given my word through human understanding. I want your practices within my Work to be more perfect and spiritual, because the day is not far off when you will take my Doctrine through all the places prepared by Elijah and through my spiritual world, because my Kingdom awaits one and the other and you all have to come to Me with your merits and with humility in your spirit.

59. Many times you have said to me in the depths of your heart: "Master, Father, why, if your Work is so delicate and so profound, have you deigned to give it to men so sinful and unworthy of it? Why have you placed such a great responsibility in our hands? Why, contemplating this people whom You call Israel, so clumsy and ignorant, have you placed all your trust in them? Why, having gone through so many trials, so many purifications, so much fanaticism and idolatry, have you chosen us? And I tell you, my children: Because you are the people who have purified a lot and in the midst of your trials you have recognized me, because the trials have brought you closer to Me and I have shown you before the other nations as a chosen people and donated so that through you they receive and know my Work for their regeneration and spirituality. But I have not chosen you because I have a predilection for you or because I love you more than the rest of humanity, and I have not made you possessors of the gifts and graces, because you are more worthy before the Father. If you have gone through your purifications, it is because you have also been the people who have sinned the most, you have committed the most mistakes and you have become creditors to greater restitution.

60. Question your conscience, people, and contemplate if perhaps you are worthy before Me, see if your merits are great so that they may be taken into account by Me, remember your past and contemplate if what you have done in the journey through this world, makes you worthy that I place you at my right hand. Tell me, once you have contemplated your past, if you have made yourselves worthy to possess my grace, my gifts, my charities and my Law, No, your heart tells me, you have already told us many times that we are the ungrateful people, the people who have always disobeyed you. But I tell you, I have poured out my grace to you, with the great desire in my Spirit that one day you will become the people clean in thought, that you will do great works, that you will achieve great spiritual elevation.

61. It will be your children's children who will make the seed of truth bloom, you will sow it first in yours and among humanity.

62. Israel, after 1950 everything will change for you, your practices, your knowledge will be more advanced, your works more spiritual, your thoughts and your prayer more elevated and you will penetrate more to spirituality; because then you will no longer live within materialism.

63. I am making your heart sensitive so that you feel the pain of humanity and if I am giving my word to you now, tomorrow it will be you who have to give it to the world, if humanity has not wanted to come to Me, tomorrow you will go to her and in my name you will give her the message of love that I have left her as an inheritance.

Love one another!

64. Great will be your struggle and the task that you have to perform among that humanity, which finds itself without faith, without hope, without God, even having me close, it has not felt me and has not contemplated my presence because it wants to see me through its materialism and since it does not see me with the eyes of its spirit, it rejects me and forgets about Me. The moment is going to come when you will rise up like my apostles and with your powerful and spiritual voice you will awaken the multitudes and raise them up to faith, to spirituality.

65. At this time there are not only twelve hearts that I will use after 1950, so that they can testify about Me, now there are 144,000 of the chosen of my blessed people of Israel, in whom I have placed all my hope and my trust so that through them humanity may know my Work.

66. You will be the strong ones among humanity and you will fulfill your mission to the end, but you will always be protected by my Spirit, I will be your defense and spiritually I will entrust you with my essence, my presence and my power, as you feel and practice love, the spiritual love that manifests itself in all creation.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

1. The spiritual life of mankind is divided into three Eras or times. In the First Time I made myself recognized as a Father, in the Second I manifested myself as a Teacher and in this Third Era I am making myself feel like a Judge.
2. These are the three phases that I have revealed to men and through which you will have to know me in fullness, but do not want to see three gods or three people where there is only one Divine Spirit, because at this time you are able to accept the simplification of everything that you have shrouded in mystery and that you have complicated to make it incomprehensible. This time is unfinished, that work has been stalled for many centuries, and you must now resume it, with the ideal of concluding it to offer it to your Father.
3. It will not be necessary for all the peoples of the Earth to witness this manifestation, because I will make my teachings spread throughout the world through writings and books, as was done in the Second Time. Then my spiritual message will be known and men of good will will rise up to fulfill it.
4. In this humble and simple book, but overflowing with divine light, men will find the clarification of all their doubts, they will find the complement of the teachings that were only partially revealed in past times and they will find the clear and simple way to interpret what is hidden in the figurative sense of the ancient texts.
5. The one who, after receiving this spiritual missive, is convinced of the truth of its content and rises up fighting his materiality, his idolatry and his fanaticism, cleansing his understanding and heart of all those impurities, will free his spirit, providing him with happiness and peace, because he will already be able to fight to conquer the eternity that awaits him. But those who persist in their external worship, those who persist in loving the world and not growing in the development or evolution of the spirit, verily I tell you that they will stay behind and cry when they realize their delay and their ignorance.
6. Why, while everything is growing, transforming, perfecting and developing without ceasing, should only your spirit have to remain stagnant through the centuries?
7. The human spirit is the one who should walk in front of how many works man performs, because he is the one who has been entrusted with life on Earth, however, there in your world you do because the spirit neglects its highest missions, to consecrate it to earthly ideals and envelop it more and more in the vertigo of that life that you have created.

Love one another!

8. Since you have discovered and learned a lot through science, you are not ignorant of the incessant evolution that exists in all beings of creation; for I want you to understand that you should not leave your spirit abandoned in that delay and in that stagnation in which you have sunk it for so long, and that you should strive to achieve harmony in everything that surrounds you, so that a day may come for men when Nature, instead of hiding its secrets, reveals them and instead of the elements being hostile to you, they become servants, collaborators, brothers.

9. I sent the spirit to incarnate on Earth and become human, so that he would be prince and lord of all that exists on it, not so that he would be slave or victim, or needy, as I see that he is. Man is a slave to his needs, his passions, his vices and his ignorance.

10. He is a victim of sufferings, stumbles and vicissitudes that his lack of spiritual elevation cause him in his transit through the Earth. He is needy, because ignoring the share of inheritance that corresponds to him in life, he does not know what he owns and it is as if he had nothing.

11. It is necessary that this humanity awakens so that it begins to study in the book of spiritual life and soon, that idea being transmitted from generation to generation, that blessed seed will arise in which my word will be fulfilled. I have told you that this humanity will one day reach spirituality and will know how to live in harmony with everything created and will know how to march at the same time spirits, understanding and heart.

12. This Third Time, in which human evil has reached its greatest height, will, however, be a time of reconciliation and forgiveness.

13. While men, inspired by their petty ambitions and their hatreds, are preparing the destruction of their brothers whom they call enemies, I am preparing the hour when I will judge them, making them measure and contemplate their work.

14. In that hour of justice, when conscience is heard and its light shines illuminating reason and the heart, men will lift up their hair and gnash their teeth, saying to me: "Lord, how could I be capable of so much evil? Why did you allow me to carry out such an unworthy work?"

15. Blessed are those who awaken in that instant of justice, because they will see the light of my forgiveness descend on them, they will see the blessed day of reconciliation arrive. Then many men will understand the reason for my Doctrine of love and will know what each of my children means to Me, even if they are the most sinful.

Love one another!

16. Yes, beloved people, I love you all infinitely, because even behind a great sinner, there is a spirit that needs my light to sin no more.

17. I come to save criminals because the man who commits a crime is also a child of God and each of my children is worth a lot to Me.

18. I will spread this Doctrine throughout the Earth as a mantle of hope and salvation, offering everyone the opportunity to pay little by little past debts and present debts, until they feel me again in the depths of their being.

19. It has been a long time since you have felt me, that you have lost me and I am going to give you the opportunity to find me. I know that the one who finds me on his way again, he never loses me anymore.

20. Begin to walk towards Me, sinners, do not be afraid that when you come before my presence my voice will judge you before your brothers, because I will not betray you. Do not be afraid, as Magdalene was not afraid, who, coming to Me, threw off her heavy burden of sins, regardless of who looked at her, listened to her or judged her. She was calm because she knew that she was no longer a woman stained by sin but a sinner purified by repentance.

21. Imitate her in her repentance and in her love.

22. I will make everyone hear my voice in the conscience, once of Father, Teacher, Judge, which will penetrate the hearts making them beat with joy, wonder and love, My voice will be heard inside each creature, because your spirit is in time to receive me in this way.

23. In the silence of the prison cells, my voice will be heard, saying to those men and women without hope: "Here I am with you, did you think you were abandoned by Me? No, little ones, I do not come to ask you if you are murderers or if you have stolen, I come to redeem with my love the one who has sinned, I come to strengthen the one who has fallen and to save the innocent who has been the victim of a slander, an injustice or an error."

24. My voice will be heard in the midst of the din of war and its accent will be so piercing that the weapons of men will be silenced when my presence is felt.

25. In hospitals and wherever a sick person is, I will also make myself felt and heard, anointing and comforting the sick as only I can do. I will spread a mantle of peace and consolation over the pain of those who suffer forgotten of their brothers and I will pour out a divine balm on their ills, lifting them to life, so that they may bear witness to my spiritual presence.

Love one another!

26. In the homes I will be felt by the children and by the elders, and both will bear witness to my presence.

27. If I find the fire of the hearth extinguished, I will call the husband and tell him: Why are you not sweet and understanding? Why didn't you light the fire of love that is the flame that gives life to your union? If I find him removed from his duties, I will surprise him by saying to him: Why have you turned aside from the way and thrown away the cross? Did you not have the courage to hurry the last drops of syrup that remained in the chalice? Return to the path on which I set you, only there will you find me to reward your faith, your obedience and strength.

28. I will touch the wife on the most delicate fibers of her heart and I will ask her: Woman, do you think you find the peace you long for outside the path of your duty? No, do not be deceived, your merit will consist in carrying with selflessness and with patience to the end the cross that I placed on your shoulders.

29. There will not be a heart left to whom I do not make my divine presence felt, inviting you to reconciliation, love and peace.

30. I am looking for prepared hearts in which to deposit my essence, which is like penetrating in spirit into the inner temple of man, in that temple from which I will have to cast out your sins as if they were profane merchants, until I leave the sanctuary clean.

31. I do not bring a whip to make you understand my word, I bring bread of life to strengthen you in the ideal of your elevation.

32. When the world has come to believe that I have forgotten him, that I have abandoned him in his abyss of pain and sin, I have come to give him a new proof of my infinite love that can never abandon you and that is why he speaks to you paternally and forgives you.

33. Sometimes, listening to my word full of divine tenderness, you become troubled without being able to understand why I use this form of teaching towards sinners, when I should use some rigor to bend them.

34. I tell you that in this Third Time, even if it seems impossible to you, the regeneration and salvation of humanity will not be difficult, since the work of redemption is a divine work.

35. My love will be the one that returns men to the path of light and truth. My love, penetrating subtly into every heart, caressing every spirit, manifesting itself through every conscience, will transform the hard rocks into sensitive hearts, will make materialistic men, spiritualized beings and will make inveterate sinners, men of goodness, peace and goodwill.

36. I speak to you this way, because no one knows the evolution of your spirit better than I do and I know that this humanity, despite its great materialism, its love for the world and its passions developed to the maximum of sin, only in appearance lives clinging to the flesh and material life. I know that as soon as he feels the loving touch of my love in his spirit, he will come quickly to Me to throw off his burden and follow me on the path of truth that, without realizing it, he wants to travel a lot,

37. I will not have to show him the Law engraved in stone as in the First Time, nor will I have to manifest my presence through the elements of Nature so that he can feel me, nor will I even have to come into the world in human form, to redeem the spirit of humanity through a painful life and a bloody death.

38. The times have passed, the spirit of man has evolved, he is no longer the child of ancient times who needed to touch with his hands and perceive with his material senses the divine in order to believe in Me, and in my presence.

39. Behind its materialism and insensitivity to the spiritual, this humanity hides a spirit of light, a spirit that has traveled long paths and has withstood great trials that have given it courage, experience and knowledge. It will be enough for him to be ready to enter into an inner dialogue with his conscience so that he may emerge into a new life and discover in the essence of his being, the true Tabernacle from which the infinite voice of the Lord departs as a law of eternal and wise justice, as a path always full of light and security.

40. If this spiritual evolution did not exist in this humanity, nor was it in the proximity of its liberation, I would not have made the revelation of spirit-to-Spirit communication to you for this time.

41. The trials that your world is going through are the signs of the end of an Era, they are the sunset or the agony of a time of materialism, because there has been materialism in your science, in your ambitions and in your affections. There has been materialism in your worship of Me and in all your works.

42. The love of the world, the greed for the earthly, the desire for the flesh, the delight of all low desires, selfishness, self-love and pride, were the force with which you created a life according to your intelligence and your human will, the fruits of which I have let you reap so that your experience becomes absolute. But, if this Era that ends will have to be signified in the history of humanity by its materialism, in truth I tell you, that the new time will have to be distinguished by its spirituality, because in it it will be the consciousness and the will of the spirit who will build on Earth a world of beings elevated by love, a life in which the Spirit of the Father will feel vibrate in the spirit of the children, because then all the gifts and potencies that today live hidden in your being, will have the infinite as a field to develop.

43. Beloved people, you must understand me because I speak to you in the simplest language and my word contains no mystery, I am your Father and I have no secrets for you. I have opened my arcanum so that you may find in it the wisdom you need to enlighten yourself in this stage that you are living.

44. The human spirit has evolved, its faculties have been developed and it is in a position to penetrate into the study of my Work.

45. The gift of inspiration, that of the word and that of analysis, are in all of you when you are ready, because the light has been poured out on your spirit.

46. Know that your destiny is to reach Me, by the same path that I traced to you when I became a man. My example is known to all, who has not heard the name of Christ pronounced? Who is he who in his hours of trial has not remembered his Master? And who also has not exclaimed at the supreme moment when his body expires to come to the spiritual regions: Into your hands I commend my spirit? I know of your need for light, of your desire for spirituality, that is why I have come down to you.

47. Your pastor has prepared you to come to Me. He is the same one who in the Second Time cried out in the desert and to whom many came hungry and thirsty for love, to be prepared.

48. It is Elijah who has brought you before Me, because his mission to precede me in each of my comings is and will always be the same.

49. Today you are living a new time, and before the wonders that you have felt, your spirit has bowed, has concentrated on himself and has found in my words the answer he needed to calm his doubt, the light invites him to continue on the path, and there in infinity he sees the doors of a home that awaits him, where the Father and the Mother will receive him, to dwell with them forever.

50. Open your eyes to the truth because it is not the time of mysteries, on the contrary, it is the time of clarification of them.

51. Let it not be fear that guides your steps or that forces you to fulfill the Law, let it be faith and love, the force that impels you to perform good deeds in your life, because then your merits will be true.

Love one another!

52. This Age of light will be of understanding to all men, for every mystery will be explained to you.

53. You say to me in your heart, "Lord, if you are going to show your truth before our eyes, what merit will we have done? You said that blessed are those who have believed without seeing."

54. "Ah, men, who do not try to interpret my word" Do you see how it is necessary that I come to help you penetrate its content and understand it?

55. I certainly said at that time, "Blessed are those who have believed without seeing," but I wanted to say, "Blessed are those who, without trying to look with their material eyes at the divine, know how to look with the light of faith, which is the spiritual gaze. Blessed is he who, without trying to touch or perceive with his senses the spiritual, has been able to prepare himself to feel the divine presence in his spirit."

56. Understand, disciples, that when I said, "Blessed is he who believes without seeing," I was referring to sight and the senses of the flesh, since he who has believed in this way, it is because he has seen me and felt me with the spirit."

57. Now you are facing a time in which you will not only believe by faith, by that superior view of the spirit, but you will also understand, with an understanding that will be superior to that of your human understanding, because it will be the spirit that is enlightened with spiritual wisdom.

58. Also at this time I come to tell you: "Blessed are those who, without seeing with their bodily eyes, or understanding with their rude human understanding, nevertheless believe because they feel with the spirit, because they rise to look with the spiritual sight and to understand with that intelligence that is above all human reason".

59. When true faith in the divine arises in a man, it is that he has looked with the spirit. Who or what can make him deny what he has felt in that way? On the other hand, how many deceive themselves with false faith, because they have never been able to look or feel with the spirit and have been content to say that they have faith, since without seeing, they believe. These are the ones who in the first test doubt, are confused or confused and often conclude by denying.

60. But I come to save you all, that is why it was said to you from the earliest times that the hour would come when every eye would see me.

61. Your advancement or evolution will allow you to find my truth and perceive my divine presence, both spiritually and in each of my works. Then I will say to you,

Love one another!

"Blessed are those who know how to see me everywhere, for they are the ones who will truly love me",

62. "Blessed are those who know how to feel me with the spirit and even with matter, because they are those who have given sensitivity to their whole being, those who have truly become spiritualized."

63. How have the impure religious cults that humanity has practiced stopped spiritual evolution! With this, men have prevented the miracles that spiritual faith does from being performed, and the natural manifestation of the spiritual on human life has also been prevented.

64. If men receive my benefits, my answers and my incessant tests of love, it is not that it is in reward for a faith or a true spirituality, but by virtue of my piety in the face of smallness, in the face of misery and ignorance.

65. I know that many will be scandalized when they know this word, but it will be those who, in their confusion, do not want to recognize that in man there is in addition to human nature the spiritual part, or those who, believing in the human spirit, clinging to the routine of their traditions and their beliefs, deny that there is a path of infinite evolution for the spirit.

66. I also know that I must speak to you with a word of justice, in order to shake you and awaken you from the deep lethargy in which the world finds itself. For a long time men have used their strength to do their will, using the gift of free will in works of the earth, but I see that they still have strength and I will use them by inspiring them with the ideal of a new world, of a better world, whose foundation is that of true faith and whose goal is the elevation of the spirit by love and justice. Hasn't that been my doctrine all along?

67. Analyze my lesson and after deeply meditating on it, ask your conscience for its opinion on it, let not your mind or your heart make their first judgment on something that is beyond them, because you live in a time when my divine light, becoming thoughts, reaches your mind, making it penetrate into a world of infinite beauty and wisdom.

68. Here is before you the one who has never tired of waiting for you and who approaches your heart to inspire spiritual longings and to fill his immense emptiness with my love.

69. Almost twenty centuries have passed, since the world stopped listening to me and looking at me, without knowing that I have not left him for an instant or stopped talking to him for a moment.

Love one another!

70. At that time I had to become a man so that you could hear my word, now I have had to communicate through the understanding of man so that the world could hear the Word again.

71. It is no longer Jesus of Nazareth who appears before your eyes, it is Christ, it is the Teacher in spirit, who manifests himself before your spirit to give you his new lesson.

72. Jesus was the body, the humanized form that I used to make myself visible to the eyes of humanity and Nazareth was the village where I grew up as a man, where I spent my childhood and my youth began. From Nazareth it was Mary, the blessed Mother who gave me her womb to make me a man, and there that body grew and developed, causes for which the world later called me the Nazarene.

73. Now I do not come from Nazareth, I dwell in the dwelling that has belonged to Me since those times and I make you hear my voice, for which there is no obstacle or distance.

74. I bless you, O people, who gather this evening to greet the first day of the last year in which you will have the communication of my word in this form.

75. I will soon stop speaking to you through these spokespersons in ecstasy, but you will not forget that I have told you that I never leave you and that I never stop sending you my Word in the form of inspiration.

76. There were many confusions in men when I presented myself to them in that Second Time; but now that I make my humanized voice heard again, I find that the confusion is greater; then I see the hour prophesied by me has arrived, to manifest myself again to humanity and begin my Work of light, pouring out my truth, bringing them step by step closer to the path where they will have to decipher all the mysteries that they should know and in which they will have to find every explanation and every clarification.

77. This is an important time that has begun, a time of immense transcendence for men and spirits.

78. And this year, the last of my communication, is also of infinite importance for this people, because in it I am giving you the norms, the light, the mandates and the knowledge to start with strength and firmness your steps in the new stage.

79. My message has been clear, luminous and transparent, so that you can never stumble on the stones of confusion or ignorance.

80. Let its essence be kept in your heart so that you can take me with you and in each one there can be a counselor, a guide, a doctor,

Love one another!

81. If you practice my doctrine as I teach it to you, if you practice spiritual charity, you will soon stop being infants to become disciples and you will discover how easy it is to communicate with my Spirit through clean and elevated thinking, then you will understand why the stage of my communication has had a limit, because if it did not cease, you would never spiritualize, because instead of rising through your purification and your merits in search of my inspiration, you would always be waiting down there, in your world, for the spokesman to get ready to deliver a message to you.

82. Truly I tell you, I want the fruit of my word, which has been sown in your heart, to be the communication of Spirit to spirit. I have already entrusted the seed to you, I have already taught you how to sow it, now you have the mission of spreading it and cultivating it, that I will be waiting for the fruit of my sowing, to feel in my Spirit the ineffable joy of the presence of the children before Me, of hearing their spiritual voice, of feeling their caresses, as I did through the lips of Jesus. "Be I have", be I of your love,

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 306

1. You have gathered to drink at the fountain of life, whose crystal clear waters overflow over your spirit. If you accept the revelation of my word as a truth, it is proof that you have traveled a long spiritual path to come to receive my new lesson in this form.
2. In truth, I tell you that both in the spiritual valley, and on the planet you inhabit, you have been many times, It is not necessary for me to tell you when your spiritual birth was, nor when the first time you stepped on the dust of this world, nor is it necessary for me to reveal to you how many times you have been in it, nor who you have been in other incarnations, My Doctrine does not come to discover to you what for now you should not know and that should be revealed to you until you reach the end of the road, My Work comes to show you the path by which you can reach the summit of spiritual knowledge, rising, step by step, up the ladder of good, of love, of fraternity.
3. To extend my Work in this Third Time, I have come to choose 144,000 spirits from among the great crowds, pointing out to them with an oscar of divine light, not a kiss of betrayal, nor a seal of a pact that endangers your spirit. My mark is the sign that the Holy Spirit deposits in His chosen ones to fulfill a great mission in this Third Time. The one who bears this sign is not safe from danger, on the contrary, he is more tempted and more tested than others. Remember each one of the twelve chosen by Me in that Second Time and you will confirm what I am telling you. Among those, there were moments of doubt, weakness, confusion and there was even one who betrayed me by giving me a kiss to my executioners.
4. How much the elect of this time will not have to watch and pray so as not to fall into temptation! And yet, verily I say to you, among the 144,000 there will be traitors.
5. Watch and pray, beloved people, the path on earth is full of dangers and temptations, it is a constant struggle between light and darkness. Fight and pray tirelessly, practice my word and prepare if you do not want to betray my Work, see that also involuntarily or without giving how much, you can become traitors, if you betray the truth.
6. Your spirit, struggling between conscience and free will, between the inclination to the high, proper to the spirit and the tendency to the low, natural in the flesh, knows that it has within its reach the opportunity to free itself and the opportunity to make merits to achieve the supreme victory of good against evil, of the spirit over the flesh, of light over darkness.
7. The mark means mission, positions and responsibility before God. It is not a guarantee against temptations or diseases, if so, what merits would there be in my chosen ones?

Love one another!

What effort would your spirit make to remain faithful to my word? I speak to you in this way because there are many hearts among this people, who would like to be part of that number of marked but I have seen that more than the desire to serve humanity, through the gifts that I grant in the mark, it is the desire to feel safe, or it is vanity that moves them to ask me to call them. I am going to test these little ones and they will convince themselves that there is reason in my word.

8. The mark is the invisible sign by means of which anyone who wears it with love, respect, zeal and humility will be able to fulfill his mission, then he will be able to verify that the mark is a divine grace that makes him superior to pain, that illuminates him in great trials, that reveals deep knowledge and wherever he opens a gap for the spirit to pass.

9. The mark is like a link that unites the one who possesses it with the spiritual world, it is the conduit for the thought and word of the Spiritual World to manifest in your world, so I tell you, that a marked one is a messenger, he is an envoy and he is an instrument of mine.

10. Great is the mission as well as the responsibility of the angel for my Work, but he is not alone in his path, the protective angel who takes care of him, guides him, inspires and strengthens him is always by his side.

11. How strong has been the one who has known how to embrace his cross with love and how hard and bitter has been the path for the chosen one, who has not known how to carry with him the Divine sign of the chosen one in the Third Time! I tell all of you who listen to me to learn to watch and pray, to carry your cross with love and to practice with righteousness and obedience, so that this life, which has meant for your spirit its most luminous reincarnation, will not be sterile, and later you will have to mourn for lost time and wasted gifts.

12. Meditate all in this lesson, marked and unmarked, because you all have within my work a destiny to fulfill,

13. I come to remind you of the Law, the one that cannot be erased from your conscience, nor forgotten from your heart, nor discussed, because it was dictated by the Wise Mind, the Universal Mind, so that each man might have inwardly the light that would guide him on the way to God.

14. It is necessary to have a deep knowledge of the Law so that all acts of life are attached to truth and justice. Not knowing the Law, you are subject to making many mistakes and I ask you. Has your conscience never led you into the light of knowledge?

Love one another!

Truly, I tell you, never has consciousness ever remained inactive or indifferent. It is your heart, it is also your understanding, who reject the inner light, fascinated by the splendor of the outer light, that is, by the knowledge of the world,

15. When I should have been your first love, you have left me to the last, because illusions and dreams, earthly loves and your passions, have weakened you to be able to love me.

16. You have spent a lot of your heart loving the world and suffering too, but there remains your spirit, which can get up at any moment, since in it fatigue is only apparent and does not age like matter, nor is it spent like the heart.

17. You thought you loved me above all created things and you will have to convince yourself that you have left me as your last love.

18. When you reach old age and for natural reason, you feel that passions and ambitions have died in your heart, you will turn your eyes to Me and say: "Lord, you were right, while on Earth we felt young and strong, we forgot you, although many times we were believing that we loved you and that in our life you were the first thing".

19. Do you see how I have spoken truly to you, when I have told you that in your life I am your last love? Let no one think that if I said that I should be the first thing in your life, I meant that you should love no one but Me, I wanted to make you understand that whoever loves Me before anyone else, he will have to love with truth, he will love only the just, he will never get tired in life, nor will he suffer disappointments, because loving Me first, he loved truth and justice, which, applying them to his life and his works raised him above human miseries, freed him from mirages and made him to live in a world of light, peace and wisdom.

20. For a moment you are intrigued when you realize that even adhering as much as possible to my Law, you do not escape pain, vicissitudes, and trials, and it is true, beloved people, but that only happens here in this valley of tears, which is a crucible, a purifying river and a school for the spirit.

21. More, why believe that trials are punishments? It is better to believe that trials are instead of punishments, experiences that you have to go through, in order for your spirit to acquire more light. How many times I put you to the test so that you practice prayer, so that you ignite faith and see how I respond to your call by sending you comfort and peace! But you do not understand it in this way, and instead of praying and trusting in Me, you become ungrateful and blasphemous, saying that I have forgotten you, that I do not listen to you, and then you are going to knock on the doors of your brothers, who need Me as much as you do.

22. It was not I who denied my charity to the world, it is men who have withheld it. In this way I will make you remain for a while, confident in your knowledge and in your strength, because then, convinced of your impotence to overcome the pain that will invade the world, your spirits will quickly turn to Me to confess themselves small, fragile, ungrateful and hard of heart.

23. I, for whom there cannot be a work of yours from which I do not bring forth light, even if it is an evil work that you have committed, I will make the world, when it comes out of its chaos, have greater light in its spirit than it had before it fell.

24. I will forgive all your sin, because it was the fruit of your ignorance, but, when the light has been made in your being, would you be able to sin with knowledge, passing over your experience and your conscience? No, disciples, you could never again incur that fault that made you hurry a very bitter cup.

25. Do you see how you judge lightly when you call your trials punishment, which have no other mission than to provide you with experience, strengthening you in faith, enriching you with true knowledge and identifying you with your conscience?

26. Listen to Me with humility, overcoming the pride that you carry in your heart, and little by little you will begin to find the true meaning of life and you will discover at every step the wonders that you did not see before because your confusion had had a veil of mystery over the truth. Here is my light, who comes to reveal to you what is behind the mystery and to tell you that it is not I who have hidden myself from your eyes, but you who have not wanted to look at me.

27. Why, if I look at hospitals, prisons, homes in mourning, broken marriages, orphans or those hungry for the spirit, do I not find you there? Think that in addition to teaching you to pray, I have given you the gift of the word and I have taught you to anoint and on many occasions I have told you that your presence can work wonders if you are truly prepared.

28. How many opportunities of imparting charity life offers you daily! Moreover, notice that just as there are cases in which the only thing you can do is pray, on the other hand there are others that need to be spoken or acted upon.

29. Blessed are those who are not afraid of bad looks or murmuring, and only carry the desire to impart charity, they are the ones who spiritually accompany me at the bedside of the sick, those who are on their way to those who dwell in darkness, to bring them the light of faith, knowledge or consolation.

Love one another!

30. Blessed are those who remember the sad and those who think of the poor in matter and spirit, because their heart beats close to my Spirit.

31. How are you going to think about the pain of your brothers, if you let yourselves be dominated by yours? How are you going to discover that there are millions of beings in the world who suffer infinitely more than you, if you carry your cross with nonconformity and you are always saying that you are the most unhappy? There are many who walk far, far away from the true path, many who do not have even a glimmer of light in their knowledge, and you have not stopped to help them when they have passed by you. How many of those poor in spirit bear the weight of their burden without blaspheming or protesting like you!

32. It is necessary that you learn to look a little outside of yourselves, something beyond your home and your affections, so that you may go deeper into the pain of others. May goodness awaken in your heart, beloved people, so that the spirit can overflow and fulfill the maximum commandment that is written on your conscience, the one that says: "Love one another". If you are materially poor and for that reason you cannot help your fellow human beings, do not be afraid, pray and I will make where there is nothing, light will sprout and there will be peace. True charity, from which piety is born, is the best gift you can give to those in need. If, by giving a coin, a loaf of bread or a glass of water, you do not have in your heart the feeling of love for your brothers, truly I tell you that you will have given nothing, that it is better for you not to part with what you give.

33. How long, humanity, do you want to know the power of love? Never until now have you made use of that force that is the beginning of life.

34. When I walked followed by my disciples, visiting villages, cities and homes, I never offered the poor a coin because I never had it, however, I gave them the health that at no cost they had found, I returned them to the right path and gave them a path full of light, comfort and joys, and on one occasion, having followed me to the desert a great crowd longing to hear my word, after giving them the bread of the spirit and contemplating that they were hungry in the body, I blessed a few loaves and fish and made them distribute, the multitudes wondered that so little provision had sufficed for all. And that was a miracle for love, as an immortal lesson for this skeptical, materialistic and selfish humanity.

35. Ah, if the peoples of the earth, even if it were to test my Doctrine, would share their bread fraternally, how much good they would receive and what wonderful manifestations they would contemplate! But they still do not love each other, they still do not recognize peoples with peoples as brothers, they look at each other as strangers and call each other foreigners, they envy each other, they have grudges, they hate each other almost always and they make war. The war fueled by all men, is everywhere where there is a human heart. Some give life to it in one way, others encourage it in another, many knowing what they are doing, others without realizing it.

36. On this arid, dry field of love, of faith and of goodwill, I will send my charity like a beneficent and fruitful rain, but first, my justice, like a storm, will sweep away all evil, it will throw the bad trees to the ground, it will purify fields and cities and it will awaken the sleeping spirit of this humanity, so that it may know how to receive the divine message that my love reserves for the times to come.

37. The year of 1950, which you have made your entry, you have been writing since eternity, signaling the end of the stage of my spiritual communication through the understanding of man. Year in which the spirit of humanity will feel my presence and penetrate in prayer.

38. 1950 is not the sunset of an Era, but the dawn of a new time that reserves great revelations and events for men.

39. What experience did the previous year leave you, disciples? What resolutions have you made for this year, which is the last of my manifestation?

40. You are praying and I bless you because whoever raises his prayer to Me will never be disappointed.

41. Keep praying, but now more than ever try to understand my teaching, so that you can get out of your stagnation, destroying everything that you have introduced into your practices and that instead of providing advancement has stuck you in the routine.

42. Listen to the voice of your conscience, it will give you courage to overcome obstacles and break traditions.

43. You have a lot of work to do, beloved people, I am already drawing you closer to each other, and making the call to those who have strayed from your meetings. To them you will make only one appeal, and if they answer, I will give them back their inheritance, but if they remain deaf, you will leave the cause to Me, because I will be the only one who can judge those who did not want to come and listen to their Lord anymore.

Love one another!

44. My word that I give you in this last year, will be the essence of the whole message that I brought you at this time of my communication, in it you will find teachings for all the steps of your life and revelations so that you have weapons when the struggle comes.

45. Tell your brothers and sisters that I have called you to unification and harmony, because as long as that fraternity does not exist, I want you to form a people, because only in appearance are you united, because in reality you are disintegrated and distant. Tell them that you need to be united because persecutions and hostilities will come against you; that I do not want them to cry later for disobedience, or to lament when it is no longer time to repair faults.

46. See that I do not leave any point without making light of it, for no one will be able to complain that I did not prevent the people with my word.

47. My voice has been prophetic, my word, that of a God for whom nothing can hide the future. Everything is anticipated, everything is foreseen, it only remains that you penetrate in harmony with my word, so that everything is fulfilled according to my will.

48. Even if the majorities were confused, deviating from the path traced, even if it were the most who disobeyed my commands, that is not why this light will have to stop shining, because the truth can never be overshadowed by evil.

49. A few obedient, zealous, spiritualized and humble hearts would be enough for me to use them as instruments to continue spreading the truth of my word.

50. It is my duty to speak to you in this way, because you must know from now on that many of you are going to offer me a new cup of bitterness at the last hour; confusion and darkness will come over this people, as the world was overshadowed in the hour when Jesus was dying on the cross, but you do not know now how long those darkness lasts and that is why I tell you to watch and pray, so that you do not fall into temptation, nor be among those who betray my commands.

51. I tell you that out of the darkness of that confusion, a gap of light will arise for everyone who truly longs to follow me in heart and spirit, discover the way and come to Me, along the path of spirituality.

52. This people has not realized that he himself is creating the tests that will shake him tomorrow, waking him up from his deep lethargy.

53. As in all times, many were called and few were chosen, because I only choose those who are in time to fulfill their mission and the others, I give them a light so that they know how to wait for the time when they are also chosen.

Love one another!

54. How many who have only been called, without it being yet the time to elect them to an office, have taken part among my disciples and peasants, without their spirit having the indispensable evolution to bear the weight of this cross, nor their understanding having the necessary light to let my inspiration pass by! What have many of them done, once being among the ranks of the chosen ones? Desecrate, poison the environment, contaminate others with their evil inclinations, lying, sowing discord, profiting with my name and with the gifts that I have deposited in my disciples.

55. Let no one try to find out who they are, because you couldn't. Only my penetrating gaze of a Judge does not lose sight of them and to their conscience I send my word that says: Watch and pray, so that you can repent of your faults in time, that if you did so, I promise you that I will soon seat you spiritually at my table and I will make a feast of reconciliation and forgiveness.

56. Beloved disciples, this is the blessed hour in which I make my presence felt to you, the spokesman through whom I give you my word, has been prepared and the crowd that listens to me has gathered, has risen in thought towards Me.

57. This is how I want to always look at you, so that you may witness the miracle of my manifestation and feel in the depths of your being my love, my gaze, my essence.

58. Truly I tell you, you are not the only ones to have my presence at the moment of spiritual preparation. There is no religion, nor can there be an act consecrated to Me, in which my Spirit is not present. It is precisely at that moment when the crowd shudders, prays and asks, pronouncing and blessing my name, that he penetrates to the bottom of his heart to give him what he has requested.

59. If the peoples and religions of the world had already developed their spiritual gifts, they would have achieved that sensitivity that would allow them to enjoy the grace of perceiving my presence in some way. But they cannot see me, nor hear me, nor feel me, because their senses and their powers have become numb in the practices of idolatrous and fanatical cults.

60. If you ask me now: Master, when will our brothers of the different religions be able to feel you, listen to you and look at you as you are teaching us? I would answer you that when all of them had become spiritualized, moreover, when that was, they would have already departed from all materialistic practice and all fanatical creed.

61. I speak to them through trials, which are lessons for them, already rewarding their faith, already touching them with my divine justice, when they seek my benefits through improper acts of being offered to me.

Love one another!

62. Very rarely do they understand what I want to make them understand through my trials and in the face of their pain, their faith or their hope in Me, I forgive them their mistakes and their ignorance and send them my charity.

63. This is a time when my Spirit is speaking incessantly to the conscience, the spirit, the reason and the heart of humanity. My voice reaches men through thoughts and trials, by which many are awakening to the truth on their own, since those who guide or teach them are sleeping and would like the world to never wake up,

64. Beloved people: think that if you were prepared to take the good news of my word to other lands, many people would understand my message.

65. When I speak to you like this, you say in the depths of your heart: How can I teach through different languages, if even within my own language I feel clumsy to express myself? I say to you, O people without faith in my word! Do you think that those apostles of the Second Time had material preparation to speak various languages? No, my children, and yet they made themselves understood by everyone, because the language they spoke and learned from Me, was the language of love. They comforted as their Master had taught them, they healed the sick, made peace, brought light, revealed the truth and showed the way, but they did it more with deeds than with words. This is how love is expressed: with works; this is how the spirit of light speaks, for whom human words are often too much.

66. Do you already see how much spiritual teaching overflows from these lips at the moments when I am expressing my message to you? Do you see how many words come out of these mouths while my manifestation lasts? For they are few if you compare them with the number of works that hour after hour and instant after instant I carry out in you, so in truth I tell you that it is more what I speak to you through my works than through my words, only until now you have not bothered to learn to translate my Word, which speaks to you wisely and incessantly. You believe that only through the human word will you be able to receive my revelations and I have granted you to listen to my humanized Word in your own language.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. It is my word that comes to give calm to your heart and peace to your spirit. The greatest thing that I have destined for him is peace, whoever possesses that treasure, has everything, whoever knows that spiritual state, would not change it for the greatest passions or treasures on Earth.
2. If you ask me what is the secret to achieving and preserving peace, I tell you that the secret consists in doing the will of your Father; and if you ask me how the divine will is fulfilled, I would answer that by applying my Law and my Doctrine to your life.
3. Hearing me say that the greatest thing I come to give you, is peace, there are those who suffer a disappointment; because they would like to hear me say that I come to distribute treasures and goods of this world. It is that they do not know what peace is, but not only they, who knows peace? What human can say that he has it? No one, people, that is why I see many to whom it seems little that I bring as the greatest gift for you, peace. When you come to know what that state of the spirit is, you will do everything on your part not to lose that grace, since through it, you will have had an idea of what spiritual life will be in the reign of light,
4. Since you do not know what true peace is, you are content to sigh for it and try by all possible means and in all imaginable ways to achieve some tranquility, comforts and satisfactions; but never what peace of the spirit truly is. I tell you that she is conquered only by the obedience of the son to the will of his Lord.
5. There is a need in the world for good explicators of my word, good interpreters of my teachings, that is why humanity, even calling itself Christian, lives spiritually backward, because there is no one who makes it tremble with my true Doctrine, there is no one who cultivates its heart with the love with which I came to teach men.
6. Day after day, in enclosures, churches and temples, my name is pronounced and my words are repeated, but no one vibrates, no one trembles with their light, and it is that the meaning of them has been mistaken by men. The majority believe that the virtue of the word of Christ consists in repeating it one time after another, mechanically, without understanding that it is not necessary to say it, but to study it, meditate on it, practice it and live.
7. If men knew how to look for the essence in the word of Christ, they would find it new, fresh, alive and pulsating every time, but they know it only superficially and thus cannot and will not be able to feed on it.

Love one another!

8. Poor humanity, lost in the darkness, having the light so close, crying anxiously and peace being within reach! But they cannot contemplate that divine light because there have been those who have blindfolded their eyes, without mercy. I who truly love you, I come to your aid, turning you away from the darkness and proving to you that what I told you at that time, was for all time and that you should not consider that divine word, as an ancient doctrine, out of date, because the love that was the essence of all my teaching, is eternal, and in it is the secret of your salvation, in this age of confusion, of immense bitterness and unbridled passions.

9. Nor is it a new doctrine that I bring to you at this time, but a light so that you can understand everything that has been revealed to you, from the earliest times to the present.

10. Humanity will be surprised when it receives this spiritual message and will be convinced of the infinite love of my past teachings, love that I did not even feel. Then she will understand that she has been ungrateful, unfaithful, indifferent to her Father, whom she only sought when some material need or sorrow afflicted her.

11. I forgive you, I love you and I have true charity for you. Blessed is the one who prepares himself in spirit, heart and understanding, because he will directly receive my light, which from that moment will guide him on paths very different from those that his brothers traced him in the world.

12. I make you feel my warmth so that you do not lack courage in the fight.

13. The Third Time is of spiritual struggle, it is a crucible and it is also an inheritance, because I have come to bequeath you a Divine Will.

14. To the farmers who have worked on my lands, I inspire you to prepare your seed to make it present to me on that day of grace that is already approaching, and that will be at the end of the year 1950, the last of my communication with you. I want you to bring the golden grain, the cleanest and most beautiful that you have collected in the countryside, then I will take your harvest to bless it and say to you: "Let this be the seed that you continue to sow in my lands".

15. Is it true, disciples, that although you have struggled on this path, at the same time you have gathered joys and that if you drank from the cup of bitterness, you understood Jesus, your Teacher, better? Is it true that after your trials you have loved me more? Yes, people, truly I tell you that it is very different to ask and receive, to give.

Love one another!

16. The day is coming when you will be left without my word, so that it will be you who will speak about my teaching, explaining it with works and with clear and persuasive language.

17. Pray that you will enter with a firm step in the time of your deeds, in the time of your struggle, but pray with that simplicity with which I made the multitudes pray when they followed me to the desert, to the valley or to the mountain.

18. Pray for all humanity, pray also for you, spiritualists, because the hour of your trial is approaching.

19. Do not be troubled if I tell you that at my departure you will have confusions among your congregation that will temporarily divide you. For a while you will be divided into three groups while you all come to the understanding of my command, but from now on I bless those who, understanding my will, obey it with love and goodwill, because I will overflow their spirits with inspirations. They will take on themselves the responsibility of preparing, of spiritualizing their practices and being faithful in everything to my Work, so that, when the test comes that I must unite you all again, they know how to open their hearts without claims, without vanity, without feeling superiority over their brothers.

20. A cloud of sadness has overshadowed the peace of your heart when you have heard the announcement of these prophecies, and this pain that you feel, so that you will not be one of those who become unfaithful, of those who pass over my word trying to do his will.

21. To those who turn their backs on me, I say from now on, that they will have to cry a lot before confessing their mistake and returning to the path of obedience, and to those who are going to be faithful to me, I announce that the struggle that awaits them is going to be great and that as long as the others do not submit to the divine mandate that you all know because you have it written on your conscience, you will have to cry a lot for the disunity, you will have to endure, suffer and wait a lot.

22. Blessed are those who persevere, for they will see the unification of this people and the beginning of the spiritual struggle.

23. Pray, disciples, that you may be filled with light and strength and not fall into temptation.

24. Learn to drink with love your cup of bitterness, there is the merit of the disciple. Walk firmly and reach the top of Calvary blessing your Father and humanity. I tell you, he who knows how to lead himself on my path with faith and obedience, he does not fall or get lost, he feels my presence and experiences my peace throughout the day.

Love one another!

25. How do some people want to be saved at the moment of their bodily death, after having led a life of sin? How do many people want to live in mud and tread on thistles, without getting stained or injured?

26. I bring you a clear and simple teaching so that you may learn to live among sinners without defiling yourselves; to cross among thorns without hurting yourselves, to contemplate horrors and ignominy without being scandalized; to dwell in a world of miseries without trying to flee from it, but rather wishing to remain in its bosom, to do all the possible good to those in need, sowing the seed of good in all ways.

27. Since this Eden was turned into hell by the sin of men, it is necessary that they wash away their stains by returning their life to its original purity.

28. Disciples: observe how in each of these lessons I am defining my divine plan for you and making your mission known to you, and thanks to this you are understanding the meaning of this message.

29. My Doctrine will spread and conquer many hearts. However, there will be plenty of those who mock it, those who deny it, those who fight it, but that will not be new, it will be the same thing that has been done against the truth in all times.

30. For this people to come forward in the midst of the tempest that will surprise them, they will have to let their plant affirm in the path of my Law, they will have to let the flame of faith shine in their heart, Their spirit will have to seek as a saving boat the true worship of the spirit, and their heart will have to take refuge in the worship of the home, which is the second temple in the life of man.

31. I speak especially on this day to the maidens, who tomorrow will have to illuminate the life of a new home with their presence, let them know that the heart of the wife and that of the mother, are lamps that illuminate that sanctuary, just as the spirit is who illuminates the inner temple.

32. From now on get ready so that your new life does not surprise you, from now on go preparing the path along which your children will have to walk, those spirits who are waiting for the time to approach your bosom to take human form and life to fulfill a mission.

33. Be my collaborators in my plans of restoration, in my work of regeneration and justice.

Love one another!

34. Turn away from so many temptations that await your passage in this time. Pray for sinful cities, where so many women are lost, where so many shrines are desecrated and where so many lamps are extinguished.

35. Spread with your examples the seed of life, truth and light that counteract the effects of the lack of spirituality in humanity,

36. Virgins of this people, wake up and prepare for the fight! Do not be blinded by the passions of the heart, do not be dazzled by the unreal. Develop your gifts of intuition, inspiration, your delicacy and tenderness, strengthen yourselves in the truth and you will have prepared your best weapons to face the struggle of this life. For you to transmit love in your blood, for you to support your children with the essence of life, which is the love that I tell you so much about, you first need to live it, saturate yourself with it, and feel it deeply. This is what my teaching comes to do in your heart.

37. Blessed is the heart of the bride, for it is the refuge of man. Blessed is the mother's heart, because it is a wellspring of tenderness for her children; but I also tell you that blessed are the virgins who know how to shelter the needy under their mantle, because their tenderness will be like a betrothal and like a motherhood that is beyond the human. How few have known how to renounce the duties of the world in order to fulfill the duties of the spirit!

38. Not all of you bring the mission of being parents in the world. Children are like chains for their mothers and there are spirits who need freedom for the performance of some mission that is beyond the children.

39. When will this humanity come to form a single and true family, that when sitting at the table with his Father or when praying and rising up to Me, each one shows me the joy of fulfilling his mission?

40. You are still far from that obedience, that conformity and that harmony, because while some err on the path, others are dissatisfied with their destiny.

41. It is necessary that the Spiritualist Doctrine, which I have come to reveal to you through the understanding of these spokesmen, be extended throughout the Earth so that darkness begins to give way to the light of spirituality, so that humanity drinks the water of truth.

42. Now my teaching is concretized to prepare you for the struggle, my prophecy only announces to you the great trials. My word warns you, corrects you and judges you, but the time of grace will come when humanity communicates from spirit to Spirit and then, in the height of its being, it will feel the divine word vibrate, the one that without human forms or accents is understood by those who receive it.

Love one another!

43. That word will no longer bring judgment, nor claims, nor preventions. That message will be full of wisdom and love.

44. You would like to see that time come, but you will have to wait, not with passive waiting, but with incessant struggle and work,

45. I have taught you to pray and I have revealed to you the way to achieve spirituality, because in it is the key that will open the door to the perfect communication between God and man through the spirit.

46. To achieve this, beloved people, do merits to counteract the sins of the world. Multiply your effort, come to the sacrifice if necessary. If your cup is bitter, be patient.

47. Trust in Me, see that you are my disciples and that you must imitate me, then, if you have believed, if your faith is great, hurry the trials, go through the vicissitudes full of strength and if you bear witness of Me, I will bear witness of you.

48. My Spirit has been poured out on all men, but you are the people who have known how to feel my presence. The rest of the peoples of the Earth ignore the revelations of this time; they do not know that the Third Era has arrived, so your mission increases, because you will have to be the ones who give the warning voice, the ones who spread the good news.

49. It is true that many men have already recognized the signs of my new coming, who search the scriptures in search of prophecies, who feel that the trials that weigh on humanity today speak of the Lord's judgment; they seek me, they wait for me, they desire me, but they do not know that my divine vibration is already among men, they ignore the way in which I have manifested myself to this people and the way in which I am vibrating over all matter and over all spirit.

50. The good news will reach the nations on the lips of those who listened to me during my communication, then the whole world will know of my coming, they will know my message. When you know the time when this manifestation began and the time when it ended, you will be surprised to see that every nation, every people and every man, had within itself trials and events that announced my presence.

51. Verily I tell you, I will not communicate again in the way you have had me, neither here nor in other peoples, because the merit will consist in this people spreading the testimony of my word on earth, and in humanity believing in my message.

Love one another!

52. Truly I tell you, if at that time even the kings marveled at the humility in which I was born, at this time there will also be surprise when everyone knows the humble means I chose to deliver my word to you,

53. Discussions will arise around my message: some affirming that it is a truth, others trying to deny it, some testifying to their own spiritual experiences and others denying the existence of such manifestations; but the truth will prevail, because this is the time when the gifts and powers asleep in the spirit, are unleashed and manifest through men because already the matters at this time have reached the evolution and the sensitivity indispensable for communication with the spiritual.

54. From children to the elderly, through youth, everyone will have manifestations that at first will seem strange to them, because for a long time humanity has lived far from the spiritual, but later they will take them as something absolutely natural in the higher life of man. It will be when children talk about profound teachings, when men and women have spiritual visions and prophetic dreams and when the gift of healing spreads throughout the Earth.

55. How combative will be the first who manifest the awakening of the gifts of his spirit, but I will give them strength and patience to resist criticism, judgments and mockery.

56. Do not be afraid, beloved witnesses, I announce to you that this materialistic humanity, which for so long has believed only in what it touches, sees and understands with its limited understanding and in what it verifies with its science, will become spiritual and will know how to look at me and seek the truth with its spiritual gaze.

57. Great will be the surprise in the lords and great of the Earth when they confirm the truth of my return, because in their hearts they will wonder why I have come. The joy will be great in the poor because their hearts will tell them that the moment of grace, freedom and peace is approaching for the oppressed and for those who have been infinitely hungry for love and justice.

58. This Work, which you now see limited to your smallness and hidden in your poverty, will emerge as a divine radiance, illuminating the whole Earth, awakening sleeping spirits, igniting faith in hearts, opening before the understanding of humanity the Book of True Life, the Book of Truth.

59. People: If you want to know one of the reasons why my communication with you has been so prolonged, it is that, being you who listened to me, held my word in your hearts and wrote it in books, you will have to be the emissaries and in charge of taking it to the hearts.

Love one another!

60. Soon you will be free to begin your preparation, because my communication is coming to an end in 1950.

61. The beginning of a new stage will soon arrive and in it you will seek the flowering of your gifts, so that inspiration flows, the gift of the word is unleashed, the gift of clairvoyance is perfected and your heart is filled with feelings of love and charity towards your brothers.

62. In a single inheritance you will receive the three testaments and when you meet those who are waiting for the coming of the Holy Spirit, you will show them my message and tell them not to imitate the Jewish people, who waiting for the Messiah did not recognize him when he arrived among them and are still waiting for him. Follow the paths of your spiritual mission, in such a way that your brothers, when contemplating your way of living and listening to your word, recognize you as the seed for a new world, as the generations that will serve as the basis for a new humanity.

63. Fathers and mothers who have had the privilege of guiding these generations and those who are about to arrive on Earth. Watch and pray for them! Prepare the path for them! I want to find them willing to receive my new revelations.' From among them will arise the prophets who will move the world with their predictions, as did the great prophets of ancient times, who were like heralds in the hours of trial and like torches in the midst of darkness.

64. The spiritual world, like an immense guardian angel, will watch over the steps of these creatures, thereby helping those who receive into their bosom as children, these beings that I announce and promise you.

65. I bless you, people, because on this day, taking yourselves away for a few moments from what belongs to the world, you have given yourselves to the spiritual joy of hearing me, recognizing that in my word is found the peace, joy and comfort that you need to bear the weight of your cross.

66. My love envelops you, my peace caresses you, my Spirit invites you to pray for all those who suffer and do not find on Earth a drop of balm or a word of comfort and love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 308

1. Dear disciples, practice spiritual prayer daily, putting in it all the purpose of becoming perfect. See that in addition to penetrating into an intimate communion with your Master and experiencing infinite peace in those moments, she represents the best opportunity for you to receive my divine inspirations, in them you will find the explanation of everything that you have not understood or that you have misunderstood. You will find a way to prevent some danger, to solve a problem, to solve a confusion. In that hour of blessed spiritual communication, all your senses will be clarified and you will feel more willing and inclined to do good.
2. Learn to pray in this way, now that your world is bristling with dangers of all kinds, whoever learns to pray with the spirit, will have the weapons that will make him invincible in the fight and that will give him strength to resist all trials.
3. I bring you my light, since you are not yet able to illuminate your path with your own light; but when you are already applying my Doctrine to your life, then you will say to me: "Thank you, Father, for you have taught us to walk on the path of life, because we will never get lost or stumble again."
4. At that time I said to you, "I am the light of the world," because I spoke as a man and because men did not know beyond their little world. Now in Spirit I tell you: I am the universal light, the one that illuminates the life of all worlds, heavens and dwellings, the one that illuminates and gives life to all beings and creatures.
5. You are children of the Father of Light, but if, due to your weakness, you have fallen into the darkness of a life full of troubles, mistakes and tears, these sorrows will pass because you will rise to my voice, when I call you and tell you: "Here I am, illuminating your world and inviting you to climb the mountain on whose top you will find all the peace, happiness and wealth that you have wanted to treasure in vain: on Earth".
6. My forgiveness envelops you, peoples and creatures of this world, and my light, like the thief who enters an alcove at night, reaches to the innermost depths of all hearts to make them feel my presence as a Father, because I love everyone.
7. I bless your sorrows and your tears, beloved people, but I tell you that you have not yet learned to accept the cup of bitterness with love and conformity. You have not set out to imitate me and that is why many times in your trials you show nonconformity and even rebellion.

Love one another!

8. See that you are desiring to be my disciples and that as such you must hurry your chalice as, I taught you, do not go showing the world your weakness, nor go proclaiming your vicissitudes. Did I, during my transit through the street of bitterness towards Calvary, rebel against my executioners? No. Those lips only blessed and said in a low voice: "Father, your will be done", "Father, forgive them, because they do not know what they are doing".

9. Do not forget that merit does not consist in suffering, but in knowing how to suffer with love for the Father, with faith and patience, in order to extract the greatest benefit and the deepest lessons from suffering. If in your trials there was no love for the will of your Father, you would not have done merits before Me, you would not have known how to take advantage of the opportunity to rise a little more and therefore, you will have to go through that trial again that is necessary to your spirit, your life would be different if instead of dragging your cross painfully, you advanced along the path blessing your pain, because instantly, you would feel as if an invisible hand reached out to you to take away from your lips the chalice of bitterness.

10. Blessed is the one who blesses the will of his Lord, blessed is the one who blesses his own bitterness knowing that she will wash away his stains, because he is affirming his steps to ascend the spiritual mountain.

11. It will not always be necessary for you to drink the cup of bitterness to the bottom, because it will be enough to look at your faith, your obedience, your purpose and intention to obey my command, so that I will exempt you from reaching the hardest moment of your trial. Remember that Abraham was asked for the life of his son Isaac, whom he loved very much and that the patriarch, overcoming his pain and passing over the love of the son, prepared to sacrifice him in a test of obedience, faith, love and humility that even you cannot conceive; but he was not allowed to consummate the sacrifice in the son, because already in the depths of his heart he had proven his obedience to the divine will and that was enough. How great was the joy of Abraham, when his hand was stopped by a superior force, preventing him from the sacrifice of Isaac! How he blessed the name of his Lord and marveled at his wisdom!

12. Well, beloved people, I want you to keep in mind the great lessons that I have given you throughout the ages, so that you may come to truly know me, so that you may feel my presence in your trials, in difficult or bitter moments. Because until now, you have not achieved a complete spiritual sensitivity that allows you to feel my presence, that is why you cannot value my works of love and justice that I carry out in your life at every step.

Love one another!

13. How many trials you reject with your ignorance, without realizing the light they brought to your spirit! How many lessons have not come to an end, because your nonconformity, lack of faith or cowardice have not allowed it!

14. It is not that I tell you that it is pain that you should love, no, it is peace, it is bliss, it is light that you should love, but since pain, as a result of your imperfections, has reached your lips like a chalice of redemption, hurry it patiently and bless it, knowing that through it you will be able to find your purification, as well as the revelation of many truths.

15. Men and women of little faith. Why does your mood decline in trials? Have you never seen how I hasten to raise the fallen, how I wipe away the tears of the weeping, how I accompany the lonely and visit the sick?

16. Men and women who have cried a lot in life, this lesson is dedicated to you. Meditate deeply on it and you will see what a sweet consolation it penetrates into your heart, a little light will light up in the depths of your being and a sensitivity that you have never experienced before, will surprise your sleeping fibers, letting you feel my spiritual presence, both in your sorrows as in your joys and in your moments of peace.

17. Leave in Me, in these moments, all complaint and pain, cry and sob because in crying your spirit will unburden the weight of its burden and then it will find the heart freer.

18. Weep, beloved people, because weeping is one of the most sincere prayers that come from the heart for God. Tomorrow, when you have overcome pain and have reached spirituality, it will not be crying that will be your best prayer, but the peace of your spirit, through which you will come to Me to bless Me.

19. Today I present myself in spirit before you and I speak to you in spirit so that you can get to know me a little more.

20. When I was in the world, the people saw me as a man and knew my name: Jesus. It was not until after my ascension that men began to understand that the one who had spoken in Jesus had been the Christ announced by the prophets, and from then on Jesus was called Christ.

21. Truly I tell you, Christ was not born into your world, for He was before all the worlds, since He is One with the Father.

22. Who was born in your world and took flesh from a woman's womb, was Jesus, the man, the blessed body that was my instrument and my interpreter so that humanity could see and hear me.

Love one another!

23. I, Christ, the one who speaks to you, was in Jesus, I gave him life, strengthened him and inspired him. He was destined to fulfill a divine mission and so that his life, his body and his blood, consecrated to the one who spiritually encouraged him, would seal what the Word spoke through his lips.

24. Jesus was a human creature, but conceived without blemish or impurity, to serve as an instrument to God, incarnate in Him, the Word, which is the divine word. At the age of thirty, when He was in fullness, the Christ who dwelt in Him, manifested Himself in all the splendor of his glory, of his truth and his love.

25. The sweet Jesus, the humble Nazarene who had waited for the hour when the divine word would flow from his lips, sought John on the banks of the Jordan to receive the waters of baptism. Was Jesus seeking purification? No, people. Was he going to celebrate a rite? Also. Jesus knew that the hour had come when He ceased to be, when man disappeared to let the Spirit speak, and He wanted to mark that hour with an act that would be engraved in the memory of humanity.

26. The symbolic waters did not have to wash away any stain, but for the example of humanity, they stripped that body of all ties with the world, to let it merge in will with the spirit. It was when those who witnessed that act, heard a divine voice that humanized said: "Behold my beloved Son, in whom I have placed my pleasures, to Him listen".

27. And from that moment on, the Word of God became the word of eternal life on the lips of Jesus, because Christ manifested Himself in fullness through Him. Men called him Rabbi, Teacher, Messenger, Messiah and Son of God.

28. Three years I spoke to the world through those lips, without one of my words or one of my thoughts being distorted by that mind, without one of its acts being at odds with my will. It is that Jesus and Christ, man and spirit were one, as Christ is One with the Father.

29. Disciples: Now I have come to speak to you, communicating spiritually through men, but they are not my body, as Jesus was, nor have I come to incarnate at this time, so you see that, speaking to you through impure creatures like all of you, you have to prepare to listen to me, in order to find my divine essence and my truth, beyond the clumsy and imperfect language of my spokespersons.

30. Blessed are those who know how to find my essence and separate it from the imperfections of human language, because they will be my best interpreters, those who do not get confused like those who, studying my word and my works of the Second Time,

Love one another!

do not know how to distinguish when it is Jesus, the man, who speaks and when it is Christ, the Spirit, who teaches.

31. Study my lessons with love so that later, when you have to testify about my manifestation, you will know how to speak truthfully and simply to your brothers.

32. You joyfully present your works to me, you converse with me and tell me about your triumphs and also about your stumbles and I, the Father, who presides over your life and watches over you eternally, encourage you to move forward, to fight with eagerness so that you may reach virtue and justice in all your acts.

33. You have learned to pray before taking a step, you want to work within the strictest obedience to my laws, and you think every moment of your responsibility as my disciples that you are. You are preparing yourselves in such a way that you can fulfill your duties on Earth, without them occupying all your time and attention, to devote the best hours, your energies and your heart to the fulfillment of your spiritual mission. You consider that the time of life that is granted to you is the precise one that you need to carry out a great work, worthy of your spirit and therefore, knowing your gifts, you prepare to work with all the forces of your being and there is joy in you and satisfaction in, your Father.

34. I have called you and have prepared you as a clean vessel that can contain the whole essence of this Doctrine, and when you have this saturated deposit, take it to your brothers so that they may also share in your joy. You are already looking at a vast horizon in front of you, a path that begins in Me and also ends in Me, Remember that I have told you: "I am the way" and if you take it obediently, if you receive lovingly what it offers you, you will reach the end with satisfaction and peace reflected in your being. You will not bring any complaint before Me, because you will have given everything you possessed, you will have offered yourself entirely to help a part of humanity, on its path to spirituality, that part that was pointed out to you in this Work of re-edification.

35. Do not disperse before you feel strong, study before leaving for other regions so that you may be a beacon on the path of your brothers. Prepare yourselves as my disciples of the Second Time did. They, after living with their Master, eagerly drinking my words and witnessing my wonders, felt weak and small to continue my Work, and they asked me to stay with them for a while longer, but as the day of my departure approached, they accepted that their beloved Teacher was absent and left such a delicate charge on them. I penetrated into their heart and saw the pain that seized them and my words fell on them like a balm to console them in their great sorrow, and I said to them: "Do not be afraid, for I will be close to you and my light will always descend to enlighten you". So I have come now, only for a time, in which you have had my pleasures, and this word will also cease and then continue to flow without the mediation of man, but from Spirit to spirit.

36. I do not want you to weep unconformably for the disappearance of these manifestations, but just as you have enjoyed intensely with my word, accept that this form ceases to make way for a new one of greater height that brings you closer to Me.

37. Look at me with your spirit and enter with love into the solemnity of this moment. There is my ray illuminating a spokesman and my word flowing, to fall into the depths of your heart, which is a garden that I am cultivating with loving care. My word is the water that irrigates it to make it fruitful and prosperous and then spread the new seeds on the fields eager for love of this humanity.

38. Let Me guide you and at the end of the way you will find that your work is great, because you knew how to obey and accept my will.

39. The end of my communication is already approaching, once this year of 1950 concludes. Then the whirlwind will come to whip the stout tree so that the dry, lifeless leaves and bad fruits will fall from it.

40. Because of this great trial that will come upon my people, many hearts will fall like dry leaves detached from the tree that gave them the sap, they will fall due to lack of faith or love, they will fall due to confusion or lack of ideal; but the gaps they left will be filled later with fervent believers and disciples of good will.

41. The new disciples will be selected from those who for now do not even know my Work by name, some will be humble and fervent from the first moment and as soon as they hear my voice that says to them: "Follow Me", they will follow me, imitating the disciples that in the Second Time I found fishing in the sea.

42. There will also be those who will rise up against my Work, bitterly persecuting my people and also from among them will arise my great sowers, my most faithful and exalted disciples, who will remember with their conversion Saul, my beloved Paul, who, with his dedication of love to his master, filled the place that among the twelve disciples the one who sold me had vacated.

43. Thus, in this time, new multitudes will have to arrive among my people to fill the void of those who turned their backs on me, denied me or betrayed me.

44. Oh, why are you going to be unfaithful to me in the hour of trial, carry in your spirits the immortal seed of my word, so that in it you will one day achieve your salvation!

Love one another!

45. And to those of you who are going to be faithful to me, to those who are going to follow me to the end, I tell you to prepare yourselves, to strengthen yourselves in the essence of my word, so that you will not have a single moment of weakness before those who judge, criticize, slander or persecute you.

46. You will not put the case of Peter, my disciple, persecuted to death by Saul, out of your mind. I proved to the faithful apostle that I was not alone in his trial and that if he trusted in my power, I would defend him from his persecutors. Saul was surprised by my divine light, when he was going in search of Peter, to catch him. My light reached the depths of Saul's heart, who, prostrate before my presence, overcome by my love, powerless to carry out the mission he was carrying out against my disciple, felt the transformation of his whole being deep down, and, having already converted to the faith of Christ, he hurried to go in search of Peter; but no longer to kill him, but to ask him to instruct him in the word of the Lord and let him take part in his Work.

47. From then on Saul was Paul, signifying that change of name, the absolute spiritual transformation of that man, his absolute conversion.

48. So at this time, I tell my people that, if they really trust in me, like those disciples, they will not even need to defend themselves from their slanderers or persecutors, because I will surprise them halfway along their way, making them listen to my voice in the purest of their spirit, that same voice that spoke to Saul's heart, saying to him: "Why are you persecuting me?" How many cases of conversion will you have to contemplate! How many wonders will your eyes have to witness! But know how to prepare and know how to wait. Watch and pray, people. The storms will come to shake the tree and I want you all to remain united to it, then you will all be able to see my prophecies fulfilled.

49. Do not be afraid of the weakness of your memory, thinking that most of my words will escape from it. I know how to tell you in truth, that if at the moment of a test, you knew how to prepare and penetrate into meditation, my word, apparently forgotten, will return to your memory.

50. There, in the silence and in the recollection of your meditation, it will seem to you that you are listening to this word and it will be that in truth you will be spiritually receiving its essence.

51. That experience will fill you with confidence, knowing that at any moment of your struggle my word will come to your lips and my light to your mind.

52. Roque Rojas, the forerunner, wrote inspired by the spirit of Elias, this phrase: "Charity and more charity with your brothers and you will see my Father in all his splendor". There is truth and light in these words, disciples, because whoever does not practice charity in his life will never enter my Kingdom. On the contrary, I assure you that through charity the hardest and most inveterate sinner will be able to be saved.

Love one another!

53. Do not leave the practice of charity until the last moment, lest you arrive with very few merits at the door of the Spiritual Kingdom and cannot penetrate.

54. I advise you that in all the journey that you have yet to travel, you go sowing and cultivating that seed so that you can have an abundant harvest.

55. Make charity the first among your aspirations, and you will never regret having been charitable, because through it, you will have the greatest satisfactions and joys of your existence and you will obtain at the same time all the wisdom, strength and elevation that every noble spirit craves.

56. By means of charity towards your brothers and sisters, you will purify your spirit, thus paying off old debts, you will ennoble your human life and you will elevate your spiritual life, moreover, when you arrive in front of the door at which you will all come to knock, your happiness will be very great, because you will hear the voice of welcome that the spiritual world will give you, blessing you and calling you in the Work of regeneration and spirituality.

57. Come to Me, multitudes and learn in my word to practice charity, come and listen to me and receive how much I have come to pour out on you, so that you understand that the poorest of you spiritually has a wealth of goods that through your charity can be translated into life, health, comfort, peace, wisdom.

58. Let no one say that he is not in a position to do works of charity, taking into account his material poverty, because it will be his ignorance, his lack of faith and his spiritual littleness that speak like that.

59. Here, in my people, there can be no poor, because my Kingdom has come close to men to empty its treasures in them.

60. My word is like a mighty river of crystal clear and pure waters, which has come to your lands to wash and fertilize the fields. Purify your heart and your spirit in them, so that you may walk free from the burden of your errors, which you call sins.

61. If you do not purify yourselves first, you will not be able to experience the feeling of charity towards your brothers, you will not be able to melt with their tears or unite in their pain, always keep in mind that this people has brought to Earth the mission of spiritually uniting humanity in a single family.

Love one another!

62. You are already in the year 1950, the last of my communication in this form; you will not be able to deny that you have listened to me a lot and that at the conclusion of my message, everything will have been said by Me. Then it is time for me to tell you to leave your passivity and become active farmers of these blessed lands, to stop being just those who concretize to make an act of presence before my word, to listen or to think. It is time for your spirit, freed from obstacles, bonds and chains, to rise up and arise at this time, delivering to the world the message that has been entrusted to it.

63. It is necessary that many who only concretize to attend these spiritual manifestations, begin in the fulfillment of their mission, taking as a school these precincts, where the word of the Master vibrates and the advice of the Spiritual World is heard. It is also necessary that the farmers who for a long time have limited themselves to working only in these enclosures, understand that the time is coming soon when they have to spread themselves along different paths of the Earth, to spread the seed of light and peace with which my Spirit has given them.

64. You will have to fight a lot among yourselves and I will have to test you a lot so that you will achieve that preparation that is required for the performance of your mission.

65. The purpose of the trials will be your unification, because as long as there is no spiritual union within this people, the seed that I have reaped will have to be vain.

66. Therefore, I have told you in time to start harmonizing with each other if you want to later harmonize with all humanity and it was said to you from the first days; "Charity and more charity with your brothers and you will see my Father in all his splendor".

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Welcome, O disciples, to my chair. You have felt me in the purest of your being and I have conversed with your spirit, my lesson will be for Israel and for all humanity. I come to prepare you, so that the uncertainty disappears from your spirit.

2. You must come to understand and appreciate how great is the mission that I have entrusted to you; your spirit, in order to fulfill it, must reject doubt, hesitation with his prayer, knowing that he needs the help that only my revelations, my teaching and my inspirations can give him. The spirits who have awakened in this way before my chair, have become disciples from kindergartners, because they have been tirelessly listening to my teaching and when they lose a single one of my words, they regret it, they are the ones who sense the struggle of the future, those who recognize that they will have to share humanity of all the benefits that they have received from my charity; and all of you who have thus understood such a great responsibility, here you are listening to my teaching through the spokesman, a word that comes to explain and clarify all the trials, lessons and events that you are receiving in your life, because I tell you the truth, you are not only going to speak to me through the spokesman. There are an infinity of ways to communicate with you, and this is one of them, through which I make you hear my teaching in human form, I communicate every moment with my children, I do not look for day or night, I have no fixed hour or instant to approach you, I am eternally in everything created.

3. My universal presence fills everything, in no place or plane of the Universe, there is emptiness, everything is saturated with Me.

4. Your spirit has always communicated with me, but until now you have not reached the full knowledge of this communication, and that is why in the Third Time I have come to manifest myself for yourselves, becoming spokespersons of the Eternal Word, to tell you: that from this communication to that of spirit to Spirit, there is only one step, so that you strive to achieve maximum communication with my Divinity, but before, this stage of communication through the spokesman will have to disappear.

5. When you no longer have me under this manifestation, you will raise your spirit by evoking my name and in that way of seeking me. How many lessons I am going to reveal to you! My Divine inspiration will enlighten you paths that you have to travel. It will be then when you come to look at your past, no longer in darkness, but with the clarity of the day, you will understand the steps you have taken, recognizing which were successful and which were not, in that elevated practice Israel will be strengthened and that strength will go from heart to heart and from people to people, until all creatures seek me from spirit to Spirit,

6. Direct your gaze, search the world and you will contemplate its materialism, its low passions, its perversity, the establishment of spirituality will seem impossible to you for now, but the Master has left you examples in the past times so that you do not faint. Think that when I became a man to dwell among you, I brought into the world a teaching so high for humanity, that even to my disciples it seemed difficult and even impossible to practice; however, those apostles left an example of fulfillment in my laws of love and they, with their sacrifice, fertilized and made the message of love that I sowed in the hearts of that people flourish and even bear fruit. Why then should the practice of spirituality in the Third Time be impossible among men?

7. Verily I tell you, Great signs are being given by humanity that its materialism is coming to an end. The advances of men of science, who have obtained their secrets from Nature itself, are reaching their limit and the elements will turn against those who profane them, nature will refuse to give its fruits for the use of evil and men in their madness and in their hatred, will find death, they will find the fruit of their ambitions that their own hand has unleashed: storms, epidemics, plagues and Who will be able to stop all that? His own hand, perhaps? Is it human science, which has desecrated my arcana by opening them with a key other than that of love? Truly I tell you, they will only open the doors of my heavenly righteousness.

8. Alas, indeed, for the men of the Third Half! His lament will be heard in all areas of the Earth, the feces of the cup of bitterness will be drunk as they were not in any past time and each one will have to take the part that corresponds to him because the pain sharpens day after day and he begins to feel hunger and thirst, hunger for virgin seed and thirst for crystal clear waters, truth and eternity.

9. What is your mission in the face of these events among men? Assimilate my teaching, understand it, live it, because Spiritualism should not be only on your lips, but you must practice it by living it spiritually, morally and materially, without falling into fanaticism, or mysticism, living with purity and simplicity, giving the spirit the value and the place that corresponds to it, so that he does justice on his matter in human life that is perishable, so that there is perfect harmony among humanity.

10. I bless each of your steps within my Work and I will make them multiply so that later, when the long roads of the world are offered to you, you can go through them as emissaries of my peace and of my new revelations. It is my will that your spirit, trained by my divine lessons, trace paths of regeneration to men and may they awaken to healthy ideals, inspired by the sublime to achieve spirituality by that time you will have reached the indispensable preparation and having courage in your spirit, nothing will be able to make you go back on your way.

11. By then, the trials that shake you today and stop you on the path, will only be like weak breezes that will not come to hurt your face. It will be then that you will come to recognize the strength that you have acquired by fulfilling my Law. Keep preparing yourselves, penetrate more and more into the meaning of my word. For now, do your part as disciples and let Me manifest Myself in you as a Teacher, as a Father, as a light.

12. All the spirits will fulfill their mission and I will use each one of them, so that everything is prepared, so that my word is fulfilled; but if you believe that you are the only ones who are responsible for redeeming humanity, on whom the cross of fulfillment weighs, you are mistaken. Only a minimal part of this Work corresponds to you, because it is up to each creature, on its different plane, to collaborate in the unification of the Universe.

13. There will be many who rise up with the ideal of peace, with prayer, love and goodwill, as instruments of farming, those virtues will identify them and their spirits will overcome with my teaching.

14. Do not become judges of your brothers and of my divine justice. My Law is often judged by men and I tell you: In my high judgments, only I can penetrate.

15. The hungry and thirsty for peace who are living in distress, are waiting day after day for the blow of my scepter of justice, to be unloaded on those men who lead the peoples to misery, to destruction. You should not count yourselves among those who are waiting for me like this, because my divine justice is perfect and I show it to you with my love.

16. Analyze my word so that you will not be confused, as many are, before the facts of my divine justice, when I touch with force those who commit only a slight fault and instead, I apparently absolve those who have committed a serious error. The Master says to you: If I touch with force the one who has committed a slight fault in appearance, it is because I know the weakness of the spirits and by turning away from the path of fulfillment, this can be the first step that leads him to the abyss and if I absolve others of a serious error, it is because I know that a great fault, is reason for a repentance also great for the spirit.

17. Do not judge, do not sentence, do not wish even with the thought, that my justice fall on those who cause bloodshed among the peoples. Just think that they, like you, are also my children, my creatures and they will have to wash away their great faults with great restitution. Verily I tell you, those very ones whom you point out as those who without mercy have destroyed peace and lead you to chaos, those very ones will be the ones who in the times to come will become the great sowers of my peace, the great benefactors of humanity.

18. The blood of millions of victims: my divine justice cries out from the Earth, and above human justice it must be mine that reaches every spirit, every heart. The justice of men does not forgive, does not redeem, does not love; mine, loves, forgives, redeems, resurrects, raises and enlightens, and those same who have caused so much pain to humanity, I will redeem them and wash them by making them go through their great restitution that will be the crucible in which they purify themselves and in which they will fully awaken to the voice of their conscience, to be able to contemplate to the depths of their works, I will make them go through the same path where they made their victims cross, their peoples, but in the end, they will reach spiritual purity to be able to return to Earth to restore, to rebuild everything destroyed, to restore everything lost.

19. Do you think that I am weak in my justice in the face of these faults of my children? Am I by chance the tolerant and fragile judge? Truly I tell you, from the first murderer of whom you have knowledge, who was Cain, I will manifest the same righteousness of which I am speaking to you at this moment. While Cain and Abel offered their burnt offerings to me, I contemplated each other's offering, Abel's was innocent and sincere, Cain's was vain. I received that of Abel and rejected that of Cain, and he, understanding this, full of hatred and spite, put his brother to death. I demanded that life, that blood, I showed him my discontent and he told me: My iniquity is too great to be forgiven, you have been displeased with me because I have killed my brother, you throw me out of this land and I feel that on the way I have to be killed, as I killed my brother. And I answered him. Verily I say unto thee, he that slayeth Cain shall be punished sevenfold. He understood then that I still loved him and that it was proof of this that I granted him my forgiveness, but that it was necessary to restore that fault, wash the stain and make himself worthy of that sublime and divine forgiveness.

20. What was the voice that spoke to Cain? That of his own conscience, that internal judge that I have placed in each of my human creatures. That same voice will speak to each of the men and it will be implacable, because it is a judge who does not allow himself to be bribed, it will speak to him with the same clarity with which he spoke to Cain, but, you must understand that Cain did not know the magnitude of his crime by shedding his sister's blood, he did not know what death was, but the men of this time, they do know what it is.

Love one another!

21. That is why at this time, I will not wait for the justice of men to make itself felt in the faults of their brothers. I, in my tribunal, will await the arrival of each of my children, and there my judgment will give them the sentence that corresponds to them, so that they may make restitution in the suffering that remorse gives before conscience. It will be there that they will understand the great love of their Lord.

22. In this Third Time, I have brought you the confirmation of the reincarnation of the spirit. Humanity through the ages, has had this intuition and the spirit has been revealing this mystery to the flesh, but this always incredulous and fragile, has put it in doubt. Beings from beyond have come to deliver this revelation to men and have only been believed by some, but these have been fought in their beliefs and repudiated by the ignorant and unbelievers, but today the presentiment, the certainty of these manifestations throbs more than ever among humanity, although not everyone dares to confess it, out of fear of the outside world.; but I have come at this time to bring you confirmation and to tell you: In the reincarnation of the spirit my perfect Law of love is manifested and truly I tell you: How few there are who have only once come to incarnate on Earth, and how many opportunities I have given the spirits through different matters in the world, to restore what the spirits had done wrong, but your matter is a thick veil that prevents you from discovering the bottom of these teachings.

23. There is very little that I have allowed you to know about what you have been through the ages, because I do not want you in matter, before you have reached the true spiritual preparation, to penetrate into the sanctuary, into the intimacy of my high judgments; I do not want you to make of the teachings about the spiritual life, new sciences that only lead you to curiosity, scrutiny and waste of time. I do not want you to take a step on the spiritual path that is useless for you, I want all of them to be of benefit to you, that you only listen and it will be revealed to you, what helps you in your spiritual evolution, plus everything that only serves you as human satisfaction, that you do not concretize, it will always be behind a veil, because it constitutes the sacred, the intimate of your spiritual inheritance.

24. When this humanity takes firm steps in spirituality, in the fulfillment of my laws, from its human life it will discover great lessons of the Holy Spirit and then it will have a clear vision of the past, the present and the future, only limited as far as my will is. Therefore, disciples, penetrate the true path of spirituality that this Doctrine teaches you, so that you may be the good prophets, the ones who announce danger to the multitudes and prevent them from failure. I will help you in your mission, pointing out to you at the right time, a part of the previous lives of those unbelievers, but it will not be for you to judge them, but for you to instruct them in my revelations.

Love one another!

25. Thus men will awaken in their evolution and will come to understand that a human life is not enough to know my eternal lesson.

26. If in that struggle, you manage to put all your effort, much will be what you will achieve, but which of you has the certainty of returning or of no longer returning to this world? Who is the one who can say: Everything I did in life was what the Father planned for my destiny, I can already move to other worlds and get closer to God through the infinite scale of evolution? Verily I tell you that in order to understand these lessons, the knowledge you have is very small, but all those who fulfill their mission will have taken a step towards Me, on the spiritual path and will go from lesson to lesson, from dwelling to dwelling, towards eternity, if not, do you think that you would be qualified to dwell on the higher planes and that the consciousness that is my own righteousness would allow it?

27. Be submissive, work and let my divine will be fulfilled in you. You will see many coming even in matter, the fulfillment of my prophecies, the transformation of this humanity, the redemption of all in my Law, but first they will have to penetrate into the great struggles, in great contests that are still unknown to men, that are not yet recorded by history; and if you, who already have knowledge of what is going to happen, of the events that are coming, will have to purify yourselves, what will become of those who have not yet awakened to the lessons of the Holy Spirit, who have profaned my Law, who have forgotten their mission, who live in their traditions and have loaded themselves with chains of ignorance?

28. Confusion, suffering and remorse will be like a crucible for the great legions of spirits who will come before their own judge, but truly I tell you that I will help them too and when they wake up from their deep lethargy, they will contemplate my radiant face that shows you my forgiveness, and they will only hope that I sent them to the path that they previously desecrated and despised, to make up for their faults and dignify themselves before my love and I, as a loving Father, will grant them them.

29. That is why I tell you in my teaching, that those whom you see today stained with the sister's blood and with all the faults, you should not judge them, because in your eternal existence, there are greater faults than that of shedding the sister's blood; but for now, do not pretend to know everything, I have already warned you that in my high judgments, only I.

30. Now you must only love and forgive and if I allow you to study and analyze the events that surround you, it is because I do not want you to be indifferent and blind to insensitive to the pain of your brothers. I have come to sensitize you with my Doctrine, so that when the time comes, you can impart teaching, understanding, love, forgiveness and consolation, among all your brothers. To this end, I make you a beacon of light, a shining star and a faithful friend, so that you may behave in this way in your home, in institutions and among peoples.

31. I no longer want you to contemplate yourselves as foreigners, I want universal fraternity to flourish among you and that it begins to bear its fruit in your bosom,

32. It is good that you comply with your human laws, but put my Doctrine and your spirituality on them. Be obedient to my laws; and truly I tell you that from the most serious conflicts that arise to you because of human laws, I will deliver you, but fight injustice, fight against perversity, not with fratricidal weapons, nor with hatred, but with my seed of love. You will not be alone in the struggle, I have already told you that there are peoples among humanity in which men are already rising up, freeing themselves from their materialism, strengthening themselves in their vicissitudes, with the ideal of communicating with me. Who are these spirits? For now it is not necessary that you know them.

33. Raise your spirits, love one another, unite in the Hereafter with the ideal of universal brotherhood. I will call you to the spiritual mountain and I will be there with one another, with all those who long for peace, redemption; to give them the strength and faith in my revelations; so that, thus endowed, they can continue on their way. Spirits will continue to arise, some like wildflowers, the others like thorns in a desert; but both one and the other will be united by the same ideal, and in the Hereafter, the flowers of your love will be unified to arrive as an offering of love to Me.

34. This is how I instruct you, O disciples! In the last year of these manifestations, because I tell you the truth, at the end of this stage, your spirituality will be subjected to very great tests. How many of you will be at the mercy of fanaticism and idolatry? How many of you will be one step away from mystification, and how many more, because of their significance among humanity, will you want to add to my Work what does not belong to it? Watch and pray, O people! But do not forget that the purer and simpler your practice is and the more it is inspired by my laws, the greater the perfection that your spirit reaches. Have less ceremonies and rites and greater spirituality, more charity and love for your fellow human beings and you will be loving Me.

35. A time of idolatry and fanaticism is coming, in all the peoples of the Earth, rites and ceremonies will reach greater intensity and will be taken to the extreme. The ministers and priests of the different religions and sects will lead their peoples to exaltation, I allow it, because this will be like a storm among humanity and in that chaos the spirits will feel like shipwrecked, there will be none who will feel in a safe harbor or in a saving boat.

Love one another!

36. The time will come when confusion will be with all the spirits and they will not find the refuge of peace anywhere. It will be then that men will look for the clearest minds of the most eminent ministers for their greater intelligence, of those who are considered saints by humanity, and their astonishment will be very great, when they realize that they are also castaways who go without compass, without peace and without light. Then the darkness will come, but in the midst of that chaos, the spirits will rise seeking their salvation and beyond the dense clouds, they will contemplate the light, as a new life, as a new dawn and that light will be that of the Holy Spirit, it will be the beacon that illuminates the entire Universe, waiting for the return of the children, illuminating the stormy oceans.

37. After that time of trials, the freedom of the spirit will come for humanity. The plant of men will trample underfoot their idols of yesterday, disillusioning you; they will destroy their enclosures of vanity, pomp and false splendor. The authors of doctrinal works will take their own works to the fire.

38. At that time, the most clumsy and humble of you will be listened to carefully. How many of those who now, among this simple and humble people, listen to my teaching and feel humble, considering themselves lacking in eloquence and spirituality, will later find themselves surrounded by crowds and among them, some of those who thought they were crazy, when they listened to me through the speaker. How many of those who today doubt my message will later weep like Peter, as they contemplate at every step the fulfillment of my word.

39. In the meantime, keep preparing yourselves, strengthen your spirit, in my Doctrine, which has come to confuse no one, because it only asks you for redemption, salvation, through spirituality. More What is spirituality? It is the path traced by Me from the beginning of time and by which all purified spirits will reach the bosom of God. In it is the Divine Law, which is the origin of all virtue. There is the open book, the Book of Life, which contains all the wisdom of God, along that path, once again I have come to invite you.

40. From the top of the mountain I speak to you for the third time, saying to you: I am the way, the truth and the life, no longer depart from Me.

41. Remember that when my body was taken from the cross and then buried, the disciples, dismayed and unable to understand what had happened, believed that with the death of the Master everything was over. It was necessary for their eyes to see me again and their ears to hear me again so that their faith would be ignited and their knowledge in my word would be affirmed.

Love one another!

42. Now I must tell you that among those disciples there was one who never doubted Me, who never hesitated in the face of trials and never for an instant abandoned me. It was John, the faithful, courageous, fervent and loving disciple. For that love I entrusted him to Mary, at the foot of the cross, so that she might continue to drink the love in that spotless heart and at her side, be strengthened even more for the struggle that awaited her. While his brothers, the other disciples, were falling one by one under the blow of the executioner, sealing with their blood and their lives the truth of what they preached and the name of their Teacher, John overcame death and escaped martyrdom. Confined to exile, his persecutors did not know that there, on that island to which they were throwing him, the great revelation of the times that you are living, the prophecy that speaks to men of what will be and will be fulfilled, would descend from heaven on that man.

43. After loving his brothers very much and dedicating his life to serve them in the name of his Master, John had to live isolated from them, lonely, but always praying for humanity, always thinking of those for whom Jesus had shed his blood.

44. Prayer, silence, recollection, the purity of his existence and the goodness of his thoughts, made the miracle that that man and that spirit evolved in a short time, what spirits have needed thousands of years to be able to achieve.

45. Yes, disciples, John is an example of what the spirit of humanity will achieve in times that are to come. The ecstasy of John, through whom he spoke, saw and heard, was the revelation of what you would have to contemplate at this time. The spiritual sights represented with symbols were seen through the gift of clairvoyance, that is, the spiritual gaze.

46. The divine voice and the voice of the spiritual world that reached his brain and touched his heart, were forerunners of the communication that through spokespersons and faculties you have had in this time; and finally, John, writing at the direction of an angel, everything he saw and heard, revealed to humanity the spirit-to-Spirit communication that was to come when men had stripped themselves in their life, of impurities and materialism.

47. When will men turn their attention to what my beloved disciple has written? Strange is the way in which his revelation is described, mysterious his meaning, deep to infinity his words. Who will be able to understand them? Men who begin to be interested in the Revelation of John, deepen, analyze, observe and study. Some approach the truth somewhat, others believe they have found the content of the revelation and proclaim it to the whole world, others get confused or get tired of searching and conclude denying the divine essence of that message.

Love one another!

48. Now I come to tell you disciples of the Third Time, that if you really want to penetrate into that sanctuary and know the depths of those revelations, you will have to initiate yourselves in the spirit-to-Spirit prayer, the same one that John practiced in his exile, you will have to understand in advance that the Divine Revelation, although represented with material forms and figures, it all speaks of the spirit of humanity, of its evolution, of its struggle, of its temptations and falls, of its desecrations and disobediences. It speaks of my justice, of my wisdom, of my Kingdom, of my trials and of my communication with men, of their awakening, of their regeneration and finally, of their spirituality.

49. There I reveal to you the spiritual journey of humanity, divided into epochs, so that you may better understand the evolution of the spirit.

50. Well, disciples, if the revelation refers to your spiritual life, it is right that you study it and look at it from the spiritual point of view, because if you take it to analyze it through material facts only, you will end up being confused like so many others.

51. Certainly, many material events are and will be related to the fulfillment of that revelation, but you must know that these facts and signs are also forms, are figures and examples that come to help you understand my truth and help you fulfill your destiny to rise up to Me, along the path of cleansing of spirit, of which John, my disciple, left you a shining example, who thousands of years advanced humanity by communicating spirit to Spirit with his Lord.

1. Come to Me, lost and wandering humanity, seek first my Kingdom and when you are already in it, drink in the inexhaustible source of my wisdom, but do not forget that my Kingdom is not of this world and that only by complying with my laws of love, you will be able to conquer it.
2. Disciples: The present year of 1950 will bring with it decisive events for all men, that is why it is so great your responsibility to find yourselves listening to my teaching.
3. Humanity is sick, blind and one step away from the abyss. The Father, through you, is coming to save her; verily I say to you, no one will be lost.
4. If I love all my children equally, why then is there desolation in the world? This is the question that men ask themselves and you know the why of events.
5. It is not the first time that your spirit has come to inhabit this world, it has been a long time that through different matters, I have allowed him to reincarnate so that he could repair his mistakes and dignify himself before my Law; I put the spirits on Earth from the beginning of their formation so that they could gain, by their own merits, the power to reach my Kingdom.
6. The spirit of man has been the favorite creature of Creation, I have donated it of free will as a proof of my love. All beings are subject to my will; but if men, in the exercise of their free will, have only known how to depart from the path of my love, they must, by the same path traced by their free will, achieve their salvation.
7. The time of harvest has come for every spirit and that is why you count the confusion among men; but truly I tell you, in that chaos everyone will reap his own sowing, but what will become of those my children who have always failed my Law? Truly, all those who are asleep without wanting to analyze, without studying my lessons, the trials will come like a whirlwind that will make them fall; and for those who have obeyed my teachings, it will be like an encouragement for their fulfillment, like a beautiful reward that God grants.
8. The Father is inexhaustible activity, he works eternally for all his children and before that example, you too must be tireless in the fulfillment of your work, so that in this way you identify with your Lord. Understand that for you your work is a true blessing, because it consists in drawing closer and closer to your God, that is the secret of the perfection of your life.

Love one another!

9. Man has evolved and in his development many fruits are those that he has achieved, in order to be able to serve humanity; but now, in his arrogance, he has come to believe himself superior to his Creator.

10. You ask me if I can help my children out of their confusion. And I answer: Yes, people; the opportunity that I have given to the spirit in his reincarnations in his human life, is a proof of my love, because my Kingdom can only be conquered with the good deeds of love and charity that my children execute, following the dictates of their conscience and in full use of their free will.

11. You, even when you feel small and weak, must help your brothers with the infinite power that I have entrusted to you in prayer; the clean and pure prayer that I have taught you is the one that should unite all humanity in the fold of my love.

12. Pray, disciples, send your thoughts as a message of peace, to those who with their intelligence are transforming your life, so that the fruits they achieve may be like balm for the sorrows of humanity.

13. Why does the Lord call you the chosen people? For from the First Time I pointed out to you a delicate mission among your brothers, but I did not endow you with greater gifts nor did I leave you above other peoples, but I made you the faithful son, the emissary of my message of light and love for all peoples still wandering on earth.

14. I have granted you the grace to listen to my word through the speaker, a message that, when the time comes, you must bring to the heart of humanity.

15. Disciples: Take advantage of the time, look at men sunk in their materialism, looking for the false voices of the world, suffering will be in them, and only in this way will they awaken to their conscience. Suffering, although you do not understand it while you are living it, is for your spirit a blessing.

16. Rise up in spirit to Me, above all sorrow, above all temptation or weakness, and then you will understand how beautiful is the path that I offer you in the fulfillment of my Law. If you look at humanity, which in its perdition has reached the height of its perversity, the Father tells you: The spirit has evolved, the cruelty of wars has awakened it and today, seeking peace by all means, it finds itself at crossroads.

17. This is your mission, Israel, each one of you must guide humanity by his prayer and by his example. No one has the right to talk about the imperfections of his fellow men, because which of you is perfect? Judge no one and be a good example among men: This is how you should live, as a reflection of eternal peace and happiness, and men, tired of so much suffering, will come to you to say: Give us of your bread, give us of that inexhaustible water.

18. The nations are fighting for a peace that they have not yet achieved; in some parts of the world, the wars have stopped, but in others, chaos continues to envelop men in their fratricidal struggles; in vain they want peace to reign in this world, because they lack love and charity. Men tremble with fear at the new weapons created by human intelligence. Help them, people, extend to them my message of love that I have come to entrust to you, do not feel preference for races, languages or ideologies, see only in them your brothers in need of advice and love.

19. Pray, for truly I tell you that my peace, overcoming selfishness and human weaknesses, will reach all the peoples of the earth.

20. Thus my Kingdom will come to you and then the inventions that now cause destruction and death will only be used in the reconstruction necessary to make this world the true paradise. I want man to finally become perfect and to rule this planet, as the Father rules the Universe: with love.

21. The man who comes to have great faith in my Law and who, with true love, teaches my Doctrine, has nothing to fear, because he will be an instrument of the Father and at the same time a part of God.

22. Disciples: Just as the light dispels the shadows, so you, with my divine message, will be able to dispel the ignorance of humanity.

23. My word revealed in this Third Time, will make men discover the true sense of justice and will make laws inspired by my Work.

24. This Doctrine, still unknown to humanity, will spread throughout the Earth, taking root in the hearts of many peoples. Spirituality will reach its fullness in the humanity of the future.

25. You have had the grace to hear my messages through my spokespersons, but you will not get to see the flowering of my Doctrine, because by then you will no longer belong to this Earth. It will be other generations who will testify to the fulfillment of my word, because the mission of being precursors of spirituality fell to you.

26. This does not mean that your mission will be less important than that of future generations, on the contrary, think that a lot depends on you that those get on the right path, that they are good interpreters of my Work and good disciples.

Love one another!

27. You will do your part, which I have already told you is very important, but you will not be puffed up about it, because whoever is puffed up within a spiritual Work, that has not known how to be a worthy disciple, since one of the main conditions to be my disciple is humility.

28. Look in the mirror of your conscience to see if it does not reflect any impurity. Look in that inner mirror before you try to judge the works of your brothers, then there will be more clarity and truth in your deeds.

29. I tell you this, because I see that many of you enjoy judging the mistakes that your brothers commit in the various cults, as well as their rites and practices. I tell you that it is better for you not to judge religions or creeds, since you do not know their spiritual scope for now.

30. I will leave you as guides, but not as agitators. Your seed will be of peace and harmony, but never of confusion or violence.

31. My word is of unification and peace, so that, as you are inspired by it, you may know how to reach out to your brothers, always knowing how to respect their faith, as something sacred, because their faith is an interior altar in which I dwell. Then you will know how to see in your brothers the development that through their struggle, their effort and their vicissitudes they have achieved.

32. If when comparing the way your brothers practice their worship and the way you have, you will find differences, do not stop judging from the outside and know how to penetrate deeply, where the truth exists. If you are spiritualists, think that you will always have to look for the spirit and not the external forms.

33. If in this way you come to understand your brothers, you will soon discover that every man advances on a different path, but that all paths converge at the same point, which is the path to light, to truth and life.

34. You can see that just carrying the knowledge of mipalabra in your spirit is not enough, because the most important part remains, which is that of putting my teachings into practice. That is the test, in which you must show how much you have learned from my word.

35. When, speaking figuratively to you, I have told you that I close your lips, it was to let you understand that at that moment I have blessed your lips, so that through them your spirit can manifest its inspiration and repeat my divine words, said lips remaining closed to judge, criticize, lie or blaspheme. Keep my teaching with love and let your spirit, like a torrent contained for many centuries, overflow with a word of consolation, light, balm, wisdom and peace.

36. It will not be necessary for you to have to pronounce my name often, on the contrary, the less you pronounce it and the better you practice my lesson, you will have given the greatest of your testimonies.

37. Little by little, go feeling in your hearts your fellow men as true brothers, go looking at humanity as one family; but take care to proclaim it. Never publish your merits because those are for Me alone to judge. The only thing that you must make known through your life and your words is my Work, because it must be known by your brothers.

38. The humility of the spiritualist has to be real, not apparent, so that his footprint on Earth is of light.

39. See how my word is not and cannot be a new religion; this Work is the luminous path where all ideas, creeds and religions will have to unite spiritually, to arrive at the gates of the Promised Land.

40. I give you in this word, the peace and the sweetness that makes you forget your sorrows. I strengthen your faith and give you light so that you may follow the path that leads to Me. That light inspires you, invites you to pray for those who suffer, present or absent, brings you closer to your unknown brothers who live far from you, whom you cannot touch or touch materially. My Doctrine teaches you to ask for everyone and to feel what is happening in the hearts of your fellow human beings. I have told you that I am all presence, that no one is absent or distant from Me, and I come to give you the faculty of transporting you to go after those who need help, comfort or companionship.

41. How much good will you be able to do on the day when you recognize your gifts and know how to use them for the benefit of your brothers and sisters! The prepared spirit can bridge distances, face dangers and overcome obstacles to go where it is requested.

42. If you carry a serious weight in your spirit, because you have not been able to erase your past faults, work spiritually and you will feel the lost peace and joy return to you.

43. My word makes you live the first times, remembering my manifestations through the patriarchs and prophets, and my Word through Jesus in the Second Time. I make you feel my Father's love, and your spirit rests knowing that you are looked at and protected by my charity.

Love one another!

44. I speak to you with the same wisdom that I, as a Teacher, poured out on my disciples; and today, as the Holy Spirit, I show you one more page of the book so that you may study and become enlightened.

45. My will is that you gather in one only the three testaments given in three times, and prepare yourselves to answer those who ask you the why of these manifestations.

46. The example of your elders is written in indelible letters: Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, who left their people a seed of faith, love and perseverance, fulfilled their destiny and are with me. I do not ask you for sacrifices because those times have already passed; your life is painful today and I only want you to be spiritualized; but if I pointed out to your children the mission of taking my Doctrine to other countries, do not oppose; if I take you to lead a multitude with your word and examples, do not refuse, so you will leave a mark in this time and I will show the generations to come the fruits that my word cultivated.

47. The time of struggle has come for you. The ministers of great religions make alliances with each other to feel strong and fight against my chosen ones, and when the time comes, they will want to attribute to their talent this revelation that I have entrusted to you, whom I have prepared humble and simple. If I have placed this grace in you, it is because I know you and have purified and cultivated you to serve me by your understanding, but this that I have given you belongs to all my children and I do not want it to be a cause of strife. When this struggle is, after 1950, the time when you will no longer have my communication in this form, how much you will feel the absence of my word! and then, I will only allow you to imitate my apostles of great faith and strong will.

48. My word will soon reach other nations and will stop men in their hatred and desire for revenge. Look, the sick are not getting up from their beds yet and there are already rumors of new wars. Homes have not been rebuilt or villages restored and there is already a thirst for blood. To them will come my message of peace and concord.

49. You know that beyond your continent, the nations have been devastated and the pain has reached every heart. There are no children, young people or old people who have not tasted a cup of bitterness, and among them I discover those who, despite their sorrow, have the strength to ask that the nations that are preserved in peace, not be disturbed by war; and in different sects I find pious spirits who pray with sincere love and compassion for those who go through these great trials. I receive their works, respect their customs and take into account their merits. Watch, pray, ask like good disciples and I will grant my grace. I protect every creature and bless all nations.

50. You will all receive peace, as you have worked it, but I promise you better times. After the purification that is to be done on Earth, beings sent by Me, virtuous spirits with great missions will come to form the obedient family. Four generations will pass after yours, so that my Doctrine may spread throughout the world and reap beautiful fruits.

51. Not all my children will understand at this time my coming in spirit, nor will they know that I come to prepare humanity to make it return to Me. I want you, just as you have sprung from Me, clean, so to return so that you can penetrate the Heavenly Kingdom.

52. Each spirit carries a virtue that frees it from stalking and temptations, and a light that guides it, which is consciousness. If I have given man free will, it is so that he has his own will, and for this he feels himself the owner of his life, of his actions and similar to Me. I have shown him my love by making him the possessor of a high destiny and I have surrounded him with indulgences, even if this son has not obeyed the laws that I have given him.

53. My call of this time has been for everyone and there are few who follow me. Not because you live in this world today do you feel far from Me. I want you to look at me from your abode, that your heart may be sensitive to every divine manifestation, that you may love me and that you may be closely united to Me. If you possess my nature even in a limited way, you can understand me and do great works.

54. The path that I have traced to the spirit leads to elevation, although in it you will often find thorns and thistles.

55. If you seek holy or righteous men to guide you, you will not find them. If you want to seek the highest perfection, look at me in the infinite, communicate with me and I will advise and inspire you.

56. You have not spoken to the world of what you have heard from Me, and that materialized and cold world is waiting for a sign from me, a warning or a word, to return to its Lord and start a new life. Scientists observe and wonder why there are so many phenomena in space. Theologians want to penetrate into my arcana and every spirit sensitive to my presence wonders if the world has passed into a new era, and I have the answer for those anxious, thirsty for knowledge, to whom I will give to drink at the source the water that quenches their thirst.

57. You are already prepared, your gifts are enduring; if you have appreciated the grace that you have, do not lose it; if you have merits, increase them, that no sacrifice will be sterile, nor any effort vain, because every work remains written and there is no hand that can erase or alter your book.

Love one another!

58. You who carry a spirit of Israel, know that this essence that pours out my word is the same that I gave you in the First and Second Times. Now I have come to show you the pages of the Book of Life in its third part, and like the previous ones, it contains infinite wisdom.

59. I am the book in which life is written and in which all wisdom exists. Come, knock on my door and I will immediately open it for you, but I want to contemplate in your heart a true longing for light. If you come to feel that your understanding has reached a limit of understanding and that it can no longer go beyond, do not be afraid, because then your spirit, for whom there are wider horizons, will rise through the super-smallness of matter until it reaches that light that it wanted to look at.

60. When man, longing to increase his knowledge, has entrusted everything to the power of his intelligence, he has encountered insurmountable obstacles for the human mind or has sunk into abysses full of mystery, without being able to satisfy his curiosity or his desire to find more light for his science.

61. Until now, men of science have lacked spirituality, so their knowledge has always been reduced, since they have not been able to look for the true origin, the cause and the principle of what they study.

62. Verily I tell you that after this era of materialistic, selfish and perverse science, there will come a time when men of science will know how to penetrate the arcana of Nature, spiritually prepared with prayer, clothed with humility and respect, inspired by noble, high, human ideas and purposes.

63. Humanity is approaching with great strides towards the end of that world created by the science of man, of that superficial false world, and it will be man who by his own hand destroys the work that his pride and greed built. Then will come silence, meditation and with it, regeneration, purposes and high ideals. A new Era will open before men and a humanity purified in pain and acrisolated in experience will penetrate into it. A new world men will raise up, but it will be a world guided by the spirit, enlightened by conscience, channeled along the path of my Law.

64. I want this world to understand that material science is not and will never be the goal of your existence, since with it you have not even been able to achieve your happiness on Earth.

65. You must know that when you leave this planet, so that you can reach a higher abode, you will not do it starting from a scientific and materialistic world, but from a world spiritualized by love, by virtue.

Love one another!

66. The materialized spirits are blind in other worlds, because their faculty to understand the spiritual has been neglected, preventing them from being sensitized to perceive the subtle, the pure, the elevated, the luminous.

67. No one dares to deny that in his being he carries spiritual missions. Only I and your spirit know the covenant that exists between the Father and his children, but believe, and know that of what I have given you to me you will have to answer, that of all the gifts that I have entrusted to you you will have to give an account, when you return in spirit to the eternal Kingdom.

68. As you have reached a time when you can already understand, accept and conceive the spiritual life, I have sent you my word, which is a doctrine for the spirit, which is a sure and full of light path, so that you may walk through it, towards Me, walking with security and firmness, restoring with patience and love, shedding the layer of impurities that for a long time you have carried and acquiring more and more light, so that, when that blessed hour arrives to be absent from that world of trials and struggle, may you make a worthy entrance into the valley that awaits you to bring you a harvest of light, a fruit of peace.

69. You all carry my light, every spirit possesses that grace; but, while in some that light has been increasing, growing, going out to manifest itself, in others it only remains in a latent state, hidden, ignored. But I tell you the truth, no matter how spiritually retarded a man may be, he will always be able to distinguish between good and evil, so you are all responsible for your deeds before Me.

70. I must tell you that responsibility grows in you as your knowledge develops, because you will become more and more sensitive to the dictates of conscience.

71. Do you realize how much you need on earth a teaching that comes to facilitate your understanding in a lawful, fair and simple way?

72. Here you have my word, people, the promised word, the message announced by Me from the Second Time, the one whose essence would be the Spirit of Truth, the divine light that would come to clarify the whole mystery that the minds of men could not penetrate.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Beloved disciples, You have prepared the sanctuary to receive me and to make me present here in spirit and in truth. Each one of you shows me his own sanctuary, but the Master is pleased with the one that you form with your union, with your spiritual harmony; that is why I have taught you love, so that through it, you may come in spirit to the era of spiritual unification; truly I tell you that until then you will be able to present me the true sanctuary, in which the divine concert will be heard.
2. Today I find myself raising up that temple with my word, with the inspirations of my Law in the spirit of my children; but you are still my disciples, the little ones still do not cease to arrive before my presence. Some I have taught for many years, others I begin to teach the first lessons in the Third Time.
3. My word through this manifestation will soon end and who will be those who, after Me, should continue to deliver the lesson to humanity? Who will be the ones who will continue to deliver the teaching contained in the great Book of Life? My disciples, whom I have been preparing for a long time, so that they can stay in my place, but not so that they only dedicate themselves to repeating my words, because then you would deliver the echo of the speaker and it is not the human word that I come to bequeath to you, but the essence of the message.
4. You have heard my word through my spokesmen; in it you have found imperfections, which some have attributed to matter and others to Me. I do not come to accuse my children for whom I communicate, but I do tell you: In this manifestation I have not come to deceive you, I have never done it. I have brought you my revelations and the inspiration of the Holy Spirit through human understanding and along with my perfect teaching, have been the imperfections of man. The Master says to you: This stage of my communication will pass and then you, enlightened by the light of my Holy Spirit, will know how to clearly distinguish where my essence is and where human imperfection is, and as the farmers on Earth do who, when collecting their wheat harvest, know how to separate the chaff, so you will separate the wheat from my teaching and keep it in the barn of your heart, and the chaff, which is the imperfection of the spokesmen, will be forgotten, while the essence of my lessons will remain eternally in your spirit.
5. To manifest myself at this time, in this form, I have called great multitudes, from among them I have chosen men and women in their different ages, spheres and races; those chosen ones, of which you are part, are the spirits whom I know; because there is not a single spirit that is strange to me, you are all my children.

Love one another!

6. I have followed the path of the evolution of each one of you, because I have traced your destiny and in calling you to be present in these manifestations, I have selected my chosen ones, I have endowed them with faculties and powers, being seconded in this task by the spirits of light, by my emissaries of peace, spirits full of the word, who have led you step by step, along the path of spiritualism, helping you to find in yourselves the gifts and graces, awakening your spirit to the Beyond, to eternity.

7. With my divine lessons and with the tests that I am wisely putting throughout your life, I have been developing your spirit, forging it for the struggle, discovering what was previously a mystery to it, an impenetrable arcanum; you have recreated yourself in my Work and through my lessons, you are learning to interpret the teachings of the First and Second Times, which theologians failed to understand.

8. The trials that you are encountering in your path overwhelm you, but you instantly think that my Divine Spirit is in your being, like a star, like a lighthouse, and you always seek that light to save you.

9. Many of the chosen ones to whom I have showered graces, have been cold for their mission in my Work; the ideals of the world, temptations and unpreparedness, have separated them from Me; and how many, who have been constant before my lessons, even when they were not of the chosen ones, nor have they received through the speaker the mark and the gifts, I contemplate them clothed with my grace, because from Spirit to spirit, I have given them their gifts and in them there is the grace that has been in all of you since the beginning of time.

10. Blessed are the faithful; blessed are those who remain strong until the end of trials. Blessed are those who have rejected the strength that my teaching imparts to them, because they, in the times of bitterness that are coming, will go through the vicissitudes of life with strength and with light.

11. Be faithful, disciples, because my Work will never disappoint you, the Master will fulfill his promise and will not be absent for a single moment in your struggles with humanity.

12. My teaching, from which your spirit is nourished, tends to transform you into teachers, into the faithful apostles of the Holy Spirit.

13. I have not come with these revelations to bring you only the peace of the world and to make your sufferings more bearable with the body balm. I have come to give you with this manifestation, the great lessons that will tell you about your spiritual evolution, because if I had only come to give you the goods of the world, truly I tell you: For that it would have been enough for me to entrust it to the scientists, to whom I would have enlightened by means of intuition, revealing to them the secrets of Nature, so that from there they could take the balm to heal you of your bodily diseases.

Love one another!

14. My Work comes to show you broader horizons, beyond your planet, from that infinite number of worlds that surround you; horizons that have no end, that show you the path of eternity that belongs to you.

15. It is to your spirit that I speak so that he may seek his perfection through my light, my Law, which is found in consciousness. Convert that Law into a ladder, into a path, so that you may come to Me, because it is your arrival that I eagerly await, so that you, O dearly beloved children, may enjoy my Kingdom, may live understanding my love and I, in turn, may receive yours, which must be perfect so that your spirit can be recreated in the universal magnificence of my Work.

16. Conquer that Kingdom, disciples, that I help you, because in this struggle how many enemies, how many temptations will oppose your path and how many abysses you will have to save!

17. You are the people of Israel, who walk through the desert in pursuit of the Land of Promise; now you no longer have Moses as your guide, it is your Father who marches before this people, who encourages you and lifts you up and although I lead you through my chosen ones, recognize that above them is the Universal Guide who is God, who is your Father, the one who speaks to you and who says: go ahead, overcome your enemies, do not faint in trials, that you will not perish on the way. Go ahead! Do not deny your destiny, because you do not know if at that precise moment you can already glimpse the Land of Promise on the horizon.

18. To my chosen ones I have given great gifts, one of them is that of healing, the balm, so that with that gift you can fulfill one of the most beautiful missions among humanity, since your planet is the valley of tears, where pain is always found. Through this gift, you have a vast field to sow consolation, according to my will, and I have deposited this balm in your being, in the tenderest fibers of your heart, and with him you have recreated yourself, before his wonders your neck has bent, your heart has softened with the pain of men and you have always walked the path of charity. Continue to give that balm that is not in your hands, because he overflows in looks of compassion, of comfort, of understanding, passes through good thoughts and becomes healthy advice, in words of light.

19. The gift of healing has no limit, never forget that you are saturated with it and that if pain makes its prey in you, because you are subject to trial, if with that balm you cannot turn it away, do not forget my teachings, forget your suffering and think of others, in whom the pain is greater and then you will see wonders in you and in your brothers.

20. I have allowed my Spiritual World, at the very stage of my manifestation at this time, to communicate with you through those empowered to receive those beings saturated with my balm, so that they would be as teachers of love and charity among you. Some of you have been able to appreciate their patience, their humility, others have made them the object of humiliations, vexations, materializations and those beings of light, have not made their complaints, their claims present to me. They are the understanding spirits who, in order to lift you out of your spiritual misery, have descended before your exigency and smallness, sacrificing their own spirituality many times, with the ideal of being able to take you out of darkness, to bring you to the light, but this stage will soon end.

21. My Spiritual World, intercessor of peasants and multitudes, will tell me: Lord, do not judge our brothers for the offenses they have done to us. And if they intercede for you in this way and forgive you, what will the Father not do in granting you His forgiveness? They have penetrated even the humblest homes, following in your footsteps of misery and pain; they have gone everywhere to the call of my peasants and sick, without fear of getting stained, looking only for the wound to heal it, sadness to leave comfort, illness to turn it into health. And the Father says to you: The example that my Spiritual World has given you, you must engrave it in your spirit. Do not forget, just as they are, I want you to be, so that when you reach the end of these manifestations, you take this balm to all your brothers, without distinction of classes, races and ideologies, that you penetrate the royal palaces, in the humble huts or in the most unclean place, without being afraid of contagion, censorship or mockery.

22. Always go after those who suffer and leave as a mark of your step, the best fruits of your love; if you fulfill this, you will have imitated my Spiritual World that is my faithful disciple and your teacher; and just as they do not seek any retribution and when they have given you the greatest benefits, they have always done it in my name, so I want you to go through the ways of the world, sowing comfort, health and love, even when in exchange for all this, you only receive, as my Spiritual World and as your Teacher in that Second Time, blasphemies, vexations and ingratitude. You should not expect any retribution in this world, but if you want to achieve reward, let it be satisfaction, the joy of having raised the dead to my truth and of having comforted the sad.

23. I have given you eternal peace in my Law, and I want each of you to be like a lark of peace, that your wings never close, that you know how to move to all places, either materially or with thought, through your prayers, and there, where war and discord reign, there where iniquity arises, you are as angels of peace; as guardians and emissaries of the Holy Spirit.

Love one another!

24. Look, this humanity has never offered me the fruits of peace; from its beginnings it has lived in wars, it has incessantly struggled to achieve insane ideals, to live in debauchery and feed hatred and shame. That is the fruit that men offer me and now those contests are not over yet. Humanity is preparing to undertake its greatest struggle, it is preparing its most powerful weapons, the weapons of its understanding.

25. men are walking towards their own destruction. The beings of the Beyond are agitating over them, some are emissaries of my love and inspire men with peace, justice, harmony; the others. they only inspire hatred, wars and reveal to men of science, the means of destruction, which the human brain alone would not be able to discover. These events, it has been a long time since I prophesied to men through my apostle John, so that they would be watching and praying; but they have only slept and behold the enemies of peace, who are fighting in the heart of humanity to lead it to the abyss; that is why I make you my emissaries of love, so that you may be united to the legions of peace and good may triumph, so that with your works, you may collaborate in the fulfillment of John's prophecy.

26. When that time of struggle that I have announced to you arrives and in which you will have to cross provinces, countries and tides, do not let yourselves be intimidated by the din of wars, nor allow your spirits to falter in the presence of death; but you must spread the wings of your ideal of peace, so that this prayer covers men; you must make use of all the gifts of your spirit, so that you sow my seed of love.

27. My manifestation at this time has made you know how great the struggle and the trials that await you will be: Will your love overcome the hardness of men? Verily I tell you, My peace will have to overcome; but I will not impose it by force, it will come through the conviction emanating from my teachings, and when it penetrates into the heart of the son most obsessed with evil, that heart will have finally reached peace.

28. The Master tells you: there will come a pain greater than all the sorrows and sins of men, that pain will be the cup of their repentance, before it, they will bow their necks and when they receive my forgiveness and my balm, my servants will confess.

29. I have given you, O my children, the gift of the word, because I am the Eternal Word; I am the divine word that never ceases; I am the divine concert and I have given you a part of it. That Word that I have deposited in your spirit will speak and your lips, which today are clumsy to express the conceptions and inspirations that I grant you, will be eloquent, docile and faithful interpreters of the divine concert. It will be a gift that will amaze you with which you will be ecstatic and through which men will enjoy and feel my presence. You have begun to develop that gift, because I say to you again: Of the abundance that is in your heart and in your spirit, your lips will speak.

30. Whatever is born from your heart, keep it, love it and when you give it up, it will have essence and life. If, on the contrary, you come to speak without telling the truth, it will be like a vain seed that will not germinate in the hearts of your brothers.

31. Disciples: Great are the lessons that I have granted you, because the end of this manifestation is already very close and you must not forget that it will be after this stage, when in your meetings my Word flourishes through communication from spirit to Spirit. It will be then when your lips deliver the great revelations of my Kingdom and with my message of love, you will penetrate all hearts and then men will say: How is it that this one knows how to read what was stored in my heart? But remember that it will not be you, it will be I who speak through you; because of these gifts you will not feel like lords, you will not be great among humanity, because your matter will not denote anything of that spiritual greatness. You will be one more among all, you will not wear badges that distinguish you, you will be apparently like everyone else; but in your spirit, at the moments that are propitious, my Arcanum will overflow.

32. You carry, by the grace of the Holy Spirit, the gift of clairvoyance, which is not limited to contemplating in the spiritual the messages of the Beyond. Clairvoyance is a broader gift, it is intuition, it is foreboding, it is prophecy; they are messages that you receive in your dreams. Clairvoyance is the spiritual gaze that can contemplate the past, the present and even the future, according to my will. How many times the seer, contemplating a viewpoint, will not know what he has seen and those who listen to his testimony, will understand that message.

33. Now the seers are in preparation and verily I say to you: You are all seers; some have developed in one way, others in another, but all of you have a spiritual gaze in a latent state. Those who, in the form of symbolic silhouettes, contemplate what my will is in their prayer, I have them in preparation, because after 1950 the mission that I will entrust to them will be very great and their responsibility will increase. Therefore I say to you: prepare yourselves, because when this word no longer resounds through the spokespersons, the multitudes, both believers and unbelievers, will greatly need your testimony; your voice of alert and preparation, will be like a torch in the middle of the night, you will be like heralds that awaken the peoples who are still asleep. Prepare yourselves, people, so that after 1950, you will be able to receive in your spirit the messages that descend from my love.

Love one another!

34. I have told you about your spiritual gifts and when you no longer listen to me in this form, you will discover in them all the greatness enclosed in your own being, you will listen to me again, and you will weep in wonder of so much love, of so much grace as I have clothed you; but you should not make use of the faculty of communicating by your understanding with the Spiritual World, after the year 1950 ends. The spiritual beings of light will continue to vibrate through the empowered and those who were not, but their manifestation will become present by inspiration. So they will continue to give you their healing balm and they will do wonders and their word will be inexhaustible among you.

35. But if, after some time of these manifestations, you begin to hear rumors that the Master or the Spiritual World have communicated again through the human understanding, you can deny it, because my word is one and my Law never varies.

36. You will live alert, O people, so that you may know how to distinguish the voice of the true prophets and the testimony of the apostles, from imposture! You will live alert so that you do not fall into the nets of falsehood and you will be the strengths of these times of struggle and of those that are to come; because a conglomerate of my disciples who will remain faithful to my teachings, will not be stained, nor will it be the soldier who abandons his banner of spiritual purity; the truth will be in them and I will manifest myself, I will speak to the other peoples and I will tell them: This is my Work, these are my disciples and the best sign that I will give to the world of those who are my emissaries, will be that, in the great trials, the false will fall and the faithful will remain firm. The false ones will renounce pain and the faithful will bless me; the false ones will turn their backs and the faithful will always be firm before my Law.

37. I want you all to be my faithful witnesses and my beloved disciples, and I am preparing you for this; but before I end my lesson for this day, I am going to tell you something that should not surprise you: I have spoken to you in my teachings of the called and the chosen. Do you think that a Father who is perfect like Me, can have predilections or make distinctions between his children? Can an evolved spirit accept that his Father gives some of his children and leaves others without inheritance?

38. When you begin to fulfill your mission and reach the nations, the most remote peoples, in the same jungle, you will find human beings and you will make them understand that you are all brothers, you will give them testimony of my Spiritualist Doctrine and you will marvel at the proofs of love that I am going to give you.

39. There, among those beings isolated from civilization, but also very far from human perversity, you will find great spirits who will come to increase the ranks of the people of Israel.

Love one another!

40. As you pass by, the sick will receive the balm and be healed; the sad will weep for the last time, but their tears will be of rejoicing. And in the face of these trials that you give, the multitudes will bless the Lord and his disciples, you will be acclaimed as on that day when your Teacher penetrated Jerusalem; but also among those who praise you, men and women will arise who will be full of the gifts that you possess. In some, his gift of prophecy will amaze you; in others, my balm will be incessant; in others my Word will spring up like crystal clear water and in this way you will see the gifts of the Holy Spirit arise from among your brothers, like an inexhaustible seed.

41. Then you will recognize that you are not the only ones, that you are only the spokespersons of God, those in charge of awakening humanity and telling it that man possesses in his spirit an inexhaustible flow of virtues and that the gifts I have given them to him as his Lord and as a Father. You will discover that before the justice of God's love, you are all equal, you are all given with the same grace in spirit and in truth. It will be then, when humanity tries to clarify in itself, the mystery of its existence, they will penetrate inside and recognize their own spirit. Then, raising their face to infinity, they will ask everything that they cannot understand.

42. Everything that you can teach them, you must make it known and everything that you cannot discover to them, because their knowledge corresponds to your Father, prepare for Me, through you, to reveal them, but first you must recognize your mission and if I still call you the people of Israel, there will come a day when all developing their own gifts will be equal before Me, before their Lord and will come to form one people that will be the People of God.

43. At the end of my lecture, your spirit from the Beyond, where he is recreating himself with my presence, united with the spiritual legions of peace, will send his feelings of love, his thoughts of peace and charity, to this humanity that, because it is divided into sects and religions, has not fully reached the light for his spirit. And what can you ask of the Father, if He has already given everything to you from the beginning? It is your conscience that allows your spirit to take the fruit to which it has become entitled.

44. When you pass through your paths of struggle, everything that you are going to need will already be deposited in them; you only have to do merits, that make you worthy of my love.

45. Why am I speaking to you like this, my children? Because I love you, because I am not pleased with your sufferings, the Father would always like to see on your face the spiritual smile of peace.

Love one another!

46. I bless you and once again I say to you: Be the worthy emissaries of my universal peace!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 312

1. The Master is among you again in fulfillment of His promise. He comes to entrust you with one more leaf of the Book that he will bequeath as a gift of love for his people. One more sheet, beloved disciples, that will be read, studied and understood by future generations.
2. Who but I could have revealed to you that you are living the Third Time? Who but Me could have told you that you are the people of Israel? You know this, and you have faith in it, because I have taught it to you. You are these, those and the same in spirit and I come to gather you into one family.
3. I am the one who has formed your family and in the same home I have placed spirits of various tribes. In the same family there are spirits of Levi, of Simeon, of Reuben, of Judah, members of various tribes, and when there is peace in them and they love each other, in truth and in spirit, the desire of the Father has begun to crystallize, the unification of all men.
4. Homes and families of Israel: When you feel that temptation is present in the bosom of yours, seek solitude, invoking Me, saying to me: "Master, unite and give us your strength, give us your sword and do not let as a father I do not know my children; do not let as a husband I do not know my companion or as a companion I do not know my husband". I will hear your prayer, I will defend you and I will make you come forward, because this is my will!
5. Today I come for mine and I have blown the sound bell calling you to congregation in this Third Time. Humanity will again look spiritually at the tribes gathered together, forming the people of Israel.
6. From the First time I filled you with pleasure, the nations or countries in that era did not have, greater sages than Solomon, more enlightened envoys than my prophets, more beautiful and chaste women than those of Israel, nor more perfect men than those of my people. I poured into their bosom the gift of wisdom, inspiration, beauty. I made the gifts of the Holy Spirit flourish and at that time you knew that you were God's chosen people, you knew that your Lord was with you and caressed you, you knew that I was your strong one and yet you became familiar with my gifts, with my caress and with my presence. That is why the Father's righteousness has fallen on you.
7. The tribes of Israel are very numerous by the spirit; from each one I will select 12,000 and I will mark them on their forehead, but the Israelite people do not concretize to 144,000. The chosen people are infinite.

Love one another!

8. The Master taught you in the Second Time, that many are the called and few the chosen and all the people of Israel will be called and from among them, I will point to the 144,000. In everyone I will pose peace, spirituality and the principle of spirit-to-Spirit communication.

9. The time is coming when men will give more importance to the spirit, and will be disillusioned by material science, which will cause them to fall into pain, disappointment and lethargy, but then the people of Israel will arrive, awakening those who sleep, lifting up those who have fallen and raising the dead, in imitation of the voice of Jesus, the one who said to Lazarus: "Get up and walk". When men are spiritualized, when their mind and feelings are elevated, they will know what they never knew through science. Then they will rise up with harmony, with fraternity, with noble ideas to live in the Kingdom that I have inspired men.

10. In your Father's house there are many abodes, which are the infinite rungs of the ladder that leads to perfection; from there the spiritual world descends to manifest itself among you. You have asked me many times from spirit to Spirit the reason for the existence of that immense number of stars, of those planets that shine on your world, and you have said to me: "Master, are those worlds empty? And I tell you, the time has not come when I will fully reveal it to you; when man attains spirituality, then great revelations will be made known to him and he will be able to communicate with those beloved beings of my Divinity, from spirit to spirit and the communication of thought of all the brothers will come."

11. But from today on know: all the worlds are inhabited by my creatures, nothing is empty, all are blessed gardens and orchards cared for by Mary, the Divine tenderness.

12. The Holy Spirit will speak again through your mouths of higher lessons, unknown to you and to humanity, when, beloved people? When there is spirituality in you and consecration in your mission.

13. I behold that the bread with which man is spiritually nourished is not the bread of my table, everything has become contaminated with the passage of time, everything has defiled and has left the heart and hand of man unclean; and I have come among you, people, communicating for sinful matters like yours, to give you a word that is wholesome and pure at heart. Do not superficially appreciate my word and my manifestations, because there is a lot of human imperfection in them, look for the meaning of my manifestations and you will look at the sweet face of the Master, you will hear the echo of his voice that your spirit still remembers.

Love one another!

14. My apostles of the Second Time, whom you have to imitate, implored the Holy Spirit to descend on their spirit and spoke under his inspiration. So I want you to prepare yourselves, people, because the spirit can speak through matter under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit.

15. So watch over yourselves, watch so that your understanding is not contaminated, watch over your heart, so that you can receive that dew of grace that I am sending you, that crystalline water that has to be kept at the source of your own being so that you may quench the thirst of the world.

16. Do not fear the judgment of men, beloved people, fear the divine judgment if you become creditors to him for your faults.

17. Never be ashamed to gather in such humble places as these, where you hear my word.

18. When they come to ask you if these enclosures are your temples, in all truth you will tell them no, that you are building your temple in the spirit.

19. Some will be surprised at your revelation, and others will scoff at your word.

20. You will not be offended by the mockery of your brothers if you keep in mind that whoever did it is because his ignorance does not allow him to contemplate the truth. You will have the compensation in those who, penetrating among yourselves to search you, come out amazed at the inner peace that illuminates each of my true disciples.

21. You, on the other hand, will never mock those who, in the midst of their religious fanaticism, are idolaters, because in addition to looking for me in material forms, they worship me in them. You will not need to point out to your brothers their mistakes, thus seeking to correct them, rather by doing so you would provoke their anger and exalt their fanaticism. It will be enough for you to practice my Doctrine with the spirituality that it demands, so that you may bring the errors of your brothers and sisters to the light of truth.

22. You will have to use a lot of patience, great charity and true love, if you want humanity to soon come to recognize the essence of my word and to pay true worship to it, as well as to recognize in every human creature a brother, spiritual and material, in God.

23. Who told you that you are only spiritually brothers? It will not be necessary for you to break your understanding to understand that the same origin that you have spiritually is your material origin, since everything has sprung from Me. I also remind you that on Earth, from one father and one mother, all of humanity comes.

Love one another!

24. Why then, if your spiritual ties are eternal and your human ties so deep, do you not love and recognize each other as brothers? Verily I tell you, it is because of the lack of spiritual knowledge among men, despite their religions.

25. The day that men, through meditation, inspired by the light that descends from consciousness to illuminate the brain and the heart of man, discover their essence, that day peace will begin to germinate among humanity. I also tell you that, once man has awakened to the spiritual light, there will be nothing and no one to stop him on his path of tireless seeker of truths. He will never again lose his freedom of spirit achieved after many pains and many tears.

26. It will not be necessary for Me to manifest Myself in the whole world through spokespersons so that the peoples will awaken and men will be freed from darkness. Those who believe that I have to lift up my word until the whole world hears it, are in error, because that would mean that the human brain is the only means I have to get my messages to the spirit of humanity, and I am going to prove to you the truth of that ancient prophecy in which it was revealed to you that there would come a time when the Divine Spirit would be poured out on all flesh and on every spirit.

27. Verily I tell you that this time announced by the prophet is precisely this one that you are living, this Era that is beginning and that you know as the Third Time.

28. The merit of this people will consist in carrying from heart to heart and from region to region this divine message, so that those who have awakened to the light of this New Dawn, receive in their hearts the seed of my word, once the earth has been fertilized with the dew of my grace.

29. In that Second Time I only made myself heard from one people and it was only three years that I used to give the world my word.

30. I brought the seed to you and taught my disciples how they should sow it. Once they learned from me., I entrusted the extensive lands to them to cultivate. this is the merit of those sowers who did not ask their Master to stay with them for longer than it was written, nor did they object, telling him that there were still many peoples and nations to know him. They knew that they had inherited the truth from their Master and that it was enough for them to overcome the darkness, to convert the world and make that divine seed perpetuate itself in all human generations.

31. Put away from your mind every erroneous idea that you sometimes forge and only concretize to what since the first days of my communication I have been revealing to you, since you know that each of my words is a law and that every law must be obeyed.

Love one another!

32. Beloved people, your heart is filled with satisfaction thinking that you are my disciples in this Third Time; but I tell you never to let vanity blind you, because if you fall into that weakness, you will even ignore your conscience, when it comes to claim your faults. Whoever does not begin by purifying and elevating his human life, cannot aspire to elevate himself spiritually, because his steps will be false and his works will have no seed of truth.

33. Therefore, see that sometimes, in my lessons, I descend from spiritual teaching to the council, so that you may conduct yourselves with righteousness within human life. I am speaking to the heart of man, exhorting him to regeneration, making him understand the harm that vices cause to the body and the evil that they cause to the spirit. I have told you that the man who allows himself to be dominated by a vice has forgotten that the spirit must not be overcome, he has forgotten that true strength consists in destroying evil with virtue.

34. That man overcome by the flesh, has denigrated himself, has disrespected himself, has descended from his elevated condition of man to that of a poor cowardly being to fight.

35. That man, instead of bringing light, bread and wine to his home, carries shadows, pain and death, makes his cross, that of his wife and that of his children heavy and hinders the spiritual journey of those around him.

36. I have spoken to the heart of the woman, mother and wife, who have not been able to keep the purity in the heart, nor have they been able to give the partner and the children, the warmth of tenderness and understanding.

37. How could you raise your spiritual life, men and women, if you have not corrected the great mistakes that exist in your human life before?

38. My Work requires that his disciples know how to bear witness with the purity and truth of the acts of his life.

39. To one and to another I ask: Do you have children? have mercy on them, then; if you could contemplate these spirits for a moment, you would feel unworthy to call yourselves their parents. Do not give them bad examples, take care not to make a fuss in front of the children.

40. I know that at this time, as never before, there are problems within marriages, problems to which they find only one solution: estrangement, separation.

Love one another!

41. If this humanity had the necessary notion of spiritual knowledge, it would not make such serious mistakes, because it would find in prayer and spirituality the inspiration to solve the most difficult trances and overcome the toughest trials.
42. My light reaches out to all hearts, to the sad and the defeated, to encourage them.
43. My strength is communicated to the weak so that they may soon rise up, with an iron will to transform their dark and empty existence into a luminous life through knowledge, virtue and spirituality.
44. I want, disciples, that you all preach by example, that you do not prevaricate, that you do not proclaim the truth and practice the opposite, that the fruit that you gather instead of being bitter, be pleasant.
45. People: Do not forget, therefore, that you must first fulfill your life on earth, so that later you may know how to be fulfilled in my Work.
46. Before continuing to lament your sorrows in the world, stop to meditate for a few moments so that you may find the cause of your afflictions.
47. I grant that you search until you find the cause of your pain, so that you can find a remedy, because it is up to you to prevent the pain from penetrating into your home. I assure you that not only will you find the cause of what makes you suffer, but at the same time the way to remedy your ills will be revealed. My charity will descend on those who have known how to pray and meditate, and that charity will be in your spirit and in your body like balm.
48. I will prove to you that the promised Comforter has come to you, to wipe away your tears and turn your pain into peace.
49. Come to Me, all of you who carry a sorrow hidden in your heart. You carry hidden the pain that a betrayal has caused you and your bitterness is very great because it was a loved one who hurt you deeply.
50. Come and meditate, so that prayer may enlighten you and you may know if at some time you were the cause of being betrayed, then prayer will serve to strengthen you in the idea that you should forgive those who betray you in your love, in your faith, in your trust.
51. Truly I tell you, the very moment you grant your forgiveness to whoever has offended you, you will feel my peace in fullness, because at that moment your spirit will have been united with Mine and I will stretch out my mantle to forgive you and cover you one and the other with my love.

Love one another!

52. I am forging you for when the struggle comes, therefore never think that your sufferings now are sterile. What do you want, people? You still need pain to show you its lessons.

53. This time of crucible and teachings for your spirit will pass, but it will leave its seed of faith, of experience, of wisdom and strength, in each of my disciples. Then the times of struggle will come when you will be persecuted, slandered and mocked, even by those who called themselves your friends, and with surprise you will see that in the face of betrayal you will not falter, that no one will be able to cause you disappointment anymore, because you will have learned to forgive and to be understanding and forgiving with your brothers.

54. I will bless my disciples every time they forgive and I will shower blessings on those who have been forgiven by you.

55. You are not alone in the world, there are beings floating around you in infinite number, who help and inspire you in all the steps of your life.

56. In order for you to receive that spiritual influence and that light, it is necessary that you pray, so that you may always be worthy of the help of high beings.

57. Be sensitive to spiritual influences and you will not have to stumble along the way.

58. The narrow way is the one that appears before your eyes, and it is necessary to watch and pray so as not to go beyond its limits. In him I want to meet you always, because those who come to Me by that path, will mean that they are clean of vice and falsehood.

59. Do you want to enjoy invisible sight, as well as the influence of spiritual beings of light? Do you also want to get rid of those who dwell in the shadows of their materialism and confusion? For I tell you that the secret consists in leading a quiet, simple life, in living with love, in cultivating in your home the seed of virtue.

60. My blessing descends on all; but while some know how to receive it and take advantage of its benefits, others reject it, stripping themselves of all the grace that it contains.

61. Those spiritual legions of which I have spoken are also part of my blessings that I send to you. My messengers and servants, at the instant of receiving divine inspiration, hasten to help their brothers who inhabit the earth, that planet turned by men into a valley of tears.

62. Only my Doctrine will be able to bring you into contact with the Spiritual World, bringing you closer to each other, as befits all the children of the Lord, who possessing spirit cannot be distant from each other, nor allow matter to be a barrier between those who inhabit the Earth and those who are in spirit.

Love one another!

63. Let my word continue to polish your hearts until it makes you truly sensitive to the pain of others.

64. You will never be able to fulfill your spiritual mission perfectly until the fibers of your heart have been sensitized.

65. Do not delay in your preparation, think that every second that passes, is wrapped in woes of pain that this humanity exhales, your sister.

66. When you arrived before the manifestation of my word, you presented to me the burden of suffering, your complaint, and you shed tears in torrents because you believed that no one on earth suffered as much as you. It was that your heart lived only for itself and your eyes were closed to every need or suffering of others; it was necessary for you to listen to my word, which is an eternal source of truth and light, so that the blindfold of darkness that covered your pupils, fell letting you look at reality. And the truth is that your sufferings, with being great, turned out to be small before you, when you began to consider other peoples of the Earth, through whom the war, formed by the hatreds, ambitions and revenge of men, has passed. Then you lowered your head in shame, to say to me: "Lord, forgive me, today I recognize that in my disagreement, when the pain became acerbic in my heart, I came to blaspheme, when I should have thanked you because my sufferings were incomparably less than those of other beings, but it was my ignorance that made me be unjust in front of You; today I understand my mistake, I ask forgiveness for all my offenses and I beg you that everything I asked for myself, you deign now to pour it on those who carry an immensely heavier burden heavier than the one I was carrying."

67. How different is your current way of praying if you compare it with the one you used before you heard this word! Why? Because it changed the way you feel and interpret the divine teachings.

68. Now I tell you, disciples, do not stop or pretend to believe that in order to practice true charity, it is enough to feel compassion, as you have done until today; no people, because there is still a lot to purify, to sensitize, there is still a lot of selfishness that it is necessary to combat as if it were bad weed; there is a lot of coldness that it is necessary to turn into spiritual warmth, so that at last, the feeling of love arises from your spirit, which is the source from which piety, charity and all noble and lofty feelings spring.

Love one another!

69. Then you will be able to undertake tasks and missions of which you would not feel capable now, because you still lack the strength that emanates from true love.

70. Now, people, do you think that you should passively wait for the hour when your spirit will be enlightened by that inspiration and your heart will be filled with that ideal? Do you think that just by listening to my word, you will be able to sensitize your fibers as necessary? No, people, at the same time that you are listening to my lessons, you have to go in search of those who suffer, to be in contact with pain, to taste the cup of bitterness of your brothers and feel with your senses the misery, the orphanhood, the disgusting vices, the diseases that fill you with horror, the darkness that overshadows troubled understandings, hunger, thirst and the restitution of spirits.

71. Only in this way will you be able to become teachers of those who suffer a lot in life, because if you only prepare yourselves through the study of my word and prayers, when you want to face reality and try to console, convert and heal, with sadness you will see that you are small before those who have suffered what you do not imagine and that they will rather be able to be teachers of you because of what they have suffered, because of what they have lived and experienced. Then your lips would have to be silenced and you might think that my Doctrine is not consoling and strong enough to relieve men of their sorrows and awaken in them faith and hope in my justice, in my forgiveness and in my love.

72. Where can you practice the lesson you are receiving, in order to prepare yourself? The opportunities abound in such a way that if you know how to observe, you will be able to verify that not a day of your life passes without at least one opportunity to do charity, in any of the multiple ways in which it can be practiced.

73. Through the gift of intuition of which I have made all men possessed, you will be able to discover many cases that are hidden in the secret of hearts, many tragedies that not only affect the earthly life of your brothers, but also affect their spirit.

74. How can we penetrate into the intimacy of those hearts, without injuring them and without desecrating their secrets? How to discover those hidden sorrows that overshadow the lives of your brothers? I have already told you: Intuition, that gift that is part of spiritual sight and that will have full development in you through prayer, will point out to you the way to calm the pain of each of your fellow human beings.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. I come to give strength to your understanding so that it can store everything that it pours out on you at this moment.
2. This is the time of great trials and great lessons, your spirit knows this and that is why he approaches my manifestation, eager for my revelations and my words; he understands that only with great preparation will he be able to truly take advantage of these trials.
3. Never as now has the spirit of humanity contemplated such an extensive field for its development and is already preparing to penetrate it, in search of the truth that it has lost and that it cannot find.
4. If I were to leave men alone in their search, they would be lost, but truly I tell you, if when he has gone in search of his doom I have not abandoned him, how can you conceive that I left him when he is going after the Truth? That is why I have come to you at this time bringing you a message full of revelations, which will soon be the beacon and the way for the spirit of humanity.
5. First I have reached this people that is being formed around my divine manifestation and tomorrow, when he is strong and able to teach, in him I will reach the other nations.
6. Understand the responsibility that these words contain for you and let your whole being feel the sweet weight of his cross.
7. You, people, are the missionary who in this Third Time will draw paths for the spirit of your brothers, paths of truth that lead the spirit to light and peace. You are the one who will have to establish spiritual bonds between men, so that peoples may come to harmonize and unite.
8. Today, despite being under the influence of my word, you are sleeping a peaceful sleep, because you have not realized the significance of this time nor the magnitude of the charges that you are receiving. But you are not always going to sleep, the whirlwinds are already coming to shake the foliage of these trees, under whose shade you have heard the divine nightingale trill so much, and when you look at how the branches shake and the trunk creaks, when you look at how the leaves, fruits and nests fall, then you will realize that you were sleeping, because you did not want to listen to the voice that from infinity warned you, spoke tirelessly so that you would live alert and never be surprised by pain.
9. Would it not be better for you to wake up now with the echo of my voice, than tomorrow with the roar of the storm?

Love one another!

10. Soon you will stop listening to my word and if you do not take it into account as a true disciple of my Doctrine should, tomorrow you will have to cry, but you cannot say that I did not tell you about dangers or ambushes, because then you will remember very clearly how at the time of my communication I took the understanding of all my spokesmen to tell you at every step: Watch and pray, because the struggle will be great and it is necessary that you be strong.

11. I will leave a prepared path, a path full of light for the spirit; I will fulfill as a Teacher for you and later, each of those who at this time have sat spiritually at my table to eat the bread of my word, will have to answer for each of the missions that have been entrusted to him for his spiritual journey.

12. What would be the answer that you would be pleased to give me at the moment of asking you for the fruit of your struggle? Of course, you wish in these moments that at that hour your answer would be good, because I tell you that from now on you do something so that your spirit gathers on the way the worthy fruit that makes it wait serenely for that moment.

13. Verily I tell you that your spirit will inevitably have to go through this trance, why then ignore it, thinking that at last it is only after this life when your spirit will have to give his harvest to the Father?

14. I give you time to meditate and to fulfill the mission that your spirit has come to fulfill at this time on Earth.

15. See that I treat you as a just and loving Teacher, who puts at your disposal all the means for you to achieve the peace that you must conquer.

16. Just as there are those who would never want to leave this Earth, there are also those who dream of getting away from it forever. I tell you one and the other that it largely depends on them that your wish is fulfilled.

17. If the one who longs to return to the spiritual valley leaves his mission on Earth completed, he will rise to those abodes and will not have to return to this world anymore; on the other hand, the one who feels great attachment to the material, if he knows how to take advantage of life for the good of his spirit, sowing good for others, it will be granted to return as many times as necessary, with the joy of his spirit; but if the one who wishes to get away from human life and longs for the spiritual life, has not fulfilled his mission, and the one who would like to inhabit the Earth always does not know how to take advantage of the opportunities that life offers him, his desires will not be fulfilled; the first will have to return to the world and return to the spiritual valley, to return again to the Earth, without ceasing, until he fulfills his mission and reaps the fruit that he often rejected. The second, he will have to be retained in the spiritual world until, identified with his consciousness, he forms in himself the firm purpose of fulfilling on Earth the mission that he always left unrealized.

18. Do not think that I will reproach you if in your heart you showed me love for our life in the world. If your desire is noble and if you want existence to honor my name, I will have nothing to claim from you; but if your rooting in the world is due to insane ambitions or low passions, then I will be the first to tell you that you are not worthy to inhabit this world that I have showered with blessings for the advancement of your spirit.

19. Love Me, live in my Law, harmonize with everything and everyone, and the place where you live will be indifferent, because what will be worth will be your spiritual elevation.

20. You do not know how meritorious it is for the spirit to rise up in the midst of his human condition, overcoming all the temptations of the world. To achieve these merits, I allowed your spirit to incarnate and made him dwell in material worlds, wisely prepared by Me.

21. Every world, every dwelling place, was created so that in it the spirit would evolve and take a step towards its Creator and thus, advancing more and more on the path of perfection, it could have the opportunity to arrive white, clean and modeled at the end of its journey, to the summit of spiritual perfection that is precisely to dwell in the Kingdom of God.

22. To whom it seems impossible to come to dwell in the bosom of God? Ah poor minds that do not know how to reflect! Have you already forgotten that you sprouted from my womb, that is, that you have dwelt in It before? It is no wonder that everything that has sprung from the source of life will return to it in due time. Every spirit, when it sprang up from Me, was a virgin, but then on its way many were defiled; however, everything being planned wisely, lovingly and justly by Me, by your Father, I went ahead to put on the path that the children would have to travel, all the necessary means for their salvation and regeneration.

23. If that spiritual virginity was profaned by many beings, there will come a day when, purifying all their faults, they acquire their original purity, and this purification will be very meritorious before my eyes, because the spirit will have achieved it through great and incessant tests for their faith, their love, their fidelity and their patience.

Love one another!

24. You will all return by the way of work, struggle and pain to the Kingdom of Light, from which you will no longer need to incarnate in a human body, nor dwell in a world of matter, because by then your spiritual reach will already allow you to make your influence felt and send your light from one world to another.

25. Why do you hold back your spirit, preventing it from advancing and thereby delaying its entry into the Kingdom of Light, where there is everything great that a spirit can aspire to?

26. Work without ceasing, even a little every day, always thinking of reaching the abode that truly corresponds to your spirit, that mansion that I sometimes call “the Promised Land”, where one does not cry, suffer, or die.

27. This Doctrine leads the spirit to that state of elevation and light, which is the way, it is a beacon, it is sustenance and a road of travel.

28. Blessed is everyone who rises on the wings of thought when he hears this word, because when he returns from his ecstasy to the daily struggle, he will carry within him a light that will make him advance step by step, bringing him closer every day to that eternal mansion, from which you all sprouted and to which you all will return.

29. I am going to speak in these moments to all the disciples who would give their lives rather than disobey my commands. Let my word reach the most sensitive fibers of your heart, because in this word you will lean many times in future times.

30. If you truly keep my essence, you will not be one of those who regret the departure of my spiritual manifestation, since you knew how to store my revelations and teachings. There will be no mourning, no sadness, no disagreement, no confusion in you, because you will see everything fulfilled according to my promises, and you will not for a moment pretend to rebel or stand in the way of the fulfillment of my will.

31. From today, have the full knowledge that everyone who takes this step towards spirituality firmly, will soon see the prize, feel my presence in front of him and within him, will enjoy my inspiration and the progress of all his spiritual gifts will be palpable. It will not simply be the belief that I am close to you, but the reality of my presence before your spirit.

32. Those who think that after 1950 they will fall into stagnation or lose spirituality are mistaken, because it will be precisely after the departure of my word that some of you will begin to take real steps of advancement and understanding in my Doctrine.

Love one another!

33. If you believe that during the time of my communication you have reached great heights of spirituality and that this has been the cause of my word flourishing in the minds and on the lips of the spokespersons, you are in great error, because I tell you with all truth, that until now you have not taken a firm step towards spirituality, which is the goal pointed out by my loving word to all my children.

34. It is necessary that the spokesman disappear, that you cease to hear my thoughts humanized on the lips of these creatures, that you renounce all rite and all symbolism, so that you can find the essence of Spiritualism.

35. I say this to both of you, to those who long for the progress of their spirit and the flourishing of my Doctrine at this time, and also to the conservatives of traditions, routines and customs, who believe that by practicing their material cults, they are complying with the Law.

36. Yes, people, you know very well that within a pure, simple and essentially spiritual doctrine such as the one I have come to reveal, you have once again created an external cult, which, in the course of time you have come to believe that he constitutes my Work; but the time has come when I speak to you with absolute clarity, because you are already strong to know this truth.

37. Next to the wheat of my word also grew the nettle and the tares of your errors, but here one of my parables given in the Second Time will be fulfilled, the one that taught to let the grass and the wheat grow together without trying to mow the grass before the wheat had ripened, because there was the danger of also cutting the good seed.

38. This will be done in this time, blessed people. The hour is marked for the sickle of my righteousness to descend to reap the fields in which my seed was sown so that at last, separated the truth and the essence of my Work from all human influence, you may rejoice in the contemplation of my light and come to truly possess the knowledge of this divine revelation.

39. The hour is also marked when the same sickle descends to each religion to mow its fields in order to separate the truth from everything that is false and impure they had.

40. The entire human existence has evolved. His science, his way of thinking and living, his knowledge, his conquests and his ambitions; he has only neglected his spiritual part, he has left only the spirit in abandonment, without wanting to take charge of all the rights that the spirit has within life. And that is why humanity has been spiritually stagnant for many centuries.

Love one another!

41. How little men give to their spirit through their religious cults! How thirsty, how hungry and what a great need of light the spirit of humanity has!

42. The wheat that has allowed to grow is very few and the weeds are many, but I am going to help everyone to mow the fields with the implacable sickle of the truth, which at last you will see shining in your world.

43. People who come to listen to the lessons of the last year of my communication between you, let them be engraved in the most subtle, in the most sensitive of your understanding and of your heart, so that the light of consciousness that shines in the highest of your being can act one of you.

44. The mark that I will leave for you will be one of peace, so that when you no longer hear this word and you will have to bear witness to it, you will say: "The Master passed by, leaving us the way prepared with his divine light".

45. My mark will be engraved in the recesses of your heart, there where the inner sanctuary is.

46. It is necessary that my word be engraved in your mind, so that you study it deeply, only then will your faith and your strength be true.

47. You are going to contemplate how many will not believe in the departure of my word, but in truth I tell you that in that you will know that they did not believe in my presence either while I have manifested myself in this way. Those who have been fluctuating between doubt and belief, even if they have appeared to have absolute faith in my manifestation, will be precisely those who deny that my word has ceased, because those who have truly believed in what I have revealed and commanded you, will not be able to deny one of my words.

48. Those who today have doubted and have not had full faith, as the disciple's faith towards the Master should be, those will remain parked on their way, feeding on the monotonous and routine rite, created by themselves. On the other hand, those who have now believed Me will necessarily have to continue believing in Me, even after the manifestation of my word has concluded. They will be obedient to my commands and will do their best to interpret my teachings fairly. They will have an ideal: that of spirituality, and they will have a light that will always accompany them: faith.

49. My gaze will be on the work of this people, once the stage of my communication has passed, to reward every obedient disciple, granting him my charity, encouraging him to continue on his journey, always inspiring new steps of spiritual advancement. I know that among this people there are those who not only believe in my word, but also consider it just and judge it perfect that the Father put an end to his communication in this form, so that the struggle for spirituality can begin. These hearts have the certainty that there will be no loneliness or emptiness in them and that my presence will be more sensitive, because in that way they will approach a new form of communication with my Divinity, a purer and more perfect stage, because it will be communication from spirit to Spirit.

50. The time is not far off when your brothers will come to you questioning you about my revelation, demanding your testimony about the proofs that I have given you of my truth, and how different will be the way in which some and others testify about my Work; as long as some stick strictly to the truth of what they heard, others will have to look for arguments to justify their confusion.

51. It is necessary that I speak to you in this way, beloved people, so that you may reflect in time and enter into a thorough examination of your works, thoughts, feelings, words and purposes, leaving it to your conscience to preside over this manifestation and that examination.

52. This moment is necessary for you to fully open your eyes to the truth, because you will be able to rectify if you have erred and you will be able to make up for lost time.

53. Great will have to be the satisfaction of those who bring my Doctrine to triumph and make it known in all its purity and truth, and I, as a Teacher who loves you very much, want that great joy to be experienced by all my students.

54. Listen to me, people: I have many wonders stored for you in my Arcanum to reward your spirituality; but I will wait until you have all united as brothers, until you are all obeying my commands to overflow on your spirit and on your matter the torrent of light, charity, consolation and revelation that I reserve for the days of your spirituality.

55. This word, transmitted through all my spokespersons, cannot have greater clarity. Once understood by all, my justice will be pending to contemplate those who rise up in pursuit of greater spirituality, as well as to judge the works of those who still seek his kingdom in this world.

56. Who made man from the beginning look for an orientation for his actions? Who made him search in the depths of his being for his immortal essence? The spirit; he was the one who has been revealing to him that a higher nature encouraged and enlightened him.

57. Man, through the gift of intuition and revelation and through his intelligence, although slowly, has given himself, from the most remote times of his existence, to search for his origin, his essence, the cause of his being, the reason for his permanence in the world and the purpose for which he was created.

Love one another!

58. Since he realized that there were faculties in him that differentiated him from other creatures, he had the idea that a higher destiny was reserved for him among all the beings of Creation, and slowly the intuition of a God, the existence of the spirit and therefore the need to raise a cult or spiritual tribute to the One from whom he felt to come, was born in the depths of his being.

59. Hence the spiritual evolution of humanity begins, an evolution that has not been the same in all men because these, divided into races and separated by nationalities, customs and languages, some have advanced more than others, some have had a way of raising their worship to God and others have adopted different forms.

60. I have shed my light on all men, revealing to them the only existing truth, but you see how each man and each people feels, thinks, believes and interprets in different ways.

61. These different ways of thinking of men have originated their divisions, since each people or race follows different paths and feeds different ideals.

62. The majority have moved away from the luminous and true path, believing that fulfilling the divine Law implies sacrifices, renunciations and superhuman efforts, preferring to create for themselves religions and sects, whose fulfillment and practices are easier for them to perform, believing thus to satisfy the needs of light and elevation that they feel in their spirit.

63. Many centuries and many eras have passed without men realizing that it is not a human sacrifice to fulfill my Law and that, instead, they do sacrifice flesh and spirit in the world by shunning my commandments. They have not realized, they have not wanted to understand that, whoever fulfills my word, has to find true happiness, peace, wisdom and greatness that materialized men conceive in such a different way.

64. The moral and scientific world that surrounds you has been the work of men of material ideals, of men who have only sought the material improvement of humanity and I have allowed them to do their work, take it to its limit, know its results and reap its fruits so that they can gather the light of experience in it. In that light my justice will be manifested, and in that justice my Law will be present, which is Love.

65. When men recognize their mistakes and rise up in pursuit of the true path, it will be because they have awakened, because they have repented, because they have been enlightened and then their works will have not only the human purpose, but also the spiritual one.

66. Each people, religion, sect, science or man, carries in itself its part of falsehoods and errors, as well as its part of truth, but the moment will come when the need to unite, as a powerful and irresistible force brings them closer, to contribute each his seed, in a desire to harmonize all. For this there will have to be struggles, disputes and confusions, but they will be necessary for everyone to reach the only conclusion, which is the immutable truth of my existence and of my Law.

67. At the end of the struggle, men, already at peace with themselves and with their fellow men, will understand that in order to achieve the goal of knowledge and to experience true peace, it is essential to live in communion with the Divine Law, which precisely proceeds from the love of the Creator. At the same time they will understand that it is not necessary to profess so many and so diverse religions in order to be able to preserve oneself in goodness and morality, but that, to achieve true harmony among all and have a morality that is beyond the simply human, it is enough to carry in your heart the word that you call the Doctrine of Christ and that to embrace it you will have to live it and love it with simplicity and humility.

68. The light of the revelation that I have sent you at this time, I have translated it into a humble and simple word through my interpreters or spokespersons so that all humanity knows it and helps it in its awakening, now that everyone is looking for means and material solutions to save themselves from the chaos in which the world is sinking; now that no one tries to be spiritually inspired to find in Me the answers to their questions and the solution to their problems.

69. My word will come to palaces and humble homes, knocking on the doors of hearts, making spirits tremble, healing, consoling the sick in body or spirit and illuminating minds in darkness.

70. Blessed are those who receive it serenely, those who listen to it and meditate on its meaning, because it will be fertile seed in their hearts.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 314

1. Once again I have listened to you and the union of your prayers has been the best hymn with which you have given me.
2. A fruit of love emerges from each of you that is like a note of harmony with your Father and the union of your thoughts forms a concert full of spiritual purity.
3. In some I contemplate that this note is prayer, it is an action of grace for the benefits they have received from Me.
4. In others, that thought is one of sadness and bitterness because of the vicissitudes they have encountered on the path. But with the union of these thoughts you form an act of faith, which is the homage and respect for my Divinity.
5. That is the communication that the Father expected from the spirit of his children; that is the offering of love, which you had never wanted to give him.
6. But the prayer that I have taught you throughout the ages and which you have not always been able to practice due to lack of spiritual development, is the one that is guiding you and under its light you are reaching true spiritual communication with your God.
7. While you are under the influence of my word, the world, with its paths strewn with thistles, disappears for you.
8. On the seventh day, your matter rests from its earthly labors and your free spirit, like a lark, comes after the inexhaustible source of my wisdom. He comes before my manifestation and is strengthened by the outpouring of my love that I offer him in the teaching of my word.
9. I am not looking for faith in some or unbelief in others. I am not here to look for great merits in some or small in others. No, people. My divine love is perfect, I am the Father of all and by giving you my teaching, I give you the same essence, the same love.
10. If humanity as a whole listened to my word, there would be no blessings in it for some, and for others I claim, or my claim would be general or my blessing would be for everyone; but it is the time when I communicate through the human understanding and not everyone will contemplate this manifestation. The number of my witnesses destined to listen to my teaching through the mouthpiece is very small, but truly I tell you, if these witnesses know how to prepare, humanity will hear my word through their lips, because everyone will know that the Holy Spirit was teaching you through human understanding.

Love one another!

11. Therefore, as a Father, I am preparing you so that after 1950, when you go after the multitudes and have to speak in my name, my word, which is true, will not be mixed with impurity and lies. May it spring up like a torrent of crystal clear water, because the origin of these waters, which is my Spirit, is clean and pure, and those that flow from your lips must also be pure.

12. I want you to always find yourselves clean, to be like an oasis among men, where all those who are thirsty for truth can quench their thirst and not find in those waters the impurity of the mire.

13. When this time of teaching has passed, you will say to me, "Father, why have you been among us for so little time? Why did you leave so soon? And I will answer you: The duration of my teaching to my disciples of the Third Time, was marked by the clock of eternity, and in it you will be able to understand and continue the lessons of past times, I have not come to give you a different teaching.

14. I must give you in my commands until the last of my words so that you do not hesitate at the time of trials; it is my will that you have an answer for each question, for each doubt a ray of light, for each weakness the strength of my Law, and thus you will succeed in your fulfillment, recreating your spirit in the most beautiful and sublime mission that I have given you since the beginning of time, which is to redeem and forgive for love, to practice the good, not for the good of yourselves, but to please your Father and perfecting your spirit.

15. The practice of your mission will give you peace and when you find yourselves strong by the virtue of love, you will teach this humanity that today I find naked, hungry and sick, to which only the practice of good will bring for its spirit the balm that is the peace of God.

16. That will be the teaching that you will bring in my name to humanity, when the well-being and peace that is the supreme gift of the spirit, they will not find in science, nor in riches, nor in the affections of this world; then they will find on their way the humble brother, my disciple, my apostle who without flaunting, without proclaiming his mission, he will teach with his works of love and truth. Then men will discover the secret of peace and will cleanse their hearts to take from my Kingdom the perfect peace, because the peace of men is often made by the fear of one another. That apparent peace is anxiety; with it there is no rest in the spirit.

17. Fight, disciples, form in the hearts of my children a kingdom of peace, from which they can live in a better world, a strong world, not like the one that seems fragile to me today, because with a weak breath or shock of the elements, I could destroy the vain and arrogant work of men; but it is the work of my children and I respect it, I allow it to bear fruit, because I know that at last, tired of their works, they will accept the teachings of my love.

18. All my works have love and justice as their principle. Everything that you contemplate, that you come to know through the understanding, even the smallest of atoms, lives and pulsates in a path of love and justice, because everything has been created by Me, and in my Spirit there is no impurity, nor is there imperfection.

19. Many of the great works that man shows me, and to which he has devoted his life, his strength and his pride, do not have love and justice as their principle, and every work that does not have that principle will be destroyed and will only leave the light of experience to men as its fruit.

20. Man has completed his new life in science, investigating and forming his tower of pride, his tower of Babel, from which he does not worship me, does not recognize me; but truly I tell you, it will be man who is confused and in his confusion destroys his new tower of Babel. Then humanity will remember that man from the first time built his tower of vanities, of distrust of Me, and the consequences that he had in the past times, will be repeated in the Third Time.

21. Materialism, pride and arrogance, will be brought down, and confusion will come among men.

22. The wise will doubt their wisdom, the men of science, believing to find the goal, will find an unfathomable arcanum. The elements will turn against the scientists, because they have not been used with love and there will be chaos among men.

23. Remember that I am the beginning and the end, science and knowledge. I have given that light to men, and I have been recreated in their works, when they have put them at the service of good. When they have taken the gifts and virtues with which I have adorned them, for the development of the spirit and the mind, then they have worshiped me, they have faithfully fulfilled the mission that I entrusted to them; but when they have put their gifts at the service of evil, vanity, the desire for greatness, then they have not obeyed me, they have twisted the path, they have offended me. But in my wisdom I have used them to carry out my divine plans, I have taken them as instruments of my justice, as an example for humanity.

24. Am I the enemy of science? Am I an obstacle to the progress and evolution of my children? Whoever believed this, it is that he has not been able to interpret my word, has not understood the Father in his truth, because every gift or faculty that exists in man, must have development, because evolution is a Universal Law. Everything has to be perfected in my creation, you all have to return to Me, clean, perfect and in multiplication. But if for a moment I have interfered with the will of man, it is because sin and human evil intention find a limit in my justice.

Love one another!

25. When humanity has passed through this crucible, when the light of truth rises victorious over the darkness, then, O beloved people, men will build on firm foundations the new tower, which will be a temple of recognition to God, a sanctuary of peace where there will never be discussion about my existence, where the knowledge of one, is that of all; there there will be no idolatry, mysticism, or adultery to my Law. Then men will, with my help, raise up, above this valley of tears, a world of peace, where all the virtues flourish, where all the sciences are perfected; in the bosom of all the institutions they will feel my voice vibrate that will tell them: "Love one another", and in their harmonious life men will see a reflection of the eternal mansion.

26. If, in the midst of his imperfections, man has discovered so much, what will it be when he watches and prays and comes to Me? What will it be when he approaches my source of light and truth, with respect, humility and love? The Holy Spirit will overflow in men all the revelations that he has retained in his arcanum; when that is, it will not be necessary for the scientist to break his understanding by consulting his books, because his spirit will know how to lead him to the inexhaustible source of my wisdom; there he will find me waiting for him, always waiting for him to reveal new and great lessons; so I will lead you from revelation to revelation, from dwelling place to dwelling place, from perfection to perfection, to eternity.

27. For those coming times I prepare you, you will all be witnesses of the fulfillment of these prophecies, you will all have the joy of being a harmonious note in the concert of the Lord. If in your profanations to my Law I use you to manifest my justice, so also when you live in harmony with my commandments, I will use yourselves, to reward you with my revelations, with my messages of love.

28. Now I am erecting a sanctuary in the hearts of my children, but in this building I have to count on the help of all of you.

29. What sanctuary is the father referring to, O people? to that of your spirit, who at this time I behold him in ruins, but I will help you in his restoration.

30. The sanctuary of the Lord has always existed, it has no beginning and no end, it is his own work, it is his divine and infinite Spirit, which is waiting for your preparation, so that you feel inside him, where everything is harmony and perfection.

Love one another!

31. Your planet, being an atom in the middle of the immensity of the Universe, has the mission of being an image of that harmonious temple.

32. Therefore, when you come to this recognition, let it not be just a word or a theory, no, disciples, let it be something that you feel and live; then you will not need the quarry temples, your spirit will not seek those places that prevent you from knowing your Lord better, it will seek freedom, and in the blessed grace that I have entrusted to it, it will find the scale of its perfection.

33. It will be then that man will feel accompanied and contemplated by Me, when he sees that there is no unclean dust under his plant, then he will understand that his home is a small sanctuary for Me, that his world, being an atom among the immensity of Creation, forms as a whole the Universal Sanctuary of God.

34. All the worlds in which my children are being perfected, are like an infinite garden; today you are tender bushes, but I promise you that the crystalline waters of my teachings will not lack you, and that with their irrigation you will grow in wisdom and mor, until someday in eternity, when the trees are full of fruits in full maturity, the Divine Gardener can recreate himself in his work, tasting the fruits of his own love.

35. This is how I prepare you, disciples, I open the Book of Life before you, so that you will no longer look for a certain place to worship me, so that at any place or moment you may feel me, whether in the fields, the valleys, the mountains or the sea; your presence in any place is enough to make it sacred, because I am in you.

36. If I speak to you in this way and teach you, it is to take away the fanaticism that by tradition you have had, not to create a new fanaticism among you.

37. See that my teaching, while it is profound, is simple and clear.

38. Before you become teachers, I want to contemplate you as the good disciples, that you learn from Me, so that men do not confuse you, that you answer every question firmly and truthfully, with gentleness and love, because that word penetrates more into hearts.

39. I have told you that on many occasions a word of wisdom and love has been enough for a spirit to be saved, that that word has not been lost, because it has remained as a seal of eternal fire in that spirit, and that word that was his salvation, he not only carried it in his earthly life, but to the Beyond. That is why I come to inherit you with my word, which is like a key that opens the path of peace for the spirits. Do not be afraid of crossroads, do not be bent by vicissitudes, destroy doubt, deepen in my Doctrine, and that strength will give you great happiness. Woe to the weak, woe to those who have not been strengthened in my teaching, for they will stumble along the way!

40. I want my people, my witness, my disciple, to be the strong one on the roads, so that he saves the crowds that I am going to put in his path.

41. Today you are not able to understand the strength of your spirit, because you are still weak in the faith, but I will strengthen that faith with great trials; and the confidence that you have in Me, you must also have in yourselves, since the gifts that you carry I have given them to you.

42. Soon my communication through the human understanding will end and after 1950 you will not hear me through this communication again, but you will not look for those who were spokespersons or faculties to invoke me or invoke my spiritual world. Not in the greatest trial will you attempt to profane my will.

43. Prepare yourselves, so that with the strength of my teachings you will prevent the progress of many events and avoid those that are my will, but if you sleep, those tests will have to come and hinder your work.

44. How many men and women are walking on paths different from the one I have traced out to you, carrying in their spirit the same gifts that you possess. If these men and women find in you the good teacher, they will know the reason for these gifts and will reach a broad development in the knowledge of my teachings. But if they do not find the good teacher on their way, some will be confused, others will take their gifts to develop them under their own idea and will, others will be instruments of invisible forces, which may well be of light, but they can also be of darkness.

45. Therefore, disciples, do not sleep for your fulfillment; after 1950 I am going to entrust you with some time to meditate on your mission, and in that meditation you will reach the unification of knowledge in my teaching. Through that unification you will face the events and the struggle.

46. Thus I warn you of all trials and in this last year of my presence among you under this manifestation, I will tell you about all the dangers and give you the way to overcome them.

47. Listen carefully to what I am going to tell you: In the bosom of a great Church, ministers will speak to humanity of the Holy Spirit. They will talk about the Third Half. They will talk about the Seven Seals. They will make the call to the peoples and will pretend to choose and point out the one hundred and forty-four thousand with the mark with which I have already pointed out those who have been my will. But I will touch all men, in the shepherds of humanity I will manifest myself through consciousness and I will subject them to great trials. At that time I will know which of you I will use to give proof to those, I will speak through you with the preparation that I have come to give you.

Love one another!

48. It will not be men who make known to humanity the revelations of the Holy Spirit, because in the high judgments of the Lord, only He.

49. The Trinitarian Marian Spiritualist Doctrine has not been revealed to you by any man. I, as Father, from the First Time announced it to you through my prophets. Through Jesus the Word of the Father, I announced it to you, I promised it to you as a manifestation not very far away.

50. In this Third Time communicating by the human understanding, I came to fulfill my promise to you and to reveal to you the lessons that were hidden. It was not man who gave the gifts to your spirit, I entrusted it to you, when you gushed from Me.

51. It was not man who traced the Trinitarian symbol on your forehead, it was the Lord who pointed it out to you in the spirit. It was not man who ordered your mission, it was my omnipotent voice.

52. How could the Father allow such a desecration and confusion to men? I, the slain Lamb, am the only one worthy to untie the Seals of the Book of Wisdom, of the great Book of Life, which contains the destiny of everything created. I, the Alpha and Omega of the Divine Word, am the only one who can tell you the intimate revelations of my Divinity. How am I to allow the profane and disrespectful, to take the divine lessons according to his will, to surprise the ignorant, and become great among men?

53. Outbreaks of these desecrations will appear, but it will only be so that you, beloved people, wake up. Signs of desecration, of false testimonies, of false miracles will appear among men, false prophets will arise, false manifestations that will attribute to my Divinity; but that will be only a proof of the desire for advancement of the spirits, for the coming of the Holy Spirit, for the fulfillment of my prophecies and all my promises.

54. Do not delay the time of my spiritual arrival among men; do not be, with your unpreparedness, an obstacle to my manifestation among humanity through your works, because although you are not the Redeemer, nor will you proclaim that you are going to save men, nor are you the only ones in this work, you were the fertile land that patiently waited for my seed of redemption. You are a part of my legions of light, of my armies of peace and truth that at this time are already fighting for the establishment of peace, but I am preparing you to fulfill your mission as the strong Israel, a mission that you have not fulfilled throughout the ages, but that today you must conclude so that you may arrive at this mansion of light that awaits you, from which you will contemplate broader horizons, where you will practice my justice and my love and you will rise up the ladder of perfection to occupy the place that corresponds to you in the bosom of God.

55. Are these the fantasies I'm giving you? No, people. To you as humans, I give the moral teaching and I clothe you with virtue so that you may live with love and peace in your home, so that your bread may not be bitter. My Doctrine imparts well-being, strength and progress, but this sustenance is not enough for your spirit. The spirit needs a superior delicacy to continue, after the death of its matter, its journey to infinity; for that day I come to give to the spirit teachings that seem fantasies to man, deep and unfathomable lessons for the most awakened imagination. I entrust this key to your spirit, so that with it he may open all the doors he encounters in his path and thus continue his journey towards his spiritual perfection.

56. My Doctrine contains all the teachings. It is "the way, the truth and the life." That is why you must practice it at every moment of your existence.

57. Give the divine the most sacred place in your spirit and give matter its due! Give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's!

58. If you learn to be fair in your life, your step will be firm and doubt and uncertainty will disappear.

59. When the time comes for your preaching, when your weaknesses and superfluous practices have disappeared, when you only occupy yourselves with what is necessary and high for your spirit, then you will enjoy a greater time to practice my Work, and when you find on your way the needy of what you possess, you will not show yourself as Thomas in doubt, or as Peter in his moment of cowardice, neither will you be like Judas, weak before vanities and temptations.

60. Your spirit says to me: "Master, why do you compare us with those extraordinary spirits?" And the Master says to you: It is true, my disciples of the Second Time were great spirits who worked among humanity for their spiritual advancement, an advancement that had not been achieved by men of that time, not even at the present time. But they were spirits like you and they were also humans like you. Their virtue fought against their imperfections, but their spirit being stronger, overcame human weaknesses and devoted themselves to the practice of my teachings, achieving through their virtue and their love, the faithful fulfillment of my Doctrine, and the example that each of them left was worthy of the Teacher who taught them.

Love one another!

61. You will give great examples worthy of the Master who has come to speak to you in this Third Time. Why do you doubt Me and you? I wait patiently for you to interpret my word and I want you also to teach humanity with patience.

62. I, the most patient teacher, explain to you clearly the lesson that you have not understood, and the test that you did not know how to overcome I put it back in your path and when you overcome it, your spirit feels strong and thanks me; then the Teacher taking the Book of Wisdom teaches you a new lesson.

63. But when that book is stored in the chest of your heart, the Master will tell you: You are no longer the disciples, you are the teachers. Go to the humanity that ignores my revelations and open before it the Book of Wisdom and with the same patience with which I have taught you, teach your brothers.

64. If I have shown you your defects, it was so that you could correct them, and you too, when you go among your brothers and find the same defects in them, remember that they be corrected with patience and with love.

65. Have I brought violence into my teachings? Peradventure have I used the whip to teach you? No, disciples, I have gently forgiven you. You men: Are you already practicing patience with the partner? You women: Have you been patient with your husband? And both spouses: Have you had patience to correct your children? If you have practiced in that way, you will have imitated me, if you have not done so, I forgive you, but I will test you on the way until you come out ahead.

66. I leave you once again my word as a seed of love. When you go to sow it, think that the material seed is not born at the moment of sowing, much less can it bloom and bear fruit. All this required love, merits and self-denial to cultivate.

67. The land that I grant you is the heart of humanity, the seed is my revelation as the Holy Spirit, consecrate yourselves to your cultivation, love it, bless it, because with your example you will be teaching new farmers, who will be with you the sowers of the Third Time.

68. Learn to know my teaching. Where can you find her? Is it in the word that the speaker pours out? No, disciples, you have my teaching in the essence of this word. When you communicate spirit to Spirit with your Lord, how will you be able to recognize my divine voice? In the voice of your conscience, there you will have me eternally teaching you.

69. My love will touch your most sensitive fibers, but it will be harmony with your conscience, which will make you listen to my divine concert and many of you will contemplate me in the sweet silhouette of Jesus. I must warn you that the silhouette of

Love one another!

Jesus is not the perfect way in which you will contemplate me. If I said to you in times past, "Every eye will see me," I gave you to understand that you would all know the truth, although I must tell you that I will limit Myself according to the evolution of each spirit. But when you ascend the ladder of perfection, then you will behold me in all my splendor.

70. For now, do not try to imagine me in any way, meditate: If your spirit being limited is essence, it is light, what form can the Universal spirit of Your Lord, which has no beginning and no end, have? Leave the unfathomable in the privacy of my arcanum, watch and pray, and when human death sets your spirit free, I will open one more veil in my infinite book of revelations, so that he may know the Father and know himself, so that when you reach the Afterlife, you will be ecstatic at the contemplation of a better world, of a wonderful world that awaits you, but that will not be the last you die.

71. Pray, people, pray for humanity; with your prayer or without it, I am with everyone, but I long for the precept of loving one another to flourish among my children.

72. I have visited your dwelling, and contemplated your needs, I have left you a present of love. You have not wanted to learn my divine language. I do know yours, even if it is imperfect.

73. Walk firmly in my path and you will find it strewn with wonders. Who told you that the time of miracles has passed? Is not your existence a miracle of love? Do you not sense the danger that looms around you? Do you not sense the danger that surrounds your world? Why don't you dog? Because a miracle of love protects you.

74. Everything that surrounds you has been created by Me as a wonderful miracle of love, to adorn my beloved children.

75. The time of miracles is in eternity. I am an infinite miracle of love for all my children.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 315

1. Blessed are the people who have come to the call of their Lord. My book opens before you to reveal one more lesson. The teaching that flows from my Spirit is essence and life for yours, take and eat of it, because it is the bread of eternal life.
2. I am sowing my Doctrine in the hearts of these multitudes and I will have to reap the fruit in due time. My word will not be lost, because I am keeping it in the most sensitive of your being, which is the spirit.
3. Calm your hunger and thirst at this table of love, forget your misery and heal from your ailments, so that you can truly enjoy these moments.
4. The fire of pain burns your heart and only the crystalline water of my word can quench it, that is why I invite you to listen to me, so that you may live and regain peace.
5. Yes, people, I want to make you possessors of my peace, so that later you will go to spread it on the roads and peoples of the Earth; I have called you to prepare and become emissaries of my message of peace. Think that you are not the only ones who need me at this time, but that all humanity that surrounds you is thirsty for love and light.
6. Do not be afraid if you are not understood, my light illuminates all understanding; do not look at the difference of languages or creeds, insurmountable obstacles to the propagation of my Doctrine.
7. The Tower of Babel is certainly still standing, but it is also true that the spiritualist people are already emerging in the world and he has the mission to begin to destroy the foundations of that tower of divisions, differences and pride.
8. I want you to learn to have peace in the midst of the struggle, so that you all continue to consider this world as a single dwelling, as a home that, although temporary, has warmth and the sustenance that everyone needs to live.
9. Do not yet think about the peace that spiritual life can bring you when you have left this one. Think about how much you still have to do in this world; rather worry about doing the greatest merits to be worthy of a better home, and if you think about this, do not doubt that you will know how to make good use of the days that my charity grants you on earth.
10. Leave a trace of love in your passage through life, because if it is not so, you will not be able to reach the Kingdom of peace.

Love one another!

11. If you love Me, if you believe in Me, if you want to please me and carve a future of peace in your spirit, take this teaching, practice it with purity and truth and when that is, you will experience in your whole being a very great strength and light, because you will be imitating me.

12. When your struggle ceases, you will be able to hear in your heart an infinite, heavenly voice, which will tell you: "Blessed are you who listened to my voice in the desert and believed in it, because from that moment you had a perfect ideal to be inspired by. Blessed are those who knew how to resist slander, blows and humiliations, because at last you have conquered the Land where you will repair all your wounds.

13. Keep my word, O blessed people, see that it will have to be the firm foundation of a new tower that men will have to raise, but not the tower that symbolizes human pride, nor the one that challenges divine power and justice, but the immaterial tower, which symbolizes spiritual elevation, love, charity and harmony among men.

14. To help you in your spiritual development, it was essential that I communicate through human understanding with this people, to remind you of my Law, to make my word clear and your mission defined.

15. Law, rules and advice I have entrusted to you so that you can guide your steps once you no longer have my word with you. That Law and those norms, made known to humanity, through human understanding, will serve so that men, to whom I have granted spiritual gifts, will know how to direct them along the true path, thus avoiding their own confusion and that of their brothers.

16. I tell you again that your spiritual journey will not be painful. If you all know how to unite the different gifts and missions that I have entrusted to you, you will form a group that will be invincible in trials, because you will all lend strength and encourage each other in the struggle to reach the Promised Land.

17. The world in this Age did not know how to wait for me as the people of Israel waited for me in that Second Time. My great prophets had announced a Messiah, a Savior, the Son of God, who would come to liberate the oppressed and enlighten the world with the light of the Word and that people, the more they suffered, the more they desired the arrival of the promised one; the more they drank in the cup of humiliation and oppression, the more they longed for the presence of the Messiah, and everywhere they looked for signs and signals that would tell them about the proximity of the arrival of their Savior.

Love one another!

18. From generation to generation and from parents to children, the divine promise was passed on that he made the Lord's chosen people watch and pray for a long time. At last I arrived among my people, but not everyone knew how to recognize me, although everyone was waiting for me; some did it with spirituality and others through a materialistic interpretation. But the purity and the love of those who felt my presence and looked at the kingdom of heaven in the light of my word sufficed for me, so that they would believe in my manifestation; it was enough for me with those who faithfully followed me and looked in Me to their spiritual Savior, because they were the ones who testified to my truth after I left this world.

19. Although my message was for all the peoples of the earth, I called the hearts of the chosen people so that they could then become spokesmen for my word. However, not only that people felt my presence, but also in other nations people were able to discover the signs of my arrival and sensed the time of my presence on Earth.

20. When I declared to the world that I was the Messiah, and my word began to sustain hearts like a river of life, hunger and misery of body and spirit were everywhere. Only the light of hope sustained that people, because even their worship of God had suffered desecration, turning it into another idolatrous cult.

21. Hunger, thirst, disease, slavery, confusion, leprosy, darkness, misery, that was the burden that Caesar had placed on the men of the people of God. That is why I was desired, that is why day after day I was expected, and when my word reached the hearts, speaking to them of love, justice, fraternity and freedom, the mobs followed me; when my hand touched the sick, making them feel the peace and divine comfort, they, unable to contain themselves, shouted to testify in the streets and squares, that I was the promised Christ, the Messiah announced.

22. And now, in this Third Time, what people have waited for me? Who has watched and prayed for the fulfillment of my promise? Very few, because instead of imitating that people who from generation to generation passed on the knowledge of the prophecies, what you have done is to erase from time to time my word. And know that in my word, given in Jesus in the Second Time, I promised to return, thus confirming the words of the prophets of the first times, who not only spoke of my coming as a man, but also announced my coming in spirit, in this time that you are now living.

23. The signs that would tell of my upcoming arrival, as well as the proofs of my presence among men, were written and have all been fulfilled. Why then did the world not know to wait for me? Humanity is drinking the most bitter cup of all that man has drunk in the world, why then has he not desired me or called me? Because their materialism has reached such a degree that it has excluded me from their life, they have thrown me out of their heart, because they are no longer the humble, those who knew how to bow down to their Lord to pray and obey His will.

24. Now man feels great, wise, strong, powerful and absolute. He possesses the light of science, why should he desire the light of the spirit? He owns the forces of Nature, why wait for them to come and free him from his enemies if he can do it with his weapons?

25. Humanity was spiritually asleep the instant my promise to return among you was fulfilled. Not a single people watched or waited for me and see that if in the First Time the promise of the Messiah was for one people, the promise of my return was for all nations.

26. Truly I tell you, my light has already, like lightning, crossed from the east to the west, without the world noticing it.

27. My word has come among you, awakening and surprising rude men of understanding, ignorant of the reason for my call, to use their mind and transmit to the world my new message.

28. When this message has concluded, I will stop speaking through these channels, to manifest myself later in a subtle way in the spirits, but my word, engraved in the hearts of those who heard it and written in a new book, will be taken to the peoples and nations of the world, as a seed of peace, as the light of true science, as a balm against the evil that afflicts the body and spirit of humanity.

29. My word will not reach the hearts when my emissaries wish it, but when it is my will, because it will be I who will watch over my seed, who will prepare the earth for it and open the way for it; it will be I who will make it reach, wisely, at the right time to peoples, nations, and homes. She will arrive when you are already waiting for her, when your hearts are awake, remembering my promises, when you have awakened from your deep dream of greatness, of pride, of materialism and vanity.

30. People who have gathered around the manifestation of my word: Since you did not know how to keep watch while waiting for my arrival, at least understand the value of my Work, looking at it the infinite love with which I have come to you to say: Since you have not known how to await my return, know how to stay awake from now on, watching and praying for the salvation of the world.

31. I have sought you to make each one of you my disciple, to leave you my word, which is the eternal seed, as an inheritance, and after sowing and cultivating my own seed in you, to send you to other lands, on my behalf, to bring this gift of love to all your brothers.

32. I am hungry for my children's faith and spirituality. I have given you the spirit that is part of Mine, that makes you superior to the other creatures that populate this world. Man is like Me in the attributes and virtues with which I have endowed him. I have given you everything so that you may live a lavish life in works of love and charity.

33. Do not hide my doctrine for fear of being rejected; if you prepare yourselves worthily, if you stick to the fulfillment of my laws, who can censure you? My teachings lead you to the highest morality and spirituality, and you will be able to live in peace with those who profess their faith in different ways like those belonging to other races or other classes. I only want you to bear the seal of the purest spirituality so that you may be recognized as disciples of this Work. For this reason, do not feel bigger or smaller than your brothers, but do feel the duty to help them, putting my word within their reach so that they can also become my disciples.

34. I have given you the Earth so that you may all possess it equally, so that you may live in peace and take it as a temporary home, in which you will develop your gifts and prepare your spirit to ascend to its new abode. I have said to you, "In the house of the Lord there are many dwellings"; you will know them as you go up. Each one in ascending degree will bring you closer to Me and will be reached by you according to your works, because everything is subject to a divine order and justice.

35. No one will be able to prevent your passage from one ladder to another and at the end of each of them there will be joy and celebration in your spirit and in Mine as well.

36. Thus I prepare you to know that the road you have to travel is long and do not settle for your first works, believing that they will open the door of those dwellings for you; and I also tell you that it is beautiful and satisfying for a spirit to reach the end of a stage and stop to look back at the path traveled, with its great struggles, its days of bitterness and its hours of peace, after having overcome the innumerable obstacles; and at last triumph, compensation and justice shining around you and the Spirit of your present, glorious Father, blessing the son, making him rest in his bosom, while he is prepared for his next scale and thus passing from one to another, until reaching the highest fulfillment at the end, to dwell eternally in Me.

37. For now fulfill your destiny on Earth, bring peace where there is war, love where there is hate and pour out charity where selfishness reigns, and when you reach the end of this path, I will return to you more than what you have given to your brothers.

Love one another!

38. This is my simple and clear word, within the reach of your understanding. I have recreated myself with your recollection and attention; I see in each one of you the desire to practice my teaching, to renew yourselves, to perfect yourselves, and to form a healthy family of spirit and matter that is loved and recognized and founded on a single spirit, that sends light, strength and peace to humanity.

39. The light of my Divinity is in every consciousness, as the supreme gift with which the Father has inherited his children, you are, therefore, among all my creatures the highest, since you carry in yourself the light of consciousness that makes you know who you are, where you come from, what your destiny is and where you are going.

40. Now your spirit lives a time of greater light, in which it will have to take a step forward, in which it will rise more towards Me, who am the goal of your perfection and spirituality.

41. The ladder that Jacob saw in a dream, today rises brightly before every spirit, inviting him to ascend and to know the mysteries that men have not been able to penetrate.

42. This is a time of clarity for the spirit and for the human understanding, in which you will know how to find the content, essence or meaning of all those revelations that since ancient times were made to you; but that you have not managed to interpret justly, because they were given to you through a symbolic language or in parable.

43. The lack of spirituality of men has been the cause that the understanding has not clarified the truth that is within each of the words or forms contained in the divine messages. So humanity has assumed that it should only believe even when it is without understanding. I tell you right now that I am not a mystery to anyone, that you create the mystery with your lack of spiritual elevation, with your lack of prayer and your lack of charity and humility.

44. I cannot be a mystery because I am everywhere and I show myself fully in everything that exists and surrounds you; but if you insist on not looking at me, if you close your eyes when I appear before them or flee from Me when I am calling you, I will have to remain an impenetrable mystery for you.

45. Do you know the meaning of that Scale that Jacob contemplated in a dream? This scale represents the life and evolution of spirits. Jacob's body was asleep at the time of the revelation, but his spirit was awake. He had risen to the Father, seeking prayer as a means and by penetrating his spirit in the regions of light, he managed to receive a heavenly message that would remain as a testament of revelations and spiritual truths for his people, which is all humanity, because Israel is not a material name but a spiritual one.

46. Jacob saw that this scale was resting on the Earth and that its apex touched the sky; this indicates the path of spiritual elevation that begins on Earth through the flesh and ends by merging his light and his essence with that of his Father, outside of all material influence.

47. The patriarch saw that angels were ascending and descending that ladder, representing the incessant incarnation and dis-incarnation, the continuous coming and going of the spirits in pursuit of light, or also on a mission to restore and purify themselves, to rise a little more when returning to the spiritual world. It is the path of spiritual evolution that leads to perfection, that is why Jacob contemplated at the top of the scale the representative form of Jehovah, indicating that God is the goal of your perfection, of your aspirations and the supreme reward of infinite joys, as compensation for arduous struggles, prolonged sufferings and perseverance to reach the bosom of the Father.

48. In the vicissitudes and in the trials, the spirit always found the opportunity to make merits to ascend. There, in each test, the Jacob Scale has always been represented, inviting you to climb one more step.

49. That was a great revelation, O disciples, because it spoke to you of the spiritual life at a time when the awakening of the spirit towards the worship of the divine, the high, the pure, good and true was just beginning.

50. This message could not be only for a family, or even for a single people; its essence was spiritual and therefore had universality. That is why the voice of the Father said to Jacob: "I am the Lord, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac, the land in which you are I will give it to you and to your seed and that seed will be like the dust of the world and you will spread out to the west and to the east, and to the north and to the south and all the families of the earth will be blessed in you and in your seed."

51. This message may seem to you of little importance in appearance, but it is profoundly infinite in its spiritual content, but how could men find its essence, if they have not valued it, if they flee from every spiritual sign or revelation? I had to be the one who comes to give you the interpretation of that message that I gave you in another time, when the awakening of the spirit in the world was just beginning, to encourage you in your mission.

52. Day after day signs appear and events arise that tell you about the end of an Era.

Love one another!

53. Human science has reached the limit to which man can carry it in his materialism, because science, inspired by the spiritual ideal of love, goodness and perfection, can go far beyond where you have taken it.

54. The proof that your scientific advancement has not been motivated by love for one another is the moral degeneration of peoples, it is the fratricidal war, it is the hunger and misery that reign everywhere, it is the ignorance of the spiritual.

55. Full of pride the great nations rise up proclaiming their power, threatening the world with their weapons, flaunting intelligence and science, not realizing how fragile the false world they have created is, because a weak touch of my justice will suffice for that artificial world to disappear. And it will be the hand of man that destroys his own work, it will be his mind that invents the way to exterminate what he created before. I will cause only those human works that have borne good fruit to men to remain standing so that they may continue to be cultivated for the good of future generations, but everything that contains a perverse or selfish end will be destroyed in the fire of my inexorable justice.

56. On the ruins of a world created and destroyed by a materialistic humanity, a new world will arise, the foundations of which will be experience and will have for its purpose the ideal of its spiritual elevation.

57. Think of the advancement of a humanity whose morality comes from spirituality; imagine a humanity without limits or borders, fraternally sharing all the means of life that the Earth offers to its children. Try to imagine what human science will be, when it has as its ideal the love of one another, when man obtains through prayer the knowledge he seeks. Think how pleasant it will be for Me to receive from men the worship of love, faith, obedience and humility, through their lives, without having to resort to external rites or cults.

58. That will be life for men, because within it they will breathe peace, they will enjoy freedom and they will be sustained only by that which contains truth.

59. The existence that you lead on Earth has more of death than life. It is hell for many, it is prison, it is captivity, it is exile. Peace is not known in it and freedom cannot be enjoyed. There is no health in the body or in the spirit, nor are there joys that compensate you for so much pain.

60. But you struggle to seem happy; you ponder how to disguise your continuous failures; you put a smiling mask before your face to pretend that you are happy and you flaunt strength and courage to hide the fear you have before the abyss that you have opened under your feet.

Love one another!

61. Yesterday the Earth was a valley of tears, now it is a valley of blood. What will it be tomorrow? A field of smoldering rubble, through which the fire of justice passed, exterminating sin and bringing down the pride of men without love, because they forgot the spirit.

62. Thus the merchants of knowledge will be thrown out of the temple of knowledge, because they profited by the light, because they profaned the truth.

63. What future times am I talking about? You do not know, nor am I going to specify them, because the facts will speak to you of the fulfillment of my word.

64. While I tell some to gather all the fruit of their works so that the fire destroys them, I tell others to gather their seed and protect it, so that when the day of justice passes, that seed will continue to propagate as a seed of life.

65. In my teaching this day I want to tell you that my Word has once again enlightened this humanity so that it awakens and emerges to spirituality.

66. The concept that men have of Me is very limited, their knowledge about the spiritual, very scarce, their faith, very small.

67. Religions sleep the sleep of centuries, without taking a step forward and when they wake up it is only to stir inside without daring to break the siege that they have created with their traditions.

68. It will be the humble, the poor, the simple and ignored, who will leave that orbit in search of light, a pure environment, truth and progress. They will be the ones who will give the bell and the alert voice, as they feel the arrival of the times of my new revelations, in the Era of Spirituality.

69. Humanity wants to discover the mystery of the spiritual life, of that existence to which it will inevitably have to penetrate and which for that very reason it is interested in knowing.

70. Men question, they plead, they ask for light out of charity, because they feel the need to prepare, but, by every answer they are told that the spiritual life is a mystery and that to pretend to uncork the veil that covers them, is recklessness and blasphemy.

71. Truly I tell you that those who thirst for truth and light will not find in the world the source whose waters quench their thirst, it will be I who will pour out from heaven those waters of wisdom that the spirits crave to drink, I will overflow my source of truth on every spirit and on every mind so that the mysteries are destroyed, because I tell you once again that it is not I who have mysteries for men, but you who create them.

Love one another!

72. It is clear that there will always be something in your Father that you will never discover, if you take into account that God is infinite and that you are only particles; but that you should ignore who you are in eternity, that you have to be an impenetrable mystery before yourselves and that you have to wait to penetrate the spiritual life to know it, that is not prescribed by Me.

73. That in the past times it was not spoken in this way, nor was a broad invitation made to you to penetrate into the light of spiritual knowledge, is true; but it is that in the past times humanity did not experience the imperative need to know that it now feels, nor was it spiritually or mentally qualified to understand. If he had always been searching and rummaging, it was more out of curiosity than out of true thirst for light.

74. In order for men to find the path that will lead them to that light and in order for them to be in a position to receive those waters from the source of life and wisdom, they will first have to leave all external worship and erase from their hearts all fanaticism. Once you begin to feel in your heart the presence of the living and omnipotent God, you will feel escaping from the innermost depths of your being a new, unknown prayer, full of feeling and sincerity, full of elevation and tenderness, which will be the true prayer, revealed by the spirit.

75. That will be the beginning of your elevation to the light, the first step on the path of spirituality. If the spirit can reveal true prayer to man, he will also be able to reveal to him all the gifts he possesses, as well as the way to develop them and direct them along the path of love.

76. You are still living in a time when you need the books that contain the testimony of my manifestations, to learn from them or that your brothers who know the most transmit their knowledge to you, but you do not count on that the time of the intuitives is approaching, of those who speak by inspiration, of those who receive the light in prayer, of those who, without learning on Earth, have more power than the man of science.

77. My communication and that of my spiritual world through this poor, ignorant and rude people is a proof of what I am telling you, the beginning of an era that will culminate with the manifestations of spirit to Spirit.

78. Humanity will soon be heading towards this goal, without obstacles that can stop it from achieving its highest spiritual aspirations. Every man has the sacred right to know the truth and no one should oppose his step, since it is I, who at the end of the road is waiting for him, to shake him with infinite love and show him all the beauty that eternity holds for each of those who seek with love, for all those who hunger and thirst for truth.

1. Disciples: Behold the Master again among you. My spirit receives your call and instantly attends to your invocation by sending you his Universal Ray to envelop you with his light.
2. I am looking for the prepared understandings, to give you my teaching, but not only the spokespersons receive my presence, no, I am with all my children, from the nursery to the disciple, everyone feels at this moment the presence of the Holy Spirit.
3. Truly, not only you feel me; from all points of your world, the spirit of my children rises after the Doctor of doctors, to receive from Him the caress, the balm and the strength. As it is the time of the manifestation of my Spirit among humanity, I make myself felt in all my children, I limit myself, allowing myself to contemplate according to the evolution of each one, to stimulate with it the faith and love of my disciples.
4. The Third Time has come in fullness for humanity. Nearly two thousand years have passed since I came to give you my word, and that Doctrine, despite the time that has passed, has not yet been known by all mankind, because I am not loved by all my children; however, everyone worships me, everyone seeks a single Divine Spirit that is Mine. But I do not contemplate unification among men, I do not contemplate among them the same faith, the same elevation and knowledge, and that is why I come as the Holy Spirit, to unify them in Me, to perfect them with my Doctrine of truth, with my unchanging word, with my Law of justice and love.
5. The greater part of this humanity calls itself Christian and the Master tells you: If I were truly Christian, I would have already conquered the rest of men with its love, with its humility and its peace; but my Doctrine, bequeathed from the Second Time, is not in the heart of humanity, it does not throb or flourish in the works of men, it is stored in dusty books and I have not come to talk about books. By book I brought you my life, my word and my works, my passion and my death as a man and that is the reason why most of humanity calling itself Christian, does not have the peace or grace of Christ, because they do not imitate him, because they do not practice his Doctrine.
6. The kingdom of injustice has ruled over humanity, because they have despised my revelations, but now I come in the Third Time to remind men of my lessons of the past times.
7. Why is the reign of injustice reigning at this time? For I behold as kings those who should be servants, and those who should be lords in love and humility, I behold as slaves.

Love one another!

8. The one who steals and surprises the good faith of others, I find enriched, and the tyrant is extolled and surrounded by flattery. He who is stained with the sister's blood, is elevated to a high place, and those who are victims of human cruelty, are humiliated.

9. This is how I contemplate your life, humanity, I see many institutions with beautiful names, but truth, love and charity do not spring from them. I see that in the midst of sects and religions, ministers arise saying to their peoples: Do good. And truly I tell you, the only one who can say, "Do good" is Me, because I alone do good to you, men must always say, "Let's do good."

10. I do not contemplate truth or sincerity, because men have become contaminated with the evil that reigns; but despite this there are those who have remained faithful to my Law and have suffered, without leaving the path marked by my love.

11. Through those who have remained faithful to my Law, despite the environment that surrounds them, I say to those who suffer: Persevere in the good, remember and live my examples of the past times and you will overcome human weaknesses.

12. I revealed many lessons to you in the Second Time and that teaching was the preparation I gave you for this Third Time, since your spirit could not rise up to Me. I came to you in Jesus, being born, suffering and dying as a man. With my sacrifice I left the doors to the Hereafter open for you, so that your spirit, awakening from its lethargy, would rise to Me. I opened before you the Book of the Seven Seals, the great Book of Life, and truly I tell you, with my sacrifice for the love of humanity, I untied at that time the fifth seal.

13. Today I do not come as a man among you, I come as a Holy Spirit to teach you so that you can achieve spirit-to-Spirit communication, but so that this communication reaches its perfection, I have begun to communicate through the human understanding, but this manifestation will end in 1950, and then these children will become disciples and communicate spirit-to-Spirit with their Teacher, and even if they are my disciples before Me, before humanity they will be the good teachers.

14. Today I am preparing you as in the Second Time; you and those are the same, you are disciples and witnesses of my teachings.

15. Trials have beset you on the way, but even when you meet the obstacle in your path, you will not turn your back on me, you will not deny me because you were witnesses of my promise to return, and you have seen it fulfilled at this time.

16. You will be able to find in my manifestation the same teachings of the Second Time; but in this era I have come with the light of my Holy Spirit, to reveal to you the unfathomable, and in the communication from spirit to Spirit, I will continue to reveal new and very great lessons; all the content of the Sixth Seal I will make known to you in this stage of revelations that will be preparing you for the time when I will open the Seventh Seal. In this way you will know the unfathomable, in this way you will find that the spiritual valley is the abode of all spirits, the infinite and wonderful mansion that awaits you in the Afterlife, where you will receive the reward of the works that with love and charity you have sown in your brothers.

Love one another!

17. At this time, your spirit is saturated with my revelations, whether you have received them through the lamp holder or with your spiritual gifts.

18. It is the time when, not finding among men a brother to guide you, advise you and serve as a staff, you come to Me because I am the divine Cyrenian who raises you up and comforts you in your vicissitudes.

19. You have known through Spiritualism what spiritual restitution means in your destiny, and in the practice of my teachings you penetrate by my will into the future and contemplate as an alert, the trials that you are encountering in your path, if you do not watch and pray.

20. Your conscience is the judge who does not sleep, it always advises you to watch over your brothers and yourselves.

21. Why do men bring misery and destruction to peoples? Why don't they respect their lives and the lives of their fellow human beings? For lack of spiritual elevation, for having strayed from the fulfillment of my Law.

22. Could you, in an instant of violence, take the murder weapon to kill your brother? No, disciples, none of you feels capable of it, even if I tried him greatly, why? because you know that each creature has marked in its destiny its fulfillment and its time to return to Me. You remember the restitution that awaits you if you stain yourselves with my sister's blood, and that fear of my justice, makes you respect the life of your fellow man, and you would like everyone to feel the same respect. The Father tells you: today the reign of injustice in the world is at its third height, but Spiritualism, which is the revelation of the Holy Spirit, will not leave a single corner of the world without his presence and when my Doctrine is established in the heart of humanity, it will be in all men of good will my Kingdom of Justice.

23. When this divine revelation is duly interpreted by all, there will no longer be suicides and homicides, no one will take his own life, least of all he will do so with that of his fellow man; man will have ample knowledge of all his acts, but I will continue to prove it first, and if I have manifested my teaching to you through human understanding, I, the Word, will know how to make myself heard and understood by all my children.

Love one another!

24. If I told you at the Second Time that every eye would see me, I will fulfill my promise to you by making me contemplate and feel for all men, in all my truth.

25. This is why the Master tells you every moment that your mission to extend my teaching will not be difficult and even less impossible, because the earth has been fertilized and you, like good farmers, will learn every day to cultivate it better. But know that you, you will not be the only emissaries or spokesmen of my Doctrine, the Spiritual World is also fulfilling its mission among humanity, both of you will be turning your brothers into precursors of my Doctrine for the generations to come.

26. Through Nature you had signs of my coming at this time. I am giving signs to humanity, and I am calling the attention of men of science, because in this year of 1950 I will shake the hearts of all my children; many will be confused by these tests, but instead others will awaken, and after these events, I will come as a Holy Spirit and tell them to look for my disciples, who possess my revelations of this Third Time.

27. If they make mistakes as infants, I as a perfect Teacher will know how to forgive them and I will give them through you my preparatory teaching that I am entrusting to you through human understanding. And when I behold you all penetrating with love into the spiritual sense of my teachings, I will surprise you with great revelations manifesting to you, and full of joy you will say to me: "Master, surely your wisdom has no end".

28. Persevere in the good, disciples, for I will not disappoint you. Verily I tell you, when you come to the Hereafter, in Me you will find the harvest of your good deeds, then you will see how beautiful your reward is. For now you do not know what it will be like, nor do you try to imagine it, I just say: Watch and pray. Sow my seed of love, with your word, with your gaze, with your prayer; since charity is given in so many forms, do it with your fellow human beings; verily I say to you, your sound thought will be enough for Me to make your desire my own and to give to those in need according to my will.

29. Thus I want to contemplate you, O disciples of the Holy Spirit, as emissaries of peace, as doctors of the body and of the spirit, as sowers of the divine attributes. You will never cease to sow consolation, balm and peace, so you will be fulfilling your mission until the end of the day, your work will be crowned with my divine caress, and I will strengthen your spirit with the eternal finery of my blessing.

30. You are receiving my last lessons through human understanding and in them I ask for your unification after 1950. When you no longer have this manifestation, who will take my place? Who will make his voice heard and remember the teaching of the Divine Master? Respect and shyness will invade you, the same spokesmen for whom I gave you my teaching will feel fear, nor will the guides familiar with their peoples dare to give you my word. What will you do then, O disciples?

Love one another!

31. People: I will tell you about those who remained in the world to bear witness to my word: my disciples of the Second Time.

32. Jesus had departed, the apostles of his truth traveled the paths of fulfillment, penetrated the cities, visited homes, wrote to their distant brothers.

33. The divine word, like a new dawn, began to illuminate the life of humanity, vanishing the darkness in which men had lived.

34. My Doctrine, on the lips and in the works of my disciples, was a sword of love and light that fought against ignorance, idolatry and materialism. A cry of indignation arose in those who saw the coming collapse of their myths and traditions, at the same time that in other hearts a hymn of joy arose before the luminous path that would lead to the hope and faith of those who thirst for truth and those oppressed by sin.

35. Those who denied the spiritual life were exasperated when they heard the revelations of the Kingdom of Heaven, while those who sensed that existence and hoped for justice and salvation, thanked the Father for having sent his Only Begotten Son into the world.

36. Men who kept in their hearts the blessed longing to serve and love their God with purity, saw their path cleared and their understanding enlightened by penetrating my word and felt a relief in their spirit and in their heart. The teaching of Christ, as true spiritual bread, came to fill the immense void that they carried, filling with its perfection and with its essence all the aspirations of his spirit.

37. A new era was beginning, a clearer path was opening up, leading to eternity.

38. What beautiful feelings of spiritual elevation, of love and tenderness were then awakened in those who were enlightened with faith to receive my word! How much courage and what firmness accompanied those hearts, who knew how to suffer and throw everything without falling for an instant!

39. Was it because the Master's blood was still fresh? No, people; the spiritual essence of that blood, which was the material representation of Divine Love, never dries up or extinguishes, it is present, alive and warm now as then.

Love one another!

40. It is that in those hearts there was also love for the truth, to which they consecrated their lives and even offered their blood, to confirm with it that they had learned the lesson of their Teacher.

41. That nobly shed blood overcame obstacles and vicissitudes.

42. How the spirituality of the disciples of my word contrasted with the idolatry, materialism, selfishness and ignorance of the fanatics in ancient traditions, or of the pagans who lived only to worship the pleasure of matter!

43. Never was the Law of God so clear as it was on the lips of Jesus. That is why the world was moved to its deepest roots and many peoples, turning away from their hearts ancient traditions, surrendered themselves to the word that in Christ became understandable to men.

44. Never had the world harbored a man who revealed greater teachings or carried out greater works.

45. How many mysteries humanity then deciphered; how much light penetrated into its spirit, into its heart and into its understanding! Those words full of tenderness of the Master, his wise, profound and at the same time clear parables, those comparisons for which he took the child, the flowers to make himself understood; those powerful works, possible only for a God to which the world called miracles, all this was like a new dew that came to fertilize the arid fields like deserts, which existed in the heart of humanity.

46. Until then, men had not discovered the spiritual meaning that exists in everything created by the Lord, even in the smallest beings. If they took a child in their arms and looked deeply into his eyes and listened to his questions full of innocence and intuitive concern, they felt the presence of a spirit vibrate there, of a being that was something more than that child.

47. If they observed the tender plant that grows hidden among the weeds, they immediately discovered in it the impulse to grow, and to be able to offer the flower of its beauty, thus fulfilling the destiny that its Creator pointed out to it.

48. This is how those men woke up, it seemed to them to inhabit a world not seen before. It was that they were blind and seeing they did not look, it was that they were deaf and hearing they did not hear. But I came among men to give them sight, hearing, voice, movement, will, understanding and sensitivity, so that their spirit, oppressed in the captivity of the flesh, would be freed from its darkness and learn to read and interpret the Book of Eternal Life.

Love one another!

49. Now ask yourself, new listeners of my word: Are those simple and clean analyzers of divine revelations still preserved in the world? "No," you answer me from the bottom of your heart, because you well know that every step that the world advances in its science, is one more step that takes it away from spirituality, since before looking for the meaning or spiritual essence that all beings contain, what has interested him is to find the substance and the purely material force.

50. See why I have returned among men and let my word penetrate your heart, because in this time a new miracle of conversion, spirituality and elevation will be realized among humanity. Learn from Me, so that you may be the good disciples of this time.

51. Here is the book of my teachings that I am bequeathing to you. There are the writings; they will continue my Work among you. When you no longer listen to me in this way, you will review my lessons and in them you will always find new revelations.

52. In reading my teachings you will have my wisdom, great messages and inspirations. The counsels of the Spiritual World, you will remember them with the same fragrance that you received them, that time will be of study, of analysis, of preparation and when you least think, those will arise among you, those who with ease of word deliver my teaching for inspiration. But how great their preparation will have to be in order for them to be believed by the multitudes. Today you contemplate these spokesmen speaking to you in ecstasy and no matter how great the disbelief of some, you think that my manifestation is possible through these channels; but when humanity contemplates my disciples speaking in their normal state, of divine revelations, they will doubt them.

53. In your own congregation, those who doubt will arise when they hear you speak with my inspiration and you will have to carry a great preparation and spiritual clarity to be believed. In this way I will continue to manifest myself, whether it is only one who listens to you or a multitude, whether your audience is made up of select men, of rude or of the so-called wise, before some and before all I will manifest myself by your understanding. If you know how to prepare, I will give the tests requested by those who hear you. In this way I will continue to sow my Marian Trinitarian Spiritualist Work, my revelation as the Holy Spirit in the heart of humanity; then you will understand that my communication with you will not be interrupted at the end of 1950, because the bonds of God and his children are eternal.

54. In the Third Time I came to realize with the clarity of my manifestations the impossible for men: to communicate by human understanding. Understand me, disciples, because in the spirit-to-Spirit communication that awaits you, you will feel my presence eternally; if you know how to prepare, you will never say to me again: Lord, why don't you come? Why don't you contemplate my pain? You will not speak to me like this, disciples, verily I tell you, whoever speaks to me like this will give a palpable proof of his ignorance and unpreparedness; I do not want to contemplate my disciples far from Me, I want you to tell me in your spirit: "Master, you are among us, our spirit feels you, your wisdom is the source of my inspiration". That is the true confession I want to hear from you.

55. I do not want to contemplate Thomas in my new apostolate, I want to see in you the dedication of John, that you all may always feel me in your spirit, but I do not want you to feel slaves before Me, because you may fall into a new fanaticism.

56. In the moments of your fulfillment in my Doctrine, give yourselves spiritually, and in the moments of your earthly duties, give yourselves with all preparation. I tell you again not to feel like slaves before Me, have the true spirituality that my Doctrine gives so that you give to God what is God's and to Caesar what is Caesar's. So you will have peace and you will be happy in your fulfillment, without parking. You will not proclaim to be my witnesses, you will demonstrate with your works that you are sowing my truth.

57. By ceasing to give you my word in this way in 1950, I am not going to retreat into rest because my Universal Spirit never rests, I am eternal activity, I am always striving for the perfection of all my creatures; I am the traveling companion in the evolution of my children; I am their counselor and at the end of each stage, I am the one who receives the fruit of their fulfillment in my Law.

58. I am the perfect gardener and I will not cut the fruits when they are green. I will know how to become a gale to whip the trees and I will make their bad fruits fall, but my love will preserve the good ones and my Spirit will eternally rejoice in their progress and in their evolution.

59. Rise on the path that leads you to the top of the mountain and every step you take you will better understand my teachings, and you will be perfecting yourself, to interpret the divine language.

60. What is the language of the spirit? It's love. Love is the universal language of all spirits. Don't you see that human love also speaks? Many times he does not need words, he speaks better with facts, with thoughts. If this is how human love manifests itself, what will your language be like when you are perfected in my Law?

61. Walk firmly, disciples, do not be cowed by trials, by vicissitudes, think that before you I have passed along the way and have left it blessed with my footprint. Pray for humanity, that is your mission; come to Me, who am an inexhaustible source of consolation and balm, and bring this present to your brothers and sisters.

62. At this moment I penetrate into the hearts of my children and distribute my seed of love. But what heart will be like a fertile soil that causes the seed to germinate? Today you still do not know it, but if you become the good farmers, you will know how to sow my teaching in the sick, in the obsessed, in the vicious, in those thirsty for love and peace.

63. In everything you will deposit the incalculable treasure of my word that will be ever greater in your spirit.

64. If you are all laborers of the divine gardener, if you are all collaborators in my cultivation of love, it is because you will all enjoy the culmination of my Work.

65. You will all sit at my table, because there will be a feast in Heaven; you will all be the wise virgins of my parable, the prodigal son will not exist there, you will all have conquered my Kingdom, and you will listen to the most beautiful and sublime of concerts. Your spirit will experience the greatest joy by finally understanding the great love of your Father and Lord.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Beloved disciples: I contemplate you prepared, you have penetrated into spiritual recollection to reach the grace of listening and understanding my word. On your way you have had my presence, already giving you the miracle, giving you my protection or speaking to you through consciousness. I want to dwell in your heart to be your Guide and Teacher.

2. "I am the way, the truth and the life," I tell you once again. My word is the bread that feeds your spirit, my presence brings you the longed-for peace. How many trials you have lived through in the world! You sought peace and comfort in earthly pleasures and when you did not find them, you returned to Me to say, "Lord, only in you do we find peace and comfort for our spirit."

3. Israel: In this time of vicissitudes, learn to seek me in your prayer; when the trials are greater, seek me as a luminous beacon or as the boat of salvation. Trust in Me, that I will lead you to a safe harbor. Everyone who seeks me finds me; every spirit that rises up, having faith in my Divinity, attains salvation. That is why I have sent you into the world saying to you: watch and pray for men, because they have not listened to my word, and only the people of Israel listen to my teaching of alertness and preparation, and the Master will say to humanity: Behold the depository of your salvation; behold, the people of Israel, who are my disciple, who will come in search of you to give you my lesson, to give you the bread of eternal life, which you did not want to receive when I gave it through human understanding, because the means I chose to manifest myself at this time has seemed imperfect to you.

4. How many have listened to my word and, not understanding it, have turned away from the path! I will call you again, I will give you proofs of my truth and you must believe in Me, because the seed of life and spirituality that I have sown in your heart, must flourish in faith. This truth will shine in them and they will confess to their brothers that I was among men manifesting myself through human understanding.

5. How can humanity judge my works and penetrate into my innermost judgments? But I have given him free will, self-will, and by virtue of those gifts I have put him to the test. Those who have believed, have overcome the trial, have strengthened their faith, have risen to the regions of the spirit, feeding on the essence of my revelations.

6. Verily, I tell you, the encounter of my Spirit with yours was in the Hereafter. I have taught you to seek me by rising up the ladder of prayer and with that purity you find me in the spiritual, because at this time I have not come to humanize myself. I have only used the understanding and heart of my creatures, to manifest myself through them.

7. I have given you this book of teachings so that the last ones may also know my revelations, I have repeated the lessons to you, I have contemplated that many have penetrated to my Work, wanting to know everything from its beginning, therefore I have repeated my teaching to you. I have told you that Elias, through Roque Rojas, opened the Third Time, so that you would find the Divine Master on your way.

8. Blessed is the one who listens to me with love, the one who comes to Me opening his heart to receive the essence of my word; because he reaches the light, and with that wisdom he will understand my Work, he will know how to practice it after 1950 and he will justly be called my disciple.

9. I want to call everyone my disciples, but remember that the good disciple has to be faithful to the teachings imitating his Master.

10. You recognize that your spiritual struggle is great here on Earth and your spirit makes you feel that when he penetrates into that life that awaits him beyond this world, he will have to continue fighting to ascend. Meditating on this, you come to experience a certain sadness when considering that rest does not exist at the end of human life. That sadness does not come from the spirit but from the flesh, which is fragile and small, because its nature is not eternal and it has to be afraid of eternity.

11. For the spirit, eternity means his greatest blessing. If he thinks of enjoyment, he knows that it will have no end and if he thinks of his restitution, he knows that he will have time to restore his faults and to perfect himself.

12. Spiritual rest, as understood and conceived by your matter, does not exist; the rest that awaits the spirit is activity, multiplying by doing good, not wasting an instant. Then the spirit rests, it lightens from regrets and sorrows, it recreates itself doing good, it rests loving its Creator and its brothers.

13. Truly I tell you, if your spirit caused him to remain inactive so that he could rest, as you conceive of rest on Earth, the darkness of despair and anguish would take hold of him, because the life and light of the spirit, as well as his greatest joy, are work, struggle, incessant activity.

14. The spirit that returns from the Earth to the spiritual valley, bringing imprinted in itself the fatigue of the flesh and arrives looking for the Hereafter as a bed to rest, where to sink into oblivion to erase the traces of the struggle, that will have to become the most unhappy being and will not find peace or happiness until it awakens from its lethargy, until it comes out of its error and rises to the spiritual life that is as I have already told you before, love, work, the continuous struggle on the path that leads to perfection.

Love one another!

15. Here on Earth, your spirit must feel oppressed, since everything on Earth is limited and fleeting. Here he must get tired of as much sin and as much impurity as there is in human life. But it is not a weariness like that which afflicts the flesh, but a weariness of all that is evil, a repulsion for all that is unclean, a fatigue of struggling and suffering many times for frivolities or unjustified causes.

16. If men had made a clean existence out of this life and had prepared their body as a room worthy of a spirit dwelling in it, then fatigue would not be known, nor would there be boredom, nor repulsion and therefore, the disembodied spirit would not reach the spiritual world looking for rest in rest; on the contrary, it would arrive full of strength and faith to continue its journey, that struggle that in the world never managed to stop and that even death left in suspense.

17. I want that at the end of the struggle, when all my children have gathered for eternity in the spiritual home, they participate in my infinite bliss as Creator, taking into account that each of you took part in the Divine Work, building or rebuilding.

18. Only in the spiritual will you find that of all that I have created from the beginning, nothing has been lost, that in Me everything is resurrected, everything arises and is renewed.

19. Thus, if so many beings were lost for a long time, if many, instead of doing works of life, did destructive works, they will find that the time of their confusion was temporary and that their works, no matter how bad they may have been, will have reparation in eternal life, to be converted into collaborators of my incessantly creative Work.

20. What will a few centuries of sin and darkness be like humanity has had on Earth, if you compare them with eternity, with an endless time of evolution and peace? You moved away from Me, by virtue of your free will and you will return induced by consciousness.

21. The flesh was hard and rebellious to follow the dictates of that inner light that you call conscience and it was easier for him to follow the impulses that directed him towards the debauchery of his instincts and his passions.

22. Humanity has traveled a long way along the path of life on this Earth, in the midst of the struggle between the conscience that has never been silent, and the flesh that would like to make materialism its cult and its law, neither matter nor spirit having conquered so far since the struggle continues.

Love one another!

23. Do you ask me who will win? And I tell you that the absolute triumph of conscience, working through the spirit in the flesh, no longer takes long.

24. Do you not feel that after so much struggle and so much fighting, the matter that is human and transient has to bend before the consciousness that is my eternal light?

25. Understand that after such a prolonged struggle, man will finally reach the sensitivity and docility that he has never had before to that voice and that spiritual life that vibrates and pulsates within his being.

26. You are all marching towards that point without realizing it, but when you look at the triumph of good and justice on Earth, you will understand the reason for the struggle, the combats and the trials.

27. With this preparation I want to contemplate you so that you may sow your path with good examples, bearing witness to everything that you have received and heard from Me.

28. When this manifestation passes, you will contemplate my supernatural teaching, beyond your reach and you will ask yourself: How is it possible that the Lord has spoken to us in our own language, in this time of greater evolution of humanity?

29. Listen, disciples: it was written from ancient times that I was to come and manifest myself over all my children, and thus I would prepare the arrival of a time of peace among men by leading them to the practice of spirituality. This is the fulfillment of the prophecy, today I am preparing you surrounded by the Spiritual World, while in the Afterlife, other spirits are pending my orders and will come to dwell among humanity in the times to come. Among them are those who will govern the peoples, those who, by their great virtue, will make men fulfill my commands, directing them on the right path. They will come after you.

30. My Work will grow more and more until at last all the spirits will be unified in the fulfillment of my Law and this dwelling will become a world of perfection. Those who inhabit it at that time will feel my love throbbing in everything created and will be preparing to inhabit a better world. This dwelling will be temporary for your spirit, he will go to other regions, to other planes of the Beyond, in search of his perfection; remember that I told you: "In the Father's house there are many dwellings". And in this time of greater evolution, in which you understand my teachings better, I have come to tell you: "In the Father's house there are an infinite number of dwellings". Therefore, do not think that by leaving this world, you will reach the maximum spiritual elevation. No, disciples. When your stage on this planet is over, I will lead you to other abodes and thus guide you eternally on the infinite scale of your perfecting. Trust in Me, love Me and you will be saved.

31. Do not stand still, people; if you know the way, hasten your step. Fulfill my Law, live loving and doing charity to your fellow human beings, and all the gifts that I have entrusted to you, will be like lights that illuminate the path of humanity.

32. Why for a moment do you doubt you and Me, if I have told you that you are part of my Spirit? Why do you doubt that you possess my attributes? If you have come to this world to make restitution for your past faults, why do you blaspheme when you find proof on the way?

33. This is how I come to prepare you, disciples, this is how I come to engrave in your heart the book of my teachings. If you long for comfort for your sorrows, seek my word in your heart, and from there it will spring up like a fountain of crystal clear waters.

34. I am doctrinating you in this year of 1950, the last of my stay among you, I want you to achieve the spirituality that I have asked of you. You have understood your Father and have entered into spiritual penance, you have loved me and the impure garments that covered his spirit have fallen from some, and I contemplate others after their purification. Do not forget that to practice my teaching you have to get rid of all materialism.

35. I have entrusted my light to your conscience, so that guided by it, you may set aside every imperfection and the virtues that I discover in your spirit with my word may flourish. I have created you sensitive to love and pain as well. I have said to you, "Love one another," so that you may feel my word in all its purity. Share your peace with your brothers, help them to hurry their cup of bitterness.

36. Remember that I have told you: Before Me you are all my children, if I allow you evolution and in it you have your struggles, it is because I long for you to conquer your perfection.

37. It is time for you to begin the spiritual work entrusted to you. See how the fields are unfruitful because the seed of love and charity lives hidden in the depths of your heart.

38. I have come with my teachings to strengthen you in the good, I have come leading you along paths of love so that you may reach your brothers with my message of light and consolation. If the time of my preaching has been long for you, it has been so that you may assimilate the content of my Doctrine and never go to mistake its meaning, because you are the new Israel, the people who will bear witness to my truth.

Love one another!

39. At every step the voice of your conscience awakens you, making you understand that you have a high destiny among humanity and a great mission to fulfill.

40. Is it true that within you there is a force that does not let you fall and a voice that does not let you sleep? Is it true that when you stray from the path or forget about your mission, you feel a restlessness that leaves you no point of rest? For that force, that inner light, that voice that speaks to you within, is your conscience, in which my Law and your charges are indelibly written.

41. Let yourself be led sweetly by that inner guide and truly I tell you, all spiritual restlessness will disappear leaving in its place a deep peace and true satisfaction.

42. If you take advantage of these precious moments, you will not mourn for lost time tomorrow, you will not regret mistakes, nor will you have stumbles. Think that it is your good works that will have to bear witness to Me, or do you think that with imperfect works your brothers will also be able to recognize my truth? Do not forget that the tree “by its fruit will have to be recognized”.

43. Do not be afraid to be few and small, an invisible army of beings of light will go with you, preparing your way, opening doors for you to pass, knocking down obstacles and overcoming pitfalls.

44. Against a world of darkness you will count on that world of light; to overcome the influence of war, you will count on the angel of peace; against illness, pestilence and death, you will have with you the charity of those invisible beings, ready to pour on humanity their balm of charity and consolation.

45. My disciples have never been forsaken by Me, they have never been abandoned by those beings who inhabit regions of light and harmony.

46. Who inspired some of my disciples of the Second Time to remember the divine word of their Master and write it down for the inheritance of all generations? Who led my disciples along unknown roads to distant cities? Who freed Peter from his prison, while his jailers were asleep, and who accompanied those apostles of my truth in the supreme hour of their sacrifice? The spiritual beings, your brothers, whom men have called angels.

47. Oh, if only you knew the value that this influence has in your life! You would be more docile, more humble and more obedient to his calls and to his indications. But you are creatures of little faith, because you wanted to touch and see with your bodily senses the spiritual life and since you have not achieved it, you have felt disappointed in your faith.

Love one another!

48. Truly I tell you, if your faith were true, you would not need to feel the presence of the spiritual with the senses of the flesh; because then it would be the spirit who would perceive with his subtle sensitivity, that world that vibrates without ceasing around you.

49. Yes, humanity, if you feel distant from the Spiritual World, on the other hand those beings cannot feel distant from men, since for them there are no distances, no limits, no barriers. They live within the spiritual and for the same reason, they cannot be strangers to the life of human beings, whose highest destiny is the elevation and perfection of their spirit.

50. You are all brothers, all spirits have the same attributes, your same matter has been created the same as the others. Then: Why have you divided yourselves into classes and nations, mankind? I love you as one son and so I forgive you, but be worthy of this grace, conquer your redemption. The moment will come when, meditating on my teaching, you will love one another inspired by my love and you will not judge your mistakes.

51. Advise and correct with love on your way, but do not feel superior to your brothers, just love, live with justice as I have taught you.

52. Get ready because tomorrow you will be guides and teachers of humanity. In this time of which I am speaking to you, you will give my teaching with love, as I have taught you, you will not judge your brothers harshly believing that you please your Lord with it, truly I tell you, even when you find yourselves teaching humanity in my name, you will not be exempt from sinning. Watch and pray, but if I contemplate you sanctioning the faults of your brothers without love, I will speak to you through conscience and tell you as in the Second Time: "He who is free from sin, let him throw the first stone".

53. My teaching is for all time. Now I repeat to you the lessons of past ages so that you may understand me better. Just as you are listening to me, the disciples of the Second Time listened to me; just as you are taking the first steps in my Doctrine, so they took them; just as you are struggling to overcome your imperfections, so they fought and won in the end.

54. Just as you doubt the gifts that I have entrusted to you, so among those disciples there were those who secretly, believing that the Master was not looking at them, put his word to the test. If they were living my examples, the fruit of their preparation manifested itself in their works, if they did not watch and pray, the miracle did not manifest itself and they returned to Me, with doubt in their hearts, but when they heard the truth of my word again, they repented of their faults and tearfully promised not to doubt Me again.

Love one another!

55. This is how I contemplate you at this time, disciples: Some of you fight carrying faith and good works as invincible weapons and you see that my word manifests itself in your fulfillment; but others of my children, without practicing my Law, have sought that I grant them a miracle before humanity that identifies them as my messengers, and when they did not obtain it, they doubted Me, and denied me.

56. I forgive them because if today they doubt, tomorrow they will believe, if today they do not accept my teaching, tomorrow they will give their own life, to confess and bear witness to the truth of this revelation.

57. I bless those who live in my Law and those who reject it, because through the latter, when they have penetrated to the meaning of my teachings, I will give great tests to humanity, because they will be the faithful conduit for my Divine Spirit to overflow among their brothers in virtue truth and love.

58. Thus I rejoice among you, disciples, thus the Father strengthens you for the time of trials that you will have to live.

59. Remain attentive to the voice of conscience and in truth I tell you that you will continue to receive my teaching; even when this manifestation through the mouthpiece ends in 1950, listen to conscience and then your communion with God will be eternal and there will be nothing and no one to separate the disciples from their Master.

60. Trust in my word, verily I say to you, all the prophecies will be fulfilled, to the satisfaction of the prophets and the joy of the people of Israel.

61. Watch and pray, because times are going to change, unite yourselves to my Law of love and there will be no test that will stop you on the way; live the examples that I gave you in Jesus, and then you will come out ahead; no one will be able to silence my Word in your mouths; truly I tell you, even the scaffold will not make you forget my Law, because the memory of the slain Lamb will strengthen you and you will offer yourselves as a holocaust to my Divinity.

62. How many of you will abandon your dearest ones, to go in search of those who will have to hear my word through you. How many of you, for the love of my Doctrine, will strip yourselves of your material goods and live in the midst of privations. But if your body lacks earthly goods in this world, I will adorn your spirit with my love in eternity. But do not be afraid, O dearly beloved children! I do not ask for the sacrifice of any of you, I have only told you in my word: Whatever you do in my Work, you will receive multiplied a hundredfold; sow your path with good deeds and you will reap the fruits in the Hereafter.

Love one another!

63. Thus I prepare you at this dawn in which Christian humanity commemorates the passion of Jesus. You too, disciples, are living the ever-present sacrifice of the Messiah, and you are nourished by the examples of the Divine Redeemer.

64. People of Israel: Be the light of humanity, remind him of my promise to return that I made to him through Jesus and tell him that I have fulfilled my word.

65. Those prophecies have been forgotten by men, but I, through my new apostles, will remind them.

66. Disciples: In the manifestation of my word is present my Father's caress and my peace; take it you who still inhabit the valley of tears.

67. Hurry your cup with patience, because after this bitterness you will eternally taste the bread and wine of my love.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 318

1. Blessed are you who come seeking my teaching. Blessed are you who know how to find in my word the flow of eternal life. But who are those who are being strengthened by my lessons, so that they may remain as emissaries among humanity, when my word through these channels has ceased? It is you who are purifying yourselves from ancient stains for failing to my Law, who are rushing the cup of bitterness; who are coming from great tribulation and are cleansing your spirit in the crystalline waters of my teachings.

2. Today, when you come before this manifestation, you feel unworthy of my presence, but I contemplate that you are regenerating and that purification makes you worthy of Me. Feel my caress, feel my love; he is the balm that heals your sufferings.

3. You commemorate for the last time, in this form, my passion of the Second Time. You do not come to fulfill a tradition, because the disciples of the Holy Spirit will not be traditionalists, they will be obedient to my Law. You come only to commemorate those divine events, the perfect examples that I bequeathed to you through Jesus, which will eternally teach you to conquer your own redemption.

4. Today I contemplate your spirit moved by the memory of those teachings and I say to you: O dearly beloved children, do not discard these lessons, because they are your inheritance!

5. You thank me for the strength that my word imparts to you, but among you there are those who ask me this question: Father, why don't you perform in my life the miracle that I have been waiting for, for a long time? The Master says to you: In this time I have sown miracles in your life. From my Spirit to yours, benefits and thanks have always come. Through the spiritual world I have poured out my love among you. By your faith and good works you have seen these miracles performed. I say to you: Do you need a daily prodigy to believe in Me?

6. At the beginning of your evolution, I poured out materialized graces and benefits, palpable before you, but when your knowledge and faith lit up like a light in your spirit, I stopped giving you these material proofs. Today your faith as disciples must be in accordance with my will, in order to overcome all obstacles and adversities. You ask me: Teacher, what is faith? And the Master tells you: Faith is the spiritual gaze that sees beyond the heart and the mind. Faith is the gaze that contemplates and discovers the truth. That is why the manifestations that you often fail to understand are contemplated by your faith and makes you firm in them.

Love one another!

7. This is transcendental dawn, O beloved people, for I am building the NEW JERUSALEM among you. You are the first stones of the white city announced by Me through the prophets; this spiritual city will not have its foundations in this world, because if you believe that the New Jerusalem is your earthly Homeland, you are in grave error; the New Jerusalem, I am building it in your spirit and that city, whiter than the snow cones, will spread to all men when the redemption of all humanity arrives.

8. Today, when I come to you to start building the Great City, I contemplate among my people the lack of harmony, of spirituality and my Divine Spirit suffers, because you still do not know how to be fully with me; despite the perfect lessons that I have given you through the times, you still insist on low passions, on disunity and idolatry.

9. Truly I tell you, if you want to be great, do not seek greatness in the vanities of the world because they are perishable, seek it in the spiritual, which is eternal.

10. To reach this elevation, it takes a persevering effort, an unshakable will, an absolute faith. Only in this way will you be able to attain the glory of the spirit.

11. The path lends itself to making merits, since it is strewn with trials. There you will be able to learn to give up your pride, patiently accepting pain, rejecting vanities and passions. On the other hand, there are many needy people on the way who you can help so that they also reach the goal.

12. Every man, whether he has spirituality in his life or not, carries a cross. My Word teaches us to bear it with love, to make it light and even necessary to be able to live. He loves his cross, he loves his destiny because he knows that it was I who drew it for him, he loves my will and whoever does my will participates in my peace, my light and my strength.

13. The one who shirks the weight of his mission, the one who deviates or disregards the responsibilities that his spirit contracted with me, to take responsibilities at his whim or will, he will not be able to have true peace in his heart, since his spirit will never be satisfied or calm. They are the ones who are always looking for pleasures to forget their sorrow and their restlessness, deceiving themselves with false joys and fleeting satisfactions.

14. I let you walk your path, because I know that if today you walk away, forget me and even deny me, soon, when reality comes to wake you up from your dream of greatness on earth, you will understand the insignificance of riches, titles, pleasures and honors of the world, when man has to face spiritual truth, eternity, and divine justice, from which no one can escape.

Love one another!

15. No one ignores this, since you all have a spirit who reveals to you, by the gift of intuition, the reality of your life, the path that is mapped out for you and what you should accomplish in it, but you persist in freeing yourself from all spiritual commitment to feel free and masters of your life.

16. Do most people follow their religion? I tell you that you have made religions to try to escape my Law and make you believe yourselves that you are complying.

17. To this humanity I could apply the same words that I said to the Jewish people at that time, when I made them see that by complying with ancient and already useless traditions, they had forgotten the Law.

18. Everywhere the symbol of Christianity arises - the cross. Everywhere I find the quarry temples, my name is pronounced by most men, tributes are offered to me and rites are raised to me every day. However, I do not discover in the heart of humanity the manifestation of love that is the essence, the beginning and the end of my Doctrine. And you all believe that you are in the Law and in the Truth, that's why when I come to reveal the opposite to you, you get upset and when someone points out your mistakes to you, you let anger penetrate into you.

19. Verily I tell you, Christians, that if at this time I were to come into the world as a man, you would be precisely the ones who would take me to the cross of a new Calvary when you heard the truth on my lips. But I will no longer come to your world as a man. I have come in the spirit, you will not look at me with the eyes of your body, but you will have to listen to me; you will want to find me to exterminate me, but when you find me it will be to worship me, because whoever speaks to me spiritually will be proof that faith has arisen in his heart and has enlightened his understanding.

20. Now I still discover among my new disciples the weakness of Peter, the doubt of Thomas, the ambition of Judas, and it is necessary that as a Teacher I continue to teach you.

21. Remember in this last commemoration, which I am making among you today in this year of 1950, the day on which Jesus, accompanied by his disciples, penetrated triumphantly into the first Jerusalem to finish his divine mission on the cross.

22. Live these moments spiritually with true preparation; not as a simple commemoration, no, feel that in truth I am giving you my last lessons through the spokespersons in the Third Time; and these words will be the bread of eternal life for your spirit throughout his journey; these teachings will be your bulwark and your staff,

Love one another!

you must make them yours, engrave them with the fire of my love in your conscience, so that later, as I have given them to you, you engrave them in the hearts of your brothers.

23. A large part of humanity celebrates this tradition, and my Spirit makes his love felt to all his children.

24. It is the preparation that I come to give to the spirits. When spiritual and human regeneration is in all men, spirituality will bring as a fruit, fraternity and love among peoples; then, from this planet the white light of spiritual harmony will arise, which will be contemplated in all the worlds. It will be the White City that my apostle John contemplated in his ecstasy. It will no longer be the murderous city that raises its Master on a cross to see him bleed and die. It will be the regenerated city, which awaits the arrival of its Lord, of the Father who descends from the cross of his martyrdom to live eternally in the hearts of his children.

25. When the Master wept in the first Jerusalem, it was not because of that race, it was because of the blindness of men who, having their Father so close, did not recognize him. The Master opened his fatherly arms to clasp his children, and the children's hearts were closed blinded by his darkness, and the Father could not feel the caress of his own. Instead, he received disbelief, mockery, derision and death. But since it was not the material city for which Jesus wept, I allowed its destruction to show humanity that the one whom the Father sought and will always seek is the spiritual sheep, lost in the dark jungles of sin.

26. If in the Second Time I said to you, "My Kingdom is not of this world," why do you pretend that my manifestation as the Holy Spirit would be again in the limited form of Jesus? Remember that I said to the woman of Samaria, "The hour is coming, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and in truth."

27. I have come to you in spirit, I have fulfilled my promise to you. But do not be fanatical about your nation, because it has only been your shelter at this time as any other people on Earth could have been; but you, those appointed to listen to my word at this time, are the chosen ones to begin to build the New Jerusalem in the unification of your spirits.

28. Today you are far from contemplating the kingdom of peace in your world; put off all selfishness and even when you do not enjoy peace in the present human life, do not stop fighting. I have taught you to forget about yourself in order to think about others. Why should you seek only your well-being and let Me be the only one who cares about all humanity? There are many of your brothers and sisters who need your words, prayers and love. They lack the wealth of benefits that the revelations that you waste give. Work these lands, make them fruitful with love. If you leave the task started when I call you to the Hereafter, do not be afraid, that corporeal death will not end with your fulfillment.

29. I am Life, I am Eternal, and I have made you to dwell in Me, so that the work you have begun will never abandon it. Trust in Me and truly I tell you, a single seed will not be lost and your harvest will be perfect.

30. Think of the new generations that are to succeed you and for them sow the seed of love, leave your mark of virtue imprinted. Do you know if I will bring you back in those generations? Be virtuous in peace and in struggle.

31. Put into practice my Law of justice and love; there is no impossible that prevents you from fulfilling my maxims. I do not come to demand perfect works from you, because I still contemplate you debating in the stormy ocean of life, there you fight holding on to the boat of your conscience, so as not to perish in the raging sea of evil.

32. The great cataclysms of the spirit and the darkness that originate the doctrines of materialism, prepare the chalice of bitterness and great events for humanity.

33. Your planet is not yet the abode of love, virtue, or peace. I send clean spirits into your world and you make them unclean to me, because the life of men is saturated with sin and perversity.

34. I contemplate the virtues as small lights isolated among the spirits; whipped by the gales of selfishness, of grudges and hatreds; that is the fruit that humanity offers me.

35. Long before your spirit comes to find peace and harmony in this world, your matter has enjoyed this bliss.

36. In order for man to inhabit this planet, with my perfect wisdom through the elements of Nature, I shuddered and prepared this Earth; but before man inhabited it, it was the primitive beasts who lived on it.

37. When this world was turned into a mansion full of delights, wonders and beauties, I offered it to my dearly beloved son, to man. In this way I made you to inhabit the earth in order to dwell in it, because to love and understand life is also to love and understand Me. When the love and understanding of everything around you are true, then you will have recognized me and redeemed yourselves in true knowledge, because I am in everything created.

38. Those who investigate Nature without love, guided only by the knowledge of human science, deny me. It is that they have not known how to see, it is that they have not understood and much less felt and loved. How many there are among the humble, among the despised, humiliated by the arrogance and ignorance of those who believe themselves wise among humanity, who without knowing have believed, because the gaze of their faith has contemplated the truth head-on and have understood that this planet from the beginning has been for man, a paradise of grace, harmony and blessings.

39. You have marveled contemplating the perfection of every being, every creature formed by Me takes its place on its path, everything subject to a mandate, everything obedient to my Law. You should not doubt the origin of your nature, because you already trust in the accuracy and fidelity of its Law. You have discovered many teachings in life and you are confident in the fulfillment of its natural laws, which have not let you down.

40. From the earth you have gathered its taste. She is for you like a wellspring of blessings, which has always provided you with sustenance, the paradise of joys, and at the end of your earthly life, she has opened her bosom to welcome you with love; but while in human life you found bliss in your beginning in this world, your spirit, finding itself in the Third Time, is still struggling to achieve peace. But if in the beginning I shook this planet with the elements of Nature to offer it to you as a paradise of blessings, at this time, again it will be my elements that shake you, it will be my perfect justice helping the spirits to obtain their freedom. In this way I will manifest myself in the bosom of religions, sects and institutions, destroying their hatreds and revenges that have divided men for lack of spiritual unification.

41. These events await humanity; watch and pray, disciples, because many of you will contemplate these trials. You will see the doctrines of materialism stirring, enveloping men, making them exclaim distressing woes of pain.

42. I do not want to frighten you with this alert, but to warn those of you who will die on Earth in this time of trials. All this must happen in order for all spirits to achieve their salvation.

43. It will be my Divine Spirit that extinguishes the pride of men; it will be my wisdom that reveals the truth to you, to those who have wandered among darkness; it will be the light of the Holy Spirit that illuminates the spirit of men, in their sciences, and leads them to the path of forgiveness, love and justice.

44. When you have passed through these trials of my perfect love, it will be the spiritual and material rebirth of humanity. Then men, as they travel on the path of virtue and spirituality, will be amazed to understand that this life is the same one that I offered them from the beginning, that nothing in it has changed, they will know that the planet that I entrusted to them as a temporary abode, is still prodigal in blessings, that merciful Mother Earth as the "Author of Life", continues to offer them her bosom to feed them with her love, because that is the mission that the Father has entrusted to her. The sun will be the same, which will always send its life-giving warmth, as a symbol of the presence of the Lord. It will be at that time, O beloved people! When men understand that it has been their evil deeds that have embittered their existence, they will become my good farmers, and they will prepare themselves to live harmoniously more perfect dwellings in eternity.

45. Thus I prepare you, disciples, for the times that await you, in which there will be no hungry before satisfied, ignorant before wise, nor great before small, you will all be at the banquet of the Lord and you will rejoice in the infinite concert of his love.

46. At that time, O disciples, the New Jerusalem will be in the hearts of men. You will reach high degrees of spirituality, and I will not only send highly evolved spirits to incarnate among you to bring you my messages. I will also send to you the spirits in need of your virtue, who, when they meet among you, will be cleansed from their sins. In those times it will be the opposite of today, when I send you clean spirits and you return them to me stained.

47. With the essence of my word, form in the hearts of your children a sanctuary of spirituality, not of fanaticism or idolatry; lead them along the path of my Law. It is not enough not to hurt anyone. The right thing is not to do evil, but if you do good, with this you will be pleasing me.

48. How clear and simple is the truth! How clear and simple spirituality is! However, how difficult it is to understand them for those who persist in the darkness of their fanaticism and their traditions. His mind cannot conceive that there is anything more than he knows, his heart resists renouncing what for him has been his God and his Law: tradition and rite.

49. Do you think that I hate those who insist on not looking at my truth? No, my children, my charity is infinite, and it is precisely these, whom I seek to help them get out of their captivity, so that they may be ecstatic in the contentment of the light. The trials necessary for their awakening to the faith are reserved for them. They will not be tests superior to his strength, they will be lessons wisely suited to every spirit, to every life, to every man.

50. From there, from among those dark brains, from among those hearts sick of religious fanaticism and ignorance, you will see the great fervent soldiers of truth arise, because the day they break free from their chains, from their darkness and see the light, they will not be able to contain their joy and they will loudly exclaim that I have returned to save the world, raising it to the true Kingdom through the scale of spirituality.

Love one another!

51. To help you in your evolution you have had the manifestation of Elijah, your spiritual guide, the forerunner of the Third Time, the one who has prepared your spirit. But he sees with sadness that many are astray and how great is then the pain of Elijah; he seeks his sheep in union with my spiritual servants in all ways. Who among you will prepare to attract the absent, those who are on the path of sorrow? To those who are suffering, I strengthen them so that they do not blaspheme, so that they feel my presence and quickly get up at this time, so that they may be with the Master at the table and be fed with the bread and wine that I have prepared with my love.

52. You are the generation that in this Third Time is listening to my word so that your life conforms to the fulfillment of my Law and I communicate through the understanding prepared by Me to fulfill my promise of the Second Time.

53. In the past, my apostles felt sadness when I told them that I would soon leave them, that they would later be the ones who would have to spread my Doctrine, but I warned them that I would return when the world was at its third height of perversity. Some have not recognized me, but others will come who, upon receiving the essence of my word, will understand their Teacher and feel my presence. You will be with me again and I will receive you with the same love as always so that you may be in my lap.

54. I have come to give you my teaching so that by living it, you may become worthy to enter my Kingdom.

55. From the Second Time, I have taught you how you should reject temptation, everything that does not belong to you from this world so that you may be with me, as Jesus was in the Father.

56. Prepare yourselves, because you are the disciples who follow in the footsteps of the Master, who is once again ascending to Calvary. These last lectures are similar to the last moments of Jesus' life, because at the end of 1950, my Divine Word will cease to speak to you through these channels. Today you come in haste, because you do not want to miss a single one of my lessons, you keep them in your heart, because you long to be witnesses of my last words to humanity.

57. You are the same ones who in the Second Half sang the Hosanna! when Jesus entered Jerusalem. Today when I manifest myself to you in spirit, you no longer spread your cloaks in my path, it is your hearts that you offer as a dwelling place to your Lord. Today, Hosanna! it's not loud, that Hosanna! it springs from your spirit as a hymn of humility, of love and recognition of the Father, as a hymn of faith in this manifestation that in the Third Time your Lord has come to offer you.

Love one another!

58. Yesterday as now, so you followed me at my entrance to Jerusalem. The great crowds surrounded me captivated by my words of love. Men and women, old men and children, shook the city with their jubilant voices, and the priests and Pharisees themselves, fearing that the people would rebel, said to me, "Master, if You teach peace, why do you allow your disciples to be scandalized in this way?" And I answered them, 'Truly, I tell you, if these people were silent, the stones would speak.' Because they were moments of joy, it was the culmination and glorification of the Messiah among the hungry and thirsty for justice, of those spirits who had long awaited the arrival of the Lord, in fulfillment of the prophecies.

59. In that jubilation and joy my people also celebrated their liberation from Egypt. I wanted to make this commemoration of Easter unforgettable among my people; but in truth I tell you, I did not fulfill a simple tradition by sacrificing a lamb, no, I offered Myself in Jesus, the Slain Lamb, as the way through which all my children will be redeemed. In the Third Half, I also do not come to fulfill a tradition; with my word I have made you live the events of the past times, and know disciples, that the Law that I dictated to you on Mount Sinai, is present in your conscience, the sacrifice of the Slain Lamb, as well as the revelations that I have brought to you as the Holy Spirit and the teachings that I will grant you in the times to come, everything is present in eternity.

60. Afterwards you will commemorate these events, but your commemoration will be of meditation, of true purposes of regeneration and fulfillment in my Doctrine. You will not make feasts, you will not do ceremonies or rites believing that you will please me with it, forgetting the Law. You will not be traditionalists. The spiritualist disciples will always bear in mind the passion of their Lord, they will feel his divine presence teaching their brothers, listening to the voice of their conscience.

61. When the moment comes to commemorate the Holy Cenacle, you will do it with your prayer, and you will feel that my Divine Spirit pours out the spiritual bread and wine among you, so I will come to clarify for you the lessons that you will still contemplate shrouded in mystery.

62. Alert, disciples! You have entered into a time when Christian humanity, wanting to achieve the true interpretation of the past revelations, study my word and prophecies. In some I find a little light, others have become confused. In some I contemplate humility, respect and love to penetrate to the study of the prophecies; in others pride and vanity, and in their desire for greatness, they explain to the peoples the meaning of the "scriptures" and verily I tell you, that with their errors they have confused humanity.

Love one another!

63. Remember that I told you in the Second Time that I would send you the "Spirit of Truth", the Holy Spirit and that He would explain to you the revelations that at that time you could not understand, and I would tell you about new teachings.

64. Here is the Spirit of Truth, the Holy Spirit, speaking to you about the past, the present and the future.

65. Watch and pray, people, because in prayer you will find the light to better understand my teachings. This is the bread and the wine, feed yourselves, disciples, strengthen yourselves, because tomorrow you will have to share this sustenance with humanity.

66. Learn from Me, take my example and my wisdom, O people, O dearly beloved disciples.

67. You are all farmers in my countryside, some first and others last, but you will all be able to be first because of your hard work and spirituality.

68. In this dawn in which your spirit offers me his spiritual hosanna, my Divine Spirit floods you with peace, love and blessings.

69. By my blessings, legions of spirits who have purified themselves in the spiritual valley, receive the light; and at this time, united with you, they contemplate the continuation of my Work, the building of the New Jerusalem in the unified spirit of humanity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Welcome once again to Me, who is manifesting Himself to you at this time? The Father, the Son or the Holy Spirit? I answer you, your God is manifest among you. If in the Second Time I said to you as a man "He who knows the Son knows the Father", today that I do not come to you as a man, but in spirit, I say to you: Whoever listens to Jesus hears and receives the Lord and behold the voice of the Holy Spirit. Do not look at three persons or three gods, look at a single Divine Spirit that at this time manifests itself among you in fullness and in this voice, in this word of your Teacher of Teachers, you will find the Judge, you will discover the Father and you will feel the essence of the Holy Spirit.
2. In my last manifestations through the human spokesmen in the present year of 1950, I will test the progress of my disciples, I will put them to the test by taking the lesson from you, because I want to show you who is more advanced or who is behind in my teaching; I know everything, the lessons and tests that I give you, will be so that each one of you intimately have knowledge of their progress, their stagnation or their delay.
3. I come to make more and more light in your spirit so that you will be enlightened after the departure of my word and then, as I have told you, you will be luminous beacons in this sea of passions and storms that form your world.
4. Those who have great faith in Me, humbly prepare their spirit to receive in him all that I give at this time; but there are still disciples who greatly open the eyes of their spirit, trying to discover in the Hereafter the truth of my presence.
5. Still doubt invades some hearts and they wonder if it will be Me or not; still in some of my words and revelations some are often confused and I tell you: Why, if you are already in the Third Time? Leave the doubt to Thomas, because he lived in the Second Time, but remember the lesson that I gave to him and everything that I manifested at that time to destroy materialism, to destroy the doubt of those men; but today in the Third Time, when the teachings and revelations of the past times and of the Third Time are accumulating in your spirit and in your heart, why do you still doubt? Why are you deliberating in the depths of yourselves, whether I will be or not, whether there will be truth or imposture in this Work that you are receiving? I speak in this way only to those who doubt, to those who struggle inwardly, finding themselves in the last stages of my manifestation for the understanding of man, and once again I say to you: Blessed are those who have believed without seeing!

Love one another!

6. You are commemorating in union with your Teacher, events that happened in the Second Time, I have taught you that the lesson that I then gave you, I left in your spirit. Every one of my works and my words were acts of eternal life that I gave to you. The blood that I shed to trace the path of your redemption for you is still fresh and will be eternally in the spirit of all my children, because the one that came out of my body at that time was the image of the life that I poured out, of the forgiveness with which I enveloped all sinners, of the light with which I dispelled all the darkness of this humanity and that spiritual life is eternal in you, in that blood that will always be fresh in your spirit.

7. If I became a man to bring redemption, salvation and light to men, I did not only come to them, it was the time appointed by my Divine Spirit to go in search of all spirits, without any distinction, neither of worlds nor of degrees of elevation; and so, after consummating my mission as a Teacher among you, my Spirit penetrated into all the dwellings inhabited by the spirits of the Lord, because if you had the promise of the Messiah, that promise was not only for the incarnate spirits, but also for those who were waiting for me in the Afterlife, for those who were waiting in the restitution, in the atonement, in the spiritual experience, the day when the Redeemer of all spirits arrived to open the door.

8. That is why, after consummating my Work among you and leaving the doors of my Kingdom open with my sacrifice of love to all my children, I went after the other spirits and also gave them freedom, but I found some in human clothing and the others in various clothes. But in truth I tell you: I have never sought such garments, but the elevation of spirits, because I come to cleanse you of imperfections and materialism, I come to purify you with my Doctrine, to give you the white garment, whiter than the snow-white, of which I have spoken much to you in this time.

9. If at that time I sought one and the other in their different dwellings, now, in the Third Time, I have again come after all; I have again manifested myself to the spirits who dwell throughout the Universe. I have certainly come to establish bonds of love, to seek communication with all the spirits; but I want my communication to be more perfect now than that of the past times, so that through it, you may quickly reach Me, so that through this communication from spirit to Spirit you may receive with greater perfection and purity the Father's inspirations, his orders, his claims and his justice.

10. As a Holy Spirit I have dedicated the Third Time to enlighten all spirits, so that they may never fall again, to save the lost, to convert the obsessed and to cleanse those who have the greatest stains to free from their chains of reproach, shame, crimes and remorse, all those who have imprinted on their conscience the whole history of their faults, of their offenses to my Law.

Love one another!

11. Everything is prepared with wisdom in the Universe. I am speaking to the worlds, to all my children in the way in which I have to communicate with each of them, to bring them to the perfect communication from spirit to Spirit, to bring them to the perfection that is the goal that awaits everyone. Are you spiritually one of the most advanced in the universe? Do not pretend to know, because you could not understand it.

12. In the Second Time I said to you, "In the Father's house there are many mansions." Today I tell you in your own language: In the Universe created by Me, there are many worlds populated by children of my Divine Spirit. You are all brothers in Me, you are all similar to Me and if in the present you are different in your imperfection, in perfection you will all be the same. I lead you to that perfection and so that you may reach it, I prepare you, I teach you, I test you and polish; towards communication with my Divine Spirit I am directing you all equally, and towards communication with one another I am also leading you. When will such communication between the spirits be perfected? You won't know for now. There will be many babbles, many manifestations that will be believed by some and denied by others; but the spirit will manifest, the spirit will speak, the spirit will impose itself on the Universe.

13. For all this I tell you that it is not a material day, that it is not a few hours that I dedicate to you to penetrate the world of light and the dens of darkness, in search of the spirits that await me; no people, it is a whole time, it is a whole era in the midst of eternity, destined by Me from the beginning of creation, to reach everyone as a Holy Spirit, manifesting myself with more elevation and with more perfection, according to the advancement of the spirits in the Third Time.

14. Today do not look beyond your world, so that your spirit does not come out, nor your gaze, nor your mind to search what does not correspond to you yet, and that you only receive what corresponds to you, with respect and obedience, through prayer, from the elevation that leads you to Me and to my Spiritual World consecrated to protect you. By that elevation, by the use that you have of what I reveal to you at this time, you will be able to know what you want to know today out of curiosity and that tomorrow you will know for justice, for reward, for reward, O beloved disciples of the Lord!

15. The time is coming when I will leave you without this word. When you stop listening to it, there will be sadness in many, coldness will penetrate in others and the others will remain fervent; but if today you ask me what my divine desire is, I answer you: that all of you be fervent, that before I raise this word among you, prepare yourselves. Search my

Work, if you want, so that you are convinced, firm, so that doubt will not surprise you later, because it will make you suffer and stumble, because that doubt will leave you with intense pain that will remind you of your conscience and I do not want my disciples to carry any claim in their conscience, I want them to only feel the peace of my Spirit.

16. If this people do not know how to prepare, if they do not take advantage of my last teachings, then they will miss my word; and time, trials, vicissitudes and the insane words of men, will make them penetrate into doubt; then the disciple will have to stop on his way and wonder if what he heard was true or not true, and when only the apparent silence answers his doubts, then he will raise his disrespectful face to say to the Father: Lord, if you promised to stay eternally close to us, why do your children not see you? Why are our ears not listening to you? Why are you not manifesting yourselves clearly before us?

17. And if you see that the doctrines of men and religious institutions rise up in great struggles and advance on their way winning battles, then you will say: Where is the Work of the Father? Why did he keep silent and leave us in solitude at the mercy of vicissitudes and dangers? You will have very great doubts as other disciples of mine had at one time and the doubt will increase if you remember many of my words that, according to the misinterpretations, were not fulfilled and you will say: Why did his word not have the virtue or the power to leave his people unified? Why with all his power did he not perform the miracle of melting this spiritualist people of the Lord into one heart? Why, at the time when He was teaching His disciples, did not all the nations of the world come to listen to Him? Why was peace not made among mankind, if He descended with power through His Universal Ray? Why was his departure so sad? Why did he depart in silence among us, without having been heard or glorified by all mankind? All this will burn your heart in the fire of doubt, but I don't want it to be like that; I want your spirit, elevated above all doubts and uncertainties, not to demand from the Father the materializations for his Divine Spirit, I do not want that after the departure of my Word, you demand that I come to humanize myself, to limit myself or to take the form of Jesus as a man.

18. I want your spirit to truly follow me, not only because of the desire to feel me, not because of the force of your spiritual need to see and hear me, but through the truth you feel me, in the serenity of your spirit you contemplate me, with the faith of your being, because then in this way you will look at me bigger, more perfect and unchangeable.

19. Remember that in that Second Time the men felt disappointed. They were waiting for a Messiah full of material strength to free Israel from the slavery of men, they were waiting for a warrior prince, a lord of armies, of peoples and of earthly domains; and when they heard the word of that meek and humble Teacher who spoke only of the works of his Father and who promised them a Kingdom better than the kingdoms of the earth, who announced the spiritual victory of his Doctrine, who announced justice for those who mourned, for the poor in spirit, for the sick, for the humiliated, for the slaves of the; they, who were waiting for the next moment of their material liberation and the glorification of that Lord, they who longed to see him sitting on a throne in this world and to see a scepter of justice at his right hand to judge the peoples, to subjugate the great reigns of this world, felt disappointed.

20. When the night of the Master's arrest arrived, their hearts were moved by such meekness, because the Lord made no resistance, because he did not fulminate his own enemies with his power, because like a meek lamb he allowed himself to be dragged to the scaffold, and when contemplating the mockery, the mockery and the derision of that people, his apostles themselves were absent confused and intrigued. And so they asked themselves: Why have events happened in this way? They felt a great love for their Master and made the pain of Jesus their own, but they had not yet awakened spiritually and their spiritual eyes were not yet opened to the light of the truth, and when they looked at him there on Calvary and contemplated his death on that shameful tree and saw that his blood ran like that of any man, then doubt seized those hearts.

21. How could they rise to continue the Work of their Master? How would they continue that example of redemption? But the Master had gone through death to rise full of glory and life above all created things, he contemplated his own and suffered for the doubt of his disciples and as one more proof of his infinite love, after his resurrection, he allowed himself to be contemplated by the women who faithfully loved him and followed him, so that they would testify to his disciples of what they had seen and heard, and despite that testimony they doubted. It was necessary that the Master was manifesting himself, dispelling the darkness of doubt and making light in all those hearts but there was the disciple who doubted more. Thomas, the one who had said that only by touching his Master's wounds with his own fingers, could he believe that he had risen. And the Teacher had to surprise him in his doubt too.

22. When the Master found his disciples lonely and moved, some believing in the resurrection of the Master and Thomas doubting, the Lord appeared among them saying: My peace be with you! And calling Thomas, he showed him his wounds and said to him, "Sink your fingers, Thomas, and do not doubt, that it is really Me." But Thomas at that moment repented of his doubt, overcome in his unbelief exclaimed: "My Lord!" But I said to him, "Because you have seen me, you believed. Blessed are those who believe without seeing."

Love one another!

23. Do you want to carry eternally in your conscience, that sweet claim of Jesus, the Master? And let him say to you again: Have you believed because you have seen? No, disciples of the Holy Spirit, not disciples of the Third Time! Do not harbor doubt, destroy it from now on, contemplate me in spirit, contemplate me in my truth and in my essence, so that later, when these manifestations are lacking, you will be able to look at me through love and faith, with a pure spiritual gaze and clean of doubts and stains.

24. So that you may rise to fulfillment, do not expect that only through the seers I can tell you: Get up and fulfill, do not expect that I will come again to humanize me, to be believed. This happened in the Second Half, because it was necessary. Because the Master could not demand more from those disciples, at this time when man was beginning to penetrate with the spirit into the unfathomable valley of the Beyond: and you, who are these and those, who spiritually have evolved a lot, to whom I have tried a lot and I have spoken through the human understanding, to deliver the truth and make great revelations to you, could you doubt, could you fall into materializations, could you let the love of your heart cool down and divert your spirit from the path, after the departure of my word? No, disciples, I am speaking to you and I will prepare you even more with my word, so that in your spirit there will only be light, courage, determination and unshakable determination in the face of all trials.

25. When I presented myself spiritually to my disciples of the Second Time, they felt true love in their spirit, it was when they hugged in an embrace of fraternity and spiritual courage to continue the work of their Master; because then, full of spiritual bliss, their doubts destroyed, they said: Behold, we were in truth with the Messiah, with the Son of God and with; we were in truth with the Savior of the world, He has not disappointed us, He is life, He is the Redeemer, He is the Truth, his Kingdom is not of this world, his dwelling place is the eternal Kingdom from which today He looks at us, speaks to us and lets himself be looked at; He has promised us to be eternally with us; behold, we are united, we are loving each other, and we will testify of Him to all the peoples of the earth.

26. Do you know if, after the departure of my word, true unification will also come among you, when you feel in the depths of your heart and spirit the absence of my word, when my spiritual world no longer causes his word to reverberate among you either, through the faculties? Then the congregations will look for the congregations, and those who have remained distant, acting under their own will, will look for their brothers, they will seek the warmth and the presence of others, the advice and the staff: they will seek my word and the balm one in the bosom of the other and I will come again to manifest myself.

Love one another!

27. Yes my people. and I will speak closely to your spiritual ear and you will all see me, and those clear manifestations that I give you, which today you do not know in what form they will be, will come in a definitive and clear way to get you up on the road, they will be your bulwark, your incentive, so that you never believe that you are walking alone. I will surprise you in the ways, in your spiritual fulfillment, in the material fulfillment and also in your faults. I will choose the opportune moment to make myself present on the path of each of my disciples. I will be present and manifest in your meetings and you will feel my warmth, the breath of my Spirit and you will receive my inspirations.

28. Just as you are going to believe in Me, I want you to also have faith in one another; that no false testimony arise among you; that no falsehood arise from your lips to make you great or notorious among the people or among humanity. Woe to him who lies, woe to him who says, I saw the Master, without having seen him! Woe to him who says, I have received this message from the Lord, without having received it! Because then my inspiration will be denied to him and he will only recover it through the purification of his stains. Do not take my name in vain. do not take my Work to lie, nor take my Spirit or my Work to shield your deception with it.

29. I want you only to tell the truth, that if you have never received an inspiration or a manifestation from Me, be conformed and do not lie, because in this way no one will point out to you; but I tell you, Who can there be who does not receive from Me? Who can be the one who does not enjoy my inspiration, who does not receive my commands and feel my manifestations? I will not stop at your faults. I will always be before you, I will let you become prophets, but prophets of truth, not false ones who stand up on the roads boasting of prophecy.

30. In the early days my prophets knew how to walk in the streets proclaiming the messages of the Lord; but how much humility, how much courage and faith there was in them. Times have changed and today you cannot go out into the streets, the roads or the squares of the villages, shouting my messages out loud. Today you have to know what is the time when you should speak, act and pray. If you prepare yourselves in this way, my people will not hesitate before your own testimonies.

31. When you are about to face a trial, when my justice is going to make itself felt among the peoples of the earth and even in you; when it is my will to reveal some event to you, I will choose one of you to warn you and announce to you what is about to happen. I will choose two or three, whom I please, so that that message may be confirmed, but do not doubt, because with that, you would demand from the Father a greater manifestation, and do you not know that in this Third Time the Master has told you: "The time of pleasures is over"? If you say, "Yes, Father, the material pleasures are over, but you have granted us the spiritual pleasures." I answer you: Yes, my children, but if you demand materialization from the Master, then that request of yours is within the material satisfactions, that time has already passed.

32. That is why I have come to strip you of many traditions, because the cult revealed by the Father to your spirit, a cult wrapped in grace and perfection, you would profane it, you would make it fall into profane rites, ceremonies and feasts and you would always be more concerned with external worship, the fulfillment of traditions, than with the fulfillment of the Law and Doctrine, and that is why, with pain from some and joy from others, I have come to strip you at this time of many traditions, of many religious practices to which your spirit was bound.

33. Now you are finding the true temple and that temple you find the same inside you as outside, in the infinity of the Universe. Today you know that the true altar is in your heart, that faith is the lamp that you must light for Me; that the flowers, the offerings, must be your works, your merits; that the image of your Lord is yourselves, that through you you can contemplate Me. Today you recognize that the source of grace is my Divine Spirit, an inexhaustible source of perfection and blessings; that I am the Work, because my own Work is in Me and is infinite and universal; that I am the shepherd of all the spirits, that in great numbers they follow Me and that finally everyone will reach the one fold that is perfect peace, that is the eternal abode of the spirits in the Hereafter, and that the Father's house is everywhere and from that house you have never left.

34. Thus, your spirit will have opened its wings and will contemplate the infinite for space, for time to eternity, by way, the perfect and luminous path that leads you to the Father, and you will have forgotten and left behind on the way the traditions that were obstacles and stumbles, the routine that was only the wall that had stagnated your spirit, and the idols, the objects of fanaticism will remain behind and your hurried and free spirit will be full of zeal, joy, hope and faith in its spiritual future.

35. Everything that the spirit contemplated as a staff to support himself, to support himself, to believe and to love me, he will have left to contemplate me with his spiritual gaze, to trust in the infinite and in the truth that I have come to manifest among you in fullness at this time. By the preparation of some I overcome the imperfections of others, by your desire for advancement, of approach to Me, of elevation, of ideal and of understanding in my divine Work, I come and manifest myself, I pour out wisdom and light among you.

36. The blood of Jesus, converted into the light of redemption, penetrated and continues to penetrate all spirits as salvation. Eternally my Spirit is giving salvation and light, I continuously make the rays of my light penetrate where darkness exists, instant after instant my Divine Spirit pours out, not in human blood, but in essence, in spiritual life, on all my children.

Love one another!

37. Your future awaits you, the times are coming and they are coming to you and with those times, people will come, the multitudes, eager for spiritual knowledge, eager also to destroy their doubts and to be able to find for the spirit a port of light and peace.

38. Humanity will come and among it, Thomas represented by science and by materialism, with his eyes prepared to search, and not only with his eyes, with the fingers of his hand, to feel, to touch and only in this way will he be able to believe in my existence and in the spiritual events that will happen to each other among humanity, and of which men will testify, so that the Thomas of the Third Time can be overcome by my love in his doubt and in his materialism.

39. Prepare yourselves so that you may be apostles of the faith, so that you may be fervent disciples, those who not only testify with words but also with deeds, and thus your examples will overcome the hardness of men. I will show wonders and give proofs that will truly illuminate the unbelief of those who stand before you.

40. I do not ask for an impossible, they will not be difficult works for you, your preparation, your prayer and faith will suffice for me and everything else I will do, Oh my beloved children!

41. Everything that you do not manage to do, all the stumbling block that you find, you will leave it to Me and I will make everything possible and then humanity will contemplate that what is impossible for human beings, becomes reality through you and those wonders will not be able to attribute them to humans and in their amazement they will have to go to the Beyond, to think of a supreme and sovereign power.

42. I will come to manifest myself in splendor to destroy the sin of men; before human power I will manifest myself as divine wisdom and science; I will also come to surprise the materialism of human science. Over all the religions and institutions of men I will come as the Savior. That's what I announced. In the fields of discord and battle I will be present with my invisible weapons of peace, with my two-edged sword that will put to death all sin and adultery.

43. I have come as the Great Warrior; as men want to see me and as many who populate the earth are waiting for me. As a warrior I have arrived in truth and in spirit; my war has begun for a while, but that war is at its dawn, the strongest, the most tremendous of this combat is still to come, and in that contest you will penetrate, whom I am preparing as soldiers. But you know that my war will not be about injustice, but precisely about justice over human injustice. My love will tear away the hypocrisy, selfishness and evil of man; my peace will come to destroy everything that has the seed and principle of hatred, of discord. What will then respect my invincible sword that I am going to deposit in your hands? My children's lives, sensibility and virtue; everything else will fall.

44. If I contemplate a spark of love for Me, an atom of truth, a particle of love or pity for others, all that my weapon will respect; therefore you can understand that this combat will be great between you, but it is not only between humans, this contest is universal, all spirits will take after this battle, a step towards true life, a step forward, a firm step towards Me, in truth and in spirit.

45. Do you not feel how the spiritual life is stirring around you? Do you not feel that within your spirit the rumble of this great combat is heard? Even at the moment of your deep sleep, your spirit stirs and struggles, it detaches itself and works on the mission that I have indicated to it.

46. These are the great battles that John, my disciple, contemplated, through the prophetic gift, he saw the armies, which are the same ones that today are in full struggle.

47. The strongest of the combat has not yet arrived and that is why I instruct you every moment to let you become strong soldiers of my Doctrine, of my Law, this Law that says to its soldiers: Love one another!

48. That is what the Great Gerrero what the Prince of the Armies comes to tell you in the Third Period, O beloved people. Rise up with that sword of love, wield it, draw it and overcome all hatred and all evil that exists in humanity.

49. You know that from my high sun I envelop the Universe in my peace and in my blessings.

50. Everything is blessed by Me at all times, at all times. No curse or abomination has sprung from Me, nor will any sprout for my children; therefore, without contemplating the righteous or sinners, I send down on everyone my blessing, my gift of love and my peace.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 320

1. Blessed is the human race for having had the humanized presence of its Lord on earth. Blessed is the human race, for having received that inheritance of love.
2. My existence in the world through Jesus, I spent it in the lands of Palestine, my preaching lasted only three years, there were few villages that I visited and the crowd that accompanied me to Golgotha, was not very numerous. However, that word that vibrated on the lips of Jesus, was bequeathed to humanity of all times. I had no need to go in search of disciples to all the countries of that time, because I knew that my word, like a seed, would soon leave that land to spread to all the peoples of the world. Those who listened to Jesus and witnessed his death were a representation of all the generations that would come later, because the essence of my Doctrine and the love with which that blood was shed, had to belong to everyone.
3. Do not judge that people because they did not recognize the Messiah in Jesus and because they sacrificed him; do not be scandalized thinking that the one they mocked was God Himself. Truly I tell you, Judge, only I. Many of those who judge that people as wicked, and do not forgive them for having sacrificed the Master, carry a decay in their hearts without realizing it, because they have taken a place that does not correspond to them.
4. If, while being subject to the cross, dying, in front of a mob that was enjoying his sufferings, he exclaimed: "My Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing", that same phrase could be repeated daily by Me, for you, because knowing my name since you were born and carrying in your conscience my teaching, my commandments and my laws, you do not cease to hurl offenses at me or mock at my maxims.
5. Three ages of spiritual revelations have come to you and humanity has not yet built the temple that I hope for; however, in this Third Time, men will raise up in the depths of their hearts the Tabernacle where the Ark will be, which will be the spirit, keeping inside the tablets of the Law that is in your conscience.
6. The moral and spiritual transformation of humanity seems impossible to you, because you have strayed far from the principles that were given to you revelados. No you manage to imagine and even less to believe in a world where love reigns, peace reigns and justice exists.

Love one another!

7. I tell you that you cannot believe in all this because you have not wanted to analyze the meaning of my word and my works; if you devoted a little of your time to spiritual meditation, you would achieve great inspirations and obtain wisdom.
8. Two thousand years ago, who among humans imagined the current world that you have made with the strength of your intelligence? No one, therefore, many of the ancient prophecies that foretold this now world, were not believed.
9. I am prophesying to you a new world and a spiritualized humanity and again when this word is known, it will not be believed.
10. Generations and more generations will pass away; the pride of men will unleash storms and floods, plagues and plagues and the alas! but after all this, the new inhabitants will begin a life of reflection and spirituality, taking advantage of the immense wealth of experience that past generations bequeathed to them, and the divine seed will begin to germinate.
11. In every spirit there is the divine germ, since it has sprung from Me, and just as your children inherit the traits or the character of their parents, so the spirits will reveal at last, what they have inherited from their Heavenly Father: love.
12. Remember that day when for love of you as a man I will atone on the cross; remember my passion, yes, but stop doing it in the traditional way that for centuries you have been used to, an external and material form that has not left seed in your spirit, because you have not delved in search of meaning and essence.
13. I see that to move your heart, you dramatize my death with bloody representations and images; that you cry and dress in mourning as if a man had just died and that every year, you go to give condolences to the Mother, without realizing what you are doing.
14. Why give condolences to Mary, if she has lost no one, since the one who expired on the cross, rose to eternal life? Why cry for Me, if I am beyond pain and death.
15. Verily I say to you, it would be better for you to weep for yourselves and to feel sorrow for your sins, and to carry mourning in your heart for so many virtues and noble feelings that have died in you.
16. I wish that, without waiting for anniversaries or dates, or traditions, you would gather in congregations or in the bosom of your families and reviewing those examples and works that I teach you in the Second Time, you would gather full of spirituality and learn to meditate and analyze my word, because then you would get a benefit for your spirit, discovering the meaning or essence of my works and my words.

Love one another!

17. Do not try to feel pity for Me, because there is nothing in Me that can inspire pity to men; but instead, be inspired by that love, that through a life I proved to you and apply that pity, that regret of offending and those regrets, to your fellow men, among whom there are thousands, who are worthy of all compassion and all pity; some, because they suffer intensely; others, because they have sunk into the mire of vice; others, because they do not know the light of truth and others because they live orphans of love or because they are hungry and thirst for justice and peace.

18. For all of them, yes, feel mercy and charity; for them, cry and pray; but above all, do something that relieves their pain or improves their life. Then yes, you will be understanding my Doctrine, understanding my sacrifice and interpreting my will.

19. Loving one another will be the only way to fulfill my word and please my Spirit.

20. I said, on the cross, through Jesus: "Forgive, Father, you who do not know what you are doing!" After many centuries, I can say again of this humanity that it still does not know what it is doing, because it often changes the meaning of the Law or the Doctrine that I have revealed to it and violates them, believing that it is honoring them and fulfilling them.

21. If you understood and felt my teaching, love would run through your veins, love for your brothers, who are part of me; but you are very far from loving each other and you prove this with almost all your works.

22. Remember in your commemorations, that I, the Divine Master, out of love for you, left the Spiritual Kingdom, becoming a man to dwell with men, that I left my Kingdom to show myself in your world as a being at the service of the needy; that being in Christ, the Father of all creation, I came among you, to be the most humble and to consecrate my whole life to you.

23. My Doctrine taught that the more you have, the more you have to give, and that the older you are, the more humble you should be.

24. Who are those who imitate me at this time? Who is capable of descending from a throne or from his seat, to be confused among the poor and needy to give them life? I do not find them, despite the fact that your world is so vast and humanity is so numerous.

25. When those examples are given in profusion on Earth, then you will be able to say that you are commemorating my word and my examples, that you are living them.

26. From generation to generation and from time to time, men have been departing from the divine laws, thereby determining a backwardness in the spiritual order.

Love one another!

27. If you stop for a moment to contemplate your world, to look at it through the mind, as if you were on top of a mountain contemplating a city, you will observe that humanity has developed its passions and its intelligence, always applying them to earthly ends.

28. If you analyze and meditate, you will find that there is nowhere a sign of true spirituality, something that proves that a being of light dwells in man.

29. When you descend from this mountain of your meditations, you will descend sorrowful, saddened, with the knowledge that you have strayed far from the divine laws that govern the spiritual life.

30. On your way you will meet the little inferior beings, a bee, an ant, a worm, and you will say: "Father, why don't you allow those beings, being inferior to us, to sin, and instead your spiritual children, as we are, do you let us sin?" Ah, little ones, that you dare to ask such foolish questions to your Lord!

31. I have already surprised you by envying the happiness and peace with which these creatures live. I have already seen you envy the joy that exists in the nests where the birds have made a home, and I have heard when your heart has been said: But do these beings deserve greater blessings than the children of God? Now I tell you that you are wondering like this and you are intrigued because you do not know how to study my teaching until you find the truth.

32. Do you not see that these creatures have only one dwelling place, which is the Earth, and that it is right that they should have their glory and joy in it? Are you not seeing that they are induced to fulfill a force that is the law of Nature? If they live within the Law, they have to enjoy what the Law contains, which is love, peace, well-being, delight, activity, life.

33. You, men, have the opportunity to know something that is beyond material nature and that is the spiritual life; for this the path that leads to the Kingdom of your Father has been revealed to you; but I have left you free to take the path or not, to ascend or descend, to approach or to distance yourselves, because it is the way to make true merits before the Father and at the same time to prove your love for him.

34. The irrational being is guided by instinct, which is his inner voice, his teacher, his guide, it is like a light that comes from his mother Nature and that illuminates the path he has to travel in his life, a path also of struggles and risks. You men are guided by the spirit, you spirits are guided by conscience, which is the light that the Divine Spirit has deposited in his spiritual children

Love one another!

35. The destiny of the children of Nature is on Earth, there it begins and there it ends; on the other hand, the destiny of the spirit began in Me and will never end, because when it rises above earthly life, when it goes beyond the abodes of perfection and penetrates eternity, it will go from one mansion to another, discovering new worlds of wisdom, enjoying more, loving more.

36. Do not stop meditating on your destiny, nor do you stop observing your inferior brothers, because in them you will find infinite examples of wisdom, which applied to your life will make you reap good fruits.

37. From them take the harmony with which each species lives. Imitate the activity of those who are active. Take the examples of fidelity, or of gratitude, They are examples that contain divine wisdom, since they are my creatures, also sprouted from Me, so that they surround you and accompany you in your world, so that they participate in what I have deposited on Earth and so that in them you discover the voice that tells you, that when you comply to the letter with the divine Law, and let yourselves be induced by the voice of conscience, as they let themselves be guided by instinct, you will have to know harmony, you will have to know peace, and this will lead you to the multiplication of your goods, to abundance and spiritual and human progress.

38. Do you think that anyone who meditates deeply on all this is then capable of fomenting a war? Do you think that anyone who has clearly heard the voice of his conscience will rise up to humiliate his own fellow men? No, beloved people. Then come to the conclusion that you have to meditate, in my revelations, that the world also has to meditate, so that in those reflections, the spirit rises, the mind is ecstatic and in a word, man really listens and obeys the voice of conscience.

39. Meditate and teach to meditate the lesson of this day, it is a message that you have to take to the hearts of your brothers, with the tenderness with which I have given it to you, because you have a mission to fulfill and that is why I have come at this time to give you my word, but for this communication I have not used those who have greatly cultivated their understanding in the wisdom of this world, but those who in their humility have imitated my disciples of the Second Time.

40. You, show my Work without fear, because it will enlighten the world through the ages.

41. Prepare yourselves so that my word may be written in your hearts, so that you may be in imitation of your Master, so that being humble, you may be my true disciples. Bring the truth so that with it all humanity may be enlightened.

Love one another!

42. Practice the virtues and unite as one disciple. From this Book all will carry the teachings and thus the last will be the first.

43. Beloved people, with what dedication do you listen to this word that teaches you and announces to you the events that you will soon see fulfilled in you.

44. This humanity will take great steps towards spirituality, its spirit will be able to go beyond human limits, and reach the higher abodes, to communicate with its brothers and receive the light that they have to offer them. He will also be able to descend to the planes inhabited by beings of low elevation, retarded beings to help them get out of their poor condition and place them on a better level. The scale through which the spirit ascends towards its perfection is very great, in it you will find beings of countless different degrees and you will offer them something of what you possess and they will also, in turn, give you something of their spiritual wealth.

45. Then you will discover that this is not the only world that struggles for its improvement, you will know that the spirit evolves on all the planets, that it pulsates and grows in everyone, fulfilling its destiny and I want you to prepare yourselves so that you make an alliance with all your brothers, that you communicate with them, with that holy longing to recognize you, to love you and to help you. Do it in my name and within the strictest obedience, through your thinking, and when you start this exercise, you will begin to interpret his requests, his teachings and benefits.

46. I long for there to be harmony with your brothers inside and outside this planet, which is now your home; establish bonds of friendship, request help when you need it and also help those who ask you for what you have.

47. How much the beings destined at this time to bring you the knowledge of my new coming love and protect you, and how they have a beneficial influence on humanity! Only I contemplate that constant work and I know its merits. I bless you because your work is great. If you knew how to penetrate your spiritual life, you would see it surrounded by care, by wonders that you owe to your spiritual benefactors. They work in various missions in your world, without you even knowing their goodness and their effort. I only tell you that his struggle is constant to return to order and justice the life of men.

48. Help them in their difficult mission, understand their love, their selflessness and become their collaborators in this great work!

49. Not only at this time, but since the first man inhabited the Earth, the spiritual world was sent and has manifested itself by sharing with you sorrows and joys. I have ordered it so, so that you do not feel alone or distant from your spiritual brothers. When you return to simplicity, when you are in contact with these beings and look at them closely, you will recognize their work and bless them, and when you leave the Earth to embark on the journey to your next abode, you will come united to them, who became guardians of your life. And after knowing the virtue of your spiritual brothers, do you not wish to be to your little brothers what your guardian angels are to you?

Love one another!

50. I am revealing to you what was hidden from your interpretation, because I do not want you to ignore what is fundamental in your life; the immortality of your spirit, its ever ascending path and its end in Me.

51. Walk the path step by step, live on Earth, but always look at Heaven; think that you are living eternal life, from the moment you have started your journey and that each test you pass brings you closer to Me and each stage makes the time of your return shorter.

52. You have looked at the first lights of this era of spirituality, but you will not see its full development from this world; it will be your descendants, who will continue your work, and I will grant you to continue cultivating your seed, as I have allowed the spirit of those who were your fathers, to continue watching over your fulfillment.

53. Work for the good of this world; take my word to your hearts, many times you will be ignored by some, but in others it will find an echo and in those you will overflow this teaching that I have given you so that you may transmit to all your brothers.

54. Today you have my word, manifesting the same and unique essence that I have given you in all times: love. The principles on which my Law and my Doctrine are founded are immutable and eternal.

55. Today I come in spirit to manifest my truth and my presence through the divine light, as in that Second Time I incarnated my Word in Jesus, to reveal my truth to you through the word and seal it with blood. It was necessary to reach out to men, to live with them, to let oneself be felt and to look as they see and feel, in order to give them proof of the infinite love that my Spirit feels for men.

56. I Christ, through Jesus, the man, manifested the glory of the Father his wisdom and his power. The power was used to work wonders for the good of those in need of faith in the spirit, light in the understanding and peace in the heart. That power, which is the very force of love, was poured out on those in need, to give oneself fully to others, to such an extent that I did not use it for my own body, which also needed it in the supreme hour.

57. I did not want to make use of my power to avoid the intense suffering of my body, because in becoming a man it was in order to suffer for you, giving you a palpable, divine and human proof of my infinite love and my pity for the little ones, for the needy, for sinners.

58. All the power that I manifested for others, the same in cleansing a leper, in giving light to the blind and movement to the paralytic, that in converting sinners and raising the dead; all the power that I manifested in front of the mobs, to give them proof of my truth, already proving to them my authority over the elements and my power over life and death, I did not even want to use it for myself, letting my body live that passion and feel that pain. It is true that my power would have prevented all pain to my body, but what merit would I have had before you? What example would I have left within the reach of man, if I had made use of my power to avoid pain? It was necessary to divest myself of my power in those moments, to renounce the divine force in order to feel and live the pain of the flesh, the sadness in the face of ingratitude, loneliness, agony and death.

59. That is why Jesus' lips asked for help at the supreme hour, because his pain was real, but it was not only the physical pain that overwhelmed the feverish and exhausted body of Jesus, it was also the spiritual sensation of a God who through that body was vexed and mocked by the blind, ungrateful and arrogant children, for whom he was giving that blood.

60. Jesus was strong because of the spirit that animated him, which was the Divine Spirit and he could have been physically insensitive to pain and invincible before the trials of his persecutors; but it was necessary that he wept, that he felt, that before the eyes of the crowd he fell again and again, exhausted the forces of his matter and that he died when the last drop of blood had escaped from his body.

61. This is how my mission on earth was fulfilled. Thus ended the existence in the world of the One whom the people had proclaimed King days before, precisely when he entered Jerusalem.

62. The very ones who had received me came to accompany me to Calvary and many who had sung: Hosanna! Hosanna! then they cried out, "Crucify him!" Crucify him! But also many who received me into their hearts prepared with love and faith, followed me faithfully until the last moment, dropping their tears on the blood trail that their Master was leaving.

63. For those who looked at me with the light of his spirit, I was the same God made man; for those who only saw me through their senses, I was not the truth, since my death as a man confused them making them feel disappointed. These were the ones who mocked, those who called themselves deceived, remembering the vehemence with which Jesus promised them a Kingdom full of joys, but now, seeing him bowed under the weight of the cross and later subjected to a humiliating cross, they could not but laugh and shout that Jesus was a false prophet who did not deserve to live.

64. Poor ignorant understandings, poor materialized spirits who were confused by their own conjectures; "If he is the Son of God, why has he not been saved from the hands of his oppressors and executioners? If power is in his voice and in his right hand, why did he complain on the cross that he had been abandoned? If He is the life, the one who raised the dead, why did he die at the hands of insignificant men?"

65. It was not yet time for the light to reach the spirit of those creatures. They would still have to walk the path of life to come to understand the divine truth of my pain and my death. On the other hand, those who loved me with the spirit did not have a moment of confusion or doubt, and the more they saw their Lord suffer, the greater was their admiration before those proofs of infinite love, of the most perfect justice and wisdom.

66. The same thief Dimas, of whom everyone would have said that he had a heart full of darkness, unable to discover an atom of my truth, knew how to know my Divinity, precisely where others stopped recognizing it: on the cross. He knew how to look at my light, he managed to discover my love, he saw the humility of Jesus and the blindness of the world, and because he had suffered a lot on Earth and had been judged and had known the scaffold, he understood me and said to himself in his heart: "It is good that I die on a cross, as a thief and an evildoer, but why do you offer the Master this chalice, this man from whom you have received only goods? And when he saw the patience and humility with which the righteous Jesus was dying, he could not contain himself and exclaimed, "Lord, when you are in your Kingdom, remember me."..

67. Yes, beloved Dimas, you went with me to the Paradise of light and spiritual peace, where I took your spirit, as a reward for his faith. Who would have told those who doubted that in Jesus, dying and bleeding, there dwelt a God, that in the thief who was dying at his right hand there was hidden a spirit of light? Time passed and when the calm was reborn, many of those who denied and mocked me were penetrating the light of my truth, so their repentance was great and their love to follow me was unshakable.

68. I had bequeathed to the world, from the cross, the Book of Life and spiritual wisdom. A book to be analyzed and understood by men throughout the centuries, eras and times. That is why I said to Mary, trembling with pain at the foot of the cross: "Woman, behold your son," pointing with my gaze to John, who represented humanity at that moment, but humanity converted into the good disciple of Christ to spiritualized humanity.

69. I also spoke to John, saying, "Son, behold your Mother." Words that I am now going to explain to you.

Love one another!

70. Mary represents purity, obedience, faith, tenderness and humility. Each of these virtues is a step on the ladder where I descended into the world to become a man in the womb of that holy and pure woman.

71. That tenderness, that purity and that love, are the divine womb, where the seed of life is fruitful.

72. That ladder, by which I descended to you to become a man and to dwell with my children, is the same one that I present to you so that through it you may ascend to Me, transforming yourselves from men into spirits of light.

73. Mary is the ladder, Mary is the mother's womb. Look for her and you will find Me.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 321

1. Blessed are you, disciples, because you put your good will to interpret my word, so you can develop the gifts you have and apply yourselves for the good of your brothers.
2. You are already at the time when men are concerned about the eternal, about that life that is beyond the ephemeral human existence, and you, who have been my disciples at this time, always keep in mind that the key that opens the door to spiritual wisdom is love.
3. Throughout my teachings I have explained to you how this life on Earth serves as a school, an experience, a crucible and the development of the spirit, but that the supreme knowledge about the spiritual life will only reach it when it has left matter and is in the infinite valley, beyond the material.
4. Admire the simplicity of my Doctrine, which can be applied to every practice, to every order, because its light is what illuminates and encourages the Universe. Its essence, being poured out on your understanding, reveals to men the way to improve themselves until they reach spiritual perfection. That essence is the good that exists in your God, as an inexhaustible source of inspiration in your life.
5. My Doctrine is simple and therefore within the reach of the human creature, understandable to all, since you all possess spirit. Wherever the complicated, mystification or materialism intervenes, there is no my truth, which is the light.
6. Seek simplicity, love humility and thus secrets, like the most impenetrable mysteries, will appear before your understanding like the pages of a book, showing all its contents clearly. When I speak to you of mysteries and secrets, which men have not been able, have not wanted or have not been able to clarify, I mean everything that in my Arcanum I have reserved for the knowledge of my children; I do not speak of what you will never know, because it is only of the domain of your Father.
7. In the Second Time I came to give you a teaching through which I made men understand that they were not only constituted of matter, but that in each of them there dwelt a being, whose life was superior to human and whose dwelling was not forever in this world, but in a Kingdom infinitely higher than that of the Earth. That Doctrine, profound to eternity, was nevertheless expressed in a simple and simple way, so that all men would understand it, since it was incumbent on everyone to know it.
8. That Doctrine was the preparation for humanity to fully make its entry into the spiritual field in this Third Time; because now that I am humanizing my voice again to make myself heard by men, I have come to them to expand that lesson, to develop it and explain it, contemplating that this humanity is already in a position to understand the meaning of everything that remained in principle as a promise.

9. I will gather all men and all peoples around my new message, I will call you like the shepherd to the sheep and I will prepare for you the peace of a pasture, where you will take refuge from inclement weather and storms.

10. You will see how, despite the fact that many apparently do not have the slightest trace of faith or spirituality, they preserve in the purest of their spirit, the immortal principles of spiritual life; you will see how many of those who seem to you to have no worship, carry in the innermost of their being, an indestructible altar.

11. Before that interior altar men will have to prostrate themselves spiritually, to mourn their faults, their evil deeds and their offenses, sincerely repenting of their disobedience. There, before the altar of conscience, human pride will collapse, leaving men to consider themselves superior for their races. Then will come renunciations, restitution and finally peace, as the legitimate fruit of love and humility, of faith and goodwill.

12. Men who feed for now only ambitions of power and earthly greatness, know that their strongest adversary is spirituality, that's why they fight it and when they sense the struggle that is already approaching, the battle of the spirit against evil, they fear losing their possessions and that's why they resist the light that in the form of inspiration surprises them at every step.

13. Who do you think is the victor in the end, the spirit or the flesh? Surely the triumph will be of the spirit, who after having been a slave of the world, will now be the one who dominates the passions of the flesh, it will be the time when you will give to God what is God's and to the world what is the world's.

14. With a prophetic word I tell you this day, that the time is approaching when all the peoples of the earth will harmonize spiritually, which of you will be able to carry out that work? Which human will have the strength and the light to realize my prophecy? No, beloved people, there is no man capable of making light in these darkness that surrounds you. I will be as always the one who dispels the shadows, who calms the storm and leaves you all united around my table of love, as true brothers, as children who are of one Father; however, I will not be alone in the struggle, this people will collaborate with me, these disciples will be my interpreters for humanity, they will be my faithful witnesses before the searchers, they will be the instruments that I use to give the world proofs of my power, of my charity, of my presence.

Love one another!

15. You will never bear the full weight of my cross, I tell you again; but the part that you have to bear, how delicate it will be! Your responsibility is great.

16. The struggle will become intense, but it will always be encouraged by favorable events that will be the proof that I am with you. They will be like my voice, speaking to your heart.

17. How your spirit will rejoice with each people that is awakening to the light of the new day, the light of the Third Time, in which all men will unite to build the spiritual temple in homage to your God; the inner sanctuary where the inextinguishable flame of faith and love will shine.

18. Now you feel very distant from peace, harmony, fraternity, and you are right, because the concept of God, of life, of truth is so different in every man. It seems that there were many gods and that there was a God for every man.

19. Have you not observed, at least within the Nature that surrounds you, how everything obeys a single principle, how everything follows the same order and everything harmonizes in a single Law?

20. If there were several orders, if you had discovered laws different from those I have revealed to you and someone other than Me had revealed to you a truth greater than mine, you would have reason for there to be differences in your beliefs, in your cults, concepts and ways of living; but I tell you again that only one light is that which has shone from eternity on the firmament of your human and spiritual life.

21. It will not be a sacrifice for any man to convert to this Doctrine, nor will he have to break his understanding, nor will he have to renounce everything good, true or just that he brings in his heart.

22. The only thing that my Work pursues is the spirituality of all men, because in spirituality they will have to identify and understand each other. In spirituality, you will see the names disappear, the external forms of your religions, which have been the cause of your spiritual distancing, since each one has interpreted its God in a different way.

23. Then, when everyone approaches spirituality through their different paths, they will understand that the only thing they needed was to free themselves from their materialism in order to translate into spiritual form what they always took in a material sense.

24. Thus, the one who prostrated himself before an image to see my presence in it, will then know how to feel me in his spirit without having to create any form with which to represent me.

Love one another!

25. The one who made long walks to get to a place where he had been told that I was there, and that he could find his health there, that one knows that it is not necessary to move from one point of the Earth to another to find me, when through the divine gift of prayer a man can find me at every moment of his life, regardless of place.

26. Then men will purify themselves with sincere repentance and confess from spirit to Spirit with my Divinity, putting their conscience in that spiritual act.

27. There will be no more bread or wine spiritually than the essence of my word, the essence with which men will be nourished, strengthening themselves in love, in righteousness, in justice, in charity.

28. And those who live studying the scriptures of the past times, and who have also divided themselves into sects and congregations, due to the different ways of interpreting those words, will also find in spirituality the approach, because the elevation in the way of analyzing and interpreting, will reveal to some and to others the true essence that they had never found, because they had always given divine revelation a human and material sense.

29. Spirituality is all that I ask of men at this time, and within what is lawful, they will see their greatest ideals fulfilled and their greatest conflicts resolved.

30. In this time of confusion, my word will appear in the world as a boat of salvation. Men will be able to rise to a new life of light, of peace and fraternity.

31. Soon humanity will be able to contemplate the dove of peace flying over the nations, carrying the symbolic olive in its beak.

32. My ray has descended to you and although you do not contemplate it materialized, your spirit does feel the presence of my light that illuminates it.

33. You will already discover in your being something more than the organs of your body, and they will be the gifts, faculties, potencies and attributes of the spirit, which have slept in man for many centuries. Neither substance nor form will you find them, so I tell you that it will not be your science that will discover that mystery.

34. Until now, only what you have found with the mind and felt with the senses is what exists for you; but the moment will come when you will understand that true values exist in the spiritual, in that life that you have not wanted to know. Then your existence will be illuminated with a new light that will reveal to you the greatest mysteries and the most beautiful teachings. I will bless you because at last you will have collaborated with your Father in the development of life and the evolution of your spirit.

Love one another!

35. Now you find yourselves parked without being able to realize it, without being aware of the end of one stage and the beginning of another, without discovering the meaning of your trials or managing to dissipate the divine signs that I give you at each step.

36. You do not know if you are inside or outside of Me, or if you are alive or dead for the spiritual life, because even your sensations are asleep in your being.

37. Truly I tell you that only my voice can awaken you, only my call can raise you up, and that is why I have come, full of mercy to save you. My light is already approaching every heart, it is already quietly penetrating your understanding, as a thief penetrates in the middle of the night in an alcove: on tiptoe, without making the slightest noise.

38. When my voice makes itself heard in a spiritual way in humanity, men will feel something vibrate that had always been in them, although without being able to manifest itself freely. It will be the spirit who, encouraged by the voice of his Lord, will rise up responding to my call.

39. Then a new era will begin on Earth, because you will stop seeing life from below and you will begin to contemplate it, to know it and to enjoy it from the heights of your spiritual elevation.

40. See how my love does not let you awaken by yourself, but comes to your aid to lift you from the deep lethargy of materialism.

41. I contemplate you small and I want you to be great, to come to encompass with your powers, intelligence and senses everything that is granted by Me to be yours.

42. Let intuition awaken, let spiritual sensitivity appear, let your inspiration begin to vibrate, let your heart be cleansed of sins, let your understanding be cleared.

43. Fight for your identification with each other; work to harmonize all, fight that constant hatred in which you have lived on Earth, until you reach exterminate it. Seek that good may be established in the world, that your life may be ennobled by the practice of my Doctrine, from which the Law of love and justice emanates. Then you will have fought for the noblest of all causes and your spirit will have come very close to Me.

44. The destruction of evil, which you have wanted to eternalize in your world, which, although you do not believe it, many have made their god, since they devote all their forces and thoughts of their being to him, must be your goal, fighting against him, inspired by the idea of getting to exterminate him and throw out of your life.

45. For this blessed struggle you will gather faith, will, courage, strength, patience and perseverance.

Love one another!

46. You will not be alone in that battle either. I will put my strength in your arm and my light in your intelligence. I will make wonders of each of your works when they are inspired by charity and love.

47. Take this lesson and keep it in your heart and put all your will at the service of the desire to know you better. How? Trying to find in your spirit his gifts, powers, missions, restitution and whatever he keeps as your inheritance.

48. Do not be discouraged if you watch the days go by without discovering anything of it in you. Pray and meditate, put my examples and lessons into practice, and when you least think, some gift of your spirit will be manifesting through your works.

49. Open your eyes and sweeten your senses so that you perceive that invisible world that vibrates around you. You have endeavored to ignore that spiritual life that pulsates incessantly inside, outside and above you, without imagining that you are as intimately linked to it as you are to the air you breathe.

50. It is that you have become too interested in material science and have forgotten spiritual wisdom.

51. You know that in order to penetrate the infinite ocean of spiritual life, it is necessary to have strength, goodness, faith and love for God and this seems difficult and hard to you, always preferring the human sciences, which according to you do not demand that purity and elevation that the study of the spiritual demands.

52. If you knew that there is not a work of yours in which some spiritual being has no influence, it would seem inconceivable to you, and yet it is so.

53. Beyond your human life there exists a world of spirits, your brothers and sisters, beings invisible to man, who are fighting among themselves to conquer you.

54. That struggle between them comes from the difference in evolution in which one and the other are. While the beings of light elevated by the ideal of love, harmony, peace and perfection, are watering the path of humanity with light, always inspiring the good and revealing everything that is for the good of men, the beings who still preserve the materialism of the Earth, who have not managed to divest themselves of their egoism and their love for the world or who feed for an indefinite time human tendencies and inclinations, are the ones who sow confusion on the path of humanity, obfuscating minds, blinding hearts, enslaving the wills to use men, turning them into instruments for their plans, or taking them as if they were their own bodies.

Love one another!

55. While the spiritual world of light struggles to conquer the spirit of humanity to open a gap to eternity; while those blessed legions work incessantly, multiplying in love, becoming nurses at the bedside of pain, counselors at the right hand of the man who carries the weight of a great responsibility, counselors of youth, guardians of childhood, companions of those who live forgotten and alone: the legions of beings without the light of spiritual wisdom and without the elevation of love, they also work incessantly among humanity, but the purpose is not to facilitate the path to the spiritual kingdom, no, the idea of these beings is completely opposite., it is their intention to dominate the world, to continue to be masters of it, to perpetuate themselves on Earth, to dominate men, turning them into slaves and instruments of their will, in short, not to let themselves be stripped of what they have always believed to be theirs: the world.

56. Well, disciples, there is an intense struggle between one and another beings, a struggle that your bodily eyes do not contemplate, but whose reflections make themselves felt day by day in your world.

57. In order for this humanity to be able to defend itself and get rid of bad influences, it needs to have knowledge of the truth that surrounds it, it needs to learn to pray with the spirit and also to know how many gifts its being is clothed with, in order to be able to use them as weapons in this great battle of good against evil, of light against darkness, of spirituality against materialism.

58. Precisely the spiritual world of light works and struggles preparing everything so that the world will one day get on the path of spirituality.

59. Reflect on all this and you will be able to imagine how intense this struggle is for your spiritual brothers who work for the salvation of men, a struggle that is for them a chalice in which you give them to drink the gall of ingratitude every moment, since you concretize to receive from them all the good they do you, but without ever taking their side to help them in their struggle.

60. Few are those who know how to join them, few are those who know how to be sensitive to their inspirations and obedient to their indications, but how strongly they walk through life, how confident they feel, what joys and inspirations delight their spirit.

61. Most men struggle between the two influences, without deciding on one, without surrendering themselves totally to materialism, but without striving to get rid of it in order to spiritualize their life; that is, to raise it for the good, for knowledge and spiritual strength. They are in the midst of an internal struggle.

Love one another!

62. Those who have surrendered themselves completely to materialism, no longer caring about the voice of conscience and ignoring everything that concerns their spirit, no longer fight, they have been defeated in combat. They believe they have triumphed, they believe they are free, and they do not realize that they are prisoners and that it will be necessary for the legions of light to come to the darkness, so that they will be set free.

63. I send this message of light to all the peoples of the Earth, so that it may be the awakening of men, so that they may realize which is the enemy they have to fight until they defeat it and which are the weapons that, without realizing it, they carry with them.

64. Truly I tell you, if at this time I had come as a man, your eyes would have had to see my fresh and still bleeding wounds, because the sin of men has not ceased, nor have they wanted to redeem themselves in the memory of that blood shed for Me on Calvary and which was a proof of my love for humanity. But I have come in the spirit to spare you the reproach of contemplating the work of those who judged and sentenced me on earth.

65. Everything is forgiven; but there is in every spirit something of that which I poured out for all on the cross; that breath and that blood do not believe that they were diluted or lost, they represented the spiritual life that I poured out from that moment on all men; but, by that blood that sealed my word and confirmed what I spoke and did on earth, men will rise up after the regeneration of their spirit.

66. My word, my deeds and my blood, were not and will not be in vain. If at times it seems to you that my name and my word have almost been forgotten, you will suddenly see how they arise again, full of vigor, life and purity, like a seed that, despite being incessantly fought, never dies.

67. Neither will my word and my manifestations of this time die. There will be times when it seems that everything has ended without leaving a trace or traces in the world, but suddenly, when you least think, the Doctrine of Spirituality that I have come to teach you will emerge with as much or greater force.

68. My patient work through your understanding will not be in vain, since if at that time I symbolically poured out my life through that blood to teach you love, now I have come to pour out my Spirit on you to open the path of elevation to eternity; but, if my blood was not sterile, less will the light of my Spirit be.

69. Now you cannot measure the scope of the word that you are hearing; but your spirit that has the beginning of eternity, will be able to witness the truth and the fulfillment of what in this Third Time, through rude and impure spokesmen and the spiritual world of light, I came to reveal to the world.

Love one another!

70. Sometimes, in your meditations you wonder how spiritual beings will do in space, to move from one point to another, if at the same moment they are requested in different parts of the Earth. Your imagination then makes you see them flying endlessly, fast as light, from one point to another and from one end of the world to another.

71. You think: How hard and difficult your mission! You say: How painful is his restitution!

72. I must tell you that it is not that mission as your mind has imagined it. Those beings, when they have reached the necessary elevation to receive the mission of guides, guardians, counselors and benefactors, their irradiation is so extensive that they do not need to move from one place to another, since from where they are they can influence their brothers who need them, from there they can see, hear, feel, and carry out the works entrusted to their charge.

73. The distances disappear for the spirit elevated by wisdom and love and their reach is in accordance with the elevation they have reached.

74. Now if you can think that a spirit without any elevation will need to move to bridge distances, since its most precious attributes have not been developed.

75. Do not even try to imagine the place where the being to whom your memory evokes is, because he is neither close, nor distant, like Me, who am neither far nor close to you, since I am present in everything and everywhere.

76. The only distance that exists between you and God, or between you and a spiritual being, will not be a material distance, but rather a spiritual one, caused by your unpreparedness, lack of cleanliness or willingness to receive spiritual inspiration and influence.

77. Never put that distance between you and your Teacher. or between you and the Spiritual World and you will always enjoy the benefits that my love pours out on those who know how to seek it. You will always have the feeling that the spiritual world vibrates next to the hearts of those who are preparing to feel it, if you do not do it that way.

78. How great will be the distance that humanity of this time will put between it and the spiritual life! It is so great, that it is for this reason that men today feel God infinitely distant from them, and imagine the distant and unattainable Heaven.

79. The more time passes, men also feel more and more distant from the spiritual Realm; they have lost the blessed illusion of coming to inhabit it and when they die, leaving the spirit to separate from the flesh, they only have the impression of the material, which makes them lose all notion of the spiritual.

80. My message of love at this time, comes to erase distances, to set aside confusions, to dispel darkness, making the spirit of humanity, which has already dwelt in the infinite spiritual valley, praying and meditating, return to its beginning, find its essence and reveal it to man, to the mind and heart of the being entrusted to him as an instrument to fulfill a mission on Earth.

81. You will see how that distance, apparently so great, may be enough for a moment of spiritual enlightenment to disappear, making you experience all the joy that you deprived yourself for so long, while you thought me distant.

82. Today you are more qualified for your conversion, even if it seems difficult to you. I tell you this because your whole being, both spiritually and corporeal, has developed, evolved, without stopping along the path of your free will.

83. Just as the mental capacity of the men of today is many times greater than that of the men of the past times, because their qualities have been developed, so the spirit in its constant experience of life, has been developed so that it will be able to understand, conceive, believe and admit, what the men of other times could not achieve.

84. That is why I have chosen to manifest myself to humanity, the perfect form, that is, the spiritual one, because I know that you are already in a position to understand it. Not so in times past, when I had to look for material ways to make myself heard and understood by men.

85. This is the time when humanity will struggle to establish the spiritual worship of God, but it is natural that it will be after a struggle when understanding and calm have already reached the hearts.

86. You, who listening to us through this doctrine have managed to strip your heart of prejudices and fanaticism and in a natural and simple way worship me and feel me inside, you can consider yourselves as privileged beings among all humanity, and I will take you as precursors of the Era of Spirituality.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 322

1. I come to make known to you one more page of the book of my teaching, which is love and light for your spirit. Blessed are you who truly listen to your Master, for I come to teach you with clarity and perfection so that you may understand your destiny and the mission that I have entrusted to your spirit.
2. You come to study and understand my teachings, to give them to your brothers and although they have sometimes rejected you, you have not felt hurt, but satisfied that you have been able to answer their questions.
3. You speak to Me in the depths of your heart to show me the unbelief of your brothers and I tell you: If you have found your hearts like hardened rocks, I will speak to them through their conscience so that they feel the desire to be with me. Your mission is to fight for the good of humanity following the path that I have traced for you, without measuring time or distance.
4. You will find many in need of the spirit, sick and slaves, whom you have to heal and set free by breaking their chains, giving them my teaching with sweetness, because the day will come when you will no longer listen to my word and then you will remain as teachers so that you can prepare the generations to come.
5. With the sword of light you will be able to destroy the darkness and open a breach to your brothers. I want that in this Third Time humanity can bring peace, unity and goodwill. By whom will they receive these teachings? For my disciples, beloved people, for those who love me and do not tire of being with me, those who feel me at the bottom of their own heart.
6. Blessed are those who are always with me and reject temptations by turning away from the orgies of the world. His spiritual eyes will behold in the hereafter the eternal glory, the Kingdom in which the spirit will dwell.
7. I leave the teaching of union and fraternity in you, watch and pray so that temptation does not take away from you what I have entrusted to you; so that you may be the emissaries and disciples who in due time will be sent by Me to humanity. When you are free of all materiality, clothed only with my love and my light, you will hear my voice in your spirit, you will recognize the voice of your Shepherd and then humbly, like sheep you will walk climbing the mountain to reach the divine mansion.

Love one another!

8. Your Heavenly Mother is like a shepherdess following in your footsteps. Mary cultivates you like roses and lilies in her pleasant garden, she gives you the fragrance so that you may be the flowers that raise your essence to your Father.

9. In the Second Time I told you that I would be with you again and now that I have fulfilled my promise to you, some have recognized me and others have doubted my presence. Some of you have shed tears of joy because you have listened to me again and have contemplated me with the eyes of your spirit. I have heard you say to me: "Master, if the sacrifice of my matter were necessary, with all resignation and humility I would give it up for the salvation of my spirit and of humanity".

10. I have entrusted you to my Spiritual World of light to be your counselor and protector, to guide you on the way and help you in the fulfillment of your mission. To those who have not understood me, I say: Do not doubt, because in all times I have manifested myself through men, but I did not want to surprise them with my manifestations, because before I sent my emissaries, I sent the precursor to prepare the way and the heart of humanity.

11. During the year of 1950, I will give you my last teachings, and I want you to understand before ending my communication through human understanding, how you are going to sow my word of love and how you should cultivate it from heart to heart, from province to province, in all places on Earth, where they have not listened to me and have not been able to feel me at this time.

12. You are the strong spirits, full of love and light, do not become scribes or magnify yourselves before humanity, because in your humility will be the grace and the light of your Father.

13. Your looks will be of tenderness, your knowledge will be that of love, your hands will lavish caresses, in your word will be the consolation for humanity and the world will take your example and will not feed the wars that it has unleashed era after era and century after century.

14. Then my will will be fulfilled and that of those who have worked and cried a lot to achieve the unification of humanity. Then there will be no distinctions of races or colors. This is my promise to you.

15. Today every man believes he knows the truth in all its fullness; every religion claims to be the possessor of the truth. Men of science declare that they have found the truth. I tell you, no one knows the absolute Truth, since the part that has been revealed to man has not been able to grasp it with his mind.

Love one another!

16. All men carry in themselves part of the truth and errors that they mix with the light of truth.

17. The struggle is approaching in which all these forces fight, each wanting to impose its idea; but in the end it will not be the triumph of a human idea, nor of a scientific theory, nor of a religious creed that prevails, but the harmonious set of all good ideas, of all high beliefs, of all the cults elevated to the maximum of spirituality, of all the sciences put at the service of true human progress.

18. I will allow men to speak and expose their ideas; others to publicly show their cults and their rites, to discuss and fight, for scientists to present their most advanced theories, for everything that exists hidden in every spirit, to arise, sprout and manifest itself, because the day of harvest is near, that day when consciousness like an inexorable sickle nips in the bud what is false in the heart of humanity.

19. You, people, be alert and do not forget that I have announced this struggle to you: so that when you watch men argue passionately, when you witness how religions wage war and how conscience fights with them, you will not be afraid.

20. Let the world be shaken; let the tempest break loose and the struggle arise, so that man may awaken and in his awakening contemplate the light that he has long dreamed of admiring; so that selfish men who have closed the doors of the path that leads to the knowledge of the Truth, fall from their seats, from their thrones and their pedestals and let the hungry and thirsty mobs of the light of the spirit pass by.

21. You will all have to look for my light; you will all have to look for a beacon so that you can contemplate the path in the days of darkness, days of meditation and repentance, days of deep examination before your conscience in which there will not be a human creature who feels calm and who can say: I fear nothing because I have always acted justly.

22. No, there will not be one who exclaims or thinks like that, because conscience will make itself heard in every spirit.

23. Only those who pray and repent will achieve the purification of their spirit; only those who renounce their vanities, their superiority over others and their pride, will be able to hold on to the saving boat, because those who persist in their follies, those who cling to their errors and their traditions, willing to sustain them to the end, despite the judgments and dictates of conscience, they will knowingly head towards the abyss of confusion and darkness where your Father would not want anyone to penetrate .

Love one another!

24. This message of love and charity that I have brought to you in the right time for your salvation, in its opportunity you will make it known to humanity.

25. My message of wisdom carries the mission of spiritually uniting men, of saving them from the whirlwind of confusion, of rescuing them from darkness, when they have lost faith.

26. Only my word will have the power to stop those who are vertiginously advancing to the precipice, because she reveals everything, because she does not stop to decipher a mystery, because she is impregnated with the charity and love of your Father.

27. Who but Me could save all those men without faith in the higher life and without knowledge of my righteousness? Who has truly understood the meaning and origin of the pain of his life full of sorrows, oppressions and anguish? How small I behold the teachers and the guides of humanity! What do you know about the spirit? They only care about the human part, without being able to discover what lies beyond earthly needs and concerns. That is why men, disappointed that they could not find a satisfactory answer to their questions either in science or in religions, have given themselves up to searching for the truth for themselves. Some are approaching the path, while others find new confusions due to their poor spirituality.

28. Men who have rushed through one cup after another of bitterness in life tell me: "Lord, why are there not those who explain to us the reason for our pain, so that a faith can ignite in us that helps us to support the weight of our cross?"

29. To these little ones I send my light for their understanding and my strength for their heart, like a heavenly balm, because I have infinite ways to reach each creature.

30. Ah, if everyone knew how to question me; if everyone prayed spiritually; if everyone was interested in knowing the truth! Verily I say unto you, they would obtain what they desired, for no one has sought that he has not found; no one has knocked at my door that it has not been opened to him.

31. Leave a trace of humility on your path. Do not allow pride to penetrate your heart considering yourselves unique in spiritual knowledge.

32. You will always keep in mind that you are all the same before Me, that you all had the same beginning and all have the same end, although outwardly each destiny appears different.

Love one another!

33. Never forget that all of you will have to reach Me, which means that all of you, although in different ways, will do the necessary merits to reach the highest spiritual height; therefore, never consider anyone inferior.

34. Vanity should never germinate in the spiritualist, but true modesty should always accompany him, and thus his actions, instead of dazzling with false light, will have an impact on the hearts of his brothers.

35. You will take your cross with love, not as one takes an obligation, not thinking that if you do not fulfill it will have to go badly in life, not out of fear of my justice. You are spiritually evolved enough for me to ask you, as I am doing, that your fulfillment in my Law be out of love for your brothers and that this feeling has been inspired by love for Me.

36. Leave behind the times when men repented of their faults, not out of regret for having offended me, but out of fear of eternal damnation, as men had imagined it.

37. Remove from your heart the belief that you can leave your repentance for the last moment, trusting in the mercy of God and think that the only thing that your spirit will gather in that moment of justice, will be what throughout his existence on Earth he has sown; his harvest or his fruit will be the evolution, the advancement, the elevation that he has achieved through the life that was entrusted to him.

38. How different is the spiritual reality from what men have imagined! Neither my justice is as you believe, nor is it divine punishment to which you give that name, nor is Heaven as you think, nor is it achieved in the easy and quick way you imagine, nor is spiritual atonement as you say, nor is temptation a spirit.

39. You need to study the divine revelations that I have made to you throughout the ages, to come to understand the metaphorical language through which I spoke to you, to sensitize in such a way your spiritual senses, so that you come to know what is the word of God and what are those of men, so that you find the essence of my teachings.

40. Only from a spiritual point of view will you be able to find the just and true interpretation of my word, the same of the one that I sent you through the prophets, those that I bequeathed to you through Jesus, or this one that I am giving you through the spokespersons of the Third Time.

41. When this humanity has found the true meaning of the Law, of the Doctrine, of the prophecies and of the revelations, it will have discovered the most beautiful and the most profound as it relates to its existence.

Love one another!

42. Then he will know true righteousness and it will be when his heart presents the true Heaven, it will also be when you know what atonement, purification and restitution are.

43. Today you are still covered with the veil of ignorance, which in your earthly materialism and in your religious fanaticism, full of false fears and prejudices, you have not dared to tear; therefore, when a test comes to your life and you do not find any clear cause for it, you cry out saying: But what have I done so that I may be punished in this way? Without knowing that sometimes my justice takes centuries and even eras to reach a spirit. My justice always arrives and even if it appears to be late or out of time, the truth is that it always manifests itself in a wise way.

44. My spiritual doctrine has several purposes or missions: one is to console the spirit in his exile, making him understand that the God who formed him, awaits him eternally in his Kingdom of Peace; another is to make him know how many gifts and faculties he can have to achieve his salvation and elevation or perfection.

45. This word carries the message of spirituality that opens the eyes of men to look face to face the reality that they think they find only in what they see, in what they touch or in what they verify with their human science, without realizing that they are calling the transient "reality", and are ignoring and denying the "eternal", where the true reality exists.

46. Let this message go from nation to nation, from house to house, leaving its seed of light, of consolation and of peace, so that men may pause for a few moments and grant their spirit a truce, the indispensable one for him to meditate and remember that any moment can be that of his return to the spiritual valley and that the fruit that he reaps on his arrival in the spiritual life depends on his works and his sowing in the world.

47. Today I find you sad, despondent and hopeless and you tell me in your prayer that life has long denied you its favors. The Master tells you that it is these times that you are living, those that the prophets of the first times announced and later the Divine Word ratified to his people. But if it is true that you are hurrying a very bitter cup, know that your pain will not be useless, if you know how to suffer it lovingly and patiently. It was necessary for humanity to reach this point where pain penetrated and touched every fiber of its being, so that it would wake up from the deep sleep in which its spirit lives, and begin a life of recollection in which it offers its Creator the tribute and recognition it owes him.

48. It has been a long time that I have been putting a dam on his free will, signaling with it that the time has come for meditation and good practices, so that he does not continue to suffer and sink into chaos. I have wanted to avoid her fall, advising her and preventing her, but she has been deaf to my words, but I will continue to call this beloved humanity, inviting it to amendment and decorum in all its acts, to make her a worthy disciple of my teachings.

49. I have returned to you as I promised, to comfort you and give you hope in your tribulations, and not only to that, but to enlighten you so that you take great steps on the spiritual path. I have come to give you the lesson you need in these precise moments of confusion, the one you have been anxiously waiting for in order to heal your wounds and know the saving route.

50. I have prepared everything so that you will carry out a great work and at the end of it, you will come to Me calm, satisfied and at peace with me and with your brothers. And in that instant of communion with my Spirit, I will not ask tribute from you, it will not even be for Me your merits, but for yourselves, and what you offer me I will return it to you in spades, in endless blessings and benefits.

51. Look how much I love you, if you want even more proofs of your Father's love, ask and I will grant you that my love is inexhaustible. If you want to test my patience, my submission, do it too, but after you have received, after your recognition; do to your brothers what I have done to you.

52. Forgive as many times as you are offended. Don't even take into account the number of times you have to forgive. Your destiny is so high that you should not stop at these stumbling blocks on the way, because very big missions await you later. Always bring the spirit willing to love, understanding and goodness so that you place yourselves on higher planes. And just as in the past times, many of your brothers wrote with their works, beautiful pages in the eternal Book of the spirit, imitating them you will continue that story, for the example and delight of new generations that will come to Earth.

53. Be strong, because you are living the times of trial. Every creature, from the tender child who has barely opened his eyes to the light of this world, to the old man bent by the weight of the years, endures a trial, a process of restitution; but I give you my strength, my influence, so that you may pass with faith and serenity those trials that will make you invulnerable to pain.

54. There will be a struggle of ideas and the faith and belief of one and the other will be put to the test, and those who have raised their work on quicksand, will see it fall because its foundations were not firm; and in this time, the strong must support the weak. They will mourn their ignorance, their nakedness and their lack of merit, those who did not know how to pray or penetrate the truth of my teachings. Many of them are innocent because they have not had the true guidance of their brothers, and shepherds and sheep will mourn their insecurity and their confusion.

Love one another!

55. You, people, destined by Me to pour out your influence on this world, will live praying and watching over its tranquility and its salvation, you will spread your wings to cover humanity in those hours of danger and anguish.

56. That is why I have taught you prayer from spirit to Spirit, and I have removed from your sight every symbol or representation of my Divinity. You have built a temple within yourself and from there you love me and glorify me. I have taught you respect for the beliefs of your brothers and I have prepared you as a sentinel who lives alert to defend the faith of those who weaken in that combat that is already approaching, and when you have concluded your mission, you will be able to tell me with satisfaction: "Our Father, we fight with the sword that does not hurt, with love and goodwill. We speak the divine word, we invite humanity to pray before You: we bring comfort to those who suffer, we convert those who had violated the Law to good; we raise up men and women who lived stationed in their ignorance and we awaken their faith and trust in You, and since then they love you and follow you," And I will receive you as soldiers of my cause and I will give you the reward you have deserved.

57. My work will spread over the earth. Others will adhere to the first and then others more, because it is written that man will rise above his current condition, in search of his spiritual perfection.

58. How much you have to fight to prepare the earth so that I will bring down to men my Reign of peace!

59. Pray and meditate on my words and you will find that they contain an ocean of love. I have spoken to you through the limited understanding of man, and this, even with all its preparation, fails to express the meaning, the reason that my teaching contains. Penetrate into it with the spirit so that you will come to understand more clearly than with the heart or the reduced mind of your human being. If my Work of the Second Time seemed great to you, you will also regard my coming at this time as a proof of your Father's infinite love.

60. As you perfect yourselves, you will see the goal closer, you do not know if you are one step away from your salvation or if you still have a long way to go. I only tell you to let yourselves be guided submissively and obediently by this word, which is the voice of my Divine Spirit. Excuse yourselves from breaking the Law, from falling repeatedly into the same error. Heed this call, which is an invitation to amendment, a plea made to you by your Father, because I do not want to see you live uselessly on earth and then mourn your disobedience.

61. Work zealously for your advancement and you will see that those trials that now make you suffer and whose meaning you have not understood, are for your good and will fill your being with peace and joy. They are wise trials that I am sending you to purify and temper your spirit in the struggle, as I have forged so many beings that today you love and venerate, whom you recognize for their strength and acrisolate virtue; they are your brothers who passed through this world leaving a mark of purity and holiness. I want you to join them and follow them, because your destiny is the same, you are all great before Me, all worthy and I want to see you live in the mansion of peace that they inhabit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 323

1. I come to give my teaching to your spirit, I come to nourish it and strengthen it with my love.
2. Beloved children: You are my preschoolers, my little children who travel on Earth carrying bitterness and suffering. Blessed are those who leave the path of sin so that your spirit may draw near to Me.
3. The Father teaches you how you should receive and how you should ask; for truly I tell you, if you cleanse yourselves from sin, you will bear my forgiveness and be comforted.
4. I come to cleanse you from every stain so that you may receive charity from your Father, but you will never divest yourselves of that charity, because it comes from my Divine Spirit and is the inheritance that you will take on your way. I am the Teacher who has come to give you my Doctrine again so that you may carry it in your hearts and give it as I have given it to you.
5. Consciousness is like a mirror in which your spirit is contemplated. I tell you: It is no longer the time for you to contemplate yourselves in need before that mirror, because I have come to give you my light, my sublime word, so that you will need nothing in tomorrow, so that you may be obedient to my Law and continue giving humanity the example as my apostles of the Second Time did.
6. He is not the mouthpiece of the one from whom you receive this teaching, because he is a sinner like you, I have led him out of his ways and have prepared him to deliver my word to you through him. The essence of this Doctrine is my own essence.
7. From the Second Time I have said to you, "Love one another," because he who loves his fellow man loves Me.
8. I do not come to distinguish you by races or colors or by classes, I speak to all of you equally so that you carry a single will, so that you receive with a smile and with your open arms your brothers who come from different nations; practicing this love, in tomorrow there will be no wars, death will not rule over humanity again. Do not blame Me, O humanity, for your wars.
9. Do not fall into confusion, do not form a new tower of Babel, so that those who come to you may find you all prepared equally. The unbeliever has to take tests to recognize the wonders of the Father, so that his spirit, through my word, recognizes his God.
10. The tests will be of love, because from the most hardened stone crystal clear water has to spring.

Love one another!

11. Rise up to Me, and I will put away all sickness from you, for I am the Doctor of doctors. I will leave in you everything that humanity spiritually needs and when you are recognized, all the Doctrines of the Earth will have recognized me in my spiritual Work because this is my will.

12. I have left prayer as a bulwark among you, that is why I say to you: Watch and pray so that humanity may reach salvation for you, so that you may deliver to it in due time the word that you are receiving.

13. The time in which you live, which is of such spiritual transcendence for all men, is passing unnoticed by humanity; however, the moment will come when it will be recognized as of great importance, not only in the life of the people who received this message, but in the history of all the peoples of the Earth.

14. Think of the greatness that it means to be listening to my word, but do not go to rest on your laurels, because at the same time that you should feel the joy of having this grace, you should know that your responsibility before the peoples, your brothers, is very great, since you have to bear them the testimony of what in these times you received.

15. Blessed are those who keep my word in their hearts, because they will love their cross and with it on their backs they will arrive at the doors of their brothers, bringing them the message of light, peace and love, which in my word I entrusted to this people.

16. Each of my lessons of this year of 1950 is of preparation, for when the moment comes to terminate my communication with you. Why cry then, when I am giving you everything, so that you need nothing? Do not weep for the departure of my word, people, I have already told you that my essence will be kept in your heart and if your memory is fragile, I will inspire some of my children to gather in books and albums, the pages and writings that have been made about my word.

17. Strengthen yourselves in meditation and prayer, you are human and small and the "goodbye" of my manifestation will have to move your whole being. How will this people not shudder on this day, if all over the Earth, in one way or another, men who have no idea of my presence in the Third Time will have to feel it?

18. When the light has been made in the understandings of humanity, men will come to the realization that all the events surrounding the end of 1950, were the testimony that the stage of my communication had concluded, just as the initiation of this time was also announced by events that moved men all over the world.

19. I am preparing and preventing you for when the confusion of ideas arises, so that you can get rid of the inner struggle of the spirit and the torture of thought, because all the ideas, doctrines, theologies, philosophies and beliefs of humanity will be removed, symbolizing a tempest, a true tempest of the spirit, on whose rough waters I want you to sail, staying afloat until the storm and darkness pass. I do not give you a better formula to get ahead in this test, than prayer and the practice of my word, by means of which your faith will be continually strengthened.

20. That struggle of ideas, that encounter between creeds and ideologies, that battle, are indispensable for all the scourges and errors that accumulate at the bottom of every cult and every institution to come to the surface. Only after that storm can a moral and spiritual purification of men come, because they will see the truth emerge, they will know it, they will feel it in themselves, and they will no longer be able to feed on appearances or fictions.

21. Just as each man freely and alone takes the necessary action of the sun on his body, recognizing that material life is found in its light, in its heat and in its influence, so they will take from the light of truth, whatever they need for sustenance, strength and enlightenment of their spirit.

22. Then a force will come that has never been felt by man, because his life will begin to adhere to the true principles, to the norms established by my Law.

23. It is up to you, people, to take my message of spirituality that I have brought to you to the world, but I want you to understand that the way to spread this light has two aspects: one, completely spiritual through thought, prayer, with which you will establish an environment of spirituality, and the other, spiritual and human, through the word, the material presence, the explanation of my word to the sick. Remember the example of Jesus.

24. If you had a great faith and a greater knowledge about the power of prayer, how many works of charity would you do with your thought; but you have not granted it all the power that it has and that is why you often do not realize what you reject in a moment of heartfelt and true prayer.

25. Do you not realize that something higher is preventing the most inhuman war of all your wars from being unleashed? Do you not understand that this miracle is influenced by millions of prayers of men, women and children, who with their spirit fight darkness and fight against the influence of war? Keep praying, keep watching; but put in that act all the faith of which you are capable.

Love one another!

26. Pray, people, and over war, pain and misery, spread the mantle of peace of your thoughts, forming with them a shield, under whose protection, your brothers may be enlightened and take refuge.

27. If at the moment the world is so blind that it cannot see the light of truth, nor can it hear my call in the depths of its being, pray and gain ground spiritually, since at this moment you would not be heard, because all peoples are consecrated to prepare to destroy and defend themselves.

28. Men will have to be blinded even more, when despair, hatred, terror and pain reach their limits.

29. Nor would that be the right time to deliver my message, because you would be like criers in the middle of a desert, no one would listen to you.

30. Do not forget that the human heart is like the land to be cultivated: first you have to clean it, removing stones from it and uprooting the weeds that cover it, then you have to fertilize it with irrigation so that a seed can germinate in its bowels and finally, you have to be on time to sow the seed, before the earth gets tired of waiting and the propitious time passes.

31. Thus, a work of purification is taking place in this humanity, in which man, without realizing it, has offered himself the chalice that will restore his purity.

32. All the pain that he is preparing for himself will serve to soften his heart, so that at last he will expel from the depths of his being how much evil has germinated in him and when he can no longer suffer anymore, nor feel more anguish, he will feel the light of conscience, the sweetness of repentance, the sap of a new life for his spirit reach his heart.

33. Once prepared, cleansed and purified by pain and later fruitful with the dew of repentance and reflection, man will be about to receive the divine seed of spirituality, because his bowels, already ennobled with repentance and the purpose of amending and restoring, will be eager to receive in his bosom the seed of love, peace and wisdom.

34. What will become of this humanity if, when I was looking forward to the arrival of my message, this people had not prepared to present themselves to their brothers as messengers or laborers of my word?

35. How great is your responsibility, disciples, so great, that you will have to answer me for each of the minutes that I have entrusted to you for the performance of your mission.

Love one another!

36. I have told you to raise your prayer for now, that is, to begin by acquiring a true knowledge of the mission that you are going to fulfill; that you exercise your heart through the practice of charity, that little by little you become sensitive to your being, striving to combat your egoism that is the fruit of materialism. Then spirituality will penetrate into you.

37. Stop being the little ones now, so that when I tell you to pray, you will understand that I am asking you for good works, since it is they, and not your words or thoughts, that truly speak to my Spirit. A thought, no matter how beautiful it may be, if it is meaningless, it lacks essence. A word or a phrase no matter how beautifully it is said, if it is not transformed into a work, it will not have life and you already know that what has no life, does not exist, therefore it cannot be received by Me.

38. You know: When I tell you to pray, not only do you concretely enter into the inner recollection of your thoughts, but also leave that sanctuary and leave in each of your brothers, a garment of true fraternity, as the most certain proof that you live watching and praying for your fellow men.

39. In this way, your defects will be removed, you will be fighting your disunity and you will be achieving that preparation that I talk about so much in my lessons.

40. If, by the time humanity reclaims my new message in its heart, this people had not prepared itself by means of practice, nor had it become embroiled in a struggle of love against hatred, charity against selfishness and peace against discord, diseases and hardships, do not expect with a single word to reach the bottom of hearts, persuading them of my truth.

41. That is why, at the same time that I am giving you my word, I am telling you to put it into practice, because only in this way will you be able to understand the essence of my teachings, their content and their infinite goodness.

42. Eighty-four years have elapsed from 1866 to 1950; a whole stage of spiritual revelations in which the divine light has shone unceasingly on every spirit and on every flesh; in which the spiritual world has manifested itself to this people in one form and in many forms has manifested itself in all humanity.

43. The time is now approaching to say goodbye to you through the medium chosen by Me for my communication at this time, but I will be waiting for your preparation and your spirituality, in order to resume my communication with humanity, although no longer using brains to transmit my messages, but seeking direct communication of my Spirit with yours.

Love one another!

44. When I said through the mouth of an ancient prophet that there would come times when my Spirit would be poured out on every spirit and on all flesh and that men would have prophetic visions and dreams, I was referring precisely to this approaching time, in which the gifts that every spirit possesses will arise, seeking the divine truth and testifying to the fulfillment of what was prophesied to you.

45. Do not fear the day when I will speak to you for the last time, nor do you fear the time of meditation, in which you will not hear my words through human lips; for truly I tell you, I will be present, without ignoring you or abandoning you for a moment, encouraging your faith with my charity, making you feel my presence in various ways, filling your meetings with essence and divine effluvia, inspiring you with thoughts, deeds and words, guiding your steps and avoiding falls and stumbles.

46. Do not be afraid of the new time, do not go to doubt my presence in spirit, because I will make you hear my voice reproaching your doubt, saying to you: Ah, men of little faith, who need to see and touch in order to believe!.

47. If you really aspire to penetrate into spirituality, to be worthily called my disciples in this Third Time, meditate deeply in these solemn moments, in these lessons, which are going to be the last that you will have to receive.

48. I want you, as good disciples, to imitate your Master in his truth, so that along your journey you may give fulfillment to your mission, without ever leaving the path traced by the Law and conscience.

49. If I announced my coming to you many centuries ago, I fulfilled my promise. If I have already promised you a time of pleasure once communicated through my spokesmen, in which I would speak tirelessly of the Spiritual Kingdom, I have done it; but if I have revealed to you the date on which I will have to conclude this message, I want and I must fulfill it, because in my will there can be no change, nor can my divine words undergo variation, nor is there another power or another will to change the destiny of life and beings.

50. Everything was foreseen by Me from eternity, nothing escaped my wisdom. Every time was marked from the beginning and every destiny was mapped out. Even though men have never harmonized their will with mine, my will has not ceased to be done.

51. I have always given you time for your preparation and have provided you with means to save you. Before sending you my justice to take you to account at the end of an era or a stage, I have manifested my love to you, warning you, and exhorting you to repentance, to amendment and to good; but, when the hour of justice has arrived, I have not come to ask you if you have already repented, if you have already prepared or if you still remain immersed in evil and disobedience; my righteousness has come at the appointed hour, and he who knew how to build his ark in time was saved, and he who scoffed when the hour of righteousness was announced to him and did nothing for his salvation, he had to perish.

52. Meditate on this that I am telling you, so that you may know that your will will never be able to change mine, even if it sometimes seems that way, that when the hour of justice arrives, I will visit you and touch you, to give to each one according to his merits, because I already spoke to you before with love and with light, so that in time you were building the saving ark, the one in which the days of greater justice could rescue you from perishing under the waters of Universal purification.

53. If this event has not yet taken shape in the youngest and the last, the responsibility remains with the elders, with the first, with the disciples, so that they teach their little brothers how the Father's will is obeyed and how his Law is fulfilled. But I tell you, if they do not know how to give an example of obedience, or a testimony of my truth, I will give them one more proof of my righteousness and how my will is fulfilled above all.

54. You ask yourselves in the depths of your heart why I sometimes make such severe claims to your spirit and I tell you that if I had denied you one of my attributes when I formed you, you would be right to complain or be surprised at my claims; but when I know that in your being I have deposited something of each of my powers, virtues and attributes, and that I have also made revelations to you about my Law, about your destiny and about life, granting you sufficient time for your understanding, evolution and development, you should rightly consider that I descend to you to judge your works and the use that you have given to my gifts.

55. I tell you again that if only one of my attributes had denied it to you, I would not have the right to claim from you the mistakes you made in your life.

56. From this you will be able to understand that there is not and has never been a human being in whom there has not been a spirit animating him, nor has there ever been a spirit that lacked consciousness.

57. What greater glory for man, to know that he is animated by a being of light, an inhabitant of the Spiritual Realm, an envoy or messenger from a higher world? And on the other hand, what greater joy for the spirit to know that the luminous beacon of consciousness that is the light of Divinity illuminating the way is with him eternally? But, as you have wasted your time occupied only with the material, moving away more and more from thoughts about the spiritual life every day, as even your religions suffer from a lack of spirituality, you have a lethargic, sickly and gloomy humanity, which when listening to the voice of its Father, who comes to judge and claim him, is surprised by the claim and wonders: Why so much rigor for this weak, small, sick and innocent people? But he does not realize that reason does not assist him when he responds in this way to the voice of his Master, because he is neither weak, since he carries in himself the strength with which God endowed him, nor is he small because in his spiritual and bodily formation there is the wisdom and perfection with which I formed him, nor is he innocent because through consciousness he realizes perfectly what he does, what he should do and what he stops doing. And if he feels sick, it is because his lack of harmony with both the spiritual and the material, have taken him away from the main sources of life, such as spiritual communication with me and contact with his mother Nature.

Love one another!

58. I invite you to meditate deeply on my word, and I must tell you that if, after hearing me, someone continues to consider my claims and my judgments unjust, it will have been because he could not penetrate the meaning of my word and I will have to forgive his hardness of heart and understanding.

59. You have been tested for a long time, beloved people, because it is necessary that you purify yourselves so that you may become worthy to go and deliver my word to your brothers, now that the nations so need a message of peace.

60. I will not send as emissaries those who are dead to the life of grace, because they will have nothing to give, I will not give that mission to those who have not cleansed their hearts of egoism.

61. The emissary of my word will have to be a disciple of mine, whose simple presence makes my peace be felt in hearts. He will have to possess the virtue of knowing how to comfort his brothers even in difficult trances, and in his word there will always be a light that dispels all darkness of the spirit or of the understanding.

62. I found this people dead and raised them up with the light of my word, why should not my disciples be able to do the same with their brothers, if that is what I have come to teach them?

63. When I speak of the dead, I am referring to those who have died for faith, for goodness, for truth, and I can tell you that in each one of you, when you came before my manifestation, there was a dead person.

64. My word, touching the slab of your heart, made the spirit buried long ago under the materialism of your life tremble.

Love one another!

65. Unknown sensations, hidden tenderness and delights of the spirit, he made you experience my word. You eagerly came before the divine ray communicated by the speaker, to enjoy that essence that you felt descending from the infinite into your heart.

66. Moments of true peace for you have been those in which, transported to a world of light and perfections, you have forgotten your earthly vicissitudes.

67. Then your heart has overflowed in thanksgiving, because when you no longer expected anything from life but pain, the veil of mystery was torn and a ray of divine light descended into your spirit as a message of love, truth and consolation.

68. In your dark, painful and monotonous life, the unexpected miracle of my return arose, through a spiritual and mental communication at the same time.

69. From that day on, a new life appeared before your eyes. The shadows of doubt and uncertainty fled and light became in your heart.

70. That is the new dawn of which I speak to you so much in my word, that is the new day before which you have awakened.

71. You already have hope, you already feel safe, you already know what you have to do to live within this path.

72. Noble purposes, good intentions, beautiful projects have been born in your heart.

73. The way spreads luminous before your eyes inviting you incessantly to travel it, to show you its beauties and reveal to you at every step new teachings.

74. Who among you does not wish that wonderful awakening to all humanity? Who among you will want this treasure for himself alone? None, I see in every heart the longing for universal resurrection, the desire for peace and light in all men. In truth, I tell you that this longing, growing every day in your heart, will be the force that will lead you tomorrow to fight for the realization of the ideal that my word has caused to be born in your spirit.

75. I will provide my people with the means to carry my message to all nations, I will grant that in their path they will find men of good will who will help them carry my messages to the ends of the earth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 324

1. I have descended into your heart which I have found ready to receive me. Who among you has searched for me who has not found me?
2. You are walking in a desert, but you have my presence in this voice that encourages you every moment in the innumerable trials of the way. You have been fed with the bread of the spirit, while many portions dwell in deserts where they have not found water, food or guidance.
3. I descend to all, I have not come to distinguish any race; my Spirit descends to all men, but only those who are prepared receive me and are recreated by my presence.
4. I bless the people of Israel, to whom you have opened the doors of your heart to give me lodging, to those who have opened their eyes to the light and have discovered in this Work all the truth and the greatness that it contains, because they will be saved and through them the generations will be saved. You, the chosen people, the one who has heard me in all times, today you come once again and bow down to Me to say to me: Father, direct our steps, ignite our faith more, do not allow us to fall into temptation". You tell me in your prayer that you have great tribulations, that you have tasted a cup of bitterness, that your plant has been wounded by the thorns of the road and the Master answers you: Be patient in trials, hurry with resignation your cup of bitterness and wait for tomorrow working on my Doctrine.
5. You were warned, you knew what these times brought with them, because I announced it to you, you are not the blind one, you walk on the path full of light; it is others who stumble, fall and cry. They are the ignorant, those who do not know where they are going, those who live a sterile and useless life; but you, people, who have the knowledge that you possess all the gifts of the spirit, that you have my presence in my word, that you have received me day by day in my lessons, are the strong one who presents to me his fighting spirit, a spirit that has overcome adversities, that has risen above the great obstacles and has passed the great barriers seeking Me, seeking perfection, because you have to be the first, the strong one among humanity, the one who speaks with the truth and testifies to what he has seen.
6. When that great final test approaches, you will speak to your brothers; your words will break the silence into which this humanity will fall, confused for a moment by that great test. It will be the voice of Israel that will rise up speaking to the world and announcing to it what I have promised it: Peace to men of faith, power and strength to everyone who rises up with a pure ideal. To encourage you, I will put my words on your lips, my inspirations in your heart, so that you can guide this humanity with certainty. You have been prepared a lot. In each of my lessons, I have opened before your eyes an infinite path of ideals, of spirituality.

7. Your mind has been recreated and even more so your spirit, savoring the delights of this word, keeping it in your heart to study it later. The time of great study is approaching for the people of Israel, when you will have to deliberate on the words that I told you, on the lessons that I gave you as a testament for yourselves and for all humanity.

8. Be prepared, people, because many ideas will arise from all hearts, your thoughts will clash and you will not find affinity among humanity. It is the announced time of struggle. While some stand up defending my Truth and spreading my Doctrine, the others will want to destroy it, they will want to bring down stone after stone of this Work, which I have built in the heart of the people of Israel.

9. Some will rise up in fanaticism and ignorance, because each one will have analyzed according to his understanding; but I, the Light, will descend to you to lead you; I, Justice, will make the truth shine in the hearts of those who have listened to me with preparation.

10. People of Israel: In this great struggle, you will only carry the weapons of love, peace and justice, what would become of you if you wielded the two-edged sword, the one that wounds and kills? First of all, you will make my light shine and you will take my word to the hearts; you will clothe yourselves with patience, prudence and love and you will remember these lessons that I gave you in the midst of this peace. Even though I have often seen the congregations debating in great whirlwinds, in great confusion, my word has been like a beacon in the midst of that raging sea of ideas, of concepts, of different analyses. Each one of you will be a herald of the truth, you will all imitate me, you will all remember the love with which I taught each of my disciples, the patience with which I prepared each of my little ones; the forgiveness that I poured out on everyone when they failed and fell into temptation.

11. So you, Israel, who are to remain as my disciple, who want to bear witness to this Teacher, you will have to imitate me. There will be the moment of the test, of your opportunity, there you will also recognize yourselves, there you will contemplate the greatness of your spirit; but if you were not prepared, you will lament your weakness. I as a Teacher have taught you, I have poured infinite lessons on you and at the end of this year of 1950, the year of grace, the last in which I will speak in this way, you will have been prepared and everything that you had not heard through the spokesman, you will receive in your spirit by intuition.

Love one another!

12. In this way you will understand great lessons. The path I have laid out for you is infinite; you will never be able to say that you have already reached the end, that you have nothing to learn or to study, that you have understood everything. No, people, a short time will not be enough for you to understand my Doctrine, you will have to study along this journey on Earth and then in the Hereafter, your spirit will continue in the spiritual regions, seeking the essence and wisdom of my Spirit and you will always find broader horizons, your ideals will grow, and then you will understand that your Father is infinite in his light and in his love for his children.

13. Today you are no longer the little one, you are not the child in this Work, you have walked a lot in fulfilling your mission. I have spoken to you, telling you that in three times when my word has resounded before men, the people of Israel have been established on earth to receive me; therefore, your spirit has listened to me for many ages.

14. You have already passed some scales, you have evolved; you have the experience and the fruits that you have gathered in the past times; you have already experienced great trials, therefore your spirit will not be surprised by false lights. You who know the taste of my word, have opened your eyes and know the purest, spiritual light. You have read in the great book of my wisdom and you will not be able to confuse yourselves with the imperfect sciences.

15. I have made known to you the true light and the true science that is in Me; I am making you great by the spirit, because I want you to seek me with him, more than with the mind, so that you can be Spiritualists, in truth. Because the time of great opportunities for the People of Israel is already approaching. If today you have felt like prisoners, with a small field to practice my teaching, the moment is already near when I will open the paths for each of you and there you will practice my Doctrine and when practicing you will find the greatness of each of my words.

16. Only in this way will you be able to understand me, in this way you will correctly analyze my word and you will not form in your mind theories and concepts that confuse you and do not lead you to the understanding of my Doctrine. You have to practice love, peace and charity, so that you may identify yourselves with your Father and be able to recognize yourselves, as I have prepared you, full of gifts and graces. I have told you that I have formed you in my image and likeness, that each one of you can do great works on the way, that they bear witness to Me, that they make you similar to Me and by virtue you can do them.

17. Are you ready yet? Have you already prepared to imitate me? In truth I say that you lack nothing, that you have already reached spiritual maturity and from this point you can already practice and offer me the first fruits of your fulfillment, while a large part of humanity remains asleep; while waiting for the touch or the shaking that will wake it up.

18. You watch and pray, you keep your faith alight, you pray for all those who feel disinherited and lost from the spiritual path, and this prayer envelops humanity and saves it, redeems it. The moment will come when those hearts in which you have sown love, those whom you do not know yet, because you have prayed for those whom you do not know, will arrive on your way or you will arrive and you will find them on your way and there you will identify yourselves, there your spirit will recognize the sowing that he has done.

19. The regions are waiting for you, I have told you a lot about this and you have seen it far away, because you have not contemplated it instantly, but the time will come when you will disperse and then you will take this seed as abundant seed to spill it on the fields of humanity. There you will know your advancement, there you will strive to carry forward your ideal, there you will magnify yourselves with your acts of love and sacrifice for humanity.

20. It is necessary that you pass through these tests so that you can understand my Doctrine. Each one of you has to become an apostle and I will enlighten and bless you from beyond.

21. You have the gifts they had. Yes, people of Israel, because you have been my disciples at this time, just like those twelve and all those who listened to me in the Second Time. I have poured out my seed on you, my wisdom has enveloped your spirit, but if for a moment you have not felt full of it, it is because you have not yet penetrated into meditation and study.

22. I am going to grant you a time of peace, a time of separation from your earthly life, so that you can study and then, prepared, give beginning to your mission. When that moment arrives, do not let it go unnoticed, do not dedicate this time that I am going to grant you to the life of the world. I will give you in addition what is necessary for sustenance and for the spirit, all that you need.

23. I have come by the spirit of man to rescue him from the darkness in which he has walked. Matter is secondary: a loaf of bread is enough for you to feed yourself, a roof to cover your body and free it from the inclement weather, a humble garment too and this is enough; but the spirit, who has to travel a long way, who has to come to Me with great merits to achieve the promised graces, has not yet had his chance among you, he is still chained, he still cries out for salvation and liberation every moment. At the bottom of your being, your hard heart rises up, and it is necessary that it be the one that governs the flesh and there is not the one that governs the spirit.

24. The envelope is only a garment, the instrument that I have given you on Earth so that you can travel on it for a while. I will call the spirit of matter to account the instant you have left this garment. But this materialism in which you live, this prison in which you have oppressed your spirit, is going to open its doors, is going to give you freedom so that you can live very close to Me and be able to love with all the forces of your being this humanity.

25. I want the people of Israel to be like a tender mother who welcomes this helpless humanity, to be your warm lap, to be your eyes full of love and compassion for this humanity. I am going to entrust her to you so that you can look at her as a younger sister, or if you want as a daughter. I am going to leave you on my behalf and just as I love, bless and love humanity, you will do the same; she is hungry for love, for examples and for light. I have to say to humanity: Look for the people of Israel and in them you will find my representation and my wonders; in him I will pour out my teaching and my pleasures!

26. How great is your office, beloved people; you have not yet understood it! But do not be afraid, if you believe in Me, you will be able to rise up, and you will occupy that worthy place before humanity. Get ready now that you still have time to think and meditate, now that you are not yet among the large portions preaching; and you can still correct the errors yourself, penetrate into your interior to know what is good and bad and encourage the virtues that you find and that I have written in your spirit from the beginning, since you were formed; and whatever you find bad, all the imperfections that are in you, turn them into perfections.

27. The Earth is a valley of atonement and trial for the spirit, but he must overcome with the strength and power that I have given him, because he is part of Myself, he is my own essence, my very Life. You are my creatures, similar to Me and therefore, what obstacles will you encounter in your path that you cannot overcome on the path of spirituality and elevation?.

28. People: It is enough for you only to pray every day and prepare yourselves in the study of my Teaching, so that you can, by your own effort, break through, solve all the trials, wait patiently when you have to wait and receive everything according to my will. I have not promised you a flowery path. I have not told you that you are going to be happy and you are going to taste perfect happiness on this Earth; I have taught you that you are undergoing trials and you are going through a path of atonement and repairing your past faults, as well as that you are doing merits to climb.

29. That is what I have told you, people, therefore, be content in tribulations, lead your life with joy; what you have not received at dusk, hope, that you will receive it at dawn, because everyone who trusts in Me receives, everyone who prays is strong. Therefore, disciples, this master will always accompany you in prayer, in the study of spiritual lessons, in the study of human life, so that you may be prudent and equitable at all times, so that you may be just in all your determinations, so that you may bear witness that you are my apostles and before yourselves you may feel full of peace because of the justice that you have poured out in your acts.

30. This is how I prepare you, O people of Israel, I have unified you in this congregation. Some of you, who have arrived in the last hours of my word, I have taught and raised you to unite in a single thought, in a single study so that you may achieve a single degree of evolution, with those who have listened to me for a long time.

31. I contemplate you all treading on the same scale of evolution, nurturing great ideals; always putting the spirit ahead, praying and expecting everything from Me. I bless you and I also say to you: I expect this of humanity: When will it be converted? When will he have left his robe of uncleanness? When will he have stripped off his materialism to come in search of the spiritual garment? This great work will not be done by you, I, who work tirelessly, will convert humanity in the necessary time; she will evolve, she will take great steps in an instant, because I prepare the tests and the circumstances that will lead her to spirituality. you will fulfill at this stage, but I will work and fulfill at all times.

32. You have known my word, you have recognized that it comes from Me and for a moment you are also looking for the warmth and tenderness of maternal love and the Master asks you: Have you not recognized in this word of the Master the tenderness and love of the Mother? I have told you that I am one Teacher, one Spirit and all the loves are in Me. If you seek Mary, seek her in my own word, in this word that blesses and caresses you every moment.

33. Yes, people of Israel, the Father and the Mother speak in Me, all the loves speak in Me, in this my word that I have poured out in all times, if you recognize me, you will find everything you crave. There will be no emptiness in your heart, in Me you will find the Father, the Friend, the Brother, the Teacher, but also the Mother. I am the perfect love, the love of loves. Console yourselves, people, and thank me because I have made these lessons known to you.

Love one another!

34. I in every dawn of grace full of blessings your path. Who among you, who asks me in anguish or anxiety, has not been heard? I contemplate everything and I know everything. I speak to you from beyond. It is you who come to Me, who rise up to meet Me in the regions of the spirit. I have not touched the Earth, at this time; I descend spiritually and communicate with your spirit through the Universal Ray and from there I contemplate and listen to everything. From there I speak to you and I bless you and in this dawn of grace I say to you: Do merits; since the middle of this year is approaching, if you have taken advantage of it properly, blessed are you, but I as a Teacher advise you; take advantage of every day and every moment so that you can record my word and keep it always in your heart. This atmosphere will remain floating, this peace, this light, this joy and this love, you will continue breathing it after this year, in your meetings or away from them, I will grant it to you. Wherever you gather, there you will have my presence; wherever you cry out to me, there you will have me.

35. Then, people, recognize that the Divine Master is coming to manifest himself at this time, in the midst of an atmosphere of peace, understanding and spirituality. I have unified your mind and you have formed a spiritual temple to which I descend. There I manifest myself and make myself felt, there you will recognize me after this year, because that is how I have to continue manifesting myself, in the midst of peace and spirituality. Your spirit will destroy division and create an atmosphere of harmony, of unification of ideas.

36. When the time comes, you will disperse without forming sides or leaving confusions or bad example.

37. You in your heart and spirit, full of peace, will speak, and in one sentence of yours all the justice and truth that I want to make known to this world can be summarized. Then take care to keep your peace, your spiritual energy and your faith well, so that you can be at all times the voice of truth, the voice that prophesies, the voice that silences evil and awakens the spirit to the voice of conscience.

38. This is what you will be, people, in the midst of turbulent humanity. Therefore I leave you prepared; each of you will fulfill within a portion, but you will all be spiritually united, even if you were materially distant; and you will communicate with each other, either spiritually, or through missives. This is how you will develop my Work, this is how you will present it to the world, that is why, at this time, I have awakened within you the ideal of developing the gifts for truth and justice, so that you may always be upright and spiritual.

Love one another!

39. I leave you united as one family, in which there will be no differences, you will all contemplate yourselves as brothers, all on the same scale of evolution, with the same disposition to fulfill and with a great ideal. You will all receive from my Spirit the blessing, the encouragement and what you need for your struggle. In this dawn of grace I strengthen you, record each of my lessons, they, although short, contain great light.

40. Blessed are you: I find myself always waiting for those who want to rise spiritually, those who seek beyond what their eyes can see, those who with the eyes of the spirit discover eternal life in the Hereafter.

41. I make known to you your gifts and I make the call to you; but each one of you by your merits, must come to Me.

42. In this dawn of grace, through the prayer of the people of Israel, gathered in different congregations, inside and outside this Nation, I bless all humanity and I give you my peace and my charity.

43. This is how I am preparing you for the difficult times. Your words must break the silence into which humanity is going to fall, overwhelmed by calamities, confused by the diversity of ideas that will arise among the spiritual guides of different sects and in that day of anguish, which you do not know how long it will last, a voice will rise up in each spirit that will say: "Peace to men of good will" and those who feel faith in their heart will be saved, those who remain with their lamp lit, and those will feel in themselves a great power.

44. The time of study is approaching for this people, when they will deliberate on my words and commands, and you must be prepared for that struggle. your thoughts will meet, you will differ in your analyzes, but my light will shine on all your concepts and I will use those who with a healthy spirit rise up to realize my plans.

45. I only give you the weapons of love, prudence and patience for that struggle, and in the performance of that mission you will remember with nostalgia these hours of peace, this beatific environment in which I instructed you and warned you for new times, and in that sea of different ideas, concepts and analyses, you will fight to preserve your peace and dignity as my disciples.

46. It is not enough to analyze my teaching and understand its meaning for you to put yourselves in safety, it is necessary that you practice its precepts, so that you identify with me and your spirit penetrates into maturity, into the solidity of your convictions.

Love one another!

47. I have not promised you a flowery path in this world, but despite its misfortunes, you can lead your life with joy, look forward confidently to the future, and be fair and equitable in all your acts; work and fulfill at this stage and I will work in all times.

48. Preserve your spirituality so that you may be, at all times, the voice that speaks with truth, the one that silences evil and fulfills its mission of guiding and teaching its brothers. You lovingly evoke your Heavenly Mother in each of your meetings, and the Master tells you: Her spirit and mine are one. Have you not recognized in my word his tenderness and his grace? In this teaching the Father and your Mother speak, in a perfect divine conjunction.

49. How many times have I surprised men by asking themselves if there is no way to communicate with God and many times, sighing, they have exclaimed: Oh, if I could ask the Lord a question and receive the answer! But then, believing that this is impossible, they resign themselves and continue to seek my mercy through external cults and material offerings, although deep inside their being they cannot conceive how a Father who has always said he loves his creatures so much, does not deign to answer them when they invoke and call him.

50. Ah little beings consecrated to earthly life, if you only knew that this need to communicate with me is what I carry in my Spirit! If you knew that not only is that communication that you crave granted to you, but that all my teachings revealed to you throughout the ages, have the purpose of leading you to spirit-to-Spirit communication! But as you live materialized, you have wanted to listen to my voice, responding to those words that your lips pronounce and that cannot and should not be, because then it would cease to be a spiritual communication, in which your Lord would stoop to the height of your materialism.

51. That is why the way I have chosen at this time to communicate through these spokespersons, will have to be brief, because it is not the perfect way, but once it has passed, the time of preparation will come in which many men will begin their development towards spirit-to-Spirit communication.

52. I have never been far from you, as you have sometimes believed, nor have I ever been indifferent to your sorrows, nor deaf to your calls. What has happened is that you have not bothered to refine your higher senses, hoping to perceive me with the senses of the flesh, and I tell you that the time when I granted this to men is already very far away.

53. If you had cared a little about developing some of your spiritual gifts, such as elevation through thought, prayer, foreboding, prophetic dream, or spiritual sight, I assure you that by any of them you would be communicating with me and therefore receiving answers to your questions and divine inspiration in your thought.

54. I am entirely willing to speak to you, always waiting for your spiritual elevation and preparation, to please you and give you the joy of communicating with your spirit. It is only necessary that you also dispose yourselves with the greatest purity to achieve that grace.

55. Verily, I receive you and give you my benefits in whatever form it may be, through which my charity is requested; but even if you obtain from Me what you asked, your spirit will never experience the joy of having become worthy of that good.

56. I must tell you that the day you know how to reach the spiritual heights with your requests, your joy in receiving my charity will be incomparably greater, because he who knows how to ask, will naturally have to know how to receive. I tell you this, because there are those who get from Me what they ask for despite not having known how to ask. What value can you give to what you didn't even know how to ask for or didn't even ask for? These are the ones who do not know how to receive, those who could not understand the love with which their Father has granted them. But my duty as a Father is to help children in their struggle, to protect them, to help them and to console them, that is why my mercy can never stop overflowing over my children.

57. This Father who loves you so much, cannot see you sunk in spiritual ignorance, which is darkness, poverty and littleness. To do this, the conscience comes to awaken you, which is like a teacher that arises from yourselves and always seeks the means to be heard and felt, to overflow in word and doctrine that corrects your mistakes and to rise to the heights of light, knowledge, conscience and the greatness of the spirit.

58. Unite in your mind and spirit my manifestations as God revealing the Law to you, my manifestations as a Father who reveal to you my infinite love and my lessons as a Teacher, revealing to you my wisdom and you will obtain from all this an essence, a divine intention: that you will reach Me, by the path of spiritual light, something more than a communication with you. I want to lead you to my own Kingdom, where you will always have me present, forever in you.

59. For now, try to spiritualize yourselves so that your hidden gifts will awaken and step by step you will approach, first to the spirit-to-Spirit communication and then to the abode of perfection.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 325

1. Blessed are those who know how to weep with love, because that is the proof that their spirit and their heart live in harmony.
2. These are the moments of your meditation, the propitious hour for you to understand and feel my love, the moment when almost without realizing it, your heart opens like a flower and the spring of weeping flows sweetly from your eyes.
3. Those tears speak louder than all words and say more than all thoughts. In them there is sincerity, there is humility, there is love, gratitude, contrition, promises...
4. Hearing me speak like that, you feel understood and loved by Me. Yes, my little ones, I contemplate you all and I listen to you all, I know your names, I know all your needs I hear your cry and your requests and I receive from everyone the supplications and the offerings.
5. Yes, you are my children, because you sprang from my Spirit, how can I not know and love you?
6. If sometimes, despite your prayers, the pain or sorrow persists, it is not because I have not listened to you, nor that I do not want to encourage you, it is that I want to test you, to give you one after another my lessons, it is that my duty as a Father is to correct you, touch you and perfect you on this path that is life.
7. Blessed are those who bless me at the altar of Creation and those who know how to receive with humility the consequences of their faults, without attributing them to divine punishments.
8. Blessed are those who know how to do my will and humbly accept their trials. All of them will love me.
9. You have come to take refuge in Me, multitudes, because what is happening in your world fills you with dread, you have proven that all justice, all love and all truth have fled from the hearts of men. So you have said to yourselves: To whom to turn? From whom to apply and wait? And you have remembered Me.
10. Poor peoples of the earth, enslaved by some, humiliated by others and despoiled by others by their own leaders and representatives!
11. Your heart no longer loves those who govern you on earth, because your trust has been disappointed; you no longer trust in the justice or magnanimity of your judges, you

Love one another!

no longer believe in promises, in words or in smiles. You have seen that hypocrisy has taken hold of hearts and has established on earth its reign of lies, falsehoods and deceit.

12. Poor people! who carry the work on their shoulders like an unbearable burden. That work which is no longer that blessed law by means of which man obtained what was necessary for him to subsist, but has become a desperate and distressing struggle to be able to live. And what do men get in exchange for leaving their strength and life? A remnant of bread, a cup of bitterness.

13. In truth, I tell you that this is not the sustenance that I deposited on Earth for your delight and preservation, this is the bread of discord, of vanities, of inhuman feelings, in short, it is the proof of the little or no spiritual elevation of those who lead you through human life.

14. I see that you take away each other's bread; that the ambitious cannot see that others have something, because they would like it for themselves; that the strong seize the bread of the weak and they concretize to see the powerful eat and enjoy.

15. So I ask: What is the moral advancement of this humanity? What is the development of his noblest feelings?

16. Truly I tell you, in the time when man lived in caves and covered himself with skin, they also snatched each other's food out of their mouths; the strongest also took most of it; the work of the weak was also for the benefit of those who imposed themselves by force, men with men were also killed, tribes with tribes and peoples with peoples.

17. Where is the difference between the humanity of today and the humanity of those days?

18. Yes, I know that you will tell me that you have achieved many advances, I know that you will tell me about your civilization and your science, but then I will tell you that all this is precisely the mask of hypocrisy, behind which you hide the truth of your feelings and of your still primitive impulses, because you have not cared a little for the development of the spirit, for fulfilling my Law.

19. I am not telling you not to seek in science, no, on the contrary: seek, analyze, grow and multiply in knowledge and intelligence within material life, but have charity for one another, respect the sacred rights of your fellow men, understand that there is no law that authorizes man to dispose of the life of his brother, in short, humanity, do something to apply to your life my maximum commandment of: love one another! that you may come out of the moral and spiritual stagnation in which you are sunk, and when the veil of the lie that has covered it falls from your face, your light may arise, sincerity may shine and truth may be established in your life. Then you will be able to say that you have made progress.

20. Strengthen yourselves spiritually in the practice of my teachings, so that in the future your words will always be supported by true works of charity, wisdom, fraternity.

21. I know that deep down in your heart you are wondering if when you no longer hear my word you will have the inspiration and the necessary strength to rise up to the struggle and not to decay in it.

22. You wonder if you will not lose the disposition or preparation that you acquire by listening to my word.

23. Hesitant and uncertain, I contemplate you when you think of the day when I speak to you for the last time, because you understand that the hour will come when you will begin to transform yourselves from disciples into teachers, and you feel unable to live without my word.

24. To all this I tell you that, if I knew that without these manifestations it would be impossible for you to sustain yourselves in your spiritual struggle, I would not keep my word; but I know that it is necessary to finish my message, so that you will soon stop thinking like disciples or infants, to start thinking like teachers.

25. Understand that you are not going to spend your life directing your steps to these places, in pursuit of delight or spiritual comfort. It is necessary for you to understand that the moment will have to come when your spirit will have to teach what He received from Me, for the advancement of your brothers.

26. Truly I tell you that it is necessary for your spirituality that I cease to communicate in this way; once my message is concluded, then you will strive to perfect your prayer and your ecstasy, to feel my divine and invisible presence and you will also strive to refine your senses and faculties.

27. But live alert, because from among your ranks men and women will arise denying that I have put an end to my communication. They will wield many arguments, saying that the divine vibration is eternal and that therefore it is not possible for Me to stop making Myself felt by the human understanding; but from now on I tell you that it is true that my Spirit vibrates eternally in men, it is also true that the way in which I have communicated through these spokespersons will not be eternal, since it is not the most perfect, since I am preparing you for a communication from spirit to Spirit.

Love one another!

28. This manifestation must not last any longer among you, so that you will not make of it a tradition, a habit or a rite. Nor do you listen to those who say that Spirit-to-spirit communication is reserved for the generations of the very distant future. No, disciples, you will certainly achieve perfect spiritual communication after a great evolution, but this will be through the ever-ascending practice of my Doctrine.

29. Pray directly to Me, without the need for intermediaries, nor words, symbols, rites or images, that will be the beginning of spirit-to-Spirit communication, since your inner and higher self has been the one who has risen in search of me. Your spiritual voice has called me and my divine voice answers you. How does your being receive the message of my Spirit? Through the gifts of intuition and inspiration, that is, in a subtle and spiritual way.

30. Is it true that this form of communication is more perfect and spiritual than the one you have through your spokespersons? Now I also tell you that your spiritual communication will have its degree of perfection according to your preparation, as has also happened with the spokespersons and with the multitudes who support them in their preparation.

31. Go practicing spiritual prayer, so that from now on you will verify its goodness and its truth; get used to seeking inspiration and the development of your intuition through that form of prayer. Then you will experience in your understanding a flood of light that struggles to become human expressions and words, noble feelings and good deeds.

32. Developed in this way the prayer, which is the principle of communication from spirit to Spirit, you will no longer have need of spokespersons who transmit a divine message to you, since instead of commissioning another person to prepare to receive and transmit that light, it will be each one of you who prepares to receive directly from his Father and according to the merits he has made before Him.

33. Disciples: It was I who revealed to you at this time the faculties that you possess, so that you could develop them under the direction of the spiritual world and so, when the communication of your brothers the spiritual advisers was over, you would already be prepared to give good fulfillment to your mission.

34. Now that you have received my last lessons, since you are in the year 1950, and that the spiritual world will have to give you its last communications, you will be able to realize that this people has wasted this time of preparation and development.

35. How many of my chosen ones have not even taken the first step towards that preparation! What will you do when you no longer have the ease of being able to listen to your Teacher and your spiritual brothers, as you have had for so long?

Love one another!

36. Many will have to mourn the lost time and will say to themselves: Why did we not know how to appreciate in all its value those blessed moments that the Father granted to his people? What is better than to have begun the development of our gifts under the teaching of the Master and the advice and vigilance of the Spiritual World? But it will be too late, because the day and hour marked by my will to end this stage of communications, the will of man will not be able to change them. Then a new stage will begin, and with it, a new way of developing your spiritual gifts in a simpler, higher and more spiritual way.

37. Those who have strived to take advantage of this time will have a tranquility in the heart and a peace in the spirit, but those who waited for the last dawns to wake up from their deep sleep, will see with tears in their eyes the sunset of the sun of my word that illuminated this time, without having known how to take advantage of its light to start sowing the seed of spirituality.

38. The memory of these days will be the same pleasant for some, that torturous for others. To the latter, their consciousness will awaken them to reality and they will recognize the transcendence that my new Word had for the world. This will make the love for studying my Work awaken in your hearts and that through your prayers and your analysis of the written word, you will go step by step recovering the lost time.

39. Verily I tell you that in all those in whom repentance is very deep and the longing for spirituality becomes very great, my help will be fully manifested and they will soon be able to find themselves among the most advanced.

40. The moment will come when all those who have listened to me at this time will feel the need to bear witness to my word. for the world will appear to you as a vast field thirsty for water and seed. Then reflect: What do you already have in your heart to offer your brothers and sisters? How are you going to bear witness to my Truth and show the greatness of my Work?

41. When the hour has come, when men will question you, ask for proofs and testimonies about what you saw and heard from Me, everyone will give what they have and for those I tell you from now on, that you better be prepared so that the hour of proof does not surprise anyone. See that then, if your brothers caught you sleeping, you would wake up stunned, amazed and there would be inaccuracies and falsehoods in your words, because you did not know how to prepare in time and haste made you make many mistakes.

Love one another!

42. No, beloved people, I do not want those in need of light to surprise you sunk in darkness and that is why I speak to you with all clarity so that you avoid stumbles in the future.

43. Always keep in mind that any time can be conducive to the development of the spirit and meditation.

44. Have not all these peasants who have worked with me done so in the midst of their struggle and their vicissitudes? But I taught them to withdraw from everything that surrounded them in order to give themselves completely, that is, in spirit and in matter, to their mission, in the moments of spiritual work.

45. Take these teachings from Me and do not forget them and take that example from your brothers so that you may be strengthened in it.

46. If you wait for times of peace to be able to penetrate into the fulfillment of your mission, you are in error, because those times of peace will precisely come because of the work, the struggle, the effort and even the sacrifice of my people,

47. What purpose would it have to sow on a field in full fruit? If I have appointed you farmers, it is because you have the mission of sowing, and the seed that I have entrusted to you is the one that will give you the desired peace, which means that to collect it, you will have to sow it first.

48. Although you consider yourselves very small, in truth I tell you that you will become useful to humanity, useful spiritually, for this it is necessary that you prepare yourselves from now on.

49. You are not going to take the gift of faculty to other nations, nor that of spokesman, because by then the time of my communication will have passed, but you will carry the wealth of inspiration and wisdom that I have offered you in my word.

50. For your work, it will be necessary that you remain united in my Work, forming a true spiritual family, but you all already know that at the end of the year 1950, there will be no more manifestations in this form. However, for your encouragement and consolation. I assure you that my Spirit will always be with you and that you will feel my presence more deeply in your being.

51. I will be inspired by your thoughts, I will recreate myself with your meetings, I will make myself felt in your heart and in your spirit and I will pour out in charity in many ways, rewarding and encouraging your faith and spirituality.

Love one another!

52. Everyone who fulfills my will in this way will be a faithful witness of my word and his zeal and obedience to interpret my orders will be the firm foundation where he will build his spiritual temple. These will be my disciples who will spread my teachings throughout the earth. But if there are those after 1950 who persist that I continue to communicate in this form, they will be deceiving and their testimony will be false, because none of my disciples is unaware of the day announced and appointed for my last manifestation.

53. I have given this people enough time to accumulate spiritual light that is wisdom and is the development of all the powers of the spirit, so that at my departure, he could remain in the world as a teacher.

54. Establish from now on a spiritual communication with the other peoples of humanity, so that you may prepare the paths of those who will become messengers of my word. Through prayer you will be able to establish that spiritual communication that I am inspiring you.

55. When you are already fulfilling this advice that I have just given you in my teaching this day, try not to think if at the time of praying for a certain people or nation, those brothers for whom you prayed, felt or did not realize that someone was thinking and praying for them; do not wait for his answer in the same way either, keep in mind that the day men communicate through thought, they will have taken the firm step towards the Era of spirit-to-Spirit communication, and now you are just beginning to stretch those invisible threads of fraternity, of love, of understanding and spiritual approximation.

56. Everything will be fulfilled in due time, because everything that has been prophesied has always had a deep reason for being, although men have doubted when that announcement has been revealed to them long before its fulfillment.

57. You see how the prophecies of the past times have been fulfilled for the most part, trust that what I have now announced to you and promised, will also be fulfilled, the light will shine.

58. See how an invisible power is manifesting itself every day in your world. Feel the presence of the time of judgment among men, see how everything is being prepared for the final battle, in which all human passions that fight against goodness and truth will be defeated, being annihilated to make way for new feelings and new ideals.

59. The sickle of my righteousness comes to reap your fields and I declare to you in truth and in spirit that everything that does not have deep roots of good will be blinded and everything that is superfluous will be taken away.

Love one another!

60. The time in which evil hinders the development of good will pass, and although this struggle will always exist as long as a spirit dwells in a human flesh, it will be the good that predominates and prevails.

61. Make merits to belong to that world of light that I announce to you. Leave from now on a seed that will bear good fruit tomorrow. Do not think that it will no longer be you who can gather and taste those fruits; put all selfishness aside from your heart and think that it will be your children by blood or your brothers by the spirit who will raise the harvest of their older brothers, whom they will call precursors and bless them in their prayers.

62. Men speak of remote times, of antiquity, of long centuries and endless eras, but I always look at you little ones. I see that you have grown very little spiritually. I consider your world still in its infancy, even if it seems to you that you have reached maturity.

63. No, humanity, as long as it is not the spirit who gives these tests of maturity, of elevation, of perfection, of advancement and progress in the different orders of your life, you will not fail to present to me human works, only great in appearance, but without moral consistency, without solidity due to the lack of love.

64. Do you think that I would be able to receive from you the fruit that you present to me if I called you to respond in these moments? No, humanity, no one could present Me with a fruit worthy of Me, something that would be a proof of the love between men, of their harmony, of their faith in Me, of their elevated life by practice in the good.

65. I will not receive some to stop receiving others, I will wait for the time for you to give me the fruit of your harmony. That will be your restitution on earth.

66. Do you tell me that you love me? Do you maintain that you love truth and justice? For I tell you that if you all loved truth and justice you would not live as you live, separated by classes, by creeds, by races and customs.

67. If you loved truth and justice, you would love one another, you would seek to destroy barriers, shorten distances and erase differences.

68. Have you done this? You know better than not, rather you have fought for those differences to endure, that there are strong and there are weak, rich and poor, powerful and miserable, educated and ignorant, and I find that bad seed everywhere.

69. Do you want me to receive you like this, stained with envy, with vanities and low passions?

Love one another!

70. How little did you understand the meaning of my coming into the world at that time, when I appeared among you as a man to declare to you that the entire content of the Law was summarized in two maxims: love for God and love between brothers, because that is the essence of life and the divine bond that unites the family of God!

71. Do you see how wrong you are when you think you are finding the fullness of your strength and your knowledge? If you are still not convinced of what I have told you, answer me: Is everything that you are creating with your science for the happiness of your fellow human beings, for the solution of their problems and for their well-being? You will not be able to tell me yes, because you would be lying, nor will you be able to tell me that you need to exterminate the bad weed so that a better world can arise, because my Law has never authorized man to dispose of his brother's life.

72. Is it not love that inspires your science at this moment? Is it true that what you are preparing, is to satisfy hatreds and ambitions? Well, submit it to the judgment of your conscience and you will see how she tells you that the greatest works of humanity, at this time, are not a proof of spiritual advancement but the denial of what at that time I came to teach you with my word and with my life.

73. I am your Father and I need to speak to you in this way. I cannot deceive you nor do I want you to live deceived; I am going to send you this message and I am going to make it reach everyone, but if because of being humble the word and humble also its bearers you did not believe it, the facts, the tests, and the events, will surprise you and then you will understand that there was truth in this message, but that you did not want to listen or take it in time. Again, as in the days of Noah, men will laugh at the prophecies and only when they feel that the waters already cover their bodies, they will begin to believe and repent.

74. My charity has always come to stop you in your folly, but you have never wanted to listen to me. Sodom and Gomorrah were also warned to enter into fear and repentance and to avoid their destruction, but they would not listen to my voice and perished.

75. I also invited her to Jerusalem to pray and to return to true worship; but her unbelieving and carnal heart rejected my paternal warning and waited for the facts to reveal the truth to her. How bitter those days were for Jerusalem!

76. Do you see how it is true that you are always the same, because you have not wanted to leave your spiritual childhood to grow and elevate yourselves along the path of the wisdom that is in my word?

77. I am sending this message to all of you, which will serve as a prophecy, an awakening, an alert to peoples and nations. Blessed are you if you believe in its contents.

Love one another!

Meditate on its essence, but then watch and pray, that if you do this, an inner light will guide you and a higher force will protect you until you are safe.

78. Today you are witnesses that I come to heal people who are sick with understanding with the balm of truth, from which all wisdom comes.

79. It is necessary that to all these knowledge that you have acquired of human life, you unite the knowledge about the spiritual life, because until you have a certainty about your beginning, about your destiny and your end, you will not know yourself, nor will you know who you are.

80. Within the human you know what day you were born, and you also know that you will have to dig the grave when someone has stopped living. But who knows the instant in which your spirit sprang from my womb, the way in which it is born, the way in which it incarnates and how is its return to the womb from which it sprang? Something, but very little, there have been those who have sensed without being able to find the whole truth, is that man alone will never be able to penetrate the Arcanum.

81. It is I, your Master, who once again approaches men in a time of spiritual restlessness, of interrogations, of dissatisfaction with what has remained hidden in the mystery.

82. I come to clarify the truth and to calm the spiritual restlessness of men; and I come to answer their questions; I come to put away that anguish that they experience before their impotence to find the truth. I also come to tell you that much of what you see shrouded in mystery was something that you did not know how to discover, due to lack of preparation and cleanliness, but that was granted by Me so that you would know its background.

83. If I promised to return to the world to clarify the mysteries with my light and to remove the darkness from its understanding, this is the propitious time for my return, in which my Spirit opens the book of wisdom again, so that men may find in it whatever corresponds to them to know, whatever is granted to them by Me.

84. All these people have asked me why I chose at this time the spiritual form to manifest myself to men, considering that for them it is too high and difficult to conceive and feel.

85. I know that this is what the men of today tell me because they know that in the past time I incarnated, making myself human, visible and tangible. But these people have not meditated that before I came into the world as a man, I had already manifested Myself in the Spirit to men, and they had listened to me and believed me, but they never asked me to come down into the world to see me.

Love one another!

86. I took the human form because it was essential to leave a perfect and living example of what fulfillment in the Divine Law is and no one but Me was the one to do it, I, who made the Law, I who would bring you the Law explained with words and deeds that shaped a doctrine.

87. If, instead of choosing the human form to dwell among you, I had taken the form of an angel, men would have felt small and incapable of following in my footsteps and would have considered my word of impossible human fulfillment, on the other hand, they would not have believed in a sacrifice of mine for love of you.

88. Now, if instead of choosing a form superior to the human one, I had taken the form of a bird or a plant, or had hidden myself in one of so many creatures inferior to man, you would not have taken that manifestation as perfect, you would have felt humiliated that you had not been chosen as the means for divine elevation.

89. Now I tell you that whatever form I take to manifest Myself is just and perfect and that if you have not realized that I am present, manifest, tangible in all the kingdoms of Nature, it is because you have not been interested in knowing the divine language.

90. The Ages have passed and have only partly been taken advantage of, that's why I'm approaching you now to teach you how to make up for lost times.

91. Here is your Master reminding you that in the Second Time I became incarnate in Jesus to speak to you from heart to heart and that I have also come to reveal to you that I can communicate through the understanding of man, and that I am preparing you to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit. I am also teaching you to observe the elements of Nature, in which my power, my wisdom and my justice are manifested. Finally, disciples, I have come to teach you the spiritual language so that you may hear and understand my voice, which speaks to you at every step, and which teaches and guides you.

92. It is this Doctrine that will provide man with the spirituality he needs to rise step by step, step by step, towards spiritual wisdom where he will find his origin, his essence, his reason for being and then his love for Me will be very great and will bless all life and everything that exists and surrounds him, because in everything he will see, hear and feel the presence of his Heavenly Father.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. You begin to listen to my word and your eyes become an inexhaustible fountain of tears. Why are you crying, people? You do not always know the cause, sometimes it is because the struggle has been bloody; sometimes because life has hit you with ungratefulness, disappointments, failures, illnesses or mourning; but there are times when without having any of those reasons, you cry a lot when listening to me.
2. I know the reason for that crying for no apparent reason, I know its origin; it is your spirit that weeps and through the flesh manifests it with tears. Each tear is a flow of contained tenderness, of pain for feeling captive, of regret for the mistakes made, of sorrow for having weakened, of sadness for the time lost.
3. What does matter know about all this? That is why many times you have believed that you cried for no reason.
4. You ask me if it is a fault to cry in front of Me. Truly I tell you, whoever does not experience that need to vent a sorrow or to express a supreme joy, it is that instead of a heart he has a stone, because he does not feel my presence in any way.
5. Weep, beloved people, because weeping is also a means that I have given to man so that he may purify himself and get rid of the burden that weighs him down. See how afterwards you feel freer, lighter and cleaner to resume the day.
6. Your spirit needs this purification to make itself worthy of possessing the mission that is reserved for it and it needs to unload the weight that has been accumulating in it over the times, because a new struggle awaits it, a struggle that it will have to start without feeling any fatigue.
7. Yes, disciples! Crying in the moments of your meditation is proof of sincere emotion and each tear is more eloquent than a thousand words, the most beautiful and expressive of your language. But not in everyone the weeping of the spirit, repentance or joy is manifested through tears. In many of my children that feeling is inner, hidden, quiet, visible only to Me. They may seem insensitive or impassive; but their heart is as sensitive or more sensitive than those who express their feelings.
8. When you have all understood and are living spirituality, you will also keep your spiritual sensations, without making ostentation in front of your brothers, understanding that before whom you must confess, repent and purify yourselves, it is before your Father and You will carry Him within your being.

Love one another!

9. For now beloved children and disciples, the important thing is that your heart begins to feel the vibration of the spirit in your being, to understand the need to purify itself, to accept the cup of bitterness when it reaches your lips, and that the same will be beneficial spiritually manifesting outwardly, that throbbing hidden in the depths of your being.

10. A world awaits you, a humanity awaits you, and that is why you must seek your purification, so that when you stand in front of the road, converted into missionaries of this spiritual message, virtues will not mix in your heart with defects, because you will be betrayed at every step by yourselves. You will wish to be sincere and hypocrisy will arise to betray you; you will wish to be charitable and the selfishness of your heart will get in the way. That is why I tell you that your purification will have to be true, in order to make you worthy of possessing this spiritual mission; but there is no one like your conscience to make that inner purification be firm, true, like a ripe fruit, through reflection, experience, meditation and the exercise of my teachings.

11. Can you imagine the joy that your heart will experience when, when speaking to your brothers about what I have revealed to you at this time, you watch them cry in silence, with a cry that will not only be of the flesh but also of the spirit, thirsting for tenderness?

12. Every time my palabra is pronounced by your lips previously prepared by prayer and inspired by my charity, my essence will be alive and my word pulsating, so I tell you that it will produce through your lips the same effect that it produced in the hearts of the multitudes when it was transmitted by meditation of the spokesman.

13. Disciples: The word that I have given you at this time, you should not take it as the foundation for a new religion, because it is only the explanation of the law that I revealed to you from the earliest times.

14. Think that if it were a religion, it would be destined only to those who professed it, but being the infinite light of God, it shines on everyone, descends on everyone to illuminate the paths of humanity, without distinction of peoples, races, languages or creeds.

15. My Law is the altar before which everyone will have to come to worship their Lord; wherever there is a man there will be the altar in the height of his spirit, waiting for his tribute and his love offering.

16. Understand, disciples. What I want to give you to understand is that everyone who receives this teaching must also unite and identify spiritually with everyone, without the external difference of the various cults being the obstacle that prevents you from recognizing and loving your fellow men as brothers in Me.

Love one another!

17. If this is how you come to feel, you will have assimilated my lesson and you will be able, in the hard days of trial that lie ahead, to distribute and participate in your gifts without distinguishing any of your brothers.

18. I am not here to ask men for the unification of customs, material laws or knowledge about sciences that in the end the day will come when convenience will make the peoples unite. What I come to inspire you is spiritual harmony, the union of thoughts; may all humanity come to know and practice spiritual prayer in which you will all be able to rise inwardly and receive directly from my Spirit the bread of eternal life.

19. Many religions exist on Earth and for the most part, they are founded on faith in Christ; however, they do not love each other or recognize each other as disciples of the Divine Master.

20. Do you not think that if one and the other had understood my Doctrine, they would have applied it to practice, leading to reconciliation and peace among the peoples? But that has not been the case. All of them have remained estranged from each other, spiritually distancing and dividing men, who see each other as enemies or as strangers. Everyone is looking for means and arguments to prove to others that he is the possessor of the truth and that others are wrong; but no one has the strength or the courage to fight for the unification of all, nor does he have the good faith to discover that in every belief and in every cult there is some truth.

21. Spirituality is what I expect from the world, before Me the names with which each religion or sect is distinguished has no importance, nor the greater or lesser splendor of its external rites and cults, that only reaches the human senses, but not to my Spirit.

22. I expect spirituality from men, because it means the elevation of life, the ideal of perfection, the love of goodness, the cult of truth, the practice of charity, harmony with oneself, which is harmony with others and therefore with God.

23. I am giving the irrigation that will prepare the lands where my seed will sprout and bear fruit tomorrow. Now it seems impossible that this world can be transformed materially and spiritually in view of what evil has taken root in the heart of this humanity, but I tell you that it will not be long before you see the beginning of the spiritual transformation of your peoples.

24. Who would have believed at that time that in pagan, sinful and sensual Rome, a city where life was a constant orgy of vices and pleasures, of sins and crimes, faith in the word of love for Christ was to be ignited before any other people? And yet it was so.

Love one another!

25. Rome first had to sin a lot and had to get tired and bored to find herself about to receive the seed of my word in her heart, but when she arrived, those hearts, fatigued with pleasure and shattered by disappointment and pain, opened to the contact of the essence of my message, as the withered corollas of flowers open, when the breeze descends to caress them.

26. The heart beat hard and the spirit of that people was shaken. Your sins were forgiven you in grace to your faith and your courage to answer my call.

27. Courage and sacrifice that people needed to be able to assert their faith and their love for the truth that had come to enlighten their hearts, but they knew how to be strong men and women, whether they were old, young or children.

28. Do you understand, disciples? Well, compare that empire of vanities, of vices and of love for the world, with this humanity of now and you will sense that she too, jaded and tired of vanities and sick of sinning, is approaching the day when her spirit will be surprised with the breath of the divine breeze that will come to awaken her, a precursor breeze of the dew that will quench the spiritual thirst that devours her and that will be the preparation for later the seed of spirituality to descend in all hearts.

29. How many times in your heart have you asked me why I have never presented the spiritual life to you with complete clarity, and I tell you: if you felt that life through your material senses, you would never make the slightest effort to achieve any spirituality, you would never develop your spiritual gifts and faculties, nor would you seek to make merits to deserve my revelations.

30. Between you and the spiritual valley, there is a veil that does not allow anyone to desecrate the purity of that sanctuary and it is only granted to cross those thresholds to those who come to them clothed with respect and humility, purity and noble ideal, love and true faith.

31. I tell you true faith, because there is an apparent faith inspired by something imaginary, in something that, because it is false, disappears and goes out as soon as the truth is known.

32. There are many who have tried to imagine the spiritual life in order to believe in it. Great and small, ignorant and cultured, everyone has wanted to know what Heaven is like, what God is like, what form spiritual beings have, what light and existence are like in that world. Then they have imagined beyond the stars a beautiful valley, a majestic palace, a throne and in it God is seated, in human form. To the spiritual beings you have also attributed human form and you have imagined them flying like birds, to move from one point to another. You look at everything full of light, a light similar to the one you have on Earth, everything shining like gold and adorned with the most beautiful things you know in the material world: heavenly songs and divine music filling the space, while millions of beings eternally worship the Lord, always in fennel before his throne, praising him and offering him incense.

Love one another!

33. This is how the spiritual life is conceived by the imagination of many men and once that image has been forged in their minds, they have believed that it is so; that it should be so and they have put their faith in it.

34. What will become of them when they know this teaching and know that what they had imagined does not correspond to reality? Some will instantly open their eyes to the light of truth, recognizing the errors created by their materialism. Others will be confused and deny the truth of my revelations.

35. I only tell you that it is necessary that you remove from your mind all the images you have forged about the spiritual life, because neither God has the form of a man, nor is he on a throne as the kings of the Earth are, nor is Heaven located beyond the stars, nor is its light like that of the Sun, nor do spirits have human form. Everything is different from what you have imagined, in such a way that even if I explained to you what spiritual life is really like, you would not understand it, because even your language would be unable to express the truth, the infinite greatness, the beauty and perfection of the eternal.

36. Could you tell me what form or volume consciousness has? Could you tell me, in what form is love or intelligence? No, Master, you tell me. For just as consciousness, intelligence, and love have no form, neither can you compare earthly things with those of the spiritual life. However, there is nothing more beautiful in the attributes of the spirit, which is a set of gifts and virtues that do not need in any way to be able to exist.

37. God has no form, because if He had, he would be a limited being like the human being and then he would no longer be God. His throne is perfection, justice, love, wisdom, creative force, eternity.

38. Heaven is the supreme happiness that a spirit reaches on the path of its perfection, until it rises so much in wisdom and love that it reaches a state of purity, where sin and pain do not reach.

39. On some occasions, when my prophets spoke of the spiritual life, they did so through human forms and objects known to you.

40. The prophets saw thrones similar to those of the kings of the earth, books, beings in human form; palaces with curtains, candlesticks, the lamb and many more figures. But

Love one another!

now you must understand that all this contained only a meaning, a symbol, a divine sense, a revelation that had to be expressed to you in an allegorical form, since you were not able to understand a higher one.

41. It is high time that you correctly interpret the content of all my parables and teachings that I have revealed to you by means of symbols, so that the meaning penetrates your spirit and the symbolic form disappears.

42. When you come to this knowledge, your faith will be true, since you will have grounded it in the truth.

43. Humanity: I come to prophesy to you in my word a better world than the one you live in, precisely when your heart has washed away its impurity in the blood that I shed on the cross, blood that was the representation of divine love, of the supreme forgiveness and of the redemption of all men.

44. You, unbelievers and skeptics, cannot believe in a world of justice, nor can you conceive of a life of love and virtue in your land. In a word, you do not believe yourselves capable of anything good, nor do you have faith in yourselves.

45. I do believe in you, I know the seed that is in every son of mine, because I formed him, because I gave him life with my love.

46. I do hope for man, I do believe in his salvation, in his dignity and in his elevation, because when I created him, I destined him to reign on Earth, forming an abode of love and peace on it, and for his spirit to be forged in the struggle to arrive by merit to dwell in the light of the Kingdom of Perfection, which belongs to him by eternal inheritance.

47. This land, which you call the valley of tears or exile, was prepared with infinite love for Me, to offer it to the children who were to inhabit it. Everything in it overflowed with life, abundance, blessing and delight for those who would come to possess it. There was nothing in it that was created to cause pain to man, on the contrary, everything was arranged in such a way that when humanity caused harm to itself with its mistakes, it itself would find in its path and everywhere the necessary means to remedy its sorrows and to triumph over its vicissitudes.

48. Many centuries have passed over man on Earth and he has not yet known how to be happy on it, why? Simply because he wanted to find that happiness without looking for it on the true path that is the path that my Law traces, the Law of love and justice, of harmony and purity.

Love one another!

49. Do you think it is necessary to suffer on earth to deserve Heaven? No, humanity, the only thing you achieve with suffering is a certain purification, because the true and absolute purity of the spirit is achieved through love, which inspires you with my Law.

50. What merit does it have that some who have suffered a lot on Earth, for that reason live wishing to get to Heaven? It is natural that if they see that the world no longer has anything to offer them, they think about the spiritual life. True merit is that of one who, having everything in the world, at any moment would be ready to give up his possessions and comforts, because then he would be demonstrating his spiritual elevation and testifying that Heaven or Glory is not the determined place created by the imagination of men through the times and the ages, but a state of the spirit that can begin to live, to experience and enjoy from his human life, a state that will become purer and more perfect as the spirit ascends the ladder that leads him, from the material world, to the summit of spiritual life.

51. If I knew that your destiny is not so high, I would not speak to you in this way, just as I would not have sent my Law, nor would I have given my life to you if I had known that you would never redeem yourselves in it.

52. The fact that I have searched for a way to communicate with men in three eras is because I knew that at the end of time you would rise above passions, carnality and human miseries, living a noble life, full of high inspirations, full of works revealing your spiritual maturity.

53. Do you think that when men live in such a way, they will hunger and thirst for justice, or will they need judges and governments to guide them in the world and judge them and sanction their acts? Do you think that in a world where there is fraternity and justice, there can be wars, misery or pain? No, humanity, already then you will see how this Earth can only give you warmth and life, sustenance and well-being, wisdom and happiness, a happiness that although not in its highest degree, because that is only known when reaching the height of perfection, yes a happiness that compensates with justice those who struggle to persevere in the truth.

54. That is where you all are going, towards that life of serenity and peace, not towards the abyss or death, as your heart thinks it senses. It is true that you will still have to drink a lot of bitterness before the time of your spirituality arrives; but it will not be death, nor war, nor plague, nor hunger, that will stop the course of life, nor the spiritual evolution of this humanity. I am stronger than death, and therefore, I will bring you back to life if you die and I will bring you back to Earth when necessary. I still have a lot to reveal to you, beloved humanity. It still holds many surprises my arcanum.

Love one another!

55. Nature reserves many teachings for you and the Earth has not yet given you what it carries in its bosom.

56. You are fragile flesh and sensitive to pain, you are weak and small and that is why I have mercy on you.

57. The struggle of the spirit through matter is very great, but it is precisely there that he forges himself, where he makes his merits and where he is tested.

58. My divine teaching is not only intended for the spirit, no, it also has to reach the human heart so that both the spiritual and the bodily parts come to harmonize.

59. The divine word is destined to enlighten the understanding and sensitize the human heart, and the essence that exists in that word is destined to nourish and elevate the spirit.

60. In order for man's life to be complete, he inescapably needs spiritual bread, just as he works and struggles for material sustenance.

61. "Man does not live by bread alone," I told you at that Second Time and my word stands, because humanity will never be able to do without spiritual food, without being surprised on Earth by diseases, pain, darkness, calamities, misery and death.

62. The materialists may say that humanity is already living only on what the Earth and Nature offers it, without the need to go in search of something spiritual that sustains it, that strengthens it throughout its journey, but I must tell you that this is not a perfect or complete life, but an existence that lacks the essential, such as spirituality.

63. Spirituality does not mean mysticism, nor does it imply the practice of any rite, nor is it an external cult.

64. Spirituality means the development of all the faculties of man, both those that correspond to his human part, both those that vibrate beyond the senses of the body and those that are the powers, attributes, faculties and senses of the spirit.

65. Spirituality is the just and good application of all the gifts that man possesses.

66. Spirituality is harmony with everything that surrounds you.

67. The need for spiritual nourishment is increasing in man, but he tries by all possible means to satisfy himself with what he has in the world.

68. That need, as the spirit evolves, will have to feel bigger every day, until it reaches the features of an infinite thirst and hunger; until it experiences despair and anguish, like those felt by the pilgrim lost in the middle of a burning and arid desert; like those felt by the castaway lost on a lonely island.

Love one another!

69. And one day, when humanity least thinks about it, the peoples will wake up crying out for justice, light, truth and love, men tired of so much sin and so much falsehood, realizing that in their life there has been an immense void that they never managed to fill and a hunger that they could never calm down.

70. It is true that thousands and thousands of men and women profess a cult and try to feed their spirit through their various religions; but what they do is so little and it is so imperfect that it barely reaches the heart through the senses, because it does not reach the spirit, since the spirit can only eat spiritual bread and drink wine that is divine essence.

71. When men who seek the light through ceremonies and liturgical acts, dispense with all rite and all external worship, they will instantly see the light of truth arise before them, in fullness, like a basket full of loaves and fish, which overflows inexhaustibly before the greed of the crowds.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. The spirit of Elijah has gone before you, touching your spirit with light and love, preparing the moment and the way for you. It is Elijah in the passage of each of his sheep like a sword, like a shield that helps you overcome the multiple obstacles, the temptations that stand in your way, and the one who knows how to feel him, who invokes him and seeks him as the lost sheep seeks its shepherd, always finds him, is always heard and attended to in his lament, in his supplication.
2. Many times you ask yourselves: Why, if the longing to follow the Master lives deep in my heart, do so many obstacles stop me from reaching Him and from serving Him? Then your spirit rises in prayer, which is an invocation of divine help and at that moment Elijah, who has God's mandate to watch over the flock in the Third Time, comes in haste, presents himself on your way and helps you overcome the difficulty. Then you raise your brow in triumph and give thanks to the Father, and the little lamp of your faith is lit again and you continue walking on the path with peace and trust in Me.
3. Verily the Master says to you, I have prepared a Kingdom of peace and perfection for every spirit, but another kingdom is opposed to that Kingdom which I have prepared: the world. If my kingdom is conquered through humility, love and virtue, the other kingdom, in order to possess itself, requires pride, ambition, arrogance, greed, selfishness and evil. At all times the world has opposed my Kingdom. At all times those who follow me have been disturbed on their way, they have been tempted, both by visible influences and by invisible forces. This is not the only time in which you tread on thorns to reach Me; it is not the first time that your spirit stumbles to reach my presence; at all times you have led the struggle in the most intimate of your being; the inspiration of my Spirit, making light inside you, has engaged in battle with darkness, with false lights, with false virtues, with matter, with everything superfluous, with all the false greatness of this world.
4. Your spirit has written his story and his journey in the book of the Seven Seals, there are recorded by Me all your acts, each of your steps, thoughts and words. The great deeds of your spirit, the great vicissitudes and journeys, your great trials, your amrgura chalices; everything is written there in truth. Your spirit has lived a lot, but your flesh does not know it. If your matter has forgotten the first steps of your childhood, how can it know the evolution of your spirit through its long journey? How little the spirit has been able to reveal to its matter, I have not yet granted it to you because of your lack of evolution.

Love one another!

5. Times will come when the purified human mind and heart, grounded in spirituality, will know how to receive by intuition the voice of their own spirit; they will know how to receive with clarity and purity, every revelation that the spirit makes to their environment.

6. Today you still do not get to contemplate the past of your spirit through your human life, however, the Father comes to tell you: How long has been your journey! How much has your spirit struggled to sustain itself on the road! How much has been wounded in the thorns of life and how many stretches of your path have been marked with the blood print of our steps! But in spite of all trials and all vicissitudes, you follow after the Father, after your Teacher, whom you love; after God who is a source of light and consolation for your spirit. And even now in the Third Time, in order to follow me, you encounter difficulties, you stumble over vicissitudes and you call some of them trials and the others you call temptations. And if you love me so much, and if you so want to follow me on the way and reach Me, why does your Father allow you to be tried and tempted in this way? For verily I say to you, the way that leads to Me is narrow, and in that narrowness there are hardships. It is narrow as the street of bitterness, it has its falls, it has its thresholds, many misunderstandings and ingritudes and all the pains of life.

7. But in order to reach that Kingdom of Perfection, it is only by that way that one arrives. The broad way leads to the kingdom of the world and sin.

8. My Kingdom is strong and powerful and if I have allowed another power to rise up in front of my strength and my power, that of evil, it is to demonstrate mine, it is so that you may feel and contemplate before the imposture, before the darkness, the strength of my light and my truth; it is so that you may see that that kingdom of darkness, of disturbances and of trials, with its great power, is my instrument and I use it, in truth.

9. If I try you, it is not to stop you on the path of evolution, because I am waiting for your arrival in my Kingdom; but I want you to come to Me victorious after the combats, strong after the struggle, full of the light of spiritual experience after the long journey, full of merits in the spirit, so that you can humbly lift your face and contemplate the Father at the moment when He approaches to place his divine oscar (holy spear) in you, an oscar that contains all the happiness and all the perfections for your spirit.

10. In order to be able to overcome in all trials, do what the Master has taught you: Watch and pray, so that your eyes may always be alert and not be surprised by temptation. See that evil has great subtlety to test you, to make you fall, to overcome you and take advantage of your weakness. Be perspicacious, so that you will know how to discover it when it lies in wait for you, because if you have had great trials and temptations in which you have overcome in order to be able to follow me at this time, in this year, you will have very great trials and temptations. The struggle within you is great, the struggle within humanity is great; the spiritual struggle throughout the Universe is also very great. It is the decisive time for my reign, for my justice, for my power; and those who are with me now, those who have learned from my word, those who are strengthening themselves in Me, must know and understand everything in order to overcome, in order to be able to get ahead in the great trials that are approaching for men.

11. I teach you to watch and pray, not only for yourselves, but also for others, so that you may be like spiritual prophets who, with your prayer, transmit intuition to your brothers, that you may make them sense the dangers, the temptations; that with this you may be able to avoid the great and bad determinations of humanity. It is incomprehensible for some, impossible for others, but I tell you: It is what the Holy Spirit brought to his disciples in the Third Time: spirituality, the development of the spirit through the Spiritualist Doctrine; to rise up, to find his spiritual horizon, his favorable field to germinate, to find the scale: so that he, rising, always finds the presence of the Master, the scale on which he affirms himself and leads towards perfection.

12. At this time when I made the call to each one of you, how few felt the inner illumination at the first touch; how few were those who confessed that their spirit sensed the miracle, that their spirit felt that the fulfillment of the divine promise was going to be realized in him: the return of the Master; and how many of you fell into the nets of doubt and reluctance.

13. Others, already to rise up after my word and my presence, were called by the feasts, by the pleasures, by the loves and affections of the Earth, by your human interests and the Master was waiting for us. But at last, with my help, your spirit overcame and came before Me to convince himself of my presence, that the impossible was possible, that my promise was coming true.

14. If you were tested when you were weak, how much you will not be tested now that you are the strong!

15. Will the Father allow great troubles or temptations to approach His disciples? Verily I say to you, Yes, I will allow it, but not with the intention of seeing you overcome by temptation in these trials, no, but so that you may turn darkness into light and overcoming your enemies, turn them into friends and brothers; so that you too, rising up from the sins of men, leave traces of good and virtue, turn men into good ones; therefore I will allow trials to come to you. I have already shown you how you can get ahead: by watching, praying and putting my Doctrine into practice.

Love one another!

16. How will those trials that come to you and that you are about to receive be like? In multiple ways; some of them you have already passed them, others you are living them and others will come later. Let there be no sadness or cowardice in your spirit. Just as every day brings for you a satisfaction and a bread, every day also brings for you a sorrow. Take these trials as great lessons that life gives you, in which you must apply my teachings. From the youngest to the most advanced, you will all have tests on the way and from now on I warn you that I want you to be awake. I do not wish any of you to succumb to such trials. If anyone stumbles, there will always be a helping hand by his side, a sister hand that rises up on the path; if someone is sleeping and in his sleep is surprised, timely come to the one who is asleep and wake him up. If the dream is deep and does not wake up, the one who is awake, let him be the sentinel of the one who has become lethargic.

17. This is how I teach you, this is how I prepare you and I leave you ready for every reconciliation so that you may also know how to forgive.

18. Look, people, many trials that you have had for a long time and which you happily passed for the love of my cause, you do not know if, when they appear on your way again, they cause you despair. You do not know if illnesses or the shortage of what is necessary for your life, make you at times doubt my charity, doubt your preparation.

19. Of all this I speak to you, because temptation will use all her arts, all her strength, to touch my disciples. My disciples, who are not only within Spiritualism, because they are in the whole Universe, I contemplate them scattered although scarce, but they are everywhere, because I have sent them. They will be sought to test his spirit, in his virtue, in his love for Me, in his love for others, to bend him, to offer him the riches of this world, the earthly, temporal greatness, the brightness of glory and material delicacy. But just as I warn you by the understanding of man, I warn all those disciples, through revelations and by intuition.

20. Alert, the Master tells you! If you are going to be touched by trials in human life and overcome a lot in them, other trials will also come for the spirit. 1950 is approaching its end and all those who have not prepared within this my people will have my spokesmen to my Spiritual World, the guides and the farmers as well.

21. Many will rise up with the dissatisfaction of the departure of my palbra; all those who feel unable to live without this manifestation, will rise up to ask the Master to revoke his order, modify his decision and dictate new dispositions among his people; and in all this will be the temptation sowing its seed and touching the hearts of the spokespersons, of all without exception; and to those whom he finds watching and praying, enlightened by his conscience, he will not make a dent, but to those whom he finds already influenced by unpreparedness, by nonconformity, by confusion and fear of loneliness, he will inspire them, he will find a seat in them and those hearts will pretend to greatly adulterate my teaching.

22. Who is the one who can make the Father change his divine determinations? Verily I say to you, neither did Jesus obtain it from the Father. In the Second time, when the hour of the Master's sacrifice was approaching, Jesus sought the solitude of the garden and made himself accompanied by his disciples; sadness invaded the hearts of the apostles, the presentiment of serious trials seized them, but also the heart of Jesus was flooded with great sadness. Then the Master said to his disciples, "Watch and pray with me for a few moments!" And as he was watching and praying, the Master not only did it for those disciples, but for the entire Universe.

23. The heart of the Master, as a man, felt for a moment abandoned by everyone, misunderstood and lonely and blood sweat poured out of his body: it was when Jesus, raising his gaze and his voice, said to the Father: "My God, if it is possible, take away from Me this bitter cup, but not my will but Yours be done".

24. Faced with the son's request that the Father revoke his will if possible, did the Father heed those words? Verily I say unto you, no. It was written and commanded, and the Master of Masters had to make himself felt on that blessed body, so that the Spirit would overcome the matter. When he returned to the disciples who were sleeping, he said to them, The spirit is ready, but the flesh is fragile.

25. How sweet his reproach to that body!

26. The Third Teimpo is approaching its fullness and that is why the Master wants you to watch. Yes, my disciples of this time, because if those of the Second Age slept in that blessed and solemn hour and the Lord watched and prayed for everyone, now I want you to watch and pray so that you do not fall into temptation, so that you let the Father do his will among you. And if He has announced the hour of his departure, if he has indicated to you the instant when he will lift up his word, you must obey the high commandments of the Lord, even if it is a great trial for you; but you already know that my Spirit will be eternally present, that I will have to communicate from spirit to Spirit and My Spiritual World will watch over you and protect you.

27. You have become familiar, you have become greatly accustomed to this manifestation given for so long, therefore you are going to feel pain for the departure of these manifestations, but in the face of this pain be strong, my children, in the face of this test, give signs of your spiritual elevation. But in truth I tell you that all those spokespersons who, with great preparation, arrive until that day, will feel that death passes by themselves for a moment, but I will resound to them later and others will feel as if they had been orphaned, but the only thing that will be absent, the only thing they will lose will be the echo of the material voice, the sound of the human word, because the vibration of my light, of my Spirit and of my inspirations, will follow you everywhere, and the more your spirituality, the greater will also be what the Holy Spirit reveals to you.

28. Ah, if I could really deliver my lesson to all my disciples of this time gathered in one group; if all my people were listening to these warnings! But the final moment of this stage is approaching and I find you still disunited, I find you spiritually distant, without love for one another. Still spiritual respect and charity are not born from the purest of your hearts and there are the virtues that I have sown like a divine seed in the hearts of all my children, waiting for spiritual evolution to be reborn to the life of grace.

29. Only spirituality will give you unification. As long as you have not attained spirituality in my Work, there will be no charity, no understanding, no love, and without these virtues you cannot be united to Me. I want you to be united to each other so that you may bear witness to your Master and I also to you. If you are saying among men: This is my Teacher, I also want to say to the Universe: These are my disciples. But I still need to polish you and you still need to learn and practice.

30. Go ahead with me, Oh my children, I will help you to come out ahead in all trials, I will give you the light so that there is no darkness on your path, I will always be the loving voice that does not allow you to sleep, and when that hour approaches, very soon, when I tell you the last word through this communication, I want to find among you spiritual recollection, conformity, true understanding and the effort to move forward. But woe to those who oppose my will! Woe to those who tempt my spokesmen! Woe to those who lead them into the snares of temptation! Because no one will say that he was innocent, no one before the court of my justice will be able to say that he did not know what he was doing. Who is that Spiritualist, who does not know that at the end of 1950, this form of manifestation through man will end? Who does not know that in my high judgments only I? Who has not heard that I am the inexorable Judge?

31. So when I say my last word to you, which is to be: "MY Peace BE with you!" in the material there will be silence. Your Father will never again make His word resound through the human mind. I have not prepared any punishment, I have not prepared any scaffold for the children who disobey me or oppose my command, for those who come to tempt me at that supreme moment. They will be prisoners of themselves, prisoners before their conscience, they will be the ones who sign their own sentence and they will also be their executioners.

Love one another!

32. But what fruit will they be able to give, what essence will they be able to pour on the hearts of men? He who thus rises up in disobedience, by his own hand will strip himself of power, gifts and offices.

33. I can't fool you! I am never in an act of falsehood, I do not hide myself in darkness. My TRUTH is always naked, but if men have not been able to see the nakedness of my Spirit, it is because they have not wanted it. I do not hide my truth from you with any garment. My nakedness is divine and it is pure, my nakedness is holy and I will show it to all beings of the Universe; as an image of it, I came as a naked man into the world and naked I also left you.

34. I want there to always be truth among mine, because I am and will always be in your truth. I want there to be love between you and my love will always be in your love. There is only one truth, only one true love and that truth and that love are in you, your love and your truth will be mine and my truth and my love will be yours.

35. This is how I want them to be my disciples, because even after 1950, I will continue to converse with them in the moments of their meditation, in your meetings, when you walk alone. When you go accompanied by each other, you will always find the Traveler, the Wayfarer who crosses your path and asks you to invite him to walk with you and my inspirations will be very great. Then you will feel your spirit comforted and you will say: This, which the Father sends from beyond, He never said by the understanding of the mouthpiece, is that the Father continues his Work among us.

36. So I really want to contemplate you, with that humility, with that meekness, so that I can manifest to you, because I have great lessons prepared for tomorrow, everything that at this time I have not delivered to you. My Spiritual World will come to your spirit and that will be the powerful incentive that will conform and encourage you on the way: the closeness of the Father, the true presence of Him and His Spiritual World, the closeness of his Kingdom among you. And when you go among the multitudes, you will bear witness to them and tell them that you had Me and my Spiritual World communicating through human understanding; that you were the ones who conversed with the Father and those who entered into conversations with my blessed beings.

37. And if the world were to ask you: And have that communication and those spiritual conversations ceased between you? Then you will say: Communication with the Father is Eternal: He has sought the children from the beginning of their evolution and at all times he has communicated with his creatures, but with the passage of time he has sought a better, more perfect, higher and spiritual communication. Thus humanity will understand many divine revelations, speaking with that simplicity and you will make the blindfold of darkness fall that prevents the spirit from understanding my truth. In this way you will also make them see my greatness and make fanaticism and idolatry disappear from their hearts.

38. It is in this way that the proud buildings, the altars of gold and silver, the rites full of pomp will really fall; they will all fall by themselves defeated by time. But it is idolatry, the temple of fanaticism that lives in the hearts of men, that I want to collapse, to be destroyed. And from the men, those who have offended me the most, I will tear out everything that they keep in their hearts, so that no trace of these profanations will remain.

39. O blessed people of Israel! fill yourselves with my strength and my light, that if in my word I always come to announce serious trials and painful events to you, it is so that you can defend yourselves from them and come forward; but also in my word I always come to pour balm and joy, confidence and hope in your heart and spirit. To your heart I announce and prepare a better life on earth; to your human heart, whether as a child, as a young person, as a man or woman in his maturity, or as an old man, I come to comfort, to bless, to open a gap in the path of life, to pour out blessings in your step. I come to teach you the best way to find peace in the world, to know the fruits that give sweetness to the palate, I come to teach you what are those licit works that can make you happy and worthy of my peace in this world, which is the valley of tears; I come to strengthen your bonds of love with your children, parents, brothers, relatives or friends and peoples with peoples. I also come to teach your spirit once again the life of the Hereafter, which you can reach by the merits that you are doing, since inexorably you will all have to reach it, without any exception, because death does not come only to old age, it does not come only with the fatigue of life, it comes at any hour, on any day, at the least foreboding instant. Think that everyone, absolutely everyone, will pass into that life.

40. But if this human life that you live, savor and search, if this life that you enjoy and suffer, which you study so much and also serve, you have never come to know in fullness, how will it be that other one that is superior to this one? Your spirit knows something about her, but that something is not the whole. Some more and some less have passed through the valley of the spirit, through those high regions, through those worlds superior to it, but nevertheless, your spirit must always be prepared to penetrate into other worlds, not the one you left last time, but a different, superior one, on a higher step of the Scale of spiritual Perfection. And that is why I am coming to you, that is why I am not only talking to you about the earthly life, but about the life of the spirit, because it is the longest, it is the perfect life, because it is the dwelling place where you will have to remain eternally, and I do not want you to be confused when you arrive at it. I do not want your spirit to feel unworthy to knock on my door, I do not want the passage from this life to the next to disturb you, because that step is transcendental, it is of trial, of struggle in truth.

41. I am not here to take all your thoughts away from human life. I am the one who has given you the natural materials, who has made your spirit incarnate. It is my charity that has sent you to inhabit the Earth, that has adorned and blessed this planet with all kinds of gifts, of natural kingdoms, of elements, of creatures full of grace for your sustenance, conservation, recreation and evolution. It is I who gives you in marriage, I who gives you the command to grow and multiply.

42. I am the one who puts the tools of work in your hands and who blesses that work and your fruit. I am the one who blesses the sweat of your brow. So, I cannot be the one to separate you from your fulfillment, while you are really busy with it, but fulfill as it belongs to you, with humility, with respect and charity for yourselves and with charity also for others and then you will reap from the smallest earthly tasks, a fruit that gives peace and sweetness to your heart.

43. But apart from those duties, from those loves, from those affections and bonds that unite you to one another, I also ask you for dedication and time for your spirit, for that higher being that presides over all the acts of your heart, of your mind and of your whole being; for that being that governs your envelope, for that being that is my servant and of which your matter should be servant. May you also grant him his time for his meditation, for his work, for his development, for his worship, for his spiritual duties to his Father and to other spirits.

44. In my Doctrine and in my Law, at all times, I have united all the laws, all the duties, all the cults. So I come to you in this Third Time, teaching with that amplitude so that you do not fall into new fanaticisms, so that you do not fall into mysticism or temptation; to be simple in the fulfillment of all your duties; so that the spirit does not become fanaticized or prevent people from their duties; so that the spirit may not be an obstacle for the heart or for the mind, so that matter may also be docile and consciousness may make itself felt in matter so that it may not prevent the spirit from fulfilling it either.

45. These are my disciples. Blessed are those who truly take advantage of my lesson. Blessed are those who watch and pray in this year of trial, in this year in which temptations and disturbances will come in your path and so you can be strong, you can overcome everything with prayer, with vigil, with practice in my Doctrine and know how to unite and love one another and have charity. I do not want obstacles to be raised for the development of my manifestations, that no differences arise in you, that there is understanding and I will continue to manifest myself through my word in the bosom of this people and through all the spokespersons in all the precincts.

46. Watch over everyone, watch over yourselves, so that good and peace may finally overcome your differences, so that my Kingdom may overcome in you the kingdom of imposture, darkness and evil.

47. I want to rise up triumphant in you; I want you to contemplate the King of Armies as your Father, victorious over your wickedness and you as soldiers full of spiritual dignity, full of satisfaction and peace. Then the hymn of universal harmony will be heard in the greatest of victories, of that triumph that is to come, but of which neither your Father nor you will be angry to have conquered under your love. Our vanquished will not be the spirits, it will be evil, all darkness, sins and imperfections. The Father's triumph will be in the salvation of all retarded spirits, rooted in darkness and evil. You are in error if you believe that someone will be lost, he would cease to be God if one spirit did not find salvation. All those whom you call demons are also spirits who have sprung from God and if they are confused today, they will also find salvation. When will the true light be in them? When you, united with the spiritual legions of light, combat their ignorance and their sin with your prayer and your works of love and charity.

48. The perfect joy of the Father and of you will be the great day of the Lord. The universal feast will be when all of you are fed at His table with the bread of eternal life.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 328

1. Blessed are you in my presence in spirit and in matter! Because the one and the other are recreated, they are saturated with my divine essence and are strengthened in Me to continue on the journey.
2. Behold my Spirit and behold yours also!
3. The Father and the children are present, they contemplate each other face to face with love, they recognize each other, they love and bless each other. Verily I tell you, people, that before now, at no time had your spirit found the right way to reach Me. Today, for an instant of elevation, of detachment from earthly duties, for an instant of true repentance and knowing the path of spiritual prayer, you will find me.
4. It is no longer the time for penances, nor for ceremonies or rites to be able to communicate with me, to be able to believe that you are glorifying and pleasing me. You have left that time far behind, your spirit has been liberated and he recreates himself in the Third Time, spreads his spiritual wings and dominates the infinite, rises towards Me, transports himself and emancipates himself from earthly sufferings and miseries. When he returns to his matter after his elevation, he communicates to it his strength and his light, he lifts it up, comforts it and comforts it. Taking the spirit into his own matter, as an elder does with a weak child, he leads it along the paths of life and light, encouraging it with faith and hope.
5. As the times go by, your spirit is ceasing to feel weak, it is becoming strong on the way by my teachings and by the light acquired in its trials and its struggle. In this way I want to contemplate my little ones, converted into disciples, into apostles of this Work of light, of spirituality and love, so that I can leave you in my place to teach men, to show them the lessons not discovered by them and to point out to them insistently and firmly, the way of truth, the way that leads to the peace of this Earth and to the glory and eternal peace of the spirit.
6. From my high sun I send my Universal Kingdom, it extends and overflows in love in all existing creatures. But among you, chosen people, my Ray becomes a human word, a comprehensible word that becomes clear. My word descends upon all my people, and verily I tell you, even though many times my children have said, "On such a pedestal and in such an enclosure there is imposture," over every imposture and over every unpreparedness, my Spirit has been present. Do you not remember that I have often said to you: I do not come to contemplate the stain or the unpreparedness of my children?

Love one another!

7. It's my time. It is a time of fulfillment for the Father, imposed by Himself, out of love for his children. Why should I stop before your sin, if it is precisely with whom I come to fight and whom I come to overcome with my light and with my love?

8. Do not judge anyone as an impostor. Do not judge anyone as a liar or a defiler. Why don't you see that you are all my disciples, that you are all learning from Me? After 1950, when my Universal Ray no longer comes to become a human word among you, then yes, alas!, Alas! of him, no matter how great preparation he makes, if he tries to make my Universal Ray communicate as at this time. Because, despite his great spirituality and preparation, by his disobedience he will be an impostor; it will be the time when you will no longer have the presence of the Father in the way that you have had since this revelation until 1950, because my laws and my orders are immutable. I never change my Work, my justice is inescapable and my disciples must live in harmony with their Father, in obedience to Him and in complete conformity. That is why the Master assures you that now, within the time of my communication, despite the great unpreparedness and imperfection that I can discover in the channels through which I communicate, I forgive them and manifest myself and pour out my charity among the multitudes. If in the midst of my word, which is of purity and perfection, the imperfections of the flesh go, I have taught you to recognize the tree by its fruit, so that you may forgive human imperfections and know how to discover in the spiritual flavor of the fruit, the presence, potency and essence of your Lord.

9. I am forming a spiritual album in your consciousness and by my divine order a material book of my word is also being formed. It is the divine testament that I leave for posterity, for future generations, for the other generations that will come after you; but truly I tell you, they will not know the taste of your imperfections. My word, whether it is the one that your conscience has kept, or the one that is recorded in the papyri, will be perfect, it will be pure, free from every stain, from every impurity and from every imperfection, and it will be the crystalline water whose miracle calms the thirst of man, the thirst of the spirit; it will be the bread and wine around which the spirit of humanity feasts many times; it will be the luminous beacon and the path illuminated also by the light of the Holy Spirit, where pilgrims and the lost castaways can find the route to getting to a safe harbor.

10. Let it not seem difficult or even impossible for you to establish Spiritualism in the world, because I have fertilized the lands and the seed that I have entrusted to you is fruitful. The lands are waiting and although not all of them are prepared, some are waiting for the seed, others are in purification and this purification is an irrigation of justice, of trials, of wisdom and love on the part of your Father.

Love one another!

11. Now humanity, divided into peoples, races, languages and colors, receives from my divine Spirit its share of justice, the trials that correspond to each one, the struggle, the crucible and the restitution that I have destined for each man and each race. But you know that my justice has love as its principle, that the trials that the Father sends to men are tests of love; that everything leads to salvation, to good, even when apparently in those trials there are misfortunes, fatality or misery. Behind all this is life, the preservation of the spirit, the redemption of the same; the Father is always waiting for the prodigal son, to clasp him in his arms with the greatest love.

12. There are entire races that do not recognize me, there are peoples who persist in departing from my laws, in not knowing my Doctrine, in opposing it, judging it inappropriate for this time. They are the ones who have not understood me, they are the obstinate in earthly freedoms; they are the ones who often practice the good for their own convenience and not for the elevation of the spirit. But for each people and race, my justice and the trials are prepared, and they are arriving day after day to finally strengthen their heart and spirit, as if they were farmland, and once prepared to deposit in their bowels the seed, the eternal seed of my love, of my justice and of my light. And those peoples will speak with love of Me, those races will be born for hope in Me and there will be songs in the spirit of all the peoples of this humanity, choirs of praise and love to the one Lord of all men!

13. Now is the time for testing and struggle. Your God himself is fighting; he is the King of Armies and he has appointed you his soldiers. Today you are still weak and distrustful of yourselves; you measure the trials, you imagine the struggle and you let your spirit and heart be cowed. Your conscience creates a balance in itself and places the good on the right hand and the evil of this humanity on the left; while you see that good means like a grain, evil is like a hundred bushels and that's when you don't know what to do, that's when you look inside and see that you are neither righteous nor holy, nor virtuous and you think that only righteous, virtuous and holy beings will be able to carry out the redemption of this humanity calloused in evil, hardened in hatred, materialized in passions, in vices and in misery.

14. You judge your own sanctuary and in it you contemplate your small offering, your weak flame. You penetrate into the sanctuary of others and you see that he is no longer a brake to stop the dizzying career of men and you think that when you talk about God, you will not be heard, that when you talk about the faculties of the spirit you will be mocked.

15. Why is there so much distrust in the priceless treasure that I have entrusted to you in this Work that I have revealed to you? Verily I say to you, without becoming holy, or righteous, you will be able to do great works of redemption among men, great wonders among mankind, and you will also be able to be an example among men. If I were to send saints and perfect beings among mankind to set an example to men, it would seem impossible for them even to resemble them! I want to send among men, converted sinners who, without becoming righteous or saints, know how to leave an example of regeneration, repentance, strength, dedication to the Doctrine of the Father, longing, progress and spiritual evolution and those are you!

Love one another!

16. Your spirit will one day come to perfection, but you do not know when. The Father will not force you nor will you force your steps, but yes, never stop. Even if your step is slow, I want it to always be firm and ascending.

17. That you will have to fight among men? It's true. That the testimony that you bear among them, that I communicated by human understanding, to deliver this word that you are going to give, will have to be questioned? You have a point. But do not let this afflict you, because in all times humanity has doubted my presence and my coming into this world and it is because men have not recognized themselves; it is that humanity, claiming to be loved by the Father, has never understood the scope of that love; it is that even though he believes he knows his Lord, he does not know that one of his most beautiful attributes is humility. That is why I have always come to men in a humble way, I have never brought in my divine manifestations all my power, nor all my finery, nor all my greatness. Men could not look at me, they could not resist me either!

18. I have always limited myself, but I have limited myself in humility, in love and in tenderness, because with the same love that I love you today, I loved you in the Second Time, in the First and I will love you in all eternity. I can truly tell you that before you existed, the Father already loved you.

19. Among you there are the disciples who ask themselves: "Why, if our spirit sprung from a Father all love, all purity and perfection, has he not been able to maintain himself and persevere in goodness and virtue?" The Master answers you: I sent your spirit to Earth, endowed with all the attributes that are in the Father, and I formed him as a son similar to his Creator; a matter was entrusted to him for his transit on earth and that matter was the beginning of trials and of struggle for the spirit, because the flesh is weak and weak.; that's how it had to be, fragile, to test the strength of the spirit.

20. Virtue manifests itself only in proof. The light shines more in the darkness, the light does not shine in the light and thus, it was necessary that your spirit be tried and tested, because your spirit has a beginning and in his innocence he lacked merits, he lacked experience, development and perfection, and he was entrusted with a low scale to be able to ascend to a higher one and thus by the seven steps of the scale of perfection, until he arrived as a perfect and pure spirit in the presence of the Father, full of light, evolved through the development of all his gifts, perfected in all its powers, full of merits in the struggle, full of knowledge of himself, of his Father and of life, aware of where he had sprung from, what he had been created for and where he had returned.

21. If in the flesh the spirit found the beginning of his struggle on the earthly path, he also encountered an infinite number of trials and temptations; some palpable and others invisible, temptations and trials so powerful that they made him fall through the flesh, some visible and others only perceptible to the spirit, to the conscience, to the fibers of the heart and the mind.

22. Tested in all ways has been from the beginning the spirit. If he has been tried with evil, do you believe that a Father can possess evil in order to tempt his children? Verily I say unto you, no. But evil also exists from the beginning, it has been created by weakness, the weakness of the spirit and of the flesh. The spirits, for not knowing how to make use of their own strength and the flesh for giving in to temptations. What has the Father done about this? allow the elements of evil to test you; once and a thousand times I have allowed it, to test in you my own light that I have entrusted to you, to put to the test your own virtue, which is mine; to comfort you in pain, in difficult trances, in the chaos of life, so that through those trials and those difficult cases, your spirit may find reasons for perfection, fulfillment, occasions to show your brothers and your Father their strength and perseverance in my laws.

23. You have always recognized my Law by intuition, my Law that commands good and that abominates evil. Intuitively every human being from his first steps on Earth recognizes what the good is and discovers where the evil is. But you have not been able to maintain yourselves in the natural law, like the first men, as my people found themselves before the coming of Moses. Do you think that before the coming of Moses, my people Israel, who were in formation, did not recognize their Father? Truly I tell you, yes, from the beginning of this humanity, there have been those who recognize me and through him I have been recognized by others; but when evil has weighed more than good, among humanity, I had to come to remind man of the good, I had to materialize myself, to make myself visible and tangible to humans, as happened on Sinai when before Moses, being surrounded by his people, I promulgated my Law and gave it to him engraved in stone, and I sent him among his people to be the seed among all nations.

24. By that Law my people were saved, they were liberated and achieved pleasures and happiness on Earth and hope for the Hereafter. But the day of the adulteration of my Law came, the day of familiarization in it and again the evil spread until it came to weigh more than the good itself. When those precepts began to be twisted, when men began to create new paths within mine, then I had to come again, but already as Messiah, made man among men, to straighten the paths and communicate them with the way of truth and attract men to the truth and to the good, to invite them to the way of justice and love; to unmask the impostors, to destroy all falsehood, all superstition and to tell them: This is the Law, this was what I gave at that First Time!

Love one another!

25. By that my coming, new peoples of the Earth and new races also found the way, peace, spiritual bliss, sustenance and hope in the Hereafter.

26. For a long time, this humanity was fed with the rich food of the Kingdom of Heaven, but behold, that food was also to be contaminated and already in that form delivered to the hungry lips of men. My doctrine was adulterated, my teachings were also distorted and misinterpreted; the fulfillment of the children and their worship were not what the Father had commanded, and it was necessary to return among men fulfilling a promise, because I knew in advance that my presence was necessary among men, from time to time; therefore, behold, the appointed Age for the Lord to come among you again, to ask you for an account of the Law of times past, of the revelations, teachings and wonders poured out on you in the two eras that have passed before.

27. This is why I have come, because you have not known how to persevere or keep yourselves in the good, because you have yielded to the infirmities of the flesh, because you have fallen into temptations both visible and invisible, under that supernatural power of evil that exists over you!

28. Do you believe, then, that at that First Time all the witnesses of my coming were gullible before her? Not all of them, really.

29. Do you believe that when that revelation was taken to other countries, to other lands of Gentiles, of pagans, it was believed by all? No. Many did not conceive that this Law was a divine work. Rather, they believed that it was human work. But when that Law, by its justice, by its own deeds was imposed and manifested, then the great unbelievers penetrated into it.

30. Also in the Second Half, thousands and thousands of men and women listened to me. Many believed, indeed, but many more doubted and did not think that this Man was the Messiah, but that he was a being like everyone else. His word, through unbelief, became incomprehensible and confused and was transparent and clear only to those of good faith, and so it was fought, mocked and persecuted by unbelievers, and my passion, my deeds, my wonders, were not recognized by the unbeliever as divine works, but as works of man.

Love one another!

31. When my Doctrine, by its own manifestations, imposed itself on humanity; when my witnesses also gave proofs of being my true disciples, my true witnesses, then unbelieving humanity converted to my Doctrine, wept their repentance and was also my disciple.

32. Why should you be surprised that this happened at this time?

33. There will be those who doubt your testimony and that I have communicated by understanding with man. There will be those who, when they lay their eyes on these material books that contain my word, doubt that it is a divine work, that it was received by inspiration; and then, they will attribute everything to you, to men, to human vanity, because there is distrust among this humanity; but you will pass over distrust and unbelief, without judging your brothers, without being violent about it, knowing that after distrust and unbelief, faith will come by your own deeds. Let them see your works, let your testimonies be truly full of light, that it will not be books or your words that convert the world, but your good works with which you seal the testimony that I was among you, that I came on the cloud to communicate through my ray through a spokesman, a man named so by the Divine spirit.

34. I will let you go through all the ways of the World, as well as your children, disciples also of the Holy Spirit and their children will carry my seed; and in truth I tell you that three generations will not pass after yours, in which this humanity has not been moved to its deepest fibers, before Spiritualism, before the coming of the Holy Spirit, before extraordinary events, some that I have verified among you and others that I have reserved for tomorrow. So you will abolish the reign of evil. That power will be broken by your works of love and justice.

35. Every man who is converted to Spiritualism will be one less who belongs to that reign; but if you believe that I give you the task or the charge of overcoming with your works of love and light the evil environment, truly I tell you that it is not the time yet when you can overcome it completely, it is still stronger than you; but not for these words that I tell you, go hide your weapons and stop wielding them, not my children, look that if your sword is not almighty, I am Almighty and I am in your sword.

36. Fight against temptations, discover the crossroads, break the tempting networks and ties, discover them with your intuition when they are hidden behind the veil of the hereafter, discover them when they are hidden among men or in the struggles of the Earth; always fight. I tell you, you will be with me in this contest. I am in it as a Great Warrior against darkness and all existing evil and in the end, I will be the one who gives the last blow and the one who overcomes, the one who helps you, and you are the ones who help me to overcome. The absolute triumph of temptation and evil will not be yours at this time, my people. I will have to bind that power for a while, but your merits will be taken into account for this and that time when that power is tied, it will serve so that the good in all its forms takes strength and when man is strong in the good, when in the balance of my justice, the good weighs more than the evil, then yes, temptation in all its forms will be unleashed for a while longer and already at that time it will not be my sword that overcomes it, but your own weapons.

37. I will only watch from infinity, because you will have the necessary strength to overcome the adversary. Virtue in all its forms will have ruled over this world and temptation will find no corner, no open door, no place, and its greatest jealousies, its greatest bonds, will be stretched to the last element of that power of temptation and when its reign is broken and divided, then the beginning of your triumph will come and darkness will become light, evil will become good and the lost will be found.

38. Behold, this will be the triumph in your spirit and when you lift up your song, it will be the triumph of the light of justice and love; because you will not leave this world failed, you will not be defeated by temptation. No, my children. If for a long time you have fallen and will continue to fall before those snares, the day of your triumph will come, when you will raise your forehead and look at your Lord, as a soldier knows how to stand before his ruler.

39. I am preparing you, people, for future struggles. I want to see you always triumphant in all struggles; but I do not want those triumphs to flatter your pride: they will not be triumphs for your vanity, they will be for my reign; they will be for your spiritual humility deep, intimate satisfactions, that do not even come out on your own face.

40. Your works of love and charity will not be published, there will be no Pharisees among you who feast on the charity done among their brothers. You will be those who in silence do good. You are already living in the time of the Holy Spirit and your spirit is developing in all its powers, to do good through them. You will be able to give, not only the goods that you possess on Earth, but those that your mind, heart and spirit possess. What you cannot do with your word, with your material person, do with prayer. Converse with me, elevating yourselves to Me and from there you will be able to execute great works of charity and love. But when your conscience tells you that you have to divest yourself of something material in order to give it to the needy, do not want to replace that charity with a prayer. Do not want to hide or disguise your egoism with spiritual prayers, do not want that what you can do, the Father does.

Love one another!

41. Let your conscience always command you and dictate to you in what form you have to give charity and if in that charity there is the need to divest yourself of something of yours, do not hurt your heart! Reach out your hand and you will look at the joy in your spirit, then your heart will sense the joy in your Father.

42. I prepare you for the great struggles among humanity and I tell you: the men of today are interested in the Hereafter, not all of them in truth, but in all points of the Earth the spiritual is probed, the arcanum of the lord is sought to be searched, books are judged and studied, men of philosophy and sciences are interpenetrated. It is that I am wanted, it is that my presence is felt by everyone, and they try to find me; the spirits know that I am a source of love and forgiveness and despite their faults, they dare to look for me because they expect forgiveness and redemption; they know that I am an inexhaustible source of mercy and that I am also a table full of delicacies to satisfy their hunger and thirst.

43. Do you think that in this search men are not strengthened and prepared? Do you think that they do not achieve evolution and development in their studies? Yes, people. When you wake up you will be surprised; when you converse with your brothers who feed under the shade of other trees, who eat fruits different from those that I have offered you, you will see how they have also sustained themselves, how they are also strong and the moment of struggle has come, when you have to make use of the sword of your reason, knowledge and spiritual elevation, you will see that the sword of your brothers also has light strength.

44. Do not sleep, so that you can contend, but learn to know the triumph, because many times in your defeat there will be the triumph, the defeat will be apparent before the adversary; the triumph will be in yourself and then it will spring from the face of the one who apparently defeated you.

45. Understand me, people, because the time will come when you will have to be silent, to humbly bend your neck with true humility and then the adversary will rise up over you and strike his blow; but you will have been silent, you will have bowed with knowledge of the cause and later you will contemplate how in the spirit of that one the seed that you left is shaken and how the blow of your sword of light and love, left a deep wound in the heart of your brother, not of your enemy, and from that wound the pride of that one will come out the heart and the seed of the Master will penetrate.

46. You have already had experience, because many times you have come before my sanctuary to tell me: "Master, I sowed in a heart with great love, but his ears did not hear me, he remained cold and hard and his lips mocked me". And the Master smiled sweetly, filled you with peace and hope and told you: Wait, your seed has not been lost, it has reached the depths of that heart. Let her go! I will give him the irrigation and I will fertilize it, I will remove the weeds and the stones that for now your hand could not remove, but watch over him, do not forget him, watch spiritually and wait, that the moment of your satisfaction and your happiness will come. And that moment, when it has delayed, has put doubt in you but so that the doubt is not eternal, I have come to tell you: Look at the seed that you sowed, apparently disappeared, but has given rise to a bush. Now cultivate it so that it bears fruit; then your joy and theirs has been great.

47. I prepare you, people, so that you are not impatient, so that spiritual patience presides over the fulfillment, because the seed that I entrust to you once again, has no time limit to germinate like the seed of the earth; it develops within eternity and time can be short as well as long; you do not know this, it is up to you only to cultivate it, to take care of it with your prayer and love.

48. This is how the Master prepares you for after his departure. If today you enjoy listening to my word through the human understanding, I want that joy to be prolonged after my departure, I want, people, that when my Spirit in that Beyond awaits the approach of yours through prayer, whether individual or unified of you, I can contemplate in the hearts of my children the happiness and joy that today I contemplate in the; that full of knowledge of everything that happened in this time, of everything that the Father gave you and of the term that he put to its manifestation through the understanding, you may come to Him with a hymn silent on your lips, but ardent in your spirit, to say to Him: "Father, how much you have poured out among yourselves! How much joy in our spirit during those times! How full of light you left the spirits and how precious an inheritance you bequeathed to humanity!"

49. Thus I want to contemplate you, full of joy, O people. May he not contemplate among you the spirit who has been delayed, may he not contemplate the one who continues to sail in unbelief, the one who cuts his hair in the midst of his sins and his lack of use of my grace. I want to contemplate harmony among the people, that I may feel in my own Spirit their outpouring and their prayers, that they may say: "PEACE AND GOODWILL; FAITH, HOPE AND CHARITY.

50. In this way I want to contemplate those virtues, cultivated by your spirit and waving like a banner to the wind, to infinity, so that I can give you the order to go after all the peoples, the multitudes who are really waiting for me and ardently desire the new arrival of the Messiah, of the Redeemer among men. Some say: The Master is already among us, but he is invisibly, but I tell you, blessed be the intuition and foreboding of these spirits. Others say: "No, He has not arrived, He has to arrive visible and tangible as in the Second

Love one another!

Half"; and they have forgotten the cloud, that spiritual cloud in which I have come in this third Time.

51. There are others who have totally forgotten that promise and do not watch or pray, but you are prepared, the revelation of the Third Time has been given to you with a loud voice so that you may go without hesitation, with full certainty among your brothers and sisters and do not be afraid before the great crowds; because when the moment comes, you will have to be questioned and you will satisfy hearts with your testimony. The believers will form legions, the unbelievers will also form them and fight; but the legions of unbelievers will soon be decimated, because it is the time that the Holy Spirit will prevail; because he will infiltrate all hearts.

52. Strengthen yourselves, disciples, feed yourselves, be healed in Me, resolve material trials, be calm before life. The pain that still surrounds you, do not contemplate it with indifference, because that crucible will perfect you. Do not curse pain, nor abhor it, but rather bless it. The cup of bitterness, when it has to be drunk by you, drink it; if the feces cannot be drunk by you, I will drink them, but have conformity and patience. Contemplate pain more with the spirit than with the flesh, or feel it more with the spirit than with matter, and then you will see how much strength you will find in the meditations of your spirit; you will see how much light consciousness imparts to the spirit and this to its envelope. In your spirit you will find the divine balm, the true balm that soothes and heals all ills and with it you will truly heal.

53. Be the true spiritualist, be my true disciple, O people! Then everything that is a thorn, that is a stumbling block and a stumbling block on the way, will be bearable and light. That burden that at times weighs on your shoulders, inexplicably will be light if you meditate and pray; the explanation for it you will have in yourself. Is that the spirit will rise and high is strong and makes his flesh strong; therefore, I want you to live a high life, so that from there you may dominate this life, and your spirit may fight and overcome in all trials, so that from there the flesh may prevail, over its passions, its weaknesses and its miseries.

54. Rise up, people, more and more and the peace and the Kingdom of the Father will be within your reach and while still inhabiting this Earth your spirit will be a dweller of the Kingdom of peace of the Father!

55. This is my chair that in this dawn, as a lesson, I give you, carry it in your spirit, in it is all the love of the Teacher, in it is a weapon with the strength to rise and fight in the future.

Love one another!

56. Watch this moment for all humanity and truly watch, the Master tells you, for all your spiritual brothers and sisters! It is the moment of prayer. My spirit of love and peace will spread his mantle throughout the Universe, to envelop all my children in this caress, in that balm and in that paternal blessing, O blessed people of my Divinity!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 329

1. Blessed are you who would like to expand your knowledge to discover the highest.
2. Happy and blessed are those who want to see clearly, but truly I tell you, you must study and analyze my word so that the blindfold covering your eyes falls.
3. Man has made himself doubly guilty, not only because he makes no effort to make that bandage that prevents him from knowing my teachings fall, but because he exhausts himself in the bonds of the flesh that lead him to material pleasures to the detriment of spiritual pleasures, and it is thus that he has become a slave to his passions and has destroyed his willpower to regenerate.
4. The blind want to guide the blind and those who have not practiced my Doctrine, want to give guidance to sinners. Man is weak because he has not wanted to make an impulse to regenerate and purify himself with my word; he has not wanted to make use of that power with which he has been endowed, which is the will, to fight against his vices and overcome himself. When your spirit wins that battle, then you will be able to say that you are liberated. And as your spirit has dominion over the flesh, you will behold that even the wild beasts meekly bow down to your call of love.
5. When man becomes spiritualized, he will understand with the light of my Holy Spirit everything that he has seen in God and in Nature as a mystery.
6. Do not say that you believe in Me, if your deeds or your thoughts say the opposite. The day will come when by your spirituality you will feel that I am in you and you in Me. If you want to be my true disciples, seek that spirituality.
7. My table is prepared, come and feed yourselves with the bread of eternal life, prepare yourselves with my lessons of love, put away your ignorance with my light, free yourselves from passions, be the children of light.
8. Then your works and your spirituality will be like a song that your spirit sings to glorify your Father.
9. Prepare yourselves, disciples, because the day is approaching when I will speak to you by this means for the last time and you must be strong to wait for the new day, the new time, in which I will no longer look for the brains of your spokespersons as devices that transmit my word, but I will be present in Spirit, ready to pour out my inspiration on the spirit of each one of you.

Love one another!

10. There are only a few months left for you to finally recreate yourselves with these manifestations, but I say that it is enough time to meditate on my message and my revelations, so that you prepare yourselves with study, with prayer and with practice and thus you will accumulate strength, help your brothers, lift up those who have fallen, give comfort to those who cry in the midst of their trials and leave in each of your steps a true imprint of spirituality.

11. Whoever is at his post at the supreme hour of giving you my last word, that one will remain firm in the struggle, that one will remain standing; but everyone who was treading falsely will fall, because only the well-founded will withstand the passage of the whirlwinds that will then reach this people, so I tell you that every work that had not been built on foundations of truth, zeal, charity and spirituality, will be collapsed.

12. Learn to know the essence of my word so that you can feed your spirit only from it, because I have seen that by not worrying about finding my essence, you have assimilated rather the phraseology of the spokespersons and the faculties, and do not forget that the flavor that you are going to give to the world, will not be human flavor, but divine.

13. Truly I tell you, if the corps of spokesmen had been prepared and had devoted itself to the performance of its very high and delicate mission, its lips, in transmitting my message, would not have needed to speak so much to express my inspiration, nor would my manifestations have lasted for hours.

14. If they had understood and obeyed the dictates of their conscience and had been inspired by love for the people and charity for those in need of spiritual light, my word would have been concretized to a few sentences, but so full of perfection even in form, that they would have shocked the wisest who believed themselves on Earth, and the duration of my messages would have been minutes only, but in them so much essence would have been poured out, that the spirits of the listeners would have felt transported to the eternal, where time is neither long nor short. And you would have felt my presence in all its intensity because it would not have been marred by the imperfections, impurities and materiality of your spokespersons.

15. Ah, my children, whom I see crying at this moment, but already belatedly, because in the remaining fulfillment of the office you have, it is no longer enough to achieve a fruit of perfection, that fruit that you should have matured through a continuous struggle to achieve spirituality! However, you will be able to do something in these last days.

16. Now I am going to tell you how you will be able to correct your mistakes so as not to take them further, much less transmit them to your brothers as if they were part of the truth.

Love one another!

17. Take the word as you heard it from the lips of the spokesman and then, calmly and judiciously, raising your mind through prayer, meditate on those lessons, until you find their meaning, their background, their content, and that will be the divine essence that you will leave stored in your heart and that you will then carry as a message of light to humanity.

18. When you dispense with vain words, forms, symbolic practices and ceremonies, you will have torn the veil that prevents you from contemplating the truth. When you renounce the external and the superfluous, it will be a sign that spirituality begins to be felt and lived by you; then your spirit, your heart and understanding and even your senses, will cease to be easily impressed by superficial manifestations or of little meaning. The spirit will seek in everything the essence, the truth, the life, the principle.

19. Could one of these disciples bring to his brothers a message in which the pure were mixed with the impure, the divine with the carnal and the elevated with the vulgar? No, people, it is natural and just that you think that these good disciples will only go to spread a heavenly message, which both in its essence and in its form is a living testimony of light and truth.

20. To whom will I entrust the work of turning my word into writings, that it may be one more means of extending your testimony? Only I know, but in truth I tell you that I will prove a lot to them and that they will be chosen among those who feel the most love for the spirituality of my Doctrine to spread among their brothers.

21. Strengthen yourselves in these teachings so that you can find yourselves firm in the last hour of my manifestation and then become part of the number of soldiers who fight for the essence, spirituality and simplicity of this Work.

22. When this seed has germinated in the hearts of the peoples that make up humanity, there will be an absolute change in the lives of men. How great will be the difference that they demonstrate both in their human life and in their spiritual worship, when the comparison is established between the way of living, believing, worshiping, fighting and thinking, of the men of the past times and of those who practice spirituality.

23. From that time of fanaticism, idolatry, materiality and absurd beliefs, not a stone will remain on stone; all the mistakes that your ancestors and yourselves bequeathed to those coming generations, will be destroyed; everything that has no essence of good and truth will not endure, but everything good that you have inherited, that will have to preserve it.

24. This Doctrine, exposed in a more spiritual way than in the past, will have to fight among men, peoples, religions and sects, to break through and become established, but after the moment of confusion, peace will come to men and they will recreate extracting from my word the content that has always kept in itself.

Love one another!

25. The concept about my divinity, about the spiritual life and about the purpose of your existence will take the true course, because every man will be a good interpreter of what was told to you in parable and figuratively by your Master, by his messengers and prophets.

26. That language was only partially understood by men; it was the lesson assigned to them according to their spiritual and mental capacity, but they, wanting to know everything, became confused and confused, giving material interpretations to what could only be analyzed spiritually.

27. The light is already shining again in each spirit and you will be able, therefore, to penetrate into the depths of those and these revelations, but do not forget that if you really aspire to know the meaning or essence of my word, you will have to penetrate into the study of these revelations; analyzing them spiritually and then it will be simplified; its meaning will appear diaphanous, clear, simple; the mysteries will be destroyed and with it ignorance, and then the Earth will begin to return to the spiritual valley luminous beings and not dark beings wrapped in the veil of ignorance.

28. Since this communication began to manifest, your spirit was enlightened by my teaching, although unbelievers also arose the same among those who have cultivated the mind, as among the rude and ignorant.

29. How many arguments to deny this revelation! How many attempts to destroy this word! But nothing has stopped the course of my message, on the contrary, the more this Work has been combated, the more the faith of the multitudes has been ignited and the more time has passed, the greater the number of those through whom I transmit my word.

30. What does this mean? That human power will never succeed in preventing the divine power from carrying out its designs.

31. If today's man with all his science is not capable of subjecting the elements of Nature to his will, how can he impose his power against the spiritual forces?

32. In the same way that the stars in the Cosmos follow their unalterable order, without the will of man being able to make them change their course or their destiny, so the order that exists in the spiritual cannot be varied by anyone either.

33. I made the day and the night, that is, I am the light and no one but Me can hold it. In the same way it happens in the spiritual.

Love one another!

34. I am the light of your spirit and only I know when I should send you the flow of divine clarity.

35. The course of the river of life no one will be able to modify. The passage of light no one will be able to prevent. That is why you see that after some years of manifesting to you in this form, my communication has come to an end, without any of the many opponents of this Doctrine having managed even one day to prevent the act of my manifestation.

36. The speaker, at the contact of my light, has felt strong, invincible, invulnerable, and indeed it has been so.

37. The People, by congregating inside these enclosures, have always done so without fear of the world, always full of confidence in my presence and in my protection, and I have proved to them that their faith has been encrypted in the truth.

38. In the face of the proofs that I have given to this people about the truth of my presence, the multitudes have been increasing and the number of places in which I manifest my word has multiplied.

39. I must also tell you that the number of unbelievers, skeptics and deniers has increased, because as long as humanity does not have the concept of Me that adheres to the truth, there will always be those who deny Me; due to their confusion they cannot understand me, nor can they listen to me, nor feel, and then they will have to deny and fight what for them cannot be true, since it does not enter into the domain of their understanding.

40. I forgive them, because their intention is not to harm me, nor could they cause me any harm. They in good faith believe that these crowds are victims of a hallucination or a deception and would like to be able to avoid it.

41. But other deniers will already come, those who, hearing the meaning of this Doctrine, tremble before its truth and its justice and looking at their power and name in danger, make war and fight with ignoble weapons my Work. In those hearts it will not be ignorance or good faith that impels them to fight this people, it will be envy, hatred and fear that the light will be made in humanity. But no one will be able to prevent the light from being made when the hour of dawn for the spirit arrives.

42. Do you know, what is the origin of that light that is in the word poured out by the lips of the spokesmen? Its origin is in the good, in divine love, in the universal light that emanates from God. It is a ray or a flash of that luminous Whole that gives you life, it is part of the infinite force that moves everything and under which everything vibrates, pulsates and rotates without ceasing. That is what you call divine irradiation. it is the light of the Divine Spirit that illuminates and quickens the spirits.

Love one another!

43. This radiation manifests itself on the spirit as well as on matter, the same on the worlds as on men, plants and all beings of Creation. It is spiritual over spirit, it is material over matter, it is intelligence over understanding, it is love in hearts. It is science, it is talent and it is reflection, it is instinct, it is intuition and it is on the senses of all beings, according to their order, their condition, their species and their degree of advancement. But the principle is only one: God, and its essence is only one: love. How impossible then can it be that I enlighten the minds of these creatures in order to send you a message of spiritual light?

44. The plants receive the radiation of life that my Spirit sends them to bear fruit; the stars receive the force that my Spirit radiates on them to be able to rotate within their orbits; the earth, which is the present, living testimony, within the reach of all your senses, receives without ceasing the radiation of life that makes so many wonders spring from its bosom. Why is it impossible that man, in whose being the presence of a spirit shines like a jewel, which is where his likeness to me lies, does not receive directly from my Spirit upon his spirit the divine irradiation, which is the spiritual seed that will have to bear fruit in him?

45. Know me all so that no one denies me, know me so that your concept of God is based on the truth and you know that wherever the good manifests itself, there I am.

46. Good is not confused with anything. Good is truth, it is love, it is charity, it is understanding.

47. The good is precise, exact, determined. Know him so that you will not be mistaken. Each of the men may go on different paths, but if they all agree on one point, which is the good, they will come to identify and unite. Not so when they insist on deceiving themselves, giving the appearance of evil to the good and disguising the bad as good, as happens among men of this time.

48. Meditate on this teaching, unbelievers of my manifestation and of my word and then judge, but first remember that when I was among men, I told you that "my Kingdom was not of this world", giving them to understand that my abode is spiritual; when I spoke to them about the spiritual life I did it through parables, since they would not have been able to understand if I had described to them in all its greatness and truth the Kingdom of Heaven.

Love one another!

49. Mistakenly humanity has taken my parables and teachings literally in a figurative sense, because in their imagination they have given material or human forms to everything divine.

50. Because of the material interpretation that human minds have given to my revelations, many beliefs about the spiritual life are so far from the truth.

51. How can men thus give a just interpretation to what I have called the "Kingdom of Heaven"? How will you be able to know my justice, as long as you believe that there is a hell like the one your imagination has forged and when will you be able to accept and understand that the law of reincarnation is not a simple theory, nor a false belief of a few men, but a law of eternal justice and loving compensation, through which the spirit is purified, perfected, modeled and elevated?

52. Listen to me again, humanity: This is the Third Time in which I have presented myself to tell you that I have not come to erase a single one of my words revealed by Me when I was on Earth, but to erase from your heart all the erroneous interpretations that you have given to my teachings.

53. When you renounce your fanaticism, which is what blinds you and prevents you from looking at the truth, you will begin to understand this Doctrine and before you you will see, full of light, the content of my revelations, both of this time and of past times. Then you will call perfect justice what you called mystery today and you will know how to give its eternal value to the immutable and its just importance to the human, which is transient.

54. Thus you will know that a single existence on Earth, because it is so brief compared to the spiritual life, cannot be decisive about the eternity of a spirit, that is, it will not be enough for one of you to achieve perfection within it, which leads you directly to the Kingdom of the highest spirituality that is what you call Heaven, nor, the mistakes of a life on Earth can determine that a spirit is lost in darkness or in pain for an eternity.

55. Certainly, a human life, granted to a spirit, has such a great value, and represents an opportunity so conducive to the progress of a spirit, that the fact of wasting it or of misusing it, implies that my justice, always inexorable, manifests itself in the path of those who profane gifts as sacred as those that I entrust to each spirit by sending him to Earth; but that from such a brief existence as that of man in the world, all eternity depends on his spirit, is an error, all the more so if you reflect that human errors are typical of beings who lack development, light and elevation.

Love one another!

56. My Doctrine, full of light and love, comes to strengthen the spirit, in order that he may come to impose his power on the flesh and sensitize it in such a way that the inspirations of conscience become more and more perceptible to him.

57. Spirituality is the goal that humanity must pursue, since through it it will come to identify fully with consciousness and finally come to distinguish good from evil, because because of the lack of spiritual elevation of men, that inner voice, deep and wise, upright and just, has not been able to be properly heard and interpreted, and therefore, man has not come to have an absolute knowledge that allows him to truly distinguish good from evil and not only that, but may he also find in himself the strength necessary to follow every good impulse and obey every luminous inspiration, rejecting at the same time any temptation, impure or bad thought or feeling.

58. The best weapons for man to overcome all his enemies, he will find in his own spirit and it will be conscience that reveals to him the way to fight and defend himself in that battle that he will have to sustain irremissibly against evil, that force to which man feels so inclined, personifying it in a spirit, to which he has given so many names and attributed form.

59. I tell you that you will have to fight evil, temptation and darkness, but not in that being that you have forged in your imagination, but inwardly, with yourselves, which is where weaknesses, evil inclinations and darkness dwell, because men have loved darkness more than light.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 330

1. Beloved Disciples: See Me again become a Teacher looking for your spirit to give him a new lesson.
2. My word becomes a balm among you and after that balm you come. Your whole being is comforted and your spirit is comforted by my presence, because you live in times of bitterness and struggles; because wherever you plant your plant you feel the pain that hurts, but when the pain penetrates into your being, you raise your thoughts in search of the Master to show him conformity and resignation in the face of trials.
3. From the Second Half I promised you a great comfort that you did not know when I would come. That great consolation was to come at the time when peace fled from this world; when love and charity did not exist in the hearts of men and behold the consolation promised among you! Here is the warmth of my Divine Spirit how it envelops you, not only those who are listening to me through the understanding of man, but my creatures throughout the Universe! I make you feel at this time my warmth, my consolation and my strength to you who form my apostolate and who in the Third Time had and listened to me through these manifestations.
4. Blessed are you for your strength, for your conformity and spiritual elevation in the face of the trials that I have sent you, because pain has purified you. But it is not only pain that must bring you to my right hand, it is not only sufferings that must give perfection to your spirit; pain washes away spiritual and physical stains, the obstacle on some occasions, it is a brake, it is a reason for meditation, for repentance, for understanding the sufferings of others; for spiritual elevation, the perfecting of the spirit is achieved in the practice of love and charity. Then let the pain wash over you when he arrives, never call him, let him arrive when he must approach you; do not seek pain, seek peace, seek well-being and joy, seek it for yourself and for others, desire it for everyone; because I am the God of peace, joy and light.
5. I am the God of hope and the realizer of all the legitimate hopes of my children. When the pain penetrates into you, let it fulfill its mission, but think that in order to ascend the ladder of perfection, of spiritual evolution, you should not be satisfied with being strong and resigned in trials, in pain, you must also think about the sorrows of your fellow men, you must have charity for others and love your brothers and sisters.; then your spirit will have made merits, it will have overcome human egoism, it will have overcome the self-love of the envelope and it will have risen as the good disciple of the Divine Master.

Love one another!

6. Who among you does not desire true peace on this world? Who among you does not long for the reign of love, of virtue, of joy in the hearts of all men? But I contemplate that your heart has penetrated into a true resignation in the face of pain, into a great conformity in the midst of trials and for this I bless you; but, in addition, I encourage in you the hope of a change in your life; do not despair, do not think that you are not going to contemplate in your heart or in that of yours, the peace that in past times illuminated the heart and the paths of all humanity. For this I am teaching and preparing you, to cleanse and prepare the lands and the roads with your virtuous steps, with your prayers, with your wisdom counsels learned from Me, with your spiritual works, works of love; in this way you are preparing this world and you are making it worthy for the kingdom of the Father to penetrate again into the hearts of my children.

7. Do not resign yourselves to the fact that this world will always be a valley of tears. I want that through your fulfillment and regeneration, nations, races and peoples will be regenerated and through this regeneration the valley of tears will become a valley of love and peace. Have I not come from ancient times to propose to men the Kingdom of Heaven? Have I not brought it in my word and in my manifestations?

8. Prepare then, O disciples, so that the strength of your spirit may open a breach, open a path, prepare the roads and you may be as precursors of my arrival on the path of men. I will make all your works new! I have granted free will to man and I have entrusted the planet Earth to him, I have given him power and dominion over all elements, substances and beings, so that he would form his dwelling, from the beginning of man, from the beginning of the spirit, I have shown myself as a Law of love and justice; I have multiplied myself in precepts, in maxims, in examples. I have made of life, of Nature a true and perfect book so that the spirit of man will not get lost in the tortuous paths, so that man will always find the way, and learn from the great Book of Life, written and created by God. But the time has come when I must draw the attention of all men and I have begun with you, the least, the poor and humble, to make you apostles of this truth, prophets of the events that are to be, witnesses of my third coming.

9. My teaching is for everyone and in that wake-up call to humanity, I will do justice and remind all my children of his mission; through him I will renew everything destroyed, I will dignify everything profane and I will lay the foundations for a new life in this world. I will destroy everything useless and superfluous; I will destroy from the life of men everything harmful, I will combat all adultery and all vice: pride, selfishness, hypocrisy, and I will once again show humanity the immutable Law, the Law of all times, the eternal One, which I am reminding you once again and then you will truly feel the closeness of my Kingdom, the presence of the Universal Father.

Love one another!

10. Inside and outside of you my presence will be felt and looked upon with deep respect; with spiritual elevation, with true love and worship. The happy days of the patriarchs will return, the days when families for long years lived united by love and only death separated them, will return; the times when magnanimous and righteous rulers ruled the peoples of the earth, will also return. I have everything prepared and those times will be of light and of great progress for man, experience, light, elevation and everything that humanity in its great struggles, in its falls, in its mistakes and in its successes, has collected on the path of life, I will leave it as a foundation, as experience, as true knowledge of what is good and evil, of what is light and darkness. And when the prepared lands are already found, the great sowers, the great guides, the great patriarchs, the good rulers and the righteous judges will come to this world.

11. When these spirits of great light have arisen among men, humanity, surprised at the strength of their goodness and energy, will ask itself: And these, who are they? Is it David who is returning to earth? Is it Solomon? Will it be Elias? Have the prophets of the first times returned? Will they be the apostles of the Master of the Second Time? Thus men will wonder; but I will keep this a mystery until you all return to the Afterlife and then you will know for sure who were the ones who came in the Third Time among you.

12. Those of you who are present at this moment listening to my word, say in the depths of your heart: "We will not reach those times, we will not be able to live through those fortunate times". But the Master explains to you: I am going to allow that although those events that I predict to you are distant, beyond the scope of your present existence, I will allow luck, peace and well-being to penetrate into your heart, into your present existence and this will be as a foretaste of the happiness that this humanity is going to enjoy in the times of the fullness of Spiritualism in humanity. And who or who of you can know if I am going to send you to inhabit this world at that time to reap the fruit of your patience, of your strength and of your conformity in pain? And it will be when you learn to practice love and charity in the midst of your well-being; you will learn to glorify the Father in the supreme moment of your joys and when you are wrapped in that atmosphere of bliss and tranquility, you will go in search of the needy; it will be then that you will remember the one who suffers the most and in this way I will show you that in the midst of peace, in the midst of well-being, you will be able to practice my teachings and that if pain washes away, love sanctifies.

13. That is what I am preparing you for, disciples, for those new times that are to come. In order for the Kingdom of Heaven to penetrate the hearts of my children, first man must pass through my righteousness, first he must purify himself to the last corner of this world and when everything is prepared, my Kingdom will be full among you. My

Love one another!

Kingdom has begun to approach with the coming of my Universal Ray made word and life, made human voice among you in this Third Time.

14. Elijah, as a precursor of the Holy Spirit in all times, came to prepare paths and to awaken men, he came to call the scattered sheep with his bell, so that all gathered in the fold, they would listen to the voice of their Lord, and that was the concern, so that at this time the Kingdom of the Father, the Heavenly Kingdom would begin to approach among you.

15. Who who has listened to the voice of the Lord in this time, has not felt at least an atom of peace in his heart? Who has not reached for his suffering a drop of balm or a little consolation? Who, who was lost in the paths of darkness, has not glimpsed in my word a ray of light? Who, who was tired and believed himself without a reason for being, has not found in my Work the true reason for his existence?

16. It is the Kingdom of the Father that has approached among you; but that Kingdom is not formed only by the King, because a king without subjects cannot be king and He has come with his spiritual subjects, he has come with all his Kingdom to manifest; He as the Father and his subjects as true children of the Father and as true brothers of you. That is the kingdom that I had promised, that is the consolation that I had prepared for you in these times and as your preparation progresses; as the times pass, my word is being fulfilled and my Kingdom is getting closer and closer.

17. Elijah, as in a chariot of fire, walks his spirit throughout the Universe, leaving a trace of love, that love that is the fire of the Spirit of God, light that illuminates and light that embraces, that warms the cold of spirit and heart. And if Elijah had passed through the whole universe, would he have stopped passing through the nations of this world? Not really, his light has been with everyone, his preparation, the same. He is the forerunner, that is why with his step he awakens the spirits and if some remain lethargic still, it is that they are waiting for the new call of Elijah, as a shepherd; and he, who is tireless, will insist on the asleep, on the deeply lethargic until he awakens them; but those who are awakening, open their eyes and by intuition sense the time in which they live, sense the presence of the Father, the transcendence of the moment and their spirit escapes from the world to communicate with their Lord, to invoke him in his solitude, to cry out to him, to attract him to their own heart; some calling him as a Father, others as a Teacher, others still looking for him as a Judge; but all, verily I say to you, will awaken just as those who have already done so, none will be neglected in their supplication or in their elevation and prayer. With those I converse. I communicate and prepare you; but since you are not perfected or certain of spirit-to-Spirit communication, you doubt this truth.

Love one another!

18. Who are the ones who are going to erase the uncertainty of those who begin to communicate spiritually with my Divine Spirit? You, who will be forerunners, apostles and prophets; you will arrive with the accurate word, with the precise, clear teaching and the resounding testimony, that I was among humanity and that I continue to be present and eternal in the spirit of all my children and you will also tell them the perfect way to approach Me! You will teach the true spiritual worship; how to fulfill spiritual life and earthly life and you will show them love, justice and morality.

19. If humanity discovers great gifts in you and therefore feels inferior, give it the knowledge that there are no superior beings; the most advanced spirits may exist, but there are no superior ones. Truly I tell you, there in the mansion of the righteous, very close to Me, there are great spirits. That is the goal that I point out to each of you. I want that at the end of time, when these disappear, when the problems cease for your plant and you finally reach that oasis of heavenly peace, you will all be the same around my table; equal in the infinite and perfect peace of my home, of my kingdom. Therefore, when men admire you, flatter you, envy you, make them understand that everyone is given equally. I manifest to you on this day, that any man or woman with a will, can be able to heal and deliver light, I declare to you on this day that any man or woman can contemplate by clairvoyance or spiritual sight, the hereafter and the future.

20. Truly I tell you, any man or woman, no matter what age, will be able to heal and do wonders if he has love and good will. And if I have pointed out among you those who must have the gift of prophecy, the healing one, the faculty of transmitting the voices of the Beyond, the gift of advising and guiding crowds, it is because I wanted to entrust to each of you a small part in my Work, but your spirit and your human body have been created by my love equally for all; from one spirit you have sprung and from one flesh also. But you will also make humanity recognize that it must only take a part in the Lord's Work and that part is not going to be dictated by you, you will only prepare them with these teachings so that they, through their conscience and my charity, discover the gift of the mission entrusted by the Father.

21. One hundred and forty-four thousand are those marked in this Third Time; it is a legion of spirits, it is a group that my charity has pointed out and selected in all times from the conglomerate of spirits to give them a special mission, a responsibility to others and a restitution also, to prepare them as guides, as apostles, as an example. The twelve tribes of Jacob in that first time were numerous, they far exceeded 144,000 and yet, of that very numerous people, it has pleased me to select for the fulfillment of this Third Time, only that number. To them I have entrusted the mission of awakening humanity, of leading it along the path of the Holy Spirit, along that infinite path that brings you closer to the Father, that communicates the spirit of man with the higher worlds and with the lower worlds; that brings all spirits closer, that identifies them and turns them into true brothers and sons of God through the symbolic act of the "Mark".

22. Many have been pointed out, but others on the path of their own existence will be surprised and it will be revealed to them, either by my Divine Spirit or through you, that they belong to the number of the 144,000 and the sign that I give you, that the number has been closed, will cause a great commotion on your planet and that commotion, that event, will not take long to come to you. When this happens and many of you remembering these words, you will say prostrate spiritually before the Father: "Lord, you have pointed us out, we are already gathered".

23. Alas, alas for the Universe at that instant, indeed! the Father tells you, because with this I will make men understand that something supernatural is happening, that something beyond the elements, of the will of man, is happening, and the greater part of humanity, fearful, will penetrate into prayer and repentance.

24. It was written by the mercy of God and announced by the prophet John, that in the fullness of the Sixth Seal the elect of the Lord would be marked; I have fulfilled what was written and said by the prophet, be sure also of everything that I tell you. Who among you does not understand what I am talking about? Who lets go without feeling the lesson that I have been delivering to my disciples?

25. I have limited my manifestation, I have limited it to put myself within the reach of all my children. If you do not want to find my majesty or my greatness in external works, do not look for all this in the face of the envelopes through which I communicate; if they reach an atom of spiritual transformation, an atom of transfiguration, they are possessed of my grace; but look for me in the essence of my word and there you will find me.

26. In this way I manifest my Universal Ray among you, it becomes balm, teachings, prophecy and recreation for your spirit; but also the light of my ray descends to all creeds, to all the spiritual religious ceremonies that humanity celebrates; at this moment I am present in all hearts, gathering the cry of humanity, giving the protection of my love to the orphaned, giving my caress full of tenderness to childhood, strengthening the heart of youth, strengthening the elderly in their fatigue, accompanying the lonely and the abandoned, healing the sick, listening to the last complaint and care, both of those who know how to ask and pray, as of those who do not know; listening even to the offense of the one who blasphemes in his pain, I forgive his ignorance; with all I am. I do not turn away or humiliate the great, I do not ignore the rich or the greedy, I do not turn away from the selfish, on the contrary, I contemplate them as those children who have taken their inheritance and have distanced themselves from the Father; in their wealth they have forgotten Me, they have forgotten that I have more than them and that one day they will need Me.

27. Today they do not invoke my name, they do not seek my Spirit, they do not love me, but I am with them, the doors of my Kingdom are eternally open to repentance, my heart is always open for the poor; because you are all poor spiritually, some in material wealth and others in misery; always bringing my gifts and my benefits to make you rich and possessors of true values, of true eternal goods. And if I am with everyone, Oh my people! Why shouldn't you be too? I also want your spirit raised to the hereafter, to contemplate all your brothers equally; that from that scale that your spirit reaches in prayer and in love, you do not distinguish your brothers by religions, sects, classes or races, that you contemplate all with the same love and look at them with the same fraternity and charity; that you will not murmur about the cults or practices of others; that much less mock the fanaticism or idolatry of your fellow men, because then you would not be practicing my Doctrine as I teach it to you i'm teaching.

28. I have granted spiritual freedom to the spirit from the earliest times. From the moment the first spirits sprang from my heart, I set them on the path of spiritual freedom and from the very beginning I also granted man freedom to think. Who then are those who forge the chains for the spirits? Who are those who captivate and frighten men and spirits? Who are those who stop the spirits by anathematizing them? the bad ministers and the bad spiritual guides of humanity, those who allow themselves to be surprised by the darkness to lead the spirit of man along false paths. At all times I have come to propose my Law of love, never to impose it. I have never punished a spirit because he does not love me or because he does not comply with my Law. I only test him, detain him, admonish him, touch him and provide him with the means for his redemption; but I never punish him and I could even less avenge myself. In the Spirit of the God of love, there can be no place for revenge.

29. Then, my people, do not pretend that all men think or believe as you do. You will never anathematize humanity, you will not throw sentence or condemnation on anyone who does not tell you, who does not accept your proposal, your teaching or your advice. With the deepest respect and with true spiritual charity, you will contemplate all your brothers and sisters and thus you will know that each one, in his worship, in his doctrine, in his path, has reached the place to which his spiritual capacity has entitled him; and that, at the point where you contemplate humanity, is how far it has reached the evolution of itself.

Love one another!

30. You are only going to propose Spiritualism, the third message of God to men, because the first was from the Father on Sinai, the second was from Christ and the third message was from the Holy Spirit, but in this third message all the laws, the precepts, the testaments that God has bequeathed to his children are united.

31. Take this rich and beautiful message to all humanity and propose it with love! If you do so, you will see how your seed will be able to germinate in hearts with humility, with that silence with which the seed of the earth does, so your spirit will also germinate and will rejoice infinitely to contemplate that the seed of the Father never dies when it is well sown.

32. I am preparing you so that you will soon be the true sowers and the good apostles who bring the seed of charity to your brothers; I am preparing you for after the departure of my word, so that there will be no chaos among you, so that there will be no weeping, that uncertainty or disorientation will not penetrate into your spirit.

33. I have told you that not all the congregations are ready, because they have not been able to wake up in these last moments, but all those who really prepared, will remain responsible to support in their trials the rest of the peoples who, not listening to my word, despair, those who in their pain, not contemplating the messengers of the Master's word at the table, at which they ate for so long, will cry and falter in their faith.

34. Indeed, you will be the counselors, the strong as pillars, so that the roofs of the houses of Israel will not come to the ground. I want you to be like the voice that comforts, like a song, as you were in that First Time, when you were crossing the desert in pursuit of the Promised Land, when women dyed their lyres to comfort and console men and to gladden the hearts of children in their hard journey; when the soldiers felt fatigued by the battle, when the soles of their feet were calloused by the hard road, then the song of the women of Israel echoed in space, sweetened the hearts of the men and made the walk more bearable.

35. So also in those moments of silence, of recollection and meditation, when they are interrupted by weeping, by despair, by the desire for the Father's Ray to return once again to the pedestals, you, with your word as a song, as a voice of consolation, will say: "We are not alone, the Master is among us, he has stayed in our hearts forever" and the voice of the winds will encourage you. That will be the time of the prophets, in which their faithful testimonies will resonate in the hearts of the people as heralds who announce in truth the events to come, as a testimony that the Father and his Kingdom are closer than they have been in this time of my communication.

Love one another!

36. Short is the time of my sojourn in this form among you and from now on, I prepare you for some graces that I am going to grant you in the last days of 1950.

37. Spokespersons: Do not think from now on that the one of you who receives my Ray for the last time and pronounces my last word, is going to be the happiest and the most full of grace among you, do not think so; I am going to communicate in each of my last lectures for each of you; I am going to descend to each of your understandings, with all my grace I am going to leave imprinted in your spirit and in your heart the memory of the last time I manifested for each of you. It will be like an oscar (holy spear), like a feeling that your spirit will never be able to erase, because you are the ones who have served me, the instruments by which I have spoken to the world at this time and I will give you my caress and my blessing, I will accompany you throughout your journey and I will wait for you until that day or instant when you will come to be at my right hand for eternity.

38. You, Children, who have been an open door for my Spiritual World, I will also make my grace and that of those blessed beings, be imprinted in your heart forever, my Spiritual World will also communicate for the last time through its protected ones, leaving as a last message a council of love, a council of tenderness and light and the testimony and confirmation that each of those protective spirits, will continue to watch over the steps of their brothers on Earth and that neither the Father nor the Spiritual World we will depart from this beloved people.

39. Those who had the mission of guides and all those who listened to my lessons and put them into practice, loving and forgiving their brothers, will have on their spirit and on their matter the grace and strength of the Master to continue, because his voice after my departure, will be strong, a voice full of life, a word full of essence and strength. All his gifts will be revived in the last moments. Each one of them will be a spirit turned into a torch of light and the set of those torches will march before the people so that they are not lost, because during the time of my meditation and then in the time of the struggle, spiritually, they will continue to be custodians of the people to free them from the crossroads of slavery, from the stumbles, from the tempting cells, in pursuit of all obstacles and to continue leading them to the congregations, to the blessed fold of spiritual unification, of the unification of ideas and purposes, of the unification of obedience and in the fulfillment of the positions entrusted to Me.

40. To the seers I say: You will have sights full of splendor, such as you never had, precursors of your revelations that you will have to develop and receive in future times, because surely, those prophets have not yet reached the elevation that they have to reach; their eyes have not yet seen everything they have to see, nor have their lips said everything they have to prophesy. But the purification that they will achieve, guided by their conscience, will be so effective that lies and darkness will never be in their spirit or on their lips, they will always know how to distinguish true inspiration from false and tempting inspiration; they will know how to gather from the mercy of the Father what He gives them as a message for humanity.

41. My golden pens, whose hand has been indefatigable in these times, will continue to write the testimony of the prophets, they will continue to write their own inspiration and also the word of the inspired, of those who have to rise up as teachers among the people.

42. Nor will I forget my Columns, those hearts that have also led the people on the path of recollection, respect and spiritual elevation. They have been one and the other like captains under the orders of a general; they have been like Moses or Joshua in the desert, seconded by the Tribe of Judah, by that tribe in which the Maccabees were great captains, invincible warriors who broke through the city, who tore down walls and dominated entire villages, because they carry after them the people of the Lord, who were to receive the Promised Land as an inheritance. This is how the Master compares you, O Columns!

43. And the people, composed of children and disciples, will also have great joy and will receive great lessons from the Master in the last moments. Among the graces that I entrusted to you, O people, I will grant you that you may communicate for the last time at the end of 1950 with the Spiritual World, with the guardian angels counselors or healing beings and also with those spirits who on Earth were your parents, your children, brothers, friends, or relatives; I will grant that you may be able to hear them materialized, humanized, for the last time, and receive in that communication the caress, the spiritual embrace, the advice full of light, the voice of hope that tells you: "Keep walking until we are all united in the house of the Lord"

44. This is how I prepare you from now on with love, with tenderness, I sweeten your palate, I soften your heart, so that those moments may be among you as an opportunity for rapprochement, reconciliation and forgiveness between one and the other. May the stumbles, the bad looks, the two-edged swords that have left deep wounds in your heart, be sheathed and everything be erased by true love, by forgiveness between brothers. That if your eyes cry in those moments, your tears are of true love and come more than from your eyes, from the source of high feelings of your spirit. If your material arms are intertwined, more than the arms of your body, be the arms of your spirit, bonds of love with which I have tied all the spirits of the Universe and that at this moment you all recognize yourselves in my Law. And if my word has already ceased, if the voice of the Master only resonates in the realms as a distant echo, may that love, that close embrace of yours, be the warmth, be the consolation, be the company that you make yourselves on your walk and for that love, for that charity of one for the other, you will contemplate the sanctuary that I ask of you, that temple in which I want to dwell and where I am looked at, heard and felt by you; temple in which I want the World to penetrate so that it can look at me, feel me, see me, worship me and love me for eternity through Spiritualism, which is the message that the Holy Spirit sends to the world through your understanding.

45. You also go with your spiritual message to childhood, youth and old age. No longer look at borders or say, "Lord, freedom to the peoples." Now tell me, "Father, bless our brothers, forgive us all who offend you." No longer look at nationalities, no longer mention them in your prayers. Rise up and while you are confused with the angels, with those who always advocate and ask for everyone, also pour out the peace of your spirit on all your brothers and sisters and you will then see how the races begin to merge into one again, the languages that divide you will begin to be known by those who did not know them; the castes and lineages will disappear and will be replaced by humility and understanding. The exalted, overcome by trials, will descend to those who contemplate below and those who were below will ascend to place themselves at the height of those who were above; because it is time for restitution and in that restitution is my divine justice, which is perfect. In every spirit present, my scales will be weighing your actions. Therefore I tell you: I am the one who knows how to judge you and lead you with perfection and in the mystery of each life, of each destiny, only I can penetrate.

46. You, watch and pray, so that the peace of my Divine Spirit, descends throughout the world.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 331

1. The one who doubts this communication through the human understanding is as if he denies his status as a superior being among other creatures, it is as if he denies his own spirit and does not want to realize the spiritual and mental level that he has reached through endless trials, bitterness and struggles.
2. To deny that I communicate through your understanding or your spirit is to deny oneself and put oneself in the place of the lower creatures.
3. Who does not know that man is the son of God? Who does not know that he carries a spirit in himself? So why not think that between the Father and his children there must be one or some ways to communicate between them?
4. If I am intelligence, I seek you through your understanding; if I am Spirit, I seek you through your spirit. But how will those who deny my communication understand and accept this truth, if they have never wanted to look at me and know me as a spirit? In their hearts they have given body to many erroneous beliefs, such as thinking that I am a divine being in human form, which must be represented with symbols and images to communicate with me through them.
5. Over the centuries, humanity, which has sought me in this way, has become accustomed to the silence of its images and forms before which it prays and offers rites. And the idea has come to form in his heart that no one is worthy to look, hear or feel God. By saying that I am infinitely tall to approach men, they think they are paying me a tribute of admiration and they are wrong, because whoever says that I am too big to look at creatures as small as man is, that is an ignorant person who is denying the most beautiful thing that my Spirit has revealed to you: humility.
6. If you believe in Christ, if you maintain that you are Christians, you should not feed such absurd ideas as that of thinking that you are unworthy of your Lord coming to you. Do you forget that it is precisely your Christian faith that is founded on that proof of divine love, in the Word of God becoming man? What more palpable and human approach could you ask of Me? What communication is more within the reach of sinful and carnal men, dark in spirit and closed in understanding, than the one in which I made them listen to my divine voice translated into a human word?
7. That was the greatest proof of love, humility and piety towards men, which I came to seal with blood, so that you would eternally keep in mind that no one is unworthy of Me, since, certainly for those who were most lost in the mud, in darkness and in vices, I came to humanize my Word and to pour out the sap of my blood.

Love one another!

8. Why then, the very ones who believe in all this, now deny my presence and communication? Why do they try to maintain that this is not possible, because God is infinite and man is very low, very small and very unworthy? Truly I tell you that whoever denies my communication of this time, will be denying my presence in the world in that Second Time and will also be denying my love and my humility.
9. You sinners, it is natural that in your sin you feel distant from Me, but I feel that the more mistakes you make and the more you stain your spirit, the more I need to come closer to you, to give you the light, to reach out to you, to heal you and to save you.
10. I knew that when I returned to communicate with my children, many would deny me and that is why, from that time on, I announced my return, but at the same time I made it clear that my presence would be in spirit, but if you doubt it, turn to the testimony of those four disciples who wrote my words in the Gospels.
11. How was I to return to the world as a man and shed my blood again? It would be like considering my work and my sacrifice of that time sterile and it would be as much as judging that from then until now, humanity would not have evolved anything spiritually.
12. I knew that despite your materialism of this time, in the depths of your being I would have to find the evolved spirit and for that reason it is that my communication has now been spiritual.
13. Here you have me, in spirit, from the luminous cloud, sending my word to you, humanizing it through these spokespersons, as a preparatory lesson for that communication to which you will all have to arrive: the communication of spirit to Spirit.
14. I have brought you this message translated into the human word on the lips of my spokesmen, so that later, when my word has ceased and you have taken the necessary time to study it and understand it thoroughly, you will go as messengers of good news to share my revelation with your brothers.
15. In addition to this message, I have sent directly to men a light that has reached the depths of their being, little by little illuminating their hearts and their understanding.
16. When my message reaches the world through you, you will find that the lands were truly prepared.
17. Yes disciples, this is the time when men, without realizing it, meditate on their spiritual future, analyze what they know as divine revelations and also intuit what their mission is; and thus, reflecting in the inner silence of their heart, they come to the understanding of many truths.

Love one another!

18. This is how the light has been made in many understandings, how they are discarding religious fanaticism, and idolatry is losing strength in their heart.

19. Without realizing it, they are opening a gap towards spirituality. An unknown courage, a faith and a superior strength has helped them overcome fears and prejudices and as their will has been strengthened, their reasoning has become firmer, clearer and more precise.

20. See how the light of truth reaches men, transmitted from Spirit to spirit. Who will be able to prevent the passage of this light that is not seen with the bodily eyes?

21. The essence and the truth that in my revelations of the past times I made known to you, could not be lost in forgotten books where my word was written, nor could it lose its meaning by the fact of suffering alterations by men. The truth is above all human littleness and it manifests itself at every moment; but its light is more clearly observed when man has reached to take a new, definitive and transcendental step in his path of evolution.

22. The symbols, the parable and the figurative sense with which the mysteries of the spiritual life were revealed in the first ages will be understood in this time, when the light of a long spiritual experience will help all of you to correctly interpret the Law, Doctrine, prophecy, revelation and promises.

23. My message, like a fruitful watering, descends on your spirit where I have deposited the divine seed of love. This is the day that you dedicate to the rest of your material tasks and in which you grant your spirit the opportunity to pray calmly and meditate, thus preparing yourself to listen to my word that is bread of eternal life for your spirit.

24. My task, beloved people, is to make your spirit luminous, teaching it to dwell in higher worlds.

25. I want to make you my disciples so that you may learn to feel me, as children who are of my Spirit. Why should you not feel my presence in you, if you are of my very essence, if you are part of me? You do not feel me, because you do not realize it, because you lack spirituality and preparation and how many signs or sensations you receive you attribute them to material causes; that is when I tell you, that being with you you do not perceive my presence.

26. Now I tell you: Is it true that if you are part of me, is it natural that you feel me in your being? Is it not right, by meditating on it, that your spirit should come to merge with mine? I come to discover to you the true greatness that must exist in every man, because you have confused yourselves and wanting to be great on Earth, you have dwarfed yourselves spiritually.

27. You have given material values greater importance than they possess and instead, you no longer want to know anything about the spiritual and your love for the world has become so much that you even struggle as much as possible to ignore everything that relates to the spiritual, to believe that this knowledge is contrary to your progress on Earth.

28. I tell you that the knowledge of the spiritual does not affect the advancement of men, both in morals and in their science. On the contrary, this light reveals to men an infinite amount of knowledge that is now unknown to their science.

29. As long as man resists rising up the ladder of spirituality, he will not be able to approach the true greatness that here in the bosom of his Father, will give him the supreme happiness of being a child of God, a worthy Son of my Spirit, for his love, for his elevation and his knowledge.

30. Do you want to feel me, O people? Be meek and humble and stop asking Me to be with you, concretely wait for the moment when it is my will to manifest myself before you.

31. I make my presence felt through this communication through the human understanding, but I must tell you that you have not obtained this manifestation by merit, but that it was my charity born of the love that I have for you, which made Me approach you to make you feel my presence.

32. I knew that you were in great need of my messages, that the hunger and thirst for my light was already very great in your spirit; that you were in time to respond to a call from me, because the suffering on Earth had purified you and sensitized you. That is why I made myself present to you in this form, making you understand that this message would only be the preparation for when you had to seek me from spirit to Spirit. Then it will no longer be my piety that moves to communicate with you, but your spiritual elevation; you will no longer be the outcasts, the blind or the spiritually insensitive, but with full knowledge and absolute faith of what spirit-to-Spirit communication means for you, you will do everything in your power to make yourself worthy of that grace.

33. By then you will have the light you need to let my Spirit manifest through you and make my presence felt in your thoughts, in your words and in your deeds.

34. Today you are like pilgrims, who have been wandering for a long time, but at this time my sonorous bell has made the call to you; you have come in haste to the source of grace and I take pleasure in receiving my peasants and contemplating that this people is spiritualizing step by step and showing me love for their fellow man. You were the hardened rock, but the chisel of my word has carved your heart to transform it into a sanctuary.

Love one another!

35. From the book of teaching I make known to you one more page, so that you may carry more light, and my word may blossom in your heart. I bring you a wealth of spiritual charity for those of you who think you are in need.

36. You have turned this earthly paradise into a valley of tears; I entrusted it to you as the garden of Eden so that your spirit in union with its matter could be recreated with everything that your Father prepared for the well-being of human beings, so that you would taste its sweet fruits and thus with your heart full of joy you would be in spiritual harmony with your Father.

37. Blessed are those who, before the New Dawn, have cast off their darkness and have blessed me. I have brought you in my word the essence and the light and I have removed the darkness from you so that you may stand firm on the path that I have prepared for you.

38. You are my husbandmen whom I have left in the care of the seed that will later have to bloom. I have entrusted to you the stout tree full of foliage so that the pilgrim may rest under its shade, but the gales have stripped it of its leaves because you were surprised by temptation when you were asleep. The leaves that the gales snatch from this tree, my charity collects and I return to form with them the foliage of its branches.

39. I have given you the fruit of this tree and you have tasted the infinite sweetness of my divine love. Some of my farmers have become masters and have abandoned the tree that I have entrusted to them, but I continue to take care of it because under its foliage many caravans will come to rest and feed on its fruits.

40. Blessed are those who have been strong through time and trials, who have been able to lead the multitudes to Me. I strengthen them, enlighten them and cover them with my spiritual mantle, from the inclemency of the times. I take away the cup of bitterness from their lips so that my people may rejoice every day with my word.

41. Many will come in caravans seeking my Father's lap, seeking from the tree the fruit of life that will sweeten their palates. I find myself waiting in them for my chosen ones, the sick and the needy. Elias will make them present to me, they are the saddened hearts and the enslaved spirits that through the ages have rushed a very bitter cup without finding comfort, and neither the times nor the gales, will be able to destroy the tree, its leaves will always carry the wisdom and its fruits will be multiplied.

42. I have removed darkness and falsehood from my servants, I have prepared their hearts with my divine love and have placed the peace of my Spirit in them; I have shown them my Law and the whiteness of my Work so that they may watch over their purity and purity.

43. Many will rise up like judges and will ignore the purity of my Work and deny the manifestation of my Spirit through human understanding. But I am the power, the way and the light, and when it has been my will, I have extended my charity like a staff so that humanity may be sustained in it.

44. I am the one who feeds your spirit and matter and when you are with me, the pain moves away from you and you feel the tenderness of my love deep in your heart. It is also the moment when conscience claims you and makes you ashamed before yourselves of having lived in sin and of not having finally fulfilled your mission.

45. I have made known to you the path of spirituality so that every day you were divesting yourselves of materiality, so that you would be those who are at the service of my Divinity, prepared to achieve spirit-to-Spirit communication.

46. Some troubled hearts say to me, Father, how long will wars cease, as it is announced through your prophets? and I tell you, the time of peace is marked by my divine index. When you become spiritualized, you will be like a clean mirror and everyone who contemplates you thus prepared, will have to question you and from the first words that flow from your lips, they will receive the love that flows from the bottom of your heart and then you will be recognized as my disciples and they will listen to you without getting tired. That will be the beginning of the time of peace.

47. Take care of your spiritual garment, so that it does not stain, so that it is always white, so that you may be venerated and respected by your brothers. Your matter is temporary, but your spirit belongs to eternity, therefore you must make use of the gifts that I have entrusted to you, so that you may dwell in the eternal mansion.

48. How pleasing is my manifestation to you when you know how to understand me, when your heart is like an open book in which my word is written; so that you may study and practice, so that you may give the example of humility and meekness. Whoever you find tired and burdened on the way, lift him up, strengthen him, do not deny him what he asks, because I have given you charity. Blessed is the one who gives up what he has in his bag, for the charity he gives to his brother will be multiplied to him. Your spirit is possessed of a spiritual flow that is inexhaustible every day.

49. Be like the good farmer who cultivates the seed in the fields, a seed that materially flourishes and bears its fruit, by the effort of man; the one who with faith and hope takes the tools, removes the earth, cleanses the plant of the bad weed and hopes that the waters will make it bloom and produce abundant fruits, for the food of humanity.

50. I have come to communicate among you in fulfillment of a promise, my love marked a time for this communication and the time is getting shorter; while some believe others doubt and What should the Father do before those who have not recognized him? Pain will return to purify your wickedness and the tares that have multiplied will be exterminated again.

51. Understand, O Israel, that you are responsible for my Work. Feel the pain of those who suffer and mourn in slavery, in those nations. They hope that my powerful mercy can set them free and give them peace. Innocence weeps and is left helpless on the roads, the elderly are mocked and the maidens led astray, and so without mercy and without remorse in conscience, the thread of existence is snatched from each other.

52. Israel: I have prepared you so that you may learn to build, so that you may give peace and hope to humanity, so that you may show it the port of salvation.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 332

1. I find you praying, O beloved disciples, watching over your spirit for the peace of this world. This is what I have taught you, this is what I have come to reveal to you once again; that you are the messengers of peace, the bearers of that blessed gift, at this time when she has fled the planet; because the heart of man rejects her and only uncertainty, hatred, dizzying life and restlessness penetrate him. As an emissary of peace and since you cannot materially go to all the places, roads and places on Earth to carry this divine message, I have taught your spirit the elevation, the transportation through spiritual prayer, so that he pours well-being, charity and blessings on all your brothers.

2. I have told you in my teachings that you do not ask me for certain nations, but for the Universe, for all your brothers, without contemplating races, nationalities or classes and your high spirit, dwelling for moments in the Hereafter, from there contemplate only the great universal family of the Father, contemplate the suffering, misery, pain of all and for them ask me for the; that from there you may contemplate those beings who are higher than you, in higher spiritual worlds and ask them for help, as I have taught you to invoke the Spiritual World with respect, to receive inspirations and protection from it, and so, O disciples, you will be loving with universal love.

3. Men say that Christ in the Second Time taught love for one another without distinction of races, and I tell you in this Third Time: I, as Christ in the Second Time, taught you universal love, but I had to start by teaching you love for each other as men, so that when the time came you could love each other with spiritual love, no longer only without distinction of worlds; and in this love that I have been teaching you now, I want your spirit to encompass everything, that loving your Father you love all creatures; that in your world you love each other, with an atom of the love with which the Father loves you; that you love everything created by Me, that you are not indifferent, nor do you not know what I have inherited and entrusted to you.

4. Man does not always interpret my teachings well. I have never taught you to ignore or stop tasting the good fruit that my laws order and grant, I have only come to teach that you do not pursue, much less love, the useless, the superfluous; that you do not take the harmful, the illicit as fruits favorable to the spirit or matter. But whatever is lawful and beneficial to the spirit or to the heart, that I have entrusted to you because it is within my laws.

5. I have given you another lesson: That your spirit knows how to renounce its matter when the time of the call is for it, that when your spirit has to cross the thresholds of the

Love one another!

Hereafter, it knows how to renounce sustenance and the links of the Earth; but in truth I tell you: the spirit, once detached from matter, does not penetrate into blindness for material goods ; rather, on the contrary, the Master tells you, it is when I allow your spirit to acquire greater knowledge, so that it admires the works of Creation more, so that it penetrates more into the meaning of life, so that it begins with its spiritual wings to encompass everything, so that its gaze crosses those horizons that were as a limit for its intelligence on Earth and then truly begins to love the Father and the divine creation with true universal love. It is when all human condition, lineage or caste disappears for the spirit; it is when he ceases to love only those who belonged to him as an earthly family, to begin to love all his fellow beings with spiritual love. That is the love that I have taught you through all the times. But if among you there are the disciples who have listened to me little at this time and because of the little they have listened to me they fear that they will not be able to fulfill or understand my Work and therefore envy those who have heard me a lot, those who have received my word a lot at this time, truly I say to them: Do not be afraid! How much or little the disciples have listened to me means nothing, because a moment of enlightenment may be enough for them so that for that moment your spirit may be transfigured and become a teacher, an inexhaustible source of love and inspiration.

6. Take this my word as a consolation and trust in it those of you who have heard me little! For verily I say to you: on your way you are going to meet those who have not even once heard me in this Third Time and among them you are going to see how the great apostles of Spiritualism, the great intuitive prophets, the great inspired arise. You are going to contemplate the gifts of the Holy Spirit manifested among humanity, developing by intuition. You are going to contemplate men communicating from spirit to Spirit and then you will say: "Blessed are we, who at least a little could hear the master, because these brothers never heard him through human understanding."

7. Do you not remember that Mark, not being part of my chosen twelve, was a great apostle of my Doctrine? The child apostle who knew how to keep the teachings of the divine Master in his heart to stamp them on papyrus and bequeath them to humanity like a golden book. In his childhood he listened to me only in his earthly innocence, but he let the Master's hand write the divine message in his heart. Do you not remember that Paul, not having listened to the Divine Master once, knew how to become; being the persecutor of my apostles, did he know how to love me and rise up to be one of the great soldiers of my Doctrine?

8. So it will happen in this Third Time; but I will also leave you the Book, externally written with the material letter and internally illuminated with the light of the Holy Spirit, so that in that fountain you may drink; so that through my teachings you may achieve the strength and the spiritual light for the great struggle that awaits you, because all of you will be at the same point of preparation, strength and spiritual knowledge to go after humanity that is fertilized by pain, by the wise trials that exist on the path of each creature.

Love one another!

9. When the great trials come, I do not want you to be the surprised ones, but your brothers; that you are not intimidated by a crown or a royal mantle, that you are not intimidated by a scaffold or a threat, that you are not cowed by a slander, that there is no offense that hurts your heart; and then the surprised one will be the world, when I can manifest myself through you in wisdom, in humility, in justice and love; but I want to manifest these attributes not only through the word; I want to be present in your works. Think that in times past, in the early days of Christianity, it was the blood of the Master, the blood of his disciples and apostles, the blood of the martyrs, that spoke best, because the heart of humanity was hard, and if a truth and a word was not sealed with blood, it was not believed. Now neither the Father nor the world will ask for your blood nor will it ask for your life so that with it you may seal my truth; but it will ask for proofs and you will give those proofs and they will be of love, of revelation, of spirituality, because your brothers and sisters are thirsty for them. If you offer the crystal clear waters, if you offer the bread of life, the world will believe you and through you it will believe in Me.

10. I have told you, disciples, that you will have to face to face with the great religions and with the minor sects; but do not be afraid of both. The truth that I have entrusted to you is diaphanous, the word that I have taught you is clear and simple on its surface, but deep to infinity in its content and they are strong weapons with which you will fight and overcome, but I tell you: A people of the Earth will arise full of materialism and unbelief, to deny you the right to call yourselves Israel, to deny your testimony of having received the new coming of the Messiah, and that people is the Jew. Haven't you thought about him? That people awaits in their bosom the arrival of their Messiah, of their Savior, of the one who will do them justice and place them again over all the peoples of the earth. That people know that I have always come to him and in this third Time they will say, "Why should God come to another people? But here are my teachings.

11. From the first days of your world I began to form the seed of Israel in the human race; from generation to generation I was polishing it, I was perfecting it, until the moment came when I formed a family of spirits chosen from all, to give beginning to the formation of a people. With wisdom I chose every spirit, every human being, to integrate my people.

Love one another!

12. Once formed and strengthened by my charity, each spirit developed in its gifts, according to those times, each matter prepared with grace, I let it multiply on the face of the Earth and to that people I always spoke, I always sought the way to be with it and to communicate with it through its patriarchs; I spoke with the tribes of the people through their guides, to always lead it on the right path, to remind it that I am over everything created; to remind them of justice among themselves in order for that people to be the bulwark of the other peoples of the Earth, to be the living torch that illuminated every corner of the planet, to be the blessing of all nations and the oasis of peace for all those in need.

13. That is why I have graced him in spirit and in matter, that is why I have granted him fertile land flowing with milk and honey. In his great faults I tried him to strengthen him, to temper him, so that he could know good and evil, light and darkness, abundance and hunger, freedom and slavery and I also allowed him to be tempted and in the great temptations and disturbances that came to the people, some fell and others were faithful to me. For those who fell, the others suffered, for the weak, the strong were touched. But what was the weakness of the one and the faithfulness and constancy of the other? The weak fell into unbridled love for earthly goods, low passions, boundless ambitions, bad cults, hypocritical cults. The persevering were so in their humility, recognizing and loving the Creator through simple worship and healthy customs.

14. I will never forsake that people, because in their sufferings I sent prophets to them to lift up their spirit, so that their hope and faith in Me would not decay, but when those prophets warned the materialized, the enriched of the earth, those puffed up in human glories, they were unknown to them, persecuted and many times killed; but the word of those prophets remained like a lit torch in the hearts of the persevering, of the faithful, and through all the prophets the Father announced his coming to his people, to free them from slavery, to do him justice, to deposit his Kingdom in the hearts of each of his children and those promises, those prophecies, were interpreted in different ways by the two sides of the people.

15. When the Lord arrived as Messiah, as Savior among his people, some had been waiting for him for a long time as the God of love, justice and peace, as the Father of all consolation and all balm; others were waiting for him as an invincible soldier, as a warrior who, raising up his people, would lead him to exterminate the enemy peoples, those who had captivated and dominated the Lord's people; they were waiting for his hands to bring the great earthly riches, the temporal goods to donate to each of his children and his tribes. Thus, when the Messiah appeared on earth, full of meekness and human poverty, in the most complete humility, he was only felt and recognized by the faithful and persevering, by those who had a sensitive spirit and heart to the elevated lessons, to the divine message that the Lord brought through Jesus.

16. And those who were waiting for the rich and powerful God of the Earth, the warrior avenger of all the wrongs that the people had suffered, their disappointment was great and their refusal too; but that Teacher of good and humanity, wrapped all his people in the same love, finding that he had divided into reigns; the same in Samaria that in Judea he gave his word, the same in one tribe that in the other he poured out his love, his balm, his miracles, teachings and prophecies. But despite this, he continued to be denied by the carnal Jews, by the materialized Jews, by those who trembled at the revelations of the spirit, by those who did not want to contemplate the way that leads to the Hereafter, and was instead recognized and loved by those who awaited the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven, the bread of eternal life, the truth about all men, love about all creatures and from that time that people walked in division.

17. It was necessary that the Father, after his departure, snatched from the hands of his people the land that had been entrusted to him from their ancestors. To some it was taken away by restitution and to others by reward, because that land of Canaan, that beautiful Palestine of the past times, was prepared by me only as an image of the true Land of Promise for the spirit and when I stripped the people of those possessions, the Jew remained materialized, wandering on the face of the Earth and the other part, the faithful, those who have always felt my presence, were waiting for my will, without pain for having renounced that inheritance of the past times, knowing that a new grace the Father had entrusted to them: the inheritance of his word, of the Divine Word, of his sacrifice, of his blood.

18. In the middle of the Third Time, and at this time, my gaze contemplates my people of Israel, still divided into two camps: The one materialized, enriched with the goods of the Earth for its own restitution, making the foundations of the world tremble with its power, because its strength, its talent, the graces that the Father poured out on his spirit, he has placed them at the service of himself, of his ambition, of his greatness. See how this people has given proofs of strength even within its materialism in its sciences, in its will, in its intelligence; he retains in the depths of his heart the rancor for the past famines, for the enslavements, for the humiliations and today, strong and proud, he rises up to humiliate other peoples, to shake them with his strength, to dominate them. Today he is the one who is fed up and is pleased to contemplate the millions of hungry and the great peoples of slaves, slaves of gold, of his strength, of his science and of his ambition.

19. And I also contemplate the other part of my people, that of the persevering and faithful, of those who have always known how to feel my presence, of those who have always recognized my arrival among men, of those who have believed in my revelations and despite everything they have obeyed me and fulfilled me; and that other part is not only you who have been witnesses of my communication through the understanding of man at this time, but part of the spiritual people of Israel is scattered throughout the world and in the place where everyone is, receives my charity, feels my presence, sustains himself with my bread and waits for me, not knowing where I will arrive, or in what form, but he waits for me. But those who do know how I have come, how I have communicated myself, those who have known for certain my revelations, those who are prepared for the times to come, are you who are part of the one hundred and forty-four thousand selected by Me from the twelve tribes of that people; 144,000 who will be before the numerous people of Israel, like 144,000 captains who will make them march in the contest of the Third Time towards the great battle.

20. Do you think my people will always be divided? I tell you the truth, no. The teaching, the light and the trials have come for you. For those, my justice has arrived and so have the trials; I am leading them in great strides towards awakening for the spirit and although it is true that at the first moment they will deny my third coming into the world as they denied the second, I tell you: the moment of their conversion is not far off. They live in their ancient traditions, but I probe the spirit and the heart of the Jewish people and I let you know that they remain in their traditions more out of convenience and fear of spiritual revelations, than out of self-conviction; they shudder at the manifestations of the Hereafter and this is what I will propose to them: the stripping of everything superfluous, the practice of charity, love and humility.

21. You will have to come before them and both of you will wield your weapons. Each other the word, the thought, the prayer and the trials. The others their talent, their power, their tradition. But I will be present in that struggle and I will make my justice triumph in truth, I will make spirituality triumph, I will make the spirit rise up on the flesh, bend it and humble it, and then the reconciliation of the tribes of Israel will come, the unification of the Lord's people and when that people is prepared, in truth I tell you, then it will begin to fulfill until it concludes the great mission that God from the beginning of time has deposited on his chosen people, who were to be the firstborn and the depository of the revelations of the Lord, so that as the first brother he would know how to lead others, share his grace with them and bring everyone to the right hand of the Father.

22. Divided the people have not been able to triumph over the other peoples of the Earth, but I tell you the truth; Just as those have given in the Third Time great proofs of their strength and their light, within human life, I want you also to give proofs of your spirituality, give proofs that the strength of the spirit is greater than human forces, so that in the contest it overcomes these.

Love one another!

23. Understand, people, so that you can carry out the mission that the Father has entrusted to you, so that your spirit can rise in peace, can finally reach Me and from my Kingdom, can love all creatures with the universal love that I come to teach you!

24. I have spoken a lot to you in this time, but of all that I have told you, you will learn a lesson that I have given you in this dawn of grace: UNIVERSAL LOVE!

25. How many times Jesus was found by his disciples when he was conversing with the various creatures of the Universe! How many times the Master was surprised in his dialogues with the birds, with the countryside, with the sea! But they knew that their Teacher was not alienated, they knew that in their Teacher the Creator Spirit of the Father vibrated, the one who had given language to all beings, the one who understood all his children, the one who received the praise and love of everything done by Him.

26. How many times did the disciples and the people contemplate Jesus caressing a bird or a flower and blessing everything and in his eyes they discovered looks of infinite love for all creatures! The disciples guessed the divine joy of that Lord, to be surrounded by so much splendor, so much wonder sprouted from his wisdom and they also saw tears in the eyes of the Master many times, when he contemplated the indifference of men before so much greatness, the insensitivity and blindness of human creatures before so much splendor. They saw the Master cry many times, when he contemplated the leper crying for his leprosy, and the men and women complaining about their fate Being wrapped in a lap of perfect love!

27. You well know that my Law teaches you to love me first of all, not because the Father's heart contains egoism, but that you must understand that in order for you to love creation and yourselves, you have to understand my love through yours, in order to feel it for your brother. That is why today I say to you in this dawn of grace: I want your love to become universal, but in Me, loving Me first, loving one another and then loving everything created by the Father, all creatures, perfect works daughters of the Father and therefore your sisters.

28. Give sensitivity to your spirit and your senses. Let your matter, even if it is temporary in life, take part in this recreation, rejoice that it has existed, that it enjoys the emanations that Nature gives it, that it becomes saturated, that it gets fed up; because this material life is also a source of blessings, of warmth, of energy, it is consolation and caress; it is sustenance, it is peace.

Love one another!

29. Let your matter enjoy, let it take part in this feast, the Master tells you; do not hide it or take it away from Nature, do not make it renounce that source of life, do not deny it what I have given you with so much love, and it will sleep in peace when the moment comes; but your spirit from the Hereafter, from his liberation will continue to contemplate the material creation before all the works of the Father and will then know how to estimate them better than now and even when he no longer sustains himself from material life, even when he no longer has to get enough of them or to coexist within themselves, he will know how to be in harmony with everything, admiring everything and loving everything in the Father.

30. My word floods you with peace and is a balm for your spirit and for your heart. You have conversed and still continue to speak with your Lord in the language of the spirit, that language that encloses respect, that is a hymn to my divine ear, that is the caress of the son towards the Father, that is the hand that rises before the one who has everything and can do everything. You are confessing before Me. You hide nothing from me because you know that my gaze embraces everything, penetrates everything and you feel mortification before your conscience for the faults committed on Earth. But verily I say to you, I, who count your good deeds and your faults, day after day as the days pass, I write more good deeds and write down fewer bad ones.

31. Do not stop your step, O disciples! May your journey, as I have always told you, be firm on the path of good and progress, because times are coming when only good will open a gap to man, when only virtue and truth will sustain him on the path of struggle and combat. The days are approaching when imposture will have to fall, when falsehood, hypocrisy, selfishness, every bad seed will find its end, through great trials, stumbles and setbacks. That is why the Master says to you: Affirm yourselves more and more in the good! Be convinced, my people, that you cannot receive any evil for the good that you do! If, for the good that you do on earth, you reap bad fruit or bad payment, that bad fruit is temporary, it is not the final fruit, truly I tell you: We must persevere until we reap.

32. Be the good husbandmen in the Lord's field and always observe the husbandmen of the material land. Do they, when their planting is advanced, abandon it for a temporary passenger? No, really. They wait for the bad weather to pass, they watch and pray for them and wait for the harvest and how many times that harvest of perseverance has really been filled with blessings and abundance! So be you: Take setbacks in spite of your good deeds, as temporary passes, as a test for your virtue, but always trust that my seed, which you sowed well, will give you good flowers and good fruits, when the time has come.

33. Verily I say to you, the spirit is like a seed, it is like the seeds that you know. I'm speaking to you figuratively. They also germinate, take root and grow, bloom and bear fruit; but I have something else to tell you. Not all spirits germinate at the same time, nor do they bear fruit in a certain time. Some do it before and others after, even if they have been sown at the same moment. understand this and apply it to the past, the present and the future of you and of all humanity, because from it you will draw great conclusions, great revelations and great answers to the questions and doubts of men.

Love one another!

34. If you enter my lecture this day, you will discover in it a marked intention of your Teacher: that of affirming your spirit so that you bring to humanity the true revelation of the reincarnation of spirits. The intuition of this will be preserved by all men; in all the peoples of the Earth they sense the mystery that encloses the past, present and future of each spirit. For some it is theory, for others it is possibility, for others fantasy, others flatly deny it. However, I find them thoughtful around that truth.

35. The humanity of this time forges legends, fantasies and even the most remote tribes, even the peoples hidden in the jungles, sense the mystery of the reincarnation of the spirit. It is that the earth is prepared, it is fertilized, it is that the human spirit in its evolutions has managed to reveal to matter part of that mystery, as you call it. All that remains is for my people to arrive, my doctrinaires, my faithful, those who have always waited for me, those who have known how to receive my revelations and teachings, to give them confirmation with a living word, with reasons, with truths. Then men will awaken to a new knowledge, to a new life, which is nothing but the Kingdom of God in the hearts of men, the spiritual kingdom in the very spirit of humanity.

36. I speak to you with the same verb with which I spoke in the Second Tense. From my word springs all good. If you seek the balm in her, my balm falls inexhaustibly on your ailments; if you have asked me for the absent sick, they will be absent from your matter, but not from my Spirit or yours and in them is my balm; if you ask me for my blessing or my protection on your undertakings, on them, truly I tell you, is my love and my light. I take you by your hand because you trust in Me as in a saving guide and I will lead you to triumph, in truth. In stumbling blocks and trials I will strengthen you and revive you.

37. You ask Me for the absentees who are laborers who are disciples in my Spiritualist Work. I am there with them, I have been in their step, in their prayer, in their fulfillment. I have set them as torches of light in foreign nations for you, so that they may be like angels of peace, like watchmen surrounded by my Spiritual World. From the moment of their departure, they have been inspired by their protective angels, so that they take their material and spiritual steps firmly on the path and so, when the Master asks them to fulfill, full of satisfaction those laborers can say: "Father, we have worked in your name". When will they return to this soil? The Master has prepared the path and the moment and they will be in your lap and his words will resonate in your heart as a testimony of the great manifestations that the Father gave them, of the great wonders that their eyes contemplated and that will give you strength, it will be an incentive for tomorrow, when you also have to cross borders and go after other brotherly peoples.

38. If I adorn you with my love, if in this time of trials I cover you with my mantle. How am I to leave the whole universe uncovered under my charity? If I come to you, who are now human creatures, to teach you universal love, how could the Master only look at some, forgetting others? My gaze is with everyone and my mantle too, my balm overflows in everyone. Under my mantle of peace, some feel it and take advantage of it; others make war, destroy themselves and are offended.

39. You ask me: "Father, why in this year of reconciliation, why in this year of spiritual unification and love, which humanity has named "holy year", do men rise up in fratricidal wars? The Master answers you: You, watch and pray! Today you have not yet managed to penetrate the meaning of these trials, but in truth I tell you that the spirit of men is already about to awaken and for this it has taken some more pain, it is necessary that they hurry that chalice that all men are for themselves. They will be their own awakening, they will be their own judge, they will be their own balance. I allow it this way and forgive them and pamper them; I pour out my light on them, so that if it is possible for them to reach the truth by my light, so they will arrive and not by pain.

40. As my Universal Ray ascends, I will leave you, from the Beyond, pouring out your spiritual peace and your blessing on all humanity.

41. This is my lesson. Keep practicing my teachings! Keep walking step by step and make in your heart and in your spirit take more and more strength, take more and more body, spiritual unification with everything!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 333

1. Come to me if you are tired. In my word you will find, balm, comfort and caress. After listening to my lesson, I assure you that you will feel strengthened to embark with faith on the journey that will lead you to conquer my Kingdom.
2. These are the moments when many hearts come in search of my manifestation, when I give proof of my presence by making them feel my Spirit very close to theirs, surprising them with the insight of my gaze by reading in each of them their past, their cuitas, their requests and needs.
3. Many of them, just by listening to me, have believed, because they have found the truth in my word, however, many others have doubted despite me manifesting myself to them with such clarity. To these hearts I ask at this moment: What is the proof you need to believe in Me? And they answer me: "May you grant us what everyone is wishing for?."
4. Ah humanity! What would become of you if I only did what you desire? However, I have to grant you something of what you are asking, to prove to you that who you have listened to through these manifestations has been your teacher.
5. Do I need to work miracles and perform wonders so that my Work, appearing before your eyes as supernatural, you will call it wonderful and true? Or is it enough that I speak to you simply, that I bring my essence to your spirit and make you feel my presence in the tenderest of your hearts?
6. I can give you whatever you ask of me; but I must only give you that which is truly for the good of your spirit.
7. Learn to pray and meditate at the same time, so that knowledge and understanding may arise in each of you. Only he who knows does not doubt or distrust. Doubt comes from ignorance. Do you see why I did not want to perform before your eyes those works that you call wonderful? Because with them I would only make you believe that I had made them, but your ignorance would remain the same. I have preferred to offer you the miracle hidden in the essence of my word so that by seeking it, you will find wisdom and light, knowledge, revelation and truth, because then all uncertainties and doubts will be dispelled.
8. Now understand why in this Third Time I have only wanted to call you to listen to my word, knowing that everything your spirit and heart may long for or need is enclosed in it.

Love one another!

9. Do not be bad disciples before my teaching. Be sensible and understanding so that your judgment is just.

10. You are witnesses of this word so that when you are called to respond to it, you will not be silent.

11. I assure you that if you intend to penetrate with interest and with love the meaning of these teachings, you will have to discover at every step true wonders and wonders of spiritual wisdom, of perfect love and of divine justice, but if you look with indifference at these revelations, you will have to ignore what they contain!

12. Do not pass before my manifestation as many of you pass before life: seeing without looking, hearing without listening and thinking without understanding.

13. The men of the earth are witnesses of how many wonders and goods I have deposited in it; but only those who are interested in knowing, penetrating and rising know how to estimate its treasures and discover its secrets. Those are the ones who recreate themselves discovering at every step new manifestations of divine power, wisdom and goodness.

14. I tell you again that I did not come in this Third Time to perform the inexplicable miracle or the external wonder to impress or surprise you, but to bring you a simple word in its form, but profound in its content, so that it may be studied in the light of consciousness. In this I give you one more proof of my truth, because you must bear in mind that at that Second Time I warned humanity, announcing to it that false prophets would arise in the world doing wonders to teach men, making them believe that it is Me.

15. I have not brought such miracles, nor have I come to force anyone to believe in this word, nor have I tried to sow fear if you do not follow me. I have only come to fulfill a promise made to men, to send the Spirit of Truth to explain to them everything that they had not understood well or had misinterpreted.

16. Here is my promised word. Blessed are those who know how to penetrate into their interior, because I tell you the truth, they will find my divine presence there.

17. The Master is tireless in telling you about your mission. Some of you present your obedience to me with joy, others, saddened, present to me the trials you have gone through, and I place my strength in you. Be strong, the Master tells you; the trials will pass, wait and you will receive, fight and you will triumph.

18. I have poured myself into your spirit so that you can carry the message to humanity, she is waiting for my chosen ones. I will prepare you with my word and your spirit will always be enlightened. When your thoughts and spirit are in harmony with your consciousness, you will have unified and spirituality will be in you, you will be the mirror of humanity and as the good disciple, you will be spreading my teaching.

19. Work, beloved people, but the reward, I have it prepared in my divine mansion, there the angels will welcome you.

20. I have deposited in you a treasure of incalculable value, some of you will feel unworthy of my charity, but I tell you, You are my most precious work. Practice my teachings and you will see that your works will be luminous, the truth will be in them. Now you are like little children, later you will be the disciples; but my teaching has no limit, because the light of my Holy Spirit will always be radiating in your spirit. I am the way the light and everyone who comes to Me, finds peace and conformity in his life.

21. You, who are under the shadow of the stout tree, which is my teaching, are the ones indicated to watch over it to cultivate it and make its branches spread more and more every day, so that they give shelter to the walker who tiredly approaches to receive its shadow. If you want the fruits of this tree, which is my divine word, to multiply, you must be prepared, and then you will see that its branches will continue to spread so that the multitudes come and feed on its fruits.

22. I speak to you in a figurative sense so that you can analyze and understand my teachings. My divine light will inspire you to speak to your brothers and bear witness to my manifestation as the Holy Spirit. Work harder and prepare more and more to be spiritualized.

23. You come from the Master to listen and to learn, but later you will give the teaching that I have given you; because hearts are still hardened rocks and spirits are still in darkness and it is necessary to fight to break their chains and set them free, it is necessary to raise the dead and convert those who have committed crimes.

24. This is your mission, beloved people, do not feel weak, or say after 1950 that your work is over; do not want to rest, because you have to work hard so that my light illuminates all humanity.

25. My presence has been among you, so that by listening to my word through the human understanding, you may be prepared for the fulfillment of your mission; so that humanity, by receiving my teachings again through you, may penetrate to spirituality.

26. You are my little ones to whom I give every day one more lesson, one more page of that book of Life that the seers contemplate, every time I tell you about true life.

Love one another!

27. I have granted that my golden pens engrave my word that I have given you in this Third Time, with which the Third Testament will be formed, which will later reach the hands of man. In the future the new generations will study it and will know how to conduct themselves within morality, they will know how to spiritualize themselves and they will feel that the Father is with them. I will entrust guardians and counselors who are at the right hand and custody of humanity.

28. Beloved people: You are the disciple whom I have been preparing since the beginning of my communication, so that after the end of the stage of my word you can feel me in your spirit.

29. The year 1950 has reached its fullness. It is the year marked by my will as the last of my communication through the mind and lips of these spokesmen. It is the year a thousand times mentioned in my word so that no congregation would ignore the last day of my manifestation.

30. The word that has poured so much balm on your wounds, you are going to stop listening to it. The voice that has been your spiritual pleasure and your consolation is about to cease, but you are not going to show disagreement for a moment, but you will humbly recognize that if it was my will to send you this light for a while, it will also have its end by my will.

31. Do not say that the time in which I have manifested myself in word among you seems brief to you, because you should not attribute to Me any imperfection in my determinations. Do you think that I was unaware that when the year 1950 arrived you were going to be unprepared? No, disciples, I knew everything, however it was my will to mark this year as the last and this plan you must take as perfect.

32. At that Second Time I was also announcing my departure to my apostles in advance, even though I knew that they were still weak; proof of this was that one of them doubted my Divinity and felt disappointed in his material ambitions; and when he realized that the treasures that I had been promising were not of this world, he chose to hand me over to the enemies of my Doctrine, blinded by the payment with which they would have to repay their service.

33. See if there would not still be darkness in that heart that put a price in money on the life of its Master.

34. Then, when I was taken by that mob to appear before priests and rulers, I saw how confusion and bewilderment seized the rest of my disciples, who, prey to fear, fled to hide themselves. When Peter was discovered as one of those who accompanied me, he denied me, swearing never to have seen me.

Love one another!

35. All these were proofs that at the time of my departure the disciples had not reached their maturity.

36. It is that those three years that my preaching lasted were marked to deliver a divine message to humanity, but not because in the same term the disciples had to reach the maximum elevation and perfection.

37. Those three years were preparation for the time of struggle that would come after my departure.

38. My sacrifice was consummated, but knowing that those hearts needed me more than ever, because a storm of doubts, sufferings, confusions and fears had been unleashed inside, I quickly approached them to give them one more proof of my infinite charity. In my love and pity for those children of my word, I humanized myself by taking the form or image of the body that I carried in the world and I let myself be seen and I made myself heard and with my words I ignited faith in those decayed spirits again. It was a new lesson, a new way of communicating with those who had accompanied me on Earth; and they felt strengthened, inspired, transfigured by faith and knowledge in my truth.

39. In spite of those trials, of which all were witnesses, there was one who stubbornly denied my manifestations and trials that I spiritually came to give to my disciples and it was necessary to allow him to feel even with his material senses my spiritual presence so that he could believe.

40. But not only among the disciples who were closest to Me, that doubt arose; no, also among the crowds, in the villages, in the cities and in the villages, among those who had received proofs of my power and for those works followed me, confusion arose, the anguished interrogation, surprise, not knowing how to explain why everything had ended in that way.

41. I had charity from everyone and just as I gave proof to my closest disciples that I had not separated from them even if I no longer accompanied them as a man on Earth, to every heart, in every home or family and in every people, I manifested myself before the hearts that believed in Me, making them feel my spiritual presence in a multitude of ways. Then began the struggle of that people of Christians who needed to lose their Teacher on Earth to get up to preach the truth that He had revealed to them. You all know his great works.

Love one another!

42. You too will have to lose this communication in order to be able to rise up to bear witness to my word. But before I rise up, I will manifest myself Spirit to spirit with my people to put away their doubts, to correct their mistakes and free them from their confusions, because I tell you again, that when I make my word cease, you will not be prepared either, so there will be traitors, there will be those who deny me and those who doubt my communication from spirit to Spirit. But I will inspire you and give you new proofs of my truth so that you too may rise up full of love, faith and spirituality to the struggle that awaits you.

43. Listen to my voice, people, she descends to fill you with courage and courage for the struggle that you will soon have to undertake. The road awaits you, the stage of your fulfillment is approaching and you need to be strong.

44. My word, engraved from now on in your spirit, will be your guide, it will lead you step by step to the happy goal that I have set for you, so that you may come to dwell in the light for an eternity.

45. Each one of those who have heard me and learned the divine teaching will be a messenger of my word on the path. His heart will be a saddlebag full of blessings to be poured out on his brothers in need of health, peace, comfort.

46. My disciples will cross the great expanses in pursuit of cities and towns, where without knowing, many hearts await them. Once you are on the path of your mission, you will not have to ask anyone if you are on the true path, or if you have strayed, because conscience will enlighten you and my word will instruct you in everything you should do.

47. The charity with which you treat your brothers will be rewarded by Me with wonders and works that move the hardest and coldest heart.

48. Now you will be able to explain to yourselves why you have been subjected to purification for a long time, because it is essential that those who are going to speak of purity, carry limpidity in their hearts, and bring peace to those who are going to sow peace and harmony in homes.

49. My word fills you with strength, because it is time for you to emerge on Earth as emissaries and apostles of spirituality; humanity is horrified by war, hunger and perversity.

50. You should not lack the presence of mind when you face pain, misery and death, because it will be precisely there that the light you carry shines, illuminating the lives of your brothers.

Love one another!

51. Blessed is this people because in it the prophecies of times past will be fulfilled, in which it was said that the People of God would arise on earth, and blessed are those who know how to recognize it and receive it, because they will remain united to my people.

52. Nothing is impossible in my power, therefore I will move you from one point to another, I will lead you and I will make you reach wherever your presence is necessary, because in each son of this people I will send a consolation to those who suffer, to those who have been waiting for the advent of justice and peace on earth for a long time.

53. When my people come to the nations and approach their brothers, they will be surprised to find a certain preparation or disposition in men to understand this Doctrine. This is due to the natural evolution that each creature has reached and to the incessant vibration of my Spirit over all humanity.

54. From the people of today, lacking spirituality and love, I will make the generations spring up so many times prophesied by my word; but first I am going to prepare these peoples who today are unknown, they are making war and destroying themselves and when the action of my justice has passed over everyone and the bad weed has been uprooted, a new humanity will begin to emerge, without already carrying the seed of discord, hatred or envy in their blood, because the blood of their fathers was purified in the crucible of pain and repentance and I will receive them and tell them: Ask, ask that it will be given to you, as I told you in the Second Time, but now I add: Know how to ask.

55. How few have been those who have truly known how to ask. You yourselves who are listening to this word, many times you do not know how to ask or what to ask. But I, in my charity for you, always go ahead and give you more than you need, even if it is not always what you have asked for, because only I know what is best for everyone.

56. You guys are asking for it right now. I give you for the future. You think about your material improvement. I am thinking of your spiritual perfection. I am not only telling you that spirit is more important than matter, but that matter will always be in the background. Everything that does not concern the spirit is given to you in addition.

57. I give it all to you and what do I ask of you in return? Only that you fulfill your mission, taking with love what I have granted you, understanding that it will be too much to reach the goal where you must reach.

58. I am speaking to you as a Father, not as a judge, although my word in itself carries justice, because now is when you must work with your thinking, trying to improve yourself morally and spiritually.

Love one another!

59. Your work has begun today, do not wait for tomorrow to start the day, because it may be late, since each one has been assigned a short time on Earth to take advantage of it for the benefit of the spirit.

60. I am calling you children of light because the knowledge of my Doctrine is giving you understanding about life in general, therefore, no one expects to reach the final trance of their existence on Earth empty-handed and trusting in a truce or a new opportunity, because nothing will change my justice.

61. If you know how to understand my Doctrine, it will offer you many satisfactions, many opportunities to be able to elevate you, Learn to pray before making any determination, because prayer is the perfect way to ask your Father, since in the midst of it you will be demanding light and strength to get ahead in the struggle.

62. When you pray, the enlightenment will soon come to your understanding that will allow you to clearly distinguish good from evil, what is convenient and what you should not do, and this will be the most palpable proof that you knew how to prepare yourself to listen to the voice of conscience.

63. My Doctrine reaches the heart of man in this Third Time to teach him how to achieve perfect communication with God and inner communion with conscience, as a proof that your spirit has reached a degree of evolution and capacity that it never had before and that allows it to understand the new revelations of the Holy Spirit.

64. The way is prepared and the door is open for anyone who wants to come to Me.

65. The path is narrow, you have known that for a long time, no one ignores that my Law and my Teaching are infinitely clean and strict so that someone would think of reforming them at their convenience or will.

66. The wide path and the wide door are not precisely those that lead your spirit to light, peace and immortality. The broad path is that of debauchery, disobedience, arrogance and materialism, a path that most men continue to seek to escape from their spiritual responsibility and inner judgment of conscience.

67. This path cannot be infinite because it is not true or perfect, therefore, being limited like everything human, one day man will reach his end, where he will stop to look horrified into the abyss that marks the limit of the path. Then chaos will follow in the hearts of those who have long strayed from the true path.

68. In some there will be repentance, so they will find enough light to save themselves, in others confusion will arise before an end that they will consider unjust and illogical, and in others there will be blasphemy and rebellion, but truly I tell you, that will be the beginning of the return to the light.

Love one another!

69. I bless you, disciples of the Third Time, who know how to cross the thresholds of this world to come in search of my Spirit. I invite you to pray day by day, to gather together to analyze and deliberate on my word, because these are the last times in which you have it in this form.

70. I invite you to penetrate into the Arcanum, into the wisdom that my Work contains so that you may feel strong in the midst of the struggle that you are living, in this battle that you are waging.

71. The chosen people, charged with making light in the world, are scattered in all nations, receiving the call to live attentive to my voice. Some will hear my word through my spokespersons and others will be spiritually instructed and you will all be witnesses of the verification of the prophecies, announced for this time. I will guide your steps along the same path and one day you will meet and recognize each other.

72. You have passed through ages, you have inhabited the Earth for centuries, and in these times you have evolved, and at last you will find yourselves able to initiate spiritual communication with your Lord and with the Spiritual World.

73. I entrust you with a great charge and I hope for your understanding. Base all your actions on the Law that is rigid and strict and so, walk in fear, but in safety. Be afraid of infringing, of not acting consciously, but also have confidence because I am a guide and support in the path of each one of you.

74. You only have the present, but I know where you will cross tomorrow and the obstacles you will encounter. I tell you that if you have faith, you will be able to face the greatest dangers, launch into the riskiest enterprises, always sure of my protection.

75. Suffer the hardships with patience and if you fail to understand the meaning of your trials, pray and I will reveal their meaning to you, so that you may be satisfied.

76. You have not yet perfected yourselves, you are not yet righteous and therefore you will find new trials, which will polish your heart and perfect your spirit.

77. Israel has been a fighter from the beginning of her great journey, and when she has faltered because of the roughness of the road, my voice has lifted her up saying, "My strong arm is in your arm," and when she has prayed and watched and observed my precepts, she has enjoyed my grace and privileges.

Love one another!

78. You are already living the announced times and you should not doubt. The Book is already open in its last chapters, so that you can read with dedication and extract its essence. These are the grave times of which I spoke to you earlier and despite their crudeness, I want you to look with joy and confidence to the future, because your sorrows will not last beyond the limits set by my Law of love and justice.

79. Pray, that you may be filled with peace and goodwill; meditate, that you may be certain of the place you occupy spiritually. To reach your highest elevation, there is no set time, if you have faith, you will be able to take great steps on that path.

80. My manifestation through man will end in 1950, but the era of the spirit will continue and after that year, the unleashing of spiritual gifts will come and with it the conversion of many spirits.

81. The branches that have been detached from the tree, will adhere again, you will all join Me.

82. Watch over my revelations, so that my Doctrine will remain clean and untouchable. Man is getting tired of limited cults and seeks the whole, he longs for a divine teaching that will save him today in his human condition and tomorrow in his spirit.

83. Anyone who rises up with high desires or aspirations will be helped and I will show him the shortest way to reach Me.

84. Comply with the Law, even if you have to sacrifice your heart or change the established customs in this world. You will not have temples or places of worship, you will not limit my Doctrine or your field of work, your home will be the universe, your family humanity and your temple My Divine Spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 334

1. People: Wake up and realize that you are living in a new time.
2. Meditate and pray that spiritual inspiration will begin to shine in your understanding.
3. Observe all the cases of human misery, of pain, of need and let the sight of the pain that surrounds you everywhere sensitize your heart.
4. When you already feel in the depths of your being a generous and noble impulse to do good, let that impulse overflow and manifest itself. It is the spirit who is going to deliver his message because he has found his body prepared and willing.
5. Understand that if you get up to sow the seed of my teaching, it must be because of that love that it is born from the most sensitive of your being, but do not try to do good again or perform acts according to you worthy, if they are inspired by the fear of punishment in case of not doing them. that has no merit, no longer say before Me, or even before your spirit, that it will not be able to settle for trifles. When your spirit sheds his human cloak and in the sanctuary of spiritual life he gathers himself in the depths of himself, to examine his past and examine his harvest, many of his works that had seemed perfect to him here in the world, worthy of being presented to the Lord and deserving of a reward, will turn out to be small in the moments of that meditation; the spirit will understand that the meaning of many acts that seemed good to him in the world, were nothing more than traits of vanity, of false love, of charity not felt by the heart.
6. Who do you think has given the spirit the enlightenment of a perfect judge to judge himself? Conscience, which in this hour of justice will seem to you to shine with clarity never seen before, and she will be the one who will tell everyone what was good, what was just, what was real, what was true that she did on earth and what was evil, false and impure, that she sowed on her way.
7. The sanctuary of which I have just spoken to you is that of conscience. That temple that no one will be able to desecrate, that temple in which God dwells and from where His voice comes out and light springs forth.
8. In the world you have never been able to penetrate that inner sanctuary, because your human personality always seeks the means to evade the wise voice that speaks in every man; I tell you that, when your spirit divests itself of its envelope, at last it will be able to stop before the threshold of that sanctuary to prepare to enter it and before that altar of the spirit, prostrate itself, listen to itself, examine its works before that light that is conscience, hear the voice of God speak within itself, as Father, as Teacher and as Judge.

Love one another!

9. No mortal can imagine in all its solemnity that instant through which you will all have to pass, in order to know what you carry as good, to preserve it and what you must reject because you cannot carry it any longer in the spirit.

10. When the spirit feels that he is in front of his consciousness and it becomes present with the clarity of the truth, that being feels powerless to listen to himself, he wishes he had never existed, because before him, in an instant, his whole life passes before his mind, the one he left behind, the one he owned and was his and of which he has finally come to account.

11. Disciples, humanity: Prepare yourselves from this life for that instant, so that when your spirit appears before the threshold of the temple of consciousness, you will not transform that temple into a tribunal, because the spiritual pain will be so great that there is no material pain that resembles it.

12. Watch and pray, meditate, practice my teachings and never let yourselves be deceived by your vanity, which pretends to make you believe that you act with truth, with charity or with love, when in the background there is none of these virtues.

13. Never write down in your heart the works that you are doing and never be satisfied with the first thing that you do, so that on your way you will ascend without ceasing.

14. I want you to meditate on what I have told you in this teaching, so that you may understand how your judgment is verified spiritually. In this way you will make disappear from your imagination that picture in which you represent a tribunal presided over by God in the form of an old man, making the good children pass to his right hand to enjoy Heaven and placing the bad ones on his left to condemn them to eternal punishment.

15. It is time for the light to reach the highest of your spirit and of your understanding, so that the truth may shine in every man and prepare him to enter worthily into the spiritual life.

16. You make me aware that the struggle that you have sustained in the hearts of your brothers is apparently fruitless; that you talk to them about spirituality trying to remove fanaticism and idolatrous practices from their hearts, and that a few moments after having taught them, they will bow down again before their idols.

17. You come with a wounded and withered heart, but you cherish a hope that I will give you on my word new reasoning and new weapons to continue fighting.

Love one another!

18. I tell you, beloved disciples, in whom I see the fervent longing for the light to shine in all your brothers: You have to put on patience to wait for the longed-for moment of enlightenment of those for whom you pray and ask so much.

19. They also believe that you are in error, because they watch you pray in a vacuum, and because they hear you speak of teachings and revelations that are not recorded in books.

20. They also go to pray for you and talk to me and ask me not to get lost.

21. I ask you, disciples, whom do you think I should listen to more than you or them? Many of you say to me in your heart: "To us, Master, since in the way of praying we come closer to the true".

22. For I tell you, disciples, that I listen to some as much as to others, because you are all equal before Me, because I love some as much as others, and because in everyone I see anguish that someone might get lost from the path.

23. It is the people's struggle, the announced struggle, the great battle that would arise even in the homes and even in the bosom of the most loving and united families.

24. Whose victory will it be in this fight? Of none. The triumph will be of truth, of light, of love and justice. All of you will be overcome by these divine forces, but precisely this apparent defeat will be your triumph.

25. That is why with great love the Master comes to teach you so that you will be prepared for after my departure. But just as I have given my charity to you, so you will guide humanity, with your works of love.

26. My ray has descended in your understanding to prepare your spirit and I have poured out my pleasures among you so that you may become worthy to be with me in my Kingdom.

27. Temptation also struggles among you to turn you away from my path, but I, as a good Shepherd, have led you out of all paths and without asking you to go to the sacrifice, I await your amendment so that you may receive my grace fully and become the good disciples who will give my teaching to humanity tomorrow.

28. I have raised you up because you were dead to the life of grace, I have forgiven you and prepared you so that tomorrow you will go to speak to humanity that has risen denying its God. I am the foolish pilgrim who knocks on the doors of every heart, because I want to make you feel my love.

29. Humanity disconcerts me and denies my presence at this time, but I will make her recognize that with love and charity I manifest my justice, that I do not come with the whip to deliver her pain, that I only come to raise her to the life of grace and purify her with the crystalline water that is my word, my truth.

Love one another!

30. The world has not learned my teaching and has fed its idolatry and fanaticism, so it is passing through the great crucible and hurrying the chalice of amrgura, because its materialism has taken it away from Me.

31. A great struggle awaits you, Israel, because you are going to testify to my truth, you are going to put away the obfuscation of humanity and show it my light.

32. Those who call themselves pastors of humanity, have not felt my presence, they are still waiting for me; but I contemplate that they are delivering different teaching from that which the master has entrusted to humanity, which will lead you along the path of truth by teaching you to love one another.

33. It is not my will that the world feed ideologies other than my Doctrine of love, because that damages the spirit and therefore you do not know me. You have not been able to analyze my Doctrine, you despise the bread of eternal life and humanity seeks me in their synagogues, in the material temples that their own hands have formed according to their understanding, and how long will humanity understand me and listen to my call?

34. After 1950 there will be a great struggle of ideas and you, the people of Israel, will rise up trusting in my Divinity. You do not know who will be unaware of you. Is there any human law that can punish your acts and good deeds that you do on the way? No, because you are the ones entrusted to take away the pain of humanity, to give it my peace and to make love arise in the human heart.

35. Disciples: That maxim that I taught you in the Second Time, to love one another, is applicable to all the acts of your life. There are those who say to me: "Master, how can I love my fellow human beings, if I am an insignificant being, who lives devoted to material work?" To these little ones of mine, I say that even within this seemingly unimportant material work, you can love your fellow human beings, if you do your work with the desire to serve your brothers and sisters.

36. Imagine how beautiful your life would be if every man worked thinking of doing well and of joining his little effort to that of others. Verily I tell you that misery would not be known, but the truth is that everyone works for himself, thinking about himself and if anything about his own.

37. You all need to know that no one can suffice himself and that he needs others; you all need to know that you are intimately linked to a universal mission that you must fulfill together, but not united by material obligations, but by intention, by inspiration and ideal, in a word: By the love of one another. The fruit will then be for the benefit of all.

Love one another!

38. I come to tell you, people, that you do not work only for yourself, that in your effort you try to shed light on all those who seek you, without making distinctions. Truly I tell you, whoever gives more to his brothers, the more he will receive from Me, since he applies my teaching to his life.

39. I am giving you enough knowledge so that you can make known the message of love that I have sent you at this time.

40. That Christ who came in other times to give men a Doctrine of love is the spirit who speaks to you at this time and manifests himself through understandings chosen to transmit this message to the world. This word, humble in its simple form in its expression, will make this humanity come to itself, far from all spirituality.

41. I am calling on all the peoples and all the religions of the world, to remind them of the supreme commandment of my Law, the one that at the last supper with my disciples, I made known to them.

42. Humanity is now in preparation. It is my justice that prepares him, without men still knowing about it, because in his pride, in his proud materialism, all the events of his life that are inexorable to him, he attributes to chance. but my call will already come to the hearts and then they will come contrite to ask me that their pride and their mistakes be forgiven them.

43. That will be the crucial hour for the spirit of humanity, in which for an instant it will experience absolute emptiness, after its great disappointments, when it will verify the falsity of its greatness, the fragility of its power, the erroneous of its ideologies. But this state of confusion will not last long, because by then my emissaries will be advancing, spreading my new message.

44. Once again, as in times past, when the missionaries of my Doctrine advanced from the East, spreading the knowledge of my word to the West, so at this time, the world will return to see my emissaries, bringing the light of this message to peoples and homes.

45. Would it surprise men that now the light is going from the West to the East? Will you go for this cause to ignore the message that my bearers carry to you in my name?

46. Truly I tell you, the only light that you see emerging from the East, is the one that illuminates your world, the light of the king star, because the divine light that illuminates the spirit, it springs from Me, and is in all places and points of the Universe.

Love one another!

47. Certainly, in the past times I spoke to you a lot through forms and symbols, but the time has come when you will look face to face with the truth, without the need to interpose forms or symbols between it and you.

48. The Master receives the disciple who in this Third Time is ready to study to understand my divine teaching. The book is open before you and its pages are illuminating your spirit so that you recognize that the Work that I have entrusted to your hands is great and sublime, that my teaching contains the supreme wisdom for you to reach my Kingdom. It is the way that I have come to show you again so that you may walk along it and thus leave the iniquity with which you came to Me.

49. I have prepared your spirit with my light, with my justice, so that you may be in imitation of your master, so that you may no longer get lost in different ways, so that obedience to my commands may be in your heart. But watch and pray that you do not lose the preparation that I have given to your spirit. At this time I come to show the world the light of a new day so that men may prepare themselves, listen to my word and contemplate with their spiritual eyes my presence.

50. Your mission is very delicate, people of Israel, but my word has penetrated to the innermost depths of your being and has enlightened you, has removed blindness from your eyes and has shown you the greatness of my Kingdom.

51. My word has been transforming you because you are no longer the ones you were yesterday, because now you are sensitive to my presence, you have recognized me and you know how to rise up to seek me from spirit to Spirit. Moreover, I behold that you have not fully practiced my teachings, that you have stumbled and that for a moment you fall again, because you have not completely cleansed your heart of the superfluous and unnecessary, of what the world feeds in its perversity; the tares grow next to the golden wheat that is flourishing in you. The time has come when the bad weed that through the ages has sprouted and flourished in hearts will be uprooted, it will be tied in sheaves and thrown into the fire for extermination. Then your heart will only be the white field, the fertile and prepared land where my word will bear its fruit.

52. Beloved disciples: There is a lot that you have to prepare yourselves for, because your steps towards spirituality have been slow and time has come ahead of you, because at this time you should have already been in direct communion with my Divine Spirit to fulfill your mission.

53. Your spirit has been able to bend matter for a moment and it is then that you have been able to fulfill my commands, as my true disciples, to watch over humanity that will receive through you my charity and my mercy.

Love one another!

54. Let my Spirit dwell fully in you, so that you may show my Work to humanity as the saving boat, as a beacon of light, as a new Heaven for incarnated and disembodied spirits.

55. I want to contemplate you all prepared and clothed with the light of my Holy Spirit, to find in you a sense of responsibility before my divine Work and love for my Divinity and for your brothers, because I want you to give yourselves for love of them and teach yourselves to communicate directly with my Spirit: because I have to use your spirits according to the preparation that you have achieved and then the awakening of the world will be full and through you it will feel me, because this is my will.

56. You are in the time of the great struggle of good against evil, of light against darkness and you are preparing yourselves to defend my cause; you will be in imitation of me, because I am before my armies and you are part of them; see how my light removes darkness and how my word is abolishing sin. If you want to be the good soldiers, be meek and carry the light of Truth so that as true servants of God, you may bear witness to what I have come to give to the spirit in this time for his salvation.

57. I do not want to contemplate among you, chosen people, different thoughts or different wills, I want to contemplate you unified, carrying my same inspiration and guided by my word that is one in all of you.

58. Those of you who have slept and have let the lamp of your sanctuary go out and have stripped yourselves of my grace, I call you and say to you: Get up, hurry your step and come to Me who as a Father I wait for you and not as a Judge, but in truth I tell you: You should not park on the roads anymore because great would be your responsibility before Me tomorrow.

59. I have awakened your intuition and through this gift my Spirit has conversed with your spirit and I have given you my commands so that you can fulfill them.

60. I make you walk with certainty so that you may do my will, because everything you do at my will will be for the advancement of your spirit. I give you authority and my peace so that it may be a testimony of my presence among you. I do not want anything to disturb the peace that I am giving you and with it continue preparing and working, but if you carry bitterness for the cause that I have entrusted to your hands, I say to you: Rejoice, because I will give a great reward to your spirit.

61. Know that just as there are spirits who in restitution are sent back to incarnate to inhabit the Earth and gather in justice the fruit of what they sowed before, others do not reincarnate, but invisibly stay on Earth until they achieve spirituality or elevation that makes them move away from what no longer belongs to them.

Love one another!

62. All restitution is hard, it is bitter and painful, but my Doctrine comes to teach you how to avoid your spirit that instead of finding peace after having suffered on Earth, it has to find itself before a test of purification and restitution.

63. Here in my word, learn to love the world to the extent that it is right to love him, so that when the time comes to leave everything, there will not be any burden on your spirit that deprives him of his freedom.

64. Beloved people: Come into the light. I am the way that leads to it, I am the truth and the life.

65. It is impossible for anyone who applies his conscience to the acts of his life to be lost.

66. When in my word I speak to you about the spiritual life, you wanted me to describe it in detail, in order to be able to conceive it; but when you see that despite having told you a lot about it, there is very little that you can understand, you say to me with pain: “Master, how will that existence be, which despite your teachings and revelations we cannot penetrate?”

67. I say to you, disciples: Do not be afraid, because the important thing is not that you know what that dwelling is like, but that you have faith that you will have to reach it and that you must therefore prepare yourselves as best as possible to reach that goal without hesitation or hesitation.

68. You have already learned from Me that the elevation of the spirit is achieved by love, because the one who loves develops all the gifts and potencies of his being. Do not aspire to reach the high peaks of light only for the development of the mind, but always look for a way to harmonize the intelligence with the feelings, so that, at the same time as you study the lesson, you will put it into practice.

69. The way of truth is so clear that no one who comes for it can get lost.

70. You are not going alone, because my breath and my light go with each one of you; but in case it seems little to you, I have placed next to each human creature, a spiritual being of light, to watch over your steps, to make you sense some danger, to serve as a companion in your solitude and to serve as a staff in the journey. They are those beings whom you call guardian angels, guardian angels or protectors.

71. Never behave as ungrateful to them, nor be deaf to their inspirations, because your strength will not be enough to make you come out ahead in all the trials of life, you need those who are ahead of you and who know, because I reveal them, something of your future.

Love one another!

72. The struggle of these beings is very arduous as long as you do not achieve spirituality, because you do very little on your part to help them in their delicate mission.

73. When your spirituality allows you to feel and verify the presence of those brothers of yours who invisibly, without any ostentation, work for your well-being and progress, then you will feel regret that you have forced them to work hard and also suffer a lot for your sins. But when this understanding arises in you, it will be because the light has already been made in your understanding and charity towards them, gratitude and understanding will spring up.

74. What a great joy there will be in those guardians of yours, when they see that their work is supported by you and that their inspiration harmonizes with your elevation!

75. You have so many brothers and so many friends in the spiritual valley, whom you do not know!

76. Tomorrow, when the knowledge about the spiritual life has spread throughout the World, humanity will recognize the importance of these beings by your side and men will bless my providence.

77. Who has imagined the battles that these legions of light hold against the invasions of troubled beings that threaten you at every step? There is no human gaze that has discovered that struggle that one and the other are constantly waging, without you noticing it.

78. Your ignorance about the existence of all this that happens without you realizing it, has been one of the reasons why I have ordered at this time that the Spiritual World communicate with you through brains destined by Me to carry out that mission. Thus, those beings have had the opportunity to come to you to bear witness to their existence and to test you with their love, with their charity, with their humility and their patience, who live consecrated to watch over you.

79. Pray, people, and in your prayer join them. Have confidence in their protection; they are beings of radiant light, capable of performing at your side the delicate mission of leading and accompanying you along the entire path until you reach Me.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Today my spirit descends once again on spiritual Israel. I manifest myself to you, beloved people, through my Universal Ray, and I speak to you as Father and Teacher, as Friend and also as Judge. I am present in all of you and I listen in your prayer, even the most intimate request that you make to me.
2. I take pleasure in contemplating that the incarnate spirits are discovering the true communication with their Father and Lord, they are leaving behind the ancient rites, the various forms they used to seek me, to worship me and they are advancing firmly on the spiritual path. It is you, humble congregations, who are receiving these communications at this time and in them my great lessons.
3. I have gathered a great number of spirits who belong to the chosen people, not by race; know that I do not come looking for races to which you belong or have belonged in the past times, I am looking for the spiritual Israel to whom I have entrusted a mission, because it is among the other peoples of the Earth, the firstborn to whom I bequeathed my past testaments.
4. You, who have been the depository of grace and revelations, have received the mandate to bring light to all beings, to be a beacon for those who wander through the world, ignorant or indifferent. I have called you, who have been my prophet, my witness, my emissary and my confidant, once again, to take you to continue your mission and that in that fulfillment you may be able to perfect your spirit.
5. In spite of your fidelity and your love, I tell you without reproach: You have not yet fulfilled my past lessons. You have possessed the light, peace and blessing that I gave you for your brother peoples and you have not shared these gifts with them. See that in order to make yourself worthy of attaining this office, you have gone through the great struggles of spirit and matter, through the contests of thought and the battles of this world, in order to acquire the necessary mettle, resolution and experience. But if I have told you that you have not fulfilled my commands, I do not want to detract from your works of former times. It is these merits that make you worthy of the grace of having me among you in this spiritual manifestation.
6. In the essence of my teaching you will find the presence of your God. This is the same word that the prophets heard, the same light that inspired Moses to gather the chosen people and prepare them for communication with their lord. I discover among you the first Israelites, those who marched to the front in the desert journey, in the First Time. To the valiant and valiant children of Judah; to the faithful Levites zealous for the worship of the Lord; to the indefatigable sons of Zebulun, in charge of obtaining the sustenance for the caravan, and thus to all those who gave me great proofs of fidelity, love and trust.

7. My gaze also stops with love on those who knew how to wait for the Messiah, in the Second Time. In the martyrs, from whom the executioner's sword could not tear away the belief that I had become a man, in order to redeem the human race. In this people are my disciples and my witnesses from all the ages and after this time of perfect communion with your Lord, when my teachings conclude through this means that I have chosen, my Spirit will come in fullness on all my children and each of you will feel that his gifts and powers are developing, to the amazement of his brothers and even of yourselves.

8. Your gifts will flow out of your spirit vigorous and strong, not as an ornament that was a reason for vanity, but as virtues and examples that you will show humanity, in your thoughts, words and deeds of love, all of them revealing the greatest humility and meekness. The gift of prophecy will be greatly developed among you. The men of science will question you about the future, they will come to your meetings to hear your testimonies and to face the serious tests and resolve their conflicts that will be presented to them.

9. Now you are small in your development, you still doubt your gifts and when you feel some miracle that I grant you by your meditation, you attribute it to another cause. But the moment will come when you identify with me and then your trust will be absolute. You will understand your gifts and attributes and with them you will bear witness to Me.

10. Truly I tell you, it is I who am giving you the prophecy. It has never sprouted from man, he has only been a conduit. The prophecy comes from Me and I grant you to a certain limit the possibility of interpreting it; but those that contain greater wisdom, I alone will clarify them for you. When you have tried to analyze without being prepared, you have fallen into false interpretation.

11. I have announced to you the events that you are watching take place today. This is a time of great fulfillment. It is the facts that have come to give the interpretation of all the announcements that I gave you in the First and Second Times, through my prophets, but men had already spoken, some justly and others wrongly. The prophecies that I granted to the scope of human analysis have been well understood, but those that it was only up to Me to analyze, interpret and fulfill them, I have come to clarify with events and tests.

12. This is a momentous time for humanity, a time when man will awaken through different tests that speak of my love for you. I want to find your spirit clean and your mouth worthy to make known my teaching. For this I clothe you with humility, so that you may be simple, even possessing gifts, that arouse the admiration of those who know you.

13. Let the prophecy pass through your spirit and matter, even if you do not understand it; it is your duty to make it known. It will be others who will better understand what you testify, but when neither one nor the other can penetrate the true meaning of my prophecies, I will come to your aid to tell you: "If the prophecy that I have given you has been very great and wise, it is because the revelation that I want to make to humanity is very great, in order to reach its goal. I gave this sight to my chosen one, and I give you its interpretation."

14. Do you think that Joel, one of the great prophets of the First Time, understood what he announced to the multitudes? Remember that he said, "And it will come to pass that times will come when your children will prophesy, your young men will see visions, and your old men will have revealing dreams. There will be wonders in heaven and great signs on earth. The sun will turn black and the moon like blood; steam and smoke will rise from the earth and at that time will the great day of the Lord be very soon to arrive?."

15. The prophet did not understand the transcendence of what he spoke, but he did it with truth; he was my conduit and spokesman, his spirit was clean and his mouth dignified and the prophecy was like crystal clear water that springs from the spring and does not stain through its channel. Thus that message reached the hearts of men and is kept clean. Some have interpreted it in one way, others in another and I truly tell you, that great prophesied day is about to arrive and events are justifying the words of the prophet.

16. Open your eyes and prepare your spirit so that you analyze the events, and you will see that the signs announced since those times, emerge clear, precise and the facts themselves show you the explanation and the fulfillment of those words; it is the interpretation that I have given to my prophecies.

17. Thus I prepare you, beloved disciples, for the fulfillment of your delicate office, that your lips only speak truth, so that you may see your way open, and if speaking and testifying the truth, you are not believed, nor understood nor loved, leave that cause to me and do not cry, always go forward and never be silent. Let your mouth speak confidently, courageously, always fulfilling its mission, your whole being will be prepared to pour out emanations of peace, not only in your words, but in your thoughts and spiritual messages.

18. Cultivate peace, love it and spread it everywhere, because how much humanity needs it! Do not let yourselves be disturbed by the vicissitudes of life, so that you may always remain strong and ready to give what you possess. That peace that is the patrimony of every spirit, has fled in this time to give way to war and torture nations, destroy institutions and annihilate spirits. It is that evil has taken over the human heart, hatred, insane ambition, unbridled greed are spreading doing harm, but how brief will his reign be already. I announce to you for your joy and tranquility, that your liberation is already approaching, that in pursuit of that ideal a multitude of beings eager to breathe an atmosphere of fraternity, purity and health are working.

19. What will you, my disciples, do in this great struggle that has already begun? What are your purposes? I see in the depths of your being an immense desire to fight, to make my Teaching known, knowing that she is the best guide for humanity. Fight for your peace and moral and spiritual vindication, and when you feel strong in the good, take it everywhere, that it may fall like fruitful dew on the hearts of your brothers.

20. Pray and may your prayer be a balm for those around you and for those who are absent; for those who inhabit your world and also for those who live beyond it, in need of comfort.

21. I am going to give an incentive to my people and this is: All those spirits who, in the painful struggle of war, lose their body, will be attracted to the spiritual valley and there they will be waiting for your prayer to achieve light and knowledge, and at this hour when the people unite in a fervent and heartfelt prayer, those beings will be surprised by that spiritual hymn, and they will hear your voice that invites them to move forward and they will not be disturbed for a single moment. The light will be clear and from that hour they will rise to fight for their elevation.

22. The trials that await humanity after the year of 1950 will be very great, it will have to drink very bitter chalices, and suffer very hard blows; but all this will be so that it awakens from its dream, now that its spirit is asleep for its perfection and true mission. All those tests that men receive at this time, will be called that I make them to meditate and reflect on their charges, because it has been a long time for the spirits to pass from the Earth to the spiritual valley and from this again to the Earth without taking advantage of their reincarnations; and this grace, this proof of love and justice that I grant you, by giving you new lives in this world, is not to be wasted: I do not allow you to return to Earth just to feed on its fruits, but to fight for your elevation and conquer the kingdom that I have promised you.

23. I will call for the first time with sweetness to help you get ready to fight, but if you do not understand that voice, I will call with severity and I will touch you again, but if you do not come, justice will come in fullness to wake you up so that you open your eyes and contemplate the light of a new day.

Love one another!

24. I warn you in this way so that you will not be confused when you see that new wars are unleashed, that a multitude of beings perish day by day under different accidents before your eyes. When you cannot penetrate into the reason of those trials that shake your heart, think that every spirit has come to Earth to restore to himself what he had denied before, and that there are beings so lethargic that only such a test awakens them.

25. How much I love you and I don't want the pain for you! Those creatures who did not find this consolation and balm on Earth, at the moment of reaching the spiritual valley receive it from Me to be led to the Afterlife. I give them to you because I am the inseparable shepherd of my children, all their pain reverberates in Me, all the blood spilled in their wars for no reason, falls into the hollow of my hands, all the tears of humanity soak my face. Even the most hidden and hidden being for you, is very close to Me, I contemplate you all with love equally. Those creatures that you look at with disgust, I will raise them from their misery, and I will polish them so that crystal clear water of regeneration, of repentance and of love may flow from them.

26. I speak to you in multiple ways, because you need to be prepared to speak as you have already done. You enjoy hearing my teachings and you feel closer to Me every day. You recognize that it is a joy to exist to be loved by your Father; that it is a satisfaction for you to have passed through the great trials to which I have destined you, because each of those trials is a stepping stone that brings you closer to Me.

27. I have called many of my children to give them different positions, different missions within this Work and I have given them to you according to your advancement and your gifts, and with all of them I have formed my people, my new apostolate. To some I have given the charge of guides and so that their task is not hard and painful, I have divided the people into congregations; to others I have entrusted the gift of spokespersons, so that they transmit my inspiration made human word to these multitudes who gather to receive this prodigy. I have given the privilege of clairvoyance to some to make you prophets and announce through them what is to come. They have also received the mission of columns those who have to help the people in their pilgrimage and have to be of the guides like a Cyrene who helps to bear the weight of the cross of their multitudes.

28. Others have been graced with the gift of faculty and these as instruments of the Spiritual World, have been prepared to transmit their messages, the analysis of my Work and also as possessors of the healing balm, of the consolation for the sick, so that united, they pour charity on the needy, through healthy spiritual emanations. I have appointed a golden pen to the one who will print in the Book that I will leave you, my revelations, teachings and prophecies of this time. I have given the position of Cornerstone to those who are to be an example of firmness, stability and strength among the people. In these,

Love one another!

his word, his consolation and example will be invariable, as is the rock, and now that this stage of my communication is at its end, I am judging all the charges, and to all those who were chosen to receive such great missions, I am calling them to penetrate into deep study and know the result of their works. I accompany everyone in this hour of meditation.

29. Don't worry, I didn't make a mistake in choosing you, I know you and I know what you are capable of, I knew who you would be on the journey. I am your Father and I have given everyone the opportunity to work in my Work, I have offered everyone the same delicacy, so that you all feel loved in the same way, with the same right to be my disciples and possess the same inheritance.

30. I already knew that some would fulfill my commands and obey my words very soon. Others would be slow to discover their faults and correct their mistakes, but my gifts remain latent in the spirit waiting for their awakening, because you will all have to come to Me, the understanding will be in everyone: you will become perfect and you will be with me at my right hand. But in order for you to come to Me, you must be ready to fulfill my Law, and take the way with humility and submission of spirit. Watch and pray in these brief days when you will have me in this form and make your heart move before my word so that a longing for obedience, unification and love may arise from your being.

31. Soon the emissaries will rise up carrying missives and their banner will be my word and my messages that you have received. I am preparing you to rise up on missions of peace and goodwill, because I want to find you ready on this solemn day when I am to give you my last words.

32. From now on I announce to you that my last lesson will not be of greater duration than these that I am giving you, it will be as brief as all the ones that I have given you, because my great final lesson covers that of the last three years, it is the book that I have written about your spirit with the fire of love of my Spirit, in which I have summarized everything that I have revealed to you since 1884; in it I have told you about the beginning and even before the beginning of Creation, of the evolution of man from the earliest times to the present. In this book I have told you of all my lessons given to you, through the great ages past and your trials; in this book I have gathered the revelations of all the times past and those of the future, without interpretation and without fulfillment. There you will also find the preparation for your spirit on its journey, now on Earth and then in the spiritual valley.

33. This is my last lesson, it will be concluded on the last day of this year of 1950, but it will not be my last communication with you, because I have taught you in all times to pray and to make spiritual communion with me. You men and all beings who inhabit the different dwellings, have access in my Spirit and I dwell in you. Do not go to feel distant from Me, do not feel the emptiness or the silence when this word ceases; continue listening to the harmonious and constant concert of your Father, enjoy my presence so that you meditate and study my Work.

34. It is necessary that you gather all your strength and spiritual knowledge before rising up to spread this teaching and when you find yourselves gathered around my word, praying and meditating, you will feel my presence. The children will be moved, the seers will also notice the precursor signs of my presence and I will manifest myself in a subtle way; everyone who congregates will feel me and those meetings will have solemnity; there will be a spiritual environment that will give you peace and confidence in the future. The Spiritual World will also come to you without touching your brain and will come wherever you call it to help you in your trials and continue to pour out its charity and protection on this world. He will see to it that there is no confusion in your mind, no misinterpretations or unjust determinations; and when this time of preparation has passed, do not forget your meetings, because although you know that I manifest Myself in each of you separately, it pleases me to find you gathered praying and busy in your spiritual exercise.

35. Remember that feast of Pentecost celebrated by my apostles after my departure. Their attentive spirits were waiting for my manifestation and when they were united in a single thought, my Spirit descended and put the word in their mouths, and their whole being was illuminated so that they communicated with men of different languages and beliefs.

36. That is why I want these meetings among you, always, O disciples; whenever you can gather, do it in my name and I will be present revealing to you the content of my Arcanum. I entrust to you all the moments and days of your life so that you dedicate a moment of them for your elevation; but once again I sanctify the seventh day so that you may penetrate into communion with me and the rest may be to love one another and put into practice everything that you have understood well of my teaching; but there will be no need for special enclosures for your meetings, the same will be for Me your home, your humble bedroom, the valley or the mountain, the bank of a river or the desert.

37. I advise you not to proclaim among humanity that you are my disciples, that your mouth does not say it, but that your works speak; do not say that you are Israelites by the spirit, the world will recognize spiritual Israel, when this, unified in the mission of making light in the spirits, of bringing peace to the hearts to be as I said to Jacob in his dreams, in his revelations: "I will give you a lineage as great, as numerous, as the dust of the earth, as the stars of heaven, as the sands of the sea and in your descendants they will be blessed are the peoples of the earth.

38. The peoples of the earth have not yet been blessed in Israel, because this one presents me with a schism, as it happened in the Second Time. Some live for matter, others for spirit, some form one kingdom and others another; I see that some live for the world and its gold, and others seek me and are happy in their poverty; but when I have gathered this people, this great legion of spirits responsible for peace and divine revelations, then this world and even the heavens will be moved, because their union will exert so much force, so much influence on the world, that there will be no one who does not feel it. Your mission will be known and your message that I entrust to you from now on will gather the testament that I have bequeathed to humanity in the three times.

39. Let your spirit be like a chest that keeps everything I have entrusted to you, because the road you are going to travel has rough parts, it has thistles and thorns, but there are also stretches where trees and flowers will make your journey pleasant, and thus walking will surprise you the day of your unification, the day of your redemption and eternal peace, when you have reached the end of your fulfillment.

40. For now, pray for the distant and in the near overflow your heart; heal the sick, pour out counsel in the needy, become all consolation and balm among suffering humanity. When you pass by a stranger to whom you cannot say a word, but your heart is moved and your spirit lifts up his prayer, presenting to me the suffering of that brother of yours, I will give him what he needs, because you have deposited his pain in Me.

41. Get to know yourselves. Discover the gifts that I have given you and recognize that your spiritual knowledge has relieved many hearts and raised them on their moral and spiritual level.

42. Take everything you need of intuition and love for your mission.

43. Some of you say to me in your prayer: "Master, why tell you my little things, show you my life or make you participate in my companies, if you know everything? Why confess my faults to you, if you are looking at them, if I am in you? Give me whatever you will, and I will be satisfied with it."

44. And after that prayer, you have remained in ecstasy, only giving thanks for what I have granted you by giving you my word. In it is the spiritual sustenance and the blessing for your human being.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. With great tenderness I descend to you so that your spirits may recognize my Law. At this time I have come to show you wide horizons so that you may travel on the path of light, perfection and truth.
2. I do not want you to find yourselves before humanity tomorrow ignoring my Doctrine, following a wrong path that I have never shown you, because I am going to leave you prepared so that you can show the way of truth to those who have not listened to my teaching and you will not go looking for the blind and ignorant to receive the teaching from them, because they will have nothing to teach you.
3. You will be humble and with your gifts you will bear witness to my manifestation to humanity, so that they may invoke my name and give credit to my presence among you in this Third Time. Do not allow your brothers to tell you that you had the false teacher, that you are the ignorant ones who lack virtues and that you are not the strong ones. No, Israel, I do not want that pain to be in my Spirit, nor for humanity to claim your unpreparedness after my departure. I want those who did not listen to me to be moved by the memory that you make of my communication through human understanding and to feed their spirit with my lessons that have been written by my golden pens.
4. I want you, with your counsels, to convert the sinner and with your words of encouragement to conform the one who is depressed and desperate. Man does not live by bread alone, and the charity I leave you for humanity is spiritual. Those will come to you who, possessing material wealth, are lacking in tranquility and health, to them you will also give what I have entrusted to you.
5. Testify for yourselves that you are not mistaken in following me; for after my communication through the spokesmen ceases, you will continue to be the faithful soldiers of this divine cause; of this Doctrine that bears no stain and of which you will not be ashamed to spread it among humanity. You will testify to my truth by your works, I do not want you to make this teaching known to the world by your word alone.
6. I leave my Law written on your conscience so that you can show it to your brothers, so that humanity may be guided by it and no longer stumble on its way.
7. At this time men have come to listen to me, they have received my teaching, the truth that I have come to reveal clearly to you; then they have meditated a lot on how to teach humanity this knowledge that they themselves did not understand from the beginning.

Love one another!

8. You will prepare yourselves, Israel, so that you do not let yourselves be surprised by your brothers; I do not want you to show ignorance to fools, no, my people, you will speak with words of conviction and with confidence in yourselves, you will explain my teachings and the revelations that I have given you at this time and why you are the ones indicated to teach the one who does not know and show him the path of his evolution.

9. The new generations have to look for me, because I will send evolved spirits to Earth and from their early childhood they will ignore the foolish words of the world, because their spirit will make them understand that these teachings are not satisfactory and then they will look for you, my people, so that you can clearly show them my Spiritualist Work.

10. When you rise in prayer, you will remember my words and so on your way you will not be surprised and you will be able to deliver my teaching to everyone who needs it and who asks for it.

11. I am your Father who tirelessly speaks to you so that you may come to understand me, so that after my communication through the human understanding you may feel full of peace and rise up to fulfill your mission full of enthusiasm, obedience and vigor.

12. I do not want the pain of humanity to go unnoticed before you; I want you to feel its neediness, epidemics, plagues and all suffering and that with love you raise your prayer so that it reaches my charity.

13. All the offenses that humanity does to you, they will not have done to you but to me and with their own hand they will be carving the pain for their spirit, but you with patience will receive the contempt because the time will come when everyone will be convinced of my truth and will know that you were not wrong.

14. Many will say, "Why, if God is among us, does He not command that the wars cease?" But you will know how to answer your brothers and you will tell them that, in the instant of divine justice, the Father will allow the proud to destroy each other, but later I will put an end to the strife so that they may receive peace from Me.

15. The word that I have come to entrust to you is light on your path so that in the midst of chaos, you will always travel with tranquility. Recognize, O Israel, that every one of my words has satisfied you, but do not just listen to this teaching out of habit, practice in truth what you learn from your Teacher.

16. See, O Israel, how much my Spirit has to struggle against sin and unbelief. When I contemplate that my children have understood me, my Spirit is filled with joy, I bless you and your obedience comes to the Father like the scent of flowers.

Love one another!

17. I do not want you to cry tomorrow, Israel, and raising your face to infinity, to tell me: The sects and religions have attracted the great multitudes to whom you with so much love gave the light. Yes my children, but they will stir the wheat with the weed. They are the hearts that have not been polished with your word. But truly I tell you, they are intent on breaking the sheep out of the fold with false words. But I am power, and I will make the multitudes see clearly that my Work is as white as the snowdrops.

18. Do not let yourselves be surprised, my people, always live alert and be faithful sentinels, do not be afraid of the words that your own brothers tell you to convince you that you are wrong, remain firm, because I will give great awards to the soldiers who are faithful to my cause, to those who know how to face these difficult times of confusion of ideas, of creeds and religions. You will respect all your brothers in the same way that you respect my Work and you will show the teaching that I have come again to leave you; if men mock you, let them, that the light of my Holy Spirit will come to them and repentance will be in their heart.

19. Be firm and live alert, because difficult times await you: in these times men will come before My Work, trying to search it, but verily I tell you: I will bring you out in advance, this is my will, because if for a moment you will find yourselves wrapped in darkness, I will arise as a bright light to enlighten you and rescue you from the jaws of the hungry wolf and to show you the way of light and truth.

20. I, your Master, have come to make known to you all the great things that surround you and those that you carry hidden in you without you noticing it, because of your lack of spirituality.

21. I want you to come to know all the power with which I have endowed you so that you may do good and ascend the mountain always leaning on the staff of my truth.

22. Life has always been painful for man because he has always ignored many of the gifts that he carries in himself. How could he make use of them while ignoring their existence? I have often surprised men who are despondent and sad, believing themselves powerless to get rid of the yoke that life means to them at this time. And that is why I have come to surprise you greatly with my voice that calls you, with my word that comes to infuse you with faith, courage, joy and hope.

23. Only faith can make the spirit feel strong and that is why with my Doctrine I am igniting the faith of some and encouraging it in others, because you will have to integrate in the future a strong, exemplary, obedient and zealous people of the Law, but their strength will be born, of their faith in my Law.

Love one another!

24. I no longer want to contemplate tears in your eyes, I no longer want to see you bearing the heavy burden of your life empty of spiritual ideals and instead full of worries and material sufferings.

25. Feel yourselves already the beloved children of your Father, learn to request from Me what you need for your good, remember that I am the Divine Comforter, so that in your tribulations you do not let yourselves be overcome by anguish; know that pain should only serve to temper your heart, but not to weaken it, it should leave you purified, but not embittered.

26. Go conquering from the Earth that happiness that will be full in your spirit and that in this world will offer you its first fruits as an incentive for you to continue the journey without fainting.

27. Spiritualized under the inspiration of my teachings to let me manifest fully through your being.

28. Did I not come to give you my body at that time? Then understand that you have it. Let me manifest through you as if I were doing it in my own body, then it will be when you have truly spiritualized and are doing the will of your Father.

29. Open the door of your heart and let me pass so that you may be comforted in your sorrows. I, the owner of beings and worlds, come to you with the humility of a beggar and only the request, my plea, is that you love one another, because with your understanding and understanding you will be loving and venerating me.

30. Every child is a part of my Spirit, therefore, what you do with your fellow human beings, you do with me. Does not the suffering of others afflict you as much as your own? Why do you feel strange if you are the same spirit and the same flesh? You are my work that I created in the beginning so that it would evolve and be perfected through the times.

31. Today, in this Era of great trials, only your faith will make you emerge triumphant, and fervent prayer, which is a powerful key to open the door and start you on your journey, will accompany you.

32. Your work to bring to your brothers the good news of my manifestation in Spirit will be very great. because the humanity of this time is less credulous and less pious; it will present its doubts and its unpreparedness to you and you will have to fight tenaciously, but do not despair if you stumble upon these obstacles, fulfill in your stage and you will see with satisfaction how this world is illuminated with the fraternity and peace so long desired and requested by those who always trusted in the triumph of light over darkness.

Love one another!

33. On this day that is already near, those who inhabit the Earth will be able to appreciate love, as the reason for this life and all the beauties and perfections that the works of love have made in all times. Then you will know why I have come in this age and what is the result of your efforts. meanwhile, others will be in the spiritual valley and from there they will see with ineffable joy multiplied the seed they sowed in this world.

34. Be sensitive to all my inspiration. Be obedient and simple. Let me manifest through your gifts, let me reach your brothers through your being. May your lips speak my words of comfort to the ears of those who suffer and express my wisdom. To those who need light. May your hands serve me to caress and your eyes to look with charity, with tenderness or pity.

35. You need to saturate yourselves with Me in order to do the works that I have taught you and then you will know that Christ is pouring out His truth in all spirits, waiting only for His elevation to manifest his love.

36. If my Doctrine seems strange to you to the extent that you think that knowing Me you have never heard these words, I tell you that your strangeness will be the result of your negligence to penetrate into the depths of what I revealed to you in past times. For that reason this Doctrine will seem strange or new to you, when in fact this light has always been present in your life.

37. Today, your understanding is shaken like a weak boat under a storm, but it will not be shipwrecked, a miraculous force will protect it, each lightning will be a flash of hope in the middle of the night and when at last the storm ceases and the new day arrives as a message of peace, a prayer full of faith, love and gratitude will arise from the innermost depths of your heart. You will feel that your spirit came out strengthened from the trial and you will experience a certain inner illumination that you did not know before, which will allow you to contemplate clearly what had been for you darkness and mystery.

38. Only when you have been transformed will I send you out into the world to spread my message, because until spirituality is true in the disciples, they will know how to give as they received from Me.

39. I also tell you that before sending you to give this good news, I will have healed your wounds and flooded your being with the balm of consolation that I have come to pour out on this humanity.

40. Come and hear this word today. Come to the fountain that overflows in knowledge and in charity, so that you may begin to truly know me, because you do not know me.

Love one another!

41. Every time your lips or your thought says to me: Lord, do not deny me your forgiveness, you are proving your ignorance, your confusion and how little you know me.

42. Tell Me to take pity on your pain? Asking me to have mercy on my children? Beseech Me, to forgive your sins, to Me who am love, mercy, charity, forgiveness and pity?

43. It is good that you try to move those on Earth who have hard hearts and that you try to move to God with tears and supplications those who do not have an atom of charity towards their fellow human beings, but do not use those forms or those thoughts to try to move the one who created you out of love and to love you eternally.

44. Do you understand now why I was telling you that you know very little about Me? Sometimes, when the chalice becomes very bitter on your lips, or the painful trial that lasts to the point of exhausting your strength, you cry out in my name, saying to me: "Lord, take this punishment away from me, do not make me suffer anymore". Oh, humanity, that in your darkness you do not realize that I am not the one who wants to have you in pain, but that you are yourself, the one who carves out the suffering, the one who fills your cup with bitterness, and then you blame Me.

45. Come to this source of light, so that your spirit and your understanding may be enlightened and then you will begin to know me as a Father, as a Teacher and as a Judge, because I, as a tireless Teacher, have been among you, Israel, without contemplating your disobedience and misunderstanding, your lack of meditation and study of my Law. With my Divine Word I make you recognize your mistakes, your weakness and ignorance. I have given you the time to get up and work on the lands that I have entrusted to you as an inheritance.

46. It is the mission that the Master in all times has entrusted to the disciple so that he may reveal himself in the face of the suffering and bitterness of humanity.

47. My Word has patiently spoken to you according to the preparation and elevation of the spirit, but I descend into the world of sin and darkness without defiling my divine light. I come to you so that you may regenerate and when I have claimed you with my Divine Word, you suffer because you have felt that my word has touched your heart so that it awakens your spirit; the word that your matter has heard, has not been to your liking, because your materialism prevents you from knowing the divine intention, the background and the inspiration of each word that I have given you. That is why I tell you: dematerialize yourselves and let your spirit break its chains and be able to rise up to Me, so that it listens to my Divine Word, and matter, through the spirit, can understand what the Master gives you.

Love one another!

48. It is my will that you be the Israelite people who carry in their hearts the seed of divine love and peace. The world is waiting for charity and mercy from your God and, as in the past, it is waiting to be able to contemplate the true disciples of Jesus.

49. Humanity awaits your struggle in imitation of the disciples of the Second Time, but for a moment you have been frightened and when you hear that your brothers tear you apart and slander you by calling you impostors, then you imitate Peter and deny me on the way, you deny the grace with which I have prepared you and you lose it by falling back into your materialism.

50. You have to convince the unbeliever, to lift up the fallen and deliver words of comfort and love to those who are suffering.

51. Men in their free will make the call for unification so that peace reigns on Earth; they seek harmony and want to demonstrate to the world that the light is in them, that they are the ones graced with the power to make peace. And these impostors will want to snatch from your hands the jewel of incalculable value and the Ark of the New Covenant that I have given you under your responsibility, and they want to turn you again into the servants of Pharaoh, into the slaves of darkness, of those who by their misunderstanding find themselves dragging chains of evil, of the selfishness of their own greatness.

52. I have not only spoken to you of the fulfillment of my apostles of the Second Time, and of the fulfillment of Moses, no, Israel, I have spoken to you of the fulfillment of Jesus of Nazareth; He gave you a most perfect example at that time.

53. By the same authority of Jesus I have given you that you may rise up in imitation of him to help your suffering brothers and sisters.

54. I have not given different laws to man, nor different doctrine, nor different ways. It is the same men who have traced the paths along which humanity is walking, but you are on the true path and you are enjoying my love and my light.

55. But do you, people, want the rocks to testify to my presence? No, Israel, for this would be a cause of pain and bitterness for your spirit and matter.

56. It is not my will, chosen people, that you be lost and that humanity does not know you as my disciples, as the teachers of tomorrow. That is why the Master tells you: study and analyze so that you understand my divine intention, so that the world knows and reaches the Tree of Life.

57. Beloved people, this is the moment that you will hear my Divine Word through a spokesman, but of the number of my people there will not be a single spirit missing or left over, 144,000 will be gathered before my presence at the end of 1950, so that you receive the last orders by which you have to guide yourselves to fulfill your delicate mission, to send you to the nations to deliver light, charity and truth and so, by the fulfillment of my chosen ones, the world may enjoy the peace of my Divine Spirit. That is why the tireless Teacher comes to give you one more syllable of his teaching, so that you can study it, analyze it and practice it.

58. My manifestation is of light, of peace and of love for you; I come to teach you the way in which you must regenerate; I come to teach you to transmit through him so that you may feel strengthened with my love. That will be the force that will make you walk with certainty, that will make you the true disciples who will give faithful testimony of my presence to humanity.

59. I come to set you free so that you will no longer be the slaves of sin; I come to give you the light so that you may recognize the truth and form in your hearts a sanctuary in which you may make your faith present to me like a torch, so that your spirit may rise up to Me and be in communion with me.

60. I no longer want you to say to me: "Lord, why are you far from me, why are you not listening to me, why am I lonely on the road?" Beloved people, I never turn away from my children, it is you who turn away from Me, because your faith has failed and you yourselves have rejected me and have closed the doors of your heart to me.

61. The world does not know you and has given you pain and when you cried out to your Father, I gave you the best clothes with my charity, because my mercy is great and I have not let you perish, because I am the port of salvation for you and for humanity.

62. I have fed you with the best delicacies from my heavenly table and I have cleaned your floor so that you may walk in imitation of your Master.

63. I come to leave my word written in your heart so that you may be the children of light who bear witness to my presence among you; so that you may be the staff of humanity and show it the saving boat, so that my light may shine in the darkness and teach the world to rise and to communicate from spirit to Spirit with my Divinity. That is why I have come to prepare you, people, to be the servants of the Third Time, those who give the multitudes the bread of life and the crystal clear waters. Children are lost in this time of perversity, confusion and materialism; the world travels like a blind man, the dead are the life of grace, it is humanity that perishes and gives me to drink once again the chalice of pain. Show them the light of the new day, make them feel my presence and tell them that the Father is waiting for them with open arms.

Love one another!

64. These are the moments in which you will hear my word through a spokesman, but my divine word has to be like an open book before humanity. You will show it written in your heart, in your spirit, as the light that illuminates you, as a torch to guide humanity, because it will come from different paths in search of the fruit that you have received and you will have to give it to lead a life of grace. It is the fruit of the Tree of Life and whoever feeds on it will not perish, for he will bear eternal life. And you, who have fed on this fruit, have to let your spirit rise again and rise up breaking all its chains.

65. Fill your hearts with peace and goodwill. Be the spirits of light who show yourselves to the world as free spirits who have known how to build the true temple to your Lord.

66. I want to contemplate you giving life to the dead, light to the blind, making my message heard to those who have not wanted to listen to me, converting hearts to faith. This is the golden seed that in your hands you must show your Father, that is why I come to lift you up and to give you my teaching, which is a treasure of incalculable value for your spirit, because in my word I have made you feel my peace and with it I have inspired you to travel on this path that is bathed with the light of my Holy Spirit.

67. I have not come to contemplate your faults, only as a Father you have me to give you my word, so that by practicing it you may be regenerated and contemplate yourselves full of my charity; I want to see you clothed in my spiritual pleasures, all illuminated equally with the light of my Holy Spirit, so that unified with love, with faith and goodwill, you may be the strong Israel that makes my Work present to the world. So that they may contemplate in you my messenger, my emissary, the spirit who has truly prepared himself to guide humanity.

68. You are receiving my lessons day after day; I am the Teacher who comes to teach you constantly so that tomorrow you will raise a spiritual song, when you have already been spiritualized.

69. I give you my strength so that you may follow my divine footprint, I enlighten your mind so that you may clearly understand your Father, so that you may correctly analyze my word and the truth that men seek in different ways may be manifested in you.

70. You, beloved people, will carry this message to humanity, so that in the light of the truth it may understand the Law of the Father; because I contemplate it in its great confusions, interspersing in my high judgments, wanting to search in my arcana when it is not prepared, nor has it been able to understand me yet.

Love one another!

71. My Doctrine will be the clean mirror where humanity will contemplate itself, so that with humility and meekness let my word convert you and prepare you to love me, regenerate and love one another.

72. I have given you the banner of my peace, so that you may make it felt to the world, but the peace that I have entrusted to you is that of my Spirit, it is the one that inspires your conscience, the one that is born of my love and with which humanity will become aware of my presence. It is this peace that I have come to give you so that you may feel it fully on your way, the one that I have prepared so that you will not encounter pain, because this, you have prepared it yourself, but your spirit carries great gifts and power so that you may triumph over the suffering that demands and purifies you, because in truth I tell you that it should not be only pain that brings you closer to Me, but obedience to my Law, your good works.

73. You will feel joy when you practice my teachings and thus you will climb the mountain. Understand that you have a delicate mission to fulfill, you have to leave a mark of obedience among humanity, in imitation of your Master, an example of humility so that this may be like a luminous trail and the generations to come may follow your example. You will know how to leave the path prepared for them to penetrate into spirituality. You will be the sowers of the truth so that the world will no longer fall into the abyss, into the hatreds that it has fed through the ages.

74. Prepare yourselves, my people, for the world is hungry to understand my truth. Take comfort to him because his purification is great. But I also tell you that the charity that I have reserved for you in my Arcanum is great, but before you receive it, you must make yourself worthy to deserve it. When you reach your fulfillment, you will contemplate that you carry it in the most intimate of your being.

75. Truly, I tell you, you are no longer the needy, the weak, or the blind, for my light has illuminated you to bear witness to my presence at this time. It is My will that the last ones may find in you a haven of peace, under whose shadow they may come to rest. Welcome them, bring them closer to the source of grace, without contemplating their ignorance or their wickedness and if they come with leprosy, heal them because you carry the balm, and if the murderer comes to you, cover him with your spiritual mantle and make him repent of his faults, so that he can seek the waters that cleanse him of his stain, that redeem him. If these needy of the spirit come to your doors, seeking my word and my light, you will deny them nothing, you will be the servant of your brothers because for this I have prepared you, so that you may give my charity.

Love one another!

76. Thus, everywhere you go there will be the blessing, humanity will recognize me and feel my presence and will carry faith in its heart. Then the world will be able to turn away from its idolatry. Humanity has to seek me spiritually, it has to love each other and nourish peace and goodwill, loving each other, and you are the ones who will carry this teaching, you will be like a ray of light in their darkness.

77. Your struggle is near, you will contemplate that it is the struggle of light against darkness; then you will become the soldiers of my cause, you will raise your banner and you will wield the sword of my word and you will feel that the armies of your Lord are fighting against the darkness of this world.

78. This is the time when I come to enlighten all spirits, when I come to liberate the world from the slavery that for centuries has led and it is necessary to make me feel in this world of evil, hatred and ill will in which wars flourish. It is necessary that he be able to purify himself like gold in the crucible so that he may rise to the life of grace and carry eternal life in his spirit.

79. But the Father says to you: I do not come to exterminate the most precious thing of creation, which is the spirit, no, beloved children, I will only cleanse the world of its evil so that a new humanity may arise, in which the multitudes will feel me and will know how to fulfill my Law. They will love one another, they will eat the fruit of the Tree of Life, they will quench the thirst of their spirits in the inexhaustible Source of Grace and my Holy Spirit will illuminate them like the king star; then you will contemplate that humanity will praise and bless me.

80. You, beloved Israel, are the chosen ones and the ones prepared for you to continue fighting and working so that this world can contemplate the new day.

81. People, you who are the first to set an example, make my Work present as I have entrusted it to you; be the true spiritualists who carry the gifts of the Holy Spirit with all splendor.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 337

1. Blessed are the meek and humble of heart who have not noticed the humility of these places in which I manifest myself, thinking only of providing their spirit with the joy of hearing my word.
2. In truth I tell you that for the brief moments of preparation of these hearts, I send my light and my peace to that raging sea in which humanity succumbs, in the midst of its passions and its wars.
3. How can my Spirit not also feel joy when I contemplate these multitudes who are looking for me in the essence of the message they hear through the speaker? They no longer seek forms, nor rites, they only want to sustain themselves with the bread of the spirit.
4. Eat and be satisfied, spirits, understandings and hearts, so that when you no longer hear this voice, you will feel strengthened and nourished for eternity.
5. The humanized voice of your Master through the spokespersons will cease; but the book of my revelations and teachings will remain open forever before your spirit, as a beacon of inextinguishable clarity.
6. This word that has flooded your spirit with peace, that has brought endless delights to the heart and mind of this people, that has raised the dead to faith and has illuminated the path of all those who have listened, even if you do not hear it again on the lips of my chosen ones, it will be indelible and unforgettable for you.
7. Blessed are those who know how to keep this bread and this wine in the purest and purest of their being, because they will always have something with which to impart comfort, sow charity and make light on their way.
8. Blessed are those who have believed today, for tomorrow they will testify to all that they have heard and seen. You will stay on Earth working for the spiritual awakening and for the peace of your brothers and I will be waiting for you until I take you to the Promised Land.
9. If your memory is fragile to retain the wealth of teachings that I have revealed to you, I will leave you a material book inspired by Me, containing all the essence that at this time I came to pour out on this people. This way your journey will be easier, because my lessons will strengthen you at every step, because you will not have the danger that over time, forgetting what you once heard, you fell into errors, alterations or mystifications.

Love one another!

10. My word will continue to be for this people, a beacon and a star, the spiritual triumph will be of those who are faithful and persevering to the end, of those who do not get caught up in the hunger and thirst of the desert; of those who face step by step their own calvary, always keeping their gaze fixed on infinity, which is light, eternity and the promise of true happiness.

11. The more you lift up your spirit, the less the cross will weigh you down and when I have stopped speaking to you in this way, I will come to you in spirit and say to you: Open your book and study, so that soon you will be the strong disciples that this Work needs to make itself known on Earth. You will open your book and he will answer you, he will put you out of doubt and reveal to you what you were trying to explain to you.

12. Surely I tell you that a day will come when you will no longer need a material book that reminds you at every step of my word, because by then it will flow from your lips like an inexhaustible torrent of inspiration. But for this day to come and for you to achieve that degree of elevation and wisdom, you will first have to study and practice a lot about the written lesson, until you reach the maturity and the essence that allows you to receive from Spirit to spirit the divine inspiration.

13. He will be the Teacher of peace when he contemplates peace in your heart. You, my disciples, will always be recreated with my word and when you are spiritually elevated you will feel my manifestation in your spirit and you will receive my inspiration.

14. You are my chosen people and you must be humble and generous. Walk in the way of the light so that you will not have stumbles or failures, because I am the one who goes before you. He who sleeps for a moment, upon awakening will contemplate that his brothers have advanced on the path of light while he has been lethargic. But I give my word every day to the servant who has not labored, who has allowed himself to be surprised by darkness and has let tares germinate in his heart.

15. Depart, O beloved disciples, from your ways of yesteryear, because in them only pain has surprised you, that is why I will find you naked and hungry, without peace and without consolation for the world, not knowing your destiny or feeling my Father's warmth. But now I have given you a new opportunity and I have entrusted the time for you to be recreated with my word so that in it you may find the redemption of your spirit, that spirit that throughout the ages has been a slave to the passions of matter.

16. You are in the time when the world feeds its third height of evil, in which ambition flourishes and the impiety of those who do not listen to the voice of reason and conscience prevails, but you who are on this path of light, come to receive my word so that you understand your destiny, so that you may rise and prepare yourselves with the love that I have always taught you.

Love one another!

17. You love me very much and you have known how to take advantage of the time, you have become spiritualized, you have bowed to your matter and you have been inspired to work for the progress of your brothers. But there are also many who have not understood me and ignoring reason do not want to feel my peace, nor do they want to carry spiritual greatness in their being.

18. I encourage you with my love so that you do not feel weak, so that by receiving my strength you can affirm your purpose to fulfill my mandates and you will face the problems and vicissitudes that humanity itself will cause you.

19. Do not be afraid of men, watch and pray so that darkness will not surprise you, nor rob you of the grace with which I have prepared you. You will be my emissaries in the various places of the earth. The recognition of my Work has been for you your spiritual awakening. You are no longer idolaters or fanatics, you already know what your destiny and your spiritual mission is and whoever wants to walk this path, loves his brother and has conscience as the guide of his actions and then it will be all light and there will be no darkness in his heart; he will have joy and bring conformity and this will make his spirit rise higher to Me.

20. Everyone who meets on the way, will always be protected by my Spiritual World of light, will be helped by him in the fulfillment of his mission.

21. Be content with the great charities that the Father has entrusted to you for everything that relates to human life on the face of the earth, nor ask for what may give occasion to the perdition of your spirit and matter. I have more to give to you than you have to ask of me, but I am the one who knows what you really need on the way. I have said to you, if you know how to keep my law, you will behold me in all my splendor.

22. The beings of light are among you pushing away the darkness, they will be your protectors who will ensure that you are clean and away from all tendency to materiality, so that you contemplate spiritual beauty and receive their messages of peace for humanity. Elijah is also cleansing and preparing my chosen ones, so that through him I can manifest myself.

23. Take advantage of the short time that remains for you to listen to my word through the speaker, so that you may be enlightened and know how to receive inspiration, because through your spirit I will continue to speak to the great multitudes; my Spiritual World will always be with you; be meek and with courage and firm purpose you will raise your plant without measuring the distances. You will begin your work slowly and in this way you will see how the world is moving away from the fear of punishments and every human tendency; in this way it will receive your testimony.

24. You already know what your mission is and how you should prepare and it only remains for you to know how to communicate spirit to Spirit with my Divinity, no longer through the mind of a spokesman.

25. Then those who recognized me will no longer have confusion, they will feel confidence and faith and will see that the spirit knows how to receive and understand my spiritual manifestation.

26. The precincts that have given you shelter will continue to be meeting places for you, but I tell you, the true temple that will always remain open in eternity is the temple of the Holy Spirit. All generations will come to Him and within him they will receive life and light, peace and blessing from Me.

27. After 1950, you will begin to work to deliver the good news to humanity as I have taught you. That is why I come to teach you so that you can treasure the true light that you will bring to the world. You, as my chosen people, will know how to respect the ideas of your brothers in the different sects and religions and you will know how to unify them in a single will with your struggle. The time will come when my Work will flourish in different nations, in those fields that have remained sterile, so that everyone will know the true essence of my word that I have poured out like crystal clear water in this time.

28. Tomorrow you will be one people, with the same ideal, like a single source to which everyone comes to drink from its crystal clear waters. Watch that the same fruit may savor humanity, this fruit that brings essence and sweetness to the heart and spirit.

29. My Doctrine will prepare you in such a way that everyone who assimilates its essence will learn to relate to his fellow men with a special treatment for everyone, children, young or old, men or women.

30. When I talk to you about special treatment for your brothers, I want you to understand that I am talking about spiritual treatment, because it is necessary that you come to keep in mind every time you relate to your fellow men, that by going to them you are going to communicate with their spirit.

31. Then you will know how to discover in the child a spirit that begins a struggle, that begins a life through a clean heart and a virgin understanding. Your heart, when entering into these considerations, will feel tenderness and charity towards those spirits.

Love one another!

32. When you meet the young man, you will be able to see in his energy, in his illusions and in his ambitions, the presence of a spirit in the fullness of his struggle on Earth, at that time when the spirit fights relentlessly against the passions of the flesh and the dangers that lurk at every step.

33. For the youth, have understanding, know how to help them and watch over them, so that they may come out ahead in the difficult journey of life.

34. Towards mature men and the elderly experience respect and love. In them you will be able to discover the spirit that has already crossed the summit of the mountain of life. What the Earth was to give them, little or much, they already received. They don't expect anything from her anymore. They figure everything in the future that awaits their spirit, but of all men, they are the ones who have to give the most, because they have already reaped the harvest of what they sowed throughout existence. Listen to them, take from them. If they need a staff, care or help, it is not their spirit that has needed your request, it is their tired flesh, worn out by the struggle. Have attention, tenderness and respect for them, because they need and deserve them. After so much bitterness and fatigue, a drop of honey is very pleasant to those hearts.

35. This is how I want you to look at humanity, beloved people: spiritually, so that you may give each of your brothers the value he has and give him the place he deserves. If you forget your essence and continue to treat yourself as material beings only, you will be denying the true value that exists in every human being and that is the spirit.

36. Now that I make my voice heard through my pedestals, I welcome the crowd that shows up to listen to me. I welcome the same fervent man as the unbeliever, the one in good faith as the searcher, the one who has purified himself in spirituality as the one who comes carrying the heavy burden of his materialism.

37. I bless you, beloved people, because up to this day you have shown me the faith and the desire to bring you closer to the perfecting of your spirit. The mission of Israel is to pray for the world and to teach; you have grown and multiplied and from infancy you are becoming disciples, to go later in search of those who in a short time will receive the inheritance of my word.

38. The way in which I have come to manifest myself in this time is different from that of the Second Time, but my purpose is the same: To save humanity, to take it away from that whirlwind that it has encountered in its path and from which it has not been able to get rid. Temptation has been unleashed with all its strength and man has fallen like a weak child and has known great hardships; he pours out his cup of bitterness and in the midst of his confusion he cries out to me, and the Father has been with him. The feces are still in the chalice, but I will help you to endure those pains, which are a consequence of your disobedience. Blessed are you who hear me, for you will be strong! But what will others do when that great pain comes to them? Will his spirit succumb because of lack of faith? The prayer of Israel is to sustain them.

39. I want you to be clean, repentant and quickened by my love. While you have sought your salvation in the world, you have been weak; when you have raised your gaze to Me asking Me, you have received strength; so, if you know where the comfort is, why have you not always sought me, why do you not seek love to destroy hatred and thus put an end to wars? I continue to speak to the world and only Israel hears me and takes responsibility for my words. In him I leave the charges, but also the spiritual pleasures.

40. I have placed my truth and my essence in you so that you may make my word known. I do not want to see fanaticism, ignorance or hypocrisy in you. I want to see my people free, within my laws, as a strong and sincere family that knows how to love and reach out to the needy, that understands the vicissitudes that humanity is going through in this time and intercedes for it. I am preparing you so that you will never say, "My Father, we lacked the light, the knowledge and the strength to fight against falsehood and darkness."

41. I have asked you for an atom of faith to do wonders through you. I have given you proofs of the authority I have given you. You have healed the sick, because you have wrapped him in your love, a word of yours has converted a sinner; you have touched his heart and the light that penetrated him, made him reflect and knowing his faults repented and saved him. Console and give peace, I have told you, and as you pass through the homes you have brought peace and from it not only the beings who inhabit this world have reached, but also those spiritual beings, your brothers, they thank me for the light that the people of Israel has scattered throughout the Universe.

42. You will obtain greater graces when you love one another in spirit and in truth, and have been unified in the fulfillment of my laws of peace and goodwill. When you are prepared in this way, righteous, spiritual laws will spring up from you. From among you there will arise rulers who will change the course of the peoples, but when I have to point out to one of you this position, take it with humility, feeling the great responsibility that I place on you and remember Moses when he rightly led the chosen people, his proverbs, his maxims full of wisdom and justice, and imitate him.

43. I reserve for you great commands in the future, according to your preparation. Your influence will be decisive in the progress of this world. You will preach equality, you will respect the mission that I have given to my children, because they all possess virtues and sacred rights that I have granted you without distinction.

Love one another!

44. In order for you to achieve triumph, you must unite, feel charity for humanity; forgive her, as I have forgiven her. You are going to contemplate innumerable faults, their moral and spiritual diseases, their decay, but you will only give light; your mission is to give, explain my Doctrine and show a good example. The rest you will leave to Me, the great causes that you find in your brothers you will present to me and I will judge those according to my will. After 1950, do not form theories or sciences within my Doctrine, do not make dogmas or rites, just remain in the faith, carry the sign in your spirit and practice the virtues that I have taught you. Gather your strength for the fight, because humanity awaits you. Some of you will go beyond the borders of your nation, others to nearby regions, others more you will return there where you saw the first light in this world. I will disseminate you, but pray and prepare yourselves so that you may know my will and know how to obey it.

45. Rise up in my name. Before speaking, prepare yourselves; when you get ready to work, study your delicate position. I will be your forerunner. When the testimony of my coming in the Third Time is asked of you, speak of what you have seen and heard. By this time you will have studied and analyzed my word and what you have not been able to understand, you will understand then.

46. I am sending you to build in the hearts of your brothers. Your work will have a beginning and an end so that it may be worthy of Me.

47. You will be judged and scrutinized, but when they contemplate in you the ideal of serving, they will bow down to you and they will love you, they will be surprised at your transformation and your spirituality and they will imitate you. Of the teaching that you give, I will be a witness in the Hereafter.

48. I will send great spirits to the Earth to continue the Work and you, according to your merits, will have great spiritual missions. Humanity has sinned greatly and the evil seed has taken deep roots in its heart; therefore the work of purification will be long and patient. The spirits who are to demonstrate the right path are already being sent, it is you who form the people of Israel whom I have placed on a spiritual ladder from where you can elevate humanity.

49. Do not feel superior to each other, my word and gifts are for everyone, so that you understand me in the same way.

50. The Third Time has begun in the year 1866 and you do not know how many years or centuries this Era will last. If the end of the Second Time was nearly two thousand years, you do not know how long the present time will last. Only trust, beloved people, that the Father will communicate with you and will be closer and that you will be transformed every day. If you want to stop fighting, I will encourage you to keep going. it is a tenacious, constant struggle that has given beginning and it will continue. This is my restoration work.

Love one another!

51. I have given you life, I have sent you to this world to fulfill a delicate mission. Fulfill my commands, love me before everything created and serve your brothers, so that you can dwell on a higher scale and be closer to Me every day.

52. You will all dwell with me, when you have purified yourselves and fulfilled your mission. In order for you to have the fulfillment of all my promises, live spiritually on Earth, observing the spiritual and material laws.

53. Leave this inheritance to your children: My word. I have given you the power to create, to form a family, I have granted you a home and I have told you: Fill it with love, warmth and a good example. If you want to see righteousness in your children, obey my laws. They expect from you and if at the present time, they do not understand your advice and examples, the time will come, parents, when they will grant you reason, venerate you and bless you.

54. Today learn from Me, because I have come to seek everyone without exception, you are all my children and you all have the same rights to be loved, blessed, forgiven and redeemed by Me.

55. Here is my word, from it there spring flashes of light that turn away the darkness of every understanding closed to the truth.

56. See how the power of this word is opening the closed doors of your heart so that love and humility, spirituality and faith penetrate into it, making pride, ignorance and sin, which for a long time had dwelt there, come out forever.

57. Truly I tell you, everyone who has listened to me, whether they believe in my word or not, already has a spark of light in their spirit and a door to consciousness has opened in their heart, which they will no longer close.

58. My word will have to fight against the spiritual ignorance that reigns among humanity. While those who know of my new coming believe that my presence will be incarnating my Spirit as in the Second Time, those who know nothing of my return and of my promises are surprised by my presence in spirit and through human understanding, and wonder at every step why I find myself among men again, when they knew nothing about this.

Love one another!

59. It is that humanity has become concrete to its rites, to its traditions and external cults, forgetting to study the Law, the prophecies and teachings that I bequeathed to men in the past times.

60. How could you not be surprised to hear me now, if you were not watching as I instructed you? How could you not be surprised at the presence of my word if you were never interested in knowing my prophecies or the signs that announced my new coming?

61. For these men with no interest in knowing the truth, it is as if nothing I had done or said in the Second Half. It's like I didn't come and I didn't exist. that is why it has been necessary that at this time my word should speak to you about past events in order that you may be able to relate the present events with the prophecies, promises and teachings of the First and Second Times.

62. If all of you had understood my word that I brought to you at that time, all of you would have been waiting for me, all of you would have understood that my new coming would have to be in spirit and no one would have felt surprised at my manifestation, but you arrived with darkness in your mind, with the blindfold of ignorance that prevented you from seeing the light of truth, with a heart full of fanaticism and foolishness, how was it possible that you all said at the moment of hearing me: he is the Master? It was necessary that you listened to me again and again, and again, so that in each lesson your understanding was gathering a new flash of light that would bring you closer to understanding.

63. So without having to turn to anyone or look for books, you were knowing page by page the truth of the revelations of the past times, through which you understood the reason for my spiritual manifestation at this time.

64. Your heart has been calming down and your spirit has been affirming its faith, as you contemplate the firm foundations on which this Doctrine stands, which I have called Spiritualism and which is the Doctrine that tells you about eternal revelations.

65. Disciples: Understand then that if I came to speak to you in spirit through the human mouthpiece, it was so that by ceasing to speak to you by this means, you would continue to seek me in spirit and be able to achieve true communication with my Divinity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 338

1. I am the way and the light that guides you. I am the staff that sustains you and prevents falls on your way. I am the beacon that illuminates your path, strengthening your spirit with the peace of my Divine Spirit, quieting the storms of your life so that you are safe, so that your spirit does not stop.
2. In my word you receive the strength, the warmth and the sustenance that your spirit needs, to rise up and fight as the Master has taught him.
3. My word has served, serves and will serve throughout the centuries, as a crucible to obtain the cleansing of the spirit and for its perfection. Your spirit has gone through different stages of evolution, but it has not yet reached perfection within its works, in the fulfillment of your mission.
4. I have come in the Third Time and communicated through the human understanding in order to show you the way again, preparing you as the disciples of the Third Time. I have spoken to you in the simplest way so that you may understand my word; I have spoken to you figuratively and in parables, but in each of my lessons I have poured its essence into your spirit and I have manifested to you the desire that the Master feels to see in each one of you a true disciple.
5. When will the time come when your spirit will understand the perfect love that the Father has given you through the ages? At this time, your Master's struggle among humanity is great, to rescue all his creatures, all spirits. I come to awaken your spirit as Nature awakens before the first morning rays.
6. Although my word is simple, if you study it, you will find greatness in its depths and you will know how to appreciate the value of each of my words. Look that you are in a school where I regard you as kindergartners, disciples and teachers. According to the scale that your spirit has reached, so you receive from my word what belongs to you. The child simply takes my word and analyzes it, the disciple takes from my lesson the part that corresponds to him and with it he is filled with virtue; he who is prepared as a teacher, takes my word, analyzes it, delights in it, feels in his spirit the desire for fulfillment, to propagate my teachings, to practice the virtues and to develop his gifts.
7. You want to transmit my word to your fellow men, but you have found that many of your brothers are not prepared; you have touched the hearts but you have found the doors closed and they have not given shelter to your words and you have felt the wound because of the contempt of your brothers; but you are well ventured because verily I tell you, so you will be able to understand what your Master feels when touching the heart of humanity and not finding the sanctuary prepared. But my love for all my children is great.

Love one another!

8. That is why I tell you: Do not lose heart in your struggle, persevere, because I will help you and if on one occasion you found the doors closed, tomorrow your hearts will be opened and you will receive my word.

9. Humanity is foolish and obstinate in its sin and I, in love, in forgiveness for each of my creatures who dwell on Earth and in the Hereafter. I love your spirit, because he is part of my same Spirit, but I provide your matter with what is necessary, so that it may be the support of the spirit.

10. The tranquility and peace that you enjoy on Earth is a blessing and a grace that you receive from your Father. But you also raise your spiritual complaint and say to me, "Lord, my matter is poor and ragged," and truly I say to you, Do you think that for this reason I am far from you? Do you think that because your wrapper wears a rag, the presence of your God does not accompany you?

11. The interest I have for you is for your spirit and if you live in this world resigned and content with your poverty, great will be the virtue that your spirit manifests. Remember that your Teacher has taught you humility and the merits that the spirit can achieve through this virtue. You should only have on your lips a blessing and a glorious song for your God, because truly I tell you: The prize is not on Earth, beloved disciples, it is in the Hereafter. Here I will not give you the glory, here is not paradise, here I have prepared for my chosen a sweet restitution.

12. Blessed are you who suffer with peace and resignation because you will be taking firm steps on the way. The Master has taught you not to covet the riches of this world, not to desire the passing treasures of this life and if you live in a humble hut but your spirit knows how to develop the gifts that I have given to him, you will be able to feel happier than a king or potentate of the Earth in the most luxurious mansion.

13. I have spoken to you in a parable to teach you to live in harmony with your Father on this planet, so that you may know how to fulfill his commands because your destiny is written in my love.

14. This life has served you so that your spirit can reach elevation with the resignation and with the light that you have received from Me.

15. You have gone through different stages of evolution; from the first you have begun to prepare yourselves to reach the fulfillment of your delicate mission; in the second you have found greater progress, greater lucidity in your spirit; in the third you have brought greater advancement, greater understanding to my word and greater fulfillment to it. You reached the fourth stage and felt even more the grace of your God, the approach of my Spirit to you, and your spirit in that great joy reached the fifth stage in which you had to carry greater development in your fulfillment; you struggled and thus you reached the sixth stage, new fulfillment, new progress and development of the virtues that your God has given you, and thus you will reach the seventh stage where you will contemplate the kingdom of the Father, where your spirit will feel the glory of God and where you will be at the right hand of your Lord.

16. My word descends to inspire your spirit, because I want that tomorrow through your preparation you will continue to recreate with the presence of my Divine Spirit, because if you are prepared, you will not feel orphaned, you will not feel the absence of my word, because your spirit will be able to communicate with my Divinity. That is why I wanted you to prepare yourselves in time, to practice prayer and to carry spirituality in your heart, so that tomorrow you will not be confused or practice imposture. I want you to know how to raise your spirit to Me so that you may receive my inspiration because I am going to turn each one of you into my pedestal.

17. Pedestal is the base where the light and strength of your Lord rests, then you, my children, tomorrow you will be the true pedestals, the true spokesmen of my word. Prepared with the development of your gifts, you will deliver my word with all clarity, I do not want to contemplate ignorance among my people of Israel after this precious time of my communication through human understanding has passed for you.

18. After 1950, who among you will be unaware of this divine Cause? If you do so, it will be out of ignorance and ignorance is what I am keeping from you, because the one who is enlightened will not retreat, he will remain firm and will progress on the path, but the one who has not understood me will recognize that it was the fruit of his unpreparedness, of his lack of faith and spirituality and for that reason he will return to his idolatry and his fanaticism.

19. If you contemplate imperfection on this path, do not attribute it to my Divinity, I am perfect. Attribute it to your fellow man who has not been able to prepare himself to guide you with the perfection with which I have taught you.

20. I have told you: for my Spirit there are no nationalities, there are no castes or lineages, there are no races or colors. You are all my children and to all I have opened my arms and to all I have received. I have received the one who has come contrite and repentant before my word, the heart that has been perverted, who still brings with him the stain of blood on his hands and I have defended him from the justice of the earth. Why?

Love one another!

Because he is my son and if he has been the staunch sinner on earth, if he has killed, I have forgiven him and I have said to him: Do not sin again. I am forgiveness, but this forgiveness I want to serve you forever.

21. I want you to leave your evil ways, that each one understands my word and repents of his mistakes; that you be repentant sinners in my presence, that you atone in silence and I will not publish your sins, I will not betray you my children, I will advise you as the most faithful of your friends. Do not take the forbidden fruits on earth, do not take what does not belong to you, do not do deeds that dishonor you in life. Be the man or woman who lives with all honesty and righteousness, as I have taught you, that if a weakness caused you to sin, repent now of your fault. Let my charity cleanse you, but I want your repentance to be of a clean heart.

22. Amend yourselves, regenerate yourselves, for the Master has told you at this time: I come to serve the sinner, but not the obstinate one, but the repentant sinner and when you have repented, what have you received? Peace, spiritual tranquility, tranquility in your spirit, graces and virtues of your God.

23. What man is capable of giving you a moment of spiritual peace as I come to give it to you every moment? What man advises you like I do? See that there is no one capable on Earth who steers your path with as much certainty and virtue as I do with you and even so, you still want to turn away from this path to go after new adventures.

24. Men and women who have suffered the absence of your relatives who have disembodied, of those who lived with you, gave you peace of mind and filled your heart with love, are you not satisfied that I have done my will in those your loved ones? The mothers have felt the loss of your children, the children have been orphaned in life, you have lost the presence of your dearest ones who were your parents. The wives have seen their faithful companions depart, I have separated them from your life, I have called them to the Hereafter and do you want to intercede in my high judgments? No, because you must recognize that you are passengers in this world, that if I have called them, it is because I have prepared a new life for them. But conformity comes to your hearts and if you mourned the absence of yours, it was because of the weakness of your matter, but your spirit that has understood my most holy will has felt joy.

25. The Father tells you, know how to abide by each of my commands with love, with conformity and peace that one day not too distant your spirit will also penetrate into the Afterlife and contemplate those spirits who disembodied before you. You are still inhabiting this planet and in truth I tell you: the same fate awaits you, but in this life full of strength, light and peace so that you may continue living righteously in this world and when I call you, your eyes will be opened to that new life and you will go to start a new path.

Love one another!

26. Blessed is the one who is ready because he will come out of his purification and will contemplate a new life on his way.

27. Turn away from the world, raise your gaze to Me and be delighted with my presence. let my word be impressed on your heart so that you may be strong and do not let temptation take away from you what I have entrusted to you with so much love. Fulfill the Law so that you may be the true spiritualists, because you have slept through the ages and I have come to wake you up and if you have a purpose to be with me, you will not feel the weight of your guilt.

28. I come at this time to receive the fulfillment of my labors and to leave in his spirit my love and my message of peace, the spiritual blessing. I want you to be the mirror for others, for those who deny my presence among you, those who do not believe in my communication through human understanding.

29. My Spiritual World protects you and is the staff in your life, but when you penetrate the darkness, they make their cry present to me, because you forget that they are the ones who guard you. but I come as a Father to give you the advice, as a Teacher the teaching and as God my blessing and my charity, I look at the disciples in the hope of reaching Me and I tell you, that whoever wants to be with me must be obedient.

30. I have taught you so that you may understand and penetrate spirituality.

31. My manifestation through the human understanding is going to end, but when you understand my teachings, you will feel unified in thought and in will and you will love each other unified in thought and in will and you will love each other.

32. Short are the days when you will still hear my word through the human understanding and it is necessary that you understand me, so that you carry the essence of this word in the depths of your heart. I have come to you, tomorrow you will have to rise spiritually to reach Me.

33. After the completion of my communication through the human understanding, the teaching that I have been giving you will resonate in your being. You will feel the nostalgia for the absence of this manifestation and then you will mourn your lost time if you did not know how to take advantage of what in my Doctrine I have come to deliver to you.

Love one another!

34. I called you at this time, beloved people, to take preparation and if you discard this opportunity, I will let you continue on your own path and I, meek and humble, will follow in your footsteps and when you fall I will lift you up sweetly and lovingly and after your long walk I will draw you back to Me.

35. I have raised you on a higher rung than humanity stands; I have given progress to your spirit so that in imitation of your Master you will descend to humanity to raise it up as I have done with you. Do not look at the speck in the eye of your brothers without first looking at the beam that is in you. Understand these words, people, because humanity has not yet understood them.

36. You will form my temple, it will be the union of the clean spirits, the spirits of good will who love and serve their God. They will be the spirits of light who will no longer harbor evil, because darkness will not find a place in those spirits, because they will be clean as the snow cones.

37. I have told you: you will be part of my armies that will fight greatly to free humanity from its darkness and by your obedience you will reach the scale of perfection. You will be able to do many good works if you are meek, humble and full of faith in your Father, because I will manifest myself through your understanding, because I have given you great gifts and have poured out on you in light, grace and wisdom.

38. I have enriched you so that you may give of this wealth to the needy, because you will not be the selfish ones who want everything only for yourselves, because if you did so you would be deprived of my charity.

39. The prophecies will be fulfilled and when humanity is in its confusion, in its darkness, you will show it the light and manifest my presence in yourselves.

40. Understand Me people, I speak clearly to you, I receive you sweetly, come to quench your thirst, I am the source of living water, rest in Me who am peace and take pleasure in Me who am perfect wisdom.

41. Behold, humanity, that it is necessary that the pain be with you so that you may feel me, but do not blame your Lord for these manifestations, blame yourselves. When suffering came to you, you said to me, "Lord, why are you punishing us?" And you do not recognize the fruit of your deeds to say to me, "Lord, we have sinned, forgive us."

42. When humanity knows how to lead itself in my way, it will have been saved and everyone will love their God and Lord and will love each other. That is why I tell you: store my teaching in your heart, carry my wisdom in your spirit and give it to humanity on all roads as I have come to give it to you, help it to climb, lift it up with the strength that I have entrusted to your spirits.

Love one another!

43. I give you shoes on your plant so that strengthened you will meet and thus penetrate all the roads and deliver my light; you will go in my representation because I have made a pact with you to fulfill this blessed mission and when you come to Me, you will present me with your harvest.

44. Again I will recreate myself with your spirit, showing you the teaching that you have to learn because you have to learn because you have to practice what I as a Teacher have come to teach you.

45. You make me aware of your obedience and the effort that you carry in your heart to imitate me and that makes you understand my divine word. It is my will that you be prepared to be the true emissaries of my word, so that humanity awakens and feels me at the bottom of its heart, so that it contemplates the way and walks along it and is in harmony with me.

46. You have gone through various trials and in them you have not been weak because my strength has remained in you; I, as Father, encourage you with my word and I show you the moment in which I am going to entrust to you the charity that humanity has needed. You will go on my behalf, bringing to your brothers the bread of life and the light of my Holy Spirit so that they may come out of their darkness.

47. I will use the spirits that I have cleansed and purified, to whom I have given light to their spiritual eyes so that they may see my presence in this Third Time, to you, whom I have prepared with my word so that you may give the testimony of my presence in your heart.

48. You came needy, without any good in my presence, but I have prepared your spirit, I have clothed him with the light of my Holy Spirit and I have poured out my pleasures among you so that you may go before the needy and share the wealth that I have entrusted to you.

49. That is why I have prepared and purified you greatly, to serve you, of those who had turned away from evil and falsehood, of those spirits in whom, by listening to my word, my light has penetrated, enlightened them and made them recognize where the true God is and for this reason you have turned away from the confusion that the world has led in its false doctrines, in which humanity seeks me because it has not recognized that its God is not manifested in the materialism of its works.

Love one another!

50. You lift up your spirit and communicate with me from spirit to Spirit, but to achieve this communication it is necessary that you carry my Divine Law engraved in your heart, so that by this spirituality you can be in communion with me. I tell you: when I cease to speak to you through the human understanding, I will not depart from your spirit, I will dwell in you, because this is necessary to manifest myself through you to humanity.

51. It was my will that you should be the first to sit down at this table; it was my most holy will that you should be gathered and gathered close to Me, to inherit and convert yourselves from the needy into the rich who possess the treasure of my word. In this way your spiritual eyes have contemplated the light of a new day, because you are the disciples of the Third Time whom I have prepared so that later you may testify of my presence to humanity, so that you may speak of my Law with all truth and wisdom, so that you may preach the gospel of my love, and with your works make my presence felt to humanity, so that repentance may penetrate into their hearts for their past faults and mistakes; may he leave his false gods and know how to find his true God and through you obtain comfort and hope for the times to come in which my prophecies will be fulfilled.

52. In your path the darkness will rise to envelop men, but not you, because you carry my light in your spirit and heart, you can no longer be enveloped in the darkness of the world that obscures minds and obfuscates men, making them not listen to the voice of their conscience. But this is the fight that I entrust to you because in your hand I have placed a sword of light that will illuminate the caverns of darkness.

53. You will see how men in their need continue to bow down to their false gods, but the light of my word will penetrate to the innermost depths of their hearts and they will feel the presence of my Spirit.

54. The multitudes will rise up and purify themselves so that they may receive my message through you, because the Father comes seeking the salvation of the spirits and it is necessary that they first wash and purify themselves so that they may receive my charity. Some will rebel because they are full of ambitions, because they have ruled over the multitudes and their spirits have been darkened and confused.

55. You will hear how your brothers will deny the veracity of my messages through you and will say that you are the false ones, the imperfect men who cannot carry my presence in yourselves in the most intimate of your being, because they are the ones who want to contemplate me as one more king of this world.

56. In the Second time I reigned full of humility to deliver my Doctrine to men, but they did not believe in the coming of the Only Begotten of the Father. So at this time your brothers will deny that you are my messengers, my chosen ones in whom I have poured out my pleasures so that you may make my Work known with all clarity, because they will look at you humbly and they will know that you were part of confused men, that yesterday you were also in the mud and iniquity. But you will tell them about my love and invite them to receive me into their hearts so that they too can find the port of salvation.

57. In this way you will go along the roads and when you have spoken greatly, when you have tirelessly manifested my love and my charity for humanity, when you have shown them the true worship that they must elevate to their God, then this humanity will contemplate my unleashed judgment and the great purification of humanity will begin until it is clean and pure as gold in the crucible. Their iniquity will end with fire and the powerful will recognize that my power is greater than theirs and that my justice is above all their laws; their hatreds will be exterminated and abolished, because my love will be the fire that will purify the heart of humanity and then the great multitudes will feel my presence and it will be, Israel, when your work, your labor will begin to flourish, the lands will be fertile and my seed will multiply one hundred times one.

58. Your struggle will continue even after you have left your matter, your spirit will continue to lead the life of my Holy Spirit, life of grace, eternal life and you will be imitating my angels working so that the coming generations will be men of good will who love each other and nourish my peace and glorify their God with their works.

59. Today humanity is in chaos, it sleeps in a deep sleep, it has not felt me, it does not listen to me and few are those who are awake feeling the presence of their Lord, but humanity will come to understand that it is the time when it must be spiritualized to reach the summit of the mountain, because they will receive the light of the Holy Spirit to come out of their darkness.

60. The time of their confusion is coming to an end, the reigns of this world will tremble and contemplate that their foundations are false and in this way my will will be made felt. But it is up to you to prepare the world, because it is my will that men, women and children hear the good news. To those who have wept and waited for comfort, give it, show them the truth in the depths of your heart.

61. The pain that you have suffered for my sake, I bless and sanctify it because everything that you suffer for my sake, will dignify you eternally.

62. I give strength to your spirit and I leave in your hands weapons of light so that you overcome the lurks that temptation will raise as a barrier, and thus you will move forward in pursuit of the Kingdom that I have promised you.

Teaching 339

1. You come to Me with the spirit prepared, full of humility and meekness, to knock at the doors of the one who is eternal love and forgiveness for his children and you wait anxiously for a word that mitigates your pains, that answers your complaints or that makes light in your darkness, to feel happy.
2. I contemplate you coming from different paths, each fulfilling a different destiny, but all in pursuit of the same end, seeking to identify with me, to feel close to perfection. And you joyfully receive my word, which at the same time caresses and corrects you; you are interpreting it in its true sense and you begin to love me with purity. You no longer fear Me as you did in other times, because today you know that I am perfect love and justice, that I do not punish you, and that it is from you that you should fear, because you weaken and fall into serious mistakes that later you have to mourn and repair at a very high price, and this experience makes you live watching to avoid the stumbles that disturb the spirit and cause bitterness.
3. Anyone who understands this is right. You are not doing works of the utmost perfection, but you are on the way to doing them because you are my disciples. The light has dispelled your doubts, strength has overcome weakness and confidence leads you to give yourselves with true love to the fulfillment of your destiny.
4. You are penetrating insensibly into the spiritual path, into the life of simplicity and purity that I have asked you for and you feel satisfied in this new life; you no longer wonder why I have returned to you or if perhaps my word points out a new path for you; today you know that what I told you in the Second Time, was not all that; that the lesson was not concluded and that I had reserved for you a time of grace in which I would resume my teachings, to show you the way that leads to spiritual life, true communication with me and the explanation of my words given at that time when I dwelt among you and that have not yet been understood.
5. Meditate and you will come to understand that neither in the First nor in the Second Time, you were able to understand, feel and believe such a great lesson, but the Father who owns time and eternity, has led you by the hand along the path of life, with great patience and wisdom, without any haste, and today you have penetrated into a new Era.
6. Behold, the time of the Holy Spirit, about to reach its fullness, the time of the great revelations and justice, in which the veils of many mysteries will be broken to be all light and clarity!

Love one another!

7. I have opened your eyes so that you may go beyond what you have known and be able to penetrate my Arcanum, because I, the Father, am not a mystery to my children. I want to be known and loved by you perfectly and fully, as I love you. I have not yet been loved and revered as I should be, and you do not know how much joy you would give to my Spirit for a moment of understanding and abiding by the Law.

8. Since your advent to Earth you have had my manifestations within the reach of your understanding, but your understanding when you took the first steps on the path of evolution, was very small, as a child is small when he is born; I had to limit myself to be seen, and to be heard, so that you could understand me.

9. I did not fully manifest myself in the early times because your reason would have been troubled and your whole being would have felt brokenness. That is why I have prepared you through long ages, and I have put you at the beginning of the way, to walk it step by step, and thus you will reach this stage in which you will be able to understand and love your Father better.

10. At all times I have sent emissaries to this world who have spoken of the survival of the spirit, of its immortality and of the higher life that it reaches when it has reached perfection, since the first days in which man inhabited the Earth showing signs of innocence, as in those of the greatest sin, and now in these of materialism and false science, my spiritual messengers have given evidence of the high degree of elevation in which the spirit lives who has known how to keep in constant communication with his Lord.

11. But the emissaries of the first times did not know how to explain to humanity the great stages that the spirit goes through and its life in the Afterlife. The patriarchs, who knew how to preserve themselves in virtue, in love for their Creator, were determined to lead their family, their tribe or people, along the path of justice and righteousness, and although they had the knowledge of the existence of their spiritual, universal God, the intuition of a higher life for the spirit in the Hereafter, with all its light and virtue, they could not reveal the path of evolution of the spirit and the reason for its great trials.

12. The prophets spoke with great truth, they almost always came to Earth in times of confusion and deviation, admonishing the peoples, inviting them to repentance and amendment, announcing great trials of justice if they did not turn to good, and other times predicting blessings for compliance and obedience to the divine Law. But what those prophets spoke of was an exhortation to the practices of goodness, justice and respect for one another. They did not come revealing the life of the spirit, its destiny and its evolution; not even Moses himself, whom I chose to make my representative and through him I gave the Law for all time, spoke to you about the spiritual life.

13. The Law of the Father contains wisdom and justice, teaches man to live in peace, to love and respect one another, and to become worthy before Me, as men; but Moses did not show humanity what is beyond the thresholds of bodily death, nor what is the restitution of disobedient spirits, or the reward for the prudent and zealous of their mission.

14. Then David reigned, full of gifts and inspiration and in his moments of elevation, in his ecstasies, he listened to hymns and spiritual songs with which he formed the psalms with which he would invite the people of Israel to pray and to give to their Lord the best offering of his heart. And David, with all his love and inspiration, could not reveal to the people the wonderful existence of spirits, their evolution and their goal.

15. And Solomon, who succeeded him in the reign and who also demonstrated the great gifts of wisdom and power that had been granted to him, for which he was loved and admired, and even today his counsels, his judgments and proverbs are remembered; if his people had approached him to ask, "Lord, what is the spiritual life like? What is beyond death? What is the spirit?" Solomon, with all his wisdom, could not have answered.

16. But truly I tell you, Moses with his zeal and obedience, the prophets with their warnings, the patriarchs with their examples, the counselors, the wise men and the judges with their sound counsels and their good judgments, left you an example, so that following him you could make your first steps firm from this Earth on the way to the promised Land of the Hereafter. You should have started by practicing good on this world, you had to be righteous among yourselves to find justice on earth. Here you found the fruit or the harvest of your tillage. This dwelling was for man in those times a reflection, an image of the eternal life of the spirit.

17. Later the Messiah came becoming a man, to open a new time and give humanity a new lesson in which he had to make great revelations to tell him: "You are the children of light and I make you my disciples". "Truly I tell you, whatever you see Me doing, you can do in the name of the Father." And in truth the Messiah, in whom my Spirit was manifested, brought the key to open the doors of the Second Age and the power to untie the seals that closed the Book of Life, wisdom, justice and eternity.

18. Since before his advent I allowed the world of men to be visited by the Spiritual World. Spirits of light and great elevation and also those of little spirituality stirred around the Master. Some and others were present at that time, the first manifested themselves as humble servants full of submission, among them was the one who announced to Mary his high destiny of conceiving in her most pure womb the Word of the Father. Another visited the shepherds of Bethlehem to give them the news of the Savior's birth, and yet another emissary warned the holy family of the danger that threatened it and guided and protected them in their flight to Egypt.

Love one another!

19. Many manifestations were looked at at that time with joy and faith of many, and others, reluctant and unbelieving for the spiritual life, doubted and denied this truth; but my spiritual hosts that were unleashed, were attracted by the light that the Master radiated.

20. Beings of light at the service of the divine Work and other rebels and ignorant arose everywhere, and the possessed appeared among that humanity, whom science did not succeed in freeing and were repudiated by the people. Neither the doctors of the Law, nor the scientists, succeeded in restoring those sick to health.

21. But everything was ready for Me, to teach you and give you proofs of love and I granted you through Jesus the healing of those creatures, to the amazement of many. The unbelievers, those who had heard of the power of Jesus and knew of his miracles, were looking for the most difficult tests to make him hesitate for a moment and prove that he was not infallible; and this liberation of the possessed, the fact of returning them to their state of normal beings by just touching them or looking at them or directing a word of command to them, so that those spiritual beings would abandon their mind and one and the other would be free of their heavy burden, confused them. To this power, the Pharisees, scientists, scribes and publicans had different reactions. Some recognized the power of Jesus, others attributed his power to strange influences, others were right to say nothing; but the sick who had been healed blessed his name; some had been possessed by a single spirit, others by seven like Mary of Magdala, and others by such a large number that they themselves claimed to be a legion.

22. Throughout the life of the Master, spiritual manifestations followed one another, some were seen by the twelve disciples, others by the people on the roads, in their homes. It was a time of wonders, of wonders. Men and women perceived signs and voices from Beyond; the elderly and children were also witnesses of these manifestations and in the days before the death of the Redeemer, the heavenly light penetrated the heart of humanity, the beings of the spiritual valley, called the hearts of men and the day when the Master as a man breathed his last, and his light penetrated all the dens and all the enclosures, in the material and spiritual abodes, in search of the beings who had been waiting for him for a long time, materialized beings, disturbed and sick, lost on the road, bound with chains of remorse, dragging bundles of iniquity and other spirits who thought they were dead and were attached to his body; they all came out of their lethargy, and rose to life; but before leaving this Earth, they went to testify of his resurrection, of his existence, to those who had belonged to them and with all this, the world witnessed these manifestations on that night of mourning and mourning. The hearts of men trembled and the children wept before those who had long since died and that day returned only for an instant, to bear witness to that Master who, having descended to Earth to spread his seed of love, at the same time cultivated the spiritual fields inhabited by countless spirits, also his children, and healed them and freed them from their ignorance.

23. The knowledge of these truths spread from one generation to another, and the apostles went along the roads of the world opening the eyes of that sleeping humanity, showing the path that leads to a higher life, opening the gap to the Afterlife and teaching the Doctrine of their Master. They also freed the possessed, healed the sick not only of the body, but of the spirit. They knew how to relieve and look with pity both those who inhabit this world, and those who live in a distant world, they felt the pain of one and the other, because for the one who loves there is no alien pain, nor distant; the one who prepares knows how to perceive the complaint, the supplication or need, wherever they are found; and these disciples taught others, so that they would succeed them in the fulfillment of their mission on Earth.

24. I allowed these manifestations so that the world could meditate and know that the spirit does not die, that his life is eternal and that in whatever dwelling he inhabits, he has his path traced, his duties have been pointed out to him and he has one more mission to fulfill in front of him.

25. I myself returned after the crucifixion to bear witness to my truth and overcome the unbelief of humanity and even among my disciples I had to present myself to prove that I am life and my life is in all creation. I made those followers of mine see me and their fingers palpate me to make them come out of their sorrow, because there was confusion in them after my Work on Golgotha was consummated and it was necessary that my presence comfort and revive them. But this was not the whole meaning of that fact, it was a foretaste of my new coming, a lesson of profound meaning that I gave to you by appearing in Spirit to the amazement and joy of those beloved disciples. Then they knew that there would come a time when I had to come to them in a spiritual way to explain everything and to bring you a new message.

26. This is what I said to you at that time: "What I have told you is not all that I am going to teach you. So that you may know everything, first I will have to leave to send you the Spirit of truth, to clarify what I have said and what I have done. I promise you the Comforter in times of trial." And that Comforter, that Explicator, I am Myself who return to enlighten you and help you to understand the past lessons and this new one that I now bring to you.

Love one another!

27. I am the one who has opened the Third Time so that you, penetrating into deep study, may know the reason for all my manifestations and the knowledge of my revelations.

28. In the Second Time, during the years that I lived in this world, I was surrounded by events, facts and supernatural creatures, and all this spoke of the importance of that stage, of the realization of my promises, made since the beginning of time to Humanity, very beloved; and now, that I bring you one more lesson and make you know the spiritual life, I come to give you faculties and gifts so that you become spiritual doctors and be on that path, tireless sowers, teachers of true wisdom and for this mission I have chosen first of all the people of Israel so that it is this, the one who teaches other peoples.

29. Today's humanity, as great as you consider it in number, is very small compared to the world of spiritual beings that surrounds it, and with how much force those legions invade the paths of men and they do not perceive, do not feel or hear that world that is stirring around them.

30. I prepare you, my disciples, to make light in every spirit, to be of one another, true friends, brothers, counselors and doctors, and your intuition will tell you who is close to you and what are their needs, their mission or restitution. But you, engaged in this great Work, will respect and love the destiny that I have indicated to each being and will not penetrate sciences that will cause you to descend from the high place in which my charity has placed you.

31. You are no longer ignorant. Today you are walking firmly, because long ago you began your work. From the days of the patriarchs and the prophets, and later in those of Moses, in which you were guided and wisely advised, all your actions, prayers and words, are written and have their reflection in the spirit. They were the beginning that made you worthy to receive my first great revelations and also my advents.

32. My communication at this time will not be sterile, and for those who have heard me and have taken advantage of my teaching, it will be a treasure in fruits of good taste. When I cease to manifest myself through man, I will leave my witnesses, my disciples, who will continue to work, and then, from the bosom of this people I will cause new generations of sowers to sprout, who will multiply this seed.

33. I invite you to return to the happy days of the patriarchs. Imagine for a moment you making a virtuous and simple life like the one in which peace, goodness and sweetness reigned. Recall the fortunate times in which man, by his faith and virtue, knew how to keep himself healthy and strong in spirit and matter, and knew how to represent me in justice, in energy and in strength; those times when the woman was also full of virtues, tenderness, moral strength, beauty in her spirit and in her body, she was a lap and cradle, a wellspring of kindness and an example of piety for her children, husband and father.

34. Remember those times when the roof of some was extended to shelter others, when there was hospitality and charity, love and respect. When you live those days again and you make yours the desire to love and serve your neighbor, to make the peace of your people, the peace of your heart and your home conducive, I will invite other peoples to participate in that joy and there in your company they will find brotherhood and friendship, in your heart, sincerity; under your roof they will find honesty and morality, at your table blessings and in your word light and truth, and after those peoples longing for peace, have penetrated into your bosom and participated in your spiritual ideal, they will return to their lands, by their long or short paths, carrying a footprint, an example of spirituality and truth. The desire to imitate you will arise in them because among you they have found the secret of peace, of health, of the joy that you have found in the fulfillment of my laws, and in spirituality, which is simplicity, elevation and truth in all acts.

35. Do you see this humanity struggling in its uncertainty and in its pain? Do you feel that blanket of sadness, of sad omens that envelops your planet? The Master tells you: that world that has no knowledge of my new coming, nor does it live inspired by my word, how distant it feels from the spiritual life, but it will also suffice for its enlightenment, a test, a call, so that it turns and recognizes that the only mission that its spirit brings to Earth, is that of perfecting itself through the tests that I send it.

36. Many will penetrate this great truth, until they have left their body on earth and cross the thresholds of that valley that awaits everyone. Humanity is one step away from that knowledge. The veils will be torn and everyone's eyes will be opened to find themselves in front of the arcanum, and this world that you contemplate so great, its vast continents, its seas as extensive as its deserts too, its roads so long, its men so impenetrable to you, its races so incomprehensible, will be overcome by a doctrine, by a word, by a revelation, but this will not leave traces of blood, of death or of pain.

37. Man will be enlightened, by a word that he will devour like fire, but that fire will be of love and the trail that he will leave in his wake will be of life, of health, of comfort and of peace. This Doctrine is my Law, my Word and my eternal Work, which I once again offer to my children and will emerge with strength from the hearts of all, because it is written in every spirit and its seal is indelible.

Love one another!

38. What will be the beginning of this work and how will this knowledge come to men? I have arranged everything in a perfect way, a large part I take on my own; but I make you and my spiritual hosts partakers of this Work, as well as my envoys, to whom I have entrusted countless missions, so that you may rise up as legions of light to bring this revelation and explanation of the spiritual manifestations that have been verified in the past times and in the present era, in which very few have glimpsed their transcendence, and that light will reach everyone without distinction of classes or races, because you will not stop for fear of judgment or punishment of unbelievers.

39. I will give you the order to get up to work, because it will be a time of such great and so clear signs, that you will hear the voice of the Spiritual World and the voice of this world that with its events will be signaling that the hour of your struggle has arrived, I will speak to you from Spirit to spirit and I will guide you on the way; but I want that before you reach humanity as teachers, you arrive as doctors, and once you have calmed her sorrow, she will be able to drink from the fountain of pure waters of my word. Seek first the wound, the sore or disease and heal his pains so that later you can reach his spirit.

40. Go to your brothers like Jesus in the Second Time, carrying before my word, the balm and What is the balm, O disciples? Is the water of the springs blessed and transformed into medicine for the sick? No, people, That balm of which I am speaking to you is in your heart, there I have deposited it as a precious essence and only love can open it to sprout like a torrent; when you want to pour it on someone who is sick, it will not be your hands that anoint, but the spirit flooded with love, charity and consolation, and wherever you direct your thoughts, the miracle will work.

41. On the beings and elements of Nature, you can act in multiple ways to bring comfort to everyone. But I also say to you, Do not be afraid of diseases and be patient and merciful with everyone. As for the possessed and the confused in their human mind, you can also cure them, because you have that faculty and you must put it at the service of those beings who have fallen into despair and oblivion. Set them free and manifest this power to the unbelievers. It is one of the great missions of this people: to bring light where there is darkness, to break all slavery and all injustice and to prepare this world to contemplate its Lord and to look at itself, at its interior, with full knowledge of the truth.

42. To those who, believing that they belong to this world, live troubled and confused in their spirit, help them with love to get out of their great error. Do not use violence, but fill your heart with tenderness and compassion to treat all beings.

Love one another!

43. Have you not brought light and comfort to those troubled beings? Yes, the Master tells you. Since I gave you this knowledge, you have illuminated the path of those creatures, but how great must be your faith and prayer for you to convert those spirits.

44. The struggle in which the darkness will be defeated has already begun from one world to another, the great battle is in the Universe and it is necessary that man be convinced of it so that he can wield his weapons. While the world is preparing and entering the final test that will give it the light, pray, watch and bring the balm to all those in need. Go to them in your prayer and protect them under your spiritual mantle, that when you are pouring out your being in love, I will be enveloping the entire Universe in my Spirit.

45. Pray, people, do not give up for a single moment at the approach of my departure, strengthen yourselves in my word and watch over the peace of the nations.

46. Do not even try to know who you were yesterday and who you will be tomorrow, just think that you were, that you are and that you will be, and that you will come to Me by the path that I have traced for you; that you are the spirit of Israel, the chosen people to hold high positions within my Work. Work for you to achieve peace on earth and glory in the Hereafter.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 340

1. With love and charity I come to remind you of my words that I gave you in the Second Time, in which I taught you to love one another, leaving clear traces of my love on your path.
2. I taught you to love your God before everything created, but in this Third Time I come again after your spirit, to give him my love, my light and my charity.
3. Do not leave my lap, because you do not know what tomorrow will grant you and I do not want you to find yourselves weak by that time. You are the chosen people who will rise up showing the world the right way and delivering to it syllable after syllable of the teaching that I have come to entrust to you. But my Work is not just another religion, it is men who have formed religions according to their intelligence, My Work is a Doctrine, it is a law that I have brought to you from the beginning of time.
4. At this time humanity rushes the cup of bitterness and says: "It is God's punishment"" But the Father says to you, I am love and I do not punish you, it is you yourselves who have worked out your purification. At this time I come to give you the teaching and you receive it through the word, intuition, clairvoyance and revelation. I come to strengthen your spirit so that it will not be surprised by temptation, which is always wanting to turn you away from the path of light.
5. I listen to those who in the depths of their hearts tell me: Make us worthy to be part of your apostolate, I tell you that after 1950 I will raise up new disciples and servants of mine who will receive by intuition and inspiration my messages so that they speak to humanity.
6. You ask yourselves the meaning of the seven rungs of the ladder and your Teacher truly tells you: The number seven means spirituality, it is the spirituality that I want to see in my chosen people of Israel, you have to come to Me with all your virtues and developed gifts. On the seventh step or stage of your evolution, you will come to Me and you will see that glory opens its doors to receive you. I do not abandon you for a single moment and when the pain is in your heart, it is not because I have abandoned you, because my love is infinite, it is that the Father has allowed the pain to reach you so that you wake up and be alert.
7. You beloved people, you stand before Me on behalf of humanity, you are part of the tribes of Israel, of the 144,000 descendants of my chosen people, but some of you are in spirit and the others in matter.

Love one another!

8. From this message of peace and consolation you will take to all the places of the earth, because great is the need of humanity. I have left your saddlebag brimming over with my charity and I have placed a sword in your hand so that you may put away the darkness that wants to stop you on your way.

9. In this Third Time I have prepared the table for you and I have offered the spiritual delicacy to your spirit; because the Holy Spirit is the one who enlightens you so that you penetrate spirituality.

10. Elijah has been the forerunner in this Third Time, he has gathered you in the fold of my love and helps you to travel on this path so that you learn to forgive and love one another. Everyone who practices my teachings penetrates into light and tranquility, and joy overflows into his being

11. In my love I have granted you free will so that you may come to Me of your own free will, but when you have not been able to rise up, I have come even for you to show you the way with the tenderness of my divine love.

12. The true spiritualist will be recognized not by his words, but by his good examples. To help you in your elevation, my luminous ray reaches your world to illuminate and elevate your spirit.

13. Humanity needs my love, my word that must reach to the bottom of its heart. The Master fights tirelessly so that your spirit is more enlightened every day, so that by divesting itself of ignorance it can rise to the higher mansions.

14. The doors of my Kingdom are open and the Word of the Father comes to you with infinite love to show you the way again.

15. I have come again among humanity and it has not felt me, because I have presented myself in Spirit and its materialism is great. If your spirit has sprung from my Divine spirit, why has humanity not felt me? For he has bound his spirit to ametrialism, to the low passions; but behold the Lamb of God, who as a light comes to you or to enlighten you and deliver the truth to you.

16. My word is the food of your spirit, they are the crystalline waters where he will purify himself to receive from his God what belongs to him. Do not seek the treasures of the earth, seek the eternal treasures so that you recognize the greatness that surrounds you.

17. In times of difficulty, when you feel sad and despondent, rise up in prayer so that you may receive charity from your father.

Love one another!

18. My people, you feel despondent because your faith and confidence have been lacking and truly I tell you, if your faith is lacking, you will lose strength and your spirit will feel weakened, sad and decayed. I want you to put your faith and trust in your Father, so that you will achieve everything you need. Love so that you may be happy, be good and simple, suffer patiently and forgive the offenses of your fellow men.

19. I have called you to receive my teachings again and to let me dwell in your heart and do my will, so that I may manifest myself through you through good works.

20. In the Second Time, I, Christ, manifested myself through the lips of Jesus of Nazareth and when men took my life, as a man, this message of light continued to illuminate your world and so it will continue throughout the ages.

21. Analyze each of my words and in this way you will be able to penetrate the light of truth and your spirit will be able to become greater and greater and will rise up the perfect scale of my spiritual light.

22. My light has always been among men and has manifested itself through my messengers. The apostles of the Second Time, illuminated by the light of the Holy Spirit, sowed the spiritual seed of my Doctrine. In the Third Time I come to teach you with infinite love, also using human understanding, so that when you feel full of this light and this consolation, you will bring these lights and this charity to humanity. As I teach you, so teach; as you receive from Me, so give my word to your brothers, with infinite love; do not point out the faults of your fellow men, for I have not come to betray your faults. Go along the way sowing roses even if you have to pick thorns. If the thorns hurt your heart, I will heal your wounds. I will give you the balm, the consolation and the spiritual strength.

23. My people, there is tribulation in the world, but verily I say to you that it will not be forever, because I have come to remove the darkness of the world and to leave it the spiritual light so that this great tribulation may be removed forever, so that humanity may feel happy as is my will. But do not blame the Father for your sorrows or for your wars, because that has not been my will.

24. I have given you peace, union, fraternity and goodwill and I have taught you how you should love one another. I do not want wars in your world, nor that pain dreams of you, it is humanity that has wanted it this way, because it has not known how to love or forgive, I as a Father have forgiven you, because if your sin has been great, your tribulation has also been very great. I have forgiven you for your pain, because everyone who suffers and cries is worthy of the pity and mercy of your Heavenly Father, and at this time I come to wipe away your tears.

Love one another!

25. Love and forgive so that you may pass into my Kingdom wearing in your spirit a garment of light. Your Master is coming to show you the way so that you can be saved and just as I give you my hand, give it to your brothers and lead them meekly along the way manifesting to them your love and good will.

26. What has been the cause of your pain, my people? Your mistakes: they have become the thorns that have wounded your heart, but my love comes to heal your wounds.

27. I tell you: do not become creditors to pain, come on my way with the white robe of virtues so that you may penetrate into the kingdom of Heaven.

28. You will be part of the spiritual hosts of luminous beings, because I have given you the light of the Holy Spirit so that you can shine like the stars in the firmament.

29. Again I tell you: I am the truth, the way, the light and the life. Come to Me who am calling you to take these virtues from my Divine Spirit.

30. At this time I have been showing your spirit wide horizons so that you may turn away from materiality and meditate on all the good that you can do to humanity.

31. With meekness and obedience you will execute my commands and bend your matter, so that unified spirit and body, you will do my will.

32. You have my love and my spiritual pleasures and you who enjoy my peace, pray for the nations that are in chaos.

33. I am making myself felt in the hard hearts of men, of those who carry the purpose of fueling wars, so that they recognize that my will is stronger than their warlike purposes. If the hearts of these men are hard and do not move before my will, my justice will be felt throughout the universe.

34. Pray, beloved people, for humanity: fight and work so that it may receive my charity through you, because that is your mission and the restitution that your spirit carries in this time, so that you may make merits.

35. Do not sleep, Israel, go forward in the fulfillment of your delicate mission with the light of the Holy Spirit. At this time youth rises and like Cain, brothers with brothers take their lives.

36. Arise and give to the world my light and the balm for its great sufferings; fight with your sword of light and lead the world out of its sin. With your prayer turn away the evil influences that overwhelm men. I want the world to recognize you as messengers of my Divinity and that at this time when I am judging all of you, you will be my servants in whom I have placed the light and the power to break the darkness of the world.

Love one another!

37. At this time defend your children from idolatry. In the different religions many ask me: "Lord, you said that you would return, why don't you manifest yourselves before us?" They are the men who have not been able to understand me, because I am fulfilling my word, and doing my will among my chosen ones, so that they may be the messengers who awaken humanity and bear witness to my presence at this time.

38. Israel: In this Third Time, great multitudes are waiting for you; you will be like rainbows of peace and light as you bring the good news to them.

39. It is necessary that you speak to those who hide my word and who adulterate my teachings, speak to them with all clarity, I will be your help so that you manifest yourselves before them, because they will be the men who will give reasons so that tomorrow my Work will be censured and my Law altered, because they have added to my Work what does not belong to it.

40. Humanity will accept my teaching out of conviction, but my true servants will not be puffed up like lords before humanity. Tomorrow you will have to rise up strong to fulfill your mission in places near and far, so that the world may penetrate me and do my will. but how many trials await you, O Israel! How many of my children are going to rise up like hungry wolves to want to destroy you! and if you were not prepared, you will greatly feel the pain, when this is not my will. Take preparation and be obedient to each of my commands, so that it may be the blessing in you and in humanity.

41. You spend your life telling me to forgive your faults, just as you forgive your brothers, but truly I tell you, only your lips repeat those phrases learned by heart, but it is your heart that offers me a real and true fruit of your works.

42. Sometimes, when some proof weighs on you and you mistakenly attribute it divine punishment, you say to me: Lord, if I have forgiven my brother, why don't you forgive me? Instead of saying: Father, forgive me if perhaps I did not know how to forgive my brother with the truth and purity with which you have taught us.

43. If you learned to meditate for a few moments every day and that your meditation was on the spiritual life, you would discover countless explanations and you would receive revelations that by no other means could you obtain.

44. Your spirit already has enough light to question me, as well as to receive my answer. The spirit of humanity has already reached a great elevation. Observe your brothers of humble condition who, despite their poverty of knowledge, surprise with their profound observations, as well as the clear way in which they explain what for many others is something inexplicable. Do they go to books or to schools? No, but they have discovered by intuition or by necessity the gift of meditation that is part of spiritual prayer. In their solitude, isolated from influences and prejudices, they have discovered the way to penetrate into communion with the eternal, with the spiritual, with the true, and some more, others less, all those who have meditated on the true essence of life, have received spiritual light in their understanding.

45. Man, through his spirit, will find the truth, everyone will feel my presence, because I had already told you from that time that "every eye will see me", the propitious hour has arrived.

46. For this time that you are living is precisely the one announced by my word and by my prophets of past times, so that all men may see me through the senses and powers of their spirit.

47. It will not be necessary for them to contemplate me limited or figuratively in human form in order to be able to say that they have already seen me, but it will be enough for their spirit to feel me and their understanding to understand me to say with all truth that they have seen me.

48. Love and faith, as well as intelligence, can look infinitely beyond where your eyes can see, so I tell you that it will not be necessary for me to limit my presence in human form or through some symbolic figure to make you see me.

49. How many who at that Second Time looked at me or passed by me, did not even know who I was, on the other hand, how many who did not even know when I was born as a man, looked at me in spirit, recognized me through my light and enjoyed my presence through their faith.

50. Open all your eyes and justify with your faith that you are the children of the light.

51. You can all look at me, but for this it is essential that you have will and faith.

52. The doors of the Kingdom, of that spiritual abode where you must arrive to know everything, are open in expectation of your spirit.

53. Be the greatest that you can in this life to have the necessary strength to climb towards the light when it is the liberation of your spirit. But be great in love and in forgiveness, in charity and in light, so when the hour rings when you must leave matter, you will easily divest yourselves of your earthly burden, and already free on the path of ascension, you will arrive without stumbling to the mansion of peace.

Love one another!

54. To help you in your evolution, again my word descends to men to point out to them the saving path. I gently take men of goodwill by the hand to guide them towards the light, showing them at every step on the path the beauties never discovered before.

55. When I speak to you of beauties, I do not mean those of Nature, which for this purpose you have awakened and developed your senses; I speak to you of the beauties of the spiritual life, which you do not know, because when you have not been cold or indifferent to them, you conform to images or forms created by the human mind.

56. I give you the keys so that you may open the doors of your eternal happiness: Those keys are love, from which charity, forgiveness, understanding, humility and the peace with which you must travel through life come.

57. How great is the joy of your spirit when it has dominion over matter and is recreated with the light of the Holy Spirit!

58. The trials of this life make you lose faith for a moment, but trust in Me, I strengthen you to fulfill your mission and day after day I will strengthen your faith.

59. I am preparing you so that through you the purification of humanity may be raised up, so that you may bring my light to the nations that are facing their great problems. Humanity sobs and seeks freedom to penetrate the path of spirituality.

60. Every day I wait for the arrival of my new disciples to entrust them with my Work and make them an example of humility and a clean mirror for humanity. They, without showing off that they are my chosen ones, will rise up fighting and working as missionaries, to deliver my light to the world.

61. Great is the number of the multitudes who listen to me at this time, but few are those who have prepared their hearts as a sanctuary of my Divinity.

62. The time is short for my communication between you and that is why I want to contemplate you prepared. I tell you, my children, the gates of my Kingdom are waiting for you, just as when you crossed the desert with Moses in the First Time to reach the lands of Canaan. You are like a prodigal son who returns to my Father's lap, who feels my caress again and carries my teachings and if you have arrived naked before Me, I have covered you with my spiritual mantle so that you will not be ashamed. I have come to show you a new day and to offer you the delicacies of my table, because I have contemplated your stumbles and as a Father I have felt your pain, but at this time I have brought you comfort, my word as the bread of eternal life, my peace and joy in your life, so that you may feel in the arms of your Father.

Love one another!

63. The Spiritual World has also felt joy when it has contemplated that you are with me again, it has joined with you to work in my countryside, to receive the needy and the sick, to dispel the darkness and to give the balm to the sick of the spirit.

64. When you turn away from Me, it is when I veil closer to you so that you do not succumb in the abysses, because my love is infinite. You are the ones I have pulled from the raging waves to show you the port of salvation. I will guide you on the way and my Spiritual World will protect you and help you to rise up to Me.

65. The number of my servants has multiplied, but there will be few who will obey after my manifestation through human understanding ends, but I tell you that you will have my manifestation spiritually and having received my teachings page after page, now it is up to you to rise up to make the call to humanity.

66. You carry in your spirit the gifts of the Holy Spirit and my love, so that you may become known as the Trinitarian Marian Spiritualist people.

67. The Holy Spirit will enlighten you, the book of teaching will remain open and syllable after syllable you will understand everything that your Teacher came to give you at this time. It will be the Third Testament that will reach humanity, the word that in this Third Time I came to deliver to you through the human understanding.

68. When the light of my Holy Spirit fully illuminates you, you will prepare yourselves with purity and love so that from my word you may discover its essence and take it as sustenance and balm to humanity.

69. Moans and sobs of this humanity come to Me. But I ask you, who has hurt you? You keep silent and then I tell you that it has been your mistakes that have hurt you, that men have filled the road with stinging thorns without wanting to understand that later they have had to go through it.

70. Sometimes you judge that it is an injustice to have to suffer the consequences of the mistakes of those who have long since passed to earth, but who of you can assure that he was not one of those who sowed the path with thorns? Many men will be moved to laughter by this Doctrine, but it will not be their spirit that scoffs. it will be his heart, because the human has always been skeptical and incredulous when it comes to the spiritual; but it will be enough for me that my word be known to them so that, despite their irony and disbelief, something tells them that this word can contain a background that they foolishly do not want to recognize.

71. Knowing my teachings, who will pretend to escape divine justice? No one.

Love one another!

72. How many men, after having led an existence of sin, have been exempt from sorrows and pains throughout their lives, and when their last hour in the world arrived, have believed that they had circumvented divine justice, or at least escaped it. Already in the spiritual valley, those beings, instead of encountering the eternal torment that they had been told about in the world, with surprise have been enveloped in a breath of light and peace, conducive to reflection and examination before their conscience. Who would have told them in those moments, that the path they traveled on Earth, they would have to walk again! And it is then that the spirit feels the weight of a wise and inexorable justice on himself, but he finds himself materialized and does not understand eternity or spiritual perfection; he rebels, judging as unjust everything that is strictly just and loving.

73. If you all already had this knowledge, the way you would cope with your labors and sufferings would be different. There would be no despair in your sorrows, but on the contrary, you would intimately carry the satisfaction of being fulfilling a restitution to purify your spirit, and instead of blaspheming and rebelling, thereby making that restitution more lasting and painful, you would strive day by day to lighten the burden, in the hope of feeling your spirit free of scourges.

74. This Third Time, which is the Time of judgment, in which spiritual restitution will have to reach its culmination to give way to a new era, I make my voice heard in the world, to awaken men from their sleep and teach them how to turn their cup of bitterness into a cup of eternal life.

75. I have come to reveal to you the way to shorten the days of affliction, to tear off the thorn with which you have been injured and to tell you that I do not want you to be hurt more on the way. I come to combat your errors by giving light to your understanding so that it understands the causes of its sufferings and knows how to avoid them. In this way, you will no longer blame fate or your brothers for what happens to you, because the idea of being responsible will make you not wait for your vicissitudes to be remedied, but at the point you will get up, putting every effort and will to get rid of the yoke of suffering, sin and ignorance.

76. The light is scattered throughout the Universe, no man hearing this word will have the right to say that she led him into confusion. Before this Doctrine reaches the peoples of the earth, my spiritual presence will have awakened them and they will sense the arrival of a good news. My message will come to bless you, to console you, to help you to free yourselves from materialism and rise towards a better life, closer to the truth.

77. Well, disciples, if you are to return to the world once or a few more times, let it be so that you may reap pleasant fruits, cultivated by you previously, so that your spirit may experience the satisfaction of having before it the opportunity to complete some work begun.

Love one another!

78. Do not leave this planet without first having carried out the work entrusted to your spirit on it.

79. How painful for the one who has to return and finds that work that he just started and that he will now have to see it united with new missions, responsibilities and jobs!

80. I am here to help you make amends for your mistakes. to reveal to you the secret of replenishing in a day, a lost year and in a year a century misused, and thus enable you to conquer eternity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 341

1. If my message of love had been understood long ago, humanity would live in peace, but man pretends to be self-sufficient and has forgotten my Law.
2. People: In your struggle to spread my work, do not want to work only for your advancement, pour out this light on everyone without distinction. He who continues to be spiritually stationed in the routine ideas inherited from centuries ago and who therefore has not detached himself from his fanaticism, will not contemplate my light as you do. Your spirit has received this divine revelation and what is your obligation to humanity? Make available to him the knowledge you have acquired, bearing witness to the truth with your actions.
3. I have instructed you to make known the message of love that I have come to deliver to you. I have revealed to you that I am in you and outside of you, but you ask me: Lord, how can I reach perfection in order to reach you? And I tell you that on your own merits you will climb until you reach Me. That is why I always advise you to become spiritualized, to go up and putting your gifts into practice.
4. You no longer need forms or rites, images that have no life or power. You have been created in the image and likeness of your God, because you have the spirit, you have the power and gifts to do good. In your fulfillment, be inspired by the Creation that has life and manifests the power and strength of your Lord. Behold the firmament, see around you how everything fulfills its mission. Look how the king star gives life to that nature and how there is harmony between its life elements and the germ that sprouts from the earth. everything in perfect communion manifests the greatness of God.
5. Christ, in his perfection, mastered matter and therefore performed the miracle of giving sight to the blind and making the paralyzed walk. It was the spirit that manifested itself through matter. You must evolve so that your spirit can dominate matter and manifest through it.
6. Again I come among you as love and charity, but my light is poured out on everyone, because the world needs spiritual guidance.
7. The men of good will who exhort (encourage) humanity, abstaining from all personal gain and from all vanity, those who truly know that humanity is far from its spiritual Father and that it is necessary to wrap in itself, to reconsider listen to the word of light so that it becomes spiritualized; those who fight for the good of their brothers, no matter what religion or doctrine they belong, they will be manifesting the truth and the truth is God.

Love one another!

8. My Doctrine is universal and as the spirit of man evolves, it will illuminate everything superfluous and seek spirituality, light and guidance for its perfection.

9. Love your God and love your fellow human beings because therein lies universal understanding.

10. To you I have entrusted my Work so that through you the world may receive my word; go to everyone equally, do not distinguish races or colors, because everyone is in need of the same spiritual food. In each good work that you perform, your spirit will be filled with joy, you will feel my peace and greater strength to move forward, in the fulfillment of your spiritual unification.

11. With love I await the return of the sheep that have left the pasture, of those who are traveling different paths. At this time your Ma dares the desert to go in search of the lost, of those who, having filled them with my grace and my love, I now contemplate them wrapped in their great gales.

12. Beloved disciples, spirits who have sprung from Me: I have come to prepare you at this time with my power and with my love so that you will not be carried away by the confusion that surrounds the world.

13. The time of my communication through human understanding is about to end and then you will rise up to testify among humanity. I have led you in the saving boat and I make you my soldiers of the Third Time, who will rise up to fight on the roads to make the world feel trust, love towards their God.

14. You will be before the world like a clean mirror. You will see my word fulfilled, from the first to the last, because you are my servants who with humility and obedience will fulfill my commands and will have the Law written in your heart.

15. As a Teacher I come to teach you humility so that you may rise up imitating me and go everywhere in the regions, because humanity is hungry and thirsty for my word.

16. It is necessary that you arise, O dearly beloved people, by the different roads of the Earth, because look that even in the Mexican nation many have not recognized my Work. See that in the world there are already those who claim to go in my name, even though they are needy in spirit, and you who have been filled by my Divinity, what should you do? Make my Doctrine known; you will not hide yourselves from the world or deny it the charity it needs.

17. The sects, the religions and the various doctrines, will rise up in your path and will want to get you out of the way, claiming to be possessors of the truth, claiming to be my disciples; but you will rise up to fulfill my commands, I give you the warning, so that you may be ready in the fight. I will be before you and I will make you known to humanity as the mediators of my peace, as the balm that soothes their pains.

18. By your obedience you will climb step by step until you reach the top of the mountain, there I wait for the children of the twelve tribes of Israel.

19. My teaching at this time is the Third Testament where you will find my commands, which I have given you figuratively and also in a clear way so that you can take what corresponds to each one. I have engraved on you, Israel, my word with indelible letters and nothing will make it be lost and so you will be able to testify what in my perfect wisdom I have entrusted to humanity in all times.

20. Through prayer you come to Me helped by my Spiritual World that guards you. You already know this way, because in the lessons I have given you in the Third Time, I have taken you by the hand and taught you how to reach Me through prayer.

21. The light of my word is before you as a beacon that illuminates your life. You will no longer be able to get lost because I am in front of you. You have come to me because you love me and have found me manifest in all my splendor. Those who have beheld my presence in clairvoyance have rejoiced, but you have all seen me with the eyes of your love and your faith. You have all tasted my plabra as a nectar, as an exquisite delicacy and as a balm that heals too.

22. You will no longer be able to confuse the fruit of my word with other fruits, because you already know the taste, you already know that it contains all perfection. Now I am preparing you to speak to others when the time is right, when your preparation is great and you get rid of your materialism.

23. I pour out on all spirits the essence of my word, my love and my light and everyone who seeks me finds me. In all religions, doctrines and creeds that are on earth. I have found high beings who seek me in spirituality, spirits who have divested themselves of all materialism and have formed a temple for me inside themselves. By intuition they have received from Me, because I have revealed to them, as to you, everything that belongs to the Third Time. They have also read in the scriptures, in my word given in the Second Time and in their analyses and meditations, that I am pouring out my light among you and I have received with love the fruits of their spirit.

24. Great works they prepare, when contemplating Humanity lost and disoriented; they have risen, they have made merits and they have said to me: "Forgive those who do not know. We carry your light, the gifts, the strength to be able to fulfill your precepts." They are based on the Law, on my word given in times past and they penetrate the prophecies and the announcements given by Me to my disciples and they say to each other: “This is the time”. This is how they seek me and this is how they have me with them, because they have not hidden me from men. Everyone who seeks me, has me in him.

25. I am the Universal Father, my love descends to all hearts, I have come to all the peoples of the Earth, but if I have chosen this Mexican nation to unleash in all fullness my word and my revelations, it is because I have found it humble, because I have found in its inhabitants the virtues and I have made incarnate in them the spirits of the people of Israel. But not all belong to this nationality, nor are all incarnate. The spirits belonging to the number of the chosen ones are still scattered throughout the world. They have been pointed out, I have opened their eyes, I have sensitized their heart and from spirit to Spirit they communicate with me.

26. You have had my word and my manifestations through the human understanding and through your gifts you have contemplated the development of this Work in the Third Time. Therefore, people, you are my witnesses who will speak with all preparation of what you have seen and heard, who will analyze my every word, who will explain my Law. Because others, despite their intuition and preparation, do not possess all the knowledge that you have. Their merits are great, because they have not heard me in the way that you do not hear me; but they are united with you in thought. The day will come when you will cross paths and recognize each other; your spiritual gaze will discover in them the spirit they carry, their strength and their virtue, and at that moment you will shake hands and you will know that that walker who crossed your path is also one of my chosen ones.

27. Not everyone will hear my word in this form, why, people of Israel? You do not know it, you do not know if it is because of your lack of union or because of your scarce spirituality, but be united to them; because they, like you, are responsible for humanity.

28. You will take your portion, watch over it, and lead it. Among my chosen ones are those who have consecrated themselves to the service of my Divinity by wearing an endowment as ministers. Among the chosen are the humblest, those who go unnoticed among the crowds: There are also those who carry the laws and governments of the Earth. I only know the number and I can contemplate them. You, Israel, know how to recognize them by your spiritual preparation. All of you will unite and form a single body and a single will, in the moment of trial in which I will ask the people of Israel for their dispersal to sow my seed in all ways. Do not be surprised at this moment, some of you will penetrate into the bosom of the institutions and there you will fulfill your mission of love, charity, teaching. The rest of you will go to the villages away from the big cities.

Love one another!

You will penetrate into the bosom of these rude peoples and there you will fight against the fanaticism and ignorance of those of your brothers.

29. The time for the fulfillment of your mission has not yet come. I have not fully appointed to you your portion. You are in the time of teaching. You are my children and my disciples. But the time will come when you will become Teachers, when men will come to ask you for a word and that word that sprouts from your lips will be the truth, it will be my pure teaching, you will present it without any mixture.

30. I'm preparing you. I myself have taken on this great mission of cultivating your heart. I have not entrusted it to men, because I see selfishness in them. I myself have cultivated your heart and with the trials that you have entwined in your path, it has been polished. When you have stumbled, I have told you: This test will bring you great light and when you have meditated, you have understood that that test that I put in your way was necessary, that there was a phase of your heart that needed polishing. Do you see how my work is perfect? For how could you take my word to speak to men if you were not purified, if you did not carry great light and great spirituality?

31. Only I'm driving you. Only I know the inside of each one of you and according to your strength I have sent you the proofs like this. This is what I have taught you, because at the right moment each one of you will rise up as apostles of my Divinity. Countless are the lessons I have given you. How much I have told you about the past times! In the Third Time I have gathered the three testaments and have formed with them a single book and in this year of 1950, in which I give you the last page through man, the Master truly tells you: With that page the book must not be closed. I will keep writing new and countless pages for you. I will continue to shed light so that you penetrate my word, so that you continue analyzing and according to the times you will reach greater spirituality, because you will not stop.

32. In the year 1950 you have not attained the greatest spirituality; you are at the beginning of it. But later you will continue to develop this gift that is latent in each of you.

33. Get ready, people of Israel! I am the Master in all times, I will not be absent, as I was not absent after my coming into the world as a man. After my departure, I have always been present. I have preceded all the ages and all the acts of humanity; I have always written its works, I have always judged its existence. Who will stop me from doing it? Who can prevent you from rising up to Me and loving Me? Who can prevent me from loving you, watching over you, comforting you, and judging your actions?

Love one another!

34. Those of you who form humanity are those who turn away from Me, those who cease to throb with love for my Divinity, those who fall into materialism, those who let yourselves be carried away by passions and forget your spiritual mission. But the Father is immutable and inexorable in his laws and in his judgments. I'm always the same. Do not think that at a certain time my Spirit manifests itself with greater love than at another time, I am the same Spirit who spoke through Moses and the prophets, the same one who spoke through the patriarchs and the apostles and the same one who has spoken through all the messengers.

35. Remember my Divinity, people. Be like the Father! Love me with the same love! Do not change from love to coldness! Don't be hot today, cold tomorrow! I want to contemplate you always loving, always believing, always high and spiritual, always on the ascending path, drawing you closer to Me; because this is the purpose of your spirit.

36. Why do you present your love and faith to me one day and distrust Me the other? Why does your heart change? I want to contemplate you as a firm stone, your faith always the same, your love always growing. I want you to be like the plants that you cultivate on earth, that you do not give up on your development, that you can reach in a short time the fullness and maturity of all your gifts, so that you can recognize me.

37. I am the mercy that cultivates you, you be docile plants, receive the dew, the life that I give you and take advantage of it for the greatness of your spirit.

38. Today the children listen to me and I speak to them the same as to middle-aged men or the elderly. Why don't I speak in another language to children, if their understandings are small? For their spirit is great as well as yours, for they can understand me; for it is not to the flesh that I come to speak, but to the spirit. Therefore I say to you, Do not despise children or leave them believing that they do not see me. Make them come! His spirit is hungry. I am going to cultivate them in the same way as you. It is the generations of tomorrow, those who have to lay on your foundations, one more stone in the work of edification, in the work of spirituality.

39. They are the last albas to hear my word in this way and I contemplate still scarce the number of those who hear me The heart of humanity is hardened. he loves only metal and pleasures, he has let the spirit get lost and confused in the whirlwind of hatreds, passions and ambitions.

40. Only the people of Israel have been able to wake up and are watching over those who sleep; so always watch. I will turn the rocks into fruitful plants, I will sow my seed in them at the right time. Just as I have said to you, "Do not build on sand," so I also know when I will sow, when the heart is ready, when the time has come. You, as my disciples, do what the Master does, so when you contemplate prepared the heart, when it is open, hungry to receive the light of this Work. Your intuition will tell you the moment, it will reveal great lessons to you and you will do many works guided by intuition.

Love one another!

41. After my word ceases, who is going to teach you on earth? Each of you will receive inspiration, preparation from Me. So learn to pray and communicate with me. After this manifestation, you will continue to gather for a while longer. The strength of your thought will make you able to receive from the spring of life and light all the inspiration you need for your passage, for your transit. I will inspire everyone, but there will be some who have to stand out among you possessing a great intuition and they will be the ones who advise, who speak without calling themselves teachers, without calling themselves successors of mine. Everyone be prepared. Because I am going to test your faith and your progress in this time, and I want to contemplate that you all take advantage of my teachings and that my word has been fruitful in the heart of each one of you.

42. I do not want to contemplate you crying at this time, or feeling nakedness, hunger or loneliness. I do not want to contemplate you traveling as if in a desert, but as a family full of life, of energies, of spiritual faculties; I want you to love each other, understand each other and help each other.

43. I have taught you love, I have asked you for fraternity, I have made you understand that you have all been formed with the same love, that you have all sprung from Me and therefore you all have the same attributes, the same perfections. The greater your merits, the greater the inspiration and the greater your actions.

44. When you are not sure of taking a firm step, wait, gather all your strength, analyze all the fruits so that you can advance in your evolution. I will bless each of your determinations. I will prepare your spirit in such a way that it understands with all clarity the dictates of conscience, because you will not remain indifferent as in these times.

45. Many proofs are going to be presented before you. You will have to struggle with many obstacles, but you have already gone through the first trials, you have already been unknown to your own because of me. You have lost everything and have been content; but in Me, you have gained everything. I have given you the peace of the spirit that yours have not been able to give you. In Me, you have found the peace of conscience and spirit. So what can you fear if the world points to you? if he makes fun of you?

46. Fear not! Be sure of your faith, be firm in it, so that in the moment of trial you can give before them a sample of what my Doctrine is, that what you have embraced is just, it is good and worthy. Each of you is a representative of my Work. Wherever you are, your actions are judged. Therefore watch over your actions, over your words, so that you may be in all ways, my disciples.

47. Each one of you is like a strong pillar in the paths of your life. You can give faith to those who have lost it; you can rescue the spirit who has been confused from confusion; you can give strength, stillness and peace to those who need it. Therefore, people, think how great is your responsibility. Think that I have not called you by chance, but that in finding my Work you have found a great responsibility before Me and before humanity.

48. I have not come to recreate your ear or your heart, I have come to instruct you in spiritual revelations and after you are filled with this light, your mission is to teach others. If I have called you the chosen people, it is not because I want to distinguish you from others; it is because I want to give you my teachings, to discover all the mysteries so that you can speak clearly to others and teach them to imitate me. But I will always be your Teacher.

49. Whenever you encounter obstacles, stumbles in the understanding of your brothers, whenever new trials come to surprise your spirit, I will tell you: "My peace be with you", and in this greeting you will recognize me and tell yourself inwardly: "The master is with me, I am going to receive His inspiration from Him, because despite all my preparation, I lack light in this trial". And I will give you the light, I will fill your spirit with energy and I will make your words just, full of truth, full of essence.

50. I am speaking to all of you as my disciples, I do not want to contemplate kindergartens at the end of 1950, that is why I have spoken to you so much, my teachings have been extensive so that each of you can be instructed and become my disciple in a short time.

51. I contemplate the gratitude in your heart. You told me: "Master, my life and my actions do not deserve to be close to you receiving your teaching", Do not speak in this way, let me become my disciples, let me love you as much as I have always manifested it to you. let Me present myself among you and may I show you how much I love you, so that you may love one another, so that you may always have the memory of these teachings engraved on you, which are torrents of love, and your heart full of that love may give itself to others, to your brothers and sisters.

52. I have inspired you with the virtues of charity, of benevolence, of forgiveness, how necessary these virtues are at this time, because I contemplate humanity stripped of them! Only selfishness, division, lack of love flourishes; everywhere I hear the murmurings of one another. Remember that I have said to you, You will not speak ill of your brother even if you have justice for it. Know how to leave the cause to me; I have not appointed you judges, I have sent you all with the same gifts so that you may look at each other as brothers.

Love one another!

53. Even the justice established on earth, does not present righteous acts. I can contemplate the lack of charity, the misunderstanding, the hardness of hearts. But each one will have perfect judgment. I have allowed these trials and as long as humanity does not comply with my laws, as long as it distances itself from the fulfillment of its precepts, it will have on Earth someone who subjugates its heart, who hurts it. If you fulfilled, there would be no need for judges in the world, there would be no punishment, you would not need governments. Each one would know how to govern his own acts and everyone would be governed by Me, you would all be inspired by my laws and your acts would always be beneficial, they would tend to spirituality and love. But behold, humanity has fallen into great abysses: immorality, vice; sin has taken over the hearts of men and behold the consequences. You have to hurry bitter chalices, to endure the humiliation of men, who, being your brothers, have power on earth; but be humble, bear with patience the judgments, think that I am the perfect judge.

54. I prepare you on this day with the light of my Spirit and I ask you to pray and meditate in your life, so that you may understand my word and not only hear it: Study it, but not only study it, but practice it, so that you understand its value.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Disciples: You are attending once again the act of the transmission of my teaching, full of faith, because you know that these are the last lessons that I have come to give you. The Holy Spirit comes to teach His beloved children. It is the fullness of time. It is the year 1950 announced to the people of Israel as the last in which they will have my word in this form. You hasten your step and prepare your heart to keep in it all the essence, the essence that I am transmitting in my charity; you prepare your spirit and ask me for understanding to understand each of my phrases. You consider the humanity that is behind you that has not heard these revelations, that still lives in darkness and you cry in the depths of your spirit. You would like to share with your brothers in these teachings and the Divine Master says to you: Wait, but first get ready, so that you can sow your first grain!

2. Not all will hear me in this way, people; there are many who are called and few who are chosen. Leave this cause in my hand, but I will judge your work from the moment you have heard my word. I will judge the generations that have passed from 1866 to the present year and I will give to each one according to his tillage. I can only tell you, people: you can still repair your faults; you still have opportunities to fulfill your mission. If today your lips have been clumsy, if your hearts have been like a rock and have not listened to the voice of the call, wait, I am preparing all humanity; I am leading her spirit and cultivating her heart; all the trials that she is experiencing lead her to a propitious end, which is spirituality, but first it will be purification in her.

3. In order for you to reach Me, humanity, it is necessary that you wash yourselves, that you purify your spirit, so that you can look at Me and feel me. When I call you, do not hide your face, do not be ashamed of your past; for first I will allow that you have washed away all your faults and that you have dignified yourselves.

4. Therefore, O people, do not be afraid, but behold great multitudes around me, for now prepare yourselves in union with your own. I have to serve each one of you and this seed that I have sown will multiply; propitious times for spirituality will come. Today you only encounter obstacles, chains that prevent you from passing; but the time of spiritual liberation will come for all and then your thought and word will be like a current that will bathe the fields of this humanity.

5. Today you feel the responsibility of having listened to me, of having believed in my word, that each lesson of mine is one is an order for you, that my Law rests in your spirit and that in a thousand ways I have explained it through human understanding. I contemplate the steps that you will take tomorrow and for this I have prepared you, I have spoken to you, opening the ways, so that your spirit in trials, does not stumble. I have given you prophecies so that you will not stop, but look into the arcanum that I have formed within your heart, for the light that you need to solve the test that comes along the way.

6. Who among you can say that he is ignorant or that he is innocent, if I have given you the light, if I have prepared you, if my word has opened a way within you, and I am cultivating the seed that I have sown in your heart? Do not be afraid, people of Israel, if you have faith in the gifts that I have given you, go ahead, be stronger in faith every day, stronger in your will. so that nothing and no one can stop you in your path. I prepare you as warriors, because you are going to fight against darkness; because you are going to fight against evil; because you are going to soften the hard hearts and purify the understanding of men inveterate in selfish sciences and erroneous sciences.

7. That is why the Divine Master invites you to pray and meditate. I have always told you: Analyze my word and each of my manifestations, so that you can become my disciples and thus face all the trials and vicissitudes that you are going to encounter. But you know very well that you are not alone on the path of your life; you are accompanied by spiritual beings, the servants of my Divinity, the virtuous creatures: those who come to you contemplating your weakness, to help you, to give you spiritual vision when you do not have it; those who come to strengthen your faith when you weaken.

8. I have allowed the high spirits, the virtuous spirits who dwell near Me to have access to this world at this time. So, people, if everyone helps you, if your Teacher guides you, if my teaching is your bulwark, why should you be afraid? Why should your heart be afraid if you are ready?

9. Study yourselves spiritually, examine your thought and heart, read in the book that I have given you from the moment of the call and think how many pages I have written in your heart, how many prophecies I have entrusted to you, how many announcements Elijah has given you and how much preparation the spiritual world has given you.

10. Many years have passed since the day I opened this book in the Third Time and many of you have listened to me for a long time. Then, people, if you have kept those lessons in your spirit, the day will come when you will be able to open the book on the page you will have needed and read as you need; this book contains infinite lessons, it will not be closed in 1950, but it will remain open in eternity only in a different way than the one you have today.

Love one another!

11. I have come to speak to you through man to teach you spiritual communication with me and in the spirits that inhabit the high regions; so that you can read in that great book forever.

12. When you develop the gift of communication with my Spirit, you will no longer look for the books of the Earth, because in that book you will be able to read and know everything you need. The sciences of good will be revealed to you; love will come to solve great problems; peace and charity will be the precious gifts that will accompany you and you will feel strong as you have never been; because you will receive the explanation of great teachings, you will be able to read in front of your brothers in that inner book, which I have inherited from you, to give you the light and they will come to you, people of Israel, because you are the possessor of my revelations; but this privilege is not only yours, this gift is for all my children, they will all follow the path of spirituality and seek communication from spirit to Spirit.

13. You will be the forerunners of these revelations, as you always have been, because I have sent you to Earth, I have given you my commands saying to you: Take my message of salvation to humanity! Speak with all firmness! Preach and prophesy according to my will!

14. You are in preparation, people, you cannot say that you have already reached the full development of gifts. You have taken your first steps in the intimacy of these meetings; but later, when they ask for proofs and it is my will to grant them through you, give charity; but first put on humility, do not despise my word, do not sow in barren ground. Develop your intuition so that you speak by my will at the right time, to bring the portion that I am going to point out to you closer to your Master's table.

15. Today you live in the land designated by my will, in which peace, humility and hospitality have flourished. This nation has been your home and in its bosom you have had the fulfillment of my word. I announced my new coming to you and I have kept my word. My work has been accomplished. If you have not fulfilled yet, I give you the necessary time, but I as a Father have fulfilled among you and according to your advancement I have spoken to you in this way: according to your preparation, I have poured out my word in this way for the understanding and understanding of it; I have not spoken to you in incomprehensible language, but in a simple word, accessible to everyone, so that you can understand it. I have gathered you, I have prepared you and I have made known to you the gifts that were already in your spirit and I have only confirmed them, because the matter that you carry ignored them.

Love one another!

16. You, as children of the people of Israel, knew what was written from the beginning. You knew your destiny, you felt your responsibility, but it was necessary when incarnating on Earth, that my word became human so that you understood my will and my commands. You have come to the aid of humanity, in the moments in which it weakens; in which its most bitter cup rushes, in which the atonement has reached the limit. You have planted your plant in this Nation and I have told you: your whole being is prepared to become a balm and charity among humanity.

17. Practice, so that they may recognize you and bear witness that you are my messengers; in this way I have prepared you and I can still contemplate doubt in some, but behold, the tests will give you the light that you have needed, infinite tests of love that I prepare for everyone.

18. Prepare yourselves and deepen whenever you listen to my lecture, do not look at it on the surface, penetrate into its meaning, so that you can dwell in the spiritual regions at this time, close to Me, and you can contemplate the events of the Beyond.

19. I have come to manifest myself in a simple way, without ostentation, to teach you humility and it is my will that in these simple manifestations, you can contemplate and feel his greatness; I have given you the gifts of the spirit so that by them you can contemplate me, hear me and feel me, in all your being. I have touched all the sensitive fibers of your heart and I have caressed you with my word. No human word has given you the pleasure, the peace and the sweetness that this teaching has given you and by this flavor, by this essence that I pour into it, you will be able to recognize me.

20. After the year 1950, you will be more firm in your belief. Your convictions will be stronger; you will be able to remember with respect and veneration the hours when my universal ray communicated by the human understanding, became word to strengthen you, to guide you, to console you. So in the Second Time I said to my disciples, "The Son of Man must die, that he may be believed." In the Third Time I tell you: After the completion of my word through man, I will be better believed and loved.

21. You have commemorated in this time the years of my preaching, those three years in which I prepared my disciples; in which I lived with them. They contemplated all my works and in their preparation they managed to penetrate into my heart and contemplate the purity, all the majesty and wisdom that was in the Master. At that time I did not make ostentatious acts, my passage through the Earth was humble, but the one who was prepared sensed the greatness of my presence and the time I lived. This is how I chose my disciples; I found some of them on the bank of the river and called them, saying,

Love one another!

“Follow me.” When they fixed their gaze on Me, they understood who it was that was speaking to them, and so, one by one I was choosing.

22. They followed me; faithful to their spirit, obedient to my command, understanding my love and kept in their hearts the treasure entrusted to them. They did not want that flow to be lost and after a while of my departure, they wrote and printed my word, so that it would not be erased from the minds, nor from the hearts of the generations that were to come and of those who did not listen to me. They wrote inspired by Me, so that those writings would not be adulterated, however men have adulterated, have misinterpreted; but the original writings were my true word.

23. I have announced the charges to you: I have chosen you all and on your forehead I have marked you with my mark. To some I have said: Prepare yourselves so that you can prophesy; to others, prepare yourselves so that you can communicate spiritual inspiration to the multitudes, and to others I have prepared them so that the universal Ray, communicated by their understanding, can make my word known.

24. To all of you I have entrusted precious gifts, gifts of the spirit, eternal gifts. You have not been chosen only at this stage in which you live, you have already possessed these virtues before and after this time you will continue to possess them. But I tell you, according to your preparation, so will your development be. I will not allow your spirit to stand still. I will always prepare for him the ascending path, the ladder that leads to Me, because in my Kingdom there is a place prepared for each one of you and time is pressing, it is necessary that you speed up the step so that you can, in a short time, conquer the place that is indicated to your spirit.

25. Are there hierarchies in my kingdom? You don't know. I'm just telling you, make an effort! Fight so that you can achieve the development of all your gifts, so that you can understand me through them so that you can love me and fulfill your mission in all times.

26. Today you inhabit the Earth and tomorrow a new path has to be prepared for you and at that moment when the spirit has to reach the threshold of this world. I have to call him to account and lead him to the new life.

27. I am not speaking in the desert, great multitudes hear my voice in all the precincts, in all the meetings that have been prepared. But Elijah is your guide, he is the one who gives you the prophecies, he is the one who prepares you, he is the forerunner, feel him ahead, always close to you.

28. Whenever a trial afflicts you, invoke Elijah, who is light, who is the one who prepares the way and in that moment of trial, Elijah and I will be with you.

Love one another!

29. These are the last days of my word; therefore I speak to you in this way, because I do not want you to be confused, nor to be scattered.

30. You will continue to gather, you will continue to help each other. Each one will manifest his gifts, the one who is a seer will prepare to receive the message when it is my will, the announcement, the light that will guide this people and thus each one according to his gifts, must practice without selfishness, with all humility, with all elevation of spirit knowing that he is writing in the Great Book of eternity; that each of your works will be judged by your children, by your successors, knowing that the Work that I have entrusted to you is the Work of the Holy Spirit.

31. On this day I anoint you, I leave you prepared as a family. Watch! All of you prepare yourselves so that you can, with your prayer, help the nations, the rulers, all those who have great responsibility; because over the will of all these creatures is my will, there is my Law of inexorable justice and next to the law of atonement the law of love.

32. It is said, Everyone who is lacking will wash, he will make atonement for his lack, but in his atonement he will be comforted by the Holy Spirit.

33. I am the comforter, I am the promised Spirit of truth. Since the time of the patriarchs, there was this time when men would hurry the most bitter chalice. From that time it was said that the Comforter was to come among you to accompany you in the hour of trial.

34. Thus have I fulfilled my word, Thus have I prepared you, O people of Israel, you also as my disciples, I fill you with charity, with consolation, and with love. Recognize your gifts, practice them on the way, work with your thought and prayer, so that you can be a balm among humanity, so that you can stop the advance of evil.

35. My law is in each one of you, the charges also, the latent gifts, the senses and powers prepared, the eyes of the spirit open; the sensitive conscience, because it is the divine spark so that you can understand the hour you are living and you can pray, watch and work, according to my commands.

36. I bless you. Every one of humanity's lamentations is heard by Me and every one of its pleas is heeded.

37. Once again, I confirm the gifts so that full of love for humanity, you can practice them. Wrap her in your love, in the peace that I leave you and in the light that I pour out in my word, I entrust her to you like a sister.

38. In you I bless all mankind as it is written and I tell him to wait for the propitious times in which I will give him abundance and peace.

Love one another!

39. Today you are at the culmination of the times and I only strengthen you so that you can hurry the test. But the promise is present in each one of you, that after the Atonement there will be peace, in everyone there will be blessing and it will be the beginning of the new path that humanity has to take, towards spirituality.

40. My Divine Spirit will reap the fruit that you will work through your spiritual mission.

41. You are the tireless farmers who have cultivated the golden seed that I have entrusted to you in this Third Time and from this good seed you come to show me. I contemplate it and in Spirit I see that some of you have understood me and with my teaching and my wisdom you are going to become the beloved disciples, who are going to go in my representation everywhere of the roads giving the good news to your brothers. The others also show me the effort that you have made through the trials, in which your spirit has been able to overcome and bend everything that you have encountered in your path; because you have listened to my voice that has made you tremble and that has not let you sleep again on your way.

42. You have risen in haste to my call to listen to my command, which is the Law that I have come to engrave in your heart, and full of repentance you have been able to recognize that the times had surprised you and that you had hidden this great and sublime work, of incalculable value, that I have entrusted to your spirit. But your repentance has come to Me, my gaze as a judge has contemplated that your spirit has mourned the lost time and at the last moment you implore forgiveness, mercy and charity.

43. Thus I receive those who, having awakened from their deep sleep, show me your purpose of fulfillment and obedience, because you recognize that I have entrusted a delicate mission to your spirit and that the world needs you to raise your plant so that through you it reaches salvation and comes out of its abyss to be recreated with the light that you have contemplated in this Third Time.

44. I have prepared you and I have clothed you again with the greatest gifts, my light has illuminated your heart and your mind and in your conscience you feel the responsibility that you carry within my work to raise you up as envoys of my divinity, making known to men the peace that they have sought in different ways, so that in my name you may give life to the spirits that have died to the life of grace through the centuries. For this I have called you, O people of Israel, and my word has reverberated among you, like a ringing bell through the spokesmen; but not all of you have understood me. But those who have interpreted my will, have risen up to Me to receive the commands that they have to execute in life. To know me and to know themselves, to free themselves from the slavery that their spirits had carried through the centuries.

Love one another!

45. You are the spirits who carry the freedom that only my charity can give you and you will not be slaves or fall again, when you get up fully and unify your spirit with mine.

46. I want you to feel my peace and my love and that with this love you strengthen yourselves so that your plant does not stop anymore, but that you always keep going until you reach the top of the mountain; so that with the elevation and the harmony that exists between your spirit and mine. may you contemplate how much humanity has needed my charity through you and be the messenger of my great charities, of my revelations that I have given you as a Holy Spirit.

47. It is my will that as a soldier, apostle, disciple and farmer, you go and deliver my children who are waiting for the moment of their liberation, who are waiting like you, to find the table prepared with the bread of life. This humanity has felt only the rigor of bad times and miseries have hovered in its spirit. It is the time in which the world trembles because his purification is great, the pain awakens him, and he himself realizes that my word that has been written is being fulfilled.

48. This humanity is awakening in the midst of its own pain to contemplate the light of a new day. But you, beloved people, in fulfillment of my word, you will be my witnesses and you will carry this message of peace everywhere, you will show everyone again the way of salvation.

49. Israel: The struggle that your spirit has sustained with the darkness has been great. You got up to follow my tracks and were surprised by popr tests. Some of you have understood me and recognized each other, because you have seen that my work has no stain, that it is white as snowflakes, and full of zeal and spiritual desires you rise up to make humanity can be recreated in my work. Others who are recreated with my teaching, have not penetrated into the true sense that my word carries, they have not understood what is the fulfillment that I expect from each of my chosen ones.

50. I want to contemplate you spiritually unified, I want to find in your heart the fruit of the love that I have given you; I want to contemplate your hand united to my right hand. The time is approaching when you have to give proofs of my presence among your brothers and sisters in that you will speak to them with a clear word, full of light and truth, showing them your heart as the abode of my Divine Spirit and making them know that you are the bearer of the spiritual pleasures that at this time have been poured out in my arcanum.

51. Arise, Israel, as the son of light who has overcome the darkness that has stood in your way; show the world your regeneration, your spirituality, because I have clothed you with strength. Wake up with your good example and with your prayer to your sleeping brothers and sisters and speak to them in imitation of my Divine Spirit. You will not be the blasphemers or the hardened hearts before my love and before the love for your fellow beings, because in you I have poured out my grace and the gifts of the Holy Spirit so that like good seed you may be multiplied.

52. I receive the effort that your spirit has taken in this time to become my servant and at the end of your journey I will give you the reward that you have carved, it will be the crown of laurels in your spirit. I have promised you that if an atom of understanding and obedience make me present, I will be with you, I will adorn you and I will give you what corresponds to you as children of the light, as the elect in this Third Time. like those whom I have cleansed with my divine blood so that you may be the ones who bear witness to Me.

53. You have searched yourselves and have contemplated your weakness and imperfection, for a moment you have lacked faith and the trials have surprised you, but you have shuddered before my divine gaze that contemplates the most hidden of your being. I want you to feel the good that my Spirit gives to yours for what you have worked and worked according to my Law, according to my divine mandate and in exchange for your effort, of the pain that you have hurried to follow me, when facing trials and overcoming them, I entrust you with a jewel of incalculable value: my wisdom.

54. As the Holy Spirit I pour out my effluvia on you, but make every day a greater effort so that your spirit reaches great elevation and your heart greater spirituality. For it is my will that you, Israel, be a clean example before your brothers and bear witness to Me, with your works, show the fruit of salvation for the spirit, give the message of my peace among mankind.

55. I have gathered and gathered you at this time to give you the vestment of the apostle, the vestment of the soldier, to adorn your spirit with my grace and with my light. For you, my Work will not be torn apart, or neglected, or mocked, I leave this responsibility among you so that by your example the multitudes may rise to the life of grace, so that humanity may hear my call and come to Me, because I am waiting for it.

56. My sword of light is fighting and conquering the darkness. I am preparing the ways for you to rise up with limpidity fulfilling my Law within my Divine Work. I have entrusted to you a flow of my charity so that your hearts may be moved by the pain and misery of humanity; I have made you contemplate all the pain that the world is in a hurry at this time and the need of the spirits, so that you may watch and pray, so that you may work manifesting my truth, cultivating virtue in your heart.

Love one another!

57. I do not want you to feel me far away, because I have told you that because of your spirituality, you will all feel me, you will feel me, your spirit will hear my voice and spiritually you will contemplate my presence. In this way I want to see your spirits united to mine for an eternity, because this is my will.

58. Prepare yourselves, O Israel, that with obedience and love you may be at my service, for I have anointed you to be the true disciples.

59. In you I am building the temple of the Holy Spirit and preparing for your arrival in the new Jerusalem.

60. Give the fruit of my wisdom to taste to your brothers who approach with good will, give it to all who ask, give it to the first and to the last. Feed them with my peace, watch over it and share it among humanity, as a testimony of my presence among you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 343

1. As charity and love I manifest myself to all who seek me. Humanity travels on various paths, but Elijah is tireless preparing the way and as a luminous beacon teaches you at this time the port of salvation.
2. You, people of Israel, will take my word to the whole world, you will raise your plant without feeling afraid before the waves of the raging sea, without contemplating the discord that feeds humanity. You will defend yourselves with the weapons of love that I have entrusted to you in your spirit and with my Law you will remove the blindfold of darkness. In this way humanity will recognize me and will also be part of my beloved people.
3. Do not magnify yourselves before your brothers, be humble and show them good examples.
4. At all times humanity has not been able to appreciate my charity, it has not known the one who created everything that exists in the Universe. The Master has revealed to you the why of all causes, so that you may be in harmony with creation by fulfilling my Law, that Law that does not cause you pain, but will lead your spirit towards eternal peace. Men have forged different laws and have shown different standards to their fellow men, but in them they have found only pain and confusion and the great multitudes have fallen into the abysses.
5. I will put an end here to the wickedness of the human being, to those who divide the nations; they will gather and cease to reap innocent lives. Here are the widows, the children who, helpless and orphaned, walk along the roads. That cry comes to Me, O beloved people!
6. Men in their blindness, tear my divine name when they are surprised by pain, are my blessings that I have given them by my perfect charity the cause of suffering? No, my children. The origin is in their own sin.
7. All their pain is the fruit that they have worked for their disobedience, but you will bring to the peoples the love, harmony, peace that I am offering them.
8. I have announced to you that false Christs will arise among men and also from among you many will be confused and will give access to temptation to confuse humanity; but every spirit will appear before my tribunal and then I will ask him what he did with my command, with my teaching; I will also ask them what is the love and charity that they have given to the world. My light will dispel the darkness to save humanity from its sin and to remove the blindfold of darkness from its eyes. Thus my love will be helping you to reject temptation so that everyone may contemplate the path of light that I have traced for you.

Love one another!

9. The struggle is coming, O beloved Israel! but in the confusion of ideas that will arise among humanity, you will be like people of peace, giving the example of spirituality and love and breaking the chains that bind them to materialism. You will speak with a humble word and show the Law in your spirit; in this way the world will recognize you.

10. If you are prepared, you will rise up, taking with your example the Trinitarian Marian Spiritualist banner, carrying faith, hope and charity, and you will cross the seas, the deserts and the valleys, to alleviate the pain of humanity and to give my peace to those who have poured out a cup of bitterness.

11. I have given you the light, the teaching and my commands in the Third Testament that, together with the first and the second, form a single teaching of love and charity so that men may love one another, so that they no longer forge the golden calf, nor feed fanaticism and idolatry that is what has led them away from the true path.

12. I come to rescue the spirits so that they no longer feed the superfluous and bad that temptation has shown them. This is your struggle, O Israel! My love will be manifested in all the ways of the earth and no one will be able to take away from you the charity that I have placed in your spirit. I am your Father who descends to sweeten your lips, who breathes you with my peace, who engraves my word with indelible letters in the recesses of your heart.

13. I come full of meekness so that you may take my example. I speak to you through different spokespersons in fulfillment of what was said by the prophets, and you feel peace and comfort when you are with me. I have returned in this Third Time with great spiritual gifts to entrust them to your spirit.

14. As a Teacher I give you one more page of the Book of my teachings. In my word I give you the consolation and the life of grace so that you may continue on the path that leads you spiritually to Me, where you will find true happiness.

15. Short is the number of those who have prepared themselves to feel my peace and listen to my voice in their innermost being, to become the messengers of this peace.

16. You are my people, who have been marked from the Beginning with the blood of the Lamb, whom I rescued from the slavery of Pharaoh.

Love one another!

17. From time to time your spirit has been evolving through different matters. Only I know the pain you have been through, but with the experience you have gained you have come closer and closer to the Father.

18. This is a time of restitution, so that tomorrow you will not find yourselves suffering in the spiritual valley. I have come to free your spirit from all its chains so that it can rise up to Me and reach the divine mansion where the Father awaits you.

19. Great is my love for you, I no longer want to see you suffer and cry on your way, I want to see you with joy and joy practicing my Law on the path that I have prepared for you; my Spiritual World is ready to help you in the fulfillment of your delicate mission.

20. My word is the divine consolation for your spirit, always carry it in your heart so that you may be with me. Forgive your brothers when they tear my Work, when they tear the garment with which I have adorned you. Leave this cause to me. Show the good example in imitation of your Master, and thus you will see that your brothers will not disturb your peace again and will only come to you to ask you how you have acquired such greatness.

21. It is not my will that you become familiar with pain; if he has purified you, it is because you have needed it that way. Now that the experience is with you, seek my peace and follow the path. Work tirelessly so that my word may be among humanity. They are the prepared lands in which this seed will flourish and bear its fruit, because wherever three hearts were found carrying the grace with which in this Third Time I have come to donate to the spirit, there I will descend to give them my warmth and my caress. It is the spirits that belong to me that I have called, they are the ones that, having fed fanaticism and idolatry, I have extracted them from the different creeds and rites.

22. Beloved people, I have called your spirit at all times, but you have not been able to bend matter to fulfill my divine commands.

23. Not all of you understand what each of the seven rungs of the Ladder means for the embodied spirits. They signify the evolution that each spirit must reach, because you will have to return to Me clean, as you sprouted from my Spirit. But in your different reincarnations you have defiled your spirit and disobeyed my commands, therefore, beloved children, you have come back into the world to restore.

24. I have listened to you in those spiritual valleys, repentant of not having fulfilled my Law. You have said to me: Father, Father, grant me a matter to fulfill your commands through it. And I have granted you that opportunity, I have sent you to this world so that in a new body you can fulfill.

Love one another!

25. Is it at this time that only a small number of you are listening to my word? No, in truth, disembodied spirits also receive this message.

26. I have manifested myself to you at all times. according to my will, to make known to you a single Law, a single command of a single God who in three times has rescued you with his divine love.

27. My Law is love and charity; from the First time it was given to you through Moses so that you might be governed by it. In the Second Time, I spoke to my disciples about my second manifestation and they asked me: What signs will there be of your coming at that time? But I told them that humanity had to be unknown, that there would be great fratricidal wars, that one another would be unknown, that evil would multiply. Now I say to you: Childhood has been contaminated with evil from an early hour, there is no peace in homes. even in the nations, parents do not give their children the good example of respect and morality and because of all this, how much my Spirit suffers!

28. My word has been among you that you may show the light to your own, that you may not leave them in darkness, I have given you the light that you may put away blindness and ignorance.

29. I have come to give greatness to your spirit, greatness that is in the fulfillment of my Law that is my love, but of this greatness you have to make yourselves worthy, fulfilling your mission in imitation of your Master.

30. I have communicated through the spokespersons because I do not want you to be hungry and thirsty, because my word is the bread of eternal life, it is light and it is the teaching that I have come to give you so that you may be the good disciples who imitate those of the Second Time.

31. The crowds get confused and take the speaker as if he were my Divinity. No, beloved children, I am in the essence of this word, in the light that I send you from perfection.

32. I am a Father of love who patiently wait for you at the top of the mountain, to show you from there the rungs of the ladder that your spirit managed to climb. But those of you who have been frail will be touched by the representatives of the various sects and religions.

33. Not all of you are going to become my true servants, not all of you are going to be strong when this test comes, many of you will deny me like the beloved disciple who denied me even when I was with the Master.

Love one another!

34. The time that I will be communicating with you through the spokespersons is brief, but before my departure I will leave you full of strength, and of power, so that darkness will not envelop you and you will fall into the abysses. From the Beyond I will send you my strength and the great armies of my Spiritual World so that they may be of your help. You will defend yourselves with the weapons of love.

35. I have given you those weapons that like flashes of light will reach the great multitudes. In all times I have defended you and I have not departed from you, but at this time you will only cease to listen to me through a spokesman, to receive my revelation from Spirit to spirit.

36. My Law has not been dictated by man, it has sprung from Me, but the world has forged around my teaching different religions, creeds and rites, according to its understanding, to say to humanity: "This is the true way"; but I have not formed religions, I have only shown you the Law in all times.

37. At the same time, to make it unforgettable, I gave you my body and my blood, and that sacrifice of divine love will tell you eternally: "Love one another"

38. The true people of Israel, it is by the spirit and to him I have greatly given my word so that he will not be confused and with the sword of light and love defend my Work.

39. I have not come to seek your matter, for she, after her mission is accomplished, will come down to earth; therefore I say to you: take care to preserve the garment of the spirit and adorn it with good works towards your fellow men.

40. I love you with divine love, again I say to you: Forgive your brothers as I forgive your mistakes. I do not betray you or condemn you, I only give you my caress in the depths of your heart and spirit. If you know how to leave to me the cause of those who offend you, in due time I will weigh the deeds of each one in the balance of my perfect righteousness.

41. You only show meekness and the smile reflected on your face, so that by your example those who bear the darkness of this world may bend; so that you may be the ones who show the saving boat and rescue the spirits that belong to me.

42. Do not be afraid of the darts of humanity, give him my teaching and tell him that my Kingdom is not of this world. The God who has forged this world, does not hear them or speak to them, nor do they see Him in the way that religions believe. But I hear all things, behold all things, and know all things. I know what every heart asks of me through the images. Today I tell you as I said in the Second Half: I am the Way, the Truth and the Life.

Love one another!

43. Approach the sick person and, rising from spirit to Spirit, leave your love and charity in him; imitate my examples of the Second Time. I have left the sensitivity in your heart, I have given you the light and the gift of healing. Penetrate the elevation of your spirit and I will be delivering the balm to the sick through your channel.

44. I do not come to look for the quarry temples, I come after the temple in your spirit and heart to dwell in it, when spirituality exists in you.

45. After 1950 you will meet in my houses of prayer and prepare yourselves so that spirituality may be in you. You will no longer hear my word through human understanding, but you will be able to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit and your songs will be the elevation of your spirit.

46. The trials are going to be great and not all of you are going to stand up firmly. Many of you are going to fall into the precipice and you are going to leave the light that I have given you to penetrate the darkness. But those of you who persevere and stand firm will become worthy of my glory. I give you the teaching, but it is up to you to study and analyze it.

47. Israel: 66 years have passed in which I have entrusted you with charity and more charity, I have poured out my pleasures to you so that you may recognize me as love and so that you may be able to fulfill my Law.

48. I have spoken and prepared your spirit so that in this Third Time my Divine Word would communicate through the human understanding, so that when the final moment of this communication comes, you will not tell me: We have understood nothing of your teaching, we are still the little ones who do not understand the responsibility of the mission that you have entrusted to us. Therefore, beloved people, I have never abandoned you and I have tirelessly given you my word and until this moment my Universal Ray continues to descend to you.

49. I am perfection, I am life, I am love and it is not the will of your Master that you get lost in the ways; that after I have pulled you out of the dross of sin, you get lost again in the ways of yesterday and stripping yourself of my grace, return to darkness to confuse you with the foolishness and materialism of humanity. No, beloved Israel, I have appointed you a Trinitarian Marian spiritualist people, so that you may demonstrate to men the infinite grace that you have received from Me.

50. I have prophesied a lot to you and I have said to you: prepare yourselves, Israel, because times will come when false Christs will be among you; you will be touched and the flowery word of man will reach your ears and if you find yourselves unprepared you will fall into the clutches of temptation; you yourselves will become the disinherited and you will retain my graces, you will throw away the bread that I have given you and in truth you will feel hungry, needy and ragged, when this is not my divine will.

Love one another!

51. Therefore, beloved Israel, recognize that with my word I have traced the true path for you, I have given you my Law so that you may do my will, so that you may be the disciples who set the good example and the faithful fulfillment of your mission.

52. I'm not asking for an impossible. Everything that I hope from you is possible; the cross that I have entrusted to you will not weigh on your shoulders and if for a moment you feel it heavy, it is because you have not understood your Master and have not been able to move away from your materialism.

53. In the First time, Moses was the head of Israel to guide him through the desert for 40 years to the lands of Canaan; but because of disobedience, unbelief and materialism, some blasphemed, others reneged and others rebelled; and Moses faced such a situation spoke to them with prudence and patience so that they would not offend the supreme will and would be humble and obedient to that Father who, without contemplating his disobedience, made manna descend from heaven and water flow from the rock.

54. Of these examples I make known to you, beloved people, so that you may walk on the true path and not seek the paths, because you yourselves would carve out the pain. I have placed you on the true path so that you may struggle and work making yourselves worthy of my charity and my infinite mercy so that at the end of your journey you may find the Land of Promise:

55. The time will come when you will ask me that my Divine Word continue to pour out through the understanding through the spokespersons and you will prostrate yourselves with fennels before the symbols that I have given you to ask the Divinity to descend his ray to tell you about the Law and to give you love to continue the path; but when this happens, you will remember that just as in the Second Time, after the moment of Jesus' departure has been marked. you will no longer hear my voice in that form and from that moment you will recognize that my presence was with you and that because of your materialism you became familiar with my word.

56. Your awakening, it will be late, very late, Israel, and this will cause my most loving Father's heart to suffer infinitely.

57. Beloved people: I want to rejoice with your spirit, I want that when you come before Me, I will tell you: Beloved children, take the reward; my divine love places the laurel crown on your temples and opens the doors of my glory for you so that in my love you may enjoy the happiness that is in the Father.

Love one another!

58. The human will rises up saying that my divine Word will not cease to communicate through the human understanding, that even my Universal ray will descend to communicate some more time after 1950 through the spokesmen. Great error and great fault have been committed by the incarnate spirits in these matters, because they have forgotten that I am perfection, they have forgotten that I am the inexorable Law, they have forgotten that my word is of the king and does not return back; because I have told you that sooner I would stop lighting the king star, that my word will not be fulfilled in the Universe. And I have prophesied to you, I have marked a time for the end of my communication through human understanding and it will be effective. But I have also told you that I will not abandon you, that I will contemplate your preparation and I will listen to the prayer of the disciples, of those to whom at the last moment I have to give the last orders so that they may take the guidance and know how to take advantage of every last moment of life that I grant them in this world to prepare the new generations, so that they may leave this Earth prepared with love, understanding and charity. I will prepare the paths along which my beloved people will travel.

59. In truth I tell you that you will not have this manifestation again after 1950, and if man rises up wanting to ignore my will, forging the work at his free will to deliver it to the world, he will have to answer for it. I have prepared you and I have told you, beloved people: My will is obeyed: my word is fulfilled through the ages and I tell you, the time will come when you will not listen to it in this way again. Therefore, store my word in your heart and preserve the essence of these manifestations, because tomorrow you will uselessly ask the Father, because my Universal Ray will no longer descend to communicate to me through the human understanding.

60. Prepare yourselves, obey, work and give to your brothers what I have given you, speak and give the good news, so that everyone will wake up. But those who want to promote a materialistic work by adding it to my Law, saying that the Master will continue to communicate through the spokespersons, if they insist, if their foolishness is great, they will only listen to false manifestations.

61. Today, that the light of the Holy Spirit is among you, people of Israel, strive and work in imitation of your Master.

62. Great is my wisdom, but it is up to you to study and analyze my word. Begin to struggle and to work, because on your way you will find those in need of my light, of my teaching, you will find the wicked, the humble and also the high man; and you have to

Love one another!

Speak to everyone and show them my Work. Approach the door of the heart of this humanity and knock the first, the second and the third time, and if they remain closed, then move on. If, in addition to not listening to you, they tear you apart, have patience and go after the multitudes who need encouragement, consolation, balm for their spirits; approach them and anoint them with my word.

63. Get away from everything that disturbs your mind and give yourselves to prayer, so that your spirit may be in communication with your God and Lord and be the example of your brothers who are blind, show them spirituality. Your understanding will be enlightened so that you will know how to teach the multitudes with my truth. There are hearts that feel comfort with your words, thus, you will awaken all humanity. Then there will be no more egoism, no evil wills, no bitterness, no tares, and when they are before Me I will tell them: Blessed are you who come to the Master to bring one more atom of my light for the evolution of your spirit.

64. Humanity is hungry for my word, they are the needy who knock at my door, which I have left in the care of you so that you may receive the new generations.

65. Meditate on each day and communicate with me from spirit to Spirit. The roads are prepared by Elijah, He has illuminated you like a luminous beacon. In addition to having been the precursor of my manifestation in this Third Time, your mission will end until eternity.

66. After 1950, of the multitudes who have listened to me, some will follow me and the others will go their separate ways. So it will also be among my chosen ones, some will rise up in haste to unify those who are going forward because of their spirituality, and the others will again be stationed in their materialism.

67. My true disciples will arise prepared and will know how to fulfill my commands. They will be in imitation of my son Lot, who in Sodom and Gomorrah knew how to keep himself clean, when he received my command to leave those lands that were to be purified. My disciples will also come out ahead of every test.

68. Always have the example of Abraham engraved in your spirit: when I asked him for the sacrifice of his own son, he knew how to trust Me and made his great faith and obedience present to me. And when he was about to sacrifice his beloved son, I sent my angel to stop his hand. Then by his faith and obedience, I made him a great promise, so that through him I would reach humanity. But I have not come to ask you for any sacrifice, I only remind you of Abraham so that you may imitate him in his faith and obedience and I promise you that you will conquer eternal life.

Love one another!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 344

1. You come to listen to the word that like an open book I have shown you every day. I have revealed its contents to you; I have given you righteousness and light, I have given you the essence of my word and my love to transform you.
2. Blessed are you who have been resurrected in the bosom of my Work, I have set my spiritual gaze on you so that you may be those who will bear witness of Me to humanity tomorrow.
3. Many will come from different nations to receive the word that I have delivered to you. It is the needy and the shipwrecked to whom I will show this boat of salvation. Behold, from sinners I have come to serve myself to redeem other sinners; now they are the rocks from which the crystal clear water gushes, they are the sheep that are in my fold, they are from the tribes of my chosen people. I have taken them and consecrated them to my service. They are the Marian Trinitarian Spiritualists who unite in a single prayer to worship the Father and offer him the flowers of his heart. I have poured out my charity and my light on them so that perfection may come to their spirit. They are the chosen ones to receive and deliver humanity through him. They are my soldiers, my husbandmen, my disciples of this Third Time. To his care I have left the fountain of crystal clear waters and the tree with its fruits. They are the ones who have had faith to cross the desert again. They are the ones who will go in imitation of Elijah to call the great multitudes.
4. Chosen people of Israel: The Master's command is given to you, that you should testify about Me to your brothers. You are the strong Israel that will be recognized by humanity, because I have poured out my grace and the light of the Holy Spirit on you.
5. Do not waste this time, Israel, it is necessary that in the future you have my teaching in abundance so that you will not be the weak and needy. I have told you that after my departure, I will not depart from you, but do not for that reason trust yourselves too much and pass unnoticed my word that I am entrusting to you through human understanding. I want you to prepare yourselves from now on, so that when I send you to humanity, you will receive my message by intuition and spiritually feel my presence.
6. Anyone who knows how to prepare will be my interpreter. When this year of 1950 has passed, your eyes will contemplate many wonders, because the need of humanity is great. Prepare yourselves for the struggle, but with full knowledge of this divine cause, Israel; because you will have to clarify the errors of the world and remove the obsession and confusion from the brains of the spokespersons who will continue to say that I continue to communicate through them. But they will not be my light in the understanding, nor will they give a word of comfort and wisdom as I am giving you.

Love one another!

7. You are limited and cannot penetrate the purposes and thoughts of your brothers. But the Father with his perspicacious gaze can contemplate everything that tomorrow is going to happen.

8. I want you to be my true disciples who can show the true way, who can be my emissaries to show humanity my Work. With the light that you carry, dispel the darkness and show that you are children of the light.

9. Do not be cowed by the trials that are on your way or by those who approach you, because they will be the needy of the spirit who, naked of good works, are before my Divinity; you will be the humble ones who are ready to alleviate the pain and prepare the hearts of your brothers, without flaunting the charity that I have given you, causing words of love and light to flow from your lips.

10. I do not want to contemplate the lie in you, Israel, because one day it will have to be discovered and then the world will say: Are these the disciples of the Master? If they are false disciples, then the Master was also false who pastured among them to deliver a lie to them.

11. You have to testify to my truth with good works, with your regeneration and spirituality. I do not want humanity to tell me tomorrow: Why, if your chosen ones received the divine word, do they not give us the charity that we come to ask them to feel the consolation in our sorrows and to receive the balm that heals our diseases? It is up to you to do all this, to nourish the faith in those hearts and for the world to recognize you.

12. It is up to you to make the walkers feel the freshness of the tree and rest from their dizzying career, but I will speak to them spiritually, I will make them feel repentance and confess their faults before my Divine Spirit. Then I will make them understand that I am receiving them with my open arms and that I do not reject them even though they are great sinners. They will spiritually listen to my voice that says to them: Beloved children, I have sobbed a lot for you and this is the propitious time for you to regenerate and let your spirit be free. I will make them repent of all their faults and be ashamed of their iniquities.

13. That is why I come to teach you every day, Israel, so that you may have my Law written in your hearts. I will speak to you through the conscience and I will discover to you what is the commandment of my Law that you have not fulfilled and in this way, step by step, you will become the regenerated people and full of my wisdom.

Love one another!

14. You yourselves will contemplate your transformation, you will see who you were yesterday and what you are today, and then the hearts, more hardened, will receive your words. You will be their counselors and with purity in your hearts you will betray them and show them the true way.

15. What direction can humanity expect from blind guides? They will only receive from you who are the children of light, for I will pour Myself out through you.

16. The time will come when great trials are looming among humanity, but you who are under my care will be like birds that do not work and are fed. Then humanity will be surprised that in the midst of so much calamity and misery, you preserve yourselves with fortitude and that darkness does not invade you because you have known how to obey me.

17. You are the ones entrusted to alleviate the pain of humanity, to teach blasphemers to pray who for a long time have remained without raising their spirits in prayer.

18. But for this you will have to spiritualize yourselves every day by removing materiality from you, because I do not want you to be the exaggerated spiritualist, no; fanaticism is abominable before Me and that is what I have come to remove from among you. Consciousness will tell you how you should live in harmony with everything.

19. The time in which you will hear this word is short, therefore it is my will that you analyze my teachings so that you understand them and can be prepared.

20. Learn from the Divine Teacher who gives you the teaching that will remain and with which you will recreate tomorrow, because the time is already short when you will listen to your Teacher through the human understanding.

21. The Father's mercy rests on your spirit, strengthens him and says to him: Learn from my teaching because you are still the weak child who does not feel my strength. Every moment I also speak to you through your consciousness to make you recognize your mission.

22. In my right hand I carry the Law and in the left a balance. I am going to start from among you in this form of communication, but do not be afraid, because I will feed you spiritually with my word and you will not feel orphans; you will take me in yourselves because I will no longer communicate through the human understanding, but I have prepared your spirit to communicate with my Divine Spirit and you will receive my commands when it is my will.

23. After my departure your struggle will begin.

Love one another!

24. I entrust my Law to you so that you may study it and not break it. Make merits before your Lord, for it is the time when with true submission in your spirit, you will say to me, Lord, your will be done in you.

25. With great love and patience I have come to get you out of the mud, from the different ideologies, from idolatry, because you had bowed down before the effigies, before the golden calf. How much misunderstanding has existed in all times, but I as light, as charity and love have always manifested myself to you so that you do not walk blindly.

26. In this time I have again rescued you from the various paths that your spirit has traveled and in which you have encountered pain. I have granted you different reincarnations so that your spirit, when coming to this planet, evolves. But at this time I have surprised you in your deep lethargy; I have not found a heart prepared to remind you of the prophecies of the Second Time, but it was my will to communicate through human understanding to teach you again, so that you may love one another.

27. My love and my light have descended to your spirit like a dew of grace so that tomorrow you will show the world my Law; if you know how to prepare, there will be no hand that will point to you and cause you pain.

28. You will rise in imitation of the apostles of the Second Time. They knew how to prepare and wait for the right moment to get up to spread my Doctrine. From the different sects and religions I am going to select those who belong to me, they will recognize me and will know how to fulfill their mission.

29. You will rise up to give my teaching to humanity, because my gaze contemplates its pain, its desolation, so that the peace of my heavenly Kingdom may come to it.

30. This is what I have offered you, beloved people, and you will see my promise fulfilled. Your spirit will climb step after step until you reach the top of the mountain.

31. Do not fear the murmur of mankind or their judgments, fear the righteousness of your God. remember that I have told you that as a judge I am inexorable. Therefore, always seek me as a Father, as God, so that you may lack nothing on your way.

32. I come to bind evil in sheaves so that it will be thrown into the fire. For every evil seed will be reaped by my divine sickle, which is this word that comes to you to give you life of grace.

33. As a Teacher I am always waiting for you to teach you, to lead you along the way. Blessed are you who have come to hear my word, for you will get up later to go and deliver the good news to your brothers. He who has understood me and is putting my teachings into practice, is working happiness for his spirit.

34. Some of you say to me: How have we not felt you, Lord? and I say to you, Have you not felt me when you have done a good work, when you have given charity to your brothers? Do you not feel the satisfaction of being fulfilled? For in that satisfaction that you carry is how you are feeling me; because the one who does evil, departs from Me and it is difficult for him to feel my presence. I am in every good work, in the charity that you do, not only sharing your bread but giving words of love and consolation to strengthen the spirits, to console the hearts in the sufferings of this life. How many are in need of a little love, how many abandoned women need words of encouragement and you, my chosen ones, must rise up to give love, encouragement and strength to everyone in need.

35. The world is lost in its perversity, in chaos, in its dizzying race towards evil and to you I have entrusted this boat to save the shipwrecked, to those who have not listened to my word, but their spirits feel the need to receive it, that is why I want you to go wake them up and give testimony of my presence in this time to humanity.

36. Testify that I have communicated at this time through the human understanding and tell unbelievers that if in the Second Time I became a man to live with humanity, how could I not be able to communicate now through sinners whom I have prepared with my grace?

37. Why do you give more credence to the works of men and doubt the wonders and the greatness of your God and Lord?

38. Remind them of my steps on Earth as Jesus, remind them that I went from early childhood to speak to the doctors of the law; I taught you to pray and to be humble I was born in a manger and I died on a cross. And if I gave you that teaching, why in this Third Time, when the world is at the third height of perversity, should you not listen to this word and should I not show you the way that I taught you in the Second Time?

39. Humanity carries hatred and ill will and seeks the superfluous and also fanaticism has been in its heart.

40. People, you ask me: "Why, Lord, since you have prepared us with your grace, have trials multiplied on our way? And I answer you, In the Second time I taught you to suffer and to be humble; remember, they took me to the scaffold, put a crown of thorns on my temples and a reed in my hand to mock me, and I was meek and humble. I knew that my blood was to be shed as a symbol of humanity's salvation. When did you know that I had rejected those miseries, those sorrows, those sorrows? Never, I suffered out of love for all of you and shed my blood to teach you the way of redemption. But you are not going to shed your blood at this time, you are only going to prepare yourselves with a good will to speak to the world of my truth.

Love one another!

41. I have given you a sword and I have named you my soldiers, you are part of my armies to which with my word I encourage you and I tell you: Fight and do not fear the world, because I am your Father and I will defend you, I will enlighten you so that you do not become victims of humanity.

42. Beloved people, you have come in haste to recognize that my word will give you salvation. As a loving Father you have had me so that you do not carry bitterness or stumble.

43. Full of patience I continue to condemn you so that tomorrow you may be the example of your brothers.

44. Depart from the world so that your spirit may receive my charity and not be deprived of my peace and my love, so that you may not encounter the thorns that the world has prepared with its wickedness. I have come to lift you up from the abyss and to guide you so that step by step your spirit may draw near to Me.

45. My light has never departed from men, I am always close to their heart, because how could I leave my children in the middle of the road? And at this time when listening to the alas! of the pain was I going to leave them without my charity? I have come to take away your pain and I have made you rest under the tree of life and I have fed you with its fruits; you will not be hungry or thirsty after my departure and you will share the fruit, the water and the bread, with the thirsty and hungry, with the needy.

46. Behold the peoples in their desolation, surprised by the great gales. That is why I come to prepare you, to enlighten you so that you may rise up in the likeness of your Master and through you be liberated by Me from their spiritual oppression. For I will make you know the truth, enlighten your spirit and understanding, and deliver you from the confusions that have arisen in the world.

47. Prepare yourselves, my children, so that with my power and light you may give guidance to the peoples of the earth and make them feel my peace.

48. The blessed innocence is contaminated with the wickedness of the world, youth travels in a dizzying career and the maidens have also stripped themselves of their modesty, chastity, honesty; all these virtues have left their hearts, have fed worldly passions and only crave the pleasures that lead them to the abyss. I come to speak to you with all clarity so that you may rise up and take a firm step in the evolution of your spirit.

Love one another!

49. I want you to rise up and be in communion with your God so that you may manifest the charity that encloses my Work.

50. Beloved people: Climbing you find yourselves step after step to be able to reach the top of the mountain. The light of the Sixth candlestick is illuminating the Universe and I find Myself leading the spirits, giving them elevation to rain down on Me.

51. I have entrusted to you a time for you to receive my teachings again, so that the light of my Holy Spirit may separate the darkness of your spirit. Through the understanding of the sinner I have given you my wisdom in simple words, but carrying in its essence the truth.

52. Tomorrow you will get up to go along the different roads of the Earth to give the good news and to bear witness to Me, so that humanity may set aside the superfluous, sin and discord, so that everyone may recognize themselves as children of one Father, because for the spirit there are no classes, races or lineages; from one Father you have all sprung and to Me you must return.

53. Humanity, due to its disobedience, is enduring its great purification and has not understood that it has prepared this cup of bitterness for itself, but I as a Father have come at this time to weigh the cross that it carries on its back.

54. Peoples, at all times, have unknown each other, forming boundaries and different ideologies and have moved away from each other.

55. I have manifested myself among you so that you may imitate me, so that the hot rays of the sun may not bend you in the desert. I have come to prepare you with my wisdom so that you can guide humanity.

56. In the Second Time I prepared my twelve apostles to teach humanity, but in this Third Time I have come to gather the one hundred and forty-four thousand marked to prepare them, so that through this people, humanity may again receive my charity.

57. Beloved Israel: How much humanity has stagnated because of its disobedience, because of the weaknesses of matter, which have weakened the spirit and have not allowed it to be spiritualized as is my will.

58. Study and analyze my teaching so that tomorrow you can give it to other brothers. I have not come at this time to confuse humanity with my Doctrine, I have only come to free them from their sins, so that they may lead themselves on the true path and achieve my peace. I strengthen you, beloved people, so that you may enter into the struggle.

Love one another!

59. The instant is coming when you will cease to hear this word through the mouthpiece, but I will not depart from my children; you will feel the absence of this manifestation, but just as I have been with you spiritually from the beginning, so I will be to the end because this is my will.

60. Beloved disciples, I want you to testify by your works what I have entrusted to you in this Third Era. From the Second Time I said to you, Love one another. When men come to listen to you, you will show them the way, you will make them recognize how wrong they were and you will explain to them each of the teachings that I have given you; you will tell them why you are spiritualists, because you are Israelites and because you are Marian Trinitarians. Remember that I have told you that you are Israelites, not by the flesh but by the spirit, because you are the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, whom I named Israel because in the trial he demonstrated his strength, therefore you as Israelites must be strong. You are spiritualists, because I have taught you to seek me and to love me with your spirit.

61. Why do you seek and love Mary? for in the Second Time I entrusted to you her motherly tenderness, and her spirit intercedes for you and for all humanity.

62. The tribe of Levi was chosen from the First time to be the servants, the priests of God; and in this third time again the tribe of Levi is consecrated to the service of my Divinity, they are those who are consecrated to the fulfillment of their mission.

63. People: do not imitate Judas or deny me like Peter, or doubt like Thomas, but if you have such weaknesses, how much pain will you give to my Spirit. Watch and pray, imitate in their obedience to my apostles and like them no one wants to be greater than the other, because for Me you are all equal and according to your works this will be the quality of your spirit. I tell you as I said to my disciples, There are many mansions in the Father's house, but you must make yourselves worthy to dwell in them. Some of you will arrive first and the others later, let your spirit soar with good works, with the fulfillment of the Law.

64. When you arrive to the Afterlife, I will present you the book where your good and bad deeds are recorded and your spirit will rejoice if the balance of my justice tilts on the side of your merits, but if it were not so, you will return to this planet to incarnate and restore once again. Those of you who have fulfilled, from the spiritual valley you will continue to make merits to climb higher and higher and you will fight and work for humanity as the angels do and my Spiritual World that has greatly passed through the crucible.

Love one another!

65. Thus, little by little you will carve out true happiness and in the end you will merge with my Divine Spirit, because you know very well that you have sprung from Me and to Me you have to return clean and pure.

66. If you understood how much your spirit is purified by pain, you would love pain, but the flesh makes the spirit weak. but I have spoken to you about prayer so that you may defend yourselves from temptation.

67. After this word is no longer heard by your ears, you will rise up to give humanity all that you have stored and you will recognize the greatness of my Doctrine and you will know how to rise up and communicate from spirit to Spirit with my Divinity, and when you stand before Me I will tell you:

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 345

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Welcome all to the Master!
2. Beloved people, only a few days have passed since I was present among you as a judge, when I came to judge even the innermost depths of my people of Israel and found some praying and watching, others sleeping for spiritual revelations and awake only for the temptations of the world. Some of them I found with real spiritual preparation and advancement: the others sunk in the delay, a part of my children in the routine and some more, lacking spiritual preparation.
3. I judged the love of the people and found that they do not love each other yet from brother to brother; that spiritual harmony is not yet felt or lived by my chosen people.
4. I heard the prayer of the congregation and from some repentance rose for the faults; of the others the feeble request for universal peace and for the unification of the people of Israel and how few, in truth, were those who, aware of their responsibility before God and the world, who with true spiritual vision, knew how to rise humbly before the Master, in demand of a lesson, knew how to present themselves before the Judge by bowing their necks, surrender themselves into the arms of the Father as children who know that God above all is love, and on that blessed occasion, in that instant of grace, the Father overflowed their spiritual complacencies, he poured out partly through the human channel and largely also from Spirit to spirit his inspirations, his justice and his orders, especially on his people, but also on the Orb and throughout the universe.
5. That was already my last chair in which I came to you as a Judge, in which you had my Ray communicated by the human understanding and surrounded by the farmers of all the regions, by representatives of all the precincts, by the Marian Trinitarian Spiritualist servants by whose understanding I manifest my Work and encourage the faith of the multitudes.
6. I will see you gathered like this again in times to come, but no longer under this manifestation. The people sensed this in their spirit and sobbed; the flesh was weak and rebelled at the upcoming departure and completion of these manifestations.
7. Elijah had prepared you, had touched you with his spiritual index before that moment, so that all the people would be awake, alert and watching; so that that moment of judgment and grace, I would not find him lethargic, because Elias presents himself on the path of the spirits always as a precursor and preparing the paths, setting aside the thorns and stones so that the plant of my children does not get hurt on the way, blowing the spiritual bell that speaks to you through consciousness to the depths of the spirit, to leave you awake, of light to hear the voice of the One who arrives, of the One who always tells you: “Here I am” because the Father is at all times and in all places.

8. Thus I searched the hearts of men in that moment of judgment and found it full of pain, uncertainty, gloomy forebodings, I approached to listen to their heartbeat, to hear their prayer, which is becoming less spiritual every day, which is moving further and further away from its principles, because it is going after materialism, after only the sciences and tendencies of the Earth. Thus I found humanity, man, concerned only with the goods of the world; but with his anguished spirit, preserving only a ray, a spark of hope and that spark I did not come to extinguish it with my justice, on the contrary I came to revive it with my truth, with my consolation, strength and essence. This I poured out spiritually into the whole world at that moment of grace, so that my presence would be felt and my essence would be in everyone without any distinction, because Elijah had also manifested himself before. When I arrived, the spirits and hearts had already been prepared by the spirit of Elijah, the forerunner of God in all times and in all eras. For Elijah is the one who has always been with you and whom you have very rarely felt.

9. Is he your Father? No. Is it the Holy Spirit? Also. Who is Elijah then? Elijah is the great spirit who is at the right hand of God, who in his humility names himself a servant of the Father and through him, as through the channels of other great spirits, I move the spiritual universe and carry out great and high designs. Yes, my disciples, at my service I have multitudes of great spirits who govern Creation.

10. Then you ask yourselves, “Isn't the Father the one who does everything? And I answer you, I am the one who does everything, because I am in all spirits, I am in all creatures and without Me nothing would move; but just as I have given life to many spirits, I have given them all a part in my Work, in my work, a place in my Creation, a worthy place at my right hand. So from the first to the last, after preparing you all for that dawn of grace that passed, Elijah presented to his Lord the fertile fields of tares and the Father said to him, Leave! Still the tares will multiply a little; still the bad weed will grow, it will deepen its roots deeper and it will spread even more in the Earth; but soon the harvest will come, soon the sickle will come and then, among the bad seed will be the wheat, scarce, in truth, but it will be preserved in my granaries to be sown again when the hour is arrived and the earth is propitious and fruitful, while the tares tied in sheaves will be thrown into the fire.

11. Evil has grown among men, my people. Goodness, virtue, love, have been weak before the invasion of evil, diseases, plagues, plagues and calamities. Everything that is the seed of the wicked has polluted the hearts of the good, has made some falter, has decimated the number of the faithful, because great force has brought evil on humanity.

12. I have allowed this to happen because of the free will that I have given you, because behind all the perversity, all the darkness and the obfuscation of men, there is a divine light; the conscience that is not lost and will never be lost; there is a principle that is the spirit, which keeps immaculate the oscar that the Father gave him, which is the divine seal with which I have sent all my children to the path of struggle and because of that “Mark” none of those spirits will be lost.

13. Great is the number of those who have gone astray; but there is no shortage on the planet, in the bosom of the different nations that make up the Earth, in the humble villages and in the valleys, some hearts that know how to rise up to Me, that know how to keep themselves in the covenant made with their Lord and know how to be an example and spiritual support for the multitudes and they, when they rise up, ask me: Why so much evil? Why does not repentance spring up in the hearts of men? Why doesn't humanity wake up for good, for peace? Why can't people understand each other in order to love each other, to recognize each other as brothers and sisters in God?

14. And the Father gives tranquility and hope to those who are thus watching and praying, saying to them: Wait, that those who have sinned the most, those who have caused this humanity the most pain, will later be its greatest benefactors, because they will not die; sin will die, its matter will disappear, the darkness caused by the sin of men will disappear, but the spirit, guided by his conscience, will never disappear, even when he has to go through great crucibles, through great spiritual restorations and purifications; even when he has to go through corporeal death, even when he feels that the darkness that surrounds him in his restitution is eternal: even when he feels that the fire of his repentance is hellfire. All this will pass away, from all this it will come out clean and clean, cleaner than gold when it passes through the crucible.

15. Life since the appearance of man you cannot imagine or calculate. What happened before your existence in other worlds, in the Beyond unfathomable for you, you do not know; but remember my teachings, they are your way.

16. There are forces invisible to the human gaze and imperceptible to the science of man, which constantly influence your life. There are good ones and there are bad ones, there are light ones and there are also dark ones.

17. Where do these influences come from? Of the spirit, of the mind, of the feelings.

Love one another!

18. One and the other vibrations invade space, they fight with each other and influence your life, those influences spring from incarnated spirits as well as from beings without matter, because the same on Earth as in the Hereafter, there are spirits of light as well as troubled.

19. If you ask me, what was the beginning, the origin of these forces, the Father answers you:

20. Before the worlds were, before every creature and that which is matter arose to life, my Divine Spirit already existed. But being the Whole, I experienced an immense emptiness in me, because I was like a king without subjects, like a teacher without disciples, for that reason I conceived the idea of creating beings similar to Me, to whom I would dedicate my whole life, whom I would love so deeply and intensely that when the time came, I would not hesitate to offer them my blood on the cross. And do not be confused if I tell you that before you existed, I already loved you.

21. Yes, very beloved children.

22. So that God could name Himself Father, He made sprout from his bosom spirits, creatures similar to Him in His divine attributes, this was your beginning, thus you emerged into the spiritual life.

23. But the Father, being infinite and longing to be understood by his children, once created your spirit, formed the material life, created one of your temporary abodes, the world.

24. The Father, with perfect, infinite patience, was forging and preparing everything, so that the son would not find any imperfection, but that at every step and in every work, he would find the imprint of his Father; because everything was arranged from the beginning like a book, through whose pages and with the passage of time you would find the longed-for answer to the question that you would ask me: Who am I, where have I come from and where am I going?

25. And when everything was ready, I endowed the spirit with the body that would serve as a staff, a garment to inhabit a wonderful world, created with wisdom and perfection for him, a book that, with all its lessons and beauties, was offered to the children of the Lord, like a ladder that began in that world and was lost in infinity.

26. And when everything was ready, I said to the incarnate spirit, to man: Behold, your temporary abode. Cross the paths, drink from the fountains, taste and savor the fruits, know me through everything.

Love one another!

27. This was your beginning in the material life, but what the Father tells you has been left far behind, has been hidden with the passage of time.

28. Your numbers, your highest sciences to measure and calculate the times, would not be enough for you to start a work that only God can carry out, because He is the Only One who will always be beyond the times.

29. If the scientist cannot specify the age of this world, how could he investigate the principle of universal life, if I do not reveal it to Him? However, so that you do not break your understanding by wanting to know what is beyond your reach, let it suffice for you to know that the Father, the All, in whom is present what has been, what is and what will be, has told you this day. The beginning of your life has been left far behind, it has been hidden under the passage of time.

30. When man began to live in the world, he lived a spiritual life full of purity and innocence; but the Father asks you: Do you think that I was satisfied with the purity of those creatures, purity that came from their ignorance, from their lack of knowledge? However, disciples, through that ignorance, the Father could not be known, understood, or loved, because of that lack of spiritual merits none of the divine attributes could be valued, and I did not want you to be inferior creatures subject to my superior will, or something like those machines that you build, without a will, without a life of your own. For this reason I granted the spirit the gift of free will, and I allowed matter to reveal to the spirit the mysteries of human life, but I made known to the spirit through intuition the existence of the Creator Father, and before the weakness of matter, there was the strength of the spirit guided by the light of consciousness, in which are my Justice, my Wisdom and my Voice.

31. The instant the spirit awakened human life to the voice of his material senses, he renounced his spiritual life and the crucible, the struggle, the needs, the pain, the consequences of all thoughts, words and actions began, and the development of the spirit and human faculties began.

32. Yes, my children, the consequence of all the thoughts, words and actions that the spirit had in its beginning, by reason of free will, gave rise to the invisible forces, to those vibrations of good and evil.

33. Those who, in the use of free will, began to live in a healthy way, trying to achieve their well-being and that of their fellow man, created healthy, beneficial vibrations, and those who, in the same use of free will, ignored the voice of conscience and were guided by selfish inclinations, typical of their matter, created evil, deceptive forces.

Love one another!

34. One and the other vibrations remained in space, ready to increase or decrease their intensity, according to the thoughts of men, according to their subsequent works, but those invisible forces, they would not be isolated from the evolution of the spirits, No, disciples, those vibrations would remain latent over all beings, and would come to them according to their thoughts and works.

35. Those who were inspired by the light of conscience, knew how to reject bad influences and sought beneficial and healthy vibrations, and those who in the use of free will did works opposite to the divine dictation, attracted the perverse, unhealthy vibrations, increasing their confusion; and from that balance come the diseases and the low passions that torment man until your days.

36. I, who know your beginning and your future in eternity, gave the first men weapons with which to fight the forces of evil; but they despised them, they preferred the fight of evil against evil in which no one triumphs, because everyone will be defeated.

37. If you ask me what were the weapons that I gave to humanity to fight evil, I will tell you that they were prayer, perseverance in the Law and love for one another.

38. I have spoken to you about the origin of the forces of good and evil, now I tell you: These vibrations were to reach all the worlds that I was to form, to test the children of the Lord; but with this, I was not looking for your perdition but for your perfection. Proof of this is that I have always manifested myself to my children, either by speaking to you through conscience, or by teaching you through my messengers or by becoming a man among my children, as in that Second Time through Jesus.

39. There is no race or tribe, however uneducated it may seem to you, even those that you do not know because they live in impenetrable jungles, that have not had manifestations of my love. They in the moment of danger have heard heavenly voices that protect them, that shelter them, that advise them.

40. You have never lived abandoned, from the moment you burst into life, you have been under the protection of my love.

41. You human parents, tenderly loving your children, would you be able to abandon them to their fate, when they have just sprung into this life, when they most need your care, your care, your love? I have seen you watching over your children, even when they have reached their older age, even for those who offend, who have offended you, you watch over them with greater love, and if you respond in this way to the needs of your children, how will the love of your Heavenly Father who has loved you since before you existed be?

Love one another!

42. I have always come to your aid, and in this time when I find you with greater spiritual evolution I have come to teach you how you should fight to annihilate the insane forces, and how to increase the vibrations of good, because the ancient beliefs, figures, forms and symbolic names with which men of past times represented evil, giving it human form, granting it spiritual existence, beliefs that have reached the present generations must disappear, because without realizing it you have created myths and superstitious cults with them, unworthy of the spiritual evolution that man has reached in this time.

43. You tell me: Father, if by misusing the gift of free will, by ignoring the voice of conscience, and by our weaknesses to your law, we have given greater strength to the vibrations of evil, to be spiritually free, to achieve the peace of the kingdom of Heaven, what should we do? The Father answers you: The freedom that your spirit longs for, you will achieve, by virtue of the merits of your restitution.

44. When will you reach your spiritual liberation? The Father does not reveal it to you at this moment, he only invites you to fight with the weapons that my love inspires you, against the forces of evil, persevere in my Law, be strong in the great trials, and you will see the establishment of my kingdom arrive in the heart of humanity, today divided into races, languages and colors, distanced by different ideologies, in doctrines, ambitions and hatreds; you will see it in spirit and in truth, dwell in the virtues, persevere in my teachings and pronounce my name with respect: but Ah! how many crossroads and how many temptations you will have to go through.

45. Watch and pray, overcome in my name and then yes you will have reached your spiritual apotheosis, glory will come to meet you and there will be smiles of peace and true joy. The prodigal son of the parable will return to the paternal home, and you will contemplate that humanity, after so many struggles and falls, will finally conquer the peace promised to men of good will.

46. Strengthen yourselves with my teachings and share this light with humanity; tell them what the origin of evil is, and how they can fight it wielding the weapons of love and virtue.

47. Tell him that, when man appeared on the beam of this world, the vibrations of good and evil already existed, and that from the beginning my wise and loving justice has allowed so many faithful spirits to the light of conscience, as beings guided by the gift of free will, incarnate in this world, some for the restitution of humanity, others for the blessing of itself. That is why you have seen in all the epochs of human life how great spirits have arisen, some for good and others for evil; spirits full of power, full of strength and when you have seen the appearance of those spirits incarnated in men doing

Love one another!

beneficent works, you have not conceived why not all men are like that. Humanity has been confused considering them as extraordinary beings, that at the same time when other beings evolve so little, they manage to manifest themselves with so much power, with so much light, with so much love, wisdom or virtue and it is that those spirits have not come to be born or to begin their evolution on Earth, it is that they are spirits that have settled in other worlds, in other places unknown to you yet; it is that they have not come among you to sow just, but to bring the harvest, the cultivated fruit, seasoned by them in other times and in other places; they have come to bring their flavor, their life, their essence to your lips and with them they have flooded your existence with well-being; they have given your spirit an example and your human heart, strength and staff. Some of these have been prophets, others patriarchs, other wise men, other kings, some judges or teachers; others have brought the beauty of Nature, of the heart and of the spirit, to make your heart feel the beauty of Creation.

48. You have also been amazed at the strength that men and women have manifested in their wickedness throughout all the epochs of your human life. The book of your history has collected their names; in the album of your existence, in the book where God writes and records all facts, all your works, there are their names too and you have been amazed that a spirit, that a human heart can harbor so much strength for evil, can preserve so much strength not to shudder at its own works; may she silence the voice of her conscience so as not to listen to the claim of God, who through her makes all His children. And how many times has the journey of these spirits on the planet been long and lasting. Those beings who, by virtue of their free will, have revealed themselves to my love and my justice, I have taken, using their own disobedience, to make them my servants and believing that they act freely, each of their thoughts, their words and their actions have been instruments of my justice, both for themselves and for others.

49. But when will that reign end? The Father tells you: The reign of evil has never prevailed over humanity, because even in the times of greatest perversity, there have been beings faithful to Me, obedient to my teaching and apostles of my Law; but the struggle has always existed from the beginning. Which of those two forces has so far been ahead in the contest? The one of evil! that is why I had to come to materialize among you to help you, to revive your hope and faith in Me, to warm your heart and tell you: You are not alone on the path, I have never lied to you. The principles that I have placed in you must not be twisted; this is the way of goodness and love.

50. For God there are no names of religions, no organizations of religions. For the Father, only the practice that the spirits have done in his Law of justice and love has value. I have always been among you, in truth, and I am in all the beings of Creation; but when it has been necessary to limit myself, to approach and materialize myself for the sake of my love, I have always done it, already humanizing my voice as in Sinai, already speaking through the mouth of the prophets, as well as becoming a man, incarnating my own word in that Second Time, to become a living word and miracle; to make myself human blood, to make myself visible and tangible to the material eye of every man, as now in this Third Time, choosing among you men and women of different ages, nationalities and spheres, to give through some, others and everyone the same word, the same essence, the same revelation and the same testimony.

51. But truly I tell you, Elijah has always been before. Before man came to inhabit the planet, Elijah came to give it a spiritual environment; to flood all the areas of your dwelling with spiritual essence; to turn this planet, not only into an earthly paradise, but into a sanctuary for the spirit, so that man would not bow down only to Nature to worship her, but through Nature, discover the presence of his God. Even before you arrived, Elijah was. Why? For the Father would have to come to make his voice recognized, from the first inhabitants to the last, and in truth, the first ones listened to me and if they did not see me in all my splendor and did not contemplate my Divine Spirit in some symbolic way, they did know that I was Spirit and they felt my presence; they knew that I was, that I spoke, that I was their Father; that I contemplated them and judged them; that I offered all the good and touched them and rebuked them for everything bad.

52. But so that you could bear witness to the existence of Elijah, I sent him in the First Time to incarnate, so that he would bear witness to him and his Father and in truth he was one of those extraordinary spirits who surprised humanity, who amazed men by his manifestations, by his works, by his words; a man who, without being a man of science, had the elements in his hands; a being who, being human, knew how to overcome death and pass over it; a man who, with his invocation, attracted the elements to surprise the disbelief and materialism of humanity; a man who, without being a sorcerer, really knew how to have power over disembodied spirits, and of all this he gave great samples to those around him.

53. Elijah rose up as a prophet delivering prophecies that were about to be fulfilled and that the very witnesses who heard them saw them fulfilled, and prophecies also given for long times, which the new generations testified. And it was the same defending the servants of the Lord who touched the pagans and Gentiles with a righteous hand; it was the same stimulating the good faith of those who believed in their invisible God and worshiped Him, who scourged the materialism, superstition and paganism of the Gentiles. I manifested myself through him, I spoke to men through his mouth, I put my power in his right arm, and so that you could be witnesses that Elijah was passing through death itself and he was in the true life, I brought him back.

54. He was to come before the Messiah, to prepare the roads, to awaken men from their deep lethargy; to revive the hopes of the one who day after day and generation after generation, from parents to children, came waiting with so much love for the arrival of the Master, of the Messiah. I made Elijah in truth and in spirit to be the Baptist, the forerunner, the one who came to say to you, "Prepare yourselves, enter into repentance and prayer, for the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand." And the people of Israel, those who believed in the prophecies of the Baptist, those who were afraid of his word, gave themselves up to vigil and prayer, cleared their spirit, and their heart and in them felt the proximity of the good news of the Master's Kingdom.

55. I made the Baptist's life extraordinary, from before he became a man; from before he came into the world in his mother's womb and then in his childhood and in his youth and until his last moment, so that his presence would awaken you as the bell awakens the sleeper, so that he would gather you as the shepherd gathers his flock, lead you to the riverbank to purify yourselves, to wash your bodies, as a symbol of the purification of the spirit that only in this way can receive communion with his Lord.

56. When Elijah has fulfilled his mission of preparing everything as a docile and humble servant, he then leaves the cause in the hands of the Lord and says to him: "Father, behold the multitude, behold the spiritual multitude, which I leave in your hands, because it is safe there, because your own Father's heart is the safest fold".

57. I brought Elijah back in the Third Time and this is what I had announced as a Teacher in that Second Time, saying, Truly, Elijah has been among you and you have not felt it. I will return to the world, but truly I tell you, Before Me, it will be Elijah. And as every word of the Master is fulfilled, in the Third Time Elias has been before Me to come to awaken the spirits, to make them feel that the hour of the Holy Spirit was opening its doors, to tell every spirit to open its eyes, to prepare its shoe to cross the threshold of the Second Era to the Third, and so that the manifestation of Elias in this Third Time was more palpable, I made him communicate through an upright man: Roque Rojas.

58. Elijah, from beyond, spiritually enlightened the man, inspired him, strengthened him and guided him in all his steps from beginning to end. But truly I tell you, I did not come to choose Roque Rojas from among men. I sent him, I sent his spirit already prepared by my charity, I gave him matter prepared also by Me and you know that he was humble, that through his humility and his virtue the Father manifested great works. He was a prophet, spokesman, seer and guide. Of all this he left a clear example to the people. He was mocked and mocked by his own people, as Moses was in the wilderness; he was persecuted like Elijah, the prophet, and had to seek the tops of the mountains to pray and watch over his people from there. He was mocked and judged by priests and scribes, as his Teacher; he was believed, followed and surrounded by a few, also as his Teacher; his hands distributed balm, did wonders that raised faith in some and confusion in others; his lips spoke of prophetic lessons for some that were carried out to the letter; his lips knew how to say advice full of comfort for sick hearts; his mind knew how to conceive great inspirations and knew how to rise with the ecstasy of the righteous, of the apostles, of the prophets; his spirit knew how to detach himself from this world and from his flesh, in order to penetrate the spiritual valley and humbly reach the gates of the Arcanum of the Lord; and through this elevation, the spirit of Elijah manifested itself to the first witnesses, before the ray of the Master came.

59. It was the light of Elijah who prepared him, who enlightened him and gave him certainty in front of those present, who testified saying: “I am the prophet Elijah, the one of the transfiguration on Mount Tabor”. He spoke of justice, of charges and of death and those present trembled in truth, and that shudder was of faith, of trust and of surrender to the Lord. But after Elijah had prepared that way of the new communication so that it would be the presence of the Father in the Third Time, once he had prepared that path for the Lord to come to this world through the human channel, and prepared the ear, the heart and the whole being of man, to listen attentively to the Word of the Holy Spirit, Elijah was spiritually present among humanity to awaken all those who are asleep, to purify all those who are stained, to envelop all those who are cold in the fire of his spirit, to draw paths, paths and paths that will attract all spirits to the path of truth;. Because Elias, not only works in this people; his spirit in his struggle encompasses all of humanity; and when he had manifested through Roque Rojas, the doors of the Third Time were opened for the world, because it is the time when the spirits of the 144,000 began to arrive to reincarnate.

60. Roque Rojas was the first “marked” From Spirit to spirit I spoke to him saying: In truth, around my word the great multitudes will come to recreate themselves, but since they are still small, I will have to manifest my word and my works through the spokespersons; I will have to point out on their material front a triangle to make them recognize that they are of the 144,000, which are those that I announced through another prophet from the Second Time, to come to fulfill in this time a delicate and great mission among humanity, mission of redemption, spirituality and of elevation.

61. Through Roque Rojas I made you understand that you were in the Sixth Seal, that the book was opened for you in its Sixth chapter, in its Sixth Part. That Book of the Seven

Love one another!

Seals, is the anticipated history of the existence of humanity, because only God could write the history of men before they lived it, and that Book being enclosed in the mystery, to be revealed its contents to Humanity, only one hand could open it, a holy and pure hand, a perfect hand, and that was the Lamb, the same God, who you knew through his teaching and his sacrifice in the Second Time, sublime sacrifice of love; she was the only one worthy to open that book, because there was no spirit on Earth, nor in heaven, nor in space, nor in any world, who was worthy to open and reveal the book and its contents to the spirits.

62. I have told you through this revelation, that you belong to the Sixth Seal, but you have belonged to the previous five and you have to go through the seventh, until you penetrate into eternity.

63. The Seven Seals are your life, they are your history, your struggles, your triumphs and falls, your sufferings, combats and in the end your redemption, full of glory, full of hymns, full of spiritual feast at the right hand of your Lord, in his own bosom, but there have been turbulences among my people and after those confusions I have not found the true preparation in my spokesmen, so that I as a Teacher, as a Holy Spirit, take you out of them.

64. Elijah did not loose the Seven Seals, nor did he come to implant them in your nation. Roque Rojas did not untie the Seven Seals. The Book of the Seven Seals I untied myself. Only God could reveal to His children the intimacies, the arcana of Himself; it is well that through my prophets and my apostles, the Holy Spirit revealed great lessons to you, but only your Lord is the One who can open his heart for you to contemplate his interior. The prophets have spoken to you figuratively and the Father has brought for you the fulfillment and fulfillment of the prophecies.

65. You see how in all times I have been with you shining your primitive weapons, your original weapons, so that you can overcome the evil that has existed since before you were, so that you always give access to good inspirations, so that you always attract with your prayer and virtue the good emanations of the spiritual world of light; so that in your sleep, in your work, in your trials or difficult trances you may never fall into the nets of the temptation that has always stalked you, that has always promised you the path of evil full of pleasures and passing riches, of false lights, of wisdom and honors, that today are and that tomorrow do not exist, but that leave great bitterness.

66. You see how you have always had a shepherd who has prepared the way for you and has always followed you: Elijah. And if you say to me: "Master, in recent times we have lacked great examples to follow in your footsteps"" the Master replies: Take the good example of Roque Rojas! He is an image of Elijah, he watched over you as a shepherd; he consecrated his life to my service and in him there was purity, elevation and love, because he knew how to remain faithful to the mission that I gave him from beyond as the good envoy.

67. Roque Rojas did not dictate the Law, nor did he give it to humanity, he was only the father's conduit so that through his understanding and his lips the Father's Law passed in words, to the heart of humanity. As a spokesman, he knew how to give himself into my arms, he knew how to be inspired by Me and become ecstatic speaking through him Elijah to give the first loaves of bread, the first drops of wine, the first delicacies to those first who sat at the table of the Lord in the Third Time. As a Guide, he knew how to lead you along the path of truth so that you would not twist your steps, taking care that you would not fall into fanaticism or idolatry; taking care that you would not confuse Spiritualism with materialized sciences that speak of the spirit, but that do not teach the practice of charity to all my children, nor with sects or religions and giving you a clean word. As a seer, he knew how to contemplate me and give faithful testimony to those who heard him, so that they would affirm their faith, and his testimony was always true.

68. But after Roque Rojas you have had other examples, if not perfect, if of those who leave seed to your heart. Encourage your steps in the good example of your brothers who are walking forward. But do not judge them with the severe judgment of a perfect judge, because then you could not find the perfection that you seek in them, but if you seek fidelity in one of your brothers, you will find it; strength, you will find it; love, too; zeal, self-denial, sacrifice.

69. Of all the virtues you will find in your brothers an atom, a particle, but it is already something, because it is the seed that I have been raising in the hearts of my disciples, since you are all of them, but if you want to find perfection, look for it in my word, because in my word is the Master of Teachers and He tells you this without boasting: He is perfect!

70. This manifestation that I have been giving you since 1866 is about to conclude and when the Master ceases to speak through the understanding of man, when this manifestation has ceased for Me and for you, what will Elijah do?

71. I have already told you that after you have had me through the channel of man, you will have me from Spirit to spirit. Will your communication be perfect the day after I leave? From the new day after my departure will the people of Israel already begin to have the great inspirations and perfect communications with my Divine Spirit? From now on I'm telling you no. I have already announced and ordained for you a time of meditation and preparation in these practices, for verily I warn you that in that time of meditation and preparation, Elijah will be with you, but it will be spiritually. The spiritual gaze of the seers will bear witness to this and your hearts will feel their presence, their warmth, their prophecy and their encouragement.

72. When my people are already prepared, the Master will come on the cloud, on that spiritual and universal cloud, to communicate with everyone who is really prepared, to help those who are not prepared in their preparation and to awaken those who far from this teachings can be found and then I will not only have access among you; not only among this doctrinaire people I will find open doors for my spiritual communication; Indeed, all over the world they are already waiting for me; they will not all be prepared as I have told you, but there are the faithful, the persevering, those who have suffered a lot and have converted and those who have preserved preparation: there they are waiting for me, I contemplate them and I will not disappoint them, I will be in them in Spirit and in Truth.

73. Seers will arise all over the world, prophets, those who communicate from spirit to Spirit; men and women of different ages and nationalities, speaking of great inspirations. That time is already near, O people, that is why I am warning you, preparing you and teaching you, so that you do not fall into temptation or confusion, because great confusions are going to arise in times to come among this Humanity.

74. Spirituality, which is my own Kingdom, is approaching with great strides, like those winds that come from the North sweeping away everything, shaking all the groves, shaking all the forests, knocking on the doors and whipping the faces of all beings; so Spiritualism also comes like a gale of light and love; a gale that drags and sweeps away everything, and it will become established in the heart of man, in the heart of all institutions, in the bosom of all nations and of all races. It is my Kingdom, the Reign of the Holy Spirit, a reign of spiritual elevation, peace and love.

75. In truth, then, you will see how humanity, awakening from man to man, from heart to heart, will have to penetrate the temple, the sanctuary, the true church of the Holy Spirit, which is the Universal Work, which is the Law of God, the Law of justice and love. But you will see men get confused with Spiritualism, even searching for it, even pursuing it and rejoicing that they have found it; you will see men fall into spiritual confusion, into great fanaticism because in order for a doctrine to truly establish itself in the heart of man, it will first have to be like a pasture of fanaticism and the idolatry of humanity. The spiritual fanaticism of man will be very great in the Third Time; with such force they will want to surrender to him, that they will not know the material life itself, they will not know their matter, they will not know many material laws in order to fully surrender only to the spiritual; to think, to dream, to live only the existence of the spirit, forgetting about the material; but then the same material laws that have the principle of justice in the spiritual, will take care of awakening them, touching them, rebuking them and correcting them.

76. You too, as disciples of this Work, like the 144,000 marked, like the spiritual Israel, taught by the Father in all times, will have the great obligation to rise up with your great spiritual book of wisdom, with your banner of peace, union and goodwill, with your weapons of justice, with your gifts of revelation, of prophecy, of intuition, of analysis, of study in my word, to say to humanity: This is the Work of the Father! This is true Spiritualism and this is the way to fulfill! This is the worship, the practice that the Father has come to teach as the Holy Spirit!

77. There then will be your endless lands, there will be your work waiting for you. There will be day without night, work without fatigue and combat without death. There will be the feast for your spirit, a feast of love and redemption, a feast of struggle! The greater your work, the greater your joy will be and you will pass from this life to another, carrying in your spirit the harvest of your fulfillment, as the best proof that you were one of the faithful of the Lord, of the spirits who came to this world only to sow peace and love and from beyond you will contemplate the struggles of this; from there you will contemplate the seed of light and love penetrating everywhere, converting everything, touching all the principles of humanity to their foundations and you will wait submissively and obediently for the Father's orders to come, to return to the world, to do the Father's will; those of you who have not completed your work, those of you who have not finished your work, you will have to come and others you will have to go to other worlds, to the bosom of other congregations of spirits; but this does not sadden you, do not think about eternal rest in the bosom of God.

78. Your flesh thinks about rest, because it is fragile; but for the spirit rest would be its worst punishment since the best reward for the spirit is activity, work, struggle; because in it he glorifies his Father by imitating his God, who never rests. Fatigue does not exist in the spirit that is in full evolution, neither does night, hunger or thirst.

79. It will be enough for death to awaken your spirit in the Afterlife, so that, from that precise moment, instead of being troubled, he understands everything and tells me: "My Father, Today my wings are opening to conquer the infinite and today I can love it and understand everything with the light that you gave me through the ages, point out to me my task, my mission". Do you know if you, who today feel small, will go to other worlds to appear as great spirits, as prophets, as teachers inspired by the beautiful works of the universe?

Love one another!

80. You do not know it, but the Father does tell you that your journey will not end with death, that your journey will not end in reaching Me spiritually; that you still have a lot ahead to contemplate and to live, a lot to learn and to do as well.

81. This my word is heard by you on Earth through the human understanding and on a scale higher than you, other spirits inhabiting it are also listening to it. As well as on other higher scales, the spirits who dwell there are listening to it; because this concert, which the Father initiates with the spirits in the Third Time, is universal. I have said it: My ray is Universal, my word and my universal essence are also and from the highest scale that the spirits have reached, there they hear me. You hear me now in this communication through the most imperfect way, which is through man.

82. That is why I am preparing you for higher communications and so that when you penetrate in spirit, leaving this Earth completely, you can then gather on a new scale to listen to the concert that the Father enters into with your spirit. Today you are in matter, recreating your heart and spirit with this word and those beings who belonged to you on Earth, whom you still call father, husband, wife, brother, son, relative or friend, are on other scales listening to the same word; but their meaning, their essence, is different for them, even if they experience the same joy, the same recreation, the same breath, the same bread.

83. Is it not by chance, the Maestro tells you, wonderful this concert? Is not your spirit recreated, does not your spirit enjoy thinking that what you are receiving here as spiritual sustenance, is also the cause of joy and spiritual life in other orbs, in other worlds where living are beings that you love, beings that you knew and that through Spiritualism are so close and distant from you at the same time?

84. This is how I prepare you full of light, O my disciples; this is how I comfort you and make you contemplate the infinite horizons that my Work shows you, so that you may carry this message of hope and light to all humanity, so that you may make it look at the true meaning of human life and spiritual life, but not only carry my teachings in word, but in deed, because I want you to penetrate fully into the practice of my Doctrine and thus be the good spiritualists, those who know how to give to the world what is of the world and to God what is of God. What corresponds to your matter, let it be given with justice, with charity and love to it, and what corresponds to your spirit, let it be given with love and charity to him also; may you have a time for your earthly duties and a time also for your spiritual exercises, for spiritual practices and for the development of the same.

85. In this way, every vestige, every trace of fanaticism and idolatry, of materialism and even of superstition will fall from your spirit and will be abolished from your heart, and by practicing Spiritualism with limpidity, with that purity, with that simplicity and elevation, you will give the true example to humanity of what the worship that the Father expects of you in the Third Time should be.

86. You are strong, not only to be the disciples, but the masters of this Work; full of balm, full of gifts. Know how to find all these virtues in your own bosom, in that invisible ark that I have placed, that I have placed in the heart of each one of you.

87. Penetrate into your interior and you will find there the sanctuary, the ark; you will find a source, a spring of graces and blessings. There is no naked spirit, there is no disinherited. Before my divine mercy there is not a single one in the whole universe who can be said to be poor, unknown to his Father; none who can be said to be an expatriate from the lands of the Lord. The one who feels disinherited, it is because he has not found the gifts in himself or because for the moment he has been lost among sin or he is obfuscated or because he feels unworthy. Know how to always find them within yourselves and you will see how you will never lack my presence, you will see how there will always be bread, balm, weapons, keys and everything that you need in the very bosom of you, because you are the heirs of my Kingdom and of my glory.

88. This is my word that I write on your conscience on this day of grace.

89. Watch and pray, O people, because just as the seed of restoration, the seed of redemption is among you and very close to humanity, the seed that propagates the tares is also germinating greatly in the hearts of my dearly beloved children!

90. Watch and pray for the sickle to come closer! The sickle is not in man's hand; it is in mine.

91. I will allow the hand of man to carry destruction, death and war, but only to a limit. From that limit the justice, the perversity, the obfuscation and the ambition of men will not be able to pass. Then my sickle will come and she will reap with wisdom whatever my will is, because my sickle is of life, it is of love and it is of true justice; but you, people, watch and pray!

92. In this way I want to contemplate you and in the strength of your prayer I have also found reason to forgive. By your intercession I will also feel moved in my heart, to stop my justice. In your petitions I will find balm to bring to those who mourn; in your elevation of spirit I will also find reason to stop the destruction that men do.

93. That is why I want you to watch, that is why I want you to pray, to forgive and to love, O Israel!

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 346

1. I come to give you my word to polish your heart, to make your spirit feel my peace.
2. I am the light and the life and he who comes to Me receives from this grace. As a Father, I suffer when you deprive yourselves of spiritual goods, when you go to your free will, feeding materialistic tendencies and making yourself worthy of pain. If you suffer and weep, it is because of your own iniquity, but I come to remove the darkness from you and to cleanse your path of thorns and stones so that you may seek my path, so that you may forget your past and only see your future.
3. I will always be with you, I will be the good counselor and faithful companion and I will speak to you through your conscience so that you do not fall into temptation.
4. You are like a plant that the Father has cultivated, as a good gardener I find myself among you removing the nettle, pushing away the gnawing worm. I have been cultivating your spirit so that it may be in harmony with me.
5. You are the castaways to whom I have come to show the saving boat, so that you will not perish in the waves of the raging sea. Walk on the waters, as I said to Peter, but do not say to me as he did, "Master, save us who are perishing." When faith, united to love, forms a single power, you will experience a great strength in your spirit and even matter itself will be able to walk on the waters, because the power of your Father will sustain you. But never try to test your Lord.
6. Blessed is the one who pleases the Father with his works, because I always reward him in silence by giving him the multiplication of what he has given.
7. Great is the number of the needy, of the blind, of the troubled, but I, as a Father, draw near to them to give them my charity.
8. This manifestation will be among you until the year 1950 and will be written in your heart. But while that time is coming, I come to lead you so that you may come closer to Me. I have come to teach you, because the Third Time has come and in it you have heard the voice of the heavenly trumpet that has awakened your spirit. Some of you have asked me, "Father, why have I come to dwell on earth again?" And the Father says to you: So that your spirit may restore the lost purity and truly I say to you: Blessed is the one who has penetrated into this restitution, because he will be in my Kingdom, because he will have purified himself and will have fulfilled his mission.

Love one another!

9. You are part of the chosen people of Israel, to whom I have given a garment of light, so that you may arise tomorrow as teachers, as guides of humanity. At this time I am calling all my children and everyone who is with me and loves me, will get up to fight and work.

10. Temptation still surrounds you, but the time will come that I have announced to you in which temptation will be bound so that in your ways it will only be my light that guides you.

11. You are in the time of struggle and work, in which you must purify yourselves and restore your past, because it is not to your flesh that I have entrusted the inheritance, but to your spirit that has sprung from Me.

12. I have to purify the spirit, to cleanse it so that it may return to Me to merge with my Divine Spirit for all eternity, so that it may enjoy my Heavenly Kingdom.

13. Beloved children who have arrived in a short number, truly I tell you: My discerning gaze discovers everywhere my chosen ones, who feel in their spirit that it is already the time of my presence, they have not listened to my word like you, but in their spirit they hear a voice that tells them that I am again among humanity, that I have come spiritually on the cloud; to some I will grant to contemplate me with the eyes of their spirit, to others through foreboding, to others I make them feel my love greatly so that they may feel the presence of my Spirit.

14. I am knocking at the doors of the heart of humanity, some I find ready, others sleeping, because they have parked in the different sects and religions and for a moment they have deviated from the path. But the time has come when my sonorous bell is calling you all to come to Me, receive the resurrection of your spirit and be unified to feel my peace on Earth and reach the Promised Land.

PARABLE

15. "A great lord full of virtue and power was on a high throne and around him great multitudes, millions and millions of creatures surrounded him; but none of these multitudes could approach the sovereign, they could only contemplate him from afar, but in their hearts they wanted to get closer, to be very close to him. Suddenly a door opened and on it appeared a lamb dripping with blood and an inscription that said: "Behold the light. behold, the door is open, so that everyone who wants to penetrate, for everyone who carries virtue in his heart, come, come," A bright light was contemplated and the crowds full of rejoicing went towards that door; some arrived and penetrated into that mansion, but not all arrived because they found thorns in their way and could not walk through it.; others encountered great barriers that prevented them from entering through that door, but that Sovereign, that Lord Almighty, from on high contemplated the multitudes and said to them: "Penetrate, penetrate, for the Lamb has shed his most pure blood to show you the way by which all of you will reach my Kingdom".

Love one another!

16. Blessed children: With my sublime love I have given freedom to your spirit and I have freed you from the chains of sin. With my most precious blood I have given you the opportunity for your spirit to earn the reward and manage to climb until you reach my Kingdom.

17. Do you understand me, people? That sovereign is your Eternal Father Great Jehovah; the door that opens is Jesus, your Master, the slain Lamb, who came into the world to rescue you, shedding his blood to the last drop, to give light and resurrection to your spirit.

18. At this time I have again entrusted to you a wrapping, so that you may go making restitution, so that you may turn away from sin and from all the tendencies of the world, so that step after step you may ascend to the mountain where I am waiting for you with my open arms.

19. I have taught you how to rise up in prayer so that you may turn away from sin, that you may reject temptations, because it is written: The death of the spirit will be abolished, because I am the Way and the life and the time will come when I will remind you: "Where is it, O death! your power? your altar? Where is your victory?" For in truth, the sting of death is sin and I am abolishing sin at this time, with the light of my Holy Spirit.

20. The time will come when you will contemplate the harvest of what you are sowing among humanity. In your hands I have entrusted the instruments of tillage so that you may cultivate the land and humanity may be fed with the good fruits.

21. I come to carve your heart with the fine chisel of my word and to enlighten you with the light of the Holy Spirit. I am the Teacher of Teachers who have come to teach you, to forgive you, to lead you along the path of truth and as a Doctor of Doctors I am also among you to heal your spirit from its leprosy and to take away its pain.

22. I give you my teaching so that you can put it into practice, so that you carry love and purity in your heart and even if temptation approaches, it will not find a place in you, because with my light and with my love, I make you strong so that you reject all weakness.

23. Blessed people: Contemplate the world in its wars rushing the cup of pain, more of all this I have saved you, do not attribute it to chance, blessed people. You are the blessed people to prepare yourselves with my word, to show it to the world, because this is my will.

Love one another!

24. You are my instrument, chosen people of Israel, in your hands I have entrusted my power and my light so that you dispel the darkness of humanity.

25. By your obedience and fulfillment you will feel spiritually transformed and united to the spiritual armies so that in that Hereafter, you will continue to be my servants and never again depart from Me.

26. I have entrusted this time to you for your preparation, so that you may regenerate and climb the mountain step by step.

27. Truly I tell you, my love and the light of the Holy Spirit are poured out on all mankind, but wars have surprised the nations, as my apostle John contemplated in the Second Time. And have I prepared these sufferings for you? Am I death? No children, I am Life and life I have come to give to all my children.

28. In every reincarnation that I have entrusted to your spirit, I have always called you to true life. But this light is not only for you, the chosen people of Israel, for you are the representation of all mankind

29. I speak to your spirit, I knock on the doors of your heart and I make myself felt through consciousness so that you recognize the responsibility that weighs on your spirit.

30. I have made one way for you, because I am one God and one Law, and I have given you the same doctrine at all times, so that the spirit may do my will.

31. With a word of love I make you recognize that you have not been able to fulfill your mission, because I contemplate that humanity has become confused and in its blindness and in its materialism has allowed itself to be led along the paths that man has traced, and this is how he has worn the bandage of darkness in his spirit and has stripped himself of my grace.

32. Recognize, my people, how many mistakes humanity makes; because of its ignorance it seeks me in its materialism and its heart worships false deities, that is why it has not spiritually felt my presence. My children are recreated with the word florida and believe they are traveling on the path of light and truth, without contemplating at this time my Spirit as the saving star that sends its light from infinity.

33. I have taken you out of the world and although you are clumsy and humble, through you I have poured out my Word to clarify my truth to the world with the light of the Holy Spirit, so that this humanity is no longer confused and so that his spirit leads a life of grace and in his heart he feels me and carries spirituality.

34. I have drawn you out to make you possessors of my grace and that when you contemplate me you may rise up to rescue your brothers from the abyss, to save the shipwrecked from the wide sea of evil, to free the slaves of temptation.

35. In the Third Time I find myself calling everyone equally, so that all my sheep will return to my fold.

36. I come to rescue the spirit from darkness and to awaken him from his lethargy, because I have created you and I love you very much, and in the Second Time for the love of humanity I shed my blood for your salvation.

37. I have given you many spiritual pleasures so that you may prepare yourselves and become the soldiers of my divine cause. I have entrusted to you in revelation and through intuition my messages so that you may understand my will.

38. I have told you, beloved Israel, that the time will come when evil spokesmen will rise up to give access to the false Jesus and within their materialism they will deceive by saying that the Master is speaking through them. False guides and false prophets will arise, false soldiers who with their word and materialism want to turn you away from the path of light and truth.

39. I have given you the warning, remember that every year I have told you: Prepare yourselves, beloved people, take advantage of my presence and store my word in your heart, so that tomorrow may be your strength and so time does not surprise you.

40. I entrusted to you three last years so that you would rise up and prepare yourselves as an example of the spokesmen so that they would recognize you as the true soldiers and the true disciples of the Divine Master. But many of you have withheld this grace and denied it. I have said to Israel: See to humanity how it is wrapped in its darkness, in its fanaticism and in its idolatry and for this reason ambition, greed, greatness has awakened in its heart that makes it proud and all this is abominable before my discerning gaze. But I have enlightened you, I have taken you by the hand so that you may rise up to show the world the way of light.

41. From the Second time I gave you my prophecy to announce to you the trials that were to take place. I told you that the Earth would tremble, that the elements would be unleashed, that plague, plagues and death would ravage the regions, that the rumor of wars would fill the heart of humanity with anxiety.

42. I am the one who presents myself before humanity as light, I am the one who come to give guidance to the spirit and to entrust him with my power and my love, so that he may bend matter and it will do my will.

43. My justice will stop the warlike impulse of humanity and they will love each other, there will no longer be selfishness, nor greatness nor misunderstanding; everyone will be governed by the Divine Law, everyone will obey the will of their Creator; there will be peace on Earth and the nations will no longer rise up in war, science will also recognize me. Everyone will rise up looking for the same path carrying the same orientation and in this world there will be morality, charity and true unification.

44. It is you, beloved people, who are cleaning and preparing the roads, because great multitudes will come after you and I will prepare those multitudes with my word.

45. What time will that Israel be? You do not know it, but I tell you: rise up to fight so that humanity may receive my peace and my love and so that it may be covered with my divine mercy.

46. The time is very short when you will have my word through the human understanding, but some speak according to their intelligence and say: "How can the Father abandon us, if it is love? He, as love, has an obligation to be close, very close to us, and today that we are going to find ourselves in danger, that we have not yet understood His teaching, that we have not realized how much He has given us and we are weak. He is the beloved God who will not be able to abandon us to the inclemency of the times. He is the supreme love who cannot claim us if we break his Law; He, being love, cannot demand that we disobey His supreme will. His word will be lifted up from those places where his Law has not been fulfilled, in certain places his light and his word will be lifted up and in the places where we rise up with activity, he will remain among us. And the Master says to you: I knew that human misunderstanding would have to stand as an obstacle before my true word. But in the Temple of the Holy Spirit the ideas of every sect, of every religion will be unified.

47. The Master has been with you for a long time, I have prepared you, I have marked you with my light as my chosen ones and I have given you my gift of peace, so that you may walk with firmness and obedience. It is given to the one who has prepared himself to penetrate the arcana of the Father, so that he may recognize that my Work is not a mystery.

48. Do not feel alone in the world, take advantage of the charity, peace and comfort that I bring you every day in my word. I want you to know how to lead yourself tomorrow and receive the vibrations of my thoughts. It is necessary that tomorrow, when you no longer listen to me through a spokesman, you put my teachings into practice and learn to receive my light spiritually. My Spiritual World will be with you in every spiritual manifestation.

49. When you are ready, there will be no barriers or distances for you that prevent you from bringing this message of light and peace to humanity. You will be an example of humility and meekness for your brothers, I will give them life and strength for you. Blessed are those who have grown old working in my countryside, those who, being young, have turned away from the orgies of the world; for you will have eternal joy. But do not seek the reward in this world, nor do you expect to be exalted, because these vanities would deprive you of the grace that I have entrusted to your spirit, respect the good or bad ideals of humanity and you will only listen to my voice through your conscience so that you may be unified and humble, so that you may become worthy of the respect of men.

PARABLE

50. There was a great multitude of needy people in a district. But a Lord who had great wealth and gifts, called them and pointed out the day when he was to give them what they needed. When the time came, the needy came to the Lord and said to him, “Lord, we have come to your call, we are in your presence.” The gaze of that lord was full of compassion and mercy before the nakedness and poverty of those in need, then he asked them where they had their home to send them the charity that he was going to entrust to them, and then they told him: “Lord, we have no home, no shelter, where the dark night surprises us, there we rest”. Then the Lord gave them much of his wealth and said to them, “If you need more of this charity, come back when you are in need. Go on your way.”

51. In the same way the fatherless and widowed woman came to that Lord, and charity rested in his hands. The young men and the maidens came with their pitiful weeping, without peace and without consolation, and the lord who saw everything, also gave them of his wealth, and covered their nakedness with his mantle. The elders arrived in whom the forces had been exhausted and to them he gave strength, peace and prosperity.

52. The one and the other left that city, but the day came when the Lord who had given them so much, wanted to look at those crowds again to see if they had been able to take advantage of wealth or had fallen into poverty again. But that Lord saw that the pain enveloped them again.

53. The Master asks you: Of whom have I spoken to you? And you answer me: Master, from ourselves.

54. After 1950, when you will no longer listen to me in this way, the great trials will be among humanity, but you, beloved people, trust in my power, in my love and in my charity. You will be an example to your brothers so that through you I will save them from the abyss.

55. Humanity is pouring out its cup of bitterness and its lament reaches Me, but as love and charity I have always been close to men. I am a Father and what to do before the cry of humanity? Pour out my love and encourage the spirits as in all times.

56. He who is weak will suffer more for what he receives from the world, than for what corresponds to his spirit. Those who look at you with a bad eye and see that you weaken and violate my Law, they will also be those who tear you apart and point out to you your lack of fulfillment in my commands.

57. I have warned you a lot about the temptation that is near you to confuse you, but you will have to be the steadfast soldiers in the fight and you will not weaken before the trials or before the lurks of evil.

58. Short is the number of my people who have truly prepared themselves to receive my wisdom.

59. I have manifested myself through the humble, the simple, the dull of understanding to give proof to the world of my power and my wisdom.

60. For various understandings I have given you my word to correct you and to give you my love, my light, my charity, to teach you virtue so that the multitudes may rise to the life of grace.

61. Humanity is hungry and thirsty for my truth, its heart harbors hatred, tares, ill will and confusion has surprised it, because different ideologies have risen up to surprise it with different teaching and different law.

62. Penetrate, beloved people, into communion with your God, and do not bow down or venerate material objects, because I have never taught you this, nor have I given you mysticism. I have only poured into your spirit my light and my charity so that materialism does not stand in your way.

63. If you watch and pray, if you study and analyze, you will receive much from Me at the end of 1950, because you are the evolved spirits to whom I will entrust much of my charity. But I have told you that if, due to lack of preparation, you do not know how to bear witness about Me, the stones will speak and bear witness to my presence among humanity.

Love one another!

64. In my word, I have come to clarify what you have not understood, so that you may put aside the mistakes that you have made in my Work, because how can you set a good example to your brothers if you have not cleansed yourselves of your past customs before?

65. I have forgiven you and I have adorned you so that later you will give humanity this charity. I have entrusted my word to you like a sword of light so that you may rise up to the struggle and put aside the darkness and fanaticism that has penetrated the human heart. Because this is like an evil seed that has multiplied greatly and that is why humanity has lost the way of truth and has not been able to seek perfection for the spirit.

66. I come to make the world recognize its mistakes so that it no longer departs from the path that I have traced to it, on that path there are no thorns or pebbles that make your plant bleed.

67. Man rises up to subject me to trials, without recognizing that at this time you are all subjected to the great trials, because the world has puffed up with its science and its wealth and has unknown me as its King and Lord. For this reason men will also deny that I have communicated with you through human understanding, but those who do not know me in this way will be touched in their spirit with love and charity, so that they may awaken and recognize that what they have worked is temporary and that the sublime and eternal is in Me.

68. People: Do not waste the last moments of my communication through the spokespersons, because with my word I will prepare you to face all the trials, so that you carry the weapons of light with which you will fight against the confusion and selfishness of humanity.

69. Do not feel weak or small, for I have filled you with my charity, my teaching and my love, so that you may rise up like the soldiers of the Third Time.

70. The human heart will feel my love and glorify my divine name; as a Father I deny my charity to no one; I will remove the darkness from the confused, because the light of my Holy Spirit is dispelling the darkness of the world to free the spirits, and these are the ones I have come to save in all times.

71. If you become spiritualized, O Israel, who will be able to reject you on your way? What kind of look will be on you like a dart? You will only contemplate the smile, the joy of the hearts and the hands that reach out to shake you and this will be like an early reward for your struggle, so that it is not only the pain that you carry along the journey of your journey.

Love one another!

72. I will trust you even more in my teaching so that you may be the warriors who carry the weapons of light, the sword of love and show aloft the banner of Faith, Hope and Charity.

73. What do you still need, Israel? May you rise united in thoughts and deeds, may you be regenerated so that you may be the clean mirror where humanity can contemplate its imperfection.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 347

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. On this day I receive you and bless you. You bring your spirit prepared, attentive to the voice of your conscience to receive my teaching. I read in your heart and I am going to caress you and give you my word and it will be a balm that calms the hardships of your life.

2. But I come not only to comfort you at this time, but to invite you to be my disciples. I come to tell you: Take up your cross and follow me! Remember in each of your steps my examples of the Second Time; my coming as a man at that time was not in vain.

3. My passion, my word and my maxims are written in your spirit. There is the book that I have written in the three times; there is my word given through all the messengers; there are the testimonies and the facts. You can find everything in yourselves if you learn to penetrate your spirit; you are no longer children spiritually because you have traveled the way and you are in maturity, in fullness. You who have heard my word in the First, Second and Third Times, how could you doubt this message? How could you erase the announcements that I left written in your spirit, if I promised you to return, if I told you: Once again I will be among you? But I did not tell you in what way, I only gave you to understand, I pointed out the time and the events that would speak of my return, I predicted everything to you. Now I tell you that there will be great trials for you to be certain that the Holy Spirit has come upon your spirit to complete his mission among humanity.

4. This is the time! All the announcements given by Me have been fulfilled. All the prophecies of those who spoke in spirit and in truth are fulfilled.

5. I am present here, always among you, I have not hidden myself. In this time comprised since my departure in the Second Half. until my coming in the Third, I have always been present for humanity; my light has always vibrated among you, my love is the same, my teaching and examples too, it is only a different phase: I have come at this time materializing my word to make myself understood by you. I have taken your language so that you can understand my inspirations and here I am, people, full of love for each other; with open arms and as the Father receives his prodigal son, so I have received you, but I want to make you my disciples. I want you to be witnesses of all my words and manifestations. I want to leave written in your heart the testament of the Third Time, the precious book that corresponds to this stage.

Love one another!

6. You have heard my word through innumerable spokespersons, each of them has an assignment from me, a very important part to fulfill at this time, their responsibility is very great and after this time of communication through the brain of man, I will ask each of those spokespersons for accounts and they will have to answer me for my words, for the light that I gave to their brain so that it would be translated into words and delivered to the faithful people, to the people who love me and they will have to answer me. But the people will also have to answer me for all the words they have received and come to the time of full practice, I will hold everyone accountable.

7. Today I have come to you as a Father and as a Teacher; my judgment on the people of Israel has not been unleashed, I have not come to ask you for the harvest yet. Today I still give you the time, but the Master tells you: Take it to practice, to study, to penetrate into my Doctrine that is profound, so that in this way you can love me and follow me forever.

8. I have for each one of you a place in my Spirit; when you have won that reward, you will come to Me; meanwhile, fight on Earth and then fight on the way in which it was my will to send you, so that you can present your fulfillment to me. Think that I am always with you, that my gaze follows you everywhere, that my protection is infinite for each of you; that your pains do not go unnoticed for Me, that I am reading in the depths of your heart and I know your future.

9. Therefore, people, love me; study my Doctrine so that you may understand all that I want to tell you and what I want to command you. I, as a Father, come full of love to give you commandments and charges, because you are the responsible people of humanity, the one who has to be the teacher, the example, the guide. That is why I have taught you day by day; that is why my Word has not been silent: I have given you a long time so that you can listen to me, so that you can finally open your understanding and prepare your heart to understand me.

10. In the Second Half only three years I spoke to you. My word was incessant, so I spoke day and night to the disciples, to those who came to listen to me. I lived with you, you looked at all my actions, you attended my birth, you contemplated my growth as a man. I did not hide from you, I wanted all my actions to be known and you judged me, people, without being a judge. You judged my innocent age, my adolescent age; you judged my passion and being my creature, for a moment you did not know me; being you part of Myself; being my son, you judged my acts as a Father.

11. I am love and forgiveness, I contemplated your judgment with pity and I told you: One day, after long trials, great experiences in your life, you will recognize the love that Jesus poured out on humanity, his laws, his charity and you will never again depart from the path that He traced for you; you will mourn your past and you will ask me for opportunities to repair all your faults, to fulfill my commands and you will voluntarily become my servant. But I do not want to contemplate you as a servant, I want you to always be my son, my disciple because I have no vassals, you are all my creatures to whom I have given my attributes, my power and my grace. You all belong to me: even if the world does not recognize me, he belongs to me and I have the right to love him. You will not be able to prevent me from loving you, humanity, but you must strive to put all troubles out of your way and seek the light that will lead you to the port of salvation.

12. You have encountered countless trials in this time, beloved spirits, you have stumbled many times, your very flesh makes you cry, but isn't the spirit stronger than the flesh? Have I not given you great power to fight against all adversities? Are you not part of the same spirit? You have the strength, the virtue and the energy, everything you need to fight against all the dangers that you will find for your spirit. Today I warn you people; for greater dangers than those you have encountered today, you will find in your path, but do not for this reason stop on the way; do not for this reason allow your brain to be disturbed.

13. I have announced to you the time of persecutions, of the judgments of men of different beliefs, but you are my disciple, you have the power and the light and with it you will be able to overcome all ideas, all the lights that men present to you. You will not be able to show him material books or any material work, you will only present your faith and love and these virtues that are spiritual, you will not be able to touch them. You will feel within you that a great faith invades your being and this will be enough for you to get ahead. You will be in the way of others like an invulnerable column.

14. Even if materialistic ideas came to you, even if they wanted to seduce you with sciences, you will not bend your neck before them; you will fully feel in your heart my love throbbing, you will live my Law that is inexorable, that is immutable through the ages and you will know how to transmit it to the generations that will sprout from you, because I will leave this people as a teacher of others. I will take each one of you as the trunk of a great tree, which I will branch according to my will. The greater your virtues, the greater will be the light of those who will follow in your footsteps.

15. Fight for yours. Fight for the faith of the creatures that I have left to your care; they bring grace and power and will take a step forward on the path of spirituality. They will affirm your words and when you lack them, they will remember the Law that their fathers practiced on earth and will be faithful to it.

Love one another!

16. This is the story of the people of Israel, of this people who will remain faithful to me, because I have appointed them the depository of my light, of my wisdom. You have a delicate position before humanity, you will no longer be able to lean to one side or the other; you know your path, you know that your Father has come down to you materializing to speak to you, to lead you, since you were not yet prepared to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit.

17. I made my manifestations palpable and my word clear so that you could understand me. But after this time, after this year of 1950, you will know with certainty the path that you will have to follow. You will communicate with me and your intuition will tell you how you should practice my Doctrine, how you should bring this precious seed to the hearts that will need it. You will not waste a single grain or sow it randomly, but you will deposit it where the earth is prepared, where your intuition tells you that this seed has to germinate and thus you will be like a sower.

18. You will rise up in imitation of the apostles sowing the seed in the ways of humanity, in the heart and in the spirit, but the book that you will have to present will be the book of your own life, your own example, your faith and trust in Me. It will speak more than your words, it will convince more than what you can say in word form. Therefore, people, from today form great resolutions of fulfillment.

19. I'm going to leave you in my place. The lips of the spokesmen will be silent, but your lips will be prepared, your heart inspired. I have to guide you along that path of infinite inspirations and tomorrow you will talk about lessons unknown even to you.

20. I am going to make you penetrate into the bosom of the hearts that await me, you will go as my envoys to speak of the sacred revelations, with the respect and love with which you have listened to me through man. Your mouth will be ready, but you must watch over your words, because your lips will never lie. I, from beyond, will contemplate you, and your examples will be written in indelible letters. Yes, O people of Israel, step by step I am leading you into the way of fulfillment. All works need time to be understood. I have given you this time so that you can reach fullness, maturity, and penetrate the path of spirituality.

21. I have not torn you from your past habits in an instant, but step by step I have made you abandon those that were not pleasant to Me; I have taught you to pray with the spirit, I have told you how you should converse with your Father, penetrating into silence, meditation and communion with your God.

22. So, you will continue walking people. Prayer will be your bulwark, faith will be your salvation. In the hours of trial my presence will be with you. Inwardly you will hear my greeting, as at this time: “My peace be with you”, and you will then feel the confidence that my strong arm is in your arm and that what you did in fulfillment of my word will be blessed and approved by Me.

23. Now you have remained around me like little children and disciples and I have taught you with love, I have poured my sweetest words into your hearts, so that you may feed on them. The spirit feeds on love, there is no other sustenance for it. That is why when you move away from this love, from this essence that is in my word, you feel the emptiness, the orphanhood, the need to receive this caress and when you return to Me, once again you fill the emptiness of your heart with this crystalline water.

24. I have come to fill that fountain, so that you will not feel thirsty, so that you will always be full of grace and inspiration, so that the love of my Spirit may live in your heart. That fountain will not dry up, people, even when my word ceases in this form; in your prayer, in your ecstasies, you will continue to receive my effluvia, my phrases. Everything will be understandable to you, I will not look for foreign language later, but in the spiritual language in which I have spoken to you, I will continue to speak to you and when your preparation is greater, you will be able to understand greater lessons.

25. How many revelations will I make to you people! Everything that has not been said through man, I will tell you later from Spirit to spirit. But for this, you will have to continue practicing prayer with zeal. From prayer you will pass to ecstasy and your spirit will be elevated, you will feel how the Divine Master makes his word clear, how in one sentence he tells you everything and that phrase that I will give you, you will analyze it, you will make it known to your brothers and the people will be able to continue studying in this way, after 1950.

26. I will not leave you idle for a single day. If you are prepared, my inspiration will be constant. I will reveal to you, whenever I find you prepared, great lessons belonging to the spirit, and I will give you great prophecies that will serve the new generations; for you will leave many teachings written down. After 1950 I will allow you to write these inspirations so that they will not be erased from the fragile memory, so that they remain for all time as a legacy for humanity, and that immense hunger that makes this world present to me, that thirst for love and truth, for understanding, for spiritual revelations, will be calmed by the teaching that the people of Israel, as an emissary, has to bring to all portions, to the great multitudes.

27. The time of the universal judgment has arrived, and all works and all religions will be judged by Me, a cry will arise from the spirit of man, for everything that is false will be revealed, the truth will shine only; the awakening will be in humanity and then men will tell me. "Father, give us your support, give us a true light to guide us." And that light and that support will be the Doctrine of the Holy Spirit; it will be the teaching that I have given you and that belongs also to those and to all, because I am the Father of one and of all.

28. Already my Spirit contemplates the orphanhood of men, the emptiness that each one carries in his heart; I see how they seek to fill that emptiness with earthly pleasures and do not find with what to quench their thirst; they look everywhere for that relief, the balm, and they do not find it either and until when "humanity wonders" and in whom should we find that balm and that peace? And the Father says to you, humanity: "I am waiting for you, everything you need is in Me and it is in you, but you have not known how to look for it. You have lost yourselves in different ways and have sought peace where there is no; you have sought true love and light where they are not. Seek Me and in Me you will find the love that will fill your heart and in Me you will find calm, light and balm. You are already tired of your search and you do not knock on the doors of my Spirit. You are fools, but I am waiting for you and when you knock on my door, it will soon open and I will make you pass, I will show you all the riches of the Kingdom and I will console you of your past sufferings and then you will mourn the lost time, you will mourn your faults and you will ask me for forgiveness and a new opportunity; I will give you everything, everything that you ask of me for the good of you and of your brothers I will give it to you, my riches have no limit, but they are spiritual. If you ask me for this flow, I will give you everything and I will tell you: Take advantage of it! Because each of the graces and gifts that I give to you, is of eternal life and is for everyone.

29. Thus, people, I have come at this time and some of you have contemplated me as a pilgrim, knocking from door to door to the nations of the world. Some have opened their door; the others have remained closed; but I will keep knocking, I will fulfill my mission as Father and Teacher, I will lead you step by step to my path, I will give you the light and you will all come to reflection and understand the why of your life. The purpose is love, compliance with my laws, and as long as you do not do this, as long as you do not practice love, as long as you do not comply with my commands, you will continue to lose yourself. But I have set a limit and that limit is about to come.

30. After that great universal test that is announced, that you hurry the last drops of the bitter chalice, it will be the beginning of the restoration; at that moment humanity must repent and must return to the way; it must know all its faults and it must find Me.

31. Yes, people of Israel, you who are witnesses of my manifestation, who hear how I speak and judge humanity, also listen to me carefully: carry my words, because you are part of that humanity. You also presented to my Spirit the emptiness of your heart, you also came thirsty and hungry; in the fountain of love you quenched your thirst; well, think of those who have not yet reached the point of finding me, because the evil has been able more in them, but one day that evil will be bound.

32. Humanity has to find a wide field to fulfill my laws, to reform itself and to live in peace with me; I have made it walk on all roads, because I want to find it full of experience. Man, my son, who has come to earth by my will, has gone through the thousand trials that afflict the spirit, but after that, if his faith remains firm, how great will be the reward that he will achieve. After the tribulations, the disturbances and dangers, he must find the light of my Spirit.

33. Therefore, people, do not be afraid to enter into trials, do not be afraid to meet in great conflicts. You will not get lost in them. I will make all my children penetrate this preparation so that their sensitive fibers awaken. After the trials, the experience and the fruit, I will speak to you and tell you: "Behold, how fruitful the trial has been: how you have been strengthened in it and how you are safe and sound. My will is not that you get lost. My will is only that you be able to temper your spirit and despite the storms and whirlwinds love me and recognize me."

34. There are nations that have rushed through fiery trials, bitter trials, but for them I have a reward. All those who have suffered patiently and have trusted in Me will have peace, because they will have to rise up over all these vicissitudes bearing witness to Me and the people of Israel will have to take that testimony.

35. My word has repercussions in all areas. I have shown you to all nations, people. In conversing with you, I have told you of the sufferings of those and of their need and I have said to you: Pray, people, enter into vigil, do penance so that you can accompany those nations in their towns! You are the strong one, because you have stepped on firm ground, pray and prepare yourselves so that you may be a bulwark for others, so that you may reach out to yourself and give charity to everyone who asks for it; you can do charity to your brothers, even if you do not know them. Your spirit, who has great power and is clothed with grace, can send them that good of which I have adorned you. That is why I ask you first of all, love, people, love so that you can recognize me and recognize yourselves. Love, it is the principle of my Law, love is the purpose of all works, it is what I have come to teach you in all times. Love, peace and charity, these virtues are in you, you will not even have to learn to love.

36. Love is not learned, but it is felt, it is carried within and you, like all creatures, upon being formed have received all its gifts and attributes; then, penetrate into yourselves, seek the virtues that I have left in your being and practice them in your ways.

Love one another!

37. How happy you will be, Israel, when you will be able to carry out your mission among humanity, when you will be able to develop and make your gifts palpable, when you will sow and reap pleasant and satisfying fruits for my Divinity. The time for full practice has not yet arrived, but it is already approaching. It is the time when you will find yourselves in front of humanity and you will have to make use of all the light, all the prudence, so that your steps may be firm, so that your testimony may be true.

38. Thus I prepare you, and forewarn you; every day when you have my word you hear a warning, an advice from your Father, because tomorrow you will need it today you are at peace listening to me, but stages of great struggle will come and for those times I want you to be prepared, to be united and that unification makes you strong, so that there is not a single vulnerable point, but at the precise moment of my departure, just as the father on earth, surrounded by all his children gives the last recommendations and the children wait for the last moments of that life, so the people of Israel, gather around me to hear my last words and promise to love each other and strengthen each other in their virtues, to be one body and one will that guides humanity. This is how I want to leave you, people, full of responsibility, but also of grace so that you may be strong at all times.

39. I bless you Israel. In the different houses where you congregate I bless your good practices. I give more sensitivity to your heart and I tell you: Everything that is not perfect, that does not lead to Me, set it aside so that at the right moment it will be judged by Me and the people of Israel will not receive a sentence of pain, nor will they contemplate once again their Teacher on the cross bleeding and dying for your imperfection, but that they may contemplate him full of love teaching all humanity.

40. On this day of grace, when I have come to strengthen you, to give you my word that is sustenance for you, I leave you prepared and forewarned. These are the last times of my word, I want you to hear me in them until the last moment, so that this word may be imprinted on your spirit, enlighten you and strengthen you for the times to come.

41. This is my lesson this day, people, pray for yourselves and for the people of Israel who are on the verge of the great judgment. Pray for the world that is also on the verge of a great trial! Do not let a single day pass without raising your spirits and considering all these trials. I have listened to your requests and I will grant you according to my will.

42. Blessed are the humble, those who know how to expect from my charity, those who, knowing that a will superior to yours is upon you, grant me the right to dispose of your life! I bless you, my children; your cross will be light.

43. To those of you who stop to ask me why you have been tested, I say: Be silent, do not ask me why! Do you know your debt to me? Do you know in what way I will wash your spirit so that it will come back to Me as pure as it came out of Me? Therefore I say to you: Only receive with patience and preparation the trials that I send you every day, that my strength is always with you.

Love one another!

44. I grant you the light you need to guide you correctly and guide yours on the path of salvation.

45. I grant you the precious gift of communication with your Father that will save you in all trials. At this dawn my balm and my consolation is with all of you, it is with the world and with all the creatures that have sprung from Me.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 348

1. Beloved people: The master comes to give you page after page of the book of his teachings, so that you may carry them imprinted in your heart. These lessons will be tomorrow for you, a treasure of incalculable value that will help you fulfill your mission on Earth and carve a reward for your spirit. Through your struggle, this teaching will remain in the heart of humanity and you will sing a song of triumph when you reach the Promised Land.

2. I grant you that through your preparation you take from my arcanum what you need to give to your brothers; because my chosen ones will come from different paths to become my disciples, farmers, soldiers who defend my Work.

3. All creation is subject to my Law and everything in its harmony worships me. Raise your gaze to the firmament and you will see the luminous stars that my wisdom has created, see in them an example of obedience and harmony, be inspired by that greatness, in that perfection, so that you meditate and let my Father's voice speak to you through your consciousness. The trees bear their fruits that are always pleasant to your palate. In everything, the Father manifests himself and speaks to you so that you may meditate and be obedient to the Law that I have given you.

4. I have formed tribes, peoples and nations and I have given everyone what they need for their spiritual evolution. You have worshiped Me in the stars and in the objects made by man's hand. Seek Me now within yourselves. Blessed is the one who penetrates the inner silence, because he will feel my presence and will achieve the peace of his spirit.

5. You have received my word through humble brains that have not been cultivated by the science of men but I have prepared them to be the pedestal where my Universal Ray rests.

6. When you listen to my word, you still want the Father to make himself visible before your material eyes and I say to you: Prepare your heart and you will feel me there, because I come not only to comfort you in this time of sorrows, but to bring you the teaching that I had promised you since I was with you in Jesus, in the Second Time.

7. My examples, my passion, are written in your spirit. There is the book that I have written in three eras, there is the word of my messengers, the testimonies, the deeds. You can find everything if you learn to penetrate your spirit.

8. In this era the Master speaks to you from the top of the mountain where I am waiting for you. I come to give life to your spirit so that it may rise to Me. Feel my love and bring my peace, seek those who have been lost, the same in this world as in the spiritual valley. Blessed are you who have said to me, "Lord, we will follow in your footsteps, become the strong soldiers to defend this cause."

Love one another!

9. Again I show you the way where you will find the truth. I come to teach you so that you may bear witness of Me to humanity, so that you may prepare the coming generations by your example and they may carry my love and feel my peace; then you will have become the disciples who imitate my apostles of the Second Time. I will send some of you to different regions and nations to show the way to those who have been confused; but you will rise up full of humility, being a clean example among the multitudes that I will entrust to you, you will be like torches in which the light of the Holy Spirit shines.

10. I am preparing my chosen ones with my word without contemplating their faults; I come to heal their spirits, because I am the Doctor of doctors; I raise them up and say to them: Follow this path of truth that I present to you and you will soon come to Me.

11. You are Israel, from whom I have gathered 144,000 who bear my Divine Seal so that through you I may achieve salvation for humanity.

12. Men, women and children of different nations will seek me, and you, the chosen people, are the mediators, you are the ones donated by Me, so that in your path the arid and desert lands become fertile lands.

PARABLE

13. "There was a small number of inhabitants on a large tract of land. They knew that the time would come when they would come to dwell in those lands, walkers from the four spheres of the planet, of different races and colors. A humble boy taught them with words of truth, peace, light and love. An old man was looking for and making the call to the multitudes that would have to arrive in that region; he guided them, prepared them and told them about those privileged lands. The time came when the crowds were gradually arriving, and then the young man said to the old man, "What do you present to me?" And the old man answered, Behold, these multitudes whom I have prepared and led hither, that they may become your disciples. Then the young man said to him, "Blessed are you, keep looking in different ways and paths for the stray sheep; as a luminous beacon illuminate the four areas of the earth, carry on your shoulders the stray sheep

14. That old man, full of submission and obedience, went on his way to gather and gather the great crowds. Then the young man addressed the inhabitants of those lands and said to them, I have come with my love, to give you my teaching, because you will be the mediators through whom the light of the Holy Spirit will illuminate the great multitudes that are about to arrive. Behold, I have prepared the table for you with the bread of eternal life, and with this same bread you will feed mankind."

Love one another!

15. This is how I come to speak to you, my children. Study the meaning of my teachings and understand who is the young man and who is the old man. I am the one who come to doctriate you and to prepare you for the coming struggle of ideologies. The old man is Elijah, the good Shepherd who gathers and gathers the sheep of my fold.

16. People who have prayed for peace to be restored and pain to be alleviated, you will hear with joy the loud testimony of your brothers and you will verify the value of prayer.

17. Today I make you listen to my advice and warnings, because tomorrow you will need them. I ask you to be united so that you will be strong and there will not be a single vulnerable point in you. Just as a father who sees his end approaching calls his children to accompany him at the last moment to give them his last recommendations, so I speak to you and I ask you to promise to love and understand each other, to strengthen you in virtue, to form a single spirit that watches and prays for the world.

18. I leave you a great charge, but I give you peace and strength. You yourselves will not be able to judge your actions, but I, the Judge, will weigh your works, I will receive your fruits and in the end I will show you the result of all your cares and vigilance.

19. Blessed are the humble, those who recognize that a higher will governs your destiny; you attribute it to My Divinity and grant me the right to dispose over your life, because you know that I always give you proofs of my love for you.

20. You are the spiritualist people on whom the Father has set his gaze so that you may awaken the world, so that it may receive the light of the Holy Spirit.

21. Humanity seeks me through religions, among which there are those that teach spirituality in their practices.

22. I have entrusted my Work to you and I have enlightened you so that you may be tireless in cultivating my word in the heart of humanity, so that you may rise up with the banner of the Law and as a good soldier defend with love the cause that I have entrusted to you.

23. My spirit is recreated by the harvest of the good farmers, but it also hurts when I contemplate that the farmer has slept, that he has not known how to cultivate the seed that I have entrusted to him.

Love one another!

24. When you are hurrying the chalice of pain, the Father listens to you in silence and spiritually comforts you

25. Great is the number of those who have been born at this time to the life of grace within my Work; and you, who have been the first, must prepare yourselves so that tomorrow, when you no longer hear my word through a spokesman, your brothers will not feel orphaned, nor disoriented.

26. The book of my teaching is formed with the lessons that I have dictated to you at this time through the human understanding; with this Book that will come to recognize humanity as the Third Testament, you will defend my divine cause. Humanity only recognizes the Law of the First Time and what is written in the First and Second Testaments, but the Third will come to unify and correct what men have altered due to lack of preparation and understanding. Humanity will have to study my message so that penetrating into the depths of each word it will find a single ideal, a single truth, the same light that will guide it towards spirituality.

27. Prepare yourselves, beloved people, so that you may know how to watch over this treasure that I have entrusted to you.

28. Blessed are those who know how to understand me in every manifestation through the human understanding. Blessed are the families in which from the first to the last of its members are in the bosom of my Spiritualist Work, it will be the obedient family, the blessed seed that I will show humanity as an example.

29. I have told you about the life of the spirit in what you call the Hereafter and of my divine greatness and I tell you that in all these lessons there is no mystery, because he who is clean will have the privilege of seeing and understanding the life of the Hereafter, that spiritual world that is illuminated with the light of the Holy Spirit and its inhabitants who together form a bond of love; he will see the top of that mountain of which the seers tell you. That is where the Father awaits all of humanity.

30. My Spiritual World works tirelessly and inspires and encourages you to penetrate spirituality, helps you so that in your fulfillment you get more advancement.

31. For a long time you have heard in my manifestations that the day will come when you will have to be in imitation of your Teacher, to give teaching to your brothers who do not know spirituality. The moment will come when the light of the Holy Spirit will completely cover you and illuminate you so that you may make known to the world my Work, my word given at this time, the light that will guide each spirit towards the divine mission.

Love one another!

32. Live according to what I have entrusted to you for your human life. Feed on the fruit of the Tree of Life, see that under its branches you will find rest and shelter. Cultivate it for yourselves so that you will see that its branches and its fruits multiply.

33. The fountain will pour out its crystalline waters in torrents to quench the thirst of the pilgrims, of those who are crossing the desert, so that they may feel strengthened.

34. The wolf in sheep's clothing will lie in wait for you on the roads, but you must watch and pray and take care not to fall into the abyss. For a moment you will feel that the rays of the inclement sun will make themselves felt in your being, but I will make my Spiritual World be like a protective mantle on your way. You will help me to form a new world within this humanity.

35. You are the disciples who are ready to fight tomorrow. You will be strong and you will know how to give how much I have trusted in your hands for humanity.

36. I do not want you to break the law; darkness has overtaken some of you and this has happened to you, because you have not wanted to listen to the voice of your shepherd who calls you with so much love.

37. You have become familiar with my word and you doubt that the Master will stop speaking to you through the human understanding and truly I tell you, Why do you intercede in my high judgments? I have marked the time for you and it is not my will that you tell me: "Master, behold that the vicissitudes and wars fill the world with anxiety, it is a time of trial for humanity and are you going to leave among us?" Then your conscience will answer you and make you recognize the vast time that I entrusted my word to you, but as a Father and as a Teacher, after 1950 as today, I will be listening to all your requests through your prayer. After my departure you will all be equally to the fulfillment of my commands, you will develop your gifts and through your conscience I will speak to you so that you regenerate and I will make you recognize with the light of my Holy Spirit the true way so that you do not fall into the abyss.

38. When the great multitudes come to you in search of consolation and my charity for their spirits, I will enlighten you and inspire you to receive my word through you; I have entrusted my grace to you so that you may be recognized as the children of light.

39. I have purified you, beloved people, because I have entrusted great offices at this time to your spirit so that you may do merit, so that you may testify the truth of my Doctrine by doing good to humanity; so that in the Hereafter you may carry my peace and not be lost in darkness again. I want that when your spirit comes to Me, you will tell me: "Master, I did your will on my way and here I am again so that you entrust to my spirit orders and commands according to your divine mercy".

40. If you spiritualize yourselves, your children will obey you and the multitudes will respect you, because they will contemplate that you are the evolved spirits who carry the light of my Holy Spirit. And then those who have stationed themselves, beholding your example, will return to the road, shake your right hand and follow in your footsteps. When those who are hungry for my truth come to you, you will hand over my words to them so that they may become the meek lambs.

41. At this time evil will be tied in sheaves and thrown into the fire. I will do all these works and you, Israel, will tell the world about the time in which he is living and the reason for all the events. I have entrusted my truth to you, because great is my love for you, you are the depositories of the great revelations and prophecies.

42. Through you the Law will be made known anew to the new generations. That is why I have told you that you must be in preparation, because you have come to prepare the way so that tomorrow, the new generations will not be idolaters, nor will false prophets arise from among them to deceive humanity.

43. All this you will have to reveal to the world, Israel. At this time when various ideologies have arisen, sect against sect will arise, religions will fight each other and they will also ignore you, but being the children of light and peace you will tell them: The truth exists in the content of the Third Testament, there is the testimony of the presence and the coming of the Lord in this time. You will show mankind this Book and bear witness to its truth, with your compliance to my Law.

44. But if you sleep, O Israel, how much pain there will be then, because the nations will be touched with my righteousness, they will not know how to seek the true God and will only be confused in the midst of their ideologies and will want to make you recognize their false gods to confuse you.

45. Live alert, my people, because I have greatly entrusted my word to you so that you will not be ignorant, because you know how to feel my presence and I have taught you to recognize the essence of my word.

46. After my departure, many will arise, making you believe that I am still communicating by their understanding. I will not manifest in those brains nor will my Spiritual World, because neither will it take the human brain after 1950 to communicate with you; only spiritually will you be able to communicate with my Spiritual World of light.

Love one another!

47. Be the obedient children so that you do not fall into imposture, because great events will happen after my departure, but you will awaken those who sleep and will not fall back into idolatry and at the moment when you rise in prayer, you will feel my strength and you will receive the outpouring of my graces; in this way I will give you proofs that you are not mistaken.

48. My gaze will always be attentive to you, I will never abandon you, my Spirit will be close to you contemplating you in your struggle and defending you from the lurks and dangers. Fulfill my Law, so that man will not stand in your way with his laws; if you please Me, you will be pleasing to the world and you will feel the brotherhood of all your fellow men. It is time for the world to recognize my light and not reject my messengers.

49. You have the power to separate beings in darkness from your brothers, so that your fellow beings do not snatch the thread of existence.

50. One moment I will let the world do its will, but then mine will be done in the Universe. Watch and pray before the pain that humanity is in a hurry, because the years have passed and time has surprised you. I have shown you the way by which you must travel and I have given you everything you need, because I have watched over your spirit. I have fed him with the bread of eternal life, and I have awakened him from his sleep so that he recognizes his mission and feels his responsibility within my Work.

51. .Materialism and misunderstanding have been great and that is why, beloved disciples, you have stuck to the routine without letting your spirit evolve.

52. Every moment I have made you recognize, with a word of love, what you have not practiced in order to make known to humanity the Work that I have entrusted to you. And if you have not prepared yourselves, how will humanity, through you, reach my peace, my light and my love? It is you to whom I have entrusted the mission that you go by all means to spread my teachings. I have revealed to you the greatness of which your spirit is the bearer. I have told you that without you having done merit, I have chosen you out of love and with my grace and have anointed you. I have instructed you to be the apostles who show the world my teaching engraved in your heart.

53. The time has passed and you have not yet done merits; you have to stretch out your arm to lift up the one who has fallen, you have to show the midday light to your brothers who are in darkness, so that they may recognize that in all times I have manifested myself among you and in humanity.

54. In the first time I freed you from the bondage of Pharaoh through Moses, whom I put at the head of my people to guide them to the Promised Land, to the Land of Canaan.

Love one another!

55. In the Second Time, Jesus the Divine Teacher, gave you proofs of my essence, presence and power, but man in his egoism and in his materialism ignored me.

56. At this time you are again the slaves no longer of Pharaoh but of temptation, because she has given you the riches, the pleasures and the power to subjugate you and many of you have fallen and have strayed from the path of light, because you have been weak. I have not withheld grace, you have withheld it by your lack of compliance with my Law, but the world in its misunderstanding has not realized this and they are handing over to their brothers a work that they themselves have forged.

57. How grievous is the error into which the first have fallen, and how grievous is the error into which you also are falling, because you have not meditated that it is one God who has spoken to you, and that therefore you have not received different Teaching and different Law.

58. One God has always manifested himself before you; I have never abandoned you, I have always found myself close to your heart. Jesus in the Second Time, manifested my divine love and as a Teacher gave you the example of obedience to the Law. He taught you to pray and showed you the way.

59. In this Third Time the divine will is fulfilled, because you have received my teaching, the bread of eternal life for your spirit. But I have announced to you that after the year of 1950 you will no longer hear my word through the human understanding and only through the evolution of your spirit will you communicate with me from spirit to Spirit.

60. I entrusted to you these last three years of my communication through the spokespersons so that you could meditate and understand your responsibility so that you could get out of your routine and let your spirit take steps forward; but many of you have remained asleep and find yourselves lacking in understanding and elevation. Why, O Israel, have you not devoted yourselves to the study and analysis of the vast teaching that I have given you? The blind have not yet seen the light, you have not been able to heal the paralyzed so that they follow me, and the multitudes are confused and wonder if they have found the true way.

61. Many of you have thought that you were complying with my Law, and you are in grave error, because you are showing your brother only the bad example; you are the cause that men get confused and continue to feed idolatry and seek through the different human ideas the true God.

62. You are going to remain, beloved people, at the end of my communication, like an orphan, but as in the Second Time, after my departure you will understand me; after you no longer listen to my word you will know what I have taught you a lot, but your awakening will be late. Therefore, people, with great pain in my Father's heart I claim your lack of compliance and obedience; I do not want that tomorrow, humanity will contemplate you as the people ungrateful to my divine grace, and many without having listened to me as you will believe in my message and will love me.

Love one another!

63. I have pointed out to you your errors so that you may understand that you are not showing my Work in the light of the truth, so that you may be regenerated and manifest to the world what you have received from Me.

64. You have believed, Israel, that because I am a loving Father I would not have to claim your faults and that I would have to cover you with my mantle to make you known to the world as the true disciples, soldiers and teachers of tomorrow. If you did so, Israel, I myself would deny you my love, because when the time came, you would not know how to testify to my truth with your words and deeds, and then the humanity of tomorrow would deny my manifestation. Because perfection has never been mixed with your imperfections.

65. I have told you that you are in the time of the struggle of love against hate, of my light against darkness, of humility against pride and tomorrow, when it is your awakening, you will feel infinite and profound sadness in your heart to understand the time that you have wasted and then you will recognize the mission of the spokespersons who knew how to prepare to deliver my truth to you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 349

1. Beloved people: You have believed in my coming at this time, and even in the last days of my communication you come in haste, without fatigue, following my word. Many have been called, I have given everyone the water from this source, and few have listened to me and understood, but I have manifested Myself and I have overflowed love in the Universe.
2. In the Second Time I said to you, "Blessed are those who have believed without seeing!" And to you at this time I also say: 'Blessed are you because you have believed and persevered in my Work without seeing me!'"
3. My coming must not surprise you, for it was foretold; but you did not know the hour when I was to arrive. After my departure in the Second Time, my words were impressed by my disciples and they took them to other new disciples to be propagated throughout the world and the promise of my return was for those who followed me closely, a stimulus in the hard struggle, a beautiful hope and a sustenance for their insatiable spirit of knowledge. And from generation to generation, my disciples waited to see the new appearance of their Master. But behold, the generations succeeded one another; a multitude of beings came to incarnate on Earth and then returned to the Hereafter, without their eyes seeing that promise fulfilled. The centuries passed and even the millennia, and when the hour was marked and my presence in Spirit opened a new Era, I found that men had erased my word from their hearts and very few were watching, waiting for my new advent.
4. I have arrived among you, in silence, without showing off, but the way in which I have manifested myself, has surprised many, has been a reason for doubt for some and even mockery for others. Only those who knew how to persevere with an awakened spirit and a clear mind, felt me, as they could feel me in any way I chose to manifest myself; but the promise was made to all and its fulfillment is presented to all as well.
5. This is my revelation of this time: Man has always been my spokesman. I have chosen him because he is my son, he is my work and this is the reason. And even if that son feels unworthy of Me, because he has not been perfected, I see beyond those imperfections, that particle of light that is part of my Spirit, the favorite creature, the intelligent being and capable of transmitting my word.
6. Do you, as human beings, love only your good children? I have looked to parents to help their sick or wayward children with more solicitude, in order to free them from their sufferings. At this time I have chosen humble, simple, sinful and rude men and women to carry out this mission, because I have found grace in them and they have known how to purify themselves and elevate themselves to carry out their office worthily.

7. If I have not come to incarnate at this time to speak to you as I did through Jesus, is it because could you hear my spiritual voice, perceive and understand the divine language, today that you have materialized so much, that you do not know how to hear or obey the voice of your spirit that is distressed and fainting in that world in which you live?

8. That is why I chose the man and endowed him with spiritual virtues so that he could be my spokesman. And through this communication, I have been believed and understood by many, but others have persisted in their unbelief.

9. I have allowed the Spiritual World to communicate with men in the same way, and I have united those beings in spirit and the others in matter.

10. It is necessary that you taste the taste of all the chalices of bitterness, that you know about pain and also about peace so that you know everything and this becomes part of your experience. For I want you to be my true disciples, to teach by deeds rather than by words. The example has more force than the word and it is necessary that you make my Work reach all your brothers, and that is the best way to spread it.

11. Work patiently, persevere to the end. Let nothing stop you on your way because there is a lot of pain that you have to alleviate and many darkness that you will have to dispel. First of all, you must trust in your Father and in yourselves, and know the value of your gifts.

12. In the Second Time when Jesus addressed his word to the multitudes that followed him, in a single lesson he spoke to each and every one, and discovered the inner life of those creatures that approached Him, and despite the various requests, needs or intentions that presented him, his wise, precise and clear word, was always going to console a grief, to solve a problem or to dispel doubt and even when the unprepared heart of some did not know how to receive that word and interpret its meaning, the spirit, more accessible than the flesh, more sensitive to the divine emanations, he accepted those lessons and after meditating and holding a combat with his matter, he ended up believing, because only a superior Teacher, the Father of infinite goodness, could know the drama that was stirring inside him and calm and comfort his spirit.

13. Many men, when they saw the disciples living with the Master, expected to receive from them the same works that Jesus performed and were often disappointed to see that they were only little children who were beginning to rise spiritually, and struggled to understand the great lessons of their Lord. But Jesus had not yet said to the crowds,

Love one another!

“Listen to these disciples!” He did not present them as teachers at the time of his preaching. It was the rocks that were being polished to shine afterwards.

14. How many times the disciples tried to separate the children who were approaching Jesus to hear his word, believing that they were doing well and thus keeping more recollection, without understanding that they also had a place to occupy among the disciples and when this happened, how much pain they felt when the little ones and their mothers moved away.

15. The people who followed Jesus were always attentive judging his works and those of his disciples. When one of them tried to defend his Master using the sword, his act was censured by the crowds, but Jesus continued to correct and prepare his faithful disciples until the day when he told them: "I leave you in my place to do to humanity what I have done to you."

16. All the imperfections, the errors, the ignorance, had fallen from them, like a useless garment, to be clothed with the gifts and power of the One who sent them; they could already represent their Master, and even when they were severely scrutinized by the people, they found no reason to censure them. How much they had to struggle with themselves, in order to attain the degree of elevation that was necessary to preach the teaching of their Lord! And truly I tell you, his example is indelible. How much humility and how much love they poured out in their path to bear witness to my Work, and how fruitful and beneficial their example was for this Humanity! Even after many centuries his name and his memory live in the hearts of men, and I bear witness in the Third Time, an era later, of his great work, because I was able to testify my truth.

17. Now that I am once again surrounded by disciples and children, as I was in the Second Time, I am preparing you in the same way and providing you with grace and power. You will remain like them like sheep among wolves, but do not be cowed, nor will it seem impossible for you to carry out a great work and leave an example to humanity.

18. You will insensibly penetrate into a virtuous life and your steps will always lead you to the greater understanding and development of your mission. You do not know the strength that your example will have and the influence that you will exert when you are consecrated to your fulfillment.

19. I see in the future of this humanity, the works of this humble people who make their way through roughness and hard trials will be written in luminous characters.

20. How many darkness will your works of love and charity dispel and how many altars of fanaticism will fall before the strength of your spirituality! For you will carry my doctrine of peace and love in your eyes, on your lips, in your heart and in all the powers of your spirit.

Love one another!

21. Now that my word is about to finish manifesting itself in this form, I tell you: That the absence of these manifestations will not cool your heart and be a cause of distancing, between one and the other, you still cannot fight alone in your fulfillment. You still need to give each other warmth, life and strength. I want to see after my departure that you continue your meetings, because I will continue to preside over your works and I will come to pour out inspirations on these beloved congregations. I want you to continue patiently seeking, as you do now, my word, my new revelations, because the divine light will continue to flow endlessly on all of you.

22. When studying my teaching, flee from all discussion or violence so that you will never disturb your mind. May spirituality, which is recollection and elevation, always preside over your meetings. And do not think only of yourselves, draw to your bosom the sick, the weak or tired in life, those who suffer disappointment in the different cults they practice, those who hunger and thirst for spiritual sustenance, the humiliated and helpless because their cause is not understood; love and attract everyone, and there in your meetings give them comfort, heal their wounds, help them to pray and united all in one prayer come to Me. Seek Me as a Father and as a Doctor, and that act will be enough for Me to pour out the balm and grant you wonders.

23. The more spiritual your meeting is, the greater wonders you will see realized. The good analyzers of my Teaching will arise among you, and when they are speaking to make their analysis known to you, I will enlighten them and they will say what will be inspired to them at that moment. But let no one speak out of vanity, lest he strip himself of his precious gifts.

24. Just as in these times I have rewarded your preparation, granting you this communication, I want that in those future times I grant you grace also for your elevation and zeal in my Work. If you do so, men and women will come to you who, having news of my new coming, will be interested in knowing my message and will eagerly ask you what I taught you and how I spoke in the Third Time to humanity. And that Book that the golden feathers are forming, that inspiration that the speaker translates into words to be collected and jealously guarded on the pages of books, will be the sacred inheritance that he leaves to everyone hungry for bread and to everyone who seeks sustenance for his spirit.

25. Do not relegate those pages to the corner of your oblivion, because they will be weapons in the days of struggle, when your lips still do not know how to speak with due development; when your fragile memory forgets my lessons, those printed words will be speaking with the same essence with which I have taught you. The light of this Teaching will penetrate the hearts of those to whom you are witnessing and they will shudder and believe in my manifestation as the Holy Spirit.

26. The moment of struggle will come for you and you will see how the people feel strong and courageous, fervent in their belief. To know if that hour has arrived, you will not have to ask your brothers, but you will feel the call that your Father makes to you. The prophets will be alert because their responsibility will not cease. Their spiritual pupils will penetrate with respect and love into that world from which they will look clearly at the signs that will lead the people on the right path and also in this world there will be events that will tell you about that hour of fulfillment.

27. What do you want to know for those times that you have not managed to understand through this simple and clear word that explains and solves everything? So with that clarity you must teach so that you may be true teachers and counselors of humanity.

28. The regions will see you as their stronghold. The prophets will be believed. Your salutary, salutary words will be sought by the sick, your advice will be requested and your prayer and intercession will also be asked in moments of trial.

29. What beautiful times for your fulfillment those will be! What a great opportunity for you to enjoy your spirit and develop your gifts! How happy you will feel when you look at many who had lived uselessly, strengthen themselves in the good and get up doing profitable works, transcendental works! That is your mission: To redeem and restore to your fellow man the light that he had lost, in order to feel possessed of divine grace; everything that he had divested himself of will return to possess him, in order to be the owner of divine peace, wisdom and love.

30. Your preparation for that time will not contain mysticism or human theories. You will not be ministers of rites or forms, but humble teachers who will penetrate the time of deeds.

31. Understand that humanity is awakening to spiritual life and very soon you will see great events that will reveal its advancement; you will see nations that for a long time were enemies, unite and recognize each other, many opposing races will merge. The doctrines that have no roots of spirituality and that have dominated peoples, will be destroyed by those same peoples who previously proclaimed them as saving and new doctrines will emerge tending to the high. I will allow them to be established, because they will be precursor movements of the purest spirituality. And when you see these works appear on earth, you will know that the spirit of men is about to reach the end of another great stage.

Love one another!

32. Many who are called wise today will be broken and confused at that time, like others who have been persecuted and humiliated for their love of justice, they will see shine in those days of balance and moral restoration, their desires, their healthy ideals.

33. The spiritual life will manifest itself in fullness on this planet, and will make its influence felt in all beings, and those who have been materialists will shut their lips, close their books and open their spiritual eyes to contemplate that life that they had denied and will open the doors that they had closed to the great multitudes.

34. You will see how my light shines throughout the world and every spirit has been illuminated. The arcana will be open and anyone who wants to look inside will be able to do so if they prepare with a little love.

35. When humanity knows my Teaching and penetrates into its meaning, it will place its trust in it and affirm itself in the belief that it is the right way, the guide for every being who wants to live in justice, in love and in respect for their fellow human beings. When this doctrine settles in the hearts of men, it will illuminate the life of the home, strengthening parents in virtue, marriages in fidelity, children in obedience and will fill teachers with wisdom, make rulers magnanimous and inspire judges to do true justice; scientists will be enlightened and this light will reveal great secrets for the good of humanity and for its spiritual evolution. Thus will a new era of peace and progress begin.

36. Spiritualism, as I have called this teaching, does not mean mysticism or fanaticism. This Doctrine advises the simplification of worship and the purest elevation of the spirit. It leads you to that path by making you penetrate step by step on the path of truth.

37. How few have understood me and have glimpsed the true essence of my teaching! I still see in my disciples the desire to persevere in the traditions and customs of their ancestors. The fear of giving up many habits and rites that are an obstacle for the people to advance in their preparation. But I will help those little ones, those weak spirits so that they may be strengthened and give reach to the first disciples, because you must all unite in one purpose.

38. The mission of this people is to work for the peace of this world, preaching and sowing my word in its path; so that this valley may be a reflection of the heavenly abode and its inhabitants, an image of the righteous who inhabit my Kingdom.

39. To achieve the goal in this world, you have to fight, than to suffer and cry, but do not faint in your struggle. You are going to stumble over the imperfections and hardness of the human heart, but do not be judges of your brothers, remember that in the Second Time the judgment for some of their brothers did not appear among my disciples, only I corrected and judged the acts of those who followed me and when someone, scandalized by what another had done, approached Me to say: "Lord. Why is that brother missing? What will happen to him because of this, what consequences will he encounter on his way?" I answered him: "If he has failed, you do not make that mistake, nor wait for the punishment on him, to feel that you are more perfect and more worthy of Me"" And even on the day when I celebrated the last supper with my disciples and the work of Judas became known to everyone, my presence imposed silence, no one judged him, no one called him unjust or a traitor, no one claimed him or called him ungrateful. The silence was made because the disciples had already learned their lesson from their Teacher and it was only Judas' conscience that claimed him and judged him.

Love one another!

40. So be you at this time, do not judge or condemn your brothers, no matter how ignorant and erring you look at them. Leave your cause to me and fulfill as good disciples. Set an example, that if you do it with sincerity, free of vanity, you will find an echo in the hearts of those around you and soon you will see them taking the same steps and obeying the same inspiration.

41. Watch and pray, people! Watch over our unification and your peace, you are already in the last days of this final year and I want to find you united. I have been the lark under whose wings all the chicks have taken shelter. So I want to keep giving you warmth so that you don't get upset. I have taught you a lot so that you, as the first, know how to lead the last; see that among them there are some who have not affirmed themselves and it is necessary that you help them and even among those who have heard me a lot, there are those who are fragile. Repeat my words to them, give them warmth and life so that they do not stray from the path and watch with your works for the peace of this world, pray and that prayer will illuminate the lives of your brothers. And your spirit, imitating the Master, turned into a lark of peace, will fly over the beam of the Earth, carrying my message to all men of good will.

42. But do not wait for the result of your sowing at the moment of depositing the seed. I have told you that the spiritual seed does not have the same term to germinate as that which you sow in your fields. If the material seed germinates in seven days, the spiritual one can be born in the same way in seven seconds, as in seven stages of eternity; you must sow and cultivate with love and one day your spirit, which belongs to eternal life, will enjoy contemplating the germination of the seed it sowed, its growth, its flowering and fruition, and not only this, but the multiplication of this fruit, of which you sowed only one seed.

Love one another!

43. This is how I teach you and explain to you what you do not understand, I strengthen you more and more every day, because I want to see you strong in spirit and healthy in body.

44. Everyone who feels weak or sick, be strengthened by my presence, feel my comfort and rise up with faith and confidence in your destiny. That same faith will be a staff to sustain oneself and move forward. If your ailments are prolonged, overcome them, with that strength that I give you; if you look at the pain in your brothers and want to put it away, come to the source of comfort and very soon that pain you will turn it into peace and a smile. Do not look at death where there is none, for I am life and all beings live in Me.

45. When you want to pray for the beings who inhabit the spiritual valley, do not set days or hours to evoke them and get closer to those creatures, do it for the love that unites you to them and think that they belong to the spiritual life, that they inhabit eternity and are not under the action of time.

46. Live already in communion with this world, close to each other! Strengthen your bonds of love and if those beings to whom you were united on Earth, are higher than you in the spiritual ladder, they will help you in your life. If, on the contrary, they are delayed and need your prayer and your support, the example that you can give them, help them and thus you will be maintaining harmony and peace in this world.

47. Do not show impatience to meet loved ones again. That impatience is of the human heart that would like to perceive the shape of these beings, their face and their attitude, to enjoy with them for a moment. Retain that impatience and wait with true spiritual virtue for the happy moment of that meeting to arrive and then you will continue walking together along the same path that will lead you all to my right hand.

48. Watch over and pray for the beings of the Beyond; for those who need nothing from you, your prayer will be a greeting, an oscar (holy spear), a close spiritual embrace; and for those who need your help, your prayer will be a balm, a liberation, a caress and a voice of encouragement on the path of trials and restitution. Those spiritual beings who have not been able to rise to the abode that corresponds to them, to the world that belongs and awaits them, upon receiving the voice of this world that attracts them with their prayer, will awaken from their sleep, rise from their death and go after their salvation.

49. But humanity does not know how to illuminate the life of these beings, nor to start their materialization, it does not know how to break the chains of remorse and pain that weigh on them. You who possess the light, pray and have charity from that world unknown to you and help it to free itself and to channel itself in the life to which it belongs; do not flee from its presence or fear them. I draw you closer so that together you may pray and come to Me. In this way I will receive you to give you peace, which must be extended to cover everyone, because you are all my dearly beloved children.

Love one another!

50. My divine Spirit draws you closer and blesses you, Take my word so that you may be filled with light, strength and wisdom and penetrate it so that you may know my will. I want you to be jealous of what you receive and to know how to analyze it.

51. In my manifestations of love you have felt that I give you life, you feel my warmth and my protection and you stop being cold to become beings full of faith and hope.

52. Each of my words is a command and I want you to get up in a hurry to fulfill them. My prophecies given through simple and humble creatures will be fulfilled and you will bear witness to it.

53. Because of my Work many of you will be judged badly, but do not take the cause, leave it to Me and I will defend you, you work only in sowing this light and in being humble. When they attack you, use only the weapons that I have given you: love, respect and humility. The more you are censured, the more I will manifest my power in you, and those of you who have the gift of seeing beyond this life, in the regions of the spirit, strengthen the weak, ratifying my words. And those who have the gift of rising to hear the voices from Beyond, prepare yourselves to carry my messages. These higher manifestations will sustain your spirit, even in the greatest trials.

54. Your works are perpetually written; therefore, you who have been consecrated to my service, use your understanding and gift of speech well.

55. I give you my teaching as a seed for you to sow and cultivate. When your prepared heart feels that the time has come to start your work, go, share with all the hungry and the seed will multiply. Many will not know how to receive the good news, because their spirit will not be in time to understand these lessons. Others will want to steal the precious fruit to use it badly and then they will repent to come to Me, like prodigal sons; but I will return the seed to those who through ignorance have lost it and every spirit of goodwill will possess it.

56. When you know how to find in my chair all the light and strength that your spirit needs, you will follow me to the end, you will not feel tired, you will not stop in your task of making my word known and the vicissitudes will not make you falter. When you have understood one lesson, analyze the next and continue reading in the book of infinite lessons that I leave for you to study and feed. Take what is necessary to live.

Live as my disciples.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 350

1. I receive you on behalf of humanity, a small portion of the people of Israel. You move away from the world to listen to my concert and look beyond the limits of what is matter. Under my protection I will make you travel the way and each of you will carry a lamp so that he will not stumble when he reaches the end of his path on Earth. When your spirit departs from the flesh to rise up to Me and present his works to me, you will see written in the book of your life, all your deeds, your steps, and, together with me, you will judge your work.
2. Today I want to contemplate your free spirit to carry out his mission, solicitous and attentive to my inspirations, looking towards the end of the day that is near and feeling that soon you will receive the reward that I have to give you. I will tell you: Come to Me, you who knew how to hear my word through human understanding, who lived within my commands and who sowed love and forgiveness.
3. Everyone who carries my word in his understanding and lives practicing it, will possess my Kingdom, will have health, inspirations and prophetic gifts. So my disciples will be able to practice my Law, whether they are ignorant or wise, poor or rich, children or adults. The clumsy one will be enlightened and will speak with wisdom; the one who has nothing on earth will feel that he has everything, because he will have become spiritualized and will be indifferent to the goods of the world. His heart will be filled with joy because he will be able to make those who do not have it partakers of his treasure. And the children, whose spirit has evolved a lot, will speak firmly and their testimonies will ignite faith in the new adherents.
4. You who have learned from Me practice humility, teach with patience and forgive the mistakes of your brothers.
5. I have come to prepare you to give life to new generations, those who will communicate with me with greater perfection. By this time men will see me coming to them and establishing my Kingdom in their spirit.
6. Live alert and prepared for every test. Today you present to me the pain of humanity and yours, and I say to you: Set aside that chalice, feel peace and transmit it. I caress you and give you joy. If you rescue a spirit from pain or vice, you will have climbed one more step and you will feel the joy of having collaborated with your Master in the Divine Work.
7. My angels be with you; I, your Lord, will accompany you on your way.

Love one another!

8. I am building a sanctuary in your heart; I do not come to seek the royal mansions, nor the superfluous greatness of man, I come to model the simple, meek and humble heart that is sensitive to my call.

9. I will only be with you for a few moments, communicated by human understanding, I am going to prepare you so that tomorrow you will give peace to the world. My charity comes drawing the lost out of the abyss, because I would not be a Father if I only came to seek the clean spirits, because the righteous are found dwelling in my kingdom.

10. Man has wanted to be in communion with me through his different ideologies but he has parked himself spiritually; that is why I have come to entrust you with my word so that tomorrow you will rise up and be the clean mirror where humanity can contemplate its imperfections.

11. Being very close to each heart, men have not understood me. I have spoken to you in your own language so that you may understand me, for if I were to give you my teaching in a higher language, you would not understand me. That is why I speak with a simple word to the child and to the disciple, so that he will not be confused or reject my love.

12. Humanity will receive for your preparation and regeneration, because for one of you who is thus prepared, with only prayer he will be able to stop the calamities that afflict humanity.

13. I come to explain to you what you have not understood so that tomorrow you too may rise up to teach humanity with all clarity. If a thousand understandings were prepared, through them I would pour out my teaching.

14. In the Second time I gathered twelve of my children to become my apostles and they, by following me, forgot their goods and left their own. It was also before Me, the one to whom I said: Leave the riches of the earth, take up your cross and follow me. But not wanting to divest himself of his wealth, he said to me, "Lord, I cannot follow you."

15. I am charity and I do not come to ask you for sacrifice, because my disciples also rose up of their own free will, out of obedience to my divine Law, to become fishers of men.

16. You are now my disciples, but in order that you may have joy, comfort and peace, give shelter to my word in your heart.

17. Remember that in the Second Time, when the adulterous woman was being persecuted by the mobs, I said to her persecutors, "If any of you is clean from sin, let him cast the first stone." So at this time I come once again to forgive the adulterous woman.

Love one another!

And therefore I say to you, do not take up the cause of your fellow man, do not become judges to judge them. For I also say to you, Which of you is blameless?

18. I am light and charity and I know what you need; that is why helpless humanity comes to Me, and I have said to it: Silence your sorrow, for I know it, I am charity, I am forgiveness.

19. At this time humanity is disoriented and confused with ideas that it has fed and for this reason many of you have doubted the presence of your Master in the Third Time, but I tell you, my children: Prepare yourselves and understand that this word springs from my Divine Spirit.

20. I give you the light so that you may understand the way of communication of my Divinity through the human understanding. The spokesman is only an instrument prepared by Me to speak to you through him. It was written that he would come to communicate to me, using simple hearts, clumsy understandings, by lips lacking a verb, to speak to you about law, justice and love.

21. In all times I have sent spirits of great light to incarnate on Earth, so that by their example and love humanity would be saved from chaos, hatred and confusion.

22. I have told you, beloved people, that in the likeness of the apostles of the Second Time, you too will be converted into fishers of men. With love, with charity for the one who suffers, you will rise up and so, what heart will reject you on the way? The troubled spirit will receive the light and the crystalline waters of my teaching to quench his thirst.

23. Do not let evil continue to flourish; youth is lost, maidens in their tender youth are thrown into the mire. Have charity from your brothers, look at the cup of bitterness that the human race is drinking.

24. My prophecies are being fulfilled, so I ask you to be prepared so that when the time comes for you to fulfill your mission, you do not feel weak.

25. I am drawing out those whom I am to send to the nations to be the emissaries of the teaching that I have entrusted to you. This cross that I place on your shoulders, you should not take it as a burden, it is a white cross and easy to carry. I convert you from the first to the last in my labors; my spiritual hosts will be watching over you and if you rise up in the struggle abandoning what belongs to you on Earth in imitation of the apostles of the Second Time, I will give you everything necessary so that you go to convert humanity.

Love one another!

26. I have told you symbolically that one hundred and forty-four thousand of you are my chosen people of Israel. You will show the world the saving boat and through you I will give peace and comfort to humanity.

27. I am not the one who touches you with pain, the origin of your ills is in your imperfections and disobediences. I have said to you: Be alert, beloved people! for trials are knocking at your doors: but all watching and praying, the trials will be turned away and when temptation touches you, you will not fall into its snares.

28. I have pointed out to you by my light that you may be saved in trials. This gift has more value than all the rivers and treasures of the Earth, it is a divine oscar (holy spear) that I have imprinted on your spirit in this Third Time so that you may feel my peace even in the greatest vicissitudes and in the most difficult trances of life.

29. In that gift there is balm for you to heal the sick in body or spirit, there is power to stop the elements when they are unleashed, there are weapons to turn discord and war into peace. It is a part of your spiritual heritage: that you are going to take advantage of and develop in this time.

30. Your heart wanted to have something bigger in life. without knowing that it would not be possessions or riches of the world that you would have to acquire, but goods of the spirit.

31. What greater ambition can a man cherish, than to resemble his Heavenly Father? Truly, I tell you, this is the greatest desire that you should encourage.

32. It is not impossible to resemble your Lord, that is why I came into the world at that time, in the form of a man, to teach you with my life and my example to imitate the Divine Spirit in love and justice. Verily I tell you that when you dedicate your life to imitating me, you will find this happiness and that peace that you have sought in vain on other paths and that peace will be not only internal, but also external, because your conscience will no longer have to claim you at every step and every day, as now your faults.

33. Love me and imitate me in Jesus, remember how I, through that humble Teacher from Galilee, proved to you that my power, my wisdom and my wealth were greater than those of the world, because all my works were born of love, which is the origin of life, of the strength and the light that has created everything.

34. Thus I tell you, in this Third Time, the triumph will belong to those who imitate my works, because the weapons with which you will fight will be the same that I brought at that time.

Love one another!

35. Yes, I told you through Jesus, "I am the light of the world." I want you also to be like a beacon of light in the lives of your brothers, may your presence always be beneficial and your influence healthy, may your thoughts be clean and your feelings healthy. Then you will see how easy life is, how bearable the struggle on Earth and how pleasant it is to serve your fellow men. Then you will have become, by merit, the children of light.

36. What ambition awakens in your heart at the influence of my word? peradventure petty ambitions of this world? No, beloved people; my word is awakening in you the noble desire to raise your spirit along the path of truth.

37. Nor do I want you to give crooked interpretations to my teaching, believing that I love you poor, tearful, miserable and sick, ragged or hungry. No, I want you to learn to harmonize your material struggle with your spiritual mission in such a way that in the world, you can have what is necessary and let the spirit also have a few moments to practice his gifts and fulfill his spiritual mission, that in the world you can have what is necessary and let the spirit also have a few moments to practice his gifts and fulfill his mission.

38. I am preparing you, O people, to be the prophet of this time among humanity, the good prophet through whom I announce the events to come and give you my commands and guidelines.

39. If you ever sow falsehood and lies, I tell you that with pain and tears you will wash away your stain and that the more your lie spreads and the greater damage it causes, the greater will be your purification. Can those who are spreading evil among humanity be justly called "Children of the light"? No, beloved disciples.

40. How much light I have given you multitudes who come day by day to receive my lessons; think that it would not be fair for you to become lethargic and that in an instant you were surprised by some test that made you falter!

41. Your heart tells me with pain: "Master, do you think we are capable of disloyalty, betrayal or weakness?" And I answer you, Yes, people, I do believe you capable of failing in your promises. Was there not among those twelve disciples of the Second Time, one who gave himself to the justice of the world, when he became convinced that the Kingdom that I was offering was not of this world? Did not Peter deliver a deadly blow on the centurion at the moment of apprehending me, the disciple wanting to defend his Master in this way and retain him for longer than it was written? Didn't Thomas dare to doubt my spiritual presence, when I promised him so many times to always be close to them? Why should I not doubt you now? Certainly not everyone will ignore my words in times of trials, because even now, as at that time, there will be faithful, there will be jealous, there will be obedient and strong.

Love one another!

42. I only say to you at this hour, disciples: Watch and pray that you do not fall into temptation.

43. Israel: When I contemplate your hearts with coldness, my Spirit sobs and when I contemplate the purpose of regeneration and obedience, it is filled with joy. I know that after 1950 you will be surprised by the whirlwinds. But you are the chosen people whom by the light of my word I have made safe from all vicissitudes. Many words of falsehood will reach your ears even from among yourselves and I do not want confusion to exist in my chosen ones; but in the face of these events my truth will know how to put away the lie and with the light of my Holy Spirit you will be the strong ones, you will know how to defend my Work and you will be able to put away the confusion of others, because you are the children of light.

44. Just as I am the light of the world, so must you be among humanity. Men suffer and weep because they have been deaf to my inspiration. But you are the ones who must lead you; you will be the hearer of the wayfarer and with meekness you will give him my peace.

45. If you do not prepare yourselves, I will show that the last one will be first and he will carry my Law in his heart even if he has not heard my word.

46. Truly I tell you, Israel, you will be the counselors who will give light and peace to others. You will defend my Work at the right moment and with meekness you will speak to the most reluctant heart and then you will see that they become meek lambs. Do not fall back into the mistakes you were in, because that only left a backlog in your spirit; unite to bring the light and the teaching.

47. Make your children recognize the consequences of good and evil, make them aware of the examples that I have given you, prepare them because they are the ones who will serve me tomorrow. I want to find you serene and calm meditating only on the good, so that you may be guided by the light of the Holy Spirit.

48. Every moment I am saving you from all stumbles; in the same way you should also pray for others. Contemplate the pain everywhere, the abandoned childhood, the youth penetrating the mud, the infidelity in the wife; but when you find the sinful woman and criticized by humanity, teach her the true way and remove the bitterness and confusion that surrounds her so that she begins to regenerate.

Love one another!

49. Have charity of the World, Israel, and just as I spoke to him in the Second Time, so you must go and give him my word.

50. I will leave to humanity the Third Testament in which there is a wealth of wisdom, which comes to you because I make you worthy to receive it without contemplating your stain, because I am love and perfection; but Elijah is cleansing your spirit.

51. You have separated yourselves from the world to come and listen to me, I am among the humble to make a sanctuary in their hearts. In the Second Time I spoke to you to give you my Doctrine of love, charity, forgiveness, but the world was forming different creeds according to its understanding and as a Father I was enlightening all my children. Many of you say to me, "Father, are my brothers wrong? Why then don't you show them the way? And truly I tell you, blessed people, the light that has illuminated you, the teaching that I have given you, I have given to all equally, but foolish men have walked at their own free will and have not wanted to receive me. I do not come to force my children, each one has to come to me way by his own volition by his own effort, because I am enlightening all of humanity. Some have listened to me, and it is you, the blessed people of Israel. To the others by intuition I am pointing the way and by revelations they are also perceiving the light of the third Time.

52. In all times I have preached love to you, because love is a bulwark, in which I have placed all my power. Blessed is the one who lives with love in his heart, because he will overcome all the problems of his life; blessed is the one who, carrying love in his life, will manifest it on his way because those works will be for the blessing of him and others.

53. My children, recognize Me as Father and as Spirit so that you will no longer seek me in idolatry. You always have me as the light of the Holy Spirit in your spirit.

54. When you are going to practice charity, I am in that charity and if you rise up to fulfill all my commands, blessed are you, blessed people, because my blessing will endure eternally in you.

55. You will no longer hear My word through these instruments, but this time has been a time of preparation for your spirit and the struggle will begin after 1950. I will not depart from you, but it is necessary that you become spiritualized, because through those who have prepared, I will continue to communicate from Spirit to spirit. The seers will continue to contemplate me and to those who become spiritualized, I will speak by intuition and in them I would be the inspiration.

Love one another!

56. Blessed people: In the Second Time I said to my disciples, "All authority has been given to me in Heaven and on earth and truly I say to you, Go everywhere and give up my word, give up my love and my teaching."

57. So I say now to you, blessed people. You are the prepared disciples, you are the ones who have to walk on all the roads of the earth, giving my word and my love. He will rise again to the one who, with doubt in his heart, says that what you have received was only a lie. It will be necessary for them to touch the wound on my side again to believe.

58. I behold him who, having listened to me for a long time, will deny me like my disciple Judas Iscariot, and will sell my Work. But I will draw near to those hearts and with my righteousness I will turn away falsehood from them. Because my Work is clean and white and has no stain, it will resurface with all its purity in all hearts and spirits, because this is my will.

59. Come to the Father, come to the banquet prepared for you; on this table is the bread of eternal life for the spirit for your spirit. I come to prepare my disciples so that tomorrow you can testify that you were close to the Father and that he is dwelling in your heart. because you have prepared it as a sanctuary.

60. It is you who have received from my arcanum the power to give life to the dead, so that you may be in imitation of your Master.

61. .If you know how to prepare as I have taught you, my spiritual pleasures will be with you and in the spirituality that you achieve, your brothers will contemplate that you are children of the light that even wearing my greatness you show yourself as the most humble.

62. Climb, beloved people, do not hold back the progress of your spirit. Take advantage of the teaching that your Master has given you, engrave it in your heart, because the moments in which you will hear me through the human understanding are short.

63. Prepare the third testament for the generations to come, great multitudes will come and if you are prepared, you will speak to them under the inspiration of my Holy Spirit.

PARABLE

64. A gentleman, owner of large tracts of land, came to a stout tree. Near him was a fountain of crystalline agus. In this place he made the call to the walkers who passed by there to invite them to rest under the shade of that tree and to quench their thirst in the waters of that source.

Love one another!

65. From among those walkers, that Lord took out seven men and said to them: “You have requested my charity and I am going to entrust to each one of you a large extension of these lands, so that in them you may fight and work like good farmers sowing this seed or cultivating it, so that you may gather an abundant harvest because the multitudes are great and they are hungry and thirsty.” Then that Lord entrusted the seed and the farming tools to them and told everyone to watch over the tree and the fountain, so that they too would receive the multitudes, after that Lord had left, and added: “You will prepare the lands and deposit this golden seed in them, you will water the lands with the water from this fountain so that you will gather an abundant harvest and you will take care of the stout tree so that its fruits will always carry the good taste; you will work unified and when the hungry, thirsty and tired multitudes arrive, you will offer them the shade of the tree and the sweetness of its fruits; you will give them bread and water so that they will feel strengthened and carry my peace.” That Lord said to the men, “I am about to depart, but you will feel my presence deep within your hearts, my gaze will contemplate you, and my ear will listen to you.”

66. Verily I say unto you, In the third time I called my husbandmen to give them their inheritance. That you, in imitation of your Father, may prepare the banquet and receive those who hunger and thirst for my word. They will receive through you the spiritual riches that I have entrusted to you.

67. You are my sheep who are being led into the spiritual fold. The Shepherd who leads you at this time is the spirit of Elijah. No one looks at that shepherd, but everyone feels him; some realizing it, others ignoring it.

68. Elijah has opened the book of life in the Sixth chapter, once the Sixth Seal was untied by M, that I have the power to do so.

69. What has the Sixth Seal revealed to you? What message did the book keep in its bosom, to show it to the world at this time? Spiritual life, self-knowledge, the revelation of all your attributes, how to develop spiritual gifts, spiritual communication through the mind and spirit-to-Spirit communication.

70. Your spirit is filled with joy, because it feels enlightened and sees angels. Be faithful to your Pastor and every day you will feel this blessed peace that floods you now, and you will not have to flee to hide when he manifests my justice before this pagan, idolatrous and materialistic world. Yes Elijah is among you and he will again test the priests of a false god and will teach them again who the true one is and how he should be worshiped. But Elijah is not coming to become a man; the human body is not indispensable to be able to manifest a spirit on Earth, least of all that of Elijah, who holds the key that opens the doors for communication between one world and another.

Love one another!

71. The spiritual valley will approach n3 even more, it will come to men, to give them testimony of its existence and of its presence, Through all the canons signs, tests, revelations and messages will arise that will insistently speak that a new time has opened.

72. There will be struggle, there will be commotion in the peoples because religions will sow fear in those who give credence to those messages, and science will deny the truth to those facts. Then the humble will rise up, putting on courage, to testify to the truth of the trials they have received, those will rise up who, having been evicted by science, spiritually recovered their health and will testify to miraculous cases revealing more infinite power and more absolute wisdom; the humble and the ignored will arise from among them, men and women whose word full of truth surprises theologians, philosophers and scientists and, when the struggle is greater, and the poor are humiliated and their testimonies are denied by the proud, then it will be the moment when Elijah calls the wise, the lords and the princes to put them to the test and Woe to the false and the hypocrites in that hour, because perfect justice will descend to them! It will be time for justice but from there many spirits will rise to true life, many hearts will arise to faith and many eyes will be opened to the light.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 351

1. I am light, love, charity and forgiveness. Come and take from Me what you need, for your benefit and that of humanity.
2. Beloved disciples, who are gathered around the Master, you come to receive my wisdom to guide your life and fulfill the mission that I have entrusted to you.
3. If your Teacher told you everything that exists in nú wisdom, you would never understand it and besides, what merits would you do to discover what in my arcanum I have in store for you? It is the spiritual elevation that makes you worthy to receive my divine inspiration.
4. You have evolved and in this time I have revealed to you what you can already understand, but it is not I who puts a limit to your understanding, it is you who have to rise in order to receive more from me.
5. What I have taught you is sufficient for you to understand what your mission is and how you should build in yourselves the temple of which I have spoken to you; so that you may unify the ideas of humanity and know how to unite this teaching with the Doctrine of Jesus in the Second Time and what was said by the prophets and enlightened in the First Time.
6. My coming at this time has not been in the way that many expected me and it will be you who will make humanity understand my teachings of the Second and Third Times.
7. My people: The time to finalize my communication in this form is near and you still have to prepare more.
8. There are great temptations in the world, but as you come to understand my Work better, as you exercise mastery over matter, you will come closer to perfection.
9. Spiritualize yourselves so that your spirit reaches the degree of elevation it needs, to continue its upward march towards eternal perfection, which is the goal where it must reach.
10. Remember our words from the Second Half. "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's and to God what is God's," and now I say to you, "Give to your matter what belongs to it and to your spirit, the elevation and advancement that corresponds to it"
11. Now my word has not come to incarnate; he descends to you on the cloud, spiritually, to reveal to you what you have not been able to understand.

Love one another!

12. Over the years, temptation has manifested itself on your path, it has fought diligently to lead you away from the true path, to confuse and disorient you, leaving uncertainty in your heart.

13. By revelation and intuition I have delivered messages to this world and I have sent prepared men, chosen spirits to speak through them to humanity, and when your heart has been prepared, you have given birth to my Spirit. I have manifested myself in your life in teaching, in Mercy and peace, but I have not contemplated whether or not you have believed in my manifestation, because my desire as a Teacher and as a Father is that you may recognize the voice of the one who is speaking to you is through consciousness, of your peace and of your elevation.

14. I have not come to save your matter, but your spirit. Therefore I have spoken to you with love so that you may rise up and be in imitation of the patriarchs, of the first Time and to be my disciples of the Third Time.

15. In each stage of evolution your spirit has remained materialized and for that reason you have distanced yourselves from my love, you became confused and you have given different interpretations to my word.

16. You are approaching the end of the time when you will hear for the last time my Divine Word transmitted by the human understanding, but I feel pain in my Father's heart, because you manifest incomprehension and familiarity with my word, low spiritual elevation, and perhaps because of your lack of preparation I will continue to communicate by the human brain? No, beloved people, because you have heard that I am perfection and my will is unique. Could the Father be variable in his will just like the human being? It would not be perfect, it could not have been your Creator or your God. I would sooner cease to illuminate the star until my word and my will were not fulfilled.

17. From the first time the prophets announced this stage of grace and at this time I come to prepare your spirit with the light of my Holy Spirit so that you may rise more and more.

18. You will contemplate that those who have never heard my word through the speaker, nor were present before the manifestation of my Universal Ray, will rise so that I prepare their heart and they will receive my divine message and my orders by intuition. They will love me in imitation of the apostles of the Second Time. In them my word will be fulfilled: the last will be first.

Love one another!

19. Fulfill your mission, tribes of Israel, recognize your responsibility to humanity, remember that you are bearers of my Law, that you are the emissaries of the Spiritualist Doctrine that I have entrusted to you.

20. Israel, united and anxious, arise with one heart, with one will, obeying my Law and my divine will. You well know that I am your salvation.

21. I have engraved my teaching in your heart and my divine effluvium has been in your spirit like sap that strengthens and quickens you so that you may rise up to fulfill your mission, so that you may be before Christianity like the elder brothers, that you may know how to lead it on my way, with obedience and meekness. You will be the teachers of tomorrow.

22. Last of all: do not see my people as strangers, because in time I have sent these spirits to reincarnate so that humanity may reach charity for them.

23. How much confusion there is in the world, how much deception, because the human brain, instead of conforming to my Law, has fallen into materialism, paganism and idolatry and unprepared men have dared to name themselves representatives of my Divinity, spokesmen of my divine voice, of my love and of my light. I find feeding egoism, darkness, fanaticism, falsehood and division. But I am the perfection that comes to show you the way of spirituality and love so that you may be forgiven.

24. Materialism and idolatry reign in the world, therefore humanity has fallen into temptation.

25. Who will the Teacher use to tell humanity about my truth? Of my chosen people of Israel.

26. Gather yourselves spiritually around the Master. You are my disciples to whom I have come to give you my teaching like an open book, giving you in it the clarity of the light of the Holy Spirit, so that understanding my word you practice it and carry it engraved with indelible letters in your heart. you are the children of light who must set a good example to humanity, showing spirituality, love and faith in your works.

27. The Master has come spiritually among you in this Third Time, to deliver his word to you through the human understanding and this teaching is like a ray of light that has arrived to awaken your spirit and make it understand that this is the voice of your God and Lord, the voice of the Father who calls his son, the voice of the Master who as a Verb pours out in teachings, in examples, in sublime maxims, so that your spirit is contemplated clothed with the virtues of my Divine Spirit.

Love one another!

28. Beloved people: I want you to imitate me, I want you to be in my own image and likeness, that is why I have come among you to communicate through the understanding of my spokespersons. These are the ones I have refined, prepared and purified, so that you may receive my word through their spiritual gifts. They were the hardened rocks from which I have caused to spring the crystal clear and pure waters for your spirit.

29. I have come at this time to make the blind contemplate my light and show them the light of a new day. I have come among you to give you a testimony of my witness, to give you my love and my truth so that doubt will not be among you. I want that when you hear my word, you recognize its essence and rise up full of faith and love for your Father.

30. I want you to present to me the deepest repentance for having defiled yourselves and separated from your Father: that you be sensitive to the spiritual and that in your heart it is the sanctuary that you prepare to your Father so that you may carry his love, his peace, his light, eternal life.

31. Prepare yourselves, my children, so that your spirit may be free from all materiality, so that you may remove the blindfold of darkness from your eyes and contemplate me in all my splendor. The materiality of the world has prevented you from fully feeling my presence and appreciating my wisdom poured out in your own heart.

32. How perfect and pure is the teaching that I have come to give to your spirit, so that you may become worthy of my spiritual pleasures and become the heirs of this treasure with which you will rise up tomorrow 'inspired by my Divine Spirit, to give charity to suffering and needy humanity. In this way the prophecies will be fulfilled in you. I showed humanity through you the port of salvation, the saving boat. For verily I say unto you, the peoples and nations, the great multitudes that dwell on the earth are lost, they have died to the life of grace.

33. See that you are no longer the dead, for I have given you life, for everyone who comes to Me will rise again. Let this life and this strength make you be in communion with me, do not close your eyes to this light, to this greatness. See, my children, how great is the mercy of your Father.

34. You are the people in whom I have placed my trust because you will give hope and comfort to humanity and you will be the luminous torch that separates its darkness. Men in their despair seek me, some through science and others in their idolatry. When you see that women, children, young people and the elderly cry and call to me, because they do not feel the presence of the Father, of that Savior who has promised to return to give them peace. consolation and charity; when you see that this humanity is washing and purifying itself in its own pain, it will be then that you must be prepared, in harmony with me,

Love one another!

watching and praying for this humanity so that through you it will listen to me and be illuminated with the light of my Holy Spirit.

35. I will make the most hardened hearts feel the touch of my love, so that they do not remain the stones that cause pain to humanity.

36. This is the time, blessed people of Israel, in which you must be prepared to walk with a certain step in the fulfillment of your delicate mission.

37. Today I have come with my word to set you free spiritually, to take away the burden that you carried, to take away the chains that bound you to this world and that did not allow your spirit to be lifted up to ME.

38. You are the people in whom I want to contemplate the spirituality of the righteous.

39. Bear your cross with love, humility and meekness, for I will be your Cyrineus. Give a good example to humanity and be the clean mirror in which it contemplates its face; be charitable and share your strength with your brothers. I want you to show the world with your smile the love that the Father has given you, because I will not leave you alone before the inclemency of the elements. In this time of great dangers, in which temptation and great trials will come in your path, you will feel me very close, because I will be in you, so that you do not carry the fear that the world has before the manifestation of my divine justice.

40. Do not disobey the Law, do not depart from my love, do not defile yourselves with the wickedness of the world. Bear only the fear of turning away from your Father because that fear is the beginning of wisdom, by which you will attain supreme happiness.

41. He who remains prepared and knows how to watch over the Work that I have entrusted to his hands, will constantly receive from my arcanum the charity of the kingdom of Heaven, a blessing, and will be the one who will give faithful and true testimony before humanity.

42. I have entrusted to you weapons of light, powerful weapons so that you can defend yourselves from the lurkers that you will find in your path. Temptation is present at every moment like a bird of prey to rob your spirit of the grace and the gifts that I have entrusted to you; to take away the good seed from you and leave the chaff for you; like a hungry wolf to devour you. But you have lived the truth that I have given you, so that you may be the good disciples who show by example this way to humanity.

43. When you have not watched and prayed, temptation has come to you like a whirlwind, pouring out your sanctuary and extinguishing the light of your torch. Taking away the teaching from you; then you have felt deprived of my charity, needy, and like a prisoner in my presence, you have wept and have penetrated into repentance; you cry out again to your Father for mercy and then I put the book of light in your hands again, I cleanse your mind, I prepare your heart, I give you a new garment and I say to you: Get up, watch and pray so that you do not fall into temptation.

Love one another!

44. Unite yourselves, beloved people, so that the Father may recreate with obedience the fulfillment of His children.

45. I want you to be like one disciple who brings the same teaching to the world.

46. Fight, my people, with the sword of light that I have entrusted to you in my word, with prayer, so that you overcome temptation; fight with the fire of my love so that you exterminate the tares and with the light of the Holy Spirit so that you separate the darkness from the confused, from the ignorant, from the idolaters, from the perverse and so that you guide the innocent who have sought me in the material sanctuaries.

47. You, who are at the head of these humble enclosures, will welcome these multitudes and with the simplicity of my word you will speak to them of my love, you will tell them that I have come in search of sinners not to sentence them but so that they may know me to wipe away their tears, to remove darkness from their spirit, to heal the blindness of their eyes and make them feel and contemplate my presence. In this way you will give life to the dead in my name. You, the chosen people, will be like a shining star before humanity.

48. You have engraved my word in your heart and from that blessed book, when you are ready, my Divine Spirit will deliver your brothers. I will multiply this bread so that the spirits may be nourished and strengthened.

49. You will carry out your mission not only in the time when you live on Earth, because in it you will begin only to take the first steps. You will make the great multitudes come out of idolatry and that they leave their weapons of war, so that they can receive in their hearts the message of my peace. But your spirit will continue to struggle and work tirelessly, even after having left its material envelope, until you contemplate them that men carry peace and goodwill, that they carry the light of the Holy Spirit, that they seek elevation and penetrate spirituality. and you will fight from generation to generation and in this way you will climb the mountain until you reach its summit where you will be rewarded with the fruit of your deeds.

50. After 1950, when you no longer listen to me in this way, do not be disoriented and say: Where will I walk? What mission do I have to carry out on this path? What is your will, Lord? Truly I tell you that you will receive my inspiration, your spirit will listen to me and you will feel that I am taking you by the hand and showing you the way you should follow to seek your brothers. I will cause your eyes to behold and your ears to hear those who seek me, those who call me, and you will know that those who seek me will seek you. Then I will fill you with inspiration and deliver the light to those multitudes through you.

51. Humanity has been purified and more will be purified in their pain so that the spirits awaken and see that their fruits carry bitterness and death; they will seek their redeemer and find the way they have lost, but this message of light, and of love, I will give to the world through my chosen ones.

52. You are living a time of grace, a new day in which the divine light illuminates the path of all men. I, the Master, I receive you, I make you rest in my lap and I bless you, and just as I caress this people, I pour out blessings and benefits in the Universe.

53. You, my disciple, have prepared yourselves to hear my lesson of this time, you have come to me with faith and hope, as you came in times past, when I came to you.

54. The path that I point out to you is always that of the Law. A precise narrow path, so that you feel safe, when traveling on it. Compliance with that Law, it is the price of your salvation. Do you want to be saved and reach the end of this path to possess the gifts and power of the righteous? In you you have everything you need to achieve the goal, I have endowed you with virtues so that you carry out your ideal.

55. If you feel that the struggle to achieve the triumph of your spirit is arduous, use the strength you possess; if the vicissitudes of this world hurt you, put on patience; if human misunderstanding makes you suffer, raise your spirit and here, in my company, silence your complaints and take your world in peace, without brokenness or grudges, but loving and forgiving, like good disciples.

56. Pour out this teaching that I have brought to you, so that the world may feed on it, because the hunger and thirst they suffer are overwhelming.

57. Do not miss the moment when your brothers present their need to you; bring comfort to the spirit, to alleviate their pain, because their scarcity and their spiritual illness are more painful and pressing than that experienced by their body.

58. Your word as a disciple will have the virtue of removing the haze, sadness that envelops the hearts of your brothers.

Love one another!

59. I have called you to fulfill that blessed desire that you present to me to perfect your spirit of going beyond human knowledge and penetrating the Divine Arcane. And I, who am attentive to your requests, who long for your advancement, have overflowed my word, so that you may feel happy.

60. When this time passes and only the memory of my manifestation remains in you, you will consider yourselves blessed, and when you read my word in the books, you will water with your tears those pages written with the love and tenderness that you, as my children, inspire me.

61. The time is already near when you will stand before this humanity, as witnesses of my coming, and you must from now on make resolutions and put on strength; because this test that awaits you is great. Let nothing frighten you, beloved disciples! And just as my word has pointed out to you only one path: Love and truth, you also be the indefatigable sowers of this disease among humanity.

62. Prayer will be your staff, it will prepare you and arrange for good. In that prayer you will feel that your spirit is transported to other valleys, to higher scales, the higher, the greater your preparation; and in it you will breathe peace, you will feel inspired by the beings who inhabit them, righteous and virtuous, and they will take you to my presence; in that communion I will give you my new revelations and commands.

63. I want you to rest now from your long pilgrimage, to stop crying in this valley to elevate yourselves spiritually.

64. I announce to you that you will still see the greatest calamities present themselves on this world, which will be the consequence of human selfishness and ambition, of lack of love and charity. What will you do at that time, Israel, when you see all those forces of Nature unleashed, scourging your brothers? Will this world see the presence of great earthquakes. The waters will come out of their channel and parts of the sea will become land and other lands will be invaded by the waters. Men will leave their regions and even their countries in search of salvation. The rains will devastate like the flood of the First Time, many cities and only a few will escape these rigors.

65. How will you receive those beings who will come fleeing from so much misery and pain, looking for the saving ark in this nation? Will you know how to obey my will and share your bread and your home with them?

66. A time of great events will soon begin for the world. The earth will tremble, and the sun will cause to fall on this world, hot rays that will burn its surface. The continents,

Love one another!

from one point to the other, will be touched by pain, the four points of the Earth will suffer purification there will be no creature that does not feel the rigor and the atonement.

67. And after this great chaos, the nations will regain their calm and all the natural elements will calm down. After that stormy night in which this world lives, the iris of peace will appear and everything will return to its laws, to its order and harmony.

68. You will see the sky clean again and the fields fruitful, the waters in their stream will be pure again and the sea will be gracious; there will be fruits on the trees and flowers on the meadows and the harvests will be abundant. And the man, and he will have been purified and healed, will feel worthy again and will see his way prepared for his ascension and return to Me.

69. Everything will be clean and spotless from the beginning so that it will be worthy of possessing the new time that is approaching, because I will cement the new humanity on firm foundations.

70. There are many beings who are only waiting for the resurgence of virtue in this world to descend and fulfill the mission that I have entrusted to them. Prepare yourselves and be ready to receive them when that time comes and shorten the days of your purification with your works of charity. I will penetrate into all homes to speak to the spirit through their conscience, to the parents, to the judges and rulers, through their conscience, to the parents, to the judges and teachers and I will leave the Law imprinted on them.

72. The reign of evil, which has prevailed in the world for so long, is about to disappear, to make room for the reign of the spirit, the unleashing of the spiritual gifts and powers that are in man for which he has a very high destiny.

73. Many of you will be witnesses of these events that I announce today, some believers and others unbelievers will see these words fulfilled.

74. Watchful waiting for the fulfillment of these prophecies, always watch so that no test makes you weak and take my words with you, because each of them contains wisdom and power that will save you, if you know how to apply them in your life.

75. If you know how to keep yourself praying and practicing my teaching, you will achieve your spiritual progress and you will know how to move consciously to the new stage that you are going to live; you will feel my presence in your actions, in your meetings inspired by Me you will carry out works that correspond to your dignity as my disciples.

Love one another!

76. Live in harmony of desires and ideals with your teaching brothers, even if you are distant; may your spirit be united to theirs and may you all live in communion with me. This is my will.

77. Feel my breath when you hear my word, because it is life for everyone who knows how to understand it, so that tomorrow you will be my disciples who will fulfill my Law, so that you will not feed Sodom and Gomorrah. I come to give you my word, so that you may understand what the true riches of the spirit are, so that you may be spiritualized and worthy to inherit my Kingdom.

78. I give you the light of my Holy Spirit, so that you will not succumb to darkness. I have come to speak to you so that you may give me a dwelling place in your heart, to make it a sanctuary of my divinity.

79. What is feeding the world at this time? Pride, vanity, hatred and pleasures, vices that sicken the spirit and matter; but I want to contemplate you free of that materialism and for that reason I have left only your spirit the white garment. At the end of the day, I want to welcome you into my paternal arms and say to you: Welcome are you who knew how to live within my Law and turned away from the world to become my labourers

80. Everyone who listens to my word and puts it into practice will become worthy to receive my charity from my arcanum; he will be the one who will show himself to others as a clean mirror: In him there will be a gift of healing, a prophetic word; he will be like a source of crystalline waters for those who thirst for my word. I will put my Divine Word in him and I will entrust him with my balm so that he may be the one who delivers comfort to everyone who suffers.

81. I will make peace and joy wherever you sit, and I will entrust you with a sword to combat all idolatry.

82. Teach your children to seek me in the unknown, tell them you sat with me at my table and that you are no longer the idolaters; if they do not know me, you love them and forgive them.

83. The nations mark their borders and rise up in war sowing death and I have come in Spirit to prepare a few and those are you who are part of the new generations that tomorrow will seek me from spirit to Spirit. By that time the peoples of the earth will no longer prepare for war, they will receive me into their spirit.

84. I want you to be the first and to prepare yourselves to give the good news, to be the example before your brothers.

Love one another!

85. It is my will that you purify yourselves, because the stained does not fill ME and, your pain is very great; rise up to M to mitigate your pain I remove evil from you, so that there is well-being and joy in your spirit so that you rise to the top of the spiritual mountain.

86. Feel love for your Master and for humanity, do not withhold my charity, fight to rid your Hemians of fanaticism and in this work my Spiritual World will be with you. You are my witnesses and through you I will give the good news to the world.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU

Teaching 352

1. Blessed is this moment in which my Spirit appears among you. Day when the roads are illuminated with my light, so that the disciples may come to these precincts in pursuit of my word.
2. People: I receive you. You are welcome!
3. I hear your prayer and by your heartfelt request I extend my charity over humanity, so that every human creature may spiritually feel my caress.
4. With good will and faith you have prepared your heart, disposing yourselves of matter and spirit to receive the divine lesson.
5. By that preparation I make my word of love to be with you.
6. Disciples: From the earliest times I have been preparing the paths that would lead you to the point where you are at this moment; to the spiritual evolution that will allow you to conceive the spirit-to-Spirit communication with your Father.
7. By this I give you to understand that I have never let you walk at random and that your steps in the fulfillment of my Law have always obeyed a divine plan.
8. As if I were your shadow, so I have followed you through the ages, always helping you to walk towards the path of life and truth because once on it, it will not be I who follow in your footsteps, but you who follow after my footprint.
9. Here, on my way, will be where you will discover all the gifts that your spirit treasures, the only way for him to find in himself the necessary weapons to defend himself from the thousand dangers that lie in wait for him on his walk.
10. The journey has seemed hard and long to many, because they have not wanted to understand that it is they themselves, with their mistakes and weaknesses, who are making the cross of their existence heavy.
11. They have lacked an ideal and love, that is why, by surrendering to the arms of a materialistic life, they have had to become jaded, fatigued. To these jaded spirits of the world, who have transmitted to their human part their centuries-long fatigue, I have brought you at this time my encouraging word, which is like a fine chisel that little by little polishes the rock hardness of those hearts, until giving them a beautiful and harmonious shape, not only external appearance, but true life, spiritual life.

Love one another!

12. From that rock I only want its firmness to remain, which later will be the foundation of a sanctuary where only the truth will dwell, a temple where my Law will be kept and where the voice of conscience will be heard.

13. My work in this Third Time in teaching you through the human understanding, has been of divine patience, because I want that at the end of this communication, my word has been kept in the heart of each one of you. Thus, tomorrow, when you recognize that the time for your testimony has come, you will feel that the spirit is full of this essence and that your lips do not refuse to express the spiritual inspiration that it pours out in you. You will be surrounded by large crowds and despite this you will feel alone for moments; but your solitude will be external, because it will be enough for you to put yourselves in communication with me, so that you feel inwardly my sweet company, and also the presence of a world of light, invisible to your bodily gaze, but perceptible to your spiritual senses.

14. Can you feel lonely or abandoned if you know the secret of prayer that puts you in touch with the spiritual life? Will you allow yourselves to be overcome by vicissitudes, carrying in your being the strength of your Master? No, beloved disciples; you should not distrust or weaken on the way of your mission because it will be the case that you cry believing yourselves to be outcasts, without realizing that your tears will be falling on the treasure that you carry in your being and that you have not wanted to contemplate.

15. Fill your chest from now on, but knowing what you keep in it, aware of how much you possess and the application of each of your gifts.

16. I do not want you to repeat only with your lips, that you are heirs of my kingdom, I want you to know in truth why you are my heirs and what your inheritance is.

17. Only he who knows thoroughly what he carries in his spirit, will know how to make known my work; only he who is aware of what he knows and possesses, will be able to remain firm in the face of great trials.

18. I see that you have made spiritual progress in the time you have been listening to me, because if you do an examination in the light of your conscience, you will recognize that morally you have improved, that your faith is greater, that something of the virtue that emanates from my word, you have assimilated. But I also tell you not to be satisfied with what you have achieved so far, but to continue step by step on the path of perfection, without falling into stagnation.

19. Now you know the path you are treading, you know where you are directing your steps, and you have a high ideal.

Love one another!

20. How many of you arrived overcome by the struggle, without faith in your heart, without firmness in your works, without knowing where you were going, without goal or hope of salvation, and today you are emerging into a new life, full of confidence and ideals. Is this not a step forward on your spiritual path?

21. My light has shone for a long time on your path, to free you from the abyss into which spirits sink who do not have the light of faith and hope.

22. I, who know the pain that approaches men, with my teaching I come to reveal to them the way to counteract calamities, to overcome temptations and to achieve triumph over evil and adversities, thus you have had one more manifestation of my love.

23. I have come to you to gather you and begin to form the new people of Israel, according to my promise, made to humanity from the earliest times.

24. Is it true that many times, in moments of rest or meditation, you have sensed that something spiritual was approaching you? It was that my promise was written in your spirit since before you came to Earth and once the time has come, the intuition manifests itself clearly, making you feel the moment of my presence on your way.

25. Do not believe that this feeling has been only in you who have heard this word, no, it has been in every spirit, since my new people will be formed by humanity, without distinction of races, lineages, colors and languages.

26. Now that pain, like the most bitter chalice of all times, is drunk by men from all over the Earth, I have surprised many of your brothers meditating and even praying, after a trial has passed. I have seen great sinners and obstinate perverts stop in their work and listen to the voice of their conscience.

27. That was the moment in which his spirit revealed to the heart my promise and in which man asked himself inwardly: Where will this hope that vibrates within me come from?

28. I will tell you: It springs from my Divine Spirit. My rod of justice touches the rock of your heart to make it flow the crystalline water of repentance where you will wash your stains until you reach regeneration and make love sprout.

29. No matter how severe, strict and inexorable you judge my justice, in truth I tell you that within it you will always find my Father's love.

30. Notice yourselves: You are continually purifying yourselves through pain; but at the same time you have the consolation, the balm and the strength that my word pours out to you.

Love one another!

31. I come to tell you nothing new humanity, because in the Law of the first times everything was said, but your spiritual littleness and your rudeness of understanding caused your Father to come into the world, humanized in Jesus to explain to you with works the content of the Law.

32. But the human generations have not been able to look into the depths of my word and have caused me to come at this time to give a new explanation of the Law of the First Time and of my works and words of the Second Time.

33. I come looking for hearts, because in some I want to write the commandments of my Law, as if they were the stone tablets where my precepts were engraved, in the First Time, while others I want to attract them to be in the image of the tree where Jesus was crucified.

34. Yes, humanity, there is such a spiritual delay among men, that it will be necessary to remove the past so that they awaken and once awakened receive my new message, which is the clarification of everything revealed in the past times.

35. I know how to take advantage of the moment in which I surprise a man devoted to meditation, to the examination of his conscience, or to prayer, to announce to him that the hour of his resurrection to true life has arrived. It is the moment when the spirit breaks the chains that have bound him to the world and from the purest of his being he lets out the cry of freedom, like the convict, who after a long time of captivity, finally sees those bars that were his martyrdom open before his eyes; like the castaway who, after desperately fighting against the rough sea, finally sees the longed-for beach on the horizon.

36. I tell you that the trials that man has prepared for himself at this time are very great, because they are necessary for his salvation in this way.

37. Through the dearest thing of every man, eternal justice will come to take account of the work of every human creature.

38. Well, beloved people, you who had the feeling of my presence in some form accessible to your littleness, here you have me humanizing my word so that you may feel it and be able to understand it. You, who have had many moments of meditation on your past, on your present and on the eternity that awaits you, are acquiring a great spiritual responsibility towards humanity: that of being the witnesses of my new message, this word that you have heard from the skirt of the Mount of the Third Time.

39. You still have to fight a lot against the flesh and against the world so that you will no longer be his servants; you will still have to cleanse your heart a lot so that you may make it a worthy depository of my word.

Love one another!

40. That is why it is necessary that my work subjects you to a continuous struggle and that trials, like wise lessons, not be lacking in your life, so that you live alert.

41. I assure you that whoever has strengthened his faith in pain will be the one who will most firmly remain faithful to my Law throughout his journey. Because there are those who only feel encouraged by faith when they receive benefits; but when what they ask for or expect does not reach them, then they turn their backs on me, and that is not faith, that cannot be the bulwark to take refuge in the great battles of life.

42. How important it is that this humanity comes to the knowledge of what spiritual restitution means, so that, thinking that the spirit has a past that only God knows, he accepts with love, patience, respect and even joy his cup of bitterness, knowing that with it he is washing past or present stains, he is paying off debts and he is making merits before the Law.

43. There will be no elevation in pain as long as one does not suffer with love, respect for my justice and conformity to what each one has carved out for himself; but that elevation in the midst of trials, only knowledge about what the Law of spiritual restitution is, can give it to men.

44. Do not tremble before these revelations, on the contrary, enjoy thinking that this word comes to destroy the concept that you had of eternal punishment and all the interpretations that were given to you of eternal fire in the past times. Fire is the symbol of pain, remorse and repentance that will torment the spirit, purifying it as gold is purified in the crucible. In that pain is my will and in my will is my love for you.

45. If it were true that fire is the one that punishes human sins, then all the bodies of those who have sinned would have to be thrown into the fire here on Earth, in life, because dead they would no longer feel; because the bodies never rise to the spiritual space, on the contrary, once their mission is completed, they descend to the bowels of the earth, where they merge with the Nature from where they took life.

46. But if you believe that what you call eternal fire is not for the body but for the spirit, that is another grave error, because in the spiritual realm there are no material elements, nor does fire have action on the spirit. What is born of matter is matter, what is born of spirit is spirit.

47. My word does not descend to attack any belief. If anyone thought this, they are in grave error. My word comes to explain the content of everything that has not been properly interpreted and that therefore has produced confusions that have been transmitted from generation to generation among humanity.

Love one another!

48. What value would my Law and my Doctrine have if they were not able to save spirits from error and sin? And what object would my presence as a man have had in the world, if there were to be many who were to be lost forever in an endless atonement?

49. Listen to my word and you will see how much darkness it frees you from. Listen to my word and you will find all the revelations that your spirit longs for, the knowledge that you need to possess and all the explanations to your doubts.

50. .All that man must know about the spiritual life in order to prepare his journey to that valley, I come to reveal it to you in my teachings.

51. In this way you will have an idea of spiritual evolution, you will have knowledge of the stages that the spirit goes through and you will know the meaning of restitution. But if you truly wish to understand my teachings, I tell you that it is necessary for you to learn to get out of that plane of materialism in which you live, and where it is impossible for you to contemplate the light of truth.

52. The mind alone is not capable of conceiving the content of this Work. I also need spiritual sensitivity and intuition to be able to penetrate to the bottom of my spiritual Doctrine.

53. That is the reason why I have been teaching spirit-to-Spirit prayer to my disciples, because without that way of praying, men will not be able to achieve by other means the enlightenment of their understanding.

54. The times announced by the prophecies, those in which the Spirit of Truth would come to clarify everything, are precisely those in which you live; but I wanted to surprise you by communicating in this way, to test your penetration in the sense of the prophecies, where it is said that I would come to communicate spiritually by the human understanding.

55. Now that my promise has been fulfilled by communicating with men, through them, I want you not to forget that one of the greatest purposes of my communication, was that you spread throughout the world the way to pray and rise that I have taught you, so that humanity knows how to prepare, to feel my presence in their spirit, in their mind and in their heart.

56. Do you not think, beloved people, that it would be better if it were you who announced to humanity my presence in spirit in this Third Time and not the elements unleashed, the storms unleashed, the earthquakes devastating cities, the seas ravaging the earth and the earth becoming sea? Do you not think that it would be more spiritual and more humane of you to anticipate these events, with your fulfillment of love and charity?

Love one another!

57. Prepare yourselves in truth and in spirit I will take this people in imitation of the fervent Noah to entrust to you the construction of a spiritual ark, in whose bosom men will find salvation. An ark built with faith, with spirituality, with charity. May it be a true temple of peace, security and refuge from both material and spiritual calamities.

58. When the times pass, and humanity investigates and scrutinizes testimonies and signs to prove the truth of my manifestation, you will understand that everything that happened in these times was but one of many signs that announced to the world the end of my communication and the beginning of another stage.

59. How long have the prophets of the Third Time slept! They rarely open their eyes and set out to contemplate what is to come. That is why this people does not know how much it should know about the future, as in other times Israel, centuries before an event, was prepared and warned by its prophets.

60. It had to be my word that warns and awakens you, as I do this day, when I also announce to you that divine justice will touch the rulers or rulers of the Earth, because they too will purify their spirit. They will begin to be touched, because in this way I will be preparing the time of peace, of bonanza and union that will follow the time of trials.

61. After the new flood, the iris will shine as a symbol of peace and of a new covenant that humanity will spiritually make with its Lord.

62. You must expect a great fight, because you will all have to fight against the dragon of evil, whose weapons are ambition, hatred, earthly power, lust, vanity, selfishness, lies, idolatry and fanaticism; all the forces of evil, born of the human heart against which you will have to fight with great courage and faith until you overcome them.

63. When the dragon of your passions has been killed by your weapons of light, a new world will appear before men, a new world, being the same, but which will appear more beautiful, because then men will know how to take it for their well-being and progress, infiltrating into all their works an ideal of spirituality.

64. Hearts will be ennobled, minds will have light, the spirit will know how to manifest its presence. Everything that is good will prosper, everything that is high will serve as a seed for human works.

65. In the material you will also feel the transformation: The rivers will be abundant, the barren lands will be fertile, the elements will return to their course because there will be harmony between man and God, between man and the divine works, between man and the laws dictated by the Author of life.

Love one another!

66. Does my word seem a fantasy to you? It is that you cannot realize that you are at the end of a material stage and at the beginning of a spiritual era. Your passage through this world is so brief that many of you fail to observe the changes that take place in the material life or in the spiritual life, because sometimes these transitions take centuries to take place. Only the study through a mind elevated by faith, by kindness and prayer, is able to realize the passage of time on beings.

67. When you are in spirit, you who listen to me with some skepticism will be able to contemplate this truth in all its fullness, because then you will establish the comparison of your existence on Earth on the different occasions on which you have come to inhabit it, and you will be able to appreciate the evolution, the endings and the beginnings of each material stage and of each spiritual era, Then you will regret not having been able to take advantage of the experience of your spirit, to have carried out worthy works of those who have been disciples of life for so long.

68. I leave these words written on your conscience, so that when you witness their fulfillment, you will bless my word and rise to bear witness to my Doctrine and the explanation of all the events that I now prophesy to you.

69. I know that the repentance of those who did not believe or denied my word will be very great, when they are witnessing its fulfillment and the phrases will escape from their hearts, asking forgiveness for having doubted. But I also know that among them will be those who will be filled with fervor, becoming the most indefatigable sowers of my teachings.

70. Man has always needed to keep his faith as a living flame, of extraordinary deeds that make him meditate and elevate his feelings. Due to the lack of spiritual evolution, he doubts the truth when it manifests itself with simplicity and does not arrive shrouded in veils of mystery.

71. You have always sought me through pain, few are those who seek me through love and gratitude.

72. Man must know himself so that he realizes that he is not only matter but also has a noble, good part, which is the spirit.

73. Those who have risen spiritually recognize Mary as spirit, without attributing a certain form to her; but those who need to see to believe, their spiritual backwardness forces them to look for images to represent their spiritual qualities.

Love one another!

74. If you imitate the Master by bending the matter so that your spiritual gifts develop, you will be able to receive from Me everything you need to practice the good. But do not do this to magnify yourselves before others, but to imitate your Master.

75. If you seek God, seek Him in spirit, in goodness, in the wonders of Nature, but do not seek God in images.

76. Mary is the spirit fused in such a way to the Divinity, which constitutes one of its parts as are its three phases: the Father, the Word and the light of the Holy Spirit. Thus Mary is the Spirit of God who manifests herself and represents divine tenderness.

77. Mary is the one who inspires and encourages you to do merits and to receive the trials of the world in which you live with conformity and preparation, so that you may find spiritual bliss in the midst of the trial, since this contributes to your spirit reaching greater elevation.

78. The spirit will go to enjoy, to enjoy God, but first it has to evolve inhabiting different matters and then follow its evolution on high planes until it merges into eternal perfection.

79. My people: Do not concretely listen to my word only, analyze it, so that when you no longer listen to me in this way, you will feel strong and follow the example of your Master doing good to humanity; that your actions are always within my truth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 353

1. The Father's heart opens lovingly to receive you, because I contemplate your sufferings and I come to entrust you with my charity.
2. The fountain of grace is pouring out in this Third Time and if in the Second I prepared my apostles with my word, in this time I come to enlighten all humanity with the light of my Holy Spirit. Because I want to make everyone worthy of being called children of God.
3. You are the chosen people of Israel, the strong, the pampered, and you will have to go before the multitudes of all mankind, because you are all my children. At this time I am bringing out the sinner, I am offering the lost son the opportunity for the redemption of his spirit.
4. I don't want anyone to get lost, that none of you leave my lap, because my love is unique. Here is my charity and my most perfect love.
5. I do not come to betray you or to contemplate the stain on your heart. I hear your repentance when you say to me: Father, we want to walk on this path clean from every stain; then I forgive every sin. I also hear you say to me: Father, we want to follow in your footsteps and I say to you: Penetrate this path that is full of virtue is the clean path in which sin will be removed from your heart.
6. You are asking me to grant you to communicate with yours and in truth the Master tells you on this day of grace: I am going to grant you this grace for the last time, because truly and truly I tell you that after this year there will no longer be these communications through the human understanding, but those spirits by which you ask me for light, will only communicate with you, from spirit to spirit. Therefore I am preparing you, so that your spirit may be lifted up more and more so that you may receive this grace.
7. You will never be forsaken, people, because I have never turned away from you, I have always covered you with the tenderness of my mercy; it was you who for a moment turned away from Me.
8. Now I come to remind you that there is a Father for you, a most loving Father who gives you his charity to lead you on the true path.
9. Man has put the blindfold of darkness on your eyes and has led you astray from the right path, he has led you into the abyss, into darkness, but truly I tell you, blessed people: I do not want you to be lost, therefore I give you a new opportunity for your salvation.

Love one another!

10. I am writing in each of your hearts the word "love", love that is the greatest defense of the people of Israel, love, that is the most powerful weapon for all humanity. Love, which in truth will lead you all to the Kingdom of Light.

11. Yesterday you were the lost ones, who traveled like the prodigal son along the roads of the world, confused in your spirit, disillusioned in your heart, with the little care engraved in the depths of your being and you did not find a word of comfort or a hand to guide you and at times the mirage of the desert appeared before you; and when you thought you had found the right way, at the same moment you understood that you had been confused and that the light that had appeared before your eyes was only a deception.

12. In this time you have penetrated the path of light, it has not been chance that has brought you to this path, it has been my will, because in truth I tell you, beloved people, there is no leaf of the tree that moves without my will, because the destiny of every creature is found in Me.

13. The Father says to you: In the Second Time when they took the body of Jesus to the tomb, my Spirit went to give light to the spirits who were in darkness and to free them from their chains. From that moment those spirits who were condemned to eternal night, received the light.

14. My word is fulfilled, the spirits will receive by my grace and by my love the resurrection and will seek in the spiritual valley more and more the elevation, because they have recognized their Lord, their Savior who can be found before them. They will sing hosanna to the Lord and in truth one more grace I am going to grant them: that of becoming your guardian angels, so that they will guide you after 1950. By intuition you will receive their messages and their advice and in times of trial you can call them on my behalf. Their will is my will, in their love for you is my love, because they have washed themselves in the purest waters of the Lamb and have become worthy of this grace.

15. You are the chosen people to whom the Law was given, so that humanity might be governed by it. And it is the time for this humanity to rise up on the path of light and truth, fulfilling my commands.

16. I have given you my divine light in three times; I do not bring you a fruit of a different flavor; my teaching of this Third Time is the same spiritual Doctrine that I have always entrusted to you.

17. In all times the spirit has materialized, therefore humanity is disoriented and does not know how to lead itself spiritually on the path that leads it to perfection.

Love one another!

18. The Master has been among you to teach you and prepare you, to become the husbandmen who will sow my word in the hearts eager for truth. But doubt and lack of spirituality have been the reason why my Work has not yet been recognized by all humanity.

19. Short is the number of those who have listened to me in this time. My universal Ray has illuminated you and I have prepared you so that through you all my children may hear my call.

20. Prepare yourselves, O Israel, to wield with serenity and courage the sword of love with which you will fight against the darkness that stalks you even in the last days of my communication in this form.

21. My Divine Word has manifested through the human understanding to give you preparation and life with the essence of my word, for the elevation of your spirit, so that you may be the example among humanity.

22. I have placed my teaching in your spirit so that it may rise up bending to its matter, so that you may be the messengers of my word, so that men may not become the barrier that prevents the advancement of the Spiritualistic Work.

23. The world feeds paganism and idolatry. I have never given you doctrine that encourages fanaticism or denies the spirituality that exists in my Work. The elements have testified to me and the world sleeps in a deep sleep leaving the spirit to remain in the abyss and in darkness. Arise, O Israel, with obedience, with the power in your spirit to speak and awaken the world.

24. If you have not prepared yourselves, if you have not stored my teaching and have not studied it, I will not follow as a Teacher among you communicating through the spokesman. No, because my will is unique and it manifests itself by fulfilling my word in the Universe, in the visible and in the invisible. After 1950, I will continue to guide and inspire you from Spirit to spirit.

25. You will not be lost, because then I would cease to be God and everything that came out of Me will return to Me. But then the spirit has to wash itself and make merits in its struggle, to show before my discerning gaze its clean harvest.

26. Rise up with courage to face the darkness, the imposture, demonstrate the truth that at this time you have received.

Love one another!

27. Pastor Elias will go before you clarifying what you have not understood; prepare yourselves and be like meek and humble sheep who testify to the world what they have received from my Divinity.

28. Mary will cover you with her mantle and divine tenderness flows from her maternal heart, so that you may carry her in your heart and she may be your strength.

29. Prepare yourselves, people, because difficult times are going to come among you and it is my will that by unpreparedness you go to seek the guidance of the blind and needy man who will have to give you nothing. I have manifested myself at this time to give the light to the blind man and show him the way.

30. Remember that for a long time the Master has told you that you will have to fight against the imposture of false pedestals, because false farmers will arise in future times.

31. It is not my will that you should be weak or lacking in knowledge, but if you feel this way, it is not that you have lacked my teaching, but that you have not engraved it in your heart. Many of you trust that one more time will be as a Teacher among you communicated by the human understanding, and I tell you to be alert because this time comes to an end. That is why I tell you to be prepared, because from among you teachers will arise who will give my teaching to the world.

32. Humanity will seek me, it will seek my my Work, it will seek you. The man who has blasphemed the most will be the one who comes to me the fastest, and you will have to be prepared to tell him about my Doctrine.

33. Israel: Never deny my charity, nor close your lips to silence my truth, no one carries this wisdom like you and the most clumsy understanding, at the right moment, will not let any of your words go unnoticed. If you are prepared, words will flow from your lips that will amaze the world.

34. Do not miss this opportunity, O Israel, be always ready in the fulfillment and give the light to those who are in darkness. Trust in my word, because in the course of time you will contemplate that only one Doctrine will remain on the face of the Earth: that of love.

35. Great multitudes have to get up tomorrow and you have to welcome them, you have to put aside their idolatry and their fanaticism, you have to pray so that my light shines in their understandings, in their spirits, so that they look up to the infinite and contemplate my presence that will tell you: Welcome to the Father, you have prepared yourselves with faith and hope in Me, to receive my word and I receive you.

Love one another!

36. From the earliest times I have been preparing your spirit, increasing it to the path of virtue and I have poured out my inspiration on you.

37. I have shown you at every moment righteousness, love and obedience to my Law. This struggle has seemed arduous to you and it is difficult to travel this path. That is why I come every moment to polish your heart. My word is like a chisel that approaches a hard rock and that moment after moment is polishing it to give it shape, to build a sanctuary on whose altar the virtues that I have given you shine. There I want to dwell to contemplate your faith and to receive your prayer, there I want you to keep my divine word as in a chest; so that tomorrow, when you think you are alone and you are surrounded by the vicissitudes of this life, you will remember that you carry a treasure in your heart, that your spirit is the possessor of it and that you must give charity to the multitudes who are perishing with thirst and that I contemplate them hungry for the truth. Give them the bread that I have given you, which is the bread of life that sustains the spirit.

38. My word is like a ringing bell that is calling the spirits to give them courage, courage and faith.

39. You were walking disoriented, like a wayfarer who does not find the end of the road, but the Father has come to you in this time of struggle for the human being, when the vicissitudes overwhelm you and iniquity is at its third height, I have come as a splendid light dispelling the darkness.

40. I have called you because you are part of the twelve tribes of the blessed people of Israel, I did not want this time to pass without your spirit feeling my peace and you were at the banquet enjoying the best delicacies that I have given you at my table.

41. I extend my fatherly arms to welcome your spirit to engrave my word in your hearts, to show you the Law, to make you feel my divine presence as the Holy Spirit.

42. I am waiting for your elevation and spirituality to entrust you fully with my charity. The chains of sin still bind you. That is why the Father says to you: I have subjected you to a hard struggle and I have given you the necessary strength so that you can overcome obstacles.

43. Get rid of sin, get rid of hatred and evil and come to Me to prepare you with my teaching, because tomorrow you will be messengers of this truth.

44. Do not be confused, nor mistake the way that I have taught you, adding the different beliefs of the world in my Work Because I will claim you as the bad disciples who extinguished their lamp and lay down to sleep imitating the foolish virgins of my parable.

Love one another!

45. The path that I have traced out to you is like a crucible in which your spirit will be purified to reach Me.

46. The crucible to which the Father subjects you is the one that marks the right path for you and advises you to cleanse your spirit through good works, your fulfillment and spiritual restitution.

47. It is necessary that you purify yourselves so that you may feel my presence and receive the inspiration of my Divine Spirit. That is why I have also taught you to pray.

48. My peace must be in every home, your children will be like the seed of peace, you will guide them with righteousness, with love and charity, with good examples. In each home I will settle down as a pilgrim and there I will tell you about my Law that is in the conscience of the parents so that they may be governed by my will.

49. I will enter into the mansions of men and turn away their greed. I will teach you to live as brothers, to love one another so that you may live in peace.

50. Blessed people: This stage in which I am speaking and which is about to end, will mark the beginning of the end, of evil, of the third height of perversity that the world has fed in this time.

51. The light of the Holy Spirit will shine in all its splendor in the Universe, all my children will contemplate its clarity and this will serve to emerge into a new life full of peace.

52. .When will these events take place, my people? You do not know, I only leave the prophecy written in your heart; if you are prepared, it will not be difficult for you to feel my presence and hear my voice from Spirit to spirit.

53. Tomorrow you will be spiritually unified as I have asked and thus you will rise up and be in the fulfillment of your delicate mission. You will unite your thoughts, your ideals and your will so that I may do mine among you.

54. Blessed people: engrave my word in your heart, meditate, study and analyze and then you will feel the taste of this delicacy that I have left you. You will go to the roads, to your own, to different regions and you will be like emissaries of my peace, of my light and of my grace, of which I make you bearers.

55. In this piece of land in which you live, the light of my Spirit has descended to illuminate your existence, transforming you from selfish beings into true brothers of your fellow beings.

Love one another!

56. Farmers of my fields I call you on my word, because I have come to you to teach you the perfect way to cultivate love in the heart of humanity.

57. I have not yet come to ask you for the fruit of the vine, because you still have a lot to learn from Me in order to offer me a worthy fruit, but you must often think that my communication in this form will not be eternal, but temporary. and that you must learn every last one of my lessons.

58. The sonorous bell that you have heard for so long, spiritually calling you to congregation, is giving its last touches. His voice is grave and full of justice, because it is no longer the jubilant call inviting the innocent to the spiritual feast, or calling the sick to shed their heavy burden just by listening to my word of life. now it is the touch that calls the disciples who have long received the divine teachings, it is the voice that commands all those who have received proofs of my truth, gifts, positions and benefits, to gather around their Father and Teacher so that they may listen to his last lessons, his last maxims.

59. Blessed are the spirits who, realizing the transcendence of these moments, know how to escape from the temptations of the world and superfluous pleasures to be with me in spirit, because they will know how to interpret and obey my divine commands. They will be in a position to continue cultivating the vine, and at the end of the day, when they hear my call through consciousness, they will be able to offer me the pleasant fruit of their spirituality, of their love and elevation.

60. 1950 is written on the conscience of this people, because it is the year appointed by my will for the completion of this stage of communication through human understanding.

61. I have sent you my teaching so that in it you may find strength and light in the sufferings, because the time of the great trials for humanity is coming and I want my people to come out unscathed and triumphant in them.

62. I even contemplate you weak in your faith, it is enough that the elements of nature are unleashed so that your heart is filled with dread. Why? Have I not told you that the elements will have to obey and respect you if you are within the path marked by my Law?

63. Ah, people, it is that your conscience tells you at every step that you are not fulfilling as a good disciple!

64. I am not lying or exaggerating when I tell you that the elements can hear your voice and obey and respect you; the history of Israel was written as a testimony of my truth and in it you will be able to find how once and a hundred times the people of God were recognized and respected by the forces and elements of Nature, why shouldn't you be? Do you think that my power or my love for humanity has changed with the passage of time? No, multitudes who listen to this word, the light of my Spirit bathes you, my power and my love are eternal and immutable.

Love one another!

65. Now I want this people, the new Israel, to arise among humanity full of faith, strength and spiritual light, to also bear witness to the world of the truth of my existence, of my love and my justice, as that people of the First Time bore witness to the existence and justice of the living and true God.

66. Think that you are the captive people, that the New Egypt is the world and that the Pharaoh is the reigning materialism that enslaves and tortures; but remember that you must unite in the struggle and continue united in your march to never be defeated by your enemies. Then you will see repeated, albeit now in a spiritual form, all those wonders and powerful works that the people of Israel contemplated on their way to liberation.

67. My people, beloved people: If you truly love the freedom of the spirit, if you hunger and thirst for justice, if the chains of opprobrium and misery that you drag are truly heavy, unite spiritually, pray in truth, strengthen your purpose, enlighten yourselves with the light of faith, inspiration and the ideal and arise in pursuit of the New Promised Land, whose existence is as certain as the Land of Canaan was for that Israelite people who in the First Time endured the trials and struggles of the desert until they reached the fulfillment of the divine promise.

68. It is my voice that comes to wake you up and if you ignore it, no other voice will come to wake you up tomorrow.

69. O Israel, lift up your feet tirelessly after my teaching, which I have placed in your heart and spirit. I am the Teacher who comes to you to speak to you in the intimacy of your heart and make you feel the fire of my love, to lift your spirit to the light and grace of my Divine Spirit.

70. I am tireless in giving you my charity to pull you out of the abyss. As a doctor I anoint you with my balm and as a Father I approach you, comfort you and make you recognize your imperfections.

71. Blessed Israel, I ask you: What are you going to do tomorrow when the Master is no longer communicating through the human understanding? You have not come to understand the greatness of my Work and that is why I have told you to study and analyze my word so that you do not fall into fanaticism and idolatry. I have spoken to all of you, I have been at my table with all of you and I have sat everyone in the best place. I have taught you the humility of my Spirit so that you too may be humble.

Love one another!

72. Recognize, beloved people, that this is the time when you must be meek and humble so that you may be the true spiritualists who carry the essence, the love and the power of your Father, so that you may rise up on the paths. For I have taught you with the light of the Holy Spirit and if you are the disciples now, tomorrow you will be the teachers.

73. To you I will give everything you need to support the world. You will go to the Nations, to the towns, villages and counties and you will deliver what I have entrusted to you and through inspiration you will have an inexhaustible source of light, grace, love and teaching for your brothers.

74. I have never taught you the superfluous and evil, my Law and my Work are clean and far from materialism, that is why I have come to destroy fanaticism and idolatry and I have even set aside the material symbols that represent the spiritual. I have taught you the clean, perfect way to pray and to seek Me.

75. It is not my will, Israel, that tomorrow you turn the houses of prayer into houses of fanaticism, because I have come to teach you how you should practice Spiritual Doctrine, and if you have taken advantage of my teachings you will have direct communication from spirit to Spirit. This is how harmony and fraternity will always be in you.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 354

1. Come once more before the Master, O disciples who hasten your step to reach the foot of the mountain as soon as possible, from dende you hear the greeting and the advice that your Father sends you. From the moment you begin to hear the echo of that voice that I send you from the infito, your spirit begins to climb, to rise, until you reach the top and find me delivering my eternal lesson of love and wisdom.
2. This is how you prepare yourselves in each of my manifestations, climbing from the skirt of the mountain, to finish, when my lesson reaches its end, at the top, united and identified with my Spirit.
3. I am giving you the last lessons at this stage of my communication with man and you hear them eagerly, you drink their essence drop by drop and you strengthen yourselves in your faith; with this you give joy to my Spirit, because when my word ceases in this way, you will remain as faithful witnesses, I will leave you prepared to continue my Work in the heart of humanity.
4. If you meditate deeply, you will see that I have taken you into my care, to make you true apostles, that I have spoken to you not only through my word, but in the trials and events of your life, that in them I have been polishing and acrisolating you, because I want to leave you as preachers of the truth. Do not go to pronounce my words without your heart feeling them, without living my teaching, so that your works of this time may speak more than your words of past eras and give an example of humility, conformity and spiritual elevation. I want that when the world sees you suffer and give proofs of strength, it learns to trust and even smile in the midst of pain. If you practice my teaching, your work will leave a good seed in the hearts of your brothers.
5. You can no longer lie to humanity; it has evolved so much that it knows how to discover both truth and imposture.
6. The case will not be repeated among you when the sects of Pharisees and Sadducees rose up against the people, surprising them and deceiving them with false examples. These sects will not arise at this time in the bosom of my people. There will be no Pharisees or Sadducees among my new apostles; everyone who does not consider himself ready to preach, will close his lips, close his hands, until he has transformed himself and become my disciple; until then he will let his lips open to utter my words and overflow the treasure that his spirit keeps. That is why I have spoken to you a lot, to leave you prepared, so that the world does not surprise you with its theories or destroy the temple that you have built in your heart. That is the reason why I have had a long time to teach you, so that my word would acrisolate your spirit and faith would take deep roots, and even your matter would participate in spirituality, and thus prepared as my instruments, you would manifest to the world the power and grace with which you have been clothed.

Love one another!

7. I have not come to use scientists, philosophers or wise men, to carry my seed of love among the humanity of this time. I have chosen the humble, the hungry and thirsty for spiritual elevation, the anxious for eternity, those who long for the peace of the Universe. These hungry and naked of the goods of the world, belong to the spiritual people of Israel. In calling these creatures to entrust them with such a great mission, I have not chosen him at random, I have chosen each spirit wisely, to make him hear my voice, and point out to him his path, his journey; give him the land and the seed and also the tool; because once prepared, O humble and poor of the Earth, I will send you into the world to show and offer this light that has filled you with joy and that will later spread throughout the world.

8. I made you wait for the fulfillment of my promises, and to this day you see them fulfilled. In your previous incarnations you sought the fulfillment of that promise of mine, to return among you and you did not find it, but your spirit, which possesses eternal life, was leaving its passing wrappings like garments that are destroyed in the struggle, and persevered in its hope and at last you see rewarded your faith and confidence that my word was to be fulfilled. Today you have seen the long path that leads to Me open up before your spirit.

9. Were not my Law and my teachings of earlier times the same path that I am pointing out to you now? I tell you, In my Doctrine which I have taught and revealed to you from the earliest times, I have prepared you for the knowledge of what I am speaking to you today. Through Moses and the prophets I made known to you the Law so that you might live justly and respectfully among yourselves, and you offered tribute to me with your judicious and orderly life. You recognized that only by doing good did you live in grace and that I rewarded your works, when they obeyed the dictates of the Law, and instead, when you ignored their voices, you felt that you had not pleased your Father and your conscience claimed your infidelity. And although you had such wise teachings in my messengers, you did not see that they led you to the knowledge of the spiritual life, humanity did not cross with its gaze the thresholds of that wonderful life that you will all possess and that is the end for which you were created.

10. The times passed, I sent Jesus to you and through Him, I spoke to the spirit and to the hearts of men, so that they felt that the one who spoke to them, taught with his life and examples so that his Doctrine was taken as a heavenly message, as an invitation to true life. And you opened your eyes, your heart and spirit and you knew whose the Word was.

Love one another!

You received His examples, his wonders and teachings and in Him you saw the beauty of the spiritual life. You knew that that humble Master did not come to reign in this world, he did not come to settle on Earth and that he would only pass through it briefly to return to the mansion from where he had come to wait there for his disciples, after consummating his redemptive work.

11. And where did that Teacher turn who had come to prove his infinite love for men? Whence came he who was the wellspring of tenderness and wisdom? And where would his disciples seek that bread of life and that wine of love? All those who loved him and felt him, when they saw him leave, would have wanted to follow him to his mansion, where he turned. It is that his spirit had awakened to life, feeling called and caressed by the voice of the Master, by that teaching that explained what human affections, material nature and also the meaning of spiritual life meant.

12. He did not make you ignorant of the world, nor did he separate from men the good delicacies, nor the healthy pleasures, or the sacred duties towards the family: he only directed humanity along the moral path of this earthly life and the spirit along the infinite path that leads to Me; with that divine teaching virtue flourished, the spirit saw the door open for the elevation, for the passage of all beings who had fulfilled his precepts, but no one foresaw that after that time he would come once again with my words to continue my Work and that he would reveal to you even more than what I told you in Jesus.

13. Before I left this world I said to my disciples, "The Comforter will come among you" the Spirit of Truth, who will reveal to you what is in his arcanum," and those of you who longed to know the secrets of the spirit's life, which never end, waited for one life after another, one and another test and each of them was the fulfillment of one of those words. You knew that the Father could not fail in His promise, because from the first times you saw that every word that comes from Him is fulfilled, and at last you have in this time the prize for your hope.

14. Here is the continuation of my Work, my coming in the Third Time as a Spirit of Consolation, surrounded by my great armies of angels as it was written. These spirit followers of mine, are part of that consolation that I had promised you, and you have already had proofs of their charity and their peace, in their healthy advice and examples of virtue. Through them, I grant you benefits, and they have been intermediaries between you and my Spirit; when you have perceived the grace and gifts with which they are clothed and their humility, you have been inspired to do works as pure as those that they have done in your life. When they have entered your home, you have felt honored with their spiritual presence.

Love one another!

15. Blessed are you if you have recognized their elevation but the Master says to you: Do you believe that they have always been virtuous beings? Do you not know that a great number have inhabited the earth and have known of weakness and great faults? And look at them now, they do not retain any stain, but they heard the voice of conscience, woke up for love and repented of their past faults, and in that crucible they have purified themselves to rise worthy and today they serve me, serving humanity. His spirit has set himself, out of love, the task of helping his fellow men to restore everything they did not do when they inhabited the Earth, and they have accepted as a Divine gift the opportunity to come to sow the seed they did not sow and to destroy every imperfect work they had done. That is why you now look with surprise at their humility, their patience and their meekness, and sometimes you have seen them suffer for their restitution; but their love and their recognition, which is greater than the obstacles that are presented to them, overcome everything and are willing to go to the sacrifice.

16. Do not increase their bitterness. Be docile, understanding and obedient to his advice. Return their caresses, they are your spiritual brothers and just as they are now you will be, tomorrow you will also inhabit that world and your love, effort and repentance, will wash the stains that have remained in you to be clean and pure like them. Your constancy and love for the good will make you send your prayer on those you leave on Earth involved in vicissitudes and evil, and you will say to the Father: Lord, allow me to return, although in an invisible and intangible way for my brothers, to carry a message of peace and health to those who suffer and I will grant you this grace. Then you will be like angels and nothing will prevent you from visiting the worlds of atonement, carrying in you all that spring of grace and goodness that I have entrusted to you as my children; and as you overflow your spirit, you will become calmer and achieve greater elevation.

17. When I ring the bell for the last time, calling my children to hear my word for the last time, the communication of those spiritual hosts will also cease, you will not have it through them again; you will no longer hear their advice in that form, but they will not be absent from you; they will remain as guardians and protectors of humanity. It will be enough for you to pray and evoke their advice, so that they will come to your aid, but do it with purity, so that you feel their influence, and do not doubt their presence because in beings of such a high degree of spirituality there is only charity for their fellow men.

18. What has the Spiritual World come to teach at this time? He has brought only the explanation and analysis of my revelations. He has not revealed to you or taught you anything that has not been said before by Me. He has not been ahead of my teachings, but he has been a prophet and a forerunner and an announcement when the time of my manifestations before men has approached.

Love one another!

19. When you have prepared to offer your understanding for the communication of these beings, you who possess this faculty have obtained from them manifestations of the purity and power with which they are clothed. How much humility in your words and how much obedience and love to my Work your spiritual brothers have shown and how they have illuminated your life with their teachings!

20. The days of my last manifestations are already approaching and if you do not prepare yourselves, spokesmen and faculties, you will not be able to receive my last revelations, my orders and directions that I have to leave you; but after this time, how much you will have to fight to obtain what my Arcanum has in store for you; you have to make merits to receive from Spirit to spirit what you should have received through your precious gift! My Spiritual World, as an obedient servant, will cease to communicate at the end of this stage and even if it is invoked in my name, it will not take over the human brain again and will only limit itself to enlightening and inspiring its healthy advice to those who call them, and it will pour out its charity on everyone. I have fixed for you that day, as I have limited each Era in each of the times or stages in which I have manifested my Spirit, and in this, in which I have come surrounded by my spiritual hosts, this is the end, the year 1950, as I have told you through my spokespersons.

21. Take advantage of this time! Be persevering, little children, be eager disciples; I still find in some of you lethargy, in others ignorance of the moments you are living and of the hour that is approaching for the people. I see in some the intention of continuing to invoke the Spiritual World and others, in the hope that my determination will be revoked, but I will not grant to some or to others what they ask of me.

22. Go back and let your spirit remember the obstacles that surrounded Moses at the end of his journey. The people saw in that man the representation of your Father. You knew that he was spiritually powerful, just and wise in the laws and orders he dictated; strong in the struggle and resigned in trials, full of faith, energy and life. While the people rested, through the heavy and long day, Moses kept watch, lifted his spirit to Me and strengthened in his prayer contemplated his people and wrapped them in his love. While the latter faltered in battles and distrust made him blaspheme, Moses raised his arms invoking Jehovah, imploring strength and courage for those who followed him and after his prayer he returned to his own to stimulate them in his strength and thus led them to victory.

23. After so many struggles, so many trials, the people began to trust their guide, they did not think that one day they would have to leave him, that like every human being he would have to abandon terrestrial life to soar up his flight. And that day, appointed by Me, finally arrived. Moses' days were numbered, and not one more of those allotted to him was to pass away. And he, sensing his end, climbed a mountain from which he could contemplate the lands of Canaan to which they had not yet reached, and from that mountain he looked with his gaze at the people and said, Keep walking until you have reached the Land of Promise.

24. When the people learned that their guide, their legislator and prophet had entered the hour of agony, they raised their prayer to tell me: Lord, leave him among us because we have not reached the gates of Canaan. Let him lead us there and then take him to your bosom. And the men and women were moved, the elderly and the children wept, but the hour had come and the life of the guide did not last an instant longer and it is not that I was not moved by the pain of the people, and by the love they professed to the one in whom they saw my representation, but that the hour was marked and my designs are wise and irrevocable.

25. Moses came, and the people continued to walk after the successor. It was then that Israel tested the strength that he had imparted to him; he already knew how to know the obstacles and defend himself from the unleashed elements and thus he fought and overcame his adversaries, endured the deprivations and did not deviate from the path that led him to the Promised Land, and verified that the Lord was right to call Mosiah, because he had fulfilled his mission and could already rest in the loving bosom of his Father. The people had learned to live and observe the Law that I had given them through my chosen one.

26. The same thing happened in the Second Time, in Jesus; for three years he lived with his disciples, he was followed by great crowds who loved him deeply. There was nothing for those disciples anymore, other than to hear their Teacher preaching his divine teaching; following in his footsteps they did not experience hunger or thirst, there was no stumbling block or any obstacle, everything was peace and bliss in the environment that surrounded that group and yet, when they were more absorbed in the contemplation of their beloved Jesus, He told them: "Times will change, I will leave you and you will remain like sheep among wolves". The hour is drawing near and I must return to the place from which I came, and you will be left alone for a while to bear witness to what you have seen and heard; those who are hungry and thirsty for love and justice, work in my name and then I will take you with me to the eternal abode."

27. Those words saddened the disciples and as the hour approached, Jesus repeated that announcement with greater insistence, he spoke of his departure, but at the same time he comforted the hearts of those who heard him telling them that his Spirit would not be absent and would continue to watch over the world and if they prepared to take his word as a message of comfort and hope to humanity, of that time, He would speak through His mouth and do wonders.

Love one another!

28. The Divine Spirit was announcing in those words at the end of that stage, and when Jesus was taken by the crowds to be judged as a disrupter of public order, the disciples were surprised and rose up against those who accused him, but the Master calmed their spirits and said to them: “Do not be afraid that the hour has not come.” Many tried to disperse the followers of Jesus and even to punish the Master, but He, knowing the moment when he had to surrender, continued in his mission of preparing that people so that they would know how to wait for the test with fortitude.

29. And when He meekly put Himself into the hands of his enemies, his disciples protested and indignantly said, “Why does he give himself up in this way and make no resistance? Why doesn't he run away from those who don't know who he is?” And one of those disciples drew his sword to wound one of those who had gone to apprehend him and the Master turned to him to say, “Sheathe your sword, do not defend me in this way! The appointed hour has come, and what is written must be fulfilled.”

30. When those men and women saw their Lord in the midst of the mob, they felt that they were going to lose him forever, that they would never hear his divine word again; that those days when the Master had made them dwell in spiritual regions, transporting them in their ecstasies to the plants of the Heavenly Father, would be left behind and only the memory of those happy days of communion and bliss would live in them.

31. Those disciples asked for mercy for their innocent Master, hoping to see him free again, preaching on the roads and villages as they had seen him in those brief years; but the tears and the requests of the crowds who loved him were not enough and the life of the Master did not extend beyond the hour that was marked, not for an instant more.

32. Until after the sacrifice was consummated and those disciples returned to daily life and their aching heart quieted down, they made a study, penetrated into deep reflections and understood that their Master had not left his Work begun, but was concluded with perfection. That he had come from an unknown Kingdom to which he was returning after having accomplished his Work. That his life as a man and as a divine envoy had been exemplary and that this constituted a stage, a precious time in which He had to leave in the hearts of His faithful, a wealth of wisdom and show them the way by which they could reach the promised Kingdom.

33. After a while, they began to have great proofs that the Master inspired them and granted wonders in the exercise of their mission as apostles and they verified that his Spirit spoke through his mouth, when they were preparing and preparing to carry his message of love to those who were waiting for him. These were the first disciples, his true representatives, and imitating the one who had taught them, they repeated his great works on sinners.

Love one another!

34. Through this fulfillment they understood their Master much more, they felt enlightened and filled with his Spirit to carry out the mission that had been entrusted to them.

35. The Divine Word who spoke through Jesus is the same one who now returns to you to continue his Work. I have come to communicate through the men and women chosen by Me. They are human beings, simple and humble, who knew how to prepare themselves to fulfill their delicate mission and that when they reach the end of this stage, they would continue to live among you, continue their work and penetrate into a greater struggle to reach spiritual communication with me.

36. Moses climbed the mountain, symbolically, and when he reached the end of his journey, he ascended to Me, Jesus was erected on a cross and from there, he rose to meet me. And today, in the Third Time, in which I have spoken through my spokespersons, I will only collect my Universal Ray, that powerful Ray that, descending on the instruments with whom I have served, has illuminated and moved this world from one pole to another. Every creature has received his light, which is wisdom and power from my Spirit. And these spokespersons who have served me at this stage, will stay in this world for a while longer, to bear witness to Me.

37. Spokespersons: Penetrate in prayer, in vigil, and carry my word always alive in your, spirit, and when the last day of my communication has arrived, unite with Moses and think that the hour is similar to that in which the Messenger, the Legislator saw the moment approaching to present his work before Me. Identify yourselves with the Master and live his agony on the cross, so that you may pray and imitate him in that supreme hour, say: "Everything has been consummated".

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. I bless you, people of Israel, gathered at this time in the earthly valley, and I also bless the beings who belong to this people and inhabit the spiritual valley; because both of them, in the eagerness to fulfill their mission, have formed a single purpose of loving and serving their brothers. You are united by that ideal and you begin to exist in perfect harmony with each other.
2. I have sent you to inhabit different dwellings so that from them you may watch over peace and bring to the spirit of your brothers, a ray of light and justice. You have come to Earth a part of that great people who follow me, in the hour of greatest trials, as fighting soldiers in this battle of good against evil, and when facing that struggle, you have felt strong, secure and certain of your destiny.
3. Listen to me with the spirit prepared so that you may be able to understand my word! Do not even let your mind intervene, and be in this hour of communication, all sensitivity, attention and fervor, so that you take my words as a commandment and be jealous of your work.
4. You are already convinced and you are on the way to your fulfillment. You have received each of my lessons that satisfy your need to know and to penetrate into knowledge of the spiritual life.
5. Learn from Me, take the virtue you need. I am the inexhaustible source; but do not think that I tell you this with pride, because being the Creator of everything, I come to teach you humility. Ask me, therefore, whatever you need for your salvation. If you need light for your understanding, take it, if you are weak in your purposes I make you strong and I give you the will; if you do not feel love for your fellow man and you ask me for this virtue, I give it to you, but know that all these powers and attributes have been possessed by you since your beginning and are only dormant in your spirit waiting for a voice that awakens them and makes them vibrate and manifest in fullness.
6. I am preparing you so that you can teach humanity and transform the materialists into my disciples. This word given through man has only been heard by a small part of humanity, but everyone will receive your testimony and the Book written by Me as an inheritance for this and future generations.
7. I do not want to see any more ignorance or oppression in your spirit; I give you the power so that you overcome every yoke and govern your body correctly and keep spirit and matter within my laws so that the last hour of life that I grant you on Earth, you will see your work completed and the path that will lead you to the Hereafter prepared.

Love one another!

8. This stage that you live is temporary, it is an instant in the middle of eternity, so I advise you to take it as a profound lesson, because it is one of many teachings that form the book of spiritual wisdom that each of you will possess. Gather in this life all the experience and merits that is possible for you so that you shorten the path. The path that you have to travel is long and it is necessary to hasten the step.

9. Do not take root in the Earth more than your conscience dictates; take with measure the fruits that it offers you so that you can also live for spiritual advancement. This life with all its beauty, with all the richness that it presents to you, is only a weak reflection of the one that you will live in other valleys of greater perfection.

10. I have given you the Earth for a temporary habitation and when you incarnated you were part of this humanity; but so that you may be the helm of the flesh, that it directs its steps and it, like a docile boat, lets itself be guided in this great ocean, I have given you the light in your spirit, so that you may continue crossing the route that I have traced to you, always obedient to the signs that mark your destinies, until you reach the port that awaits you.

11. I have sent you as a ray of light to the bosom of congregations, of societies and I want that in that small world in which you live, you reveal your gifts, serve your fellow men, help them solve the problems of their life and guide them on their way. I have wisely placed you in the place where you can work for the good of your brothers.

12. How delicate is your mission, and how can you, in an instant of perturbation, turn your steps aside! That is why I have always advised you to pray. Watch and pray, I have told you, so that you do not fall into temptation; live attentive to the dictation of your conscience, which will always advise you righteousness and love in your actions.

13. You have come to Earth to be my collaborators in my work, because it was written that I was to be surrounded by armies that would fight with me at this time against evil, and I am confirming with deeds my word, great armies of spiritual beings some and incarnated others, have come in my company to carry out this work of purification and restitution, to return all spirits to their proper place.

14. I invite you to meditate and to enter into repentance because the grave hour has arrived, the solemn day when you will hear my word for the last time and it is necessary that you cast away all impurity from yourselves, because I want you clean and free from sin. gather your good works and present them to me, because I have offered you to multiply their fruits and send them to humanity as a message of consolation, hope and peace.

Love one another!

15. And in judging this people who are my disciple, I will also judge the nations, and I will leave in everyone my inheritance of love, the Third Testament, so that you may enjoy the gifts and graces of which I make all my children partakers.

16. Those nations, whose rulers have been severe and inflexible and have mercilessly led them into a painful abyss, have endured the yoke and despite their sufferings, their spirit has not bowed, they have not raised their eyes to Me, nor have they asked Me for liberation. They still persecute in their arrogance and their proud head has not been able to bend down to ask for mercy. He has preferred to suffer the pain of the ungodly war without feeling that I am manifesting Myself in the path of each creature to help it endure its trial.

17. That humanity hardened in hatred has not wanted to feel my presence, and it does not know that I know and feel all its pains and that I am ready to grant it the freedom and the triumph it longs for. But I will give those goods that she expects to her spirit and not to her flesh. I will give him emancipation over his body, over this world that has bound him so much. I will make him triumph over materialism to make him possessor of spiritual goods, I will make him penetrate that arcanum of wisdom that is my Spirit, so that in it, I calm his thirst for knowledge and he can possess the science of true life.

18. Exchange your ambitions of power and superiority for wholesome desires of the spirit and you will find that your work provides you with legitimate satisfactions and joys.

19. When will you recognize me and form the harmonious and obedient family that knows how to comply with my laws? The time is coming. After the trials that are to come upon you, you will return to peace and make love and respect for one another a true cult.

20. I am judging you and just as my judgment is inexorable, my love and my forgiveness are manifested in each of you. What would you do if, in spite of your deeds, I condemned you and asked you irremissibly, as the judges of this world do? See that I am your judge and your lawyer also; understand me and recognize that I am your Father and that for the same reason I want you to be saved, because I love you infinitely despite your weakness.

21. The trials that afflict humanity today and those that are to come later, will temper his spirit, and place him in his rightful place. Each creature will atone for its faults until it finds itself clean and ready to enter the era of spirituality that has already begun. And at the end of this time of purification, you will turn to Me, to thank Me, you will not regret the pain that you have rushed and you will only feel strong to fight for your elevation.

Love one another!

22. And while you are pouring out your bitter cup, do not feel humiliated or belittled by my charity, think that you have been created by my love, pure, healthy and strong, and thus you have to return to Me.

23. How prodigal and long is the life that I grant you to cultivate in it the merits necessary to the spirit! On this path that you are traveling, you have to demonstrate the virtue that is innate to the spirit, but not to Me who know you and I know what you are capable of, but to yourselves who do not yet recognize yourselves.

24. Today you are ready to understand my present manifestation, because you have lived and evolved a lot. For your study and penetration I leave you teachings that form a precious legacy of love: the Book of Life. Each of its pages reveals to you the wisdom that I have put in them, taking your reduced language and using your understanding. This knowledge will lead you to communicate perfectly with me, when your prayer no longer uses words, but takes the spiritual language, the sincere expression, the demonstration of love that the high spirit has for his God and that I know and receive with pleasure. So I want you to converse with me to reveal the future and give you commands and these prophecies and those orders that you will receive, you will make them known to your brothers. When you are thus prepared, your lips that have remained tied will open, a great gift of speech will appear and what you have kept silent today will be fully manifested.

25. Those of you who have asked for the gift of healing because you know how to feel the pain of others, will contemplate the development of this faculty and your prayer, your word or look, will bring the balm to the sick. Those who ask for concord and fraternity among men for this world, take this power and sow peace in your path and even more, send your spirit wherever peace is needed. The hour is approaching when you will all be enlightened and you will feel your gifts beating and manifesting with all clarity.

26. At this time, some of you have heard my call like the sound of a sonorous bell that has reached your spirit, but others are still sought by Elijah everywhere on the roads.

27. You have searched for Me in different creeds and in different ideas, without finding the saving boat and I say to you: I come to teach you the way again, to give you the teaching so that you may understand me.

28. Of the great multitudes that Elijah has gathered in this Third Time, some have continued to walk in their free will, but the others have made their faith and their purpose present to me to follow me and to work in my countryside.

Love one another!

29. You came needy, thirsty and hungry, but I have made you rest under the foliage of the stout tree, I have healed you, I have given you crystal clear water and the bread of eternal life.

30. Blessed are those who have risen up carrying the truth in their hearts, to rescue the shipwrecked from the raging waves of the sea.

31. People: I have manifested myself greatly through you, I have fed you with the best delicacies, I have entrusted to you a jewel of incalculable value, I have given you a garment of grace and I have put shoes on your plant so that you do not feel the thorns. You are the little child who tell me: Divine Teacher, I will carry your teaching engraved in my heart and I will give humanity from it, I will be your emissary who will bring this light to the world.

32. The Master says to you: I have prepared you and I have entrusted my Law to you so that you may imitate the disciples of the Second Time.

33. I have given you peace, the light of the Holy Spirit, so that your spirit will not remain in darkness.

34. How pleasing are the manifestations that I have granted you through the human understanding. Inspiration springs like a luminous torch from the bottom of these hearts. It is the rocks that I have been polishing to give them shape and make the purest and most crystalline waters spring from them. They are the channel through which I come to deliver my word to you.

35. Here is the fountain, the stout tree with its branches full of good fruit, offering its shadow to the wayfarer, to make you rest from passions, ambitions, vain temptations. Do not be deaf or blind who, listening to my words, do not recognize me. If you listen to me and let this light be in your spirit, you will quickly understand me and you will know how to ask me for those who have not recognized me.

36. Return to spirituality and you will see that the darkness of your thoughts will be removed and they will be illuminated with a beautiful light, you will receive the inspiration of the Father and you will feel his vibrations so that you will be like a clean mirror before humanity. Then joy and kindness for others will be drawn on your faces.

37. Blessed is he who, when doing charity, does not boast because he will be forming a treasure in the Hereafter. Do not expect any payment for what you give in my Work; let it be me who rewards you for your deeds.

Love one another!

38. Again I tell you to love one another because even though you are of different races and colors, before the Father you are one son.

39. You are the spirits that sprang from the Father to whom I come to give you my caress and as a Teacher I entrust you with the teaching to correct your mistakes and become my disciples.

40. If I made a promise to you in the past, today I come to fulfill it; I come again to free you from the pain to which you have become creditors and to remind you that you must love one another, from nation to nation, from one world to another.

41. That is why I have called you, people, to be the messenger of my peace, of my light and of my love in all nations. You are my messengers who will sound the trumpet to whose voice humanity will awaken; you will be like a spiritual bell whose call will reverberate in every spirit and in every heart. This is how I have been preparing you so that you may be the people who bring goodness to all the places of the earth.

42. Blessed is the one who loses his human life in the fulfillment of his mission, for his spirit will come to Me full of joy and triumph.

43. After 1950 I will continue to communicate with you Spirit to spirit; your mission will not end then. You will practice my teachings and you will be in imitation of your Teacher spreading my Doctrine; you will be the good disciples who teach by example and you will give the good news to humanity.

44. You will make known my teachings that have been written with golden pens, with all clarity and clarity and with all these pages you will form a book to make it known to men. It is the Third Testament dictated by the Father at this time as the Holy Spirit through the understanding of man in him I come to give you my teachings syllable after syllable, so that you analyze them and put them into practice. The time is short when I will speak in this way, but if you are prepared and your heart is a sanctuary for my divinity, I will dwell in you.

45. I come to give you my teaching so that you may be the children of light; I come to give you my wisdom so that tomorrow you may become the teachers; because you will receive those multitudes who are tired, hungry and thirsty, who have only drained the cup of bitterness. It is up to you, my disciples, to take that bitter cup from their lips, to give them sweetness and peace and guide them to the port of salvation. Rise up forming a single body and carrying the same will to love me and serve humanity.

46. Do not contemplate his stain and his sin because from the Second Time I have taught you to forgive. Remember that when the sinner prostrated herself before my feet, I said to those who judged her, “He of you who is cleansed from sin, let him cast the first stone.” Then they were confused, because they heard the voice of conscience; and when that woman looked up, I said to her, Where are those who accuse you? Return to your home and sin no more. So, beloved disciples, do not judge your brothers because only I can judge your actions.

Love one another!

47. The spirit has to come to Me, white as a snowflake. Prepare yourselves, blessed people, so that after you no longer receive this word, you will not feel like orphans, but you will carry me in your heart and you will be able to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit.

48. Through the ages I have pointed out the way for you, I have enlightened your spirit, so that you may find yourselves united in my Divine Work.

49. Some of you have fulfilled the Law that I have come to ratify in this Third Time through human understanding. You have been the example that I have shown to the world, but the others have stood in the way.

50. You ask me: Master, what is the path that I must follow to make merits in my life? And the Master who is tireless lecturing you so that you do not carry ignorance, I have given you light, I have inspired you and I have spoken to you through your consciousness, so that you may work in my countryside.

51. I give you in abundance the fruits of the stout tree so that you may feel strengthened, so that you may continue to fight and work tirelessly.

52. I have poured out in charity on your spirit so that you need nothing, I have quenched your thirst and hunger with the essence of my word and I have entrusted my Work into your hands like a jewel of incalculable value.

53. Some of you have walked the path of light and recreated yourselves in it, the others have walked the paths of pain and fatigue has surprised you in your life.

54. I have called my chosen ones without contemplating races, colors, classes or positions in them; without seeing if they have cultivated their intelligence or are the rough and clumsy understandings; I have pulled them out of the world and I have prepared them with my light and my grace to manifest myself through them; I have called the man, the woman, the children and the elderly who are tired and disillusioned with the world. To the women who have poured out a cup of bitterness, I have cleansed them, I have comforted them and I have made them my servants; to the youth who in this Third Time is lost to the perversity of the world, I have marked a limit, I have offered him the delicacies of my table and I have invited him to increase the number of my workers, of my disciples in this time.

Love one another!

55. You have consecrated yourselves to my service and you ask me to help you to reach the end of the day. I encourage you, I help you and I strengthen your spirit and matter so that you may come to Me.

56. I have rescued you when you were ready to fall into the abyss and fall prey to the hungry wolf. Some of you recognize my great love for you and glorify my name, but the others only make me aware of the pain that you have carved out for yourselves.

57. Some of you ask me to extend the days of your existence on Earth to be at my service, but the others present to me your tired plant and your heart lacerated by the vicissitudes of this life, and I tell you: I have sent you all to dwell on this planet so that you may do meritorious works for the quality of your spirit.

58. Verily and truly I say to you, I have come to save sinners. Some of you have the intention of practicing my teachings, but the others walk at your own free will and make your pain present to me and the father says to you: Recognize, my children, that you do not practice my teachings and therefore you are surprised by the pain, when this is not my will. See Elijah, like a tireless shepherd, who seeks you by the paths, by the heathlands, to attract you again to the fold.

59. He makes you rest in his shepherd's arms and brings you closer to my presence. Then intercede for his flock so that you may receive again my charity, my forgiveness and my blessing.

60. What do you ask of me this day, what do you need that I will not grant you? You tell me to forgive you and to encourage you in the struggle, also that you have suffered and that you need comfort. Nothing goes unnoticed for Me, I have followed your steps and penetrate like a thief in your heart to know everything that is inside. Whatever you ask of me, be with you.

61. Those of you who seek my presence in spirit do not need to worship outside, nor to witness rites and ceremonies. You come to these humble enclosures, where it has been my will to gather you to make you hear my word and there you rise to meet me.

62. I come looking for spirits of good will who imitate my apostles of the Second Time. Today I have not come to incarnate and my manifestation is subtle, therefore you must prepare and purify yourselves so that you can perceive any sign or indication from me.

Love one another!

63. Imitate Elijah, the tireless shepherd who fights and prepares the spirit of humanity. Help him in his difficult task and enjoy discovering your gifts. Open the pupils of the spirit and look from this world at the perfection of other spiritual valleys.

64. Give me the tribute of your fulfillment as do the high beings, the righteous. do not search my Work superficially, because you will not understand it, nor will you discover its perfection. Take it as the third Testament that I will leave to humanity and remember that in times past I spoke to you with the same love. Jehovah, with his voice of justice speaking to the people in the First Time, Jesus later with his redemptive word, and today the Consoling Spirit, have led the human spirit along a single path. It is the same Divine Spirit that has vibrated over you in all times.

65. Do not say that you love me only when you have received relief from your sorrows and then turn away. Look how the flowers retain their beauty and their perfume, even if the weather is inclement. So you, love me, both in the days of peace, and in the days of trial.

PARABLE

66. "There was a young man in a boat in a rough sea, but despite the strength of the waves, the boat remained calm. That young man found in the middle of that sea twelve humble men who looked like castaways; he took them to his boat and said to them: I will lead you to the port and I will give you what is needed. Those men stood before their savior and thanked Him, but in their spirit they felt unworthy to be with Him. When the young man looked at them like this, he said to them: I have come to save sinners, I have come to seek the poor to enrich them with my grace, I am looking for the sick to give them health. When those shipwrecked people heard these words, they recognized who was that boy who had saved them from perishing in the raging waves of the sea. Then they said to him, "Lord, the light of a new day is with us and with all those in need." The young man said to them, "I am going to teach you how to cross this raging sea." Then those twelve who had been saved were amazed, when they contemplated that at the passage of that boat the raging waves, they became meek and obedient to the voice of their savior. Those castaways, who had unknown a command, a Law and who had become sinners and needy, penetrated into repentance and said to him: Lord, give us your teaching again. Then the Lord showed them an open book in which a perfect teaching was written and said to them, I am going to entrust this boat to you so that you can save the shipwrecked. They received that command with joy and promised to be obedient to fulfill that mission. At the passage of that boat those who perished in that sea were saved and those men marveled, convinced of the power that the Lord had entrusted to him""

Love one another!

67. Verily the Master says to you: I have called you in this Third Time, when the world feeds its third height of perversity, to save you in this boat, with this Doctrine that I have entrusted to you so that you may show it to humanity.

68. After this time of teaching you will be empowered to carry out your mission in the world. You will be accompanied by your guardian angels and you will carry faith and righteousness as standards. You will be inflexible in fighting ignorance, but you will also use charity and patience in your delicate task of teaching and correcting.

69. I understand your prayer, I listen to your requests and I know your desires and hopes and I tell you: Do not be afraid, you will lack nothing, you will have all the necessary elements for your spiritual fulfillment and for the conservation of your body I will give you what you need.

70. I bless you in this dawn of grace. May your sincere prayer be like a mantle that envelops the nations, as I bless them now and forever.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 356

1. You are the ones who have believed in my coming, it is already the last days of my communication and you are still in a hurry to listen to me, as if they were those days when you were beginning to be my babies.
2. Many were called at this time and few have followed me, but in all the light of my Spirit descended. If at that Second Time I said, "Blessed are those who have believed without seeing"" now I repeat to you, Blessed are those who have believed without seeing" "You have followed me and persevered!
3. Although I must tell you, no one should be surprised at my communication and my presence in this form, since it was prophesied and promised by Me from the Second Time. I did not come to surprise you, there was no such intention in Me, but if you were surprised at my arrival and if many have been surprised to learn of my manifestation, it was because you slept spiritually in a deep lethargy. It was because you weren't watching.
4. After my departure in the Second Half, my arrival was expected from generation to generation among those who kept faith in Me. The divine promise was transmitted from father to son, and my word kept alive the desire to contemplate my return. Each generation believed that it was the blessed one, hoping that the word of its Lord would be fulfilled in it.
5. Thus the times passed and the generations too, and my promise was erased from the hearts, forgetting prayer and vigil.
6. The centuries passed and when humanity did not even take into account that one day, at the least foreboding moment, I might arrive, when men were furthest from the truth, I made my spiritual presence felt in fulfillment of my word.
7. The way I chose to communicate with the men of this time has surprised many, daring even to judge it without first having meditated on my past revelations.
8. I tell you that whatever way I had chosen to communicate, I would have confused everyone who had not been prepared to receive me. On the other hand, for the one who has known how to keep himself awake and prepared, no form that I would have used for my manifestation would have surprised him, because through any form I would have felt myself.
9. All those who have believed me at this time, all those who have felt me and all those who have followed me, truly I tell you that spiritually they were waiting for me; spiritually, without realizing it, they were looking for my return and waiting for my word.

Love one another!

10. My promise at that time was not for a single people, but for all humanity, so I tell you now that my light has not only descended among these multitudes who listen to me through the understanding of the spokespersons, but in a thousand ways I present myself on the path of all men, to make them feel the arrival of a new time. I must also tell you that there have been those who, having waited for me one day after another and one life after another, seeing me arrive in the way you have me, could not believe, denied my presence and walked away, why? Because they forged in their imagination for a long time, a form that was not exactly the one I chose.

11. Understand that my determinations and my inspirations are beyond all human assumption or conception.

12. I have given you many proofs that above what man can conceive as truth and as perfection, are my works.

13. Something that has confused some men the most is my Doctrine expressed through humble human understandings. But if those who feel confused for that reason, tried to penetrate my word, I tell you the truth, they would soon find the reasons I had for choosing precisely the rude and even impure man to make my teaching heard. Then you will discover that the reasons I had for choosing this medium were my love, my justice and the eternal Law that the human spirit would come to communicate directly with his Father, a way in which the attributes of the spirit and the gifts of the body would participate at the same time.

14. It is natural that one who knows himself to be a sinner should judge himself unworthy of possessing such a grace as this; but it is only right that you also know that I see beyond your present and that I am above your imperfections.

15. If you are part of me, understand that the only thing I come to do is to help you purify and perfect yourselves so that you may live in Me.

16. It is no longer the time for others to make merits for sinners. Those times have passed and those merits are present as examples.

17. Now it will be the sinner himself who will make merits for his salvation, for this I want to be his guide, his Teacher, his savior.

18. When did the fathers on earth have loved only the good children and hated the bad ones? How many times have I seen them be more loving and caring precisely with those who offend them the most and make them suffer! How is it possible that you could do works of love and forgiveness greater than mine? Since when has it been seen that the Teacher has to learn from the disciples?

Love one another!

19. Know, therefore, that I judge no one unworthy of Me and that for this reason the Way of salvation is eternally inviting you to travel it, just as the doors of my Kingdom, which are light, peace and goodness, are perennially open in anticipation of the arrival of those who were far from the Law and the truth.

20. For all this I wanted to choose among the multitudes of sinful creatures, those of whom I would serve as instruments to make my word heard.

21. How many cases of true regeneration have there been among those I have chosen for this service! How many trials of conversion and repentance!

22. I announced that my new coming would be in Spirit and so I fulfilled it at this time, why should I choose another means other than the human one to communicate, if it is to the men whom I have come to seek? It was enough for these multitudes to become a little spiritualized, so that their sensitivity would allow them to perceive my presence and my essence, finding this form of communication just and natural.

23. I must tell you that not all of them have arrived with sufficient sensitivity that would allow them from the first moment to experience the sensation of my presence, because while some have arrived with an awakened spiritual gaze to contemplate this light and to perceive the essence of my word, others have arrived searching with their material eyes, so their judgments, their analyzes and observations have been superficial, they have always been the external phase, because instead of looking for the meaning or essence of the word, they have judged the greater or lesser correctness of the language and then scrutinized the life of the spokespersons, their behavior, their way of speaking and even their clothing.

24. And the latter have had to find imperfections in those who are only infants before this Work, and then they have denied all truth to my Doctrine; while the former, ignoring the errors, the little things and miseries of my servants, considering them human and exposed to commit errors, have gone only in search of the meaning, the essence of this word, so they have found, in that search, the presence of my Spirit.

25. Whoever does not pay due attention to my word, nor does he understand its content, will never be able to find its truth, nor will he be able to find the explanation or clarification to all his doubts.

26. I am the one who, in my own word, have been explaining everything so that there is not the slightest confusion or doubt among the disciples.

27. Remember how many times I have told you to learn to look for the essence of this word, an essence that lies beyond the human form of your language. Remember that I have told you not to stop at the material form of the word, because you will not find its meaning and always keep in mind that I came to communicate through sinners, rough men, understanding without cultivation or study; so that you may not attach so much importance to the external form of the word and learn to grant to my manifestation the truth that it has, as well as to attribute to these matters what corresponds to them.

Love one another!

28. See how not everyone has known how to seek my light, nor have they known how to be children eager to become disciples. Now know because many have turned their backs on me and are saying that they suffered disappointments through my labors.

29. They are thirsty hearts that were by the inexhaustible fountain of truth and did not know how to incline to drink until they were full. They carry a very great emptiness and they keep looking and calling without finding what their spirit needs. But one day you will approach this path again and then your painful experience will tell you to no longer look for me in the superficial but in the deep. They, when they return, will contemplate how wisdom shines in those who fervently listened to me, in whom they knew how to stay with the Master, and for whose faith and spirituality they were rewarded, overflowing on them the light that revealed great mysteries and teachings.

30. I tested you all before you came to witness my manifestation, I sent wise tests to each of my disciples so that they would give you the opportunity to testify to my presence, but truly I tell you that while some showed themselves submissive, humble and docile to my call, others, although they have also listened to me, it has been without faith, without will and many times with pride, with disgust and even with disgust. What can the spirit receive when the mind is clouded and the heart poisoned? A man, thus predisposed, will only have to contemplate imperfections.

31. I'm testing everyone. I also test those who follow me without ceasing, in order that their whole being may be strengthened and when my word is no longer heard by this means, they may have the wisdom that is enclosed in my word and at the same time have all the strength that is needed to spread this Doctrine with true purity.

32. My disciples must be persuaded that when they no longer listen to me as they do now, then their example will be very important, because then they will be the advantaged disciples who teach others through their works. They should know that the testimony they give of my word will always be accompanied by deeds.

33. Tomorrow, when the time of testimony comes for this people, if they do not live my word, if they do not stick their works to my truth, it will be of no use to repeat my words, no matter how perfect they may be.

Love one another!

34. He who longs to make my words felt in the hearts, let him be filled with love, let him be saturated with charity, let him stock up on humility and patience, let him be quick to forgive and timely to alleviate the sorrows of his brothers, and then he will see how the hardest and most reluctant heart trembles and is moved by word made works in the hearts of my disciples.

35. If you know that the reason why many of your brothers do not persevere in listening to this word is because they have discovered your imperfections, try to exempt yourselves from violating my Law as far as possible, knowing that your example greatly influences them.

36. I want you to come to feel satisfied with yourselves, that your conscience never claims to you that some of your brothers strayed from the path because you did not know how to show him the purity and truth of my Work.

37. In the Second Half I was speaking to the crowds. My word, perfect in its essence and in its form, was heard by all. My gaze, penetrating into the hearts, discovered everything that each one kept. In some there was doubt, in others faith, in others a distressing voice spoke to me: they were the sick, to whom pain made them expect a miracle from Me. There were those who tried to hide their mockery, when they heard me say that I came from the Father to bring men the Kingdom of Heaven, and there were hearts in which I found hatred for Me and intentions to make me shut up or disappear.

38. It was the proud, the Pharisees who felt affected by my truth. Because despite the fact that my word was so clear, so full of love and so comforting, despite always being confirmed with powerful works, many men persisted in finding the truth of my presence, judging me through Jesus, searching my life. looking at the humility of my garments and my absolute poverty of material goods; and not content with judging Me, they judged my disciples, observing them carefully, already when they spoke, already when they followed me along the roads, already when they sat down at table. How the Pharisees were scandalized when they saw one day that my disciples had not washed their hands to sit at the table! Poor minds who mistook the cleanliness of the body for the purity of the spirit! They did not realize that when they took the sacred loaves in the temple, their hands were clean, but their hearts were full of rot.

39. I never said, while I was preaching in the world, that my disciples were already teachers or that they listened to them. They were the little ones who, captive of the light of my word, meekly followed me, but who still came to commit faults, because there was not enough time for them to transform themselves and then emerge as an example for humanity. They were rocks that were being polished with the chisel of divine love, so that later they too would turn the stones into diamonds.

40. When I tell you that my disciples came to commit faults, remember that time when, while I was speaking to the crowd, and there were some women among them who held their little ones by the hand or in their arms, my disciples, believing that the children could bother me, made the mistake of telling the mothers to be absent with their children, believing that my word was only for the; because they did not know that my word is for the spirit, whether it is in an old man, in a mature man, in a young man or in a child, and that it is the same whether it is in a man or in a woman, since sex has nothing to do with the spirit.

41. How much pain those mothers experienced, who had approached Jesus to bless their little ones; and how they doubted, before that act of my disciples, the charity and love that I poured out in my word! That's why I had to raise my voice to tell them, "Let the children come to Me."

42. I used those mistakes to give lessons to my disciples. When I was arrested in the Garden of Olives, one of my disciples, Peter, trying to defend me, delivered a blow on the servant of the high priest, and I said to him then, "Return your sword to its place, for all who take sword to sword will die."

43. I departed from among my disciples and then they remained in my place to bear witness with their deeds and their words. My Spirit bathes you with light inspiring you all those works that served to spread my seed throughout the world and remain as an example of love, humility and elevation. They had ceased to be the fragile infants to become the fervent disciples, worthy representatives of their Master on Earth. The weaknesses, doubts and errors, had given way to the truth that they manifested in each of their works.

44. Beloved people: You too, during the time of my communication at this time, have made mistakes, have had weaknesses, have fallen into temptations and have doubted for a moment; but I will suspend my communication and give you a time to meditate, prepare yourselves and strengthen yourselves, because you will also remain on earth to bear witness to my word, a witness that will be through your works.

45. Do not think now if your mission is going to be arduous and painful; truly I tell you, when you reach spiritual preparation, nothing will seem difficult or burdensome to you.

46. Insensibly you will penetrate into a virtuous life, and it will be the most evident of the testimonies that you give of my truth to your brothers.

Love one another!

47. Look at how despite your imperfections you have already done wonders many times, because then, think that when your spirituality reaches fullness in you, your works will have to be greater.

48. I see that you still do not give the importance that your example has in others. You have not wanted to realize the strength that is in your word, as well as in your prayer and in your works.

49. I am the only one who realizes the seed that your actions are sowing in the hearts and I am the one who pour on your crops my dew of life and love, so that they do not spoil. But you must believe in the truth of your works, so that you do not abandon them because you have just begun them. Keep in mind that there will always be eyes that are aware of what you do and it will be good if those looks always discover an example of obedience to my teachings.

50. Many bands of ignorance have fallen in your path; with your word some of your brothers have turned away from the path of vice. Your example of peace has helped some households, struck by the whirlwind of discord, to regain harmony. Many sick people have felt the balm that you have poured out on them over their ailments, freeing them from suffering and also strengthening many hearts against the lurks and dangers of the world.

51. So why don't you give your works the value they have? I am not telling you to flaunt or publish them, no, I simply want to tell you to know, in each of the cases in which I pour out my charity, the transcendence that that light that passed through you may have in the lives of your brothers, because then you will no longer be able to abandon your sowings.

52. Beloved sowers! Take my peace to the world, in it there is my love, my charity, my truth and my balm! Take that balm in prayer, in thought, in the word, in the look, in a caress: in every other being and in truth I tell you that your spiritual journey on Earth will be lavish in satisfactions, but never bitter.

53. Soon I will stop communicating in this way, but I will leave you full of my strength and my light, and so you will not be afraid to stay like sheep among wolves.

54. May the absence of my word not be a cause for you to grow cold, that the disappearance of these manifestations will not cause you to distance yourselves from each other, on the contrary, that it is then that you unite the most, so that you can face the struggle and the trials.

Love one another!

55. The time is still distant when you will know how to approach each other spiritually, when materially you will find yourselves far away.

56. For now you still need to look at and hear each other; for now you need to give warmth, strength, faith and courage to each other.

57. I have expressed my will to you that for a while, after my departure, you will continue to meet, so that your preparation will make you worthy of testifying to my spiritual presence in the bosom of your meetings and once your faith is strengthened, your purposes matured and accustomed to seek me and to receive me from spirit to Spirit, then you will be in a position to spread yourselves along the different paths, as sowers of this Doctrine that comes to liberate and elevate the spirit.

58. I will always come to your meetings and in them I will pour out my inspiration on every understanding and from now on I tell you: Blessed are the hearts that in those days, when my word is no longer heard, at least continue to feel this same emotion that now overwhelms them when waiting for my Ray to descend.

59. I want peace to preside over your meetings, so that your meditation may be profound and may make you discover the depths of my word; but may discussion and violence never arise on those occasions, because then only darkness will gather.

60. I give you an invisible key that will close the door of all temptation; but at the same time it will open the doors to inspiration, for always keep in mind that it will be then that the revelation of the Third Time will be poured out in fullness on you, because this communication through my spokespersons has been only to prepare you.

61. Spirituality, recollection and the elevation of your thought will be the key that opens the door to the new revelations in whose light you will find the clarification of all the mysteries and everything that was not defined.

62. You will continue to work to attract new congregants, who will then be the new disciples, the last ones, in whom I will also pour out my Spirit. Your heart will not be closed to the pain of others, on the contrary, your charity will be greater towards the weak and those who suffer, towards those who are tired, hungry for the spirit and thirsty for love.

63. You will make your meetings have the spiritual force that attracts your brothers as in this time my word has attracted and gathered the great multitudes.

64. Your prayer will do wonders in those meetings, provided that you know how to unite your thoughts and take as if the cases of your brothers were your own. Then you will feel

Love one another!

how consolation is poured out on them, health for their body or spirit, peace for their heart, the light that lifts them to true life.

65. In the face of all those trials of my presence, your heart will not miss the departure of this time because you will have my written word to interpret it with the greatest preparation and you will feel it deeply.

66. The analyzers of my teachings will arise, the seers with a clean look and a true word: you will practice a more spiritual way to heal the sick. The balm that I have placed in you will first reach the spirit of the sick person, stimulating him to lift up his decayed body and teaching him how to overcome sufferings and passions, in order to regain the true freedom of the spirit.

67. All your work will be humble and quiet, no one will let envy or vanity germinate in their heart, because if that were the case, you will not see the miracle of spirit-to-Spirit communication take place, which is what you should begin to practice once the present stage is over.

68. Just as in these last days of my communication I have rewarded with my word full of revelations, essence and teachings, the preparation that you had to hear it, so, in the days of your communication from spirit to Spirit, I will know how to reward your elevation with inspirations and prophecies that will move the world.

69. The zeal, respect, obedience and humility of my disciples will be rewarded with spiritual benefits.

70. They will have to come from other Lands to ask you what I taught and what I announced, and then you will repeat my words, but if some or many of my teachings have been erased from your memory, you will resort to the book that my inspiration is dictating to those disciples named “Golden Feathers”.

71. That book will belong to everyone, without distinction or privileges, just as my word has belonged to everyone. So my Doctrine will not be buried in the hearts of a few and will always be giving light.

72. From now on I urge this people to be jealous of this book that they will soon come to possess, not to relegate its lessons to oblivion, that its pages do not remain closed. Think that in the days of struggle that will come, you will find in these lessons the necessary weapons for the battle, the adequate answer to the questions that humanity asks you and the solution for your trials.

Love one another!

73. This book will help the disciple with a fragile memory, it will also help the one who is clumsy in speech, and it will only be necessary that his intention be inspired by charity and love for his brothers, so that in the midst of reading, in the moments of reviewing my words, he will make those who have never listened to me through the speaker feel and savor my presence. Truly I tell you, if you prepare to receive me in that way, even the skeptical and the hard-hearted will shudder, because your testimony will have been clean.

74. From now on I leave you these recommendations that will serve you for your preparation.

75. Remain united after my departure, analyzing and meditating on my teaching and you will see the moment come when your people will be strong to face the struggle.

76. You will not have to ask anyone the time or day to get up to carry out the mission that I am entrusting to you. You will feel in your heart the moment marked by Me, like the prophets of past times, who inwardly listened to the divine call, and they, full of faith, obedient to that impulse, rose up to fulfill my will.

77. The vision of the seers will be very delicate in those days and their responsibility to guide, alert and stimulate the people will be very great. In order for the clarity of my light to always reach them, they will have to persevere in good preparation, never letting vanity imprison them, or falsehood cause them to fall into temptation.

78. There will also be events in the world that will be like signs or warnings for you to recognize the hour of your emergence.

79. What will you be able to ignore by then? What doubts will there be in your heart? What questions can they ask you that you don't know how to answer?

80. If I have explained my word and all my Work to you with simplicity, dealing with the deepest that exists in your life, then with the same simplicity you will explain my Doctrine to your brothers.

81. You will then be a bulwark for the weak and for those in need of light, who will seek your advice and ask for your prayers in times of trial.

82. Beautiful times of struggle for this people, if they know how to appreciate and take advantage of them, and a bright opportunity for your spirit, which will fully enjoy all its gifts.

83. How many cases of conversion will you witness! How many miraculous healings in the sick of the body or of the spirit! How will you enjoy watching your brothers and sisters, who until then would have walked like outcasts, also manifest the gifts that you taught them to discover in their being! They who had thought themselves disinherited when contemplating your gifts, will confirm that you are all my heirs and that what I give you I never take away from you, although sometimes I manage to retain it, through my perfect laws of love.

Love one another!

84. Look at how my word prepares you so that you can penetrate firmly into the time of events, giving an example of spirituality and humility.

85. This is the time of your preparation, because humanity is already about to awaken.

86. I leave you watching and praying, because you will be witnesses of great events that will move all the peoples of the earth. You will see the most terrible wars that have ever taken place in your world; you will see the struggle between different religions and doctrines; you will see hunger, plague and death ravage nations and cities, all marking the end of a stage, of an Era; but then you will see the resurgence of life. You will see how those peoples who for centuries lived as enemies unite; you will witness the reconciliation of peoples and races, you will see it sealed with the love of one another. You will see the material power of the great religions disappear and you will see the fruits of spirituality emerge everywhere. Many men, recognized as wise, you will see them confused and the princes of the word you will see them confused without knowing what to say, because the light of truth will surprise them. On the other hand, those who had always been persecuted or humiliated because of their love for justice and truth, will see the sun of freedom and justice shine in the firmament.

87. That will be the propitious time for the spiritual advancement of humanity to manifest in fullness and the spiritual life that vibrates beyond men, is truly felt by them.

88. It will be the defeat of materialism, when men who have only loved the world, contemplate with the gaze of the spirit the true life, when the authors of all the evil that afflicts humanity, throw into the fire their books, in which they often denied the truth.

89. I, who cannot deny my light to anyone, will give it to everyone, opening the doors of understandings to inspiration, as an invitation to wisdom, eternity and elevation.

90. Analyze, O disciples, my Doctrine, and decide if any of its parts denotes delay, stagnation or confusion.

91. When your faith is absolute in my word, carry it indelibly engraved in your spirit, so that Spirituality may be in each of your acts.

92. My word promises you the kingdom, the one that I want to be established in your heart, so that it may illuminate your life and its light may be in homes, in parents, in

Love one another!

marriages, in children and in brothers, so that rulers may be magnanimous, teachers may be wise and judges may be just.

93. This is my Doctrine, therefore, do not allow it to be confused with those sciences through which men seek only the manifestation of spirits.

94. I have called my Doctrine Spiritualism, because it teaches the elevation of the spirit and reveals to man all the gifts he possesses for his perfection.

95. How few there are up to now who have glimpsed the true essence of this Doctrine! There are few who understand me! Most of you I still contemplate lethargic in traditions and customs that leave no benefit to your spirit.

96. How much fear I see in many hearts when it comes to renouncing those habits, traditions and acts that you have created within my Work! And how your heart is hurt when you are told about them, without you wanting to understand that by complying with those traditions, you abandon the true fulfillment of my Law.

97. Look at how the external worship of humanity has always been the cause of its spiritual stagnation, but do not fall into that error again, always bearing in mind that in order to progress spiritually and achieve perfection, it is essential that the worship of Me be interior, deep spiritual.

98. I will test my people with wisdom and justice, to get them out of ignorance or confusion, I will free them from falling into fanaticism and for this, I will also test them.

99. To love your fellow human beings, to spread peace, to make my word known, to impart charity and to pray for the peace of humanity, which is the spiritual worship that I expect from you, you do not need external acts, neither in the precincts where you meet nor in your homes.

100. Think that until you unite in a true spirituality, your prayer will not have enough strength to make itself felt over your brothers.

101. Not by these words will those who think they are clean rise up to judge their brothers, for truly I tell you, it is I alone who can judge the works of one and the other.

102. Neither will you judge your brothers, even if the time comes for you to see them betray me, because you will remember that I told you that to judge spiritual purity or impurity, only I. Do not judge, I have told you, but advise what is good; do try to prevent your brothers from falling into temptation, but if you could not do any of these, then try to persevere in the truth, and the day will come when those who have strayed from the path will return to it, convinced of their error and convinced that you have known how to persevere in my commands.

Love one another!

103. Watch and pray that you may be united and at peace. You are already in the last days of my word and I want that when the last day comes, I will find you spiritually united.

104. I have given you many lessons so that you may know how to prevent one of your brothers from being separated from the people. Understand that those who could hear me very little may find themselves weak. Give them strength and faith. Also among those who listened to me a lot, there may be hearts lacking in firmness, so that you may give them warmth and encouragement in the journey.

105. Once unified, O people, you will gather to pray for the peace of the world, sending your spirit on the wings of thought turned into a dove of peace, over the nations.

106. Never expect the result of your prayers to be immediate. Sometimes you will have to wait a little, sometimes you will have to wait a long time and sometimes you will not even be able to see the realization of what you asked of me. But your mission was accomplished.

107. You will be sowers of peace, but I repeat to you, do not expect to reap ahead of time. You will let the seed germinate, be born, grow and bear fruit and then you will reap the harvest, letting your spirit be flooded with satisfaction.

108. Disciples: marvel that you are learning all this through a brother of yours, whom I have made my instrument, so that you could all be witnesses of the works that my power does, turning a clumsy creature into a being spiritually useful to all and transforming a sinner into a being clean of heart and understanding to transmit my word.

109. I also entrusted my spokespersons to you so that you could lead them to advancement and perfection, and now, in the last days of my communication, the congregations that knew how to lead their spokespersons to elevation, are delighting in the spiritual flavor of a ripe fruit cultivated with perseverance and with love.

110. Not all of them have been able to do this, because many of them have been neglected, abandoned, others have had their sap extracted without consideration or charity, and others have had greens cut from the tree of life. There you have the reason for that bitter taste that instead of sweetness, the multitudes have often received and from there many confusions have been born, such as taking as perfect what has been only imperfection of the spokesman or attributing to Me the impurities, materializations or imperfections of the spokespersons. After my departure, you will have to separate the chaff from the wheat, that is, you will have to separate all the impurities that were mixed with my word, so that you can take my Doctrine into the world.

111. If they were to ask you why I communicated through so many spokespersons, you would tell them that to deliver my word, if I had come as at that time in Jesus, my person alone would have sufficed; but that since my communication was through simple and rude men and at the same time my message was very great, not a single human understanding could suffice, but as many as necessary.

112. From Roque Rojas, the forerunner of my communication, for whom Elías spoke and from Damiana Oviedo, for whom I gave my first word at this time, to the last spokespersons, each of them has manifested only a part of my Work, but not my entire message.

113. For example, through Roque Rojas I made it known to you that the Third Time was opening for humanity, I revealed the opening of the Sixth Seal, containing his wisdom, his judgment, his gifts and the fulfillment of many ancient prophecies, to overflow his light on every spirit and on all flesh.

114. The mystery of the “Mark” or “Sign” was made known to you through that man and I reminded you of the symbolic number of the chosen ones of the Third Time.

115. Later, through Damiana, the purpose of my coming was revealed to you, the gifts that each disciple carried with him and also the date when my communication would come to an end. From those lips came the word that my Spirit brought at this time, expressing it through simple lessons and small parables, for the first kindergartens; and the spiritual word of Mary also came out, as a message of infinite tenderness and ineffable consolation for every troubled heart.

116. In Roque and Damiana, everything was just a beginning, a promise, and over the years, the spokespersons who succeeded them were penetrating more into the secret of the spokesperson's mission, allowing my word to expand, my Work to be defined and the mysteries to be clarified.

117. How many hearts have been strengthened and comforted by listening to my word through the understanding of my chosen ones! How many spirits have been saved from darkness by hearing me through this channel!

118. To my spokespersons who have been able to prepare themselves, consecrating themselves to my service, I bless you.

Love one another!

119. But I also tell you that many of my children have turned their backs on me and denied me because of the lack of spirituality of the spokespersons. I forgive these, giving them the opportunity to wash their stains for themselves.

120. Beloved people: Watch and pray until the last moments of my communication, so that you may firmly begin the new stage of my manifestation, from Spirit to spirit.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 357

1. They appear before Me on this day, a boy and a maiden to ask me that their union, be blessed and sanctioned by my love.
2. I receive you, my children, not only in this hour because you have always been with Me and I with you.
3. You come to celebrate your union and I tell you: It has been a long time that you have been united by destiny; but it is still necessary that men celebrate an act that testifies to communion, the marriage of two beings, so that it may be recognized and respected spiritually and humanly.
4. You do not attend a ceremony, you come to receive a caress, a Father's advice and a Teacher's teaching.
5. You are two spirits, two hearts, that will unite to form one being and one will. You have been distant in different worlds and you have come to Earth first one and then the other, and in that journey you have been tested in your love, in your patience and you have been faithful to me. You have been able to fulfill your promises, overcoming with love and faith all obstacles.
6. You are in the presence of your Lord who adorns your spirit and strengthens it so that you fulfill this delicate mission that I point out to you, the most sublime that I have given to man within the human.
7. You are going to penetrate into that institution of love, of sacrifice and of life; of renunciation and of obedience to destiny in fulfillment of an ideal. And so that your step may be firm on the new path, you come after light and I pour it out in floods on you.
8. Man: The gifts that I gave to the first man on earth, I have given to you: talent, will and energy; also strength, life and seed. You symbolically carry a sword in your right hand and a shield in your left, because earthly life offers you a struggle in which men must be soldiers, guardians of peace, justice and virtue, defenders of humanity. I make you a soldier of this struggle and I place your sinister, next to your heart, a maiden. She is spiritually, morally and bodily, a flower cultivated by Me in a pleasant garden; a garden coveted by human passions, which Mary, the divine Mother, always cares for and protects, and irrigates with the crystalline and pure waters of her virginity and chastity.
9. You have asked me with humility for this flower and I am giving it to you with love. This is the greatest thing that man can possess in this life. You are not bound to your parents, because to fulfill this destiny you move away from them and stay on the path of struggle. Your children too, when the time has come to go in search of their destiny, will turn away from you, will leave the paternal home and only the companion of his life will remain close to the heart of man, the woman he chose, the one who has shared his joys and sufferings, and whose union only death can separate.

10. It is my Word of love that is exalting you and giving strength to your purpose.

11. Lift up your foreheads, walk with a firm step; be to each other like a staff! be a loving mantle that washes away the crying, I tell you both; because spiritually you are both the same, there is no sex or difference in the spirit. One of the two is not before the other, but already incarnated, I have placed the man first and then the woman.

12. To be a man for a spirit is a test to which I submit him. To be a woman for a spirit, is restitution too.

13. There is strength in man and he must always use understanding. In the woman, prepared with tenderness and sensitivity, love and sacrifice nestles, and thus, both complement each other. From that union, from that communion of spirits and bodies, life springs up like an inexhaustible river. From that seed and from that fertile land, the seed that has no end arises.

14. I bless you and unite you with my Master's prayer, with my divine disciple. I leave you as an example among this people, because you arrive with spiritual preparation and with respect.

15. The people are your witnesses, and I hold them accountable for you. I want them, with their elevation at this moment, to plant your path with luck, to always enjoy looking at your smile and your peace, and to bless you in your multiplication, as I bless you. This is my will.

16. It was not the hand of a minister that sanctioned your union, but my eternal Law, my love. I am leading you on the path of fulfillment and at the end of your journey you will render accounts to your Lord; and at that moment you will hear again the echo of this word, but no longer the echo of the human voice, but the one that you have heard in the depths of your conscience and you will say: "The Father who traced the path to our spirit, today tells us that we have reached the end and we must present our work". There I am waiting for you, in my dwelling place, on the top of the mountain, so that you may contemplate your Lord. I want to receive you as at this moment, to pour out my pleasures and to bless you.

17. Today I give you the seed, one, and tomorrow you will give it to me multiplied; but if you want to know if your work is pleasing to me, you will be able to verify it, if it pleases your heart and gives you satisfaction. Mary also blesses you, gives you warmth and enchantment, invites you to follow the path of virtue step by step, always with that humility and patience of which she has given you an example.

Love one another!

18. I bless you and I unite you.

19. Behold, people, my last manifestations through the human channel. How will we celebrate this act of marriage union in the future? you ask me, beloved disciples, and I answer you: Do it in the bosom of your congregation. Unite yourselves before those who have prepared themselves as apostles of this Doctrine, but they will not unite you, because I have not conferred this office on any man. I possess your destiny and I receive you spiritually to enter into communion with Me and your covenant will be indelibly written in the eternal Book.

20. If in that solemn moment in which two beings merge to form one and march along that path of love, self-denial and sacrifice, you want to read my teachings, those that speak of these cases, you can do it and before my word, your heart will be strengthened in its purpose and your steps will be affirmed.

21. I want you to live within this simplicity and I call blessed those who celebrate their act full of conformity and joy, because they will receive grace and blessings for their journey.

22. Your brothers of different religions will come to search you, and while some will understand the truth of this spiritual act, others will be scandalized. But you will prove by your virtuous deeds that you have been blessed by Me and your union is indissoluble.

23. I have told you on this day that the moment to celebrate this act is only the confirmation of your union, because from before you were destined to meet and there was already affinity and love between you. I allow and command you to do this act in the presence of yours and of friends and relatives, so that your marriage may be recognized and respected.

24. Still the elevation and intuition of man is not so great as to contemplate that two beings are united in a holy bond, in my name, without having been united by a representative or a minister. But that time will come and then there will be no doubt in the man or the woman when they meet, they will know the hour destined by Me and they will know how to prepare to penetrate with confidence and firmness in their marriage union, and society will not judge them badly for not having been sanctioned by a minister before an altar. That time will come, but for now, as the world rises spiritually, practice as I have taught you on this day.

Love one another!

25. In the Second Time I penetrated into the home of many married couples united by the law of Moses, and do you know how I found many of them? Quarreling, destroying the seed of peace, love and trust; I saw wars and discord in the hearts, at his table and on his bed. I also penetrated into the home of many who, without their marriage having been sanctioned by law, loved each other and lived as larks do in the nest, caressing and protecting the loved one.

26. How many there are who, living under the same roof, do not love each other and, by not loving each other, are not united, but are spiritually distant! But they do not make their separation public, for fear of divine punishment or human laws, or the judgment of society and that is not a marriage; in those beings there is no union or truth. However, they present their false union, they visit homes and temples, they go on the roads and the world does not judge them because they know how to hide their lack of love. Instead, those who love each other, have to hide, hiding their true union, and suffering misunderstandings and injustices.

27. Humanity has not risen to penetrate and judge the lives of its fellow men. Men who carry the spiritual and human laws in their hand, do not use true justice to sanction these cases. But those times of understanding and prudence that I announce to you, in which humanity will be perfected, will come and then you will see again as in patriarchal times, before Moses, in which the union of beings was done as I have done on this day with my children, spiritually; as you will also do in those times to come, in the presence of the parents of those who are going to join, of friends and relatives, in the midst of the greatest spirituality, fraternity and joy.

28. When men of peace and goodwill abound on Earth, you will see my divine institutions flourish and my laws will sweeten your life. The times of peace, harmony and well-being will return, without diminishing your civilization and your science. On the contrary, I tell you, if man has discovered a lot and has torn from Nature many of its secrets, even in the midst of his unpreparedness, due to the lack of elevation, due to his lack of love and charity, how much more will he achieve when he rises to Me to ask me to reveal the secrets and enlighten his being to do great charitable works! I will grant him to make this world a valley of light, redemption and well-being for all my children, because I want you to possess my wisdom and my peace.

29. I envelop you in the light of my universal ray that descends and penetrates your heart and there it makes its home, its temple. In him I receive your offering, the tribute of those who love me and I listen to your voice that at the same time is prayer and compliance with my will.

Love one another!

30. Despite the vicissitudes that you are going through, you show yourselves strong for your elevation and you feel happy to be my disciples. You are engaged in a great spiritual and material struggle, taking advantage of the time I have granted you and in that struggle you hope to reap the fruit in due time. Your work on Earth will give its performance day by day when you go after rest and your spiritual works will flourish fully when you have reached the end of your mission, fulfilling my laws.

31. From your spirit flows a constant prayer for the peace and relief of other peoples who suffer immensely more than you. Rumors of extermination, desolation and death reach your nation, which fill you with sorrow and fear, not for your life or that of your family, but for that of other beings distant from you, suffering and who are your fellow beings. I am pleased to attend to your requests, and to bring to those nations, your messages of peace and charity.

32. You are dwelling, beloved disciples, in the heart of this continent. It has pleased me to send your Israelite spirit to this abundant and prodigal Land, with its splendid sun, with a luminous sky, with valleys and mountains covered with greenery, beautiful and abundant rivers, and wonderful flowers, everything that can recreate and beautify your earthly life. And in the midst of this splendor and this grace, merciless war threatens the environment; woes of pain, complaints, blasphemies and offenses come to you; but I do not see in you the atmosphere of war, you have not taken up arms to defend yourself or to attack. I see in this nation only resignation to injustice and repulsion for human evil, but I ask you for something more than that. I want your trust in Me, your spiritual preparation to help your fellow men in their sorrows and trials.

33. Today, as in the past, humanity lives embroiled in wars; it has not wanted to cultivate the seed of peace, but that seed will always fall like manna in the desert, in the heart of every man hungry for peace.

34. I have sent to incarnate in the bosom of homes beings of great elevation, angels who have from childhood the mission of bending and sweetening the hearts of men of different races and beliefs. And what has mankind done of those envoys? He has questioned their message, persecuted them and put them to death.

35. I saw men from the earliest times waging fratricidal wars in ancient Phoenicia and Syria and between the Romans and the Greeks. There was no respect, love and justice neither among themselves, nor from one people to another people. Never has the strong lifted up the weak, nor has the mighty extended his hand to the needy. He who held the light of civilization did not bring it with love, with true ideal to the peoples who were in darkness. Their conquests were always by force, by hatred, ambition or injustice, and the

Love one another!

Father seeing that in one and the other there was ignorance, I sent to the bosom of distant countries for their different ideologies and customs, my prophets and forerunners to speak of the only truth and lead them to a single end. And they spoke and prepared the spirit of men for my coming in that Era that today you call the Second Time, and when the hour of my advent was arrived, I confirmed the words of those faithful prophets and everything was fulfilled as they had said.

36. My Doctrine was not only for the Jewish people, although he was the one prepared spiritually, afflicted by great trials from the earliest times to receive the Messiah into his bosom. But the will I entrusted to him was for all men of all races. From among that people came apostles, martyrs and a great number of men and women who lived exemplary lives, who knew how to sow the seed of love. And in other countries and in other lands far from Judea, my word also began to flourish, carried by my first disciples.

37. But it was necessary that in this New World inhabited by beings who loved me and sought me ardently to present their offering and sacrifices to me, the light should be made, my message of love would arrive, my Doctrine that asks you only to love one another, in Me.

38. The imperfect worship of those creatures who loved me, I received because it was innocently offered. Later, when both continents crossed the distances and the seed was brought to be scattered in this new world, and deposited in the loving hearts of its inhabitants, how much injustice and violence those who called themselves my disciples exercised on these men of simple heart and high spirit!

39. Their pure and sincere practices and customs only received the censorship and the rigor of those who, feeling superior, showed signs of greater delay. It was slowly that this people received my inheritance through the faithful disciples and understood its divine purity and origin.

40. Today I behold you again threatened, surrounded by strong peoples who covet your inheritance and disturb your spirit. You have not reached the peak of your splendor, but you will shine spiritually and materially. I warn you, so that you do not fall into lethargy, that you should pray and watch over your inheritance.

41. I have come to you at this time and I give you again my legacy of love. My seed does not die; it may be whipped by strong gales but if its ears are cut by the elements, the grains fall into the earth and germinate again to multiply without ceasing.

42. You will be a light in this world, your nation, a torch before other nations as long as you love peace and goodness in all its forms. There are already among you those who are to be apostles of peace; I have prepared their spirit so that this light may flourish in their words and in their dictates; and united you, who work spiritually, to your rulers who fight for the welfare of this people, you will be able to extend your benefits to those who thirst for peace, truth and justice.

43. The light came symbolically from the East to the West and now, this message that I have brought to you will go from the West to the East and the two will merge into one, as well as the knowledge of the truth, civilizations and races. And when you are unified, you will recognize that the light has not come from men to men, but from the divine Spirit to his children.

44. Today many reject me, deny me and try to create new paths; but the straight and narrow path of the Law is everywhere where men exist. Because that Law is in the heart, in the talent, in the consciousness of every being. There is only one way by which you will come to Me, the one that always invites you to goodness, charity and prudence. You may be struck down by great trials, and fall under their weight, but if you love righteousness, you will rise again stronger than before and you will triumph because only good endures through the ages.

45. If you desire peace for a people, you need not go to them. make peace in your heart or in your home and this will be enough for you to reflect concord and unification in the spirit of that people.

46. Good, like evil, can be transmitted at a distance; that is why I have taught you to succor with the prepared spirit those who need your help, whether they are close or distant. But beware of sending thoughts that provoke war. Do not wish for the fall of one nation and the triumph of another, for that influence will come and cause upheaval. Above all, love and be forgiving of all your brothers and sisters.

47. If you are moved by the pain of the sick who have suffered the inclemencies of the war and you want to send him a little peace and comfort, look for the nearest sick person, take him as a representation of those absent and deposit your charity in him in my name, and I will be caressing and healing a multitude of sick people, in those suffering nations.

48. Make your home a temple from which light radiates to envelop those around you, and beyond those limits other beings experience well-being and share your preparation.

49. Soon you will be remembering the birth of the Messiah; the days are approaching when humanity commemorates that event. The peoples who still live in peace will celebrate it with joy, but there are many people in different nations who have entered a time of anxiety and will try to forget for a moment, the anguish, the fear, to invoke my

Love one another!

Spirit and bring to their memory the memory of that advent. Others are already suffering the consequences of a war that has plunged them into orphanhood, into misery and has led them to taste pain in all its forms.

50. I will wrap everyone in my love, I will listen to your prayer and a torrent of light will descend on this humanity.

51. It is necessary that you prepare yourselves, that you harbor in your heart all the love that I have manifested to you in my advent, so that you may love one another with perfect love, and always be intercessors and arbiters of true justice because I have chosen you to make through you, a covenant with all men.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 358

1. Blessed are all of you, not only in this place, but in all the places where you gather to be with your Father, listening to His word as one spirit.
2. The time that remains for you to receive my teaching through the mouth of my spokespersons is very short, so that you may learn how to prepare yourselves to be able to listen to me later in spiritual silence. And truly I tell you that I will never leave you, that I will always be as close to you as I am right now.
3. I am omnipresent, I am in the whole Universe and in each of my children, but not all of you feel the closeness of your Father, the presence of your God.
4. I have my sanctuary in your heart, I have given you the key so that you can open it, but this must be born of your own will, that is the duty that corresponds to you.
5. I have given you spirit that is part of Myself and a material envelope to live on Earth and in truth I tell you that if you know how to overcome the trials that you have to go through in this life, you will achieve spiritual liberation.
6. In the First Time I sent enlightened spirits to incarnate on this planet and speak as prophets to humanity. In the Second Time my Divine Word incarnated by my great mercy, so that you might better understand your God. I came in Jesus to speak to you about love and now in the Third Time, once again I have come in Spirit, to give you my teaching.
7. A long time has had to elapse for humanity to reach spiritual maturity. You have always fallen into two extremes; one has been materialism, by which you try to achieve greater worldly joys, and this, in truth, is harmful, because it separates the spirit from the fulfillment of its mission; but you must also avoid the other extreme: the mortification of matter, the complete denial of everything that belongs to this life, because I sent you to this Earth to live as men, as humans, and I have indicated the right way for you to live giving to Caesar what belongs to Caesar, and to God what corresponds to God.
8. I have created this world for you, with all its beauty and all its perfection. I have given you the human body, through which you must develop all the gifts that I have given you to achieve perfection.
9. The Father does not want you to deprive yourselves of all the good things that this world offers you, but you should not give preference to matter over spirit, because the body is temporary and the spirit belongs to eternity.

Love one another!

10. Fight, fight, to achieve spiritual perfection. I have shown you the way to reach that goal. I have entrusted prayer to you as the strongest weapon than any material weapon, to defend you from the ambushes on the way, but the best weapon you will have when you comply with my Law.

11. What does prayer consist of? Prayer is petition, intercession, adoration and contemplation. All its parts are necessary, and one springs from the other. because in truth I tell you that the request consists in the man begging me to grant his desires, satisfy his longings, what he believed to be the most important and healthy in his life, and in truth I tell you, my children, that the Father listens to the request and gives each one what he needs most, provided it is for his good. But be careful to ask for what is in opposition for the salvation of your spirit; because those who ask only for material gifts, material joys, temporal power, are asking to chain their spirit.

12. Material joys only bring suffering, not only in this world, but even after the transition to the spiritual world, because the influence of those material desires can reach there, and when he cannot get rid of them, he is still tormented by those longings, and he wants to return a thousand times to Earth to reincarnate and continue living materially. Therefore, my children, ask only for what you really need for the good of your spirit.

13. The second form of prayer, intercession, springs from love of neighbor, from the love that I taught you as a Teacher when I came into this world. Pray for your brothers near and far, those who in the nations are suffering the consequences of war, who are suffering the tyranny of the temporary governments of this world.

14. Prepare yourselves, O my children, pray for your brothers, but also in this intercession, you must know how to ask, because what matters is the spirit. If you have a brother, your parents or your sick children, pray for them, but do not insist that they stay in this life, if this is not what the spirit needs. Better ask that his spirit be free, that he purify himself in his sufferings, that pain propitiate spiritual elevation. That is why the Master has taught you from the Second Time to say, "Father, your will be done." Because it is the Father who knows better than any of his children what the spirit needs.

15. The third form of prayer, the adoration of the Divine Spirit, means the adoration of all that is perfect, because through this form of prayer you can unite with perfection, with the love that embraces the entire Universe. In adoration you can find the perfect state that each of you must reach and through adoration you will reach contemplation that, together with prayer, will lead you to unification with the Divine Spirit, to the source of eternal life, to the source that gives you strength day after day to reach the kingdom of the Father.

Love one another!

16. This is how you should pray, starting with the petition until you reach contemplation. This is what will give you strength.

17. When you are well prepared, you will fight not only for yourselves but to help your brothers to travel on this path. Because you cannot achieve salvation only for yourselves, but you must fight to achieve the salvation of humanity.

18. Men exclaim: If there is a God of mercy and love, why then do the good have to suffer for the bad, the upright for sinners? Truly I tell you, my children, every man comes to this world not only to achieve salvation for himself. He is not an isolated individual, but is part of a whole.

19. Doesn't a healthy and perfect organ in a human body suffer when the other organs are sick? This is a material comparison so that you understand the relationship that each of the men has with the others. The good must suffer for the bad, but the good are not completely innocent if they do not fight for the spiritual advancement of their brothers. But as individuals each one has his own responsibility and being part of my Spirit and similar to Him, he has the will and intelligence to help the progress of all.

20. From the first time I have spoken to you through my prophets to guide you, but not to compel you to fulfill my Law. But time has passed and the human spirit has evolved, has reached maturity and can already understand its mission as a spirit. Humanity, which is so close to the abyss, to perdition, needs your spiritual help.

21. That struggle, the last struggle, the most terrible and the most tremendous struggle between darkness and light. All the spirits in darkness are uniting and all the spirits of light have to face that power.

22. You who have listened to me, who carry the light of the Holy Spirit, wake up, no longer waste time on material pleasures, on temporal ambitions. Fight for humanity. Fight for the Father's Kingdom to come into this world. It is the mission that I give from the most humble to the most prepared. The Spiritual World is with you and above all, the Father full of love, full of mercy. The Father who with infinite pain sees the suffering that the same men are causing each other.

23. That is the struggle of light against darkness, and each one of you has to fight until victory is achieved. Pray, my children, with all sincerity; follow the path that the Father has indicated to you when he spoke to you about prayer at this dawn. This is your mission; in this way you will achieve spirituality for yourselves and salvation for those for whom you are praying.

Love one another!

24. The time is very near when for the last time you will hear my voice through human instruments, but once again the Father tells you: You will have nothing to fear after 1950 if you unite with love.

25. Do not think that I only come to look for the pure of heart, no, I come looking for the lost, the stained, who are the ones who need my charity the most. Nor do you think that I have preferences, neither for those who live in opulence nor for those who live in poverty; I look for the spirit in need of light, the sick, the sad, the hungry, and I find those needs the same in the rich as in the poor.

26. I come to all of you to bring a message of light, of comfort and hope, through a Doctrine full of loving justice. Truly I tell you, whoever comes to drink from this fountain will never be disappointed, and whoever seeks something for his good in it will find it. What I offer you is true, what I promise you is effective. In my word, there is no lie, which the world is full of at this time.

27. I grant you reason that you have become skeptical on earth, because your brothers have offered you much and have fulfilled nothing to you. That is why there are millions of men who believe nothing and expect nothing, because, after one deception, they have been made victims of another deception. But I ask you: What do you expect from a materialistic, selfish and inhuman world? What do you expect from those who, ruling the world, do not allow themselves to be governed by conscience, which is the only light that guides on the true path?

28. Return to Me, but approach Me without complaints or grudges towards your brothers. Come to Me and let my word rekindle the light of faith in your spirit, because then you will cease to be weak, bitterness will depart from you and instead of mistrust and fears before humanity, you will have strength, hope and charity.

29. When my light has penetrated into all hearts and the men who lead the peoples, those who impart teaching and all those who carry out the most important missions, let themselves be guided and inspired by that higher light that is consciousness, then you will be able to expect from each other. Then you will be able to have faith in your brothers, because my light will be in everyone, and in my light will be my presence, and my justice of love.

30. Now you are living in a time of confusion, in which you call evil good, in which you think you see light where there is darkness, in which you put the superfluous before the essential; but my charity, always present and timely, will arrive in time to save you, teaching you the luminous path of truth, the path from which you had departed.

Love one another!

31. The peoples advance growing more and more in scientific knowledge, but I ask you: What wisdom is that, that the more men penetrate into it, the more they move away from the spiritual truth, where there is the source and origin of life?

32. It is human science, it is wisdom as conceived by a world sick of selfishness and materialism.

33. So that knowledge is false and that science is bad since with it you have created a world of pain. Instead of light, it is darkness since you are pushing the peoples to destruction.

34. Science is light, light is life, it is strength, health and peace, is this the fruit of your science? No, humanity, that is why I tell you, that as long as you do not let the light of consciousness penetrate the darkness of your understanding, your works can never have a high or spiritual principle, they will never go beyond being human works.

35. The true science, the science of the good, is in Me and I am the one who inspires it to those who have offered their mind to me as a deposit for my revelations, they are those men who with sacrifice of themselves have consecrated their existence in pursuit of a discovery, of a revelation that benefits humanity. These men have indeed opened paths of light, yes they have brought to their brothers a message of peace, of health, of consolation. Some have completed complete works, others have been precursors; but some and others have taught you with deeds that goodness, love, the elevation of spirit, have been the key to their triumph.

36. Truly I tell you that with love, with the ideal of doing good and bringing peace to those in need of it, you will be able to open the most secret door of my Arcana, because there is no door that resists the call of my love. On the other hand, he who seeks wisdom, science and power, inspired by selfish and proud ends, he has to steal, he has to steal in order to possess something of what he wants to be revealed to him.

37. You will be able to deduce from all this, that if your science is aimed at the well-being and elevation of humanity, the doors of the Arcanum will be open, revealing to men the infinite mysteries of life.

38. How little you have accomplished for your good and yet how much you have stolen to do you harm!

39. Blessed people of Israel: Rise up in prayer so that you may feel my presence. Blessed are those who through prayer feel the influence of my Divine Spirit, because they will not feel orphaned when my word has ceased to manifest itself through the spokespersons.

Love one another!

40. Blessed are those who practice prayer with love, with limpidity and rise up to draw near to Me. Truly I do not judge whether your prayers are high or imperfect. I answer every prayer, but I am a Teacher and I have come to teach you how to pray. I am perfect and I come to correct you so that you do not commit any imperfection.

41. Beloved people: How many times the Father has contemplated men on earth carrying out a perfect work within the human and it has been pleasing to Me. But you do not yet present to me perfect works within the spiritual, because spiritual perfection will be achieved when you have stripped yourself of all materiality; then, people, your spirit will contemplate a higher life, he will see my face and hear my sweet voice; he will truly understand my Law and will know who he is and who has been and who will be in eternal life.

42. At this time, people of Israel, in that envelope in which I have sent you to reincarnate, you resemble the child, but do not be afraid; dream of perfection, seek it and pursue it, because your destiny is to prepare a path to humanity, a path of peace, virtue, teaching and revelations.

43. Your mission, chosen people, is to open a gap to the human spirit so that it may find its Creator in its own being.

44. In all three times you have found the path that leads to perfection, because your consciousness is like a luminous beacon, inside it has the torch lit; but you have been fragile and have not been able to perceive spiritual greatness on this path. Vanity and pride has overcome your spirit and you have made use of your gifts to form kingdoms in this world, kingdoms that do not belong to you and you have been lords and you have had wealth, you have had servants and you have granted titles, you have magnified yourselves before others and you have forgotten your Father, you have forgotten your mission; but later the world itself has risen up against you, humiliated you and subjected you to the; but within that slavery into which you have fallen, Israel, you have not forgotten me, you have taken advantage of the moment of your preparation to travel again on the path that leads you to Me and you have listened to the voice of your conscience.

45. Why has the Father allowed such falls? Why has the Father left you to taste and know all the vanities, all the miseries and the false greatness of this life? Has the Father really allowed it? Yes, my chosen people, I have also allowed the tower of perversity and human sin to rise before Me; I have admitted that within my Creation the seven great sins rise from which all the others derive; but truly I tell you: Sin was not born in Me, sin does not have its origin in Me; I have only allowed it to exist so that your spirit may gain experience, so that you may appreciate the greatness of your God, his perfection, his justice, his love, his truth, so that you may appreciate the perfect and also know the imperfect.

46. But the Father says to you: Enough is enough! I find you captives, burdened with chains, misery and diseases, but in the midst of your captivity you have not forgotten Me and I say to you, Have faith in Me and in you, O Israel, I am coming to set you free.

47. Your evolution is great, your spirit is great and recognizes me. You will treasure truth, sincerity, charity and love in him and with these gifts you will be able to bring peace, harmony, light and health to the world.

48. Who can give you peace in this world and pacify the wars that engulf the nations? You have these gifts, that is your true greatness, based on humility, meekness. Blessed people. never give up the word of love or the truth, for the sake of the Earth; never exchange an act of charity for flattery, because then you will not be testifying that you are my disciples.

49. The people of Israel of this third Era will be a model of humility, meekness, spirituality. Walk the path of perfection. Now you know, blessed people, that the peace, the wisdom and the teaching that I am pouring out in your spirit, is not just for you to store it, but that this Doctrine you must spread it, deliver it, spread it among humanity: You are in charge of doing it.

50. The Master says to you: It is not enough for you not to do evil, you must do good so that you may be worthy of my glory. I have forgiven you all your mistakes, all your falls, I have washed you of all your stains with my word, with my blood and my tears. That is why I ask you to fight, to work, so that you can reach the end of the day, where I am.

51. Realize, people, the great mission that the Father has entrusted to you from the moment of your creation; you do not know if it is the last time when you will return to dwell on Earth, but if you leave your mission unfinished, I will send you back into the world, some to gather the harvest and the others so that you can complete the mission begun. But others you will not return to Earth anymore, I will give you missions, so that in spirit you can work and fight.

52. I will reveal to you great lessons from the Hereafter, because I come preparing you for the spiritual life, for the true life, for that life that has no beginning and no end. I will prepare you, I will show you the way and I will also point out the door to you, because you are the firstborn, to whom I have always taught the way that you should also teach others and just as I have pointed out the path to you in this world, in the Hereafter you will recognize it and you will continue leading the spirits along the path that leads you to true peace.

53. People: The time when you must pray has come among you. Today I am not coming to tell you to prostrate yourselves on the ground, I am not coming to teach you to pray with your lips or to cry out to me with flowery words in beautiful prayers; today I am coming to tell you: Seek Me with your thoughts, lift up your spirit and I will always descend to make you feel my presence. If you do not know how to speak to your God, repentance, your pain, your love will be enough for me.

54. This is the language that I hear, the one that I understand, the language without words, the language of truth and sincerity, that is the prayer that I have come to teach you in this Third Time.

55. Whenever you have done a good deed, you have felt my peace, tranquility and hope, because the Father is very close to you.

56. In my word is the fire and with that fire I come exterminating the weed.

57. "Love one another", do not mock the false god that your brother worships; do not deny your brother's doctrine, however erroneous it may be; if you want to be respected and followed, you have to respect first. Do not be afraid of anyone because I have given you the truth and the gift of the word. Get up, speak up and convince your brothers. In the word is balm, love, strength and life. In the word is the power for you to rise up.

58. My word will be written for all time, with it you will form the book of the Third Time. The Third Testament, the last message of the father, because in the three times God has had his golden pen to leave his wisdom to humanity.

59. Moses was the first golden pen, which the Father used to engrave in indelible letters in a book the acts of the First Time. Moses was the golden pen of Jehovah.

60. Among my apostles and followers of the Second Time, Jesus had four feathers and they were: Matthew, Mark, Luke and John. These were the golden feathers of the Divine Master, but when the time came for the First Testament to be united with the Second with bonds of love, recognition and spiritual advancement, then a single book was formed.

61. Now in the Third Time, in which you have my word again, I have also appointed the golden pens so that it may be written. When the time is come, you will form a single book, and this book, that of the Third Time, will also, when the time is propitious, be joined to the book of the Second and of the First Time and then with the revelations, prophecies and words of the Three Times, the great Book of Life will be formed, for the pleasure of all spirits; then you will recognize that from the first word to the last, they have been fulfilled in truth and in spirit; that all the prophecies were the anticipated history that the Father revealed to humanity. Because only God can write the events that are going to be.

62. When the prophets have spoken, it has not been they but God has done it through them.

63. I have left sufficient preparation in my new chosen ones, as Moses and the four disciples of the Second Time had, so that my word may be recorded with all clarity, with all clarity and truth, because it is for the generations of tomorrow, and if anyone would like to add or delete from that book, I will claim you.

64. Now, my dearly beloved children: Who gives importance to the Book that you are forming? No one, in truth, but the moment will come when humanity, full of anxiety, of curiosity, will ask for your Book and it will then unveil itself, search my word and argue about it; in that struggle of ideas, sides will arise, men of science, theologians and philosophers; the testimony of your word and the Book of wisdom will be taken to the nations and everyone will speak of my Doctrine. That will be the beginning of the new battle, of the war of words, of thoughts, of ideas, and in the end, when everyone has recognized, in truth and in spirit, that the great book of Life has been written by the Lord, they will draw closer with fraternity and love each other as is my will.

65. Why was the word of Jehovah not enough in the First Time to unify the world, nor was the Doctrine of Jesus able to do so in the Second? Why in this time has it not been enough that since 1866 I have been giving my word, so that the nations may love each other and live in peace?

66. It is necessary that the three books form one, so that this word enlightens the Universe. Then humanity will be around that light and the curse of Babel will be erased, because all men will read the Great Book of True Life, all will practice the same Doctrine and love each other as children of God, in spirit and in truth.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 359

1. Beloved disciples: Enjoy the last communications of your Master and after this time, come by the way of prayer to converse with me. Always pray in the days of peace, in the days of trial, so that you may feel strong and courageous to face the trials.
2. This has been a time of spiritual expansion and bliss for those who have been able to interpret my manifestations. The son has come to meet his Father and has felt so secure in his lap, so strong in his convictions, because of the teachings he has received from Him and also so loved, that he will only live to take care of his treasure and to remember the privilege with which he has been distinguished; but recognize that I love all my children with the same; you all form a family and if only a small number have come to feel my communication through man, you have all received light and inspiration from Me.
3. Every being has an appointment with Me and you will all come to Me. The roads are prepared. The simplest have been called before, then the others will come. they will arrive humble, with their spirit subdued, free of rebellion and false greatness, and at that hour, by their humility and their recognition I will absolve them and give them great mandates for the fulfillment of the great mission that awaits them.
4. In that time when I have to call everyone, the reluctant will become submissive, the hard-hearted will be tender and the proud will know how to bow down with true obedience, because my Spirit will be teaching everyone, enlightening and blessing my dearly beloved children and a prayer will rise from their spirit, a single song of love to their Father and Creator. In those days, spirits of great virtue will penetrate this planet and those who have already been converted here will go to other spiritual abodes with a great desire for perfection.
5. Truly I tell you that you who have followed my teachings, when these spokesmen shut up so as not to transmit my word anymore, you will not feel that I am absent from you, you will perceive me closer, you will have me in your inner temple and in it you will continue to hear my voice and in it my direction and my consolation.
6. Of what is to come upon this world after 1950, you know little, but I warn you by telling you that that bitter chalice that humanity is drinking, still reserves in its bottom the feces and that the pain will still grow, but later it will be removed, when his atonement has come to an end, and a new chalice of sweetness will be offered to him.
7. The Spiritual World will continue to watch over and protect humanity, as a jealous guardian of its life and its perfection, attending to the mandate that it has received from Me.

Love one another!

8. After my last lesson, you will remain studying my words, so that you will know what you should do, and when that is, you will form with me a single spirit of help and protection for humanity.

9. The Divine Mother pours out her most tender love on all her children; she is a mantle for the poor and orphans, and a solicitous care for the sick and the helpless. His Spirit that watches over all, accompanies this world in the hour of trial.

10. Travel with your thoughts through your world carrying a message of consolation and fraternity to your brothers. On the last day of my communication I will speak to all nations and my words will be indelibly written on my disciples. I leave you as the apostles to go in search of those who need you.

11. Feel calm in my lap and forget your regrets, that on the last day of my communication, I will solve the big problems that you present to me.

12. Get ready, because the test hour is already approaching! Blessed are the spokespersons who, zealous and aware of their position, have interpreted my inspiration until the last moment!

13. The seers will look as if a new sacrifice were consummated in Me, because my Spirit infinitely repeats his Passion for the love of men. Remember all these trials so that you may be saved.

14. Mary will watch over you on your long journey, she will accompany you as she did with my disciples in the Second Time. She was the sweet and tender Mother who with her tenderness gave strength to those spirits. she filled their hearts with joy and shared with them their hours of pain and when they prayed, the Mother's thoughts also rose to wait for her will from the Father.

15. At this time, Mary will cover you with her spiritual mantle so that you will not be surprised by the trials that lie ahead.

16. With your spirits and hearts, you will form the temple where the Holy Spirit will manifest Himself, so that you may leave an imprint of obedience and spirituality on the world.

17. My word, like the light of a new dawn, is illuminating and awakening the inhabitants of all nations.

18. I am the Star that guides you to the Promised Land. Here is the concert of my word, impregnated with love, encouraging your spirit on its way.

Love one another!

19. If pain has brought you closer to Me, I receive you with love, trust in Me. I want to be with you and that you be with me so that in this harmony we may be one, you and I; I want to be the companion who shows you the path of your evolution, the light that is always ahead of you.

20. I am the Master who comes to convert you and to spiritualize you, to fill your heart with tenderness so that it may sprout up in your words, in your looks and deeds.

21. Be in harmony with the love that is the power that moves the worlds in the universal concert. Come closer to Me so that you may receive the essence of my words, so that you may feel the immensity of my love, so that you too may encourage the sad and wipe away the tears of the one who weeps.

22. I come to give you comfort in your sufferings, I will heal your wounds and I will only leave in you the light of experience, so that you may meditate and make your spirit come closer to Me.

23. When you become spiritualized, your works will be like fragrant roses before Me. When you pray, I will answer you with a sweet comforting vibration, without voice, without phrases. How sweet will be the moment when you feel my caress as an answer.

24. Humanity, listen to me, I don't want any of you to get lost. Come to the call that the shepherd makes to his sheep, many have been scattered on the path of pain, but you will all reach the fold where my love awaits you to redeem you.

25. Beloved people: Unite yourselves to your brothers, that when you are in communion with me you forgive even the most serious offenses, for the love that I have inspired you; how can you not forgive someone who does not know what he is doing? And he doesn't know it because he doesn't know that this evil is doing it to himself.

26. In the Second Time the Messiah came to dwell among men to lead them with love, to alleviate their sufferings and to give them His Doctrine, so that they would love one another.

27. At that time I found the man drowsy in a deep lethargy, magnified with the riches and powers of the world. That is why when they learned that the promised Messiah had been born in a humble cradle, their confusion was very great.

28. I found my people converted into subjects of Caesar, but I gave them light, peace and comfort. It was written that He would come to incarnate the Word of the Father to speak and to teach men, to teach them to obey the Law and to save them from the abyss. It was necessary for me to pour out a cup of bitterness to teach you the way of redemption.

Love one another!

29. From my early childhood I spoke to the doctors of the Law and I was like a saving star leading the lost to the port of redemption.

30. Beloved people, the struggle of my apostles was arduous to prepare humanity with my Doctrine. After my departure, they rose up to fight without hesitation, without stopping at the wickedness of their brothers; they trusted in Me and day after day they spread my teachings of love and charity. And what did humanity do with them? To ignore them and take them to the scaffold; they were persecuted and mocked, but they fulfilled my command until the last moment of their life.

31. At this time I tell you, people: You will no longer be the martyrs, now I only ask you to prepare so that you give the bread and water to humanity, but also at this time men will stand in your way.

32. You are Israel, the mighty one of mankind, whom I have left as the staff of your brothers. For you they will obtain mercy, forgiveness, love and charity from your God.

33. In the Second time the wise men, whom you have called the wise men, offered me gold, frankincense and myrrh as proof of recognition; the humble shepherds also brought their offerings before my face. But now I receive from your spirits as an offering of love, your elevation, your prayer.

34. Beloved people, In all ages I have spoken to you and in this Third Time I have taught you a lot. Some of you have only listened to me a little, but my great teachings are engraved by the golden feathers and when you no longer listen to me through the speaker they will continue to guide and encourage you, because the delicacy that I offer you at my table, will sweeten your palate and make your spirit feel strengthened.

35. The instant you receive my word, forget your pain, get away from the temptations of this world, be with recollection at this spiritual table. Blessed are those who with that preparation are listening to my word, because it is life for your spirit.

36. Temptation strips you of the white garment and when I see sadness and deep pain in you, I cover you again with my spiritual mantle.

37. Be strong in the face of the trials of this life, solve your problems with the light that I have entrusted to you, remove from your path all the barriers that could stop you in your evolution. Remove fanaticism and hypocrisy from your heart, be the strong in the world and form a chain of love and fraternity.

Love one another!

38. You are spiritualists, you are not going to build material temples with bronze bells, you are going to build a temple in your spirit, in your heart and the Father will come to that temple and he will be with you eternally. I myself will be the light of that temple.

39. Understand that I have come at this time to awaken you from the sleep of death, to show you a new day, so that you may hear my voice and that you may contemplate me.

40. You are the children of light to whom it is entrusted to clarify the mysteries that men have found within my Work so that everyone understands me.

41. All the past customs that you have added to my Work, you will have to leave them, and with a single purpose and with a single will you will spiritualize yourselves.

42. You were oppressed by evil and chained to materialism, waiting for me under the roofs of the quarry temples that man has formed. You had not understood that this time I was coming in the Spirit to give you my teaching, and here I am manifesting myself among the humble so that they may carry to the world the message that will spiritually liberate humanity.

43. As a loving Father I come to you to offer you my love, because first of all, I am your Father who forgives you and comes to cover your spiritual nakedness with his mantle. But as a perfect judge, I give you my word and I give you the opportunity to restore to your spirit its primitive purity.

44. It is time for you to fulfill my law. Do you want me to ask you again why you have not understood me? You have to be the good and faithful disciples of the Third Time, do not sleep anymore. See that my wounds are still oozing divine blood.

45. Do not expect my justice to be felt among you. Arise, people, and present to me the multiplication of the seed that I have entrusted to you. And if you have not contemplated the conversion of the world, it has been because you have not prepared and spiritualized yourselves.

46. Israel: prepare yourselves, because you will have to travel the roads spreading my teaching so that humanity understands it and when you stop listening to my word, let there be no pain in you.

47. Chosen people: Spiritualize yourselves, move forward so that the times do not surprise you, make yourselves worthy of the reward that awaits you in the Hereafter.

48. The moment has come when the Master is no longer going to deliver his word to you through the spokespersons, but it is not my will that you return to the paths where you may lose the preparation that you have achieved with the practice of my teachings. Take my strength and let the light be in your understanding.

Love one another!

49. I have come to illuminate your path because I am the guide of your spirit. I have been polishing you to give you a solution. I am your Father and as a Father I have come to give you my word so that you will no longer fall on your way.

50. Seek me, my children, in your heart, that is where I am dwelling. Penetrate into repentance so that you can live in the Land of Promise.

51. I am the light that pours incessantly.

52. I am the eternal Word who asks you: Until when do you return to Me?

53. Blessed are you, blessed people, my peace, my light and my love be with you.

54. My people: It is a day of remembrance in which all humanity prepares to celebrate the birth of Jesus. Men have unified spiritually to raise their prayers, asking for the peace of the world. But this prayer in some springs from the bottom of their heart and in others consists only of words. True prayer, born of spirituality, is practiced by a very small number. But the preparation of all the peoples of the earth, united with the preparation of the spiritualist people, forms a single prayer, a single prayer that comes to Me.

55. The love that I came to preach to the world as a Teacher has not been understood and for this reason man feeds fratricidal wars with his hatreds. It is your works that are bearing the fruit that you then reap. If you want to be righteous, you have every opportunity to practice goodness. I pour out my grace on you so that you fulfill your mission with all perfection, but if you want to impose your will and selfishness, disobeying my Law, then you will be responsible for the evil that you have caused yourself.

56. Spiritualist people: It is up to you to unite with the spiritual forces that vibrate in space to help the world. Unite also with those who think of a world of peace and tranquility, of love and well-being.

57. Beloved people, My Word feeds not only you. My word pours out in inspiration on all those who feel human pain, on those who yearn for goodness and charity for humanity, Blessed are those who forgive and repent of their sins, who are willing to purify and overcome themselves in order to rise spiritually and serve humanity. To them I give my grace, my inspiration, my forgiveness.

58. The only way for the nations to live in peace is obedience to the Christian principles that Jesus came to teach in the Second Time and which I come to remind you of.

Love one another!

59. It is the principles of love, understanding and charity that humanity must practice in order to live in peace. But to those who lack spiritual evolution, I also give my love and my grace without contemplating their faults. I consider you all as my flock and I love you all equally for this reason I tell you: No one is far from Me, my forgiveness encompasses the whole world, even when you rebel before my Law and feed your hatreds, I forgive you a thousand times so that you have the same opportunities to regenerate and reach eternal perfection.

60. Spiritualism is not a religion, it is the same Doctrine that in the body of Jesus I came to pour out into the world for the guidance of all men in all times. It is my doctrine of love, justice, understanding and forgiveness.

61. In this Third Time, due to your material and intellectual spiritual evolution, I have spoken to you more clearly.

62. Spiritualism must be in each and every man. I come to speak to the spirit so that he rises in union with his matter and it receives from his own spirit, revelation and inspiration that can be applied to himself and for common benefit fulfilling the universal Law of working for the good of humanity.

63. My spiritual Work has been understood in all times by all beings who have awakened and evolved towards eternal perfection. They have received from the inexhaustible source of my grace and my divine wisdom, and have prepared a better future for men, inspired by the Spiritual World. The entire scientific and beneficial development for humanity has been inspired by the high spirits who, as teachers, are continuously directing the brains that are preparing to work for a common good.

64. In this way the essence of my teaching, the inspiration of my wisdom, is received by the brain; but, according to the spiritual preparation of man, with his inclinations and with freedom of thought, he can accept these ideas for his good or for his own harm.

65. If the scientific man, by his intellectual capacity, works for the detriment and destruction of humanity, this should not be attributed to the inspiration of high beings.

66. These beings have inspired your brain to understand Nature, to search it and find its great mysteries and understand all its manifestations. But man is free to apply that inspiration, that grace in any way he wants. It comes to him as a benefit, but if his feelings lack nobility or because of his perverse instincts and lack of spirituality he wants to take advantage of that inspiration to cause evil, he can also do it.

Love one another!

67. This is the free will that I have granted to man so that he may be responsible for his actions and have merits for them or be entitled to the purification that imperfect works originate.

68. Man is made in the image and likeness of his God, in his spiritual part, because he is endowed with the same faculties of the Divine Spirit. Your body belongs to the Earth, but your spirit has sprung from Me and to Me it must return pure and perfect. That is why the path of the spirit is of long evolution.

69. A single substance is not enough for your spirit in its eternal existence, just as a single garment is not enough for your body during its life in this world. Therefore the reincarnation of the spirit is necessary for its evolution. At each stage you know wealth and poverty, health and all the diseases that afflict humanity; you know selfishness, pride, restlessness and lack of charity and also forgiveness and love, nobility and generosity.

70. You have come to this time incarnating in one and the other matter; your spirit has been purifying itself of its stains, because from the beginning it allowed itself to be overcome by the inclinations of matter, moving away from the purity and perfection that it had when it sprang from Me.

71. You have reached the Third Time and your spirit has evolved, but not enough to be able to completely master its material instincts and live in an entirely spiritual stage.

72. In this Third Time I have come to clarify my Doctrine through the human understanding, to give you a new opportunity on the path of evolution of your spirit.

73. Blessed people: Just as my disciples in the Second Time, listening to me and witnessing my great works, did not understand the greatness of my teachings until I was no longer with them, and until then they made the intention that their actions conform in every possible way to my teaching. The same thing will happen to you too, people. I leave you spiritual wisdom so that your acts may be worthy and noble of my Work, serve as a basis and inspiration and that in each of your works you may go telling the world that Christ has manifested himself spiritually by pouring out his inspiration, as an inexhaustible source of grace and wisdom, through the human understanding prepared by his infinite charity.

74. I have taught you to see God as the whole, as the limitless wonder for your mental conception, as the force that originates movement and action in the entire Universe; as the life that manifesting itself is both in the simple plant, as in those worlds that rotate by millions in space, without any of them disobeying the law that governs them.

Love one another!

75. That Law is Me, it is your God, it is the Law of continuous evolution that is marveling man, giving him wide fields of research that allow him to penetrate the secrets of Nature.

76. In this way the communication between man and God will also be verified through the knowledge of that Nature, in which the greatness and power of God is manifested.

77. God then is not a figure, not an image, not a phenomenon.

78. Everything created has been formed through a continuous evolution, I have already told you, since the beginning of life, that is, from the moment I manifested life in an atom and it was developing into molecules and molecules into elements and from these sprouted the worlds, which were populated according to that same Law of logical and natural evolution.

79. My Doctrine is the basis of all knowledge, of all action, it is light to be able to know all the wonders that man, due to his lack of spirituality, still cannot understand.

80. Man is the one who puts up barriers to his spiritual advancement. God does not punish nor is he an executioner. God is powerful, strength, light, life and love. He incarnated his word to live with you on earth, exposed to the same temptations and therefore loved you more. God being wisdom, understanding, universal peace, how can you believe that by loving you as He loves you, that by endowing man with so many graces and gifts, that by preparing him for an eternal spiritual life, he can punish him? No, humanity, it is you who are attracting all the trials of pain that come to you. You throw the dart that is going to hurt your brother, you raise the murderous hand to eliminate the one who hinders you, that is why I tell you that it is you who, in my divine justice, are making yourselves worthy of a purification. If your works are directed towards universal perfection, then you are worthy by your merits of a prize, but if your works are evil, to a purification, either in matter or in spirit.

81. The forces that constitute evil are forming a powerful nucleus to precipitate the world in its wars, so that man is unknown and destruction is everywhere.

82. This will be the last year in which with my word through human understanding, I remind you of the Christian principles of love and forgiveness.

83. Love your neighbor, live in peace with yourselves, forgive those who offend you; because Christ forgave you and your Master manifested in this Third Time as the light of the Holy Spirit, also forgives humanity.

Love one another!

84. My people, open your lips to lavish comfort, encouragement and counsel. May each of your acts be an example of love so that my teaching may be understood by your works, more than by your words.

85. In this way the world will understand that Christ passed through the Earth again, not in material form with the body that Jesus carried for 33 years, but with the light and wisdom poured out in each of his disciples.

86. Beloved people: Because of what is noble and generous in your spirit, I say to you: Practice my Doctrine, do good, judge no one. Take care that your body is not the instrument that leads you to degeneration and impurity, but that it helps you to the elevation of your spirit and even when you have temptations you can emerge triumphant from them.

87. Take your body as something delicate that has been given to the spirit for its evolution.

88. Do not judge the other doctrines as imperfect, concretize yourselves to do well.

89. I place My clean and pure Work in your hands and you will be responsible for the way Spiritualism develops.

90. I leave you no established practices, nor obligation to comply with certain rites, because it is not my will that you fall back into fanaticism, you will gather to study my word and you will make others participate in this knowledge.

91. Spirituality will make itself felt when all peoples have the same ideology, then it will be the reign of Christ.

92. The Christian principle will prevail and spirituality will serve as a guide for men to establish the just laws that govern humanity. Only in this way will there be peace in the world.

93. As many times as you gather to study my word, to communicate your problems to each other, to do a common good, to ask for spiritual help, to do mental prayer; concentrate on yourselves and anyone of you prepared in this way will speak and give advice. In it the words of the Master, which he gave through the spokespersons, will be repeated. But it will not be necessary for him to enter into ecstasy, only through inspiration will he have the opportunity to exercise charity and make my Work known and felt.

94. People: Go to humanity, speak to it as Christ spoke to you, with the same charity, with the same determination and hope.

Love one another!

95. Make them see that there are ways of elevation that give greater satisfactions than those that give material goods. Let them see that there is a faith that makes believe and hope beyond the tangible. Tell them that their spirit will live eternally and that therefore they have to prepare themselves to get to enjoy that eternal happiness.

96. In this way fulfill, go along the paths with the truth and the elevation of your works and when you come to Me, I will tell you: Blessed are you, come to be part of Myself, come to enjoy the ineffable bliss of my Divinity. Forget about matter, forget that you had sorrows in the world, and you will no longer have to feel pain or face an accumulation of temptations.

97. You will only be spirits who, by your merits, have traveled the scale of perfection: that scale of Evolution, a scale of evolution that starts from the Earth and is lost in infinity. You will have been climbing step by step and in the end it will lead you to eternal life, to the Kingdom of light.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Beloved disciples of the Divine Master, you are coming once more and I am giving you a seat at my table. I contemplate that you have learned to sweeten your lips; even in the most bitter days, you know how to smile with hope and with faith, in the midst of the trance of pain and it is that you have been strengthened in my teaching.
2. This is how I want to contemplate you, always full of peace, strength and confidence; you have reached the time when you fully feel me inside and outside your being, close to you at any moment. You are no longer those who said, "Father, why do you forget me in the trial, why don't you listen to me?" Now you are the ones who know how to pray in the trial and after praying you know how to wait with conformity for the arrival of my peace; you know how to let the Master test you with obedience.
3. You are my disciples now. You no longer ignore the value of your merits and you know how to discover and judge your faults. Now you carry your enlightened spirit so clearly, that you know when you have pleased your Father and when you are offending him. You have moments of coldness, of decay, but after those moments, the flame of love and faith burns again in your heart, the altar of your interior worship is illuminated again, and you feel inside your sanctuary the presence of the Father, of that Father who is always in you, whether you are prepared or not.
4. I cannot abandon any of my children, because it would be to deny them their life. I have brought you life, not death.
5. O disciples! On the seventh day, the man of this time rests, raises his spirit for a moment to the Father in thanksgiving or in demand for help. But not everyone watches, not everyone prays, but for those who live awake, for those who watch over peace, for the well-being of men, I make the world reach a tatter of my mantle of peace, a drop of my divine balm, my oscar of love where my forgiveness is and the opportunities that I give to each spirit for its redemption.
6. It is a decisive time for the spirits, it is a time of strife, in truth. Everything is combat and struggle. That war is in the heart of every man, in the bosom of homes, at the root of all institutions, in all peoples, in all races. Not only in the material plane is fought, also in the spiritual valley. It is the great battle contemplated in a symbolic way by the prophets of other times, and seen through mirages by the prophets or seers of this time. But this battle that stirs, that moves everything, is not understood by humanity, even though it is an element and witness of that same battle. Humanity's pace is hasty these days, and where is it going? Where is the man walking so quickly? Is he going to find happiness along this dizzying path, is he going to achieve the desired peace, the greatness that every heart selfishly longs for?

Love one another!

7. I tell you that what man is really going to achieve with his hasty step is total fatigue. The spirit and the heart of humanity advances towards boredom and fatigue, and this abyss has been prepared by man himself.

8. Into that abyss he will fall and into that total fatigue, into that chaos of hatreds, of pleasures, of unfulfilled ambitions, of sin and adultery, of desecration to spiritual and human laws, he will find an apparent death for the spirit, a passing death for the heart; But from that death, I will cause man to rise to life. I will make him have his resurrection and in that new life he will fight for the rebirth of all ideals, for the resurgence of all principles and all virtues, which are attributes and patrimony of the spirit, which are his principle, his alpha; for from Me the spirit gushed forth, from Me he took life, from my perfection he drank, from my grace he was saturated.

9. In this time of the great spiritual struggle, accompany men with your prayer. If you see them crying, do not join your weeping to the cause that makes them cry, but weep for them, because they are your brothers, and may your tears of love be balm and consolation. If you look at them uneasily, do not share in their uneasiness, because you are the children of peace; but watch over them and all become angels of peace; let peace fall like a dew from your spirit, which is the fruit of love, on the whole Universe.

10. If you know that they engage in discussions and deliberate by exposing reasons that oppose other analyses, you be above all this; penetrate into my Work, into my word at that moment and pour on the reasons that assist men for their struggles and their wars, the light of the Holy Spirit with your prayer, your example and your word. If you see them walking with their weapons on their shoulders and then wield them mercilessly against their own brother, wield also your weapons of love, of charity, of forgiveness, of eternal life.

11. Conquer spirits for the Kingdom of peace! Convert sinners to the life of grace and in this way, the servants of the Father will be multiplying and the reign of sin, destruction and death, will be decimated by your struggle!

12. Blessed are those who, in the midst of so much darkness, still find strength in their heart to seek me or preserve in it an atom of limpidity to turn it for a moment into a sanctuary and let their conscience tell them about Me, about them and about their fellow human beings!

Love one another!

13. I have announced to you a time when the human spirit will practice a worship that it has never practiced in times past, that it will raise up to its Father the spiritual worship, which from the earliest times through my perfect lessons, I have been teaching man. I have always made great revelations, I have always been a Teacher and also as a Father I have been able to uncork the veil of my intimacies, of my mysteries, to make human creatures know me better and in that way I can be loved with greater perfection; but man has found material existence so wonderful, the treasure that this world contains so rich, that he has always forgotten the teachings that tell them about the spiritual life. He has only had eyes to look at the sublime creation matter, the work of the Father and mirror, weak reflection of the life Beyond and opening his eyes, his mind, his senses, to look, to touch, to desire the goods of this world, he has closed the eyes of his spirit and has forgotten that above all this there is another more wonderful existence, there is another even richer life and other truly greater flows; and in this love, in this attachment of man to material goods, he has found his own materialization. But in spite of this, his spirit has not forgotten me, he retains the intuition of my existence and, moreover, he experiences the need for a food that the earth cannot provide him, and he seeks me; but he seeks me weakly and not always in the best ways.

14. Since man is materialized, he has to look for me through the material cult and since the eyes of his spirit are not open, he has to forge my image to see me. Since he has not been spiritually sensitized, he always demands wonders and material proofs from me in order to believe in my existence and he puts me in conditions to serve me, to love me, and in exchange for what I give him, he gives me something. Thus I contemplate all the churches, all the religions, all the sects that men have created on the face of the Earth, wrapped in materialism, fanaticism and idolatry, mystification, adultery and profanations.

15. What do I take from them? The intention only. What comes to me from all this? The spiritual or bodily need of my children, their need for love, their need for light. That's what comes to Me and I'm with everyone. I do not contemplate churches, nor forms, nor rites. I come to all my children equally. I receive His spirit in prayer. I bring him closer to my lap to shake them, so that he feels my warmth and that warmth is stimulus and incentive in his path of vicissitudes and trials; but not because I know how to receive the good intention of humanity, I have to let it remain eternally in darkness, wrapped in its idolatry and fanaticism.

16. I want man to awaken, for the spirit to rise up to Me and in his elevation he can contemplate the true splendor of his Father, forgetting the false splendors of the liturgies and rites; I want that by achieving his true elevation he regenerates, emancipates himself from human miseries and can dominate materiality, passions, visions; finding himself so that he never tells the Father that he is the vile worm of the earth, so that he knows that the Father created him in his image and likeness.

Love one another!

17. This is the reason for your responsibility in this Third Time, O people of Israel.

18. I have told you that humanity is like an earth that I have been fertilizing and in that fertilization there is the awakening of its latent gifts and potencies. By intuition humanity is receiving my message, through spiritual dreams and in various forms. My Spiritual World awakens and prepares men. Events, happenings, speak clearly to the heart and the spirit and for all this, humanity has reached an atom of preparation. He knows that he is at a crossroads on the way; he feels that he has entered an era of transcendence and spiritual fulfillment; he feels that divine justice is inexorably hovering over all creatures; but the living word and the positive proof are missing before his eyes and this proof and this word you have, people. I have entrusted it to you; you are the bearers of this revelation, which is a seed of divine love that you are going to sow in the lands already fruitful by my perfect wisdom.

19. Continue to penetrate with meekness in prayer, so that I can continue to model you, so that I can soon let you become the servants and apostles of this Work that you know I have called Trinitarian Marian Spiritualist, a name that, in truth I tell you, must disappear when the world fulfills my laws. There will then be no need for a name, nor for symbols, because all of you will intimately carry it in your being as a spiritual stone, which together with those of all others, will form the true temple, the true sanctuary, where your Father and Creator dwells.

20. Is all of humanity Trinitarian? No, disciples. Not everyone carries in their spirit the legacy of the three times. There are many who do not even keep the testament of the two past times and there are those who do not even that of the First Time; but the Trinitarian seed, my law, Doctrine or Lesson, whatever you want to call it, that in three times I have entrusted to you, you will carry it as always to the hearts of all peoples and of all men. You are not going to impose my teaching with anathemas, with threats, or with pain. You are only going to expose her, to present her clean and pure as she is. You are going to offer this fountain of eternal wisdom and let the thirsty come to drink from its crystal clear waters; truly I tell you, those who feel that they have quenched their thirst will already be among you. Those who drink and have not been able to quench their thirst, those will deny, but you will leave that cause to me; and there will be others who will refuse to drink and you will wait, because the fountain is eternal. If those who refuse today, do not want to drink of these waters, tomorrow their thirst will be greater, their thirst will burn them and then they will come to the source and if they do not find it nearby, they will look for it through deserts and long roads, remembering that it was fresh and inciting, until they find it, because if the water was denied to Me, I will never deny it to you.

21. Humanity is not a spiritualist yet, but the spirits are already awakening and contemplating the deafness and blindness of their idols and already realizes the futility of false sacrifices and penances and I find many fed up, tired and fed up with fanaticism, they crave a delicacy that is really sweet and pleasing to the spiritual palate, they crave a wine that really vivifies the spirit.

22. I contemplate congregations, small sects and large conglomerates of men, who seek spirituality, who penetrate the spiritual sanctuary, the abode of spirits. Some by paths close to that of spiritual intention, which is the one that comes to Me, I will reward it one day and true Spiritualism, the deep doctrine, full of teachings and revelations, of consolation and spiritual sustenance of the Holy Spirit, will become revealed to everyone, to the anxious, to the thirsty and to the cold and indifferent.

23. Is the whole of humanity Mariana? Truly I tell you, no, many do not even know Mary. I contemplate a part of humanity that does not even know her name: another great part that has fallen into great fanaticism for Her, into the greatest idolatry, desecration, profit, and another part of Humanity and religions that do not recognize her as the spiritual Mother of Humanity.

24. I have named you the Marian people, because you are going to teach humanity who Mary is.

25. I tell you, O people! that Mary is not only the woman who conceived the Redeemer in the Second Time. I say to all those parts of Humanity, which I have mentioned to you, to all sects and religions, to all races and to all beings, that Mary is the divine maternal essence that has always existed; she is the Universal feminine essence that you can discover and contemplate in all the works of Creation; she is the maternal Spirit, she is tenderness, she is intercession and the breast that suckles. Since ancient times, the existence of Mary and her material advent have been revealed to you, because in truth, from the first to the last, I have spoken to everyone as a Father, as a Judge and as a Teacher.

26. From the Very First Time, the patriarchs and prophets began to talk about the Advent, about the coming of the Messiah. But the Messiah did not come only in Spirit, he came to incarnate, he came to become a man and to take flesh from a woman. The divine maternal essence also had to incarnate, become a woman, like a flower of purity; so that from its corolla the fragrance, the perfume of the Word of God that was Jesus, would sprout.

Love one another!

27. When that woman had reached her maiden age, she was betrothed. The Father sent an angel to announce his mission. But how did the angel find her, how did he surprise the betrothed virgin? Praying, and finding her ready, he said to her, "Hail, O Mary, who have found grace before God. Do not be afraid, for your womb will conceive the One who will reign over the house of Jacob, and his reign will have no end."

28. Did Mary know that she was going to conceive a King more powerful and greater than all the kings of the earth, and was that why she was crowned queen among mankind?

29. Did Her lips proclaim in the squares, in the streets, in humble homes or in palaces, that She was going to be the Mother of the Messiah, that the Only Begotten of the Father was going to sprout from her womb? No, in truth, people, the greatest humility, meekness and grace was in Her and the promise was fulfilled, her human mother's heart was happy and from before she gave birth, at the moment and then, throughout the life of the son, she was a loving mother, who spiritually knew the destiny of Jesus, the mission he had to perform among men and for which he had come. She never opposed that fate, because She was part of the same work.

30. If she sometimes shed her cry, it was the cry of a human mother, it was flesh that felt the pain of its own flesh in the son. But was she a disciple of the Master, his Son? No, Mary had nothing to learn from Jesus. She was in the same Father and had come to incarnate only to fulfill that beautiful and delicate mission and did that distinguished Mother's heart materialize to love only her beloved Son? No, really. Through that little human heart, the maternal heart was manifested in consolation and in sublime words, in counsels and in charities, in wonders and in light, in truth. The ostentation was never in Her, the word of the Master never disturbed her, but just as it was at the foot of the manger that served as her cradle, so it was at the foot of the cross where the Son, the Master, expired, giving the last breath as a man.

31. Thus she fulfilled her destiny as a human mother, giving a sublime example to all mothers and to all men and so that She would be taken into account by humanity, so that She would also be loved and so that Her example would not be erased from the hearts of men, the Master, bleeding on the wood, dedicated one of his seven words to the Mother, saying to her: "Mother, behold your son!" and saying to the son, who at that moment was John, the apostle of the Lord: "Son, behold your Mother!"

32. With this the Master wanted to leave John, representing Humanity and create in the hearts of men a sanctuary of love and respect for the Universal Mother.

Love one another!

33. Did John, the apostle, take that motherhood only for himself? No, in truth, he came among his own, among the companions of struggle and teachings, among the other disciples and said to them: “The Master said this before he left” and then the disciples remained around Mary, until She had to rise to infinity.

34. On the day of Pentecost, that feast which the people had celebrated from the earliest times, the disciples were gathered together, and Mary was among them. And the Holy Spirit, symbolizing himself in a white dove, came and bathed them in his light and filled them with his grace.

35. The disciples felt the deepest respect and love for Mary; and if those sowers, those doctors of the spirit felt that veneration for the Mother of the Redeemer as a man, why should not the generations of the times that succeeded them feel it? I have told you that Mary is eternal and if you seek her, truly I tell you, many will find her.

36. When John, my disciple, was in his solitary retreat on the island of Patmos where he received the great revelations of the times to come, where he spiritually penetrated into the Afterlife, contemplating the great mysteries of the Lord enclosed in symbols, represented by figures, there he also contemplated the figure of Mary. In that great revelation entrusted by the Father to John for the men of the ages to come, there he, after a great sign, beheld a woman clothed with the sun and the moon under her feet and a crown formed on her temple by twelve stars. That woman was in labor pains and when that pain was more intense, John saw the evil in the form of a dragon stalking her, waiting only for the birth of the son to devour him. And the Master says to you: If that revelation, given by the Father to John, spoke of the times to come, I tell you: He saw Mary in the Third Time, about to give birth to the Marian people and the evil lurking among the Lord's people. John also contemplated that at the moment of birth a great battle of angels was being waged against the dragon that symbolized human evil, a battle that is the one you have now, because the Marian people has been born, has already arisen on the face of the Earth and today is receiving his shield and his sword of love to penetrate the great final battle.

37. That is what this revelation means, O beloved people! That is why the Father has said to you this day: Those who know Mary do not know her in her truth. They look at her only as a woman, they contemplate her only as a human mother and around Her they have created cults, rites, feasts and fanaticism. Because of this idolatrous worship, they have forgotten about fulfilling the laws of the Lord, the word of the Master and loving one another.

Love one another!

38. This is not how the Father wants the world to know Mary, nor is this how he wants them to love her. Mary is not only the woman, I have already told you: Mary is the maternal essence that exists in the divine and that manifests itself in everything created.

39. If you look for her in the solitude of the night, in the silence that nothing disturbs, there in the Cosmos, you will find her image, and if you look for her in the fragrance of flowers, you will also find her, and if you look for her in the heart of your mother, there you will have her. If you want to find her in the purity of the maiden, you will also look at her there, and just like in her, in so many and so many works, where the image of the eternal feminine that exists in God and is in all Creation is reflected.

40. When you lift up your envelope along the paths of fulfillment, of preaching, of teaching, you will stumble over hard hearts, over those who have set up a hermetic door so as not to let the essence of Mary's love or her name penetrate; for many, that essence does not exist. What are you going to do, O people? Are you going by force to tear down that wall, that door to make the Marian teaching penetrate those men and peoples? No, I have told you that you are only going to expose my Work, to present my lesson, but you will speak with so much spirit, with so much heart, with so much truth, that many of those who are reluctant will convert and say: "In truth, the essence of the Universal Mother floats in the Universe, the Doctrine is clear and understandable, it is like a fountain of life that invites you to drink, but that does not force you to take from it".

41. Truly I tell you, if that were the case, it has been a long time since I would have attracted all the spirits with my power, to wash them in those waters, to make them drink from them and to bring them to the end to which you have all been destined. But you will not have to come to Me only for Me, but also for you. That is why I have entrusted you with spirit, will, intelligence, powers and senses; that is why I have revealed my Law to you and I have entrusted time to you and left your spirit on a path of evolution, of progress and redemption of the same; I want your heart and your word to be like a fountain, like an inexhaustible spring among men and that your voice humbly invites you to drink of my word that you are going to pour out.

42. If that water is crystal clear, if it is immaculate as I have entrusted it to you, truly I tell you, there men will find their health and their salvation. They will make the cry come out of their throat, confessing that in you they have found my truth and this is the responsibility of Israel in the Third Time, this is the weight that rests on the Marian Trinitarian Spiritualist people.

43. Your meek and humble step is going to shock religions, it is going to shake foundations and principles. Your word, which will always be mine, is going to tear down false shrines and not a stone will remain on top of them; it is going to tear down idols, all that idolatry that has been done around the worship of God, just as it has been done about Mary and about her name, until it has reached the greatest exaggerations. All this will have to disappear calcined by the fire of the word of the Holy Spirit, which I have put and will continue to put in you.

44. After this my word has ceased to communicate through the spokespersons, I will find you gathered as my disciples of the Second Time on the feast of Pentecost and my Holy Spirit will come in fullness communicated from Spirit to spirit with you, precursors of this Third Era, precursors of the perfect communication, between the Holy Spirit and the spirit of men.

45. What will the Father reveal to you at that moment? What I did not tell you through the human understanding; but see that you have to penetrate into true consecration and spirituality; see that to achieve that preparation you will have to strip yourself of all traces of fanaticism and materialism. How will you be able to achieve that great preparation? With the study now, with the development later, later with your true love; because my word has not concluded. My word will not end in 1950. My communication will continue. But no longer through spokespersons, not through this form of communication. because your ecstasy after 1950 will be perfected more and more. Your spiritual elevation will be greater and my communication will only be through the spirit.

46. Those who have been my spokespersons have greatly walked the path. Those who received my ray a lot will continue in this development and will continue to deliver great inspirations. Those who rarely received my divine ray and my word was less in them, then, according to their preparation, my inspiration on them will be great, very great. They will not stop their development, their passage on this path, because what they did not reach in this time of communication through human understanding, they can reach from spirit to Spirit and there will be joy and grace in their spirit.

47. But I will not only communicate with splendor for those who were consecrated spokespersons. On the faculties my Divine Spirit will vibrate with splendor also; that grace will not be less in them; it will be the same for everyone. My Spiritual World will also vibrate, its fluidic thread, translated into inspiration and thought, will be about the disciples of the Lord, so that those beings of light, continue to communicate with the beings of this planet, about the guides, fundamental stones, seers and golden feathers; about the marked and unmarked; on those who have had the symbolic act of the mark, like all those who uselessly feel that they are part of my people; on the first and the last, there will be the tongues of fire that the Holy Spirit will pour out; so that you can communicate with all your brothers tomorrow, next tomorrow, that dawn that is already approaching among you and you can take my word, not only to those who speak your language, but also to those who speak the languages that you do not know today.

48. How will you be able to communicate with them? With your good will, with your effort, with your zeal and love: I will help you, the Father tells you. I will do wonders among you. I will cause from among you, from your congregations, to spring forth the precursors, the emissaries, those prepared by my will, possessing other languages to bring the good news, the Third message of God to other peoples, to other men, to other races. In this way, the tower of Babel, which has been destroyed materially by the hand of man throughout the ages, will also be destroyed spiritually and the tower of the Holy Spirit will be built on it, the true church, the true worship and the sanctuary where all hands are clasped, where all languages merge, where all races and bloods are confused in the love of the Father.

49. In this dawn of grace, in which you have received my word in a great number of precincts, but forming a single people, the Master asks you for vigilance, charity, prayer for the world; put away from your heart all division or resentment and draw closer spiritually, to form a people strong in spirit and that spiritual strength helps men. Why have you not yet been able to do great wonders in your spirit and with your thoughts? Why has the weapon of prayer that I have revealed to you not yet manifested itself with greatness in these times?

50. Because of your lack of preparation, people, because of your lack of union, you have allowed the bird of prey, the temptation that always lurks, to penetrate into you to divide and weaken you: a cunning ruse of temptation that has never allowed you to unite. While my word of love is always among you, your heart is still inclined to bad inspirations; you still allow yourselves to be seduced by the mirage and the falsity of the lights: but be alert people: alert, O Marian Trinitarian Individualist disciples, so that in these times of preparation for you, in these times of trial for humanity, which is once again drinking the cup of bitterness, you may be able to give proofs of your power, you may wield, not many weapons but a single sword of light and with it break the bonds of temptation, break chains of slavery, tear down walls, open doors to give freedom to the spirits and make them arise in the light of the Third Time.

51. You can do it, people, with thought, with prayer, but may it spring from the true love that I am inspiring you. Unite, recognize each other, forgive each other, love each other and then you will see wonders in the Universe and you will contemplate how this humanity that in a fast race walks towards the abyss that I am talking about, very soon it will find the fall and also the "up to here", which will be boredom, tiredness, the fatigue of the spirit in hatred, in materialism, in carnality and in pleasures; so that you arrive with a brother's hand and touch it with love and wake it up to tell it:

52. "Behold, there are no more palaces of greatness; kings have left their throne, the greedy rich have disappeared, and the weapons of war no longer spew death from their mouths. The captains and warriors are defeated. Lift up your face and contemplate on the horizon the light of a new day, a new dawn that comes to illuminate a new life"

53. I will receive your spirit in his prayer. I want to find grace in her and that is why I am going to manifest myself once again in the world, to pour out my Spirit in various forms among humanity. Without your mediation I could do it, but for her I am going to lavish charity.

54. So I leave you in this dawn of grace, elevated with love and charity for your brothers, spiritually elevated, so that you may feel in your being the blessing of your Father.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 361

1. I find you praying and my Spirit settles close to you. I come to feed on your love, on your faith. I have tasted your fruits and they are pleasing to me, therefore I bless you and grant you peace.
2. Your spirit has been tested in different ways by Me and when you have passed the painful moment, you rise up asking me if I have abandoned you and very soon you have found me. Truly I tell you that you are not alone and that your faith has made you overcome the hardships and the great trials of this time.
3. You who have traveled the long roads in search of me, have finally found me and upon hearing my word your doubts have been dispelled and you receive the clear answer to your requests. Everywhere you have heard supplications and invocations to my Spirit and even if you had not called me, I have come to you as I promised, because I told you that I would accompany you in your tribulations in these days of pain.
4. I have given you sensitivity so that you may foresee what is to come, so that you may live alert to every spiritual manifestation and recognize the fulfillment of my words.
5. I am speaking to you with the same love and wisdom with which I have spoken to you in the past times and I come to confirm my words of the past times and to demonstrate the fulfillment of the prophecies.
6. John saw in his great revelation, how my Spirit was to manifest at this time, when the Sixth Seal was opened, the book of wisdom would enlighten the spirits. He saw the great battles between men and their tribulations. He saw the Book closed and at last opened by the slain lamb. And before you I have shown page after page of that Book, for your spirit. In him is contained the law which I have given you from the beginning of time.
7. Judge my work, analyze it from beginning to end. Bring to your memory everything that has passed and unite it to this revelation, so that everything may live in your spirit. I have dictated laws and teachings for the material life of men; I have given lessons for the moral and spiritual life. I have transported you to the regions of the spirit and you have breathed the peace and bliss of that abode, so that you may know everything and be able to penetrate into the knowledge of my laws.
8. Live for a high ideal. Let your spirit regain its strength and energy in the fulfillment of its mission. Pour out peace on your way, invite humanity to pray with that prayer that I have taught you, so that it may feel worthy of its Creator again. Cultivate his heart, which is a virgin field, fertile land for my teaching.

Love one another!

9. In the exercise of my Doctrine, working for the good of humanity, your spirit will be forged, you will also enjoy and suffer and you will know what faith and love are worth. Do not be confused in the struggle with the various beliefs; my Doctrine is above all religion and every sect. Take my word, which is my expression of love, and do not take it as a weapon to fight your brothers, because it does not hurt, it does not hurt, it is only life for the spirit.

10. Clean the glass inside and out, so that it can contain the essence that I have come to deliver to you. Your mission is great, to succeed you must work together. Be confused with all peoples, mix with all races, take my message of peace to everyone. Then I will take you to the valley where you will all be the same, where human misery and selfishness disappear, to be only spirits.

11. I know that for a while you will still make restitution for your division, but a day will come when tired of your weakness, you will seek to be strong for union and harmony.

12. I want you clean, that is why you are purifying in pain to restore the spirit to its original purity and virtue. These trials that you are now suffering, will not make you die, they will only awaken you from your deep sleep, to seek the perfection of your spirit.

13. If until now you have not dignified yourselves by your deeds, the day will come when the humility, perseverance, love and faith of this people will be worthy of praise. Many, recognizing these virtues in you, will want to give you a name or a title, or put a crown on your head, but then you will remember Jesus and humbly hide yourselves. Your kingdom, as I told you, is not in this world.

14. If you want to conquer the heart of humanity, speak with truth, with the utmost truth; be humble among the humblest, so that you may be believed in your words and deeds.

15. How much my Spirit will be recreated when I see your work emerge from the moral and spiritual rubble of humanity. Your work has already begun. Here are the sick who have been healed; the unbelievers who have been born to faith; the sinners, regenerated. Your work is still small, but I consider it good and multiply its fruits.

16. Israel: The Master stands before you full of love and charity. I have always given you proofs of my love in the path I have traced for you.

17. My Divine Word speaks to the people and this word is sent to you by the Father so that you may know the work that I have entrusted to your hands.

Love one another!

18. I show my apostles as an example for you. Therefore at this time I pour myself into your spirit so that you may bend your matter. I have touched the hardened rock to make crystal clear water flow out of it.

19. Do not think that you have already reached the end of your fulfillment, nor that I will continue to speak through the human understanding after 1950: everything that I have told you has been fulfilled and will be fulfilled beloved people.

20. In the Third Time your spirit was sent to reincarnate so that you would have a new opportunity to fulfill your mission, taking advantage of the presence of my Divine Spirit at this time.

21. I stand before you because of my great love and I give you strength, because I do not want to see you weak.

22. I am the source of grace and love, drink, give life to your heart and spirit, turn away from materialism so that you can understand the greatness of the mission that I have given you.

23. Beloved people: If your heart is full of pain, come to Me, for I will turn your suffering into joy and strengthen you in spirit and matter so that you may continue on the path full of joy and hope.

24. I receive the multitudes who in caravans seek me to make me present their pain: I listen to them in silence, they are the multitudes who come to these humble enclosures of different sects and religions to hear my word, to receive in their spirit and heart my message of peace and hope.

25. When they reach this tree, they feel the freshness of its shade that makes them rest and they delight in listening to the trills of my nightingales. Then they feel my presence and the sweetness of the fruit of this tree.

26. It is written that in this Third Time He would come in Spirit and like a ringing bell he would make the call to humanity, to give him consolation, bread and spiritual water. I have come to build my temple in the heart and in the spirit of my children. In the serenity and silence of that temple, you will feel my presence, there I will receive what you make present to me in your meditation and prayer. Inside that temple you will feel illuminated with the light of the Holy Spirit.

27. I have come to prepare at this time the twelve tribes of my chosen people, so that through him all the nations may receive the light; so that at the sound of the trumpet those who sleep may awaken and lifting their gaze to Heaven they may contemplate me with the eyes of their spirit.

Love one another!

28. Humanity is disoriented, but I have come to lead it with the light of the Holy Spirit and to recognize my word by its essence.

29. Over time those writings left by my disciples have been altered by men and therefore there is division between religions. But I have come to clarify all my teachings in order to unify humanity in one light and in one will.

30. The year of 1950 is about to end, but I have left you a great teaching that you must make known to the new generations so that they may find peace and life for the spirit.

31. In your hands I entrust the Book of the Third Testament so that with it you may give the good news to humanity.

32. Your heart already senses the nostalgia that you are going to feel when you no longer listen to me in this way, that is why I have told you: put my teaching into practice and do not let yourselves be surprised by those who tomorrow will get up prevaricating and saying that I still communicate through their understandings.

33. You are witnesses that what I have said to you in my word has been fulfilled and you have to live alert so that there is no disobedience among my people. You will feel the pain of those who are weak and have not yet understood my teaching, but you will explain my truth to them and lead them with my word. I will manifest myself through those who are prepared and also through the last ones I will pour out in light and inspiration.

34. I will not leave humanity abandoned; I will continue to rescue the lost, calling to this table those who did not listen to my word in this way. Elijah will continue to gather the multitudes so that you may show them the book that contains my word. Through you I will awaken the lethargic spirits and turn idolatry away from them; but if you were not prepared to speak to humanity, then the stones will speak and you will see the most clumsy being my true disciple and speaking of my truth.

35. You will give the good news to humanity without adulterating my Work, you will be humble like your Teacher and you will not put on regal garments to attract the attention of your brothers.

36. Tomorrow you will not adulterate my Doctrine, teach only what I have come to entrust to you. I have given you my teaching in abundance so that you may be the guides and messengers among mankind. When you no longer hear my word through the spokesman, you will help and love each other, so that you can solve the problems that come your way.

37. You are the people that I am unifying, so that humanity may recognize me through you. I am the supreme charity and I have fed you with the delicacy of delicacies. Great is the struggle that you are going to have, that is why I come to speak to you with love to remove from you the mistakes that you attributed to my Work; so that when the time comes you can be the light of the world.

38. The spiritual hosts are surrounding your spirit, they are ready to engage in the struggle, because you will not find yourselves alone in this contest of ideas, my Spiritual World will also be with you. They are inspiring you peace and harmony so that you can show yourselves to humanity.

39. Your struggle is going to be great; you are going to set an example of obedience and show in your heart the Law of your Master. You will be encouraging humanity, but my Universal Ray will no longer manifest, nor will my Spiritual World communicate through your understanding. However, the Master will give you his teaching in a higher form and as a Holy Spirit, strength, blessing and discord.

40. The end of 1950 is approaching and sleepy humanity has not felt me, but I am going to wake it up so that it can contemplate me.

41. When will these events be? That time is near. Soon is the end of my communication through human understanding. Through the spokespersons that have been prepared in these last days, I have given you great and clear teachings, loving commands so that you can fulfill them after you no longer hear my word in this way.

42. I have opened before you the Book of my Wisdom and I have taught you how you should fulfill your mission, how you should walk on my path; I have pointed out to you the dangers and I have given you the power to overcome obstacles and break down barriers.

43. Before I stop speaking in this way, I have to leave you prepared so that tomorrow you will be the teachers who will show my teaching to the new disciples.

44. If you feel lacking in this teaching, do not blame Me, for I have given you in abundance my word, the bread of eternal life for your spirit.

45. I have given you my Doctrine with perfection and if you add to it what does not belong to it, your conscience will tell you what you must set aside so that tomorrow humanity will receive only my perfect teaching.

Love one another!

46. Tell humanity that as Almighty God, I have always found myself among you, you have needed nothing, because I have filled your spirit with grace and power at every stage of evolution.

47. You have sworn to love me, people, in the presence of my divine light, but your materialism has always been the obstacle to the fulfillment of the spirit, because you do not know each other or know what your purpose and ideals are. But my charity has gathered you together in the prison, so that you may feel the fire of my love and recognize the peace of my Holy Spirit.

48. I am the giver, I have more to give to you than you have to ask of me. I know the needs of matter, I know the spirit and I know your afflictions and uncertainties.

49. Luke, Mark, John and Matthew, were chosen by my will. To each spirit I entrusted a position, a responsibility and they firmly, decisively and lovingly spread my Doctrine and formed the testament of the Second Time, and just like them, today I awaken your spirit so that it can recognize the time, feel and understand the oath it has made before my Divinity, and rise to the fulfillment of its mission.

50. Jesus testified to the divine power because they were in Him the same God who showed himself on earth so that the world would know him; he was the same Father who gave himself to the people in word, in love, in truth and in light.

51. What is written in the golden album will be effective and fulfilled; in the course of time everything will be consummated.

52. Israel: Not only at this time have I spoken to you, but your spirit has found itself chained and has wasted what I gave it in the First Time, in the Second and today in the Third. And what are you waiting for from the Lord? What is your decision and desire? I am speaking to you, pouring out my Divine Word; but I will not give you any more time to continue communicating with me through the mouthpiece and if the spirit rebels and matter stubbornly disobeys my commands, you will greatly have to answer to me; for as a judge I will call and make you understand what is written in the book of your destiny. When the spirit arrives before the supreme judge, he will recognize his lack and full of sorrow, he will ask me for one more time for his restitution, a new reincarnation.

53. I have not only spoken to your spirit, but to your matter; to it I have given life, strength and charity in addition, so that the spirit can fulfill its mission.

54. I have poured out my divine Word with love, I have given you everything that my most loving Father's Spirit and heart had arranged for you, you are the most precious thing of my Divinity.

Love one another!

55. You are at the end of my communication by the understanding of the spokesman, but when you no longer listen to my lesson, I will continue to guide you, because I would cease to be a Father if I abandoned you in the desert lacking bread and water.

56. Prepare yourselves with my teaching, study what I have been giving to your heart in my word.

57. Prepare your brain to receive the vibrations of my light. Develop your gifts so that you can stop the elements, for great catastrophes are to befall humanity.

58. My most loving Father's heart is opened, so that the last one may feel in his spirit the warmth of my divine love. I am the open book, the truth and the Law.

59. I have given to humanity my spiritual Doctrine, the Doctrine of love and harmony. It is not only at this time that I have given you my teaching. From the first moment when my Divine Spirit sent your spirit to Earth, I have spoken to him through my chosen ones and I have never led you to darkness, fanaticism, or idolatry; because these works are not pleasant in my sight, because it distances your spirit from the light, from my love and slows it down, making the time of its salvation lengthen causing it pain.

60. How can I make humanity recognize me, understand me and feel me in its heart? How can the spirit break the chain that binds him to materialism? Grant him some more time and make the appeal to the spirits of the chosen people of Israel, so that they, as good soldiers and farmers, rise up to the front of humanity to be their guide in the coming struggle.

61. The Divine Master descends to communicate through the human brain, but seek me in the depths of your heart, there I am.

62. Enter into deep meditation, people; close your eyes and try to contemplate with your spiritual gaze the multitudes that in future days will come to you in search of a testimony that tells them of my presence.

63. Think that you will have to wait for them with a heart full of charity, because they will arrive hungry and thirsty for love, as you arrived, looking for me to quench your thirst.

64. Do not go wanting to do great works without being prepared; try to achieve greater spirituality, because in this way, a word, a prayer or a work of charity, can do greater wonders than those that in your vanity you could have wished to perform.

65. Charity and more charity is what I have poured into you, charity, it is the feeling that I have fanned the most with my teaching, because charity is a reflection of love and wisdom. Truly I tell you, if you prepare yourselves to receive with charity your brothers who are about to arrive, you will have received them with the best of welcomes, with the most eloquent of the testimonies that you will be able to give of my truth. Before this test, very few will resist, but if by other means you would like to make them understand my message, you will have to fight a lot, because the world is tired of words, doctrines and philosophies. The world, of what it is hungry to the point of anguish and thirsty to the point of death, is of love, that is why I repeat to you, that a work of charity, although small, but sincere, heartfelt and true, will be able to more than a thousand sermons or speeches of beautiful words, but hollow and lacking in truth, such as those that the peoples of the world hear day after day, without those words being put into practice.

66. Prepare yourselves more for what you are going to say, although your eloquence will also help you and even the writings may serve as a staff or support for your memory; but do not forget that what your spirit does, what sprouts from the depths of your being, will be the most fruitful of your seeds, those for which you bring greater benefits to your brothers and at the same time for which you obtain greater happiness, when the time comes to receive your reward.

67. Beloved people: Come to Me, unify your thoughts with your conscience so that you may feel my peace.

68. What I have come to give you in my word will be your bulwark for tomorrow, your sword and your shield, and when you have unified yourselves in spirituality, the different religions will come to you so that you may love one another.

69. I have told you in my word that the time of my communication with you through the human understanding is about to end, but the echo of my divine voice will continue to receive it in the most intimate of your being.

70. You, at the dawn of the light of this new day, have perceived the call of the sonorous bell that is heard among humanity. You were the blind ones who contemplated the radiance of this light and who feel guided by my charity towards the way.

71. You are my disciples, the forerunners of the multitudes that will come to Me tomorrow, the ones who as emissaries will carry this message of peace, of life, of love and of light, with your examples you will bear witness to the truth that you preach.

72. The trials and stumbles that you have had, let them be the light of experience among you, so that tomorrow you may walk uprightly on my path.

73. I have revealed to you the reason for every event and every trial of pain among mankind. The reason why in this time of greatest perversity, I have come to enlighten you with the light of the Holy Spirit and have gathered the twelve tribes of my chosen people of Israel.

Love one another!

74. Just as in the First Time you arrived in the Land of Canaan, so now I want you to set out for the true Promised Land. You have already begun to take the first steps to climb the mountain on the top of which is the big city that awaits you.

75. Tomorrow you will not feel like orphans because I and my Spiritual World will be watching over you, so that you can fulfill your mission: I will make known to humanity page after page the Book of my teaching..

76. Your work does not end in 1950, but many of you are going to get out of the way, but blessed are those who stand firm because you will be pillars of my temple.

77. You ask yourselves: Will the Word of the Father go away and we will not feel that love again? Will the Master leave and we will not hear that word again that has been the joy of our spirit and its strength? No, my people, the Father is not moving away, the Master will continue in his mission of light. Today you have listened to me through one understanding and the other, but tomorrow there will be no limit to your preparation, because you will all be able to communicate with me from spirit to Spirit. And for everyone who is prepared. I will pour out my inspiration, then you will know the true ecstasy. Then the manifestation of the Master will have no limit. In the same way you will have the manifestations of the beings of the high spiritual scale.

78. You will pray in silence and I will receive your offering, and I will answer you by adorning you with my blessing.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 362

1. The Master receives you in his infinite charity so that you may listen to his word.
2. The Father says to you: Understand what I entrust to you spiritually so that you prepare to spread this message among humanity, because the time will soon come when you will no longer hear my lesson through a spokesman; I have announced it to you and my word is of a king and it must be fulfilled.
3. Since 1866 I have prepared the understanding of man to transmit my word and this manifestation is now coming to an end.
4. My Work is not new, you are already in the Third Time, in which humanity is evolved.
5. Has my word confused you, beloved people? I met you in different ways: some in fanaticism, others in idolatry, attributing the fate of men to the stars and still others denying my presence at this time, and that is why I found you weak. I have come spiritually in this Third Time to feed you with my word.
6. In three times I have taught you, and in this Third Time some of you have denied the truth of my Marian Trinitarian Spiritualist Work, and you have fallen back into idolatry and confusion, believing that you are fulfilling my will.
7. From the First Time, my Work began to manifest itself, making you recognize the one True God.
8. In this time I have prepared humble brains through which I have delivered my word to you, because I have always sought simplicity.
9. So in the First Time I prepared the understanding of Moses, a humble man full of virtues, a great spirit. Through him I delivered the Law to my people of Israel and led them through the desert for 40 years to take them to the Land of Promise.
10. In the Second Time the Word of the Lord came to incarnate as the prophets had contemplated, but Elijah came first to prepare his way.
11. Now you are in the Third Time, the time of the Holy Spirit. Since 1866 I have prepared the human understanding to serve as a pedestal for my Divine Ray and since that time I have been speaking to you through men and women.
12. It is the age in which the spirit must bend matter with love and matter must be docile to the command of the spirit.

Love one another!

13. The spirit will evolve from one plane to others of the scale and thus it will fulfill its mission, which in matter it could not bring to its end.

14. Where is the lie? Where they have turned my Work into merchandise, where they have misinterpreted my word given at all times. I have always asked you for my temple in your spirit, but your confusion has been great when instead of that, you have erected granite temples and adorned them with rich rhinestones and images made by the hand of man.

15. Humanity: I have found you turned into idolaters, seeking my Spirit in limited figures. Do you not remember that in the Second Time I led you to the riverbank of the rivers to give you my teaching? Did I teach you idolatry in those days? No, now, at this time, I come looking for the temple of your heart, the temple that will not be destroyed by the elements, because my Work that you will make known, will be white and pure as is my lesson; in that way fanaticism and idolatry will be destroyed.

16. I want to contemplate the temple of your heart always prepared for Me to dwell in it, which you will not adorn with flowers from the fields, but with the good works of your heart, with prayer. In that temple I want to contemplate a torch whose light will never be extinguished: faith. So when the elements are unleashed, you will be the boat of salvation for your brothers.

17. Come to Me, O beloved people, that the manna of my word may be in you; let its essence be life in your spirit. I have come at this time to give you again my Law, my truth and my love.

18. Contemplate humanity that is in need because of its sins; you must rise up to help it by giving them my teachings, so that it may rise up in prayer.

19. Israel: The time of the struggle is already among you and the moment is not far off when humanity will taste a very bitter cup; then you will rise up in prayer feeling the great pain of your brothers, but understand that for love of you and of all humanity I showed you the path of fulfillment, shedding every last drop of my blood and for the same reason I have come to prepare the world with my word through yourselves.

20. I am the comforter of the afflicted, I am the loving Father who comes to encourage you in your ways. The nations cry out, they have needed my word, they seek me and do not know how to find me, they are being whipped by the hurricane winds and in the seas of their wickedness they find death. And you, people, rise up like a strong soldier so that humanity may be with me in this time.

Love one another!

21. Israel: I come to prepare you with my strength, lean on my Law, repent so that the world of sin may be at your feet.

22. My word comes to give you the light of truth.

23. I do not want to contemplate this land strewn with corpses, I want him to rise from the grave like a new Lazarus. and with the power that I have given to you, help him to find eternal life.

24. People: What does it take for you to rise up to do my will? Rise up with the cross of fulfillment. Blessed is the one who fulfills because I will give him everything I have promised and when you arrive at my kingdom I will tell you: Welcome, beloved people, prepare your heart like an open book so that you may engrave my divine teaching in it.

25. I am among you because you need my light. In this Third Time you have not spiritualized your heart, but I have come to prepare it with love.

26. I come to give you the consolation and I have tested you so that you may realize if you have taken advantage of my word. Fulfill my Law and you will find true happiness, but when you have been disobedient, you have only felt pain.

27. Many have recognized me, have heard my voice and have risen close to Me. The world, too, tired of her motherliness, is looking for her Father. But you are my chosen ones whom I have fed with my word, so that you may call your brothers, so that they may receive the light that I have given to you.

28. I have been preparing you, because I want you to do works of true love in imitation of me.

29. Humanity is confused, it is rushing the cup of pain and not knowing what I have given it with so much love in my Work; they have given room in their hearts to temptation and have made bad weed bloom, this not being my will.

30. In the Third Time I have come to use men of good will, in some I have found the good intention, in others the inspiration and in others the obedience and the practice of my teachings.

31. But truly I tell you, temptation touches my people to strip them of my grace and my light. Great is the Master's struggle, but I pour out my charity on my chosen people, because I behold the white garment that I have given them torn.

32. Everything that your spirit has needed, I have granted it to you; I have given you my word so that you can spiritualize your heart.

Love one another!

33. Prepare yourselves, my people, the world needs you, look at how it feeds its wars, temptation has touched them and that is why they cannot get up; but I find myself enlightening humanity so that it receives my peace.

34. My kingdom is one of peace and love. I ask you, my people, for an atom of goodwill, a firm purpose and an infinite desire to serve humanity. I want you to feel his pain in the deepest recesses of your being, that you have charity for those who have not heard my word and who are only debating in their sufferings. Look, my children, how the woe of pain is in all the regions, how humanity shudders, how the guilty are washed away.

35. Multiply among your brothers the seed of love, use your gifts so that they may achieve their salvation, because you are the ones indicated to do so because in your hands I have entrusted the key so that you open the doors of my new revelations to humanity.

36. When you have accomplished your mission. I will receive your seed multiplied. You are the lamp that must illuminate the darkness of the peoples.

37. Understand that what I have given you is eternal because I have deposited it in your spirit. I have placed my Work in your hands so that you may work for the salvation of humanity. I have given you the law, by which the nations are to be governed, but do not be confused in the way. If you collaborate with the Father in this universal Work, do not practice rites or feed idolatry. Analyze my divine teaching, understand my divine intention, what in inspiration I come to deliver to you, since I unite myself with your spirit.

38. I have sent you into this world, you are my servants. Some are incarnate and the others are in spirit and these have communicated through the prepared brains. They have come for a restitution. In these my servants there is love because they have sprung from Me; they are illuminated because my divine light has bathed them and I have given them all. But they in their humility will be servants and not lords of mankind.

39. Elijah came into the world as a precursor of my coming in the Second Time, He was the prophet of truth whom I sent because humanity was being led by false disciples and it was necessary that everyone return to the fold, because everyone has to reach the Kingdom of Heaven.

40. In the Third Time I sent Elias again in spirit to communicate through Roque Rojas, so that the man would later receive my manifestation through the spokespersons.

41. Feel the suffering of humanity, because it has not found the saving boat, it has not been able to contemplate the light of the new dawn.

Love one another!

42. In fulfillment of the prophecies of the past times, I have come in spirit in this Third Time and have communicated through the human understanding. My Spirit illuminates humanity from the cloud.

43. I am the truth that I come to prepare hearts so that they recognize my way and realize that I have not abandoned the world.

44. I am among you as an open book. I am giving you the same teaching that your spirit has received in the previous times, but now you have evolved and that is why in the third Time my Divine Word has manifested itself through the human understanding.

45. I send my Universal Ray to enlighten, awaken and make your spirit recognize, what is its restitution and how it has to get up on the way to fulfill its mission; because times have surprised it and it has not been able to achieve the due evolution in its different reincarnations.

46. You have not been able to bend your matter to make it docile and obedient to my Law, because you have felt weak and have fallen into temptation, because you have not been strengthened by the essence of my divine word.

47. Being the judge and the almighty, I have not forsaken you or judged you, even though you have offended me and violated my Law.

48. Again I have made known to you how you will arrive at the perfect path that I have traced out to you so that you may find the life of the spirit.

49. You have all come at this time to fulfill the mission I have entrusted to you. But when I saw you sleeping, I spoke to you complaining that you did not know how to listen to the voice of your conscience.

50. I have poured out my Divine Word like crystal clear water on you. I have deposited my love and the essence of my word in your heart as a perfect and unique teaching and what has been the example that you have given to your brothers?

51. The world has not recognized by your lack of preparation the magnitude of the work that I have entrusted into your hands. Humanity has not felt the peace of my Divine Spirit in its heart, it is divided, feeding different ideals, looking for new deities and new laws to name themselves the representatives of God in this world.

52. I have spoken to you with justice so that you recognize your mistakes and be the example for others, because you are the children of the light, the flavor and the salt of the world, recognized as the Spiritual people of Israel.

Love one another!

53. I am your Teacher who I send you my light to remove all darkness from you, to become the good disciples who practice my teachings and convert your brothers.

54. I have told you about the apostles whom my charity brought out in the Second Time, I gave them a test so that they would believe in Me and follow me. Recognizing that in truth they were before the Master, the hinojos offered to follow me to become my disciples, the preachers of my Law, of my Work.

55. Their hearts were fragile just like yours; it was necessary for the Master to polish them by speaking in front of them; it was necessary for the Master to engrave in their hearts syllable after syllable of the Law to make you the good disciples, and after they received my teachings and all the proofs of love that I granted them, it was my will to send them to the roads so that they could talk about what they had heard from Me.

56. But before the Master left, it was necessary to test their hearts, for this I sent them to different paths to see their confidence, strength and conviction in my truth. But when they found themselves without the presence of the Master, they felt like children, their spirits declined, their will weakened. Scarce was still the elevation and self-confidence. Thus they were tasting the bitterness and shedding their tears, but the Master gathered them together again to give them trust and love.

57. When I came to this world, I was not inspired by any human ideal, nor did I take teachings from any religion or knowledge. I was the knowledge, the perfection, the same God who became man in this world for faithful fulfillment of the Mosaic law that they had unknown.

58. When the crowds gathered to listen to the teachings of Jesus, my apostles focused their attention and respectfully listened to my word. One sentence was enough for them to know the infinite charity of the Divine Word. One word was enough for them to forge a book of immense wisdom and knowledge of the Doctrine that I was spreading. Because I gave you a perfect teaching, so that my chosen ones could be at the forefront of humanity and guide it along the path of love, peace and understanding.

59. I have never abandoned you, I have always looked out for you, for all humanity, giving each one what he needs, so that your spirit can be strengthened and he himself can break the links that bind him to materiality.

60. I have come again in Spirit at this time as power and love over this humanity, when it is lost and men have made the call to war; when the elements have been unleashed and trials and diseases bring down the regions and in the homes they place the mourning crepe; when the heart sobs and the afflicted matter is traveling through the paths of his life, without finding the guidance or the hand that with kindness gives him bread, strength and help.

Love one another!

61. The loving Father cannot abandon humanity in its uncertainty, in its sorrow or in its affliction. The prophecies that I have given you are being fulfilled.

62. Turn away from materiality so that you can fulfill the divine and spiritual Law that I have given you; it is perfect, pure and full of light so that you may find life, charity and know how to lead yourselves along the path of love, understanding and morality.

63. Your heart has not bowed to my love; your darkness and misunderstanding have not allowed you to find the essence of my teachings within the perfect light that I am pouring into your spirit and your ear has not listened to me. Do you want Jesus to come down to materialize so that you can feel him close to you and be able to touch his wound with your hand, touch his clothes? No, that time has passed.

64. Beloved disciples: Truly I tell you that I am pouring out my Holy Spirit among you and the essence of my word in your heart.

65. I receive as a Father everyone who is listening to my word and everyone who is willing to take his plant everywhere on the roads, according to my will.

66. I come at this time so that you may feel again the faith, the trust and the warmth of my love; so that you may live with me for all eternity. so that you can relax and read my revelations and teachings as in an open book.

67. My Divine Spirit is at this time like a shining star before your spirit. I give you my light and my love, so that you may always have confidence in your Father and Creator, because the time has come when I want to contemplate you with the preparation in your spirit. I no longer want you to say that your Father has moved away from you; no, my children, you are not alone.

68. I do not want to contemplate you on your way with confusion in your spirit, because the midday light is illuminating your heart.

69. At this time I am going to give you what I had for you in my arcanum, for that it is necessary that you know how to look for me in the depths of your heart; it is necessary that you know how to comply with my divine Law so that you do not make mistakes and do not lead your brothers into confusion, but that you know how to understand and analyze my teachings and be my true disciples who practice them. Thus blindness will never exist in your spiritual eyes and your ears will be prepared to hear my voice, so that you may truly feel that the Master, the Savior of the world, is seated in your heart and manifests himself from there. In this way you will bear witness before men.

Love one another!

70. In order for this world to be purified, it is necessary that you spiritualize your life, that you be a living sanctuary and turn away from what does not belong to you and cleanse your spirit from leprosy and scum.

71. Without knowing what you were coming for and because the Father called you, you came closer and I have received you and with love I have prepared you. If for a moment pain has touched you, then I have given you comfort and given you life, encouraging and strengthening you with my caress, so that you may repent of evil deeds, because I really want you to appear clean and purified before Me.

72. Otherwise, you would not be seated at my table in this Third Time, you would not accept to take the waters that purify you and you would go on wrong paths; but the voice of the Father resonated in your heart and stirred your sensitivity and you could make yourselves present before your Lord.

73. I prepared and strengthened you, when your faith was about to be extinguished, I am the one who has ignited it, so that you may nourish it, because I do not want it to be lost. I want that with your preparation you get out of hand, because in truth you are the chosen ones and in turn I want you to free your brothers from darkness; for that you must recognize your God in the depths of your heart and spread the knowledge of my Doctrine throughout the world, lighting a torch in each heart. That is the worship that your God and Lord expects of you and that which humanity also expects.

74. I have come to teach you to elevate and to communicate your spirit with the Divine Spirit, I ask you and I tell you: Your Father is all love and charity and I manifest myself in the fullness of my Creation. I have taught you how you should carry my love, I have set you free and you are no longer in slavery, because I have burned everything unclean that existed in you and that fire has purified your works and your thoughts. I have broken the ties that bound you to this world.

75. You were walking on the wrong path, on paths that led you to death; that is why my word has been teaching you, like the voice that corrects and awakens you from your deep lethargy. He comes to remind you of what you have forgotten. I have ennobled you and made your heart a sanctuary.

76. This has been my struggle to save you, to take off the bandages that covered you, to teach you to contemplate me in my truth. From the outcasts that you were yesterday, I have turned you into the children of the light, into the chosen children who wear the best clothes, even when they are incarnate. It has been my will that you should become aware of my presence so that you might prepare yourselves and live in my kingdom. I wanted you to be the first to see me and feel me spiritually, so that you may bear witness to your brothers and sisters. Say that the hour has come for them to prepare, for the unbelievers to have faith. Tell men that my Kingdom is present in their own spirit; you are going to touch hearts from door to door to awaken those who are asleep, because death has ruled over them.

77. Men have unleashed wars to defend their thrones and passing powers. Go and tell them that the Prince of peace has come to fight against evil, but this fight is with weapons of love and light; for I have heard the groaning and crying of widows, the cry of orphans, I have seen the restlessness and hatred of men.

78. Go and tell them that the living God has arrived, that they do not need gods made by their own hands, nor material temples; that the God of love, light and peace, is calling all his children, so that they regenerate and listen to the voice of conscience.

79. I say to you: Welcome the prodigal son. You have wept a lot, because you encountered evil and had turned away from my eternal charity; only and you contemplated the abysses, the deserts, but now contemplate the fountains of living water that quenched your thirst forever; see the tree of life that offers you its fruits and its shade under its foliage. I offer you shelter and food, and I will remove your materialism from the past times.

80. I come to entrust you with the gospel that you will preach so that humanity may recognize me and rise up seeking my love. Tell your brothers and sisters that as a Father full of love, I am waiting for you with my open arms. Tell them that it is time for their spiritual unification, to erase their borders and to abolish the distance between them, because for Me you are all my children and I love you all equally. Take these messages to them, go on my behalf and imitate me on your way, may your words be of encouragement, comfort and life.

81. Fight on your way and overcome the darkness of the world; put idolatry out of hearts, prepare the way for everyone to come to Me. Wherever you make the call, it will not be you but Me who will make my voice heard and wherever you go, I will be there.

82. The Father says to you: Prepare yourselves because I am going to dwell in your heart; when you are worthy and your spirits are strong, then it will not be you who are going to give humanity, but I with infinite love.

Love one another!

83. Understand that I am going to use you, you must prepare to bear witness to Me, showing humanity the banner of peace and the Law as a port of salvation for the shipwrecked. Talk about spirituality without fear of theories, false doctrines, tell them that the Father does not want the perdition of humanity, that He seeks the salvation of all His children.

84. Say that you also came to Me without any good, that you were deaf and blind to the truth. Say that the inveterate sinner who has lost faith will be able to be saved, that I will know how to cleanse and purify his spirit. Do not be afraid, therefore, to descend into the abysses to save your brothers, go up to the mountains and give yourselves there too; but be humble, meek in heart and virtuous. As a guide, I will leave you the light of the Holy Spirit that is poured out throughout the Universe.

85. When the wrong interpretations of your brothers get in your way, tell them that, those who are healthy, do not need a doctor, watch and pray, rise up spiritually to Me, because I will collapse the tower of Babel, I will destroy idols, I will confuse the wise, I will show my light, I will remove blindness from men and I will uproot hatred and evil wills. I will cause the dead to rise, that those who have thought themselves great may see their littleness, and I will cause the proud to bow down before Me.

86. I seek the salvation of the spirit and in this time of great struggle, you must speak to those who want to crucify me again.

87. The Father says to you, if you love me, fulfill my Law, prepare yourselves. If you feel weak or you need something, ask the Father that I will listen to you, but ask what is just and I will fill you with my grace.

88. If you prepare yourselves, I will make you my apostles so that you may manifest my love. But do not magnify yourselves or take great steps, so that you will not be confused. When the time comes, Elijah, with the light of my Holy Spirit, will prepare you.

89. The gifts that I have given you I do not take away or change them, they will be in your spirit eternally and when you reach the top of the mountain, you will contemplate the fruit of your struggle.

90. Be guided by my most perfect teaching, carry calmness and peace in your hearts, so that you may give of it to others.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Love one another!

Teaching 363

1. Beloved disciples, come and listen to the word that will make you strong. Have the conviction of the truth of my Work so that you may practice it and by your example show it to your brothers.
2. When man is regenerated, when my truth reigns in him and his faculties overcome his worldly passions, then he will have understood my Work.
3. Great is the work of my farmers, and the road ahead is very extensive. His work has begun and the seed is sown, but other farmers will come to gather the fruit, so that the seed will be sown again over time. It is up to you, my people, to make my Work be recognized at this time and for humanity to receive the grace of my infinite wisdom as it has never been able to feel it.
4. My light, by spreading throughout the Universe, has given rise to the search for my truth in every doctrine, that is the reason for the attitude of men in their different beliefs.
5. It is the fulfillment of what had been prophesied. Who is the one who carries the truth? Who is the one who in sheep's clothing encloses the hungry wolf inside? Who is he who with clean clothes ensures absolute purity within himself?
6. You must practice Spiritualism to find my truth, because humanity has been divided into as many beliefs and ideas as the human brain has had evolution.
7. This is how sects and religions have been forming, and it will be very difficult for you to judge about the truth that is in each of them.
8. My Doctrine illuminates the thoughts and ideas of man and little by little each one will understand the bases to perfect his works directing them on a more perfect and elevated path.
9. Spiritualism is not a new doctrine that comes to achieve the evolution of the beliefs of past eras, no, it is the same revelation of the First and Second Times. It is the basis of all religions, the one that in these moments of division I have come to remind humanity so that it does not forget its principles. The works of man, his customs and ways of impressing the senses to flatter and puff themselves up in their different religions, are against what my Work comes to show the world.
10. I, through Jesus, left you the perfect Doctrine so that there would be an understanding of love among men. His works were a blessing to the world. Now one thinks again of

Love one another!

Christian principles, but the world is so far removed from them that only the trials that humanity is experiencing will remind it of the love that the Master taught by his example.

11. My Doctrine is the Light that you must seek so that peace may always reign among humanity.

12. In every act that leads to good purposes, my Work is manifested; it is an essential part of everything that man can build for charitable purposes, with true purposes of helping humanity, of bringing peoples closer, of directing men along the path of elevation and nobility.

13. The spirituality that I have come to teach you again is the divine Work that, being so great, can be limited to manifest itself in an act of love; but do not make mistakes and remain subject to the practices of some religion, nor do you follow the ideas that other men have established as immutable.

14. I have told you that my Work does not come to divide you, that you must unify your thoughts, do good by sharing my teachings with your brothers. If they practice them, no matter what their Doctrine is, they will feel spirituality, when they pour out their love among their brothers.

15. There are many who understand the spiritual essence of my Work and practice it for the satisfaction that comes from lavishing love and charity.

16. When the time comes when my word is no longer heard through human understanding, there will be those who will try to speak by usurping my name, but I have already told you: they will be impostors.

17. I will not leave you alone, your understanding will continually receive my inspiration. I will be in your words, in your actions. You will be able to continue meeting to remember my word, for this I have allowed it to be written, so that it may be a subject of constant study for you, but it is not my will that in your meetings you have materialized practices, because what I have taught you, would degenerate into rites and traditions.

18. I have given you my Work, each of you has a way to follow, an obligation to fulfill; adjust your needs to the teachings of my Doctrine. In all your actions you will find the opportunity to love and forgive your neighbor, to forgive your brothers, not under a mystical aspect, but as a natural act, according to the moment of evolution that you live. In this way the world will gradually understand my Work.

Love one another!

19. If humanity had listened, understood and analyzed my teaching, a path of truth and love would have opened up before it on the horizon and it would not be passing the trials of pain and distress in which it finds itself.

20. Understand that no one is just or perfect, your faults are great, you struggle with yourself. That is precisely why I have given you my charity.

21. Like that group of disciples I chose, who mourned the departure of Jesus, but who later had divine inspiration and their minds were enlightened and gave their lives to defend my Work, so you too will mourn the departure of the Master in his manifestations, but your brain will open, your heart will be inflamed with love and charity towards your brothers and you will continue to love me by loving and forgiving your neighbor.

22. Then my truth will be manifested spiritually and everything will be bigger, fairer and truer.

23. If humanity is not in harmony with the universal law that governs all creation, there will come a lack of control that will manifest itself in the strength of the elements.

24. Man has broken up the atoms, his evolved brain takes advantage of this discovery to obtain greater forces and cause death.

25. If man had evolved spiritually along with his science and his intellect, he would have taken advantage of the discovery of new elements for the benefit of humanity. But his spiritual backwardness is great, therefore his selfish mind has channeled its creative force to the detriment of humanity, using elements of destruction, departing from the principles of love and charity of Jesus. Therefore, when you watch the rain of fire fall from heaven, it will not be because the sky itself opens or the fire of the sun tortures you, no, it is the work of man that will sow death and destruction.

26. I have come at this time to remind you of my Doctrine of love and tomorrow your children's children will be able to hear the echo of my voice inviting them to reconsider, to realize that there are greater forces that can destroy it.

27. I tell you just as I said to my disciples then: Watch and pray that you do not fall into temptation, for you will contemplate times of bitterness. But if your faith is great, you will see that everything is for the benefit of humanity and in the future, when men understand that they have worked only for hatred and destruction, the forces of nature will be unleashed for the benefit of humanity and they will lavish love and remain in peace. Then the Spirit will find a more propitious path for its evolution, because I, O beloved disciples, have come to give you peace and comfort, I have told you about a better life and I have revealed to you the great wonders that your spirit will be able to show to the world. For you will give sight to the blind and heal the sick of the spirit with my word of love. You will make the paralytics leave their bed to follow me.

28. The time will come when by your fulfillment and spirituality you will understand me better, then you will feel united and there will be joy in your spirit, then you will all know how to watch and pray so that my blessed Work may be contemplated by the world with the purity with which I have entrusted it to you.

29. The time will come when every sect and religion will search itself to find what belongs to my Work, but to find that treasure it will be necessary to raise your spirit and listen to the voice of conscience.

30. Today the Master continues to teach you and to make men true Christians.

31. You do not know, my disciples, when you will see the end of your mission, when you will reach the triumph in your struggle, because from generation to generation you will continue working to achieve spirituality in humanity. You will cross the borders and the seas, you will go to the provinces, counties and nations to make my truth known.

32. Just as in the Second Time, when my disciples, bathed in the light of the Holy Spirit, rose up without fear to the world and without measuring the distances to deliver my Doctrine, so you will prepare yourselves and when the time has come, you will rise up to fulfill your mission.

33. In this Era I have found myself as a Teacher of Teachers, I have never given you a lie, I have always spoken to you with a humble and simple verb so that your spirit and heart could feel me and feed on the essence that strengthens, that quickens.

34. I know you and in all the times in which I have sent you to reincarnate, I have manifested myself before you. But your brain cannot remember your past reincarnations.

35. I have never turned your plant from the path of fulfillment, I have never given you the Law, nor have I led you along the paths that man has drawn. In every time humanity has transited to its free will and has shown the multitudes deities that it has forged in its brain, false words, lying prophecies have sprouted from its lips and there have been weak hearts, chained spirits that have not been able to free themselves and know that an eternal life awaits them.

36. Yes, Israel, the heart has always sought to worship material objects; the ear has been recreated with the flowery word; therefore what I gave in the Second Time as Christian Doctrine, man modified by converting it into religion. Egoism, greed and vanity have always been awakened in the human heart and they have become kings and lords to make the people bow down to them and turn them into vassals, slaves, chaining them to sin and leading them to darkness, disorientation and confusion.

37. The world ignored me like Jesus, locked me on the tree and later turned the cross into an object of idolatry and prostrated before him to implore forgiveness. Today you find yourselves feeding materialism, hatred and ill will. Humanity is today living in the third height of perversity.

38. On the path of life the old man, the young man, the maiden and the child have gone astray and do not find the perfect path that I have traced with my examples of love and charity.

39. The great multitudes have forgotten how to seek their Creator, the spirits have allowed themselves to be guided by matter and today they are sobbing because they have lost the grace and power that my charity gave them at the moment of sending them to Earth.

40. What has happened to Israel? What has humanity tasted so far? What has everyone found along the way? Only thorns and thistles, the war of ideas; all humanity is wrapped in confusion and who is to break what man has broken, what he has mistaken? Who is to give what is needed to humanity so that it can be guided by this Law, by this Doctrine and by this light? I, the Comforter who descends in the Third Time in the cloud to speak to the people and to teach them, to make them know once again that they have lost everything along the way and that I, as Creator, have taken them by the hand to lead them along my path, to make them know the spiritual life.

41. Tomorrow, great events will testify what I have given you in prophecy and because of the pain that the elements cause in the regions and nations, men will rise up looking for the people of Israel.

42. The warlike feeling advances and plagues, diseases, hunger, and as a result of this man has no peace of mind in his heart, nor in his home. And peradventure I have wished it so and my Divine Spirit descends to be recreated with your pain and suffering? No, beloved people, an infinite sadness exists in my Divine Spirit.

43. Humanity has forgotten the blessed maxim that I gave to it in the Second Time: "Love one another."

44. I have prepared an era in which humanity will rise up with obedience and your children's children will contemplate the greatness that I am going to pour out on this Earth. Because my will has to be fulfilled in this world that I gave you as an earthly paradise and the time will come in which the spirits who have greatly evolved, who have struggled, will come to this planet and my divine light will bathe the Earth and it will be in her the fulfillment of my Law.

Love one another!

45. Remember my word until the last moment of your life in matter and your consciousness will remind you of everything that in my word you heard and the mind had forgotten.

46. At that last moment your spirit will desire one more moment of life to be able to fulfill, but your destiny has to be fulfilled.

47. I have said that the time of confusion will come, of disobedience, in which the peasant will rise up saying that my communication through the human understanding will not cease, but the moment will have to come when my word will be fulfilled even if man wants to interfere with my will.

48. How many mistakes along the way have been made by many of those to whom I have entrusted an office and a grace. How much incomprehension I contemplate that is going to be unleashed in my children for after the year of 1950.

49. With man's misunderstanding and foolishness, he withholds my charity, and power and grace and finds himself outside the true path of Law, harmony, and truth.

50. I do not come to deny what I have given you years ago; since the year of 1866 by the first pedestal, I spoke to the people and prophesied that there would come a time in which my word would no longer be manifested among the people and when contemplating that the anxiety was taking over the hearts, I let them know with a simple word, that the year 1950 would be the last for the manifestation of my teaching through the understanding of the spokespersons, a word given in the same house of prayer that by name carries "Damiana Oviedo" .

51. Once again Israel will be disappointed, tribe by tribe; once again she will be torn and will want to trample the clean and pure Law that I have given into her hands; once again Israel will seek the ways of old to fall into idolatry and fanaticism; she will seek the sects and will enter into confusion, into darkness, and will be recreated with the flowery and false word that man will hand over to her.

52. How much pain the servants who have not understood my Law have caused to my heart, and how much pain are causing those who, having prepared and delivered them, today have given room to doubt, to uncertainty, have said because of their misunderstanding and egoism that I have to remain among the people for a while longer, that my Universal Ray will descend once again according to their human will and that I will continue to manifest myself for a long time. That is why I have told you when have I manifested indision, uncertainty or double will in my word? Never, in truth, because I would cease to be perfect, I would cease to be your God and your Creator.

Love one another!

53. In Me there is the decision, the only will and that is why I speak with the light of noon, so that everyone can feel me in my presence and in my power, so that the spirit can recognize the reason and the word that I have given through the human understanding.

54. The Master tells you: man has built houses and has named temples for them, and in those places the people who penetrate make reverence, feed fanaticism and idolatry and adore what man himself has created. This is abominable in my sight, and therefore it has pleased me to take away from you, O people of Israel, all that you knew and listened to in the beginning so that you may become discouraged.

55. The houses of prayer of the Israelite people will be known to mankind, they will not be closed; because they will give shelter to the weak and the lost, the tired and the sick. And by your preparation, by obedience to my supreme will and compliance with my Law, I will make myself known in the works of the true disciples of my Divinity.

56. Do not worry that bad spokesmen, bad guides, bad laborers will arise on the way, that his blasphemous lip will speak to the peoples and say that even my Word and my Universal Ray will remain among the teaching people; I will make known who is the impostor, who is the one who is not fulfilling the Law according to my will, who is the one who only makes his free will present and I will make known the work he has forged and the law he has prepared and they will be unknown and banished; for I will withhold grace and divine power, and temptation will make you fall into their nets and therefore everyone who seeks you will not feel the grace of my Holy Spirit in his spirit.

57. The men of the religions and sects, contemplating that Israel is divided, that Israel is unknown and weakening, will look for reasons to snatch the priceless jewel, to snatch the ark of the new covenant and say tomorrow that they are the true messengers between humanity and the representatives of my Divinity.

58. You all know the meaning of the first commandment of the Law: You shall love God more than your parents and your children; more than yourself and also everything that you possess on earth. If you do so, you will feel peace, your sorrows will be mild and the elements will be merciful to you; you will pass over the trials destined to perfect your spirit, without feeling brokenness.

59. If you come to understand this precept and practice it, you will be content with your destiny, you will love humanity and you will respect its life. There will be righteousness in your deeds and you will apply your gifts for the good of yourself and your fellow men.

Love one another!

60. It is true that the path I have laid out for you is not a pleasant path, but one of renunciation and strict compliance with my commands, but it is not one of sacrifice. Love and charity do not mean pain, rather they are joy and life for the spirit and I, I offer you this delight so that you may know the true spiritual pleasure.

61. Your sorrows, you have carved them by turning away from the fulfillment of the Law. Do you want to stop the progress of the war and its consequences? Love and forgive, share your bread and you will feel more satisfied: trust in the efficiency of the divine laws, in their wisdom and justice and you will be protected by them.

62. Be spirits who watch over your works, and live in prayer and constant preparation, so that you will be strong in the face of temptations and you will overcome the reigning materialism. In the beginning your steps will be hesitant like those of a child who begins to walk but later you will get stronger, you will acquire knowledge, until you reach the development of gifts, whose value is inestimable on Earth.

63. If you embark on the path, you will become men of great virtues and you will be able to master your matter and live spiritually. In your journey, you will have conscience as a beacon, she will be your friend and your judge; she will always speak to you with truth and her dictates will be fair and accurate at the moment when you need them. That voice, is my always tender and affectionate voice that points you to the good.

64. Who can be afraid of Me, Who am the Father and Lord of your life? I formed with infinite love all that you know and even what is unknown to you, for your delight and lasting happiness. Do not doubt the one who loves you infinitely more than you can conceive and achieve with your mind. Remember the meaning of my passion, and when you have understood who you are, you will turn your pious gaze to Me, to grant me your love and submit obediently to my laws.

65. I come to give you my word, which, like a heavenly concert, comes to give you life. Some of you I find hard in your deep lethargy and as I gave life to Lazarus, so today I come to awaken your spirit to the life of grace. Take my strength and get up so that you may take the path that will lead you to the life of the spirit, which is eternal life.

66. There is little time left for the Divine Master to lift up his word, but before that I want to leave you prepared so that you fulfill the mission that I have destined for you, I want to teach you the works that are pleasing to my divine gaze.

67. I am handing over to your understanding the book that tomorrow you will have to read and analyze; in it you will find for after my departure the fire of my love, and you will share with your brothers of his divine lessons that are intelligence, Knowledge and Power, summary of my Divinity.

Love one another!

68. In this Third Era, I have come to teach you that you are all children of one Father, that you are all brothers before my infinite charity and that I have given the same gifts to all spirits.

69. Blessed people, a new stage of fulfillment is beginning for you, in which you will have to make my teachings known, because you are my disciples, my chosen ones and you must be prepared so that, in imitation of me, you may sow the seed of love along the paths of humanity. But do not think that your brothers will believe you, because from many of them you will only receive ridicule and contempt; but the seed will be born and they will come to Me.

70. When all the elements and all creation give proofs and manifestations of my justice, do not take it as a punishment, it will only be a test that will make humanity that has not listened to my word come to recognize its error, after going through confusion and bitterness attributing to various causes the shock of the elements; but you should not be confused, you should be prepared, to emerge triumphant from that test with true faith, love and charity for your brothers, which will serve to save the multitudes.

71. Prepare yourselves, O people of Israel, I leave you my grace so that you may continue to be the strong. Make the call to humanity, I want to manifest myself in every heart, I want to make myself felt in every spirit, giving it the water and the bread that feeds and comforts it; understand that humanity is going to feel thirsty and that you should not let it suffer in the desert.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 364

1. Full of love I come to you to enlighten your mind, to sensitize your heart with my word.
2. I receive at this time the one who is listening to this teaching and the one who is outside of it, the one who has forgotten Me, as well as the one who has formed a sanctuary at the bottom of his heart.
3. The Master is overjoyed when he contemplates that you are the good farmers who have exterminated the bad weed from your crops and have separated the chaff from the seed to make me present only the ear of golden wheat.
4. Those of you who work in this way have fulfilled the promise you made to your Father the moment you came before my presence to entrust the seed and the plots to you. By your obedience you make the multiplied seed present to me.
5. The number of my husbandmen has multiplied, but blessed are those who know how to sow and cultivate their land because they will raise a great harvest.
6. My voice as a Father is making the call to all men, but those who live for worldly pleasures have formed a barrier that prevents their spirit from hearing my call; pain will be the one who awakens them and will make them hear my voice through consciousness.
7. Whoever obeys my Law will know how to fulfill the laws of men and will have no stumbling blocks, nor barriers that prevent him from working within my Work.
8. If humanity lived within my Law, it would not be a slave to its passions, nor would it hurry the cup of bitterness.
9. By his disobedience he has turned this earth into a valley of tears; everywhere the cry is heard, Alas! there is no unity of thought in sects and religions, nor is there fraternity among them.
10. I have prepared this people to manifest, with the power and wisdom of the Father, the message of peace, light and love that is to reach all nations. I have entrusted him with a sword, a shield and a banner to fight tirelessly until my will signals the end to him.
11. Beloved people, prepare yourselves and as in the First Time undertake the walk and leave this valley to lead you to the Promised Land. You trust in Me, for as at that time, the waters of the seas will be opened to make way for you, and in the desert you will not lack the new manna, nor the waters that flow from the rock.

Love one another!

12. When humanity practices my teaching, I will put the painful purification it has carved out of its way.

13. Today my word descends among you. Israel, to help you in your evolution, so that you can fulfill the delicate mission that I have entrusted to you, so that you may be an example among your own and among your brothers, because the people of Israel, in the union of hearts and spirits, will be the example, will be the mirror for all humanity and she has to contemplate her own face reflected in the spirit of Israel.

14. I come illuminating your understanding so that you can all bear witness to Me with thought, word and deeds. Because you are the little ones, you are called to be my great disciples and later the teachers among humanity, the good teachers of the Doctrine of the Holy Spirit, not the materialized ones, not the fools in the past customs.

15. That is why at this time I come to ask you for spirituality, elevation, simplicity and purity in each of your acts and practices within my Law.

16. Elijah is spiritually preparing the Universe, preparing the spirit of Israel for my next departure, so that you may be strengthened and filled with light for the struggle that awaits you; after my departure, do not fall into lethargy or go to stop or retrace the path you have walked. but humbly, worthily occupy my place as a Teacher. You, with your self-denial, preparation and spiritual elevation, with your love and charity, will rise up to sow the Marian Trinitarian Spiritualist seed, by all the roads and paths, where hearts await you, where arms are opened to receive you, where the thirsty and hungry spirits of my truth and love await the arrival of my chosen ones; because soon you will rise up to awaken the world to not let it sleep anymore, because this is my will.

17. O beloved people of Israel! Elijah has helped you to lift up your spirit; he has united your thoughts and your will into one. He has gathered all the spirits so that my blessed ray may rest on the very spirit of Israel.

18. Elijah walks before you, preparing the roads, preparing the paths. It is He who purifies you, who helps you to cleanse even the smallest stain from your heart, so that your conscience may always be calm and awake at the service of my Divinity and at the service of your brothers. He is the one who revives you on the way when he sees you sad and fainting. It is He who announces to you the dangers and enlightens you in the moments of obfuscation and darkness. It is Elijah who comforts you in moments of pain and leads you step by step to a single meeting point, a point for which all spirits are summoned, which is the Afterlife and to which you will reach through the elevation of your spirit, true prayer and true spiritual worship.

Love one another!

19. Do not be afraid of the judgment and the censure of men. At this time also they will lead me to judgment, to argument, to the scaffold, but not to death; my Work, my light, and my truth will not be overcome. The Spiritualism that is my Doctrine cannot die, it will continue to manifest itself despite misunderstanding, disobedience, ingratitude, unbelief and human vanities. My Divine Spirit and my Doctrine will continue to manifest and advance from heart to heart, from spirit to spirit, from people to people and from world to world, without stopping, because there is no force, no power, no law, there is no barrier that can stop my Spirit or my light, there is no shadow that can overshadow my universal light, therefore, I will always be light, I will always be truth, I will always be Spirit.

20. But as I have said to you: You are my children who I have made my disciples, so that you may imitate me and be in the likeness of my Divinity, so that you may fully understand your Father who is the Holy Spirit. But you will understand it through your spirituality, through this Marion Trinitarian Spiritualist Doctrine.

21. Pray for the first and work also for the new generations, for those who come after you, and if the first took the first step, you will take the second and those who come after you will take the third and thus, from generation to generation and from time to time, humanity will draw closer and closer spiritually to Me, until it reaches the true spiritual elevation and the perfect worship of my divinity. But I tell you, the peace of the Universe does not depend on one heart, nor on a few hearts, nor on the advancement of my Work, which is universal, which is spiritual. Everything depends on my will, but in my charity, in my infinite love, I grant you, Israel, to take part in my Work of spiritual perfection, of universal pacification. I wanted to give you part of my work, my children, in this work of love, in this struggle of light against darkness.

22. Think that the world is waiting for you, that the nations are waiting for my people; that that world that does not find the balm, that does not know the true worship, that world that does not find its God, finds you and that in you it finds Me, hears Me and contemplates Me, because I want you to be my image, I want to reflect my face and my love in your own spirit and in your actions.

23. Do not fall into fanaticism, because that is not what you are going to teach. Do not fall into idolatry, because that is not what you are going to give to the world. You are going to give spiritually the water that quenches thirst, the bread that satisfies the hungry, the garment that covers nakedness.

24. I have communicated in this Third Time through the human understanding and those whom I have graced as pedestals, have possessed one of the great gifts of the Holy Spirit:

Love one another!

The communication of my Divine Ray through them to deliver my word to the world, and you have contemplated very humble, ignorant and small hearts, for which I have amazed with my words of perfection, wisdom, health, grace and strength; with my word, which is always an infinite gaze that reads in your hearts your past, your present and your future, and whenever you have listened to it through the spokespersons in this Third Time, you have felt that the Master is with you and that he is watching you, listening to you and he is attending to the last of your supplications, that he is receiving your fulfillment and is judging each of your thoughts, words and deeds.

25. In this Third Time my Holy Spirit has opened the doors of the Beyond fully, to allow my spiritual world of light, full of evolution, eager for fulfillment, to come among you to communicate through human understanding, to converse with Humanity, to explain my divine word and heal spiritual and bodily diseases with the spiritual fluid. That fluid with which Jesus, your Master, in the Second Time healed the sick, fluid of love, life and spiritual health.

26. My spiritual world has been your friend, your doctor, your brother, but a perfect brother, full of love, patience and charity.

27. Blessed people of Israel, into your hands I have entrusted the ark of the New Covenant. You are my chosen ones whom I have come to turn into sources of crystalline waters so that humanity may find the life-giving water in you.

28. I have poured out my spiritual pleasures on you, you are my temple where my light and my love are. You are the ones who, full of humility, will have to go to lift up the multitudes who have fallen into fanaticism and idolatry, to show my light to those who have hidden my truth and have adulterated my Law.

29. People: You have believed in my spiritual presence because you have felt me in the depths of your heart. It is your spirit that has evolved through the ages.

30. I have spoken to you through the sinner to teach you to seek my Kingdom, but you have materialized what belongs to my Work. You have formed a scale that is not the one I have told you about. You have materialized the cross, which is a symbol of redemption. The cross where the Lamb redeemed you with his divine example, that cross, by my will disappeared from your material eyes from that Second Time so that you would not become idolaters.

31. From the First time the Father spoke to you through his prophets so that you would not fall into temptation, and into idolatry. In the Second time I came through Jesus to give to all humanity my Doctrine of love and truth. I did not come to teach you any religion, because religions have been formed by men.

32. From the Second Time I said to you, He will come to you again, and I have kept my word. When fanaticism and idolatry are greatest, here again is your Master manifested spiritually. I come to cleanse your heart with my word and to lift up your spirit so that it may reach its salvation.

33. Blessed is he who, having received my love, my peace and my light, knows how to save the one who perishes and even with his prayer knows how to illuminate those beings who dwell in the spiritual valley, those dark forces who did not know how to receive the light of the Holy Spirit.

34. You are humble, chosen people, but I will make you great and wise in the spirit, so that you may give guidance and comfort to humanity. I have spoken to you through different spokespersons so that imitating me you may work for the regeneration of this humanity.

35. You are the people to whom I have taught spirituality, so that in this way you may bear faithful witness to your Father.

36. Take full understanding of my Work so that you may worship me from spirit to Spirit.

37. No longer do you want to remain in your materialism, no longer fall into the nets of confusion and darkness. In this time when I have come to remove the mire from you, from sin, recognize me for my light, for my love and for my justice.

38. I don't want you to be divided or to disobey my orders.

39. Why has a whirlwind broken out between you? For your lack of preparation and understanding of my word. When the end of my communication with you in this way comes, I want you to be united before your Master, with the satisfaction of having fulfilled my commands.

40. Prepare yourselves, my people, and do not let yourselves be surprised by the bad guides, do not let them present themselves in their law, because I contemplate that they hide my teaching and only make theirs known and they have risen profiting from my Work and show it full of mysteries and materialisms. It is my will that you make my Work known with clarity, with spirituality, because this Work has sprung from my Spirit and contains the essence of my word for the regeneration of humanity.

Love one another!

41. I want you all to rise up to a true fulfillment and turn your imperfections away from my Work. Recognize that from the beginning of my communication through human understanding, great has been my struggle to rescue you from sin.

42. I still contemplate my sheep on different paths, but Elijah as a luminous beacon is gathering you and gathering you on a single path. He is making the call with a ringing bell, to my chosen people, to reach the port of salvation.

43. In the First Time the Father rescued his people through Moses, he was the chosen one to fulfill this delicate mission. He was obedient and full of strength before you, but the misunderstanding of the people did not weaken him for an instant.

44. In the Second Time I came as the Word of the Father to humanize myself and manifest myself before humanity.

45. It was a command from the Father and it had to be fulfilled. It was necessary to live with the same men, to give them my Doctrine and my truth. My Word manifested itself in essence, presence and power to touch and open the door of hearts.

46. I have always spoken to humanity in intuition, in revelation, through prophetic looks. Today, at this Time, I have come in the Spirit in fulfillment of the prophecies, so that humanity may rise up recognizing the light of the new dawn. The signs were prophesied from the First Time and these had to be fulfilled in this Third Time, in the Age of the Holy Spirit.

47. I come to speak to you clearly so that nothing is hidden and if in the First and second Times I did not speak to you about what I am now revealing to you, it is that this was the will of the Father, because I myself have come to fulfill my word and I am testifying of my presence to you.

48. The twelve tribes of the people of Israel surround me and I give my word to all of them, so that when the time comes you will rise up bearing witness to my presence to humanity.

49. Arise in the last moments of my communication in this way, unite as a single farmer, as a single guide so that I leave with the joy in my heart for having left my people forming a single body and carrying a single will.

50. I am invincible before the sin of humanity and you will not be able to destroy my light, my love, my charity with your imperfections, because I am over everything created and there will be no force, no matter how powerful, that can overcome my wisdom and my power; that is why I speak to you and I give you love so that you recognize me as a Father and so that you worship me as god.

Love one another!

51. Tillers of my countryside: I entrust my word to you as a good seed, so that at the end of your work you may make it present to me multiplied.

52. Fulfill your mission so that the Father will fulfill the promises made to your spirit. How do you want me to give you what you don't deserve? How do you want to reap what you have not sown? First you have to fight and work, I don't want your conscience to claim you. Blessed are you, my children, because you understand your Father and you want to earn this award based on effort and work. you have to fight for this ideal and if men sacrifice themselves and even lose their lives for a material ideal, so you conquer this spiritual ideal where you will not lose your life, because if you persevere to the end, you will achieve eternal life.

53. Make merits so that you will reach the promised Land and there you will rest from the great strife.

54. If two or three of my chosen ones gather and raise their spirits to my Divinity, I will be with them and inspire them; wherever you invoke me, I will be present, because I have told you that every sinful and non-sinful eye will see me and everyone will feel my presence.

55. You, farmers, are under the corpulent tree, because you know that I am waiting for you with open arms, you know that it is to Me that you must show your compliance, because only I will be able to judge it, because this cause belongs to Me and I am the only one who can reward or claim you. But you have confidence in your Father and you know that no matter how hard my claim is, within that claim I pour out my charity and mercy for you; because I love you and have charity for you and I give you the strength so that you can resist the touch of my claim. Each of you has a plot of land in my countryside and in it you have to sow and reap. I, as a Father, receive your struggle, your sacrifice and sufferings, I see your weeping and I strengthen you with my word so that you may move forward, always forward until eternity.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

1. Disciples: I have seated you at my table and on it I have offered you the rich delicacy of my teaching: my body and my blood, the word and the essence of it, so that through this sustenance you may be immortal and invincible in the great combats of life.
2. You surround me and the Master penetrates your heart and contemplates your sadness. Why, my children? I have come to prepare you for true communication, in this time that I have been among you manifesting myself through the simple and humble man, but this has not been the best, nor the most perfect of the ways that I have chosen to communicate with humanity. This has been a preparatory communication so that the eyes of your spirit can soon see me coming over the cloud and then your spirit can also be confused with the angels in their elevation.
3. The most perfect communication with the Master is the one that will come after the departure of my word. The absence of these manifestations, it is true that it will weaken many in their faith, those who did not know how to understand me or interpret my teachings; but those who analyzed my word well and who took advantage of the time in works of love, they will know that I put a limit to my manifestation at the right time, at the opportune moment, to then leave you before the infinite, before eternity, before the spiritual.
4. Watch and pray, the moment is crucial, the hour is of trial, O my people! You must watch over humanity and watch over yourselves; may your prayer be like a mantle that covers it, also like an invulnerable wall that defends it. Temptation in a thousand forms is stalking you, do not let yourselves be seduced. The Master gives you these prophecies, because you are going to drink a very bitter cup that the people themselves have prepared, a cup that I have drunk in the Hereafter and that I am going to give you to drink; because you are already strong, because I have already deposited in your spirit my wisdom and my preparation and if you are vigilant you will be able to withstand the trials and the gales.
5. What is that chalice that has left such a bitter taste on the lips of the Master? It is the unbelief of this people; it is their disobedience, their materialism, their idolatry, their fanaticism, their lack of regeneration, the scant spirituality that they have achieved and how little they have estimated and used the time of the teachings; the division and the war that has always existed between this people, from farmer to farmer, from enclosure to enclosure and all that accumulated, will form a chalice that you yourselves are going to drink, but I give you the strength to overcome the test.

Love one another!

6. To you who hear this word, I say: You have not filled that chalice, but you are going to drink something from it, because you are going to be in the struggle and you are not going to be indifferent; because you are going to feel the lack of essensibility of those who have apparently been, always watching and praying and in reality they have been sound asleep in their routine; because you are going to have to face the weak, the multiple victims of disobedience, of the desecration of many, because you are going to be soldiers of my Work among you and out of you.

7. I want you to be a bulwark for tomorrow but prepare yourselves, accumulate spiritual strength so that you do not falter for a single instant. With these words I encourage you to pray and prepare you for the struggle, so that you may reach my lap, the summit of the mountain where I am.

8. Come to Me, beloved people, and obey my command. Come to Me, O Israel, and be nourished by my word, lest hunger and thirst overtake you. Blessed is he who, when he hears my word, receives it with humility and keeps it in his heart: for the time will come when humanity will seek this bread and you will give to him what I have entrusted to you in my Work.

9. The times have passed and your spirit has evolved and you are at the time when you have achieved advancement and spirituality.

10. In your hands I have deposited my Law in three times, my Work is the same that I gave you from the First Time when I entrusted the tablets of the Law to you through Moses and he was your guide in the desert for forty years.

11. In the Second Time, Jesus came to fulfill that Law, to redeem humanity. And in the Third Time I have come again as the Holy Spirit to explain to you the very Law.

12. Then you will go to give the testimony of my truth to humanity, this humanity that expects to see me with its material eyes to believe and then deny me.

13. It is a time of confusion in the world, a time of struggle for you. Three years before the end of 1950 I spoke to you greatly so that you would prepare and unite spiritually, and at the end of 1950, many of you were confused in the midst of your materialism.

14. The struggle awaits you and as soldiers you must rise up. I have entrusted the weapons to you so that in the fight you will be invincible. Start by beating yourself.

15. For many years I have entrusted my word to you, and those who have not understood their Teacher ask that I be communicated by human understanding for a while longer, but my word is the king's and must be fulfilled.

Love one another!

16. The false disciples will follow and confuse humanity. Then she will cry out, saying, "Where are you, my God, where is your truth, what is your Work, and where are your chosen ones?"

17. After my departure, you will bear witness to my presence and be obedient to my Law, so that you may make this Work known in all its purity.

18. After my communication through the speaker has ended, the world will resurface to spirituality, to light, to peace and when the new generations come, fanaticism and idolatry will no longer exist. Then they will look for me in the temple of the Holy Spirit where I will be forever.

19. On this day of grace I gather and gather at the foot of the mountain the twelve tribes that make up my chosen people of Israel.

20. In this Third Time you have been prepared with my word, with the light of the Holy Spirit so that you may fulfill the mission that I have entrusted to you from the beginning; so that you may be the people obedient to my Law, the emissaries of my divinity before humanity.

21. On this day I come to contemplate your preparation and to receive your spirit. Show me what you have learned from Me, because I have poured out my Divine Word on you to give you teaching, life and spirituality, so that you may be spiritually in my image and likeness.

22. My Father's gaze on this day penetrates your being and searches everything. I contemplate your prepared spirits and to them I come to deliver my commands so that you may fulfill them, as it has been written from the first Time and verified also in this one through my spokespersons.

23. As a Teacher I have been tireless among you, giving you the teaching to become my disciples, I have cleansed you and I have given you life with my blood. I have led you from different paths and turned away from you fanaticism and idolatry. You are clean from all this, because I have put the truth in your heart and spirit and with it I have spiritualized you, and on this day I show you a new page of the book of wisdom, but the full light, the revelation, I will give it to you from spirit to Spirit.

24. You will prepare your hearts and elevate your spirits so that you will receive my wisdom within the perfect Spirit-to-spirit communication.

25. You will develop your gifts and you will always be prepared for my Holy Spirit to be poured out among you.

Love one another!

26. On this day, in my presence, in the presence of Mary, Elijah and the patriarchs of the First Time, I say to you: Spirits who form my chosen people of Israel, I consecrate you to take the first steps in the fulfillment of the great and sublime mission for which I have prepared you.

27. Take the caress of my love and give yourselves to your fulfillment among humanity.

28. Take your plant to all the roads, show your brothers my Work and testify about Me: and by my wisdom, by my teaching, you will give life to the dead and show men my Law.

29. Share with all the charity that I have entrusted to you, feel the responsibility in your spirit of the Work that I have given you and carry this cross to spiritualize the world. Those of you who are ready, teach humanity first and last with my teaching. Be like torches that illuminate the spirits and prepare the table with the bread of eternal life for those who are hungry and those who seek my wisdom.

30. Bear witness with your works of charity that you carry in the spirit. Fight tirelessly day after day and watch over humanity and yourselves, because I want to contemplate you united before my Divine Spirit.

31. I have in my hand a book, the Book of Life, write your names in it, O Israel, so that you may lead eternal life and receive from Me all that I have promised you since the beginning of time.

32. I leave you my presence, the presence of Elijah and the tenderness of Mary. I am preparing the spiritual armies to join you in spirit and in truth; you will be the temple of your God because this is my will.

33. Like a blessed shadow my sublime love descends to cover you in your step; because I contemplate the instant in which you find yourselves and by the trial that your spirit goes through.

34. It is with great anxiety that you prepare to listen to my word on this day. Blessed People: Eighty-four years the Master has been near you to prepare you, but I have seen that you are still babbling the first syllable and have been weak before my commands.

35. Humanity is disoriented, confused and is the prey of the hungry wolf; being so close to my departure through human understanding, you do not know the great test to which your spirit is subjected from these moments.

36. Look. Israel: Three years I entrusted to you so that you would achieve great preparation, so that you would all find yourselves gathered and gathered like sheep in the fold of my love; so that you would fight and be able to raise great harvests, so that on that day you would not come down in my presence and only made the golden ear present to me.

Love one another!

37. But you have not fully recognized my word, nor have you understood my inspiration. You are parked, you have left the cross on the path and you are disoriented by your disobedience. Your struggle is not over. By revelation and intuition I will speak to you so that you may continue to work in my Work and be spiritually unified.

38. After my departure, the spokespeople will be divided from each other. My gaze contemplates everything, but it is my will that you all be with the same preparation. If you do, I'll keep you on your toes. I have left my word and its essence engraved in your hearts; and what the golden feathers have engraved of my teachings, will form the Third Testament.

39. The Master will never depart from you, because everyone who knows how to prepare himself in truth to seek me, I will give him from Spirit to spirit, according to his elevation and spirituality. In revelation, in intuition and in inspiration, I will manifest myself so that you can lead the multitudes and reach the top of the mountain.

40. I am going to leave you subject to great trials, because each trial invites you to fulfillment and obedience.

41. Thus I speak to you on this day to the flock that Elijah gathered in this Third time and as a Father I come to receive your fulfillment, your struggle and your preparation.

42. Through the spokespersons, I told you that on the last day of 1950, you would hear my word for the last time, and whoever invokes my Ray after this day or my Spiritual World, to communicate in this way, would fall into falsehood, into imposture. Today I come to repeat my commands to you.

43. As 1951 begins, my Holy Spirit will enlighten you for Spirit-to-spirit communication, and as a Father I will not turn my gaze and my love away from among you.

44. On this day, a tear of love from my Spirit descends to you, because you knew how to take advantage of my spiritual pleasures and feel my presence in your spirit.

45. You are going to fulfill my commands on earth because I see you prepared, full of teaching, strength, wisdom.

46. You have been obedient to my will. On the way I spiritualized you, I removed the materialism that existed among you and I made you feel my presence in the elevation of your spirit.

Love one another!

47. I open a wider door, more full of light and spiritual perfection, through which you will arrive and through it you will make your brothers pass into the kingdom of spirituality.

48. I surrender prophecy, revelation, intuition and true understanding to my divine will. You will be like bugles and trumpets making my Doctrine known, awakening humanity with it.

49. I am waiting for you on the top of the mountain and when you have fulfilled my commands, I will reward you with the laurel wreath, I will hold you in my fatherly arms and as a reward for your obedience, you will penetrate the Promised Land, and when you are before Me I will tell you:

50. The disciple is welcome before the book of perfect teaching.

51. From the moment you were marked with my divine light, you received the delicate and great mission of watching over humanity.

52. I contemplate the vicissitudes that you have gone through and truly I tell you, it was not I who put pain in your way. You have worked it that way and today you are restoring to your spirit what belongs to it. But I have come to fill you with my grace and to tell you: you will be the strong of mankind and you will give my light to him.

53. You have to be a living example of love and charity before your fellow human beings by showing them my Work, because you are the children who have known how to understand me and I see that you are willing to always listen to me and to follow in the footsteps of your Master.

54. I told you a lot that disoriented men would come to you to ask for my teachings. Today I say to you: Show them in truth that you are not the idolaters; that you are living the time of light; so that they may seek me from spirit to Spirit. So you will find the loving Father, the almighty God, the Doctor of doctors, and your best friend too.

55. When the philosophers come before you, you will explain to them what they have not been able to understand, and when the men of science come, you will give them the light of my wisdom. For the light of my Holy Spirit is with all my people.

56. Beloved disciples of the Master: In this Third Time I announced to you that at the end of the year 1950, I would cease to give you my word through human understanding, but I have left you a word of consolation and guidance so that you may improve your actions, so that you may strengthen your faith and be tomorrow in imitation of the Master.

Love one another!

57. In this time of spiritual and mental evolution in which man struggles with himself, with a diversity of ideas to find the truth, is when you must begin your work to get humanity to abandon its customs, rites and habits of the past, so that it knows and comprehends spirituality widely.

58. At this time the world is unknown: brother to brother death is given; women forget their modesty and dignity; parents do not know their children and children their parents; the value of a life is not sufficiently estimated. Men follow different ideals and there is no unification in them. The rulers of the nations do not understand each other.

59. For this I have come in the Spirit and have communicated through the understanding of man, to make the world understand that my Work is the boat of salvation and to remind it of the same Doctrine that I delivered to it in the Second Time.

60. The Master will not depart from you, but he will cease to manifest himself in this form, because you are entering a stage of spiritual evolution in which it is necessary for you to develop your gifts, because only in this way will you give proof that you have taken advantage of my teaching and that you are worthy to make my Work known.

61. Only once did the Word of the Father, with all his faculties of power and love, manifest himself in a perfectly prepared matter, that was that of Jesus. But at this time, by my charity and mercy, the pedestals were prepared so that the Spirit of Consolation, which is my very Spirit, could manifest itself. In the times to come, if you prepare yourselves, you will greatly receive my inspiration.

62. Why have my children come again? It is that man has been leaning by his own instincts, by his own passions to everything that separates him from spirituality. He has followed such different paths that trying to understand my Work, he has mistaken it. Man has parked himself spiritually, because his scientific evolution does not go according to his spiritual evolution. It is not by the practices of rites, for which humans will achieve greater elevation, nor for fear of punishment or reward for their deeds.

63. The spirit incarnated in one and the other matter, has gone through different experiences, to know the advantages of good and disdain evil. Thus, feeling the satisfaction of doing good out of love for the Creator, you will be able to achieve eternal perfection.

64. My Work is love and love is lavished without selfishness, without seeking benefits for yourselves. That is why it was necessary for me to come and remind you of my Doctrine.

65. Each one of you has been prepared with my light and you have also felt the presence of high beings who have helped you at the precise moment when you have needed them.

Love one another!

You have felt the Master close to you. I have lived with my children in the moments of their affliction and doubt. Who is he who can doubt the manifestations that the Lord has allowed in this time for the consolation of humanity?

66. I leave no limits for anyone, you will lavish my Work and make it known according to your preparation. The practice of charity will be the best experience for you and by that virtue, you will rise spiritually.

67. These manifestations that you have had from Me through a spokesman, come to an end, but you will continue to receive my inspiration, because your spirit has been enlightened and prepared by Me for spirit-to-Spirit communication.

68. My spiritual Work does not need material symbols or rites, it is the continuation of the Doctrine that Jesus left in the Second Time.

69. Spiritualism is not a religion, it is not a sect, it is not a new Doctrine, it is the Law of all times. It is the love, forgiveness and light that Jesus left to the world in the Second Time. When you understand my teaching and practice it, then you will be worthy to be called spiritualists.

70. Those who since 1950 continue to make their brothers believe that I still communicate by human understanding, they themselves will be attracting a judgment and in due time they will have the consequences and will wake up from their lethargy.

71. The Father ceases to communicate in this way, but everything that I gave to you remains written.

72. I left my word of guidance, I poured out my love, so that in him you might inspire all your works. I forgave all offenses because I am forgiveness and love. For I manifest myself in righteousness, but not in the way that you understand it, believing that I punish you by destroying you, with the elements unleashed, no, my righteousness has manifested itself in you when I have prepared you and enlightened you so that you understand me, when I have shown you your own work and made you know what you are and what you will be when I have revealed to you what the world has carved and what humanity is to receive through you.

73. You will gather to study my word that will be written and the more you understand it, the greater strength and preparation you will have.

74. I leave you united and convinced of the scope that my Work will have in the world for the future. I have already told you that you are the sowers, but you will not reap the harvest in your material life. No, because what you sow at this time, is for the world of tomorrow.

Love one another!

75. My Work should be for you like a crystalline mirror that reflects your actions and allows you to know yourself.

76. My people: I do not leave you alone; as often as necessary I will be with you and when you speak in my name, I will be there lavishing love and charity.

77. You will be able to receive from Me according to your preparation: life, inspiration, love, knowledge, understanding, strength, healing faculty and everything you need, as long as you are in harmony with me.

78. Your purification scale must end for you to begin your elevation scale. In this way you will feel in your spirit the ineffable joy of merging in the love of your Heavenly Father.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!

Teaching 366

1. From the top of the Mount of the New Zion I send you my word, O beloved people. In essence, presence and power you have me for the last time communicated through the human understanding, means that I chose by my divine will in this Third Time to manifest myself here, to pour out the Word among men and prepare them for the perfect communication of spirit to Spirit and through this preparation receive from man the perfect worship of my divinity.
2. This has been the time of preparation in which the Father, followed by his spiritual hosts, has come to deliver the lesson to you by opening before you the Great Book of Life, the Book of Divine Wisdom, the Book of the Seven Seals, so that this people, reading page by page, listening to the divine explanation of all its lessons, could become the disciple of the Holy Spirit, in the strong apostle who leads by example, thought and word, my Work to the heart of this humanity, to this world that in this instant of delivering my last message to you, it is debated in his anxiety, in his pain and in his own blood.
3. I have come to you and I have seen you prepared. In this prayer that you raise to the Father, O beloved people, I see the building of a sanctuary that invites me to be inside it. It is your own heart, O my children. In him I receive the offering, the fragrance of yours, and at the feet of the spiritual altar I contemplate your harvest, what you have gathered, and cultivated through the ages and that you have made culminate now that you have been my husbandmen; my gaze of judge, of Father and of Teacher judges the seed of all of you. In it is your struggle, your yearnings for spiritual progress, your sufferings, the ideals that you have seen crowned and those that you have not yet seen flourish; but the humility of your spirit has brought its offering that, in truth, I receive. My Father's hand is extended to receive the fruit that you make present to me.
4. The conscience of my people is cleared and so is judged. The meoria clears and you remember in these moments that fortunate dawn for your spirit in which you stepped for the first time on the path that you are on today, in which you heard the voice that resounded in the desert and also the moment in which it was addressed to you, and since that day, through vicissitudes, obstacles and obstacles, you have come step by step in pursuit of my footprint.
5. How much you have lived, how much you have looked and felt, and at last you reach this date feared by my people! This day of judgment, of conscience and of preparation!

Love one another!

6. No one knew if the Father would grant him, in the present material life and in his present envelope, to contemplate the last of my manifestations and Here you are! You have arrived forming a single heart, a single husbandman, a single flower that raises a perfume that reaches the height of my Solitude and for this spiritual preparation I come after you, once again full of strength, light, peace and grace, to tell you, O beloved people: do not be plunged into orphanhood. Do not let sadness invade your heart, do not let weakness surprise you when you no longer hear my word through these channels, do not turn back. Always go forward, look for the incentive in the background of my Work that will take you step by step, to the goal!

7. The people have prepared themselves and beyond, above you, the Glory is also ready. As a bride she is dressed up to wait for the arrival of the husband and that universal preparation has the purity of a virgin, has the fragrance of flowers and has the light of a new dawn. Beyond you, but there, to where your spirit has risen in this moment of glory and judgment, are the great spirits that surround the Father, the spirits still unknown to you, whom you are going to contemplate and love tomorrow, as your own brothers, as your messengers, who from infinity have vibrated like luminous stars on the path of your existence, and among them are those whom you already know by name. Moses is with the Law in his spirit, with the immortal, immutable Law; there are the patriarchs, the apostles, the prophets, the martyrs, the saints, the righteous, the innocent, and the great repentants. Everything has been prepared.

8. The spiritual Valley vibrates over you and the same elements launch their voices as heralds to shake the spirit, the heart of man and tell him: "This is an hour similar to the one in which Jesus breathed his last breath on the tree". Verily, I could at this instant repeat my seven words of the Second Time, which I exclaimed on the altar of the cross; but verily, I tell you, they are already written in divine blood on the conscience of humanity.

9. I have come with new words enclosing in them the same light, the same essence and wisdom so that man does not say that at this time the Holy Spirit only came to repeat the teachings revealed in the past times.

10. If you prepare yourselves and penetrate more and more into what is vibrating over you at this moment, you will be able to contemplate, like John in his vision, the Almighty on his throne. It is he who speaks to you, the One to whom he could not look at his face, the One who only sensed that he was the King of kings and the almighty, it is the same one who at this moment, from the top of the mount of the New Zion speaks to you and allows himself to be looked at by every spiritual eye that rises and prepares, surrounded also by the elders, twelve on his right hand and twelve on his left; the patriarchs of the tribes of God's Chosen People, the apostles of the Second Time followers of Jesus. They are the ones who are eternally surrounding the Father, from there, to continue vibrating among you for all eternity. The ones gave you life on this orb, the blood, the strength and the beginning of the path. The others will give you spiritual life, testifying to my Work, my passion, my word and at this moment, united to the Father, they judge his people, judge his seed, taste their own fruit and also bow down before the Divine judge.

Love one another!

11. But my judgment at this moment is not only for the disciple of the Third Time, nor for the twelve spiritual tribes whose beings are incarnated one and the other in a spiritual state, my judgment is universal. Every creature, every spirit, are at this moment weighed in my divine balance, and after being judged they will be set by Me once again on the right path.

12. From the beginning of my communication through the human understanding, from spokesman to spokesman, from generation to generation of farmers, I was announcing to you the day, the hour marked by my justice for the end of my manifestation. An instant in the midst of eternity has been this time for the Father, but it was a vast and sufficient time for this people, for their preparation, their spiritual transition, their resurgence among humanity and the end of this stage was marked in 1950 by my will.

13. This year I didn't just entrust it to you. It was a grace that the Father offered to humanity, making the light of the Master vibrate in every conscience, making the institutions tremble at their own bases, moving the men who hold positions of ministers in sects and religions, so that at this time, in this year, humanity penetrates into meditation, praying and watching, so that by reasoning it could achieve peace, concord and fraternity, it could take away from its lips the chalice of bitterness and turn its fratricidal weapons into tools of tilling.

14. I gave everything to this world at the beginning of 1950. Spiritually I sent my message of peace, strength and light to all my children. I blessed all the ways I gave fruitfulness to all the seeds and now, in the end, when I come to receive the harvest from the hand of man, when I come to interrogate his own conscience, what is it that he offers me? What is it that this world presents to me? Their disobedience, their materialism, their defiance of my divine justice, their lack of fear of my strength and behold, I tell you, in truth, that this people, whom I have taught, is like a mirror of all humanity, it is a reflection of the division that reigns in the world, because if you see that this world is divided into powers, in spiritual powers you have also been divided. If the great peoples, the great nations of the Earth are trying to absorb the others, unite them and enslave them, I also contemplate among this people that there are many who want to be first and unify others to themselves, and if among humanity, in those great peoples and nations you see the fratricidal war, you see that men are going to death under the new weapons that they have created, I also see among this people those who are preparing with new weapons to destroy their faith, to raise one over another, to humiliate the first to the last, to be ignorant of one another; but if this world has defied me, I accept its challenge, I submit to the test and to the test I am submitted, in truth, but how will you stand before my judgment, O people?

15. After receiving your fruit, after filling you with blessings, I tell you: The spiritual cannot die. Only sin will disappear; the passions will die, the proud powers of this Humanity will also fall and not a stone on a stone will remain of them. Human science put at the service of evil and extermination, destroyed by my justice, and from among you I will also abolish your lies, your unpreparedness and disunity and I will only preserve your spirit, in which I have deposited the light of the Sixth Seal, of that chapter that has been opened at this time and in which it was written that in it you would find the great day of the divine justice of the Lord.

16. This is a great day, it is not composed of twenty-four hours, because the day of judgment you do not know how long it will last, you do not know when it will end, but surely you are already at the culmination of times and you are living under the judgment of the Lord.

17. At this time watch and pray; I have taught you. You are my seed, you are my disciples, you are my people whom I am going to send among the other peoples of the earth, whom I am going to lead through darkness because he is the light, whom I am going to make penetrate among the ranks of the sick, of lepers, of the desperate, so that there you may bring light and comfort, balm and peace. I am going to present to you orphanhood, widowhood, misery in all its forms, sin at its lowest level, so that in front of all those pictures of sadness, desolation and death, your spirit rises, your feelings arise, your heart opens like a spring of love and finally give fulfillment among men to the divine destiny that I have traced to you from the beginning.

18. When will you see the sun of justice shining on your world again? When will you see peace in the heart of humanity again? When will you, O beloved people, hear a song, a hymn of peace that rises from the spirit of man to the heart of the Father?

19. In truth, you will still have to see great events happen in this world for that time to come. The Sixth seal is still open and I have to return many pages so that the Seventh Seal may be loosed among you.

20. What signs will I give you so that you can recognize worldwide that the Seventh Seal is opening for man? When a great silence has been made in the Universe. That will be my signal. And how will that great silence be, O people, with which you can testify before astonished humanity that it is the end of one stage and the beginning of another?

21. When the wars have ceased for a moment, when the elements have subsided, when the persecution of my laws and my Doctrine has stopped, then there will be like a great silence among Humanity and that silence will be the announcement that the Seventh Seal is opened to reveal its mysteries to this Humanity. It is the last part of the Book that you will have to know, that your spirit must possess so that he may know the Father and know himself.

22. Spirituality will spring up in all of humanity. Very close is the time of struggle. The signs are coming. The men themselves will give them. I am going to touch with my justice the princes of the churches, the priests, all the ministers and pastors. At this moment you feel my judgment deeply in your consciousness. There is not one who is calm at this hour. Some bow their necks, others weep; others try to silence the voice of their conscience; but all feel me, all feel me, because, truly I tell you, at this moment I am with everyone.

23. I want to find among humanity the church that Peter founded and I see that no sanctuary was built on that fundamental stone. How few came to the sacrifice following in his footsteps! I see the great churches, the great religious organizations, the pomp and wealth, the splendor and power; but I do not see spiritual pomp, I do not see finery of virtue, I do not discover power that is part of my universal power. and I contemplate in truth I tell you that those followers of Peter are sobbing in the spiritual valley contemplating those who have succeeded them, leading humanity to disaster and death; that the lips of those who call themselves apostles in this time and successors of Peter, speak of love, they speak of Christ, they speak of universal peace, but behind their words they foment fratricidal wars. Peter did not sow death. I took the sword from his hand. I taught him to give his life to give life to others. I taught him to shed his blood so that it would be as a seed of love, as a testimony of truth, as a true seal of his own works and he fulfilled it until the end of his journey.

24. Therefore, in this Third Time, when I come to judge the seed of those whom I left as an example, as emissaries among humanity, I cannot but say to men, who have built on sand like fools and who have not known how to build on the unshakable rock of Peter, on which they should have raised the true church to their Father and Lord. And I also tell you: Of all that greatness, of all that might, not one stone will remain upon another. And what will the crowds do next? What will the flocks do without a shepherd and without a herd? Where will the sheep lead their steps when the bells no longer call them to the fold?

Love one another!

25. It is then, people, when the sheep will exhale their bleating to the Beyond, when they will look for their Shepherd on the top of the mountain and then my Kingdom will come over all; I will come among clouds, according to my promise, according to the word of my prophets, and every sinful and non-sinful eye will contemplate me. Then it will be when men, moved by the spiritual, shaken by the truth, will look up and forget everything that their plant will tread, and they will no longer contemplate granite shrines or listen to their ears anymore the bronzes; it will be then that humanity, awakening from heart to heart, from people to people and from nation to nation, will rise up after the Holy Spirit who has opened his arcanum to reveal it and deposit it in all men of Good will.

26. But at this time who will be the explainers of my revelations? Who will be the ones who will clarify the mysteries of the Holy Spirit to humanity already awakened to the Father?

27. You well know that these will be you, who will be distributed by Me in the various points of the World, so that your mouths may be like bugles in the middle of the night; so that your testimonies may be powerful works that move the heart of humanity, and then you will be able to say to the world: Behold the Sixth Seal in its splendor! Behold the Sixth Seal at the culmination of his time! Behold the Holy Spirit communicating with the spirit of man, the shepherd seeking the sheep, making her hear without the mediation of anything material, his voice, his word, his concert! And many will listen to me, because you will be the ones who walk firmly: not a hesitation will be seen in you, not a single babble will be on your lips; you will bring your clear, deep and broad testimony to all those who wish to receive it and you will be looked upon as apostles, you will be heard as prophets and you will be received in the bosom of congregations, homes and institutions, as the precursors and emissaries of my Divinity!

28. Strengthen yourselves, O people! Be prepared and let my Work penetrate deeply into you! Keep it, keep it there, because you are going to study it. Truly I tell you, even though you already understand much of my Work, you still do not understand all of it. In the time of meditation that I grant you, you will come to understand many lessons that will surprise you. You are living in the Third Time and you have not yet been able to properly interpret the prophets of the First Time. You have not gone very deeply into the word that Jesus spoke to you at that Second Time, and the Work that the Holy Spirit has come to reveal to you, you have not yet embraced it with your understanding and you will have to merge within your spirit those three testaments those three revelations into one, because they all form one Law, one book, one way, one truth.

Love one another!

29. The time is approaching when the books of the First and Second Times will return to your hands, to your eyes, to your spirit and then you will be able to understand the past by the present and confirm the present with the teachings revealed in the past times.

30. I have allowed human hands of my messengers to write the history, which is your past. I have come to communicate in this Third Time through these spokespersons chosen and prepared by Me, to tell you about the new revelations. This is your present. I have also spoken to you in a prophetic tone and I have prepared prophets in this Third Time to tell you about the events that are to be, and prophecy is your future. The past, the present and the future are with you. They cover everything. It is the eternity that I grant you, in which you live, of which I want you to be masters so that you no longer possess only material time, nor are you masters only of this world.

31. Open your spiritual arms! Spread your wings! Open your eyes and embrace eternity being the spiritualists, those of you who realize and understand life, destiny, events, everything that was, what is and what will be! My light has made you understand a lot and you will understand even more if you prepare yourselves. You will stand before theologians and theosophists and they will be amazed. Let there be no cowardice in you, let there be no lack of faith in you, O Israel! for then you will tremble before those who really, really are not great before Me. Also other spiritual pupils contemplate you as equals, as farmers of this time, spirits that are now part of my spiritual choirs and that time has been among you as farmers of these lands, as precursors, envoys and spokespersons.

32. Behold, O seers! feel, O beloved people! those great legions that pulsate, that vibrate full of love, full of respect, full of joy in their spirit over and among you. There are Roque Rojas, Damiana Oviedo, all the spokespersons who have left for the Spiritual Valley; the farmers, pillars, guides and many of those who bear the spiritual sign of my mark, forming a people, forming a legion of spiritual farmers who at this moment mix among you to form the people of the Third Time, the spiritual farmer of this Third Era who prepared to receive the Holy Spirit who manifests himself among humanity, They also give me their fulfillment, show me their seed and help you in your preparation so that you are worthy to show it to the Father.

33. All of you, in this blessed hour, in this instant of judgment and love, are united forming one family, one people before the Father. In what region is your spirit vibrating at this moment? In the spiritual valley. That is why you feel this peace and this bliss. The vicissitudes of the world you have forgotten. You have let the weight of your burden be felt and the bitterness of your palate is only sweetness at this moment. Why, people? For you have risen from among men, from religious ideas and from all sects; you rise secretly, humbly, because your cry still does not resonate in the realms of this world and there in the spiritual Valley you contemplate the elevation, the dematerialization of all beings to worship the Creator.

34. You feel that you are enveloped and surrounded by infinite multitudes of beings who are throbbing, because they have awakened to the voice of justice, and if you hear it resonate through the human mouthpiece, the Universe hears it in the depths of consciousness and you ask me: "Father, will the Kingdom of Heaven, your Kingdom, already be fully among us?" and the Father says to you: I willed, that the Kingdom of Heaven you already carried in your heart; but so far you have not conquered it yet, O soldiers of my cause!

35. You will still have to fight, to continue working and suffering in order to achieve your unification, and the conquest of your own unity will be what makes you feel that the kingdom of the Father is in the depths of your heart. That Kingdom is the Second Jerusalem, the white city, where I want you to dwell. Its gates are open and its inhabitants prepared and within its walls, peace, salvation, eternal life. You have to walk a little further on the path and you will have conquered that City. Today, as in the First Time, I can tell you like Moses: "Behold, on the horizon, the Promised Land."

36. Moses did not contemplate in his final hour your entry into the Land of Promise. Neither the Master, on the Eve of his death as a man, could contemplate the recognition of the people towards his Law; and the Lord having climbed a mountain as Moses also climbed in the First Time and contemplated the first Jerusalem sinning as every day, lethargic in his dream of centuries, the eyes and the heart of the Master wept over that beloved city and exclaimed: "Jerusalem, Jesrusalem, I wanted to gather you together as a lark gathers her chicks, but you are asleep and have not felt my footsteps or heard my words." I tell you the same thing at this time, at this hour, O people: "Israel, Israel, that you have had me among you for so long and have not managed to love you with the love with which I have loved you; that you have not united having so many times the Father inspired that love and that fraternity, having become the lark under whose wings all the chicks could be; but also as in the past times, the strength will remain in you so that you can continue the journey.

37. will you conquer the Promised Land?

38. Yes, beloved people. From here you can already see the lights of the big city. From here you can already perceive the perfume of their orchards. Also from here you already hear the voices of its inhabitants, of its inhabitants and that vision of reality encourages you on the way so as not to deviate from it; that beautiful heavenly panorama invites you

Love one another!

every moment to walk forward to be able to reach the doors and say at last: "I have conquered the Promised Land with my effort"

39. The faith and strength of Moses led you to the Promised Land in the First Time, a Land that was a reflection of the heavenly homeland, of the eternal mansion. The blood of the Lamb, the blood of the Master in the Second Time rescued you. That's your price. No one will be able to take from me what is mine and at this time my word given through the human understanding, the conduit through which I have come to reveal to you the great teachings of the Third Time, once again lifts you on the path. It is the light of your conscience, which does not let you get lost on the path, it is the same gap opened by the Truth. Never depart from it, because the times of the war of words and ideas, the war of criteria, of interpretations in my Work are approaching. Do not ever be ignorant of my Law, my revelations, or Doctrine; but, yes, take care of the interpretations that your brothers give to them. Submit to your judgment, to your spiritual sensibility the interpretation, the analysis that others make of my Law and if you contemplate that just interpretation, take it. If others are ahead of you in understanding, be impartial and just and give the first place to those who before you were unveiled and knew how to discover at the bottom of my Work their truth, their eternity, their light.

40. I am going to leave you once again, like sheep among wolves, but these sheep are prepared, they do not walk without a shepherd; they know the safe way and they know where the pasture is. As long as you walk within the path, you can fear nothing, for it is easier for a wolf to turn into a sheep, than a sheep into a wolf. But if you went off the path and covered yourselves with the skin of pride, disobedience, greatness or materialism, then you would become the robbing wolves, voracious wolves, but alas for you! for there will be stronger wolves and stronger justice, stumbles and abysses.

41. My path is traced in your consciousness. Soon you will have no shepherd on earth, no ministers who celebrate rites before your eyes, no precincts that symbolize the universal temple of God. You will have the Universe as your temple, before your spirit the Lord, the Teacher, your sweet Jesus, full of wisdom and love, always ready to listen to you. You will have no other altar than your heart, no other guide than your own conscience.

42. These lessons have been revealed to you and have taken shape in your spirit. You will no longer be able to get lost from the path, because you have looked at it well. When the world contemplates you walking without material gods, without rites and without shepherds, it will be amazed, it will judge you, and what it will be able to bear witness to them of my truth, that you are not going alone, will be your works, your virtue, your life; because you are not only going to extend my Work with the instrument of your lips, you must live it; because one act of your life is worth more than a thousand of your words, no matter how convincing they may be. Love, meekness, humility, sacrifice, and in this way the world will recognize me in you.

43. I leave you in my place as teachers and even when you always feel like children in front of Me, before men you will be like teachers, like older brothers, who will know how to deposit in the last all that I gave you and if these for their love, for their consecration in my Work become greater than you, leave them and smile, but with a smile of love, of spiritual satisfaction; for there will truly come a new time for you when you reach them on the way to be all the same; because from the beginning you all sprouted from Me in the same way and you will also have to come to Me in the same way. You will all be great to understand me; you will all be spirits with power, with wisdom and love to feel and understand the Father and in union with Him to rule the universe, as is my will; because you are now superior beings before inferior beings and if I have entrusted this world to you so that you may rule over it, then, when I take you to my Kingdom, you will all be princes before the Father and you will govern all Creation. You will then be the owners of true greatness. Neither will feel superior to the other. Love will preside over all your works and you will always have perfect spiritual bliss, loving the Father and loving yourselves. You will not feel absence or distance for the Father or for your fellow man. One world will be in front of another world, as it is now a home next to other homes.

44. So people, so disciples, I want to bring you to perfection, so I want you to arrive at that great city that has been prepared since eternity, so that you may be the inhabitants, the eternal inhabitants in that peace and in that perfection.

45. From 1866 to 1950, all that I have revealed to you through this channel, you can find in the Book of the Seven Seals and all the events of this Humanity confirm what is written in it. I have always communicated with my children. Now you have this form that will soon disappear from among you.

46. New way of communicating will come: The perfect Spirit-to-spirit way. Spiritual communication will reach a high degree of perfection among men, but it will reach its maximum degree when you have left the world and the envelope. Through this gift I will continue to clarify many mysteries, I will make new and great revelations to you. On the path of spirituality men will penetrate, and on that path they will find the light for their undertakings, for their missions, for their offices and for their science.

47. By means of spirit-to-Spirit communication I will be questioned, sought by everyone; by that means I will speak and inspire my children. Blessed is he, I tell you this day, who seeks me through this grace with humility, with meekness and with respect, because he will find in Me a prodigal and inexhaustible source of light, of revelation, of benefit. Woe to the one who seeks me in a bad way, because I will touch him to make him understand his error and if he were still a fool, then he will communicate only with the apparent light, which is darkness and is temptation!

48. Step by step you have come from the beginning of my teachings. you came before my divine plant fatigued from the road, sick and many without any good. All unbelief overcame my word and my trials of love; materialism overcame my spiritual essence; I turned hard hearts, like rocks, into sensitive ones, and I made sinners my servants; I made men and women fallen into vice go through regeneration to turn them into my labourers; many who were not able to lead their own steps, I transformed into guides to lead the consciousness of the crowds. many profane lips had afterwards to utter the divine word. Many crude and clumsy understandings, closed to the light of human science and knowledge, were meekly opened to give access to the light the Spiritual World; but in truth I tell you: I did not come to distinguish my called in classes, in castes or lineages; I did not come to reject the man of science; I did not come to ignore the man of letters, I did not close the doors for the cultured man, because many times the cultured understood me sooner and better than the rude; other times, the rude and ignorant confessed sooner that the enlightenment of their spirit had been made in them.

49. I called everyone. I put an emissary, a herald in the passage of my children and if many were obedient and submissive to the voice of my call, others were deaf and never came to Me; but of those who persevered, some in their belief, in their faith, others to destroy their unbelief until they reach triumph, others in their illness until they reach health; and others telling me: “Father, if it does not please you to heal me, I still want to follow you”.

50. From all these who loved me, I formed my body of farmers, my new apostolate, allowing the existence of numerous humble and poor enclosures, so that in the shadow of them the People would gather and there receive my divine manifestation through my spokespersons, faculties, guides, pillars, seers, golden feathers and fundamental stones; because through the seven gifts, representing the seven spirits, I have spoken to this people, I have led and I have prepared. In spite of the imperfection of my chosen ones, in spite of their rarities and misunderstanding, I have always manifested my Work, already in a word, in a look, in a test, so that it would be an incentive and stimulus for this people and those who had already believed in the truth of this revelation, they could never doubt again.

51. If many have turned their backs, many stayed on the trail and followed me to the end of the stage. Those perseverants, those laborers, those guides of multitudes are you, because you have all carried multitudes of spirits, of hearts behind you and have contemplated the transformation of those same multitudes in their health, in their morals and in their worship, If you contemplated them in their first steps poor, sick, needy and ignorant, now you hear on the lips of the multitudes of Israel the light, in their acts truth, in their life, regeneration, and in their worship longing, longing for perfection.

52. I haven't kept my word to anyone. I have always been ready over this people and through all these channels I have poured out essence, truth and life. Not everyone has been able to prepare. I have not discovered spirituality in everyone. Those who have reached the most, it has been for their preparation, for their elevation and consecration in my Work, and the final day has arrived that I announced to all, because there is not one who ignores that on this date, the Father has to raise his word forever, in the form in which you have had it.

53. Is the people prepared for this event?

54. Is the disciple strong for this test?

55. Some I behold strong and some weak, and the Master says to the strong: Pray for the weak! To the awake: Watch over those who sleep! To those who have advanced the most: Feel the responsibility in front of the retarded! To those who have received the most: Be aware of it and share these teachings when the time has come!

56. But the Father asks all his people, "Why do you want to keep the Master a while longer?" Why do you want the Father to pass over His own word, thereby giving you an example of imperfection? Why have you not understood that I am immutable, that I am inexorable, that I am perfect? Do you still need my word, which I have patiently given you for so many years?

57. My word has been a perfect work that has been accomplished among you. You have the gifts, you have the Doctrine, you possess my revelations! I have prepared you, what more can you ask for? What more do you want from the Father, O people!

58. However, those who sleep, the disobedient, those who have become accustomed to desecrate, to pass over my commands rise up to say, "We can pass over the word of the Lord. He can give everything to his people. Our will can be done""

59. Ah, indeed, those do not know what they say, nor do they know what they expose themselves to, because the judgment of the Father unleashed can be found!

60. The great day of the Lord's justice is already among you and also human justice alert, pending, illuminated by my divine justice can be found to judge the works of men!

Love one another!

61. All those who have taken divine work, spiritual word, all those who have taken my Doctrine and my laws to govern men, to teach them, to restrain them in their vices and in their sins, to lead them along the path of eternity, are on trial. Among them are you, Israel, in the first place and after you all religions!

62. Here is my scale! Behold my righteousness and also my inexorable sword! Don't challenge me anymore, people! Do not imitate this humanity that in the year of meditation, in the year of forgiveness and reconciliation rose up wielding his fratricidal weapon, staining the white page of peace with the sister blood and passing, in truth I tell you, on my proposal of peace!

63. Woe to the world! He is on the verge of his abyss, and sadly, to hurry the great chalice of bitterness to the dregs will have to cry out so that you can wake up!

64. This is what the man wanted. I have proposed my peace to him, I have proposed my love to him, I have come closer to him, and yet, he does not want anything from my Kingdom, he wants his kingdom; neither does he want my power; he has put his own power before my finery, either; he wants to continue wrapping himself in pride; he does not want life in eternity; he wants only temporal power and death, which will be the one that accounts for all the acts of men.

65. I have a place destined for all those who seek my peace and who find death in the unjust wars of men, because there are many who go through the fields of destruction with a weapon in their right hand and conscience speaking to them, sobbing conscience, despair in their hearts, saying to the Father: "Forgive me, because I am sowing death, because I am offending you".

66. Those are the ones that have felt me. I will rescue them; watch over them, O people. Many will return to peace; many will return to home; those who fall, those who leave their bodies in rubble, they will rise gloriously in spirit, because my voice is calling them to this Kingdom of peace and justice to tell them: You will not find justice on earth, but my justice exists and calls you, envelops you and resurrects you.

67. You are still going to contemplate many trials of pain. The year 1951, which only awaits the passage of a few hours to make its entrance, will bring a present of trials among humanity, and if 1950, prepared with the light of the Father, was overshadowed by the tragedy of men, was bloodied with the blood of themselves, was moved by great events, 1951, even more, in truth I tell you, will move humanity.

68. You, who are part of it and who have been prepared to survive all these trials, do not stop watching, do not stop praying. Think of you as a cloak of peace. Think that you are the possessors of the balm. Think that you are a comfort in this world and that is why I am not taking you with me at this hour in which you would like to be fused to my Universal Ray and to my Spiritual world, to leave this world and be able to contemplate the Kingdom of kingdoms. That time has not yet come for you. Stay still among men and be for them a blessing and forgiveness.

Love one another!

69. Your weapons are ready. Your strength will make you go forward to the end; but I tell you the truth, Do not think that these calamities will be felt only by you. Think that in every trial I will grant you a grace. All suffering and vicissitudes will come accompanied by a benefit and a proof of love for you.

70. I have spoken to you as a judge; I have been among you as a judge, and my justice is universal. As a Teacher you have had me throughout these years of teaching that culminated with the last three, which I consecrated in memory of those three years that I preached in the Second Time and in memory also of the Three Times. My teaching chair is my whole word. My revelation as the Holy Spirit is all that I have told you throughout this time of teachings. That book is written with the fire of the Holy Spirit in your conscience, in the very flesh of your heart where my word will become indelible, it beats to the beat of the Universe, and of everything that has been deposited in you as something that was an impenetrable mystery in the past times, clarifying itself with wonderful lights for your spirit in this Third Time.

71. I leave you as interpreters of my Work, of my word, of my commands. See how men, wanting to penetrate the word of the Lord, his Law, his prophecies and everything that John gave to humanity by my divine command, have only been confused! How can men, theologians, exegetes come to the truth? By the testimony that you bear of what the Holy Spirit spoke to you, the Holy Spirit has made light in all His lessons. He has left nothing a mystery. All the veils were removed and the arcana opened for the people. You are the depositories of this light, for you have been called disciples and children of the Holy Spirit. Then. Go to men and make them understand! You will see how much joy, how much joy in them when at last they can read the scriptures, understanding what they could not understand before, the prophecies that they have seen fulfilled and those that are about to be realized.

72. In this way you will fulfill that high destiny. O prophets and apostles of the Holy Spirit, O blessed people of Israel! This is how you have been my disciple at this time, this is how you have had me as a Teacher and I want you to finally recognize me as a Father.

73. At my table of love you are sitting once again. You are all my disciples. The bread cake I have always made twelve parts and the twelve tribes of my people have eaten equally. In the holy upper room, the last time I had dinner surrounded by my apostles at that Second Time, when I took the bread I said to them: "Take and eat, this is my body". I blessed the wine and gave it to them to drink, saying to them, "Drink, this is my blood." But then I added, "Do this in memory of me"!

74. Throughout the Second Era, through that symbol, humanity has been sustained and when the Father appeared again among you, no longer in body through Jesus, but spiritually among clouds, manifesting himself by the light of his Divine Spirit through humble, human creatures, he told you: Times have changed, times have passed and today my word is the body and its essence is the blood; your communion is spiritual with the Master; and at this moment, as I give you my word for the last time in this form, I say to you: This word that was food for you, and has been essence and life, redemption and regeneration, health and hope for this people, do not forget that it contains eternal essence and that even when you stop listening to it through the spokespersons, it will always be in you as a source of life, as bread, as an exquisite delicacy, as balm and hope.

75. Keep this that I leave you and always carry it in your spirit! But when you want to enter into perfect communion with your Master, when you want to receive him fully in your heart, the preparation, the purity of thought and heart will suffice for you to let the spirit escape, who will very soon know how to find me. You will find me become food, a sustenance full of life and good taste.

76. Thus prepare yourselves, O people, so that you may always penetrate into that perfect communion! You will never lack my strength or my peace. You are sitting around me, eating this bread of life and the Master also says as in another time: Among the humble, among those who have loved me very much, among those who have followed me patiently and firmly despite the trials, there are those who tomorrow are going to surrender my Work into the hands of human justice; there are those who will continue to change my Work, my own word, my testimony, for vile currency and once again you ask yourselves: "Will the tomorrow of diligent and obedient laborer, I will become the traitor?" Who is that, Master? your conscience asks me and I tell you: You do not know it; but at this moment I prepare you, I give you strength so that you only let Me judge you.

77. If on your way you see that the traitor, the false, the ungrateful, the weak or unbelieving, the blasphemer, the profane rises, forgive him, yes, but speak to him with love, with this word of judgment with which I have spoken to you, but let it be my judgment, not yours, people, because yours is not yet perfect. As long as you are working, as long as you are fulfilling within my Work, think that there are no traitors, forget that there are profane and think that there are only obedient ones. Judge no one and only love, forgive and work, that behind your fulfillment will be my justice ordering everything, restoring to everyone its light, its perfection, justifying and dignifying within my Work and my laws, which in their beginning are perfect and in their end also.

Love one another!

78. My last words, do you think that I can direct you from the heights of a cross? Humanity is not regenerated, lamentations come up to Me, blasphemies of men come up to Me, the dull noise of human war, crying of children, heartbreak of men and women, I see mourning and poverty; I see kingdoms in decadence and powers about to collapse, breaths of death in all humanity and in the midst of all those voices of imprecation and invocation, a voice that arises from among men and reaches Me, moves my Divine Spirit and is a word that says: "Come!" That's what this world tells me, come! because the spirit has my promise because men know that I announced my return, because men have awakened men by telling them, "The Lord announced that I would return"; because in the absence of human justice they return to Me in search of my peace and my justice, to say to me: "Lord, why don't you come? Why don't you see my pain? Why don't you contemplate my tragedy?"

79. I am contemplating you, O humanity. My Father's gaze, I see you, but my eyes are also those of a judge. You've never loved me as a father. You have not granted me kingship over you. You have not loved me as a Teacher; only as a judge and as a judge you have me present at this moment. In order not to make the weight on your conscience heavier, I do not tell you that I am on a cross. Invisible I am on a mountain, on the top of a mountain, but as on that cross, with my arms open, immensely open to embrace you and just as my side was opened at that time to pour out water and blood of love on you, today my Spirit is opened to pour out on everyone, divine water and blood of forgiveness, mercy and peace.

80. My arms are open! My whole Spirit feels your pain; but not that physical pain, not that human pain, not that pain of tormented spirits. It is divine pain, incomprehensible to limited creatures, it is pain that you cannot know, because in truth I tell you: I have thirst, people; I have thirst for humanity, for your peace, for your redemption and for your love!

81. Those who are listening through a human mouthpiece, would not dare at this moment to raise their hand to hurt their own brother, could not open their lips to utter any offense before their Lord. Those who are beyond this manifestation, if they hurt themselves, if they kill themselves, if they take away the precious treasure of life, well-being and love. It is that in truth, they do not know what they are doing and on this sublime day, a day of love and universal justice, all those who leave their bodies to assemble the spiritual spaces, listen once again to the powerful voice of Jesus, who from the top of this mountain tells them: "Truly, today you will be with me in paradise"

Love one another!

82. All those who under this divine influence are prepared, have awakened and say to me: "Lord, on the last day of this year called holy, I leave my body to rise to the unknown. Receive me!" Truly, I tell you, they will find Me in my kingdom. But those who blasphemously close their eyes from matter forever, will bring them closed in the spirit to my light and will open them after their own judgment.

83. When Christ, as a man, felt all the pain and for an instant in that pain was abandoned by the Spirit, he said as a man, as a human: "My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?"

84. Today I say to all of you who live, walk, suffer and sin before Me: When you feel the weakness of the flesh, invoke your spirit, imitating the Master. The spirit is stronger than the flesh. The flesh is and always will be fragile. But when the trials are very great for the spirit and superior to him, seek me and then it will be the only case in which I will allow him to say to your soul feeling the absence of the spirit by the very force of the trial: "My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?" and instantly a ray of light will be in your eyes, in your spirit and I will raise him up on the way giving him proof that he is not going alone, that a God never abandons, that the Father cannot leave his children, and less at the moment of great trials, when those are fully testifying to their Lord.

85. I leave you united and on you, the mantle of tenderness that has always enveloped you, whose warmth you have already known.

86. Mary, at the feet of Christ, stood without breathing out a single complaint or reproach for that humanity. That is why before the Father she was great as a woman and as a spirit, because she is the spirit of the universal fraternity that exists in God, and in this blessed hour I leave that love imprinted on my people, because you are the Marian People of the Third Time that will make present and future humanity recognize the existence of that love, of that fragrance, of that infinite tenderness, of that intercession and of that virginity misunderstood by men, and She who is in Me and who is in everything, hears this voice that tells her: Always remain as a Mother in the Universe! And to this people I say, representing all humanity of this and other times: People, son, Behold your Mother!

87. I do not want to leave pain or sadness in you, because although my Divine Spirit is sad, very sad until death, I want to leave you the memory that you were in the last Augustine, may this last hour be, O beloved people, the one that leaves its indelible memory in your heart, the kind hour, the hour of communion, of joy for being listening to the Word as you listened to it for so long. In this hour when you have eaten the rich spiritual delicacies until you have calmed your hunger and your spiritual thirst, do not think about the suffering of the world. I'm with everyone. Do not think at this moment in the present. Live for a moment in the future, in that time of peace that I am preparing for you, and look at you all full of love, surrounding the Father at this same table, a table of love, of teaching, of revelations and of forgiveness.

88. Take and eat! My word is my body Take and drink! My blood is the essence that I have put in my word, where you have really discovered me in this Third Time. Not in the speaker, not in the sound of his voice, not in the outward form of the human word, but in the depths of its meaning. There is the essence that is the very blood of my word. Drink it, because you are going to be the bread and wine, body and blood among humanity tomorrow!

89. I leave you united, seated at this table that will never be a tribunal, but a bench of disciples and kindergartners who are going to deepen in the Teaching of the Master, who are going to make themselves worthy by their preparation, that He manifests Himself to them at all times. Tomorrow I will surprise you, like the walkers of Emmaus, like those apostles who needed my presence and my trials to be able to strengthen themselves and get up and so I will surprise you. May there never be falsehood among you, may your testimony always be true and then your prophetic lips will firmly guide the steps of the multitude that is this beloved people, and it will never stumble; may you be able to free it from great risks and lead it victoriously to the very gates of the Second Jerusalem, that city that I have offered you in this Third Time, so that you may offer it, as guardians of it, to humanity; doors that are open for the whole world, through which men who are truly anxious, hungry for spirituality, have to penetrate, and you, as the good guides and conductors of the peoples, will take them with a firm step to the very heart of the white city.

90. My judgment has been given, my Teaching and revelations too: my Father's peace, my caress is in everyone. Feel her! Feel that I am straining you, in truth and in spirit, against my divine heart!

91. Hey! Hear the voice of the Father that begins to resonate in the depths of your heart, that begins in these moments to seek an echo in the depths of you, because I leave you from this moment in the time of grace, in the time of communication from spirit to Spirit.

92. O beloved people, go on the roads, enter the homes and make peace everywhere! Take my testimony and defend to the end, my Trinitarian Marian Spiritualist Work, which I have come to reveal to you, which I have come to entrust to you in this Third Time in fulfillment of my word given in times past.

93. I came over the cloud; from it I sent down my universal ray and through it you have had me in Verb, in essence, presence and power, since 1866, from Roque Rojas until

Love one another!

1950, through the last spokespersons by whom I have made my universal word resonate, that if today you have known a few who form my people, members of the people of Israel, elements of the twelve tribes, tomorrow, by these witnesses and emissaries that I leave among Humanity, it will be known throughout the world, it will be proclaimed as truth and it will be an anchor of salvation, a welcoming harbor, star for all walkers and kingdom of peace for the Universe, because this is my will.

94. I leave my peace to you. Goodbye beloved people!

95. Soon you will have me in the Holy Spirit in fullness.

96. Why are you crying people?

97. This is how my word proves to you at this moment.

98. I am still speaking to you and I do not profane my mandate.

99. Come to Me, people! Cry really cry, that I receive your cry. The flesh is fragile and the spirit is strong, he knows what he has received and is obedient and in accordance with my will; but your envelope is the child who at times will feel weak in his journey and whom you yourself will strengthen.

100. Come, people, and leave your pain before my plant! Open your heart and leave me to the last of your complaints to turn it in peace. For a long time you have silenced your pain, knowing the absence of my word, but at the last moment the flesh has betrayed you, the envelope has faltered because it is the little one, I take her in my arms, I numb her in them and I tell her: Do not be afraid, because in truth if life is a bitter cup for your lips, I will know how to sweeten it through your spirit.

101. Pupils who know how to cry overflowing the sob of your pain: cry, that in this way you will cleanse yourselves to contemplate the new time with clarity!

102. Come to Me, men, women, young people, the elderly and children who have become peasants and before my divine presence vent the pain of your heart and when you have poured out in it every last drop of crying, when you have deposited in the Father the last breath of sadness and the last sigh, only joy, peace, serenity will remain, because I want you to be the people owner of the serenity that gives the conscience for the fulfilled duty and the hope for the new time prepared.

103. You are the possessors of my balm, give strength and health to your body and carry this health everywhere.

104. All that you have made present to the Father is in Him; I have truly heard it, O people, and I am attending to you.

Love one another!

105. For this prayer, take receive!

106. The universe receives my peace, my blessing if he knows how to prepare, Blessed be he! if he knows how to mourn the departure of this time, blessed is he if he rises to spirituality, regeneration and peace!

107. Take, O Universe, my peace, my blessing, my weapon so that you may overcome! My hosts accompany you, my balm too and soon, you will hear the universal voice of the Father, the voice of the Holy Spirit, and the imposing voice of the Spiritual World that on this very night will be manifested to men, in villages, in homes and on the roads, because this is my will.

MY PEACE BE WITH YOU!
